

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2021-07-22

Just when you have thought you have connected many of the dots, tonight's show will bring much more connections, ponderings, realizations and confirms of the previous information. Two must listen to shows are close to being released that will add more knowledge and understanding of the bigger picture. Update on the TPC promotional video we have 5 spots out of 20 filled so far and 15 or more spots left to be filled. That increased to 8 or 9 this week and looking for more people to come forward, some who have been helped by the TPC perhaps can do a 30 second to one minute speech to be added to the video, or write in 2 paragraphs your story and we can do a graphic of it in the video. Gardening/Non GMO food - Rebecca McCarthy. Law - Roger Isaacs. Sharing and caring - John Pitkin. Decision Making - Amy Bruno. Eco Villages (discussed that Jen Bell could do) TPC media company - J.Healy The ones not covered are Grant writing and fundraising, Personal/Self help, Activism, Personal Finances, How members have been helped by the TPC, TPC Village. Community and coming together, Kicking addictions – legal and illegal drugs, alcohol Need not greed, Co-operative not competitive or co-operative business model discussing the sociological and other aspects of this. How members are contributing to the TPC – 1 dollar a month idea, Solar Power, teaching – teaching why and not just how. Segments on Cooperative Businesses in development -- some specific are underway 5 basics in life for everyone; food, clean water, shelter, power (electricity) and clothing. If you feel you can contribute to one of those topics or would like to discuss another topic, please step forward to the TPC video communal gathering group on our thinkdifferent.thepeoplesclub.org website. Keep it going Australia, Greece, Ireland, Cuba, France and S. Africa with their freedom marches, please march to your nearest media channel building and circle clockwise around it in silence. The French set a Rothschild's bank on fire, and whilst I can understand that and find it amusing, we must not resort to that level of activism. Kids have made a twitter go viral about the techno jabs, #clotshot due to the amount of clots caused by the jab. A major ice hockey player Niall McEvoy quit the Irish national team. Said this is directly attributed to the recent bill passed in the Irish government on Wednesday night/Thursday morning, I have attached the PDF, should you be inclined to browse it. Ireland is now, officially, a Medical apartheid/Fascist State in line with the wider global control grid. The group of people acting as the Irish Government has been allowed, by our citizens, Gardaí and the Irish defence forces to erode our rights given to us under the Irish constitution, the UN declaration of human rights and have broken the Nuremberg code. Our inalienable rights have also been eroded over the past 16 months, which are given to us by God, not government. (which is still recognized as the highest authority whether you believe in God or not) One member of our group expressed frustration with people not waking up and railed at some so called awake as well. I get where he and many others are frustrated at peoples inability to face the truth, I said it was too late in November 2017 for them. But it is not your remit to convince people, that is where so many go wrong and where they get all frustrated as others will not agree with them. Your role is to plant the information, only they can grow the seed of the information themselves, the lesson is to observe not absorb, only when your target audience ask you the questions, can you provide them with more answers. The issue in the awakened section of our community is, they have levels or barriers to the truth of what they wish to hear, not what they want to hear, this is where THI is different to all other groups. We will cover the hard stories, the painful news, the heinous crimes in incremental levels, so the listener has a chance to process, heal and accept that truth reality. We at THI heightened the truth barriers when our members were ready for it. Most alt media followers are not ready for the full truth, hence they chase savior programs.

NEWS: Microsoft on July 15 said that it believes an Israeli company was behind malware that was used to attack PCs running in Windows operating system. The move represents Microsoft's new effort to reduce internet security issues. The company has also sought to identify government-backed hackers, such as the Chinese group it calls Hafnium, which it claims was behind attacks on its Exchange Server email software. According to a blog post, Microsoft said that Sourgum sells products to government agencies, which can then kick off hacks on various devices. The malware, dubbed Devils Tongue, has been used to attack over 100 victims, including activists, politicians, journalists and embassy workers. The firm added that instead of going after large companies, attackers have mainly used Devils Tongue to infiltrate consumer accounts. Another company called Candiru also operating out of Israel runs these types of attacks as well. Why are these companies allowed to exist to begin with? common sense question is, are they not a National Security Issue to every country, and why haven't they been stopped?

A man has been killed during a second night of protests over severe water shortages in south-west Iran, state media reports. An official in Khuzestan province said the protester was accidentally hit by people who were firing in the air, according to state news agency IRNA. Opposition sources accused the security forces of causing the death. Iran is facing a severe drought, and there is growing public anger over water and power shortages. We all know who is involved in that deliberate act, they did it to the Jordanians as well.

The US government is investigating a series of health incidents in the Austrian capital Vienna involving its diplomats and other administration staff. More than 20 officials have reported symptoms similar to Havana Syndrome, a mystery brain illness since President Joe Biden took office in January, maybe Biden's senility is infectious? The syndrome is unexplained, but US scientists say it is most probably caused by directed microwave radiation. It was first found in Cuba in 2016-17. US and Canadian diplomats in Havana complained of symptoms ranging from dizziness, loss of balance, hearing loss and anxiety to something they described as cognitive fog. US diplomats are in a cognitive fog anyway, none have a clue. The US accused Cuba of carrying out sonic attacks, which it strongly denied, and the incident led to increased tension between the two nations. Like the sonic attacks in Haiti and many other regions around the world, most at a depth of 10km, how can that happen in so many cases unless it is a program. Now others have decided to return fire, and the child like way the US Military is ran, they now cry foul. Do unto yourself as you would do unto others springs to mind. But the greatest reveal about this is, they revealed these secret weapons exist, oops.

In 2020, Blackwater founder Erik Prince pitched plans to hire Ukrainian combat veterans, and buy into the country's military-industrial complex in order to create a $10 billion private army, according to a new Time investigation. The former Navy SEAL created a roadmap detailing his goals to acquire factories in Ukraine, that make engines for fighter jets and helicopters as well as build munitions factories in the country, and combine Ukraine's top aerospace and aviation firms in order to compete with Boeing and Airbus, the outlet reported. Prince's full plan, obtained by Time, dates back to June 2020, and is one of his most ambitious ventures in a long career of pursuing and creating controversial defense infrastructure. Documents obtained by the outlet reveal Prince's coveted venture would have given him, a pivotal role in Ukraine's military industry amid it's continuous conflict with neighboring Russia. Several of the proposals required approval from the Ukrainian government, including one that would create a new private military company staffed by veterans of the ongoing conflict in eastern Ukraine. But the businessman's Ukraine-centric efforts stalled after former President Donald Trump left office, as the Ukrainian government began stimulating more competition for Prince's desired assets. Had it been another four years of Trump, Erik would probably be closing the deal, Igor Novikov, a former top adviser to Ukraine's president said. Even before Trump's departure, Ukrainian officials reportedly had reservations about working with Prince because of his connection to people tied to Russia. Two other Prince associates are now under investigation in New York. The inquiry is said to be focused on whether the men were involved in a possible Russian plot to affect the 2020 presidential election, according to The New York Times. We had to wonder: Is this the best sort of partnership we can get from the Americans? This group of shady characters working for a close ally of Trump? Novikov said, it felt like the worst America had to offer. The former aide said concerns among Ukrainians heightened even more so, after one of Prince's associates drafted a participation offer that Novikov believed was a bribe. Prince has dealt with controversy in the past. After his time as a Navy SEAL, he founded private military company Blackwater, which came under intense scrutiny in 2007 after company employees opened fire on Iraqi civilians in Baghdad, killing 17 in what became known as the Nisour Square Massacre. Prince, who was not on the ground during the incident, resisted claims that Blackwater guards were responsible. A US court found four employees guilty of manslaughter or first-degree murder in 2014. Prince is also the brother of Betsy DeVos, former Secretary of Education under Trump. Blackwater representatives was invited here by the Trustee in 2019, I didn't agree with it then or now.

