

Word of support for members in the States going through rough times with weather wars and fires which were dew it seems. California, Oregon, Washington, Montana and Utah, I believe these are what is known as covid fires, they are infectious and it spreads like wildfire it seems. I wonder if some people so intent on following authority stayed in their homes because lockdown applies, one does wonder. Mary the house is on fire we have to get out, we can't Bill due to the virus and the lockdown. It has now come to light the military police requested a heat ray weapon to use on demonstrators in Washington DC in June, this heat ray weapon called the Active Denial System (ADS) uses a microwave beam to make targets feel like their skin is burning. The active denial system sounds like govt, agencies and media to me, but to request this type of sick and twisted weaponry to be used on the people is getting way out of hand, and is something out of the psy ops manual. I guess I landed in the wrong country because I thought there was a rule here about free speech? I guess not. As Obama prepares to this his book, will it reveal his true identity? as not American, the fact the first lady was a man, the fact he is head of the Muslim Brotherhood, the fact he is commander of SS in NZ or he was head of the penis called Pindar, I thought not, book will be called How I sold out people of my own color, the first chapter is called hey Michelle is that an obelisk in your pants? I guess the UK found out why they wanted the children back in school, I warned it was for a program. They are injecting kids without parental consent, even though this virus affects a miniscule number under the age of 18, and is overwhelmingly a 70+ year old disease. How does that work and does this make sense? clearly not and people need to bar their children from school permanently until the whole covid lies is gone. Use their own words against them, if they feel lockdown and masks are required, you cite those very reasons for not sending your children to indoctrination and concentration camps under the name of a school. They are turning schools into Auschwitz again, think different and ride the storm out.

Lots of kids set up lemonade stands in the summer. For many, it's a rite of passage; a first step toward learning what it means to earn your own money. For 11-year-old Cartier Carey, it was a chance to do a lot more. That's because Carey isn't using his profits to open a first savings account or saving up to buy himself a special treat. Instead, he's investing it back into his Hampton, Virginia community. His goal? Helping single mothers in need. With all the stress and financial uncertainty brought on by the pandemic, Carey decided to focus on the basics: diapers and wipes. "He doesn't want to spend any of the money on himself," his mom Brittany Stewart told CNN. "He just wants to continue to keep buying diapers and giving each day." The impetus for the project took root while Carey was visiting his grandmother who lives in one of the area's more economically depressed neighborhoods. By the end of July, Carey had raised close to $5,000 via the lemonade stand and from donations, and distributed close to 6,500 diapers. As of September, at 22,000 diapers, he's close to achieving his total goal of 25,000. Well done that young man, hopefully he inspires more people in the black community to care and share like he has. Setting the example that too few so called adults don't seem capable of, yet all it requires is a change of mindset.

A federal court on Thursday blocked a memorandum signed by President Trump seeking to exclude undocumented immigrants from being counted in the census for apportionment, saying such action would violate the statute governing congressional apportionment. A special three-judge panel out of New York wrote that, the president's argument that undocumented immigrants should not be counted, runs afoul of a statute saying apportionment must be based on everyone, who is a resident of the United States. The judges found that all residents must be counted for apportionment purposes regardless of their legal status. The ruling declared the president's July 21 memorandum to be "an unlawful exercise of the authority granted to the President," and it blocked the Commerce Department and the Census Bureau from including information about the number of undocumented immigrants in their reports to the president after the count is completed. The ruling is likely to be appealed to the Supreme Court. What a waste of money and further examples of jackassery and the way these people operate. Dale Ho, director of the ACLU's Voting Rights Project, who argued the case, called the ruling "a huge victory for voting rights and for immigrants' rights. President Trump has tried and failed yet again to weaponize the census against immigrant communities. The law is clear — every person counts in the census." The ruling came hours after a federal judge ordered the Trump administration to produce, internal documents connected to its sudden decision to end the 2020 Census count, a month earlier than the Census Bureau had planned. U.S. District Judge Lucy Koh gave the government three days to file all documents and communications between mid-April, when the bureau said it would extend the count to Oct. 31 due to the pandemic, and Aug. 3, when it abruptly said the count would end Sept. 30. By law, the state population totals that will be used to reapportion seats in the House of Representatives for the next decade must be delivered to the president by Dec. 31 of the census year.

A series of explosions have lit up the night sky outside the city of Zarqa, northeast of Amman, the capital of Jordan, at a military ammunition depot in Ghabawi. The explosion took place at a warehouse of “unusable mortar bombs” in the Ghabawi area east of Zarqa and was caused by an electrical short, Petra reported citing Jordan’s minister of media affairs Amjad Adaileh. A massive explosion has reportedly taken place in the city of Zarqa in #Jordan. Locals filming the video can be heard comparing it to the Beirut port blast, saying it's "something chemical". I think we all suspect who is behind this event, I suspect we are not wrong.

Syria’s air defenses thwarted an Israeli attack on Aleppo city early Friday morning, as multiple missiles were intercepted before reaching their targets, Syrian state-run television reported. The strikes occurred around 1:30am local time on Friday, the Syrian Arab News Agency reported, citing a military source who noted the country’s air defenses had repelled “most of the enemy missiles.” The source pinned the attack on Israel, however Tel Aviv has yet to comment on the incident. There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage. The news agency shared footage of the blast on social media, while an unconfirmed photo purporting to show smoke rising from an area around al-Safirah, a town in Aleppo’s countryside, also made the rounds online. The attack comes amid a possible escalation in attacks by Israel on Iranian targets inside Syria. Israeli jets reportedly struck a military site near Homs earlier this month, while a missile attack targeting military posts south of Damascus in late August killed two soldiers and wounded seven, according to Syria’s Defense Ministry. Syria’s missile defenses have had some success in repelling the attacks. Several missiles launched by Israeli warplanes from Lebanese airspace were shot down in April, Syria’s SANA news agency reported. While Tel Aviv seldom confirms its strikes on Syria, in a rare admission last year, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu acknowledged bombing “hundreds” of Iranian and Hezbollah targets in the country throughout its years-long war. These people have to be stopped, they are the greatest threat to peace and humanity, they are parasites and behind much of what is wrong with the world today.

