A bit of everything tonight news and views around the world, some Q&A depending on time, intel you can take to the bank but perhaps not withdraw it. Counteracting bs'ery in alt media, history revision time again, some more dot connecting and a wake up piece near the end.

*Following several issues and people using both mine and more importantly Kim's time, I request people to not ask questions on projects or funding or when the funding is due, and I ask you all who are interested in doing projects to prepare them all in private and keep hold of them, until after the funding is released. Kim's time is taken up too much by project leaders requesting information on several things that is consuming too much of hers and our time, when our focus has to be on securing funding first, then we can deal with the projects and the various funding required. So please no more requests for details on funding or help with it. Thanks for your consideration.

INTEL *Wells Fargo is leveraging all their cash on hand to the Shanghai exchange, it wont return like the last attempt, they are running at negative 200% liquidity now, this is why their shut down and fake fire occurred, all a ruse to cover up major criminality and syphon the publics money off to Chinese Elders/ Rothschilds and Dragon groups, this is your money they are sending remember, banks don't have money, they have ours. WTF cash on ledger now only $27m and is dwindling as of Tuesday.

*Citibank same as wtf only worse liquidity, Citi transferred it's cash on hand to Citi HK, CITI Hk tried to leverage the cash in RMB and the Chinese Government declined. Then they made the cash disappear.

*There is various central American and African countries tied directly to Citibank and who think their reserves are stored in this bank, I am sorry to tell you but they are all gone, your reserves have all been stolen, and shifted to the east for financial leveraging of funds to keep them in the game. WTF and Citibank have been sending their cash over to Shanghai exchange and again promised it would be returned with some RV style program, like what happened in December, those funds will not be returning, and further deposits in the west have been sieved out to the east, in a financial assassination program. This is why there is no funds or limited access to these banks, it will spread to all other banks in quick time as their desperation to stay in control is now at fever pitch. They are doomed either way, I want to make that clear. The shifting of funds from one hand to the other only works for a short time, before the lower structure of it begins to collapse.

*To the several Countries who hold "Foreign Reserves of US dollars in Wells Fargo and Citibank" The issue is any nation that holds foreign reserves of USD in these banks now has zero left, it's all gone.

*BOA is at the point of bankruptcy and maybe the first of many to fall, if they continue current policy, all banks will collapse in the very near future.

* Wells Fargo transferred it's "cash on hand" last week to HSBC on the promise the "chinese Li family" was going to trade it. Then HSBC servers went down and all was and still is lost.

*Wells Fargo is having a hard time releasing any transfers in excess of $100k, and Citibank is rumored to be limiting any transfers over $25,000

*The Trust hooked the system up to all 12 Federal Reserve banks, the Department of Treasury, and all the intelligence agencies and set the stage for more hammers, The Trust then informed the Fed that it owes the trust $2.8Q, The Trust Transferred $2.8Q of Federal Reserve debt to the Department of Treasury as the assignee to collect on the debt, as they are past due, to the Department of Treasury and they have 24 hours to pay, or the Treasury who is the regulator over ALL private banks, has the right to foreclose on them all, and also take all they have, including the computer systems and all the buildings they are sitting in. The trust requested that Mr.Mnuchin oversees the transfers and safe delivery of notes and assets. All back funds owed must be in by Friday, all banks now are in a dire emergency of liquidity again, many are not paying out on higher sums of transfers, checks or withdrawals. Many are not covering payrolls of companies that use 3rd party groups for delivering companies payroll, those payments are being delayed to give the illusion of having funds, when in reality they have little. This move puts certain high profile people right in the spotlight, how they react will be noted and recorded, and we will find out who is really on our side or not.

*This morning the Rothschild's told the FED to ignore the treasury, when it became apparent that was not possible, they called Mnuchin to assign all the bonds to them, So I had to revoke Mnuchin log in and security clearances AGAIN. But I found something interesting, his security clearances was not issued by the US Government, but by NATO in Belgium?? So when they tried to reissue I denied for the first 10 times they tried then I just sent the message to impolitely, but correctly to go away, appears Mr. Mnuchin was given very high clearances somewhere near Kim's, something he is not entitled to,

*NATO systems have since been disabled.

