UK man arrested for the disgraceful, heinous crime of hugging people. As San Diego police request military drones to catch criminals? no! just speeding motorists. A federal judge in California ordered the video journalists who exposed Planned Parenthood's practices in the harvesting and sales of aborted baby body parts to pay the abortion giant $13.6 million to cover its legal costs in its case against them. Did you know that 8 % of the children in India that got the vaccine against Polio, all died Apple Maps is currently blocking directions into Washington D.C. ahead of anticipated mass protests coinciding with Tuesday's counting of Electoral College votes, the company has blamed 'current road conditions.' As scientist announce this week the Earth is spinning faster, well I never. Donald Trump has been suspended from Twitter and Facebook after tweeting to supporters who attacked the US Capitol. In a social media message to protesters he said "I love you" before telling them to go home. He also repeated false claims about election fraud. So the media and politicians told Trump to speak to the protestors, he did and they banned him, what children these people are, with their no win narrative.

A woman died after being shot inside the Capitol on Wednesday after violent pro-Trump protesters stormed the building. There is the reasoning for it, right there in the opening line of swaying opinion, violent pro Trump protestors, this is psychology 101. Reporters are supposed to be there and report on the event, not sway public opinion. Imagine if I wrote a report and wrote actors playing out staged events in bed with the criminal and treasonous media, it would be declared false by the factcheckers for citing an opinion, yet these so called journalists plant the seeds in their method of reporting all the time. CNN reported that the woman was in critical condition after being struck in the chest, while the Washington Examiner said she was hit in the neck. The issue is, was the woman killed a real protestor or a LARP, like George Flynn? More and more on-ground intel is coming to the surface that the breach of the Capitol building has been initiated by ANTIFA thugs dressed up as Trump supporters. Classic Agent Provocateur tactics and straight out of the communist/Marxist color revolution playbook. The MSM is already having a field day, blaming Trump supporters for violence. The shooting was done by BLM actors paid to do so by foreign investors, who do actually interfere with the election process. Antifa dressed up as Trump supporters smashing windows, yet the police arrest none of them? Metropolitan Police Department Chief Robert Contee said 13 people have been arrested so far on Wednesday. "We were looking at just above, just above 13 arrests. all very Masonic Mr Contee. Predictably D.C was placed into a curfew and banned all people off of the streets. This is what these events are about for the criminal authorities, an opportunity to create a distraction and sway bot opinions. These protests are a waste of time now, they know how to stifle them by placing actors into the scene, and their media script writers have prepared soundbites ready to roll. We have to be smarter than this now, non compliance, boycott all their companies, get in the faces of all politicians, stand peacefully outside of their homes and businesses and disrupt them. I have to request again where is the military in all of this, your country and citizens are under attack from foreign agitators and you do nothing? Where are the agencies investigating foreign interference, terrorism and violence on our soil and reporting it truthfully? 17 agencies and you can't see who and what is the problem? or are you the problem? The issue that is overlooked is, no one gets near the capitol building without inside help, which makes this a staged event.

WASHINGTON—The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) today published a letter clarifying national banks' and federal savings associations' authority, to participate in independent node verification networks (INVN) and use stablecoins to conduct payment activities and other bank-permissible functions. "While governments in other countries have built real-time payments systems, the United States has relied on our innovation sector to deliver real-time payments technologies. Some of those technologies are built and managed by bank consortia and some are based on independent node verification networks such as blockchains," said Acting Comptroller of the Currency Brian P. Brooks. "The President's Working Group on Financial Markets recently articulated a strong framework for ushering in an era of stablecoin-based financial infrastructure, identifying important risks while allowing those risks to be managed in a technology-agnostic way. Our letter removes any legal uncertainty about the authority of banks to connect to blockchains as validator nodes, and thereby transact stablecoin payments on behalf of customers who are increasingly demanding the speed, efficiency, interoperability, and low cost associated with these products." The OCC just told US banks that they must treat permissionless, open source blockchains like Bitcoin and Ethereum the same way they treat SWIFT, ACH and FedWire. Oh and also, there is FinCen putting up kyc walls for crypto effectively de-platforming it as US currency asset. Square's Letter to FinCen For example, under this Proposal — if a Square customer's mother gifts her daughter $4,000 in physical cash and the daughter deposits those funds in a bank, the bank would have no obligation to collect information on the customer's mother. Under the Proposal, if this same transaction were completed in cryptocurrency, the bank would have to reach beyond its customer relationship and intrude upon the mother's private information in order for the daughter to successfully deposit and freely access her gift. Seems they are pushing on whilst all the distractions are ongoing, I believe the lockdowns allows them to do the back ground work, and the question you are all asking is, what is the Trustee doing to prevent this? If crypto is the new currency, the old paper assets are eventually deemed worthless, as the Guardian she needs to address this matter with urgency.

It has been brought to my attention by several people now, the latest of which was in the past week. What I am hearing is of people being forced to sign non disclosure agreements on projects they are working on. Being forced to sign contracts to work with them, told they need approval to publish their work from the Committee. Others describe misappropriation of funds within the organization, and then being fired for pointing it out, lack of transparency within the organization, complaints of cronyism, complaints of gender based racism, and a culture of fear being generated by the leaders of the organization, to the point of people being frightened to speak out. Threatening emails, dismissive of peoples talents to safeguard the leaders apparent superiority complex. Described as a backdrop of cult like elements, controlling the narrative, controlling how people operate, controlling what people say or do, all has to be approved by the Committee. Is this a Government organization? Facebook? Twitter? or an agency based group? no, this is the Lifeforce group. One member who had a YT site and posted the Lifeforce/Speak Project clips on his site, was told he didn't have permission to post them and needed approval. He asked them for approval and was denied the right to promote Lifeforce by Kim and Tank. Why? because that member posts THI shows and clips on his same site. That was just one person, there is several backing those claims of various shenanigans going on within that group, good people being pushed aside and I am calling on Tank and Kim to sort this out. The world is in a mess in part due to funding coming from that group, and you owe it to the people who supported you to sort this mess out. Your group as it stands, stands for divide and conquer and that is helping the clowns, is it what you stand for Tank? is that the image of the Trustee, Eve or Ambassador, the world wants to see? Fairly extraordinary antics and not how we the people will evolve or develop a unity of coming together. You don't need me to point out their path is one doomed to failure, why? because they are operating in the old system way, divide and conquer, hierarchy, control. For me it is painful to hear about it, but it was not unexpected as the path chosen was laced with bitterness, angst, destroying not building, and a leadership who will not accept any responsibility for their actions. We asked what the Trustee is doing about the crypto scam, and many others have asked just what is Kim doing with her several roles she has these days, as things appear to be getting worse not better. As she was appointed to those key positions, we the people require answers as to what exactly are you doing to fix the mess of this planet. Titles and key roles comes with responsibilities, and also flak should those responsibilities not be adhered to. In her role as the Trustee prior to May, she was using the Quantum System and all monies were recoverable, then she started speaking of the Omega system, is this connected to the Quantum System, if not, why? Why use the clown based Omega system at all? Kim stated on air she lost the Mexico money, then backtracked and said she didn't, one of several back tracks on the narrative now, this is not a good look for the global community to see and hear such mixed messages. The Quantum System always recovered it, can you explain this in more detail please. Her role as Ambassador to the Council, there are things and evidence here of off world interference still, can she please inform us on her next show, what is actually being done to stop that? The rise of AI on this planet is not a public free will choice, what protection are you and the Council doing to stop this techno world invasion on the public? Also as the Restoration of the planet agreement came via the Council, can she inform us of the progress being made with that venture, it is 16 months now and we have seen no evidence it is unfolding, what is the hold up? Her role as Ground Commander for all the elite families and dragon groups is now 4-5 months down the line, can she inform us as to the progress on that, as like the Restoration it appears to have stalled at best, gotten 10 times worse in overview. With all the Black Sun leaders dead can she explain where Trump sits now? and what is happening with the Black Sun? and why Black Rock a subsidiary of the Black Sun is doing rogue banking transactions under her watch? Her role as Trustee and following her killing all the lead bankers 3-4 months ago and she is also as the administrator of every bank, can she inform us of why there is no public transfers yet? with all the leading bankers now dead, again this appears to have stalled with no forthcoming information. A person not accountable in the lead role they are playing, ultimately becomes a dictatorship.

