

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-07-30

Now I am back from my first non working vacation in 3 years, we are back to highlighting the world's issues and concerns, this show is known for. This will be a deep and heavy revealing show that leaves no stone unturned. I don't care who it upsets as we are long past living in the lies and illusion, no fake glitz and glamor here only the cold heart facts and reality of our world today. I am fully recharged and rejuvenated and the nonsense of the previous few months of betrayals and disconnections firmly behind me, and we march forward with renewed vigor and turn up the heat accordingly. I did attract attention whilst there, as someone decided to place an infrared camera pointing at my room in a small bush outside, and I was also given a personal escort for around 20 miles right up to the front gate at Dugway, now known as Area 52, which was fun, followed by streams of vehicles exiting Dugway to check me out, it was hilarious. At the entrance of Dugway there is a large church, despite there being no towns or homes for miles, I worked out this was a facade building and an entrance and exit to what is below. The last few months has been frustrating for us all, with people acting accordingly and largely in a very poor way, but should this be a surprise? Absolutely not, we have warned about it for years, and we did say in 2020 more would "see", at this point I don't think I need to point out to our listeners, of how that has unfolded. This world and any given country is not littered with enough genuine and nice people, if it was, things would be better. What is playing out now is, you are seeing people for exactly what they are, largely self serving, riddled with their own self importance and mired in savior programs, whether that be of a religious nature, government nature or a political ideology or programs, like Black Lives Matter. People mired in getting other people to run or save their lives, which has never, ever, happened for anyone. People running wait clubs for saviors, and if you think waiting for the RV for 13 years and counting is bad enough, or waiting 3 years for the now 182K sealed indictments, then they both pale into insignificance of waiting 2020 years for the original savior program to return from the dead, Jesus. A man returning from the dead after 2000+ years and they call us conspiracy theorists? I mean come on folks, lets get real here. Alt media personalities more intent on taking potshots at me and THI members than actually doing something positive, it's all playing out now, and the ugly we forecasted is about to enter a new and worsening phase. The next phase will involve heavy clashes and clashing as the truth rears it's head more and more, and people will see more of what is real, and what is not. People all arguing amongst each other over wearing masks or not, but the question remains is, why weren't people arguing over their own personal fake masks prior to the fake virus mask? Why were people content with those fake personas? why were people not being real, and not being themselves? because it all goes back to people not being nice enough is why, either to themselves or others. Everything is fake, look at Black Lives Matter, if black lives are so important as they say, why are they killing each other at record levels? You can burble on about police brutality, and yes there are genuine concerns of their behaviors, but the evidence is far more white people are killed, abused or targeted by the police as the facts actually show, and yet there is little to no desire to correct the appalling behaviors within their own communities. Pimping their girls, poisoning their communities with drugs and operating violent gangs and culture within their ranks, these issues to do with police brutality will garner much more support, should those issues begin to be addressed. Videos of whites kissing black peoples shoes, and blacks going along with it, is replacing one perceived problem with another is it not? A genuine black person would not partake in that demeaning exercise, and shows this whole charade is about dragging all people down, regardless of color. It's been 7 years since BLM was formed. They have raised over a billion dollars. They haven't had 1 neighborhood cleanup, sent 1 poor black child to college, bought any school supplies, fed the hungry, donated to a food bank or provided housing to 1 poor black family. Their problem with whites is a complete misrepresentation of the facts, on a par with the Irish blaming the British for their troubles, the issues is the whites per se have been misrepresented by the Hebrew culture, who have mysteriously and deliberately been added to the whites color code. The Dutch and British Tea Companies, New York, London, Berlin, Moscow, Singapore, Hong Kong have all been ran not by whites, but the Jewish Hebrew Annunaki group, who after several inbreeding programs and intermarrying, now represent themselves as whites, they are not, neither are they real Jews either. They are the sub gray race the Vedic Rus texts spoke about, and they are a blight upon humanity of all colors, and the sooner the world knows and accepts that fact, life is always be a struggle, there will always be another turmoil around the corner, another lost piece of land, another patent diverted, another crisis to over come, and an eternal internal and external war being played out. They are the harvesters of Ra, spoken about in the Law of One series, which is not a good book for humanity and outlines who is the harvested, it was us all along. I guess it is time for us all to turn the page.

The next in our series of must listen to shows will go deeper again into another topic and could be seen as an addition to our FRWL series, this will go out on Sunday. This show will heavily connect more of the dots in relation to global issues, it reveals the sheer depth of that issue. Another must listen to will follow sometime in August and also has a flavor of the FRWL series.

I have been asked by several people to clarify several claims being made by the UNC and Life Force and I did prepare a piece, but having been led to reading the comments section on their videos. I don't feel the need to add anymore, except to say the answers in response to genuine questions are not befitting the status and title at this point, and very disappointing to say the least. I am pleased none of our members have been challenging or abusing them on their videos, although I am aware many of you have some serious concerns as to some of the content being delivered. As always time will tell, and as always my door is always open, as there is a bigger picture here.

I find it ironic that so many in alt media love to take potshots at me and our show, the latest this week without any provocation was Randy Maugans again, wheeled back out this week again, like an alt media version of Ruth Ginsberg. Envy and bitterness are low vibrational frequencies and is not conducive to moving forward on a personal or collective level, and re-affirms the statement I made many years ago, of exactly how corrupt the alt media is. It is all very sad, but it seems those who were involved in the programs, of which there is several in the alt media and now being triggered again by their handlers. The irony is they are all targeting one person and one group, despite no direct connection to the Trust anymore, which they say was the target of their ire, time has proven it was not. The feedback from it tells me our show is right over the target still, and is still having a large effect, inspite and despite the alt media shows and personalities rejections of our group. I would like to take this opportunity to say hi to the secret service agents ensconced in the THI Germany and Poland groups, I am asking those groups to be aware of those within your midst.