Prince is or was not loyal to Trump, only himself and who he can bribe or what he can gain. The bizarre thing is countries allow him in to begin with, as any following interactions with Prince always goes sour.

Former Obama administration Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius said Tuesday, that Americans who have not received a corona virus vaccine should not be allowed to work, or have access to children and be limited on where they are allowed to go. Sebelius added, "So I think we're reaching that point in the United States where those of us who are vaccinated, I want to take off my mask. I want to be able to live my life with vaccination, and right now, I'm being impinged on by people who say I don't want to get vaccinated. It's fine, I want them to maybe have a limitation on where they can go and who they can possibly infect. Another person who should be targeted by we the people, the fact this woman is in a high position and the people are paying her to talk shite, should raise eyebrows from all Americans. It is people like her who created this fake pandemic to begin with.

A bill that would allow disposing of dead human bodies by dissolving them in a caustic chemical bath was approved without debate Tuesday by the Wisconsin Senate. The proposal, opposed by Wisconsin's five Catholic bishops, now goes to the state Assembly. Senate Bill 228 expands the definition of cremation to include use of alkaline hydrolysis (AH), a process that uses water, lye, heat and pressure to turn body tissue into a liquid slurry that is disposed in the sewer system. What remains are bones that are pulverized and returned to the family in an urn. The Wisconsin Catholic Conference (WCC) opposes the bill, contending alkaline hydrolysis does not uphold the God-given dignity of the human body. The heart, mind, flesh and bones of a human person are all elements of a unique creation, down to the DNA, which must be honored even after death said Kim Vercauteren, WCC executive director, at a recent public hearing. Our concern is that with alkaline hydrolysis, remains are washed into a wastewater system as though the body created by God never existed. Wastewater does not honor the sacredness of the body, nor does it allow the grieving to honor the dead after disposition. I am pleased that the Catholic group are appearing to campaign against this policy, but one wonders are they doing this because the church is losing lots of money, due to people not using cemeteries anymore. Perhaps the church were cut off from the money making scheme of the Covid deaths?

Disney announced plans Thursday to move 2,000 employees from Southern California to a new campus near Orlando, Florida in an effort to increase collaboration amongst staff and consolidate operations. The company has been planning the move since 2019, and most of the employees relocating are in the parks, experiences, and products division. Florida's business-friendly climate is also behind the move. Seems California is about to close down to me, I wonder where we heard that before?

Utility equipment from Pacific Gas & Electric Co. may have sparked the Dixie fire, which has scorched more than 30,000 acres in Butte and Plumas counties over the past week, according to a report the utility company filed Sunday. P&G are Rothschilds they are creating distraction events as warned.

As the story of the Governor Gretchen Whitmer attempted kidnapping case starts to emerge in a different light. It has been stated that the whole plot, planning and surveillance which was shadowed by undercover FBI agents, except now it is emerging that it was potentially the FBI who staged that event, as a precursor to the January 6th Capitol building event. Is that true? who knows, but like I have said all along, all the world is a stage, filled with failed actors and actresses, who will do anything for money.

MEDIA: A media exchange came up with a THI meme this week, Rachel Maddow cited the Arizona election fraud investigation as a clown show audit, touche Ms. Maddow and glad you are listening, hope you liked our expose of you, ms. born to. Someone needs to audit your clown show for worthwhile content - just saying.

As journalists are facing 14 years in jail and deemed as spies in the UK, if they produce documents that embarrasses the Government, the great question is, if you don't like being embarrassed, perhaps the answer is the truth?

This is a whole article that surprisingly was written in one of the broadsheets in the UK, The Telegraph newspaper and it is refreshingly journalistic, and so will cover it in our show. Britain and America always had a lot dividing us, including our national sports, diet and language. But in the last year one particular difference has asserted itself, our differing national attitudes towards freedom. In the UK, ever since the start of the corona virus, the political class has demanded ever more of our freedoms. Things that would have seemed impossible just a few years ago have become routine. Stay in your house when the Government tells you to? Check. Allow the police to visit at any time of the day or night to see that you are where you say you are? Check. Carry papers to allow you to be permitted certain activities? Check. In Britain all this and more has flowed by, without any significant political opposition. The only line that those opposing the Government have been able to take is, one that tries to outflank ministers for not being strict enough, which is true. Throughout the pandemic, the opposition parties Labor and the SNP have had nothing to say except lockdown longer, quarantine longer, ban flights for longer, and more. By contrast the US, throughout the pandemic, has seen the government challenged not only from the point of view of greater security but also from that of greater freedom. Partly as a result of state laws, the US was able to go through a different experience. Some cities and states shut down severely, others notably Florida tried to stay as open as possible, and people were then able to make their own choices. They could judge for themselves what element of risk they wanted to take in their own lives. Under two different administrations Americans have been able to make decisions for themselves, that would have been unthinkable for most British people. Here we have a one-note discussion with a few notable outliers such as the Tory MP Steve Baker, always favoring greater restrictions and greater caution. And as ever it is hard to know whether the politicians are following the polls or the polls following the politicians. But the polls in the UK keep showing a terrible caution on the part of the British public, we remain strangely in favor of restrictions even after vaccinations, in favor of mask-wearing and much more. Everyone up to and including the Prime Minister seems to be caught up in this ultra-cautious national mood. In the pages of this newspaper not so many years ago, Boris Johnson & Johnson could be found railing against the idea of ID cards. When Tony Blair's government looked at introducing such a thing, Johnson and others on the liberal wing of the Conservative party insisted that it was fundamentally un-British, to allow a situation in which a state apparatchik could demand to see your papers and make you meekly hand them over. But what the Government that Johnson heads is now suggesting is far more intrusive than that. The creation of vaccine certification means that we now face the prospect of having our papers demanded, not just if we dare to think about leaving the country for some reason, but if we just want to go to almost any public gathering. Only by proving that you have had the vaccine or a recent negative test will you be allowed to take part in activities, which we didn't even question as among our rights before 2020. Perhaps our phones and other devices have made us change the way we think about personal data. We live in a world where we have volunteered to have ourselves monitored by private companies and corporations. But still there is something sinister about the speed with which we are rushing into an existence, where the Government can restrict our activities to such an alarming extent. We are walking into a state in which the Government has a permanent mechanism of control of the populace. Where instead of asking Who are you? of anyone in authority we turn instead into supplicants asking, May we? It does not stop there. The Government's track and trace scheme may have been a patchy business, to say the least, but it has still proved capable of causing chaos. Worse, there is every reason to think that the technology will improve and that in time, we will all be able to be pinged on our phone to tell us that we were recently in the vicinity of someone, who hasn't had their vaccine booster shot, and back inside we'll go. What do most of our politicians have to say about this? Again, nothing but attempts to outrun the Government from the ultra-safety side. Sadiq Khan, a Cohen as the Mayor of London, well I never, he for instance, has tried to look super responsible by insisting that even after the rules for mask-wearing are relaxed, masks will be compulsory on public transport in London. Obviously, throughout the pandemic, there have been the rules and there has been what people do. I have seen plenty of people get on the bus with their mask on, and then pull it under their chin as soon as they are in their seat. We have become used to the theatre of masks. But the Mayor of London has ordered Transport for London to enforce mask wearing after July 19, making the prospect of a journey on the London Underground even more unenjoyable. Citizens of the capital not only have to pay the highest fares of any commuters in the world for one of the world's worst services, but must now mask up under threat of the London Transport Police if they do not. What a wonderful way to get the capital moving again. It is inevitable, perhaps, that politicians like Khan want to score some political points, but again what is so strange is that all the points are scored from that side. Putting aside a few MPs on the Tory benches there is no political pressure on us to go the other way. To do so, to advocate the path of greater risk and greater freedom, is still presented as though it is somehow irresponsible or otherwise risky, but society is risky, life is risky. The biggest leap towards normal life has already been taken, it is the success of the mass vaccination programme which this country has rolled out so well, erm no that was fake as well. But after that we do not need politicians and private companies policing us ever more. We need to take a different leap, not into greater safety, but into greater freedom. Our allies and competitors are up for that, the question now is whether Britain is, an awful lot rides on the answer. Good article in the main, but the point is for many years now due to the British culture of interfering in other peoples lives and not focusing on their own, Britain is a police state, not ran by the cops, but the people themselves. Life in Britain runs on gossiping, reporting people working on the dole, reporting on people having affairs and life there when I was there was like a live episode of Eastenders and Coronation street, everyone talking about each other in hush whispers, behind each others backs. How about changing that and lifting each other instead of dragging each other down, now there is a novel idea.

