Israeli Government Minister when asked why their forces are shooting Palestinian protestors dead at the Gaza crossing - "We can't fit them all in jail". A woman who was asked did she want her whole pizza cut into 8 or 12 pieces, she said it must be cut into 8 pieces not 12, as she cant eat 12 pieces, Ireland declares climate emergency, plus fun and games within the group, you wonder some days who or what are we saving here at times.

Issues of 2 state groups with separate leaders one on fb and one mewe it is only a couple for now but it needs merging, 1 leader and 2 admins for each state please

Once your group is set up I feel now I have to add a few pointers as many are unsure how to run their own page, mainly due to a few given out wrong information. When you are checking who is to enter the group, check their profiles first and gauge whether those people are suitable for your group. Check are they a resident of that state or country, no outsiders or people in multiple groups (that is what caused recent confusion) let people know you have standards within the group, no excessive bad language, and no name calling others in the group, agree to disagree not bad mouth each other, as that shows a competitive streak and not conducive to all working together. If you have someone as an admin who should not be in the group, add another admin and remove that person. If that person wont leave please contact Holly or Ramona first for it to be sorted out. Because of the issues of one person only in some groups being admin and controlling it, it maybe the case that the members of that state will have to create a new group, with the proper procedures in place, two admins of people from that state, you then notify all the members of new group set up, at that point the new group will be registered and old one removed. Please check your state or country is registered on the document provided, which is in the files section of FB and Mewe, if not ask Holly or Ramona to add your state or country to that list, that way everyone is listed the same and easy access to find your state or country group and solves the issues of duplication. On your page you should have the THink different banner at the top of your page, THI (state or country) and the guidelines laid out that are posted on the thinkdifferent site to copy and paste. Sadly there has been a lot of confusion about the names of the groups, leaders and admins, who goes in which state the list goes on. 1 state group only (you can have your pages on FB and Mewe but must be same group) the name is THI-state or country, there is a logo that must go on every fb page or mewe for standardization, please copy and paste the group guidelines on your pinned post of your page and or in the files section. Make sure when letting people into your state group they reside in that state, a member can only take part in one state. If any doubts or issues regarding these facts, please contact Holly or Ramona on the pages of the main THI group, please do not contact me with these issues hereonin, I have too much to do as it is.

Much of this confusion was caused by a few not listening or in one case going off track and creating more confusion by adding other groups that were not connected to THI. This is Phase I and the object is to get you all talking, working and sharing ideas together for future funding only, we are not here to promote it anymore, this Phase is all about you getting to know each other in your own states. Discuss potential projects, what you would like to be involved in, where your skills would fit best, ideas for your group and ideas to be shared with other groups, either states or internationally. We have to learn to work together, creating specialized groups running off the main group is the old way of operating, like middle management, in a cooperative there is no middle management, it's all the people. For too long now life if you analyse it, we are running a compete program against each other, most people don't even realize they are doing it, because it has become a way of life, comparisons are made on all levels, not just materialistic, that has to stop if we are to make progress. So, this is the main object of Phase I, forget Phase II and the funding, learn to share ideas not compete, is a key aspect of us all going forward, the cabal work together, we don't. There will be no separate leaders groups or admin groups in this Phase, just in state or country groups. The object of these calls is not for one person to talk through it, every person must participate, so when ideas are shared all must chime in on it, in a roundtable chat fashion, this is important that all voices are heard. Midguardian's is nothing to do with THI or The Peoples Club now or in the future, that was a private group created by another member that appears to run concurrent with THI but was not, it was someone creating their own group using THI and its members to push people into their group. That is ego based and not about we and is more about the I, regardless of what some of you have been told, we will not achieve what we are setting out to do, by creating splinter groups with different agendas and purposes, the focus is all on the we, and how we can change the outdated failed old model of operating on all levels, we wont achieve that with splinter groups of self appointed leaders. I was hoping things would be smoother than currently, but sadly some haven't listen or have other agendas, or both in one case, sadly that member despite over a dozen warnings proved to not be capable of following 1 guideline never mind the 5 or 6, and I took the liberty to initially suspend her, with conditions, and the hope she would calm down and realize the chaos that had been caused, plus the over 60 hours of my time wasted on this, of which 90% was to do with her. Sadly she failed to calm down and denied everything and took no responsibility and decided to trash me and members and disrespect Randy and Alan, and so that person is now removed from FB/Mewe and all state groups involvement permanently. Helping when it is creating chaos and confusion, is not helping at all but a hindrance. If people wish to continue in Midguardian's groups that is fine by me, but know it is not part of THI or TPC what we are doing, now or the future, it never was.