US President-elect Joe Biden has accused the US defence department of "irresponsibility" for failing to give his team the information it needs for the transition of power. He said his team had encountered "obstruction from the political leadership". Mr Biden also claimed that agencies critical to US security had suffered "enormous damage" under Donald Trump. A Pentagon spokesman said it had been "completely transparent". Mr Biden takes office on 20 January but President Trump has refused to concede. For weeks after the 3 November election, Mr Biden was blocked from receiving key intelligence briefings, an essential and normally routine part of a presidential transition. After Mr. Trump finally agreed to allow the formal transition process last month, Mr Biden praised the White House for its help in the process. But his tone had changed on Monday, Mr Biden spoke after a briefing by national security and foreign policy aides. In a speech which he posted on Twitter, Mr Biden said his team was facing "roadblocks" in the defence department and the Office of Management and Budget. "Right now, we just aren't getting all the information that we need from the outgoing administration in key national security areas," he said. "It's nothing short, in my view, of irresponsibility." The president-elect added that his team needed a "clear picture of our force posture around the world" and that US adversaries could exploit any confusion that resulted. Classic example of faction fighting in my opinion, if not, actions would have been taken.

North Korea's leader Kim Jong-un has admitted his five-year economic plan for the isolated country failed to meet its targets in "almost every sector". He was speaking at the opening of a rare congress of his ruling Workers' Party - only the eighth in its history. North Korea closed its borders last January to prevent the spread of Covid-19, despite claiming to have no cases of the virus. That has left it cut off from its neighbour and ally, China. Trade between the two has plummeted by about 80%. Typhoons and floods have devastated homes and crops in North Korea, which remains under strict international sanctions, including over its nuclear programme. It is not unusual for Mr Kim to admit mistakes - in fact, it is quickly becoming one of his trademarks, the BBC's Laura Bicker in Seoul reports. Finally a leader who will take some personal responsibility, ironically probably the world's youngest leader. The leaders of the various organizations here, should take note and act accordingly, perhaps then something's might be achieved.

On January 2, 2021 the United States Common Law Grand Jury filed a paper in the Northern District of New York putting the US Supreme Court Justices on "NOTICE" concerning rampant acts of Treason in all 94 Federal District Courts and the United States Supreme Court. After 30 days the United States Common Law Grand Jury will be gathering to consider indictments on some or all Supreme Court Justices. We will keep you posted as to viewing the evidence and the date and time for grand jury gathering. TAKE NOTE: This coming Monday 01-04-21 at 9PM Eastern we will be looking at and talking about the above said paper on Treason by the Federal Judiciary and why we believe it necessary after their 30 day NOTICE to consider indictments.

A woman in the UK was arrested by police after she filmed a video inside an almost completely empty hospital and posted it online. The clip shows the woman walking through virtually empty corridors and filming empty wards at Gloucestershire Royal Hospital. "This is a disgrace...it is so dead...all the people in our country desperately waiting for treatment, cancer treatment heart disease, honestly this is making me so angry," she states as she films a row of empty waiting chairs. The woman expressed shock at how quiet the hospital was, saying she expected there to be "a few more people around, there's absolutely nobody." Did she get thanked for highlighting that? no!! she was arrested on suspicion of a public order offence. Suspicion of, what an interesting fascist term that is, you can make anything up with terms like that, how is suspicion of in those circumstances breaking the law. What would happen if the people dismantled all police and security cameras for the suspicion of spying on the public, that would be fair would it not?

Vandals in the US have attacked the homes of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi and Senate majority leader Mitch McConnell. Fake blood and a severed pig's head were reportedly left outside Democrat Ms Pelosi's California house, which was also daubed with graffiti. The words "where's my money" and some expletives were scrawled on the Republican Mr. McConnell's house in Kentucky. It comes amid a political battle over a corona virus stimulus package. I don't advocate vandalism, there are better and less criminal ways of targeting these people and making them accountable for their actions. Clever thinking and non compliance is the way forward, not angst and destruction of property.

Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell dubbed the effort to increase direct payments to $2,000 "socialism for rich people," eliciting an incredulous reaction from Bernie Sanders as the GOP Senate continued to decline to take up the matter on Thursday. In his second consecutive day of attacks on the bill, McConnell accused Speaker Nancy Pelosi and Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer of engineering a bill that sends "thousands of dollars to people who don't need the help." He also blocked requests from Schumer and Sanders (I-Vt.) to hold votes on the bill this week. "Borrowing from our grandkids to do socialism for rich people is a terrible way to get help to families who actually need it," For rich people? I thought it was for those on less than $75K a year? is that determined as being rich now. Thousands of dollars for people who don't need help, just how out of touch is this jackass? Notice now Schumer and Pelosi wants the extra stimulus to go ahead now, now that Trump is out of the way.

Tony Blair has just said on GMB this morning; "the only way you will get your liberty back is to take the vaccine". Perhaps Mr. Blair forgot the memo last month from the WHO? The WHO's top emergencies expert Mike Ryan, said, Vaccines do not equal zero Covid.

Congress handed Donald Trump a major, bipartisan defeat in the waning days of his presidency, as the Republican-led Senate voted to override his veto of a $740.5 billion defense policy bill. It's the first time one of Trump's vetoes has been surmounted. The final tally was 81 to 13, easily exceeding the two-thirds threshold needed to override a veto, with support coming from both Republicans and Democrats as it did earlier in the House. The massive annual defense authorization measure now will become law. Trump had sought to intimidate GOP senators into voting to sustain his veto, unleashing a bitter attack on fellow Republicans as the chamber prepared to begin the override process. "Weak and tired Republican 'leadership' will allow the bad Defense Bill to pass," Trump tweeted Dec. 29. "Negotiate a better Bill, or get better leaders, NOW!" he added. You see how they fought to get a war bill passed but not to pass the stimulus bill, at which point will Americans see the clowns are not there for their benefit. Does anyone ask who or what are we fighting to spend $3/4T on defense, that is riddled with corruption and fraud as they have previously admitted? Given the Trustee is the likely source of this funding, why wasn't there a strict clause, defend America and it's people inside DC or no funding?

As President Donald Trump scrambles to fuel claims of a stolen election in the final days of his administration, the nation's 10 living secretaries of Defense warned Sunday that the U.S. military should have no role in determining the outcome of a U.S. election. "Each of us swore an oath to support and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic. We did not swear it to an individual or a party," penned Defense secretaries Mark Esper, James Mattis, Ash Carter, Chuck Hagel, Leon Panetta, Dick Cheney, William Cohen, Robert Gates, William Perry and Donald Rumsfeld. "Efforts to involve the U.S. armed forces in resolving election disputes would take us into dangerous, unlawful and unconstitutional territory," wrote the former Defense secretaries. "Civilian and military officials who direct or carry out such measures would be accountable, including potentially facing criminal penalties, for the grave consequences of their actions on our republic," they added. Typical one sided reporting again, and typical globalist names crop up again. "Each of us swore an oath to support and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic" all of you then are guilty as charged, as all of you failed to do anything to protect or support anything except globalist elites.