The head of Germany's data protection commission sent a letter to all German government organizations and agencies, telling them to delete their Facebook pages because FB failed to comply with German and European privacy laws. The reality is that FB is a data company masquerading as a social network. FB ignores and violates privacy laws in Europe, the USA, and all over the world and pays the fines it incurs as a cost of doing business. Glad he said it, but like the Prince story, this is faction fighting.

When a CNN anchor ends their show with that's the honest truth, it's exactly the opposite, funny I think I have heard that exact same statement on a certain alt media channel, is it one and the same? Viewership has fallen over 50% in multiple categories since President Biden took office. In the first three weeks of 2021, the network averaged 2.2 million viewers, only to plummet to just one million viewers, a decline of 54%. Among the key advertising demographic of adults age 25-54, ratings are down 60%. From December 28 through Inauguration day, viewership went from 617,000 viewers in that demographic to just 244,000 since Biden took office. CNN averaged 3.1 million viewers from 8-11 p.m. from Dec. 28 through Inauguration Day, but only 1.4 million since for a whopping 55-percent decline. Over the same time period, CNN's primetime lineup lost 63 percent of its viewers among the crucial demographic. CNN also fared worse than liberal competitor MSNBC, which lost only 34% of its total-day viewers, and 30% of primetime viewers under Biden. Oops now for the rest of the people to turn them off and the agency led liars within the Alt Media also.

ITV news in the UK are continuing with the fake staged videos of people being sick, using actors to portray live roles. A broadcast in a hospital was an exchange with a man with respirator saying he has never been this sick ever - indeed, because you are not sick physically, just mentally. The doctor also an actor asked have you been vaxxed, the reply was no. Turns out the fake sick guy is an actor called Darren Howard from Bolton, and I am asking UK activists to locate his address and ask him why he did that to the people of the UK, no threats or intimidation please. Just put pressure on him and maybe we can get a confession out of him and air it far and wide. This type of activism is how we win, target individuals and get them to confess or step down.

Rights activists, journalists and lawyers around the world have been targeted with phone malware sold to authoritarian governments by an Israeli surveillance firm, media reports say. They are on a list of up to 50,000 phone numbers of people believed to be of interest to clients of the company, NSO, leaked to major news outlets. It is not clear where the list came from or whose phones had actually been hacked, NSO predictably denies any wrongdoing. It says the software is intended for use against criminals and terrorists and is made available only to military, law enforcement and intelligence agencies from countries with good human rights records. If that is the case then, the great common sense question is why it is in Israel then? a state with the worst human rights and UN violations record the world over. In a statement, it said the original investigation which led to the reports, by Paris-based NGO Forbidden Stories and the human rights group Amnesty International, was full of wrong assumptions and uncorroborated theories. The allegations about use of the software, known as Pegasus, were carried on Sunday by the Washington Post, the Guardian, Le Monde and 14 other media organizations around the world. Pegasus infects i-Phones and Android devices to enable operators to extract messages, photos and emails, record calls and secretly activate microphones. Forensic tests on a few phones with numbers on the list indicated more than half had traces of the spyware. Some 180 journalists are said to be on the list, from organizations such as Agence France-Presse, CNN, the New York Times, Al Jazeera and many other news outlets. They also include two women close to the murdered Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi, and a Mexican journalist named Cecilio Pineda Birto, who was murdered at a carwash. The wider list also includes heads of state and government, members of Arab royal families and business executives. Yet more damning evidence and it is time every country cut all access to this fake state.

A newly released raft of government papers has revealed the British Broadcasting Corporation's extensive involvement in spreading pro-London, pro-EU, and pro-NATO messaging across the Balkans. In February, classified documents revealed that BBC

Media Action (BBCMA), the 'charitable arm' of the British state broadcaster, was embroiled in a number of clandestine operations to "weaken the Russian state's influence," funded by the UK Foreign Office. The exposure raised serious questions about the BBC's international reputation as a 'neutral', 'objective' purveyor of news, and what implications its murky relationship with Whitehall has for its output more widely. A further tranche of leaked files, related to covert UK actions in the Balkans, amply reinforces that the organization serves as a cloak-and-dagger device for achieving London's foreign policy goals.

White House press secretary Jen Psaki called a question from a Fox News reporter loaded and inaccurate, when asked about the topic of vaccine misinformation on social media. Fox's Peter Doocy pressed Psaki on her comments the previous day, that Facebook is not doing enough to stop misinformation on the platform. Psaki had noted the White House was taking an active role in flagging problematic posts for Facebook, in an attempt to combat misinformation. Doocy asked Psaki on Friday how long the Biden administration has been spying on peoples' Facebook profiles looking for vaccine misinformation. Well, that was quite a loaded and inaccurate question, which I would refute, Psaki responded. It all sounds like a recent Chris Rice episode of deflection and not answering the questions.

The disaster events globally that was predicted have exploded in the past week. Record flooding in Germany, Belgium and Luxemborg, unrest in Ethiopia and people fleeing, major unrest in S. Africa that has all the hallmarks of being staged and this will continue to distract from the old world collapsing. Clowns are not in control of it anymore and their desperate ouroborus programs are canceling each other out, leaving them with distraction events and more rituals to call in the gods. There will be much distraction in the alt media also, they will create drama and deflection to avoid people discussing the real issues, my advice is to ignore it, observe not absorb. THI will be a large focus of attention and agents will play again as they and their agents are losing the narrative.

Another reality of the ouroborus programs is in colleges and Universities, and potentially schools. Reports are now saying there is an alarming drop in children returning to the indoctrination centers. Why? because there was a sufficient gap in the programming, and it all begins to unravel. Of course the fact the colleges, Universities and schools partook in the Covid program will be lost on them, but their real concern is not the kids, but the reduced funding that absent children from the system brings. Simple solution to the children returning is, stop vaxxing them, teach them something of value, and reduced the debt inducing greed based rates to basically learn nothing but compliance to a failed system.

