An unrepentant Donald Trump on Tuesday denied inciting an insurrection at the US Capitol, in an attempt to shift blame Democrats rejected as “despicable”, as a number of senior Republicans began publicly turning against their president. A handful of senior Republicans in recent days joined calls for Trump to go, and, crucially, the Senate majority leader, Mitch McConnell, indicated to associates that he believes Trump deserves to be impeached, the New York Times reported on Tuesday, with the Kentucky Republican thinking it will make it easier for the party to purge him, as a liability. The outlet further reported that the House minority leader, Kevin McCarthy, has toyed variously with asking Trump to resign, supporting impeachment and considering a vote to censure the president. And the senior House Republican Liz Cheney said she would vote to impeach Trump.

House Democrats then introduced an article of impeachment against Trump for "incitement of insurrection." The measure, which has more than 200 Democratic co-sponsors, states Trump has "demonstrated that he will remain a threat to national security, democracy and the Constitution if allowed to remain in office and has acted in a manner grossly incompatible with self-governance and the rule of law." As Pelosi rails and spits venom at the grave atrocity of people invading the Capitol building and how outraged she is, and what a national security risk it was. You are the National Security risk Pelosi, here is a flashback from two years ago of how much you thought of the Capitol building, this was January 17th 2019. We now have the full and corroborated evidence Nancy Pelosi and others are planning a 9 11 type attack on the Capital Building during the state of the union, which she initiated in her bizarre letter this week, to take place on January 29th with the intention to eliminate the President and Vice President for her to become president by the end of the month. In a sub plot the blame would then be shifted onto ISIS with the intention to then wipe out the middle east, and also force the troop withdrawal from Syria to stop, this is straight out of the Dick Cheney handbook. Is it a coincidence the off spawn of Darth Vader and all round psychopath himself is leading the march of Republicans against Trump?

FBI warns of armed protests in 50 state capitals, woo armed protests? does that mean Shiva and Vishnu are turning up? So, Trump was impeached for the second time due to the word salad rhetoric of child level thinking adults, all vowing to fulfill an agenda for their puppet string masters. What this proves to voters is, you are not voting for a party, but a system. A system mired in corruption, self serving weasels, who when the call went out to support their leader, they buckled like children and ran to the protection of the majority mob. Those people have zero backbone, and the people voting for these parties have proven time and time again to be gullible sheep. There is no parties, that is an illusion and now all should be able to see it for themselves. Trump's lead advisor was a Democrat all his life, and was the agent provocateur within the Trump administration, despite being his son in law, yes you the slithery snake man Kushner. This is exactly what Trump said for those unable to think for themselves. He urged them to "peacefully and patriotically" make their voices heard, but also to "fight like hell" against an election that he falsely told them had been stolen. That to people with infantile brains equates to raid the capitol building, causing a disturbance and 5 deaths. What part of peacefully do you retards not comprehend, what's the matter? too many letters in the word to not understand? I know one of our members confuses some members with his code, but that is an utterly ridiculous leap of assumptions, and quite frankly all politicians who voted for that bill should be removed from office today. Trump is many things to many people, some love him and some hate him, that is his character. I have had reason to criticize him myself for work based decisions, but I cannot sit back and watch a pack like mentality of extremely low intelligence people, run our lives and dictate that we should all think like them. Question to ponder on, with the UK government dissolved, and the Dutch and Russian governments have resigned, and the American government in turmoil, what happens next? decentralization?

You want the perfect example of infantile people in prominent positions they are incapable of running? check this out. We simply cannot stay closed until the vaccine hits critical mass, the cost is too high. We will have nothing left to open, we must reopen the economy, but we must do it smartly and safely. You want to know which infantile based jackass said this? Andrew Cuomo. Jackass ouroboros thinking again.

A person this show highlighted recently, Operation Warp Speed chief Dr. Moncef Slaoui will resign from his position at the request of the Biden administration. The Trump administration also announced it will release all vaccine doses previously being held in reserve, to make sure there were enough second doses for everyone.

President Trump or it is Kushner's Pardon of the Day: Philip Esformes ripped off Medicare for $1.3 billion – to pay for escorts, a million+ dollar Ferrari and a bribe to get his son into the U of PA. But he donated to Chabad-Lubavitch, favored by Jared Kushner. Trump also pardoned Jared Kushner's criminal father, who is also a major Chabad donor: Charles Kushner, served 14 months in a federal prison in Alabama for tax evasion, witness tampering and making illegal donations. Wreaks of bribery and leverages on Trump to me.

A prominent follower of the baseless conspiracy theory QAnon has been charged over the US Capitol riots. Notice yet again they impose their seeding opinions onto the public? The real news headline for adult minds and transparency for the public to make their own opinions is, A prominent follower of QAnon has been charged. If I wrote my report in their manner it would state this, the baseless, truth deficient, conspiracy theorist group known as the BBC have overstepped their mark with this report. Who significantly missing out key pieces that this "QAnon" character was also involved in Black Lives Matter riots and demonstrations. They also neglected to tell you he is an actor, acting out simulation events no doubt. Jacob Anthony Chansley, known as Jake Angeli, is in custody on charges including violent entry and disorderly conduct. Mr Chansley, who calls himself the QAnon Shaman, is allegedly the man pictured with a painted face, fur hat and horns inside Congress on Wednesday. All media outlets now have had a full change of policy in how they report things. Gone is putting out the news and facts of the matter, and in came the subtle but overbearing personal opinions all designed to steer opinions to the same as their own, and not report on the facts in an impartial manner. This is down under the auspices of the copy and repeat program. Mainstream media has now become the new church, of stating certain narratives in a certain manner and asking the people to repeat it back to them, and never question it. What I haven't heard a single word on is, how were they allowed to get anywhere near that so called heavily securitized building? Why haven't heads rolled for the Secret Service agents? If a few alleged QAnons can walk in just like that, what is stopping all the alleged boogeymen agents from all the countries who want to attack us, because of our freedoms, and yes I was being sarcastic. Security lapse my ass, staged event to steer public opinion is why. I warned of it only a few weeks back.

The Boeing Company (Boeing) has entered into an agreement with the Department of Justice to resolve a criminal charge related to a conspiracy to defraud the Federal Aviation Administration's Aircraft Evaluation Group (FAA AEG) in connection with the FAA AEG's evaluation of Boeing's 737 MAX airplane. Boeing, a U.S.-based multinational corporation that designs, manufactures, and sells commercial airplanes to airlines worldwide, entered into a deferred prosecution agreement (DPA) in connection with a criminal information filed today in the Northern District of Texas. The criminal information charges the company with one count of conspiracy to defraud the United States. Under the terms of the DPA, Boeing will pay a total criminal monetary amount of over $2.5 billion, composed of a criminal monetary penalty of $243.6 million, compensation payments to Boeing's 737 MAX airline customers of $1.77 billion, and the establishment of a $500 million crash-victim beneficiaries fund to compensate the heirs, relatives, and legal beneficiaries of the 346 passengers who died in the Boeing 737 MAX crashes of Lion Air Flight 610 and Ethiopian Airlines Flight 302. "The tragic crashes of Lion Air Flight 610 and Ethiopian Airlines Flight 302 exposed fraudulent and deceptive conduct by employees of one of the world's leading commercial airplane manufacturers," said Acting Assistant Attorney General David P. Burns of the Justice Department's Criminal Division. "Boeing's employees chose the path of profit over candor by concealing material information from the FAA, concerning the operation of its 737 Max airplane, and engaging in an effort to cover up their deception. This resolution holds Boeing accountable for its employees' criminal misconduct, addresses the financial impact to Boeing's airline customers, and hopefully provides some measure of compensation to the crash-victims' families and beneficiaries." "The misleading statements, half-truths, and omissions communicated by Boeing employees to the FAA impeded the government's ability to ensure the safety of the flying public," said U.S. Attorney Erin Nealy Cox for the Northern District of Texas. "This case sends a clear message: The Department of Justice will hold manufacturers like Boeing accountable for defrauding regulators – especially in industries where the stakes are this high." "Today's deferred prosecution agreement holds Boeing and its employees accountable for their lack of candor with the FAA regarding MCAS," said Special Agent in Charge Emmerson Buie Jr. of the FBI's Chicago Field Office. "The substantial penalties and compensation Boeing will pay, demonstrate the consequences of failing to be fully transparent with government regulators. The public should be confident that government regulators are effectively doing their job, and those they regulate are being truthful and transparent." Staggering neglect of concern for the public and another example like the medical industry, of putting profit before peoples health and safety. Next stop hopefully for the DOJ is Lockheed Martin, followed by Halliburton, Bechtel, NASA and other private contractors stipulated as government entities, when they are not.

