"Project Veritas is filing a lawsuit today against The New York Times for their defamatory articles attacking our Minnesota Ballot Harvesting story." Project Veritas also released screenshots of every claim they believe to be "deceptive" on the part of NYT. O'Keefe said "There was absolutely no deceptive editing done in our videos, the rampant Ballot Harvesting Fraud taking place in Minnesota was crystal clear for anyone to see." Between Oct 20 and Oct 26, the United States set 3,434 new DAILY low temp records (vs the 517 max), 234 new MONTHLY low temp records (vs just the 1 max), as well as 114 ALL-TIME low temp records (vs the big fat 0 max). For decades it has been hammered into us that extreme cold events and severe snowstorms will be "a thing of the past", that a steadily warming world will see the back of recording breaking lows and all time heavy snows. But now, after an undeniable increase in Arctic outbreaks over recent years, some members of the AGW party have felt the need to "tweak" the narrative. Winter has knocked in North India including Delhi. Scientists from the Meteorological Department of India (IMD) said the national capital recorded a minimum temperature of 12.5 degrees Celsius on Thursday. October has not seen such a low temperature in the last 26 years. This was observed due to the light layer of clouds and the slow wind. According to IMD, the normal minimum temperature at this time of the year is 15-16 ° C. When the MSM declare a sign on a college campus wall saying it's ok to be white as a hate message, you know they are running programs of division and the world is going completely mad. Prime Minister Boris Johnson has announced a second national lockdown for England to prevent a "medical and moral disaster" for the NHS. He said Christmas may be "very different" but he hoped taking action now would mean families can gather. Pubs, restaurants, gyms and non-essential shops will have to close for four weeks from Thursday, he said. But unlike the restrictions in spring, schools, colleges and universities can stay open. After 2 December, the restrictions would be eased and regions would go back to the tiered system, he said. Mr Johnson said: "Christmas is going to be different this year, perhaps very different, but it's my sincere hope and belief that by taking tough action now we can allow families across the country to be together." If you want to see the difference of what can be said by a prime minister and former prime minister go and check out Therese Mays last speech in Parliament, hit the nail on the head. Your politicians are told what to say and do and the sooner we realize that the better. The FedEx leaders discussed in a virtual event how innovations like robotic arms at the Express World Hub in Memphis, delivery robot Roxo, automation at FedEx Ground facilities and a Mercedes-Benz collaboration will help the company move forward amid the COVID-19 pandemic and the flood of packages. Robot army here we come. Tyranny on the streets of the UK as the initial army experiment that went on the streets didn't receive much kick back, and so out they roll onto the streets. They are now mass testing all enforced by the army, whole cities at a time: first stop Liverpool, UK. Traditionally a hot bed of people who speak up and yet curiously quiet in recent times, now is not the time to be quiet. As for the rest of the UK, if you don't stop what is happening in Liverpool, you are all next.

Pleased to hear many of our members have been sharing Monday's show and letter contained within the show done by NSW police department in Australia. Reports of it being shared with other police departments in several countries have come in since Monday. All good stuff, lets rebuild our communities with the police, we have a common enemy here that is fighting hard to ruin us all, with their psychotic agendas. The police have an added agenda now to work with we the people, A: we are stronger in terms of solidarity and conviction. B: in terms of numbers and support and C: cops will all be replaced by robots unless we act now, not tomorrow like the RV, 2 weeks like Drake or the latest wait club this coming Monday or Tuesday, now. United we stand divided we fall.

Got a report from one of the members that they have contacted some highly respected Indigenous Elders about the upcoming event at Uluru, and they're very aware of what is going on and are warning people about the many dark agendas. Some of your ancestors have done enough damage to we the people and this planet 16500 years ago, with your Kali Ma and sacrificial obsessions, and we will not allow you to cause further damage. We broke your stupid ceremonies with a revocation last year, this time we mean business in far greater scope. Message to the indigenous dark forces including Sacha Stone, we are coming for you and will counteract your stupidity, and there will be consequences of your actions on that day. tick tock.

werrrrlll Trump not winning the election just as we warned of. In scheme of things it really doesn't make a great deal of difference, neither are fit to govern, and neither have been shown to be for and by the people. There is corruption on both sides, 2 faces 1 coin and the lesson from it all is, we the people have to come together and build an alternative solution for our government, country and people. Trump can barely complain about voter fraud, when according to the Trustee she fixed the last election in his favor. Now you know why they argued over Supreme court nominees, it is all staged managed to me. Over 100M never voted in the last election and was the leading figures by far, what changed for them 48 months later? nothing. What changed for the 130M who did vote? nothing, and unless you are doing common core maths, nothing plus nothing equals nothing. Nothing has no value, we the people do, we just forget to remember that fact. Our only solution which is a long term plan is to build The Peoples Club, enough of wait clubs be it NESARA, RV's, Trusts, BC funds etc, just us and we build the network. We can sit around and accept the forecasted cries of election fraud, or build something new. Yet again this country has proven to be incompetent on many levels, the whole world sees us as one giant joke. We can all point fingers at the politicians, but it is we the people who are really responsible for the mess, due to dissolving our own responsibility.

Too easy to pass on responsibility to a few select others, why do people do that? so nothing wrong can then be apportioned to them self, but it was wrong to pass on that responsibility in the first place, do you not see that?

