The first land purchase of the village is now completed and we are making steady progress with the TPC, new ideas, new plans and now extra sharing amongst members. With that comes the kickback of people who wish to destroy any good work done by other people. What this proves is, we are right over the target, lets double our efforts to build our way and leave them behind, they have and will become immersed in the old world, and there they will always reside. Some people feel the personal choice of others are selfish and need to be regulated. What is really selfish is expecting other to surrender their liberties, so they can enjoy a false sense of security. The Covid bs'ery just rolls on and gets more bizarre, experts looking more and more stupid, the bots even worse. Runners, cyclers, walkers and even swimmers wearing masks all complying when the Government in this country said a few weeks ago it has been drawn back on the conditions and restrictions. Despite the policymakers never observing the restrictions since day one, something we highlighted in May/June of last year. Now the masked crusader Biden wants to go door to door with vaccines, ok, simple solution to that is, pin a notice to your door of no soliciting and those who knock or ring are subject to $10K penalty. The medical people have gone from sucking your blood to harvesting your energy, roll up and meet Dr. Acula, who despite being a Count, cannot do math, just like Johns Hopkins. How times have changed, back in 1909 there was a vehicle called a Babcock runabout electric car that ran for 1244 miles on one charge. Yet the so much more advanced Tesla electric car 110 years later, runs just 408 miles on one charge. Like the faster speed internet, in reality on some sites it is no better than dial up at times, yes you Mewe whilst the show is running. Get 4G now 5G and watch your speeds go up they say, has anyone noticed the internet any faster? or is it actually less just like the Electric car? What is 5G anyway? generations they say, but gee looks like Masonic symbols to me. But lets look at the word generation shall we, it is stated to be about a collection of people all born and living at the same time, nothing to threatening about that. Until you break the word up, then it becomes gene and ration. Rationing is the controlled distribution of scarce resources, goods, services, or an artificial restriction of demand. Rationing controls the size of the ration, which is one's allowed portion of the resources being distributed on a particular day or at a particular time. There are many forms of rationing, although rationing by price is most prevalent, the greatest example of that type of rationing is homes. Wi is a financial instrument, when issued (WI) is a transaction that is made conditionally because a security has been authorized but not yet issued. Treasury securities, stock splits, and new issues of stocks and bonds are all traded on a when-issued basis. Fi is short for finance. So does the 5G wifi mean of issuing a new stock or set of bonds, remember the people are the stock, bonds are war instruments, when they are ready to cash in, on the declared war on the people with the gene ration? Wonder what happens when the masses find out that the conspiracy theorists are more knowledgeable and expert than the experts themselves?

NEWS: Biden rebuffs Afghan questions: I want to talk about happy things. The president was in no mood to be pressed by journalists about his order to withdraw US troops from Afghanistan, ending America's longest war, another war they did not win despite the predictable Hollywood scripts of the future saying differently. He defended the pull-out on Friday as nothing unusual, before refusing to answer anymore questions from White House reporters about his decision. The exit of all US forces from Bagram Air Base comes as Taliban fighters advance across the country, which US officials concede may be heading for civil war. About as deflating as another so called leader, the country is in utter turmoil, despair, fear and poverty and the mask man wants to talk happy things? like what Biden? 7 months in charge and what have your group of bandits changed for the better, for the people?

The outsourcing company Serco has upgraded its profit forecast thanks to, continuing strong revenues from its lucrative contract to run parts of the government's Covid-19 test-and-trace service. The company said its underlying trading profit for 2021 would be £15m higher than previously thought, at about £200m. Shares rose 5% in early trading, making Serco the top riser on the FTSE 250. Serco runs large parts of the largely privatized service, which is labeled as NHS test and trace. It runs a quarter of the testing sites and half the "tier 3" contact tracers, who are mainly tasked with phoning the contacts of people who have tested positive. The outsourcing firm's appointment to run parts of the test-and-trace system has proved controversial. The Labour party leader, Sir Keir Starmer, described as "outrageous" Serco's decision to pay investors a £17m dividend that was funded partly by pandemic profits. Starmer married Victoria Alexander in 2007. She was previously a solicitor but now works in NHS occupational health. The couple's son and daughter are being brought up in the Jewish faith of their mother and the family attend shabbat dinners. Serco has also confirmed it has passed information to HM Revenue and Customs over the possible use of "mini-umbrella companies", structures that have been subject to warnings over tax dodging. Serco has ordered suppliers to ensure they directly employ workers after the Guardian uncovered evidence of the structures across the test-and-trace system. In February, Serco acknowledged it had "benefited" from the test-and-trace contract. While the government has allowed it to make lower profits than usual on that contract, the extra £350m of revenues has made up for the impact of the pandemic in other areas. The Serco chief executive, Rupert Soames, and the chief financial officer, Angus Cockburn, were given pay of £7.4m for 2020, including bonuses worth £5.5m. Just when everyone in the UK thought things were winding down, Serco has just been awarded a further £322m contract to continue its work on the COVID-19 Test and Trace system. In an announcement to the markets today, the outsourcing giant said the new contract had been awarded after a competitive process run by the Department for Health and Social Care and the Crown Commercial Service. It runs for 12 months, with an option to extend for a further six months. Anyone notice the significance of that number? 322 is the Skull and Bones insignia, Skull and Bones lesser known as the Brotherhood of Death. Serco were also in line to attain a contract to manage UK Satellites, called Skynet. The mention of Skynet, satellites, cyber security, and AI brings up the Terminator movie. But if you thought that was the future as well, Skynet dates back to the 1960s as a UK defense project. Soames was born in Croydon, to Christopher and Mary Soames. He is a grandson of Winston Churchill, a nephew of one-time Defence Secretary Duncan Sandys and his wife Diana Churchill, of journalist Randolph Churchill, and of actress and dancer Sarah Churchill, and is a great-nephew of the founders of the Scout movement, the 1st Baron Baden-Powell and his wife, the Baroness Baden-Powell. His brother is former MP Sir Nicholas Soames. All kept in house as you can see, and how they keep power. Given Churchill was alleged to be a Rothschild, and Angus Cockburn worked for KPMG also Rothschild, this is a faction based harvesting group, that practically runs the UK Govt on behalf of the Rothschild's.

New York has become the first US state to declare a disaster emergency order to address rising gun violence. New York state saw 51 shootings over the 4 July holiday weekend, Governor Andrew Cuomo said as he signed the executive order. The directive will funnel $138.7m (£100m) towards gun violence intervention and prevention programmes. It comes amid reports of a rise in gun deaths countrywide, including nearly 200 over the past weekend. In March, the FBI released preliminary 2020 statistics showing a significant jump - 25% - in murders from the year before. So far, the upward trend has continued into 2021. In the US, the majority of homicides are gun-related, what they don't tell is most are suicides. Does anyone ask Cuomo was he responsible for the rise in shootings after he defunded the NYPD? Since then gun violence has significantly rose, common sense tells you that he is wholly responsible, like he was for all the nursing home deaths. Why aren't NY following California and having a vote of no confidence?

After myself and the Trustee pressured Trump over this deal, it is pleasing this week to announce that, The Department of Defense is canceling a controversial $10 billion cloud computing contract that had been awarded to Microsoft over Amazon under the Trump administration. The department announced Tuesday that it is canceling the Joint Enterprise Defense Infrastructure (JEDI) contract that was previously awarded to Microsoft. It will instead seek new solicitations for an updated Joint Warfighting Cloud Capability (JWCC) contract from Amazon and Microsoft. The JEDI contract would have resulted in Microsoft building a cloud storage system for sensitive military data and technology, such as artificial intelligence, for the Department of Defense and could have resulted in revenue of up to $10 billion over 10 years. All that Military training and we cannot produce people who have gone through the ranks to develop a system, and content to give it globalist companies whose record of working against the people is appalling, maybe that is why the DOD were selecting them?

