

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-03-19

To the show hosts and guests who were on my show and who have walked away, I thank you for engaging me on our journey. Now was your time to leave I guess, one always hoped we would join forces together in a more permanent action, but it was not to be, and so I will go forward with people who are ready, and we will walk the lonely path. I will not walk in front of them I will continue to walk beside them, I will not shrink or bow to fake pressures and lies, I will not compromise myself like you have, I will not be selling out due to threats, harassment or abuse either. I will not be seduced by money, titles or fame, I will be what I have always been, me. People will always make their own choices what they think of me, that is not my concern, what I think of me is. I know who I am, what I stand for, what are my strengths and what are my weaknesses, my weakness as pointed out to me by several people, is that I am too loyal and give people too many chances, but that is their problem and weakness not mine. That is and comes from real self mastery as so many spend their lives doubting themselves, never mind others, self mastery changes all that. I have walked the lonely path all of my life, as doubters of me and my input or narrative were always prevalent in every stage of my life, so this is nothing new to me. I take inner strength from it, it drives me on, it pushes me to greater heights, as I inner challenge myself to do and work better and it has served me well. Inner weak people are those who flip flop on their opinions and their associates around them, now people can see them for what they currently stand for, with masks removed all their words appear hollow and shallow, like the bottom of a barrel. That scraping sound just got a whole lot louder, as dark as the void and I wish them well in their new surroundings.

Some people may complain at times we focus on these doubters, fair point, but you are missing a key factor whilst it maybe in opening pieces or the op-eds section of our show, in amongst it is the intel and the proof of what we are doing is on the right path. The point to remember is Shane Bales is a Rothschild, we are hurting the Rothschilds clan badly, so they send out their minions, is that not intel and proof in and of itself? Because when you realize that over 90% of alt media are being operated by clowns, you will realize why there is so much bs and failed predictions. With everything else in lockdown, shutdown or scale back mode, armed guards protecting toilet paper, Biden wants a female Vice President I guess that rules out Michael then, toilet paper the new gold, hey Cornholio I need TP for my bunghole, CEO's flying out of the door, known names all getting the virus, the government denying aliens exist and then says there is crackdown on criminal aliens in California, non thinking rules the air it seems, then there is Jennifer Haller fake crisis actor pretending to get corona virus live testing, the name Jennifer Haller has 50+ separate profiles in LinkedIn, popular name it seems, even more popular than the 16 Jimi Brent's all living in Virginia, I guess Langley not too original with their names it seems, Facebook latest ouroboros program now failed, its advertising people to come back now and go ogle playing faction games and exposing opposition by opening it's search engines, it's full moon time every day now as many fall to the seduction of it all, there is one thing that continues despite the chaos, poop throwing and general lunacy. Welcome to THI.

The word "caremongering" did not exist on the morning of Friday 13 March. Yet just three days later what started as a way to help vulnerable people in Toronto has turned into a movement spreading fast across Canada. More than 35 Facebook groups have been set up in 72 hours to serve communities in places including Ottawa, Halifax and Annapolis County in Nova Scotia, with more than 30,000 members between them. People are joining the groups to offer help to others within their communities, particularly those who are more at-risk of health complications related to coronavirus. The pandemic has led to acts of kindness around the world, from delivering soup to the elderly in the UK to an exercise class held for quarantined residents on their balconies in Spain. But in Canada, a country whose inhabitants are stereotyped in the media as kind to a fault, helping others has become an organised movement called "caremongering". As it's all driven by social media, the altruism is arranged online and the hashtags provide a permanent record of all the good happening in different communities across Canada - an uplifting read in anxious times.

It seems me, Kim and The Trust are right over the target and so they increase their army of internet minions to attack. Now scammer failed, along with tiny, techo, whiskey drinker, expensive cigar smoker, the latest to beat a stick at me and us is, the trust funds haven't come out. I don't recall giving a date, but it is a pissing in the wind allegation and hoping some land in the latrine, by some to justify their own failures and wishing to step out, I guess for some our light shines too bright. Ironic the ones who are connected to the criminal elements in the DNC accuse us of not getting the funds out, and yet some of their own people and clientele list are the exact ones preventing it, irony like common sense it seems is lost on many. So because the Trust funds hasn't come out, in their illogical and twisted mindsets, that means THI and me has failed, nice try Randy and others, but THI nor me was not built on the basis of the Trust funds arriving or not, and had they listened closely to our shows, they would not lower themselves to that conclusion. The gist of what they are trying to do is, make out The Trust and or Kim is fake or a scam, then combine it with THI due to links with The Trust, so in their heads by making out The Trust is fake or a scam it discredits all of THI information as fake or bs, this is how they work. THI information has done a lot of damage in their world, we have exposed many including the hidden hand and that makes us the most dangerous show on the planet to them, hence their bizarre proofless attacks. THI info is now making MSM news on a regular basis now, and they can't handle the light being shown on their own criminality, that remained hidden for so long. As pointed out in a few recent zoom calls what either the Trust funds or the $1 or more program are about, is not money, is not creating wealth personal or otherwise, it is a teaching program of how to change life on all levels, how to be and not to be, learning lessons from the dark and doing the opposite, learning of the failures of the old system and not replicating it. Stepping away from their programs, of mind control, drugs, alcohol, pharma drugs, comparative and competitive mindsets, need not greed and thinking different. So THI and ultimately the TPC is a roll out of a new teaching course, we have to teach a new way, the old way has failed on all levels now, even the bot like masses can see or sense it. With recent dropping out of more alt media characters finally showing their true colors, my prediction a few years ago of 90% of alt media being corrupt, now suddenly doesn't look as far fetched does it, like I say time always tells.