Here is more evidence of Global Warming pontificated all around the world by supposed experts. Storm Filomena has blanketed parts of Spain in heavy snow, with half of the country on red alert for more on Saturday. Road, rail and air travel has been disrupted and interior minister Fernando Grande-Marlaska said the country was facing "the most intense storm in the last 50 years". Madrid, one of the worst affected areas, is set to see up to eight inches of snow in the next 24 hours. Further south the storm caused rivers to burst their banks. Japan has been hit by severe snow storms, killing at least eight people and bringing parts of the country to a standstill. The snowfall in the Hokuriku region is more than double the average expected for this time of year. Here is how the Factcheckers will report on this, just because there is record snow in a country that rarely experiences it, does not mean the global warming is not taking place, OK.

In December, humanitarian organization UNICEF announced it would help feed people in parts of the UK for the first time in its 70-year history. The United Nations (UN) agency said a "domestic emergency" meant vulnerable children and families need assistance due to the Covid-19 crisis. In May 2019, a UN report on poverty in the UK said the Conservative government remained in a "state of denial" about the 14 million people living on the breadline, continuing its almost decade-long austerity measures "despite the tragic social consequences." The UK is the world's fifth largest economy, yet one-fifth of its population lives in poverty, found the report, which predicted that 40% of children would be living in poverty in the next two-and-a-half years. I guess UNICEF didnt get the Trustees message that she would end world hunger by January 8th, or so I'm told. You know who is to blame for this? not the Government, the sleeper masses for following orders. The damage those authority based bots have caused, following infantile politicians and corrupt media is the main cause of this crisis. Line up and take your medicine, the lot of you deserve the consequences at this point. Is that harsh? no!! they have ruined millions of peoples lives with their rank stupidity, it is those covidiot who cause the next story to unfold.

The New York legislature is weighing a bill that would let the authorities take anyone suspected of, having or being exposed to a contagious disease, and hold them indefinitely - even forcibly medicating them. The new normal word, suspected of, like the story last week of a woman filming inside a hospital, she was arrested for she was arrested on suspicion of a public order offence. Can we arrest and detain them for being suspected of and under the suspicion of being fascists? Under the new law, New Yorkers may be dragged out of their homes, and locked up on mere suspicion of having been 'exposed' to the novel corona virus, no positive test or even symptoms necessary. Suspicion of used again, these very terms are so open ended it is and should be a concern to everyone. Once imprisoned in one of the state's purpose-built facilities, individuals may be forced to submit to a "prescribed course of treatment" including drugs and vaccines, and even then, freedom is not guaranteed. The state's nightmarish Assembly Bill A416 would see targets locked away for as long as 60 days without a hearing. And while the prisoner has a right to legal counsel, New York health authorities will have the ultimate say in deciding when - and if - they're no longer contagious. Assuming they ever were in the first place, that is. This set-up could keep victims locked away for months, even years. Germany and Switzerland have already begun targeting high-profile dissidents for institutionalization, including doctors and lawyers, and other countries have made it easier to have troublemakers hustled off to the asylum. Unlike in a criminal case, authorities seeking to medically imprison some inconvenient figure, need not supply proof of the individual's contagious potential. Instead, they merely must show the person is a danger to themselves or others, deliberately vague criteria that leaves plenty of room for judicial abuses. Just like the Baker Act, no questions, no interview, no legal recourse, the opinion of one person is enough to incarcerate you. Indeed, merely posting criticism of New York's totalitarian experiment could merit a stay in one of Cuomo's detention centers. According to the World Health Organization and its many media mouthpieces, sharing unauthorized facts is driving an "infodemic" just as dangerous as the virus itself, meaning those sharing such content are harming others. What will it take for New Yorkers to wake up to what's being done to them in the name of eradicating a virus with a 99.7 percent survival rate? How many neighbors will have to be 'disappeared' into the quarantine system? These are not merely rhetorical questions. Americans will have to decide sooner or later what side they're on. And another reason as to why people should en masse walk away from that State, their fascist tactics, total disregard for the residents, inflated taxes and rents, and it should be left to rot away, and leave Cuomo and the other fascists of that state to guard over Gotham.

As the world and its corrupt controlled media all turn en masse like a playground bully, with the goal of turning Donald Trump into the next Hitler, Pol Pot and Saddam Hussein all rolled into one vessel. The PGA strips the Trump golf course off the 2022 register, citing a Trump course holding an event would be "detrimental". The Scottish Rite Masonic ran Scotland, also took steps to ban Trump entering the country in the past week. Delta airlines landed a plane to take passengers off, because of a private conversation they were having supporting President Trump. Mozilla, developer of the Firefox internet browser, has argued that more must be done to keep Donald Trump and other "bad actors" out of cyberspace. In a blog post titled 'We need more than deplatforming', the open-source software community said that Twitter's decision to permanently ban Trump from its platform didn't go far enough in weeding out "hate" on the internet. Deplatforming is the internet version of decentralizing, no surprise they are the NATO/CIA open source group supported by agent Robert David Steele. Funny how they can ban Trump and other truthers, yet not ban child porn isn't it, all ran by the Hebrew based cartel is why. Talks of blocking his hotel businesses and no doubt the list will get longer. REDDIT, TWITCH, SHOPIFY, TWITTER, GOOGLE, YOUTUBE, FACEBOOK, INSTAGRAM, SNAPCHAT, TIKTOK, APPLE, DISCORD, PINTEREST, STRIPE all banned the President of the United States, you know they same title the media hailed as the highest position in the world before Trump. Now they render it for what it really is, a puppet role. So, these platforms all confirmed now that the US President role is no longer the leader of the free world, by imposing sanctions and banning orders on the President of the US. The global damage to this country that image now presents, will be long lasting and the perceived position of strength, is now rendered a weak, mute and irrelevant dot on the global scene. Who would have thought that the media would ban, denigrate and report biased news on and against a sitting President of the US, not just in this country either, but globally, it defies belief. This resembles social media tactics of jumping on the troll bandwagon after someone decides one person or one group is a pariah, and should be subjected to a volley of abuse, derided and trashed. It is all very child like is it not. How is a society going to develop when so called adults behave in this manner? All acting sanctimoniously like they never did a single thing wrong in life, and somebody most people have never met. What has become clear now is, the army of think tank child like simulation game players, came up with an event to label one man into something he is not. The staged event was the Capitol building, woman being shot at, at wrong angles to be hit where the news media reported she was hit and subsequently died. The Viking guy, who like the wailing woman who appeared in at least 3 disaster events, was also at a BLM rally, who is employed as an actor. Given the violence that has gone on at every BLM event, do you really think the BLM rioters would have let a Trump supporter in one of their rallies? Videos of cops not arresting the invaders, but pointing the alleged invaders into certain rooms, is indicative of a staged event. Common sense tells you that, those invaders under normal circumstances would get nowhere near getting inside the building. I warned Antifa and BLM had gone quiet for a reason in December, they were planning something, we now know what, and what for? to discredit one man? seriously? what type of behavior levels and thinking is this? It is like social media, petty, trolling, pack attack mentality, bitchy and above all childish. I have had my own critiques of Trump, which was his lack of not doing enough for and by the people, and I like the Trustee is entitled to that, we put in the work of thousands of hours to help him and the country, and got nothing in return. The difference is we critiqued his work, not blamed the man for everything because it fulfills an agenda. The world saw this week, or at least had an opportunity to see, that America is one giant kindergarten level of behavior, thinking patterns and demeanor, it in overview is painful to view. The media, think tanks, all politicians, the security service, CIA and FBI should all be fired for that event, all are complicit in it, all to sway public opinion in favor of another group of corrupt people, not interested in we the people or this country.