The four-decade era of globalization may be coming to an end, and we could be entering “The Age of Disorder,” which will reshape both economies and politics, Deutsche Bank analysts have said in a new research note. One of the key characteristics of the new era will be the reversal of unfettered globalization, a team of analysts led by strategist Jim Reid predicted. While we saw “the best combined asset price growth of any era in history, with equity and bond returns very strong across the board” since 1980, “the Age of Disorder” is likely to break this trend. Deteriorating US-China relations is another theme (out of eight) that will define the next distinct era of modern times, “which is hastened, but not caused by, the pandemic.” The analysts note that the Chinese economy will be closing the gap with the US and could finally outperform it by the end of the decade. “A clash of cultures and interests therefore beckons, especially as China grows closer to being the largest economy in the world,” the report says. Fortunately, this economic standoff is unlikely to trigger a real military conflict between the two states, as usually happens when a rising power tries to challenge the ruling one. Economic war – with tariffs, sanctions, and attacks in the technology sphere – will go on instead, the analysts believe. No matter who wins the 2020 presidential election in the US, the rift between the two superpowers will grow. While the coronavirus crisis has already put the European economy at a crossroads, Deutsche Bank says that the next decade may become “a make-or-break decade for Europe.” Among other factors defining the future are higher debt and helicopter money (distributing cash to the public) becoming mainstream – policies which are likely to spike inflation. Inequality may even get worse in the post-Covid-19 world, before a backlash and reversal takes place, the bank says. Inequality is closely connected with the intergenerational gap, but the analysts expect that the number of younger voters will exceed those born before 1980 by the end of the decade. This could lead to major policy changes in many spheres – from taxes to climate. “Such a shift in the balance of power could include a harsher inheritance tax regime, less income protection for pensioners, more property taxes, along with greater income and corporates taxes... and all-round more redistributive policies,” the Deutsche Bank report said. Finally, the next 10 years will show whether the exponential rise of the value of tech companies was worth it. The bank says that they will either start a technology revolution or prove to be the second dot-com bubble. It has to be the latter for me, this new technology is dangerous to us all, none of it is currently beneficial to us in the short or long term. All of it is weaponized against us by the hidden hand people who run all of our governments. Governments need our help, they are mere puppets in a wider game, too few know of and even less understand. But will they have the courage to speak up, they will if more people make them accountable and then support people who speak out, regardless of party politics.

Democrat US Representative Tulsi Gabbard is again raising hackles on the left, this time being attacked as a QAnon follower because she blasted Netflix for airing the controversial movie "Cuties," which she considers "child porn." The broadside hit came from Melissa Ryan, whose firm CARD Strategies organizes activism to combat "disinfo and extremism." Ryan tweeted Friday night that "Tulsi going QAnon is the least surprising thing to happen in 2020." I did warn of this creep of acceptance of pedophilia into the public arena would ramp up, that show Cuties is a public test exercise, to see how many rail against it, this is how they work. If few complain they add more and then more, but I am hearing it has backfired on Netflix badly as many thousands voted against it by withdrawing their subscriptions, hit them in their pockets, they don't like that.

Over a dozen members of Special Counsel Robert Mueller's Russiagate-investigating team "accidentally" wiped their phones before they could be inspected and "lost" the phone of disgraced FBI lawyer Lisa Page with anti-Trump texts. Mueller and his team were tasked with investigating accusations of President Donald Trump's "collusion" with Russia during the 2016 election, but found no evidence of it. In their final report they tried to insinuate that Trump was guilty of obstruction of justice, but stopped short of outright saying so. An 87-page document, released by the Justice Department on Thursday under the Freedom of Information Act, reveals that Mueller's investigators "accidentally" or deliberately wiping their devices when the DOJ inspector-general asked for them. Federal records show that Mueller deputy Andrew Weismann claims to have "accidentally" wiped, via wrong passwords at least 2 phones detailing his activity during the anti-Trump probe. James Quarles' phone "wiped itself." Greg Andre also made the same wrong password claim... At least 12 officials, whose names are redacted, claimed to have accidentally erased all data from their phones. Five officials are mentioned by name: Andrew Weissman, James Quarles, Greg Andre, Kyle Freeny and Rush Atkinson. Their phones allegedly wiped themselves or reset after too many wrong password entries. As many as 31 phones may have been affected, including the devices that had been "reassigned." Yes, it is what they do, and with no oversight committee of any note or power, have gotten away with it for far too long. Why haven't they been arrested yet? yes you Q, where are the arrests? people have committed major crimes and yet still walk our streets? sort it out arrest them, deal with them and lets all get on with fixing this country.

Australia's Home Affairs Minister Peter Dutton on Sunday defended the government's right to intelligence raids to prevent foreign interference, after China condemned searches on the homes of its journalists working in Australia. Dutton declined to directly confirm that the Chinese journalists were questioned by Australia's intelligence agency in June, saying an investigation was still underway, but said there was some "activity" by the country's intelligence agency. "Where (the Australian Security Intelligence Organization) has sufficient grounds for the execution of a search warrant, or for activities otherwise, then they'll undertake that activity," Dutton said on the Australian Broadcasting Corp (ABC) television. "If people are masquerading as journalists or business leaders or whoever they might be, and there's evidence that they are acting in a contrary nature to Australian law, then ... (the) agencies will act." The raids were revealed by China's foreign ministry last week in the wake of two Australian journalists departing China after questioning by Chinese police. Australia's trade minister said on Friday the agencies acted on evidence related to a foreign interference investigation. On Saturday, China's state media condemned the raids. Relations between Australia and its top trading partner China have been deteriorating gradually over the recent years and have soured further this year after Canberra called for an investigation into the origins of the novel corona virus, angering Beijing. China has imposed trade restrictions on products including barley and wine, prompting Australia to tighten national security tests for foreign investment. Australia seems to be the Commonwealth test case for total fascism being rolled out, and these are dangerous times to be down under it seems. Violent antics of people called the Police but appears to be of a more militaristic variety of cops than the plods on the street. Australia is in between a rock and hard place over their identity, linked with America for surveillance and security, linked with China for all trade, unable to side one over the other and stuck in a juggling act, that essentially plays the lesser of two evils game. Throw in the NZ SSp and commander Obama running operations from there and it is a recipe for disaster. For greater details on Australia, watch the series Pine Gap, some major revelations in that, also Secret City tells you how the government is ran by the ASIO.

