Here are the links for the donations to the TPC, Communal Gatherings and myself given some people have been having difficulties locating them. For those on our social media pages they are posted every week all the links on the show post. Donations for the TPC and Communal Gatherings can be found on our thinkdifferent.thepeoplesclub.org site. For myself it is on the THI-SHOW.com page, or paypal using this email address: tgwusauk@hotmail.com or you can go to my patreon site and get all the transcripts of every show at patreon.com/TommyW. Thanks once again to all who donate to both causes it is much appreciated. The second of 6 land deals under contract is now concluded this week, more updates next week. A deep pondering show this one, as many of the pieces this week asks you to think long and hard on your thinking, actions or role in life, and how you can make corrections with it within yourselves. As this week marks the start of the new fear based program, that has been rolled back out again like a giant hamster wheel, and predictably the teenager actress with aspergers leads the way again. It would appear now to mark the end of the Covid news cycle as the MSM tired of being hammered by the narrative of Covid, and so now the shift is back to climate change. Suddenly in the news items surrounding Covid and vaccines are en masse scaled back by the MSM and lets provide another distraction, and wheel out other fake experts to distract, guilt and shame the public. Predictably being led by the el-ites, yet who is responsible for the energy mess? who continues to use coal, gas, nuclear power? when we have had free and clean energy for over 100 years. Who continues to peddle gas guzzling forms of transport? yet we have alternatives over a hundred years ago. Who destroyed all the rain forests and natural habitats for their business ventures? Who made several holes in the planet for their insatiable greed, via various mining projects? Who destroyed the oceans dumping all kinds of toxic waste, instead of spending money on safer options? Who destroyed our skies and crops with their chemical spraying and weather manipulation tactics? The main focus of efforts to curb global warming has been the ever-rising emissions of carbon dioxide (CO2) from human activities, such as generating power and clearing forests, who created that? Who created the taxes on the people and yet didn't use it in a proper way? Who destroyed our children's health and teeth with their dumping of more toxic waste into the water system? Who stifled the peoples and the planets progress with their educating and not teaching system, making people useless eaters because they have little to no knowledge of how to be different? Who destroyed the ozone layer by dispersing more toxic chemicals into the skies and using rockets when we have had other better, cheaper and safer forms of travel for at least 70 years? Who creates the excess methane that is considered a warming gas, oil and gas people, yes in part farming which is a necessity, but another issue because shareholders want too much money, corporate companies want a throw away society to generate more shekels, which creates large landfills. Who invested in and created all the world deadly arsenals, militarized and used deadly toxins, poisonous gases, nuclear weapons plus other weapons of mass destruction. Who neglected the roads, infrastructure, parks and improvements because shareholders wanted all the profits? Who neglected the water system, sewer systems, electric systems that create massive fires because all the profits go to shareholders not investment, hello Rothschilds PG & E, underground transport systems to again feed greed based shareholders? Who overlooks the fact we produce enough food for 3 planets per year, yet over 1/2 of the world are starving? Who overlooks the fact that 2.3B don't have access to a toilet, 1.3B don't have access to electricity, and 27K children die each day from malnutrition? Who bought up all the land and forced the population into denser and denser concrete jungles, then complain about the smog, when every man woman and child could have a 1031 square feet of land each and all fit into Texas? It wasn't people, it was the system of bloodline families, Hebrew Annunaki and el-ites, so if as they say that climate change is a major problem, it is they who caused it and they who should address it and they who should pay for all of it. How about funding the clean up of the above Bezos, Branson and Musk instead of a dickswinging contest of I was in space first, some of our members went long before them and their outdated tin cans and circumcised penis shaped rockets, thinking they are the new Osiris. Not create guilt tripping programs and push the blame and costs onto the people. The solution they give to fix climate change? give money to the UN, the people give money to 209 Governments each year and yet they never did anything, so why is giving money to a fake corrupt organization of children fiddlers going to solve the world heating up? Will the UN send their peacekeepers to the sun, and ask it to turn the heat down a bit? The UN have peacekeepers have they ever made peace in any war zone? no, so they are incompetent. Courage is 200 on the scale of consciousness, fear is 50. For many it feels like a mountain to climb up that scale, for others it is a reflex. I see so many forgetting that they even have courage inside them pounding to get out. Today I reflect on my own courage and debate it's authenticity. Feels like my nappies (diapers) were pinned together by hands that oozed courage. I am also aware that it has scattered many from my timeline, as I boldly wore it like lipstick throughout my life. It has dawned on me today that maybe some see courage as a defect of character and something to be ashamed of, rather than a stepping stone to freedom.

This is how the media works in presenting a story and then twisting the narrative to deflect the original issue. 18 Jewish teenagers, part of a group who had been visiting religious sites in Ukraine, were initially disallowed from traveling on a flight home due to a dispute over COVID-19 protocols on the KLM-operated leg of their journey from Kyiv to Amsterdam. Ukraine is one of the ancestral homes of the Jews is why they are visiting, long before the British mandate decided to give them a fake country. A day later, Delta Air Lines allegedly kicked off the same girls for swapping seats on a Friday morning flight, Rabbi Yisroel Kahan claimed in an interview. At this point you think great, more people need to not follow protocols based on fake science and an experimental vaccine, that near 18 months on, has not yet been approved. But then the slide story appears.

Rabbi Kahan said that he suspects anti-Semitism is at play with regard to Delta's decisions. With anti-Semitism, if it looks like a duck and quacks like a duck, then it probably is a duck, he said. All to predictable, the Rabbi would have been better served praising the independent free will adult thinking choice of the students, but no, he rolls out the woe is me line that after 80 years is just wearing thin.

Remember when Gates and Biden warned there would be no or less meat? UN meat tax will close down Australia's cattle industry and starve 80 million people, says Bob Katter. As a major sponsor of the UN talkfest will the LNP Government support the proposed beef tax? Bob Katter MHR, says a carbon tax on meat, which has been proposed at a United Nations food summit, would shut down Australia's cattle industry and starve 80 million people alone. The True Animal Price Protein Coalition proposed a meat tax of a €1 ($1.61) per kilo, at the summit in Rome last week of which Australia is a major sponsor, having contributed $63.9m. Almost every single calf that is born in Australia is produced on land that can't be used for any other purpose, Mr Katter said. If you introduce that tax and wipe out the cattle industry, then there is 2.4 billion kilos of protein that will no longer be available. Australia on an average year turns off 8 million cattle for consumption, each with 300 kgs of consumable meat. The average family of five eats 150 kg of beef a year, so you are going to starve 80 million people to satisfy your ideology. There is no alternative feedstock that can provide such an enormously high protein regime. The staple diets in Indonesia, Europe, Japan, South Korea and South America is meat. You've got to eat a lot of rice to get the same protein content that beef provides, and even more salad and that is a message to Vegans, it is not the glory role you all thought it was, plants are living creations as well. Whether we like it or not, our diet for most people depends on consuming meat, just because a plant doesn't make any audible sound when killing it, does not mean it is living. A balance diet is what is required, not old system programs to divide the people. Mr. Katter said the other problem with the meat tax is that much of the Australian landscape will become a wasteland again and will not be used to produce anything.