China will overtake the US to become the world's largest economy by 2028, five years earlier than previously forecast, a report says. The UK-based Centre for Economics and Business Research (CEBR) said China's "skilful" management of Covid-19 would boost its relative growth compared to the US and Europe in coming years. Meanwhile India is tipped to become the third largest economy by 2030. The CEBR releases its economic league table every year on 26 December. Although China was the first country hit by Covid-19, it controlled the disease through swift and extremely strict action, meaning it did not need to repeat economically paralysing lockdowns as European countries have done. As a result, unlike other major economies, it has avoided an economic recession in 2020 and is in fact estimated to see growth of 2% this year. The East taking over the West as stated in several shows, several years back, the irony is it was the Western people who started the virus.

Here is their latest tactic of deliberate stupidity designed to throw the masses off track. The forced cremation of a 20-day-old Muslim baby in Sri Lanka has highlighted the government's controversial order to burn the bodies of all those who died of Covid. Critics say the decision is not based in science and only intended to target the minority community. Mohamed Fahim and his wife Fathima Shafna were thrilled when their baby boy Shaykh was born on 18 November after a six-year wait. But their joy was short-lived, on the night of 7 December, they noticed the baby was struggling to breathe. They rushed him to the capital Colombo's best children's hospital, the Lady Ridgeway. "They told us the baby was in a severe condition and was suffering from pneumonia, but then, around midnight, they did an antigen test and told us the baby was positive for corona virus," Mohamed Fahim. Doctors then tested Mr Fahim and his wife but they were both negative. "I asked how my baby was positive when both of us, even the mother who was breastfeeding him, were negative?" Mr Fahim you do realize it is a crime to ask a common sense question to a public supported corporation these days. Despite tears and pleas, the anxious couple were sent home by officials who said more tests were needed, they were told to call the hospital for updates. The next day, they were informed that their baby had died of Covid. Mr Fahim repeatedly asked doctors to conduct a PCR test to reconfirm this, but they refused. Then, doctors asked him to sign a document authorising the cremation of their child, as required by law in Sri Lanka. Mr Fahim refused: the cremation of bodies is forbidden in Islam, considered a form of mutilation, forbidden by Allah. Muslims also believe in the resurrection of the physical body, and cremation is thought to prevent this. This has the hallmarks of child trafficking or body parts to me, basic medical procedures and questioning denied. As for the cremation, that is a parents choice not the state's choice.

A host of new billionaires who have emerged in 2020, their fortunes propelled by a stock market surge as investors flocked to companies involved in the development of vaccines, treatments, medical devices and everything in between. Altogether, Forbes found 50 new billionaires in the healthcare sector in 2020. The most notable newcomers of the year are the scientists behind the two most successful vaccines for the corona virus — one developed by Pfizer and German biotech firm BioNTech, the other by Massachusetts-based Moderna — who have seen their net worths skyrocket since January: Uğur Şahin and Stéphane Bancel, virtually unknown at the outset of 2020, both men are now billionaires several times over. BioNTech CEO Şahin, who cofounded the firm with Özlem Türeci, his wife and the firm's chief medical officer — she owns no shares in the company — is now worth $4.2 billion; his French counterpart at Moderna, Stéphane Bancel, has a $4.1 billion fortune. Moderna's meteoric rise also produced two more billionaires among its earliest investors, Harvard professor Timothy Springer and MIT scientist Robert Langer. Those vaccines will require billions of glass vials to safely transport them — enter Italy's Sergio Stevanato, a new billionaire and the majority shareholder in the privately-owned Stevanato Group, which is making glass vials for several dozen vaccine efforts around the world. It's not just vaccines: companies developing antibody treatments and drugs to help doctors fight the virus have also benefited from the market frenzy. Carl Hansen, the CEO of Canadian biotech outfit AbCellera, is now worth $2.9 billion after his company went public on December 11, fueled by the Food and Drug Administration's approval last month of its antibody treatment developed with pharma giant Eli Lilly. Even the firms working behind the scenes to help larger companies test new drugs and devices have seen their stock prices reach new highs. August Troendle, the founder and CEO of Cincinnati-based contract research firm Medpace, is now worth $1.3 billion thanks to a nearly 70% jump in the company's shares since the beginning of the year. The new moguls hail from 11 different countries, but the majority live in China, the early epicenter of Covid-19, which is now home to nearly three dozen new healthcare billionaires — chief among them is Hu Kun, the chairman of medical device manufacturer Contec Medical Systems, which went public on the Shenzhen stock exchange in August. Contec's shares have risen nearly 150% since the IPO on the back of strong overseas sales of products ranging from pulse oximeters to pulmonary devices used for checking lung conditions, all of which have become more necessary with the spread of Covid-19 throughout the globe. Anyone making money to that level on the health of others is sick and twisted, and a complete waste of a human vessel.

A recently elected US lawmaker has died from Covid-19 - the first member of the US Congress to die from the disease. On December 18, 2020, during the COVID-19 pandemic, Rep-Luke Letlow announced that he had tested positive for the virus. He was hospitalized in Monroe, after his condition deteriorated, he was transferred to the intensive care unit of Ochsner LSU Health Shreveport on December 23. On December 29, Letlow died of complications of COVID-19 at the age of 41, five days before he was scheduled to be sworn into office. The hospital reported that he had no underlying conditions when admitted but died in the ICU of a heart attack after a procedure. 6 of 7 condolences all said the words heartbroken or broken hearts. Staged event or was he deleted?

Pennsylvania State Representative Mike Reese died on Saturday from an apparent brain aneurysm. Rep. Mike Reese died at Excelsior Health Westmoreland Hospital with his family by his side. He was 42-years-old and was first elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 2008. In December, Rep. Reese had tested positive for COVID-19. So, two new elected members aged 41 and 42 just die like that in the space of a few days, and the media is not raising suspicions? Yet if one person in 100K dies it is spread all over the news.

COVID BS Marco Rubio stated this: "Dr. Fauci lied about masks in March. Dr. Fauci has been distorting the level of vaccination needed for herd immunity," Rubio wrote. "It isn't just him, many in elite bubbles believe the American public doesn't know 'what's good for them', so they need to be tricked into 'doing the right thing.'" The Florida Republican blasted the National Institutes of Health (NIH) official, claiming in a tweet that he "lied" about mask usage, has been "distorting" the need for getting vaccinated and is part of a larger conspiracy of elites trying to deceive Americans.

The Norwegian Medicines Agency has announced that two nursing home residents passed away days after receiving the Pfizer-BioNTech Covid-19 vaccine, and that an investigation has been launched into the deaths. An investigation has been launched by public health authorities in Mexico after a young doctor was left paralyzed minutes after taking the Pfizer Covid-19 vaccine. Her family have asked for more research to be carried out. Portuguese health worker, 41, dies two days after getting the Pfizer covid vaccine as her father says he 'wants answers' According to factcheckers that doesn't mean the vaccine is not safe, and just because they state it, does not mean it is the truth either. The levels of reporting on the media and social media is child level thinking and writing, they plus politicians need to grow up and fast, they all look embarrassing.

