

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-11-12

I have detected a lot of members feeling down, depressed, dispirited and disenfranchised the past week or so, and this was expected in many ways, that caused another member who has been financially supported recently by the TPC to just walk away from the group. That is the 5th person this year who have been helped by the TPC or by me privately that walked from our group, some of them more high profile than others, the feeling remains the same in effect. Why do people do that to the very few who will help or support them? is that not a selfish act to do? and is selfishness part of our overall problem we face on this planet? The whole down issues in our group was the fact that, their politician lost last week, regardless of what unfolds in the coming days, weeks or months. Americans and their psyche don't like to be losers, but you have to understand it is not you that lost, it was Trump. What happened to observe not absorb? it is not like you were not warned about it in this show, several times over the past few months. But what does it really change? what good has Trump really done for the people over the past 4 years, compared to what he could have done? is it really that much different on a personal or collective level from the Obama reign? the answer is no. No matter how many times you convince yourself otherwise. In overview and this show and host has supported both of these people only to be let down badly by them, both Trump and the Trustee have become savior programs, both promising various things, both failed to deliver, although the Trustee can at least say she tried. At this point I am not sure how much Trump really did try for we the people, he certainly failed Kim and her team and also all the help I gave him via Kim. If you can't look after your friends and people who are willing to support you, what do we have left? Politics is theater, the President is not a government position, Trump was chasing King of the World with clowns, until they picked Macron, Trump is now chasing King of America with clowns, Trump could send our money to Israel, but not to the American people, the list goes on. The Trustee states Trump is now back on board and chasing the American election again, two things about that 1. can we trust someone who flip flops that easily, between the Black Sun and King titles and when it goes wrong he is back with the people again? and 2. The Trustee's predictions have hardly been too reliable this year have they? and people can take that as a stab, not when it is a fact it is not, no matter which way you look at it. Why should we believe her that Trump is back on track? This is the 3rd time this year she wrote Trump off in comments publically (2 others in private) and the 3rd time she has stated he is now back on board. At which point does it become a drama based and energy based harvesting system? this back and forth of Trump with us and Trump not with us, is not helping anyone, least of all the Trustee, but in essence she has no option to do the dance with the devil so to speak, we the people don't have to. Trump on and off has all the looks of the fishing technique to keep the illusion going, that you don't see the hook until it is too late. That we had a President for and by the people, and after 4 years and much work on my part, much more on Kim's part, at which point do we say enough is enough? Why do we have

Biden, maybe because it is what we deserve? we sat back and waited again for Trump and the Trustee, instead of doing something ourselves, it is humanity's perennial Achilles heel, to take the easier savior path of others fixing things for them, instead of taking the shorter path of fixing things themselves. But, Thomas it will take years to build the TPC, how is that a shorter path? because you have waited years for several other programs to fix things for you via the alt media, and not one, not one has come to fruition. 25 years of alt media and every wait club worked only for the clowns, Trump it appears at this point, became another wait club along with Q, and like all others, it never delivered. Those are the facts, we have all bought into wait clubs and money programs all of which is a hand out, we haven't built our own alternative or done a hand up version, which requires the participation of all of you, not throw it onto me, Kim or anybody else. So, yes building a viable cohesive alternative of for and by the people is now the only solution, if people reject that because it is not their idea, their group, their name, to those people you are part of the problem, you do the clowns bidding for them, and why humanity has always failed. Clowns build secret groups and all agree to the plan, and they have been very successful at it, why? they work together. We the people set up rival groups, steal the ideas and members from a previous group and try to re-invent the wheel, there is your difference. I need see effort on behalf of all our members to make this work, we have to work harder than clowns to get this going, I give a lot of my time to help you all, I am asking for you to reciprocate. After the break we delve into some things ongoing currently with the TPC and what we have been working on. Replace your fears with actions of what we do, not what they are doing. Observe them, not absorb them is the key.

Before I get into this I arranged a zoom call about 3/4 weeks ago of how to build the TPC and around 100 turned up, but then since then I have had 8-10 requests for private one on one calls for ideas and help with the TPC, and yet none of those people turned up to the original call. This is not helpful to my time, time is not always my friend, requesting personal calls when we had a forum to do that is not conducive to my time spent. The zoom calls are more for your own benefit than mine, please make sure you attend when they are called.

We are revamping the website The Peoples Club.org and also the THInkdifferent website. We have added new sections to The peoples club, a section on who we are, testimonials of those who were helped, a new mission statement and we are working on a subscriber to the Peoples Club also. The object of that is to build the network, we want millions of people to become a part of a solution based group. To subscribe unlike others we require no fees or security issue ridden apps either, we just ask for your name, email address, state and then a selection called committees that detail your interest in topics you would like to be involved in. Pondering on adding a skillset section also, this is so we can keep things in house should they be required. For example common law, I spoken of several groups all doing the same thing, that doesn't work, I am asking them to all combine into one unit and when it gets big enough to then go into designated state groups, which we already have, plus John at NLA has county groups and Anna has state assemblies, lets get all those people together and combine ideas. The only reason for autonomy is ego, people wanting their own names and groups, but it just doesn't work. We can have tens of groups with 10-50 people in it, or one group with 100's or 1000's in it, what carries more power? We can then build up a network of common law groups and all combine on zoom calls once a month or more, and formulate a plan. I am not asking you to leave your groups, I am asking you to join with several other groups under one banner. Once it takes off your group will have more exposure or you can be proud of being a part of the TPC, once it goes viral the TPC, it will become like the Qanon elements, with TPC stickers, badges and signs replacing Q ones. Other committees would be involved in saying farming or growing food, again all combine under the TPC. Healthy food would be another committee, there are many who are separate, lets all share our ideas and methods in one giant group. A Charter school curriculum, political action committee, a policy committee, think tank committee, how to help the aged, homeless or poverty stricken all under one roof, so we can create our own search engine, of what companies and groups are connected to the TPC, we would trade with each other and keep funds in house, share ideas with each other and keep them in house. It then becomes the equivalent of the google search engine when it started, novel idea, now a global phenomenon. We need to protect all this some key components, website security expert, a designated TPC tax accountant, and a law team group to protect the TPC, as things develop we would then need business experts, commercial experts, investment experts all working for and by the people. You can choose one or more selections in the drop down box of what you wish to be involved in, and also if not listed a suggestion box as well for other categories you think should be added. The email will be for example all those interested in common law, would be sent an email and a zoom link so we can all meet at once and formulate a plan. Now this plan is for America initially and we can add Canada into it as well, as a North American branch, until we get sufficient Canadian people to then go on their own and form TPC Canada, with the , name, email and state details in our database, we can then inform all Canadians of meetings and changes. Eventually this same model can be implemented in all other countries. Imagine people going to the TPC for law help, accountancy and financial help, tax help, health help, better food choices help, new garden and grow your own food help, shopping inside the TPC only so the money is kept in house, the list is endless. A group that we are asking all that join consider to implement within themselves are few guidelines, need not greed, caring and sharing, cooperative not comparative or competitive. We must all teach and remind each other of those principles, if the many adopt those principles, it and we will change the world. The THInkdifferent site has been changed also, there was some confusion for donating to the TPC and myself, they have been separated now for ease of choice. Unlike other shows I never advertise our donation buttons, but a gentle reminder to members to please support the TPC and also my work when you can, and once again thanks to all who have donated, it is much appreciated. THI has been removed from the front page of THInkdifferent and is now in separate page within that website. We are not here to promote THI, but the TPC, and some of our material in THI is too much for the average person awake or not, although nice to see others copying it now. People will always look for an excuse to not get involved and the THI material is controversial to many, particularly my own personal stance on religion. So, there is no advertisement or show links on the front page as before, and just a link at the bottom for archived shows and transcripts 3 months behind my Patreon. The initial thing is to separate THI and TPC and an eventual phasing out of THI and a sole focus on the TPC. When it is ready I am asking each and every person to subscribe to The Peoples Club, and then lets build the network, then go to the thinkdifferent site and donate to support our own club. Encourage family members to do the same, encourage friends to do the same, church, school or sporting events and do the same. Members may well receive a monthly update email describing how things are unfolding or whether we require actions, promotional material or for zoom calls announcements. The object is to combine a database of people with ideas, skillsets, experience and knowledge and to get people working together for a common goal, improving all lives, as all lives matter. This round robin of ideas being harvested to create multiple separate different groups is not beneficial, and more based on ego. If the separate groups idea worked we would be in a better position than now, it hasn't and so we must think different. This is thinking different. Do not sit around and wait for me to do it, you do it, all of us.