* A bit of background to this piece is Kim who has the authority to do so, Kim had deleted Mr. Mnuchin's security clearance, log in to The Treasury terminals, and also his access codes to The Treasury building, for blocking The Trusts funds, blocking the release of the disaster relief funds for $105B, and for committing fraud twice directly in front of The President by producing fake gold certificates or misrepresenting gold certificates, saying they belong to Chinese Elders when Trump showed him they all belonged to The Trust. The Rothschild's it appears has given Mr. Mnuchin, who whilst is in a prominent government position, should not have a clearance level above The President, you would think right? no wrong, Rothschilds gave Mnuchin a level 62 clearance, 39 levels above The President, which is almost the same level as Kim, Kim is level 64 which is the highest, no one can go higher than the guardian of The Trust. The Deep State at the top end is level 49, known previously as The Majestic group, until the SSp took them all out around 12-18 months ago. If you think that this is a one off and only applies to this incident, think again with this piece released today, The scope of the Hillary Clinton email investigation was so private, the OIG (office of Inspector General which is the government oversight committee) didn't have the necessary security clearances needed to view the emails. And so, the emails couldn't be given to Congress. This is what I have been telling you all, there is no oversight of the government or its myriad of contractors connected to it, all 3, 4 & 5 letter groups in America have zero oversight. This is just a small portion of the system they built that has to be worked out, you would be amazed to find out how few are aware of this in or outside of the government, then broken down and either repurposed or deleted accordingly. With so many snakes with many fingers in the pie so to speak, allied to this or that faction, in bed with cor-pirates, or in bed with lobbyists, or the in bed with children groups, allies are thin on the ground, reminds me of The 100 series where Clarke said where are all the good guys, Bellamy's answer was there are none, and things will take time, it runs through every single government department. It is a monumental task, when so many who stand there pumping their chest with fake tears running down their cheeks, professing their love for America, when in reality they are raping, pillaging, harvesting, killing, maiming and creating mass suffering for Americans, and many world wide due to what is essentially a relatively few psychopaths barking orders. So when people complain things are not moving quick enough there is one of your answers why, these security clearances are beyond a joke and is essentially awarded to people who play their game, and little to do with the work they are paid to do.

*In my opinion only, Mr. Mnuchin has to be declared an enemy of state and arrested now, he is working against the interests of all American people, he has been fired twice but the deep state network allows him to continue almost unhindered. Military people loyal to Trump or to the country, it is time to do your duty and arrest this man pronto. The damage he and his ilk are doing will have grave consequences in the very near future for us all, unless more radical actions are taken.

OP-EDS *Alt media hopium machine in full flow now with their distraction pieces and distraction agents. I can state categorically there is no military tribunals going on currently in Gitmo or anywhere else, no one has been selected from alt media for these roles either. Soros arrested, Bush pleads guilty for 9/11 and Obama begs for his life, also has no basis of truth as it stands. Sorry it is not what you all want to hear, but this show will not be reporting fake rumors as facts.

*While Democrats are pushing the "Green New Deal" - requiring unprecedented funding - while simultaneously rejecting Donald Trump's requests for increased border security funds, details of a "loan" that was granted to Nancy Pelosi's brother-in-law have emerged, further highlighting the Dems' hypocritical use of taxpayer money. When it comes to liberal causes, it seems that the pot of taxpayers funds is never-ending, as Pelosi's husband's brother, Ron Pelosi received $737 million (737,000,000 US dollars!) in 2011 from the Obama Administration as a "Green Energy Loan" to build a solar energy power plant in the Nevada desert which has since failed. The massive loan agreement was granted despite growing concerns at the time about the use of taxpayers' money as vast sums were invested in technology similar to that of the doomed Solyndra energy project. The $737m handed to Ron Pelosi's Crescent Dunes project in Tonopah, Nevada, for a 110-megawatt desert solar power plant, was approved by the Obama administration just days after the failed Solyndra project filed for bankruptcy before it was due to be completed. Despite warnings, the "loan" for then-Minority Leader Pelosi's brother-in-law's company was granted, and the ground was broken on the plant's build in 2011. While its average monthly production was expected to exceed 40,000 MWh, as of October 2018 it only exceeded half of that value during 8 months. At the plant's current rate of energy production, it's unlikely that any of the "loan" will ever be paid back.

*The framework would provide $1.375 billion for barriers along the border, including 55 miles of new fencing, with certain restrictions on the location, I heard and it's only supposed to be 5 ft high