The kickback on the fake authorities issuing illegal mandates and laws is now starting to kick in, and the fight back is now taking shape. Georgia Gov. Brian Kemp announced Thursday he is suing Atlanta Mayor Keisha Lance Bottoms over the city's mask mandate, claiming the measure violates his emergency orders. "This lawsuit is on behalf of the Atlanta business owners and their hardworking employees who are struggling to survive during these difficult times," Kemp tweeted. "These men and women are doing their very best to put food on the table for their families while local elected officials shutter businesses and undermine economic growth." The lawsuit marks a stunning escalation in the brewing feud between Kemp and Bottoms, after the Atlanta mayor introduced her mandatory mask ordinance. Under the mayor's order, not wearing a mask within Atlanta's city limits was punishable by a fine and even up to six months in jail. The governor's office had argued that Bottoms' order is not "legally enforceable," pointing to Kemp's executive order limiting local action to being less restrictive than state measures. Under the executive order the Republican governor extended the state's public emergency and said face coverings are "strongly encouraged," but not required. Kemp's executive order voids masks mandates imposed by some local governments, as Covid-19 cases tick up in cities across the state, already claiming over 3,000 lives. Even as Kemp has been resistant to a statewide mask mandate for Georgia, other Republican governors are now requiring face coverings in their states. Kemp's previous executive orders prohibited local action from being more restrictive than the state's requirements -- but Wednesday's order specially mentioned facial covering and mask mandates. What we have to ascertain here is, who is actually running the country here? Is it the President and members of Congress or individual state clown oriented bots? Why all the different laws for each state, largely dependent along party lines, it is utter chaos and actually embarrassing on a massive scale.

News from South Africa: We are experiencing one of the longest lockdowns, with no end in sight. A ban on cigarettes and alcohol and many ridiculous regulations besides. Totally Orwellian and malicious. According to MSM three Million more have lost their jobs. Crime is soaring and the people starving. Smokers like me having to pay Exorbitant prices for illegal cigarettes. Everything is getting crazier. Also pleased to see the white farmers of Zimbabwe, who were brutally slaughtered and chased off their farms, are now getting compensation for their losses, as announced this week.

Jackasses of the week award despite several other novel attempts goes to the State of Virginia, well that state does house Langley so should we be surprised? Online virtual classrooms in the State of Virginia are now requiring students who attend to be immunized against various illnesses, despite the fact that the pupils will be taking classes from the comfort of their own home, in what can only be considered a blatant push to inject poisonous toxins and metals into to bodies of school kids. The unconstitutional order comes after a high number of parents, have refused to take their children to get their standard yearly cocktail dose of vaccines, which during a non-COVID school year would allow students to attend school physically. As rumor has it, parents are concerned about taking their children to get vaccinations due to the current purported COVID-19 outbreak. However, people, in general, may just be waking up to the real dangers of vaccines and may just be to the point where they are outright refusing them altogether. When the EPA state that being inside your homes is 8 times more susceptible to viruses and bacteria than outside, I hope parents take their children out at regular intervals to avoid other sicknesses.

In the 1960's we had a combination of 2 or 3 vaccines, now children in America are having 36 before the age of 6. If they worked as stated why are so many western peoples sick? Why if all these vaccines and medicines work, why do Americans spend over $3.5T per year on that profession, which is around 18% of GDP? 10% of that $3.5T is on pharma drugs alone, with that average cost per head of capita spent on medical expenses per year now at $11,300 per year. Clearly if all these vaccines and drugs worked as they say, A: peoples health would improve and B: the costs of medical would go down, not skyrocket. It has not though has it? and clearly there is a major issue in connection with these so called medical professions and their drug dealing counterparts. Then we come to mental health issues which is a real pandemic in America, none of which is addressed in the correct manner, and most of which is peddled by more drugs, again which they say works, but figures are going up, not down and so makes their claims mute. 19.1% of U.S. adults experienced mental illness in 2018 (47.6 million people). This represents 1 in 5 adults. 4.6% of U.S. adults experienced serious mental illness in 2018 (11.4 million people). This represents 1 in 25 adults. 16.5% of U.S. youth aged 6-17 experienced a mental health disorder in 2016 (7.7 million people) 3.7% of U.S. adults experienced a co-occurring substance use disorder and mental illness in 2018 (9.2 million people) The majority of mental health is caused by stress the old system puts us through, and is deliberate in it's design to push people into taking their poisons. Keeping up with the Jones's and financial issues plays a large part in that factor, but there is a hidden and unspoken cause of much of mental health issues, which is never addressed by so called mental health experts, truth be known there are no experts in any field, least of all medical, they call it a practice for a reason. That issue is host possession and attachments, and is the major cause of mental health in my opinion. To round this all up, with illnesses like Autism, Dementia and Alzheimer's all now known to be caused by their vaccines and drugs, are you better off without them?

When Prime Minister Justin Trudeau came to power in 2015, he promised a new kind of politics. But now he's facing his third ethics scandal. So what's going on? In June, Canada announced it had tapped WE Charity - widely known for its celebrity studded WE Day conferences - to run a new programme for students hard hit by the economic slump. How did that decision lead to allegations of cronyism and conflicts of interest, two federal ethics inquiries, a spotlight on Mr Trudeau's family and calls for him to quit? Here's a guide to the political scandal. Mr Trudeau is now facing the third ethics investigation of his five years in office, over the government's decision to award a contract worth up to $43.5m to WE Charity Canada. The C$912m ($680m, £534m) programme was designed to connect post-secondary students to paid volunteer opportunities, to make up for summer job prospects that had disappeared during the pandemic. It later emerged that Mr Trudeau's mother and brother had been paid for speaking at various WE events over the years. Margaret Trudeau was paid C$250,000 for speaking at 28 WE events over four years, and brother Alexander was paid C$32,000 for speaking at eight between 2017-2018. Mr Trudeau has also made regular appearances himself and his wife, Sophie Gregoire-Trudeau, hosted a wellness podcast for the charity. The prime minister didn't recuse himself from discussions related to the decision to grant WE the contract, he has since apologised for that, but the federal ethics watchdog has confirmed his office is looking into the matter. "This country is governed by a fairly small circle of elites and there's a cult of the insider that buttresses this, that produces these kinds of scandals fairly routinely," says Canadian political theorist David Moscrop. Hear hear Mr. Moscrop, but it is not just Canada, but all countries ran by elite greed based psychopaths.