There was a video posted of a lady remonstrating with a school board for introducing masturbation and anal sex to 5 year old children, in books deposited in the schools. Some members applauded her for speaking up in public and calling those out, and other nice comments about the lady speaking. I would like to propose an alternative version of praising that woman, you take inspiration from her and speak out yourselves. Clicking like or positive comments is one thing, being the voice of activism is your duty. There is not one member in the activism group, yet all are participating on the social media pages in support of others. If you wish to support the many voices standing up now, become one.

COVID BS There has been a switch in reporting this week as the death toll rises from vaccines, corrupt media now reporting cases going down in the UK.

The people complied because they want the pandemic to end, but in reality it is because you complied it will never end.

As the UK lockdown ends one of the great reSET groups Goldman Sachs imposes mandatory masks in their greed based offices. I would love all of their staff to walk out in protest, but greed based peoples are less inclined to do that, as their own goals in life is to collect pieces of paper with numbers on. Be nice to be surprised though.

Given the rise in clowns creating lotteries for those who are vaccinated, I believe it will be called the National Clottery.

Candice Owens asked a common sense question and provided a conclusion oh my it's spreading. She said it is weird how quickly the MSM pulled together a daily death counter for Covid 19, but they just can't seem to pull together efficiently for vaccine deaths and reactions. Almost like they had an agenda to terrify people into compliance, indeed they did.

This is from a member, I looked into BC death rates after the show last week, not only are we seeing over 700 sudden deaths due to the heat wave, we saw over 850 drug overdose deaths in the same period, in reality land they are all vaccines deaths. Since April 2021 we have seen an unprecedented increase in these deaths, and Doctors have been asked not to issue death certificates in heat-related issues. These doctors have got themselves now in the most interesting position from all of their following along. Yes, as time moves forward and reality sinks in, their profession will be ruined and destroyed, as no sane person will be able to trust them for a very long time.

A Care Assistant reveals criminal neglect at a Dublin Nursing Home. More than 10,000 patients in 6 months moved from hospitals and crammed into nursing homes, a pot of money was offered to get people out of hospitals. 2000 patients died in the Irish care homes following it. Elderly patients were transferred without being tested, and led to the spread of Covid in the nursing homes that account for half of all Covid deaths. Residents abandoned, left without food and water, up to 75% of deaths avoidable, residents left in inhumane conditions, 7 staff sacked after raising concerns, HSE/HIQA Cover-up. A common theme, the neglect of the elderly is a large stain on humanity, a society who neglects their children and elderly is destined to fail. No, it is not up to the Government to look after, we should, yet again a dissolving of our own responsibility.

Students will not be allowed back in school in September unless their entire family is fully vaccinated, some local governments in China have said. Several cities also said people needed to be vaccinated to enter public venues such as hospitals and supermarkets. China joins other including France and Greece, which have made jabs mandatory in some sectors. China has set a national target of inoculating 64% of its population by the end of the year. Those who are not yet inoculated should hurry and get jabbed to avoid affecting your child's return to school, read a notice posted in Guangxi province earlier this week, adding that this ruling applied to students of all ages. China, India and Israel leading the vaccination rates table, sounds rather familiar that does it not? Is it another coincidence?

Latest figures from Israel and their caliphate plan to eliminate their own people as I warned years ago. This is a chart for ages 20 to 80 plus and in every category the vaccinated are more infected than the unvaxxed. Total testing positive for the unvaxxed 257, total testing positive for the vaccinated 1470. So just 17% of new cases are unvaxxed and 83% for the vaccinated, which is about the same figure Pfizer gave for alleged immunity, funny that. Like Johns Hopkins they just reverse the figures to suit their agenda, 2021 or 2030 notwithstanding.

A shocking new study published in the New England Journal of Medicine reveals, that when pregnant women are given Covid vaccinations during their first or second trimesters, they suffer an 82% spontaneous abortion rate, killing 4 out of 5 unborn babies. The data published in a new study entitled, Preliminary Findings of mRNA Covid-19 Vaccine Safety in Pregnant Persons. Just as disturbing is the fact that the study authors apparently sought to deliberately obfuscate the truth about vaccines, causing spontaneous abortions by obfuscating numbers in their own calculations. This study was almost certainly a cover-up to try to claim vaccinating pregnant women is perfectly safe, but the study data actually show quite the opposite. They used Johns Hopkins maths to deflect the incident rate, by stating in a category that 104 spontaneous abortions took place out of the 827 participants, which is an alarming number in and of itself, 1 in 8 or around 12.5%. But those in that category were in the first trimester period, the majority of them, 700, took the jab in the third trimester. Which means it was 104 spontaneous abortions was out of 127 jabbed patients, which is around 82%. They state below the graph that 827 took part in receiving the jabs, the 104 was recorded in the pre 20 week stage, and in their own words it says 700 received their first eligible dose in the third trimester. It is disingenuous to present those figures clearly based in lies, and in many ways sinister. Some will say well it is just an oversight, just like it all started with a wrong math quotation by Johns Hopkins, how many more fake math and oversights are we to tolerate with this, before the bots wake up and smell their own death? All this means that live births may plummet by 3.2 million over the next year, in the USA alone, if every pregnant woman is vaccinated during the first 20 weeks of pregnancy. If you have to repeatedly lie about anything, it was wrong in the first place. El Capitan or Kommandant of this lie based agenda, has stated publicly 4 times he wishes to enact population reduction, yes Be ill Gates, this is their latest method now in clear and unequivocal terms.

Sir Patrick Vallance told a news conference 60% of corona virus-related hospital admissions were double-jabbed people, but he later corrected himself, no doubt after pressure from the authorities. Mr. Vallance was right the first time, as this next piece will reveal.

Following on from last weeks potential mass die off warning, VAERS it is said to have jumped to 11K deaths last week from the vaccines, not the virus. Deaths from vaccines was in the range of 150 to 300 per week since March, but late June it jumped to 872, the following week ending July 9th it was 2063, and now 11K all dying this past week from vaccines complications. But a hidden report that I am awaiting to be revealed has stated that 45,000 have died from the vaccine within just three days, in this past week. A Federal lawsuit has alleged been filed, and I am awaiting further details. This is the most divisive incident in modern times, families turning on each other, friends turning on each other, sanctimonious people acting like the authorities because they were good little children and took their medicine from the Government, despite not being sick, they had their experimental techno jab. All that has to be put aside and you must stop them vaxxing the children, unless you want blood on your hands. Message to the double jabbers you are best to be and get prepared, in the event you suffer the same outcome as the above.

