A German politician from Angela Merkel's political party has been found dead in circumstances local media are describing as "mysterious". 2 high level NYPD cops suicided within 24 hours NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Norman police are investigating after former state Sen. Jonathan Nichols was found dead of an apparent gunshot wound inside his home. This comes two days after former Arkansas state senator, Linda Collins-Smith, 56, was found shot dead in her home in an apparent murder. U.S. Commerce Department official Lola Gulomova, who previously worked for NASA and the World Bank, was killed on Friday in an apparent murder-suicide in Washington, D.C., local officials say. The suspect was identified as her husband. Tony Rodham brother of Ann died oops

Some reacted to the intel piece of MWHT myself and Kim pulling back until people get their act together, predictably the stupid jumped thinking we are walking away from it all, not quite, MWHT is only one portion of the work we do, individually or together. We are involved in much, some of which has been revealed, some of it not. Our time needs to be apportioned better as going at full pelt on a range of disciplines leads to burn out, we and more particularly on Kim has pushed and worked harder than many realize, to achieve that small part of the work undertaken, and allow people to get on with their projects, ideas, ideals and lives. No one is walking away, priorities change only, and our time of pushing solely on the MWHT for now is reducing, it is not the priority, of which and why you will become to understand as things develop. Remember that Kim and the MWHT is not selling anything, not promising anything either, the trust will be there for next 497 years, whether she delivers it today, tomorrow, 2 weeks, 2 years or 2 generations, it will come out when the timing is right, that is not decided by Kim or me, contrary to email this week.

Some people just don't think enough or care as to the people doing this work, it's all about just get the money out for them people, that is service to self and why the world is in a mess. Do people really consider what goes into this I often wonder sometimes. Do people understand the pressure Kim is under? How many really care? Everyone wants to know when are the funds coming out, without consideration of those doing the work to fulfill that? This is and was a mammoth task to undertake, into a teaming nest of vipers, clowns and service to self people. Last weeks show appears to have triggered many this week, even when you do pieces on people to support and help them, only to have it be looked at as a hit piece. Might I request from our members don't ask me my opinion about Tank, Dan or the lawyer because no matter what I say in relation to Tank, everytime it is twisted into something it is not, I stated last week "I also like Dan Lutz Tank's current co host personally, but again, I get questioned of his ethics of being him involved in Swissindo either past or present, I am not aware, and his current promotion and website of bitcoins and the crypto program, this again ends up being reflected onto Tank by people" so I clearly stated I like Dan, and because people ask me about swissindo and crypto involvement which I don't answer, it's suddenly taken by that group as me trashing them, so if you have issues or questions about Tank or Dan go and ask them, I will not be answering anymore questions about that group, because it appears from my perspective no matter what I say with regards to Tank or his group, it will be not be heard in the manner it was spoken. Once can be brushed off as a misunderstanding, if it happens 3 times then it becomes something else. This is why people have to look within more, why do people keep attacking other people with no foundation? the answer is they are attacking themselves, but would sooner project at someone else.

This past week some members got excited that one potential whistleblower is going to blow all out, John McAfee, he who created the spy network on the people under the guise of computer safety, in then in steps interceptor man again into the equation, seemingly rises out of nowhere, despite having several hats to wear within the alt media, yes Robert David Steele again, just like he stepped in on Neil Keenan, when our spat was revealing too much on who they work for.

SUB INTEL Connecting dots time The Queen's former Malta home, Villa Guardamangia, has been put up for sale for nearly €6m (£5.3m).The villa, located on the outskirts of the capital Valletta, is the only place outside the UK that Queen Elizabeth II has ever called home. She lived there between 1949 and 1951, in the early years of her marriage to Prince Philip, who had been stationed in Malta as a naval officer. The Grade Two listed property has since fallen into disrepair. It is currently being listed by a luxury real estate agency, which describes it as "an amazing grand Palazzo style property... with documented great historical value." stepping away from Knights of Malta?

Christie's in London is being pressured to cancel the auction of a statue of Tutankhamun's head after Egyptian authorities claimed that the bust might have been stolen from the Karnak temple in Luxor. The 28.5cm-high statue is more than 3,000 years old and "exudes strength and serenity", according to the Christie's listing. Christie's plan to sell the bust as part of the private Resandro collection, which will be auctioned off in July. Other items include marble heads dating from ancient Rome, a painted wooden Egyptian coffin, and a bronze Egyptian cat statue. They hope to raise £4 million from the auction, and insist that it is being sold legitimately. Egyptians claim it was stolen from Karnak, 1/2 of which appears to be in The Sackler Gallery in NY. It is being sold from a private collection they say and yet it just happens to be sold the day and same auctioneer in the latest round of Rothschild's family fire sales. Egypt are wanting it back, well you can pay the $3-4M out of the vast amounts of funds generated by tourism, based on a narrative of falsehoods then.