American diplomats are to leave the US consulate in the south-western Chinese city of Chengdu, following Beijing's decision to close the mission. With just hours to go before a Monday morning deadline, staff could be seen carrying box files and bags of rubbish. China has reacted in response to the US closing its consulate in Houston, Texas, last week. After a 72-hour deadline for Chinese diplomats to leave the Houston mission expired on Friday, reporters saw men who appeared to be US officials force open a door to enter the premises. US Secretary of Deep State Mike Pompeo said Washington had decided to act because Beijing was "stealing" intellectual property. Accusing any other country of stealing intellectual property, when Langley and their 5 eyes counterparts have been doing it for the past 70 years, is kind of hypocritical is it not? Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin responded by saying that the US move was based on "a hodgepodge of anti-Chinese lies".

Are Google giving us a heads up like Mnuchin did back in April? please take note of this as it could be indicative. Google employees can continue to work from home until July 2021, making it the first major tech company to extend its remote-work arrangement into next summer in response to the global coronavirus pandemic. In an email to employees Monday morning, Google CEO Sundar Pichai wrote: "To give employees the ability to plan ahead, we are extending our global voluntary work from home option through June 30, 2021 for roles that don't need to be in the office." The announcement extends the company's previous arrangement that workers would return to offices by January 2021. According to The Wall Street Journal, which first reported the news, the extension will affect "nearly all" of parent company Alphabet's 200,000 employees, including contractors and full-time workers, across the company's headquarters in Mountain View, California, and major offices in the U.S., U.K., India, Brazil and elsewhere.

Free Speech Fascists on the march: As the fascist style control of free speech takes yet more hammerings this week, not content with blocking doctors, nurses, physicians and medical experts from speaking the truth, they this week decided to block personalities speaking out. Twitter has banned the US president's eldest son from tweeting for 12 hours. The action followed a post by Donald Trump Jr containing a video clip discussing the benefits of hydroxychloroquine. Some, including President Trump, have suggested the anti-malaria drug works as a preventative measure against coronavirus, despite medical studies that indicate the contrary. Twitter said the post had violated its Covid-19 misinformation rules. Donald Trump Jr will still be able to browse Twitter and send direct messages in the interim. Twitter told the BBC: "We are taking action in line with our policy." The main US social media sites have all taken measures to crack down on misinformation about the coronavirus. In signs that the conflict between Trump and Twitter is not abating, the President has asked the National Telecommunications and Information Administration to file a petition to look at how social media companies moderate content. The petition asks the Federal Communications Commission to reconsider rules that shield social media providers from liability for content posted by their users, but still let them remove posts they deem to be objectionable.

Facebook has removed a video posted by Breitbart News earlier today, which was the top-performing Facebook post in the world Monday afternoon, of a press conference in D.C. held by the group America's Frontline Doctors and organized and sponsored by the Tea Party Patriots. The press conference featured Rep. Ralph Norman (R-SC) and frontline doctors sharing their views and opinions on coronavirus and the medical response to the pandemic. YouTube (which is owned by Google) and Twitter subsequently removed footage of the press conference as well. The video accumulated over 17 million views during the eight hours it was hosted on Facebook, with over 185,000 concurrent viewers. The event, hosted by the organization America's Frontline Doctors, a group founded by Dr. Simone Gold, a board-certified physician and attorney, and made up of medical doctors, came together to address what the group calls a "massive disinformation campaign" about the coronavirus. Norman also spoke at the event. "If Americans continue to let so-called experts and media personalities make their decisions, the great American experiment of a Constitutional Republic with Representative Democracy, will cease," reads the event's information page. The event was organized and sponsored by the Tea Party Patriots. "We've removed this video for sharing false information about cures and treatments for COVID-19," a Facebook company spokesman, Andy Stone, told Breitbart News. The company did not specify what portion of the video it ruled to be "false information," who it consulted to make that ruling, and on what basis it was made. The antidote to this level of fascism is to continue to speak up and speak out, they are clearly losing the narrative badly, so lets keep it rolling and remember.

Food Issues: Given we mentioned in the last show about the Irish shortage of food, here are a few more follow ups that will make you aware of a larger problem that I warned about last year. The largest floods in the last 400 years are beginning to overwhelm China's central cities and surrounding grain growing and agriculture zones. At present they are stating that a 100+ million people will need to evacuate, and they are forecasting unfathomable losses of food production, and a warning that China will need to go on a buying spree unlike the world has ever seen for food imports. This will start with rice from Asia and move to every continent.

The two largest grain exporters on planet earth look in bad shape, Agricultural output in the Ukraine fell by 19% during the first half of 2020, compared to the same period last year. And Russia hasn't fared much better.

Ukraine's Deputy Minister of Economic Development, Trade and Agriculture Taras Vysotsky blamed unfavorable weather conditions for 2020's dire harvest — as a result, grain prices in the nation with big "agrarian superpower" ambitions are on the rise. A record cold and rainy May in the center and west of Ukraine, and drought in the south destroyed much of the grain, added to that were the persistent June rains to the west, which seriously delayed the harvest efforts. Russia is also battling drought — up to 60% of the harvest has been lost in the south, and prices are on the rise there, too. Associate Professor of the Timiryazev Agricultural Academy Igor Abakumov said that the last drought was 10 years ago, and with the phenomenon occurring at intervals of 3-7 years, Russia was "over the limit of favorable years". Currently, there is no ban on the export of grain -as was the case back in 2010- but, nevertheless, local restrictions have been introduced. There are mounting fears that the country will suffer a grain shortage this year, and imports are already being arranged. Transcontinental Russia has been buffeted by weather extremes this year. Siberia's heatwave made the headlines -surprise, surprise- but did you know that record cold and summer snow followed that heat, and were you also aware that the Russian capital suffered a record cold and wet month of April. Probably not if all you read is the MSM, as they're only-ever interested in one side of the story — heat. Serving as proof, just note how the Global warming cabal's interest in this part of the world has dissipated of late. Could that be because Eastern Russia, and much of Europe for that matter has been suffering anomalous cold? Then you have the historic cold temperatures observed in Sweden and Norway this month, which yet again surprisingly was not covered by the global media and their fear porn channels, I guess Greta missed the record cold in her home country and forgot to mention it, how dares she. We did warn in this show of potential large scale food shortages, flooding seems to be the latest move to do so, given they flooded all the food growing regions of America last year.

