We wont be fooled again, tonight will reveal so much more so we wont be fooled again, ignorance then is a choice. The night where the dark call in the demons and using children to do so with clever marketing ploys, will become our night to stamp them out and return to sender. Where will we go with this show after the last two, how can you can compete with those two? many will say you cannot, it was a plethora of information, neatly rounded into a package, that revealed the hidden hand level of control, in all it's full glory, or gory as the case maybe, some parts tonight will be more sin eating and fairly heavy at that, some parts will be more revealing of hidden words and some parts will slap you up the head, some will be tongue and mind twisting, so can we follow FRWL 8A & B? well or werrrrl we'll try and I suspect this song maybe indicative. YOU AINT SEEN NOTHING YET. Take note will be used in tonight's show a lot, it is for you to connect dots Beware 11-11 it is not as portrayed in alt media circles, they wish to dance in the dark, we will trample them into dust. shielding, being grounded, 45-55 will be essential in this next phase. stay calm CALM DOWN

WhatsApp sued Israeli surveillance firm NSO Group on Tuesday, accusing it of helping government spies break into the phones of roughly 1,400 users across four continents in a hacking spree whose targets included diplomats, political dissidents, journalists and senior government officials. In a lawsuit filed in federal court in San Francisco, messaging service WhatsApp, which is owned by Facebook Inc , accused NSO of facilitating government hacking sprees in 20 countries. Mexico, the United Arab Emirates and Bahrain were the only countries identified. WhatsApp said in a statement that 100 civil society members had been targeted, and called it "an unmistakable pattern of abuse." NSO denied the allegations. "In the strongest possible terms, we dispute today's allegations and will vigorously fight them," NSO said in a statement. "The sole purpose of NSO is to provide technology to licensed government intelligence and law enforcement agencies to help them fight terrorism and serious crime." WhatsApp said the attack exploited its video calling system in order to send malware to the mobile devices of a number of users. The malware would allow NSO's clients - said to be governments and intelligence organizations - to secretly spy on a phone's owner, opening their digital lives up to official scrutiny.

SUB INTEL A piece we covered in this show recently, has now gone under review by the very people who did the analysis, and they issued this, this week. A piece on children religious altruism In our paper, we reported cross-cultural differences in how the religious environment of a child negatively impacted their sharing, their judgments of the actions of others, and how their parents evaluated them. An error in this article, our incorrect inclusion of country of origin as a covariate in many analyses, was pointed out in a correspondence from Shariff, Willard, Muthukrishna, Kramer, and Henrich. When we reanalyzed these data to correct this error, we found that country of origin, rather than religious affiliation, is the primary predictor of several of the outcomes. While our title finding that increased household religiousness predicts less sharing in children remains significant, we feel it necessary to explicitly correct the scientific record, and we are therefore retracting the article. We apologize to the scientific community for any inconvenience caused. Too late people the horse bolted when it went into our show, retracting stuff will not change the outcome, you have been revealing and revealed yourselves. This shows what we have been saying with regards to the science community, they are controlled opposition, reliant upon the system via grants, don't comply? no grants, is how it works. They are and have lost the narrative.

The social media monopoly has suspended activist and commentator Candace Owens for the crime of claiming that liberal policies incentivize fatherless homes in the black community, she is known for her pro-Trump activism and her criticism of Black Lives Matter and of the Democratic Party. Owens was hit with a 7 day ban for posting, “Black America must wake up to the great liberal hoax, white supremacy is not a threat, Liberal supremacy is.” She then included a screenshot of a tweet which pointed out that the poverty rate amongst married blacks is 7 per cent, compared to 22 per cent for blacks generally. “My @facebook page has been suspended for 7 days for posting that white supremacy is not a threat to black America, as much as father absence and & liberal policies that incentivize it, are,” she tweeted. “I am censored for posting the poverty rates in fatherless homes.” “Facebook has allowed every post that has falsely and horribly accused @realDonaldTrump of white supremacy to remain on its platform,” said Owens. “But when a black woman begins discussing the TRUTH—which is that liberal policies have systematically ruined black homes—they censor.” Owens’ suspension follows Facebook permanently terminating the accounts of numerous high profile conservatives earlier this month (including yours truly) for absolutely no specific reason whatsoever. There can no longer even be a pretense that Facebook is acting with impartiality. It’s a Democratic Party front group. They are suspending or banning President Trump’s most prominent and influential supporters the year before a presidential election. Again this proves what we have stated in this show, they are promoting a division agenda with their White Supremacy bs, it was a lie in Germany that cost millions their lives, and it is a lie now, I personally applaud Candace who is black, for seeing through this illusion, I am aware it is not a universally popular stance within her own community, but kudos to her for standing up for the truth.

TN: The Pentagon has awarded a $10bn (£8bn) cloud-computing contract to Microsoft, following a heavily scrutinised bidding process in which Amazon had been seen as the favourite. The 10-year contract for the Joint Enterprise Defence Infrastructure, or Jedi, is aimed at making the US defence department more technologically agile. Amazon's bid drew criticism from its rivals and US President Donald Trump. The company said it was "surprised" by the decision. A "detailed assessment purely on the comparative offerings" would "clearly lead to a different conclusion", it said. Amazon is said to be evaluating its options after the decision. It has 10 days to decide whether or not to launch a challenge. In its statement, the Pentagon said all offers "were treated fairly". The Department of Defense wants to replace its ageing computer networks with a single cloud system. Under the contract, Microsoft will provide artificial intelligence-based analysis and host classified military secrets among other services.

