

SUB INTEL Iraqi officials fear economic "collapse" if Washington imposes threatened sanctions, including blocking access to a US-based account where Baghdad keeps oil revenues that feed 90 percent of the national budget. US President Donald Trump was outraged by the Iraqi parliament voting on January 5 to oust foreign forces, including some 5,200 American troops, who have helped local soldiers beat back jihadists since 2014. If troops were asked to leave, he threatened, "we will charge them sanctions like they've never seen before." This is an example of how politics works, Trump has said several times he wants to bring home the troops fighting abroad, Iraq, Syria and Afghanistan, despite the national security issue surrounding foreign based America troops returning, but then the country states we don't want or need your troops anymore and then out comes the threats of sanctions etc. It is not indicative of mixed message more a case of direct interference.

Outgoing Bank of England Governor Mark Carney said central banks globally are getting close to running out of tools should they need to tackle another serious economic downturn. "It's generally true that there's much less ammunition for all the major central banks than they previously had, and I'm of the opinion that this situation will persist for some time," he said. "It's not clear that monetary policy would have sufficient space" if it needs to combat anything worse than a "conventional recession." That's a view echoed elsewhere among economists and in monetary circles. At the European Central Bank, new President Christine Lagarde has echoed her predecessor Mario Draghi in urging governments with budgetary space to spend more, and all nations to make growth-boosting reforms. Carney, who will leave the BOE in March, was the first foreign-born governor of the three-century-old institution. Starting in 2013 with the intention of shaking up the organization while gradually normalizing monetary policy, he was soon drawn into the political upheaval surrounding the Scottish referendum, Brexit and general elections. The bank left its benchmark interest rate unchanged at 0.75% last month, with a minority of the rate-setting panel calling for a cut. Carney's final rate decision, and a fresh round of economic forecasts, are scheduled for Jan. 30, the day before Britain quits the European Union.

Now the head of UBS Group AG's Strategic Development Lab is turning his focus to the human survivors of the tech invasion, persuading them to understand things will never be the same. They're going to have to -- in the jargon of Silicon Valley's missionaries -- "unlearn" how they've always operated. It's not just that their software may know their next move before they do. The extinction of an entire way of life is looming, as Purves sees it: the end of the bonus culture. Compensation will be a last frontier in the onslaught of technology on finance. He's moving traders toward electronic systems as the era of legendary gamblers stalking the markets in search of the $100 million payday becomes a distant memory. What's coming is increased bureaucratization, an evolution that renders individuals' judgment less important -- and with it the need to reward them as they might have once expected. "We want to hire people who are less driven by their own bonus and P&L and more by the long-term goal of what the market will look like in say 10 years," said London-based Purves. "The idea that you are responsible for your own destiny has gone. It's a team sport now." The moves in that direction are only accelerating. Coders have been handed licenses to trade equities at JPMorgan Chase & Co. while they're the focus of the biggest hiring spree in years for Goldman Sachs Group Inc.'s trading division. Citigroup Inc. plans to recruit 2,500 programmers this year. The competition for talent with companies like Google and Facebook Inc. hasn't caused a surge in banker bonuses. And while tech skills are still in high demand, that doesn't always translate to more compensation. Most trader payouts are forecast to remain steady or decline, according to an analysis by recruiting firm Options Group. All of this was warned of in the Clowns in Panic show, and for more evidence of that show listen to this.

India has more than 560 million internet users, all generating data by the terabyte. Soon they'll have an unprecedented amount of control over their digital financial footprints, with the ability to decide what to share, with whom, and for how long. India's top banks are getting ready to roll out a system that gives consumers access to a wide swath of their financial data and allows them to share it instantly. Backed by the Reserve Bank of India, it's an ambitious approach that combines privacy protection with credit reporting: if it works, it could unlock the credit market for millions of Indians while offering new levels of data security and consumer control. India's effort is one of a handful of initiatives around the globe to return control of data to consumers, notably with the "open banking" movement in Europe and Australia. India's approach is unique -- it relies on third parties to mediate the often complicated process of information sharing -- and so is its target population, which is predominantly poor and, as of now, excluded from the formal banking system. The "account aggregator" system will be offered by banks and licensed by India's central bank, which will also regulate the data collection and sharing. By logging into authorized apps, users will be able to pull together all kinds of financial data -- spending patterns, bill repayment, tax returns, business transactions -- that they can then choose to share instantly and temporarily in pursuit of loans, investment products or even insurance. Classic tactic of seducement think of the time it could save you and how much easier it will be, those words to a critical thinker are a blaring red flag, when they say that think differently of how can it be weaponized against us.

In 2016, Harvey Weinstein hired a private intelligence firm to spy on a long list of people - including those accusing him of sexual assault, we highlighted one female doing that in a recent show, as another US actress Annabella Sciorra of Sporanos fame, has testified in Harvey Weinstein's trial, that the film producer pinioned and raped her at her home 25 years ago. Seth Freedman was one of the operatives on that mission. Posing as a journalist, he called high-profile people like actress Rose McGowan to extract information that he fed back to Weinstein. He spoke to the BBC in his first filmed interview about his work for Weinstein and his thoughts on #MeToo. The allegations against Harvey Weinstein include rape and sexual assault relating to two unnamed accusers. Mr Weinstein denies all charges against him and insists and sexual encounters were consensual.