The state groups were for people to become their own teachers and chart their own path in a better way, but although we have seen some great progress within the groups, others are still mired in their programming, largely based on them wanting to control it. Does the messenger, me, want to control it? clearly not otherwise I would not have created those groups for you all to run, set up with a few guidelines and a new vision for the betterment of humanity to follow. If it was all about me, why was Randy Maugans and Alan James given the same status? or Liam from Scotland who is coming around your zoom calls and teaching about cooperative working in action, how to takeover failing companies and run them a better way, or how to treat and look after staff within the organization. Why have I asked Alan, Mark, Lawrence and Liam to come up with a business idea, solutions and working model for Alan to do a show on, to then be added to the website, that does not involve me in any way shape or form. Why have I asked Alan, Michael and some others to create a website between them that will be a standard website with all the same information and be given to every state or country group upon full launch, again that doesn't involve me. How we created a charter school teaching committee, again that doesn't involve me. We are about to set up another group based on how to obtain grants for the state and country groups, again that doesn't involve me, why? quite simple really, none of it is about me, this is about us all creating a blueprint for a new and better humanity that is designed to be all inclusive. So, if you are in THI for the Trust funds or just for the money, you have not understood what we are doing here at all, and I hope this piece gives you more understanding, clearly those from Off Planet Radio miss the point, or told to miss the point as the case may be, time always tells. THI and eventually TPC is a teaching school, you are all the teachers, your time now is about learning, absorbing the new way as you all will be tasked of being the teachers of the knowledge and new ways for the current and future generations.

People are asking about websites and going off on their own as a State or Country. I have asked members not to do that, but clearly some people want to make their own rules up. My reasons for it is that websites/domains etc cost money, money that those in the group would have to fund, it is unnecessary time and spending and will have to change when funding comes out as it will be TPC not THI, and I am not approving any websites to have TPC or THI name or sponsoring currently. I cannot stop people and neither do I wish to stop people going off and doing their own thing, in fact I encourage it. But I cannot allow THI to be used for a vehicle of a private venture, this is our group, but if you wish to run separate to us then that is fine by me. The TPC is my company which is also designed to be our company, and I have the sole right to decide where my companies name is being linked to or used for. So to be clear go ahead and create your own groups, but do not involve THI or the TPC names.

As for the Shane the ruined latest audio (no not the one of him in a dress attempting to sing, Lady Rothschild oh dear) which I haven't listened to either of them, I have better things to do with my time than listen to scripted narrative he has been sent out to deliver by his own Rothschild's family and diminishing Draco brethren. He only did a second interview as him and fellow agent Jimi Brent as they failed on the first interview, the second fared no better. Although I was told by people who did listen to it, it was all very MSM of statements and predictably with no proof. A desperate attempt to save face by a desperate group of people and entities all to stay in control, only the weak wish to control others, and they are terrified of losing control, so terrified they fail to realize they already have, which is why they send low level puppets with Stockholm syndrome out into the alt media to discredit people who are just trying to helping humanity, just like a puppet.

SUB INTEL A barrage of rockets hit a base housing U.S. and other coalition troops north of Baghdad on Saturday, Iraqi security officials said, just days after a similar attack killed three servicemen, including two Americans. Ah their lets repeat history narrative, because the last similar attempt failed a few months back and people will have had sufficient fear porn and bs for them to have forgotten previous failure at the event, utterly pathetic and whilst they don't like this statement, I am not making you look weak, you are weak, and you do it all by yourselves.

Norwegian Cruise Line managers urged their sales teams to share false information about the novel coronavirus to help land bookings with potential customers, including that the virus can't affect people in "tropical temperatures," leaked emails from a company whistleblower show. The emails, first reported by Miami New Times, show the lengths to which the U.S. cruise giant's leaders have gone to protect the company against the devastating financial impact of the pandemic. Here comes the finger pointing and throwing under the bus tactics, or throwing under the boat as the case maybe, neglecting the fact that these cruise liners are all linked to faction based entities. As for the media their track record of failure is at epic proportions, read by vacuous script based bots and thinking their opinion is more valid than anyone else, it's just not, the media, social or otherwise is a social experiment in abject failure, an illusion based world of portal people.

Perhaps now people can see why I labeled them portal people, because their whole narrative is a different world than ours.

Your donation to the COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund supports the World Health Organization's global efforts to combat the COVID-19 pandemic. Facebook is matching the first US $10 million donated, so each contribution goes further. Donations support efforts to track and understand the spread of the virus; to ensure patients get the care they need and frontline workers get essential supplies and information; and to accelerate efforts to develop vaccines, tests, and treatments. We're all in this fight together. The COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund is powered by the UN Foundation and Swiss Philanthropy Foundation(Rothschild's). All collected by the UN and based in? New York, jackasses just proved our show again, we thank you for the validations, they are coming thick and fast now.

Dutch National Charged in Takedown of Obscene Website Selling Over 2,000 "Real Rape" and Child Pornography Videos, Funded by Cryptocurrency. Dutch National Michael R. M. a/k/a Mr. Dark, 32, was indicted by a federal grand jury in the District of Columbia for his operation of Dark Scandals, a site on both the Darknet and Clearnet that featured violent rape videos and depictions of child pornography. The nine-count indictment was unsealed today along with a parallel civil forfeiture action. The defendant was charged with various counts of Distribution of Child Pornography, Production and Transportation of Obscene Matters for Sale or Distribution, Engaging in the Business of Selling or Transferring Obscene Matter, and Laundering of Monetary Instruments. Tick tock Team Pedos and your expanding band of criminals, I guess that stings, or is it a sting?