An anti-Trump Democratic-aligned political action committee advised by retired Army Gen. Stanley McChrystal, is planning to deploy an information warfare tool, that reportedly received initial funding from the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), the Pentagon's secretive research arm -- transforming technology originally envisioned as a way to fight ISIS propaganda into a campaign platform to benefit Joe Biden. Fighting ISIS my ass, ISIS is the Israeli group backed by Langley and others, deal with them and ISIS goes away. The Washington Post first reported that the initiative, called Defeat Disinfo. It will utilize "artificial intelligence and network analysis to map discussion of the president's claims on social media," and then attempt to "intervene" by "identifying the most popular counter-narratives and boosting them through a network of more than 3.4 million influencers across the country — in some cases paying users with large followings to take sides against the president." Social media guru Curtis Houglund is heading up Defeat Disinfo, and he said he received the funding from DARPA when his work was "part of an effort to combat extremism overseas." After this article was published, the Post updated its reporting to clarify that Houglund was "using open-source technology initially incubated with funding from DARPA." Why our American funds being used to combat extremism not on our shores? What about Antifa and Black Lives Matter, what about MS-13 and other Central and South American extremist? Open Source technology alongside DARPA, oh dear hang your head in shame Robert David Steele, you and your control based psychotics have much to answer for. Steele is a globalist puppet operating for the benefit of clowns to control us all, that goes way beyond Orwell, and quite frankly the alt media community should run him off of our platform. DARPA are anti human psychopaths, nothing ever of any good comes from that organization, solution? Trump to issue an EO and declare them enemies of the State, shut down their funding and close down all their facilities. Add Robert David Steele and his OSS.net and NATO Open source handbook to that list as well.

Rights groups have filed a complaint against a migrant detention centre in the US, alleging medical neglect and a lack of Covid-19 safety measures. The complaint condemns the practices and conditions at the private Irwin County Detention Center in Georgia. It is based on the allegations of a whistleblower, a nurse identified as Dawn Wooten. She worked at the centre, which houses immigrants detained by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). As part of her complaint, filed on Monday, Ms Wooten expressed concerns about the high number of hysterectomies performed on Spanish-speaking women at the centre. The nurse said detained women told her they did not fully understand why they had to get a hysterectomy - an operation involving the removal of all or part of the uterus. The complaint also alleges "jarring medical neglect" during the corona virus pandemic, including a refusal to test detainees with symptoms and fabricating medical records. The complaint said that the "rate at which the hysterectomies have occurred" at the centre was a "red flag" for Ms Wooten and other nurses. She alleged about one doctor that "everybody he sees has a hysterectomy", and that he removed the wrong ovary from one young detainee. "We've questioned among ourselves like, goodness he's taking everybody's stuff out...That's his speciality, he's the uterus collector," Ms Wooten said in the complaint. One detainee, interviewed by Project South, likened the centre to "an experimental concentration camp", adding: "It was like they're experimenting with our bodies." Other allegations include delaying medical care for detained immigrants. Ms Wooten alleged that it was "common practice for the sick call nurse to shred medical request forms from detained immigrants". The immigrant issue is less to do with illegal aliens as many of you will think, how can you be illegal on your own planet? FSS. Anyone thinking of any human being illegal is wrong thinking driven by media programming, country and culture tribalism was created for us to be divided, and just because they created it, doesn't mean we have to follow it, think different. The real issue of immigrants is A: terrorism and B: drugs and gun running C: trafficking trade D: prostitution trade E: organ harvesting trade F: adrenochrome G: children activities all done and orchestrated by what you would know as Deep State, with main involvement of the rogue elements within the CIA, and the Mr. Obama as head of the Muslim Brotherhood, which is aligned with the DNC, who are then linked to the leader of the group known as Team Bubba and their Rothschild's based sex and trafficking servers at KPMG.

FAKE VIRUS & LOCKDOWNS: Confidential reports reveal that at least 249 patients enrolled in a Gilead-sponsored program have died in Georgia. A new data leak reveals that the Georgian government and US drug giant Gilead have failed to investigate at least 249 deaths of patients enrolled in a $3.3 billion Hepatitis C elimination project. Arms Watch has analyzed these documents allegedly originating from the Ministry of Health of Georgia and leaked anonymously on Twitter. We have already published a detailed report on US government projects at the Pentagon biolaboratory in Tbilisi - the Lugar Center. In our current report we have analyzed data about death cases of patents enrolled in the Hepatitis C Elimination project in Georgia. This is an experimental pharmaceutical project sponsored by Gilead in cooperation with the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and Georgia's Ministry of health. Georgian media and health officials have previously denied any possible link between the experimental program and these death cases. However, the cause of death of some patients has been reported as "unknown" in Gilead confidential reports. Other patients enrolled in the program have discontinued treatment due to serious adverse effects, some of them have died. Furthermore, $181.7 million worth of hepatitis C antivirals for 2,033 patients in Georgia, have not been used and expired due to "treatment cancelations, patient deaths or other reasons", according to these leaked documents. Internal correspondence between Georgia, Gilead and the US Embassy to Tbilisi reveals, that patients involved in the Hepatitis C program have died and the treatment of others have been cancelled. According to a letter from Tamar Gabunia, first deputy minister of health of Georgia, to Gilead, dated 23 June 2020: "Under the National Hepatitis C Elimination program, due to treatment cancelations, patient deaths and other reasons, there are two different drugs (Sovaldi-16,834 tablets and Harvoni-205,003 tablets) on the balance of LEPL Social Service Agency, which were not utilized. The drugs belong to a category of "expired/unusable" and are subject to disposal in accordance with the laws of Georgia." Those out of date or unusable drugs are never disposed of in our terms, in our terms disposal means destroying them or rendered for none use, in pharmaceutical terms it means it is not usable in that country, and they are repackaged with new expiry dates and sold off to 3rd world countries, in particular Africa. With no private oversight committee on drugs and all the government watchdog bodies filled with their own people or bought off, this practice goes on unhindered. Those that take the pay offs under the seducement program are committing high murder and treason against humanity, you got extra pieces of paper with numbers on to buy materialistic items to show off to your circle, at the expense of thousands of deaths and millions suffering, where is your conscience? This practice is common throughout the world and is damaging us all, do you not get that?