People need to be clear on things like: for example. These are all phase II questions and concerns, that are not in current in phase I discourse, but will answer now for flow. 1 Can you and staff be paid a fair wage and what's fair? 2 Any and all profit above fair wages should go back into peoples club trust. 3 future project funding and expansion should come via direct funding from said trust 4 Any project must be beneficial to everyone and not harm anyone (except indirect to clowns and their system) 5 the trust must have full visibility of all financial transactions 6 all projects must be legally registered businesses

Ideas are bouncing around for the projects and it seems clear to me some people are looking for funding for there own endeavours and not thinking of the bigger picture therefore can a framework of guidance criteria be put forward and written down so that we all seek to move in the direction you intend?

I'm not comfortable placing personal information on GoogleDocs, Am I over reacting"?

There is nothing like a good “measles outbreak” to boost sales when you have a monopoly on the only measles vaccine available, and corporate-funded mainstream media does almost all of your marketing for free, by singing the praises of the vaccine while never mentioning potential side effects or criminal cases currently in place over corruption surrounding the development of the vaccine. Given the fact that U.S. law prevents anyone from suing Merck if a vaccine injury or death occurs from their vaccines, and that the U.S. Government via the CDC is the largest purchaser of vaccines to the tune of $5 billion per year, the vaccine industry has become perhaps the most lucrative market in the history of the world. Merck & Co Inc. reported higher-than-expected first-quarter profits for 2019. Sales of the MMR measles vaccine soared 27% to $496 million. The company also saw strong sales growth overseas for its Gardasil vaccine, as sales rose 27 percent to $828 million, beating analyst expectations by about $25 million. A similar increase in sales of the MMR vaccine happened in 2015 when the corporate media pronounced a “measles crises” based out of Disneyland.

Some people don't always believe things I say and that's fine as I know it will eventually show up at a later date. Many months ago I warned of them stealing out of your accounts, well one member caught them this week. I have a business account so I am forced to use a regular big bank in this case Well de Fargo. Anyway I caught them with pictures taking $2000 out of my account. Also an international syndicate was caught this week doing the same thing using a bot system called Goznym, I suspect this goes higher up the chain than the story is presented. Cannot find any details to date on where Goznym trojan originated from, which is suspect in it self.

Mnuchin has completely lost the plot and threatened not only Langley and The Pentagon this week but also the President, stating he runs the financial system and no one is getting anything unless he signs off on it, and basically will do anything to stop The Trust implementing anything, and had some rather unpleasant words and threats directed at Kim. Question remains is how is this man allowed to hijack this country FSS, why hasn't this treasonous clown been arrested? A budget of $900B a year and we don't, can't, won't deal with National Security issues on our own soil?

More bank restructuring took place this week and progress continues on that level, the details of which will not be revealed at this point, but many of former interactors of the financial system have now been shut out permanently, this is why AOC and Sanders are talking about bringing back the Post Office as main bank, err no, US Postal service did run the banks previously until the slimy profession known as politicians via the Congress, sold the people and this country out with the Federal Reserve Rothschild's banking empire, now they have lost that, they want to go back to old system, a system many have no idea of and they will issue new directives under their control, message for you people thinking that is, it's not happening.

Due to the restructuring and their access now denied on many levels, we had several attempts made today on the system from 5 agencies and also central banks attempting to gain access back in - it failed

Kim received several complaints from various organizations of why they are kicked out of the system, it is simple, you A: didn't need access to begin with, B: misused the access for nefarious or self serving agendas or C: most of you are duplicating same roles, when one department is sufficient or D: all of the above. This is part of the clean up and streamlining of the banking system and all it's components, as we have said before, what worked previously, does not work now.

The top echelons of the government departments have now been given the full details and documents to support it, of what the neocons game is with sanctions and invasions or attacks on Venezuela, Iran and Russia, more oil games, one hopes they act upon it and quickly before these goons ran by the former cult out of Egypt and their various houses cause more devastation.