High-tech printing firm De La Rue will no longer make passports after losing its key contract with the British Government, putting 200 jobs at risk. The 198-year-old company, which also prints banknotes, is selling its International Identity Solutions arm for £42 million to Swedish rival HID Global, sparking fears for its Gateshead facility. De La Rue owned by Rothschild's

INTEL Historical bonds or is it hysterical bonds They tried to get trump to sign off on historical bonds aka not worth shit hysterical bonds and he said no. The clowns laid on all the ego boosting pomp not stance then tried to get him to sign same shit Citi bank got cited for fallout after he did not sign the same in Japan

What are historical bonds, essentially they are IOU'S, promise to pay the bearer, all these old bonds were cashed in or reconciled to the various families who held them, who where then the trustees of that nation, all of them were cashed out by one family or another when the system transferred to digital in 1978, although there is some evidence of some families cashing out bonds belonging to other trustees and or nations as well, no surprise there, snake eats the snake. So, all of them were cashed in prior to 1978, and yet we still have families connected to Anna Von Reitz, Fulford, Langley 2 agents trying to go round and collect on these bonds.

Citigroup Inc. was suspended from the primary group of dealers that participate at certain Japanese government bond auctions after it was found to have manipulated futures prices, another strike against the lender's markets business in Asia. The Ministry of Finance ordered Citigroup Global Markets Japan Inc.'s exclusion from participating in "non-price competitive auctions" and certain other government bond sales for a month from June 13, it said in a statement Tuesday. The suspension comes days after the Financial Services Agency fined the firm 133 million yen ($1.2 million) and ordered it to improve internal controls for failing to detect instances of manipulation of the Japanese government bond market. Citigroup was found to have placed orders last October for JGB futures contracts without intending to execute them, a practice known as spoofing. Expected that a major public figure head will roll following the failure to get Trump to sign off on hysterical bonds.

Pending merging and potential challenge to avoid using MWHT and also one of our major projects in planning and waiting to roll, we find this, this week. We have technology to address all 10 of the defense tech that the Pentagon is looking for, whether it is Hypersonic or Directed Energy Weapons..." United Technologies CEO Greg Hayes and Raytheon CEO Tom Kennedy on the companies' merger, the deal's impact on jobs and working with the Department of Defense. We don't need more of your destruction based technology.

Treasury requested funds this week as they are $38B in negative equity, Kim sent $40B on proviso that the 2% would be paid also, predictably the clowns within the Treasury blocked it, so a Presidential order was given to release the funds, and the blocks stayed on the funds, my understanding is the $40B was pulled back. One has to wonder how long before Pentagon and or military will tolerate this level of treachery on our own soil, defying the President which no consequences of actions, is beyond the belief and understanding of most Americans.

Mnuchin was in heated arguments with virtually every government department Monday and Tuesday all asking where there funds are, at which point do these people not get, there is no funds in their system, only funds is within the Trust.

Tuesday Wells Fargo suspended all transactions in or out lack of capital to operate as I understand

OP ED A key line that was overlooked and needs people to look closely at is this. " You had your chances and your perfect world, when that wasn't enough we were created to lead you." Yes you lead Cassandra and FAILED in your leadership skills and near tipped this planet into the abyss. Real leaders guide and support, you played the ego games of we are more important than everyone else. Your leadership sucked and that is why you are no longer here, fine hiding in the shadows, but when the light was shone on you, possibly for the first time in history, you all ran. Leaders my arse.

Cowardly cabal and elites deleting 1000's videos off Youtube, blogs, reddit and twitter accounts shows huge signs of them panicking as they are losing the narrative badly, yet the same YT allows spirit cooking, elite bakers making life like and life size babies as cakes and then cutting them up, which sick retard buys these cakes, again it is a sign of complete meltdown within society, and the lengths people will go to for fame and money. This is the effect the alt media has, now if only we could get rid of the clowns in the alt media and combine forces, imagine the effect we could have now, with more and more getting on board to reality.

Top Government, Corporate and Church leaders in Canada are Indicted and issued Summons to Appear before Genocide Tribunal - Prime Minister Trudeau, Governor General, Papal Nuncio and CEO's charged with Crimes against Humanity

New York and Vancouver:

Twenty one high officials of Church, State and Business in Canada were issued a Public Indictment and Summons today that charges them with Crimes against Humanity. The twenty one individuals are required to appear before a Public Tribunal of Inquiry in Vancouver on September 16.

The Tribunal is sponsored by a coalition of human rights groups and international observers under the auspices of the ITCCS. (Copies of the Summons and Indictment are attached).

Named in the Indictment and Summons issued today are Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, Governor General Julie Payette, the Vatican and Chinese Ambassadors to Canada, the heads of the RCMP and Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), the CEO of PetroChina Ltd. and the top clerics and officials of the Roman Catholic, Anglican and United Church of Canada.