We are also building a TPC webshop for people to sell their wares, cosmic towers and the cbd oil group can display their wares, members can sell their unwanted items like an ebay shop, our t shirt sales all donated by Stephanie Arkilic can go on there as well. We are discussing a small donation or commission of all sales goes to the TPC. Looking for a designated webshop administrator, to run the whole site of inputting all the data, arranging sales on a commission basis only until we have larger funds to employ that person or persons permanently. People selling their wares will have a drop down box for commission on the sale of the items, this is currently being discussed and we are working on margins of commission, whatever the board decides will be final, but we are also working on a plan for extra commission as well. Say we give the webhost 2.5% and TPC 5% the seller will have an option to increase the TPC only commission to their request. So for example a $100 item would have $2.50 to webhost, $5 to the TPC but a drop down box to add to the TPC commission of your choice. As an example with the first option the $100 item would give the seller $92.50 with $7.50 going in commission, but you have the option to say the TPC commission on this item is say 20% not 5%, so you sale would be $2.50 webhost $20 TPC and you would get $77.50 for your sold item. We will put a disclaimer when the shop is open that the TPC is not endorsing or guaranteeing any item sold, and will not be held responsible for any damaged, faulty or lost goods, that is between the seller and the buyer. Other things to consider is, your sale if going through paypal, which may take small fees this is reflective in the end amount the seller gets, for example many bought t shirts and sent $20 for the shirt, the TPC received about $18.90 for that. People are welcome to come and sell their wares on our network but must operate under the banner and guidelines of the TPC. We welcome ideas on that aspect.

My wish is for all common law groups and assemblies to come together under one banner, iron out differences in the narrative, agree on a common consensus and plan forward as one. Two ideas the TPC common law group can do is, add police departments who wont abide by their rules, there is 40 in California alone, add in every militia group to the network also, they will provide safety for the common law groups and also security for the TPC. Bring in veterans as well as safety and security, eventually with enough funds we can pay them.

There is a difference between being a part of THI and a part of Lifeforce group aside from chasing the money. I get why people do it, like I have said it is part of the old programming issue. We at THI are trying to create a new system of operating, that doesn't include old programs or programming, neither worked for the benefit of humanity. TPC is a hand up, Lifeforce is a hand out, and I don't mean that in a negative slant in any way, shape or form. So, what is the difference? Lifeforce and Kim are only known to the upper echelon of the old control system, plus members of THI, COWL, Off planet radio and Tanks RV followers, outside of that, no one knows or is aware of Kim, the Trust or anything related to it. Given that fact, should the Trust funds come out tomorrow, the majority of the people suddenly became aware of these funds, on an energetic level it will be seen as a hand out, oh look free money and paying zero attention as to it's purpose or the responsibility that comes with it. This is no different to the State handing out stimulus checks, which in essence are a bribe on the people, the stimulus checks not the Trust just to be clear. Stimulus checks are bribes to keep the public happy for a given length of time, whilst they harvest and loot everything else. One of the deals offered to Kim was at first $25K and then increased to $50K per person, not all of which was in terms of hard cash but some was debt reduction, which ultimately goes to their banks. For the people to get given those funds, the Rothschild's would then take over the Trust, and they worked out that all of the $25K per person would be back in their control within 6 months, and then they had control of the Trust for next 490+ years. You all know full well, the people through THI is building the TPC, something that requires many people to participate in, all about the many building their own structure of support. All about people being sovereign, making their own choices, supporting each other, caring for each other and looking after each other, so should you receive financial support from the TPC, that is then a hand up, not a hand out. It is the difference between the old world and us creating a new world, and Kim agreed herself our $1 or more idea, would have a more beneficial aspect to it. We are teaching the people to be personally responsible again with their lives, actions and thoughts, and should the Trust funds come out and we at the TPC are funded, those funds then supplement the foundations we have built with largely no money.

In the 100 series there is a mention of where are the good guys? the answer was there are none. In regards to the mention of where are all the good guys and reply there are none, is more true in the highest levels than people think, all bought and paid for to play their game. There is a few who got wrapped up in the system, but for the majority it is in them all along, the cabal go on profiling from a young age and categorize if people fit into certain molds or roles, so it is in their DNA so to speak to begin with. Like the cor-pirate structure, it is all about how far you can trample all over your work colleagues to get to the so called top, reality is, you are nowhere the top as you thought, you all just bought into the illusion of being important, even some of the 301 bloodline families have found that out to their cost recently. Then we come to our level, of where are all the good guys? there is many good people, 1. but will they wake up? 2. if they do wake up how far will they go to be the change? 3. are they prepared in some cases to sacrifice their lifestyle to get involved? 4. will they accept heightened levels of abuse and ridicule? 5. will they put their life on hold whilst doing so? 6. Will they be bought off to shut up or stand down? 7. will they literally put their life on the line for the cause? 7 big questions that all can ask of themselves, the reality is very few will do all 7, and therein lies the issue does it not, just how far are you prepared to go to change not only your life, but everyone else's. It's a big sacrifice that sadly only the few are prepared to make, fighting for a cause that is greater than you, those people are few and far between, we know we have observed it. The key is like the 100 series, you have to create good guys by joining up together, overlapping circles of people that eventually form the pattern of the flower of life, that is our task ahead, and if you really want change, more people have to have the fortitude to do all 7 of the above.