The spin off to that intel item was this, Canadian officials decided on short notice to deny accreditation to all Russian and Venezuelan state media outlets planning to attend an international conference in Ottawa this winter — even though they knew the action likely would provoke retaliation against Canadian media. "We can expect reciprocal action against Canadian media in Russia," Alison Grant, Global Affairs Canada's director for Eastern Europe and Eurasia, told her colleagues after the federal government received official protests from the Russian Embassy over a decision by GAC officials to block Russian and Venezuelan state media from the meeting of the Lima Group in February. The back-and-forth over media accreditation for the meeting is captured in a series of emails obtained by CBC News under Access to Information law. Access to information law? hmm, the public should use that law to demand access to real information on MSM, not bs'ery and conspiracy narrative they spout. All this is because they are losing control of the narrative, so they spit their dummies out of the pram or pacifiers out of the strollers, utter pathetic and really by now if people took the time to analyse politics and msm will see what a complete and utter load of nonsense both professions are now. tick tock to both of you running those drama laden games, truth is and will continue to prevail, despite all your clever and staged theatrics. Will have more evidence of this later.

Both of us had separate addresses to The Council this week, to deal with a particular issue of who owns the assets on this planet, the Lord himself (Anu) thinks all the assets belongs to him and them, err no, you and your demon offspring stole it all, and not just from here or just from humans either. Pressure is now being applied now to remove some of the obstacles here to move forward quicker.

The program of working with the 39 other species is working very well, infact many of them cheered after Kim spoke one particular sentence this week, all of us have been raped, pillaged and harvested by the two main protagonists of death and destruction, no longer will that be tolerated, above, below or on the surface, or further afield in this Universe. Anu best quit his path or he will face same consequences as M, and that is not a threat, it is a promise. Learn to work, care and share together as equals or its time to die. Live or lets die Anu final warning.

So, Ireland has declared a climate emergency, solution to that? the whole of Ireland call in sick and state I can't go to work today because we are all going die in climate change, so I decided to spend my last days with my family. Watch narrative change rather quickly as their fake economy, program and narrative collapses. Question to ask is, when this program first surfaced in 1980 and 90's and we would all die in 2000, how is it nearly 20 years later we are all still alive? If the world is getting hotter, how has some regions of America this week had snow? snow in May and the world is warming? please.

Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin who has recently denied access to Trumps tax returns, one has to ask was it that decision that keeps him in a job, when he was fired twice? that is a question and not a statement.

Amnesty International has written a devastating report on police violence and French policy during the Yellow Vests demonstrations. The human rights organization demands that the use of war weapons such as the LBD40 rifles and GLI-F4 tear gas shells must be stopped immediately. These weapons have already led to serious injuries, mutilations, amputations and disabilities in countless French people. The LBD40 weapon is used - contrary to regulations - to disperse the crowd of demonstrators. The use is also disproportionate to the need to use the weapon. According to the regulations, it should only be used against people who commit violence against others. During the Yellow Vests demonstrations, however, the LBD40 bullets were fired at the crowd, injuring many innocent demonstrators and bystanders. In addition, the shots are aimed at the head and fired from close by, which often leads to more serious injuries than when the instructions are observed. According to Amnesty International, 23 people have now lost the sight of one eye or the entire eye, because of being hit by a rubber LBD bullet. Five people lost a hand or foot, reportedly due to GLI-F4 tear gas grenades. Civilian units are untrained and the main cause of injury. It also seems that police units that are not trained in this specific form of law enforcement have used these weapons en masse. The French Ombudsman (Défenseur des droits) emphasizes that one of the problems arises from the use of this weapon by law enforcement and civilian units that are not specifically trained for enforcement during demonstrations. In particular, units such as the BAC (Brigades anti-Criminalité) and the CSI (Compagnies de Sécurisation et d'Intervention) are associated with increasing risk of demonstrators being injured.

This is due to a random or disproportionate use of weapons, including the LBD40 bullets. According to official statistics, around 85% of the 13,460 rubber bullets used during the Yellow Vests demonstrations were indeed fired by law enforcement units that had not been trained to hold demonstrations.

The main points in the Amnesty International report

- 1 Amnesty International urges the authorities to suspend the use of GLI-F4 tear gas shells and the use of LBD40 guns during law enforcement operations.
- 2 Amnesty International urges law enforcement officials to review their police strategies to get out of the escalating situation.
- 3 Amnesty International appeals to the Minister of the Interior to immediately ban weapons that do not comply with the principles of necessity and proportionality, requirements under French law and international law.
- 4 Kinetic impact projectiles, such as the LBD40 bullets, can cause serious injuries, especially when aimed at the head, face and upper body. To comply with the principles of necessity and proportionality — and in general respect for the right to life and personal integrity — law enforcement officials should not use kinetic impact projectiles as a general tool to disperse a crowd. These weapons may only be used in extreme need to stop people who commit violence against other people.

5 Because it is unlikely that these individuals can be hit accurately in a crowd, this weapon is unsuitable for firing at a crowd as a random shot. Moreover, these bullets must never bump against the ground, because this makes them even more inaccurate.