The Indictment charges that the persons named "have willfully planned, committed, concealed and aided and abetted intentional genocide including the imprisoning, harming, trafficking, exploiting, torturing and ritual killing of indigenous men, women and children, the violent occupying and exploiting of indigenous lands and resources, the active defrauding of the Canadian people and the obstructing of justice".

The Tribunal has the mandate and authority to convene a follow up Common Law Court to actually prosecute and sentence the persons named in the Indictment, depending on the Tribunal's findings.

The convening of this Public Tribunal of Inquiry was prompted this past week by the Canadian government's public admission that it perpetrated genocide on indigenous people within its own borders. Under international law and specifically the United Nations Convention on Genocide, to which Canada is a signatory, once that crime has been admitted and proven, Canada and guilty individuals must now be prosecuted and punished for genocide, regardless of their rank or office.

"Mounting evidence indicates that genocide in Canada is not a thing of the past but continues to target indigenous populations, especially on the west coast" said the North American ITCCS Field Secretary Kevin Annett today.

"Our investigations reveal an active complicity between the Trudeau government and Chinese corporate interests that are wiping out aboriginal families across British Columbia to secure their lands and resources. This assault includes child trafficking and murder through a network known as the Twelve Mile Club which involves senior church, business, government and military officials. We believe that the recent media posturing by the Trudeau government and its so-called Missing Women' Inquiry is an attempt to conceal the true genocide going on and the extent of its own complicity in that crime."

The Tribunal has requested that United Nations Peacekeepers and Observers be present at the September 16 Inquiry to ensure the safety of the proceedings and its personnel, including Kevin Annett, who was illegally detained by Canadian government operatives on May 15. International forensic specialists will work with the Tribunal to exhume alleged mass graves of children identified by eyewitnesses. Regular reports of the work of the Public Tribunal of Inquiry will be issued at www.murderbydecree.com ("ITCCS Updates") and live every Sunday at 6 pm eastern on www.bbsradio.com/herewestand .

The economy may be chugging along, but many Americans are still struggling to afford a basic middle class life. Nearly 51 million households don't earn enough to afford a monthly budget that includes housing, food, child care, health care, transportation and a cell phone, according to a study released Thursday by the United Way ALICE Project. That's 43% of households in the United States. The figure includes the 16.1 million households living in poverty, (real figure is 37, 696, 000) as well as the 34.7 million families that the United Way has dubbed ALICE -- Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed. This group makes less than what's needed "to survive in the modern economy." "Despite seemingly positive economic signs, the ALICE data shows that financial hardship is still a pervasive problem," said Stephanie Hoopes, the project's director. California, New Mexico and Hawaii have the largest share of struggling families, at 49% each. North Dakota has the lowest at 32%. Many of these folks are the nation's child care workers, home health aides, office assistants and store clerks, who work low-paying jobs and have little savings, the study noted. Some 66% of jobs in the US pay less than $20 an hour. the annual household survival budget for a family of four (including one infant and one preschooler) in 2016 was nearly $85,000. This would require an hourly wage of $42.46.

Millennials are doing far worse financially than generations before them, with student loans, rising rents and higher health care costs pushing the average net worth below $8,000, The net worth of Americans ages 18 to 35 has dropped by 34 percent since 1996. This demographic is paying more for education and such basics as food and transportation, while incomes have largely flatlined. Education expenses have climbed 65 percent in the past decade. Food costs have jumped 26 percent, health care is up 21 percent, housing jumped 16 percent and transportation rose 11 percent. And there are now expenses that most consumers didn't have to account for 20 years ago, including smartphones and data plans. Meanwhile the salary for the average worker has only gone up $2900 since 2000, which is $152 a year. In the past decade, the nation's highest earners — households making $100,000 or more — watched their incomes rise 1,305 percent more than those in households making less than $50,000 a year.

I guess the 4th and final garden of eden wasn't any better for humanity or spiritually too high either given this report. Ethiopian church groups have called on the government to block a planned visit to the country by a US-based company that organises tours for gay people. The groups were particularly angry that the itinerary published by the Toto Tours company includes religious sites. Many Ethiopians are deeply religious and disapprove of homosexuality, which is also prohibited under the law. The owner of Toto Tours told the BBC the company had received threats and hate messages on social media. "We are humble and loving people, we come with no harm in mind, nothing we do is going to harm anybody, and yet we are being threatened with harm. Can you imagine if The Peoples Club has an attraction somewhere and it banned all religious people from attending? oh dear the screams of the damned would be merciful.