As Trump is poised to lose an election replicating Hillary losing a one horse race 4 years ago. I look back on the last 4 years that I personally had a close involvement in, and Kim and I together had a heavy input into. This is a President that was given access to files way above his pay grade, no other President has received that. Kim sent top level files to expose all of the corruption - Trump did nothing Kim declared America Sovereign - Trump did nothing Trump complained about the fake news, I went through a 340+ document called the Telecommunications Act of 1934, gave him 15 loopholes to close down the MSM within an hour - Trump did nothing. Kim, I and the team worked on a tax reform and was deposited into a bill January 2019, this would have deleted all taxes on your wages and salary, reduced all taxes and put more money in your pocket to improve the economy, and more money in the Government's pocket to look after the country better - Trump did nothing. Kim gave him a solution to end the Federal Reserve, IRS and The Crown rule, this would have ended the hijacking of American finances, created new jobs, America would have had a National Bank, and IRS reformed away from being crooks for The Crown in Puerto Rico, to the original Tax Revenue Division lain dormant since 1933 - Trump did nothing. Kim gave him a solution to building the wall, and how to protect the money - Trump did nothing. Kim cleaned up all the banks, back system, agency and military systems and gave Trump access he is not allowed to have - Trump did nothing. Kim, I and team did a full overhaul of the FEMA disaster relief program and would have replaced it with no cost to the Government, created thousands of new jobs and stopped the corruption - Trump did nothing. We warned Trump about Mnuchin and Kushner committing acts of treason against the country, and told him they need to be fired - Trump did nothing, well actually he appointed Kushner into more prominent positions. When Trump stated he wanted to bring all American troops home, we informed why that couldn't happen immediately and I provided a solution to bring them home, all funded by the Trust - Trump did nothing. Trump was told to cancel the election until the Covid bs of lockdowns and masks were removed, again under the Emergency Act it is a valid reason, simple solution to the Democrat led lockdown and masks, no election until it is all back to normal - Trump did nothing. You want to know why Trump is potentially losing or lost the election, there is your answer. I warned of this over a month ago, and people said it could never happen, while now we stand on the brink of it has. I am not interested in dodgy counting, fake ballots, 125% turnouts in counties and states, it is all irrelevant and has gone on in every single election, and you Mr. Trump gained benefit from that 4 years ago, so lets not use that shit as an excuse, it's child like. You had 4 years to curtail and stop that nonsense and failed to deliver, despite a plethora of promises from Q, nothing concrete was delivered, and that includes the wall, pardon the pun. The Dems have won or winning because Mr. Trump sold his main support down the tube in an air of arrogance and ego, not to mention the two people who gave him so much help for no pay and no little flak for doing so either. That town hall debate where Trump dismissed QAnons to protect himself from portal people flak, after he allowed the media to go unhindered for 4 years was costly. The media and the Dems won the war for the minds and subsequently the narrative, but you Mr. Trump and your Q people failed badly and ultimately sold your own followers down the Delaware River, you just can't do that and expect to retain peoples support. You have to remember the QAnons, people like myself and our listeners run the gauntlet every single day from the masses of sheep bots, who wouldn't know the truth if Jesus came down and told them. We have to face the ridicule every single day, with an army of agency bots on the computer, creating discord, ridicule and slander, and you Mr. Trump dismissed all that support in one interview after near 4 years, shameful. You bowed to the pressure of the treasonous media that day, allowing psychopaths and bots to call the shots, the shot went around the world that day and you fired it, and fired the QAnons in one cowardly interview. A reminder of your show The Apprentice, where you used to call the shots and say your catch phrase, your fired, this time you fired yourself. The consequences now are wide ranging, your legacy will be seen as a failure, because you to date have not shown the required backbone to Make America Great Again, in overview, you sold it out to Langley clowns and is ra el agitators. One consequence of Trump losing this election now is, where does that leave Kim Goguen the Trustee? because I can guarantee the Democrats will not work with her one iota. Pelosi, Clinton and Obama all hate her with a passion, and her position now is essentially and potentially now, an impotent one for at least 4 years. One hopes she uses the next 4 years to listen to what people are telling her, and have told her, and come back stronger and prepare for something in 4 years time, crying and sullying over the past helps no one. Mistakes were made some bigger than others, but they are not for covering up, they need to be spoken out, apologized for and to move on and forward, with a change of mindset from the one, to being part of the all. The one has always failed, the collective has never been tried on a mass scale, now more than ever is the time to do it. Savior programs failed again like all that have gone before, we save us, not I, but we, not the few, but the all. Many will feel down with the result and feel all is lost, but in overview all is won. Why? because the wait club distractions of Trump, Q and The Trustee that has dominated the last 4 years is now rendered mute. Now as THI has stated all along we have to fix it, not them. But we didn't wait around we built our foundation for The Peoples Club, came up with the $1 or more program to fix things ourselves. We have helped, supported, taught, trained and elevated people, we didn't rely solely on Kim, we built it ourselves. We can sit around and mope, or build a Peoples Network over the next 4 years ready for the next elections, and just maybe with enough support and cohesion, we could have our own candidates. I am calling on all the alt media groups to get behind this, it is our only solution now, a network of common law, think tank groups, healthy living groups, food based groups, solution based groups that would evolve into a separate group from the current Peoples Club into a Peoples Club party, for and by the people. Enough of this rivalry of our group is better than your group and child like division, we built the Peoples Club with an adult mind for all the people. Forget your ego this is my group, and think like an adult of this could be our group. The people need a collective voice, a power base, a support base that operates for and by the people. We will not do that, in a plethora of separate groups many doing the same things, some just copying others ideas which is for their own ego. We will only do that coming together for the first time in history, a group solely operated by the people, for the people and for the power of the people.

NEWS Good news story to start off this section of news. More than 100 human trafficking victims were rescued following a statewide anti-human trafficking crack down called "Operation Autumn Hope," Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost announced Monday. The operation was made up of over 50 police departments in Ohio and social service agencies that provided resources to the victims. "Operation Autumn Hope" carried out four key priorities: Rescuing victims of human trafficking and referring them to social services Recovering missing and exploited children Apprehending those seeking to have sex with a minor Arresting male johns seeking to buy sex "Every agency on this team looks for the day when no person is bought and sold in Ohio. Don't buy sex in Ohio!" Yost said. In total, 109 men, women and children were found during the operation. Across southern Ohio, 76 missing and exploited children cases were cleared, including 45 by physical recovery by the U.S. Marshal's Service. Among those found was a 15-year-old girl from Cleveland whose recovery linked her and other possible victims to an individual in Columbus suspected of human trafficking. In Cuyahoga, Franklin and Lucas counties, 157 men were arrested on charges of soliciting and other crimes — a component of Operation Autumn Hope focused on reducing the demand for sex. The Mahoning Valley Human Trafficking Task Force and Franklin Count Sheriff's Office Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force arrested 22 people accused of seeking sex with a minor. Those who were charged with felony counts of importuning, attempted unlawful sexual conduct with a minor and other charges included a pastor, students and a rehabilitation resident adviser. According to Yost, those who were charged with soliciting and other charges included a fireman, an attorney and a motivational speaker.

The United States on Wednesday formally left the Paris Agreement, a global pact it helped forge five years ago to avert the threat of catastrophic climate change. The move, long threatened by U.S. President Donald Trump and triggered by his administration a year ago, further isolates Washington in the world but has no immediate impact on international efforts to curb global warming. Still, the U.N. agency that oversees the treaty, France as the host of the 2015 Paris talks and three countries currently chairing the body that organizes them — Chile, Britain and Italy — issued a joint statement expressing regret at the U.S. withdrawal. The next planned round of U.N. climate talks takes place in Glasgow, Scotland, in 2021. At present, 189 countries have ratified the accord. This is just one of the few things Trump listened and acted upon as that reasoning behind that decision came from our input.