The Hunter Biden story appears to be ready to break out with several alleged videos and pictures of an uncompromising sexual nature. The story also involves family sexual abuse that involve his father and also his mother, a 14 year old niece and siblings. There is also several videos and pictures of a drug fuelled Hunter sexually abusing Chinese girls as young as ten. I have not viewed any of the pictures or videos to confirm their reality, as I have no desire to peer into that type of abuse, plus with agents playing games now with our group, how easy is it to view one or two pictures for research purposes and then be targeted as a pedophile? That is what goes on in the seedy world of politicians, agencies and high ranking military, all about leveraging something against you, so then they have control over you. I can guarantee all politicians have dirt on them, it is a prerequisite to becoming a higher profile person. Many start off with minor things, like having affairs, drug use etc, some are caught having same sex affairs and that is then used as leverage against them, so they essentially become a puppet or risk being exposed in the public. The issue is the public believe the media, regardless of the person involved, and essentially the judge and jury resides in the news rooms of MSM. Britney Spears shaves off her hair and has gone mental they screamed, the public turned away from her. When in reality Britney was exiting her monarch programs, and started to remember the sexual acts she had to perform on many within the political circles. There is no doubt there is a lot of people who do evil acts within a political circle, but you cannot tell me they were all pedophiles when starting out, statistically it is impossible. Whilst I want every pedo dealt with in the right way, we also have to be aware of the great lengths agency and think tank groups will go to, to discredit someone they want out of the way. Faction fighting is far more brutal than public fighting, every trick in the book is used, and with technology now, you can replicate anyone and anything to look how they wish it to look. If Hunter has done these things then he needs to be arrested, but remember it is over 4 years now since Hillary and Huma Abedin videos and pictures emerged, and the great question is, where they arrested?

The non fact checking BBC were at it again this week. Multiple videos posted online claim to show empty hospitals in the UK as evidence, that the corona virus pandemic has been exaggerated. There have been videos taken of dozens of locations, and some have been viewed hundreds of thousands of times. It has provoked a strong reaction from healthcare officials, who have encouraged the public to heed government advice as corona virus infections surge - putting pressure on the NHS. Responding to a question about hospital beds being empty, NHS England chief executive Sir Simon Stevens said: "When people say that, that is a lie." This is the BBC's latest pathetic attempt to sway public opinion, what a pathetic bunch of child like clowns they are. There have been videos taken in dozens of locations the BBC said, so not just a one off video, but proof in several locations of hospitals being empty. But, that is a lie according to the BBC, no it's the truth and proof and you admitted it, by stating the videos were taken in dozens of locations. You stupid jackasses. It has provoked a strong reaction from healthcare officials, all unnamed of course. But the BBC neglects to tell you this virus and the control based lockdowns, has prompted strong reaction from named people within the Health Service and you choose to ignore and or malign them. The levels of banality in the media is epic these days. Find out who and where these people live and get in their faces, no violence, no nastiness, just tell them we the people are not happy with their child level reporting and want them fired. Christopher Giles, Jack Goodman and Olga Robinson.

SOCIAL MEDIA BS Poland to fine social media giants $2.2m every time they censor free speech Do you think the rest of the world needs to start thinking a lot more like Poland? A new law is due to be passed in Poland that would fine Big Tech firms a staggering $2.2 million every time they unconstitutionally censor lawful free speech online. While liberal governments in western nations seek to fine social media giants Facebook and Twitter for failing to remove so-called "hate speech," Poland is taking a refreshingly different approach. "Under its provisions, social media services will not be allowed to remove content or block accounts, if the content on them does not break Polish law." "In the event of removal or blockage, a complaint can be sent to the platform, which will have 24 hours to consider it." "Within 48 hours of the decision, the user will be able to file a petition to the court for the return of access. The court will consider complaints within seven days of receipt and the entire process is to be electronic." Polish Justice Minister Zbigniew Ziobro made clear that the legal initiative was designed to fight censorship. Ziobro asserted that it wouldn't impact the right of people who have been slandered or defamed to pursue justice. "we would like to propose such tools that will enable both one side and the other, to call for the decision of a body that will be able to adjudicate whether content appearing on such and such a social media account really violates personal rights, whether it can be eliminated, or whether there is censorship." This should be the model for all developed countries that value free speech, especially the United States. The irony is, no one has mentioned the banning of posts is reminiscent of what we are told only the Communist countries do, namely China and Russia, funny that isn't, perhaps because all 3 are ran by the real Communists, the Zionists.

It's 2014 again and out comes Simon Parkes, do you seriously think with the latest banning all truth culture pervading by Big tech, they would allow Simon Parkes to be promoted by all the clown agents like Robert David Steele, Sacha Stone, Alfred Webre and the latest roadshow of distraction Charlie Ward, 3.25M hits in one day, just doesn't happen these days without being promoted by the system. Parkes made several predictions this past week and none came true, a common theme that for alt media. Another extraordinary claim I heard of this week, was that the Clintons were chopped up and delivered to various places around America, funny that, as the same person who stated it, appears to have developed loop non memory syndrome, as Hillary died on September 4th 2016. Chopping up 4 year old dead bodies and claiming that is current news? She claimed world hunger would end on January 8th 2021, appears to all and sundry that was a failed prediction as well. Oh well, no accounting for the levels people will go to for click bait it seems.

YouTube in their fascist Zionist wisdom decided without any information as to why, to delete our FRWL Plus 4 video. Like Facebook, they give no reasoning and cite community guidelines, those two words have become the new byword to cover their tracks, like the National Security meme certain groups have cited, to cover their own criminality. I wish to thank Facebook and Youtube for their actions to ban or block our material, why? because they have proven what we state is near the truth. Sad and pathetic children don't like the truth, weak people don't like the truth, insecure people don't like the truth, and criminals don't like the truth, all in all this makes them weak, insecure criminals who act like children. Which is what this show has stated all along, I rest my case.

THI is preparing another change to combat those who don't wish to hear the truth, with a designated platform for the truth. We are building another website solely for the shows of THI, all in categories, some of the older transcripts all with keywords searchable for ease of finding specific topics within each show. All the archives will go on there in categories as well. We will have a prerecorded piece after each show posted on YT and the link on YT to the latest shows will go back to the website. We will no longer have the full shows on the YT channel, once the website is built, only a link to the show on the website. Facebook has banned us for the second time, first for two months, now for 3 months of automatic posts, which means admins can only approve posts. This then allows FB the opportunity to ban the group entirely based on the admins choices. If your post hasn't posted yet it is because admins cannot be around all day waiting to approve posts. Mewe is playing up also, hanging like a dial up connection, comments going missing, delayed comments and access issues. Both FB and Mewe have been caught by our admins altering our numbers downwards also, FB own figures confirmed that themselves, they are pretty stupid. Spreaker continues to play the falsify our listeners numbers, in fact we don't have any recording of our listeners numbers, only downloads, which does not reflect the number of listeners. My Skype is being messed with as well as my phone, and what this all proves is, we are over the target with our information and shows, and the child level people don't like it. Thanks for the vindication and confirmation of our show.