Israel: Israel says it has fired on Hezbollah militants who crept into its territory, in what Israel's prime minister called a "serious security incident". The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) said up to four militants crossed the border in the Mount Dov area, part of the Israeli-occupied Syrian Golan Heights. The IDF said "the terrorists fled back to Lebanon" after being shot at. The area has been tense for days after a Hezbollah fighter was killed in an alleged Israeli air strike in Syria. Israel, which has neither confirmed nor denied it carried out the strike in the early hours of last Monday, had warned Hezbollah not to retaliate. Have you ever heard such bullshittery to justify killing more people than that, 4 Hezbollah which are funded by Mossad and others, went into their territory, erm hello you have been illegally in their territory since your fake creation as a state and country since 1948.

Hundreds of people protested outside Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's official residence in Jerusalem and in Tel Aviv on Tuesday, pressing forward with a more than month-long campaign calling on the longtime leader to step down. Public discontent with the government's handling of the coronavirus outbreak and resulting economic crisis has drawn thousands, including many young Israelis, to twice-weekly protests demanding Netanyahu resign from office while on trial for corruption. Demonstrators chanted the slogan that has become the rallying cry of the protests against Netanyahu while he stands trial on corruption charges: "Capital! Regime! Underworld!" Netanyahu is on trial for a series of cases in which he allegedly received, lavish gifts from billionaire friends and traded regulatory favors with media moguls, for more favorable coverage of himself and his family. The prime minister has denied any wrongdoing, accusing the media and law enforcement of a witch hunt to oust him from office, and has refused to leave office. The protests against Netanyahu are the largest the country has seen since 2011's rallies demanding for economic reform. While they have largely been peaceful, police have arrested dozens for public disturbance and have drawn charges of using excessive force against protesters. Perhaps the Israeli citizens need to arm themselves with more facts on Netanyahu, like the free oil deal he has with Bush, Obama and Khomeini, he of the great enemy country of Israel, called Iran.

Despite the fact that vaccines often take 10 to 12 years to develop and deliver, the Israeli researchers would have us believe that because of some 'pure luck' they could have a new vaccine for the coronavirus ready for the market within the next 90 days: Israeli scientists are on the cusp of developing the first vaccine against the novel coronavirus, according to Science and Technology Minister Ofir Akunis. If all goes as planned, the vaccine could be ready within a few weeks and available in 90 days, according to a release. "Congratulations to MIGAL [The Galilee Research Institute] on this exciting breakthrough," Akunis said. "I am confident there will be further rapid progress, enabling us to provide a needed response to the grave global COVID-19 threat," Akunis said, referring to the disease caused by the novel coronavirus. "Let's call it pure luck," he said. "We decided to choose coronavirus as a model for our system just as a proof of concept for our technology." But after scientists sequenced the DNA of the novel coronavirus causing the current worldwide outbreak, the MIGAL researchers examined it and found that the poultry coronavirus has high genetic similarity to the human one, and that it uses the same infection mechanism, which increases the likelihood of achieving an effective human vaccine in a very short period of time, Katz said. "All we need to do is adjust the system to the new sequence," he said. "We are in the middle of this process, and hopefully in a few weeks we will have the vaccine in our hands. "Given the urgent global need for a human coronavirus vaccine, we are doing everything we can to accelerate development," MIGAL CEO David Zigdon said. The vaccine could "achieve safety approval in 90 days," he said. It will be an oral vaccine, making it particularly accessible to the general public, Zigdon said. So, just pure luck and if you believe that you will believe anything, in fact most people believe in the most bizarre conspiracy theories like this one, they have lost the ability to believe what slaps them in their face now. A vaccine that normally takes 10-12 years to process and deliver, now down to 90 days, which just happens to coincide with the dates given in our Expose 2 show, does it not? Interesting they say it is an oral dose now and not needle, that should not be lost or missed by people. Or the fact that Dr. Michael Levitt, a Stanford professor, claims that COVID-19 in the US will basically be over in 4 weeks, one has to ask the common sense question, why do we need the vaccine at all, if it is all over in 4 weeks? The answer is we didn't and the vaccine is not for our health, but the next stage of them controlling us with technology.

Police issues: Mayor Lori Lightfoot ordered dozens of police officers to form a human shield to protect the block where her house is located. That happened at the same time that she ordered that the Christopher Columbus statue in Grant Park be destroyed, in compliance with the demands of the leftist mobs that have been roaming around in Chicago. There were a thousand protesters that gathered in areas that were close to where the mayor is living, the mob of rioters was calling for radical changes like defunding the police, of which this particular Langley 3 Muslim Brotherhood agent has been going along with. Representatives from Black Live Matters and Antifa were part of the mob. Someone posted a photo of the gathering on Twitter. "Words can't express how live Chicago is right now, near the Mayor's block. Ask the photos. #ChicagoProtests #LoganSquareLockdown #DefundCPD," the person tweeted.

At least 100 law enforcement agencies have withdrawn agreements to send personnel to next month's Democratic National Convention, some of them citing orders to Milwaukee's police chief to cease the use of tear gas and pepper spray during demonstrations. The withdrawals cast doubt on a program to bring about 1,000 police officers from outside agencies to help shore up security for the event, scheduled for the week of Aug 17. Among the agencies confirmed to have withdrawn are police departments in Fond du Lac, Franklin, Greendale and West Allis. Asked on Monday if the agreements were collapsing, Fond du Lac Police Chief William Lamb said, "Yes," adding that he expects other agencies from across the state to withdraw from the program. "We regret having to do that," said Lamb, who chairs the Wisconsin Police Executive Group, which consists of police chiefs from cities with populations of more than 20,000 people. The action by Lamb and others, comes as Milwaukee's Fire and Police Commission issued a directive last week to Milwaukee Police Chief Alfonso Morales, to change department policy to discontinue the use of tear gas and pepper spray. Morales spoke to several media outlets Tuesday and told at least one that more than 100 law enforcement agencies had backed out of agreements with the city for security at the convention. In a letter to the U.S. Department of Justice sent two weeks ago, Milwaukee officials listed fewer than 60 partner agencies as assisting with DNC security. Police confirmed Tuesday afternoon that more than 100 law enforcement agencies are no longer assisting with the event. "MPD's top priority remains to ensure that next month's DNC is a safe event for all visitors and participants," the department said in the statement. Nice to see the police standing up, now take the next stage and actively support the people, we are all in this together.