Bose is significantly shrinking the number of retail stores it operates because of the "dramatic shift" to online shopping, the company said in a statement. The maker of high-end electronics said it's closing 119 retail stores worldwide across North America, Europe, Japan and Australia. It will continue to operate about 130 stores throughout China, the United Arab Emirates, India and some Asian countries. 100 of those stores are in America, judging by this piece none will be left here, except its Amazon online storefront, seeing the pattern yet? The closures illustrate the likelihood of another brutal year for the retail industry. In 2019, US retailers announced 9,302 store closings, a 59% jump from 2018. Online sales make up around 16% of retail sales today, but they will rise to 25% by 2026, UBS analysts estimated in a research report. That could force up to 75,000 more store closures by 2026. Have you ever noticed the products of closed down retail stores never go down, when on an online market is introduced? With 100 less store front shops with no overheads, one would think the price of the product would plunge, would it not? never happens though does it.

The mother of an 11-year-old Hamburg, New York boy who recently died from flu-related complications doesn't want her son to be remembered as "just a statistic" but rather as "the wonderful boy he was." cue the vaccine program people kicked into gear. Calanni said Luca was sickened with the flu early last week. By Wednesday, after not seeing any improvement, he was taken to the hospital for fluids. There, he was diagnosed with septic shock. His condition steadily deteriorated; he later suffered a fatal cardiac arrest, according to his mother. The kicker to this rather sad story is, Luca was vaccinated on December 12th.

You wish to know about what is going on about the impeachment proceedings and Virginia? or the latest PLAY of Chinese viruses, you are missing the point acquiring details of and on them, the first is a fake distraction program that has zero chance of coming to fruition, the second was a potential false flag event that failed again spectacularly, the third is their now regular version of lets create fear and corral people into using up their expensive and deadly vaccines. That is about as much attention I wish to pay either of those events, designed to distract you from the more real and tangible events going on behind the scenes, plus it gives the treasonous portal people the chance to blab bollocks all day every day, heaven forbid anyone of them thinks for themselves, like bots they are incapable.

SUB OPED I warned alt media will go into meltdown and expose themselves and each other, and this is further proof. But first some background to it, this person said Kim was a nobody, she was not the Trustee, denied the Trust existed, then admitted Kim was the Trustee, but balanced it with Kim has stolen all the Trust funds and is a fraud and criminal, this person also questioned Kim's love life and personality describing her as cold, all whilst working for Langley 2. Kim reached out twice to work with this person and this person decided at regular intervals she would rather lie and trash Kim than work together, so that is the background, now listen to this. Welcome to the world of Anna Von Reitz. As I have recently discovered, Kim and I are cousins, members of the same family, I suppose the only way I can explain this is in terms of genetic inheritance, leading to proclivities and abilities to perceive things that otherwise cannot be explained. We have never known each other in this life and have had no reason to suspect such a connection.

As you have observed, both Kim and I have blocked the accounts, coming from two completely different standpoints. And there you have it folks Anna Von Reitz and the group she is connected to has been blocking the accounts, to turn around and state Kim is blocking them as well, is child like behavior at best, but she did it as well, that would be a no, why would Kim block the accounts if the only way she gets paid or the projects get started which Kim has committed to, is through releasing the accounts, not blocking them, that quite frankly is a ridiculous claim. And no, we aren't that opposed in what we want to have happen here ---- but that is hard to accomplish when we can't seem to sit down and talk as equals, Kim did sit down with her twice, she chose to try and cheat the Trust by requesting fund to then send that funding money to the Vatican and onto fake Chinese Elders by requesting 1/3 of Americas inground resources. She seems to think that I am some sort of low-life lackey, and for my part, no she doesn't actually you have done that all by yourself Anna, by repeatedly demeaning and spreading known lies about her at every opportunity. Her status based on being Marduk's favorite is no big recommendation, really the same Marduk who tried to kill her in the Kremlin Anna? some favorite that, yet again making up barbs to throw at her and try and discredit her, well to me Anna it looks all very lame when the real truth comes forward, as it has done repeatedly, so you can make out you want to work with her, and we should come together, yet still continue to throw out lies, how is that bringing people together Anna? So we both have to overcome those antipathies and the associated assumptions, Kim worked alongside M with no idea who or what he was, you work directly for Langley 2 and AAIA and still do, but things are not working out too well for you or your paymasters are they.

Besides removing the blocks there is the issue of having authority to open them, I know the bank trustee heir who has all the information and all the Powers of Attorney. The Trustee

Kim has the power to open them like the predecessor did, it was only one then and only one now, and your Trustee heir you claimed was the dark prince, well he no longer exists, so how is that going to work now Anna? He is willing to work with me, specifically, to get the job done from both sides of the table, so then all we have to do is come to a common understanding and stop blocking each other.