6 Kinetic impact projectiles fired with the LBD40 rifle may only be fired at the target's chest or limbs and not at the head. They should only focus on the lower parts of the body to minimize injuries.

7 Before shooting, law enforcement officers must carefully evaluate the context to determine, as far as possible, that no one else can be hit. It must be ensured that they are not aimed at a vulnerable person (for example, someone who is injured, pregnant or has a disability).

8 Because the above conditions cannot be met in the context of the Yellow Vests demonstrations, Amnesty International asks the French Minister of the Interior to immediately suspend the use of the LBD40 projectiles.

France is the only country in the European Union that uses GLI-F4 instant tear gas shells during law enforcement operations. However, these cause such serious injuries that the lives of those affected are dramatically changed.

9 Chemical irritants (such as tear gas) may only be used in extreme situations and only for the dispersion of a crowd. This only when the level of violence is such that law enforcement officials cannot control the threat by focusing directly on the violent individuals.

10 The purpose of using tear gas should be to disperse the crowd. They should therefore only be used in areas where people have the opportunity to spread and not in confined spaces or where roads are blocked or restricted. Clear audible warnings must be given before they are used and people must have sufficient time to leave the area.

11 Amnesty International urges the Minister of the Interior to prohibit the use of the tear gas grenade GLI-F4 for public order situations. Exposing people to the effect of tear gas and not allowing them to escape immediately, as well as potentially causing life-altering injuries, should be considered an excessive use of force and could lead to cruel and inhuman treatment. Weapons with such combined effects must therefore be banned in public order.

12 The French authorities must strive for de-escalation and pacification in order to maintain order. These weapons can not only cause serious damage, but can also lead to the escalation of violence. This can ultimately deter many people from protesting peacefully, jeopardizing the right to peaceful manifestation and expression.

The French government and the judiciary are stoically sticking to the violent policy

Various organizations and initiatives have already attempted to prohibit the use of the controversial weapons.: In December 2017, the French Ombudsman appealed to ban LBD40 projectiles during the maintenance of demonstrations. (This was a year before the Yellow Vests demonstrations had started) In February 2019, the Commissioner for the European Council of Human Rights made an urgent appeal to the French Ministry of the Interior to suspend the use of the LBD40. These urgent recommendations have been ignored by the Macron government. At the end of January, neurosurgeon Laurent Thines launched a petition against the use of LBD projectiles. 80,000 people signed the petition in about two weeks. More than 173,000 people have now signed the petition. On 6 February, a summary judgment proceedings at the Council of State, was filed by the Human Rights League, for a ban on the use of LBD projectiles. The request was rejected. On 14 February a resolution was submitted in the European Parliament on “the right to protest peacefully and the proportional use of force.” Specific terms that could indicate to the controversial weapons or French situation were taken from the final text. Moreover, the adopted resolution was not binding. During a hearing on 3 April 2019, six human rights organizations asked the French Council of State to have the use of LBD projectiles banned by the Constitutional Court during Yellow Vests demonstrations. However, the Council of State ruled that the law already provided for the use of weapons “in case of absolute necessity and in a strictly proportioned way” and only during “meetings”. So far all of these initiatives have not led to an adapted police policy and the banning of the controversial weapons. Will the recent Amnesty International report change that?

Explosive shells and LBD40 are classified as war material under French law. The use of these weapons and their intensive use in recent months and years raise the question of law enforcement practices decided by the French authorities.

French police has psychopathic traits

Amnesty International does not explicitly discuss the aggressive and offensive behaviour of the (military) police and BAC civilian units in the report. Even without the use of tear gas grenades and LBD40 rifles, there is excessive violence against the predominantly peaceful demonstrators. Excessive use of the baton can also lead to serious injury. There are countless examples on social media that protesters who are already lying on the ground are being completely smitten.

Policemen and BAC militias have been seen throwing stones and even carrying hammers. What does this have to do with law enforcement? Witnesses report that the police are always deliberately steering for a conflict with the demonstrators and escalating the violence. These reports are confirmed by countless videos. The excessive violence is not curbed or punished by the authorities. The officers seem to be above the law.

A different approach is needed

All this is not going to change by banning certain weapons. The police and civilian units are incited from above to take hard action against the demonstrators. In this way, the freedom of expression and the right to manifest itself is compromised.