Within hours of Amazon's losing a lucrative Pentagon cloud computing contract to rival Microsoft, there were hints that the Seattle giant would challenge the decision. Amazon has several options to do so, extending from federal courts to Capitol Hill -- and, with the clock ticking on some of them, the company is expected to move expeditiously. The Defense Department late Friday awarded the closely watched contract to modernize the Pentagon's computing infrastructure to Microsoft, an upset victory for a company initially viewed as a distant second to Amazon in the market for cloud-computing services. The project could be worth as much as $10 billion over a decade and lead to other contracts. President Donald Trump earlier this year publicly suggested that the Joint Enterprise Defense Initiative, or JEDI, was unfairly structured to give the Seattle company an advantage. I guess they listened to the Clowns in Panic show then.

TN: Tens of thousands of Lebanese protesters joined hands in an attempt to form a human chain across the country from Tripoli in the north to Tyre in the south. People have been protesting against the government and their handling of a severe economic crisis. Organisers have said the attempt to create a chain 170km (105 miles) long was successful.

Nobody had a mobile phone or social media to mobilise supporters back in 1989. But East Germans fed up with communism poured into the streets of Leipzig, despite extraordinary restrictions on their personal freedom. "We didn't have a phone at home - we weren't allowed, and they would have been listening in any case," recalls Katrin Hattenhauer, one of the organisers of the Monday demonstrations in Leipzig, East Germany's second city. A candle-lit mass protest on 9 October became the turning point: a crowd of 70,000 thronged the city centre and for the first time dared to march past the feared headquarters of the Stasi secret police. "We are the people!" they chanted. "Wir sind das Volk!" About 6,000 armed police and plain-clothes Stasi were watching in the side-streets - but they held back, vastly outnumbered. The grip of communist propaganda on people's behaviour had been broken. But East and West Germans alike were astonished by the fall of the Berlin Wall just a month later.

A former CIA officer implicated in the 2003 kidnapping of a terrorism suspect in Milan has left Italy out of fears for her safety, Italian media reported Saturday. Sabrina de Sousa, 623, is one of 26 people convicted by Italy in absentia over the 2003 kidnapping of Egyptian cleric Hassan Mustafa Osama Nasr, also known as Abu Omar. Sousa denied involvement but was the only one to be sentenced for the abduction. Italian President Sergio Mattarella pardoned De Sousa in 2017 but she was still required to perform community service through 2020. De Sousa, a Portuguese-U.S. citizen, said she decided to leave Italy after Secretary of State Mike Pompeo and CIA Director Gina Haspel's visit to Rome earlier this month, Il Corriere Della Sera reported. "I was terrified of the consequences that I could face," De Sousa said. "The arrival of Haspel in Italy confirmed to the Italian government that the U.S. administration had washed its hands of my case." It was unclear what connection, if any, Pompeo and Haspel's visits had with De Sousa's case. Il Corriere della Sera quoted her as saying "recent changes to the Whistleblower Act" will allow her to reveal further details on the case. A nice back up to FRWL 7 show.

TN: JPMorgan Chase's new Manhattan headquarters is meant to be an ode to both the company and the city -- a monumental glass-and-steel tower that says the nation's largest bank grew up here, but New York may be losing its luster, despite more than two centuries of history in a city synonymous with the global financial industry, JPMorgan is quietly shrinking its workforce there. The bank's been building up its presence in other locations, and is now considering relocating several thousand New York-based employees out of the area, to help rein in costs ahead of a possible economic downturn, according to people with knowledge of the bank's strategy. One option is to sell the investment-banking headquarters, at 383 Madison Ave., long the main hub for JPMorgan's bankers and traders. Executives are deciding what roles could be relocated to lower-cost hubs such as Plano, Texas; Columbus, Ohio; and Wilmington, Delaware. In the investment bank and asset-management group, the moves will primarily affect non-client-facing workers, but could also impact junior-level investment bankers, some of the people said. Removing the harvesting energy out of NY works for me, one suspects they may play a lead role in future developments.

Google owner Alphabet has made an offer to acquire U.S. wearable device maker as it eyes a slice of the crowded market for fitness trackers and smartwatches, people familiar with the matter said Monday. While Google has joined other major technology companies such as Apple and Samsung in developing smart phones, it has yet to develop any wearable offerings. There is no certainty that the negotiations between Google and Fitbit will lead to any deal, the sources said, asking not to be identified because the matter is confidential. The exact price that Google has offered for Fitbit could not be learned. Order of the Black Sun technology division empire expanding it's spying reach again. Amazes me people who complain about big brother, then buy these gadgets, think different.

TN: Mossad has opened a venture capital fund, in order to invest in hi-tech startups to develop new cyber technologies. The names of technology startups funded by Mossad will not be published. Their original motto which is not unusual for those representing Zionists as you all know, was "For by wise guidance you can wage your war"

Kanye West, with a reported net worth $240 million, has been making headlines lately for his Sunday Service, an invitation-only event that started earlier this year in which the rapper-turned-preacher performs with live musical accompaniment. Apparently, there are big profits in his piety. "Last year, I made $115 million and still ended up $35 million in debt. This year, I looked up and I just got $68 million returned to me on my tax returns." This is what is wrong with the world today, greed not need, earned $115M which is 2300 peoples earning based on the average American earnings of $52k, which is distorted by his ilk, real earnings for most is around $25-30k, with many on less. If based on $30k p.a that is 3833 peoples wages, he burnt through that and was $35M overdrawn, $150M a year and he is complaining? $68M tax return, whilst people on $50K or less get none or very little.