You've heard of plant-based meat, but have you ever heard of 3D printed meat? well there is now. There is a Spanish startup business that hopes you will start to see a whole lot more of it, does anyone ask what is in it? Everyone thought the 3D printers would be for their benefit, like all technology it will only be released if it works for the system, not the people. Perhaps more caution and thinking is needed for the med beds brigade, which 8 years later and despite it being owned and pushed by a major bloodline family, the Rands like Keshe nothing of note was produced, just more promises that never get delivered.

A group of 22 Democrats in the Texas House of Representatives on Friday sued Republican lawmakers in the state, including Gov. Greg Abbott, in the latest escalation of their ongoing feud. In the lawsuit, first reported by the Texas Tribune, lawyers for the lawmakers argue that GOP attempts to bring them back for a special session are violations of their civil rights, alleging a "discriminatory scheme" to violate their constitutional right to assemble. The lawmakers also allege that Abbott and Republican Reps. Dade Phelan and James White engaged in a conspiracy "by public statements and otherwise, to attempt to deny, coerce, threaten, intimidate, and prevent" the Democrats from their constitutional rights. If ever Americans should see the pure staged theater of their Government representatives, this is it. A group of Democrats leave their state in a political and legal stunt, then when law dictates they return and face legal action for dereliction of duty to the public, they file further legal claim to delay, obfuscate and muddy the waters so the original issue is forgotten. Just like the Russian investigation, the Capital staged riot investigation it is beyond embarrassing watching a plethora of politicians acting like they are in a kindergarten play. Forget which party, it is irrelevant, though Democrats behaviors and demeanors are in particular unsavory from a public perspective, or should be. Remember they blocked the stimulus checks for $2000, until they got in power and then gave $600 and then $1400, which unless you went to Johns Hopkins equals $2000, they had blocked for months. The legal aspect that runs the Government and collects many shekels, has to be stopped. Why does so many legal wrangles occur within DC and beyond, because nearly all of the politicians are lawyers. Most lawyers as we know are snake oil people, who argue over the argument and produce circular arguments to spin out time, and in doing so, increase the amount of shekels. Under the Constitution it is illegal to have a foreign title and be a politician, all lawyers have foreign titles as they operate under the British Accreditation Registry or BAR. Lets blame Biden many will say, but what did Trump actually do to benefit the people, aside from cryptic references under the in Q tel system, which is the CIA, who have never benefitted we the people. He ignored various programs to improve the country given to him on a plate by Kim and myself, never released the publics money out of the Trust, and lost an election to a dodderly, senile old man who can barely stand up, so spare me things would be better with Trump and his handler Jared Kushner, and his puppet funding arm the Trustee, it wasn't. There are many people awake now, yet the problem is too few realize the bigger picture, beyond politics. Politics is the lowest form of awakening, it is the continuation of the drama so many people gossip in their private lives. You will never truly awaken if your sole or main focus is politics, politics is the theater of the absurd. Yes you can rail at politicians they are the convenient point fingers away from yourselves, but ultimately politicians are a reflection of the people themselves, do you like what you see? well change yourself and change the system then. If you have to ask what can I do, you are part of the problem, millions of caring and sharing people providing real solutions not just promises like some others, we can and will change everything including how the Government operates.

Here is the failed old systems latest attempt to get people to coalesce to their murderous demands to take the jab. Jennifer Aniston has expanded on why she has cut off some of her friends who have refused to be vaccinated. Aniston a product of the Waldorf training school and heavy donator to the Democrat party, said this week. She had lost a few people from her weekly routine who had decided against having a Covid jab. Some of her Instagram followers have since asked why she was so worried, given that she had been vaccinated. Because if you have the variant, you are still able to give it to me, straight out of the Dr. Fauci handbook. I may get slightly sick but I will not be admitted to a hospital and or die. Wrong Jennifer, more people have died since the vaccine than before based on real figures not Johns Hopkins. Here comes the word salad bs'ery and reverse logic that makes no sense. But I can give it to someone else who does not have the vaccine, and whose health is compromised or has a previous existing condition and therefore I would put their lives at risk. So by having the vaccine it does not prevent you having the disease, and you can even get the disease and pass it onto other people is what you are saying. Yet the chances of getting the Covid are slimmer than getting it with the vaccine Jennifer, your own immune system is a minimum of 10% to 36% a better defense against the virus, than what was stated as the cure, but clearly you are telling people it is not the cure, by saying you can pass it on!! Aniston said: There's still a large group of people who are anti-vaxxers or just don't listen to the facts. It's a real shame. What is a real shame is, your own lack of intelligence to grasp common sense and realize you have just done an advertisement to NOT take the vaccines. Another desperate attempt of lets get fake TV stars to convince the masses, it worked before 2020, but now we see through the illusion. Stick to promoting cancer causing hair products Jennifer.

In an unnerving trend, a third police officer who responded to the riot at the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6 has reportedly committed suicide. The latest case involves Officer Gunther Hashida, who was assigned to the Emergency Response Team within the Special Operations Division of Washington, D.C.'s Metropolitan Police Department. The MPD says Hashida was found deceased in his residence on Thursday, July 29. We are grieving as a Department as our thoughts and prayers are with Officer Hashida's family and friends. It remained unclear how the policeman killed himself, or if his response to the Capitol riot was a contributing factor to his demise. Hashida left behind a wife, three children and a sister. The fact that he's the third officer responding to the riot who have purportedly killed themselves is raising eyebrows. You can't tell me that's just a coincidence, said President Trump supporter Lauren Witzke, who made headlines herself in June when Wells Fargo mysteriously canceled her bank account without warning and explanation. They are either overwhelmed with guilt, or were about to release information about the federal government & intelligence agency's involvement, she added. Don't be fooled, something here is very, very wrong. The DNC party continuing the sterling work of the Clinton's, of deleting everything and everyone who goes against their opinions or official stance. Pelosi has blood on her hands, as she was instrumental to that staged event, cops showing alleged rioters to certain rooms, and guess who said she had her laptop stolen? yes Pelosi, just like the Clinton's and the emptying laptop, phone and computers. The staged rioters deleted the Pelosi files.

The White House is calling on OPEC and its allies to increase oil production as gas prices rise. The Biden administration said OPEC+'s decision to gradually ease production cuts is "simply not enough" during a "critical moment in the global recovery. The national average for a gallon of gas stood at $3.186 on Tuesday, up roughly $1 over the last year. The White House is also calling on U.S. regulators to scrutinize prices at the pump. Or here is a better solution, stop playing the global oil market game, become self sufficient and use our own oil instead of importing it and that way we can have lower gas prices permanently. What a novel idea that is, all so radical they will say, no it is called those words that bother so many people these days, it is called common sense.