Turkish members of the Nationalist Movement Party (MHP) have condemned the French government's decision to ban a pan-Turkish nationalist group known as the 'Grey Wolves.' On Monday, French Interior Minister Gerald Darmanin announced during a National Assembly meeting about the country's fight against Islamist militants that the cabinet will consider banning the Turkish right-wing group when it meets on Wednesday. Huseyin Sozlu, a member of the MHP, posted on Twitter to strongly condemn the proposed ban, by sharing a photo of the French government "embracing the PKK terrorists in the Elysee Palace," arguing that the apparent hypocrisy exposed "Europe's ambivalent attitude." Sozlu was joined in his criticism by Turkish nationalist Adem Taskaya, who posted that, in response to the ban, soon France's "government will fall," urging President Emmanuel Macron to take "precautions with his mind." The 'Grey Wolves,' established by the Nationalist Movement Party's founder Alparslan Turkes in the 1960s, has been involved in "particularly aggressive" incidents in France in recent weeks, according to Darmanin. Last weekend, French media reported that the group's name and pro-Turkish slogans had been inscribed on an Armenian memorial near Lyon. Tensions have been growing between France and Turkey since Macron pledged a crackdown on radical Islam following the murder of a French teacher by a Chechen Islamist on October 16. Macron also defended the publication of cartoon depictions of the Prophet Mohammed as freedom of expression, drawing harsh rebukes from Turkey's President Recep Tayyip Erdogan. The French government has since increased its efforts to tackle militants and extremists in the past month, including banning a group named after Sheikh Yassin, co-founder of the Hamas movement. I said Turkey along with Japan would be key hidden countries that play a big role in the scheme of things around the world 6 years ago, Turkey needs to be monitored closely as it is a key gateway of East to West.

Democratic Reps. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (N.Y.) and Rashida Tlaib (Mich.) on Friday introduced a bill to create a federally chartered and supported public banking system. They make out they are doing this for first time, but this was their alternative to the Trust plan of nationalizing banks two years ago, like a loop they roll it out as something new as not enough remember the past. Called the Public Banking Act, the bill would develop a system through which the Federal Reserve System and Treasury Department would recognize, offer grants and open credit facilities for nonprofit banks. Our plan was to end the Fed and Treasury and build national bank and restore Treasury to it's original version, prior to the financial hijacking of the Federal Reserve and Crown people. So, these two Obama clowns drew up an alternative that all sounds better, but it is just new boss, same as the old boss. These banks would be intended to compete with the commercial banking industry, and would be barred from charging fees on checking or savings accounts, requiring minimum balances and levying interest rates of more than 15 percent. Tlaib and Ocasio-Cortez said the bill is intended to expand access to financial services in areas where a large portion of the population is unable to afford conventional banking services. Purpose behind this exercise, stop people hoarding cash outside of the system. Nearly 30 percent of those without bank accounts, cited an inability to meet minimum balance requirements as the main reason they did not use a bank, according to a June 2019 survey conducted by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Nearly 49 percent said it was at least a contributing factor. "From overdraft fees to charging for having a checking account period, Wall Street-run banks put key financial services out of reach for many of my residents who are struggling to make ends meet," Tlaib said in a statement. Tlaib and Ocasio-Cortez said the bill is also intended to give local governments, community development projects and small businesses easier access to loans and federal financial relief programs as they grapple with the damage wrought by the coronavirus pandemic. "The creation of public banks will also facilitate the use of public resources to construct a myriad of public goods including affordable housing and local renewable energy projects," Ocasio-Cortez said in a statement. "Public banks empower states and municipalities to establish new channels of public investment to help solve systemic crises."

Jews across the world are being urged to pledge donations to a project raising money for the State of Israel. The target is to raise $600 billion for causes in the occupation state. The project has been launched by pro-Israel lobby groups the Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA) and Jewish Future Pledge (JFP). The JFNA represents 146 Jewish federations and over 300 community networks. Announcing the ambitious project earlier this week, it said that it has partnered with JFP in calling "on all Jews to pledge that half or more of the charitable giving in their estate plan, will support the Jewish people and/or the State of Israel." The project's promotional video claims that Jews "are heirs of the most influential people the world has ever known" before warning that "more and more young people are walking away from Judaism." The film also claims that, "Jewish organisations are struggling to raise funds and attract the next generation of donors." It then urges American Jews to "work to strengthen the bond between Israel and North America." A "Take the Pledge" website has been set up where signatories are asked to "pledge that upon my passing, fifty per cent or more of all my assets left for charitable purposes will be directed to efforts to strengthen and serve the Jewish people and/or the State of Israel." On its website, the JFNA says that it "partner[s] with the Government of Israel and a variety of agencies to secure the Jewish State" and claims to have "lobbied Washington DC to secure $10 billion in public funds that flow to Jewish communities." Moreover, the JFNA has given millions of dollars to Israeli settlements in the occupied Palestinian territories in recent years. All of Israel's settlements are illegal under international law. Pleased to hear the youth of Israel are walking away from religion, the youth are walking away from all religious denominations now and it is great to see. That program creates division and external savior programs, when the savior and god is within you. The guilt, pity party, shame based programming still running deep amongst the Jewish community. Go and get the $600B off of the Rothschild's, Black Sun, Gates, Kushner, Weisel and the myriad of tv stars with fake names hiding the fact they were Jewish, or the born in and born to rich people, they have all of the money, and stop asking the predominantly poor Jewish people to fund tyranny, death and destruction. At which point do we the people state these Jewish lobbyists and declare them as a racist, hate crime group? not too mention collusion operated.

A dozen bodies have been unearthed in newly found mass graves in the Tarhuna region of western Libya, AFP has reported. This is where renegade military commander Khalifa Haftar's forces launched an aborted assault on Tripoli last year. A total of 98 bodies have now been found since searches for mass graves were started after the withdrawal of Haftar's forces from western Libya in June. "Four new sites have been discovered, two of them mass graves and two individual graves, in Tarhuna... and unidentified bodies have been exhumed," said a specially-tasked committee on Facebook on Wednesday. The committee was established by the UN-recognised Government of National Accord with a brief to search for missing people. At least 16 more mass graves have yet to be unearthed, according to Abdel Hakim Abu Naama, who heads the non-governmental Association of Tarhuna Victims. The warring factions in Libya signed a "permanent ceasefire" accord on Friday, following UN-sponsored talks in Geneva. The UN expects further talks to set a date for national elections. Libya has been embroiled in a civil war since the 2011 overthrow of Muammar Gaddafi. The GNA rules from Tripoli in the west of the country, while the east is controlled by the self-styled Libyan National Army (LNA) under Haftar. Remember Gaddafi was a Trustee and also was a paid CIA agent.

Americans born in Jerusalem can declare Israel as their country of birth in US passports, the Trump administration says, in a reversal of US policy. Before now, Jerusalem was identified without a country because of its contentious status as Israel's self-declared capital. The latest move further cements Donald Trump's 2017 recognition of Israeli sovereignty over the entire city. Palestinians claim the occupied East as the capital of a hoped-for state. President Trump's decision to recognise Jerusalem as Israel's capital broke with decades of US policy and was met with outrage across the Arab world. The issue of whether Jerusalem-born Americans had the right to declare Israel as their country of birth on their passports reached the US Supreme Court in 2015. It ruled that it was not permissible, saying only the president had the right to effect the change. US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo announced the new position on Twitter: Consistent with President @realDonaldTrump's policy, I am happy to announce U.S. citizens born in Jerusalem can now elect to list their place of birth as either "Jerusalem" or "Israel" on their passports. We remain committed to lasting peace between Israelis and Palestinians, they lie.