Belarus has closed its border with Ukraine, claiming that arms are being smuggled into the country. President Alexander Lukashenko says it is part of an attempt by outside powers to overthrow his authoritarian regime. Mr. Lukashenko claimed that his security services had uncovered a foreign-backed terrorist sleeper cells plotting to oust him from power. They have crossed the line, we cannot forgive them, he said. He alleged the weapons were being shipped to terrorist cells funded by Germany, Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine and the US. A huge amount of weapons is coming from Ukraine to Belarus. That's why I ordered border-security forces to fully close the border with Ukraine, Mr. Lukashenko said, at a ceremony marking the country's 30 years of independence following the collapse of the Soviet Union. He said he would confront Germany's Angela Merkel and other leaders about the claims. Ukraine denied interfering in Belarus's domestic affairs and said closing the 1,084-km (674-mile) border would make its people suffer. Belarus shares a border with Ukraine in the south, it borders Poland and Lithuania in the west, Latvia in the north, and Russia in the east. Fairly obvious as to who is involved in this, CIA, NATO and the DNC criminal element.

President Biden's nominee to be the next ambassador to Germany is an Ivy League president whose university paid him nearly $1 million for an honorary professor gig where he was seldom seen, it was revealed Friday. University of Pennsylvania President Amy Gutmann, who has headed the Philadelphia-based institution since 2004, is the first envoy to a G-7 nation to be nominated by Biden. If confirmed by the Senate, the 71-year-old Gutmann would be the second woman to serve as America's chief diplomat in Berlin. Gutmann born in New York and born to Jewish parents - oh my what a surprise that is. But between 2013 and last year, the university allegedly received tens of millions in undisclosed donations from China, according to the National Legal and Policy Center, a conservative-leaning public ethics group. The dollar totals dramatically increased after the school opened its Biden Center for Diplomacy and Global Engagement. The NLPC filed a complaint against UPenn last year, alleging $22 million in anonymous donations from the country for the Biden Center and $70 million from China in total. The University of Pennsylvania has stonewalled all inquiries into the identities of the Chinese donors who made $22 million anonymous donations to the university, according to NLPC Chairman Peter Flaherty. We think it's time for her (Dr. Gutmann) to answer the question and identify the donors, it would be useful to ask Feinstein, Brown and Pelosi also. The Biden Center opened in March 2017, about a year before Biden announced his 2020 presidential campaign. The complaint charges that in 2017, out of a total of $7.7 million in donations from China, $500,000 came from anonymous donors. After Biden launched his campaign in 2018, the total jumped to $27.1 million, with anonymous donors giving $15.8 million. And in 2019, Chinese donors gave $26.9 million to the center, $6 million anonymously. Yet more proof that all American Universities are being used as criminal centers for criminal activities.

As a sidenote to the events of the magic hotel in Miami Florida, and the wonders of the rise of Intelligent buildings, one person has been the spokesperson for the county, let take a peek at her shall we and see what we find. Daniella Levine Cava is an American lawyer, social worker, and politician who has been mayor of Miami-Dade County, Florida since 2020. Previously, she was a Miami-Dade County Commissioner from 2014 until her election as mayor. She is the first woman and the first person of Jewish descent to serve as mayor of Miami-Dade County, Daniella was also born in, New York, it is remarkable as to how many time that happens and is revealed.

Rudy Giuliani he had his law license suspended in New York for making demonstrably false and misleading claims around the 2020 US election. Giuliani, 77, has been a mayor of New York City and a personal lawyer to former US President Donald Trump. Hours after a New York appeals court ruled Mr. Giuliani had lied about electoral fraud to the public and in legal statements. The decision, made by a five-judge panel, is temporary, pending the outcome of a full disciplinary hearing. Faction based fighting it seems to me.

The U.S.-based Hilton hospitality company is developing a hotel built on the site of an Uyghur mosque recently demolished by the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) in China's western region of Xinjiang, according Bitter Winter who runs an online religious liberty and human rights magazine. The mosque land was purchased at public auction by a local developer, who in turn signed a contract to develop there a Hampton Hotel, one of the brands owned by Hilton. The magazine referenced a recent report by the U.K.'s Telegraph newspaper, which revealed on June 12 that Chinese government authorities tore down Hotan's Duling Mosque in recent years, as part of a plan to replace the Islamic religious center with a commercial development, including a Hampton, which is brand of hotel brand owned by Hilton Worldwide Holdings Inc. Just like what happened after Katrina and the Jewish owned floating Casinos, the boat casino pirates came onto the land.

The Pentagon said Tuesday the department's leaders will look into making COVID-19 vaccines mandatory once they are approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

"Should the FDA approve it then I am certain Pentagon leadership will take a look at what our options are going forward, including the potential options of making it mandatory. But I'm not going to get too far ahead of process right now," Pentagon Press Secretary John Kirby told reporters at a press conference on Tuesday. Currently, almost 69 percent of the military has received at least one dose of a vaccine, according to a department briefing on June 30. Last week, the Army Times reported that the Army has directed commands to prepare to administer mandatory COVID-19 vaccines as early as September 1, pending FDA approval. The Pentagon cannot mandate vaccines that are not FDA-approved. Rep. Thomas Massie (R-KY) said he has been contacted by members of the U.S. military who say they will quit if the vaccines are mandated. He has introduced a bill that would prohibit mandatory requirement for the vaccine. Since when have the Pentagon become medical experts? they can't even manage a budget never mind a war, 18 years in Afghanistan and similar in Iraq tells you that, and now they think we want their opinion on vaccines? Remember the Pentagon had stockpiled PPE's before the pandemic took place, I guess they are in on the money game.

Here is something we advocated for TPC businesses. Trials of a four-day week in Iceland were an "overwhelming success" and led to many workers moving to shorter hours, researchers have said. The trials, in which workers were paid the same amount for shorter hours, took place between 2015 and 2019. Productivity remained the same or improved in the majority of workplaces, researchers said. A number of other trials are now being run across the world, including in Spain and by Unilever in New Zealand. In Iceland, the trials run by Reykjavík City Council and the national government eventually included more than 2,500 workers, which amounts to about 1% of Iceland's working population. Many of them moved from a 40 hour week to a 35 or 36 hour week, researchers from UK think tank Autonomy and the Association for Sustainable Democracy (Alda) in Iceland said. The trials led unions to renegotiate working patterns, and now 86% of Iceland's workforce have either moved to shorter hours for the same pay, or will gain the right to, the researchers said. Workers reported feeling less stressed and at risk of burnout, and said their health and work-life balance had improved, and also has the benefits of cutting carbon emissions.