Finance: When the US approved more than $2.4T in spending this spring to try to shield its economy from damage caused by coronavirus, economists warned more would be necessary, lawmakers in Washington have yet to act. While Democrats have proposed another $3T in spending, Republicans have rejected that plan and been divided about how much more aid - if any - is warranted. The fate of the unemployment benefits that Mr Humberston - and an estimated 30 million other Americans rely on - is giving the debate a sense of urgency. When Congress boosted the payments by $600 a week in March, it nearly tripled the average benefits payment, the move meant recipients could claim roughly the equivalent of the country's median wage of about $975. Republicans are now pushing to reduce the temporary bonus set to expire at the end of the month. They say it is discouraging people from going back to work, pointing to research that shows more than two-thirds of current recipients - most of them in low-paid jobs - now earn more on unemployment than they did when they were working. All setting us up for their Universal Basic Income scheme, ran on credits not dollars, which will require stringent measures with which to receive said funds, like vaccinations up to date, facial recognition, finger printing and GPS tracking data, which has all been rolled out by a new alt media show recently, has it not?

Under intense White House pressure, Senate Republicans agreed Monday to allocate $1.75 billion in their coronavirus relief bill toward the construction of a new D.C. headquarters for the FBI. "As President Trump has said, the FBI desperately needs a new building and this measure provides critical funding for this project that would keep the building responsibly near the Department of Justice," White House spokesman Judd Deere said. Trump said at a news conference last week that a new FBI headquarters should be built downtown on the site of the crumbling J. Edgar Hoover Building. "The best idea would be to build a new building and that way you have it for a long time," he said. While there is wide agreement in both parties that the FBI needs a new headquarters, Trump's decision shortly after taking office to cancel an advanced plan to build a suburban campus and press for a new downtown location has flummoxed congressional leaders, with some Democrats accusing him of acting in his own self-interest. Or one could spend a fraction of that cost and route out the criminals within the FBI, and repurpose a new FBI with people who act for and by the American people only.

COVID divide and conquer program: Roughly two-thirds of Americans say they wear masks in public. Unfortunately, that still leaves a substantial portion of potential COVID-19 carriers unmasked. Coming across anyone flouting public health recommendations and putting you, your family, and your community at risk triggers a number of thoughts and feelings. Depending on the situation, your annoyance could range from a mild simmer to an all-out rolling boil. So, what do you do? First off, your indignation at that Target shopper in front of you in line without so much as a handkerchief around their neck is warranted. Wearing a mask is crucial. The medical community, including White House health advisor Dr. Anthony Fauci, has said in as many ways as possible that Americans who aren't wearing face masks are increasing the risk of spreading the coronavirus. Even asymptomatic carriers of the virus may be spreading the disease. It's absolutely reckless to expose the elderly and other at-risk groups to airborne coronavirus — the reason for social distancing and wearing face masks in the first place.

As coronavirus cases in the United States surpass 4 million, travel nurses who helped treat patients in hospitals across the country are noticing a troubling trend in their home states: friends and family who doubt the seriousness of the virus or even believe conspiracy theories about it. “We had to wake up with fear and go to bed with fear,” said Olumide Peter Kolade, a nurse who spent over three months treating patients in New York City. “Colleagues were getting sick, it was like a war zone, it was very traumatic.” Kolade, who was born in Nigeria and grew up in California and Texas, was living in Los Angeles at the beginning of March when he couldn’t escape the frightening news reports of overwhelmed hospitals in New York City. “I packed my bag, didn’t think about it twice.” Kolade’s 21-day contract in New York City turned into a 104-day stay, and now he fears for his home state of Texas as cases continue to increase. “A few of my friends that I talked to in Texas would try to tell me, ‘Oh no, this is a virus-driven agenda, this is a plandemic, not a pandemic,’” Kolade tells Yahoo Life. “I just felt like it was an insult to anybody that’s putting their life at risk just to provide care for anybody out there at the hospital.” Ah because their narrative is no longer working, out comes the divide and conquer tactic, of guilt and shaming. Getting the people to turn nasty on each other that becomes a total distraction to their quite frankly ridiculous policies, banal excuses and devastated economy, and blame it all on the people. As for Mr. Kolade or is it Kool aid please shut your pie hole, the people do not need to hear your stories based on agendas. Funny they allow this shit to be peddled and yet ignore the plethora of doctors and nurses calling this pandemic as fake? What they have also set out to do is a reverse psychology program, of making out that nurses and doctors are heroes, if they are such heroes as the MSM portrays, why are they so poorly paid in most cases? oops Thomas be careful now your talking too much common sense again. So what is behind all this medical heroes rhetoric, it is another set up program for the future so you wont question them when they roll out vaccine, and the new heroes will be told to administer them, seeing the picture now? The great question is, what about the brave hero doctors and nurses who have come out and said this is all bs? only to be blocked and deleted off the internet, what a way to treat heroes that is. But the doctors and nurses are being set up like the BLM people, the system will turn on them both over time, just as I had warned.