Amnesty International therefore not only calls for an immediate end to the use of war weapons such as “to preserve the physical integrity of individuals”, but also emphasizes France’s obligation “to guarantee an environment that enables everyone to express his opinion peacefully. “ In addition to the information I sent you about the Yellow Vests, I like to add that since January 1st there have been 29 suicides among police officers. That is 1 suicide every 4 to 5 days! According to the Police union of angry officers these are also related to the 240 legal investigations in regards to police violence that are taking place.

Nonviolent protests are twice as likely to succeed as armed conflicts – and those engaging a threshold of 3.5% of the population have never failed to bring about change. In 1986, millions of Filipinos took to the streets of Manila in peaceful protest and prayer in the People Power movement. The Marcos regime folded on the fourth day. In 2003, the people of Georgia ousted Eduard Shevardnadze through the bloodless Rose Revolution, in which protestors stormed the parliament building holding the flowers in their hands. Earlier this year, the presidents of Sudan and Algeria both announced they would step aside after decades in office, thanks to peaceful campaigns of resistance. In each case, civil resistance by ordinary members of the public trumped the political elite to achieve radical change. There are, of course, many ethical reasons to use nonviolent strategies. But compelling research by Erica Chenoweth, a political scientist at Harvard University, confirms that civil disobedience is not only the moral choice; it is also the most powerful way of shaping world politics – by a long way.

As we get crammed into tighter and tighter living spaces, like there is no space left, when there is space everywhere. Anyone who has watched Aerial America series will see there is vast areas of this country uninhabited, that can be developed to move people away from oceans and river systems, that are causing much damage to homes, businesses and lives currently. The days of having to live near water are now 150 years out of date, if we can build vast pipelines at vast cost, to pipe bacteria poop around the country, which in and of itself is outdated technology, then we can build water pipelines that will actually serve many different purposes. So lets look at some of the reasons why we cant develop certain land, now I want to make it clear I am not espousing build on all land, some must be kept pristine and preserve the ecology of the planet, but currently our building issues and the chaos it can cause, is beyond stupid at this point. Building on barrier islands that runs all along most coastlines around America is not clever thinking, look at Manhattan an island that resembles a childs lego building creation, utter madness, as the buildings get higher resembling a male competitive streak of my dick is bigger than yours mindset, is ridiculous, when 1/4 to 1/2 of the other buildings are not even fully occupied, all it takes is one tsunami or one errant storm and it all gets wiped away. Who are the biggest American landowners, well here is a fact that will disturb and anger most of you, as well as surprise, 72% of all land in America is privately owned by families 10. The heirs to David Pingree fortune inherited 830,000 acres of land, for comparison state of Rhode Island is 900K acres 9. Stan Kroenke, who now owns more than 865,000 acres of land in the US—an area that’s four-and-a-half times the size of New York. 8. the heirs to Richard King’s historic ranch are set for life. The land stretches over six Texas counties With over 900,000 acres of land 7. Henry Singleton acquired 1.1 million acres of land before his death in 1999. In a span of 14 years, he purchased 28 ranches. 6. The Irvings are one of America’s wealthiest families; from their dynasty’s founding in 1881, They have amassed 1.2 million acres of land. 5. the Reed family, owners of 1.3 million acres of land, celebrated their success by planting their 100-millionth tree in 2015. 4. Brad Kelly has accumulated 1.7 million acres of land in less than a decade. 3. The Emmerson family own 1.9 million acres of land. 2. Ted Turner who owns around 2 million acres of land across seven states, which is just shy of three Rhode Islands. 1. John Malone is the largest landowner in the US, with 2.2 million acres of land, like Turner is involved with cable. As a comparison the whole of London is 75k acres with City of London an extra 717 acres Who are the biggest landowners in the UK? The Forestry Commission. 2,571,270 acres. ... The National Trust. 630,000 acres. ... Defence Estates, for the Ministry of Defence. 592,800 acres. ... The Pension Funds. 550,000 acres. ... Utilities: water,electricity, railways. 500,000 acres. ... The Crown Estate. 358,000 acres. ... The RSPB. bird protection 321,237 acres. ... The Duke of Buccleuch & Queensberry. 240,000 acres.

AND THE WORLD'S BIGGEST LANDOWNERS ARE ...

1. The Queen 2. King Abdullah of Saudi Arabia 3. The Pope 4. King Mohammed of Morocco 5. King Bhumibhol of Thailand 6. Sultan Qaboos of Oman 7. King Gyanendra of Nepal 8. Kidman Holdings 9. King Abdullah of Jordan 10. AA Company of Brisbane All an example of greed not need and why people are corralled into tighter spaces, by these self appointed families of so called royal blood, often dating back centuries, when they are in reality, they are no more entitled than any other human or being on this planet.