Iran is ten weeks away from acquiring enough enriched uranium to build a nuclear bomb, according to the latest Israeli puppet and Defense Minister Benny Gantz. Hey Mr. Gantz Iran acquired nuclear weapons from your own country 30 years ago, so lets not beat fake war drums and scare the bots into thinking Iran is a threat, as Israel gave them nuclear weapons. Common sense question is, if nuclear weapons are a threat to peace, why does Israel have them? Iran has violated all of the guidelines set in the JCPOA, and is only around 10 weeks away from acquiring weapons-grade materials necessary for a nuclear weapon, he told ambassadors from countries on the United Nations Security Council during a briefing at the Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem. Israel has broken more UN rules than all other countries combined, did they comply? did they hell. Now is the time for deeds, words are not enough, it is time for diplomatic, economic and even military deeds, otherwise the attacks will continue. Gantz's remarks came amid rising tensions around the Gulf of Oman, where a ship was boarded by hijackers Tuesday evening and an Israeli-linked ship was struck by UAVs last week. Iran has been blamed for both attacks. Emphasizing that Israel does not see the Iranian people as an enemy, Gantz said, the Iranian regime is threatening us and sparking a regional arms race. So, Iran retaliates one or two times after multiple dozens of attacks by Israel on Iran and neighboring countries, and the pity party group cries foul. Essentially what a regional arms race means is, other countries want parity with the countries who have the said weapons for their own defense, but that doesn't work for the playground bullies as only they can have the ball. The solution is fairly simple Mr. Gantz but perhaps a tad too adult for you to comprehend, stop attacking and threatening other countries, stop stealing other countries land and resources, and stop meddling and dictating other countries policies, then the people of Israel will at last be in peace. But, sadly that doesn't generate the shekels does it Mr. Gantz? I warned removing Nuttyasshole would not generate much difference, the issue isn't the personalities as they come and go, the issue that needs to be dealt with and ended, is the program.

Iran's Foreign Ministry warned arch-foe Israel on Thursday not to take military action against the Islamic Republic, after the Jewish state threatened Tehran over a deadly tanker attack. In another brazen violation of Int'l law, Israeli regime now blatantly threatens Iran with military action, ministry spokesman Saeed Khatibzadeh said. The MT Mercer Street, managed by prominent Israeli billionaire Eyal Ofer, was attacked off Oman last week. A British security guard and a Romanian crew member were killed in what the United States, Britain and the vessel's operator Zodiac Maritime said appeared to be an Iranian drone strike. What if it was a US or Israeli Military drone? not like either of them have used that tactic to generate war and more income is it? Perhaps here is a clue, later on Friday, Zodiac Maritime said Mercer Street was sailing under the control of her crew and under her own power at 14 knots, to a safe location with a US naval escort. Why are the US providing naval support for a foreign country, for a supposed private trade vessel? Is this a US Military policy that our tax payers are funding support for Israeli trade vessels? Israel blamed Iran but provided no proof, an operator of a supposed trading ship is able to decide he was attacked by an Iranian drone, who knew the ships captains could not only identify the object, but also who made or sent it? what an extraordinary captain that is. Given the US support vessel was in close attendance to escort the alleged stricken vessel, who is to say it was not the US drone? We state this clearly: any foolish act against Iran will be met with a decisive response, and don't test us Khatizbadeh said.

Just as we warned months ago of how flight travel would suffer badly. Spirit Airlines canceled more than half its schedule on Tuesday, and American Airlines struggled to recover from weekend storms at its Texas home, stranding thousands of passengers at the height of the summer travel season. By early evening, Spirit had canceled more than 400 flights, or nearly 60% of its schedule. Nearly 100 other flights were late, the blame appeared to lie at least partly with a technology outage affecting crew scheduling. American Airlines had already canceled nearly 350 flights, it is much larger than Spirit, so those flights amounted to 11% of its schedule, still an unusually high rate. About three-fourths of the American cancellations appeared to be due at least partly to a lack of pilots, according to a company log. Yes, because you either killed them all by force jabbing or others refuse your Stasi attempts to jab them with a techno jab. The disruptions at Spirit and American are just the latest examples of airlines scrambling to deal with an increase in travel this summer. Airlines have thousands fewer employees than they did before the pandemic, but U.S. air travel has recovered to about 80% of 2019 levels. Time to boycott air travel altogether, excessive prices, two hour wait lines, where you are part stripped, sent through radiation machines, fondled all over by Total Sexual Assholes better known as the TSA, they have reduced the free drinks and meals service, they lose your luggage and post agency led goons on a plane with you watching your every move.

Now you need to show more of ze papers please, and quite why people tolerate that levels of intimidation and interference is beyond me.

Jeannette Young, the chief health officer of Queensland, Australia, told a press conference on Tuesday that unvaccinated elderly people should avoid contact with their grandchildren, after a cluster of corona virus cases was discovered in four local schools. If you're a grandparent of one of these kids, one of these households, and you haven't been vaccinated, please don't go anywhere near your grandkids, Young said. The cluster was first detected at Brisbane's Indooroopilly High School and has since spread to produce several cases at Iron Side State School, Brisbane Grammar School, and Brisbane Girl's Grammar School. Authorities recorded 16 new cases linked to the four schools on Tuesday, including five afflicting family members of students and one infection of a neighbor. The outbreak at the high school is up to 47 known cases in total. Almost 8,000 Queenslanders have been subjected to Australia's famously strict quarantine protocols in response. Warning common sense alert, If this is correct lets overview shall we, who sent the children back to school? the Government. So, the Government are to blame for the children getting sick, and perhaps instead of blocking the elderly visits with the grandchildren, she should warn the people to avoid the Government given they were responsible for it.

This was sent in by a listener and plays nicely into the next piece. Every time in the loops when times are better, persons tend to become lazy. When times are bad many search for solutions. We search for remedies of our memory blockings, that when they are gone makes us much better as beings. Now we are entering better times. Warning, now is the time to not do what we usually do under dire circumstances, and to grab this opportunity. The ouroborus effect kicking in on another level now and is going just as we predicted a few years ago. US job openings hit a fresh record in June amid reports the country continues to face a labour shortage. Job vacancies jumped by 590,000 to 10.1 million on the last day of the month, according to figures from the Labor Department. That was up from a record 9.5 million openings in May and well above economists' expectations. It comes as companies struggle to find workers in sectors such as leisure and hospitality as the economy reopens. The ratio of openings to hires, despite easing in June, remained at historically elevated levels, JPMorgan analyst Peter McCrory said. US unemployment surged to 14.8% at the start of the corona virus pandemic, but the economy has been recovering strongly this year. However, despite restrictions being eased, workers have not rushed back to jobs in the numbers expected. The people had their humdrum cycle of slave labor broken, and now look at life in a different way. But, Americans because they had life so easy for so long, in comparison to other countries has developed a lazy attitude to working, particularly in the more manual labor fields. That was left to the immigrants, largely Mexican, and it seemed manual labor to many Americans was felt beneath them, we will leave that to Mexicans who by and large will do any job to make sure their families have enough, yet Americans won't. The same applies in Europe also, so not just an issue here, it is an entitlement issue that effects this country and why people outside of this country have a poor view of Americans in general. Yet, the same people who won't do manual labor, then complain about the immigrants coming in and taking their jobs, and that applies in some cases, but not in the lower paid jobs, of which most jobs these days are in that bracket. The system is setting people up for Universal Basic Income, which will be the death knell program of ultimate control and they will then bring in the robots to replace us, or maybe the robots are more advanced versions of many of the people on this planet? Maybe that is why they got a software upgrade job, or maybe it is a kill switch?