Here is a man of honor and a real hero who unleashed a storm this week. The Japanese professor of physiology or medicine, Professor Dr Tasuku Honjo, caused a sensation today in the media by saying that the corona virus is not natural. if it is natural, it will not have affected the whole world like that. Because, depending on the nature, the temperature is different in different countries. if it were natural, it would only have affected countries with the same temperature as China. instead, it spreads to a country like Switzerland, the same way it spreads to desert areas. whereas if it were natural, it would have spread in cold places, but would have died in hot places. I have done 40 years of research on animals and viruses. It is not natural. It is manufactured and the virus is completely artificial. I have been working for 4 years in the Wuhan laboratory in China. I know all the staff of this laboratory well. I called them all after the Corona accident. but, all of their phones have been dead for 3 months. It is now understood that all of these laboratory technicians are dead. Based on all of my knowledge and research to date, I can say this with 100% confidence that Corona is not natural. It did not come from bats. China made it. if what I say today turns out to be false now or even after I die, the government can withdraw my Nobel Prize. but China is lying and this truth will one day be revealed to all.

DEEP EXPOSURES: Next we come to the Epstein case, and there is an abundance of evidence now to be suspicious of how the U.S. Attorney's office is and has handled that case. It is 14 years now that the Justice Department has been sitting on the case against Ghislaine Maxwell, 14 years and countless children lives ruined later I might add, where is the indictments and arrests of the people involved in the Justice Dept, for this at best incompetence at worst criminally negligent or just part of the cover up? The Palm Beach, Florida Police Chief, Michael Reiter, handed a deeply investigated case against Epstein and Maxwell over to the FBI in July of 2006, according to the reporting of Julie K. Brown in the Miami Herald in November of 2018. Brown indicated that it took just eight months of FBI interviews for the U.S. Attorney's office in Florida, to have a 53-page Federal indictment ready to file against Epstein, involving sexual assaults against dozens of underage girls. But the indictment was never filed. A "deal" was worked out by then U.S. Attorney, Alex Acosta, and Epstein's well-connected lawyers. Federal charges were dropped against Epstein and he was allowed to plead guilty to only Florida state charges: one count of soliciting sex from a minor and one count of soliciting sex from an adult woman. Epstein was able to serve just 13 months in jail while also given a work release program to sit in his well-appointed office 12 hours a day, and driven around by his chauffeured limo. The deal was so outrageously constructed that it even denied his victims knowledge of the terms of the deal. Quite a cover up and expect more shenanigans with Maxwell in jail, she may actually not be in jail for what the public thinks, and there is some evidence to suggest that it is more to silence her, than convict her.

The stimulus bill known as the CARES Act was signed into law by the President on March 27, 2020. It called for "Not more than the sum of $454B shall be available to make loans and loan guarantees to, and other investments in, programs or facilities established by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. For the purpose of providing liquidity to the financial system that supports lending to eligible businesses, States, or municipalities." or in other words to clown operated groups. In addition, if the Treasury had any of its $46 billion left over that Congress had allotted in the CARES Act to assist airlines or national security businesses, that was to be turned over to the Fed as well. As it all appears now to be the case, the Trust funded all of this and one has to question that decision making process. The CARES Act was passed almost three months ago at the outset of the worst economic upheaval since the Great Depression. One would have thought that the urgency with which Congress acted to pass the legislation would have resulted in rapid deployment of the $454 billion to the Fed to help shore up the economy. It was not to shore up the economy, it was to keep clowns running, pure and simple. But according to data released this past Thursday by the Federal Reserve, the Treasury has turned over just $114 billion of the $454 billion that was allocated to the Fed by Congress. The Federal Reserve's weekly balance sheet data release, known as the H.4.1, showed a line item titled "Treasury contributions to credit facilities" and it showed a balance of just $114 billion. A footnote on the H.4.1 explained exactly which Fed bailout programs had received the money from the Treasury: "Amount of equity investments in Commercial Paper Funding Facility II LLC of $10 billion, Corporate Credit Facilities LLC of $37.5 billion, MS [Main Street] Facilities LLC of $37.5 billion, Municipal Liquidity Facility LLC of $17.5 billion, and TALF II LLC of $10 billion, and credit protection in the Money Market Mutual Fund Liquidity Facility of $1.5 billion." That leaves $340 billion of the $454 billion unaccounted for, a bit like the DOD then is it not? same people running it is why. The President's economic advisor, Larry Kudlow, who is born in and born to - just saying, explained at a press briefing before the signing of the legislation, why the Fed was to get this vast sum of money. The money would be used as equity investments by the Fed in Special Purpose Vehicles that would use the money as "loss absorbing capital," meaning that taxpayers would eat the first $454 billion in losses, how nice of them to yet again create their losses and get the people to bail them out again. The Fed would then be free to leverage this money up by a factor of 10 to create $4.54 trillion in bailout programs, ah the leveraging programs again of creating money out of fresh air, of which the public will be expected to pay off the interest on their loans. This is something the Trustee has to take a serious look at, as this program is not keeping American people in jobs, only keeping clowns going again, when they had been all but cut off.