As I have made abundantly clear, I don't like banking. To me, it's a child's game gone horribly awry. The fastest, cleanest, and least painful route out of this quagmire of deceit is what is most appealing to me, and I am sure, to everyone involved. If people have any doubts the Trust is not making progress, this letter confirms it in it's full form, an admittance of they have failed to stop Kim being who she is, and an admittance that her and her Langley 2 counterparts have been blocking the funds making it to the accounts, as usual we get the predictable deflection narratives thrown in, it's called passing the buck, it and they failed. So if we are to be believing her that she is related to Kim in some way, where is the full apology for the plethora of nasty barbs she has thrown consistently at, to allegedly one of her own family members? Here are the facts Kim is the Trustee, the only main Trustee just like her predecessor, yes he had to use Anna's term as it is indicative of how he thought of them all, used lackeys as other Trustees, why? to fulfill his desire to get all the assets quicker, nothing more, nothing less. Kim is not the owner of The Trust or the assets, she was employed to be the Guardian of the Trust after the people you work with and others looted it all to fulfill your own families and groups as people of special importance, above everyone else, all of you failed to guard the treasures. Under Kim and her team guardianship that previous set of shenanigans will not be repeated, it will be shared as equally as possible, with the desire to lift everyone on this planet towards a better and more prosperous life, not the select few living at everyone else's expense. Kim for her part is willing to speak to anyone who flies straight, and to date not one of you who have approached her via phone or in person meetings are prepared to fly straight, and you all want to do is control her and the Trust, none of you have the right to control anyone, where were you cowards when M was running it, why didn't you control him? no he controlled you all like puppets giving you worthless pieces of paper to enhance your shallow lives, whilst he stole this planet assets, and you lot gave it all to him. As for controlling Kim to use a Kim term I promise you that is not happening. Fly straight the lot of you and lets move forward together.

Former Pope Benedict wants his name removed as co-author of a controversial book on the issue of priestly celibacy, his personal secretary said on Tuesday. The book, "From the Depths of Our Hearts", is due to be published in France on Wednesday. Excerpts were released at the weekend, angering some Roman Catholic scholars who said Benedict risked destabilising the reigning Pope Francis. These people have no hearts and are a vast part of why this planet is in a mess. What next he wants removed that he was a former Nazi in the SS? oh my Destabilize Pope Francis who was a gun runner for the Junta? or will it upset previous Pope who sold cyanide to the nazis? the sooner all people see this organization as beyond evil that better this planet will be, and no that doesn't mean switching religions, they are all one and the same, all of them. Don't take my word for it, research for yourselves, the evidence is all around you and right in your face, but more importantly which is what these religions have attempted and achieved to date, to stifle is, it is all within you.

I need our members and listeners who are new to understand this clearly, Kim does not have the time to deal with or discuss any projects in any country, that is not her role. That is the equivalent of ringing the White House and asking to speak to Mr. Trump about things, it's not happening and I wish people would understand that Kim has 209 countries to look after, several agencies, military, heads of State and Government leaders to speak to, that is the level she is at, she works too much and too long per day already from the above list, plus people sending her messages not asking how she is, but when's the funds coming out, people must have a better understanding of her and our situation. The same applies to me people sending or requesting I go over their proposal or project ideas, or asking for one on one private calls, as much as I love engaging one on one with people, I just don't have the time, I receive at least 25 messages and emails each week that all start with I know you are busy but I need you to read this, watch this or answer these questions, and when I don't respond in full people get annoyed or testy, a bit of thought and consideration at times is required here. The truth is I can only get time to look at the emails 2-3 times a week, an hour here and there, so watching a 25-90 video you have sent for my consideration is just not possible in the current climate.

This is a mini report from Brendan in Australia of things going on there. The fires in certain parts of Australia ARE bad - and the firefighters DO need better funding (please support them - I donated to Celeste's fundraiser)... But don't fall for the fear porn "climate change" PSYOP narrative that is using fake images like this below to sell the idea that the whole of Australia is on fire and it's because "CO2-driven climate change, mmmkay". But this is the fear-mongering they're using to continue shoving the UN globalist agenda and mind-fu*kery down our throats... Relatively speaking, the actual percentage of land surface area on fire is actually tiny - no less devastating for those directly affected of course, but tiny overall (thankfully)... Say "no" to the anti-science, irrational fear porn pushing the bogus "CO2-driven global warming" narrative. Informed is armed.

Moscow is to create the most extensive collection of WWII documents, open to all persons anywhere, to once and for all "shut the filthy mouth" of those seeking to rewrite history for short-term gains, the Russian president said. Any person, Russian or non-national, will be able to access the archive, including through a website resource, and the ultimate goal is to debunk any disinformation about the most devastating conflict in human history, President Vladimir Putin pledged, during a meeting with veterans of the Great Patriotic War, held in St. Petersburg on Saturday. The creation of the center would leave no chance to those willing to distort the truth about the war for their own political needs, he argued. I guess FRWL series went and goes further than people imagined, that center could get real interesting.