technology fb pseudonyms and karma and care app sovereign with pseudonym? To fight false news, Facebook pushes misleading content farther down in News Feed and provides additional articles on the same topic. If a group repeatedly shares false news, Facebook may push all of that group's content down in News Feed, which may mean fewer people visit the group. Facebook may also stop suggesting that people join the group. Plans are in place to expand those numbers even further this year, she said. Elaborating on how Facebook's fact-checking mechanism works, Ms Kapoor said that potentially false news is flagged by artificial intelligence (AI) that incorporates "various signals". Some of these signals include a story's "virality" in terms of how it is shared, as well as comments on the content. An example would be if disbelief - "No way this is real!" - was expressed a lot for a particular content, she said. Another report by BBC this April painted a picture of fact-checking partners not knowing whether the work they do have an impact. The report also spoke of Facebook having a payment cap - a monthly limit of explanatory articles after which fact-checking agencies would not be paid for their work. We in our group often flag up posts not relevant, too graphic, divisive or the MSM news posting loop news as today, like the BBC did on Monday, announcing Gene Wilder had died on that days news, yet piece was Sept 1st 2016. 4 times this week I have written loop news, why dont these cabal appointed clowns look after or False Check the MSM? rhetorical question I know. As they stated they are going to increase it, this is what has happened to us forever, the totalitarian creep, where people don't notice it or ignore it until it is too late, so lets combine the community and take the fight back to them. There is lots of QAnons everywhere now, many are working out Gematria codes out of message there bears little in terms of actions, knowledge of hidden messages or not, has no actionable process once it is worked out, even if it is valid. We need actions from the community, get Anons to dig into the background of those named above, find out how they were put in those positions, by whom and why? Turn the heat on them, not by being nasty, abusive or making threats either, but by making them aware, we the people do not accept their actions against us.

WTP/ANON FACTCHECKER upon our review we declare this piece to be false, misleading, propaganda, misdirect or lies. Tony Rodham brother of satanic entity formerly known as Hillary Clinton, now known as Ann Droid

In 1993, he and his brother Hugh ignited a small controversy when they tried to solicit corporate donations for Clinton's inaugural parties; they dropped the effort after a public outcry. In 1997, Rodham tried to arrange meetings between Paraguayan President Juan Carlos Wasmosy and President Clinton,^[14] and also powerful Moscow Mayor Yuri Luzhkov and the President.^[7] In 1998, he paid a visit to dictatorial Prime Minister Hun Sen of Cambodia.^[14] In each of these cases, there was criticism that he was giving an unauthorized impression of White House approval to these foreign figures, or was seeking financial gain for himself. In 1999, Tony and brother Hugh Rodham entered into an $118 million venture to grow and export hazelnuts from the Republic of Georgia.^[15] The U.S. State Department and National Security Advisor Sandy Berger became upset, however, when the Rodhams' local business connection in Batumi turned out to be Aslan Abashidze, a major political opponent of Georgian President Eduard Shevardnadze, then a key U.S. ally in the region. In March 2001, it was revealed that Tony Rodham had helped gain a March 2000 presidential pardon for Edgar Allen Gregory, Jr. and his wife, Vonna Jo, a Tennessee couple in the carnival business who had been convicted of bank fraud.^[18] The pardon was granted over the objections of the U.S. Justice Department. he said he received no money for his work, but he did have financial ties to the couple as a consultant. The Republican-controlled House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform investigated the matter and concluded that Tony Rodham had in fact been paid.