NEWS corruption - check vote rigging - check dodgy ballots - check fake voters - check dead voters - check over voting - check All happened in 2016 and every other election, what difference does it make in 2020, except your preselected candidate is losing? He was advised to cancel election months ago, on grounds of national safety, should he have done that, the lockdown and masks charade would have ended overnight. But he thought he would sail it, he thought wrong.

Mr. Biden has won so what happens next? more chaos, more globalism, more clownery, less truth, less reality and less common sense, so not exactly any different to the last 4 years is it? US President-elect Joe Biden is to make tackling the corona virus pandemic his top priority following his win over Donald Trump, his team says. He will also focus on the economy, which was caused by globalists what will you do about that Biden? Tackling racism, which was caused by the globalists, think tanks and the media, what will you do about that Biden? And climate change, which was caused by the globalists, think tanks and the media, what will you do about that Biden? Ok solution declare it as fake as it is the truth, that will fix all those problems in one swoop. But here is what he also stated, announcing the first steps in his transition plan, his team said there would be more testing and Americans would be asked to wear masks. Fascism, Zionism, Communism and Globalism all rules then eh Mr. Biden. Watch out for early on there will be a plethora of trade deals, agreements and negotiations and possibly aid delivered to, Ukraine, I wonder why.

Biden's first pick this week was Ronald Klain, it was announced he would serve as White House Chief of Staff for President-elect Biden, Mr. Klain is born to.

Former top Trump aide Steve Bannon's podcast was permanently suspended by Twitter and had an episode yanked from YouTube. He implied that FBI Director Christopher Wray and government infectious-diseases expert Dr. Anthony Fauci, should be beheaded and have their heads put on pikes outside the White House. Those comments came while Bannon is free on bond in a federal criminal case in which, he is accused of defrauding donors to a nonprofit group, purportedly dedicated to building a wall on the southern border of the United States.

As the alt media complaints over 5G rises, China launched 12 satellites this week carrying payloads for 6G. It involves use of high-frequency terahertz waves to achieve data-transmission speeds many times faster than 5G is likely to be capable of. The technology revolution and curtailing humanity increase by the day it seems, and goes unhindered because humanity is incapable of building an alternative currently.

South Korea's health agency said Tuesday that a total of 101 people, most of whom were elderly, died after receiving seasonal flu vaccines, Yonhap reports. The deaths had stoked public anxiety over the safety of such vaccines, but the Korea Disease Control and Prevention Agency (KDCA) said 97 of those deaths have very limited relation with the flu shots. Another four cases are under investigation. Of the total, 84 people were aged over 70, followed by eight under 60 and nine in their 60s, the KDCA said. The health authorities have repeatedly said they have found no direct link between flu shots and deaths, urging people to get flu vaccinations before the onset of winter amid the corona virus pandemic. Dark Winter ahead it seems, Operation Dark Winter was the code name for a senior-level bio-terrorist attack simulation conducted on June 22–23, 2001, ran out of Andrews Air Force base. Operation Dark Winter which was a precursor to Event 201 we covered in Expose 2.

President Donald Trump dropped three agency heads in the days after the election, NPR reported. The ousted agency leaders include: Neil Chatterjee, chairman of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission; Lisa Gordon-Hagerty, administrator of the National Nuclear Security Administration; and Bonnie Glick, deputy administrator of the US Agency for International Development. The departures came amid speculation that other agency heads and government officials may be fired or resign from the Trump administration, including FBI Director Chris Wray and Defense Secretary Mark Esper. Rumors has it that Trump appointee and all round war criminal and torturer Gina Haspel head of the CIA, is also on the chopping block prior to January.

On Monday evening, Ashley Parker reported that FOX news cut off the White House Press Secretary Kayleigh McEnany. "Fox News just cut away from @PressSec, saying the network could not in good conscience continue to air her false claims, for which she has provided no supporting evidence. Why is that now happening? because Fox news has a new vice president since the election result, it is Danny Obrien Biden's former chief of staff. The folly of Trump not dealing with the media is all there and in your face, out go all the minimal support given to the people by the MSM, of which Tucker Carlson was the most prominent supporter of Trump and also outing many of the things covered in our show, I suspect he is the next casualty.

The U.S. State Department gave Congress notification it plans to sell 18 sophisticated armed MQ-9B aerial drones to the United Arab Emirates in a deal worth as much as $2.9 billion, people briefed on the notification said, I wonder how much kickback the Israelis got out of that deal? The move comes on the heels of last week's notification of a potential sale of F-35 fighter jets to the middle-eastern country. This would mark the first armed drone export since the Trump administration reinterpreted a Cold War-era arms agreement between 34 nations to allow U.S. defense contractors to sell more drones to allies. It has been reported that UAE has long shown interest in purchasing drones from the United States, and would be among the first customers in line after U.S. export policy changed this summer. A $600 million deal to sell four unarmed but weapons-ready MQ-9B SeaGuardian drones to Taiwan was the first to be formally notified to Congress on Tuesday. So, we are back to the only thing that sells for America these days, weapons of people destruction, and that is only because it is being ran by the clowns in the military and agencies, and not the government. Is that the image America and Americans want to portray to the world? we are only interested in wars and selling weapons?

New Zealand swore in its new cabinet on Friday, including five Maori and its first openly gay deputy prime minister, as Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern's government increased its majority with the release of full results of an Oct. 17 general election. The Maori Party, representing the indigenous community that makes up about 15% of the population, picked up an additional seat to secure two representatives in the new parliament. New Zealanders voted in the referendums on marijuana and euthanasia while casting ballots in the general election. A thin 50.7% majority voted against the legalisation of recreational cannabis use, while nearly two-thirds of voters supported a bill to allow people who meet certain requirements ask for medical assistance to end their lives, the Electoral Commission's full results showed. That woman has some serious Zionist fascism tendencies that the people of New Zealand need to act upon, and remind Ardern who has the real power, and call her out at every opportunity. She is a NWO puppet.