President Trump said on Saturday that he had the power to remove or demote Jerome H. Powell, the Federal Reserve chair, renewing a long-running threat against the central bank's leader at a time when it could further roil volatile markets. Mr. Trump said in a news conference at the White House that ousting Mr. Powell was not his current plan but that he was "not happy with the Fed" because it was "following" and "we should be leading."

INTEL Erik Prince of Blackwater, Academie and Xi infamy all mercenaries based killing groups, is now under investigation for using ex spies to infiltrate social media and other groups now MSM news formerly THI news. Project Veritas was one of the ones cited as spies. I can real off a number of other ex spies or current agents within the alt media circles operating against the people, but most will be familiar with certain names and groups by now, and no I will not be doing a list.

Any injections of funds by The Fed, bonds by this or that organization is all fake news, no matter who says it, our show has proven time and time again to be right in particular to financial ongoing, stop buying into and blaming whoever, it is all illusion.

This show has repeatedly warned of the financial takedown of this country, it's over reliance on imports, plethora of greed based families and connections operating out of Chicago, California, San Francisco, Miami, Texas and of course New York who seem to have no end to their greed based lifestyles or bank accounts. But as warned in the Clowns in Panic show, there is a new level of greed game now, that only multi billionaires can play in, all with 6 zeros in your accounts and those with low 9 zero accounts will all get swallowed in their version of wheat and chaffe, don't believe me watch and see.

Monday Rothschild's were blocking delivery of food and supplies and hoarding below the main Walmart centers, we worked together with a plan of how to fix that issue and ensure no further games on that level, the re-stocking of shelves now underway in some cases more tomorrow. Other major things were headed off on top of Tanks report, which will be revealed in due course.

The short show I did recently and made mentioned of issues facing America of imports, I am pleased to announce this will and has been addressed since, it is a national security issue. There maybe some short term issues but at least it is being addressed, Trump ordered the in house stockpiling of oil and that is a heads up and towards self sufficiency. Drake put out an official report of mass arrests yes I know Wilcock started that under Art Aqua in 2002, the mention of white hats oh dear they died in Pentagon incident in 2001, and then he gave away his own stance by declaring there will be martial law, only a member of The Rothschild's or The Black Sun groups wanted martial law. For a while I thought and wanted to believe he was naive but at this juncture he is not, the fact it was presented as evidence on the Cobra site is now indicative. Cobra still peddling the Event can't happen due to toplet bombs, turn it in will ya, if they exist and they don't they could all be removed within a day of our time, and he is telling people they are still around after nearly a decade of reporting it, one would like to ask where is the proof of toplet bombs? Positive Military where is the proof? White Hats? is it 2012 again? US will go into quarantine on 23rd for 3 weeks not 2 weeks, and martial law will be declared by Drake. There is a lot of misdirect in the alt media, plans being put out, this one is being arrested or executed and a lot of non personal responsibility, virus used as a cloak for mass arrests, I have one question for people to ponder on, what difference to your life does arresting Tom Hanks, Prince Andrew, Oprah or Ellen Degeneres make? I am seeing no evidence to support around 90%+ of the claims being made on alt media, I wish it was different, but we deal with fact here not fiction. As for mass arrests and plans do people not think at all these days? Lets say it is all correct, you have just ruined a whole plan that some people may have planned for weeks or months for, not to mention put peoples lives at risk, and what for? all for to get extra likes and traffic to your websites? it's irresponsible and beyond stupid and child thinking levels. This show will never revealed any plans or operational questions, if you know, they know and any potential plans are laid to waste. Think Different.

Yes martial law was to go into place and was averted by us in a strategic move, as both sides Rothschild's and The Black Sun had tried to implement martial law on Monday, but then Kim pulled rank as under martial law the highest rank takes charge, and that is Kim, martial law was then canceled by both of them as that would have left Kim in full charge. I guess no one told Drake they changed their plans.

The Pentagon have had corona virus testing kits in their possession since December last year, they were told by us to send them out now and the tests would be given away for free, they were going to charge billions for them- so that failed. Further damage done to Rothschild's clan and Black Sun groups already done and further to follow. The whole narrative will change in coming days as this whole virus thing linked in some part to adrenalchrome and has back fired spectacularly. Other more interesting things are ongoing in the background. One of the other things we put on alert is the awareness via ports and airports of bringing in Novovirus to America, authorities are taking the appropriate actions. All in all a pleasing day for us and humanity, not so if you are a clown. On Monday a lead official from the Federal Reserve got pissy today, and called Kim a cunt, now now chaps dont be bad losers Kim arranged a number of transfers for a number of differing projects with the Government and so now it is a case of wait and see who plays. Tuesday The plans working together that was put forward on Monday of a stimulus plan of $1000 per adult and $300 per child to overcome and offset some of the hardship created by this manufactured virus fear porn plan of the clowns Other potential plans put forward is no payroll tax until the end of the year, more will follow Wednesday Kim pulled back all the funds as banks were blocking them despite approval from the Government and the CEO of said bank. All calls from govt depts and other groups who panicked when Kim pulled it all back was ignored. The hacker who was syphoning money out of the markets, fled when Kim pulled everything from the accounts it was being transferred to, it is said the Li family and the Chinese Government are hunting him down. Thursday Much of the restocking of shelves is now well underway, but if you are having difficulty obtaining certain items, go early in the morning at opening, and many of those issues will be resolved, eventually it will all settle down again. In fact it already has, real issue which is being addressed heavily now is the portal people or MSM, they are the problem in all of this with their lies and fear porn distraction based scripts.