This is a heads up to those who support Trump and Q as it appears they were supporting this takeover, are they part of it or simply lack the knowledge base this host and the Trustee has? time will tell. It's called "Going Direct." That's the financial bailout plan designed and authored by former central bankers now on the payroll at BlackRock, an investment manager of $7 trillion in stock and bond funds. The plan was rolled out in August 2019 at the G7 summit of central bankers in Jackson Hole, Wyoming - months before the public was aware of any financial crisis. So again proving this was all preplanned. One month later, on September 17, 2019, the U.S. Federal Reserve would begin an emergency repo loan bailout program, making hundreds of billions of dollars a week in loans by "going direct" to the trading houses on Wall Street. The BlackRock plan calls for blurring the lines between government fiscal policy and central bank monetary policy - exactly what the U.S. Treasury and the Federal Reserve are doing today in the United States, new boss same as the old boss then. BlackRock has now been hired by the Federal Reserve, the Bank of Canada, and Sweden's central bank, Riksbank, to implement key features of the plan. Three of the authors of the BlackRock plan previously worked as central bankers in the U.S., Canada and Switzerland, respectively. The authors wrote in the white paper that "in a downturn the only solution is for a more formal – and historically unusual – coordination of monetary and fiscal policy to provide effective stimulus." like I said this downturn was all preplanned and nothing to do with the fake virus pandemic. We now understand why, for the first time in history, the U.S. Congress handed over $454 billion of taxpayers' money to the Fed, without any meaningful debate, to eat losses on toxic assets produced by the Wall Street banks it supervises. The Fed plans to leverage the $454 billion into a $4.54 trillion bailout plan, "going direct" with bailouts to the commercial paper market, money market funds, and a host of other markets. The BlackRock plan further explains why, for the first time in history, the Fed has hired BlackRock to "go direct" and buy up $750 billion in both primary and secondary corporate bonds and bond ETFs (Exchange Traded Funds), a product of which BlackRock is one of the largest purveyors in the world. Adding further outrage, the BlackRock-run program will get $75 billion of the $454 billion in taxpayers' money to eat the losses on its corporate bond purchases, which will include its own ETFs, which the Fed is allowing it to buy in the program. Helicopter money is also spelled out in the BlackRock plan, which explains why simultaneously with the $454 billion Congress carved out for the Fed under the CARES Act, fiscal stimulus was also "going direct" with $1200 checks and direct deposits to the little people of America, and Paycheck Protection Program loans and grants "going direct" to small businesses. One feature of the BlackRock plan that is certain to get wide public pushback in the U.S. is, the proposal for central banks to buy stocks (equities). The authors write this: "Any additional measures to stimulate economic growth will have to go beyond the interest rate channel and 'go direct' – [with] a central bank crediting private or public sector accounts directly with money. One way or another, this will mean subsidizing spending – and such a measure would be fiscal rather than monetary by design. This can be done directly through fiscal policy or by expanding the monetary policy toolkit, with an instrument that will be fiscal in nature, such as credit easing by way of buying equities. This implies that an effective stimulus would require coordination between monetary and fiscal policy –be it implicitly or explicitly." In the United States, approximately 85 percent of the stock market is owned by the richest 10 percent of Americans. Buying stocks would simply expand and accelerate the wealth and income inequality, which is already at the highest levels since the 1920s – a time when Wall Street also owned large deposit-taking banks. The Swiss National Bank, the central bank of Switzerland, where one of the BlackRock authors previously worked, already has massive holdings of individual stocks, including $94 billion in publicly traded stocks in the U.S. according to its March 31, 2020 report that was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. On May 15, the central bank of Sweden, the Riksbank, announced that it would be using BlackRock to conduct “an analysis of the Swedish corporate bonds market, and an assessment of possible design options for a potential corporate bonds asset purchase programme.” The Bank of Canada announced in April that BlackRock has been hired as an adviser for its commercial paper, provincial bond, and corporate bond buying programs. The Federal Reserve has given a no-bid contract to BlackRock to manage all of its corporate bond programs. Peter Ewart, a writer based in Prince George, British Columbia, wrote the following in the Prince George Daily News about BlackRock’s role in herding central bank actions: “The situation also shows how the economic system in both Canada and the U.S. is not classical capitalism but rather state monopoly capitalism, where giant enterprises are regularly backstopped with public funds, and the boundaries between the state and the financial oligarchy are virtually non-existent.” In the U.S., 30 nonprofits, including Friends of the Earth, U.S. Greenpeace, Public Citizen, Rainforest Action Network, the Sierra Club and Take On Wall Street, wrote a letter to Fed Chairman Jerome Powell on March 27 regarding BlackRock’s role in the bailout. The groups called out the Fed on the following: “By giving BlackRock full control of this debt buyout program, the Fed is further entwining the roles of government and private actors. In doing so, it makes BlackRock even more systemically important to the financial system, yet BlackRock is not subject to the regulatory scrutiny of even smaller systemically important financial institutions.” funny how these rogue groups never come under any scrutiny isn't it? The groups also assailed the Fed for its “no strings attached” oversight of how BlackRock was spending the money, writing: “As far as is known publicly, there are no conditions or restrictions on what debt is purchased, or what companies must do to qualify for debt purchases outside of their credit rating. This could mean that those companies could engage in stock buybacks or provide enormous CEO compensation packages, despite these practices exacerbating imbalances in corporate balance sheets, and being a significant reason why these companies are so susceptible to the current crisis, in other words they are harvesting everything again into smaller circles, just as we warned in the Clowns in Panic show. This also means that industries that actively harm the climate – and by extension the financial system – could get unconditional support...” BlackRock is not only a major marketer of corporate bond products, Its iShares brand includes a giant roster of stock-based ETFs. The Chairman and CEO of BlackRock is Laurence (Larry) Fink, also born in and born to - just saying. Reuters reported last July that Fink was lecturing the European Central bank that it “will need to purchase equities to stimulate Europe’s economy, and that leaders should find ways to have investors embrace an ‘equity culture’ there.” Equity culture is a fancy term for harvesting everything and everyone. I have to ask the question and a message to the Trustee when delivering funds to these people is?