Ireland's Foreign Minister has slammed Israel for destroying 70 buildings, including family homes, in the West Bank. The "reprehensible acts" have left 73 Palestinian people homeless, including 41 children. Simon Coveney said he is "deeply dismayed" that Israeli authorities demolished buildings belonging to 11 Palestinian Bedouin families in Humsa Al Bqai'a in the northern Jordan Valley. Israeli bulldozers destroyed the village including houses, businesses, and sanitation facilities. The United Nations labeled the demolition the "largest displacement incident in over four years." Minister Coveney said the acts are "clearly prohibited" under international law, and Israel had failed to meet its obligations as the occupying power. "The eviction of families and demolition of their homes is a brutal and violent act. These most vulnerable of people should be protected by the occupation authorities, not subject to further injustice. It is deeply disappointing that Israel continues to carry out these reprehensible acts, which are a grave breach of international humanitarian law." Israel has occupied the West Bank since 1967, the Jordan Valley falls in the territory's Area C, which is fully controlled by Israel's army. The branch of the army that oversees civilian affairs in the West Bank, COGAT, said it had destroyed the structures because they were built illegally in a firing zone. Under rules imposed by Israel, Palestinians cannot build structures in the area without permits, which are typically refused, and demolitions are a common occurrence. "It is deeply disappointing that Israel continues to carry out these reprehensible acts which are a grave breach of international humanitarian law," Coveney added. According to the UN, Israel has carried out widespread demolitions in the West Bank and East Jerusalem this year, leaving 869 Palestinians homeless, this is the largest number of demolitions since 2016. The intergovernmental organization branded Israel's actions "unlawful", and issued a statement calling for demolitions to be immediately halted. The comments were echoed by the European Union. "The EU reiterates its call on Israel to halt all such demolitions, including of EU-funded structures, in particular in light of the humanitarian impact of the current coronavirus pandemic," the bloc said. The simple solution is to label Israel as a pariah state, impose heavy sanctions upon them and boycott all of their goods and services, until they learn to live in peace with all other peoples in the region allocated to them in 1947. They are lucky to have that region, as there is zero evidence the country of Israel ever existed to begin with, and this constant fighting due to some books thousands of years old, who nobody real knows who wrote them, it certainly wasn't god or Jesus, of whether they are valid or not has to stop, it is child level thinking and madness.

Conservative activist Candace Owens has announced plans to sue Facebook's third-party fact-checkers, accusing them of censorship and vowing to expose the relationship between the social media giant and fact-checker “activists.” “It is time to fact-check the fact-checkers,” Owens said in a video posted to her social media accounts. The defendants in the lawsuit include USA Today, as well as Lead Stories Fact Checker – both third-party, fact-checking partners for Facebook. Owens said she was also planning to bring “independent fact-checking” nonprofit PolitiFact to court as well. Owens accused the fact-checkers and Facebook of being a part of the allegedly ongoing attempt to turn the US into a “communist” country, where “wrong” opinion is suppressed, speaking of her experience with the platform. The fact-checkers are “activists for the left that shut down your speech if they don't like it,” Owens argued. “Quite literally a doctor gave his opinion about Covid-19, which I shared, and Facebook issued a strike on my account, because they said only information that they agree with about Covid-19 was acceptable,” she said, adding that her Facebook account was subsequently demonetized. Facebook's fact-checking program was rolled out back in 2016 the aftermath of the US presidential election, with the social media giant insisting it was needed to promote an “authentic environment” while still “enabling people to have a voice.” Instead of bluntly removing the content disapproved by the fact-checkers, the network reduces its visibility in the feed, as well as issues various warning labels ranging from “altered” and “missing context” to outright “false.” The process has repeatedly faced criticism from various, primarily conservatively-minded users, who accused the fact-checkers of having a strong left-wing bias and exercising political censorship. Similar – and even harsher – measures have been introduced by other social media networks, including Twitter. Instead of employing third-party fact-checkers to stay “neutral” like Facebook, it rolled out its own algorithms, labeling “misleading” content and providing links to information it deems “credible.” The Zionist led fascist creeps hovers over us all, and I want to thank Candice Owens for this stance and if memory serves me well this is not the first time she has stood up and shouted out for the people, perhaps one to keep an eye on for the future.

Jared Kushner, the president's son-in-law and one of his most trusted advisers, has reportedly approached Donald Trump to discuss him conceding to President-elect Joe Biden. The question is not whether he asked him or not, but when did he ask him to do that? I have it on official record from at least 2 sources outside of the Trustee mentioning it, now that Trump officially sold out, the question is to whom? The answer is I told you all and the Trustee ad nauseum for the past 5 years, even when on the Cosmic Voice show. Watch out for the point 12 + 1 I read out over a month ago, which was Pelosi, but next stage is a Kushner and or Ivanka Trump for 2024, I can see it coming a mile off, and if that takes effect Israel Cohen's speech and goals will be rubber stamped.

FIGHT BACK While the U.S. Presidential elections continue to dominate the media in the U.S., citizens all across the U.K. protested the nation's new lockdowns this week. At Manchester University, students woke up on the first day of lockdowns to find fences had been erected around their dormitories, penning them in like a prison. They had apparently had enough, and by that evening, the fences were tore down, and the University backed down. Students at the University of Manchester have ripped down 'lockdown' fencing that was installed without warning at their Fallowfield campus. Hundreds of students staged a protest on Thursday night, after the university erected metal fencing at halls of residences including Owens Park and Unsworth Park. Earlier in the day, the university had issued a statement saying the fencing was put in place as a security measure as England enters another four week lockdown. But they were heavily criticised by some students and parents for 'penning them in', with students only learning what was happening when they woke up to find the fencing being erected. The country is on lockdown and they are penning in your children? why are they in school anyway with a lockdown in place? Pleased to see people fighting back and we need much more of it.

In Cornwall, an NHS nurse turned whistleblower and resigned in public, it was recorded, but quickly removed from YouTube and Twitter. A video out of Cornwall shows a nurse in uniform giving a speech, explaining why she decided to resign from her job. "I don't need the uniform to prove that I work for them, but today, I'm publicly resigning," she stated. The nurse then revealed how she received an email from her bosses demanding an explanation, as to why she was being critical of official COVID policy, and that people were "reporting" her. This is the problem the snitch culture and the Milgram programmed people of believing authority on everything, when they have provide zero proof on anything they claim. A culture that accepts official narrative without question is guilty of crimes against humanity, what happens when you question it? they ban you from the internet platforms, that in and of itself tells you they are covering up the truth, because all truth never fears investigation. "Unfortunately I can't lie anymore," said the nurse, explaining how she took a screenshot of internal hospital data showing, there were just three people across three hospitals in the region infected with COVID. The total deaths from these three hospitals across the last 7 months is just 76 people, roughly 10 deaths a month, according to the nurse, who questioned why it was necessary for her region to go into lockdown given such sparse figures. "I've decided there's no point, I have gone against the rules within the NHS, I have shared confidential information that people need to see," said the nurse, adding that other doctors and nurses were trying to speak out. The people need to support them not snitch on them, you people who do that are quizlings of the worst kind, all service to self and don't give a shit about anyone else, you are the reason this world is in a mess. Kudos to the nurse and many others in the medical profession who are speaking out.

Teenagers and police clashed during coronavirus protests in Paris, where violence erupted, fires burned in the streets, and a police car was vandalized. Students gathered outside a high school in Compiègne, in the north of Paris, to protest over new restrictions that had been imposed to tackle the country's coronavirus outbreak. The situation turned violent as police attempted to break up the crowd. This is the second escalation in recent days, as teachers and students have been opposing the government's decision to keep schools open during the nationwide lockdown, arguing that being forced into a crowded environment puts their health at risk. Footage on social media showed young people setting fire to barricades that had been set up outside a high school. Mayor of Compiègne Philippe Marini told France's BFMTV that "calm has returned" to the area, following the disturbance and the local police department confirmed on Twitter that four arrests had been made. A fireman was injured during the unrest, and there was an "unacceptable" amount of criminal damage as a result of the incident. At a similar protest on Tuesday, riot police pepper-sprayed students who blockaded a high school to protest over "packed" classes and poor sanitary measures that had been put in place. Keep up the protests but please don't use violence or damaging property, this does not serve us well as a protesting group.

