

If you lead life in love and care you will prevail, if you lead life in fear and anger you will fail. Feel free for you to be the person you wish to be, not the person who conforms to what others want them to be. You are a multi dimensional being operating simultaneously on many levels, you are not here to conform, you are not here to be stifled, you are not here to be enslaved, you are not here to be abused, or to compete with your friends, family or neighbors. You are here to be the best you can be and do so as a crown of creation, now go out with the confidence of who and what you are, and excel in yourself, and in doing so inspire others. In a week were I found myself saying weerrrl and two weeks, I kept asking him so basically what you are saying is blah blah blah blah, as drakeycakes Glenn and Angela came to town for a few days, and lifted the gloom a bit. I had a great time with them both, thanks to you both. In a week where one Biden appears unable to speak for himself and his son Hunter is found out to be involved in criminal racketeering with an ex mayor of Moscow, with ties to trafficking and Chinese Military, yet none were highlight by the CIANN, and this is who you vote for? The former chief scientific advisor of Pfizer has told talk RADIO he does not believe there is a second wave, and has challenged the Government to prove otherwise. James Le Bron requested it, Michael Bloomberg did it and raised more than $16 million in an effort to help 32,000 convicted felons in Florida register to vote. Desperation springs to mind. As the UK NHS sends out invitations for fake testing, signed by two lords and a leading research survey group whose name is on the top of the paper, called Ipsos Mori, which means they die. This is their way of taking the piss and informing us, take the test and you die is essentially the message they are sending out, your consent is your own fault, plausible deniability it is called. Is it emergencies M urgencies have always been used as the pretext for the removal of civil and individual liberties, if masks work why the issue about non wearers, if vaccines work why do flu cases go up not down, if all vaccines are safe why are the companies immune from prosecution, which vaccine did they take to achieve said immunity? When a government that puts known toxins in your vaccines, triclosan in hand santizer and makes you wear masks that cuts oxygen to your brain, then have the brass cheek to tell you they are interested in your health? what's worse is people believe them. But then, you cannot speak butterfly language to caterpillar people. When alt media followers ask who is the person and what is their background before I believe what they are saying, yet never seek the same information from the politicians, doctors, social services, police, judges or lawyers. When government tells you that you can't run, train, sing, congregate, enjoy nature, go to work, eat out, socialize and you accept it. When government and media tells you there is a virus and you don't research it yourself. When media reads out fake agency and think tank scripts for you to follow and comply with. You know we have a problem, the problem is YOU. How far we tolerate impingement on our lives and how we live, is measured by our own tolerance to fascism, these days.

A secret cabal is taking over the world, they kidnap children, slaughter, and eat them to gain power from their blood. They control high positions in government, banks, international finance, the news media, and the church. They want to disarm the police, they promote homosexuality and pedophilia, they plan to mongrelize the white race so it will lose its essential power. Does this conspiracy theory sound familiar? It is, the same narrative has been repackaged by QAnon. The plot, described above, was the conspiracy "revealed" in the most influential anti-Jewish pamphlet of all time. It was called The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, it was written by Russian anti-Jewish propagandists around 1902. It collected myths about a Jewish plot to take over the world that had existed for hundreds of years. Central to its mythology was the Blood Libel, which claimed that Jews kidnapped and slaughtered Christian children and drained their blood to mix in the dough for matzos consumed on Jewish holidays. Except that story was written over several epochs of time for the past 1900 years, long before The Protocols, written by differing scholars, churches, govts and even Popes as we covered all the quotes written about it in an earlier show. QAnon's conspiracy theory is a rebranded version of the Protocols of the Elders of Zion. haha reverse psychology again. QAnon purveys the fantasy that a secret Satan-worshiping cabal is taking over the world. Its members kidnap white children, keep them in secret prisons run by pedophiles, slaughter, and eat them to gain power from the essence in their blood. The world has seen QAnon before. It was called Nazism. In QAnon, Nazism wants a comeback. To me this is the funniest article I have read in a long time, written in a desperate reverse psychology method that is showing their hand, and admitting they are desperate to stem the tide of them losing the narrative. Jewish victim card - check, blame whites - check, agency meme conspiracy theories - check, ridicule the truth - check, denying the Protocols exist and declare it fake - check, blame the Russians - check, reverse psychology - check, all in just 17 lines of diatribe. This is an MK Ultra tactic on the people, the guilt, shame and bullying tactics of lies they have used and spread globally to fulfil their agendas. But it is also a victory for us, they are forced now to work hard to keep their lies, agendas and programs in place, on a public in 2020 now seeing more than ever. I am still to be convinced about Q, not being a faction based agency operation, it's reluctance to avoid the Jewish questions is telling, and resembles a sit back and wait club, mired in a savior program to me. I welcome in the future to be proven wrong, but until we the people have representatives within the White House, the factions will always have free reign to push their ways, to date there is no full proof of anyone in power operating for and by the people, and the exposures are by and large faction based only, not for the people per se. As for QAnon they should not be bracketed in with Q and would be better served expanding beyond the field of Q and listening to our extensive Must Listen to series of shows, now around 28 I believe, that way they get a better understanding than a few cryptic lines that are open to persuasion and confusion.

Ruth Bader Ginsburg's death marks the passing of a liberal icon on the US Supreme Court, the loss of a jurist heralded by the left in the US for her passionate advocacy of women's rights, civil liberties and the rule of law. Memorials and tributes to her, however, threaten to be overshadowed by the political firestorm that her death - and the resulting vacancy on the highest court in the US - will set off just 46 days before the presidential election. Here's what you need to know about what might happen next and why the stakes are so high. Donald Trump could now have the opportunity to make a third lifetime appointment to the nine-justice Supreme Court, a remarkable opportunity to leave a lasting imprint on American law and politics in only his first term in office. It appears certain the president will try - either before the November's election or after. And, if the Republicans lose, a confirmation could take place during a Senate "lame duck" session later in the year, before a new Congress and a president take office in January. Any attempt to fill the seat this year will prompt cries of hypocrisy from Democrats. They remember Republicans - including Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell - blocking Democratic President Barack Obama from filling a 2016 Supreme Court vacancy for nearly a year, until Trump could name a replacement in 2017. All a cue for the next round of media tittle tattle of he said she said drama, in the puppet theater of media and politics. And quite frankly it is tedious and tiresome watching, hearing or reading grown people act like petty and petulant children, and the bots lap it all up like an entertainment, whilst everyone's lives goes to shit. The very fact it is being fought over tells you all, this is a position that is not fit for purpose. Justice is suppose to be impartial not run along party lines, what both parties are admitting is, the supreme court are basing decisions within the court based not on justice, but tribal rivalry.