Ask why 75K Dutch nurses wont take it Ask why 100K doctors and nurses around the world said don't take it or accept this virus that has no live isolated virus despite allegedly there being 100's thousand cases. Ask why the vaccine is not live virus only a genetic code. Ask why YT, Twitter, FB are banning genuine doctors, scientists and nurses from speaking out about a fake virus (common cold or flu) and the fake vaccine and the fake test kits. Ask why the test kits instead of going in your mouth they push it up your nose so far it breaks the brain membrane. Ask why Australia just banned the vaccine as it produces HIV positive tests Ask why 90%+ of the PCR produce false positive results. Ask why the PCR test was not designed for disease detection. Ask why it says on the masks box, not designed to protect you from covid or any other virus Ask why the vaccine creator asked and got immunity from any damages Ask why in Australia this winter they recorded no flu cases. Ask why they ran Project Lockstep in 2010 Ask why Event 201 simulation in September 2019 mirrored exactly the live virus event 3 months later. Ask why there was cases of "covid" before Wuhan in other countries. Ask why the "vaccine" is altering your dna/rna which Bill Gates said it would (yt video) Not here too convince people of their choices but research themselves, just look into it. It may save your life.

Factcheckers lame attempts to convert facts into fiction and here is their latest. Social media posts say a nurse collapsed after receiving a Covid-19 vaccine, seeking to raise doubts about its safety. But the nurse has a history of passing out, and a doctor said there is no reason to believe the vaccine itself was responsible. The nurse said she has a history of passing out. "I have a history of having an overactive vagal response, and so with that, if I have pain from anything -- hangnail, or if I stub a toe, I can just pass out," Tiffany Dover said, according to a video from the WRCB Chattanooga TV channel. "I have passed out probably six times in the past six weeks... it's common for me," Dover said. Is her name really Tiffany Dover or Ben Dover and take shit. No proof she said those words, and the common sense questions are, why would you employ a nurse with a history of blackouts? and why haven't the hospital cured it?

With the COVID-19 vaccinations being rolled out, some are concerned they may be mandated in the future. On Friday, a group rallied outside the Liberty Pole. The event was spearhead by Jose Peo, a Rochester city councilman, and Save Rochester-Black Lives Matter. Some say they are not opposed to vaccines, but don't want to be forced to get them. "We want you to have the choice whether or not you want the vaccine, simple as that. If you want the vaccine, fantastic, we're not going to jump ahead of you in line, take the vaccine. But, we want you to have your choice," said Peo. There's been a bill proposed in the New York State Assembly that would require New Yorkers to get the vaccine in certain situations. The irony is BLM and Trump supporters both rallying in the same region I wonder what that will lead to? I guess we found out at Capitol on Wednesday.

AZD1222 (also known as ChAdOx1 nCoV-19) is a COVID-19 vaccine developed by Oxford University and AstraZeneca collaborating with the Italian biotech firm Irbm Science Park given by intramuscular injection, using as a vector the modified chimpanzee adenovirus (ChAdOx1). On 30 December 2020, AZD1222 was approved for use in the COVID-19 vaccination programme in the United Kingdom. Monkey genes in human vaccines, oh my TARZAN PIECE roll up Tarzan and Jane come and get your monkey jab.

Pfizer warned today there is 'no data' to show a single dose of its corona virus vaccine provides long-term protection, after the UK scrapped its original jab rollout plan. The UK medical regulator is now recommending Covid jabs are given in two doses three months apart, rather than over the intended four-week period, to allow millions more people to be immunized over a shorter time period. That suggests to me with public opinion against these vaccines and the likelihood like the MMR the 2nd one is more potent, they are frightened too many adverse reactions will unfold. They will use the excuse in 3 months time and said the vaccine wasn't effective because it needs to be 4 weeks apart, and so we will have to lockdown and vaccinate you all again. This is how these jackasses think and work. The strategy will apply to both Pfizer/BioNTech's vaccine and the newly approved jab by Oxford/AstraZeneca, despite limited data around the effectiveness of the initial doses. It is a direct response to spiking Covid cases and hospitalisations across the UK that are being driven by a new, highly-infectious strain that emerged in the South East England in September. Virtually the whole of England is facing brutal lockdown until the spring, with Covid vaccines the only hope of ending the devastation. Health bosses now want to give as many people as possible an initial dose, rather than holding back the second doses, so more of the population can enjoy at least some protection. AstraZeneca praised the move and revealed it had tested the three-month strategy on a small sub-group of trialists in its studies. But Pfizer said there was 'no data' in its studies to show its vaccine protects against Covid when taken 12 weeks apart. oops. In a thinly-veiled swipe at the UK, the US firm warned that any 'alternative' dosing regimens should be closely monitored by health authorities. 'Data from the phase three study demonstrated that, although partial protection from the vaccine appears to begin as early as 12 days after the first dose, two doses of the vaccine are required to provide the maximum protection against the disease, a vaccine efficacy of 95 per cent,' Pfizer said in a statement. 'There are no data to demonstrate that protection after the first dose is sustained after 21 days.' So, if there is no data that shows protection after the first dose is sustained after 21 days, why in their original jackass plan did they say injections must be 4 weeks apart. What else happens 4 weeks apart? moon and lunatic cycles, is that a cohen cidence?

Well, fall has arrived, bringing a surge of corona virus cases in the US and Europe. After weeks of steady increases, America reached the third peak of its COVID-19 epidemic on Friday, its highest yet with over 80,000 cases. There's no sign that the increase in cases will stop anytime soon. But the flu epidemic isn't where experts expected it to be, Doctors in the US and UK have noted a drop in flu deaths so far this season. now doctors just have to put two and two together outside of John Hopkins maths. hello mcfly. In come the programmers and factcheckers with this gem of disinformation: Unfortunately, the explanation is tragic: COVID-19 may have already killed the people who would have been most at risk of dying due to flu complications. The interpretation comes from The New York Post, which says the flu deaths are down two-thirds from the five-year average. Federal estimates show no flu deaths for the week ending October 17th, compared to the average of 17 fatalities for the period. The state and the city recorded no flu deaths, matching the five-year average for each. The flu season is just a few weeks old, and that could partly explain the problem. The UK registered 1,132 flu and pneumonia deaths last month, 28% lower than the five-year monthly average of around 1,500. The UK's Office for National Statistics thinks that the drop is because the people who would have been vulnerable to the flu have already died this spring from COVID-19. Or maybe in the real world those that died of Covid have already died of the flu? is that too sensible a statement for their world? The report notes that pneumonia deaths have dropped in the US for the week of October 17th by 60%. The five-year average is at 3,106 deaths for the week, but only 1,251 people died of pneumonia during the period. Statistics for the southern hemisphere, which experienced its flu season during the summer, further indicates that the protective measures that various nations imposed this year can explain the unexpected drop in flu cases. The flu epidemic was almost absent south of the Equator, surprising health experts.

