

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2019-11-07

2019 predictions were consolidation and validation tonight's show brings both into full view. Anyone else notice the dearth of actual news in MSM, now why is that? because they are losing the narrative heavily, and I mean heavily, too many now are working out their scripted drama drivel, and speaking out against them. Fox has 2.6M viewers primetime, MSNBC 1.9M and CNN 1.25M, 5.75M out of population of 330M bit sad that really since all those platforms are heavily promoted, roughly 1 in 65 people watch the news. I wonder what would happen to their figures if Spreaker ran them like they do with our shows? According to Spreaker we have had 0 listeners 58 and 56 listeners in last 3 shows, beyond pathetic their attempts to play games these days.

A new term will be unveiled tonight called a UPS worker brigade, people who parcel, package and label things, not boxes, letters or parcels but people, you are a this or you are a that, labelling people, so welcome to a new meme for this show UPS worker brigade more commonly known as think tank groups and civil servants, they may choose to be servants, but they are certainly not civil.

A week where the Kerry Cassidy Camelot show blocked all comments about the Trust off her YouTube page, a week where Field McConnell who operates in a faction based group is extradited to Florida and is arrested. Any elements of doubt about him being faction based, ended when Anna Von Reitz did lengthy defense of him. For those who don't know the term Able Danger is a CIA project name, like Project Phoenix, Artichoke, Manhattan and like Camelot and Avalon, now why would three prominent alt media groups all have Langley project names for their whistleblowers groups? Throw in Robert David Steele's group name OSS, which was the precursor to the CIA, and perhaps a picture emerges? you decide. Able Danger was a classified military planning effort led by the U.S. Special Operations Command (SOCOM) and the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). It was created as a result of a directive from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in early October 1999 by Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Hugh Shelton, to develop an information operations campaign plan against transnational terrorism. I will stick to my knowledge based fact that 95%+ now of the alt media is corrupted, don't agree? fine, time always tells. A week where Mr. Fulford even confirmed what this show has suspected since autumn 2016, after I was told by 3 separate sources that Neil Keenan had been taken out and a double was his replacement, Fulford said this week we are seeing a massive cabal campaign to seize that nation's gold. Having failed with their fake Neil Keenan ploy, the Swiss and French Rothschilds' agents are putting the screws on President Jokowi and have forced him to "appoint his arch-rival from the past two presidential elections, Keenan was always going to fail, he was used as a distraction patsy, sadly when assets fail their mission, or exposed they are usually deleted permanently.

A week where facebook changed their logo to FACEBOOK all caps, could have just done what the witchcraft and dark forces do, change the c to a k and called it Fakebook, not content with that, they launched something else week, proving our meme was correct, called the Facebook portal, proving Facebook just like the MSM news are all in the portal, delivering news and bs'ery from their world, not ours. Don't ya just love it when they prove you right.

And finally a week where you find out how, high people can go in life despite a dodgy background, or is it the case because they had an insidious past they reached such lofty heights, you decide. A polish guy who did several jobs to avoid being sent to Germany during WW2, then gets a job in a chemical factory an becomes the main salesman of cyanide to the Nazis, presumably for the camps. That salesman then goes onto reach the lofty heights in world affairs, infact he became Pope, he was Pope John Paul the second.

Mr De Blasio, a man who won't even put out his real name, which is Warren Wilhelm Jr, so your the last person to be calling anyone else fake, Mr. Wilhelm, another descendant of the Paperclip crew no doubt, what is not in doubt is he was a supporter and advocate for the revolutionary socialist Sandinista government in Nicaragua during the 1980s. Mr Cuomo challenged Mr Trump's assertion that he had paid his taxes, adding: "He's all yours, Florida." Cuomo born in New York and this comment is indicative, In solidarity with Israel, Cuomo announced an executive order against the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions movement. Cuomo tweeted: "If you boycott Israel, New York State will boycott you. In July 2014, it was reported that the Moreland Commission, a committee established by Cuomo to root out corruption in politics, was directed away from investigations that could be politically damaging. Cuomo later abruptly and controversially disbanded the Commission, or in 2016 where he threw his friend who he described as like a brother under the bus, for financial criminality that implicated Cuomo, but as per usual others take the wrap it seems, his friend Percoco got jailed.

Two things from this China needs to deal with the filth within their midst first, needs to learn to provide the 5 basic essentials in life to all their people, needs to stop the organ harvesting machine operating within their borders before going anywhere near another space based body. Should they try to land, they will face same outcome as Israeli and India so called probes. Satellite meaning "planet not moon that revolves about a larger one" first attested 1660s, but here is the kicker Galileo, who had discovered them, called them Sidera Medicæa in honor of the Medici family, one of the 13 Black Nobility families, also meaning "man-made machinery orbiting the Earth" oops.

RT's Max Keiser sat down with publisher David Morgan to discuss the turmoil in the repo markets, which are already flashing red sirens, and how banks that are desperate for cash may come to insolvency one by one. “If these banks, like JP Morgan or Deutsche Bank, are unable to settle trades because they don’t have the cash...then when the end of the quarter comes they’re gonna have to, by law, if there is the rule of law anymore, it’s an open question, announce that they’re insolvent. And therefore, they’re gonna set off the cascade... and [it] will be the continuation of the 2008 crisis, but much much worse,” Keiser told his co-host Stacy Herbert as they delved into exploding “debt bomb” that the Federal Reserve is trying to cover up in the repo market. The rapidly increasing intervention into the repo market indicates that there is “obviously some insolvency” in the system, warned Morgan, the publisher of The Morgan Report, which covers economic news. He explained that the banks are required to have a certain reserve of cash on hand and if they don’t, they have to borrow overnight to meet this requirement. They may go to other banks to make their books square, but if other lenders turn them away, they have to ask the Fed as a last resort. “That’s kind of telling that [in] the banking system at large, no bank would loan to me, because I don’t trust the bank that needs the money...So it puts some caution into the system,” Morgan said. “So it’s sort of the walk of shame to go to ask the Fed to borrow money when another bank or other banks won’t loan to you.” Given that this could happen multiple times and because all the lenders are interconnected, the fall of one of the banks could cause a domino effect, like what happened when Austria Creditanstalt bank failed and initiated the Great Depression, Morgan said. And there you have it as we have been saying, don’t be basing the narrative based on faked stock markets, they are illusion, designed to pull people in with promised profits, then when they have enough crash it down and buy up lower priced stocks. If the stock market was real it would be based on how companies are really doing, how can value of a company go up, if they are bankrupt, there is your proof of illusion right there.