The outcome of the Breonna Taylor hearing yesterday was as predictable as night and day, you knew it, I knew it and the acting protestors knew it. Cops are ran by a freemasonic order whose theme is to protect the brotherhood at all costs, it is in their manual, a failure to do so leads to death for that individual, depending on the scale of not protecting a brother. That like the Supreme Court is cheating the system and the people, as the tribal aspect of the Freemasons, supercedes all laws and fairness. There has been many miscarriages of justice within the courts of all levels, that have ruined many peoples lives, based on targets set and targeting. That should not be how justice works, and the freemasons role in it is far more pervasive in it than the public or alt media realize. Essentially it is one giant lie the pyramidal control system of the Freemasons, where those at the top enact policies and retribution and it filters down the chain to the lower level freemasons, they carry the can and the karma, because they are the foundation for it. The behavior of cops has gotten worse since many were sent to Israel for training, that resembles special op training, and also I suspect mind control elements. The frequencies operating their radios is also conducive to added layers of mind control. Many cops are told to lie on statements, told to lie in court to protect the brothers, again this is fact I have spoken to cops in the UK and USA who confirm this. With targeting on the public it is not always possible to avoid engaging with cops, but running an illegal drug operation is one way to engage cops on a frequent basis, even if some cops are involved in running the drug operation, that fact cannot be denied. Mr. Walker who was Breonna's boyfriend in this matter, not only invited the police in by being involved in drug running, but when the cops came in, he fired the first shot and hit one of the cops. That has been lost in all this BLM program being ran on the people, to generate race wars on behalf of the Jewish based string pullers. Read the Israel Cohen 1912 speech again if you don't believe me. What did he expect to happen next? with one of their officers down, and the other two wondering if they are going to be shot next, they returned fire, all who listen to this show, when put in the same position would have done the same. When judging this you have to put yourself in the scene, and I suspect all would have done the same thing. The enquiry should have focused on ballistics as to how the officers shot their weapons, from which position to ascertain whether they shot Breonna in error in the cross fire or shot them both deliberately to end the situation. Hindsight is a wonderful tool, but it is not realistic in day to day heightened tension situations, but ultimately when you break it all down is, Mr. Walker put his girlfriend at greater risk for being involved in an illegal drug trading operation, and if Breonna who he was involved in that, also put herself at greater risk of engaging police some day as well. It is the percentage game and Russian roulette being involved in those activities, that puts in a direct line to engaging with police, who whilst their jobs are difficult, they do have a tendency for violence, both within their job role and their home life as statistics show. This type of assessment should be relayed by prominent black people who should be role models, not some of the ridiculous behavior they have exhibited. As for Trump's response of the court decision of "thought it was really brilliant", quite frankly Mr. Trump's response was obtuse, pathetic and inconsiderate

TikTok and WeChat will be banned from US app stores from Sunday, unless President Donald Trump agrees to a last-minute deal. The Department of Commerce said it would bar people in the US from downloading the messaging and video-sharing apps through any app store on any platform. The Trump administration says the companies threaten national security and could pass user data to China, but China and both companies deny this. WeChat will effectively shut down in the US on Sunday, but people will still be able to use TikTok until 12 November, when it could also be fully banned. TikTok said it was "disappointed" in the order and disagreed with the commerce department, saying it had already committed to "unprecedented levels of additional transparency" in light of the Trump administration's concerns. "We will continue to challenge the unjust executive order, which was enacted without due process and threatens to deprive the American people and small businesses across the US of a significant platform for both a voice and livelihoods." Tencent - the owner of WeChat - said the announced restrictions were "unfortunate", but said they would continue talks with the US government "to achieve a long-term solution". The ban order from the Department of Commerce follows President Trump's executive orders signed in August. It gave US businesses 45 days to stop working with either Chinese company. If a planned partnership between US tech firm Oracle and TikTok owner ByteDance is agreed and approved by President Trump, the app will not be banned. And I thought only communist (which is Zionism) countries that banned content on the internet, oh my that means I am either in a different country than I thought or Communistic Zionism has now crept in here as well. Please don't spout National Security issues, that is as fake as a glass eye, and designed and implemented only to protect criminals within Governmental bodies and their actions.

Things that make you go hmm, two pieces this week connected to the clone like Jared Kushner. In 2014, Jared Kushner, with his brother Joshua and Ryan Williams, co-founded Cadre (now RealCadre LLC), an online real-estate investment platform. His business partners included Goldman Sachs and billionaire George Soros, a top Democratic Party donor. In early 2015, Soros Fund Management financed the startup with a $250 million credit line. If you thought that was bad, try this. Jared Kushner had been a lifelong Democrat prior to his father-in-law Donald Trump entering politics. He had donated over $10,000 to Democratic campaigns starting at the age of 11. In 2008, he donated to the campaign for Hillary Clinton and his newspaper the New York Observer endorsed Barack Obama over John McCain in the 2008 United States presidential election. Kushner doing PPE deals with India and China with his sidekick Gavin Newsome CA, who is a relation of Pelosi, makes much more sense now doesn't it, you see they play both sides.

Concerned teens are reporting that popular apps like TikTok and YouTube are spying on them through their iPhones. Various posts on social media this week suggest the apps are activating users' microphones the moment they're launched on one of Apple's devices. The reports follow the release of iOS 14 – the latest iPhone update – which added a feature that informs users when they're being spied on. An orange dot now appears in the upper right corner of the screen when the mic is activated, while a green one shines when the camera is on. Youngsters on Twitter claim that an orange light appears on their iPhone as soon as they launch TikTok – and before they record anything. "Yall tiktok is listening to us this orange dot appears whilst on the app then disappears when I leave tiktok," one user wrote on Monday.