Just 388 people aged under 60 with no underlying health conditions have died of Covid-19 in England's hospitals since the start of the pandemic, NHS data has showed. The figures show that 1,979 previously healthy people died in hospitals in England after testing positive for Covid-19 between April 2 and December 23. Just 338 of these people were aged 40 to 59, with another 44 aged between 20 and 39, and just six under the age of 19, according to the data. UK death rates: In 1978 the death rate per 1000 people was 11.920, which was 0.012%, by 2013 it was down to 9.044 in 2018 it was 9.382, 2019 it was 9.398 and in 2020 it is 9.413 which is 0.009%

If you believe the fake media and factcheckers many bots are lining up for the vaccines, this story says different. Many employees at Howard University Hospital in Washington, D.C., have reservations about taking the COVID-19 vaccine, and CEO Anita Jenkins is trying to get workers to follow her lead by getting vaccinated, according to CNN. The hospital, a major healthcare provider for the Black community, received 725 doses of the Pfizer vaccine Dec. 15 and expects to receive a second shipment this week. As of Dec. 18, only about 600 of the hospital's 1,900 employees had signed up for the shots, according to Kaiser Health News. "There is a high level of mistrust and I get it," Ms. Jenkins told Kaiser Health News. "People are genuinely afraid of the vaccine." The vaccination numbers, though low, still exceeded expectations, Ms. Jenkins told CNN. An internal hospital survey of about 350 employees in early November showed that 70 percent were not willing to take the COVID-19 vaccine or would not take it immediately after it became available. Ms. Jenkins received the shot Dec. 15 in hopes of inspiring staff to get vaccinated. So, if Ms. Jenkins advocates it, add her name to an indemnity form for the vaccine, she then becomes personally responsible for adverse effects, should you have to take it. Why is Howard University Hospital critical? Because the hospital is located in a predominantly Black community. And we all know that Black people make great guinea pigs, as stated by Black activist Kevin Jackson. He and the black people have to see through this illusion game they are playing on us, and shun people like Anita Jenkins out of their communities and teach the truth. She's part of a widespread effort by healthcare experts and community leaders to combat vaccine hesitancy among Black Americans. About 35 percent of Black Americans said they probably or definitely would not get the vaccine if it was determined to be safe by scientists and widely available for free, according to a Kaiser Family Foundation study cited by CNN. Howard University Hospital isn't the only healthcare provider with workers who turned down the vaccine. At Doctors Hospital at Renaissance in Edinburg, Texas, so many workers declined the COVID-19 vaccine that the hospital offered doses to other medical workers in the region. The hospital received 5,850 doses of the vaccine, and it quickly became clear that not enough people eligible for the vaccine, like staff who work directly with COVID-19 patients, were opting to get it, DHR Health CMO Robert Martinez, MD. "You start to see similar numbers across the country, all this mistrust and misinformation," Dr. Martinez said. After the first day of distribution, DHR reached out to other hospitals and healthcare facilities in the region to offer doses of the vaccine. ProPublica reported that the vaccine ended up going to non-medical personnel as well, including state Sen. Eddie Lucio Jr. He told ProPublica he was invited to take the vaccine by DHR after officials explained to him that all eligible workers who wanted the vaccine received it.

We have known for a long time that the lab in Wuhan, China, is owned by an American drug company--GlaxoSmithKline. We have known that Dr. Fauci's National Institutes of Health gave over $3 million in assistance to the Wuhan Lab. We have known that Dr. Fauci's main specialty and claim to fame is his work on the HIV virus, which he patented for profit. We have known that GlaxoSmithKline, the owner of the Wuhan Lab is managed by a Black Rock subsidiary, which also works for George Soros and AXA, the giant French insurance corporation. We have known that George Soros built the lab in Wuhan and sold it to a Vanguard company, while Vanguard itself is a shareholder in Black Rock, and which is internationally famous for dirty Special Ops involvement. We have known that Black Rock is one of Bill Gate's major investors, while Gates is a major investor in Pfizer, the GlaxoSmithKline-owned company that is producing the vaccine, and Bill Gates is also a primary donor and supporter of the World Health Organization that declared a "pandemic" based on 187 unconfirmed cases, and which is a primary beneficiary of Pandemic Bonds foisted off on investors by the World Bank. We have known that fragments of HIV virus spliced into a normal corona virus are what have made the Covid 19 virus more infectious. We have known that Pfizer, the vaccine company producing the Covid 19 vaccine is owned by GlaxoSmithKline--- the owner of the Wuhan Lab. We have known that the Australian Government shutdown distribution of the vaccine -- reportedly because people who received it were testing positive for HIV. We have known for a long time, almost from the beginning, that the Chinese Government had little or nothing to do with the development of the Covid-19 virus and even less to do with its escape. What emerges is a textbook example of the Hegelian Dialectic in action. Self-interested schmucks causing a problem, then presenting themselves as the experts with the handy, dandy, patented solution to the problem they caused--- and then, profiting from it. These criminals are American, not Chinese--- an inevitable conclusion of logic. So tell me why these people are not in jail after what they've done and the damage they have caused? Tell me why these corporations aren't being charged for crimes against humanity? Why should any despicable excuse for dirt who deliberately increases the efficiency of the Common Cold be rewarded? GlaxoSmithKline, Pfizer, Vanguard, Black Rock, WHO, the World Bank --- any corporation that had any hand in this hideous fiasco --- why shouldn't they be gone?

EXPOSES: The American Civil Liberties Union has filed a lawsuit against the FBI, accusing the law enforcement agency of breaking the encryption on iPhones and other devices, without letting ordinary users know they're no longer secure. The FBI "already have technical capabilities permitting them to decrypt, unlock, or otherwise access information on secured political devices," the ACLU claims in its lawsuit, filed Tuesday - yet the agency continues to complain about encryption as if it's stopping them from catching criminals. All given to them by the CIA and NSA who created it. The advocacy group has submitted Freedom of Information Act requests since 2018 to learn exactly how, the FBI can access data on encrypted or otherwise-protected devices, but has gotten nowhere, earning only the notorious "neither confirm nor deny" response as the agency refuses to even admit records, related to its Electronic Device Analysis Unit even exist. The suit alleges the FBI has contracted with companies like GrayShift, which makes a passcode-cracking tool that works on some iPhones, and CheckPoint Technologies, which "permits detailed microscopic views of electronics hardware in a way that could assist investigators with determining secret encryption keys stored on hardware." A job posting for the EDAU even admitted the division extracts data from locked iPhones, according to the filing - yet the FBI refuses to admit as much to the public. Indeed, its response to the ACLU's FOIA requests consisted entirely of "can neither confirm nor deny" non-responses. The suit merely asks the FBI to cough up the requested records, allowing iPhone users to at least understand the extent to which the agency can hack into their phones. The notion that the agency can 'neither confirm nor deny' the existence of any records about a publicly-known unit within itself is ludicrous, the filing states. While the FBI was publicly rebuffed in 2016 when it demanded the password to a mass shooter's iPhone, the agency has since purchased tools from multiple companies that have allowed it to gain access to encrypted devices. Even as Apple plugs the vulnerabilities, law enforcement has allegedly contracted with multiple companies to continue to gain access to the supposedly privacy-prioritizing devices. So, now the FBI like the CIA and NSA are purchasing up all the technology companies as well, where is the oversight on this? and you do realize they are using public monies to buy up private concerns and gain profits on our tax dollars. All subsidiary companies owned via agencies have all been paid for by the public, and what do we get in return? more spying on us, less freedoms and more tyranny.