Oregon became the first state to decriminalize hard drugs like heroin, cocaine and meth in a 59-41% vote as of early Wednesday morning, according to the Associated Press. The "Drug Addiction Treatment and Recovery Act" will transition Oregon's drug policy from a punitive, criminal approach to "a humane, cost-effective, health approach." "People suffering from addiction are more effectively treated with health care services than with criminal punishments," the bill reads. "A health care approach includes a health assessment to figure out the needs of people who are suffering from addiction, and it includes connecting them to the services they need." This is a move I have called for in a solutions piece I did a year ago, if done correctly it will reduce usage, end gangsterism, generate taxes and heal people. It should also be an opportunity to train counsellors of the spiritual war and harvesting these drugs induce.

RACE ISSUES A young white man has been jailed for 25 years for burning down three historic black churches in the US state of Louisiana last year. Holden Matthews, 23, was also ordered to pay $2.7m (£2.1m) in restitution. He said he had burnt the churches to boost his reputation within his favoured music scene, the media citing heavy metal music as the key problem. A judge found the attacks had not been racially motivated but said they evoked memories of a "dark time in history." White supremacists attacked black churches during America's civil rights era. The three churches Matthews burnt were St Mary Baptist Church in Port Barre, Greater Union Baptist Church in Opelousas and Mount Pleasant Baptist Church in Opelousas, between 26 March and 4 April. In my opinion the MSM created part of this problem, although I am not condoning the sheer stupidity of the person who did it. I said there would be an increase in racism, and it has unfolded entirely due to the media pushing race issues to levels not comparable to general public life, aided and abetted by the Freemasonic elements within the police. Sentence I feel is a bit on the ridiculous side, I would have kept him locked up for 6 months, then work for free with the people in the black community to rebuild all 3 churches, and let him and the black people sort out their differences. Young, impressionable and ignorant people do stupid things to impress their peers at that age, taking 25 years of his life when thankfully no lives were lost or injured, serves absolutely no purpose.

When a young British Bengali woman with a black boyfriend got pregnant, her family's reaction forced her to confront their anti-black prejudices. As she stomped away from her maternal home, Salma began tallying up her current status. Twenty-one, two months pregnant and now, homeless. The door slammed shut behind her. And all because she was a Bengali woman insisting on having a baby with a black man. In her community, Bengali women "didn't have" babies out of wedlock - let alone mixed-race, dark-skinned babies. Her aunt had spent the morning urging her to get another abortion, just as she had done last time she'd fallen pregnant. But she was no longer 18. What right did they have to make this decision for her? "I was willing to do whatever it took to have her. Yes, that meant giving up my family, giving up my career and giving up everything. But I felt like

I had no other option," Salma says. Just before Salma had walked out of the house, she'd caught sight of her mum's tears splashing on to her half-eaten roti. "I knew she was wishing that this had been a Bengali baby. Then she could have called up the boy's family, arranged a wedding and 'legitimised' the whole problem by the end of the day." But this father was black. Before even more relatives could turn up and weigh in on her life, Salma grabbed her pink Nokia 3210 and stormed out. She was not getting an abortion and she couldn't stay with a family who didn't support her decision to have her baby.

Israel's strategic affairs ministry has launched a new campaign targeting online expressions of support for Palestinian rights. On Tuesday, 4IL - a propaganda outlet of the ministry - tweeted the handles of dozens of accounts it claimed were "anti-Israel bots and trolls who try to steer public opinion. Report them right now," the Israeli government urged. The ministry also issued a report claiming it had "examined over 250 accounts, in which 70 percent of them (170) were found to be considered inauthentic." The report claims that the accounts were trying to "stir anti-Israel sentiment online and manipulate discourse against Israel" by, among other activities, promoting calls for Israel to be held accountable for war crimes at the International Criminal Court. The report said strategic affairs minister Orit Farkash-Hacohen "called on Twitter in a letter to remove the problematic accounts." Truth never fears investigation, these Hebrew Annunaki one world government and religion clowns, need to be told en masse to shut up stifling first amendment rights in this country. This country has been their bitches for far too long, is ra el says jump, America says how high, just stop this shit. How about imposing a reverse ban of all things Israel banned in this country until they respect human rights, quit harvesting everyone and quit their caliphate march across the Middle East? For those who say that is racist, my reply is touche.

FIGHT BACK OF THE PEOPLE Earlier this year Italy became the first entire nation to impose strict lockdown and social distancing measures when it was the first to see a major coronavirus outbreak outside of Wuhan, China. By the close of May, just as the United States took the lead globally in number of confirmed cases, Italy's numbers had fallen and lockdown restrictions were dropped, with its daily infection rate remaining under control through summer. However, Italy's case numbers began soaring once again starting September into this month. Looks like there are violent protests unfolding right now in Naples Italy specifically people angry at new lock down measures that were just imposed. Local media dubbed weekend clashes with police in Naples as appearing more like guerilla warfare. Naturally, government leaders are once again eyeing a total lockdown of the peninsula, but it's evident many Italians aren't having it. Prime Minister Giuseppe Conte has just issued a new emergency decree Sunday which once again shuts all cinemas, theatres, gyms and swimming pools. And further bars and restaurants have been ordered to close by 6pm every night. This set off major protests across various cities, especially in Rome and Naples, which led to clashes with police over the weekend. Initially peaceful, local media have described many demonstrations rapidly spiraled into fights with police led by hundreds or far-right protesters. In Rome, fireworks were shot at police trying to disperse a central plaza. The mayhem is believed to have been led by the right wing Fuerza Nova party which called for the population to resist what it called “health dictatorship and curfews”. Nice to see the people of Italy fight back, but please stop the violence, looting or destruction of property, they use that against us.

A lawsuit was brought to the courts a couple months ago, and took place on the 21st of October. We have just been waiting to here from the judge on the decision. From CA Legislator Kevin Kiley's Blog: "Today, a California Superior Court ruled in favor of me and fellow legislator James Gallagher in our lawsuit challenging Gavin Newsom's abuse of power. The Judge ruled Newsom violated the Constitution by issuing Executive Order N-67-20. More importantly, she found good cause for an injunction restraining the Governor from issuing any more unconstitutional orders. The Court rejected Newsom's extraordinary claim that a State of Emergency “centralizes the state's powers in the hands of the Governor.” This is the unlawful basis on which Newsom has collapsed California's system of checks and balances, issuing 57 Executive Orders and changing over 400 laws unilaterally. This ruling marks an end to Gavin Newsom's one-man rule. It makes clear that the laws of the State of California do not countenance an autocracy under any circumstances – not for a single day, and certainly not for eight months with no end in sight. The ruling is “tentative,” meaning Newsom has a few days to try to persuade the Judge to change her mind, but it's rare for a tentative ruling to change. While Newsom can appeal, we are confident the decision is on solid legal ground and will stand."