US health officials have rowed back on controversial advice issued last month that said, people without Covid-19 symptoms should not get tested. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) now says anyone in close contact with a known infected person should take a test. Friday's "clarification" returns the CDC's stance on testing to its previous guidance, before the August alteration. Reports said the controversial advice had not been given by scientists. Sources said it had been posted on the CDC website despite experts' objections. Most US states had then rejected the guidance, in a stinging rebuke to the nation's top disease prevention agency, except it is not a prevention agency at all, it is a vaccine manufacturing and sales company with vested interests. In its "overview of testing" for healthcare workers the CDC now says: "Due to the significance of asymptomatic and pre-symptomatic transmission, this guidance further reinforces the need to test asymptomatic persons, including close contacts of a person with documented SARS-CoV-2 infection." It advises people to take a test "if you have been in close contact, such as within 6ft of a person with documented SARS-CoV-2 infection for at least 15 minutes and do not have symptoms". The US has recorded nearly seven million cases of coronavirus, more than a fifth of the world's total. It has the world's highest death toll, with nearly 200,000 fatalities. Which is a complete load of hogwash, the real figures are near 10K. So called experts flip flopping on their advice given out, should not breed any public confidence in this or any other field within the covid fake plandemic manufactured crisis, and time people thought for themselves and disregarded their advice and went back to something not resembling a kindergarten class. This patented vaccine manufacturing company known as the CDC, who are not a government body at all, should be binned as advice to anyone, they have vested interests in promoting the vaccines for their own personal gain, at the expense of everyone else.

Pope Francis is giving his blessing to a new Vatican think tank that is seeking to prevent the Mafia and organized crime groups from exploiting the image of the Virgin Mary for their own illicit ends. The Vatican's Pontifical Marian Academy launched the think tank Friday at a conference titled "Liberating Mary from the Mafia." It was a reference to the historic relationship between the Italian mob and the Catholic Church, and the popular displays of Marian devotion by mobsters in Italy and beyond. In a message from the pope read out at the start of the conference, held at Rome's Museum of Civilizations, Francis said the religious and cultural image and patrimony of the Madonna "must be preserved in its original purity." He said any popular displays of devotion to Mary must "conform to the message of the Gospel and the teachings of the church," and that people participating in them must be true Christians who look out for others, and especially the poor. The Catholic Church in Italy has long been associated with the Mafia, thanks in part to their post-war common cause against communism. While some Catholic priests have courageously opposed the mob — and paid for it with their lives — others have been called to explain their celebration of funerals, weddings and other sacraments for mafia dons, acceptance of their donations and participation in their religious processions. The madonna? oh my always represented in black, whether it is skin, garment or the beads she carries. More on her later. I guess the church are running out of funds, or the mafia is not sharing the funds with them anymore, or perhaps just a ruse to deflect the Italian Mafia was created by the church for funding purposes, related to gun running, drugs, prostitute, security and child sex trafficking.

A British participant in AstraZeneca's coronavirus vaccine trial was diagnosed with a serious neurological disorder weeks after her second dose of the inoculation, an internal company document shows. A previously healthy 37-year-old woman was hospitalized this month after receiving two injections of the pharmaceutical giant's new vaccine, where it was determined she developed transverse myelitis, a rare neurological ailment caused by inflammation of the spine, according to an internal AstraZeneca safety report obtained by CNN. Though the report states the woman, who has not been identified by name, had no adverse reaction after her first dose in early June, she began to experience neurological symptoms some two weeks(it's always 2 weeks, 1/2 moon cycle is why and an MK Ultra trigger word) after her second jab in August. During a jog on September 2, the volunteer "had a trip (not fall) with a jolt," the document says, while the next day she reported difficulties walking, weakness in her arms, impaired motor control over her hands, a headache and reduced feeling in her torso. She was hospitalized September 5 and diagnosed with "confirmed transverse myelitis" soon after. Whilst I feel sorry for this woman's plight, the crass stupidity of taking part in these trials is mindboggling, no doubt seduced by lure of extra money or groceries. It is a shameful practice these pharma groups who in part our responsibility for many low income people, to then use their plight to guinea pig these people with known poisons, it still doesn't fully account the stupidity of going for these trials with zero accountability should the trial go wrong. Is it worth your life the meagre bribe these companies give you?

A state of emergency was declared on Thursday in eight regions of western Greece which are expected to be hit by the a subtropical storm in the Mediterranean named Ianos. The Medicane, dubbed Ianos by the National Observatory of Athens' (NOA) Meteo weather service, was in the sea area between Sicily and the Peloponnese. It is expected to make landfall as a powerful storm across southern Greece on Friday, bringing heavy rain, flooding and gusty winds, it did and killed at least 3 people. Category One hurricanes in the Mediterranean? is that normal? add in a plethora of earthquakes in none quake zones this week, and storms covering most of the Atlantic and the last two storms approached or landing in America that does 90 degree turns, something is clearly amiss in these times. Add in what I warned of in a show maybe 18 months back of the takeover of all gulf beach and ocean view homes from Texas to Florida and the Bahamas, and neighboring islands, and perhaps now with path of latest steered storm Beta, things become a bit clearer?

The Justice Department said Monday it has identified three U.S. cities that have "permitted violence and destruction of property" and are now at risk of losing federal dollars as part of President Trump's efforts to crack down on unrest fueled by incidents of police violence against Black men and calls to defund police departments. New York City, Seattle and Portland, Oregon, were all targeted by the Justice Department as having "refused to undertake reasonable measures to counteract criminal activities" in response to the violence that has erupted in the cities. No surprise NY involved, other two are related to SSp and Chinese Elders and Dragons operations, neither of which are connected to the Chinese government per se.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi on Sunday did not rule out the possibility of impeaching President Donald Trump if he tries to push through a Supreme Court nominee to replace the late Ruth Bader Ginsburg in a lame-duck session. Democrat Joe Biden's campaign and aligned Democratic Party committees entered September and the fall sprint to Election Day with $466 million in cash reserves -- giving the former vice president a significant financial advantage over President Donald Trump. Team Biden's cash position, released by his campaign Sunday night, puts the Democratic nominee and his party about $141 million ahead of Trump's political operation. It represents a sharp reversal from the opening months of the general election when Trump enjoyed a formidable financial lead. The Government Accountability Office, Congress' auditing arm, said in a report Monday that possibly 8.7 million or more individuals who are eligible for the economic impact payments have yet to receive those payments because of inadequate IRS and Treasury Department records. The masters of repeated programs like the bots they are, impeachment didnt work last time, so lets try it again, smh when will people see through this madness? $466M in cash reserves can feed thousands of people or get them off the streets, instead of wasting it on a senile kiddie fiddler of an old man unable to speak for himself due to onset of dementia. Yet millions of stupid people not only fund him, but vote for him as well, all because of the failed tribal party politics line. I wonder how many understand the meaning behind Republican or Democrat, one wonders if they did, how many would actually vote?