Seems FB like Microsoft are now deemed as medical experts, as they decide what are cures and treatments, and Gates decides when the 2nd wave will hit, and how life will only return when everyone is tested and then fake vaccinated. This is utter madness path we are going down now, and has validated the Clowns in Panic several times over now. Covid means clowns own vaccine ID and the 19 is not the date but the number of the letters, equaling AI. Economy crashing? was going to happen anyway, we warned of it years back, they just needed an excuse. With a dwindling pot of real money estimated at $40-60T which is less than half of the global GDP, set around $123T in recent years something had to give. With a dwindling pot of money, the supply chain of money had to be curtailed and has been. The closing down were all businesses they deemed not suitable went, but largely kept their businesses open, but with restricted access. With less people spending, there is less need for money to flow. Job losses was inevitable just as we warned, not enough funds to keep the existing economy going, if you think it will return to previous levels before March 2020, you need to think again, seriously think again. Food distribution and growing issues, and the shortages we also highlighted as a future issue last year, is now taking effect as mentioned earlier. Their solutions? welcome to 3D printed food now launched in KFC stores, launched they say? since when do they just launch things? what that really means they have been selling it previously and no one noticed, so that is now added to the plastic rice being sold to Africans in vast quantities by China. But with the intel talk of the 30M dead in China given in our show in April, and earlier piece this week of 100M being evacuated due to floods in China, and then the potential of the Three Gorges dam failing with about 400 million people living in the path of the dam, add in India and China fighting to the mix, this brings in another solution to their game plan, depopulation. Depopulation is happening due to Covid deaths? it was going to happen anyway as we had warned, but Bill Gates has told the world that fact several times, and the bots just sit there in a mental stupor thinking, I don't think he means us, I think he is talking about foreigners. If disaster does strike in China with a dwindling money pot, shrinking businesses, shrinking jobs, there does arise another issue. Who and what is going to replace China's current domination of their globally sold products? The supply chain shortage globally has already taken effect, and they are blaming the virus, it is not the virus at all. Remember they China are the lead exporter, if they don't have the capacity or funds to produce anymore, who will? America? not likely anytime soon, where are the manufacturing and engineering expertise going to come from? Given the pool of those skill sets is minimal in this country due to the 30 year reduction, and closure program of manufacturing plants in this country, and the continued harvesting by the CIA and their subsidiaries of any type of skill set above service based jobs, there is a massive shortfall of people with the expertise to carry out a self dependency country. With around 80% of American jobs being serviced based, less than 8% being manufacturing, with the Bureau of statistics forecasting a further fall of around 1% within next 5 years, where are the people with the required skill sets in this country coming from? It is fine stating we will grow or make our own products, I think all countries should be independent on that front, and it encourages sovereignty, but with a populace of low skill sets, we will have the demand but not the numbers required to carry that supply and demand out. Everyone growing or making their own products would be a good thing, as it would end the dependency on and to the richer countries, and the various bogus trade deals that operate globally would cease, all of which were designed to harvest off each product and country, largely at the behest of the UN, Rothschild's, Dragon groups, Black Sun and their subsidiaries. So with only $40-60T of money flowing globally and clowns intent on blocking the Trust funds, because they don't and can't control it, we are facing the prospect of only a 1/3 of businesses and 1/3 of jobs operating globally still operating. Our biggest issue we face is the supply of food, with already 3B facing food shortages and starvation, that figure will increase unless swift actions are taken by governments. An end to the ridiculous laws in this country where it is a felony to produce your own food, which means we always stay dependent on them, it has not worked out too well for us has it? This next section applies to the organizations in this country and the up and coming job reduction in this country. This is to the organizations who run the old order control based system, you should listen with an open mind and think about this country and it's people for the first time in your lives. To the CIA 1-4, NSA, DHS, FBI, Universities, Research Centers, military bases, Mercenaries, IRS, FED, Government jobs and all of the Military, all of you were employed to run the old control based system, whether you realized that or not. But the old control based system has collapsed and they are building a new leaner and slimmer one, and you lot will not be a part of it, yes you heard that right, you will all be drastically reduced at best, or replaced totally. All of the above was largely created to run the military arm of the control system, with less funds and less need to control things now, again something has to give. Take into account the US Military budget alone is publically just short of $1T, and the US Government is the largest employer in the world by far, at 23.5M, with a bit of common sense applied tells you that system is no longer viable or affordable. The cost for the clowns to run the old system based American company, not Government plus agencies and Military is a staggering $13.25B per day, they can now no longer afford to cover those costs, so what happens next? The 17 agencies based in the USA were all designed to spy on each other, as our show revealed last year, everyone was eavesdropping on each other, all designed to keep each other in check at the behest of the controllers, and Kim's predecessor. Why do they need 17 agencies anymore? the answer is they don't, and they have made strides to replace it with a 100% public based agency. The NATO handbook and Open Source details reveals that, all set up by a CIA shell company named OSS, and ran by an alleged ex CIA man, Robert David Steele. Their plan is to make the public become the spies, by spying on each other, it says so in their manual, for those of you who struggle to comprehend, that means you are about to get replaced with a cheaper system, using the public, chips and smart phones. The US Military, DOD and Pentagon your next in line, you are over bloated in terms of staff and expenditures, and they have already developed your replacements, NATO again. In the Paris Climate agreement all countries who have signed up for it must give 2% of their GDP to NATO, for the Rothschild's are now building up their own private army, which is NATO. With the development of technology, which as some of you know is way more advanced than the public perceive, they will replace all of you with technology. Drones will replace aircraft and soldiers, with the robot army already built, and no they are not like the awkward wobbling bots they put out to the public, they will replace boots on the ground soldiers, and also the police force, hence the defunding line. Machines don't need to be paid or fed you see. With the advance in technology they will replace all of you bar a handful to run their new operations, you all thought you had the golden ticket and you would stay on the gravy train, newsflash you are not and will be cast aside as fast as the Rothschild's were out of the Fed. The Facebook libra manifesto told you much if you read with clear minds and understood it properly, the term decentralizing does not only apply to removing Central Banks, but all of you also, even those of you with several badges of dishonor on your shoulders or breast of your jackets. You have fulfilled your roles in their game and you are about to become surplus to requirements, and their next stage is the machine, technology and AI. Are you still that stupid you cannot see it yet? are you still blinded with the promises of cashing in your warehouses of fake dinars? do you still think the Russians, Chinese and Iranians are the problem? No, the problem was you lot all along, you fell for your own illusion programs, of false promises, fake wealth and fake statuses and now the hammer on you all is about to fall. They warned us all with series like Continuum, Terminator, District 9, Westworld and I could go on, and everyone gorged on their ballgames and burgers, distracted with global warming and now corona virus, the Russians are coming to get us, whilst ignoring your own history that those same nasty Russians were the ones who saved your asses twice back in the 1800 wars. They fed, clothed and armed you. I will repeat again, technology over reach is the end of us all, no matter how many fake titles, badges or pieces of paper you have. We stand on the threshold of the greatest leap for humanity and this planet, and all it requires is for people to see through the illusion and working together to correct it. Technology has role in our lives, but it must not be allowed to prevail and ultimately control our lives. Message to the members of the US Govt, Military, Agencies, Banks and all the old system corporations and subsidiaries are hereby put on notice of your own demise, and requesting you take the appropriate action forthwith. We the people invite you all to engage us and chart a better, fairer, transparent and peaceful planet for us all, we await your input.