The psychedelic powers of a traditional Amazonian plant medicine called ayahuasca are attracting more and more tourists. It's said to bring spiritual enlightenment and to help with addiction, depression and trauma. But a string of allegations suggests there's a darker side to the ayahuasca scene. Rebekah says the healer sexually abused her, coercing her into sexual acts. "It's disgusting," she says. "Because he was a shaman, I thought he had moral superiority in a sense and I trusted him." After she was abused, Rebekah left the centre - and the country: "I booked a flight and got the hell out of there." She was left with a tangle of painful emotions: "Disgust, repulsion, betrayal - confusion, as well as to why a guide would do this, why a teacher would do this and why they would exploit their power like that." Rebekah's alleged abuser is still the head shaman at his centre - which gets five-star ratings on review sites. "He is still there," Rebekah says, clearly deeply angered by the situation. Her hands are visibly shaking. "There are other centres that I know of as well that are still operating. There've been multiple women that have been sexually abused in these centres." Experiences of sexual abuse seem to be widespread in this world. We've heard numerous allegations against numerous healers and read many testimonies of sexual abuse on online forums. One name that comes up repeatedly is Guillermo Arévalo, a well-known healer who's been honoured by the Peruvian Congress for his work on sustainable development. "He came to Canada many times," says a woman in her 40s whom we're calling Anna. Another story that adds further proof that has been put out by this show, these so called spiritual retreats are not for the purpose of enlightenment at all, as we discovered with the Tibetan and Hindu retreats it is riddled with potions of poison, sexual abuse and controlling elements, disturbing chants or mantras all done in front of mandalas the average person including these shamans have no idea what the intentions are behind them, none whatsoever. Same applies with other aspects like tantric and yoga, hello I am a multi titled yoga expert, ok fine, do you teach your students to shield before the practice, and we are back to crickets again followed by who are you to ask me, I am the expert I have studied this for blah blah years, exactly would be my response, the problem is people who taught them were not fully aware either, the blind leading the blind. You are taking part in a ceremony you have no idea what you are getting into, well it says on the tin it is spiritual, but what is spiritual? well its about enlightenment, what is enlightenment? well, well erm improving the self, so if it is improving the self why do you need others or potions to do it? Ayahuasca is not something to be recommended by anyone, it is a poison that makes you sick temporarily, but the real sickness it leads to can last the rest of your lives, spirit host possession by dark force entities, those that choose to ignore that advice are foolhardy in the extreme. They tell you, you need others to do the spiritual work, to keep you in the externalization system is why. Chanting words you have no idea what they mean and even less of their intentions, particularly when most have zero knowledge of spellcasting, chant on mandalas, when I proved in FRWL 8 piece the main mandala is a representation of a sacrifice humans center, invoking their fake gods, all hail Shiva our great god who wants us to kill our fellow men, women and children for him, but I thought he was their protecting you? oops common sense thinking again. A lack of thinking and questioning has damaged us all, is it Shiva who turns up like a helicopter blade with several sets of arms, and no one asks where did the extra arms come from? is that human? or is it some chimera mix with a bug? Like the talking snake story, if an Indian person goes to the doctor and says it just saw some guy come down out of the sky riding an elephant and he had 4 sets of arms and spoke to me, told me I am the chosen one, you would get locked up and put on severe medication and called a conspiracy theorist, yet millions follow that ridiculous narrative and believe in it. Wake up people. They tell you what Shiva is all about right in your faces and yet so many ignore it, Shiva is known as The Destroyer. This song is for Shiva peoples.

INTEL The planetary alignment plan failed and they rolled onto the next event which was financial, Welcome to 15th...and no deep state pay, yet again they were waiting for the Fed door to open and yet again for an embarrassing 13 years of trying-it failed. Then the bombshell from Russia took place and the whole cabinet of Russian government resigned...except Putin, this sent agencies of former 5 eyes and other top brass into total panic mode. But it was not the Russian government who resigned but the Russian deep state who resigned, we knew this was coming...as we got word they had given a final date for the payouts and it failed again, the ultimatum was made weeks ago, from our standpoint we just wasn't sure if they would walk the walk when the d day came. At this moment agencies in America are in full panic, Fed has just gotten news.. and their repo bubble is imploding

We suspect they will back down on trade deals.

You may well see before the end of this month high profile resignations, here and elsewhere we are aware of the names involved but will not be releasing them in case it jeopardizes anything.

Resignations or firing then appeared next in Norway, home of the NATO clowns, said to be about links to ISIS that may well be the case but not the primary cause.

Clowns trying to run their new super duper extra special Quantum System was all set to happen last Wednesday and it all ended in tears, servers and other operational rooms were rendered obsolete, not fried this time but turned into dust, this I can now reveal was in Paraguay under a certain Bush ranch, oh my. Clowns also were trying several other programs that would have affected the price of food upwards globally and sent energy prices skyrocketing, other plans would have closed off whole or all sections of the internet, along with several non thought out programs and proposals, which would have tipped the whole planet into chaos, including themselves, that's what happens when you don't think properly, anyway all of them were averted last week. Question remains to everyone and clowns is, what happens next?

Following certain groups latest attempt to trick, seduce and steal from Kim and The Trust that failed last week, all hell broke loose on all top levels of the old system, and the weekend brought hasty meetings which started at 10am Saturday morning and went through Sunday as well. Monday morning it continued until 6pm EST just 30 minutes before Trump left for Switzerland and the Davos meeting. Those meeting involved top brass from several countries of which some of the debates were interesting, but the usual self serving aspect was most prevalent, but also self preservation situation of which we have a solution for, which I will bring up in Op-ed section.

Then the UK cabinet was banned from attending Rothschild's country orders retreat, better known as the Davos meeting. This could mean one of two things the MI5/6 which runs the UK government along with the Black Freemasons out of the City of London, have turned the war on the Rothschild's group as a member of The Black Sun cult. Or they got wind of The Rothschild's trying to take money off other countries, none of which have any, in an attempt to stay in control of all the Commonwealth countries. So what started all this latest panic? well apart from failing to hack the system, their loss of another main computer in Paraguay, the failure to deliver RV after another cut off date was put forth, their delusional planetary alignment plans failing on 10-11 January, the biggest reason was when the Trust called in all of the debt with the Central Bank bonds. All groups now are declared responsible for the debt, be it Military, Agencies, The Fed and or Central banks, all of it was borrowed by Rothschild's or The Black Sun in their name, and no one has the ability to pay it all back, paying even some of it back would bankrupt every country, every bank also, central, reserve or otherwise. The relevant groups to us are now getting very edgy, relevant groups to us are the Military, Agencies and in some ways, some of the banks also, because although all of their top ranks followed The Rothschild's clan or The Black Sun, the minions don't, they just want to be paid, most of which haven't been paid for some time now, as all were told wait for the RV to pay out, which will never happen in a million years of Drake's two weeks predictions, which is like never. The light at the end of the tunnel came into view come Monday morning, the factions are breaking and as forecasted they would turn on each other, and within their own ranks as their lets look after us mode kicked in, eventually we will arrive at point of mutual interest, and I mean mutual, and yes we will look after your issues, but we want guarantees if we garnish you, you will devote all time going forward to look after all of the people, and I mean the all. Your harvesting program is over and it's not coming back.