The Pentagon redirected most of its $1 billion in pandemic funding to defense contractors who exchanged the money for jet engine parts, body armor, dress uniforms and other military needs. The CARES Act passed by Congress in March granted the Department of Defense $1 billion to both prevent and get ready to respond to the corona virus, but the Post reported that in the weeks that followed, hundreds of millions of the taxpayer money was instead utilized to obtain military supplies. This was a change from the intent of Congress, the Post noted. Meanwhile, U.S. health officials are still requesting funding for pandemic response, including $6 billion for states to make vaccines available when they are developed and to address a shortage in N95 masks for hospitals. The Pentagon has also requested that $11 billion be provided in a potential new stimulus bill being debated by Congress. Congress instructed the $1 billion in the CARES Act to go to Defense Production Act (DPA) efforts, which permits President Trump to direct U.S. companies to manufacture necessary products, such as personal protective equipment (PPE). Months after the funding was allocated, department lawyers concluded the money could be used for defense production, including projects that had little to do with responding to the pandemic, the Post reported. Smaller firms received more than a third of the funding for less than $5 million, but hundreds of millions of dollars went to several large companies. At least 10 of the about 30 contractors awarded with DPA funding also received money from the Paycheck Protection Program. THI proven correct again as we exposed this a long time back and the links to these "contractor" groups, it is a look after the cronies and kickback exercise, they are stealing the peoples money with impunity in vast quantities and despite 4 years of Trumpster being for the people we are told, it is still ongoing. It's about time things were turned on these organized criminals and things and the truth comes home to roost.

CAUGHT OUT OR EXPOSED: A Black Lives Matter activist in Washington has gone into social media hiding, after her efforts to dox a CVS drugstore manager for calling the police on two suspected shoplifters didn't go over as swimmingly as she planned. The chain of events began when the woman, Charity Sade, started recording police who were questioning two black men outside a CVS store. At one point, an officer warns one of the suspects not to interrupt him while he's talking to the other man, saying "His freedom is dependent on your actions." Sade then interjects, asking the officer for his name and badge number. She then films another video of herself confronting the CVS manager inside the store for calling the police. The manager explains that it's company policy to contact the police when a shoplifter exits the store without paying for merchandise. He added that he chose not to press charges against the men, but asked the police to inform them that they could no longer shop at his store. Sade then berates the manager, saying, "It's not your merchandise. It's the store's. So, you know what happens... You decided to call the police on two black people that stole, that allegedly took something from the store because you're willing to uphold the policy, and they could have lost their lives." Jackassery logic at it's finest, don't punish black people for doing wrong, in case some cop shoots them, perhaps the moral of the story is, don't commit crimes in the first place? oops talking common sense again I know.

An Indianapolis activist for Black Lives Matter, Satchuel Paigelyn Cole, has admitted to pretending to be black for years, coming forward after a local news report revealed the truth. "I have taken up space as a black person while knowing I am white," Cole admitted this week in a Facebook post. "I have used blackness when it was not mine to use. I have asked for support and energy as a black person." Cole, formerly known as Jennifer Benton and born to two white Indianapolis parents in 1975 – and who was born female but uses 'they/them' pronouns – changed her name in 2010 and began identifying as black. Cole became active in black and LGBT groups, and was frequently interviewed by local media as a leader in the black community. But Cole's true background was exposed this week in an article by black online news outlet Black Indy Live. The article alleged that Cole also misappropriated thousands of dollars of activism funding received since 2018. More recently, George Washington University history professor Jessica Krug admitted that she had been pretending to be black for almost her entire adult life. Krug, who is white and grew up Jewish, also worked as an "Afro-Latina" activist in New York City under the alias Jess La Bombera. These stage actors are far more common than you think, particularly amongst the alt media circuit, it resembles a punch and judy show out there, puppets with hands up their ass holes and talking gibberish.

There will follow a number of exposes now, and whilst it is great news for us all that this is being exposed. As a reminder I would ask our listeners to still exercise caution as to why this is being exposed now, because all of it is due to faction fighting, none who out this to date have proven, this is solely for the greater good of we the people. Leaked documents involving about $2tn of transactions have revealed how some of the world's biggest banks have allowed criminals to move dirty money around the world. $2T is low balling the problem on a massive scale, runs into tens of trillions if full truth be known. They also show how Russian oligarchs have used banks to avoid sanctions, that were supposed to stop them getting their money into the West. It's the latest in a string of leaks over the past five years that have exposed secret deals, money laundering and financial crime. The FinCEN files are more than 2,500 documents, most of which were files that banks sent to the US authorities between 2000 and 2017. FinCEN is the US Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, these are the people at the US Treasury who combat financial crime. Concerns about transactions made in US dollars need to be sent to FinCEN, even if they took place outside the US. Suspicious activity reports, or SARs, are an example of how those concerns are recorded. If you are planning to profit from a criminal enterprise, one of the most important things to have in place is a way of laundering the money. Laundering money is the process of taking dirty money - the proceeds of crimes such as drug dealing or corruption - and getting it into an account at a respected bank, where it will not be linked with the crime. Banks are supposed to make sure they don't help clients to launder money or move it around in ways that break the rules. What has been revealed? HSBC allowed fraudsters to move millions of dollars of stolen money around the world, even after it learned from US investigators the scheme was a scam. JP Morgan allowed a company to move more than $1bn through a London account, without knowing who owned it, if you believe that statement you will believe anything, all banks knew and all of them facilitated it, due to higher level connections requesting it. The bank later discovered the company might be owned by a mobster on the FBI's 10 Most Wanted list. Evidence that one of Russian President Vladimir Putin's closest associates, used Barclays bank in London to avoid sanctions, which were meant to stop him using financial services in the West. Some of the cash was used to buy works of art. The husband of a woman who has donated £1.7m to the UK's governing Conservative Party's, was secretly funded by a Russian oligarch with close ties to President Putin. That oligarch is not Russian at all, but Jewish. The UK is called a "higher risk jurisdiction" and compared to Cyprus, by the intelligence division of FinCEN. That's because of the number of UK registered companies that appear in the SARs. If that is the case and given the Rothschild's ran the UK finances, where are the investigations and arrests of the Rothschild's clan, why are they left out of being mentioned, when they owned nearly all banks? Over 3,000 UK companies are named in the FinCEN files - more than any other country. Chelsea owner Roman Abramovich once held secret investments in footballers not owned by his club, through an offshore company. The United Arab Emirates' central bank failed to act on warnings about a local firm which was helping Iran evade sanctions. Deutsche Bank moved money launderers' dirty money for organised crime, terrorists and drug traffickers. Standard Chartered, who like HSBC Hong Kong are involved in child trafficking, moved cash for Arab Bank for more than a decade after, clients' accounts at the Jordanian bank had been used in funding terrorism. Which proves it is these banks that create, fund and profit from war, they have done zero to stop it. They will allow these criminals to move money unhindered, yet scrutinize ordinary peoples accounts with veracity. Limits to receive and send and an interrogation of clients who have the audacity to request a few thousand dollars of their own money, remember banks have no money, only our money.