People kicked off Facebook and twitter for having the 'wrong' opinion moved to Parler, so Google suspends the Parler app from the play store. Google has suspended "free speech" social network Parler from its Play Store over its failure to remove "offensive content". Parler styles itself as "unbiased" social media and has proved popular with people banned from Twitter. But Google said the app had failed to remove posts inciting violence. Did Go-ogle, Twitter, Facebook remove the violence of BLM or Antifa? NO!! why? because their paymasters paid for them to do just that. Apple has also warned Parler it will remove the app from its App Store, if it does not comply with its content-moderation requirements. On Parler, the app's chief executive John Matze said: "We won't cave to politically motivated companies and those authoritarians who hate free speech!" The sheer desperation of these tech firms to stifle free press has now reached hilarious proportions. I think it is hilarious personally the child level antics of these companies to stifle the public's free speech, control the flow of data to one group and against others, all whilst profiling and data mining the public, and in some cases worse, using the data to create fake fresh air tokens. But, these are also dangerous times for many of us who are able to think for ourselves, and not accept the alleged authority position on all matters. I often hear in America about the protection of the Constitution, yet see little evidence of it applying. Facebook, Google, Twitter and others have all broken the First Amendment right of free speech, and yet all where allowed to continue unhindered. Trump knew of the issues surrounding main and social media and became a victim of it himself, whilst I am aware of the nests of viper within his domain, something at least should have been done to prevent this fascist Zionist march. The social media giants were not only guilty of breaking the first amendment right, but also blatant election interfering. With biased reporting, filtering people away from certain sites and towards others, and yet where was the outcry? Trump said for 4 years, fake news, well, those of us in the alt media knew that as far back as the last century, it was not new. In fact Americans were told in the 1970's with the Church Committee, that the CIA employed 400 plus staff to run our news broadcasts. There are many solutions to be taken on an individual basis, delete their apps, scrap smartphones, boycott certain products. The reality is we need good people not swayed by influence or money to completely rebuild our computers and phones, without Microsoft, Google, Facebook, Twitter, YouTube or the blockchain creating Bitchute either. Free of dodgy search engines, free of Amazon and other conglomerate adverts, free of bitcoin generating apps, free of CIA, NSA and any other agency spying also. The people have an inherent right to go about their daily business, without the staggering array of items connected to technology that does everything except help them.

COVID BS Message for those wishing to take vaccines WELL YOUR ALL GOING TO DIE Boris Johnson revealed today that 2.4million Covid jabs have been given out so far. But a nurse at one hospital in West London claimed supplies were being thrown away "all over London, and probably right across Britain" as people were not coming to vaccination appointments. The nurse told MailOnline: "Loads of people are not keeping the appointments their GPs have made for them. "The trouble is the vaccine has to be given or it has to be thrown away. The Pfizer/BioNtech vaccine, which had to be stored at -70C, must be injected within five days after being defrosted. That's not the only example of them being thrown away is it Pfizer? oops. Several EU countries are receiving significantly fewer doses of the Pfizer coronavirus vaccine than expected, after the US firm slowed shipments. oops again

Lets do a timeline shall we, In 2012, 6 Chinese miners were infected by a hitherto unknown corona virus in Yunnan province, China. This was dubbed RaTG13 by the lab of Zheng-li Shi at the Wuhan Institute of Virology. In July 2020, Jonathan Latham and Allison Wilson suggested that the virus may have evolved from their samples, and that its high efficacy at infecting humans may have evolved from the months of natural selection in the lungs of the miners, 3 of whom died.

In July 2019 the CDC issued Fort Detrick (which the FBI concluded was the source of the anthrax used for the Amerithrax event) with a "cease and desist order" which shut it down for months.

In August 2019, an new illness was reported in the US which was named "vape lung" or EVALI (E-cigarette/Vaping -Associated Lung Injury). The EVALI and other respiratory viruses share similar symptoms, including shortness of breath, night sweats, low oxygen levels, and hazy spots on a lung X-ray, statnews.com reported, quoting experts, who mentioned the difficulty to "tease apart a bad flu case and a vaping case.

The 7th Military World Games was held 18-27th October 2019 in Wuhan, China. Nearly 10,000 athletes took part from over 100 countries. In March 2020 China's foreign ministry spokesperson Lijian Zhao suggested that the "patient zero" of the COVID outbreak in Wuhan may have been a member of the US team. "The Chinese claim, something censored in the US, that the inattentive attitude and disproportionately below average results of American athletes in the games, indicates they might have been in for other purposes, and they might actually be bio-warfare operatives. Also, that their place of residence during their stay in Wuhan was also close to the Huanan Seafood Wholesale Market, where the first known cluster of cases occurred." oops

Event 201, co-funded by Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security, the World Economic Forum and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation simulated a global corona virus pandemic. The final presentation was held in front of an audience on 18 October 2019 and included participants who later played important roles in the COVID-19 Pandemic. The exact same date the Military World Games started in Wuhan. Coincidence or deliberate, perhaps this next timeline will reveal which?

An ABC News report of April 2020 that the National Center for Medical Intelligence (based in Fort Detrick) had warned the White House in November 2019, that "a contagion was sweeping through China's Wuhan region. Changing the patterns of life and business and posing a threat to the population, according to four sources briefed on the secret reporting." The NCMI took the unusual step of denying it. How did the NCMI know of that less than a month after the last two stories?

The CDC explicitly prohibited epidemiologist Helen Chu from testing contacts of the first known case in Washington state. A paper in the New England Journal of Medicine dates the first US COVID-19 cases as a man who arrived there from Wuhan on 19 January 2020. Common sense question: why would the CDC ban testing? particularly after the NCMI warned of it 2 months prior? Are we seeing a pattern now?

In February 2020 research indicated that the US was the only location with all 5 different haplotypes, suggesting that it may have been the origin of the virus.

Remember the piece last week in the UK about extending the need to revaccinate people for immunization to corona virus every six months, while Covid-19 testing will still be required in 2022, Health Secretary Matt Hancock said during a select committee hearing on Thursday. "I anticipate that we will probably need to revaccinate because we don't know the longevity of the protection from these vaccines," Hancock said in response to an MP's question. We don't know the longevity of the protection from these vaccines, yet still released them on the public? "It might need to be every six months, it might need to be every year." Hancock added that "yes" he did think that England's current national lockdown would be the country's last, but said: "There's absolutely no doubt that vaccines and testing will still be a feature next year."

With the vaccine not providing immediate immunity to the corona virus, over two hundred Israeli citizens have been diagnosed with the disease days after getting the Pfizer/BioNTech jabs, local media reported. The number of those who got Covid-19 despite being vaccinated was at around 240 people, according to data from Channel 13

News. Since vaccinations kicked off on December 20, at least four people in Israel died shortly after getting the jab, Kan public broadcaster reported. However, the Health Ministry said that three fatalities were unrelated to the vaccine [of course not!], with the fourth case of an 88-year-old man with preexisting conditions currently being investigated. Funny how they will cite pre existing conditions after the vaccine, yet won't report it after someone had died before the vaccine, is it not? 27-Year-Old Canadian Healthcare Worker Fainted and Suffered Multiple Seizures After Taking the Pfizer COVID-19 Vaccine. James T. Mulder wrote Saturday at syracuse.com that until December 29 there had been no corona virus deaths at The Commons on St. Anthony nursing home in Auburn, New York. December 29, when deaths of residents with corona virus began occurring at The Commons, is also, Mulder's article discloses, seven days after the nursing home began giving corona virus vaccinations to residents, with 80 percent of residents so far having been vaccinated. Over a period of less than two weeks since December 29, Mulder relates that 24 corona virus-infected residents at the 300-bed nursing home have died. The common sense question is, with no live virus in the vaccine, how are people dying of Covid following taking it? Is it a case they seeded Corona virus via nanoparticles and the vaccine or test kits are activating it?

Twenty-three people died in Norway within days of receiving their first dose of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine, with 13 of those deaths — all nursing home patients — apparently related to the side effects of the shots, health officials said.