SUB INTEL G4S, the largest private security company in the world, sells armed guards as a high-quality, low-cost alternative to police. This is the price. Philip Mayo cost himself a law enforcement career the day he helped shatter a prison inmate’s face and beat him until his back was broken. But the fired Maryland corrections officer wasn’t out of uniform for long. Within months, G4S, the largest private security company in the world, gave him a job 20 minutes up the road guarding an office building and its workers. Co-workers said he raised more red flags almost immediately. They claimed he stalked a woman around the building. He adjusted security cameras to watch women enter the locker room. He groped a coworker’s breast. Mayo’s supervisor warned his bosses: Fire this guy before someone else gets hurt. They ignored him. A police report details what happened next. One night on the graveyard shift, Mayo watched a cleaning lady push her cart down a darkened hallway. He waited until they were alone. Then he pinned her from behind, slammed her head against the wall and ripped at her clothes. “Please don’t do this,” she begged. “I do what I want,” he said. “I’m security.” this confirms of what we have been saying, they are taking on undesirables based on profiles, putting them into jobs where anything goes, employer is obligated to do anything as well, as they have previous misdemeanors hanging over them. This is how these security and agency people work, they have trapped many people into this program. Keenan a prime example.

Many people with asthma could cut their carbon footprint and help save the environment by switching to "greener" medications, UK researchers say. Making the swap would have as big an "eco" impact as turning vegetarian or becoming an avid recycler, they say. It's because some inhalers release greenhouse gases linked to global warming. But the Cambridge University team told BMJ Open patients must check with a doctor before changing medication. Some patients will not be able to switch and should not be made to feel guilty, they add. Metered-dose inhalers account for nearly 4% of NHS greenhouse gas emissions, according to experts. Coming soon breathing tax. smh

President Emmanuel Macron of France has described Nato as "brain" dead, stressing what he sees as waning commitment to the transatlantic alliance by its main guarantor, the US. Interviewed by the Economist, he cited the US failure to consult Nato before pulling forces out of northern Syria. He also appeared to cast doubt on whether Nato members were still committed to collective defence. Nato celebrates 70 years since its founding at a London summit next month. "What we are currently experiencing is the brain death of Nato," said Mr Macron. He warned European members that they could no longer rely on the US to defend the alliance, established at the start of the Cold War to bolster Western European and US security. Yes the American people are tired of paying for the United States of Europe Mr. Macron.

The fake as a glass eye award goes to Ontario Minister of health, for her pathetic attempt to lie to the Canadian people this past week, take a bow Christine Elliott who did a public staged vaccine attempt to convince the public the need for vaccines, whilst not receiving the vaccine herself. This needs to go viral and she needs to be called out and questioned as to why she did the public deception piece, what Canadians need to address is, if she is going to lie and deceive over this is, what else is she lying about?

A recent study has found that Infants and school children who have been exposed to the highly toxic childhood vaccination schedules are much more vulnerable to pedo-crime than those who have not. These mandated vaccines contain minute chips that can be used to profoundly affect the individual both physically and psychologically.

Studies have linked Common Core to declining test scores and generally poor student performance. This failure in U.S. schools comes at a time when Chinese students appear to be blowing American children out of the water. Results from the Program for International Student Assessment, which tests students internationally on their proficiency in math, science and reading, show that China ranks a full 21 spots ahead of the United States. The 21st century needs to remain an American century. Letting the Chinese take the global lead would have disastrous results across the world. If we expect our future engineers, scientists, and mathematicians to compete in an increasingly globalized world, it's clear that Common Core needs to be abandoned, according to experts. No shit sherlock, the ouro boros program in full swing, run down the west whilst promoting the east, now that program has failed to change over the power structure, it's a case of wells the fargo are we going to do now. Reality is the Western world needs massive injection of funds and ideas to equal out the brain drain to the East, will take at least 20 years for us to catch up, it needs new ideas, new charter schools designed to actually teach children, and a complete scrapping of the old systems altogether. We need new curriculums, clearly when some Americans don't even know their own states, there is a massive problem, denying or ignoring it will not make it go away.