This is an article I came across that carries much of the warnings given out by this show for many years, and all laid out in one particular show called Clowns in Panic, it is nice to see others are now seeing the dangers unfolding in front of us. It's now so obvious...but no one has more to gain with the lockdown(and more to lose with its lifting) than Big Tech. The lockdown destroyed small and medium sized business, especially those that are in private hands. These were the real target of the lockdown...private property....collapse these businesses and you go at the heart of capitalism...private ownership. Once these were closed by government edict, the agencies then took control and put in place procedures that ensured these companies, could never cope with the cost and layer of compliance required...lacking scale and financial resources, many simply closed for good. That was the goal all along. And remains so until only large businesses remain, those that will bend to the will of Government and profit from this reduced competition. And large tech companies are in a unique position to exploit this vacuum because, they can become the single source providers of everything...and dictate time and price, point of sale...everything. Which explains why they have the most to lose from lifting the lockdown, because now everything has been priced into their stock. And their CEO's are not useful idiots but willing accomplices of this dark arrangement, with those working in bureaucracy to further their push into everyone's life. So, if you want to travel, get used to testing, tracking and vaccines...these carriers took money from govt and now the govt calls the shots...whenever you take money from govt, they own you. Same with big tech, now they are locked in tight to ensure that everything reported by the media via Twitter and Google states, that the virus is here to stay and people need to get used to it. The election gives them a perfect opportunity to trial run so many new initiatives, that require we stay locked in and vote by mail, next comes electronic voting from an app controlled by Apple. This is pure evil, and why Tech must be broken up. There are a lot of people beginning to question that Big Tech has been conspiring with this Great Reset, assuming they will fall within Klaus Schwab's Fourth Industrial Revolution so they will be fine. They will certainly make fortune from tracking devices, swapping to digital currencies where they hope to replace the banks for if you OWN nothing, you will also have no bank account and banks will no longer be lending. And since governments will adopt Modern Monetary Theory, they will no longer need the banks to sell their debt since there will be none. When we look at the major bank stocks, the ONLY one to peak with the Dow in 2020 was J.P. Morgan. When we look at Deutsche Bank and HSBC, they peaked back in 2007 reflecting their problems. Goldman Sachs peaked in 2018 reflecting its problems in Asia. Behind the curtain, there is pressure not to bail out the bankers again, this is especially true in Europe. Reason being is the bitcoin decentralization program, as you don't need banks for fresh air tokens. This leaves the idea of Schwab as very, very attractive, and therefore crushing the economy, and forgiving all debt to banks so you will also OWN NOTHING. Forgive all outstanding debt and property ownership, Piketty's top recommendation, and you then just rent the place where you live from the government. There are major holes in this theory, but those aside, this explains why Big Tech will replace the banks. They fail to connect the dots that if you also own nothing, then that would apply to shareholders. Does that mean that the Big Tech CEOs simply rise to the top like Russian oligarchs and the companies become their personal wealth?

Some good news this week as apparently there is still a pulse among liberty-minded citizens in one small North Carolina town, that turned out in mass to defy the City's attempt to mandate mask requirements. When told they had to wear a mask to participate in the meeting, they refused, and the City Council and local police backed down in front of the angry crowd. This is the kind of action it is going to take across the country to stop medical tyranny. Waynesville leaders backed down from a proposed local mask mandate Tuesday night after nearly 100 people packed town hall to voice their opposition. Tensions rose before the meeting ever began when the assembled crowd — who were being held in the lobby until the doors opened — learned there wasn't going to be enough room for them all in the town board room. Those wishing to speak were told to fill out forms and wait until their name was called. This didn't sit well with many in the crowd, who demanded the meeting be moved to the sidewalk outside so that everyone could see and hear it — touching off a loud chant of “Take it outside.” Town staff and police officers eventually quelled the crowd and convinced them that waiting for their turn to speak was the only option. Another uprising ensued after the waiting crowd was told they couldn't come in without a mask when their turn rolled around. The vast majority weren't wearing a mask, given the whole reason they were there in the first place was to speak against the proposed mask mandate. Some claimed exemptions for religious and health reasons, but others simply said they weren't going to wear one and it would violate their rights to be denied entry to a public hearing on that grounds. In the end, masks were offered but not compulsory. All people must do this not just North Carolina, we have the power, not them. Their illusion of power is only derived by the complicity of we the people, stop complying, stop social distance and increase social dissidence.

COVID FAKERY The Bernician COVID-1984 FOI Request | UK Government Admits Virus Doesn't Exist While preparing the court papers for the Private Criminal Prosecution of MPs for pandemic fraud, we have discovered that the office of the secretary of state for mandatory vaccinations has now admitted in a Freedom of Information Request [FOI] that they have no records which show that the cause of the COVID 19 virus has ever been proven to exist. Admission of Guilt: To put this in perspective, this is akin to the UK banks admitting that they never lend any money, when we started alleging that against them more than a decade ago. It therefore doesn't take much effort to work out that the pressure the Private Criminal Prosecution has placed upon every serving MP has catalysed the beginning of the end for this treacherous Parliament. One way or another. Moreover, since the UK government has confessed that they have no record of the existence of the cause of the supposedly deadly virus, upon which the validity of Parliament's COVID-1984 policies is entirely dependent, no MP is capable of successfully pleading not guilty to our allegations of pandemic fraud. DHSC HOLDS NO INFORMATION ON ISOLATION OF SARS-CoV-2 [THE ALLEGED CAUSE OF THE PANDEMIC] Nevertheless, here lies the very heart of the dishonesty, which all COVID-1984 policies continue to be predicated upon: In short, the cause of the virus [and therefore the virus itself] have never been proven to exist and everybody in the Department of Health knows it. Criminal law treats such evidence as proof of intent to commit fraud, for material gain. Especially when the secretary of state in question, who has corporate interests in Big Pharma, as PSC of Porton Biopharma Limited, is knowingly pushing the mandatory vaccination agenda, for a virus that doesn't exist.

The blue typical masks worn by people contain Teflon and other chemicals. 1. Masks are “sterilized” with Ethylene Oxide — a known carcinogen. Many teachers in various school boards have been experiencing significant symptoms as a direct result of the effects of this chemical. 2. The masks contain (not sprayed with) PTFE which makes up

Teflon along with other chemicals. I found and have posted the US patent to allow manufacturers to use PTFE as a filter in commercial masks... “breathing these for extended periods can lead to lung cancer.” Don’t agree? Argue with the experts at OSHA, which is the main US agency, i.e., its Occupational Health & Safety Agency. These masks are meant to be worn only for short periods, like say if you’re sanding a table for an hour and don’t want to inhale sawdust. They don’t do anything whatsoever to stop the spread of any virus, and the emerging science of virology now understands that viruses aren’t even passed person to person. Those masks are completely useless against a virus, and are also very dangerous. OSHA would never condone a person wearing a mask of this kind for anything more than the shortest time. Re-breathing your own viral debris is dangerous to health, and the oxygen deprivation children suffer wearing such masks all day will certainly cause brain damage.