Russia's Vladimir Putin has accused the UK and US military of staging a complex provocation, after British warship HMS Defender sailed near the coast of Russian-annexed Crimea. While there was no risk of starting World War Three, he said, he believed it was part of an attempt to set up military bases in or near Ukraine. President Putin alleged a US spy plane was part of the operation too. The Royal Navy rejected the Russian account of what happened on 23 June. BBC correspondent Jonathan Beale, on board HMS Defender at the time, said it had been buzzed by Russian warplanes and coastguard vessels had threatened to open fire on the ship. While some firing had taken place, he said it was well out of range. Reiterating the navy's explanation, Prime Minister Boris Johnson's spokesman said on Wednesday, that the destroyer was conducting innocent passage through Ukrainian territorial waters in accordance with international law. Haha like it was innocently passing through the S. China Sea near to the contested islands, do these people really think before they speak, if you don't want incidents stay away from other countries waters. We will ignore what the Royal Navy have to say, they are little more than puppets for NATO these days. A separate encounter in the Black Sea has since been reported the following day by the Dutch navy, which has accused Russian fighter jets of repeatedly harassing its ship, HNLMS Evertsen. Why are Dutch Navy even in that sea? does anyone ask, is the Black Sea a tributary into Holland? no, then why are they are then? After last week's incident involving HMS Defender, the British ambassador was summoned by the Russian foreign ministry, which protested against what it said was a violation of its territory. Crimea was seized by Russia in 2014 but most of the international community considers it to be part of Ukraine. Palestine was seized by Israel and most of the international community considers it part of Palestine, yet how does that work out? Why aren't warships off the coast of Tel Aviv if that is the criteria. Asked during his annual TV phone-in with Russian citizens whether the incident risked provoking World War Three, the Russian president said even if HMS Defender had been sunk that would not have happened. They know they cannot win this conflict: we would be fighting for our own territory; we didn't travel thousands of miles to get to their borders, they did, he said. However, he did accuse the UK and the US of mounting a co-ordinated, provocative operation to assess Russia's response. Putin pointed out he had personally ordered troops to pull back from Ukraine's borders two months ago, as international concern intensified over what Russia insisted was nothing more than military exercises. Now he said that British and US forces were trying to open up military bases, making Ukrainian territory close or on the border with Russia a military platform that is a threat to Russian security. He also linked it to his summit with President Joe Biden in Geneva the week before. He suggested that a US reconnaissance plane had taken off from a NATO airfield in Greece, possibly from Crete. With Israel again attacking Syria and Lebanon, and now the NATO goons are pushing into Russian territory, this is the caliphate war they always wanted, isolate Russia and then attack Iran. With Russia tied down defending their own country, they would be less able to defend Iran. The world needs to wake up to this reality and stop supporting the clown based militaries of America, UK, Holland, Israel and other NATO led countries before their child level behavior causes more carnage.

Researchers working in Israel have identified a previously unknown type of ancient human, that lived alongside our species more than 100,000 years ago. They believe that the remains uncovered near the city of Ramla, represent one of the last survivors of a very ancient human group. The finds consist of a partial skull and jaw from an individual who lived between 140,000 and 120,000 years ago. The team members think the individual descended from an earlier species, that may have spread out of the region hundreds of thousands of years ago and given rise to Neanderthals in Europe and their equivalents in Asia. Here we go out goes the fake out of Africa theory and in comes life started in Israel. The scientists have named the newly discovered lineage the Neshar Ramla Homo type. Dr Hila May of Tel Aviv University said the discovery reshapes the story of human evolution, particularly those of the Neanderthals. The general picture of Neanderthal evolution had in the past been linked closely with Europe. It all started in Israel, we suggest that a local group was the source population, she told BBC News. Except Israel didn't exist until 1948 so how can she explain that, what's wrong with these people, everything is all about a fake state that didn't exist until 1948. If you disagree with that, please show me a valid ancient map where it says Israel on it, it doesn't. During interglacial periods, waves of humans, the Neshet Ramla people, migrated from the Middle East to Europe, and they deduced all that from 1 partial skull and jaw, impressive piece of fake news that. Dr May suggests that these humans were the ancestors of Neanderthals. The European Neanderthal actually began here in the Levant and migrated to Europe, while interbreeding with other groups of humans. Neshet Ramla, interesting name they gave there, Neshet is a city in the occupied region of Palestine, but also Neshet means a vulture. Ramla is another city in the occupied region, but it derives from Egypt, a common theme that for things linked to Israel and its religious based cult, it means prophetess. So to them it means the prophetess has spoken and the vulture which is the Bennu bird or the Phoenix is returning, erm no it's not.

As scientists and scholars in America try to stifle the fact that White Europeans were in America before the Indian tribes. A major find in Titusville Florida has been hushed up, blocked and denied the DNA proof that there was a group of White Europeans living and thriving together at least 8K years ago. Why are they so desperate to stifle the truth? Why haven't they put the findings of this groundbreaking discovery from 26 years ago on display? Who gains from it as it rewrites their history again?

In further archeological news, Academics believe they have identified a remarkable geological secret; a sunken continent hidden under Iceland and the surrounding ocean, which they have dubbed 'Icelandia'. An international team of geologists, led by Gillian Foulger, Emeritus Professor of Geophysics in the Department of Earth Sciences at Durham University (UK), believe the sunken continent could stretch from Greenland all the way to Europe. It is believed to cover an area of ~ 600,000 km² but when adjoining areas west of Britain are included in a "Greater Icelandia" the entire area could be ~1,000,000 km² in size. If proven, it means that the giant supercontinent of Pangaea, which is thought to have broken up over 50 million years ago, has in fact not fully broken up. This new theory challenges long-held scientific ideas around the extent of oceanic and continental crust in the North Atlantic region, and how volcanic islands, like Iceland, formed. Archeology now is rendered to the public as little more than an exercise to keep up the fake history of this planet, at the behest of one race of people that have no ancestral home, until the Rothtillian's decided to create one like a modern crypto currency, out of fresh air. This not a new discovery at all, that is Da' Arya, but like the previous stories it will not be disclosed because it was the White Race, and the Hebrew Annunaki dark forces who run media, science and archeology go to great lengths to deny the public the facts.

COVID BS Desperation set in amongst the lead Covid conspiracy theorists, Fauci said about 99.2% of recent COVID-19 deaths in the U.S. involved unvaccinated people, a tragic situation that could easily be remedied. No, Mr. Fauci it is the vaccinated deaths and you know it, you utter psychopath, yet again it proves how desperate they are too make up statistics and show zero proof to support them.

Pfizer announced it is temporarily halting the distribution of its anti-smoking pill, Chantix. The company is doing this after it found heightened levels of a cancer-causing compound in the drug. Chantix was approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in May 2006, as a prescription medication that is supposed to help adults quit smoking. It is meant to be used regularly for 12 to 24 weeks. Pfizer said that it was recalling certain lots of Chantix from distribution, but refused to divulge how many lots. The company added that it was pausing the distribution of Chantix out of an abundance of caution, pending further testing of the drug. Stop smoking it causes cancer they said, take these drugs that causes cancer instead. Only took 15 years to realize it, I suspect their latest poison may only be 10-20% of that timescale.

Over half of Israelis that have been vaccinated are now infected with Covid according to authorities, it was a good job they came up with the new variant narrative, otherwise people would think those vaccinated are being infected deliberately.

In just a few months, the World Health Organization received approximately 20,000 reports of new eye disorders that occurred post covid-19 vaccination. These reports include 303 cases of blindness and 1,625 cases of visual impairment. The European drug monitoring agency had never recorded such a severe spike in eye injuries until after the experimental vaccines were launched.

Recent figures from the U.K.'s drug regulator reveal that nearly 4,000 women have reported having problems with their period after being vaccinated. The report, obtained by The Sunday Times, showed the Medicines and Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency (MHRA) received 2,734 reports of menstrual cycle changes after getting the AstraZeneca vaccine. In addition, the agency received 1,158 reports related to the Pfizer vaccine, and 66 reports related to the Moderna vaccine. Most reports were from women aged 30 to 49 and were compiled up to May 17. According to the agency, the actual figures may potentially be much higher.

OTHER ITEMS: Here comes the latest woke joke, Using and teaching what has long been considered proper English language and grammar is actually racist, according to at least two professors attending a virtual seminar at Towson University in Maryland said recently. The way Black language is devalued in schools reflects how Black lives are devalued in the world, and the anti-Black linguistic racism that is used to diminish Black language and Black students in classrooms, is not separate from the rampant and deliberate anti-Black racism and violence inflicted upon Black people in society, said language professor and author April Baker-Bell. Teacher attitudes include assumptions that Black students are somehow linguistically, morally, and intellectually inferior because they communicate in Black language. If I was as stupid and child like, like these people, one would make suggestions that English speaking whites in other countries where it is not a native language is anti white and so therefore racist. These people need to be fired for their retard levels of stupidity. Lets see how they get on acquiring a job using their own language known as gangster rap, yo mofugger gimme a job today bitch, erm you cant use that language in here, hey ho and bitch where's my application form? please leave the building or we will call the police, yo mofugger shoot the police or I will bitch slap you. I know the majority of black people don't like that language or image either, but this rhetoric plays into the vocal non participatory elements of your society, who would rather take than give. Time for the millions of genuine black people to tell these people to shut up and stop misrepresenting you, they are a blight on your communities.