Stephen F. Cohen, the leading American Russia expert of his generation and a celebrated historian of Russia and the Soviet Union, who became a vocal critic of Washington's "new Cold War" with Moscow, has died at the age of 81. Cohen succumbed to lung cancer at his home in Manhattan, on Friday, according to his wife Katrina vanden Heuvel, who is also the part-owner and publisher of The Nation magazine, where he worked as a contributing editor. A native of Kentucky, he was a prolific and prominent scholar in his field, serving as a professor emeritus of Russian studies at Princeton University and New York University. As a frequent visitor to Russia, Cohen became well-connected among leading Soviet dissidents, politicians and thinkers in the 1980s, even befriending Soviet premier Mikhail Gorbachev. Cohen also advised former US President George Bush, senior, in the late 1980s, and assisted Anna Larina, the widow of Nikolai Bukharin, to rehabilitate her husband's name during the Soviet era. He had earlier written a biography of the journalist and politician, which argued that had Bukharin succeeded Vladimir Lenin as Bolshevik leader, rather than Joseph Stalin, the Soviet Union would have enjoyed greater openness, and perhaps even democracy. Born to died in again, and this Jewish influencing courtesy of holding high level positions in this and other countries, is something that needs addressing at the top levels of every government.

A British businessman, formerly of MI6, is under investigation for allegedly selling information to undercover spies from China, a Whitehall official says. Fraser Cameron, who runs the EU-Asia Centre think tank, is suspected of passing sensitive information about the EU to two spies allegedly posing as Brussels-based journalists. He is alleged to have exchanged the information for thousands of Euros. But Mr Cameron told The Times the allegations were "ridiculous". The businessman, who worked for Britain's Secret Intelligence Service from 1976 to 1991, says he has no access to any "secret or confidential information". Mr Cameron, who has also worked for the Foreign Office and European Commission, told Politico that the allegations "are without foundation", saying he has "a wide range of Chinese contacts as part of my duties with the EU-Asia Centre and some of them may have a double function". A senior Whitehall official, who asked not to be named, told the BBC the investigation had been a long-running joint inquiry between British and Belgian intelligence and claimed that a breakthrough had come in recent months. He said this was a great example of how closely British intelligence worked with its European partners. The BBC's security correspondent Frank Gardner says there have been growing fears about the extent of covert Chinese intelligence-gathering in Europe, including over sensitive negotiations between the EU and Britain over Brexit. Belgium's state security service is quoted by the Financial Times as saying Mr Cameron's alleged actions posed "a clear threat towards the European institutions" based in the Belgian capital. Whether Mr.

Cameron is related to former Prime Minister of the UK or not, the name Cameron and that family have been involved in several indiscretions in several countries, none more than Ewan Cameron who ran the Mengele program on Canadians.

A New York City Police Department officer has been charged with acting as an illegal agent for China. Tibet-born Baimadajie Angwang is accused of reporting on the activities of Chinese citizens in the New York area, and assessing potential sources of intelligence in the Tibetan community. The naturalised US citizen, who worked for the police department's community affairs unit, was arrested on Monday. If convicted, he faces a maximum sentence of 55 years in prison. According to prosecutors, Angwang is also employed by the US Army Reserve, working as a civil affairs specialist. He is accused of being in contact with two officials at the Chinese consulate. Aside from reporting on Tibetans in the city, he allegedly provided the consulate with access to senior NYPD officials through invitations to official events.

Three good news stories coming up: An Australian state leader on Tuesday described an Israeli court decision to extradite a former teacher wanted in Australia on charges of molesting children as a victory for abuse victims. Daniel Andrews is premier of Victoria state where Malka Leifer is accused of molesting three sisters, Dassi Erlich, Nicole Meyer and Elly Sapper — while they were students at a Melbourne ultra-Orthodox school. Andrews welcomed a Jerusalem District Court ruling on Monday, that Leifer could be extradited to Australia to stand trial for 74 charges of child sex abuse, potentially paving the way for the Israeli citizen to stand trial in Victoria after a six-year legal battle. “This is a very, a very significant day for victims of child sexual abuse across our entire state, and to come, as it does, so close to Jewish New Year, can I say Shanah Tovah to Dassi Erlich and her sisters,” Andrews said, using a Hebrew New Year greeting. “This is a really, really good outcome for victims of child sexual abuse, and to Dassi and her family, to her sisters and extended family, they have our praise, we admire them, their strength is an inspiration,” he added. Andrews could not say if a trial would be expedited if Leifer returned to Melbourne, where the court system has been disrupted by a pandemic lockdown.

Cleveland, OH – United States Marshal Pete Elliott, Police Chief Calvin Williams, Sheriff David Schilling, East Cleveland Police Chief Scott Gardner, and Newburgh Heights Police Chief John Majoy announce the recovery of 35 children during of Operation Safety Net. The U.S. Marshals Service has been working with its state and local partners over the past month, to locate and recover missing juveniles from the Cuyahoga County area. A total of 35 missing and endangered children, between the ages of 13 and 18, were recovered during the operation. A little more than 20% were tied to human trafficking cases, and those cases were referred to the Human Trafficking Task Force in Cuyahoga County. Of the 40 missing cases referred to the Marshals Task Force only 5 cases remain open. Members of the task force and its local partners will continue to work over the next several weeks to bring these 5 remaining children and other children to safety.

Jong Woo Son, 23, a South Korean national, was indicted by a federal grand jury in the District of Columbia for his operation of Welcome To Video, the largest child sexual exploitation market by volume of content. The nine-count indictment was unsealed along with a parallel civil forfeiture action. Son has also been charged and convicted in South Korea, and is currently in custody serving his sentence in South Korea. An additional 337 site users residing in Alabama, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington State and Washington, D.C. as well as the United Kingdom, South Korea, Germany, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, the Czech Republic, Canada, Ireland, Spain, Brazil and Australia have been arrested and charged.