COVID BS: We stand in historic times these days as the impossible is reached on a daily basis now it seems, so many firsts in history it becomes difficult to keep up with. But for the first time in human history we now can infect others with a disease that we ourselves do not have, to persons that has been vaccinated against that same disease. Let that sink in.

Reports are coming out of Israel indicating the claim that vaccinated people aren't getting seriously ill is nonsense. Dr. Kobi Haviv, said this on Israel's Chanel 13 August 5th.

95% of the severe patients are vaccinated, 85-90% of the hospitalizations are in fully vaccinated people. We are opening more and more COVID wards, the effectiveness of the vaccine is waning/fading out. We were labeled conspiracy theorists for stating those facts before the jab, funny that.

Here comes the flip flopping rhetoric from the Gain of function shekel people. In their own words they prove the non vaxxers correct, we thank them for their own inability to not realize what they say or think, these people are a blessing for us. The powerful protection offered by Moderna's Covid vaccine does not wane in the first six months after the second dose. But during the call, Moderna executives said they anticipated that boosters would be necessary this fall to contend with the Delta variant, which became common in the United States after the results were collected. Which proves it does wane or not work. Lets not forget the variants were part of a predicted program done by Johns Hopkins and WEF Klaus Schwab ahead of the variants happening. We believe a dose three of a booster will likely be necessary to keep us as safe as possible through the winter season in the Northern Hemisphere, said Dr. Stephen Hoge, the president of Moderna. Germany, Israel and France have all decided to administer boosters to potentially vulnerable populations, no surprise there, all Rothschild's puppet countries. To older people or people with compromised immune systems or both, to bolster their immunity in the face of a Delta-driven surge in cases. Our Immune systems are compromised by your own vaccines and your pharmaceutical buddies - just saying. The Biden administration is considering a similar strategy. Scientists, though, have not reached a consensus on whether booster shots are needed to boost immunity in fully vaccinated people. On Wednesday, the World Health Organization called for a moratorium on boosters till the end of September, because they are not ready to release the newer variant yet, seems their plans have stalled, as the next one Epsilon was due out in July, oops. The group urged health leaders to focus instead on vaccinating 10 percent of people in all countries. Dr. Paul A. Offit, a member of the Food and Drug Administration's vaccine advisory committee, said that the data presented by Moderna and other vaccine manufacturers so far, did not justify rolling out boosters in the next few months. That wouldn't be needed, he said, unless there was evidence that the vaccines are no longer protecting people against severe disease. But then if it is required, that means the other two doses are invalid and not fit for purpose, and so will you call for their immediate cessation Mr. Offit? I suspect not. Vaccines doesn't prevent non sick people from dying or side effects either Mr. Offit, have you considered that or is that too much common sense? You want this vaccine to protect against the kind of illness to cause you to seek medical attention, or be hospitalized, and until you see any evidence that that isn't true, then you don't need a booster dose. Moderna's data came from a new analysis of its clinical trial, which started in late July 2020 and recruited a total of 30,000 volunteers in the United States. The clinical trial was started in late July 2020? oh my, what that means is, the vaccines given out to people thinking it was the cure, was actually the trial, that was pushed by Government and media alike, oops. In November, the company announced that the vaccine had an impressive efficacy of 94.1 percent, that number didn't change much after six months, neither did the 99.97% immune system, so why take something if you are not sick that reduces your chances of getting it? The trial found that the vaccine's efficacy against severe Covid-19 was 98.2 percent, still lower than the immune system. While three of the volunteers who received a placebo died of Covid-19, none of the vaccinated volunteers did. Eh 3 died of a placebo? what was in it? the immunostupidity virus?

Last week, Pfizer and BioNTech released a detailed report of their own mRNA vaccine's durability after six months. The companies estimated that the vaccine's efficacy started off at 96.2 percent for the first two months after the second dose, it then declined after that, to 83.7 percent by six months. 12.5% decrease in 6 months and no one sounded the alarm bells? 1 in 8 failed based on that. But experts cautioned that the calculated decline in the Pfizer-BioNTech study could have been a statistical artifact, yes when figures work against them out roll the excuses. Chance alone could lead to a different efficacy estimate at different times. Chance alone that our immune system is statistically better than all vaccines combined. I would not assume waning immunity based on this study alone, said Maria Deloria Knoll, an epidemiologist at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. Those in alliance with the Johns Hopkins center? Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, World Health Organization (WHO), Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), UNICEF, Ministries of Health, Global and local Non-Governmental Organizations, Vaccine Manufacturers and Academic & Research Institutions. Quite a consortium of psychopaths and shekel people. The F.D.A. is expected to give full approval to the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine next month. Moderna filed for final approval of its vaccine on June 1, and expects to complete its submission in August. Pfizer is also expected to ask the F.D.A. to authorize a booster dose this month. To estimate the efficacy of their vaccine, Moderna researchers looked at data from the trial up until late March, because the figures after that showed alarming deaths and injuries. The Delta variant did not become common in the United States until weeks later, as a result, they cannot determine how well the vaccine protects people against Delta based on the clinical trial. They cannot determine it because A: the clinical trial was the roll out of the vaccines and B: the Delta variant is the vaccine. In June, Moderna released details on an experiment in which its researchers tested antibodies from people who received their vaccine against the Delta variant. They found that the antibodies were moderately less effective at blocking the variant from infecting cells. In the earnings call on Thursday, the company presented details from additional studies, they found that the strength of the antibodies against variants waned substantially by six months after the second dose. Moderna has been developing a range of boosters and testing them in clinical trials. On Thursday the company reported that, a booster containing half a dose of the original formulation strengthened the antibodies against the Delta variant, substantially above the levels seen shortly after volunteers received their two original doses. The waning antibodies combined with the recent surge of infections would call for a booster, Dr. Hoge said in the earnings call. We believe a booster dose is likely to be necessary this fall, particularly in the face of the Delta variant, he said. Yes because that was the plan all along, the Gain of Function shekel generator. Rebecca Kahn, a postdoctoral research fellow at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, disagreed. These Phase 3 results underscore that the vaccines are highly effective," she said. While it's important to continue evaluating their effectiveness against new variants, the priority needs to be increasing global access to first and second doses." In an earnings call last week, Pfizer also said that its booster raised antibodies above their original level. The booster studies from both companies have yet to be published in a scientific journal. Do you know where the highest form of antibodies comes from, our own bodies, as those who contracted "Covid" in Italy months before the Wuhan incident, as they still had the antibodies in use 6-7 months later, oops.