It is time you all think long and hard where your allegiances lie, the none paying Rothschilds or Black Sun groups or prosper with the American people, and subsequently the world, I personally and my opinion only am sick of hearing your pleas and whines, watching Kim arrange deals and projects and you all sit there and do nothing, if it was up to me she would have ignored you all many months back. Do something constructive and beneficial for the people for once in your lives, show some backbone, organize teams of who will actually take some action, against the idiots blocking it. The longer it goes on it is you that suffers, no funds = no pay, or you can wait another 13 pointless years waiting for some fake RV, Trust can stay closed forever until people do the right thing.

So called Patriots and Militias, you do realize Patriotism is a fancy name for Fascism don't you, if not learn it, if you cannot see this country is being hijacked right in front of your face by now, you never will, and you can all carry on playing toy bloody soldiers and running around the woods shooting defenseless wildlife, or stand up and be counted for real, enough of this fake pomp and ceremony, worshipping all things war and military, whilst getting teary eyed over the Stars and Stripes as that is what you were programmed to do, that has failed you all. New way is don't fight for your country, your country has never done anything for you, fight for your people, not for Americans, all people within their fake borders labeled as America, and no the United States is not America, but a bloodline based European system of harvesting this country, and has done since the 1600's and every day since 1776. Learn facts not fiction and stand up for your people.

OP-ED This is about an operative within the British establishment who was thrown under the bus for telling the truth, her name is Katharine Gun, and this is her story. In November 2003, I was charged with a breach of the Official Secrets Act in the UK. My 'crime' had been to reveal an email from the US National Security Agency (NSA) to Britain's intelligence agency, the Government Communications Headquarters (GCHQ) where I was working at the time, NSA is a subsidiary group to GCHQ is why. The email, which arrived on 31 January 2003, specified a US operation to target the home and office communications of six foreign diplomats on the UN Security Council. The purpose was to use the information gathered to strong-arm those states into voting for a resolution supporting an invasion of Iraq, I leaked this email via a contact, which then made its way to The Observer newspaper. I believe that this operation, using intelligence for the specific purpose of garnering votes to authorise a highly contested and deeply unpopular war against Iraq, was not only illegal but also immoral. Eight months later, I was charged and faced the prospect of a two-year custodial sentence. I pleaded not guilty and my defence team requested all the legal advice from the then Attorney General Lord Goldsmith to then Prime Minister Tony Blair. Within a day of the defence team submitting this request, the charges against me were dropped. In court, the prosecution stated that "there is no longer sufficient evidence for a realistic prospect of conviction", adding that "it would not be appropriate to go into the reasons for this decision". Sixteen years later, the then prosecutor, Sir Ken McDonald, claimed that it was for "national security" reasons that the case against me was dropped. In its own small way, my case illustrates the conflict and tensions around the issue of “national security”. I would argue that the Iraq war was not only against our national security but has been catastrophic for global security as a whole. In fact, Lord Goldsmiths’ own legal advice at the time (prior to him changing it) was that an invasion would be illegal. The surveillance operation revealed by the NSA email was illegal under the Geneva Convention. It was in pursuit of an illegal war which has damaged our national security. Information about this issue is classified, however, and the reason for this is to do with “national security”. National security is often the term used by government or intelligence officials to justify what they do, but who defines what it is? What is the scope of it and what are the checks and balances? It is accepted without question as a legitimate concept, but the collective consequences of the previous two decades of invasions, bombings, rendition and torture, drone attacks, kill lists, massive surveillance, human rights violations, bulk data collection/storage/analysis and exploitation... paints a very dark picture. Do these policies provide “national security”? Are they in the “national interest”? Looking back over the last two decades, my father’s lament that we are in the “Age of Insanity” rings remarkably true. Many of the numerous, multi-faceted, horrendous consequences of the invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq were predicted by peace activists, international relations experts, academics and journalists. One was also raised by our intelligence services, which was the increased risk of terrorism within the UK as a result. The argument that we invaded those countries essentially for reasons of national security rings hollow, when looked at with 20/20 vision. As does the same argument over the catastrophic bombing of Libya in 2011, which caused the collapse of another relatively stable and functioning country, the support of anti-Syrian government terrorists since 2013, and the unwavering support for Saudi Arabia against Yemen. The current bellicose focus on Iran in an already chaotic and conflict-torn region tests the limits of sanity. Britain’s Official Secrets Act 1911 was rushed through parliament in July 1911 in a hysterical pre-war environment without so much as a cough of protest. It was drafted without including a specific public interest defence, ie the ability for those accused to argue that the public interest in disclosing the information would outweigh the reasons for not disclosing it.

Shocking femicide statistics have prompted a furious reaction from women's rights groups in Mexico. Anger over the violence is a key part of a one-day national women's strike in the country. Women being murdered at a rate of 8K in under two years, latest strike was prompted after girl was found dead and suspects were covered in mud and blood and were just let go by the corrupt authorities. This maltreatment of women has to stop globally, but in particular Mexico, other Central and South American countries along with India and countries to Egypt, it is beyond disgusting and it seems the infection that came out of India and the Kali Ma, was brought to and taught to most if not all native tribes globally, lives on today with ritual based sacrifices, demeaning and hierarchical based caste systems, all who operate those levels of control are weak, controlling others is not a strength, that is the illusion, they are weak and feeble minded. The Muslims in particular cause me to question them not for the fake jihadists, they were all bought and paid actors of Langley. But their maltreatment of their women, but then you remember Muslim and Islam came out of the Christian church, a church that decided the mother and female didn't exist, so there is your answer as to why.