Yet again another story develops alongside our expose of Indian guru's and spiritualist programs, in FRWL 8 A through C. It told of threatening behavior, sexual abuse of the flock, intimidation and leaving a trail of broken females in their midst. It also supports a recent piece of rampant mistreatment of women from Asia through to Africa. BBC journalist Ishleen Kaur was a passionate yoga teacher with Sivananda, one of the biggest yoga movements in the world, until a disturbing social media post led her to uncover multiple allegations of sexual abuse spanning decades, right up to the present day. Since I discovered yoga in my mid-20s, it had become a huge part of my world, like many devoted yogis, it was not just an exercise class for me, but a way of life. I didn't just teach classes at my local Sivananda centre, I volunteered to cook and clean there too. Sivananda teachings influenced every aspect of my existence. But then in December 2019, I received a notification on my phone, it was a post in my Sivananda Facebook group about the movement's late revered founder, Swami Vishnudevananda. A woman called Julie Salter had written that Vishnudevananda had sexually abused her for three years at the Sivananda headquarters in Canada. She wrote that when she finally found the strength decades later to report this to the Sivananda management board, the reactions ranged from silence, to the attempt to silence. I have now interviewed 14 women who allege abuse at the hands of senior Sivananda teachers, many of whom have not spoken about this to family and friends, let alone made it public. I have also spoken to a former staff member who says her concerns were not addressed by the Sivananda board. My investigation has exposed claims of an abuse of power and influence within the organization I once held so dear. Originally from New Zealand, Julie was 20 and travelling in Israel when she first came across the teachings of Sivananda. She quickly became immersed in the life of the movement, and in 1978, moved to its headquarters in Canada. Vishnudevananda was based there and Julie was asked to become his personal assistant, something she initially regarded as a privilege. But she says her schedule was brutal. She worked from 05:00 until almost midnight, seven days a week - all without pay. She says Swami Vishnudevananda became unpredictable, often shouting at her. So of course, my own boundaries were getting more and more weakened, she tells me. And then events took a darker turn. One day when Julie was working in Vishnudevananda's house, she found him lying down listening to devotional tapes, he asked her to lie down next to him. When Julie said she didn't understand what he wanted, he told her: Tantra yoga - a yoga practice which has become associated with spiritual sex, but simply means working towards spiritual enlightenment through deep relaxation. Julie says she was coerced into various sexual acts, including penetrative sex, for more than three years. Several other high-profile yoga gurus have been accused of abusing their position in recent years, including Bikram Chaudhry, Pattabhi Jois, and Bhagwan Rajneesh. Catherine (not her real name), was just 12 years old, and attending a Sivananda children's camp in Canada in the '80s when she said the teacher first took a sexual interest in her. She says the man would massage her and touch her bottom. When she was 15, he began touching her more explicitly, grabbing her between her legs and touching her breasts. She says the last time he assaulted her she was 17. She was taking a nap and woke up to find him on top of her, she left the organization that day. The seedy world of gurus, spiritualists and the so called love and light crew yet again shown to be just as seedy and corrupt of the counterpart it was designed to replace. Fake religion, fake spiritualism and fake love and light are all programs of control and it seems, sexual coercion and abuse.

Most Indians see themselves and their country as religiously tolerant but they are against interfaith marriage, a survey from Pew Research Center has found. People across different faiths in the country said stopping interfaith marriage was a high priority for them. The research comes follows laws introduced in several Indian states that criminalize interfaith love. I wonder if The Pentagon will declare those people racist, or are they all color blind, or only see bad in one color to appease their Hebrew Annunaki overlords? Pew interviewed 30,000 people across India in 17 languages for the study. The interviewees were from 26 states and three federally administered territories. According to the survey, 80% of the Muslims who were interviewed felt it was important to stop people from their community from marrying into another religion. Around 65% of Hindus felt the same. The survey also asked about the relationship between faith and nationality. It found that Hindus tend to see their religious identity and Indian national identity as closely intertwined, sole identity with your nation is Fascism, which is Zionism. Nearly two-thirds of Hindus (64%) said it was very important to be Hindu in order to be truly Indian. Criminalizing interfaith love, deary me what an ignorant, divisive and racist statement that is. It is shameful behavior, I thought your god was about loving? but it appears in Kali Ma land that comes with conditions. Love should be unconditional, no matter which fake god you choose to follow. The Kali Ma and the multi armed ones will be grinning evilly from ear to ear at this level of divisiveness. What happened to the Indian spiritualists programs, is this a special version of spirituality? if it is, thanks for another confirm of the FRWL series for me.

This is a piece from one of the members, with my comments interspersed it is called The Matter of Money. From an early age we're taught to revere money as a means to provide anything the heart desires. To be financially secure without the usual concerns of making ends meet is indeed a worldly privilege, and can make the living life more comfortable and less problematic in many ways. But of course it's not as straightforward as that; if so, all the rich people in the world would declare they were free of doubt and fear, able to love in a trouble-free relationship and spiritually complete in the knowledge of the truth of existence. In this acquisitively-driven world it's necessary to know how to handle money; but more importantly, to grasp its deeper significance so as to be free of the mind's hypnotic suggestion that money is the key to a fulfilling life. The hidden price of material wealth is buried deep within the human psyche and rarely exposed in the light of day. Money's base appeal is its anonymity; its faceless identity mirrors everything that the mind can desire to fulfill what it thinks will bring a life of limitless sensual experience. And so it is said that money is the root of all evil, since the temptation of what it promises preys on our human weaknesses, even in the most pious individual. Money is not only a material commodity but symbolizes an invisible force, which provides the means for matter to be shifted about from one corner of the earth to another. The exchange of money creates a psychic pulse which is crucial for the financial speculators to keep the world moving. At a personal level, it's the anticipation of what money can buy which stirs the emotions, and keeps the matter in the body moving. The currency of money fluctuates like human feelings, enabling those in the know to strike when share prices indicate it's time to make a killing. (they also have a 4-7 second advantage in all stock exchanges, as the clock inside the trading halls is set slower to allow their algorithm machines to operate before time.) However, when anything in existence reaches an excessive peak, the balloon bursts and the world dips into financial chaos for a while. (That used to be done by Marduk every seven years, since he pulled the plug there has been no boom for the people this time, only the vulture capitalist harvesters) Growth follows recession; and after a brief period of respite the cycle repeats itself, stoked by the media pundits to keep the people riveted to the latest news. The only thing that never changes is that the 'have-a-lots' keep getting richer and the 'not-a-lots' keep getting poorer. The super-rich are now untouchable, and the super-poor represent an unalterable division that exists as a polarizing effect of human nature. Things can never change in terms of the distribution of wealth, because this would undermine the very foundation on which the world was created. (I disagree if we all applied the foundations on which the TPC operates, need not greed, caring and sharing, cooperative not comparative or competitive) A way of life without money is almost unimaginable in these times. And yet once, before human beings became totally fixated on the objective sensory world, and retained some connection with their own divine being, the concept of money had yet to manifest in existence. Barter for staple commodities was commonly practiced as a tangible exchange of goods visible to all. With the invention of money the sly, underhand and duplicitous nature of human beings entered the psychic stream of the world. (That is where most people go wrong, because the top echelon are not largely human only have the appearance of being such, our series FRWL reveals that once grasped) The hard currency of money now paved the way for humanity to extend out towards establishing its own vision of a world order, created specifically in accordance with the diabolical self-driven entity of the underworld. However, life always provides a way to offset and harmonize the negative effects of the world. Although the currency of money is the predominant force in matter, the manner in which it's earned or received has a significant effect on the way that circumstances thereafter unfold. As an extreme example, a drug dealer who makes a stash of money from the degradation of his fellow man and woman can never enjoy his life, despite all the trappings of an affluent lifestyle. The unseen element of his wealth will externalize as periodic uncertainty, together with the fear and mistrust of those closest to him. The billionaire who appears detached and gracious in his hospitality, disguises his fear of losing the material possessions which surround him. Within each man and woman there is a uniquely creative potential; but most are reluctant to pursue what they truly love, and settle instead for the reward of financial security. (Which is why I want people to create jobs and businesses for which they wish to work in, not forced to work to keep food on the table and a roof over their head) The unconscious effect is to strengthen the attachment to the world and magnify the fear of death, as the last formal link to the quantifiable, speculative world. Money is the adhesive fluid that attaches humanity to the fabric of existence. It's only through understanding its effect that money can take its rightful place as a commodity to pay one's way in the world. It's easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven, the famous saying which only means that the rich man has more to lose by going on. Eventually we must all go on. When the time comes to depart this world, the idea is to have nothing left to attend to, with the balance for the privilege of living on this glorious earth to have been paid in full. (Yes because the only thing you take with you into the next life is karma and soul development, the question for us all is, which those categories will be higher)