The government has approved the Health Ministry's acceptance of stocks of corona virus drug remdesivir from California-based biotech company Gilead Sciences. It was not clear how many doses Israel will be receiving. Remdesivir is among the only treatments shown in a rigorous experiment to help fight the coronavirus. A large study led by the National Institutes of Health recently found, it could shorten average recovery time from 15 days to 11 days, in hospitalized patients with severe disease symptoms. One study in April, however, said it had "no clinical benefit." The drug is given through an IV, and is designed to interfere with an enzyme the virus uses to copy its genetic material. It's approved for treating COVID-19 in Israel and is authorized for emergency use in the United States for certain patients. In May, Asher Shalmon, the Health Ministry's director of international relations, told The Times of Israel that Israel's strong relationship with the California-based Gilead put the country in a good position to ensure supply. "We have a long-lasting relationship with the company, they have strong representation here, and this helps in making sure it is available here," he said. Israel is also stockpiling the drug hydroxychloroquine, though studies have shown it to be dangerous when given to COVID-19 patients. On Monday, the Food and Drug Administration said hydroxy-chloro-quine and the drug chloroquine are unlikely to be effective in treating the coronavirus. Citing reports of heart complications, the FDA said the drugs' unproven benefits "do not outweigh the known and potential risks." In a separate announcement on Monday, the FDA also warned doctors against prescribing the drugs in combination with remdesivir, the lone drug currently shown to help patients with COVID-19. The FDA said the anti-malaria drugs can reduce the effectiveness of remdesivir, which FDA cleared for emergency use in May. This brings up for me at least disturbing connections, given the issues with Gilead in Georgia which is Rus country and they also have a base here for operations, it raises serious questions in my book. This is an Israeli based operation, the word Gilead is linked to the Israelites said to trek the desert to Jerusalem, but never went that far and stopped in Amman, which is a derivative of Amun and Amun Ra. Gilead is a mountain of rocks in Jordan which confirms more of what we said in FRWL, they were in Jordan, not modern day Palestine territory. Now the disturbing link is, Trump is pushing this hydroxy-chloro-quine and his links with Kushner and clearly with Netanyahu with the numerous fake peace deals with Arab countries, that will not end well for them, trust me. Add in the Trump Heights in Israel, the Trump coin in Israel, Trump moving the embassy in Israel and Trump promoting an Israeli based drug, one has to question where his actual allegiances lie. The Trustee I am told now knows that Trump is a member of the Black Sun, something I warned about continually over the past 5 years in shows, and also to her. This allegiance of Trump to Israeli based organizations who are hell bent on destroying America, throw in that Q will not mention or cover anything to do with Israel, and it doesn't at this point present a pretty picture. Israel Cohen springs to mind again, "with the goal to deliver America to our cause". I would love to be proven wrong but I am reporting on the facts presented and up to you all to decide for yourselves. Trump also supported Astra Zeneca the head of which is Leif Johannsen, who just happens to have been award the title of the Royal Order of the Seraphim, whose badge is IHS, said to be related to Jesus, well it is in a way as Jesus is actually Horus, IHS is Isis, Horus and Set and we are back to Egypt and their fake gods again. I tried finding a meaning of the word Zeneca and the search engine says it is a name made up, but it must originate from somewhere, Astra means Star, suggesting a star based connotation and possibly given the cover up of the name, the question we also posed on Tuesday is, is it off world based?

After Joy Behar, co-host of US talk show 'The View', announced she has no intention of taking a Covid-19 vaccine before Ivanka Trump does, the president's eldest daughter promptly offered to take it live on air. Criticizing Donald Trump for claiming a vaccine could be ready in the US very soon, Behar said he is simply trying to get "reelected." "He will push anything to get reelected. Don't fall for it," she said on Wednesday. "And by the way, I will take the vaccine after Ivanka takes it." Ivanka Trump responded directly to the challenge on Thursday, tweeting, "Deal @JoyVBehar. I would come on your show to do so." She added that she "trusts" the FDA (Food and Drug Administration) and "so should all Americans." Trump declared this week that a Covid-19 vaccine could be ready by October and will be "very safe and effective." Critics have pushed back against his claim, citing a rushed process as a reason to be distrustful of the efficacy of any such vaccine. "As far as the vaccine is concerned, I'd like to inform America, in case we don't know this because I looked all this up for you, the mumps vaccine took four years, the polio vaccine took 20 years and the smallpox vaccine took a few centuries,” Behar said on Wednesday. This is a staged event like the Canadian politician who faked getting injected with flu vaccine, the event with Ivanka who is literally and figuratively in bed with the Black Sun Jewish group, will not receive a normal vaccine but likely a saline solution to convince non thinking people to have these vaccines. The only way for this to be real is, if a member of the public picked a random one that the military has ready, allegedly as Trump says to inject us with. Trump stated the military would be injecting us with vaccines and no one stopped to question that? Q people need to look more closely into these statements and connections at this point, because the 5D chess game maybe against us all, not Deep State.

Tel Aviv is poised to declare the whole country a “red zone” due to a spike in Covid-19 cases, limiting people’s movements to a 500-meter radius from home and closing all non-essential businesses that serve customers in person. They limit their people to 500 meters yet Netanyahu can fly thousands of miles to acquire Arab real estate under the banner of peace treaties, yeah right. The sweeping lockdown is set to take effect on September 18 at 6 a.m. local time, multiple Israeli media reported on Saturday. Examples as stated by David Icke, this virus has a watch, measuring tape and a calendar, clever stuff that or to thinking people- total bullshit. The Israeli cabinet is expected to approve the new stringent restrictions on the movement of people, as well as on commerce as soon as on Sunday morning, Haaretz reported. Although concerns about an imminent “second wave” of the corona virus, particularly regarding its possible overlap with a common seasonal flu, have been mounting and several European countries have already reported a surge in cases, Israel becomes the first nation to plunge back into a nationwide lockdown after the previous one was phased out back in May. The draft resolution, prepared by the Health Ministry, and seen by the Haaretz, halts or severely restricts the operation of all businesses, that require staff to serve clients in person for at least two weeks. Ah the two weeks spellcast meme again, amazing how many times that saying rears it's head is it not? Residents will still be able to shop for groceries, with supermarkets and grocery stores being exempted from the ban. The exception is also carved out for medical supply stores, including drug stores, as well as for cell phone places and repair shops. All cafes and restaurants will be prohibited from serving diners inside, but allowed to offer delivery and takeout. Those businesses, which will be greenlit to operate under the lockdown, will have to cap the number of staffers at 30 percent or at 10 people, depending on which figure is higher. The same 30 percent rule will apply to government offices. Except for trips to get necessary supplies or to work, Israelis will have to abide by a 500-meter rule, meaning that they may go as far from their place of residence.