The California fires have lit up more than just the hillsides of that State but also the MSM and alt media, with various theories put forward, but the latest one brings a new twist, that the MSM are now citing conspiracy theories. I warned of this back in 2014, headline in the MSM today was is California unlivable, oh dear. Throughout all the other fires no one mentioned one single specific word, until the Getty's region started burning, with the museum and a raft of tv stars and other famous peoples homes started to go up in flames, then in came the MSM, police and fire authorities labeling the Getty fires as started by arsonists, now ain't a cohen cidence and funny? I am not suggesting for one minute that the Getty fires may have been started by arsonists, but oh the irony that would be if that was the case? People tired of being burnt of their homes by the elites, maybe, just maybe fired back, pun intended.

INTEL Severe hacking attempt this week and severe actions were taken and many things unfolded, far more than many realize. FRWL 8B rocked their world, and actions a few hours after that show, those actions enhanced that rocking. Iraq and Lebanon pm resigns, flights grounded to revolutionary countries, nigeria border closed, Lebanon bank bankrupt, Israeli embassies all closed, perhaps the reason for those closures will become clear later.

Hong Kong crashes into recession as clowns syphoned their whole system to keep going, this will be repeated in various regions and soon they have nothing left to loot, then we play, oops

OP-ED What would THE ORIGINAL URS do with the Trust and with THE OPPORTUNITY to CHOOSE Path, if they had been with us today. I suspect they would follow the path of THI and the current Trustee, and maybe there is more to them than meets the eye. I have a personal story for this day of Atonement stuff. An Israeli titled/entitled person we were involved with did his little day of Atonement and apologized to all of his gentile employees in 2014 for all of his shortcomings.

Having hepatitis C may very well have saved Jennifer Zeng's life. In February 2000, she was arrested for being a Falun Gong practitioner and interrogated intensely about her medical history at a Labor Camp in China's Da Xing County, she said. Zeng's blood was drawn and she told them she had hepatitis C before she took up the spiritual practice. "Twelve days later, my (cellmate) died as a result of forced feeding," Zeng told Fox News. "Having hepatitis C might have unqualified me as an organ donor." It's the stuff of nightmares, and it has been buried from public view, hard to prove, and shrouded beneath the cloak of silence for almost two decades. But anecdotes and evidence are slowly bubbling to the surface, that the organs of members of marginalized groups detained in Chinese prisons and labor camps are unwillingly being harvested, the most affected is a spiritual minority. The Falun Gong, who have been persecuted for adhering to a Buddhist-centric religious philosophy grounded in meditation and compassion. "Forced organ harvesting has been committed for years, and Falun Gong practitioners have been one – and probably the main – source of organ supply," the report concluded, pointing to the growing transplant industry already worth more than $1 billion. The report underscored that there were "extraordinarily short waiting times for organs to be available for transplantation," and numerous websites advertised hearts, lungs, and kidneys for sale – suggesting an on-demand industry. The Tribunal concluded that the commission of Crimes Against Humanity against Falun Gong and Uighurs had been committed. Witness testimonies provided to the tribunal, and interviewed by Fox News, paint the picture of an unfathomably callous trade often performed when the victims are still alive. Han Yu was kidnapped on July 20, 2015, and detained for 37 days in Beijing's Haidian District Detention Center. In May 2004 – three months after her father disappeared into a detention center – Han Yu received a call that her father, a Falun Gong practitioner, was dead, but it wasn't until almost a month later, that the family was allowed to view the body at Liangxiang District Xiao Zhuang village morgue, with dozens of authorities surveilling their every move. "I saw obvious injuries on his face, even after the makeup, the severe bruise below his left eye stood out, there was a trace of stitches starting from the throat down to where his clothes covered," Yu recalled. "I tried to unbutton the clothes, the police saw and quickly dragged me out. Later another family member went in, and continued to unbutton and found stitches that went all the way to the stomach." She suspects her father was a victim of organ harvesting, the family was not given an autopsy, Hu stressed, and the body was hurriedly cremated. Moreover, the China Organ Harvest Research Center (COHRC), which also testified before the China

Tribunal, published its own incriminating report in July, after years of underground research and analysis, deducing that the “on-demand killing of prisoners of conscience is driven by the state, run on an industrial scale and carried out by both military and civilian institutions.” China boasts that it sustains the largest voluntary organ donation system in Asia, but experts contend that the country does not have a history of willful organ donation and the official figures – 10,000 transplants each year – “understates the real volume,” which researchers pledge is likely upward of 60,000-100,000 annually. According to the COHRC, there are mountains of money to be made. Data from 2007 shows that hospitals charged more than $65,000 for a kidney transplant, $130,000 for liver, and more than $150,000 for lung or heart, desperate patients might make a high-price “donation” for a new organ at top-speed. The practice is alleged to have started in the 90s on a small-scale, but kicked into high gear around 2000 and focused on the Falun Gong, it was initially characterized as targeting the forcible removing of organs of prisoners on death row. “China later claimed that death row prisoners consented to donate their organs to the State, to redeem themselves for the crimes they had committed against the State, a practice China claimed to have stopped in January 2015. However, the explosion of organ transplant activities in China from 2000, together with reports of thousands of transplant tourists going to China to purchase organs, suggests a larger supply of organs than could be sourced from executed criminals alone,” the Tribunal states. “The scale of the Chinese transplant industry, together with other evidence, points to the possibility that China is involved in forced organ harvesting, and selling for profit organs from prisoners of conscience.” Grace Yin, a leading researcher at the COHRC, also asserted that by admitting to less severe abuse, and proclaiming it was only happening to those awaiting capital punishment, the government was purporting to “divert attention away from the more severe issue.” “The root issue still goes back to the Communist Party’s persecution of faith groups, and its animosity toward groups that it perceives as threats to its ideological control,” she said. Olivia Enos, a senior policy analyst and Asian studies expert at The Heritage Foundation, concurred that organ harvesting has long been a largely overlooked aspect of human rights abuses, and has been predominantly reported by the Falun Gong. “In recent months, however, as the crisis in Xinjiang gathered steam, new reports have emerged that Uighurs may be having their organs harvested,” she observed. Xinjiang, also referred to by some as East Turkistan, has made headlines with the revelations that upwards on one million belonging to the Muslim minority, have been carted off into concentration camps, Chinese leaders have categorically denied misconduct, insisting that Uighurs are in “re-education camps” and doubled-down that the government respects religious rights. Four Uighurs testified before the China Tribunal, that they had been organ scanned whilst in detention, Salih Hudayar, ambassador to the U.S. for the East Turkistan Government in Exile, and a leader in the beleaguered Uighur community, told Fox News that the Chinese government claims that “written consent is required for all organ transplants,” but in reality it is hardly likely there was any such consent, and if there was it would have been