This is a piece done by one of our members that brings up interesting numbers again, and is related to the Hebrew secret code language of Gematria. On a recent show, Thomas mentioned Gematria and then while he was doing the expose on Moderna, he mentioned that the techno-jab was called mRNA 1273. That lit up my brain for some reason, so, I did some sleuthing. The clowns are seeding their pro-pagan-da with 1273 for a while now. Here are some examples: South Africa 1273 new cases, India 1 million people vaccinated through 1273 centers, Polk Country listed 1273 totals deaths, Utah an increase in 1273 new cases, Johannesburg Health Department reported 1,273 new COVID-19 infections in the last 24 hours, so you get the picture. As Thomas says, if it makes no sense, then it has to be a program. I searched for historical events on 1273 but not much is to be found. Next I thought about Gematria. Here is a list of phrases that equate to 1273 in Hebrew Gematria. This is not the complete list, but the most interesting to me. These are listed in order of popularity. 1273 = Vaccines Are Coming Fast, You Are The Appointed One, World Order, John Kerry, The Numerical Fabric Of Reality, Natural Adrenal Stimulants, Interstellar Transmissions, Child Molester No Heaven, Rapture Of The Holy Bride, Big White Horse, The Zero Hour Has Come, Earth Virus, Atrocious Morality, Cell Towers, There Is Your Proof, Pursued By Satan, I'm Very Ill, Snakish Women, Update Your Minds, Dawn Of The Beginning, The Dream Of Life On Planet Earth As A Human Being, You Are Energy, Out Of The Blue A Rapture, Daman Six Six Six, No Rapture For Satanists, We Are The Godheads, Heart Virus, And I Will Be Their God, Full Body Manifestations, Dreams Of The Eye Of Horus, Proud About Being Stupid, Let It End Now, Saturn's Matrix Codes, Open Prisons To Those Bound, Fire Proceeds From Mouth Of Thoth, Your Soul Is Mine, The Clock Has Been Activated, Reconnect The Cord To The Akashic Records, Homo Erectus Is The Antichrist, Human Bodies Harbour Alien Hosts Here is MRNA: mrna = 151, same as Decoder, Gods, The Bible, TANK, Code Red, Ganesh, Dogon, Ammon, Chains, Adrenal, Reach Eden, Gforce, I Am A Liar, Face Shield, Defied Death, Hell In A Cell, Dna Data, Real Dna And here is the trustee's name: kimberley = 561, same as Hidden Info Pattern, Holiest Human, High Priestess, Mother Of Satan, The Goddess Isis, Queen Tiamat, Saturnian, Southgate, Perfection Of Genes, Born To Pleiadians, The Peoples General, Human Robot, Inner Technologies, Infernal Soul. Lastly, I found some interesting numbered relations. There is a very popular universal constant if you look around various sciences. In pyramid science, the ratio of the height of a pyramid to its base, divided by 2 is 1.273. The ratio of the size of the Earth to the size of the Earth + Moon is 1.273. If you take $4/\pi = 1.273$ and if you read Miles Mathis, he can prove mathematically that π for an object in motion is exactly 4. In geometry, the ratio of a square to the largest circle that fits in that square is 1.273. And finally, if you take thermodynamics, the lowest theoretically temperature (the assumed temperature for a dead universe) is -273 degrees C. If you rotate the - sign you get a 1 ... 1273. Interesting stuff and certain gives some pointers to the perhaps hidden meanings. Whether this is accurate or not remains to be seen, and could be like astrology and be slightly flawed. But clearly the clowns, their Masonic brotherhoods, Mormons and many other el-ites appear to apply and use this method to deceive people, the problem for them now is, many people are decoding their symbols, languages, codes and hand signs.

This is part of an article by Ralph Ellis that will have interest and I will be adding important insight and background knowledge to it. Have King Solomon's Mines really been discovered? Yes, indeed, in fact, they have been known about for centuries, and modern archaeological work on them started way back in the early 19th century. But the site's true significance has never been realized before, and so their role in biblical and popular history has never been fully understood. (T: Because it is all based on a lie is why.) And that lacuna in our understanding has stemmed from one fundamental problem, we still do not know who King David and King Solomon really were, nor where their capital city was. (T: The fact they are called mines, suggests they used slaves to dig for them, which is reminiscent of the Annunaki story, perhaps Solomon and David were one of them?) And so before we can find the legendary gold mines of these famous monarchs, we need to find their true identity.

Mystery Men: King David and King Solomon How can this be, readers may well ask, how can the identities of King David and King Solomon be unknown? Well, one of the primary problems for Judaeo-Christian theologians is the disturbing reality that the most celebrated kings of Judaic history, cannot be found in the historical record. (T: Oops just like the country of Israel then, seeing the pattern yet?) While that may sound unlikely, recent archaeology in this region by professors Israel Finkelstein and Neil Silberman has demonstrated that Judaea was very sparsely populated during the United Monarchy era, while Jerusalem itself was little more than a village. So the central problem that bedevils all historical research into the United Monarchy is obvious, the Tanakh (the Old Testament) describes an influential nation and a wealthy society that simply could not have existed in this early era. Kings David and Solomon were supposed to have been the most influential and wealthiest monarchs in the entire region, who had subordinate monarchs paying them tribute in gold and spices, and yet the archaeologists says this is impossible. So how did the Jewish people manage to mislay the region's most famous monarchs? (T: It's simple in my opinion, they are rewriting history in their image, just like the bible is their story, not ours.) The only conclusion that archaeologists can logically come to, is that the Tanakh is a complete fiction and kings David and Solomon did not exist. (T: Just like in the real region of Israel and their el-ites Egypt, Professor Hawass keeps a tight rein on archeological discovery and finds, and will not allow opinion outside of the Egypt/Jewish narrative. If Solomon didn't exist where does the name come from, is it sol omon or sol amon, which means Ra the solar god)

Controversial Problem: The cultural and religious solution to this controversial problem is to tiptoe around these troublesome archaeological findings, and pretend that they do not exist. (T: or they just declare archeologists conspiracy theorists and ban them from the sites, ain't that right Mr. Hawass?) However, a logical alternative is that we are either looking in the wrong era or the wrong location for the United Monarchy, and so the solution to this perennial problem actually lies in Egypt. And while this may sound like a bizarre suggestion, it does actually make a great deal of sense. (T: The author would benefit greatly by reading the FRWL series and it makes a whole heap of sense, there was no Israel, it is the fake Chimeric gods of Egypt.) The Ethiopian Gold Mine that may have supplied the Queen of Sheba with her riches. (T: Because that is the land of the Kush and site of the 4th Garden of Eden is why. The Kush is basically everything south of Egypt, the Kushites all followed Amun Ra. The Kushite imperial capital was located at Meroë, which is in Sudan, during which time it was known by the Greeks as Aethiopia, hence the country known as Ethiopia now, and former site of the Ark of the Covenant. But where did these Kush people come from? perhaps it goes back to FRWL again, as they originated in the Hindu Kush Mountains, from where a particularly potent strain of pot derives. Hindu Kush is generally translated as Killer of Hindu or Hindu-Killer.)