For more than 70 years, India and Pakistan have waged sporadic and deadly skirmishes over control of the mountainous region of Kashmir. Tens of thousands have died in the conflict, including three just this month. Both sides claim the Himalayan outpost as their own, but Web surfers in India could be forgiven for thinking the dispute is all but settled: The borders on Google's online maps there display Kashmir as fully under Indian control. Elsewhere, users see the region's snaking outlines as a dotted line, acknowledging the dispute. Google's corporate mission is "to organize the world's information," but it also bends it to its will. From Argentina to the United Kingdom to Iran, the world's borders look different depending on where you're viewing them. That's because Google — and other online mapmakers — simply change them. I have witnessed myself Google changing maps, particular when you view off limit areas like say Antarctica. I was viewing a whole village in Antarctica with some very strange symbols that had been carved into the land, mining pipes going into water holes or mini lakes, next day whole village was gone. There have been several other of those incidents, and has in the past had little to do with whether it belongs to India or Pakistan, and everything to do with drug trading by the 5 eyes groups and the Falcon trust. But it was also a key off world base as well, that was guarded by who they say are Chinese military, I don't think those guards were Chinese at all.

Asked after the ceremony whether he performed the controversial rite metzitzah b'peh, which means oral suction, also known as MBP, in which a ritual circumciser better known as a pedophile, places his mouth on the baby's genitals to suction blood from the circumcision wound, Cohn smiled and said, "I did what I had to do." If Cohn performed MBP without getting written consent from the infant's parents, he broke the law, except as we know too well those that follow this cult think they are above the law, like Epstein. It's something he has done many times before. For more than a year, ritual circumcisers, known as mohels, have been required to obtain written consent from parents before performing MBP. The New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene instituted the regulation in the fall of 2012 after a number of babies contracted herpes following MBP. For Jews, male circumcision is mandatory as it is prescribed in the Torah. In the Book of Genesis, it is described as a mark of the Covenant between God and the descendants of Abraham: "Throughout all generations, every male shall be circumcised when he is eight days old...This shall be my covenant in your flesh, an eternal covenant. The uncircumcised male whose foreskin has not been circumcised, shall have his soul cut off from his people; he has broken my Covenant". So lets get this right shall we god made everything in 6 days, day 7 was a day of rest, then on the 8th day of his new creation a baby boy, he asks pedophiles to bite off the foreskin of the chosen people? does any rational person not see the sheer lunacy of this? and if you dont do what god says he will cut your soul from your flesh. Does anyone ask this god if he is so great, why did he create man with a foreskin to begin with, if it needs cutting or biting off? I mean come on people what utter shit is that? all wear skullcaps now and lets all kiss a wall of sandstone block with hidden djinns inside of it. I am asking people to try this themselves go up to your local police station or hospital and spend all day with a silly hat on and kiss the wall and see what happens to you, send me a text from your local jail or mental institute will you and let me know how you got on. In Leviticus: "God spoke to Moses, telling him to speak to the Israelites: When a woman conceives and gives birth to a boy ... on the eighth day, the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised, really so god has a whole universe to look after and his sole focus of attention is circumcising male children on one planet, does that sound logical to you? Biblically, the infant's father (avi haben) is commanded to perform the circumcision himself. However, as most fathers are not comfortable or do not have the training, they designate a mohel. The mohel is specially trained in circumcision and the rituals surrounding the procedure. Many mohalim are doctors or rabbis (and some are both) or cantors and are required to receive appropriate training both from the religious and medical fields. Traditionally, the mohel uses a scalpel to circumcise the newborn. Today, doctors and some non-Orthodox mohalim use a perforating clamp before they cut the skin. The clamp makes it easier to be precise and shortens recovery time. Orthodox mohalim have rejected perforating clamps, arguing that by crushing and killing the skin it causes a great amount of unnecessary pain to the newborn, cutting off the blood flow completely, which according to Jewish law is dangerous to the child and strictly forbidden, and also renders the orlah (foreskin) as cut prior to the proper ritual cut. Under Jewish law, a mohel must draw blood from the circumcision wound, telling you this is a blood sacrifice to the gods again, Most mohels do it by hand with a suction device, but some follow the traditional practice of doing it by mouth. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention issued a warning in 2012 about the health implications of the latter practice, citing 11 cases of neonatal Herpes simplex virus (HSV) and two recorded fatalities. A 2013 review of cases of neonatal HSV infections in Israel identified ritual circumcision as the source of HSV-1 transmission in 31.8% of the cases.

The erratic behavior, edginess, testy and irritable since turn of the year, all of which we warned about, and yet some predictably for humans choose to ignore the warnings and wait until it hits the proverbial fan. Why do we do that? that is what is known as reactionary behavior not proactive, people in reactionary mode always make mistakes, why? because of time, time creates pressure and pressure leads to stress and errors. Why is it things inside of us are allowed to be ignored, I'll wait there is plenty of time to address inner issues, when everything in the external world, no time is allowed for anything. People won't wait a few minutes in line, when is this or that arriving? must rush got to get to here, there and everywhere, people driving like lunatics to save time, what are you saving time for? are you banking time? if you are, what use are you putting that time aside for? It is like people asking when are the funds arriving, it is taking too long, fine ok, have you consider your soul asking you the same thing, when is your personal development going to arrive? Nah don't say that Thomas that is not fair, really? well actually demanding or requesting when is the money coming repeatedly, is not actually fair on Kim is it? the two of us taking on a global army of hackers for no pay, and winning I might add, yet still driving on each day to help the all. This is where a lack of thinking and understanding comes in, inner and outer thinking, and people make so many demands of others, and yet make none of themselves. When is Thomas going to do or fix this, but if I asked you when are you going to fix your inner and shadow work, or when are you going to fix your THI state and country groups, all hell breaks loose, why is that? A lack of perspective and thinking, thinking brings deeper understanding, more knowledge and more wisdom why wouldn't everyone want those abilities? well for some ignorance of the self and others is bliss, as it leaves the door open to always blame somebody else for the problems, and a convenient cop out. But too many are dying on the inside at this time, they failed themselves and will continue to project their own failures in life onto others who have, but that sends them deeper into the mire and the pit. Like Governments, why is your government corrupt, a joke, idle or incompetent, because too many of the people within that country are the same trait is why, look around you, are the people really that different as portrayed? no!! People complain of the Patriot Act and the fact that many signed for it without reading it, yet people sign up for credit cards, loans and mortgages and don't read them either. People sign up for Apps and not read the terms, where they gain access to your emails, contact lists, texts, calls and pictures all to see the fear porn based weather channel, so you see we are not different, and the conclusion is it is we who are the problem, you as an individual and we as a collective.