The UPS worker brigade is in full force here, England's public school system has decided that it's no longer okay for its faculty and staff members to do anything other than nod and smile in full agreement every time new LGBTQP "curriculum" is suddenly and forcibly imposed upon innocent children in the classroom. A 74-year-old school board member by the name of Maureen Griffith, learned this the hard way recently as she was reportedly suspended from her job, simply for questioning a staff decision to implement an LGBTQP Pride month, at Alperton Community School in Brent, North London. Staff at Alperton also decided to purchase a whole slew of new LGBTQP books for the school's library, which was done without any prior consultation with Griffith, who's served as the school's governor since the early 1990s. "At the meeting, I raised that the introduction of LGBT books and Pride month into the school had not been mentioned before at any previous meetings," Griffith is quoted as saying. "I said that parents had not been consulted, and that there would be parents with children from religious backgrounds, who would object and not want their children to have this form of sex education." quite why having a religious background makes any difference is beyond me. Griffith strongly urged her colleagues to think about these children and their families, emphasizing the fact that, as a mother herself, she would not want her sons to be reading any of the LGBTQP books that were stocked in the library, nor would she want them to participate in LGBTQP Pride month. These statements apparently triggered one of the school's faculty members, who reportedly stormed out of the room in a tizzy, throwing a hissy fit along the way. As warned this is not about education, this is a program of social engineering and civil servants, school board people, social workers with zero brain cells combined, they are running an operation for the system, wake up and smell reality for once, with your sanctimonious and fake outrages, acting not out of care for gay and lesbian people, society in general has never really cared for them people, as shown by the verbals and violence they have endured. They are only doing it now because they were told to do so, like nice little puppets and because you think it will get you a promotion or fired, depending on your reaction. If you really cared for those people, you would quit this program and subsequently protect the children, in case you forgot whilst you are fakely promoting gay and lesbian people, you are forgetting you have an obligation to protect all children. Kudos for the teacher for standing up, as for the rest of you, you are an embarrassment to society. Coming to a school near you, the next program the EPSTEIN program, lets all invite child fiddling pedophiles into the classroom to discuss and promote their cause with the children, don't be ridiculous you may say, really? don't be ridiculous, those now following and going along with this multi lettered program would have said the same thing 20 years ago, would they not? remember that, whilst your brain is currently in the torpor mode position, spelt t-o-r-p-o-r incase you wish to look it up. For those unaware of what is the Q, no not Q anon, Q apparently it stands for queer, how ironic it is that word, which was banned under the political correctness junta, but now they wish to use that term? all very queer that if you ask me. That is the same as the N word which was banned as that group of people thought it was offensive, then go around calling each other by the same word! the levels of stupidity and madness has no end it seems, as this next part proves. As for the P oh dear, for those who thought I was being ridiculous in the last paragraph re EPSTEIN program, the P is for Pedosexual, pedo fucking sexual teaching to children? you can't make this shit up, why did only one teacher speak up? as for the rest of you, you are cowardly parasites and your children should be taken off you, and put into homes where they will be protected from your ignorance and utter stupidity. Coming soon into the classroom, the licensed pedophilia group known as airport security, the TSA doing school tours of how to fondle all of your private parts and legally get away with it, so then it becomes LGBTQPTSA, looks like a dyslexics keyboard to me. It beggars belief and again shows how stupid we the people are to go along with all this nonsense, I don't care what sexuality orientation you choose, just keep it to yourself, school is supposed to be about learning words, grammar, reading or sums at that age, not teaching kids how to give a blow job, and sticking their dicks up each others jacksies, FSS what is wrong with people? As for the UPS crew here is my label, WHMNSPLHMNIHSGFY which stands for white heterosexual male non supremacist peace loving hello my name is human so go f yourselves.

INTEL The Fed called Kim on Sunday and asked to put all the systems back the way it was, I guess there attempt at flying straight didn't last too long, or the threats from Li Kwon worked, even though no one has validated who he is.

The global system in Bern Switzerland was down on Sunday also, that system manages all transfer software.

Monday the Banks did a full system restore back to before 1998, so much for progression, 1998 was when Langley switched from ap40 to bravo system, the Bravo system is a part of echelon, which is ran by the NSA, CIA and Israeli embassies.

1998 was also year that Bill Clinton signed over all in ground resources to the trust.

So they fired up what is known as the old KTT system "Key Tested Telex" system to avoid using the new VTN system implemented by Kim, the KTT system was created in the 1930's and went out of date in 1990's, I guess the loop people have really lost it. Whilst the delays are frustrating for us all, none more than Kim, you can now all see the levels they will go to, to keep the illusion of control going, it also shows you how far they have fell.

Some members have been contacted by Abdul Karim who on his profile claims to be a Deputy General Manager for The 'National Bank of Abu Dhabi' in the UAE. Mr Karim is looking for money to fund the Saudi IPO group, so Cheney, Rumsfeld and Co can blow up the Middle East.

The US has begun the process of withdrawing from the Paris Agreement, notifying the UN of its intention to leave, as other countries express regret and disappointment at the move. The notification begins a one-year process of exiting the global climate change accord, culminating the day after the 2020 US election. The US government says the deal puts an "unfair economic burden" on Americans. The agreement brought together 188 nations to combat climate change. There has been widespread international condemnation of the US move. The Paris accord, agreed in 2015, committed the US and 187 other countries to keeping rising global temperatures below 2C above pre-industrial levels and attempting to limit them even more, to a 1.5C rise. The decision to withdraw - taken by President Donald Trump after he came to office in 2017 - made the US the world's sole non-signatory and prompted high-level efforts by the European Union to keep the agreement on track.

Finally confirmation that America is pulling out of that what was once a treaty when the UN was sovereign, because it had it's sovereignty removed for several indiscretions, abuses and not serving it's purpose or obligations. The Treaty then went to agreement and now accord, this accord has nothing to do with climate change at all, and everything to do with the UN along with their elite backers stealing all countries in ground resources, allegedly to pay for climate change, but in reality to allow those elites to keep in control of the wealth and the planet. The UN is now a criminal and bankrupt organization, using hired mercenaries to threaten countries around the world, who dare to help or improve their own countries. The IMF the same as the UN, they owe the Trust $196T and are also bankrupt, and also using mercenaries to threaten countries into taking on the IMF loans. Those two organizations and the World Bank have ran a criminal operation to loot countries for decades, stolen your wealth, killed your people and threatened many more. Message to the world leaders, please follow Americas lead in stepping away from this accord, all your leaders who signed this, did so due to threats and receiving kick backs to sign it, largely at the behest of the criminal Barack Obama, former Pindar and leader of the Muslim Brotherhood. I know it is not normally conducive to follow American policy, as many of you have been duped by successive Presidents of this country who were operating for and by these same elite harvesters. Do not allow your mistrust of this country to cloud your judgment, please check out the report of proof for yourselves, it will rape your countries over and over again. Each country has a substantial fund awaiting you all to step away from the old system, those funds are not interest bearing, and does not require paying back either, those funds were stolen from your country in an earlier period, by the same group who operate the so called bodies of humanity protection groups. They lied, they continue to lie and it's up to you all to get together and remove those groups and their mercenaries, out of your countries and away from making your policies.

Following clown attempts to reset the banks software, our team launched a new global software for all banking world wide it is called the Key integrated monetary system, or KIMS for short, and was launched on Tuesday, and is working very well.