“extracted through torture.” Horrifying story to read and hear, but atypical of the MSM it contains hefty doses of misleading truth, making out the poor Falun Gong are being tortured and they are the victims, almost a re run of the WW2 narrative, when it is the Falun Gong group who are actually carrying this program out, not for China, that is the illusion, but the Zionist division of the Order of the Black Sun. The common practice of victim and savior to throw people off track of the program they are running. Falun Gong is a spiritual practice of Buddhist traditions, and as 8B show revealed, all of it is corrupted in snake symbology, mantras and mandalas, and I want to make clear again, I am not trashing the people or what the basic principles of those practices are doing, like I said in that show, they carry many of the basic principles and ideals, we will all require going forward. But we can all carry the basic ideals within us, why do we have to label it? generally paying a fee to join the label, the answer is we don't, exactly the same principle of not needing a church to reach out to source. The cult of the Order of the Black Sun has taken over all religious and spiritual groups, changed the script and the path of purpose to not enlightenment as many think, but to endarkenment of these satanic psychopaths. Falun Gong is the front, the entrapment organization to lure people in who seek enlightenment and shine their beacons of light, those at the head of that front, are amongst the darkest of entities on this planet. Falun Gong operates in Israel also and is responsible for the harvesting the organs of Palestinians and several other neighboring countries as well. The ordinary people in the Falun Gong, like the ordinary Jewish people in the camps, are being used as patsies to cover up a criminal front, it brings in guilt and shame for the nation it was carried out in, then the cult harvests those sympathies and reparation money, none of which goes to the people themselves, and allows the dark program to run on, like what happened after WW2, it is the exact same program, all feel sorry for the Falun Gong group, when the heads of that group are those doing it to these people, are you seeing the pattern now? I read a piece on the Falun Gong and Zionist organ harvesting which I was going to put in an op-ed for the show, which although I referenced I never got around it, mysteriously that article has now since disappeared, why? because MSM are running a new narrative, that's how it works. This is because Falun Gong is a psyop run by Neocon Zionist agent Eliot Abrams, lets look at Eliot Abrams and see if you can connect the dots. He is best known for his involvement in the Iran-Contra scandal during the Reagan administration, which led to his conviction in 1991 on two misdemeanor counts of unlawfully withholding information from Congress. He was later pardoned by George H.W. Bush. During George W. Bush's first term, he served as Special Assistant to the President and Senior Director on the National Security Council for Near East and North African Affairs. At the start of Bush's second term, Abrams was promoted to be his Deputy National Security Advisor for Global Democracy Strategy, in charge of promoting Bush's strategy of "advancing democracy abroad." What would George Bush know about democracy, that clown couldn't even spell the word, never mind understand or implement it. In the Bush administration, Abrams was a key architect behind the Iraq War, as Assistant Secretary of State, Abrams advocated for aid to Guatemala under then dictator Efraín Ríos Montt, Thirty years later, Ríos Montt was found guilty of overseeing a campaign of mass murder and torture of indigenous people, genocide, in Guatemala, oops same plot used on Saddam Hussein and Osama Bin Laden, carried out by Langley. Abrams frequently defended the human rights record of the El Salvador government, and attacked human rights groups as communist sympathizers when they criticized the El Salvador government. In early 1982, when reports of the El Mozote massacre of hundreds of civilians by the military in El Salvador began appearing in U.S. media, Abrams told a Senate committee that the reported number of deaths at El Mozote "was not credible," seeing the pattern now? He was also involved in Iran- Contra affair, go figure, During investigation of the Iran-Contra Affair, Lawrence Walsh, the Independent Counsel tasked with investigating the case, prepared multiple felony counts against Abrams. In 1991, Abrams admitted that he knew more than he acknowledged in his congressional testimony, cooperated with Walsh and entered into a plea agreement, in which he pleaded guilty to two misdemeanor counts of withholding information from Congress. For failing to cooperate, he would have faced felony charges of perjury over his congressional testimony. He was sentenced to a $50 fine, probation for two years, and 100 hours of community service. Abrams was pardoned by President George H. W. Bush in December 1992, Abrams had advance knowledge of, and "gave a nod to," the Venezuelan coup attempt of 2002 against Hugo Chávez. On January 25, 2019, Secretary of State Mike Pompeo appointed Abrams as the United States' Special Representative for Venezuela. Elliot was involved on a government level of several human rights groups and Councils, was this tells you is the term Human rights is a front for subversion of that country and their people, same as charities, they are not interested in charity, only theft of public money to run their clandestine operations. Elliott Abrams was born in New York born into a Jewish family.