The Savior program was mentioned recently by Shane, Randy, Chloe and others, that I have been deemed as running a savior based program on the listeners and members. So lets be transparent here again and look to see whether their accusations have any merit, here are some of the meanings of the word, and we are checking to see whether it is in anyway a sleight or as derogatory in the way they described. So here is a collection of meanings for that term 1. a person who saves someone from danger or harm 2. one who saves from any form or degree of evil 3. A savior is a person who saves someone or something from danger, ruin, or defeat. So one must ask the question is saving someone from harm, evil or danger a negative thing to do? Of course there is the other side to the word savior, and predictably it brings in the mind controlled religiosity based program, and all of a sudden the whole complex, meaning and intentions of the word changes, as the FRWL series has shown, so many of our words are church based, and so many have hidden devious meanings and intentions. So to be accused of being a savior means it is an external program being ran, but the church and their word magic brings in that low level of thinking and connotations into it, the irony is staggering. The savior in their world is Jesus, which is odd in and of itself, given there is already about 60 claiming to be him that we know of, including one in the hate and anger based group. This brings in the comparative mindset and inferiority complex, because they are really suggesting I am acting like a version of Jesus, but is that a sleight or derogatory that I may act like Jesus? Is it not the case what they are actually saying is, they are not, and because they are not, they target the few who do wish to not be Jesus, but act like it. I have no desire to be anyone other than me, and I wish more were like that, comfortable in their own skin and not the desire to be something or someone outside of themselves, our show teaches you that, if you listen without prejudice or preconceived notions. So, we have millions around the world asking for the return of Jesus, and these people are saying I am running a Jesus based savior program, does that sound rational? But is what has happened to me, going to happen to Jesus should he ever return? whereby you are trashed, lied about, discredited and have hate, envy and anger thrown at you? People in essence asking for the return of Jesus, are looking for another person to save them from themselves, someone else to point fingers at when nothing changes, the answer is nothing will change, because you haven't changed you. What these people are really suggesting is, if the savior Jesus returns they will pillory him and make accusations at him in the same way the people did allegedly 2000 years ago is it not? We will not believe in you Jesus because you are just running a savior program, stated in the same derogatory way it was used against me. Jesus will not save anyone, because to be saved you have to let everything go, but people hold onto their inner and shadow work and programming for dear life, then projecting it at others, and no one not even Jesus, Mary, Radomir, Allah, Yahweh, Anu or Source can save you from that dis-ease. So given I am not religious in any way shape or form, clearly the latter savior program does not apply to me, as for the former meanings, I will accept that and be charged as guilty of protecting people from harm, danger and evil, and so that in essence it is a compliment, but to some in contradictory and none thinking patterns that will always be used as a sleight, until they change, not me.