The Liverpool-based Broadgreen International School is in the "privileged position" of running a pilot scheme with Public Health England that will: Bring in the military to run Covid19 tests. Test children without getting parental consent first. Identify each individual with a "unique barcode". "Isolate" and "secure" anyone who tests positive. Apparently after much negative feedback from parents and the public, the school has backed down and now stated they will only test students who have parental consent. A new letter was published Sunday, Nov. 8, 2020, to replace the letter published here that was released on Friday, November 6th. Non parent consent, using the military which creates fear for the children, but also applies the Milgram experiment of consent due to authority or fear based figures. Barcodes, oh my the mark of the beast, all every Hunger Games districts that to me.

In real life it was to Nigeria, not Kenya, that Pfizer turned. In 1996, the company needed a human trial for what it hoped would be a pharmaceutical "blockbuster", a broad spectrum antibiotic that could be taken in tablet form. The US-based company sent a team of its doctors into the Nigerian slum city of Kano in the midst of an appalling meningitis epidemic to perform what it calls a "humanitarian mission". However the accusers claim it was an unlicensed medical trial on critically-ill children. A team of Pfizer doctors reached the Nigerian camp just as the outbreak, which killed at least 11,000 people, was peaking. They set themselves up within metres of a medical station run by the aid group Médecins Sans Frontières, which was dispensing proven treatments to ease the epidemic. From the crowd that had gathered at the Kano Infectious Diseases Hospital, 200 sick children were picked. Half were given doses of the experimental Pfizer drug called Trovan, and the others were treated with a proven antibiotic from a rival company. Eleven of the children died and many more, it is alleged, later suffered serious side-effects ranging from organ failure to brain damage. But with meningitis, cholera and measles still raging and crowds still queueing at the fence of the camp, the Pfizer team packed up after two weeks and left. That would probably have been an end to the story if it weren't for Pfizer employee, Juan Walterspiel. About 18 months after the medical trial he wrote a letter to the then chief executive of the company, William Steere, saying that the trial had "violated ethical rules". Mr Walterspiel was fired a day later for reasons "unrelated" to the letter, insists Pfizer. The company claims only five children died after taking Trovan, and six died after receiving injections of the certified drug Rocephin. The pharmaceutical giant says it was the meningitis that harmed the children and not their drug trial. But did the parents know that they were offering their children up for an experimental medical trial? "No," Nigerian parent Malam Musa Zango said. He claims his son Sumaila, who was then 12 years old, was left deaf and mute after taking part in the trial. But Pfizer has denied this, and says consent had been given by the Nigerian state and the families of those treated. It produced a letter of permission from a Kano ethics committee, the letter turned out to have been backdated and the committee set up a year after the original medical trial. At stake at one point last year was more than $8bn in punitive damages being sought in a string of cases, as well as potential jail terms in Nigeria for several Pfizer staff. "There has been a complex web of cases with proceedings in Connecticut, New York, Lagos, Abuja and Kano," Mr Etigwe said. "The strategy of big companies when they are dealing with smaller opponents is to stretch the process, to overwhelm us until we are ready to accept whatever they want to offer." Trovan never became the blockbuster that Pfizer had hoped for and it is no longer in production, the EU has banned the drug and it has been withdrawn from sale in the US. It appears that Pfizer has finally ended the public relations nightmare with Friday's settlement, but the Trovan battle may not be over yet. At the end of January 2009, a New York appeal court ruled Mr Etigwe and Mr Altschuler's case could be heard in the US. The Connecticut attorney says it could still go ahead. "Our case is firmly embedded in the US ... so a Nigerian settlement does not foreclose our case. But this is very good news, I'm glad we remained the constant gardener and could see this come to fruition." This is the company now stating they have a COVID 19 vaccine and being promoted by portal people, should we trust this group with anything? no for me. As Pfizer states they have a vaccine for Covid which earns lots of money, as their lead CEO dumps his stocks at the same time, why would he do that? makes no sense unless there is a hidden program running.

This was written by one of the members and I agree: These clowns and baboons (baboon is a congress, and so congress is a baboon) care not who you vote for, just as long as you vote. Two cheeks of the same ass ... two wings of the same bird / one big team of spoiled / special boy/girl reprobates. They just want our consent / giving our power away to be ruled / judged / controlled. Consent, control and total domination is their game, which I've stopped playing many moons ago. When we walk away / don't comply / consent / feed it our energy .. then it eventually goes baaa bye as the new route is taken and being built. It's just enough people haven't realized this concept yet. They are catching on though. Yet still people voted fraudulently or otherwise for a 77 year old with signs of senility as their President and tasked to fix a whole country? does anyone not think that is not only plain wrong, but bizarre in the extreme. Most have parents or grandparents of that age, would you expect your parents or grandparents to run a country aged 77? With the election finally declared all over bar the shouting on Sunday, the key now is, what happens next? My hypothetical piece from September 2018 came to pass, as in that piece I warned of Trump's lack of grey area support which is essential in politics, the swing voter who are unable to decide for themselves and ultimately run with a majority vote or protest vote. Trump divided people there is no question of that, regardless of political party affiliation. He is one of those characters that people either love or hate, no in between, and in political circles that can be damaging. Last weeks election was a protest vote against Trump, even by Republicans, surely nobody in the country actually believes Biden will be of any use for we the people? Will Biden stay there for the 4 years or does my 13 point plan done a month or two back, also come to fruition? and the frightening prospect of the she devil Pelosi being President, a speaker of the house who cannot speak, is another stick for the rest of the world to beat Americans with. We at THI have a plan for ourselves of which then we can decide what happens next on a big scale with the right support. But with all the disillusioned Trump supporters, what happens next for them? What happens to Q? What happens to the QAnons? What happens to the Trustee who threw her hat into one ring only? These are the biggest what happens next questions for us all. Trump had generated a big following and amassed a Q based army of followers, how will they all feel now, with what they believed was a guaranteed win? No doubt they are all now getting quite a ribbing, but not as much as the Q followers. For the best part of 4 years Q led people down a rosy garden path, of mass arrests, booms, panic in DC and the now classic line of nothing can stop what is coming. What came was no mass arrests, no JFK alive, a whimper instead of a boom, the panic arrived in the White House and what was coming was a man in his middle 70's who stutters and stammers and couldn't remember whether he was running for Senate or President, so no Q you didn't stop what was coming, you led people down the garden path of promises and a wait club. I would be delighted to be proven wrong, but how long can we carry on with the secret plan no one knows of, a secret chess game that delivers no gains in 4 years? But, you did get people to research for themselves and for that we thank you. But with no Trump now, presumably no Q either, or will they roll on as some Biden agitator? QAnons now with no Q, no Trump and no twitter accounts, what happens to them? Then we have the trustee who also relied on Trump and to a lesser degree Q, with her reputation with the Democrats at a very poor level, how will she continue now? It could be said that the Trustee should be impartial, that is not a critique it is an observation, but if you are going to represent the all as the Eve, surely that includes Democrats as well, though I don't envy her having to talk to Pelosi. I suspect her White House Insider Tom may now lose his job as well, as the DNC led Citadel group threw him out of the Treasury building two years ago, I hope not as I like that guy, he like me has worked for Kim for the past 4 years for free as well. If Trump goes away and builds a media empire as hypothesized, then perhaps Lifeforce can take advantage of that platform. So, what happens next, well I hope