A recent case in Belarus has exposed the conditions laid by these agencies for loans being provided for COVID-19 by the World Bank. The President of Belarus has exposed that the World Bank corona virus aid comes with conditions for imposing extreme lockdown measures, to model their corona virus response on that of Italy and even changes in the economic policies which he refused as being “unacceptable.” Earlier, in a shocking development, the President of Madagascar made a sensational claim that the WHO offered him $20m bribe to poison COVID-19 cure called COVID-19 Organics made from Artemisia. The Tanzanian President kicked out WHO from the country after Goat and Papaya samples came COVID-19 positive. Days after the Tanzanian move, Burundi also kicked out WHO Coronavirus Team from the country for interference in internal matters. It was also revealed in an intercepted human intelligence report that Bill Gates offered $10 million bribe for a forced Corona virus vaccination program in Nigeria. Woah a human intelligence report, what a name that is, is that saying there is also a non human intelligence report? Now link that to the pondering question from Tuesday's show, and maybe we have a dot connector? After which, an Italian politician demanded the arrest of Bill Gates in the Italian parliament. She also exposed Bill Gates’ agenda in India and Africa, along with the plans to chip the human race through the digital identification program ID2020.

You know those standard PCR tests for the COVID-19 virus that everybody in America has been rushing out to get? Well, according to the Times, they’re “diagnosing huge numbers of people who may be carrying relatively insignificant amounts of the virus” and “are not likely to be contagious.” In fact, when they looked at three sets of testing data from Massachusetts, New York, and Nevada, because of faulty procedures used at every single testing site in the country, “up to 90 percent of people testing positive carried barely any virus” at all. The experts they talked to were astonished that such cases are even getting classified as infections. Over 85 million PCR tests were given in the U.S. since dreading COVID-19 replaced baseball as our national pastime. At around $150 a pop, that’s almost $13 billion that, if the New York Times is right, was flushed down the toilet on a test that’s essentially worthless. Not to mention all the wasted hours and inconvenience suffered. The massive fraud perpetrated on the American people – who were led to believe that PCR testing represents the “gold standard” for detecting COVID-19 infections – must be one of the biggest scams in history. Apart from the squandered money, think of all the anxiety suffered by the over 7 million Americans who got back a positive result. Yet, even according to the Times, most of them – and maybe even the vast majority – likely had only traces of the virus too minute and harmless to classify as an infection. At which point do the people take a full on stand, the greatest thing all Americans can do to end this nonsense is, declare whole government incompetent and not vote in the election at all. Why hasn't Trump addressed this to the nation? This is of optimal importance to this country and Trump has an obligation to tell all of the American people, until then vote for no one as they are currently not serving the American people.

Just under half (45.6 percent) of surveyed Russians don't want to be vaccinated against corona virus, regardless of where the vaccine comes from, according to a new study by Moscow's Higher School of Economics (HSE). The research revealed that just 13.2 percent of those questioned want to get vaccinated as soon as possible, with a further 4.6 percent wishing to wait a few months. Of those who refuse to be immunized, almost a quarter (24.6 percent) still intend to monitor the results of mass vaccination, with another quarter (25 percent) saying they're entirely opposed to all vaccines. Part of the country's lack of enthusiasm for a vaccine may be explained by the belief that Covid-19 isn't so serious. 43.4 percent of respondents believe that the danger of the epidemic is exaggerated or invented by “interested parties.” This is a considerable rise from a similar survey taken in May, which discovered that just a third (32.8 percent) of the country were corona virus skeptics. I guess the Russians are still more smarter than the rest of the world, now the task is to spread that insight globally and reverse the bot like non thinking people.

The reports of wildfires here in Oregon are legit. Multiple family and THI members have been under level 3 evacuation orders, including my mom three times. When she tries to evacuate it takes her 15 minutes to drive a single block in the traffic jam, and then the officials started evacuating the expo fairgrounds where the original evacuees were headed for safety in the first place. Ouch. 5 towns in two counties ablaze just within 30 miles of me, 150 acre fires were becoming 22,000 acre fires in a single day. It seemed like cities were just erupting into flames like an arsonist was on the loose. Nobody that I've spoken with who has lived here for generations thinks this is natural. I could go on, and I'll give you all the info you want as soon as this settles, but the good news... THI members and their families are on top of it statewide, we all have a place to stay, and my family is preparing shelters, food, blankets, clothing, and toiletries bags as we speak (well, Angie & I are, I'm typing). Even though internet and phone lines are spotty, we can usually get texts through, and we have a network with a surplus to offer each other and others. Both my wife's school facility and our own property are prepared to receive evacuees. My mom is safe. And even though this is hard on my kids, helping others is a great way for them to focus their energy forward. We'll get through this. I wanted to share with you what is going on here in Southern Oregon. Last week there was first a fire in Ashland (where I live) which spread north and burned significant portions of the towns on Phoenix and Talent before traveling further in Oregon. The day of the first fire the winds were of a magnitude that resembled a hurricane in force. Fortunately for me the winds blew the flames (which were visible from our home) in the opposite direction...and unfortunately for many others who lost their homes. What has emerged is a pattern of arson responsible for most if not all of these fires spanning most of the state. I have heard from 6 individuals who live in this valley who personally witnessed arson taking place. Additionally, there are an increasing number of reports from law enforcement of arsonists (who identify as Antifa) caught and arrested for deliberately setting these fires. Yes it is arson and Antifa and SSp goons supported by certain Military are responsible for it. Antifa members have been caught doing it and yet FB blocks posts saying fires deliberately started by Antifa, what a stupid and dangerous world we live in, where truth is denied and fear and lies promoted to the max.

One of our members questioned these fires and their intentions, and remembered me warning of them emptying out California a while back, California being sold to the Chinese and asked if this was related? Yes Paul the "chinese" and SSp connection to that coast, is now taking a deeper effect it seems, with LA and Vancouver acquired, seems they want the in between as well. Personally I think it is a good thing many people moving in land (tpc villages/small towns would be cool) and away from the coasts, but not in the current way they are doing things. The New York Times has expressed shock at the decline in Americans' quality of life – no shit sherlock, a slide that has been documented for over a decade in areas like education and healthcare, but which they nevertheless hinted is Trump's fault. It is neither Trump's fault or the predecessors by and large, this is what people don't get. Many of these people are corralled onto a dark path by the manipulators from behind the scenes, not saying they are in anyway clean, but skullduggery runs deep in the corridors of power.