This caused clowns to get upset a bit and launched into name calling, Kim has now been labeled a dictator, dictator "one who has absolute power or authority" of any kind, well sometimes a dictator is required to do so when the majority act stupid, wish to run failed systems and are under control of a group of dictators who have run this planet, countries and people into the pit. This dictator as you call her, gave you all several options, several proposals and hundreds of calls for you all to be on board and be apart of something far greater than we or you have currently, you all chose to play dirty, underhand and dance with the dark, so she was left with no option to go it alone, you created that situation, not her, remember that. Langley clowns trying to manipulate and control her to their plans, that failed like all their other plans. The difference with this dictator if that's what you wish to label her under, oh you do love your labels don't you, no different to a group of UPS package workers, lets all create nice boxes and put things in them, this dictator doesn't want to rule or reign over anyone, when you all get your big boy and big girl pants on, you are more than welcome to join us. The Federal Reserve has now evidenced the new system and wants to engage us fully, also elements of Langley and The Pentagon, so we'll see, the door is open to them providing they fly straight and quit playing games for the old order or issuing threats against Kim or the team.

The website for the ANNA (Association of Numerical Numbering Agency) system is anna-web.org That is the birth certificate platform and headquarters in Belgium.

Its purpose to place a "number on all registered securities and stocks" WORLD WIDE, Although true it also registered you as a person and every treaty as an "instrument". ANNA, until 2007 sold all it's "instruments" to the Trust, in 2007 the Trust stopped buying these bonds and derivates, hence what followed was the market crash of 2008.

This is how the illuminati would take control of commerce world wide, your birth certificates and much much more, and also how the Trust gained all control. So, and listen closely ALL UCC FILINGS WERE AND ARE AN INSTRUMENT OF THE TRUST (for all those combing around in the Mohave Desert and you know who you are) More about that in FRWL 9 "The Conclusion" They also registered THEIR corporates in here too, with "special privileges" such as receiving newly issued money, grants/loans from the world bank, with no tariffs or customs fees, highly discounted products, and in the reverse if you were launching a competing product to one of their special corporations, you could be blacklisted in this system from ever receiving a bank loan or grant. This was one of the main weapons used by the IMF/UN/World Bank in the corporate take over of the world aka "The Non-Compete Plan", this is where the no bid contracts was issued out to companies like Lockheed, Boeing, Northrup Grumman, Bechtel and Halliburton to name but a few. This made the entire world an "employee of the system", this is no longer the case as of this week, the Trust is, and always was the "Employer" as ALL the registered "Instruments" were deposited in the Trust. ALL, not some ALL. Yes including you Bayer, Johnson and Johnson, Exxon Mobile and all those STILL obligated under the "Treaty of Versailles" more on that next week.

An "arm" of the ANNA system was the the "X/N" System which controlled all taxation world wide, based on the fact that your corporation filings, your UCC filings, your birth certificates of every nation were "bonds/derivatives" aka on the website as "Instruments". This is why all of you claiming to file UCC, Cash in at the Treasury Department are incorrect, this is NOT the way to Sovereignty, more on this later in "The Conclusion". This is where the other Anna as in Von Ratzinger is WRONG, the Kennedy Round of the GATT (now World Trade Organization) and The Charter of Bogota of the Organization of the Americas States, allowed them cart blanche over you as a person and you as a corporation.

Both Systems were based in Belgium, both are completely destroyed, hence "were". This is also the reason Belgium was chosen in part as the site for the "new NATO" headquarters, the army protecting the collateral of the world not only the systems, but also the lands, in ground assets and many other things associated with it. Charter of Bogata of the Organization of the Americas States (states as in countries).

Lastly, the "Global Monetary Monitoring System" was located in Bern Switzerland, and controlled all permitted hardware and software capable of transferring money and available to banks. They controlled and monitored who had access to what via this system, so when they rejected the new VTN, down when their system and up went the VTN, one thing you can always count on is, singular control points with multiple layers, head goes down so do the tails.

The 3 Main controlling systems which were OVER the Federal Reserve were all terminated this week.

On to the better news, Kim launched this week the KEY INTEGRATED MONETARY SYSTEM...KIMS for short.. Initially when the agencies saw this come up they tried to claim it was the QFS and the RV rollout would be soon, and were told "You do realize it is called KIMS don't you?"

The KIMS system is far more transparent than the old system, offering governments monitoring of their currencies, projects associated with new money, and allows for EVERYONE to participate. It has replaced the OS or Operating system of the entire banking system, every bank, everywhere that was tied to the old system and replaced central banking systems world wide, with a more user friendly monitoring system. Further, it has full analytics software, which can reevaluate currencies based on higher wages and new job creation, not as a "slave" to the system, but as a monitor to prevent currency manipulation. Can you say Bye Bye IMF/UN/WB control "tick tock". KIMS uses real math not IMF draw numbers out of a hat. It also will in the future devalue currency should proper projects not be completed, proper wages not paid and/or failure to produce under production contracts of commodities for import and export, this means it can in real time monitor expenditures for all projects and account of whether the project was completed or not, or whether it was done at all. It cross references intelligence data bases to trace and track, who is paying known child traffickers as an example, it will also end the massive amounts of monetary waste of duplicate and even triplicate agencies all monitoring the same stuff, the monitors, monitoring the monitors, monitoring the monitor, monitors. Lastly, we hope to begin transferring of new money soon via this new process, this will END "control of industries by the Corporates and the Banksters". The system has many more features too many to list on this show, but you are getting the idea.

OP-ED This first op-ed will cover two topics, The continued exploitation of a child riddled with Aspergers which is a symptom of Autism, as stated here, Asperger's syndrome (AS) is one of a group of neurological disorders known as autism spectrum disorders (ASDs). AS is considered to be on the mild end of the spectrum, people with AS exhibit three primary symptoms: having difficulty with social interaction, engaging in repetitive behavior, standing firm on what they think, focusing on rules and routines.