With the furlough scheme set to end, London Mayor Sadiq Khan wants to cap rents to stop a wave of evictions. But it is stated he's more interested in protecting the city's gilded image rather than helping the poor, who he's ignored for years. London Mayor Sadiq Khan is finally making noise about the astronomical rent that, citizens are forced to pay for the privilege of living in Britain's capital city. Khan wants new powers regarding rent to be devolved to City Hall, as he is said to fear another spike in homelessness and mass exodus as the government's furlough scheme ends, and evictions of renters can start again. Londoners pay eye-watering prices for some of the worst housing in the country – a one-bedroom ex-council flat in the East End can easily cost a renter £1,450 pcm, while many people in the city spend upwards of 50 percent of their income on rent alone. With tourists missing from the London economy, the theatres, restaurants and bars struggling to open, and the financial district, the City of London, looking and feeling like a ghost town as people work from home, you can see Khan's fear – London is losing its gold plating. Consequently, he believes that halting rent hikes in London for up to five years could slow down the process of dulling the city's shine. Ourosborus planning again, jacked prices up for the rich and elites, now the pinch has come, no one wants or can afford to live there anymore, all hail the think tanks for their repeated stupidity plans.

European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen has resurrected the idea of an EU-wide ID system. What form it takes is unclear, but history suggests it will struggle to get off the ground. Not too sure of that with the amount of mask wearing bots around. Having finally returned with the EU circus to Strasbourg after weeks of umm-ing and aah-ing, Euro MPs are now safely back where they can pull apart the attacks and boasts of Commission President Ursula von der Leyen's first State of the EU address. Alongside the bizarre claim that it was the EU which led the way in tackling the pandemic at the outset – er, no it wasn't – were digs at the UK (naturally), Russia (of course) and China (who else?). Finding her stride and knowing that wild ambitions were expected in this usually tedious session of ego-stroking, the former German defense minister announced new green targets, a universal migration governance scheme and plans to spend eight billion euros on developing a new generation of "supercomputers." Green targets is like Pelosi family green deal, nothing green or environmental about it, migration scheme? hmm, who is migrating? coastal Americans? middle east peoples including and don't laugh because I am serious, Israeli people, think caliphate, super computers? I thought they already had them, given several QS claims. Some already use highly sophisticated ID cards domestically which are enough to cause a major inconvenience if lost – France for instance. Other countries might not be so happy to cede their data to an EU Big Brother, having had recent history with similar regimes of which they were only too glad to be rid, and were among the reasons they joined the apparently easy-going EU in the first place. This proposal is going to be an impossible sell to a skeptical European population, already tired of Brussels' oversight and interference in their lives. Everyone loves the EU money and the freedom of movement, for sure, but that doesn't mean they want some faceless data analyst digging around in the nooks and crannies of their private lives, so their information can be used to target them for commercial or political gain. They already have all the data, they just want to imprint in our skin or initially on our person for their robot police to have all details of persons in their field of view, think Continuum.

Having warned a few years back they would turn on E cigarettes as well, and with their fake concern for our health now reaching retard proportions, in come the think tank opportunists. Emissions from e-cigarettes are not harmless and calling them vapour is purposefully misleading, scientists argue. While the puffs from e-cigs aren't exactly smoke, the term 'vapour' often brings to mind an innocuous cloud of water. As such, public health experts argue 'aerosol' is a more accurate description, as e-cigarette clouds have been shown to contain harmful chemicals that may hang in the air and settle on nearby surfaces. The change in name might sound pedantic, but new research suggests it has a real impact on public policy and how individuals assess their risk of exposure from tobacco products. Comparing three terms for e-cig emissions among 791 college students, researchers found the word "vapour" was linked to a lower sense of risk from secondhand exposure. So, some common sense questions, if E-cigarettes are found to contain harmful chemicals like cigarettes, who allowed those harmful chemicals into those items to begin with? Why isn't they FDA made more accountable? Smoking is not the issue, it is the harmful chemicals the governments allow and in some cases promote that is the real issue. All natives people smoke natural tobacco and yet had no outbreaks of disease we are told before the Europeans arrived on Jewish slave ships. Smoke natural tobacco and hand made cigars and you will be fine, actually prevents bacteria in your throat and lung cancer, oops, who cares if ET's or the adrenochrome and blood vampires don't like it, a smoke or several a day keeps the reps away. Quit? you got another thing coming

The CIA launched its own federal lab and research and development branch on Monday. CIA Labs makes the agency a possible research partner for the more than 300 other federal labs and academic experts. The lab will also allow CIA officers to get patents and licenses for any intellectual property they create while working at the agency. The agents would then be able to take a portion of the profits, while the CIA will take the rest of the money, according to the MIT Technology Review. Officers could make 15 percent of the total income with a maximum of $150,000 per year. The research areas that CIA Labs cover will include artificial intelligence, bioscience, virtual and augmented reality, quantum computing and advanced materials and manufacturing, among others, according to a release. "CIA Labs conducts multidisciplinary research, development, testing, and engineering to address new challenges; adapt, improve, or accelerate the production of existing solutions; and solve persistent scientific and technological problems in new ways," the release said. The CIA requests that other federal labs and academic leaders send in their ideas to work together via an online form. Dawn Meyerriecks, the head of CIA's directorate of science and technology, said in a statement that CIA Labs "will help us maintain our competitive edge and protect our nation." "Some phenomenal innovations have come from CIA over the years, and with CIA Labs, we're now better positioned to optimize developments and further invest in our scientists and technologists," she said. What could possibly go wrong with this enterprise? Sounds eerily like the same plan I was asked to in part engage in with the Trustee and her former partner to me, the latter of which turned out to be rogue, and something she needs to address. It is just another lets keep it all in house and a private group said to be connected and working for our government, when they are not and this is a further attempt to avoid government oversight. This practice needs to be banned outright, the CIA have been found wanting and engaging in every criminal act possible, and the public and government trust in them should be zero.

Here is a little known factoid that his story often leaves out of the narrative at our expense, another fact that makes no sense in light of their story. Did you know that there was around 150,000 German Jews that served in the German armed forces, even in the SS, and Hitler's personal chauffeur as well as his personal doctor were both Jews. If he had really been exterminating Jews as stated, why was he training them in trades to look after themselves following deportation, do you think they would not have mutinied and assassinated him? It was said that Hitler at one point was on the right track to destroying the controllers of mankind. He was trying to exterminate "the chosen ones" in order to exterminate the ones who chose them. The fact that many of these chosen ones were and are Jewish, including the Rothschild family banks that was destroying Germany's economy, and he tried to get rid of, should not be overlooked. The Jews he targeted were not real Jews to begin with, and are masked as Jews when underneath the masks, they were not.