The US' world-leading self-image is totally unjustified, the Times acknowledged on Thursday, contrasting Washington's vaunted superpower status with its 28th-place ranking in this year's Social Progress Index (SPI), set to be released today. The index purports to measure quality of life based on metrics like health, education, safety, freedom, and environmental stewardship. The US has slipped nine places since the 2011 launch of the index, which boasts a proprietary scientific formula that incorporates 50 "metrics of well-being" and claims to be "inspired by Nobel-winning economists." Its advisory board is chaired by a Harvard Business School professor, Michael Porter, who lamented to the Times that "It's like we're a developing country." "We are no longer the country we like to think we are," he moaned, urging readers to take the bad news as "a call to action." Harvard have the brass cheek to call anything out and point fingers away, as they and other known Institutes and their policies and actions that dictate life here, are a primary reason for the current mess. Of course Harvard was also instrumental in starting the fake Covid bs as well. just saying. The index highlighted some of the worst results of the unprecedented income inequality plaguing the US, observing that while the country came out ahead of the rest of the world in "quality of universities," it was ranked 91 in terms of "access to quality basic education." The alleged quality in Universities is only down to the part the clowns engages in, particularly the CIA and their myriad of rogue and black budget programs, the average college student here, is worse off than most Westernized countries students by far. This country has bred stupidity and ignorance for 80 years and is a national crime and disaster, that will take 3 generations to correct. We have been taught rubbish and lies since kindergarten right up to University, then when your youth learning, which is more indoctrination than learning, is over, you are fed a diet of utter retardness by the MSM, the epitome of misinformation and their army of portal people bots. They are portal people because their crap that passes off as news, is not from this world and makes little sense. In fact I came up with a new name for these peoples who pass off as news, MOM ministry of misinformation. Same with healthcare: at number one in medical technology, it dragged behind at 97 for "access to quality healthcare," echoing the findings of a Lancet paper published last week that found the gap between cost and quality of American healthcare was gargantuan. Yes, and the third leading cause of death in America is, medical malpractice and yet no one is addressing it. The publication also shamed the US for failure to share political power among all citizens – likely to be a particular sore spot for a country that boasts of bringing 'democracy' to the nations it invades. Criticized for its high homicide rate, as well as its low rate of internet connectivity and sanitation, in comparison to other "advanced countries." Its #100 ranking for "discrimination against minorities" comes as an added poke in the eye in the Black Lives Matter era. The Times seemed shocked that the US had apparently fallen behind "significantly poorer countries" like Estonia, Czech Republic, Greece, and Cyprus, marveling that American children are (according to the index, at least) educated on the same level as Uzbek and Mongolian kids. Perhaps they should have listened more to this show then, we have been saying this for years, whilst they played lets dupe the American public, and write agency based scripts. They with the portal people and along with politicians all seem to forget the one basis of and for politics is, to discuss and formulate policies based for and by the people, not for clowns. Their parents, meanwhile, were said to be about as healthy as the average Chilean, Jordanian, or Albanian, the rankings were calculated before Covid-19 further immiserated the nation, the outlet pointed out – hinting that a much greater decline was looming on the horizon. The only other two nations to decline in the SPI's rankings, Brazil and Hungary, would seem to have little in common with the US, other than that they're also ruled by leaders with a marked aversion to globalism, who've been condemned as heavy-handed autocrats in the press. Typical media rhetoric again pointing fingers at the request of their agency based script writers, inside of thinking for themselves and their role in it. The index's major supporters include Microsoft and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, while its "strategic partners" are management consultancy Deloitte and eBay billionaire Jeffrey Skoll's Skoll Foundation, all of those companies are ran by fake Jewish people. A balanced article would have attacked Harvard and the last list of people, for their role in the destruction of America, but I digress. While the news is grim, it's not entirely earth-shattering for those who've been following the country's economic (mis)fortunes. The US has been in decline, especially relative to its developed-world peers, for over a decade, as even the Times admits in its writeup. Wrong again, this country has been in decline since 1871, wake up jackasses, it was a hostile takeover and puppets like the NY Times were responsible for the current malaise, period. However, while they acknowledge "Americans face structural problems that predate President Trump and that festered under leaders of both parties," Trump is said to be "a cause of [the decline's] acceleration." Many on social media fixated on the Trump factor, though others acknowledged the president was less "the problem" than a symptom of it. That whole article is why this country is in a mess, riddled with finger pointing, riddled with reaction based statements, riddled with diversion and illusion, and riddled with problems and not one solution to it provided. This is why THI comes up with solutions, because it seems most are in the mindset of the writer of this article, including politicians, and no one outside of this group and the Trustee, seems to have the wherewithall to come up with anything resembling a solution. For too long people didn't see we had a problem, so if there is no problem why would you need a solution? That was the attitude, Americans cannot carry on thinking we are the greatest, where is the bloody proof of such statements? There is none, it is all an illusion, like the American dream, you have to be asleep to believe it. Quit sleepwalking and wake up, accept reality we are so far from the greatest it is just not funny anymore, and lets get together and fix this shit.