Dr. Carol Baker is a professor of pediatrics and of molecular virology and microbiology at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, TX. Previously, she was head of the section of infectious diseases in the Department of Pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine for 25 years. More than that, she's the chair of the national CDC advisory committee on immunization practices in the USA. CDC - check. She also used to work for the Gates Foundation, Gates - check. She is better known as the person who stated her famous words at a CDC meeting in 2017, where she stated the best solution for anti vaxxers is, get rid of the whites. The rest of her presentation, you can see the other “panellists” nodding their heads in agreement. Carol Baker just casually threw it out there in 2017 that we must get rid of white people, as they are the only ones refusing to take the vaccines. Further proof if our members ever needed it of the FRWL narrative and the Hebrew Annunaki old world control system's plans haven't changed in 110K years, eliminate the white population.

OTHER ITEMS: New York Governor Andrew Cuomo has resigned after an inquiry found he sexually harassed multiple women, prompting efforts to remove him. The best way I can help now is if I step aside, he said on Tuesday, while maintaining the claims were untruthful. His resignation goes into effect in 14 days. werrrrll two weeeekks! Power will then be transferred to Lieutenant Governor Kathy Hochul. The Democrat faced pressure from his own party to resign since last week's report, including from President Biden. Whilst not wishing to down play what at this point are allegations, an important point this must be done in overview, personalities pushed aside and what are the facts? The fastest and easiest way in their world to bring down or remove a person in a position is, use the sexual misconduct allegation. It works most of the time, and is a classic agency based tactic of people in many walks of life. One misaligned alt media personality used it against me recently, it is a classic way for the female scorned or otherwise to use against men, it's the oldest trick in the book for the victimhood based female. Ignoring their own behavior and lets point fingers of blame onto someone else, that often has damning consequences whether it is true or not. The blackmail program ran in corridors of power uses this very tactic quite often, first it was the same sex tactic, then it shifted to being with children tactic, because the public will become the jury and convict that person without evidence, because it is a topic they themselves cannot face the reality of. But, lets look at the allegations shall we. Eleven women have accused Governor Cuomo of misconduct, eight women say he made offensive, condescending or sexual comments. Whilst not knowing the levels he did that, that thing goes on in every office around the world, sexual innuendo and banter, male and female, that is brushed off as such, until an agenda kicks in. Seven women say he inappropriately touched or groped them at least once, again without knowing the level of groping or where, and clearly there are such boundaries, but why was it not brought up when it happened? This again comes down to another factor, the Milgram Experiment aligned with the Rockstar effect. Whereby people in authority are allowed to do and say things just because they are a personality, wrong thinking, those in those positions need to act with more responsibility. But, then the fame aspect kicks in, I was groped, winked at or kissed by blah blah, and it fuels the gossip and status of some people, because they got attention from a so called personality. A famous quote by Donald Trump saying you just go up to women and grab them by the pussy, they won't or can't do anything because I am Donald Trump. That is the rockstar effect, that people will let stars of the idiot box do things they wouldn't allow an ordinary person on the street do, that is being complicit in the wrong action whichever way you look at it. It is no different to the girls who stand near the front of rock concerts, known as groupies, but they are not groupies, they are prostituting themselves to a person they don't know and have never met, all to say to their friends I did whatever with a famous personality. It is shallow and demeaning behavior to all women doing that, yet the same people complain if an ordinary guy in the bar approaches or looks at them. What that is saying is, if someone is famous they can do what they like, wrong thinking and is creating a vicious circle of abuse of other females by people who can't control themselves. It is setting the wrong examples for the female model, that seducement of the body works to get them what they want, money and status, it is denigrating the female archetype, play a classy female and stop the Hathor sexual and power seducement games. The mixed messages and actions are the issue in most cases within office and work environments, no is no and silence is the sleight of hand consent program, that operates on many levels. We have spoken about defining things far more clearly than we did in the old world, silence equals compliance. Four women alleged he kissed them without consent, again it depends on the circumstances, how he did it, we cannot just assume it was mouth to mouth or other sexual zones, but again one has to ask as to why all these events take so long to come out? Why is it because someone is famous, are poor behaviors not addressed in the here and now, well often the case goes back to the rockstar effect, and the piece we did earlier in the year of people in power being blackmailed or blackmailing, it is an epidemic within those circles and allows devious characters to leverage those situations. If Cuomo has done all these things and it is of the higher category of sexual pestering, he deserves all he gets, but the general concern that applies to all people now, due to the fake victimhood program and everyone is offended by everything these days, to be used and abused by unscrupulous people, that is the danger of these programs. As for Cuomo, one must overview again, 19 allegations of which most will be minor, and some may have been highly inappropriate has brought him down. Yet, thousands of deaths of the elderly in the care homes didn't, that is what is really wrong here, a bit of sexual banter and horseplay is considered more harmful than killing many of New York's elderly population. That is a society problem and deep failure of us all to focus on the titillating drama, than real life situations. Sex garners attention, but the deaths of many elderly didn't, that is a deep failure on behalf of much of our society, and that has to be changed by us all.