Coders have been handed licenses to trade equities at JPMorgan Chase & Co. while they're the focus of the biggest hiring spree in years for Goldman Sachs Group Inc.'s trading division. Citigroup Inc. plans to recruit 2,500 programmers this year.

The black sun and Rothschild's are still attempting to control the banks, via anonymous text messages being sent to their cronies inside these banks, who are instructed to do everything from intercept funds, steal wire transfers, shut down systems, block or close accounts, delay or reject government officials and auditors and much more. These anonymous systems are being dismantled, and any person found to still be following these orders will be removed. This is why JPM, Goldman Sachs are hiring code people, code people means hackers just saying, the hiring of people from IBM and other devious groups, they are hoping will turn the tide in their favor, we promise you, that is not happening.

The message from Kim is this will not stop the process.

Tuesday brought the Trump speech and you may have noticed some familiar lines and narratives from not only the THI shows, but Kim and the Trust also, a refreshing signal and nod to going forward in a better way. Echoes of no fear, no pessimism, bright futures, the lower end peoples being lifted up, references to other countries supporting their own people, coming together, amongst other things and was refreshing to hear a leader speak in that way, regardless of where it came from, it is time. Trump also mentioned the 190 judges being trained in Constitution law, ponder deeply on the implications and potential outcomes that will bring us, all of it has previously been revealed within our shows. All in all it was a very enlightening and empowering speech, but as usual the portal people spat out their venom with comments like this, Trump threatens Europe with fresh tariffs in Davos, deepening a rift with long-time U.S. allies. Newsflash the US has no allies, just a group of psychopaths in each country causing division, death and destruction for their now deceased gods and overlords, that have done everything to cripple and take down this country and it's people, your time is over and a new beginning for the all is about to unfold. Two songs first was the old way, second the new way.