Unit 8200 is an Israeli Intelligence Corps unit responsible for collecting signal intelligence (SIGINT) and code decryption. Military publications include references to Unit 8200 as the Central Collection Unit of the Intelligence Corps, and it is sometimes referred to as Israeli SIGINT National Unit (ISNU). It is subordinate to Aman, the military intelligence directorate. Aman is Amun is Amun Ra. Is amun ra el, amun was dropped later. The unit is composed primarily of 18–21 year olds. As a result of the youth of the soldiers in the unit, and the shortness of their service period, the unit relies on selecting recruits with the ability for rapid adaptation and speedy learning. Afterschool programs for 16–18 year olds, teaching computer coding and hacking skills, also serve as a feeder programs for the unit. Former Unit 8200 soldiers have, after completing their military service, gone on to founding and occupying top positions in many international IT companies and in Silicon Valley. According to the Director of Military Sciences at the Royal United Services Institute, "Unit 8200 is probably the foremost technical intelligence agency in the world, and stands on a par with the NSA in everything except scale." Unit 8200 was established in 1952 using primitive surplus American military equipment, originally, it was called the 2nd Intelligence Service Unit and then the 515th Intelligence Service Unit. In 1954, the unit moved from Jaffa to its current base at the Gilot junction. According to Peter Roberts, the Director of Military Sciences at the Royal United Services Institute, "Unit 8200 is probably the foremost technical intelligence agency in the world and stands on a par with the NSA in everything except scale, they are highly focused on what they look at — certainly more focused than the NSA — and they conduct their operations with a degree of tenacity and passion that you don't experience elsewhere. In 2010, the French newspaper Le Monde diplomatique wrote that Unit 8200 operates a large SIGINT base in the Negev, one of the largest listening bases in the world, capable of monitoring phone calls, emails, and other communications, throughout the Middle East, Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as tracking ships. Listening closely to next line and link with other stories this week, it is connected, Unit 8200 also reportedly maintains covert listening posts in Israeli embassies abroad, oops, taps undersea cables, maintains covert listening units in the Palestinian territories, and has Gulfstream jets equipped with electronic surveillance equipment. Ronen Bergman says in a 2009 book that a Hezbollah bomb, disguised as a cell phone, was picked up by agents, and taken for investigation to Unit 8200's headquarters in February 1999. Inside the laboratory the cell phone exploded. Two Unit 8200 soldiers were injured. In 2010, the New York Times cited "a former member of the United States intelligence community" alleging that this unit used a secret kill switch to deactivate Syrian air defenses during Operation Orchard. In 2014, 43 veterans of Unit 8200 signed a protest letter decrying what they called the electronic surveillance unit's abusive gathering of Palestinians' private information. In response, 200 other reservists signed a counter-protest letter. According to the New York Times, the Unit 8200's hack of Kaspersky Lab allowed them to watch in real time, as Russian government hackers searched computers around the world for American intelligence programs, which is a lie as Russian Intelligence known as the KGB, work with this group and also the CIA, that lie is to push onto the public, to believe their fake war rhetoric that we are enemies, they control both sides remember. Israelis who had hacked into Kaspersky's own network alerted the United States to the broad Russian intrusion of US systems, which set the stage two years later for the Russian collusion narrative, see how it works now? Many media reports alleged that Unit 8200 was responsible for the creation of the Stuxnet computer worm that in 2010 infected industrial computers, including Iranian nuclear facilities, alleged haha, not alleged at all, that Stuxnet was issue at Fukushima as well, all carefully staged so they could extract uranium from below that facility. Duqu is a collection of computer malware discovered on 1 September 2011. It is alleged to be the creation of Unit 8200. Duqu 2.0, alleged to be the most sophisticated computer virus ever developed, compromised Kaspersky Lab in 2014. Duqu 2.0 used at least three zero-day exploits. The virus remained for months on Kaspersky Lab's systems, undetected by them. Aside from targeting Kaspersky, it was used to spy on the negotiations for the Iran Nuclear Deal, and detected only in the computers of the hotels hosting the Iran nuclear negotiations. It was unprecedented in that the code existed only in operative memory (RAM) and almost didn't leave a trace. According to Kaspersky, "the philosophy and way of thinking of the 'Duqu 2.0' group is a generation ahead of anything seen in the advanced persistent threats world. Companies under the control of this group, Armis, Silverfort, CloudEndure, Secdo, ICQ, LEVL Technologies, Check Point, Imperva, Incapsula, Cloudinary, Cybereason, CTERA Networks, Viber, NSO Group, Palo Alto Networks, indeni, NICE, AudioCodes, Gilat, Leadspace, EZchip, Onavo, CyberArk, Lagoon Mobile Security, PrimeSense, FST Biometrics, Radware, Hyperwise Security, Adallom, Argus Cyber Security, BioCatch, XIV, Infinidat, CTS Labs, Crosswise, OverOps, PerimeterX, Namogoo, and finally Echelon which was housed in all Israeli embassies.