EXPOSURES AND EXPOSES Toby Kent the Rockefeller funded “Chief Resilience Officer” who is based in Melbourne planned out, over the past 5 years, how to handle the city in the event of a pandemic. Rockefeller funded and started “Strong Cities Network” and Melbourne has been their “poster child” since inception. Strong cities is obviously the new smart cities, linguistic programming again. Come and join our strong city, appeals to the external tough people, strength is within not external. Smart means clever, but smart also means to bring pain, a sharp sting, sting being the operative word. Dan Andrews visited New York 3 years ago to learn about and then add, surveillance structures and systems into Melbourne that complement the SCN strategies and system. The completion of the installation has taken place during lockdowns (look at your local roundabouts and intersections now). Whilst the world sleeps, self imprisons themselves and wears oxygen depriving masks, they install tech to lock us all down further, without the prying eyes of the selfie people. There has been a workforce here from China installing them – a group of these workers have been staying at a suburban hotel right by where I live – an incredible coincidence. Anyway.... The premise of SCN is that you surrender your policing policies to the Network ‘Think Tank’ (based in London) and they produce the guideline for you. They also provide the troops and training on militia-style tactics (the knee on neck is one of them and the stormtrooper approach is another). THI warned you of this with the Chinese warships episode over 18 months ago, we cannot keep ignoring the signs and warnings, and then reacting when shit unfolds. The Rockefeller Foundation and United Nations have multiple networks in place, that deal directly with city Mayors and leaders of LG municipalities – bypassing national and state structures – a form of infiltration so they do not have to go through ‘normal’ layers of legal, moral, and constitutional authority – they cut through all that red tape. The longer term goal being to do away with government, as sovereignty and nationality are obstacles to a one government world – which is the ultimate and underpinning goal of the WEF (World Economic Forum) and UN MOU (memorandum of understanding) they signed in 2019. (Yes the WEF and UN are now essentially one overlord organisation). The first and most effective way to implement the one government world agenda, is to first get hold of and control the local police forces – successfully achieved in Melbourne recently. It's all facts available online and from verifiable and official websites. It's all there in full view, you just have to be proactive and objective and emotionally detached from the truth to find it. It won't appear on the 6 o'clock news – as that would naturally spark riots and push back. Govt is complicit and actually fund all of this – mostly unwittingly and likely to realise only when they are overthrown – they want the people to do that bit and when they do, the one govt world is ready to step in and complete their vision and future view. PS: it is worthy of note that the UN have officially tasked China with the job of collating all the world's data of human movement and activity (GeoInt) and so China will hold all data of all planetary human info. This was announced at the UN GA on 22 September 2020. Also, China's richest man (Jack Ma) along with Melinda Gates is heading up the UN's Digital Cooperation Program – bringing all personal data of all people of the world into one central place. Program commenced in June 2020. China, UN, WEF, Gates, and Rockefeller (plus more) all working together to know everything about everyone in the planet and with the capacity to control the people with resilient, well equipped and well-trained militia style police forces. And finally, you may be interested to know that Jack Ma (China's richest man) and TikTok (the social media site) have donated over 3 million AUD each to Melbourne's Doherty Institute vaccine research. Why? So many questions for Dan Andrews, they will pop his eyes. Dan Andrews is on board with the entire program – a Globalist and a China servant. Again.... Not my opinion, all facts you can find online yourself at official and verifiable websites (except the Chinese workforce that's been in Melbourne – you'd have to sweet talk the hotel staff where they are staying like I did without even trying).

Here is more proof of our FRWL 7 episode and gives more background on the clowns in america group. On Feb. 6, 2017, WikiLeaks released documents detailing the Central Intelligence Agency's espionage program in the months leading up to and following France's presidential election in 2012. The agency used spies and cyberweapons to infiltrate and hack into the major political parties with competing candidates — the Socialists, the National Front and the Union for a Popular Movement. Haha American collusion, I guess that is not as catchy as Russian Collusion, and why despite interfering in 81 countries elections since WW2, nobody says anything. Their candidates respectively François Hollande, Marine Le Pen and incumbent Nicolas Sarkozy — were also spied upon individually, as were many other prominent political figures. The objectives of the program included ascertaining the contending parties' political strategies and platforms, their views of the U.S., and their relations with the European Union, with other European nations (Germany, Britain) as well as Israel, Palestine, Libya, Syria, and others. The CIA's French operation lasted 10 months, beginning in November 2011 and enduring until September 2012, several months after Hollande won the election and formed a Socialist government. WikiLeaks' disclosure of the agency's project bears a special irony: It was just as WikiLeaks published this material in 2017 that the CIA helped propagate unsubstantiated (and later discounted) "intelligence", that Russian hackers and propagandists were interfering with France's presidential election that year. Classic agency tactic that and also used heavily in the alt media and politics of accusing others of doing what you or they have done, it is called reverse psychology, the masters of it are the Jewish holocaust industry. Similar allegations (similarly lacking in evidence) were floated as the European Union held parliamentary elections in May 2019. As WikiLeaks reported at the time of the releases on the CIA's covert activities in France, those revelations were to serve "as context for its forthcoming CIA Vault 7 series." WikiLeaks' apparent intent was to display a CIA's hacking operation in action. Vault 7, the subject of this latest report on the history of WikiLeaks disclosures, stands as the most extensive publication on record of classified and confidential CIA documents. Never before and not since have the agency's innumerable programs and capabilities, been so thoroughly exposed to public scrutiny. The Vault 7 series concerns the extraordinarily sophisticated inventory of cyber weapons the CIA has developed, to spy on or hack into the communications of any person or entity it targets. Apart from the espionage function, certain of the programs in Vault 7 — this designation is WikiLeaks', not the CIA's — can also plant documents and data without being detected as the source, when, for example, the agency wishes to compromise an adversary via a false-flag operation. The program wherein this capability was developed, called Marble, may have been crucial to creating the orthodox "narrative" that Russia was responsible for the theft of Democratic Party email in 2016 — the cornerstone allegation in the construct we now call Russiagate. The CIA's development of its hacking capabilities began as a joint effort with the National Security Agency. But the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks and the subsequent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, begun in 2001 and 2003 respectively, proved a turning point for the agency. It was during this time that the CIA, as WikiLeaks puts it in its introduction to the Vault 7 series, "gained political and budgetary preeminence over the NSA." According to former U.S. intelligence sources, the CIA has invested some $175 billion in its vast variety of cyber programs in the post-2001 years. "The agency's hacking division, "freed it from having to disclose its often controversial operations to the NSA (its primary bureaucratic rival) in order to draw on the NSA's hacking capacities." All skullduggery and faction fighting this reveals. Anyone who engages or works with or for the CIA ends up getting stiffed by them, one way or another.