Gregory Michael MD a “very healthy 56 year old” obstetrician that had his office in Mount Sinai Medical Center in Miami Beach, has died after being injected with the Pfizer COVID experimental vaccine, according to a post by his wife. He was vaccinated with the Pfizer vaccine at MSMC on December 18, 3 days later he saw a strong set of petechiae on his feet and hands which made him seek attention at the emergency room at MSMC. He was admitted in the ICU with a diagnosis of acute ITP caused by a reaction to the COVID vaccine. He was a pro vaccine advocate that is why he got it himself.

Florida, where there is no lockdown or mask mandate, in fact, people are flocking there from out of state to enjoy vacations and host conferences and even to live. Naturally, we'd expect hospital levels to be bursting at the seams if they rise and fall with lockdowns and masks, right? Well, actually, you can barely see an increase in the hospitalization level in the Sunshine State from previous years, and the current level appears to be on par with the 2018 flu season, which was more of a pandemic flu than other flu's in recent years. And in 2018, we did nothing as a nation to suspend liberties.

The experimental injections being rolled out by Moderna and Pfizer are nothing similar to traditional vaccines. These mRNA platforms are an “operating system” designed to program human beings and turn their cells into efficient drug delivery systems. Moderna is now going public with the real intentions behind the mRNA platform. The mRNA technology platform is similar to a computer operating system, the company admits. Scientists prepare a unique mRNA sequence that codes for a specific protein. Once injected into humans, this program is carried out in the individual's body, at the cellular level. The mRNA platform is where Big Pharma merges with Big Tech, enslaving human beings to a controlling system designed to profit from their cellular and biological functions into the unforeseeable future. As mRNA platforms go live on human populations, Moderna admits that healthy human immune responses can actually destroy the mRNA sequences before they get into the person's cells. The immune system may attack the program and its RNA fragments, leading to negative outcomes that could include molecular deficiencies, hormonal defects, etc.. If the protein folding is disrupted, the proteins may never achieve their desired functionality, leading to partial development of antigens that never confer targeted immunity to corona virus spike proteins. The body may turn on its own cells in the process, causing hyper-inflammatory responses and autoimmune issues, that are the precursor to organ failure and various disease processes. During the so-called pandemic, public health officials were mum on the actions people should take to mount a healthy immune response to infection. Now we know why these public health officials were telling people they must wait on a vaccine to go back to normal. The people behind the mRNA experimentation of humans are building psychological justification, and scientific precedent to declare human immune systems incapable. Their first attempt is this: WHO Changes Definition Of 'Herd Immunity', Literally Re-Writing Hundreds Of Years Of Scientific Understanding, Just To Push Vaccines In this way, people will submit their bodies to the latest mRNA programs, as they become dependent on the biological software that have been created for them. This is an open door toward trans-humanism, and millions of people are buying into it. By casting shame on human immune systems, drug companies have also found the perfect alibi for when their experiments cause injury in humans. It's not the injected technology that is causing allergic reactions, seizures, infertility and death, claim the drug companies... It's the individual's human's immune system that is causing all the pain and misery, they demand. The drug companies will demand that more carefully crafted mRNA programs and interventions will be needed to "perfect" human beings. Moderna states that several hundred scientists and engineers are solely focused on advancing Moderna's platform technology." These scientists are attempting to "hack" humans with bio-information and make populations dependent on the technology. Moderna has even dubbed their mRNA platform the 'Software of Life.'

In Egypt it has emerged there was a punishment for slaves, and no the slaves were not all Jewish or Hebrews either. The slave trade was running out of Africa into Egypt thousands of years ago, organized by black people in Africa for monetary gain and sold to Egypt who were the main proponents of slavery back then. The slaves were treated harshly and one of the punishments meted out if they transgressed was, the puncturing of the gland of blood encephalitis. This is the membrane we had mentioned in a previous show in relation to the Covid test. But it has now emerged that this was a common practice to damage the slaves who transgressed in Egypt. The damage that follows following that puncture is likely to be irreversible. The Hematoencephalitis gland that separates the nasal hollow from the mondanta hollow, serves as a barrier to all pollutants, viruses and bacteria from attacking the brain. The blood brain barrier protects the brain from attack, as unlike the rest of the vessel, is not as easily cured by the immune system. The Covid Test of ramming it up the nostril has the same consequences as the slave punishment. The breaking of that hollow, will lead to increased metals, air based pollutants, viruses and bacterias attacking the brain, and essentially shutting it down over a prolonged period. So, from all accounts these tests leave the patient more susceptible to disease. All of which suggests to me this is an airborne based created disease. It is those "Egyptians" again, taken over by the modern day version the "Jews" or as I like to refer them to as the Hebrew Annunaki, remember in the past it was this group that brought to Earth the 10 plagues. Now can you see what is going on? his story repeats unless we the people stop it.