Ironically an illness caused by the very system of skullduggery and groups she represents via vaccines. As mentioned in an article Asperger's and Autism have seen a rise in recent decades, some people have suggested that vaccine exposure, particularly measles vaccine and thimerosal, a mercury preservative used in some vaccines, causes Aspergers. They went on and said however, the overwhelming majority of studies shows no evidence for any association between immunizations and Aspergers, who did those studies? the medical industry, vaccine manufacturers? WHO? The point is only one thing has really increased over the past few decades, apart from taxes, and that is the use of vaccines, Asperger, Autism and ADHD have all appeared since the increase in vaccines given to children. They are going to great lengths and costs to promote it, but since when have they ever been interested in our health? like never, shite in the food, air, water, medicines, cigarettes, alcohol, wine and spirits, sugar based products, plastic rice, plus the ridiculous cost for basic treatment in America, where hospitals charge $450 for two small bandages and a cardboard wrist splint, yes you Kissimmee hospital or anything from $800 to $2000 for one and half hours work for a root canal. FDA approved aspartame remember, which is a hazmat product when spilt in it's raw form, all courtesy of Donald Rumsfeld, who like Cheney and Bush remain very quiet these days. The powers that were using kids with disabilities that they created, is a piss take on that child in my opinion, Greta needs to focus on why is she protecting the very same system who gave her, her disabilities. What it also shows is, how far the alt media has come to pushing the narrative out of the masses, so much so now, they have to use coached children to get their message across, quite a fall and climb down from an entity that controlled everything, now not so much. It is an extraordinary event in and of itself, using kids to convince people to the elites whims, now where have we heard or seen that before? Recognize the pattern is the key to solving many problems or mysteries.

Here is a prime example of portal people rhetoric, and also an example how easily we accept it, through not asking or questioning the narrative. Statement: "More than 11,000 scientists from 153 countries have signed a declaration that doesn't beat around the bush: They declare "clearly and unequivocally that planet Earth is facing a climate emergency." ooh lets all shit our pants (play) So lets look at these scientists properly shall we and base it on figures from 2001, the number of scientist back then was 2M685K the number of scientists increased from 150,000 to 2,685,000 between 1950 and 2001, their figures. So based on 2001 figures 2 million six hundred and seventy four thousand scientists either don't believe in it or had no say, these are the questions and type of analysis that people don't ask, they just accept the statement. So 2.674M scientists are wrong because 11k say it is correct? Based on their 2001 figures those 11k scientists are just 0.004% of all scientists, oops. Suddenly the enormous figure of scientists pushing this shite ahead of the lets all steal every countries inground resources to pay for, not climate change, but keep elite figures in wealth, better known as the Paris Climate Agreement.

And the white supremacist program goes in full swing again this, A city in eastern Germany has declared a "Nazi emergency", saying it has a serious problem with the far-right, why use that term? because it is a program is why. Dresden, the capital of Saxony, has long been viewed as a bastion of the far-right, and is the birthplace of the anti-Islam Pegida movement, Councillors in the city have now approved a resolution saying more needs to be done to tackle the issue. Given they are responsible for social order, but those councillor all need to be fired for incompetence, given it is a nazi emergency. Thankfully some opponents say it goes too far, "'Nazinotstand' means - similar to the climate emergency - that we have a serious problem, ah see how they work? rolled two programs into one sentence, there is that memetics programming again. The open democratic society is threatened," local councillor Max Aschenbach, who tabled the motion, told the BBC. Mr Aschenbach, from left-leaning satirical political party Die Partei, said he believed it was necessary to take action because politicians were not doing enough to "position themselves clearly" against the far-right. Yet again pushing the same program, appears few are buying it as much as they used to either, if people really understood who the Nazis are and not assume, then we will be well on our way to ending that program as well.

Here are some statistics for you, generally statistics on this show have revealed horrors and fraud on a massive scale, but these will make people go hmm, is something really is happening? 13 Presidents, 4 Vice Presidents, 40 Prime ministers, 5 deputy Prime Ministers, 2 Chancellors, 1 Vice Chancellor, 251 Ministers, 9 deputy ministers all resigned in last 24 months, oops.