What is loyalty? A very rare trait nowadays within society, as the comparative and competitive mindsets aligned with personal insecurities, almost renders this admirable trait into the same realms of myth. I know for me personally this trait has almost become a lost trait, and I have suffered greatly in many ways at people's lack of not so much loyalty, but a basic lack of human consciousness, compassion and conviction of their own words. Whereby you can go out of your way to support or help people, and not asking for anything in return, but a little support back when needed is not much to ask, one would think, but one would be wrong to think that it seems. As the first opportunity to test people's gratitude for helping people, is rendered mute as they jump ship at the first sight of trouble and leave their friends and helpers floundering, in plethora of contradictory words of speaking of consciousness and pure love with Source, whilst throwing people who cared for them under the bus, that is not how it is supposed to work. How people can express their eternal gratitude for a person one minute, or a few years, and the next call that same person out as some sort of devil incarnate, is both bizarre and erratic in equal measures. Did that person murder someone? did they find out he was a pedophile or some other heinous crime? no in many cases, someone feeds the lie, that plays into their own personal insecurities and failures, and off people go in a snap judgment not based in the reality of the current situation and blindly and happily follow the lie. So, you can go as being the father I never had to some evil demon type character all in the space of one week, is that self mastery? is that being in control of yourself? is that being in balance? One person this week said you don't take criticism too well, fine, but that same person runs at the sight of trouble and leaves others to carry the can, trouble often caused by his misleading doublespeak and open ended comments to begin with. Many people have disagreed with the content or stance in the shows, and most times I have respond in a dignified way, but this is not criticism they are making, but made up allegations that are unfounded attacks, there is a big difference. I am not talking about blind loyalty here as that can be even more damaging, as the German youth found out to their cost in WW2, and Americans to their cost since via Patriotism, it is a fancy word for Fascism, as that leads to ignoring the issues and not facing up to reality on key points or topics. I am talking about basic common decency and courtesy here, a planet will never thrive with people acting and being disloyal to one another, it just won't. You cannot build communities and harmony without some degree of loyalty to one another, so people can talk all the flowery new age words of love, consciousness and the all, but clearly they are just talking and not walking the walk, and that level of fakery will be exposed badly now, and in the future. The title of our show was specifically picked for that reason, all three words like loyalty are in short supply on this planet, and we can go on making excuses that it is someone else's fault, blame this group and that group as the reasons behind it, all of which has failed, as those traits are still in very short supply. But the key reason it is in short supply is down to US, we have allowed it and us to become disloyal, which creates division and so when something happens that needs addressing by us, no one is around to support us. Like the old ode but I have slightly altered it, first they came for the Rus and because I wasn't Rus so I ignored it, and once you have gone through all the other labels and ignored it, what do you have left? just you, why? because you ignored everyone else and it created a pattern and people followed the pattern of behavior. Who lost that pattern and trait? we did!! Social media is riddled with this type of snap and twisted judgments, as we in THI know all too well, and because I am defensive of our group and associates connected to the Alt media, this leaves me vulnerable in some ways, as you pay heavily for being loyal and protecting friends and others on this planet. A lot of our issues in past 12 months have involved people outside of our group, who have come into our group and caused issues, in fact if truth be known, a lot involved attacks on Randy Maugans by a plethora of people including some in his own group. Some of the followers of Shane's, Randy's, Tanks, Jespers, Tere Joyce, Dani and Dawn, in fact 3-4 of those named caused issues more against Randy Maugans than THI. But their followers have all come in and caused division within our group, and yet not one of those names went to any lengths to defend THI, some made out they did publically and then sold us down the river in a plethora of flip flopping and misdirect, all reminiscent of American politics and MSM rhetoric. Loyalty when done properly defines a person of who and what they are, because exhibiting disloyalty is an abandonment of the self, what goes around comes around in so many ways. Disloyalty is an abandonment of others and is a service to self protection shield for those not acting with integrity, who disregard people like they are throwing out the trash, yet fail to see the symbolic nature behind it, they are trashing themselves. Truth telling in this world renders you a target of hate, Honor amongst men is rendered obsolete as comparative mindset and latent insecurities amongst the populace, renders that mute as well, Integrity also. Integrity requires an element of loyalty to people, a cause or a plight, sadly for many now our 3 show traits are also consigned into myths or remnants of the past. Your loyalty, your truth, your honor and your integrity is being assessed now by your highest judge, will you feed it or will you feed the replica source AI, with flowery new age bullshit words, that are not backed by your actions and continue to feed the beast. As always that is for you to decide not me, your choice, your decision and your path.

Why is it so difficult to help people on this planet, well we live in a world where we live lives in a constant competitive and comparative state, where people doing good things for others, is seen as a bad reflection of them because they are not or not doing enough. It is an inner turmoil that we all have to overcome, it is one of the things I changed about myself near 20 years ago. If I am envious of another for what they have, I must work harder on myself to achieve the object or status of envy, not drag that person down to my level, that is an all lose type game which has served the control system well, we have to change that on a personal level to break the systems hold over us. One of the aspects is people lack intelligence, in a world of short sentences, twitter inputs, doublespeak, people have by and large lost the ability to form a coherent sentence, with words that match the intentions and thought forms. As a few examples it has now been reported that because of the corona virus, the sales of corona beer has dropped considerably and profits have dropped accordingly. Whilst that may have some amusing value, it highlights a growing lack of basic intelligence and we have a long road back into correcting that. Other examples are closer to home whereby a person alleged to be a scammer, is now also now classed as a savior program, again does that make any sense whatsoever? it is banal thinking patterns and also contradictory in the extreme. But the same people also declared someone a homeless person and then say they are scamming lots of money, again how does those two allegations match? they don't and looks actually retarded. Then we have a plethora of other contradictory statements like Kim ditched Thomas, Thomas ditched Kim, Kim has gone missing, Kim is dead, Thomas killed Kim, Kim is a man, Kim is an AI, then we go back to Thomas is sleeping with Kim, Thomas is smart, Thomas is stupid and then Thomas is every negative label under the sun, it is utter bizarre. The whole concept of people not thinking is bizarre in the extreme, but society has had it brainwashed out of them as all now just follow scripts, be it from school, Government, Media, Social Media via memes, Military and the Church, repeat after me, and even 5G subliminal's to buy toilet paper FSS and many go along with it. That is why the FRWL series is so popular and has had such a big effect, and people have got so much out of it. Why is it so popular? because unlike the aforementioned entities it is an interactive learning school is why, oh my god here is someone teaching us, and asking us to think, ponder or answer questions posed back, but that is how people learn. Your homework is for you to research as many of the points made as possible, and many of you have and the number of posts on FB or Mewe, plus the MSM now, validating information put out into our show is now at staggering levels. Think and act different is not just a meme, it is a way of life, a new way of operating for and by the people.