EXPOSE: This is a fairly long and deep expose first covered by SOTT.net and tells the story to Americans of why this country is in a complete mess and yet barely anyone covers it in any depth. Israel gets most of its lifeblood from the US through foreign aid or stealing. A prime example of this is the Apollo affair, where Israel stole enriched uranium from the US, to build their infamous nuclear weapons program through suspected Mossad agent, Zalman Shapiro, along with four Israeli intelligence agents, including Rafi Eitan, who visited NUMEC periodically between 1965 and 1970. This is how Israel operates. However, the alt-media does not go further than the Apollo affair. They don't report on the much deeper and more consequential Israeli thieving, of US high technology through the Talpiot Program and Unit 8200. Billions of dollars are being sucked out of the US economy through government contracts to Israeli technology and cybersecurity companies like Amdocs, which has access to all US telephone records through the NSA, and Converse Infosys, which has access to all NSA electronic tapping equipment. Essentially, Israel runs the national security state, Israeli companies can spy on you, where did they get the capability to become world leaders in the technology sector? The United States. Part of the reason why Israeli tech firms are so competitive in the global market is due to a form of quasi-state capitalism, in which the Israeli government subsidizes 50 percent of Israeli tech firms' R&D costs. This gives these firms the ability to sell their goods and services at significantly lower prices than their American counterparts. We have covered this previously, it is the non compete act laid out in 1976, where specified companies get materials at 50% of cost. " Israel runs the national security state" explains the National Security act now doesn't it, an act to commit crimes and get away with it, in essence the National security Act makes every day, a Day of Atonement day. This policy is socialist in nature, which Phil Giraldi pointed out in a speech for the Council for the National Interest: "Israel, a socialist country where government and business work hand in hand, has obtained significant advantages by systematically stealing American technology with both civilian and military applications." Subsequently, Israel uses this advantage to flood the US market with their technology exports, partly due to the 1985 Israel-United States Free Trade Agreement, destroying American high technology jobs in the process. This was the first free trade agreement agreed upon by the United States. It reduced all tariffs on Israeli imports, and is the only free-trade agreement that does not have a chapter on intellectual property rights. That means that Israel can have access to US intellectual property under US law. How did Israel get access to US high technology and intellectual property? It all began in the 1970s, when the US and Israeli governments formed BIRD (Israel-United States Binational Industrial Research and Development) Foundation. BIRD funds joint partnerships between Israeli and American companies, with 50 percent of its funding coming from the US government. That's right, our taxpayer money is funding Israeli industry, while our infrastructure is in shambles. This quote from a Bloomberg article is Talpiot in action, "the company [BIRD] promotes joint industrial R&D between American and Israeli companies. They provide a maximum of $1.2 million funding per project. BIRD-supported projects allow leading Israeli technology companies to access key world class-US companies and establish business ties." There you go, US government funded BIRD gives Israeli tech companies access to "world-class US companies." That is where the Israeli high tech industry gets its lifeblood. Using this access to US industry, Israel set up a massive espionage operation in the United States to steal secret US defense secrets, military technology, and intellectual property in the early 1980s. One operative, Jonathan Pollard, was caught in this operation, Pollard was a US intelligence agent/Israeli spy who stole thousands of documents revealing the methods used by the US for signal intelligence gathering. From then on, Israel had the same intelligence gathering capabilities as the United States. Without Pollard, Israel would never have been able to engage in signal intelligence gathering, which means that the infamous Israeli companies tied to 9/11: Amdocs and Verint, would never have been formed. But Pollard was just the tip of the iceberg, there was a whole Israeli Espionage Network surrounding and working with Pollard, including guys like Richard Perle, Frank Gafney JR, Douglas J Feith, John F Lehman Jr, and Paul Wolfowitz. All this technology that Israel has stolen was developed by tax payer money through DARPA (Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency). Nearly all of Apple's technology was developed by DARPA, Google emerged through DARPA technology and the CIA's MDDS (Massive Digital Data Systems) project, and Facebook raised its initial capital through an investment from Peter Thiel, whose data mining company, Palantir, was first funded by the CIA Venture capital firm, In Q Tel. Furthermore, there are Zionist fingerprints all over tech giants like Google and Facebook. Google was initially partly funded by American Jew, Andy Bechtolsheim, the co founder of the tech firm, Sun Microsystems, which has a major R&D center in Israel. Many other tech firms including Google, Facebook, IBM, Motorola, Microsoft, Qualcomm, and Apple have R&D centers in Israel as well. Why would these firms choose to have R&D centers near Tel Aviv? Tel Aviv is the ninth most expensive city in the world. Furthermore, it would make more sense economically to have R&D centers in a place like Bangladesh, where wages are significantly lower with a similar supply of high tech workers. These companies operate in Israel because they seek to make Israel the high tech capital of the world, where Israel will rule the world in a one world government from Jerusalem as Ben Gurion predicted. Furthermore, Israel sells their US originated high technology to our enemies, Russia and China. Russia and China then sell that technology to Iran, therefore, Israel is indirectly arming Iran. The Iran-Israel conflict is a charade, if Israel was really an enemy of Iran, they would never allow China to sell Israeli sold military technology to Iran, let alone sell Israeli military technology to China in the first place. Unbeknown to the article writer, Israel sold nuclear weapons directly to Iran in the last two decades of the last century. On top of that, Israel has numerous historical ties to the Islamic Republic of Iran, as I laid out in my article, "Iran Not an Enemy of the Jewish Elite". Ariwatch.com does a fantastic job of detailing the history of Israel transferring US technology to China in their article, "Israel's Technology Transfer to China": "On June 13, 1990 the Los Angeles Times reported that Israel had become the largest supplier of advanced military technology to China, since the United States banned military sales to that country a year earlier. An unnamed U.S. official told the newspaper that Israel was a "back door to U.S. technology that the United States won't sell them." Israel was breaching the U.S. embargo against China using technology the U.S. had given to Israel for its own defense, even though the technology came with the restriction that Israel would not re-export. Shortly before the Times report, Israel opened an office of the Israeli Academy of Sciences in Beijing. Doubtless it was that blatant act that caused U.S. officials to begin leaking information. The Times' source said that Israel's supposedly academic office in Beijing, was actually "facilitating a whole range of military-to-military cooperation between Israel and China.": According to the article, intelligence experts in the West and Asia believed Israel, had provided China with some of the advanced technology needed to modernize China's jet planes and missiles. U.S. officials had told Israel they strongly opposed the military cooperation because it undercut U.S. sanctions against China. "This is over our objections," a senior administration official told the newspaper. U.S. officials said that Israel was not operating as a proxy for the United States in these sales. The story had no discernible impact on Israel, it went on selling arms technology to China and upgrading relations between the two countries. A year after the Times report, in June 1991, China and Israel signed an agreement on scientific cooperation. On Nov. 20, 1991, the East Coast press reported that Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Arens made a secret four-day visit to China earlier that month. By the end of 1991, China's Deputy Foreign Minister Yang Fuchang visited Israel. On Jan. 24, 1992 China and Israel established formal diplomatic relations in ceremonies in Beijing, the occasion was attended by Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen and Israeli Foreign Minister David Levy. The Sino-Israeli relationship was a strange one, China traditionally favored the Arabs in the Arab-Israel conflict. Moreover, while Israel based its pleas for enormous amounts of U.S. aid on the danger from Arab countries, its selling of weapons technology to China was indirectly helping strengthen the Arabs, because China was a major supplier of missiles to Iran and such Arab countries as Saudi Arabia and Syria. In an obvious effort to dampen the burgeoning Sino-Israeli relationship, U.S. officials stepped up their leaks. Unnamed officials revealed in early March 1992 that there was "overwhelming" evidence of Israel cheating on written promises not to re-export U.S. weapons technology to Third World countries, including China. They added that there was well-founded suspicion that Israel was also selling secrets of America's Patriot anti-missile missile to China. A U.S. team of experts was dispatched to Israel in late March but it failed to find proof of Israeli cheating. Likely made up of AIPAC approved "experts" is why. The State Department said on April 2 that "the Israeli government has a clean bill of health on the Patriot issue", but there was disagreement in the government. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said there remained "good reason" to believe diversion had taken place. CIA Director Robert Gates agreed, saying, "There is some indication that they [the Chinese] have some of the [Patriot] technology." About the same time, a study by the Pentagon-supported RAND Corp. became public with the conclusion that Israel had become "China's leading foreign supplier of advanced technology." It said there had been reports that Israel had helped China develop the HQ-61 surface-to-air missile, the CSS-2 intermediate missile, the PL-8 air-to-air and surface-to-air missile, as well as advanced armor for battle tanks and an airborne early warning radar system. It said that Israel was currently cooperating with China to develop an advanced fighter jet. These disclosures were followed by a report in The Wall Street Journal, saying that Israel illegally re-exports technology to a number of countries beyond China, including Chile, Ethiopia, South Africa and Thailand. There was "no doubt in the U.S. intelligence community that Israel has repeatedly engaged in diversion schemes." And yet what did they do about it? nothing!! The Washington Post added that one official said there were "lots and lots of clear-cut cases." Apparently the U.S. had more than enough evidence to convict Israel, if it had the political will to do so. The leaks by unnamed official sources came just days before Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Arens was due to meet on March 16, 1992 with his counterpart, Dick Cheney. Arens' initial public reaction was outrage: There is not a grain of truth, no truth in it at all, but as the volume of charges grew, his statements changed to questioning the motives of the leakers: "The real story is who are these unnamed individuals who are floating these malicious rumors?" Defense Secretary Cheney and his spokesmen declined any comment. On April 1, 1992 the State Department released a report by its inspector general charging that a "major recipient" of U.S. military aid, was engaged in a "systematic and growing pattern" of selling secret U.S. technology in violation of U.S. law. The public report did not directly name Israel, but officials left no doubt that it was the subject of the report. The report said Israel's violations began about 1983 and that Israel sought to conceal the violations. A secret version of the report allegedly identified