This piece I found this week is in support of what Candace Owens was saying, and not the racist divisive Jessie Jackson and others of his ilk have done or said to the black people, that doesn't and hasn't helped the black people, but enhanced their own downfall, this was written by a Black American named Walter E. Williams. He said that the problems of today's black Americans are a result of a legacy of slavery, racial discrimination, and poverty has achieved an axiomatic status, thought to be self-evident and beyond question, this is what academics and the civil rights establishment have taught us, but as with so much of what's claimed by leftists, there is little evidence to support it. The No. 1 problem among blacks is the effects stemming from a very weak family structure, children from fatherless homes are likelier to drop out of high school, die by suicide, have behavioral disorders, join gangs, commit crimes, and end up in prison. They are also likelier to live in poverty-stricken households, but is the weak black family a legacy of slavery or not? In 1960, just 22 percent of black children were raised in single-parent families, fifty or so years later, more than 70 percent of black children were raised in single-parent families. Here's my question: Was the increase in single-parent black families after 1960 a legacy of slavery, or might it be a legacy of the welfare state ushered in by the War on Poverty? According to the 1938 Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences, that year 11 percent of black children were born to unwed mothers, today about 75 percent of black children are born to unwed mothers, is that supposed to be a delayed response to the legacy of slavery? The bottom line is that the black family was stronger the first 100 years after slavery, than during what will be the second 100 years. At one time, almost all black families were poor, regardless of whether one or both parents were present, today roughly 30 percent of blacks are poor, however, two-parent black families are rarely poor, only 8 percent of black married-couple families live in poverty, among black families in which both the husband and wife work full time, the poverty rate is under 5 percent, in comparison poverty in black families headed by single women is 37 percent. The undeniable truth is that neither slavery nor Jim Crow, nor the harshest racism has decimated the black family the way the welfare state has, the black family structure is not the only retrogression suffered by blacks in the age of racial enlightenment. Labor unions have a long history of discrimination against blacks, Frederick Douglass wrote about this in his 1874 essay titled "The Folly, Tyranny, and Wickedness of Labor Unions," and Booker T. Washington did so in his 1913 essay titled "The Negro and the Labor Unions." To the detriment of their constituents, most of today's black politicians give unquestioning support to labor laws pushed by unions and white liberal organizations, and then there's education. Many black 12th-graders deal with scientific problems at the level of whites in the sixth grade, they write and do math about as well as white seventh- and eighth-graders, all of this means that an employer hiring, or a college admitting the typical black high school graduate, is in effect hiring or admitting an eighth-grader, thus, one should not be surprised by the outcomes. The most damage done to black Americans is inflicted by those politicians, civil rights leaders, and academics who assert that every problem confronting blacks, is a result of a legacy of slavery and discrimination, that's a vision that guarantees perpetuity for the problems. In every census from 1890 to 1954, blacks were either just as active, or more so than whites in the labor market, during that earlier period, black teen unemployment was roughly equal to, or less than white teen unemployment. As early as 1900, the duration of black unemployment was 15 percent shorter than that of whites, today it's about 30 percent longer, would anyone suggest that during earlier periods, there was less racial discrimination? What goes a long way toward an explanation of yesteryear and today, are the various labor laws and regulations promoted by liberals and their union allies, that cut off the bottom rungs of the economic ladder and encourage racial discrimination. A sobering piece of truth, that mirrors much of what we have said in this show, you can label people all you like, but once you wrap humans into a pity party and woe is me, there is always a program behind it, boogeymen, slavery, religious oppression, countries opposed, fake wars with fake death tolls whilst ignoring the real death toll, and who were the real victims all play into this. The black community whilst still facing external issues, some of which is their own making via Black Lives Matter, Jessie Jackson, the Obamas and Oprah Winfrey have done nothing for black people whatsoever, except confirm stereotypes. Like I said in one show, there is lots of money floating around within the black communities, collected by a few and none shared within their own community, not only that they rub their own peoples noses in it, by driving around in flash cars and all kinds of bling, that behavior is no different to the elites. A raft of black sportsmen earning vast quantities and yet little given back to their own people, some do but most don't, like Kanya West complaining he was $35M overdrawn in one year despite earning $115M that year, black people complained they were not going into important positions or high paid jobs, now they have and what has changed in their community, nothing, their communities they are all by and large ghettos. The black people with money move out of their communities and join the white communities, of all the places to go, they go to the so called enemy who have been racist and abusive to them forever we are told, but now they have money they join those communities and all is forgotten? The gist is they know deep down is what they were promoting or being promoted within the black communities was false is why, but the pity party and reparation programming crew runs deep, not just in black communities either. Ghettos are not created by the system, they are created by the people themselves, it costs nothing to pick up litter, a few people a few hours a week to clean up their neighborhood, and yet the ghettos remain. Actors like AOC and Omar are hampering their own communities quantifying racial stereotyping, and yet no one says anything. The Political correctness brigade spent years changing the words and the stereotyping against blacks, only for the blacks to create racial stereotyping and call all whites privileged, supremacists and Nazis, where is the outrage for that type of racial stereotyping? The black community the same as every other community, needs to take a long hard look at themselves like this author has, finger pointing has not worked, people of color being in high paid or profile jobs has not worked, killing each other has not worked, the only job is crime has not worked, your community leaders promoting stereotypes has not worked, despite being given extra help in all walks of life, the problems remain, because the problem was you. You can rail at all people including the author and my input all you like, but the song remains the same, a lack of personal responsibility. This is the great unanswered question today is why the so called first peoples on this planet, and we are told wrongly in my opinion that all came out of Africa, is why they are so far behind in everything? If they have lived on this planet longer than everyone else, why didn't they build their own civilizations way ahead of any other creed? Lets take the comparison to the whites out of the equation, why did the yellow, red and brown peoples build civilizations and not the blacks? It is the great unanswered question, can't blame whites or any other color going back many millenias, when all had the same relatively empty blank slate planet to create, yet even to this day as a collective they are not developing in a way that would be beneficial for the black people. My question is, are the genetic codes for black people tainted to poor development, violence and voodoo, infected by the Kali Ma or is this their archetype genetic code? People can claim that is racist all you like, I don't particularly care as I know different, if you react to this it means I and the author have struck a raw nerve of truth, which bothers people far more than the lie. I would much prefer for you to ponder on the points made by the author, than use the stereotypical response to personal criticism, and shout racist, it has and will solve nothing.

From one of the members: There is relative love and absolute love. And it is a skill which has to be trained! The relative love is defined by anyone who encounters and experience it. Its relative and limited through the experiences some made. Its a part of the absolute love. But what is absolute love? That's something only the most high knows, because there are no limits to it. So, its not possible to define it with limited words. Its in a way the same as relative truth and absolute truth. The first everyone can try to find for themselves through limited external and internal senses, the latter is only known by the most high. We can not define something so high with only our limited words and experiences. But we can try. Most people I know live only a way of "fish love" as I call it. Its false and designed to fade away. Because its not based in truth. Its fake. So everyone has his true definition of love, but its just a part of the all. Its an perspective based on experiences.