We have spoken in length about the two worlds existing side by side and it has many levels of operating and understanding not just one. Their world and our world on a base level is about how people act, think and be, and the differences now are marked, even the masses are waking up slowly to that, on this level it can be seen as wake and unawake, but most are not aware of the other levels of being awake are, and subsequently hit a glass ceiling. The sleepers will feel and in fact many of the awake people will feel, that they have taken the easy way out by just ignoring things. So people have two choices to learn hard or easy way in life, too many think they chose the easy way, time will show and they will find out they never, it will be brutal the new learning for those people. Our members will be aware of the several extra levels of awakening, unlearning is the lowest level, although possibly the greatest leap, but like time it moves on, and so should we. The other two worlds level is the frequency wave, our organic world has a frequency level, that starts at the bottom and goes up, the inorganic instead of the starting wave point going upwards, it starts on a downward wave motion and then intersects our world, this is in essence the inorganic world, and also an overlay world that resembles holographic. Then we have the physical and non physical worlds some say operating not side by side but on top of each other, just like the planes, and also like the old description of the 9 worlds realms with Midgard in the center. How do they interact? well everything interacts with everything else at some point in time, as all is connected, but like the brain, sometimes you remember and sometimes you don't, it is the same principal. There are questions that remain to be answered is it time based, where past, present and future all intersect, or is it a space based theme whereby magnetic force comes into play? Like Galaxies, some are moving away and some are attracted to each other, and this applies to people also, moreso now than at any other point in time or your life. You are drawn to people in mysterious ways, but recent events have seen you draw away from more and more people than being attracted to, this is a frequency based magnetism at work. Those in the higher frequency of which there are the few, will congregate with each other and interact, some you thought were of higher based frequency due to their acting abilities, will and have fallen away, mask created acting abilities is no longer an option in this field of interactivity. People are often surprised how some fall or do a 180 on their narrative, flip flopping in opinions is more aspects based in lies than truth, but changing opinions is not the issue here, as new information comes in and you operate in a fluid truth system, opinions are always going to change. What this is really about is people changing their whole character and going off in a bad way, but as the bar gets higher on the frequency level, many will get left below it, evidence of which is now prevalent all around you. This is why I said in November 2017 it is too late for people to learn, they will never catch up, because them catching up means we stood still, I have no intentions of standing still, and our shows and information since that time have reflected that. Climbing the right hand path is not for those who sit on fences, flip floppers and actors, because it is too easy to fall into the trap and fall, it requires a full on commitment, ignoring the naysayers, doubt merchants, along with the envious and bitter based people, the focus is you and your path, not theirs. The two worlds can also be described as service to self or service to others, the latter of which brings far more beneficial aspects to you in alignment with inner and shadow work, but also brings elevated soul growth, which then leads to a greater understanding of life and all it's components. It also brings the possibilities of your so called junk DNA being switched on as well. Service to others carries a frequency and providing you are 51% service to others, the benefits garnered far outweigh pieces of paper with numbers on them. With this system and many participating it means it all comes back to you as well, not that you should give in expectance to receive back, that is not how service to others works, expecting something back is service to self. But the cycle of motion of service to others goes in a clockwise motion and so all on the wheel will all be touched and received the frequency that gives off. The previous mode of operations all went to the takers and service to self, and went in an anti clockwise motion and so became a harvesting system, and over fed the greed merchants in life. For further examples of this check out the sun wheel symbol that was overlaid with the Swastika by the Zionist sub gray elements, not Germans, the ancient way it went in a clockwise motion, the new way they took over it went anti clockwise. For many of the service to self who went along with this program and everything was ok, eventually learn that they themselves end up being harvested as well, as greed brings more greed and ultimately ends up in a mad for power type game, which is for the psychotic elements within our society. Become more greedy, less empathic and more psychotic you stay in the game, but the game ultimately turns on you as well, as the clowns of our society have found to their cost. But there is another element of two worlds, that brings in the whether you can "see" or not, that plays into the whole ET disclosure realm, but the focus of this piece is not necessarily about them, but may have implications within it. This is about islands appearing and then going missing, islands appearing on maps from 1400's up to late 1800's that suddenly are no longer there, so what is creating this phenomena? Sandy island was in the South Pacific, Antilles was in the middle of the Atlantic, Hy Brazil was off the west coast of Ireland and was said to be the home of the Irish gods, Frisland somewhere North of Britain and Iceland all have just vanished and some will say well they sank, except deep sea divers have been below all of them and there is no evidence they existed. This brings in the two worlds again, an overlay of the planes, where one of the planes dipped into certain portions of the planet and essentially moved these islands into a higher or low based frequency, whereby they are now not observed. What if the dimensional planes dip in and out of our reality? and we just call them anomalies, glitches or a coincidence or suggest it is us doubting ourselves? not had enough sleep, had too much to drink or had a memory blank, but these are real events. There was an event in outback of Australia that was reported to me about a WW2 Nazi base appearing and then disappearing within a short amount of time. What if those islands were from another dimension and were placed there by other entities as a base of operation here, and when mission complete or they were discovered, the island went back into the portal and back to where it came from. The great question to ask about the last bit is, is Easter Island a remnant from somewhere else? Strange events like the Olympic not the Titanic event, the fact that there was an iceberg at all in the warmer waters of the gulf stream in April, suggests something was amiss. For an iceberg to bring a liner down almost adjacent to New York in April, raises more questions than answers, and could possibly bring in another aspect of this, of time manipulation? What if these islands went up not down? they are still there but are suspended, just like the islands in the Avatar movie, there is a reason people globally came out of that movie with deep emotions and crying, past memories flooding through is why. But is there other anecdotal evidence that these islands went up and not down, well there was an incident off the west coast of Africa where fishing trawlers spotted an island hovering above the water and called out the military. The US military sent warships out and as the story was related they were able to sail their ships underneath the whole island. Then we have the other story of one version of Atlantis was not an island of fixed land, but was actually a large craft, that came and left. Which begs the question, what if these islands were actually remodeled craft or cloaked craft looking like islands, sadly most people think that type of technology is way in the future, reality is all technology is old and from way in the past, understanding that as a fact, makes working stuff out what they are and have done to us, make much more sense. Is it time manipulations, floating islands or disappearing to a higher or lower frequency? something for you all to ponder on.