Chile, China, Ethiopia and South Africa as among the recipients of Israel's sales. State Department Inspector General Sherman M. Funk said he notified Secretary of State James A. Baker III, about intelligence reports of Israel's violations in June 1991, and that new procedures to prevent future violations were put in place under an operation called Blue Lantern. Hmm all things related to the blue program is related to ET's, perhaps that is another confirm for THI. Funk said U.S. officials previously had depended on verbal assurances from Israel that it was not retransferring. But, he said, such assurances from Israel "are not an effective mechanism for providing end-use verification. No shit Sherlock, israel is an anagram of Ra lies. We identified instances where U.S. items and technology were retransferred or were used in violation of the assurances." He added that he had recommended that Israel be forced to repay the money illicitly earned from the transfers, but Deputy Secretary of State Lawrence S. Eagleburger, who is born to, rejected the proposal as being an impossible chore. Eagleburger was a protégé of former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and a strong supporter of Israel. The subject went to the heart of the economic prosperity of the Jewish state. Arms sales of around $1.5 billion annually accounted for 40 percent of Israel's exports, and were based almost entirely on U.S. technology. How Israel became so technologically advanced was revealed in a study by the General Accounting Office. The giveaway began in 1970 with the signing of a Master Defense Development Data Exchange Agreement that provided for the greatest transfer of U.S. technology to any country ever undertaken. The transfer was made by what was called Technical Data Packages: the entire complex of blueprints, plans and types of materials required to actually construct weapons. Over the next eight years more than 120 such packages were given to Israel, according to a 1979 study by the Middle East Arms Transfer Panel. This massive infusion of technology boosted Israel's economy, by 1981, Israel had emerged from being a technologically backward arms importer, to the seventh largest exporter of military weapons in the world, with overseas sales of $1.3 billion. An Israeli writer observed, "The Americans have made virtually all their most advanced weaponry and technology, meaning the best fighter aircraft, missiles, radar, armor, and artillery, available to Israel. Israel, in turn, has utilized this knowledge, adapting American equipment to increase its own technological sophistication, reflected tangibly in Israeli defense offerings." Despite the number of reports over the years that Israel was illicitly profiting from U.S. technology, at the cost of American companies and U.S. security, Washington continued to provide Israel ever-increasing amounts of technology. According to a report in 1992, there were 322 separate cooperative U.S.-Israeli ventures at that time, valued at $2.9 billion. In addition, there were 49 country-to-country programs involving Israel in co-development or co-production and research with the United States, and there existed 36 active data exchange agreements and 11 new proposed accords. The report concluded: "The magnitude of existing cooperative efforts with Israel is extensive and growing rapidly." In 1993, when Bill Clinton became president he promised to lift the "technological barrier" by granting Israel even more sophisticated technology. Meanwhile Sino-Israeli relations flourished, Israeli President

Chaim Herzog visited China between Dec. 24 and 30, 1992. In January 1993, with the administration of President Clinton taking over in Washington, Israel and China signed a contract permitting Israel to buy Chinese coal. On Feb. 14, 1993, the two countries signed a scientific agreement for joint research projects in electronics, medical technology, renewable energy, agriculture and civilian uses of space technology. On Oct. 12, 1993 the CIA revealed to the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, that Israel had been selling advanced military technology to China for more than a decade. Central Intelligence Director R. James Woolsey estimated that the trade "may be several billion dollars." Woolsey added: "Building on a long history of close defense industrial relations, including work on China's next-generation fighter, air-to-air missiles and tank programs, and the establishment of diplomatic relations in January 1992, China and Israel appear to be moving toward formalizing and broadening their military technical cooperation." Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin denied that the trade reached billions of dollars, adding that the figure for 1992 was about $60 million. "All these stories of billions of dollars of arms business in the past 10 years are total nonsense," he said. "We have made it clear time and again that we have never done a thing against American law ... never transmitted items of technology that we got from the United States. We are not stupid enough to endanger Israel's annual $3 billion in U.S. aid." He issued his statement in Beijing, where he was on an official four-day visit. he lied, it's what they do. The CIA said that indications of stronger Sino-Israeli ties were the opening of a number of Israeli military sales offices in China, the Feb. 14, 1993 signing of an agreement to share technology, and the current visit to Beijing of Rabin. The report stated: "We believe the Chinese seek from Israel advanced military technologies that the U.S. and Western firms are unwilling to provide. Beijing probably hopes to tap Israeli expertise for cooperative development of military technologies, such as advanced tank power plants and airborne radar systems, that the Chinese would have difficulty producing on their own." In 1994 Professor Duncan L. Clarke of The American University in Washington, DC reported in a study: "For years, Israel had violated the Arms Export Control Act and related executive agreements. Israel has employed U.S. weaponry contrary to U.S. law and policy, incorporated U.S. technology into Israeli weapons systems without prior approval, and made improper transfers of U.S. missile and other defense systems and technologies to other countries, including Chile, China, and South Africa." In early 1995 came another series of media reports on Israel's China trade, these led to official denials by Israel. David Ivri, the director-general of the Israeli Defense Ministry, admitted on Jan. 3 that Israel had sold China "some technology on aircraft", but added that it was not U.S. technology and that the contracts were "very small in magnitude." On Jan. 6, Aded Ben-Ami, the spokesperson for Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, again denied that Israel had illegally transferred any U.S. technology to China. "Israel did not transfer any American technology or American components to China," he said. Two days later Defense Secretary William Perry discussed the issue with Prime Minister Rabin in Jerusalem, but the Israeli leader again denied that any U.S. technology was involved. Then, suddenly, the issue disappeared from the public eye. The controversy that had begun in 1990 with anonymous leaks and had grown into official charges by the United States, culminated at the beginning of 1995 with discussions between the two countries at the highest level. After Perry's meeting with Rabin the subject dropped from public sight, what action was taken, if any, was not announced." This is a key quote from that article: "Moreover, while Israel based its pleas for enormous amounts of U.S. aid on the danger from Arab countries, its selling of weapons technology to China was indirectly helping strengthen the Arabs because China was a major supplier of missiles to Iran and such Arab countries as Saudi Arabia and Syria." See, it's all a scam, they're all in this together, Israel transfers high technology to China, who in turn, transfers that technology to Arab countries and Iran. Therefore, Israel is an indirect ally of Iran and Syria, I bet you thought that Assad was an arch enemy of Israel. Well, Syria gets extensive military technology from Russia and China. According to the Brookings institution, "Russia and China Provide Cover for Assad's Syria." Therefore, Israel indirectly, "provides cover for Assad's Syria." Recently, Israel's tolerance of Assad has become clear. According to this article by Haaretz: "Several weeks ago, Israel reportedly told Russia that it wouldn't oppose that [Assad in power], as if the decision were in its hands or as if Israel even had any leverage over what kind of government is in power in Syria after the war ends." In conclusion, Israel's military and high technology sectors are US taxpayer subsidized. Our taxpayer money is going to a country which sells our high technology to our enemies, namely China. China has gotten a lot of its technological capabilities from Israel. China uses this technology to steal US intellectual property, which the Trump administration has rightly brought up as an issue. However, the Trump administration never mentions Israel, who directly hands China this technology. President Trump does not care at all about US intellectual property theft. If he did, he would call Israel out, just like the BBC and Washington Examiner have done. He won't though, because Trump and his buddy Putin are, "fans of Bibi." With all this documented evidence of Israel reverse engineering US technology to build up its own tech firms with Israeli military intelligence people through the Talpiot Program and Unit 8200, most alt-media personalities still never mention it. Israel is the MAIN reason why China is a high tech super power. China got all its military technology from Israel. Israel has violated US law by re-exporting US military technology to China, yet they have never borne any consequences. For example, in the 1990s, Israel supplied China with Python III Missiles, which utilized US developed technology for Sidewinder Missiles. This rightfully outraged the lower levels of the US military, who have been slowly ramping up pressure against Israel and doing some damage. For example, in 2013, "a top Israeli defense official was forced to step down after the United States expressed fury at Israel's decision to sell military equipment to China." Also in 2013, the U.S. military was reportedly concerned that, "the technology could ultimately find its way to Iran." It's out in the open, yet people still think that Iran is Israel's arch enemy. In regard to the lower levels of the Pentagon being outraged at Israel for transferring US technology to our enemies, perhaps the Secretary of Defense James Mattis is on to something, as Brendon O'Connell points out. The Pentagon is being audited for the first time. If this audit is legit, it could reveal the Pentagon's Israeli Swamp, with all the, "shady companies with ties to Israel" receiving billions of dollars worth of contracts from the NSA. The fact that James Mattis and President Trump are in a little rift supports this claim. However, it is very possible that this audit will be a ruse to give President Trump credibility yet reveal nothing of value. I am open to both viewpoints; I am not leaning to one or the other, and I will always keep my eyes open on the matter. The issue of the US subsidizing the Israeli tech industry is an issue that will get across to both progressives, who will be outraged that our government is subsidizing a foreign country's economy while sucking out billions of dollars from our economy, and paleo-conservative anti-communists who will be infuriated that our alleged "greatest ally" is funding and arming our enemies: Russia, China, and even Iran. This is the winning strategy; getting both sides of the political spectrum together on the same issues; not walking in the streets holding up childish signs that say, "Expel the Jew by 22!", which Patrick Little did at a Holocaust Museum. That sign that Patrick Little made is the perfect ammunition for the ADL and Jewish owned media to call all critics of Jewish power "Nazis", who seek to throw all Jews out of the country, that is not the way to go. We need to reach out to the common Jewish taxpayer and explain to them that the Jewish elite are not operating in their best interests either. Ordinary Jews are just as much of dupes as the rest of us. They are being duped to support a supremacist state and ideology, instead of learning to keep their culture within themselves and promote Logos (the natural order) with the rest of the world. Couldn't have said it better and I will leave it at that, time for real Americans to grow a set and face this global enemy head on. I would sooner go down in a Blaze of Glory than act and be seen as a bunch of cowardly wimps.