Another addition to the FRWL Plus 3 The Dutch connection, and what is interesting about this is whilst they were thrown under the bus per se to protect a larger operation, then length of the sentences compared to the crimes committed, becomes indicative of their just us and our justice, which is why mass arrests overall will not change the system. You have to delete the program, we were told Soros died in November 2018, yet the program lives on, same can apply to the Clintons, the program is still running. (MIVD) is the Military Intelligence and security service of the Netherlands, the militaristic counterpart of the AIVD. It was formerly known as the Militaire Inlichtingendienst (MID) and was given its current name in 2002. MIVD is part of the Dutch MOD. Willem Matser, an officer in Dutch Military Intelligence and adviser to NATO Secretary General was arrested in 2003 together with an Italian crime boss on a 9 digit money laundering charge. Sibel Edmonds has cited this incident as evidence of NATO's connections with the high level international drug trade. Willem Matser is a Dutch spook and deep state functionary who was "one of NATO Secretary General Lord Robertson's top policy experts". Charged with various offences in connection with an operation that laundered $200m money laundering between Colombia and Romania, Matser denied the charges, but was found guilty of fraud and forgery, and was sentenced to time served (almost 1 year). Willem Matser was an officer in Dutch Military Intelligence and Eastern European affairs adviser for many years to the NATO Secretary General, George Robertson. Matser saw the Secretary General on a daily basis and his work with NATO took him all over the world. As of October 2019, the NATO website still featured material attributed to him. In 2001, Matser wrote for NATO Review on "NATO-Russia relations in the wake of 11 September and the prospects for improved cooperation". On 3rd February 2003, Willem Matser, then aged 50, was arrested in his office at NATO HQ in Brussels on suspicion of laundering around USD 200 million for a Colombian drug cartel. Police seized a $200,000 transaction document issued by Bank Santander in Bogota, Colombia in favour of Tender SA, together with a CD detailing a $200,000,000 transfer to the company. Matser was arrested with Pietro Fedino, aged 64, an Italian crime boss connected to the Columbian Cali cartel. The judge expressed sympathy with Matser, saying that as there were no previous convictions against him and since his actions were not solely for personal gain, a shorter sentence was more suitable. Matser was sentenced to 14 months in prison, but was ordered released because he has already served two-thirds of the sentence in pretrial detention, he was given three years' probation. His co-accused, Pietro Fedino and Willem van Voorthuizen of Nijmegen, were respectively sentenced to jail terms of 15 and 18 months of which three months was suspended. The unusual surname "matser" facilitates exploration of reporting on the case. Commercially-controlled media reporting of the case has been very low. No US newspapers or TV channels are known to have reported on the arrest, trial or sentencing of Willem Matser. The Washington Post has made no mention of "Matser" since 2005 (earlier references are paywalled). In the middle of January 2004, the Times of London had a short, 48 words article about the matter as an agency news item from AFP. "This is why (...) even though the FBI routinely monitored the communications of the diplomatic arms of all countries, only four countries were exempt from this protocol – the UK, Turkey, Azerbaijan, and Belgium – the seat of NATO. No other country – not even allies like Israel or Saudi Arabia, were exempt. This is because these four countries were integral to the Pentagon's so-called Gladio B operations."

The Royal Institute for International Affairs - also known as Chatham House - is an organ of the UK Deep state. It was founded in 1920 and is a lynchpin of the British Foreign Policy establishment. The Chatham House Rule requires confidentiality of all meeting participants and prohibits attribution of comments. The current (2010) chairman of the council of Chatham House is the former CIA operative Dr DeAnne Julius and the Director (until the end of 2006) was Victor Bulmer-Thomas. Clowns in America get everywhere it seems. The Royal Institute of International Affairs was founded in 1920 as the Institute of International Affairs following a meeting at the previous year's Paris Peace Conference. This group was the precursor to the United Nations. The first chairman was Robert Cecil, 1st Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, while Lionel Curtis served as honorary secretary. Arnold J. Toynbee later became director. The Council on Foreign Relations, its American sister institute, was established the following year. Chatham House, The RIIA's well-known headquarters at 10 St James's Square, London, was gifted to the institute in 1923, having previously been the home of three British Prime Ministers: Pitt the Elder, Edward Stanley and William Gladstone. The name of the building grew to be so synonymous with the Institute that it was officially rebranded as "Chatham House" in September 2004. However, "Royal Institute of International Affairs" continues to be used interchangeably with "Chatham House". The Chatham House building is located just a few metres from the former Libyan embassy building, and many long term staff members witnessed the 1984 Libyan Embassy Siege. On July 18, 2005, Chatham House released a paper on Security, Terrorism and the UK which stated that "[a] key problem for the UK in preventing terrorism in Britain is, the government's position as 'pillion passenger' to the United States' war on terror." What they don't tell you is, they created it in the first place, remember Rosenthal stating we play both sides of the coin, to garner the reaction to hand them, the solution they had before the engineered conflict even started. Chatham House conducts original research into a variety of regional and global issues, and describes itself as follows. A melting pot that brings together people and organisations with an interest in international affairs, for that read with an interest in interfering in international affairs. We provide an independent forum in which academia, business, diplomats, the media, NGOs, politicians, policy makers and researchers can interact in an open and impartial environment. They missed out one word, clowns. The widespread recognition of the Chatham House Rule, as a byword for free and frank debate is a reflection of our unique and non-aligned perspective, free and frank debate oh my they just, pro pagan da and frankish debate is the real terminology. Chatham House is routinely used as a source of information for media organizations, seeking background or experts upon matters involving major international issues. This means they are scripted narrative of lies writers to formulate an opinion for the gullible public. Chatham House reflects a pro-establishment view of the world (due to donations from large corporations, governments and other organisations), but is nevertheless membership-based and anyone may join. Pro IS RA EL establishment view is what they mean. The relatively high annual membership fee tends to put access to Chatham House out of reach of many ordinary people. Exactly wouldn't want rational thinking and common sense people talking now would they, just fire hazard jackasses with loads of pieces of paper. Chatham House is the origin of the confidentiality rule known as the Chatham House Rule, which provides that members attending a seminar may discuss the results of the seminar in the outside world, but may not discuss who attended or what they said. The Chatham House Rule evolved to facilitate frank and honest discussion on controversial or unpopular issues, by speakers who may not have otherwise had the appropriate forum to speak freely. However, most Chatham House meetings are held 'on the record', and not under the Chatham House Rule. The rule currently reads as follows: "When a meeting, or part thereof, is held under the Chatham House Rule, participants are free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant, may be revealed". Following our last show intel and rumors of literal agency wars between CIA and NSA, the question is what happens next? The Christmas Day bombing clearly targeted a building of telecommunications giant AT&T whose Nashville facilities are also believed to serve a major outpost of the US NSA National Security Agency there. The NSA has long been in rivalry with the CIA, and they are likely now on opposing sides in the Trump vs Biden election fraud controversy. As result of the bombing itself, or related sabotage hidden from the public, a major telecommunications collapse occurred, extending through several states, shutting down flights, and touching some US military installations. Media and FBI did exactly as predicted on Xmas day, the rolled out another triple named suspect, Anthony Quinn Warner they said died in the RV bombing. Except the "bomb blast" was on the other side of the road!! Clear evidence of a missile contrail just before the blast, all done in the vicinity of the towering building that looks like an owl. Yet again the repetitive media bots roll out a triple named lone nut job as the perpetrator of this act, just like they have done throughout his story. Their own pictures give the game away on that bot, as they try to confuse the public with shots from different ends of the road of where the event took place. The masses don't see it, they are only meant to hear what is being said to upgrade their software program only, to then be directed to blurb their denial shit across social media. Another of their distraction event, look what Satan brought you for Xmas Tennessee, oh rest ye merry gentleman whilst we act out another theatrical staged event.