Here is a solution for you all to take on board, seen as too few want to address or create real solutions. This is a new common sense solution for the government, that ends the blackmail issues, ends the retribution cycle and if developed and administered correctly, can send us onto a more adult way of thinking and path. Q posted this week treason for Brennan and Comey, the masses demand blood and or incarceration, which is understandable with our current thinking mode mindset. If those two have committed treason, why haven't they been arrested? But what if there was an alternative? a move away from the mass finger pointing and blame game. A move away from endless hours of drivel spat out by the MSM on these topics, a move away from the illegal BAR system based lawyers who all rub their hands with glee with cases like this, and go ca ching ca ching ca ching, which we the American public have to pay for. The background to this is several pronged: 1. Our government is overbloated 2. It is too expensive 3. Many jobs need to go 4. Most in high level govt positions have done criminal acts 5. all are blackmailing each other to keep criminal acts under wraps 6. prisons are overbloated 7. adding many more to prisons creates more costs for the tax payer 8. Drastically reducing govt jobs in one go will in part crash the economy 9. red tape rules adds more costs to the taxpayer 10. things need addressing in a better way for karma reduction. So how can this all be achieved with one solution? If Comey and Brennan are guilty then what are the solutions? they go to jail? But part 6 and 7 states that is not cost effective and where to put them is another issue. The first thing to do is create and sign an Executive Order allowing for all Government and subsidiary groups connected to it, a full disclaimer for full disclosure, unless nefariously involved with children. This will allow many to come forward and speak up, and will end the blackmailing culture and fear that pervades the corridors of power. Many want to speak up but live in fear of being exposed for their own shenanigans or role in it. Many did not start out as bad guys, but the whole culture and set up of this group is designed to trap all who participate in it, in anyway possible. The purpose of which is, so they have leverage over you, and you then have to do their bidding and work for them, or face being outed or in some cases murdered along with your family. The Kennedy family a prime example of this, although none of them are or were clean either, in fact the whole family are the Black Sun members. So how do we fix it? Create committees based on the criminal acts undertaken and place Comey and Brennan in that committee. What is the purpose of the committee? Brennan and Comey will have safe environment to out all others who were involved in it. Espionage committee, government contracts committee, foreign contracts committee and the list goes on, each person arrested would join the relevant committee and out all those they were involved in. The committees would end when the whole network is exposed, and some who did expose it can be employed after the investigations are completed, in roles to prevent it ever happening again. So they are now employed to spook on the spooks, that is called poetic justice. This will eventually expose the whole network of criminals and criminal acts and would clean up all of our government departments, that are rampant with corruption, fraud, dodgy contracts and in some cases terrorist leanings. They would not go to jail, which will be a relief to them and end some of the fear, but they would be working for the people to investigate and out all others in the network. If they hide something and or fail to fully reveal things, then the jail threat of doing that should be sufficient warning to them. They would be employed by the Government in these roles, they would have their salaries cut to a maximum of $75K per year, their pensions will be drastically reduced and not the govt salary for life. In fact the govt salary for life deal needs to be removed from the table once and for all, all have gained more than enough during their work time, not taking into account the kickbacks and brown envelopes they have received, to not require or warrant those expensive pensions, paid for by the American people. Should they be earning $75K a year or more from other ventures, the committee salary would be reduced accordingly. If found their other income is due to criminality, take it off them and put it into an American fund to improve life here, preferably the Peoples Club as it is our idea and we already have the structure and ideas to take things forward. Their crimes are against the American people and the American people should gain the benefits, not the criminals or the much maligned Justice departments. This then drops them down the so called class scale, no more expensive homes, cars, boats etc and more in line with the American people, which then has the effect to reduce the gap between the have and the have nots. One hour of their time is equal to one hour of everyone else time, so why the disparity in earnings? It is not right and creates poverty and poor living conditions for too many. Some will say you can't expect us to live on a $75K salary, I will say you can if you quit the self entitlement and greed based game. $75K a year is a gold mine to the vast majority of American families, and it all comes down to perspective and reality, socialist lifestyles create mass poverty, think and act different. What this achieves is a stepped down reduction of Government employees, it will reduce the government bill drastically, which then reduces the taxes to the American people. It will end the fear and blackmail game currently that is holding the old control system together, garner a more transparent and fairer way of operating. It will end the repugnant secrecy games that are rampant throughout the corridors of power. It will end the Rothschild's and Black Sun groups, it will end the Dragon groups, it will end the lobbyists and terrorist based lobbyists that in part are responsible for the fear and blackmailing games, like AIPAC. The savings for the American public would be enormous, plus criminal monies can be added to an American peoples fund, taxes would be slashed, staged reduction of government workers from the current 23.8M, it does not require near 24M people to run the Government, that is sheer waste of public funds. It would save on prison costs for these high profile people, in fact the salary maximum of $75K a year, is less than the cost to house them in prison for most cases, so this is another saving. Is it not better they are employed to clean up their own swamp and doing something productive, instead of rotting away in prisons at great cost to the people? This method also reduces the karmic gaining retribution culture, it also allows for these people to work on themselves and in some way clear their own karma, this benefits us all.

Less than two months ahead of the presidential election – with concerns of foreign interference again at the forefront – a conservative political group is raising "serious concerns" about millions of donations reported by a major Democratic fundraising platform. A preliminary computer analysis by the Take Back Action Fund, obtained exclusively by Fox News, has found that nearly half of all 2019 donations to ActBlue were made by people claiming to be unemployed. Action Fund President John Pudner questioned the veracity of those donations and called it a loophole that must be closed for the sake of election integrity. "After downloading hundreds of millions of [dollars in] donations to the Take Back Action Fund servers, we were shocked to see that almost half of the donations to ActBlue in 2019 claimed to be unemployed individuals," he said. "The name of employers must be disclosed when making political donations, but more than 4.7 million donations came from people who claimed they did not have an employer. Those 4.7 million donations totaled $346 million ActBlue raised and sent to liberal causes." The trend is continuing this year: An Action Fund examination of 2020 data from January through August showed an uptick in "unemployed" donations through ActBlue, to 50.1% this year.

I like creative solutions that fires back at those who don't have our best interest at heart. Like the Democrat party although the Republican party is not much better. They are involved in creating carnage everywhere currently Antifa, BLM, Soros and Clinton Foundations shenanigans, postal issues, vote rigging machines, agency interference, foreign agency interference, Israel lobbyist interference all engineered to create mass confusion and panic. Then we have the Operation Blackout scenario of a simulation to disrupt the 2020 election, and you all now know how these simulations, remarkably turn out to be real events. Think Event 201 and Covid, think 9/11, think London 7/7, think Spain and train bombing, and many other instances. All became live events in what was a background of alleged training for the potential of these events, yet all happened at the same time, and they call us conspiracy theorists? Other reports of the Dems unleashing havoc before, during and after should their puppet not become the President. With all of that in place and then you have several states now in total turmoil due to in part stage weather events, that accounts for at least 7-10 states, the deliberate false flag fire starting that has severely effected at least 5 other states and has the potential of more over the coming months. Then we have all 50 states on lockdown, social distancing and the whole fear of this global false flag on the people to deal with as well. We have millions short of food, water, shelter, homes, jobs and in poverty in this country now to deal with as well. With all that said, the only solution to fire back at the game players ruining American peoples lives, and with so many states in turmoil, the virus posing severe issues and will hamper any voting, the postal service method too corrupt, the voting machines too corrupt, with all that, there is only one solution. Cancel the damn election until all this shit ongoing stops. Virus bs goes away, no lockdowns, no masks, no vaccines, people back in jobs and life back to some sort of real normal, not new normal. Cancel the election under the Emergency Powers Act until the right conditions allows for a proper election to take place. That is another of our poetic and ironic justice solutions.