Some word salad for you. Dystopia (n.) means the future right? nope "imaginary bad place," 1952, from dys- "bad, abnormal" + ending abstracted from utopia. Earlier in medical use, "displacement of an organ" (by 1844), with second element from Greek topos "place" (see topos). Dystopian was used in the non-medical sense in 1868 by J.S. Mill: A dystopia is a community or society that is undesirable or frightening.

utopia (n.) 1551, from Modern Latin Utopia, literally "nowhere," coined by Thomas More (and used as title of his book, 1516, about an imaginary island enjoying the utmost perfection in legal, social, and political systems), from Greek ou "not" + topos "place" (see topos). The current (since c. 1960) explanation of Greek ou "not" is an odd one, as it derives the word from the PIE root *aiw- "vital force, life; long life, eternity." Linguists presume a pre-Greek phrase *(ne) hoiu (kwid) "(not on your) life," with ne "not" + *kwid, an "emphasizing particle" [Watkins]. The same pattern is found elsewhere. Extended to any perfect place by 1610s. Commonly, but incorrectly, taken as from Greek eu- "good" (see eu-) an error reinforced by the introduction of dystopia (by 1844). On the same model, Bentham had cacotopia (1818), to indicate the geographical location of the worst (as opposed to best) form of government. Erewhon which is an anagram of nowhere. Erewhon inhabitants worship superficiality, unreason, inconsistency, and evasion: a lampoon of 19th-century society, now a jackass version of 21st century society if you ask me.

Message to all the sleepers who called us nuts and conspiracy theorists? here is another of your illusions shattered. Thousands of children died in homes for unmarried mothers and their offspring run by Ireland's Catholic Church from the 1920s to the 1990s, an inquiry found on Tuesday. Following are some extracts from the report, in which the authors paraphrase the testimony of witnesses questioned. Some witnesses described that while working on their hands and knees, they were verbally abused about their status as "fallen women". Witnesses reported being called "sinners", "dirt", "spawn of Satan", or worse. A woman told the inquiry that she was 17 years old when she entered a mother and baby home in the early 1970s, finding it to be a mix of hospital, school and jail, full of grief and despair and of disturbing things, including, she said, "women screaming, a woman who had lost her mind, and a room with small white coffins". "You were reminded every day that you were a sinner," said a witness who in the mid-1970s became pregnant when she was 17. Her job was to clean the parquet floors in the home. "One nun would dirty the floor after I cleaned it. I would have to clean it again." Another witness who said she had been placed in a home following a rape recalled a girl dying there during childbirth. This witness told the inquiry that the girl's parents "would not take her home, even in death..." Another witness was 14 when she became pregnant, knew nothing of what was happening to her body or about childbirth and, although in serious pain from the onset of labour, was given no pain relief. The nun with her during the process told her: "You've had your fun, this is payment." The baby weighed nearly 10 pounds. One witness said she gave birth in a mother and baby home in the late 1960s. Having said to a nun in the home that her plan was to go to England with her baby to stay with her sister, the response to the witness was: "That doesn't happen here. You'll do what we tell you and that's it. You're not keeping that baby. You're going nowhere with that baby. You're going home and the baby is going somewhere else." I guess it wasn't a conspiracy after all, are you people still going to go to mass despite all the proven allegations now? The Catholic church and their disciples the evil witchcraft laden nuns have killed, abused, raped and murdered many people in many countries, not just Ireland either. They say they are gods messengers, have you asked which god they represent? I'll tell you, the Catholic church's god is Lucifer. Put that in your Rosary beads and smoke it.

Back in the UK in early 1970's we had the winter of discontent, here is a small caption describing that event, it may sound familiar. Unions were the main cause of the blackouts in the 1970s, miners opted to work to rule due to proposed pay caps, so by the end of 1973 coal reserves were running extremely low. This forced the government into action. They decided to impose restrictions on power usage, electricity was rationed and firms not classed as essential services, were forced to restrict their power usage to three days a week. Hence the three day working week developed which might sound great, but when you adjust wages to compensate for this you can understand how families quickly found themselves on the breadline. In blackout areas schools, homes and businesses used paraffin lamps and candles for light. Street lights were out, houses were plunged into darkness and that was just the tip of the iceberg. People would walk from one store to the next to buy candles only to find they were sold out. Butcher's shops started to make 'makeshift' candles out of string and lard, which smelt terrible and were a real fire hazard. Families would sit around the fireside watching coals crackle or huddle around gas rings on the cooker for heat. It sounds bleak and it was bleak, but on the plus side, it made the country unite. Think tanks use these events to formulate future events, the line "electricity was rationed and firms not classed as "essential services" were forced to restrict their power usage to three days a week. Essential services or essential sale items all the same idea and planning, the 3 day week went to the none day week.

In her new book, Insight, organizational psychologist Tasha Eurich tackles a topic that many of us think we've mastered, but haven't: self-awareness. In a series of surveys, Eurich found that 95% of people think they're self-aware, but only 10-15% truly are. The title of the headline of that story? Only 15% Of People Are Self-Aware -- Here's How To Change. It's that figure again - 15%. We are not the 99% we are the 15%, wear it proud.

The old world is in total chaos and in spectacular free fall as the factions struggle to stem the flow of information. Iran and N. Korea doing weapons tests, Britain and America supporting Australia in trade war with China, Israel being Israel and threatening everything and everyone, India and China still fighting over borders, The EU on the brink of collapse as member states threatening to pull out. The old world in lockdown over an engineered virus, businesses and jobs collapsing, whilst financial harvesters prepare fresh air control based tokens for us all, why? because they lost control over the old system. Meanwhile in the land of theater and lunacy, we have so called people representing the people playing infantile level politics games, whilst the country is being torn apart by MSM, big tech and social media giants. Alt Media is no different, a total cesspit of bullshittery, the very few for and by the people maligned and divided by others because of their own rank insecurity, they will copy your ideas and run with it themselves, for their own self importance. The US Military and SSP goons playing war games rhetoric, military hardware flying here there and everywhere, the old world has descended into a mass of unsanity, never witnessed before on this level in history. It is a shameful disgrace of epic proportions, by so called "leaders", like experts it is now proven there are no "leaders", only a moronic bunch of jackasses playing games of their own self importance, and control ideologies. The lot of you are an utter disgrace to this planet, and proven incompetent on a mass scale, riddled with child level thinking in a child level world, brought to you by child level schools, colleges and Universities. I am calling here and now on the UPU and the Council to eliminate or remove all Hebrew Annunaki here and now, we the people have had enough of your delays, we want them gone permanently. To the old world clowns, bloodline families, royalty, elders, agencies, Presidents, Prime Ministers and even Trustees, all of you have failed on a spectacular level, step down and step aside and let the people with adult minds, adult thinking, beyond astral level development, and people with basic common sense an opportunity to run this planet in a much better way.