Land is for living and sharing, something these self serving greedy bastards have forgotten, the planet and all its resources belongs to us all.

Dr. Antony Kidman (who is the father of Nicole Kidman) died in 2014 after fleeing Australia when accused of the sexual abuse and murder of children in an elite Sydney pedophile ring. A month prior Fiona Barnett had filed a complaint with the Australian NSW police and Child Abuse Royal Commission alleging Kidman's sexual and physical assaults on her throughout childhood. When the Commission opened an investigation the clinical psychologist suddenly left his 43 years with the Sydney University of Technology and Royal North Shore Hospital to stay in Singapore until he died. The family has refused to comment and Singapore police opened an investigation on what they termed as an unnatural death. Yesterday Barnett released her own theory about Kidman's death," The main perpetrator of my child sexual abuse, Antony Kidman, is dead after I filed formal complaints accusing him of the rape, torture and murder of children in an exclusive Sydney pedophile ring. As a child victim of mind control I feel he's been sacrificed for failing to adequately program me." "Kidman was responsible for ensuring that I never disclosed pedophile ring activities that I witnessed as a child," she continued. "He failed. News of Kidman's death impacted me, someone who has undergone intense treatment. I know that there are other victims of Kidman's crimes out there who are perhaps not as far along the healing path as I am. I anticipate that news of Kidman's death may have a serious impact on these victims. A perpetrator's death can even trigger suicidal ideation. "My complaints last month to the Australian Child Abuse Royal Commission detailed two incidents in which Kidman subjected me to horrific physical and sexual assault" Barnett said. "But there are even more serious crimes against children that I witnessed Kidman commit as a member of the elite Sydney pedophile ring. Those complaints have gone to the International Common Law Court of Justice in Brussels." Barnett spoke out the day of Kidman's death – White Balloon Day 2014 – an event aimed at raising awareness for Australian children affected by sexual assault. She stated, "My contribution to White Balloon Day 2014 is to urge my fellow victims of crime to fight the filth that this monster deposited in their minds and if they can muster the strength, join me in my effort to give a voice to victims who are no longer with us." The ICLCJ Court has been looking into Barnett's allegations against Kidman in relation to their investigation of the global elite Ninth Circle Satanic Child Sacrifice Cult. Over sixty eyewitnesses such as Barnett have testified of Ninth Circle child sacrifice and pedophile activities that spanned the globe, including criminal activities against children in the Americas, Netherlands and UK commonwealth countries such as Australia. The Ninth Circle was also said to have well organized and secretive human hunting parties that included pedophilia. Privately owned forest groves were believed used in the US, Canada, France and Holland. It appeared children and teens were obtained by the criminal drug syndicate Octopus, which was believed connected to the Vatican. The kidnapped children and teens were said to be stripped naked, raped, hunted down and killed. Since the tender age of three Barnett had been trapped inside Australia's vast pedophile network where children were sex trafficked, hunted down for sport and murdered. "In the late afternoon of Oct. 28 1975 I was taken to my sixth birthday party in the Kiama rainforest," Barnett said. "The cordial was spiked with drugs. I fell asleep. When I awoke it was dark and I was lying naked face-up spread-eagle on a picnic table with my hands and legs tied. Perpetrators took turns sneaking up on me. A large group of men arrived in pick up trucks. They carried rifles and had a pack of starving Doberman dogs. I was told that the group of naked children huddled nearby were my responsibility. I was to run and hide them. Every child I failed to hide would be killed and fed to the dogs. They painted something on my back and chest, and then released us. I pushed the children up over the first steep hill. It was about the second or third hill that the hunting party reached us. Shots were fired and children began dropping all around me. With all hope lost of my saving the other children, I took off and ran for my life." Dutch therapist Toos Nijenhuis testified at the ICLCJ Court that as a child and like Barnett, she was badly abused and forced to witness child murders that involved global elites, claimed childhood torture at Barnett's same Australian Holsworthy Army Base and like Barnett, was a victim of Human Hunting Parties. Nijenhuis' perpetrators included former Pope Joseph Ratzinger, Dutch Catholic Cardinal Alfrink and Bilderberger founder Prince Bernhard. Nijenhuis explained to International Tribunal into Crimes of Church and State Secretary Reverend Kevin Annett, her witness to child sacrifices as late as 2010.