OP-ED There is an underlying issue that has been discussed at top levels, that involves several factors of what has gone on previously. Elements of people and groups not being paid, elements of thievery on a mass scale that could have major geopolitical issues for America as a country. When many other countries really find out what has gone on globally, and the theft and skullduggery are all apportioned mainly to one country, that country is America, the fear is that several groups or countries may rise up and attack America. It is a big, real and serious problem that requires as much discourse as possible to provide the necessary solutions to what is potentially a global crisis. One of the backgrounds into this is, and has been the non compete plan in 1976, where the global elite designated companies, corporations and conglomerates to corner all and every market, in what was essentially a ramp up of the harvesting plan of the former Trustee. These select companies where in every field of commerce, but lets name a few of them that are known, likes of Johnson & Johnson, Bayer, Microsoft, Google, Aramco, Walmart, Lockheed Martin, Boeing, Halliburton, Bechtel and Northrop Grumman amongst several others. The deal was all these selected companies received their materials of whatever enterprise they were involved in at 50% of cost, not 50% of the final cost, but their raw materials at 50% of the saleable value, this is what destroyed the farming industry in this country alone. This gave them enormous power to corner all markets, because if you are a corner shop and the direct cost of bread for example is $1 a loaf, Walmart got the same loaf for 50c, how can you compete? the answer is you where never meant to compete only to lose your businesses and jobs, so the harvesting elites only prospered. The same applies with oil, all the certain designated oil companies received their barrels of oil at 50% less than competitors, so they got oil at say $25 a barrel and sold it for $50-70 or more to everyone else. You would think that gain was enough, but not for these parasitic psychopaths it wasn't, they then set about stealing the oil for free out of Iraq and Iran, plus other oil producing countries in that region, their only costs then, was the shipping of it to various ports, be it in China via Pakistan, or Houston Texas via Saudi Arabia based company Aramco, who got the sole contract to process all the stolen oil, which was then shipped to Venezuela, and Chavez shipped the free oil to Houston. This was why America was getting cheap oil from Venezuela, until Chavez and Bush group had a big fall out, and we all know what happens next when that happens, as JFK found out himself to his own cost. The Bush Group then went onto building another refinery this time on the Mississippi, to cut others out of the deals. The Bush group Langley 2 along with Obama which is Langley 3, Netanyahu and Ayatollah Khomeini of Iran, yes Iran of all countries, are all in on this stolen oil deal. Iran the great boogeyman country to the portal people, and yet here we have two ex American presidents along with the AIPAC lobbyist darling Netanyahu all doing deals together to line their own pockets, at the expense of their countries and peoples. Sickening levels of greed that the majority of which stems out of America, but what the world needs to know is, countries are not relevant in global level criminality, all countries have been used as pawns. It is no different to the past of blaming the British and Dutch countries, they were both ran by corporations known as the Indies tea companies and zero to do with Britain or Holland. The same applied with the Roman invasions, that had zero to do with Italy and Italians, or Alexandria and Greece either, we can go back further and mention Genghis Khan which is Cohen and the priest class operating out of Mongolia, the same applied to Germany and the Nazis, every single one of those countries were used by hidden psychopath controllers to manipulate life, the countries and the planet into turmoil, so the message to all the top brass in all the countries taking part in that is, don't blame the countries, the blame lies with the former system, and it's harvesting operations. So, here is the solution part of fixing some of this global crisis at hand. First off all militaries will be paid what they are owed or due, providing they walk away from Rothschilds Clan and also The Black Sun, your role would be to look after the people within your own country, each country would then be responsible for their own people, not alleged super power countries lording over them under the banner of protection, like Hawaii, Puerto Rico and several other examples, all countries would become autonomous. The relevant militaries and armed forces to go after all Rothschild's and Black Sun assets and operations, sell off all their ill gotten gains all of which was looted out of The Trust, and those proceeds would then go towards paying back the people within your own militaries, mercenaries and other agents, with a portion of the proceeds to go back to the Trust, you will be funded as part of your budget, with no pay back to the Trust for these operations. Secondly, lets use the various Microsoft centers and Bill Gates and his Foundation, all of his knowledge was stolen from other companies, split the group up into smaller enterprises, and allow IT entrepreneurs to take over with their innovations, not Palo Alto and the rogue CIA and NSA groups, they have done enough damage, and restructure all their companies into cooperative business ventures, under the guise of either directly or indirectly with The Peoples club, be it into the Foundation or the use of the cooperative business model directive. Assets sold off or ill gotten gains would again be used to pay off those debts that America allegedly owes other countries and a portion of funds will go back to The Trust. This will ensure no average person within those companies will lose their jobs, but they will be trained to operate in a different way than the past, of which all companies failed, the ones that didn't only thrived by massive cheating and looting of The Trust monies in the past, or the non compete plan. The next stage would be what is known as the Families, again largely ill gotten gains based on favorable deals and contracts, deceiving of the people and the countries, remove their ill gotten gains also and disperse accordingly. The idea that 10 so called bloodline or special families own 72% of America alone is not conducive to moving forward in a sharing based world, take it off them and give it back to the people. No one person, group or country owns anything on this planet, currently though it is all owned by The Trust, but the Trustee as the guardian not the owner of The Trust wants to share it all out equally to everybody. The idea that some group owns the oil, diamonds or gold or any other asset is the old way, that failed us all including the chosen ones, special families and certain Dragon groups, all assets on this planet belongs to every single person or being on or in it. Yes companies can be compensated for mining say the diamonds, but that is all, they should not own the said mines, that belongs to us all, once people globally understand that and deliver it, this world will become a much better place for it. No more wars fighting over land, countries, oil, diamonds, drugs or fake religious ideologies, the military of the future should be a global based military with no one country having any control, and whose task is to defend this planet only. So there is a brief outline how we wish to see the world correct the ills of the past, and not one word was mentioned over violence, it doesn't require violence to carry the above out, natural law, executive orders, old contracts revealed and proof of their theft is all within the Fulcrum files and could be made available to you all. There is no need to fight countries anymore, all of it was an illusion to begin with, lets do a 180 correct the ills and come together in peace and harmony. It is no easy task I know, but where there is a will, there is always a way, we are ready to roll, the key question is now, are you?

Everybody in our group now knows about the Cooperative business model, and is aware it is also a social and psychological practice as well, but what if we rolled that out into a Government structure also? How would it work? can it be implemented? In what format? The answer is yes it can. It would end the two party illusion that one is different from the other, they are not. It would end the isms that has plagued society as they defend the illusion that one ism is better than the other, they are not. All the isms and branches of government, be it socialism, republican, democratic, Monarchism all come under the banner of Communism and Zionism, all of them, you are deluded if you think you are a Republic, Monarchy, Despot, have a Constitution, the facts shown in our show alone, states it is not real. For those new to our show, Communism has zero to do with Russians, and everything to do with the Zionist movement operating programs of mutual failure for us all on behalf of their so called "gods". Obama was trained in Communism, yet he is a Muslim, why would a Muslim become a Communist? Because it has nothing to do with religion or what country you come from, Communism in their format is everywhere and knows no boundaries, and when people really grasp that fact, when can then get on as equal people and fix the issues, without the racism or media led hatred of peoples and countries, that has no basis within your own experiences of these people. How stupid is it, that you hate an entire peoples, based on a 30-52" screen with animated people inside of it, reading out scripts, that are not even using their own words or opinions? the sheer concept of that is mindboggling, and yet it shows how easily people can be brainwashed and mind controlled. This is also how we end up with movie stars or game show hosts as your representative, not President as most think, your current President is at this time, the head CEO of the USA Inc Corporation, big difference. The leader of the country going forward is who best represents the people and works for and by the people? Leaders should never be selected, based on how much money they scrounge out of the people via donations either, or based on being rich or some family based hierarchy system, or be decided by rogue agencies within our own borders either. So how can we implement a cooperative government, it is simple we pick people who will serve the people in their respective fields of operations. You cannot expect one man or woman to be involved in every micro decision making, it is more of an oversight job than immersed in it. A government that is not ran by lobbyists, Israeli or otherwise, neither by banks, financial institutions, agencies or exterior based think tank organizations, the levels of interference and clownery is beyond obscene. The government will be much easier to run if all the interference, backdoors, syphoning and lobbyists are removed, then people can make cooperative decisions with input from all, that is open and accessible to all. To make it more accessible select groups of different age groups in each state could be organized, and set up a committee to ascertain what are the key elements the general public is interested in fixing, improving, implementing or introducing and feed back direct to the politicians to vote or implement. Then the people are taking an active interest and participating the way they should be, not a private rich elite lawyers club like it is now, where even those in it, do not understand how it works. Military, Agencies, Elites, rich and bloodline families making decisions for us has been an unmitigated disaster, all of them failed spectacularly, their inability to operate anything correctly is there for all to see, completely incapable of making a common sense decision at anytime, never mind in a timely manner, but that doesn't and shouldn't negate our own responsibility in that either. A non divisive, fair, transparent government operating in a cooperative way, not only at home, but abroad also, is not only deliverable, but essential for the progress of this planet and our species.