OTHER ITEMS: Having criticized India for it's role in the sub gray role along with Egypt, and revealed it's spiritual aspect is at best corrupt and largely fake, here is a good news story out of India. Founded some 500 years ago in what is now India's Punjab region, Sikhism is the world's fifth-largest religion, but what makes its members habitual do-gooders? Author Jasreen Mayal Khanna writes on the tradition of selfless service ingrained in the community. Think of any scene of disaster and you'll find Sikh volunteers rallying to the site, feeding migrants, helping riot victims, and rebuilding homes after earthquakes. From the Rohingya crisis in Myanmar to the Paris terror attacks, the farmers' marches in India to the protests in America against George Floyd's killing, people from this 30 million-strong community worldwide have made it a tradition to help complete strangers in their darkest moments. Through the pandemic, they reached new heights. In Maharashtra in western India, a gurdwara (the Sikh place of worship) fed two million people in 10 weeks last year. Other gurdwaras in India melted the gold they had collected over the last 50 years to set up hospitals and medical colleges. Sikh NGOs set up oxygen langars, langars are the community kitchens in the gurdwaras, providing free oxygen to people as India gasped and reeled through its deadly second wave of corona virus. How did Sikhs become the Good Samaritans of the world? Most religions tell their followers to help others and to do good, but how have the Sikhs gone from talking to doing so effectively? This is where I have an issue, the good work is externalized and reflected onto the church and or religion, neither of which do any of the good work, it is the people who do the good work not the church or religion. It is the external program again, where all good within people is passed onto external entities and identities, please stop doing that it is energy harvesting and spell casting. It goes back to their founder Guru Nanak who preached that selfless service (seva as it is called) and hard work are as important as prayer. When Sikhs visit the gurdwara, they spend time in front of the holy book, giving thanks and praying, but they spend an equal amount of time helping cook and serve the langars or meals, looking after the devotees' shoes and cleaning the premises. Sikh temples thus aren't just places of worship, they are soup kitchens and homeless shelters and community centers, a place to call home if you have none. The secret to being good is that it's actually a natural outcome of other behaviors and attitudes, the Sikhs pray daily for two things. The first is sarbat da bhalla or the welfare of all and by doing this, they accept all beings as worthy, this is the root of seva and why gurdwaras are open to all. The second is eternal positivity, what they call chardi kala. Sikhs chant these two words in every moment of life, when they visit the gurdwara, at weddings and celebrations and to each other when life deals them a blow. Chardi kala is the state of mind in which a person has no negative emotions like fear, jealousy or enmity. Instead the mind has many positive feelings including joy, satisfaction and self-dignity. The motivation for doing seva, thus, is to find purposeful happiness in our life. Psychologists agree that we need two kinds of happiness to lead full lives. Chardi Kala and or TPC guidelines is something we can all practice and be the change ourselves.

This is something we have covered before but here is more data of what actually unfolds, pardon the pun. Paul D. Tinari, PhD said, It was my idea to use fMRI and/or PET scanning to directly observe the effects of circumcision on the infant brain. Analysis of the MRI data indicated that the surgery subjected the infant to significant trauma. The greatest changes occurred in the limbic system concentrating in the amygdala and in the frontal and temporal lobes. A neurologist who saw the results postulated that the data indicated that circumcision affected most intensely, the portions of the victim's brain associated with reasoning, perception and emotions. Follow up tests on the infant one day, one week and one month after the surgery, indicated that the child's brain never returned to its baseline configuration. In other words, the evidence generated by this research indicated that, the brain of the circumcised infant was permanently changed by the surgery. When Paul Tinari was eight years old and boarded at a church-run school in Montreal, Paul was forcefully held down on a desk and circumcised, because a priest had reason to believe Paul had masturbated. Paul and his story is another seriously disturbing instance of church abuse in the era of residential schools. Paul claims the practice was routine and could have happened to thousands of young First Nations boys trapped in the system. That priest was a Mohel, a Jewish circumciser. Yet again highlights the Jewish role in desecrating people and their bodies for their own sick and twisted mind sets. The removal of the foreskin by bellend Jews is an off world practice yet again, it damages the brain and also they make use of the skins for various reasons, all about the shekels you see. At least this Mohel cut it with a knife, as some of them use their mouth and teeth. Like I said recently religion has no boundaries of normal or acceptable behavior, as in any other format putting a child's penis in your mouth is child abuse, and biting it off is assault and battery, yet curiously with religion this is all classed as normal? Like talking snakes and burning and talking bushes, parting oceans, immaculate conceptions, living to 900 plus years, a bearded man sitting on a cloud (yes an AI cloud), throwing your children out for eating an apple, all life started with two people but it is not consider incest, kissing a sandstone wall wearing a tea cosy on your head, leaving the mother out of the trinity, rising from the dead after 3 days, god the father not saving his only son? all normal in their world. I am told most American men have been circumcised, the great question is why, are you all Jewish? Is there a difference? yes there is and I am sorry your parents were so ignorant of the facts, too lazy to find out and all too compliant to the system. If you are religious the great question is, if this practice was approved by god, why didn't your god create man without a foreskin to begin with?

Just as I warned in the Clowns in Panic show, this story appeared this week. Of the many emerging technologies poised to transform financial services, two of the most promising and mature are artificial intelligence (AI) and blockchain. 74% of banking executives believe AI will transform their industry completely, and 46% of global financial services employees expect blockchain to improve transparency and data management. Transparency they have no choice, but it will still not be available for public viewing due to the incompetence. This is what we said of them replacing their collapsed banking system, and something the alleged Trustee should have been working on, to prevent them creating a new one not compatible for and by the people. They will replace all banks and create the great one world bank using fake money exchanges. Should that unfold, that will be solely on the shoulders of the Trustee, as it is her duty, responsibility and she has the expertise to do so, a failure to stop it is a dereliction of duty to we the people and the Restoration plan. Some people will argue that is not fair, some will say it is part of an alleged tiff between us, neither is correct has time has shown. She was given responsibility to change the energy system known as money, and together we achieved that spectacularly, her role was to then go on and build a new one. With the de jure assemblies now declared the new American government, and now they have the peoples money in their accounts, and also you have been given the duty for the Restoration plan as well, with those facts revealed by Kim in mind. I would like to make a request on behalf of we the people outside of your government, to produce some transparency and provide a bank statement showing the funds are in all of your assembly accounts. This would then clear up any confusion. As you are now the government, I would like you to show we the people that you intend to operate for and by the people, and request with your new powers to make a statement of intent, and delete income tax on all American within one month. The new taxation plan has already been formulated by myself, Kim and her former boyfriend, so all you have to do is, delete the income tax on all Americans and then formulate the new taxation plan already drafted up. That would be a tremendous start for your new roles as the Government, as stated by The Trustee. I will check back in, in a months time for your progress on these matters.

Here is the latest tax on peoples pockets in America, yes it is a subtle taxation on you, just like the lottery. The legalization of sports gambling in more than 20 US states has opened new business opportunities, and potential pitfalls, for broadcasters and streaming services that seek to tie in betting content, such as fantasy leagues, with live broadcasts or at least market separately to the sports viewing and gambling audiences. Instead of wasting money on that or the lottery, lets fund are own win every week group called the TPC.