The Legendary Queen of Sheba and Her Iconic Visit with King Solomon. Does newly-translated Hebrew text reveal insights into King Solomon's treasures? Josephus Flavius, the first century Jewish historian, (T: who came from Royal lineage it is said,) said that the ancient Israelites were the Hyksos pharaohs of Egypt, a story that I cover in some detail in my book Tempest & Exodus. So, originally the Israelites were an almost fully Egyptianized people, which is why they were joined on the Exodus by Apis-bull worshippers. (T: they are not Egyptianized, they are Egyptian natives, like Moses which is a title as in Tutmoses, they all came from Egypt.) But what if some of these Hyksos-Israelite refugees did not go all the way to Jerusalem, or came back to Egypt in later generations? They would then be almost indistinguishable from the Egyptian 21st dynasty, which was likewise founded by immigrants. (T: The Apis bull worship is dedicated initially to the son of Hathor, Hathor was a consort of Horus and Ra, said to beguile all men and make them fall in love with her, a latter day CIA honeypot then. Initially, Apis was assigned a significant role in her worship, being sacrificed and reborn, they do love their sacrifices don't they. Later, Apis also served as an intermediary between humans and other powerful deities, originally Ptah, later Osiris, then Atum. The Ptah where from the Enki and Ra lines, and also Thoth, known as the bird tribe or the winged Drac, and so the Royal Draco line, the royal Draco have wings in one of their forms. The bird tribe is why so many hieroglyphs contain lots of images or symbols of birds. The original Alex Collier spoke of the Ptah a lot, and he favored their group, I am not sure they are to be favored to my understanding, the lesser of two evils is still evil. Perhaps the Apis bull is the origin of the Papal bull? or perhaps the great book was written for and by these people, called the buy bull, because that book does tell their story, not ours. Thoth was part of the Niburans from the Pleiades, was also linked to Rigel in Orion. Interesting word Pleiadies, as the first four letters Plei in Greek means to sail, Egyptian hieroglyphs are filled with boats that are perceived to sail the worlds oceans, but boats are also called ships that sail the Universe oceans, called space, as above, so below. But Thoth also known as a Nubian, which just happens to be the same region as the Kushites. Perhaps a pointer to who they are is in the description of a Nubian? A Nubian is a member of one of the group of dark-skinned peoples that formed a powerful empire between Egypt and Ethiopia from the 6th to the 14th centuries.) He has blue black blood. What's the meaning of the phrase Blue blood? The blood that which flows in the veins of old and aristocratic families. What's the origin of the phrase 'Blue blood'? Blue blood is a literal translation of the Spanish sangre azul. (T: Sangre azul hence the royal aspects here are known as Blue bloods, compared to Sangreal) This was the designation attributed to some of the oldest and proudest families of Castile, who claimed never to have intermarried with Moors, Jews, or other races. Moors and the Jews are one and the same, these people connected to the Jews are by the fake religion only, created by these fake gods known as the Annunaki, better known as Pharaohs, which means House, the House of the fake gods.) The expression probably originated in the blueness of the veins of people of fair complexion as compared with those of dark skin. That was certainly the understanding in the 19th century, and there seems little reason to doubt it. In 1834 the Anglo-Irish children's writer Maria Edgeworth published a novel entitled Helen, which reiterates that opinion: Someone from Spain, of high rank and birth, of the sangre azul, the blue blood. (T: What she was describing was the Sephardic, who were the Conquistadors during the rape of the Americas.) These days there are fewer people of noble birth who make a point of maintaining a fair complexion in order to display their rank. We are more likely to see apparent blue blood in the extremities of those suffering from the poor circulation condition called Raynaud's. (T: Blue or black blood was the reason the original name for Egypt was Khem, which means from the blackness, the term alCHEMy, now spelt chem, therefore means the science of making black holes. It was said that the Thoth - Hermes family who impregnated Aksenpaten, which later became the Tut/Magdalen story and the Black Madonna, which is the dark mother and the Kali Ma.) Alex Collier said this, the Coming from the planet Khoom in the binary Sirius star system. From Khoom perhaps came Khem, his people were descendents of non-physical beings who inhabited hyperspace, a region of consciousness existing outside of linear time and space. They created the ancient Egyptian civilization as well as the Jewish people and gave them the Torah. (T: oh my, the Sirians created Egypt, Jewish people and gave them the Torah, hence the black stone and cube came from there. Perhaps that was the current version of Collier, because if he is as connected to the space people, he would have known that Sirius is a trinary system, not binary. You may also notice the propensity of these beings to use many words that is not common form of our language, by the use of the letter K followed by an H, Khan, Khoom, Khem, Akhenaton, Khufu, Tutankhamen, Khafre and many others.) Back to the article it is said that the Third Intermediate Period of the 21st and 22nd dynasties is said to have been ruled by Meshwesh immigrants from Libya. And yet these immigrant Meshwesh were remarkably Egyptianized in both culture and religion, almost as if they had previously been exiled from Egypt. And so the possibility exists that there has been a slight confusion here. (T: The Meshwesh and the Israelites are the same people, indeed they are, but here is a key point that we made in FRWL coming up.) They were both previous exiles from Egypt, and they did not establish their primary capital city at Zion (Jerusalem), but instead they built it at Zoan (Tanis) in the Nile Delta. (T: Yet again the slight name or letter change alters the whole picture, like we have said all along, these people have got nothing to do with Jerusalem. Some of the exiled went to Zoan and some went east then North to Amman, in modern day Jordan, Amman, Ammon, Amun and Ra again. Perhaps there is further clues as to who these people are or were?) During the late Third Intermediate Period, the Nile Delta hosted the four great chiefdoms of the Meshwesh, each ruled by a Great Chief of the Ma. (T: the Great Chief of the Mother, yes the Dark mother, which was represented by Lilith, who is worshipped by the modern day Jews, because she was the fallen Eve of their peoples, not ours. Lilith the moon goddess, half woman, half serpent and connected to the current moon, which is or in part was, a Draco planetoid.)