This is some research by one of the members of the law group that confirms much of our narrative and adds a bit more, additional insights provided by me also. Judaism (Judaism) was an official Roman Cult created around 71 CE. Confirms no letter J, but also the original name for Judea pronounced Jew dea. The name Dea is primarily a female name of Latin origin that means Goddess, the Jew goddess which is Isis, Judea used to be spelt IVDEA, there was no J or U at that time that came later, add J and U together and you get Jew. A Gewe was an enlightened individual (the elite) and a Iewe was an animal/slave, the masses. Gewe phonetically is pronounced as GEEWEE, but really is said as Jew, Iewe equals we the sheep. Emperor Vespasian orderer Flavius Iosephus (Josephus), who was Iosephus bar Matthias, son of Mithraic High Priest Matthias, to create the Septuagint assisted by several hundred scribes. Vespasian? vesp asian, the vesp from Asia? Vespasian was the first emperor from an equestrian family, given it was Asian and horse related, perhaps that piece about the horse headed chimeras springs to mind? Vesp is commonly used in the gaming world, which contains many creatures said to be fiction, but with knowledge more resembles facts. Vesps are the primary antagonists of the 2015 book The Silence by Tim Lebbon, and its 2019 film adaptation of the same name. They are an ancient species of bat-like monsters that, while blind, are highly sensitive to sound. After being freed from a subterranean cave system, they begin attacking and killing off life on Earth. Vesps resemble small, pterosaur-like creatures with wide wingspans and small bodies. Their heads are large and almost completely consist of mouths with hundreds of sharp teeth. They have no eyes, but possess two large glands on the sides of their heads and large, oval nostrils. Released from underground, lizard like, attack and killing life on Earth? sound familiar? This was a blend of Mithraic (known as Satanic today) & corrupted Celtic and Mesopotamian texts first formed in Ancient Greek and Latin. Mithraism came from Persia and was the worship of Ba'al, included child sacrifice and all the other awful things we know of as Satanism. Saytan/Satan was their Lord, whom they named Saboath. Saboath could translate to the Sabbath. Saboath the transliteration of the Hebrew word tsebha'oth, meaning hosts, armies. Or reverse it and it is armies of hosts, again does that sound familiar? In the LXX, the Hebrew word is rendered by Almighty. Almighty just means the mighty god, it is not a description of single person, but another title. It may designate Jehovah as either (1) God of the armies of earth, or (2) God of the armies of the stars, or (3) God of the unseen armies of angels; or perhaps it may include all these ideas. The Roman Emperor was Lucifer, the light bringer, which was Julius Caesar and subsequently transferred to being Jesus the light bearer, and so Jesus is in essence was Lucifer. The Septuagint became the Old Testament in the King James Bible, 1st written in the 16th century in the new made up language called English, Hebrew was made up around 300 to 800 CE I think. The Septuagint became the Tanakh/Talmud when Judaism was restored in the 16th century, and the various tribes of the Khazar Diaspora were for the first time called Jews. The Septuagint is also called the translation of the seventy, because tradition states that the Septuagint was translated by seventy. The Septuagint has its origin in not Jerusalem but we are back to Egypt again and Alexandria. A Diaspora is a scattered population whose origin lies in a separate geographic locale. What that doesn't state is, whether that geographic locale was on this planet? Diaspora means the dispersion or scattering of, by whom? and where from? because these people did not have and have never had a homeland here, just a parasitic host invading countries. Who sent them? Lucifer, who used them to scatter, well that is in the last two letters of Diaspo RA. The label Jew was not widely accepted until the extremist Sabbataen cult called the AshkeNazi's accepted the label of Jewish. The word God of the King James Bible came from the Persian word Gad meaning rapist amongst other things, and was used as the name Lord God to hide the real name of Satan/Saboath as their Lord. Rapist of which? sexual or the minds via psycho the rapists? Lastly, SS was the Sancte See or Holy See and formed the foundation of the AshkeNazi SS.

EXPOSE: Cancer Knowledge of cancer is speculated to go back as far as ancient Egyptian medical practice around 2500 B.C, hmm what a coincidence that is. In more modern times, during the Renaissance, beginning in the 15th century, scientists developed greater understanding of the human body. Scientists like Galileo and Newton began to use the scientific method, which later was used to study disease. Autopsies, done by Harvey (1628), led to an understanding of the circulation of blood through the heart and body that had until then been a mystery. In 1761, Giovanni Morgagni of Padua was the first to do something which has become routine today, he did autopsies to relate the patient's illness to pathologic findings after death. This laid the foundation for scientific oncology, the study of cancer. The famous Scottish surgeon John Hunter (1728-1793) suggested that some cancers might be cured by surgery and described how the surgeon might decide which cancers to operate on. Hunter was in league with the Jenner family, and it has recently been alleged that Hunter's brother William, and his brother's former tutor William Smellie, were responsible for the deaths of many women whose corpses were used for their studies on pregnancy. Hunter is alleged to have been connected to these deaths, since at the time he was acting as his brother's assistant. The John Hunter Clinic of the Chelsea and Westminster Hospital in London is named after him, as are the John Hunter Hospital in Newcastle, Australia and the Hunterian Neurosurgical Laboratory of the Johns Hopkins Hospital. Hunter's house was the setting for the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde movie also. If the tumor had not invaded nearby tissue and was moveable, he said, there is no impropriety in removing it. A century later the development of anesthesia allowed surgery to flourish, and classic cancer operations such as the radical mastectomy were developed. The 19th century saw the birth of scientific oncology with use of the modern microscope in studying diseased tissues. Rudolf Virchow, often called the founder of cellular pathology, provided the scientific basis for the modern pathologic study of cancer. As Morgagni had linked autopsy findings seen with the unaided eye with the clinical course of illness, so Virchow correlated microscopic pathology to illness. This method not only allowed a better understanding of the damage cancer had done, but also aided the development of cancer surgery. Body tissues removed by the surgeon could now be examined and a precise diagnosis could be made. The pathologist could also tell the surgeon whether the operation had completely removed the cancer. Today, cancer treatments are still quite primitive, often relying on surgery to remove cancerous tissue in the hope that it has not already spread to other tissue. If it has, then this may result in further surgery, and so on. Other treatments include radiotherapy usually using x-rays which, were discovered in 1895. In the region of 40% of people with cancer receive radiotherapy. As well as destroying the DNA of cancerous cells, the therapy also causes severe damage to healthy tissue. The theory is that normal tissues are more able to repair themselves than cancerous cells. Chemotherapy uses a single cytotoxic drug or cocktail of drugs which are poisonous to cells. The aim is to kill off the cancer cells, but this also has the effect of killing healthy cells. One of the most common side effects is hair loss. Despite cancer being known to more modern medical science for over 250 years, and the billions upon billions spent on research, there is no effective cure, and treatments still rely on old and highly damaging methods and a lot of hope. New and effective treatments seem to have made very little progress in the past century or so, and primarily involve tinkering with existing treatments. The reality is that around 50% of people diagnosed with cancer will die from the disease. In the United States the death rate from cancer has only been reduced by about 16% over a 20 year period, not a glowing statistic by any means. There has been less reduction in death from the disease in the UK. One of the biggest cancer charities in the UK is Cancer Research UK (registered charity 1089464) with a generated income for the last financial statement (2013-2014) of £537 million. A charity which provides support to cancer patients is MacMillan Cancer Support (registered charity number 261017) with a generated income for the same period of £156 million. In the United States, the American Cancer Society generated an income of $925 million according to the last available accounts to November 2013. $925M 8 years ago and for what? more research of which anything of value is discarded. A complete and utter waste of money, and would have been better going to local charities that actually achieve something, now if those funds was to go into the TPC, we would produce cures, not treatment. In addition to major charities, there are a number of national organizations in many countries, and in regions such as Europe, which also generate significant revenue from public and commercial sources.