These next four pieces confirm much of our story also: The FBI & Justice Department have declared Israel the 2nd most aggressive nation running espionage operations against the US... the US security establishment has always regarded Israel as its number one counter-intelligence threat in the Middle East... Israel sold U.S. war plans to the USSR... US intelligence officers say Mossad is a 'second rate' operation... 'Israeli intelligence assistance is often of dubious value... CIA is appalled at the lack of quality... They often give the US faulty, misleading intelligence...' all evidence of faction infighting. But after our FRWL Plus 4 expose this week, there can be no shred of doubt now as to whom is the big problem. A problem not just to agencies or political concerns, but to every man, woman and child on this planet, including the average Jewish people. These parasites have to be stamped on and crushed out of existence, in the same way they have done it to us for thousands of years, in fact the same way they wish to destroy us now.

In 1987, Jonathan Pollard, a former Pentagon intelligence analyst, plead guilty to performing as a spy for Israel, providing Israel top-secret US classified information. He was sentenced to 30 years in prison for violations of the Espionage Act. Pollard was the only American who has received a prison sentence for passing classified information to a US ally. To set the stage, on October 25, 1985, Pollard was seen carrying a large bundle from his office to his wife's car, and was consequently placed under surveillance. On November 21 he was arrested as he approached the Israeli embassy in Washington and charged with espionage. After serving his 30 years sentence, Pollard was released November 20, 2015, and placed on parole in accordance with federal guidelines in place at the time of his sentencing. On November 20, 2020, the parole expired and all restrictions were removed, and Pollard was a free man. On 29 December 2020, Pollard and his wife left the United States and arrived in Israel on a private plane provided by American casino magnate Sheldon Adelson, a major funder and board member of the Republican Jewish Coalition, a pro-Israel lobbying group, and a billionaire supporter of the GOP, and both Netanyahu and President Trump. Oh really, I guess THI was correct again? The Trustee was repeatedly warned of that fact and chose to ignore it, and unless ground breaking actions are taken within this calendar month, both along with Q will have to be looked upon with suspicion, as accomplices to the hostile takeover of America and its people. We want actions, not talk. Upon disembarking from the aircraft in Israel, Pollard, who had never lived in Israel before, triumphantly kissed the ground, "We are ecstatic to be home at last after 35 years," he said as he was greeted at the airport by Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. The Israeli leader jubilantly immediately presented Pollard, and his wife Esther, with Israeli ID cards, granting them Israeli citizenship. So, Israel welcomes a criminal who worked against their so called ally and their people, we have to look closely in the future as to who or what is an ally, because it looks and speaks of a lie, the fact the AI system in the 100 series was called the same phonetically, becomes indicative.

Speaking of spies here is another one and another confirm of our FRWL series. George Blake, the former MI6 officer and one of the Cold War's most infamous double agents, has died aged 98, Russian media has reported. Over nine years, the Soviet spy handed over information that led to the betrayal of at least 40 MI6 agents in Eastern Europe. He was jailed in London in 1960, but escaped in 1966 and fled to Russia. The Russian Foreign Intelligence Service said Blake "had a genuine love for our country". Blake himself worked for the Dutch resistance during World War Two, before fleeing to British-controlled Gibraltar. He was later, due to his background, asked to join the intelligence service. In an interview with the BBC in 1990, Blake said he estimated that he betrayed more than 500 Western agents but he denied suggestions that 42 of them had lost their lives as a result of his actions. His downfall came when a Polish secret service officer, Michael Goleniewski, defected to the West, bringing his mistress and details of a Soviet mole in British intelligence. Blake was recalled to London and arrested. At a subsequent trial he pleaded guilty to five counts of passing information to the Soviet Union. George Blake did enormous damage to British intelligence operations during the Cold War, betraying agents and secret operations and showing that the KGB could run agents within the heart of the British state. Oh I forgot to mention that George Blake was not Russian at all, but was Jewish working for the KGB, and the truth bell rings again for the FRWL series.

The title of the book is "2020" and it was published in 1994 by an Israeli editorial house called Keter Press, which literally translates to "Crown" or "Corona" Press. An inauspicious start for those who dismiss any speculation into predictive programming as tin-foil hat material, but all this could simply be a coincidence at this point. The novel was originally written as a film script in 1987 by an Israeli psychiatrist, and daughter of one of the Jewish state's most well-known playwrights. Hamutal Shabtai was only in her early twenties when she ostensibly wrote the story, which predicts the state of the world today as a result of the counter virus measures, with uncanny accuracy and foretells of a society ravaged by a virus, which ushers in a "global health dictatorship". In 1987, the same year 2020 was written as a movie script, Keter became a public company. Two years later British tycoon and spymaster Robert Maxwell – father of Ghislaine Maxwell – acquired control of the publishing house after Maxwell Communication Corporation bought Macmillan, which then owned Keter. The publishing house was passed on to an Israeli investment concern called Arledan after Maxwell's death in 1991, which owned it until 2016. Arledan has companies in America, Germany and Canada, all are vulture capitalists, ran by Elliot Shiff, born to, from a shell company based in fake Jerusalem. Robert Maxwell's links to Israeli intelligence has been well documented, by Whitney Webb for MintPress News in her series on Jeffrey Epstein, who ran a sex-trafficking blackmail operation with his daughter, Ghislaine. Maxwell's ties to a publishing company with such extensive ties to the Israeli government, which was providing what were most likely very sensitive materials from Russian scientists to the American NSF at the height of the Cold War, is enough to cast doubt on the true origins of the 2020 novel... They were not Russian scientists, they were Jewish, FRWL Plus 4 confirmed who runs Russia, and has done since 1919.

Just two weeks after it was announced China was developing biologically enhanced super soldiers, France has joined the fray in creating terminator troops that can be "bred to kill" according to a new report. Last week, France gave the go-ahead for augmented soldiers, and some fear the super troopers could be the new norm in the recent future. The French seek to improve "physical, cognitive, perceptive and psychological capacities," and could allow for location tracking or connectivity with weapons systems and other soldiers. Among the ministry's research were drugs to keep troops awake for long periods of time and combat stress, and even surgery to improve hearing. The new species of augmented soldiers, dubbed "homo robocopus" could also have altered DNA to give them enhanced speed and strength as well as robotics. Michael Clarke, visiting professor in war studies at Kings College London (KCL), told the Sun participating could be "using DNA as a farmer would in a herd of cattle." "We've reached the point now where we could potentially manipulate people's DNA to breed into them extra strength, endurance and other things just as we do with animals," Clarke said. "Just as we've done with standard cattle to give them more back, we can do that now very precisely with humans." Clarke added that the bio-race is being fueled internationally due to fears of China's program. "What they're all thinking about is what might come up in 30 years' time, given another 10 years development and experimentation," Clarke told the paper. "The Chinese in 30 years' time might have a cohort of people who are 20 years old who've got particular characteristics they might have tried to breed into them by manipulating DNA." Due to DNA manipulation, future soldiers could also be immune to disease and feelings. A recent report by the International Society for Military Ethics in Europe obtained by the Sun, reveals a dystopic arena full of bionic men capable of fighting "all the time." "Enhanced soldiers would be reduced to bionic men, who run fast, do not need sleep, eat and drink very little, and can fight all the time," the report states. "A new species is born: Homo robocopus." Sir Lawrence Freedman, Professor of war studies at KCL, told the Sun robotics are of more importance: "There are people going back into combat in ways they wouldn't have been able to before because prosthetics have been improved. You can use Google glasses, there's lots of things you can now do with a modern soldier that makes them much more effective than they were in the past. If you want people to act just according to orders going in to great danger, the other trend you can see that is pretty active at the moment is drones, autonomous vehicles and so on." While France claims it will abide by humanitarian law, French armed forces minister Florence Parly warned, "we have to be clear, not everyone has the same scruples as us and we have to prepare ourselves for such a future," she said. Here is some of the tech in progress to create "homo robocopus," according to the Sun. Brain microchips — France has been given the all-clear to develop microchips to enhance soldier brain power. Bionic eyes — Being developed in Hong Kong, this gives users infrared and night vision. Super hearing — The US's Tactical Communication and Protective System are smart earbuds which boost soldiers' hearing to be near superhuman. Health implant — DARPA, the Pentagon's research arm, is developing cyborg implants to monitor combat efficiency. Develop or developing in their world is the same as the use of Dystopian being the future when it is past or now, the correct term is we have developed. Enhanced limbs — A Devcom report revealed plans to equip US soldiers with enhanced limbs for increased strength. Exoskeleton legs — The US Army has tested an exoskeleton which can be attached to soldier's legs and can increase their productivity by up to 27 times. Synthetic blood — Respirocyte is a theoretical red blood cell that could help soldiers not get out of breath and stay underwater for hours. Pain immunity — DARPA's Persistence in Combat initiative would allow soldiers to have their pain suppressed for 30 days. Add in full hand replacements, which I have witnessed, animal, insect and mammal genes and this is way further down the line they you think.