This is another sign of the alt media working and this time it is the youth who are pushing our message, don't just believe what politicians and MSM are telling you, look for the agenda. The very public scene of hundreds of Colorado students and their parents walking out of a vigil that was turned into political theater by the Brady Campaign to Prevent Gun Violence was so embarrassing that the gun control group actually issued an apology. Before leaving the Wednesday night event, students shouted, in front of journalists who the Brady Campaign invited: "this is not for us," "political stunt" and "we are people, not a statement." The Brady Campaign had portrayed the event as a vigil in memory of Kendrick Castillo, a student hero who died from gunshot wounds after he and two other students charged one of the attackers Tuesday at the Highlands Ranch STEM School in Colorado. Instead of putting together an event to bring people together to mourn, the gun control group brought in activists and Colorado politicians – Democratic presidential contender U.S. Sen. Michael Bennet and Democratic U.S. Rep. Jason Crow – to push a one-sided political agenda. The speakers said they weren't there to just offer thoughts and prayers, but that they instead were there to push for more restrictions on the right to bear arms. We saw this with events after the shooting at Parkland High School in Florida. The events, including a CNN town hall, weren't open forums or vigils. They were orchestrated propaganda designed to push a political cause. The CNN event even featured then-Broward County Sheriff Scott Israel. He vociferously stuck to the gun control narrative. He should have known – and we would all soon find out – that a school resource officer stayed outside during the attack. President Trump later called the officer a “coward.” The students who boldly walked out en masse as they chanted “mental health, mental health” from what shouldn’t have been a political event did shock the mainstream media into actually reporting on the story. Tide is turning as forecasted last year, it appears slow, but in reality it's not, its spreading through the halls of perceived power and slapping them right between the eyes.

We would have greater progress if we didn't have so many clowns, agents, program members, new age bs'ery, sell outs and service to self group leaders within the alt community. We have the threshold clearly and yet so many have been divided with ET narrative, mostly of which is false, fake money programs, arguing over which law is better than that law, earth is flat or round, did we go to the moon or not, the list is endless and none of it fixes issues, or provides the necessary focus on matters they really concern all of us. Soon Randy and I will be doing a show that covers the impact of the various programs and players operating and permeating through the alt community, how the ET narrative has delayed much, distracted much and harvested much. Behind the scenes there is an alt media war raging in all fields of alt media now, people who happily jumped on the fake blue chicken bandwagon are now acting all sanctimonious, and on damage limitation programs, and calling Corey out now, where were you people including the Dark Journalist who passes himself off now as the expert on the Blue Chickens narrative, when he appears to want to speak to everyone except the 3 people who outed this cult back in June 2014, where were you people then? Linda Moulton Howe and Jay Weidner knew of issues in last few years, and yet still turned up to the sell my bookfest called Contact in the desert in support of Corey and Wilcock, now Corey has been exposed, it's lets jump into the limelight again and call Corey out. All who took part in those conferences as speakers jumped in on the back of Corey and Wilcocks popularity with no care of what they were participating in, no I am going to promote my latest book or video became the all important, regardless of the consequences. Look we have all made mistakes following people and programs ran out of the alt media, but what I find sickening is people changing their tune, once the tide had turned, and using it to promote themselves, a sickening example to me of service to self and damage limitation to their own role in it. None of you had the guts to out Corey and Wilcock, at their peak back in 2014, only Randy, Shane and I did, all 3 of us took a load of flak from people over that, some in CV are still holding that against me, but that's ok. There was also at the time Cobra who outed Corey and his fake narrative, only to mysteriously forget all that and then jumped in with Corey and the fake Red Dragon ambassador, who has subsequently snatched over $2M out of unsuspecting people in the alt media, why would Cobra do that, is it the same Cobra one must ask, or another replacement, like what happened with Tolec and possibly even David Wilcock, like I said the day Kerry Cassidy puts David Wilcock and Michael Shratt on the same video show, I will be watching, something I never knew until this week, David was born in New York, funny that. I am pleased it's all coming out now, not to be proven right in my stance, but the fact that, that program is ending, a coven program Corey and Wilcock knew full well about before signing up, of what was essentially a children's harvesting program, they told you that on the billboard of the first Contact in the desert, right in your face, for those that could see. Back in 2014 after I outed Wilcock and Corey's game, I was vilified for doing so and was accused of doing drip fed slow disclosure, compared to Wilcock and Corey who were demanding full disclosure, when in reality they were delaying it and controlling the narrative. What both of them were blatantly unaware of, I was at a meeting, where the court meeting was deciding that course of action, clowns wanted 50 years disclosure so all of them were dead and they wouldn't be brought to justice, that was rejected out of hand for those really fighting for disclosure, to be able to move forward, neither Wilcock or Corey were at that meeting, they went on hearsay of others. Do I think slow disclosure is the best way? yes, and that is what I have done with the shows, it is the only way, imagine listening to all my shows in one week, your head would explode, because no matter what the few may think, as a collective whether awake or not, many are not ready for the full truth in one go, it is a bit like people wanting to recall past lives and think they will have fun with it, erm many if not most of us, need to deal with traumas and recalls of this lifetime first, before delving into that hornets nest. It's kind of funny from a psychological point of view to observe people, who spend most of their days imposing limitations on themselves, and yet suddenly elevate their limitations beyond all reality and think they can handle full disclosure, the answer is, we can't. It is system overload and also impractical and not very productive either, do we all take time off and learn of these disclosures or do we press forward with solutions to heal the past and forge a new path and future? So to all who vilified the few of us prepared to stop this charade, what you say now? full disclosure? oh dear, I said back then it is non disclosure and total distraction, which is what the ET narrative has mainly become, nuggets of truth hidden deeply within a plethora of lies, distortion, egos and self serving sell outs. 5 years on the blue chickens or the blue sphere beings, neither of which exist, there are two blue skinned Ets as far as I know, one is from the moon Nihuhia and linked with a possible binary sun of ours Tacoma, the other is Alpha Cygni constellation, there is no blue avian group period, other two who are blue are humanoid, add in Asgard Corey bumbled out, and none have saved you have they? No new tech has arrived or bloody ET packages replete with butt probes, when reality sinks in, people will realize we don't in most cases, need ET tech, we have lots of our own. People have to realize 1. they never were saving you, some have helped but not saved and 2. ET narrative has turned into a whole cottage industry of buy my book, video or cd people, who for them discernment holds no value, only what they can sell to enhance their own lifestyles and status. What will get overlooked in all of this carnage as names get pushed forward as being a part of the or a lie, is most of the names we are familiar with within the ET alt community, were launched by two people, who are rather quiet these days, Kerry Cassidy and Bill Ryan, they have some explaining to do to the community in my opinion, who was pulling their strings needs to be disclosed, the fact that both Camelot and Avalon are both previous CIA project names, should not be overlooked. Project Avalon group is ran by MI5 and the Menwith Hill group that Ryan, former wife Christine Anderson and Simon Parkes knew full well about, collecting data on people who came forward with their experiences, and in particular anyone with switched on abilities, adding them to their masters database and then making those people a target, Corey Goode was launched out of that group, you can add Miles Johnston and his super soldier narrative to that list also. All very sad to me