"During the 1950s and 1960s, the CIA turned increasingly to covert action in the area of student and labor matters, cultural affairs, and community developments. The CIA subsidized, advised, and even helped develop "private" organizations that would compete with the communists around the world. Many were U.S.-based student, labor, cultural, or philanthropic organizations whose international activities the CIA subsidized. "The philanthropic [CIA] fronts used prior to 1967, funded a seemingly limitless range of covert action programs affecting youth groups, labor unions, universities, publishing houses, and other private institutions in the United States and abroad. Support was provided to, for instance an international organization of veterans, and an international foundation for developing countries, as well as an organization of journalists and an international women's association. Agency funds were used to host foreign visitors and provide scholarships, to an international cooperative training center at a United States university. The CIA assisted in the establishment in 1951, and the funding for over a decade of a research institute at a major American university. "By 1967, when public disclosure of NSA. which is the National Student Association's funding, not the agency, caused a major curtailment of these activities, interest in the major covert action efforts in these areas was already waning. There appear to be two reasons for this, first, there was considerable skepticism within the CIA as to the effectiveness of this approach. Richard Helms explained, "The clandestine operator is trained to believe that, you really can't count on the honesty of your agent to do exactly what you want, or to report accurately unless you own him body and soul." That is MK Ultra admittance right there, this is how they get ordinary people to do extraordinary and heinous things against their will. "Second, it became increasingly difficult to conceal the CIA funds that supported these activities, as the scale of the operations grew. By fiscal year 1967, for example, over $3 million was budgeted for youth and student programs and $6 million for labor. By 2018 the budget for youth and student programs was $22.5M, and $45M for labor. Most of the funds were transmitted through legitimate or "devised" foundations -- that is, fictitious entities established by the CIA. All of those organizations need to be shut down, in some cases repurposed, but most cases deleted.

"The use of philanthropic organizations was a convenient way to pass funds, in that large amounts could be transferred rapidly, and in a form that need not alert unwitting officers of the recipient organizations to their source. In addition, foundation grants bestowed upon the recipient the apparent "blessing" of the foundation. The funding pattern involved a mixture of bona fide charitable foundations, devised foundations and funds, these are called CIA "front men" drawn from a list of America's most prominent citizens, and lawyers representing undisclosed clients. "The CIA's intrusion into the foundation field in the 1960s can only be described as massive. Excluding grants from the "Big Three" -- Ford, Rockefeller, and Carnegie -- of the 700 grants over $10,000 given by 164 other foundations during the period 1963-1966, at least 108 involved partial or complete CIA funding. More importantly, CIA funding was involved in nearly half the grants the non-"Big Three" foundations made during this period, in the field of international activities. In the same period more than one-third of the grants awarded by non-"Big Three" in the physical, life and social sciences also involved CIA funds. "Bona fide foundations, rather than those controlled by the CIA, were considered the best and most plausible kind of funding cover for certain kinds of operations. A 1966 CIA study explained the use of legitimate foundations was the most effective way of concealing the CIA's hand as well as reassuring members of funded organizations that the organization was in fact supported by private funds."” You can carry on blaming Muslims, Russians, Chinese, Democrats, Republicans or any other named boogeyman, but this show has warned of the fuck off elephant in the room, housed in this country and imbedded like a virus into other countries, as the main source of the world's problem under the banner of 5 eyes. They all need to be closed down as a matter of urgency, they are the cancer on this planet and unless that is treated quickly it spreads like the fake Covid, which is in part their think tank creation as well.

Word magic time again, the saying cops are the law, they are law enforcement officers, and too few ponder on exactly what they are stating. In the past they were policemen and women, now they are officers, why? because officer is a corporate position is why, and so are they. Cops are the law, no they are not the law, they are supposed to be there to uphold it, not be it. Now if only cops upheld the law for this lot. Can you imagine working for a company that has a little more than 500 employees, and at one point had the following statistics: * 29 have been accused of spousal abuse * 7 have been arrested for fraud * 19 have been accused of writing bad checks * 117 have directly or indirectly bankrupted at least 2 businesses * 3 have done time for assault * 71 cannot get a credit card due to bad credit * 14 have been arrested on drug-related charges * 8 have been arrested for shoplifting * 21 are currently defendants in lawsuits * 84 have been arrested for drunk driving in the last year... Can you guess which organization this is? It's the 535 members of the United States Congress. This is why we have to build a better way, with better people, better thinking, better actions and better solutions, that combines the plethora of differing groups into one powerful group, that group is The Peoples Club.

TPC ideas and solutions section Anna Von Reitz has been busy again and amongst her personal barbs she does talk a lot of sense. She is in my opinion is the most knowledgeable on law and the history of law on the internet. It is just a shame she operates for the factions and bloodline families, and not solely for and by the people, she would be a great asset. This is something to ponder on when creating assemblies, and don't rely on Tank to guide you to do anything right or useful, he is not capable. It is important that the people do the right things and organize in the right manner. I have approached some groups about this in the past week, along the lines of developing The Peoples Club Natural Law group or committee for all involved in that exercise. Why have 2 groups doing assemblies? why have two groups doing common or natural law, why not combine them all into the one group under the banner of The Peoples Club, all whilst keeping your own allegiances to the groups you are a part of. If AVR, Tank, Kim, John Darash and Kevin Annett are all for and by the people, this is the best and only solution, 5 groups combined into one exercise wields power. Anna states, In addition to our lawful State Assemblies, there are two kinds of "District Assemblies" that are used and promoted by our foreign Federal Employees. The key differences are that these "assemblies" are populated by Territorial US Citizens or Municipal "citizens of the United States" and are defined according to "districts" as in District of Columbia, also known as "voting districts". If you are a Territorial U.S. Citizen you should be participating in a District Assembly. If you are a Municipal "citizen of the United States" or a federal corporation or corporate employee known as a CITIZEN, you should be participating in another kind of District Assembly clearly labeled as a Municipal Assembly. And everyone else, all those of us who are not Federal Employees or Dependents, need to be participating in the actual State Assembly, which is organized according to Counties, not Districts. Okay? Simple enough. District Assemblies, both kinds, are foreign. No Americans should be participating in District Assemblies, unless, of course, those Americans are adopting the political status of Federal citizens because they (A) work for the U.S. Military; (B) work for the Federal Civil Service; (C) are political asylum seekers; (D) are Dependents needing and seeking Federal welfare. So if you are not receiving an unearned (welfare) check from the Federales and not employed by the Federales and not seeking political asylum in their jurisdiction, pay no attention to their District Assemblies. Perhaps some outside of Anna Von Reitz group can look into whether this is the correct method to go forward with, and report back. The same applies to the UK, there are 3 separate groups doing common law that post in the mewe chat or group, why don't you all combine into one group under the banner of The Peoples Club UK and encourage others to join the network?