A warning this is and will be a harrowing narrative to take on board, but it is necessary, from one of our own members, may we surround her with our love and support, as this narrative comes out of the dark into the light, evil must not be allowed to prosper by the choice of ignorance. I am 55 years old, married and mother to a 16 year old daughter. My father is American and my mother Italian-Chilean. My father was in the Foreign Service (for the USA) hence I grew up in Chile, Lesotho (Africa), Dominican Republic, Argentina and high school in Rome, Italy. I grew up tri-lingual with English, Spanish and Italian. Both my grandfathers were ambassadors (USA & Italy) so my parents grew up all over the world as well. In other words, I grew up around some of these elites, and there is a darker part to my story. My Italian uncle ran a medical-military-torture facility on the outskirts of Rome, which is hidden underground and does not officially exist, I was targeted from birth by him. We visited Rome twice a year during summer and winter holidays from whichever country we lived in, and then when I was 14 and my folks divorced and I lived there full time until age 18. My uncle was well connected with the Italian government, the Mafia and the Vatican, In fact, his facility and the Vatican were connected via underground tunnels. I knew as a child that they all were linked, and also Washington DC and New York where he sometimes traveled and often took me to traffic me out to powerful people, I was mostly sex trafficked in the Vatican and among Italian elites. Being a blond, blue eyed very pretty girl I was also put through that "sex kitten" programming so I appreciate hearing your information about Monarch, Mk ultra and these kinds of programs...it has helped me put some of my experiences in context. I was also tortured in the facility with electric shocks, beatings, burnings, being in cages without food or water for long periods, having to watch animals be maimed and killed, people also (he would kidnap gypsies in Rome as they are undocumented), being buried alive, simulated drownings and much psychological torture and ritual ceremonies. I had abilities, such as being able to heal my body within a short time after the abuse, For example, after having all my bones broken with a hammer, I could repair them within an hour or so. I can't say exactly how I did so, it was more automatic if that makes any sense. I was also telepathic and was able to communicate metaphysically...so they took a big interest in me and did all they could to destroy me, I have returned from death many times, and they understood I could not be killed, so doubled down on the other methods. I can vividly remember what leaving my body felt like...like a huge relief, free from this tiny constricting vessel and suddenly expanding into everywhere, Conversely, coming back into my body felt awful, like squeezing into a too small space...and of course hard to return to this dark reality. When I was younger I would also tell the folks around me and particularly the people in the Vatican that what religion said was all wrong, and that "Jesus" never said any of that stuff. I was taken to the Vatican a lot, and downstairs in the basement areas they have huge marble altars where I witnessed babies being sacrificed, their blood drank and even some of their organs eaten...and noted to adults around me that it was crazy that during Catholic mass they "ate the body and drank the blood" of Christ. I did not have the words, but I knew religion was demonic in origin...again so much validation listening to your from Russia with Love series. When I was very young, I had a sense I was not originally from this planet, and remember being shocked by the brutality and darkness I saw around me, I knew 2012 was a very important date and that we had to make it past that point, and that somehow I was here (amongst many others) to help tilt us to the light enough to make it...and also that I had a "mission" afterwards. Inner work is at times pretty brutal as was seeing parts of myself I did not like (such as my inner victim part) but so very worthwhile as inner freedom and balance is the outcome. I still have fear inside me at times, but I know how to work it when it ignites, so I don't fall into unbalance, Knowing how to deal with what arises in a moment is also freedom to me. I intend to write a book about my life, with the dual purpose of awakening humanity to these atrocities/ expose the Vatican...and secondly to share my healing journey so people can have a map of how to come back from trauma...too many on this planet are traumatized and in my opinion this is why so few are ready for this time...trauma keeps us locked in the past. A very sad story and sadly all too common knowledge for those who work behind the false fronts of government, churches and cults, and stories like this despite being painful to hear, is nothing compared to the trauma the victims go through, must be brought to light by the all, enough hiding the sin eating, expel it into the aether to be transmuted, and turn against the darkness in our midst. A recent question that I never got around to fits in nicely here, If the vatican will go into detail, use demons to perform tasks. Then why do they employ an Exorcist ? this is classic problem/solution and play the victim and the savior, as they have always done. The history of that church and stories like just read out, that church and it's whole cat cult religion should be shut down permanently imo, follow Jesus if you must, but don't follow the man or name, follow the teachings put forward in his name.