Cancer is very big business: Drug companies are making huge profits from sales of expensive targeted drug therapies. Sales of Xalkori (lung cancer) and Zelboraf (melanoma) account for around 46% of the estimated whopping $100 billion in cancer drug sales worldwide. Right there is the reason for no cures, cures doesn't make the shekels and they did warn us on the Georgia Guidestones of much reduced population and gave the solution behind it, saying don't be a cancer on the planet. Be not a Cancer upon the Earth; Leave Room for Nature. There has been many claims of cures including the German Scientist who cured cancer in 1927, he was killed in 1928. Then there is a famous banking family name guy called Otto Heinrich Warburg who is said to have cured cancer in 1923. Cancer grows in oxygen deprived acidic tissue, diseases cannot survive in an alkaline body. Deprive a cell of 35% of its oxygen for 48 hours, and it may becomes cancerous. Remember the oxygen cutting going on in India, perhaps there is your answer why. Why did so many need the oxygen to begin with is the great question? Johanna Budwig, a German scientist, found the cancer cure in 1951. She was a 6-time nominee for the Nobel Prize and held two doctorates, one in medicine and one in pharmaceutical chemistry. She also found the cure for cancer, as well as numerous other diseases, like arthritis, diabetes, cardiovascular problems, and liver dysfunctions. What she discovered was that cancer cells are simply cells that lack the necessary at a molecular level, with the right photons and neutrons in order to mature. Furthermore, she found that the red blood cells of cancer patients have no fatty layer, unlike the ones in healthy people. This led to the cure of cancer, which showed a 90% success rate. She successfully treated numerous cancer patients, even the ones in stage 4, after the therapy with radiation and failed surgery. Her cancer treatment included nutrition and diet changes. The diet contained no additives, no animal products except for the quark (a cheese) or cottage cheese, combined with flaxseed oil. This combination of protein and oil provided the necessary nutrients on a molecular level, so the cancer cells were absorbed or sloughed off while the body was completely healthy only after 3 months. But then we come to a bloodline family who has withheld the cure from society along with pharmaceutical companies and their desire for shekels.

The Rockefeller 'cure'? A Dr. day made a statement back in the 1960's about a cure for cancer and many other eugenic style items, which we will cover in another show. It is difficult to get information concerning a possible cure direct from Rockefeller University, which is understandable if Dr Day's statement in correct, and there is no reason for it not to be. The university is involved in cancer research through its Anderson Center for Cancer Research, which was established to encourage and support collaborations and approaches in developing treatment and researching cures. Cancer has been researched at the Rockefeller University, when it was an institute since around 1911, and several milestones in cancer research have been attributed to Rockefeller scientists. Since cancer has been researched in the relatively modern age, there have been many claims of treatments said to cure cancer, and many claims that cures are being suppressed by large drug companies, and other organizations such as the Rockefeller Institute/University. The claims have prompted many countries including the U.S. and U.K., to introduce legislation specifically design to prevent claims of treatments which alleged to cure cancer, which have not originated from standard scientific practices. In one way the legislation can be seen as controlling claims made by manipulators and charlatans to protect vulnerable people, and on the other it can be seen as suppressing any potential cure, which does not originate from the standard medical practice and research. And ultimately it achieves the compartmentalization the old world was famous for, and introduce the Monopoly groups. Unfortunately, there are the more unscrupulous in society who will take advantage of people, and promote therapies or remedies which will have little or no effect, with some causing health problems. That actually explains the standard medical procedure group does it not? The largely unregulated diet/slimming industry is a good example, where products have been sold based on dubious claims or references at an inflated price, effectively preying on the vulnerability of others. On the other hand, a claim that something has the potential to cure cancer relies on the scientific community seeing initial credibility in the claim, and conducting further research within established scientific testing models. The chances of something being researched by the scientific community are slim, unless the source of the claim is already established within that community, and it falls within the remit of their current research, which is often influenced by their financiers who may have other interests. They always have other interests, the shekels plus agendas dictated by WHO, UN and other leading anti human groups. These interests are often commercial, and unless there is potential profit in a claimed cure, it is highly unlikely that any research will receive funding, which is how a cartel or monopoly is created. This effectively reduces the chances of anything which may be freely available to the population from being researched. Again, we are moving into the corridors of power where profit dictates, what will and will not be permitted at each stage of the process. As with many other major scientific discoveries especially in health science, it is 'maverick' scientists who bring about real change. Casting aside the dogma and rules imposed on them, the maverick scientist conducts real research and considers all possibilities while attempting to reach their goal. A more recent example is that of UK researcher, Professor Gerry Potter. In 2001, Potter hit the headlines with claims that he had discovered a drug that could rapidly kill cancer cells with no side effects. He claimed that the drug could almost eradicate cancerous cells within 24 hours, and was 10,000 times more toxic to the cancer cells than healthy ones. By comparison chemotherapy is at best only twice as toxic to cancerous cells as healthy ones. Potter made his discovery within two weeks of starting his research. oh dear it was going so well until the 2 weeks kicked in!! The drug, which could come in tablet form, only becomes toxic when it comes into contact with an enzyme found in cancer cells. In laboratory tests the drug destroyed 95% of cancer cells with the enzyme, including those of breast, colon, stomach, and brain cancer. Tumors resistant to other forms of treatment were also destroyed. Potter predicted that it could take as long as a decade before the drug became available on the market, because of the testing process for new drugs. In addition to clinical trials lasting many years, investors are sought so that the trials and further research can continue. The results of these trials may also result in the drug being approved for some areas of treatment and not others. Even when clinical trials are completed, it can take considerable time before a drug becomes available to those who would benefit from it, with cost to health authorities being the main deciding factor. None of which applied to the Covid vaccines candidates, funny that.

Commercialization takes over: The overly bureaucratic and dogmatic systems effectively inhibit effective treatments coming to market, as each minor technicality is scrutinized by hordes of scientists and accountants. This can place a potentially valuable treatment in limbo for many years. What has accountants got to do with medical anyway? does anyone ask? In my opinion a ceiling of 10% profits on all medical care, treatments and supplies should apply globally, the idea that people make vast profits of others being sick, is in and of itself a deep sickness and dare I say it, cancer stain on humanity. Though it is debatable of how human those implementing these programs really are. As of today, access to effective cancer treatment is not available to every person who would potentially benefit from it, even though Potter's discovery, which is one of many beneficial discoveries in the field of cancer research was made in 2001. The treatment of cancer is still based in very barbaric and ineffective treatments such as surgery and chemotherapy, with a survival rate at best of 50% of cancer sufferers. Chopping people up and blasting them with highly damaging and toxic chemicals is still considered to be acceptable, when other less destructive methods could be available right now. Taking the overall picture into account, it is highly likely that effective cancer treatments have been suppressed in the past. The reasons could be as simple as the lack of the scientific community of the period, failing to take notice of new discoveries outside of their narrow perspectives, or the lack of financial interest in development. Rockefeller may be no different to many other organizations in this respect. Profit before doing what is best for the majority of the population. Or maybe the lack of interest in curing the disease is part of a wider agenda to keep the earth's population under control. To repeat what Dr Day said, But consider if people stop dying of cancer, how rapidly we would become overpopulated. You may as well die of cancer as something else. Final reminder of the quote on the Georgia Guidestones, Be not a Cancer upon the Earth; Leave Room for Nature. Perhaps a new term is required for the people, Be not a Hebrew Annunaki parasite upon the Earth, leave room for nurture and nature, leave room for care and cure, leave room for need not greed.