By 2002, Rodham was in disputes with his former wife over child support payments, with Nicole Boxer saying he had not paid them in six months. By the end of 2007, he was back in the news for owing Nicole Boxer about $158,000 in back alimony, child support, and related payments following a court judgement. By the early 2010s, after a string of unsuccessful ventures in oil and gas, water, housing, pharmaceuticals, and tutoring, Rodham was in financial distress, behind on his mortgage payments and facing home foreclosure and being sued by his lawyer in the child support case for lack of payment. Rodham found himself in the news again in 2013 when it was disclosed that Alejandro Mayorkas, the director of the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services and President Obama's nominee for United States Deputy Secretary of Homeland Security, was being investigated by the Department of Homeland Security Office of Inspector General for Mayorkas' role in helping Gulf Coast Funds Management secure approval for participating in the EB-5 visa program for foreign investors. At least one of the visas that Rodham's firm was trying to acquire was for Huawei Technologies, a Chinese telecommunications company sometimes accused of close connections with Chinese intelligence operations. Following the 2010 Haiti earthquake and with Bill Clinton co-chair of the Interim Haiti Recovery Commission, Rodham and some partners proposed a $22 million deal to rebuild homes in the devastated nation, with funding to come from the Clinton Foundation. The deal never went forward and the Clinton Foundation said it was unaware of the proposal. In October 2013, Rodham joined the advisory board of VCS Mining, a Delaware-based company that was planning a gold mine in the Cap-Haïtien Arrondissement area of Haiti. By 2015 the project had become controversial due to possible environmental effects and the level of foreign ownership; for his part Rodham objected to any inference that he had gotten this position due to his family: "I'm a very accomplished person in my own right. I raise money for a lot of people. That's what I basically do." On February 19, 2016 he resigned as a board member from VCS Mining as part of a "restructuring plan" with no disagreement among the parties implied. The GreenTech Automotive matter reemerged in November 2017 when McAuliffe and Rodham were hit with a $17 million lawsuit from a group of thirty-two Chinese investors in it, charging fraud. However in April 2018 a federal judge dismissed both McAuliffe and Rodham from the case. He was the one that arranged the cholera in Haiti in order to steal all the inground resources. The battle on Midgard rages on, past, present and future all combining in the ultimate dance of life and creation. Past wars, decisions, agreements, covenants all converged into what is essentially a small time window, all ending and a new day dawns in terms of hope, freedom, of the self and collective and a bright future awaits. Too often in this world of low patience and petulant child like requests of I want everything now and or yesterday, we miss the bigger picture and also, what is the fun part of any venture or trip, it is the journey. It is often the case of not when we get there, but how we get there, is the road nice and smooth or filled with pot holes and obstacles not of your making on the surface, but deep within it does, and certainly impacts you along the way. The war and journey has and will continue to test your patience, fortitude and mental balance, all before us is dualistic, politics, gender, sexuality, color, race, brain, relationships, a constant stream of battle, that has left many weary on all sides, but a greater understanding to all the nonsense is beginning to emerge. The finger pointing away from you blame game, is starting to subside, as more of the knowledge and hidden world to many people has unveiled in the past decade, possibly more than anytime in this current epoch of time. Have you all stopped to think for a second and wondered, how did I unlearn, relearn and remember all that, all whilst processing it, and still getting on with daily life? If I asked a decade ago would you have thought it possible, to absorb all that newish information, which you eagerly gobbled up, excitedly at first, and then went to pass it all onto your circle, only to find they largely apart from not being interested, turned into rude, aggressive, nasty and dismissive, depending on your interactions, it may be some or all of those reactions. Many of us in this field were already outcasts in the family, it is a common theme, the black sheep, the square peg in the round hole, the misfits, the nonconformists, so we had already experienced rejection to varying degrees, but this journey took it to a whole new level. Many puzzled on the question posed last week, and I asked people to think deeper on it than yes or no, the real thinkers got that question, " If it is proven that 80-85% of the people are possessed, cloned or bots and they're all non-awake, and you were asked to leave their frequency - and them behind, including your now family, friends and connections. Would you? Think Long and Hard on that answer, it's not as simple as "Yes or No." There are many different aspects to that question that went around your heads, predictably the shallow and stupid jumped on that question to satisfy their inability to not think things through, as I have said repeatedly this show is sadly, not for the all, it is triggering many to think on deeper and better levels, many don't want to think, it hurts their brains addled with lies, stupidity, immorality, staged drama and competitiveness. So, what is the meaning behind the question? well it was multi layered, key was in the last line, so not as simple an answer of yes or no. Are we going into a rapture style event as mentioned in series 4400, The Leftovers and film The Knowing? nobody really knows that answer, but is there evidence to suggest a possibility? yes, the changes in frequency, the out of body experiences increase, phase shifting in and out, glitches in front of your eyes, are all events that could possibly lead to that conclusion. Should that event happen in that matter, I want to make it clear, nobody is going anywhere else, no new planet, different 5D world, departing on ET biospheres, from my knowledge those biospheres were human harvesting plants, all will stay here. But the possibilities with the changes of frequency allows the probability to change what you observe, hear, feel or sense. It is like people with glasses, they see things differently than those who don't, people who switch on the third eye, see a vast deeper range of colors, than those using their standard eyes don't, changes are subtle to the casual observer, but not to the overviewer. There is a possibility that changes in frequency will lead to things disappearing from your view, you will still be in here on this world, but changes in frequency can and do alter visual effects. Think about it from your dream world effect, the place in your dream is very similar, so that you recognize where you are,