Biblical Kings and Historical Pharaohs: But if the Israelites were the Meshwesh, then the biblical history of the United Monarchy should be directly comparable to the equivalent history of the 21st and 22nd dynasties of Egypt, whose pharaohs ruled at the same time as the biblical kings. This has been deemed impossible and unthinkable, which is why it has been dismissed out of hand and never investigated. However, since I don't mind going out on a limb, I compared these 'two' royal dynasties, and was surprised to find a great number of similarities between them. For instance, the following table compares the pharaohs of the twenty-first dynasty with the equivalent ancestors of King David: The Biblical leaders and Historical Pharaohs, both of these names were running simultaneously on the same time scale. Ezron or Hezron was known as Ramesses Ram also known as Ramesses Amminadab also known as Amen- Nesbanebdjed (Smendes) Nahshon also known as Nemneshu or Amenem - neshu Salmon also known as Siamun, which looks like the biblical name of Simon Boaz also known as Bas-Uasorkon, Uasorkon I was the son of King Solomon. Obed also known as Amenem-Opet David also known as Psusennes II

(T: A lot of the Pharaohs names ends in Hotep, which can mean be in peace, but perhaps more significantly it means as sacrifice to the named fake god or Pharaoh.) This suggests that Psusennes was both king at Tanis, (T: which is Zoan not Zion), and the High Priest in Thebes at the same time, meaning he did not resign his office as High Priest of Amun during his reign. (T: Zoan means migration as spelt tsan, which if you add an I and reverse the s and t, it become istan, just like a lot of the countries from India to Egypt. Zoan was the capital of the Hyksos rulers, or shepherd kings, in whose time Jacob came into Egypt, and their monuments have been found at the site, which favors the conclusion that its plain was that land of Rameses. A black granite sphinx is also in Zoan, another Sirius stone like the Mecca Cube perhaps? It also bears the name of Khian, supposed to have been an early Hyksos ruler, remove the I and you have Khan. The Hyksos type, are said to have broad cheek bones and a prominent nose, unlike the features of the native Egyptians. In fact the word Kyksos means, the rulers of foreign lands, sounds just like the sub gray race to me. Zoan is recorded to have worshipped no Egyptian gods, but only Set (or Sutekh), who was also adored by Syrian Mongols, who were also known as the Hittites. Syrian Mongols? oh my, the Khanites from Mongolia, proves another line in FRWL. At Bubastis this deity is called Set of Rameses, which may indicate the identity of Zoan with the city Rameses. So, Ramesses is not a name of a Pharaoh, but another title or place name. It is said the Zoan's came from Assyria which is the 2nd or 3rd garden of Eden region. They were also said to be connected to another Mongolic tribe called the Minyans. The Argonauts were said to be connected to the Minyans, because Jason's mother came from that line. Funny word that Argonauts, similar to astronauts, nauts means to sail or sailor, just like the beginning of the Pleiades, perhaps Jason's sailing ship was not on the Earth based ocean, but the ocean of the sky? For further clues the term Argo brings up interesting meanings, Argo, a southern constellation which is part of Canis Major. But there is another meaning for Argo, that is pronounced the same but with an added t on the end, and it means, a specialized vocabulary peculiar to a particular group of people, devised for private communication and identification: called thieves argot. So the pirate of the sky ocean came to the sea ocean and went thieving or pirating on the land)

This list clearly demonstrates In Year 17 of the 21st Dynasty king Siamun from Karnak Priestly Annals fragment 3B, while a second use of the title Pharaoh and birth name occurs during Psusennes II's reign, where a hieratic graffito in the Ptah chapel of the Abydos temple of Seti I, explicitly refers to Psusennes II as the "High Priest of Amen-Re, King of the Gods, the Leader, Pharaoh Psusennes. That there are some equivalent-sounding names in both the historical record of Egypt and the biblical chronology of the United Monarchy, indeed the two royal lines appear to mimic each other remarkably well. But then we hit a problem, because the pharaonic king-list ends up with a pharaoh called Psusennes, whereas the biblical chronology results in King David. However, while these names may look very different, there are close similarities between these 'two' monarchs. For instance, King David is known even to this day for his 'Star of David' and 'City of David'. And as it happens, Psusennes was called Pa-seba-kha-en-nuit, which means 'My Star Rises Over (my) City'. (T: Except the word nuit does not mean city, it is a variation of Nut the Egyptian sky goddess. Often depicted naked over her brother who was also her husband Geb. Between them they spawned Osiris, Horus, Isis, Set and Nephthys. Anyone else noticing that religiosity can bend all the rules and what is considered normal? Man or woman goes into church or elsewhere and says Jesus came to me last night and spoke to me, and everyone nods or agrees, yet if man or woman is in any location and says something non human came to me last night and spoke to me, or a person says I can hear voices in my head, that is not Jesus, and everyone thinks they are nuts. It is strange how religion over steps all of those social norms, like rocking back and forth and kissing a wall, defies belief really.) In which case, both Pharaoh Psusennes and King David were closely associated with a star and a city. (T: Except the word city did not start until the 1200's, see what I mean it breaks all rules, including time it seems) What is the significance of a city gate in the Bible? Besides being part of a city's protection against invaders, city gates were places of central activity in biblical times. It was at the city gates that important business transactions were made, court was convened, and public announcements were heralded. Accordingly, it is natural that the Bible frequently speaks of sitting in the gate or of the activities that took place at the gate. The first mention of a city gate is found in Genesis 19:1. It was at the gate of Sodom that Abraham's nephew, Lot, greeted the angelic visitors to his city. In the Law of Moses, parents of a rebellious son were told to bring him to the city gate, where the elders would examine the evidence and pass judgment (Deuteronomy 21:18-21). This affirms that the city gate was central to community action. To control the gates of one's enemies was to conquer their city. Part of Abraham's blessing from the Lord was the promise that "your offspring shall possess the gate of his enemies" (Genesis 22:17). (T: The gate was for passing judgement, central to the community, control over gate was essential, business transactions took place, public Announcements and at the gate greeted the angelic visitors. So given there was no word for city back then, My star rises over my city is a wrong translation, sounds like to me the real translation is my star rises over my gate, which means they speak of the star gates, where they greeted angelic visitors, oh my. Sitting IN the gate was a key line to that.) In the book I go on to show that Psusennes was also called Duad, the biblical King Duad (King David in English). Daud is a male Arabic given name and surname corresponding to David. Dawood (c. 1043 BC - 937 BC?), The king David of Palestine in Islam, considered to be a Prophet and Messenger of Allah. In which case, there are many similarities between the United Monarchy and the 21st dynasty. (T: So David is a messenger of Allah and the hated Islam spoken against by those of the Jewish faith, but as you can see now it is one and the same script. Both of your religions are based upon fake Egyptians and an off world race of parasitic entities. IS is ISIS, RA the fake solar god, and EL means god, although there is also another fake Egyptian god known as El. Islam practised by the Muslim is another fake worship of the hidden goddess Isis, Islam means the hidden Isis.) But if these truly were the same royal dynasty, then everything between them should be the same, and strangely enough that is more or less what we find. Surprising as it may seem, King David had a daughter who was called Maakhah Tamar rmt hkem, while Pharaoh Psusennes had a daughter who was known as Maakhare Mu-Tamhat. The only appreciable difference between the names of these two royal princesses, is that the Judaeen lady has dropped the 'Mu' from her second name or title. But these similarities do not end with a king and his daughter, they extend much further, so as we look deeper into the history of Pharaoh Psusennes, even more connections can be seen. First is the Biblical name, second the Egyptian name and third the rank or position. Maakhah Tamar, Maakhare Mu Tamhat, a daughter of the king Joab, Un-Joab-Enfjed, an army commander of the king. Hiram Abif, Herum Atif, a chief architect of the king. Contrary to popular perceptions, we see here conclusive links and similarities, between the supposedly distinct and separate monarchies of Egypt and Israel during the 10th century BC. (T: Except unbeknown to the author there was no Israel, the House of yes, but never a country until the dark forces and magicians installed it in 1948.) The author says do remember that these two monarchies existed at exactly the same time, as the Tanakh itself makes perfectly clear. If the truth were known and its implications understood, the Israelite United Monarchy and the Egyptian 21st dynasty were one and the same. The story of the Tanakh is, in fact, the history of the new Lower Egyptian Pharaonic line. This discovery is interesting on so many levels, but one thing it can do is point us towards the true location of King Solomon's mines. Now we know that King Solomon was a member of the 21st or 22nd dynasties, then these famous mines must have belonged to the Tanis pharaohs. So where were the gold mines of the Tanis pharaohs? Actually, rather than being in Ethiopia or Southern Africa, they were located in Upper Egypt, and we shall discover their surprising location in Part II of this article. What the author goes on to suggest is, that Solomon Mines was actually the Valley of the Kings, where vast treasures were contained within. Pharaoh Uasorkon I, the son of King Solomon, compiled an inventory of the treasures that had been presented to the various temples in Egypt. The listed items comprise 20,500 deben (two tonnes) of gold, and 72,800 deben (seven tonnes) of silver, while the larger donations or grand totals suggest another 200 tonnes of silver and 230 tonnes of gold and silver were in the temple inventories. (T: All of which was stolen by the Greek and Roman armies that connected to the Roman church, that later became The Vatican. Now you know why The Vatican won't open its archives and has sealed treasure bunkers with armed Swiss guards, Swiss means twin sisters, as in Isis, are you connecting the dots now? The Greek/Roman smash and grab was largely involved around Alexandre the Great, now Egypt has a city named after him, Julius Caesar, Mark Anthony and Cleopatra, an enigmatic figure that had all the hallmarks of the return of Hathor to me. Cleopatra was part of the Ptolemaic, one wonders if Ptol is actually Ptal that we mentioned earlier. There is a stone tablet called the cartouches of Cleopatra and Caesarion on a limestone stele of the High Priest of Ptah in Egypt, dated to the Ptolemaic period, perhaps that reveals it? But there is one curious thing not revealed about her, as it is said that Cleopatra could speak multiple languages by adulthood and was the first Ptolemaic ruler to learn the Egyptian language. Plutarch implies that she also spoke Ethiopian, the language of the Troglodytes, Troglodytes were known as cave dwellers, anyone ask why a royal queen would speak to cave dwellers? perhaps because they were often described as Human looking Reptilian, oops. She also spoke Hebrew (or Aramaic), Arabic, the Syrian language (perhaps Syriac), Median, and Parthian, and she could apparently also speak Latin, although her Roman contemporaries would have preferred to speak with her in her native Koine Greek. Anyone else think that is kind of odd, it is difficult enough to learn one or two languages now with the internet, and yet she learned all those languages even though books were kind of limited at the time. One has to wonder if she was chipped. All very reminiscent of the Stargate series, the Goa'uld were the fake gods and fake Egyptians, they were the Hebrew Annunaki. In the Aladdin series The return of the Jafar, the Jafar where the genies or the djinns, the dark magicians. The Goa'uld are a race of sentient parasitic beings that take over hosts. For further proof the main warriors that protected the Goa'uld fake gods in Egypt, were called the Jaffa, pronounced in the show as Ja-far, but there was a place in the same region that has undergone the atypical name change that is synonymous to these entities, because Tel Aviv was known previously as Jaffa.