Recently I have been talking about self mastery and forging the sword inside of you, which leads you towards greater treasures within, than you can ever get outside, it requires constant work, it is not the case well I have my sword so I can sit back now, and wield my power, wrong thinking that is ego and the 6th hook. Once on the I am a god/lord/goddess/king/queen/pindar path it is bye bye to the light, as to stay in power you have to feed the dark, that is the way this planet and many others have worked, you have to be corrupt or corruptible, to get into all higher positions, being corrupt or corruptible requires dancing with the dark. All old scriptures talks of leaders dancing with the dark, djinns/demons/asuras, from Solomon to Shiva to Vishna to Buddha and they all fell into the path of the dark, power corrupts all of those who don't have mastery of the self, very few do. The power factor becomes like a drug addict, you have to keep feeding it or withdrawal symptoms kick in, killing opponents, killing people who disagree with you, a common theme amongst the rulers on this planet in any age. But darkness is the drug, all drugs are poison, so the more you have, the more you become poisoned, it is the vicious descent into the spiral vortex, but all drugs are a placebo, and in overview a version of lazy technology, when if you can work on yourself you learn to heal the self. Demons/Djinns/Asuras or whichever name they go by, they are on every planet to teach us lessons, problem is people don't observe them and learn, but absorb them and are off on the path to dark, using another lazy technology called magic, when you work on yourself, you can use your own natural abilities, not magic. I know many will disagree with that terminology against magic, but that whole field is so corrupted now, I am asking people to seriously look at that term, why are they spelling it with a K, or some with a CK, when we show in 8A show the high percentage of dark forces begins with the letter K, why is the order of the word called a spell or spelling? Holly came up with a good one, and I believe this is way they cancelled the phonetics type of learning in schools, when learning words and spelling, phonetics is concerned with the physical properties of speech sounds or signs, as a c and a k both have the same tone and sound. Calendar morphs to kali en dar, which means dark in death, like Kali fornia, is it Cal with a C or K, either way that whole regions is filled with the dark intentions and is also Americas great land of illusion, so many there particularly around Hollywood and the beaches are fake, fake bodies, fake faces, fake lips, fake tits and fake people. So they brought in grammar and grammar schools, meaning learning, erudition, hence magic, enchantment, stems from the word grimmoire and means a book of conjuring or magic, or grimaire which means gibberish, incomprehensible nonsense, yes it is exactly that to us, the unlearned, but to the new teachers of spells and illusion, not so. Enchantment the act of magic or witchcraft, which actually means chant in mind, from Old French encantement magical spell; song, concert, chorus, ah those mantras again. Other unknown connections to magic and sorcery are mojo, uncanny, experiment, which means feat of magic or sorcery, from Old French esperment "practical knowledge, cunning; enchantment, magic spell; Prestige, hoodoo, gimmick, superstitious involving faith in supernatural powers or magic; characteristic of pagan religion or false religion. Hex is to cast a spell, charm, potion, glamour means magic enchantment, conjurist con is to swear, jurist is oath, so in court the jurist swears an oath to the illusion of the court, the word to court, is to endeavor to gain the favor of by attention, also solicit, seek to win or attract, the term court marshal means the one who acts as a marshal at court, acts as, like the theater, not is a marshal, more illusion. Fairies or Fae from Old French faerie "land of fairies, meeting of fairies; enchantment, magic, witchcraft, sorcery", from fae "fay," from Latin fata "the Fates," plural of fatum "that which is ordained; destiny, fate, so what it is saying is, it is they who determined your fate, fall for the illusion or enchantment and your destiny is decided. Did you know the originally term for doctor from Old Church Slavonic baliji "doctor," originally meant conjurer, hence the term witch doctor, now you understand why a doctors office is called a practice, they are practising on you is one thing, or practising magic is another. The fourth finger of the left hand, in Old English, was læcfinger, translating Latin digitus medicus, supposedly because a vein from that finger stretches straight to the heart, so the ring of the vow which is an oath, symbolizes the binding of the heart via the wedding ceremony, done by Cohens, the priest class, oh my. Ale from root *alu-, which has connotations of "sorcery, magic, possession, and intoxication. Poison issued by medicine men, later known as shamans, a drink," especially a medical drink, later "a (magic) potion, poisonous drink, Indo-European word which is the Rus/Aryan for this is represented in English by virus, in slang sense of "alcoholic drink, which is indicative, alcohol as known to the Rus/Aryan and was introduced by the "gods" to humanity, is a magic potion virus. The old French enerber, enherber "to kill with poisonous plants." In many Germanic languages "poison" is named by a word equivalent to English gift, somehow I don't think we want or need their gifts.

California name of an imaginary realm in "Las sergas de Esplandián" ("Exploits of Espladán") a book written about magic castles, dragons, giants and sorcery, with knights spelt with a K, are they the K of the night? deemed as the saviors that resembles King Arthur, actually that is King Arth of the Urs. Magic "art of influencing or predicting events and producing marvels using hidden natural forces," yes those forces are the non physical beings we call the smokies, but are the djinns, it is they who do the so called magic. From magos "one of the members of the learned and priestly class," ah the Cohen and Khans again. A druid is another version, magician priests they were called. These priests have a lot to answer for, most of the modern day ones are oblivious to what they are doing or taking part in, it's just like being in school again going to church, teacher or priest recites from a book and all must copy or repeat back, calling on Amun, which Amun Ra via their Amen mantra. Then they ask you to pray, but if they are a disciple of god as they promote themselves, why don't they pray for a better world? and if praying worked why is the whole world riddled with death, famine, scarcity, greed, violence and destruction? why do 49K children die each day? why do 7000 Indian people die each day despite the masses praying daily? the answer is it doesn't work, praying is looshing your energy, for entities on the etheric and astral realms, it's all in the words when they ask you to pray, they are preying on you, you are the prey. Magic the transferred sense of "legerdemain, which means optical illusion, just like the mirror, mage means "magician, enchanter," which brings up another mirror effect, that includes the word idol, idolatory or idolize, mage becomes I-mage, the description of Image or I mage is an artificial representation that looks like a person or thing, a copy, imitation, likeness; image is a refection in the mirror, that mirror again. So what this is saying is an I mage is not real, it is a copy, but what are they copying? clones? bots? the art of illusion which is called magic, is just that, an illusion. The real term is magh that stems from what they say is proto Indo European, which is another hidden form of their word magic illusion, as that is the Rus/Aryan teachings and meanings, magh means to be able, that means you are able to do it without external forces manipulating it, you and reality. For further re-enforcement of that look at Old Church Slavonic mošti, Russian moč' "can, be able;" Old English mæg "I can," Gothic mag "can, is able, it was then said that natural magic in the Middle Ages was that which did not involve the agency of personal spirits; it was considered more or less legitimate, not sinful. Natural magic is a half way trap of word magic, and typical of the terminology they use to distort today, I will correct that statement natural abilities was that which did not involve the agency of personal spirits, you used yourself and didn't dance with the dark, is exactly what that was stating. What the real word is for magic today is necromancy sorcery, witchcraft, black magic, properly divination by communication with the dead, exactly as I have been saying, magic is dancing with the dark dead spirits.