So a follow up to last weeks bombshell of the races, languages and off world connections. It is easy to state this is all about tribalism in today's modern day labeling and discord world, all designed and set up by think tanks, as far back as 1940's and likely earlier. Well Thomas is white and so he is defending white race, but I never here anyone stating stop calling out the white people in various alt media shows or the MSM, you can't have it both ways. But, whilst many came here under duress or for valid reasons, and then appears to have been used for other intentions and purposes, the case is now that we have to make the best of a poor situation, to date we have not achieved that, but with right teaching and intentions those barriers can be overcome. For evidence of that, look no further than our own group, people all over the world, from different races, colors, religions and backgrounds, all by and large coming together minus the labels and stereotyping, both of which came from the dark forces to separate, not combine. A reptilian group have been hunting down the Aryan blood, DNA and genetics for past 4000 years or so, in the more modern pursuit of the white race, I will have further details of that soon in an up and coming show. The National Zionists which are by and large not German, are the front group on this planet to continue that pursuit against the white race, and they have used every other color with which to undertake that task. Using propaganda like it was the whites who did all the slavery, which is a guilt and shame program which has been ran since 1800's and reached epic proportions with the racial propaganda piece ran on the Aryans in WW2 times. That was carried forward and then the victim program kicked in, as those operated falsely under the banner of Jewish, have ran guilt programs that the whites killed all and only Jewish people in the camps, our story has revealed that to not be case. Evidence of Jewish scientists and geneticists doing testing and experimentation on their so called own peoples, all to fulfill a propaganda piece for the future, said to be against the poor Jews, but was always against the whites. It is classic reverse psychology programming, where the victims are the perpetrators, where the bad guys are by and large the good guys, and the classic trick used heavily by discrediting alt media sites, and also MSM, of accusing others of doing what they have done. All done by stealth infiltration of countries, taking over land, governments, militaries and then creating think tank and lobbyist groups to keep them all in check. People were threatened, bought off and killed unless they followed their plan, and people may ask why they go that far? why do they do such heinous things? They are good questions, that are rendered mute when you read portions of the Talmud they operate by. It is anti human and mainly anti white, although that comes under a sleight of hand banner or label of Christian. Why would they use that term? because then people come at it from a religious perspective and not race or color based, which is the hidden hand and classic reverse psychology program again. But, the victim card has been their greatest tool, and still to this day many are frightened to speak out on this subject, and indeed race or colors as well. People on the whole now are frightened of being labeled a racist, well you can call me what you like, self mastery advancement allows you to know yourself and you can decide whether you are or not, not them. But I have presented an avalanche of facts and truth with much corroborating evidence to support what I reveal, and once people step over their own limitation box of worrying about what others think of them, then a river of truth can flow from you, and the purge of frustration and anxiety of holding onto false information can be enlightening and also lightening for the soul and spirit. The fear of speaking out is a tool of the dark forces, if they ban discourse on any topic you know they are hiding something, and the banning of any criticism of Israel, the bible contents, the holocaust and history is indicative of a program being ran on the people. The classic line used in our show overcomes and overrides that program of, the truth never fears investigation. Something that the CIA, NSA, Google, Microsoft and Gates, FB, Twitter and the US government seem to excel at not allowing. JF Kennedy put it correctly back in 1963, the very word secrecy is repugnant in a free and open society, and we are as a people, inherently and historically, opposed to secret societies, to secret oaths, and to secret proceedings. Since then a plethora of measures have been brought in to cover up more and more of policies ran on and against the people, the greatest of which is the National Security Act, that is a pile of bollocks and is there only, to allow criminals in high positions within our midst, to act with impunity. The plot against whites has gone on for 110K years as covered in FRWL 1 & 2 One group of people and or beings have done this for thousands of years, they come in many names, groups and beings, that is best described under the banner of the dark forces. The original whites were the teachers, they did not invade land or peoples, they taught better ways to all. It was not about conquest and was all about reaching a hand down and lifting people up.

I thought that last show would stimulate all regions of you all, on many levels and I warned it would be a mental rollercoaster. It was a multi faceted show, multi leveled and very interwoven, which was not designed to loop you, but unwind you, the knot and the bind. It was another example binary to trinary choices, were two are presented and the third aspect hidden and or ignored, do we have 2 or 3 eyes, blue or red pill or neither, the mobius loop presented as 2d when it is 3d. The matrix 0's and 1's where are the other numbers? remodeling homes is it 2 or 3 stages, most knock down and then rebuild, but most miss the planning in between and why contractors run into several problems and add cost to their jobs. Psychology listen and assessment and fix, not merge 1 and 2, there is 3 steps, but currently that profession is more about creating and putting people in boxes and so falls drastically short of treating people. I am glad you all got much out of it and continuing to ponder and discuss it with your fellow members. Now the picture is unfolding, and the jigsaw of life is taking shape. The energies are kicking in and more and more are waking up, and our time has come to teach more people. THI members have more of the real and bigger picture than any other group, some will say that is arrogant or ego, a word used against me recently by some with self reflective and misguided notions, but the answer is neither if the statement is true, and it is, you all see that now. Particularly if you frequent other groups, they are way behind in their understanding of how things are, I wish it wasn't the case personally. So with many waking up, what happens next? we use our skills and teachings and so we become an army of teachers, of teaching not only the unlearning of lies, but a new and better way for the all. It is a personal journey on a path with others, embrace your own development and supporting others on the path is the lesson for us all. Many will leave the path as they currently do not have the mental fortitude you possess, those that leave are not your fault or remit, that is down to them as individuals following the path of the sheep as many have done before them. It is sadly a well worn path of the old world people and their programs, mired in savior programs like religion and new age bs. You have chosen a different path less worn and in many cases new, just because we are the minority, does not mean we are not on the right path. Trust yourselves and each other more than ever now, as the sheep are marching to the west gate again, don't follow them.