THI and moreso the TPC gains a lot of subscribers from the now dormant Q and Trump followers and we can build a country in our image not their, but that image has to be better than what has gone previously. We have 4 years now to build our own community and asking all alt media to get behind it, this division of groups has ran it's course, it has not worked and separation only helps the system. We have built the TPC for us all to participate in, regardless of what group you follow, this is not a subject based group, this is for the all, and all people to build a plan and a group for and by the people, for the first time in history.

In my opinion people have not suffered enough to take action (the 85%). I am not saying that suffering is needed, but many do not use their brain enough to see where the current world is going. As a saying goes: smart learn from the mistakes of others and the dumb from their own. Sadly, many are just too dumb or too dumbed down by the current society to see and act on what is happening. That was spot on and we can deny the fact, or do something about it. Crying over fake ballots and election results over 2 candidates that was chosen for you, to be selected to be a President of a corporation, known as USA Inc, that operates like a government, but is most definitely not, is pure folly. To become a full blown adult you have to stop relying on government to fix your problems, it is no different than being a child asking for parents to fix their problems, at which point in life do you fix your own problems? Governments have never fixed our problems, they have pacified us enough to not complain, nothing more and nothing less. But those pacifying levels have reduced drastically over the past 40 years, and we now far too readily accept the pittance we receive. How much do you wish to suffer, before you do something valid to stop your suffering and the suffering of many others? As Cassandra said there have always been people who will try on behalf of a select few, but they are rejected by your own people. Evidence of that has been all to clear for THI this year, with Shane, Randy, Jimi, Alan, Ava and Kim doing varying degrees of stupidity and divide and conquer tactics. Two people this week said I like your idea of the TPC but it will take too much time, we need it now. But I started the TPC 4 years ago, and we waited in some part for Trust funds, people waited 4 years for Trump to deliver, people waited 8 years for Obama to bring change, people are waiting 13 years for an RV, people waited 15-20 for Birth certificate and Strawman accounts, people waited for the same duration for St. Germaine accounts, people have waited 15 years for NESARA funds, people waited 6 years for GESARA funds, people have waited 8 years for Keenan to deliver the Collateral Accounts, people have waited 18 years for mass arrests, people have waited 3.5 years for Q to fix things, people have waited 21 years for Gould and Wynn Miller to fix the world, people have waited 10 years plus for common law to save them, people have waited 8 years for BRICS to save the world, people have waited for 9 years of 2 weeks promises, people have waited 25 years for ET's to save them, people have waited 3K years for Mohammad to save them, people have waited 2K years for Jesus to save them and people wait and pray every day for god to save them. What is the common denominator in that?

we waited for others to fix or save us, how has that worked out for us? The same effect that praying has each day, zero. God is a convenient cop out for laziness and a lesson in service to self only, why? you pray to god to save you, you pray to god to help you, you pray to god to keep your wellbeings, jobs, family possessions and life, all about you, that is service to self. I know that statement will be a trigger for some, and some will be calling me out right now, but the trigger is I told you the truth. Look at it again for yourself, and you will realize I have just told you what you are currently, but you are not a minority far from it, you are in the 99% who do the same thing, even atheists when in trouble call for god to save them, so it makes no difference whether you are religious or not. Has that worked out for you? if your answer is yes, I can't help you, if your answer is no, then the question remains is, what happens next? Do we wait for the next lazy based narrative to come along and fund or save us, or do we build for the first time in history a group for and by the people. Waiting another 4 years to then say I wish we had built the Peoples Club, because I don't like these two candidates, I don't like I have no job, savings, business or homes, because by then it will be too late. All these protests and petitions signed by the few matters not one jot to the old system, but 10's of millions of TPC generating intelligent and solution based petitions with 10's of millions supporting it, lets them know we not only mean business, but we are their business and we will be in your face daily. That should it unfold, terrifies the globalists. We have to end the American trait of things must happen today or tomorrow, life is not a takeaway drive in booth, it requires patience ah, the patience word, thinking, experiencing, learning and no little effort on all of your parts to make it better. We spent 40 years letting everything go, freedoms, lifestyles, manners, thinking, human rights and now you have to stay in your homes and wear masks like the naughty children, are you a child or are you an adult? is your behavior child like of asking others to save or fix you or will you be an adult and save and fix yourself, and then help others to do the same? The choice is simple, you are asking the one to save billions, I am asking the billions save the one, the one is the all.

One of the positives of this global lockdown and also global financial squeeze will not be felt or seen currently, but in the future, unless you view the now in overview and future thinking. So, what is the positives? for the vast majority outside of the billionaire level will all be reduced to lower incomes and jobs. Too, many still immersed in the old world of greed that appears like a disaster, but in overview it is not. Why? because this world and it's people have created a system of the haves and have nots, and there is far more have nots in this world suffering from dire poverty, malnourishment, poor health, living conditions and lifestyles. We in the western world by and large with a home, food on the table, clean water, a sewage system and clothing are actually all in the top 15% of the real wealth on this planet, some are in the top 10% bracket. To the so called second and third world with just the 5 basics, to them we live like kings, and yet we take it all for granted and still complain, about minimum wage which is correct in real terms, but minimum wage say at $10 per hour, is 5 times the rate of pay per day, not hour, for millions of people around the world. In the USA alone there are 18, 314, 698 millionaires, 18 million millionaires and yet there is 35M living in poverty, those 18 million millionaires are why 35M live in poverty, just a basic lack of sharing, they are also responsible for the 45M on foodstamps in this country also. That is a greed based system that ultimately now will fail us all, as those millionaires are now starting to be harvested by the ultimate in pure greed, the billionaires. There is zero need to have $1M or more sitting in a bank account, as that creates shortage further down the line. And what it also does, it creates in many cases a dance onto the dark paths, it is no coincidence that those with the most money are by and large psychopaths. We in the westernized world need to get more perspective, have become obsessed with the keeping up with the Jones's program, a comparative based earning scheme that is largely achieved based in debt. American middle class is and was an illusion, it was not based on wages earned, but based on how much debt you could put yourself into. The credit rating system tells you that, the more debt you have, the higher your credit rating, if you don't loan or use credit cards you don't have a credit rating, but a credit in their world is classed to us as a debt, debts are then leveraged to create more debts and that is then passed onto the consumer in terms of interest rates. But those interest rates are not to pay our debts, but theirs. It is the same with the Trust, assets of countries contained within it were accumulating interest, when the old system stated it was creating interest payments and so debt, no those assets are interesting bearing. With jobs, incomes and businesses vanishing and shopping items becoming unessential purchases, we are witnessing the vanishing of the materialistic world in front of our eyes. To many this will bring great hardship of their fallen lifestyles, but in overview can also bring some much needed perspectives as well, and a desire to share the wealth more fairly and ultimately looking after each other more, rather than harvest each other.