Associated Press News reported that South Korea has seized thousands of capsules containing the powdered flesh of children. These capsules have been found in international mail and luggage of flight travelers, and they have determined that these capsules have originated from N.E. China. There appears no end of evil amounts on this planet in the desire to make money, it goes way beyond evil and yet so many people refuse to hear it, unless of course it happened to be one of their children, and therein lies the problem. Ignoring issues because it only happens to other peoples or countries is inherently wrong, and actually makes you complicit in it. The only way to end it is, accept it happens, process it, and speak out about it, that cuts off or reduces the energy of it. But, is there precedence in China of doing these actions before? Baodingshan also known as Mount Baoding, Precious Summit Mountain, and Summit of Treasures is a Buddhist site in Chongqing. The site is located on a limestone outcropping at an elevation of 500 meters, fifteen kilometers north of the city of Dazu, a market town that dates to 758 CE, and the city is ringed by religious sites dating from 892 to 1249 CE. Primary construction at Baodingshan took place during the Southern Song Dynasty 1127–1279 CE, but it remained largely unknown to the outside world until its reopening to the public in the 1980s, the earliest documented research on the site dating to 1944. The site has since been designated a World Heritage Site since 1999, falling within the collective grouping of Dazu Rock Carvings, a reference to the district in which Baodingshan is located. Dazu County covers 1400 square kilometers northwest of Chongqing on the road to Chengdu. During the Song Dynasty 960–1279 CE, this area of the Chengdu plain was considered one of the wealthiest regions in China, indeed and indicative, why will be revealed shortly. Consisting of a mile and a half of carvings, numbering over 6000 total, Baodingshan is an atypical Chinese Buddhist site for a variety of reasons. It includes both large scale iconic works as well as intricate narrative tableaux, it represents a variety of Buddhist schools of thought Huayan, Chan, Pure Land, and Esoteric. It has copious amounts of Buddhist texts carved in conjunction with imagery, and it was constructed within 70 years under the supervision of one man, Zhao Zhifeng. A buddhist temple indeed, that is what they wish to portray and they will not readily show the other carvings in that temple, that tells a completely different story. Chimeras, the horse headed beings, the beings that resemble the Unas out of the Stargate series, and the sight of them putting humans into grinding machines alive. pics 1-4. That site has been declared a Heritage and UNESCO site, and yet it reveals it was a human processing plant for consumption of humans by off world beings. So the Chinese grinding up children is not a new practice, their race was involved in it a long time back. The majority of Chinese lineage was not from this planet, there was a reason the Rus not the Chinese built what is now called the Great Wall of China, to keep out these chimeras and off world entities from killing off the native White Race peoples. The Chinese and Mongolians many of which are stated to be related to one so called man, he wasn't our version of man, Ghengis Khan, Khan means Cohen, which is the priestly class of the Hebrew Annunaki. They came here and were destroying the humans for food and other uses. It is clear to all that the Asian race did not come from this planet due to their eyes, the squinted or slant eyed look means they came from a planet that had 2 or 3 suns in their sky, hence the squinted eyes. Does this mean we should hate all Chinese and Mongolians? No, their ancestors were brought here to dance for Lucifer and the Hebrew Annunaki, they like the modern days Jews have been used as pawns. But, the locals in those regions need to stand up to these atrocities going on in their own countries. It should also call into question just who or what is Buddha, given that is a Buddhist site.

The Southern Cross is the smallest and one of the eighty eight known constellations in the galaxy. Also known as The Crux, it is comprised of four or five major stars arranged in a cross like pattern and visible in the southern sky at night. These stars are labeled alpha, beta, gamma, delta and epsilon. The Southern Cross is more famous for the fake narrative of Jesus dying on the cross Christmas story. The sun SUN not SON on December 21st dips below the horizon, behind the sun at that time of the year is the Southern Cross, so the sun dies on the cross, 3 days later which is the 3 days of darkness, the sun appears above the horizon again, and on December 25th the sun is born again and ascends into the heavens. I will have more proof of that in a later show, as new evidence has appeared and confirm our show and FRWL again.

EXPOSE: This is the testimony of a 79-year-old retired CIA agent, Malcolm Howard, has made a series of astonishing claims since being released from hospital in New Jersey on Friday and told he has weeks to live. Can we know this is correct and not another CIA agent based claims designed to distract, just like the Pentagon UFO study, pure deflection, I don't know, but you decide if it resonates or not. Mr. Howard claims he was involved in the controlled demolition of World Trade Center 7, the third building that was destroyed on 9/11. Mr. Howard, who worked for the CIA for 36 years as an operative, claims he was tapped by senior CIA agents to work on the project due to his engineering background, and early career in the demolition business. Trained as a civil engineer, Mr. Howard became an explosives expert after being headhunted by the CIA in early 1980s. Mr. Howard says has extensive experience in planting explosives in items as small as cigarette lighters and as large as 80 floor buildings. The 79-year-old New Jersey native says he worked on the CIA operation they dubbed New Century between May 1997 and September 2001, during a time he says the CIA was still taking orders from the top. Mr. Howard says he was part of a cell of 4 operatives tasked with ensuring the demolition was successful. Mr. Howard says the World Trade Center 7 operation is unique among his demolitions, as it is the only demolition that we had to pretend wasn't a demolition job. He claims he had no problem going through with the deception at the time, because when you are a patriot, you don't question the motivation of the CIA or the White House. You assume the bigger purpose is for a greater good, they pick good, loyal people like me, and it breaks my heart to hear the shit talk. But even he admits that now, looking back, something wasn't right, no shit sherlock!! No good has come from this, this isn't the America we envisioned, indeed and you can blame the group you worked for as responsible for that more than anything else. Explaining how the building was bought down, Mr. Howard says, it was a classic controlled demolition with explosives. We used super-fine military grade nanothermite composite materials as explosives. The hard part was getting thousands of pounds of explosives, fuses and ignition mechanisms into the building without causing too much concern. But almost every single office in the Building 7 was rented by the CIA, the Secret Service, or the military, which made it easier. Mr. Howard explains that WTC 7 was loaded with explosives in strategic places, in the month leading up to the day that changed the course of American history. On September 11th, while the North and South towers burned, fuses were ignited in World Trade Center 7, and nanothermite explosions hollowed out the building, destroying the steel structure, removing the reinforcements, and allowing the office fires to tear through the rest of the building, hollowing it out like a shell. World Trade Center 7 collapsed into its own footprint at 5:20pm, seven hours after the destruction of WTC 1 and 2. The building shocked witnesses by coming down at the speed of freefall, indicating that it encountered zero resistance on the way down. Mr. Howard and his colleagues had done their job. When the building came down, it was such a rush, everything went exactly to plan, it was so smooth. Everybody was evacuated, nobody was hurt in WTC 7 and we were celebrating. We kept watching replays of the demolition, we had the whiskey and cigars out, and then all of a sudden the strangest thing happened, we all started to worry that it looked a bit too smooth. We watched the tape again and again and again and we started to get paranoid, it looked like a controlled demolition. We thought shit, people are going to question this, and then we heard that people from the street were reporting that they heard the explosions during the afternoon. When we were told that the BBC botched their report, and announced to the world that the building collapsed 20 minutes before it actually did, at that point we really thought the gig was up. According to the official 9/11 report issued by the government, WTC 7 collapsed due to uncontrolled fires that were caused by debris that floated over from WTC 1 and 2, which had been hit by passenger planes. Does anyone ask if they were passenger planes, where was the pilot? If the official narrative was true, WTC 7 would be the first tall building in the world to ever collapse due to uncontrolled fires, and the only steel skyscraper in the world to have collapsed into itself, due to office fires. Mr. Howard and his colleagues feared the public would see through the official narrative and rise up against the government, demanding to be told the truth. There were so many loose ends, so much evidence left behind, we thought the public would be all over it. We thought there would be a public uprising that the media couldn't ignore, they'd be funding investigations and demanding to know why they were being lied to. We thought they'd find chemical composites in the area that would prove Building 7 was blown up. We thought there would be a revolution, it would go all the way to the top to President Bush, and he'd be dragged out of the White House. But none of that happened, almost nobody questioned anything, the media shot down anyone who dared question. That is because the majority of Americans went into a complete state of shock and became comatose for the best part of 10-15 years later. Numbed into non thinking, refusing to accept reality because it meant their own Government was complicit in it, and that truth was too much to bear for the majority of Americans, even now. If you set your truth barrier too low, you will only hear and believe the lies.