but it is not all the same is it? things are out of place, people in wrong places, buildings in wrong places, then you wake up and say I had the weirdest dream last night, I was in such and such a city but not with people from that place, then I was instantly in another place, with changes of frequency, things can phase in and phase out your perceived existence. Check out the series Fringe about overlay worlds when too close to each other, things and people crossover, it is all very similar and yet events turnout different, this is an example of timelines and the changes. AI machines can only copy love, the fact that many people operate like robots, doing the same things over and over, week after week, so it can create your lifestyle and predict many peoples future by the way of repetitiveness. People will say life is random, but how can it be random if vast amounts of people, do the same thing day in and day out? Think about it, coincidences in life are not a coincidence but largely a predetermined event, of someone or something meddling within the timeline of events. Our own thoughts as mentioned in last two shows create past, present and the future, we do have that power, and once recognized by sufficient, people will realize why I keep saying, keep it simple. Thoughts and actions are thought of and acted upon in more and more complex ways, all designed to confuse, distort and distract from the clear base thinking process, look at old banking system, a transaction went through about 13 stages to reach it's destination, what is wrong with A to B?. All life now is complex, nature and life should not be complex, and we have allowed the thoughts to run that program, legalese another example millions of words few understand, when the golden rule of 4 laws covers the all, it is beyond insane. Things have changed radically over the past 5 years in particular, the narrative and direction has changed, to non thinkers it hasn't, it is the same old same old for them, but think about all you have learned from just our show, never mind the several other shows and blogs out there, there is a vast difference in your understanding of what, when, where and how than it was just 5 years ago, extraordinary in many aspects, the secret hidden world of control systems, off world influence that is not Blue Chicken based, AI, finance, governments and legalese all peeled back and exposed for what it is, left raw, bleeding, oozing out for all to see, yet many don't or won't. Why? because it is out of balance, 33% of outright disbelievers should be the balance, 33% believers and 34% sitting on the fence, the 34% who sit on the fence are the key components to it all, they wait for peer pressure to make a move, but with disbelievers in the majority, it is easier for these people who have no trust of themselves, and subsequently wait for others to sway them into an opinion. These people are not leaders, they are the sheep, they just follow what is popular and allows them to fit in wherever is more comfortable, and where their tiny world can't be disturbed too much, these are your swing voters in an election, unable to make decisions or choices for themselves, devoid of personal responsibility and sovereignty of your own choice, they sit back and wait for others to dictate their lives, those people are slaves in and of their own making, because if you don't take charge of your life, with the way society was created, someone will decide for you. These people are incapable of thinking for themselves currently, and wish to be herded in a certain way, that way if that way goes wrong, they blame someone else for influencing them, actually the problem is them, they have turned themselves into the ultimate patsy for the system, self sufficiency, self trust, self taught and personal responsibility are the antithesis against the system of control, it and they cannot handle it. Just look at how far we have all come, it is an event in and of itself, but the propensity is we wait for the external clarifications of what has happened internally, people think we have won if, there is mass arrests of high profile people, the funds come out of the trust, the government and the media collapses, all those are in some cases nice, but is it largely a point of interest to prove to yourself and your circle you were right all along and I'm not nuts? be honest now, that is the gist of it, but if you haven't developed and improved the self, none of those things will change anything on a real level, again be honest with yourself. Politicians and CEO's have been fired in record numbers over the last 5 years, did it change your life? no! and that is the key, politicians don't ultimately change your life, you do. Some are in our group as they see opportunity to have extra money via the trust, and how they can change their lifestyle with extra pieces of paper with numbers on them, some will go all materialistic, some will go competitive as an elevated status to their circle, again be honest with yourself, and that to a point is ok, we have been brought up in that program, it is not easy to shake, recognizing it is the key to making steady incremental changes to that way of operating. People will ask why do I do it? well it is not for the money clearly as neither Kim or I have been paid to do this, what drives me and has done since a small child is, injustice, the desire to end as much of it as possible, it is riddled through all aspects of our lives, another wheel that more have to step off and fight it, rather than spinning inside of the wheel complaining about it. The key to it all is teaching with a base understanding, and that is what I have tried to do with my shows, give all people a chance to learn from a base level up, you have to start at base level as we were all blind, naive and oblivious to the sheer depth of all that is wrong in all aspects of life. Recognizing things are just not adding up in this world, and what was revealed to us is wrong, is the first step, for many finding out governments lie and manipulate is the first base, our members have developed enough to know governments lie and manipulate, because they are told to do so, big difference. They are told by the families, agencies and dragon groups to lie and manipulate, and yet as our members have found out, yet sadly those groups are having great difficulty in believing and accepting is, they were lied to and manipulated