In reference to the news item earlier the vast wealth everywhere, and as stated in FRWL series every single color or culture has a few that steal it all for themselves, and none look after their own color, that is a fact. Given the rewrite history program perpetrated on the world of how all the whites stole everything off the blacks, how all the black people were slaves and repressed, then you have people like Obama, the woman in Angola mentioned earlier Santos, the Mandelas, yes the Mandelas as the history about them is sugar coated beyond sickly, Nelson was a trustee for M and did nothing with the Trust money to help his people, just line their own pockets, The Saud family, and even the various famous tv and sports people who are black, what have they done for their own people? nothing the majority just flash their wealth and alleged superiority over the masses. Obama got in in America as the great hope for the black people and he did what for them in 8 years? nothing, and what this proves is, no matter which color, country or political system you choose, none will be beneficial for and by the people. What this reveals is, it doesn't matter which color you select, all those differing peoples of color once they attain levels of wealth, fame or status, abandon their own color, never mind others, that has to stop, it is a replica of the elites system. This is why we the people have to come together, you will not do that being represented by a political party or ideology, a religion, a color of skin or your created for you culture either, we come together as people who care and drop all the labels and bs they have fed us.

A mysterious deep space event could have stretched and squeezed Earth last week it is said. Astronomers observed a split-second burst of gravitational waves on Jan. 14, but they can't figure out precisely where the burst came from. These waves are disturbances in space-time that are generally caused by accelerated masses, such as black holes or neutron stars, colliding with each other. However, astronomers are unsure because this particular burst didn't last very long. In addition, gravitational waves usually change in frequency over time, Andy Howell, a scientist at Los Cumbres Observatory Global Telescope Network, told Live Science. The burst still "seems a little too short for what we expect from the collapse of a massive star," he said. "On the other hand, we've never seen a star blowing up in gravitational waves before, so we don't really know what it would look like." Proof of the inorganic black hole being removed I wonder? Coming soon mysterious cloud hurtling towards Earth, oh wait they mentioned that as well and didn't understand that either. Next piece they will reveal is a new star in the sky we suspect, although the new explosion of light to be seen by the naked eye may well come from Betelgeuse in Orion, it's going supanova.