Q Is there a known way to mass deprogram people so they can better accept the truth about our world? That can be looked at as a savior program, which is not beneficial, people have to learn themselves, sadly the hard way, but it can be changed by deleting all current MSM and have alt media and others presenting news based in reality, not conspiracy like it is now, irony is they call us conspiracy theorists, when there whole narrative is conspiracy. Members talking about sleepers not catching up, they wont, the reason? because your not standing still is why. The problem they face and why I warned it was too late for them to catch up in an easier way back in November 2017, is they have to learn to unlearn the lies they have been fed. That requires an open mind, not easy when so many have religious hooks, and then a change of mindset almost of 120 degrees. It is not an easy process as you can all attest to, can be brutal and painful in various aspects, but with perseverance it can be overcome, as many of you have. All of you have made and undertaken an extraordinary journey, a lonely and some hurtful journey, but how many will walk in your shoes? You can't go back once the real truth starts to kick in, it becomes infectious, as we all greedily devour on the banquet of truth, with all it's sins. Many haven't got the mental fortitude, their lives and thinking are too shallow, and they wallow in service to self, those people live in a bubble world, where bad things only happen to other people, not them. I cant imagine them operating in a WW1 type setting with sleep deprivation, wallowing in mud in the trenches, those people would sit their doing selfies and asking when is dinner, whilst the few fight, and this is what we have now in essence, only the few are really prepared to put their lives on the line, for the benefit of others. So, will the sleepers catch up? not really, you all are too far ahead in terms of knowledge, understanding and in many cases empathy, the difficulty they face is they learn with guilt, of knowing they were told about this and chose to ignore it, a double burden in essence, and so their sin eating will carry a much heavier burden in some aspects. You all chose wisely to board the truth train, give yourself some credit for doing so from time to time, reflect on how far you have come, not always how far to go, this truth train has no stops, there is no layover at certain stations, it speeds up and slows down at times, but it ain't stopping ever.