As we said goodbye to 2020 I hope the last weeks shows gave much to reflect upon of our own development. In a world that is crumbling some must replace it with something else, and something better. By developing ourselves we in essence are developing the world. Their order wants chaos, Ordo Ab Chao, we have to gain order and stifle their chaos (magick). Order Out Of Chaos Or In Old Latin "Ordo Ab Chao" A Latin expression, meaning Order out of Chaos. A motto of the Thirty-third Degree, and having the same allusion as lug e tenebris, which see in this work. The invention of this motto is to be attributed to the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite". They built and run Washington D.C and are the most psychotic of the Masonic Orders. Darker toned colors that have a different hue that represents color mood or dark matter the back drop or dark matter or dark energy which tenebris means in the universe or Latin. Teneberis mean sick in a sadistic way, bitch in a sadistic way, dominator and very lewd. These are the people who brought us the Georgia Guidestones. Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature. Guide reproduction wisely – improving fitness and diversity. Unite humanity with a living new language. Rule passion – faith – tradition – and all things with tempered reason. Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts. Let all nations rule internally resolving external disputes in a world court.

Avoid petty laws and useless officials. Balance personal rights with social duties. Prize truth – beauty – love – seeking harmony with the infinite. Be not a cancer on the earth – Leave room for nature – Leave room for nature. Nature late 13c., "restorative powers of the body, bodily processes; powers of growth;" from Old French nature "nature, being, principle of life; character, essence," from Latin natura "course of things; natural character, constitution, quality; the universe," literally "birth," from natus "born," past participle of nasci "to be born," from PIE root *gene- "give birth, beget." By mid-14c. as "the forces or processes of the material world; that which produces living things and maintains order." From late 14c. as "creation, the universe;" also "heredity, birth, hereditary circumstance; essential qualities, inherent constitution, innate disposition" (as in human nature); also "nature personified, Mother Nature." Nature and nurture have been paired and contrasted since Shakespeare's "Tempest." So nature which is a word outside of us, when the origin of it meant internal of us, "restorative powers of the body, bodily processes; powers of growth;" So, it is not a case of being with nature, but being within nature is the true meaning. Be not a cancer on the earth – Leave room for nature – Leave room for nature. they said, but if we remove the real cancer there is room for all forms of nature.

Recently we covered the debunking the Creator god, and posited that for lower vibrational beings the connection to Source may well be cut off, moreso in an isolated system. Some people reacted when we went further and suggested that their god was an AI creation, echoing thoughts back to you from the veil. Some people won't touch these subjects as no one likes being fooled, but we have to expand our thinking patterns and allow an open channel to determine, what is the truth. Without truth, any world becomes a tyranny and mess, those that run this world fear truth more than anything else. They are bereft of the truth, spiritually and morally bankrupt, all because they can't accept despite their lofty positions, they have been fooled more than the masses. It is cathartic and humbling for us all, and we are all entitled to a bit of schadenfreude, but we must seek our own loftier heights of soul development, which brings far more benefits than being proven right on any topic. The last AI here collapsed and was removed late November 2015, this brought in heightened attempts to create a new AI. All done by so called intelligence agencies, agencies they may be, intelligent they are not. Done by one group in particular and then farmed out as a private contractor, whilst remaining under the jurisdiction of the parent organization, that group is the CIA, formerly the OSS. Their contractor to run this operation which was then handed over to NATO, as a manual of war intentions, was Robert David Steele, who we covered extensively in FRWL 7 and also the now prophetic show, Clowns in Panic. So how are these two seemingly different concepts merged? First we have to ask two questions: 1. Is AI your god or Source? and 2. Are the unintelligent agencies attempting to run a new AI? Perhaps the answer to merge both questions is the name of the program they are running, with all their datamining, spying and prying on everything and everyone. The name of it is open source.

All the world is a stage and we are but mere actors, it is said. How do we act on the stage, is the key to going forward, how WE act, not how they act in the scene. They set the scene, they act stupid, they act with non thinking, they act based on impulse, greed and control. But, we have control of our own destiny, to reject their stage and their world, engage it as minimal as possible. They are but mere puppets with no longer the strings hidden, their strings are now as clear as day. Wooden people operating with automated movements, jerked responses and parallel thinking patterns of sheer stupidity. You cannot teach a person with a built in program, they are not designed that way, the evidence of such is now overwhelming. They have to unhook from the program to then install the new one, it is the equivalent to the left and right hand path, the left is their limit of no gate, they have to fall on their own swords, to then start the climb of the right hand path. Yes, it is painful as friends, family and loved ones all exhibit the behavior patterns of the machines, they are all so addicted to. Their vision destroyed by the telly, their hearing destroyed by their programming, their thinking for the self, deleted by the media and bot operated factcheckers. Where there is no vision, the people are unrestrained.” They can’t focus, can’t reach their goal, can’t follow their dream, “Without vision, the people perish. My imagination influences my aspiration, In other words, your dreams determine your destiny. To accomplish anything you must first have a mission, a goal, a hope, a vision. But these people have no vision, they are but a mere automaton puppets with limited programming, their sole performance on the stage is to copy and repeat, which is what their AI god the computer has told them. Is there any value arguing with a computer? A computer is programmed to react to actions taken within the parameter of it's own program. So if you request it to do something it is not programmed for, what happens next? it ignores you or denies your request. Blank stares, furrowed brows and a look of no comprehend. They look at you as if you speak an entirely different language, the reality is you are, you speak in trinary, not binary. The language, understanding and thinking program of truth, they have no ability to recognize it. You see in their world they are LARP's, live action role players all waiting for the next part to play on a stage. Whilst they wait for their next starring role on the stage, they are NPC's, non playing characters. An NPC is a human that is unable to think objectively, spouting "opinions" they are programmed to spout, and repeating it in a cult-like manner. So you see that, you cannot speak butterfly language to caterpillar people. Are bots any different to the program computer? We have learned to look after ourselves in a group like setting and is somewhat unique. Bots have no interest in development of the self, their country or the world, as long as they are "entertained" or entrained by drivel the world puts out, is just fine and dandy for them. Seeking their saviors and dissolving any personal responsibility. We on the other hand do wish to develop the self and others and subsequently the planet, we are the sin eaters, but we absorbed it, then processed it and then healed it. That is the difference between us and them, I wish it wasn't, but it is what it is. We are not the 99%, we are the 15%. Wear it proud.