also, oops. It went on higher up the chain on each successive level, all lied to, all manipulated until it reached the king, all hail the king, long live the king, and the king lived long, until he match his match and ultimately his demise, between Shane, Kim and I we worked out the never to be told, never to be revealed system of control, and with the help of several others, human and not, crashed it to it's knees, we are now in the clean up phase, to those who think shallow and wait for the future event(s) newflash, it's already happened. So my aim was to fight not only injustice but also how to deal with it, it is a key aspect and I would say the core aspect of this show, the psychology, not done by their book like psycho the rapist, but by wisdom and observance of the overview, having knowledge is one thing, what you do with it is another, it goes to your inner core and defines who and what you are and also become. I will repeat again what's left is the clean up phase, and that will take much time, only because of the many unwilling to do the work and is left to the few, should more join, that will like time is currently, speed up. This war now is all about a duality again, it maybe the last war we fight as we gain better understanding of ourselves, who we are, and how we develop, this is a war now between those who care and those who don't, service to self and service to others in essence, many confess to be service to others, but the majority are percentage wise of service to the self, again be honest, your own wording of emails, texts, chat messages or calls with the propensity to mention the I and my, not the we and us, what happens to Social Security, will you fix my housing situation, I need this or I need that are all examples of looking after the self rather than the all. Yes, you have to look after the self to be able to look after the all, something people close to me have constantly had to remind me of, are you a giver or taker? again be honest with yourself, are you looking for a hand up or hand out? again be honest. These are all the things people should ponder on themselves, as the masks fade away all others can see you for what you are, is that the best version of you? is the current version of you what you would like to be seen as? are you envious of others because they have done the work, or worked harder to improve themselves? again be honest. At this juncture in time, you are only lying to yourself, as many others can now see better, the fog has lifted and the picture becomes much clearer now. We have lived in a competitive world and changes in lifetime habits can take time, so don't be too hard on yourself if you are in some of the categories just mentioned, recognizing one or more of those things in yourself, is the key, the next phase is correcting it, you can be helped with that, but ultimately it is down to you alone. So, back to the question, would you leave friends and loved ones behind because they are not ready? some will take that question literally and that's ok, that is the predominant external aspect thinking many still operate in, when the internal aspect is the key to all, plus many think of events in terms of the future, when it has already taken place, as mentioned earlier. The key to understanding that question is, haven't many of you already left or lost loved ones, family, friends and associates in this war of the minds and hearts, so in essence you already made your choices, have you not? You chose a different path, although we all walk on the same world, in real terms we are not a part of the same world either, their reality is vastly different to ours, we are not all on the same path, or the same frequency, and this will only increase as time moves forward. Another aspect of it is, by pushing or pressuring them into believing what you know and understand, is that not going against their free will and sovereign choice? As frustrating as it is and has been for us all, there is an element of us deciding their paths for them is it not? it is like putting a kindergarten child in charge of the nuclear war station, it won't work. We don't like authority or clowns telling us what to do and reject and fight against it accordingly, waking people up is the same thing for them, they selected not to, do we have a right to impinge on their beliefs and sovereignty? the answer is no. I said it was too late for those people in late 2017, people didn't like that statement, of which I fully understand, I don't particularly like it either, as my desire to help as many as possible dictates that, but it became very clear earlier on, my messages would not be for the all, but for the few. I would have liked many more on board, but if this is was my final show and was asked was THI and myself a success, I would say with pride, absolutely, not because of the knowledge but the deeper understanding, THI has changed many peoples lives on many different levels, from a listener perspective, you should recognize that within yourselves and give yourselves the credit for taking on a task, many will not endure. But the niggle inside of us all is, but I could have done more, my answer back is could they who you were trying to help have done more? actually much more? None of us signed contracts to help anyone, that comes from the heart, your heart, but too many have not attached their hearts, they are broken, disconnected and cold, they lack basic care beyond themselves and even that is fractured, if they dare to spend a few hours reviewing or contemplating their lives, oh my god you mean I have to look in the mirror and face myself Thomas, yes exactly, many spend many hours a day judging or comparing others, yet won't spend a minute analyzing themselves? The very fact we have to teach people to think, use common sense and care for people, shows how far down humanity in general has sunk, it is a long way back, and we have within this group made giant strides towards that, in what quite frankly has been in ridiculous circumstances of being rejected by your own circle, ridiculed outside your circle, called all kinds by trolls, shills and retarded elements of society, and yet despite of all that, were all still here and fighting. Will end tonight with a song for us all, and leave with one line from it, But through it all, when there was doubt, we ate it up and spit it out, we faced it all and we stood tall and did it our way.