ABIEL the [my] father is God). 1. A man of Benjamin who is mentioned as the father of Kish the father of Ner, and the grandfather of King Saul and Abner. Kish and Ner oh my. Before it was all about the shekels it was all about the Benjamins.

This in part is a follow on from last weeks piece and something I was sent this week and thought it would be of interest to our members, and I would add more of the bigger picture to it and understanding. One particular adventure took place while on an excursion to the Negev desert in the south of Israel. I had just passed the restricted area around Dimona, a town where Israel has its secret nuclear facility. T:it is not just nuclear, there is much other top secret clearance level stuff ongoing there.) This place is guarded by the Falasha, the Black Jews from Ethiopia who claim to be descendents of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. T: Some background info on who the Falasha are, The Falasha were known as Kayla, the letter K again, but also the name Falasha is Amharic for exiles or the landless ones. Yes they were exiled out of every Garden of Eden and thrown out of 106 countries in the past 2000 years, why? because our ancestors knew they were not from this planet, and the Jewish conspiracy kicked in with the King James Bible. The Falashas themselves refer to their sect as Beta Esrael which means House of Israel, yes the House of, not the country of.) The Queen supposedly returned to Ethiopia with the original Ark of the Covenant, where it remained for safekeeping until only a few years ago. The so called Black Jews are the real nubian copper blue bloods kids of Enki/RA, the seed of Sephartsics, not the usurping Enlil's Ashkenazi, Innana Drac descendants, the founders of China and Bank of England. T: The blue bloods are the royals on this planet, which appears to make them all Enki and Ra disciples. The Sephardic compromise of 50% of world Jewry now, they are of Spanish origin, in fact the Jewish word for Spain is Sepharad. This was taken from a Jewish history book and proves further our FRWL plus episode. It said, it was no accident, some say, that Columbus set sail on the very same day that the Jews were expelled from Spain. Indeed, while there is much unresolved speculation regarding the provenance of Columbus himself, it is clear that his trip was financed by Jews, desperate to find a place they could live and worship in peace. Those Sephardics were the Conquistadors that did so much damage and killing here in America and Central America. Like I said earlier the Chinese did not originate from this planet, The Bank of England is Rothschild's, which reveals the Rothschild's clan are part of them. Notice in some pharaoh's statues, many of them have the same narrow and slanted eyes, like the Asians. Are they Asians or A sirians? and I am not talking about the country either. Drac are the Draco, and they can take human form, as revealed in the series V.) It is not over trivializing to characterize the continuing dialectic by the Enki vs Enlil half-blood brothers-lines, T: just like the Cain and Abel story, Anu and Alulu it is all about the same power struggle within these psychotic off world family bloodlines.) King Solomon was said to be a powerful mystic, Akhanaton whose Amarna-solar capacitor for igniting DNA became the Solomon Temple myth. His advisors always discussed the future with him, it is believed that he was warned of a future time when Israel would be overrun with evil foreigners. T: remember the House of Israel not the country, the country never existed until the Rothschild Drac created it in 1948.) Ashkanazi who now fly the Alpha Draconis flag, the hex double triangle over Israel also happens to be the shape of the interventionist Draco craft coming to invade. T: So the 6 pointed star now has another meaning, it is the flag of the Alpha Draconis, the constellation of the Draco. As for the invasion that was prevented and many of the Drac stationed here left in summer of 2015, they left behind M and his minions but he and they were dealt with back in 2017, although it appears the programs of Marduk lives on in others, which will also be dealt with in due course.) The Holy Ark of the Covenant would most likely be a prime target, T: it was removed along with other artifacts and they will not be accessing it.) I believe that Solomon, in all his wisdom, decided to hide the real Ark of the Covenant in a place where no one would think to look. Conveniently, the Queen of Sheba was looking for a major token of faith and affection from her current lover. Solomon sent the Ark back with her to Ethiopia and made a facsimile for the public to view. T: The Queen of Sheba story mimics the Cleopatra story, all about seducement for the desire of power.) The ark of the covenant is a fractal self similar capacitor orgone, with enough implosive compression to partially safely contain radioactive power. Radioactivity is the opposite of fractal charge compression. In order to solidify his trust for Sheba and the Ark, Solomon saw to it she had his child so that she would always feel an obligation to her child's people, his was the perfect plan. T: The seeding program again used by all these so called elites, real name is El-ites.) The Queens descendents became the Falasha, a numerous faction in Ethiopia. At one time, it is believed that there were over 500,000 Falasha peoples in Ethiopia. In fact, Heile Salassie, the ruler of Ethiopia until a military coup toppled his regime, called himself the Lion of Judah. T: There is the lion reference again, and perhaps the movie Lion King has other meanings now?) The Israeli intelligence agency Mossad, helped the province of Eritrea break away from Ethiopia because the Ark was hidden there, and the military government refused to cooperate with the Israelis. Consequently, the Israelis created their own country with whom to negotiate. The Ark was successfully transferred to the Holy Land, at the same time the military government of Ethiopia allowed the Israelis to airlift all of the remaining Falasha out of Ethiopia. T: 12,000 were airlifted out in 1984-85, then the Ethiopian Government cancelled it, but it resumed again in 1989 and 3,500 were lifted out, with a further 14k that were left removed in 1991. The Falashas themselves say that they are direct descendants from the family of Abraham, said to be the first Jew. Terah, Abraham's father, came from the land of Ur of the Chaldees which was located in the southern part of the Euphrates. The Chaldees were one of many Kushite tribes of the region and Kushite means Black according to the Biblical dictionary. The Kushites were descended from Kush a son of Ham. Godfrey Higgins, an English expert on antiquities stated in his book that, The Chaldees were originally Negroes.) A strange turn of events, but one that portends the coming of the Messiah for the Jews. T: Except the Falashas are treated as second class or lower citizens within Israel and are regularly abused, dismissed and are essentially rendered outcasts within their own communities. I suspect these people will be amongst the first to be deleted by the Israeli junta, as they know too much.)

T: The author goes onto explain in detail of an abduction of him by those from the Sirian star system near Dimona Israel, annexed based land. Some background of Dimona, Dimona was established in 1955, the first residents were Jewish immigrants from North Africa, with an initial 36 families being the first to settle there. The all too familiar Jewish settlers, that seem to appear everywhere on this planet, at any given moment in time, despite they only represent less than 2% of the world's population. Does that make any sense? and the great pondering question is, where are these "Jewish settlers" really coming from? Is it Sirius? Its population in 1955 was about 300, the North African immigrants also constructed the city's houses. The population was composed mainly of North African, particularly Moroccan immigrants, though immigrants from Yemen and Eastern Europe also arrived, as did Bene Israel immigrants from India. Dimona is described as "mini-India" by many for its 7,500-strong Indian Jewish community. It is also home to Israel's Black Hebrew community, formerly governed by its founder and spiritual leader, Ben Ammi Ben-Israel, now deceased. Well I never, India, another reference to FRWL 1 & 2.