The world of politics and the theater actors who play within that amphitheater of drama and illusion has become more and more embarrassing by the day. People listen to certain ones and think ooh he or she sounds good, because he or she doesn't like X, Y or Z, and I get that to a degree, but you have to go back to the base of what this corporation masquerading government operation is all about. Since when have they ever done anything for and by the people? do they discuss policies? Do they add policies beneficial to the people? or remove policies that are not beneficial to the people? the answer to all those questions is no. Alexandria Ocasio Cortez was selected for an acting role by the DNC, why? because she could speak well, with Nancy Pelosi an embarrassment in public and Hillary being chastened by her own party followers for failure in the last selection, in which she managed to lose a one horse race, they needed new speakers. Many jumped to Elizabeth Warren until her narrative started to be questioned and subsequently fell apart, and the latest is Tulsi Gabbard, a practising Hinduist, which is not a good start given the background given to that religion or cult in FRWL series, she is on a par with Ilhan Omar and Rashid Tlaib put there for a purpose to play acting roles. As for Ilhan Omar attended and participated in a Democrat rally for Bernie Sanders this week, Ilhan Omar, D-Minn., issued a full-throated endorsement of Bernie Sanders at a spirited rally in Minneapolis' Williams Arena on Sunday night, saying a "mass movement of the working class" is needed to take down President Trump and end "Western imperialism," as she put it. "I am excited for President Bernie Sanders!" Where is the media on that statement she made, take down Trump, her goal is not to win the election or promote better policies, no just remove Trump, like I always say and what happens next? Now all three might be nice women and deliver nice messages, but they are either a part of, or oblivious to, a program being ran by Barack Obama and the Muslim Brotherhood, ran out of Langley 3. Gabbard is a member of the Council on foreign relations, which is linked to the Jason society group, she also sat on the board of Homeland Security, was heavily endorsed by Twitter's CEO Jack Dorsey who maxed out his donation to her campaign. Pictures of her doing triangle symbols outside capital building, it's all there once you see. She is also connected to Antifa founder Evan Duke III, people get taken in because of her calling out Debbie Wassermann and Hillary Clinton, but that is the scripted stage act, designed to not steer you to a different path, but keep on the same path of different character, but with the same hidden intentions. The stage and the program remains the same, only the characters are different in different chapters of the same play, one big Punch and Judy show. One thing people overlook or don't consider is, how old these punch and judy people are, that we are expecting them to change things for us, would you ask your grandparents to fix your life, do you make demands for grandparents to be on call 24/7, do you expect grandparents to write policies and promote things you want in life? question is why are we expecting these people to do anything? when under normal circumstances they should have retired years ago. We are asking retirees to fix our life and country, does that statement look or feel right to you?

Damn Thomas... only half way thru FRWL 8 and you are negating half my life! Haha We have had a lot of big shows recently and some of that information has been fairly heavy. It is and has been a lot to process, take in and sin eating on a large scale, this can lead to reflection rather than introspection. Some of the information makes people angry at the insidiousness of those involved in those practices, but that is their choice, and also a chance for us to learn of how not to be. Those who are really willing will get the fact, that we learn our biggest lessons not from the light aspect, but the dark, the problem is people absorb it, not observe it and learn. Like I said in a recent show, the djinns play an important role on all upbringing planets, by showing us how not to be, not copy and repeat their dark behavioral patterns, that is what humanity has to embrace going forward. The idea is not to eliminate the dark, the idea is to balance it, those of the dark forces have lost their way more than we have in many ways, they need to balance as well, and work has been underway to address that issue. FRWL 8B spoke of The Order of the Black Sun celebrating the destruction of all life, planets and suns, oblivious to what they are actually saying about themselves, do these people believe like what is taught to the gullible Jewish cult religions, that after Armageddon somehow they will all be spared? Utterly delusion if that is the case, and they require as much teaching as we do. They thought they were different, special and the chosen ones as a seducement onto a path that very few escape from, we have all the knowledge and you don't attitude, but what is the point of having knowledge if you are intent on destroying all life forms? what use is their secret knowledge then? Many struggle with the fact that, so many people or beings can be that evil, too easy to cast it off onto the Draco or Et beings, but that evil is amongst us, and pervades throughout society on all levels as well, this is a bad mistake on our part. Just because you have or set certain standards or morals and apply it to life, doesn't mean it applies to the all, like angels or demons, it is a choice and in us all, depending on that choice or path. I have mentioned the 5 hooks plus the hidden one should those 5 fail, of ways they pull you in, sex, alcohol, drugs, religion and finance are the 5 hooks. Agency people send their agents in to distract you, called honey pot girls or monarchs, you think it is random and rare, I can assure you it is not, it happens in all walks of life, not just those involved at the higher end. Many people have seduced themselves into the main three hooks via alcohol, drugs or religion, those that don't fall for them programs then get targeted with sex or financial seductions, if those two fail, they appoint you into higher positions and hope your ego goes unbalanced, this is how the system works. People will tell you that alcohol, drugs or religion, makes them feel better, if that was the case with so many partaking in it, why is the world a mess? it doesn't make you feel better at all, that is the illusion. An occasional alcoholic drink never did anyone any harm, but many drink too excess, as for drugs, I struggle to comprehend the whole concept behind doing it, it literally boggles my mind that people will get high on not only drugs, but glue, aerosols and any other substances stated to get you high, getting high is a cowardly way of escapism, you can get just as high facing reality, once your traumas have cleared. What is the point of it? well you feel great Thomas for a bit, fine, but what happens next? you feel down far longer than you felt being high do you not? so then the cycle begins high low high low and the pendulum swings back and forth at dizzying speeds, this is the exact effect the system wants people in, why are we doing that for them? This is why I talk of 45-55 not too high and certainly not too low, low vibrations bring lower frequencies, which then leads to the dance with the dark, but you are never the lead dancer in that situation, you are the follower, you may have thought you were dancing with the stars, but actually their black hole of permanent darkness. It rarely happens suddenly, generally over a period of time, so you don't notice it, like the totalitarian creep, a curious word used often by David Icke I recall, but lets look at it shall we, total means whole or all, but it also means to destroy, so total it equals destroy it, end part arian, So the total it arian creep done by the system is an end or the destruction to the Aryans, get the picture now?