*It seems some people are struggling more over the last few months, and sometimes rather than go inward and address why someone having a drink during a 3 hour talk show is a problem to them, or various other complaints of laughing too much, offensive songs played once only, or adding some humor to the shows to lighten the mood. The question is why does it bother you so much? The issue is not me, because surely if it was, why listen to someone who irritates you that much? why is laughter and fun so much of an issue to some people? have we swallowed that much sin eating, it renders you unable to have some fun? do you feel guilty having fun and if so why? In the world of political correctness, which is a misnomer in and of itself, as it is neither political or correct, and the whole thing becomes mired in stifling expression, rendering many mute, which leads to inner frustration and ultimately a vibrational lowering mechanism. Much of political correctness when it started was to do with people being not nice to blacks, which had to be addressed, but since when has the system been nice to anyone, never mind blacks? but P.C has morphed into something far more than being nicer to black people, it is a total control system. The classic being the N word that now disproportionately offends so many people of other colors, not because it is offense to black people, no, because they like being sanctimonious about everything, because in some way they become superior, but with the N word has now becomes ridiculous when black people are calling each other the N word and it is a term of endearment I'm told, except term of endearment morphs into a racist statement, if someone outside of their color says it, where is the balance in that? So that one word which is a derivative of negro, and negro means black, is now a banned expression that causes mock outrage, whilst the people who were offended by it, now call each other by it, and yet people don't think the whole thing is bizarre, and don't see one giant divide and conquer tactic? No wonder we hardly have any comedians anymore, it is because people are too concerned about being offended by anything, they have lost the use of laughter as a release mechanism tool, it is another control system that the system created for us, and one far too many have bought into again. This is how and why we all end up in a mess, we played the game they created for us, they don't even have to administer or tweak it for maximum effect, we do all that to ourselves. Like I warned last week, we have to think more on what we say, portray or write. One of several complaints was a gif of Dickhead Cheney, a picture of him with a penis on his head, so that is offensive to some, in particular Facebook, fine, but I will tell you what is offensive to me, people who don't focus on what Dick Cheney has done to this world, why isn't that the focus? why is defiling Cheney's face or fod more of an issue? than his mass genocide, mass infant-ic-ide, ritual abuse and torture? Is it because you can't face that issue? which in some cases is understandable, but why target your inability to face real issues onto others, and onto something rather trivial? These are the real issues you must face, rather than the 4-5 people who wrote in complaining about the mewe chat in the past week. This is not a critique of those who complained, far from it, they are entitled to their opinion, but what I am trying to get people to see is, where is your energy going? is it focused on the correct things? 3 hours of show material each week, and some complain about one song, me laughing too much, saying oops, me having a drink (non alcoholic) a clicking lighter, now the chat and the show is not serious enough? and the latest is I come across as arrogant, because I point out they failed several times, fine. What do you want me to do? celebrate their mass genocide, here is the intel for tonight, cabal tortured raped and killed loads of Africans this week, hooray they succeeded, they are winning their agenda 21 plan, I mean seriously people, think about what you are actually saying, if you are running down some of the very few people who are at least trying to end the cabal, what does that say about you? Oh how I would love some of you to spend a week in Kim's shoes, never mind mine, many wouldn't last the day, never mind the week. It's mindless thinking, and mindless thinking or more importantly heartless thinking, is the very reason we are fighting this system at all, because each and everyone of us have played the game for them in so many ways, you won't correct that with finding fault of those around you, whilst ignore all the worlds ills. The gist of this piece is, we have some people who will not focus on what has really triggered them within the show, and is masking that with a personal distraction, of look someone over there is causing issues, it will work temporarily, but not long term, the drama goes away, but the real issue stays with you, it is you that you are ultimately damaging not the person you are projecting at. It is up to you all to look at yourselves, and do your best to correct that trigger, I know it is not easy, but short pain brings long term gain, it is why this show focuses on the shadow and inner work so much, if everyone fixed theirs, this world will become better almost overnight. The issue is not me personally or for large parts the chat page either, this issue is personal unresolved aspects of yourself, that is the real issue, as the lead person of this group I often become the projection, and I get that, but is projecting at me, really helping you? the answer is nope, and only when you address the real reasons for your projections, will the you become clean, clear and free of yourself, and your own personal issues, you want to be free? free yourself it is cathartic.

* Plz discuss the subject of intent, also does praying help. Well intent is a funny word as we know little about implied intent, similar to implied consent, when we are consenting either through word magic, ignorance or just plain stupidity by not thinking things through enough. So, you set your intent for a god or jesus to save you, but what if that god or jesus is being played in a role by someone else? Can you state 100% that it is god or jesus you are speaking to? no, you only assume or desire that connection, you cannot 100% guarantee it is that entity you are interacting with. So, you set your intent, save me or save this, but if source is listening, and zillions of creatures and planets are crying for help, how can and is your case more important? Question arises is, does your intent only serve your interests or requests, or does it involve people or incident outside of your field? We are so wrapped up and almost tongue tied with words and interpretations, that setting your intent can become a minefield can it not. Like last week it was suggested the foundation would not include christians, and I answered that question based on how that narrative was delivered, a reply email was that didn't come out as I intended, and this is why last weeks show highlighted are lacking of thinking on what we say or write, it has become a big problem. So, when setting intent, it becomes a big issue and is why I said avoid mass meditations, those taking part in it do not know the real intent by those delivering it, they may say meditate on this mandala, but do we know the intention of the mandala or have we just accepted the narrative apportioned to it? well the Dalai Lama endorsed it and he's from Tibet, so it must be ok? except Dalai Lama is cabal, oops. Many people set their intent for the RV to happen, when they dont realise that will unleash the genocide program on us all. Many people set their intent for ET's to come down and save us, that would have unleashed the harvesting program promoted by Ra and Law of One, so I hope you can now see where the issues can and will arise. As for praying that is throwing out your life force energy to an external vault, just waiting to collect your energy, it's looshing. Why not pray internally, pray to yourself to heal injuries or remove disease, or drive you to deal with your shadow and inner work,? pray for yourself to be a better person than you are currently, surely that is a better use of your life force energy, than some unproven being sitting on a cloud, predicting cataclysms and yet doing nothing to prevent them.

*So the democrat elizabeth warren is running for the election, funny that the initials of that spells DEW as in directed energy weapon, weapon being the right term for her me thinks