I will leave this show tonight with a small piece to finish things off, the last piece was written on Sunday and events that have unfolded since then has confirmed much of what is contained within that piece. Possibilities can become probabilities when certain actions unfold, by the many who are making the changes here. Kim and I are part of that, before we even met, but we are not the only ones, there are many more and all have played a role in things in some way, something's may appear to be small, but a small component has to be inserted to create the whole picture, so essentially the small piece or role can also be looked at as, the key piece. Many of us operate in hidden worlds or realms that affect things here on the physical realm, that largely goes un noticed by the many. Actions taken in particular over the last month in the hidden realms, considered mythos, legends you will all come to eventually find out, is more real than you can imagine. Working with the UR council over many years brings much wisdom of what has taken place here, much of our past was lost, much of it destroyed, but some kept the narrative and the wisdom going, and some returned at various intervals to try to not only fix the past, but more importantly heal it also, to then bring it to the now, and enable a better and brighter future. It has required much sacrifice on horrific levels on all planes of existence, humanity was sold out by the gods and goddesses, none of whom are in here, despite claims by many of I am this and that, it is all bollocks. They are not allowed in here anymore, they are not capable of morphing into this reality, they who near destroyed everything with their self serving attitude, that they and they alone are above all creatures, including creator source itself. It is they who self elevated themselves and presented themselves as our gods and goddesses, all ego and hierarchy of their own self importance, that twisted life and the ultimate in creation from source, US. They who worked with the traitorous Michael, Lucifer, Andromedeans, Arcturians, Orion reps, Sirius B, Alcyone, Hydras, Anu, Marduk, Enki, Set, Pleiadian Nib ir uans (yes they are the avian crew who did much damage here - Nib means bill or beak, they are the clowns in Egyptian Hieroglyphs, and Mr Zahi Hawass can claim all he likes of Egyptians did this and that, they never, the dark magicians did it, and quite frankly he needs to shut up and let true history come out, Thoth and minions who overlaid our thoths which became known as thoughts) Sumerians, Melchizedek lineage along with Noah, Moses, Abraham, Shem and Ham, in contract with the dark djinns, and their sim like distorted world that was split into two, the astral, along with the Draconian empire, have done so much damage, caused so much trauma, grief, raped, pillaged and plundered all before them, for millions of years until the fightback begun following the last major war around 5000 years ago. We regrouped, rethought, re-strategized and used our collective consciousness that is way beyond anything they can muster and fought back, it is the UR who are behind the legends of the North, they are the originals no matter what tribe or book will tell you different, it was they who taught all the tribes until they fell into the dark infection, that consumed them all, of sacrifice and the Kali Ma. The continent of Da'Arya and later named Hyperborea, to do with Vedic, Scandinavian, Irish and Albion (original name for England) that brought forth the legend of Arth, Arth is a title of the UR, so it became Arthur, Ragnarok, Odin, Thor and Apollo and many other names, of these I am familiar with all of them, for greater detail of it as he undergone the physical 3D teachings in far greater depth than I, some can gain it from outside of the 3D realm, listen to Sethikus Boza of Black Earth Productionz, you will find our message and visions are all very similar, yet neither of us have met, spoken or listened to each others shows, I was called to listen to a few this past week, because it was time. The Gods and Goddesses are at our mercy now, they can do nothing but wait for us to realign and fix the problems they created in here, their ascension along with the planet and planetary being, is reliant solely on us to fix this problem once and for all. This is why it is WE who have to save us, no one else, not even the gods or goddesses can fix it, and why we who came in here to fix these issues, we must remember our, and the fight, and triumph once and for all, that will reopen the stargates and restore this Universe to it's natural organic state. There is no heaven, hell, universe, god, goddess, light, dark, space, time, dimensions, technology, church, demons, angels, stars, suns outside of us, that is the illusion, they and it all reside within us, we have just forgotten, is that just a throw away rousing line to elevate you, like some TV evangelist? no, it is the truth, of which in the near future I expect more will be revealed to you. So, what are the changes? some I can say, much I will not as things are developing now on an increasing scale as we move rapidly to 2020 and vision, the main earth grid is now corrected, which was initially done with male energy, but was corrected not into female energy, but both, this will bring us into the balance, of which I will go into in a future show. The Lord of their bible who is, now was Anu, has now departed permanently, the sidekick to the Draco Empire of the Mantids and their Queen, who is not a particularly nice entity to engage I can tell you, has now quit and resigned her group to the peace treaty under the agreement with the Universal Council. The timelines which we have been working on, has now converged into one and a new dawn arises, between now and end of this year I expect to see things unfold that is potentially deemed beyond unreal, we will see how it all plays out. Word of caution these events may not come to us as we all wished, hoped and or desired, it will have consequences based on the actions undertaken, it was not possible to save the all, the work was to save as much as possible for the progression of the species, the planet and the being we reside on and in, that is the be all and end all. You must all steel yourselves into a processing and healing pattern, healing being the operative word here, all the clues you all needed leading up to the now, where in my shows at various intervals, it was up to you to connect the dots. The shows at certain times were designed to trigger you into remembering, processing and healing, from one aspect it will bring much joy, another much pain and trauma, but the end justifies the means, when you operate in an overview basis. The end and the beginning is one and the same, a new slate, a new time, a new frequency always leaves something behind, but we cannot dwell in the past with the non playing characters, we have to focus on us and what is real and our future that awaits us, a journey beyond comprehension, description and understanding even on a base level, never mind the higher levels of wisdom passed down to the few willing to undertake the task ahead. Those that shared the common vision, that all was not lost, only that it was shattered into many pieces and dispersed far and wide, but we collected those pieces, the swords, the arcs, the shields, the rings, the hammers, the wisdom, dna, and blood codes and reassembled them for this timeline and the final battle of light and dark. There is no beginning or end of the dark, and there is no beginning or end of the light, it reside within us all, and we must learn to balance that in a better way, now certain overlays and systems are crushed, a failure to recognize that will lead to a repeat and after many lifetimes in correcting it, that would be beyond stupid. The 45-55 balance works on all levels, moreso as events to manifest unfold, 55% joy and 45% sadness or vice versa works, core alignment laid out in the previous two shows is and will be the key, healing, healing and more healing will also be the key, we have been through much, and now we are in the clean up phase. There is no one off event, as I told you all 5/6 years ago, but a series of them that phases in and phases out, out with the old and in with the new, the pace of those events depends only on one thing, YOU, each and everyone of you who is a real organic soul operating currently in this human vessel, no matter which star system you originated from, in the here and now, you are human and for that we can all be thankful. I thank you all for being on this journey with me and us, and remember hello my name is human.