One thing people must not do from our shows is, allow it to affect their mood beyond the day of the show, process it and let it go, don't allow it to dictate your mood or frequency, accept it as a lesson and transmute it into something positive. People may say how can that information be turned into a positive, simple, the fact you are not like them is a positive, is it not? Some people go into their shell, some can't face or handle the information, some people get mad and or reactionary, and whilst that is understandable to a degree, it should be fleeting once processed, not part of your every day life. There are many trigger points in our shows, designed to get you to think and also process things better, and I am pleased many are doing that on both levels, and starting to recognize if you are reactionary to some aspects of the show, it is something within you where the problem lies, and not from the messenger. Often in this ultra competitive and comparative mindset world, people will say things to get a rise out of you, and many will react back in exactly the same way, it is what we have been taught to do, but if they don't get the rise out of you, eventually that goading attempts just stop, the issue is how you react, and for those looking to get a rise, are actually creating a fall within themselves, it is false elevation based on lowering someone you feel is, somewhat better than you to begin with, why have you allowed yourself to feel that way? If we all keep dragging each other down, we all end up in the pit, do we not? why not elevate each other? is that not a better way to be? wouldn't life on the whole feel so much better if we are all supporting each other? The dark all go to great lengths to support each other in their endeavors, and they are or in a lot cases now, were successful. They don't agree on all points, but see their final goal as the be all and end all and overlooked points of contention, the reason they are or were so successful is because, we spent much of our time comparing, competing and fighting each other is why, this has to change. So if you feel down, angry, raging, reactionary 24-48 hours after a show, you are not getting the message or intent of the shows, and you have unaddressed issues within you, that will require you and or a partner to help you fix that issue or those issues. There is more than one way of looking that things, one way is the mirror again, Thomas they have done all these horrible things to us, lie, deceived, cheated, hurt and killed us I can't face or deal with it, or you could say Thomas they did all those horrible things to us and we are all still here, what an achievement that is, perhaps this line will remind you of your choice, and through it all when there was doubt, I ate it up and spit it out, I faced it all and I stood tall, and did it My Way.

A map of the dark was posted called the Ba'al path and also the Kabbalah tree of da'at or death as it is known, two plans of the dark, plus the manifesto of the Order of the Black Sun revealed in FRWL 8B, and someone asked the question of where is the light plan, valid question. I have referred to a particular line in the 100 series of the individual warring clans of humans on Earth, and the question was where are the good guys, the reply? there are none, was a very harsh but indicative lesson to be learned from that one statement. Why is that indicative and also brutally correct, well in that show the various factions of humans spent all their time fighting each other, fighting to be the top dog so to speak, the main group in control just let them carry on picking each other off, whilst they made plans to control everything, sound familiar? It should do as it applies to us all, I wasted two hours of my time this week dealing with issues that had been raised, and when the forum for bringing up those issues was provided, I got crickets. It is a common trait within us all to complain about everything, until that complaint platform is provided, and then it's the Sound of Silence, hello darkness my old friend, indeed. Complaining is one thing, doing something about it is another, a few examples, people complain about banks and yet still bank at cabal based banks, people complain they have no say in things, then when provided, go silent, people complain endlessly about politicians, then vote for them, I could go on all night with several other examples, would prefer you all yourselves to come up with your own examples, as then you will understand not only the problem, but the sheer stupidity of it all. So why is their no light map? because the supposedly most creative species can't be bothered making one, and spend all their time on arguing, competing and trivial matters is why. Look around the world, very few people get on together, in the UK they don't like any other nation or peoples as a collective, don't like Germans, Australians, French, Scots, Welsh or the Irish in England, Americans are fake they say, but the real reason is they don't like themselves. Americans, ooh those nasty Russians, nasty Chinese and nasty Muslims, have you met them all to form your own opinion? have you been to their country yourself and garnered your own opinion? are my questions, no you have followed the narrative of what many are now labeling them as fake news, so fake news forms your opinion is that what your saying? do you stop to think of what you have just stated? Then we have the plight of immigrants, nobody wants them, the system is not forming that opinion is it? you don't want your fellow species? again do you stop and think about what you are stating? What happens if you dont speak? what happens if you don't act? what happens if you don't provide alternative solutions? what happens if you don't take personal responsibility? what happens if peoples stay divided? what is happens is, we have what we have now, nothing but a control system, albeit a crumbling one, that all complain about, but actually not only facilitate it, but enhance it and re-enforce it. There is little to no control system left now, your chains have been broken and you have been set free, and people are locking, bolting and binding those chains back onto themselves, in the most bizarre fashion, to the point of ridiculousness. You may argue and react to this piece because you are stuck in a coma of sorts, but I defy anyone to hand on heart say this is not the truth Thomas. Reactions to the recent shows, the religious in particular didn't like it one iota, why? because they feel I am taking their external savior program away is the root of it, they want to believe a dead man from 2000 years ago will defy logic, reason and medical reality, return from the dead and save them, save them from what is the question. The boogeyman? the cabal? Illuminati? Elites? has anyone defined what Jesus would be saving them from? no, they just repeat the meme, Jesus will save them, save them what? car insurance? mortgage interest payments? Trump? Clinton? remove all the bad guys? but what happens next? and we are back to silence again are we not.

If we all speak up on solutions as much as we do on complaining, we will have a massive shift very quickly. So why do we not have a light map, someone said that fact is depressing, ah the common mistake of looking for things external, you won't find it externally, no one has drawn it up, because it has no relevance, your light map you ask for is inside of you, oops. You have been told everything is within, yet you still seek outside of you, we keep asking for things we already have, how can you raise consciousness in a state of torpor and unconsciousness? Do you really grasp what you are stating, saying or meaning, look at your own words, statements and actions, do they make sense? have you defined who, what or where you are? have you defined your own dreams or made use of your imagination? where is your own creativity? a creator being not being creative, do you really understand that concept? and people wonder why nothing changes? The answer is because you haven't changed, it only takes one person to start the change, many of you will see or feel I was the catalyst, which is fine either way, but I am one person, and so that statement of one person being the change is correct, the question now is why isn't that person you? The god/Source is inside of you, the church is inside of you, wealth is inside of you, healing machines is inside of you, the light map is inside of you, happiness is inside of you, the domain of the wise, wisdom is inside of you, reach for the stars is inside of you, ET disclosure is inside of you, love is inside of you, compassion and caring is inside of you, angel or demon is inside of you, have or want a sword it's inside of you, courage and bravery is inside of you, being the person you wish to be is inside of you, raise your vibration, frequency or consciousness it's inside of you, strength is inside of you, want a leader it's inside of you, want a savior its inside of you, the truth is inside of us all. The real you is inside of you, once you cast off the boxes, labels and layers of trauma, and tell the UPS workers brigade to take a run and jump off the nearest cliff.