The rest of the narrative goes on about ET interactions by the author he said,) Through his thoughts, he told me that we were on our way to Mars to see something that would help me at a later time. T: Mars was a collection center for the harvesting of our resources and people.) Continuing, he said that his species created people from stock brought to Earth from elsewhere. These creations are known as Hebrews, as is their language. T: Stock brought to Earth from elsewhere, which is why their DNA doesn't match here, and in particular the Middle East region. Much of this had been distorted and interfered with over the millenniums.) His species was now in league with the remnants of these original creations, the Israelis, to correct and purify them before the next wave of interruptions occur. Apparently, the Sirians felt that these Hebrew remnants were not the genetically-whole beings that they originally created. Because it was too late to change their physical structure, it had become necessary to change their mind-patterns, thus enabling them to interface with other alien beings. The Sirian said that we were going back to our home world, Khoom, which orbited Sirius A in that binary star system. T: Khoom was referenced last week) Khoom is a frozen world covered in ice and snow, the suns glare on the surface was blinding, the inhabitants lived underground. T: Sounds like the Asian world does it not?) Once a subtropical world, Khoom was pushed out of its original orbit by war eons ago, T: just like Midgard then.) From space, it looks blue and white, the planet has no moons, T: probably because they were needed elsewhere as craft, or they destroyed them.) A victim of the original battle between good and evil, Khoom was blown from its cradle orbit by those who created the Draco race, the reptilians who seek to dominate the galaxy and beyond. The creators of the Draco races came from another time and space. The first genesis of Lucifer, their name denotes the epitome of evil. Occupying the same physical location as Khoom, but at a different vibratory resonance, is a non-physical world governed by a council of nine beings known as the Ohalu Council. T: Occupying the same space but a different vibratory resonance, hmm, remember the show when 2 world became 3?) While not the same beings referred to as The Nine in other literature, they do communicate with The Nine as well as participate in joint projects. T: The infamous Council of Nine of the alt media and love and light people, maybe related to Circle of Nine, as above so below.) In his work with channelers, he came across a few individuals who claimed to be in contact with this ET group. Uri Geller was the first to actually identify them, as former physical beings who transferred their minds and soul-essences into nine advanced computers. T: Geller was a dark magician initiate.) Each one of these computer represents a different aspect of the Mind of God. T: That was part of the AI control system and was used against us, those involved were convinced they were doing something for the good, only to find out differently. That is your AI sky god, people have not been praying, they were preyed upon, by some sky god with anger management issues who sits on a cloud. A cloud is a database collection service for the internet, an AI is a database collection service for the recording of humanity, are you getting the picture now? Channeling is/was the realms of the greys, with the technology and AI database they knew your voice, thoughts, traits, opinions, habits and connections to other people, and just told people what they wanted to hear. A bit like a modern day Alexa, it is a listening and recording device, that can play back and imitate the people near it.) The Nine communicate with a few select individuals across the planet, in an effort to upgrade the collective consciousness of humankind. T: they lied it was to hold us hostage again, they have a vested interest in keeping this version of humanity down, so they can harvest, and unless they act quickly on the several requests made to the Galactic Council, it is to be assumed they are a part of it. Talks are one thing but we need actions here and proper people appointed in leading positions, not programmed people.) The author goes on, I was originally sent to Earth by the Ohalu Council who directed the Sirian's on the creation of my physical body, they told me there are nine beings on Earth who are like me. Each one is directed by a member of the council, I was shown my past and future while I was on Khoom. I was taken to a planet orbiting Sirius B that was a tropical, swampy jungle world occupied by short, stocky beings who live in huts. Extremely advanced, these creatures can astral project anywhere they want to at will. They rely on others for physical transportation off-world but as they have no need to go anywhere else, they rarely do so. Communicating exclusively by mind-linking, they do not have a spoken language. The Sirian's told me of the coming Earth invasion by the Draco, that the Orion Confederation was working with the Draco, and that there is a war going on right now between the Sirian's and Orion's. The supreme merchants of the universe, the Sirian's actually supplied the Orion groups with the weapons that are now being used against them, T: a common theme that.) However, the Sirian's keep the best and most powerful for themselves, so they never lose. T: That arrogance has led to many a down fall, everyone loses in war, and the sooner people and beings realize that, the better.) The Sirian's see the Orion's as bad children who play with matches, they do not seek to destroy them, but they keep them in check. They allow humans, Orion's, and the Draco to follow their own destinies, T: they allow? is not good terminology to use either, who made them god?) Despite not wanting to leave, the Ohalu Council convinced me to return to Earth. Arriving back in Israel I found that only three days had passed. I was unceasingly thirsty, had lost ten pounds, and was so tired that I could not see straight. Upon returning to Holon, I slept for almost an entire week. During my return rest, I realized that the Ark of the Covenant is actually a communication device between the physical world and hyperspace. The Sirian's apparently gave the Hebrews instructions for building it. A reconstruction of the device was built by the University of Minnesota years ago, following the instructions given in the Bible. It was so electrically charged and dangerous that it had to be destroyed. I believe that the Sirian's are trying to undermine the plans of all the factions involved on Earth. T: Don't make the mistake that because the Sirian's are fighting the Orion's and or the Draco, that they are the good guys, a common misconception that. The Rothschild's clan think they are the good guys when compared to the Black Sun elements, no they are two sides of the same coin. It was the Sirian's who gave the Hebrews the Torah they say, but the Torah is a watered down Christianized book that removes the evil elements of the original book, The Talmud. The Sirian's who brought us the black cube harvesting technology, some of the bloodline families are from there, The Carnegies spoke of their plans to fire up this planets drive engine and returning to Sirius, their home. I assured him that will never be happening, in his or any other lifetime.

A recent show done by Alex Jones which has gone against all his previous connections and his relations to Stratfor. Alex Jones went against the control system and this country, and stated America is being ran by the Jewish, you know something is amiss. Finally Jones has seen the light or he is under duress by one of the factions, both of which contain el-ite level Jews? Jones has lost much of his followers and it maybe a case of him re-inventing himself with another diversion down the road. But, I will applaud him for finally speaking out on the El-ite Jew based problem the world faces, but there is a big but following. Our Government are just puppets of this El-ite order and it is time many so through the illusion, fog and fear and get some balls and face the problem, and counteract and ultimately end their endless programs of fear, death, destruction, division, greed, harvesting, sexual abuse and slavery being ran on the public by these Hebrew Annunaki programs, of Sirian and Draco origins. Jones though finally came clean after they got someone on the show to talk about it, and Jones asked the staged question to the guest, should we just eliminate all Jews, the guest who was likely an actor said yes. All theater folks to make people who question the Jewish narrative sounds like genocidal maniacs, which is the mirror of these entities. Jones proceeded to stop the guy in his tracks and said "I am Jewish" well I never Mr. Jones, you were a puppet at the beginning, puppet in the middle and puppet to the end, before and after your popularity dwindled. I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, but thou art rich and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan. It is all so easy to allow what has gone before and indeed now, to create fear and fears within yourselves, that brings in the lower vibrational elements and you are then feeding their circus. The object is to show the past and the now for observation to then correct the ways of the past for the future, not immersion within it. Your task as a listener is to shine only, by doing that, what they do or say becomes increasingly irrelevant. You can fight them, physically or mentally, campaign against them, protest against them all of which uses up your energy, or you can just be a better version of you and shine like a beacon. By shining your light into the dark and darkness it becomes extinguished.