On 21 March 2016, Donald Trump addressed some 18,000 supporters of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC), an influential pro-Israel lobby group, and outlined his most detailed thoughts yet on the prospects for Middle East peace, on curbing Iran's nuclear ambitions and on defeating the violent extremists of the Islamic State. Trump's AIPAC speech, which unusually for him he read from a prepared text, was a mixture of pandering, implausible bluster and contradictory promises. The billionaire denounced the United Nations as an anti-Israeli opponent of democracy. "We will totally dismantle Iran's global terrorist network, which is big and powerful—but not powerful like us," he promised, without further explanation. He said he would "dismantle the disastrous deal" struck by President Barack Obama to curb Iran's nuclear ambitions, then seemed to say that he would enforce it, or perhaps the sanctions regime that preceded it, "like you haven't seen the terms of a contract enforced." In his speech to AIPAC, Trump worked hard to cast himself as sternly pro-Israeli. He variously cited his role as Grand Marshal of the 2004 "Salute to Israel" Parade in New York City and his daughter Ivanka's conversion to Judaism after marriage. Months after angering a gathering of Jewish Republicans by fudging his views on the status of Jerusalem, Trump bowed to conservative pressure and pledged to AIPAC, that he would move the American embassy to that divided city, calling it "the eternal capital of the Jewish people". Most straightforwardly, Trump brought his constant campaign-trail refrain about being a savvy businessman and deal-maker to AIPAC, offering America as a broker between Israel and the Palestinians. "Deals are made when parties come to the table and negotiate. Each side must give up something it values in exchange for something it requires," he told delegates. Yes what he gave up was America and Americans from my view point. In the poisonously divided politics of 2016 Washington, even suggesting that Israel might have to give anything up in the name of peace involves challenging conservative shibboleths. In recent years, Republicans have aligned themselves with the views of Binyamin Netanyahu, the Israeli prime minister, in suggesting that Israel should not be prodded to engage in talks, because the Palestinian side has shown no sincerity or seriousness as a potential partner for peace. Classic agency and alt media clownery that, accuse others of doing what they have done or haven't done. Jump forward a few months to November 2016 and Israel's headlines were screaming "Netanyahu hails Donald Trump as a 'true friend' of Israel". Israel's far-Right, in the form of Education Minister Naftali Bennett for the religious settler party, Jewish Home was in ecstasy. Bennett said: "Trump's victory is an opportunity for Israel to immediately retract the notion of a Palestinian state in the centre of the country, which would hurt our security and just cause. This is the position of the President-elect ... The era of a Palestinian state is over." Make of that what you will, is it willful or under threat?

Logs for every flight made by Jeffrey Epstein's aircraft over 21 years have been subpoenaed, "sparking panic" among his rich and famous pals. The Attorney General for the US Virgin Islands, where Epstein had a home, has demanded logs for his four helicopters and three planes, from 1998 to his suicide last year. Denise George has filed a lawsuit against Epstein's estate, alleging 22 counts, including aggravated rape, child abuse and neglect, human trafficking, forced labour and prostitution. As well as the passenger lists, Ms George is seeking any "complaints or reports of potentially suspicious conduct" and any personal notes the pilots made. We reported last year that information shows former US President Bill Clinton flew with Epstein 29 times and most times with underage girls. We also reported that Clinton and Obama economist and the former President of Harvard, Larry Summers, who was born to, took numerous flights on Jeffrey Epstein's jet. He even flew on Epstein's jet to Epstein's infamous 'Orgy Island' ten days after his marriage in 2005. We also reported that Clinton's former National Security Advisor, Sandy Berger, born in and born to, took a flight on the Epstein Express from Epstein's 'Orgy Island' as well. US News reported about Berger for being charged with stealing documents from the National Archives, by stuffing them in his clothes to protect President Clinton and himself from actions related to Osama Bin Ladin. Al Gore also flew on the Epstein express. More to follow I am sure and lets see if we can see if we can trump that list.

So with UK telling people to be ready for the 3 days and to evacuate and the lamb to the slaughter prime minister also saying this week, current restrictions are likely to remain in place for the next six months. A timely reminder of the timeline of their plans. Eventually end the phase 1 quarantine once they get enough public push-back (~June 2020), and publicly state that they still think it's "too early" to end the isolation but are going to do it anyways. Once the public go "back to normal" wait a few weeks and then continue to over-hype the research strain mortality rate (~Aug-Sept 2020), and combine it with the increase in deaths due to people dying from standard illnesses at a higher rate then normal due to having highly weakened immune systems from months of being in isolation, to help further "pad" the mortality rate and hype the upcoming phase 2 lockdown. Eventually enact phase

2 quarantines (~Oct-Nov 2020) on an even more extreme level and blame the protesters (mostly people who don't trust their government already) for the cause of the "larger" 2nd wave (we told you so, it was too early, this is all your fault cause you needed a hair cut, your freedoms have consequences...). Should this unfold in this manner the US Election would be canceled, delayed or suspended. Enforce the phase 2 quarantines at a much more extreme level, increasing the penalty for defiance (replace fines with jail time), deem ALL travel as non-essential, increase checkpoints (including military assistance), increase tracking/tracing of the population (mandatory apps), take over control of food/gas (large scale shortages) so that people can only get access to essential products/services if they are FIRST given permission. Keep the phase 2 lockdown in place for a much longer period of time than the phase 1 lockdown, continuing to destroy the global economy, further degrade the supply chain, and further amplify the food shortages, and alike. Quell any public outrage using extreme actions/force and make anyone who defies them appear as public enemy #1 to those who are willing to submit. After a rather long phase 2 lockdown (6+ months), roll-out the vaccination program + vaccine certification and make it mandatory for everyone (giving priority access to those that submitted from the start), and have those that are for it attack those that are against it saying they are a threat and the cause of all the problems (we can't go back to normal until EVERYONE takes the vaccine... people defying them are hurting our way of life and therefore are the enemy). If the majority of people go along with the agenda then let those people enter the new system (new normal) while limiting the minority that defy the agenda's ability to work/travel/live. If the majority of people go against the agenda then release the weaponized SARS/HIV/MERS tribrid strain as phase 3, a virus with a 30%+ mortality rate as a final scare to push the minority to quickly become the majority and give a final "we told you so" to those that didn't listen. Enact the new economy model (Microsoft patent 060606 - Cryptocurrency System Using Body Activity Data) which is based on human behavior and willingness to submit (tweaked version of Black Mirror's "Fifteen Million Merits") using food/water/shelter and other essentials as a weapon of enforcement of the new economic system. Basically do what we want and get rewarded (gain credits/score and gain more access to things you need to survive) or go against what we want and get penalized (lose credits/score and lose access to things you need to survive). Which was also the same concept in the series Continuum, you have free will under binding restrictions, comply or die essentially. Boris Johnson warned of bringing troops on the streets in the UK, and Trump told Americans the militaries will administer the vaccines, then throw in that the Trustee told Alan James that Trump is a good guy, but he is the Black Sun and a bigger picture emerges.