I am not interested in being convinced that technology can work for us at this point, so not interested in blockchain, bitcoin or any other fresh air tokens, digital wallets or app banking. Why? because nobody understands blockchain period, it is an agency based system and you don't think they created it for our purpose did you? Bitcoin is also agency created, just like encryption, again you don't think they created it for our purpose did you? Fresh air tokens are not for we the people, it is a seducement program designed to pull in people who chase the money. Digital wallets or app banking is the exact same program that Bitcoin and the FB coin are running. No banks central or otherwise, decentralization it is called, they told you that in their manifesto. Again the people who follow that rhetoric are people who chase the money, the few of THI who went to Liferforce are doing just that, chasing the money, no ifs or buts you chased the money. I am ok with your choice it is where you are at on a personal level, you still have old system programming like many other people do, but don't rail at me for pointing that fact out. Kim has the promise of Trust funds and that is your lure, but whilst it is valid, there are no guarantees of it being released to we the people anytime soon, unless clowns put in place a back up program to harvest it another way. This is what the distraction is now, they are planning for their electronic world, but also a back up if they don't. The back up is to release the funds to the people, but only when they have control of all of the businesses, they will collect the money we spend, and start it all again, something Kim should be pondering on long and hard. And not as reported to me by several people this week, and a quote of giggling like a little school girl and gloating with Tank because one of THI's members helped them out, embarrassing behavior and more people are noticing it, makes no difference to me it is their validity and reputation that is being shredded not mine. It was not a good look I am told, but they are the gift that keeps giving currently, and the behavior patterns become indicative. It is the oldest trick in the book, all designed to hook you into a money program, just like the dinar, dongs and zims RV program, people wasted thousands of real money on it, due to people like Tank promoting it. Tank cost many of his friends and associates thousands of dollars and put many of them out of their homes and businesses, due to his promotion of a fake program. The clowns in panic show revealed it all, and it is disappointing to me that people who have been made aware of what they are up to, are sleep walking into their path and trap, with fresh air tokens, digital wallets and banking apps. With no banks planned for the future, what are the banking apps for?

A lot of talk surrounding making yourself a Sovereign citizen, particularly amongst the common law people. Personally whilst it is a good idea to reclaim your status, as it stands it can become an issue later in life. Currently under the citizen status you are supported in part by the state should you be unemployed, have or obtain a disability and also have a pension whether you work or not, particularly in the UK. It is also related to the UK for free health care. But, here is the kicker if you remove your strawman status it is my understanding those benefits afforded you are no longer available, unless a law has changed. This obtaining recognized sovereignty only becomes a useful goal, should you gain access to your Trust account created at birth, as only then do you have the funds, to cover those eventualities and also the free health issue. Sovereignty declares you outside of the system, but as I understand you don't retain or gain benefits from the system for the rest of your life. Something to ponder on when applying for that status, you must gain access to your Trust account to fund the sovereign choice.

Things that make you go hmm, when you find out that the globalist company called Dell, the computer firm who are the third leading computer specialists after Lenovo and HP, reveals this piece. Michael Dell who like Bill Gates had connections to IBM or I be Marduk, who have the Watson AI system. Gates got all his ideas from IBM, and Michael Dell sold IBM PC compatible computers until forming his own company called Dell Computer Corporation. Dell works with agency related goons. On November 19, 2015, Dell, alongside ARM Holdings, Cisco Systems, Intel, Microsoft, and Princeton University, founded the OpenFog Consortium, to promote interests and development in fog computing. Fog networking consists of a control plane and a data plane. For example, on the data plane, fog computing enables computing services to reside at the edge of the network as opposed to servers in a data-center. Compared to cloud computing, fog computing emphasizes proximity to end-users and client objectives (e.g. operational costs, security policies, resource exploitation), dense geographical distribution and context-awareness (for what concerns computational and IoT resources), latency reduction and backbone bandwidth savings to achieve better quality of service (QoS). Fog networking supports the Internet of Things (IoT) concept, in which most of the devices used by humans on a daily basis will be connected to each other. Do people not ask why the now several references to us as humans is cropping up everywhere, what are they differentiating us from? even Kim did it in a recent podcast, referring to us as you humans. Why are they suddenly calling us humans? perhaps we may find out soon. Examples include phones, wearable health monitoring devices, connected vehicle and augmented reality using devices such as the Google Glass. SPAWAR, a division of the US Navy, is prototyping and testing a scalable, secure Disruption Tolerant Mesh Network to protect strategic military assets, both stationary and mobile. Machine-control applications, running on the mesh nodes, "take over", when internet connectivity is lost. Use cases include Internet of Things e.g. smart drone swarms. ISO/IEC 20248 provides a method whereby the data of objects identified by edge computing using Automated Identification Data Carriers [AIDC], a barcode and/or RFID tag, can be read, interpreted, verified and made available into the "Fog" and on the "Edge," even when the AIDC tag has moved on. All this we warned of in the Clowns in Panic, everything is about tagging everything now, datamining for the Ai system to run the world. But then you find out this, Dell Remote Access Controller, a remote-access card available in many models of Dell servers. Not worked it out yet? Dell Remote Access Controller DRAC or drac onian. Add this in and a picture emerges, Dynamic Relay Authorization Control, or Drac for short, a daemon that dynamically updates a relay authorization map for sendmail. Then you look at the Dell logo with one letter fallen over, you are left with DLL, which is another computer term called Direct Link Library, the letter left fallen is the E, which E fell? When you add in Dell took over a popular PC gaming network in 2006 called Alienware, perhaps your pondering reaches deeper levels now? With that knowledge and thinking mindset perhaps this next piece has more meaning or makes more sense now? you decide.