Had a pondering chat the other day and the story of health costs came up, ranges from $6-900 a month I have heard, which is $7200, to $10800 per year and how many times does that get used? The cost of American health treatment is almost as bad as the death rate of medical malpractice, which remain the third leading cause of death in America. In the UK we have a 12% wage deduction that pays for your national health care, unemployment benefit and state pension. Some American think this is a big deduction to take from their wages, yet curiously don't complain of the illegal practice of charging you tax on your wages. With the bill that we put forward and signed off by Congress, it would eliminate payroll taxes forever, this then allows this health solution to thrive better. Some Americans think UK health is free, no the ones who work pay 12% of thereabouts to cover those costs. Some Americans think that is excessive but is it? Social Security is 6.2%, Medicare 1.45% so 7.65%, so another 4.35% on the UK rate and you get free health care. On $50K a year at 12% that cost would be $6000 which is less than the $7200 to $10800, paying for private health care. That doesn't take into account the cost of paying deductibles, on top of that. This then ends the health disaster in this country of people tolerating illness and injury, because of the frightening costs of obtaining basic health care. Quite frankly it is barbaric, and far from civilized. I would also have imposed a ceiling of 10% maximum profit on any medical item, and reduce CEO salaries and perks to below $200K. Health should not be a profit maker, it is criminal in this country the profits made on people being sick, and people losing their wealth and homes for medical bills. There has to be a better and fairer solution to the snake oil salesmen and middle management involved in and around our health industries.

Another thing that cropped up is how easily we just accept things, again largely without thinking of the process we are actually doing, we just go along with it. Take the IRS for example, a shopkeeper collects taxes, pays an accountant to sort out the logistics of taxes and then sends the county and state their tax receipts. Why are shopkeepers absorbing that time and energy to collect for an entity, who would garnish your wages quicker than a public stimulus bill gets canceled. Surely I feel, that time and cost should be sent directly to the IRS or tax collectors for work done for their benefit, not yours? This applies to not just shopkeepers but all companies who collect taxes, you are providing a service for and by the IRS, and yet just accept you will not be re-imbursed for your time and energy spent doing that service? What benefit do you get for doing that service, why don't we let the IRS pay staff to collect the taxes themselves? or allow the tax collector, you, to charge a fee for their time? Taxes time creates a lot of stress for the tax collecting public, and not only do you not get any recompense for that service, you are subjected to questioning for collecting it as well, via audits. Again why do we tolerate this shit? The same applies to jury service, you are out of pocket in most cases, sitting through various bad crime events and only to lose pay. You are using your life force energy in often difficult to observe and hear criminal cases, threatened with fear based tactics by the court, frightened you maybe targeted by those in the dock, and then they penny pinch you for compensation. Some people have lost their jobs due to jury service, in times when a case goes on too long, that staff member maybe replaced in his or her job, will the court compensate that? of course not. Heaven forbid if you refuse, the law comes down heavy upon you, so yet again the public are providing a service for the system, and yet again the public lose out from that system. All whilst judges, lawyers divvy up the proceeds of the court. We have to really start pondering of how we the people are rolled over financially and time wise by services, allegedly for our own benefit, but I see little to no benefit and at times losses from these engagements.

Here is an idea that can save each of you money and also contribute to the TPC. Too often and we all do it, we just accept the cost of bills and services provided to us, and not calculate the costs that can be saved by taking a small portion of time to check comparative prices. Phone, cable, auto, health, life and home insurance bills are just some examples. This applies heavily to credit cards as well, many 0% interest for 12-18 months now, some with extra cashback, and this is a great way to save on interest payments, the interest you save can pay down your debt quicker, and throw some dollars into the TPC. How many of us take the time to see if we can save money each month? How many stay with same companies and just roll over the bills and renewals, without taking a bit of time to see if we can save money? Now here is an idea all members can try, look at all your bills and or renewals and spend only 1-3 hours checking them all for savings, I can guarantee you will all be shocked at what you can save with a bit of time spent on it. I just saved near $700 a year on mobile phone bill, $168 a year on my cable bill, now imagine doing that with all other bills? Put half of savings in your pocket and send half to TPC each month, on each bill saving. You will likely only take 3 hours maximum to go through all bills and search for savings, you get extra money in your pocket and because it is a TPC based idea, some of those dollars saved can go to the TPC each month. Don't stick with just paying for stuff that is unnecessary, cut your own costs and help the TPC as well, is win - win for us all.

An energy transmuting event was carried out on a global scale last Saturday, I am pleased to see and hear some of our members felt that effect. It is beneficial for those who have done their inner work, those who haven't are being given another opportunity to correct their lack of. There has been several wheat and chaffe events this year, inner work done or not exposed for all to see, those who chase the money only exposed for all to see, those who live for the old system and those who wish to be the change and create a new system, again exposed for all to see. No more hiding anymore, you all revealed yourself in your current status. For the ones on the better path, keep rolling and don't allow others to lead you astray. For the ones not versed in inner work, chased the money and wishing to keep the old system, the next stage will be brutal.

I have always tried to do things the right way, some agreed, some disagreed, but over time people see we got things right more than we did wrong. Alt media division is rarely based in fact, and more based on who alt media personalities work for. I am targeted and discredited because I work for no one, except the truth and the people. Far too many speak in terms of me, myself and I and not we, our and us. All down to personal insecurity which is the main virus on this planet. This is why we have to lift each other up, not drag each other down. We're in a society that seems to hate itself, seems to hate anything that's any good, seems to want everything to fail, seems to want everything to be crap. Why do we do that to each other? What has it achieved? What is best, all in the gutter or all lifting each other up? Nothing changes in life unless we change it, nothing is built in life unless we build it, nothing is achieved in life unless we achieve it, nothing is lost in life unless we lose it, nothing is accomplished unless we accomplish it. There is no dream unless you manifest it, there is no vision if you can't see it, there is no light at the end of the tunnel if you surround yourself in darkness, there is no hope if you mire yourself in illusion, there is no expansion if you only reach for the sky, the sky was never limit, the limiting factor is all down to you, do you contract or expand? do you love or hate? do you divide or combine? do you fall or rise? That was never down to me or anyone else, that is all down to you, you, and you. Do we continue to honor their contract, or build our own tract without the con, a tract is a system of body parts or organs that act together to perform some function. We are the body parts, we are the organ to perform the function together. An organ is a key part of our inner working system, but an organ can make music and be played melodically and in harmony. We have to be that melodic, harmonious musical organ going forward, starting today.