UK NHS put out a preparedness statement for households this week. Recommended a bug out bag and to have a plan and supplies for 72 hours, nice shift of words that, 72 hours is 3 days and in biblical terms, you all know what that means. Create a grab bag with key items in case of a sudden evacuation. What are they evacuating you from? Well if you follow the plethora of channels on the alt media, you will believe you are following the fake Dolores Cannon narrative and heading to 5D, on some spaceships. Why do I say fake, because Dolores Cannon was not the medium, it was her husband who channeled and she just relayed his story after he died. It is no coincidence the Dolores Cannon is being pushed again in the alt media, a convenient savior program solution offered again to the sheep to follow the west gate pattern again, like those people have done for 78K years. It's the seducement and lazy path that too many follow and have fallen for, and why very few on this planet make the east gate. It is the left hand path, trodden so well by the elites to seduce you in, so they can harvest your energy. Don't believe me? that is fine by me, it is your choice of whether to be the battery and have your energy siphoned, or develop and have your energy boosted. The west gate is on the left and is the left hand path, they have agents to seduce the people there for the harvest. Sun rises in the east and sets in the west on the left hand path, the sun sets and turns into the dark. Why do they call it sun set, because of the old gods game again, now being repeated again before our eyes, I told you we would see this year, and we will take a peak into that in a later show, the god Set and his army of dark minions. You play the game and you become the hunted game, and then you are set, once a connection is made you create a match, then you are the game, set and match. Tennis meaning comes from three words, hold, receive and take, which in that order is a binding. Hold onto something is the bind, you then receive (or greet) the bind, and then take whoever the bind is. Tennis is played with a racket, but racket has two meanings, a net which is the trap, players on each side of the net, which is then flipped and then they are on the opposite side of the net, think of the egg timer analogy and stand on your base line. You have an umpire which also means to judge, he or she is a representative of a high priest or priestess adjudicating the court, court has two meanings as well, as the song says and you know sometimes words have two meanings. The object of the game is to return, is that return to Set? where you will serve him? and become a seeded player? which means to handicap. Then you have the deuce point, which means two, but is it another binding term? perhaps this description of deuce provides the answer? The word deuce became a mild oath by 1710, about 50 years after it was first attested in the sense of "bad luck, the devil, etc.," perhaps because two was the lowest score, and probably by similarity to Latin deus and related words meaning "god." That god was Set, after he rallied you, then volleyed you, backhanded you all in his court, to then pass judgment on you. Then you need new balls please, as Set has just kicked in your testicles, and served them to you on a silver platter, which you are awarded if you win the game. Is Arthur Ashe who has statues of him everywhere a real name or a play on words? actually we don't know his real name as he came from an African family and adopted the plantation owners name of Ashe. Is it Arthur Ashe or is it Arth of Ur in ashes, some may think that is far fetched but there are plenty of other examples to make you think about that. Tennis has a few anagrams of sent in, sin net, sin ten, ten is the decimal and 1's and 0's Tennis is also an anagram of Set and the old motel like building called an Inn, for those going the west gate, perhaps the sign says welcome to the Set Inn, enjoy your stay. Game, Set and Match may never sound the same now. Once you join and play in the Set, and like in the game of Tennis, love becomes zero.

What is the convergence? what is the transition? What happens at the end of the vortex? What is the east and west gate? are some of the questions asked about a recent show. Now the loop is ending although it appears it has to play out to the end now, which will get ugly, painful and elements of doubts and stress thrown into the mix as well, it is ultimately one of triumph amongst the chaos that has and will unfold. There are many aspects to life beyond the physical, that sadly too few on this planet comprehend or understand. But when a whole solar system is ready for the next leap forward, it has to move to a different time space, space time and sometimes to another Universe to progress forward. Universes are separated by a thin membrane that we can cross with this meat suit aligned with the soul and spirit package we have, other species largely cannot and why they piggy back us. Despite their several and unending attempts to date, they have not been able to replicate this version of humanoid. When a system is ready for expansion it goes through the G cloud which ensures organic life only, inorganic will not survive that field. But the solar system needs to be in the right region of space to merge both the galaxy or solar system and the G cloud together to then create the boost to progress on a higher path and frequency. Once that bond is completed and if we our developed enough, we have the potential to pass through the Universal membrane and into another Universe. The those who inhabit that Universe they will see it as a burst of light forming, if it is a new Universe and scientists of the future unaware of what the remnants of gas, clouds and dust, they will record it as the Big Bang, of where everything in the Universe started. Scientists hypothesize these passing through a membrane and returning, when operating at the cell level. You start off with one cell, it briefly goes missing and then returns with two cells, those two go missing and return with four cells, and the process is repeated with the cells going missing and returning doubled in size. This could be a process of time and space, it could also be a process that those cells go into other Universes, and also the possibility those cells go to Source and return, either way it is extraordinary in and of itself of the sheer possibilities we all possess. Life is a precious resource, that is all too lightly taken for granted in this fast paced, greed, madness and chaos based world, until that life is taken away. Then we ponder, and yes we should stop and ponder long and hard on ourselves and our impact in and on life. Are our own actions, statements and behaviors conducive to ourselves and others? is something we should all take into account. Whilst many paid their respects this week, some chose to ignore common decency and not pay respects and that says more about them than anything I could say. Rivalry and bitterness serves no one except the dark forces who thrive on those divisions, and low vibrational frequencies. We end this show with a song as tribute to my dad whose current lifetime ended this week, this was his favorite song. Goodnight from me and goodnight to dad.