There was a mention earlier of Seti which is Set, NASA pay homage to him with the acronym SETI, search for extra terrestrial intelligence. Set or Sutekh or in Greek known as Seth, of course there is another fake Seth and all the channeled books by Seth, which was voice to head technology, channeling was largely done by the Greys. Set is said to be a god of deserts, storms, disorder, violence, and foreigners in ancient Egyptian religion. Go back to 1991 and 2002 and get SET for Operation Desert Storm makes more sense now. God of the deserts? is perhaps suggestive that he was the user of the Fash weapons which created the deserts here, we had no deserts prior to that weapon being used here. Set is the son of Geb, the Earth, and Nut, the Sky; his siblings are Osiris, Isis, and Nephthys. Set like Thoth was Avian, and he killed his sibling Osiris, which is a common theme amongst the biblical scripts, and also among the el-ites here, like Cain and Abel it is all the same story of power. He married Nephthys and fathered Anubis and in some accounts, he had relationships with the foreign goddesses Anat and Astarte. From these relationships it is said there was born a crocodile deity called Maga. Those are the same entities that worked alongside the Abraxans in Jupiter Ascending. But what is Maga? Maga in Latin: Magic, Magical, Witch, in Italian: Sorceress or Witch, in Spanish: Magician or Wizard or Illusionist, in Polish: Magician, in Sanskrit: Magician or Priest of the sun. Set was an ally of Ra, who gave himself the title of the Solar god or being, hence the Priest of the Sun. There are also interpretations of the name of Cyrus identifying with or referring to, the Persian word for Sun. Again a reference to Ra and the solar god, with his ally Set, which is why we refer to the sun set-ting, and they also pay homage to Set in the game of Tennis, where love equals zero. But, remember our show titled have the gods returned? we referenced Macron and a guy named Trump, labeled as Cyrus which the Jews did a coin representing and honoring Trump as that god. Cyrus was the winged god of Syria, perhaps the term maga now has a whole new meaning? Make America Great Again, or crocodile worship related to the god Set and ultimately Ra. Here's Trump's own Tweet, Last year was the best year for American Manufacturing job growth since 1997, or 21 years. The previous administration said manufacturing will not come back to the U.S., you would need a magic wand. I guess I found the magic wand and it is only getting better! there are several quotes of him referencing magic. Trump of course was connected to the Trustee for a while, is there other connections between Trump, Cyrus and the Trustee? Try this Cyrus Bortel, from the animated TV series called Kim Possible. Bortel in Indonesian means rather amusingly, a carrot. Given there was a member of Kim's alleged security team who has had a film made in his name, one does wonder these days if that applies here as well. The Security team here were to handle Kim not protect her. Dr. Cyrus Bortel is a brilliant but eccentric scientist, who has a talent for producing mind-altering technology. Some of his inventions have been called ferociously unethical, and not surprisingly, this has made his work the target of Dr. Drakken more than once. Although a gifted scientist, Dr. Cyrus Bortel's focus on his work was such that he habitually ignored ethical guidelines, and common sense to a certain extent. Ironically Kim's handler boyfriend was a gifted scientist also. Upon completing his Moodulators, for example, his main concern was which government agency he would auction them off to, and not for increasing his security, despite his last invention having been stolen upon completion. Again that echoes the handler boyfriend of Kim. Dr. Cyrus Bortel first requested Team Possible's help when Dr. Drakken and Shego stole his Neuro-compliance chips. Drakken used the chips on Shego and Kim Possible to obtain their total obedience, but Jim and Tim Possible used their handheld silicon phase disruptor to override the chips. Does art imitate life one has to wonder and ask, because there is eerie similarities in this narrative. Dr. Bortel was again targeted by Drakken during Kim's Junior year. Drakken is another word for Draco. Drakken attempted to steal Bortel's Electron Magneto Accelerator, but Team Possible intervened. During the battle, Bortel's Moodulators landed on Kim and Shego, and Ron Stoppable accidentally dropped the Kimmunicator and picked up the Moodulator controller instead, though the oversights were not noticed at the time. Ron inadvertently activated the Moodulators, which caused Kim and Shego to react according to the controller's settings, which included sadness, anger, and love. Once Drakken discovered this, he attempted to take advantage of Kim's Moodulator and set them on anger, but ended up overloading it, now one goes beyond wondering with that line. Shego's Moodulator was presumably removed later, though when last seen it was still set on anger as she chased Drakken. Whether this is indicative of Kim or not it does bear pondering over, as the Kim we all knew is a far cry from the current version. It is said Kim had installed an AI brain interface chip in her head when she was a child, this is supported by Langley 2 agent Anna Von Reitz testimony, and also the result of some people being able to "see". It cannot be removed without destroying the host. Another trick M and his cohorts played on her I would suggest, taking the piss and a back up plan she should succeed in deleting him, the controlling chip can only be removed or dealt with by the host. To do that, the host has to go within, something she has failed to do throughout my time with her, although I tried many times, and so subsequently the host suffering badly continues at a pace. Like I was told by higher ups in May of last year, this is Kim's mess to fix and I shouldn't play the rescuer again, like I had done on at least 2-3 occasions for her, this time it is all down to her. She can be the Queen of the Nile, the Queen of denial or a light for the people, it's her choice now.