I ran this piece recently but running it again with a deeper insight piece to ponder on. Debunking the Creator god. The creator god implies predestination. Predestination opposes freewill, because freewill requires individual decision making, and predestination requires everything that was done, is being done and will be done to be in the hands of his creation. Predestination is an enemy of free will. A creator God would have complete control over everything, and is basically the script writer of their creation. This can be seen in computer programming, where the programmer is a god over his program. (take note of that as this unfolds) He can change whatever he deems fit without the program's consent, and all outcomes of the program are known facts, as the program executes scripted commands created by the programmer. Hence the past, present and future in the world of a creator god has already been decided, and we(the alleged creation) have no control over its outcome. This makes the world seem mechanistic, and dead as we have no power and exist as mere automatons. (or bots as we call it) Freewill on the other hand, is based on ones ability to make individual choices that we record as the past experience, manipulate as present decisions and anticipate as the future. Hence, Free Will can only exist in a domain where the future is unknown and the past is inaccessible, the past is a known memory, it cannot become Unknown or manipulated. This is similar to the concepts behind Blockchain Technology (As above, so below) The creator God is obviously an enemy of free will, the very thing none of us can oppose as our very existence alone proves it. You cannot believe in free will and the Creator god The Creator god is a narcissist, complete control.. This is why Creator God religions requite full submission (sub-mission which means substitute mission) To believe?? Or not to believe?? The very fact that only you can make that decision for you, should make freewill an obviously irrefutable fact.

Interesting piece and thought concept to ponder on, the reference to the god being a computer programming brings up many connotations, and makes one ponder on AI. Is everything just an AI overlay? and no I don't believe we are a computer simulation, whereby our "god" or even source could well be an AI invention, which then explains the bot like behavior of many of his creations does it not? With the recent revelation that "source" told the Trustee to create an internet TV station, and also that the dark doesn't exist and is an illusion, which has raised many concerns of the Trustee. But raises more concerns from my perspective, not who received the message, but where did that message really came from? The last two parents the twins, one of which is only appearing in here at times as a VI, virtual intelligence, our life force energy converted from coins to paper and now seemingly marching towards fresh air tokens, with a techno world on steroids lurking around the corner from us, it is something we should all think deeply upon. Forget whether you are religious or not, everything on this planet currently is about shortening time spans, via genetics, technology, travel or even conferences. But, given the distances of travel and the main star gates down for speed of travel, it would be an easier way of controlling a planet and it's being from afar, with the use of technology is it not? AI gods and goddesses oh my, what a way to cheat death and not return to source, and all about staying alive at all costs to keep control. Is that was has really taken place in this Solar System? all 1's and 0's and binary code and not 1 on 1 with 1, which we had on some levels earlier this year, until someone decided to go 1-0-0, time will and some will say has told. The key is how to correct it, and that involves the all, not just the one. With some believing this creation is a simulation, it's not, but some aspects have that feel to it, one has to ponder on our thoughts of what is Source? Here is something I pondered on this week that adds to that piece. It goes back to the one on one with the one, which plays out on multiple levels not just the Quantum system. Who or what is Source? how do you access it? how widespread are people with access to it? the latter of which made me ponder. Now we are all a part of Source, it is inside us all, you have to go within, not look up to the sky to access it. All of us have the capability to become a Source for your own Universe one day, providing your soul development has gone through the several levels of not only Earth planes, but Galactic and Universal planes of development. There are seven planes of soul development for each level. All god or gods in our books were every day beings who had developed enough to attain some, what appears to some as magical abilities. Some of it was trickery, and some of it technology, but it was enough to fool the lower developed humans into, believing they were the god or gods. But there are many humans globally who have some of these extraordinary god like abilities, some use it for good purposes and some fall to the dark alignments, they end up losing their abilities, but then dance with the unseen entities to carry the illusion on. The question to ponder on is, what if you cannot or struggle to gain access to a real source from a lower soul development level? Many humans are astral level and have little to no extra abilities, what if the frequency those humans carry is too low, to make the real frequency connection or spark to source? What if those humans are then subject to an external Source which they are told is in the sky, and subsequently external of them. What if that level of soul development's connection to Source is the sky? and the veil which is an electromagnetic fence, is subsequently connected to the Saturn-Moon matrix frequency generator, and for those people their god or Source is actually an AI programmed to mimic Source, but is not the real Source. It is a bit like Project Bluebeam, where frequencies of light create a visual in the sky of an alien invasion, but to do that you need a projection screen to make it realistic. What if the veil was that field of projection? and with the veil falling, is that projection screen to do Blue Beam no longer available? People look up to the sky and pray, which frequency wise generates a wave to then hit the veil, and the AI then mirrors a frequency back at you, that people believe is god. This is similar to the voice to head technology used on channeler's, ran largely by the greys. That is an AI based system, as the AI records all human activity and then mimics it's behavioral pattern, the fact the last one went psychotic suggests many here were of the same status, or it was interfered with? In the 100 series they had an AI down as alie, which is pronounced as a lie, but if you anagram it, it may become more significant, ALIE re-arranged becomes El and AI, is El which means god, AI. Maybe they told us all hidden in plain sight? So the questions remain, can humans only connect to Source via mental plane level development, which is blocked by a simulation level of traps called the Astral, which contains an ultimate trap of mirroring being with god and peace, called Heaven. It is a wonderful experience full of bliss, harmony and you feel at one with the Universe, but I quickly learned that was another of their astral simulation traps. I believe the Astral is the simulation, many reports in dreams and also in daytime, of being in a familiar place, but characters are out of place, buildings in wrong place also, that is the Astral, which is in part a copy of the physical creation, but it is not exact. This also explains the Mandela effect, as you dance between the two worlds at any given time day or night, asleep or awake. Another way you can connect to Source direct is, with the ability to bi-locate travel not astral travel, the word astral travel is a spellcast. Astral traveling is a word magic trap, you ask for astral travel and that is where you end up, it's all about consent. But if you bilocate outside of the mobius loop and subsequently outside of time, then your connection to Source is direct, and not getting pulled in by an AI overlay, mimicking being god. By bi-locating outside of the loop and time, you bypass the system known as The Matrix, and become as one with the Source original. Inside the Matrix, your god is time. ponder deeply on that.

A fairly mindbending concept that last one, but grasping makes much more sense than people think. We live in a world when what is real and what is illusion becomes mired in a mist of fog, so thick people can barely see. You clearing the fog of the old world is the key, then teach others to do the same. We have to create our world, our ways and in our image, the other world was not in our image, but theirs. The show tonight laid out the why we have to build the TPC, create a new path, our own looking glass system whereby we don't look back and make predictions for the future, we the people create the future. Build it and they will come, we are not a restaurant club, we don't need the wait club and their waiters. The future of our species rests in our hands, and what we do today decides the future for the all. What is it to be, a transhuman Orwellian techno world or a vibrant, prosperous caring and sharing world we can all be proud of? I will leave you tonight with 2 comments from the Aztec crash and one from me. The EBE said: 1. "We have no government, we outlawed it, or rather we outgrew it." that is the goal of the TPC. 2. Just try to accept we are in paradise when we are seeing and understanding something new, our god should be change, our religion should be understanding, searching for truth is our greatest social challenge and purpose. People only love god or gods when they have failed to remember their own connection to source.