So how have they destroyed our language and understanding, well in the more modern day from around 1400's the Catholic church has been tasked with destroying all past history, ruining the teaching format of having Astronomy as the head subject. Sent legions of clowns around the world killing off the peoples with oral history, Columbus being one of them, largely done via the Dutch and British East India Tea company, eliminating whole peoples like the pygmy's, tribal groups globally got decimated, anyone and everyone who would question what the church cult was putting out. Burnt books, burnt what they called heretics at the stake, burnt advanced being and teacher Anna, also at the stake, destroyed the Rus and Aryans history and knowledge throughout the last century. Scientists, writers, artists and philosophers all killed or imprisoned and their work banned or controlled to a point of no purpose, Da Vinci a prime example. Anyone who could teach or any leader who rose to help and support their people like Ghandi or the Tsars of Russia, like the Prussian leader declared a despot, because he looked after his people. Christians, followers of Rome, Catholics this is your legacy, this is the system you are propping up, they are denizens of evil, the darkness personified, these people don't teach morals, just an illusory path into heaven, but it is not your version of heaven, but theirs, heaven to them is death and destruction as they relayed in the path of the Order of the Black Sun, that church are subsidiaries of that dark cult. It is all in their magic spell words, they ask you to pray, which is energy looshing they extract from you with your consent, you are the prey, and they then prey on you. Some people will be reluctant to ditch this cult or drop them, as no one likes being fooled, get over it, we have all been fooled including many of those in the church, the story read it earlier I would ask, what if that was your child they did that to? would you walk away then? if answer is yes, my question is what makes anyone else's child different? That is an I'm alright jack attitude, thinking of and only for the self, not thinking for the self and helping and supporting others. Pedophiles run the gauntlet of vigilantes, which I don't approve of, but why are these church people treated any differently? well their men of god some will say, whose god I would ask, and then say so what your telling me is, god approves pedophilia and child torturing? think, and I mean think not just react to the statement, that is your mind virus at play, take back your mind and you direct the narrative, once you have the knowledge, it now becomes your responsibility to change your path, that is called sovereignty. There words dual and duel reveal much, one is a copy and one means to fight, but Du in old Breton means black, el and al means god, so duel means fighting for the black god, dual means mirroring the black god, oops. Knowledge another word with a K that was actually used to start with g, knowing is gnosis, but ignore that lets look at the word, know, then ledge, ledge is a shelf, and so a limit of knowing, then they tell you to reach the apex, again it is limitation, is there nothing above the apex? The sky is the limit? another limitation, why is the sky the limit? There is no limit once you change your thinking. Like the transit from Ophiucus to Sagittarius, the word for guardian was master in the former and guardian for the latter, so self mastery must change also to, self guardian.

This whole planet has been in a reduction and retraction phase on all levels, what we are doing now is called expansion not retraction, it will be a long road ahead, but the road is now created and people can see it, before it never existed that is the difference between now and then. The path previously was created for you, it was the road to hell, and we all walked blindly down it, and this is why all have to take responsibility going forward, getting others to do all things for us, has clearly not worked, otherwise this show wouldn't exist. Rahu and Ketu are the proverbial blue and red pill, like I have said choose neither, they were not your choices, same applies to politicians, none of them are your choices, they are their choices for you to vote on, step back and think is the key. A member asked the question So someone who is self-aware, good judgement, wise, of strong character would not fall prey to Rahu, exactly and the value of inner work is revealed right there, you won't be affected by Ketu or dark forces enticement program either. The answer to every question posed is you, ponder long and hard on that statement, do you follow what is normal? nor used before the second or last of a set of negative possibilities, mal means bad, wrongful or ill, like ill -usion. Normal is a reflection of limitation and no imagination, limitation is the dark void holding nothingness and no matter, that brings in words like impossible, when you can change it to I'm possible, now if everyone does that with personal responsibility, humility and ego in balance, then we have real change, and it starts with you.

These two paragraphs ended the FRWL 8B show it was a heads up for those who tune into the narrative and not just look at the statement. The event horizon in sight now will bring down the curtain of your darkness, and the light of the few will shine brighter than you can imagine, our time has come and theirs has ended. The winds of change are blowing through their valleys of the shadows of death, we will fear no evil, we will conquer evil, for you are with me; your support and your courage, they comfort me and us. I kept warning certain things were close, I warned those last two shows would have a far bigger impact than people could envisage, it did and it has, the dark is now into the light, the hidden back ground war is now won, and I can confirm the war will now be played out in the public arena, it will reveal so much. You cannot expose, take down and reveal the dark without it getting or looking ugly, it was what they are, masters of deceit. Do not fear this, embrace it as an achievement, we have forced them out of their shadows, it will get ugly there is no question of that, banks are now falling, devious technology is failing, expect disruption, expect chaos, but you are tasked with driving a new way and path, and accept that role and use it wisely. That world must crumble and remember everything that falls, must be replaced with anew. Stay calm, remain grounded, shielding a must re-enforce it, and above all stay 45-55 THI was tasked as the guardians of the Trust, we don't need titles, certificates, degrees or decrees to do that, we just be it, stand in your guardianship and act the right way. THI is also tasked with driving a new way of being human, we will not be replicating the old version, which failed on all levels, understand that, embrace that and be the beacon. The real value of THI will be not recognized until much later in time, except for the few who didn't just listen, but tuned into it's frequency, it laid out the framework of how to go forward, it gave you an entry into the many closed doors, it got you to see not just look, it connected the dots and revealed the hidden world, now is our time to not only use that for good use and practice, but embrace the message of THI, inclusive not exclusive, need not greed, service to others not service to the self, empathy not cold hearted detachment, a move to what is real, not fakery and illusion, you cannot fake it anymore your frequencies are telling, which is a heads up to those who haven't done their inner and shadow work, or enough of it, you are and will be exposed. Put aside your own stupidity, pettiness, illusion, fakery masks, division, delusion, violence and be the new you, a being of light, not the low vibration astral level being you have become, the sky is not the limit, reach for the stars from whence you came and then go beyond. Open the doors to expansion, denounce limitation, embrace evolution not devolution, aspire not perspire, reverse not inverse, love not hate, vibrate to the love frequency not to the quiver dance of fear, you are not the likeness of or the image, you are you, you are the guardian of yours and our destiny. The only domain you need to reside in is the domain of the wise, which is wisdom.