I did a show on Sunday which made some powerful statements, they may not have been received well by some or many Americans, due to being brainwashed by the system to worship the US Military, despite the atrocities they committed which has nothing to do with the American people directly, but they are responsible the same as all other people in countries whose militaries went to war when they where never attacked, you all fell for the treasonous anti human media spin. Hammer point 1: The people were responsible for the wars This boogeyman over there doesn't like us, they hate our freedoms, what bloody freedoms? we all get spied on and America has so much freedom they implement The Patriot Act on the people FSS, took away the Constitution, applied a just us system not justice, robbed taxes off us under false pretenses then sent it all to Switzerland, so our government has no money to run the country, then has to borrow 40% of every dollar spent at a further cost of 10% per dollar, freedoms my ass. So all people are responsible for not doing your own research, and allowing portal people to research for you and tell you the biggest steaming pile of horse manure in history, and you all went along with it. Hammer point 2: The people were responsible for following other peoples scripts and not researching themselves and doing something about it. Every war in last 110 years I could go back further, but lets just deal with people who were alive at that time, was to serve an agenda, create money for these psychopaths, run clandestine operations in the various theaters, they are called theaters for a reason, it is a staged play is why. Then came hammer point 3, which provoked this piece, the badges of honor so many proudly wear and celebrate, yes I know that upsets quite a few including those of the top brass, but the reason it upsets people is, what I said although brutal in its delivery, was 100% true and all of you deep down know it. Badges for killing people, let that sink in, let that sink in. This is how far humanity has fell, that people would celebrate having medals for killing somebody, and not just a few, oh no, in the hundreds of millions globally in the last 100 years alone, let that sink in. Whole peoples wiped out and for what? freedoms? religions? they don't like us? newsflash, you have no freedoms it is fake and illusion, religions they are fake and illusion, they don't like us, when they learn the truth that the US military as an example is not representative of America or its people, that will be fake and illusion. Look at THI as an example, people from over 100 countries represented, all cultures, religions and colors all coming together, including boogeymen Russians, alleged German Nazis which is also fake, and if you are new to this show go and listen to all of my From His Story to Our Story series, the truth oozes throughout all of it. Badges of honor should never be given to anyone for killing another person, that is devolution in terms of our species, they are badges of dishonor, the only justification of killing another person is in extreme self defense mode, all else is wanton death programs for the harvesters. Hammer point 4 is a repeat of 3 so it sinks in, badges for killing people is wrong on every level. Lets look through clear overview eyes shall we and take countries out of the equation, because the old system was not interested in countries, only using and subverting those particular people within those fake lines on a piece of paper, those lines where to divvy up the land parcels for each greedy harvester, nothing more and nothing less. If countries are real where is Yugoslavia now, or Czechoslovakia, or Tartaria, or South Holland, or Rhodesia or Ceylon to name but a few, or the former principalities, kingdoms and several peoples republic countries that all have been swallowed up and combined into a single mass of harvesting, death and destruction, and in came fake countries like Belgium, Luxembourg, Israel, Northern and Southern Ireland, Monaco to name but a few. Given the US military is the latest in history to play the worlds goose stepping army, following on from the British and Dutch, I ask all American people how many Iraqis, Iranians, Afghanistan's, Vietnamese, Guatemalans, Hondurans, Venezuela, Yugoslavs, Czech, Serbian, Syrian, Lebanon, Palestine, Yemen, Turkish, various African countries, in fact 81 countries have been invaded since 1945, and I ask you all to answer one question, how many of those peoples and in most cases militaries have attacked you or this country? The answer is a brutal zero, not one. But these people are commies, jihadists and terrorists, wrong thinking those commies, jihadists and terrorists where all created by the same people who sent us to war, all of them. No lets get to some deeper truths, how many Russians, Chinese, North Koreans have attacked you personally or this country? The answer is a brutal zero again, none, zip, nada. But those Russians and Chinese are Communists Thomas, what is a Communist and why is it deemed so bad is the question back? and you will get silence or a repeat of well they are commies, but what is a Commie? again silence, because you see, so many people repeat and make statements about items and subjects they know jackshit about, their silence or inability to explain the statement tells you that. The inability to answer or support their own statement, is equal to behaving in a machine like vessel, because you were not program to think, only repeat the statements provided to you. This is why this show asks you to ponder, asks you questions back, poses riddles, because I am looking for you to all think for yourselves, not repeat every word or statement I say, the information is about and for you, not me. But but but the media tells us that they did this, that and the other, the media told you did they, oh dear, the media told you, if the media tells you to eat babies for climate change would you believe that? oh wait they already did, have you done it yet? because the media says so? Do you ever ask where does the media get it's information from? do you ever ask yourselves are they always true? do you ask yourself why should I accept their information to be true, if I don't see it with my own eyes? If only the media was held accountable to the same levels our show has endured, I would think we would have a much better and clearer picture of the world now, don't you? The answer in most cases is they don't ask those questions, as they were not taught to think for themselves only follow, copy, listen and repeat, which applies in media, Government, Military, Schools and church, and because they are seen as the bastions of society, they should be automatically believed, the most wrong answer in history, and complete dissolution of your own sovereignty and your own equal right role and unalienable rights to think, speak, act and choose for yourself. Hammer point 5 you dissolved your own responsibility and sovereignty, let that sink in. The final hammer in this piece is all the above countries never did anything to America or it's people in attack mode, most of the events in those war theaters were carried out by the very people who took us to war, in other words they were staged events to get the publics reaction, of which the solution they want is then ready to deliver. Like I said not of those countries directly attacked us did they did, but two other countries have and yet bizarrely we have not only not attacked back, but have major diplomatic relations and we send vast sums of our money and resources to those same countries, does anyone not ask, why is that? Those countries are Saudi Arabia and isRAel, have you all forgotten the 1967 USS Liberty attack done by the Israelis? Have you forgotten that Saudi nationals were involved in 9/11, the killing of the journalist and also the release of their prisoner held here last year, or the fact there was dancing Israelis on the bridge in New York or the fact that they were all arrested and allowed to slip free and the company they operated under mysteriously emptied the whole building and disappeared overnight. have we also forgotten Netanyahu saying 9/11 was good for Israel? Whilst I don't advocate violence it never solved anything, but why wasn't American people up in arms about those events and asking their politicians to deal with the Israel problem in particular? Hammer 6 you didn't ask or raise your ire, because the portal people never told you that Israeli Zionsist is the boogeyman is why, that is an example of non thinking, and we have to teach people again to think, think better, think deeper, think critical and think different.

For those new and a reminder for those not new, of what THI and Kim and The Trust is all about. I told those on mewe today some of my own personal journey, and was painful to read for some that, it is what it is, but alerting people to truth on this planet always comes at great personal cost, a cost I was willing to pay. We do not come here bearing gifts and pieces of paper with numbers on them, we came with solutions and soulutions for the benefit of the all. We do not come here to control you or anyone else, we came to share, we came to work together, we came to give hope not desperation. We are not here to dictate to you either, but to guide us all to be better versions of yourselves. We are not here for devolution, but evolution We are not here to destroy the planet, but its full restoration, restoration of the people, beings and all life in and on our planet We have no interest hierarchy, that is the failed past, we will not be repeating it in our future, all our equal, all are sovereign in their own right. We are not here to bring fear or hopium, we are here to bring peace, encourage love and abundance for the all. We will not bow to fear, threats, hierarchy, titles or seducements, those are anti life programs and have no part in our collective future. We are not here to divide and conquer, we are here to reunite everyone. We are not here to stifle creativity, consciousness or spirit, but here to enhance it on levels not seen for 110K years at least. We are not here to dim our lights, but to have you all shine as beacons. The latter of which was echoed in Mr. Trumps speech in Davos on Tuesday, we end this show on that note, "Let us bring light to their lives, one by one, and empower them to LIGHT UP THE WORLD"