Some more word salad that too few ponder on what they are saying and or meaning. The terms smart Alec along with your too clever for your own good, does anyone not wonder why people say that? is it a compliment albeit backhanded or a negative retort? Like it is too good to be true, if we keep saying that nothing good will be true. But, smart alec and too clever for your own good are both limitation programs to pull people back into the dumb masses and ignorance programs. Many people around the world have been stifled by those very words, whereby they have played down their knowledge to fit in with the overwhelming stupid masses. Are you saying most people are stupid? yes I am, look around you, look at their ignorance of only believing the now proven total system of lies on every level. People voting for their Governments is stupid, as not one of them has ever changed anything for we the people. People lining up for an experimental vaccine, that contains no virus, failed clinical trials and getting jabbed, all whilst 99% of them are not sick and never will be, now that is stupid on a mass scale. People believing a 22-60" box with animated figures inside of it, as the truth, yet how many of the animated figures on the TV have you met to gain a trust of them? in most cases none, well that is absurd and stupid. But just why do we denigrate each other based on a persons ability to learn quicker than others? Well, it brings in low self worth and competitive and comparative traits again. This is another program of how we the people stifle our own progress, by shutting down people with the knowledge. Given it is the few with more important knowledge on this planet, the ones who dare to question the official narrative, why would you be labeling them smart alec or too clever for their own good? Whilst it is in overview a backhand compliment, it is not always relayed that way by the person stating it. It boils down to envy, but the solution of envy is, to become or do the target of the envy yourself, that way both people win, not drag the other person down because he or she has more intelligence or knowledge than you. Because ultimately those are the very people who will save you from your own stupidity and ignorance. Just ponder on these words a second, you are too clever for your own good, think about it, how ridiculous does it sound? what is wrong being clever, and why is it a sleight being too clever? surely everyone would want to be clever? no?

I was pondering the other day as I am helping a few privately overcome their traumas, and used an analogy that in overview didn't quite make sense, so I pondered more, and I know some are thinking oh no, he is about to twist our brains again. I likened traumas to an enclosed room, but you have to open the door or the proverbial Pandoras box of traumas to be able to see it and then correct it. But many take a peak and close the door again, as that trauma is too uncomfortable to address at that time, because people think it is too hard, yet once done people realize with their real eyes, how much easier it was than they thought. The hardest part of shadow work is holding onto the past and the traumas, it weighs you down, weighs heavy on you and your development, the easy part is actually releasing it. What is hard is easy, what is easy is hard springs to mind. So why is that? well it all comes down to the low vibrational frequency of, fear. Fear drives the traumas, fears fill your thoughts and makes you stress, stress causes sickness, they provide you pills that make you more sick, so you need more pills and you are back in the repeat cycle game again. So I pondered as to how when you open the door it doesn't close because you couldn't face it, but close down that room of traumas forever. People assume you have to tackle the issue through the door, but on other planes and a belief in yourself, this can be done very differently. Like the mirror you don't look in it, you look at it or from behind the mirror which is not the reflective part. How can you look from behind the mirror, many will ask, how do you know you cannot do something unless you had tried it? Again it comes back to fear, fear of your own potential and abilities, it is the ultimate in slavery and limitation program. Like the prism of 7 points of light from behind that produces the single point of light from the front, the trauma room can be accessed in the same way. Go through the wall into the room, address the issue within the room, process it, forgive yourself and forgive all others, package it up and expel it out of your vessel and field, from within. That way when you are opening the door in the room it is to get out and away from that trauma, and by closing the door you are getting closure on the trauma and or the issue. Symbolically, you can the disappear that door in your corridor of traumas, replace the door with a picture of happiness.

The message of lets not repeat the movie, the failings of the past and start afresh and build a new. Perhaps one word breakdown will be a reminder of their possible word magic games, like Amen is a tribute to Ra. It is one word that curiously is said the same phonetically in America, when many other words are not. Like concrete, Americans often use a letter less in their phonetics of a word, English says conc- rete, Americans con crete, you can check out many other words, and you will see the slight difference of where Americans pronounce words differently than the traditional English phonetics, Americans split the word at the third letter, the UK the 4th letter. Yet curiously one words remains the same, that word is re peat. But if you apply the extra letter it will become rep eat. Perhaps the lesson for change is, by staying the same and repeating, you will be allowing the reps to eat you. Maybe the shortened versions of the two American fake political parties is indicative also, Rep and Dem, is that Reptile and Demon? In the UK it is Cons and Lab, the cons who con and the lab rats, ain't that right Dr. I don't give a Fauci? or we will PUT you into slave labor and make lots of shekels off of it, and call it socialism.

The cancer of the red tape and bureaucracy is now in full swing, with Covid leading the way in it. Bureaucracy is the tool of the old world system to create havoc, chaos and frustration amongst the populace. Jackass Civil Servant types introduce it in Government circles, where one question only has one answer and heaven forbid if you give the triality answer to the question, all hell breaks loose. Vaccine or no vaccine, neither I am not sick thank you, renders puzzled and furrowed brows, and looks of you can't say that answer as it is not in the boxes, well, I don't fit in boxes and neither should anyone else. Questionnaires steering you down a profiling based path, with limited or limiting answers, all designed to fill the databases they have on all people, stored in vast underground bunkers in Utah. They know your whole life, lifestyle, habits, purchasing records, where you go and how long you spent there, one giant perverted voyeuristic system. Forms they give us make no sense, long winded and completely by and large irrelevant, like a visit I had to the dentist, I only went for an examination and was asked on a form how many times I had sex with other people and how many times I jacked off, I kid you not, what has that got to do with cleaning teeth, unless you have pube hairs stuck in them!, it defies belief, yet people answer these types of questions. Don't get me started on the automated message system they have, limited choices to press a button, but no button to speak direct to customer service, we don't recognize that selection, yes because you are a jackass bot is why, devoid of any humanity and common sense. Anyone ask why they still call it Customer Service these days, because there is none, a machine is not customer service. But, it is all part of the program to delay even the most basic interactions between the people and the service these day, and it is absolutely appalling on behalf of the companies, but more appalling is we go along with it and tolerate it. Some members recently experienced my reactions to spam callers, despite being on the no call list, how can people call you if you are on that list? the answer is the no call list is another waste of time filling out forms to not provide the service it details. My response to silent calls or clearly delayed automated calls is, this is the war office do you want a fight? and they quickly put the phone down. The other one is you have dialed sex gardening division, first ram the turnip up your jacksie, you would be amazed how quickly the call ends. Airports, Immigration is a classic ze papers please venue and designed to humiliate the people and waste vast amounts of time over alleged terrorism prevention, it's not and here is why. They have built a massive database on all people and yet can't come up with a system that flags the few terrorists, and leaves the rest of the population alone? Are they telling us they never thought of that? or is it just designed to get people off balance, frustrated, angry and lower vibration? and then they are complaining of the rise in air rage, erm ouroborus program anyone? because they created it. We spend most of our lives now filling out forms for absolutely everything, standing in queues, waiting for someone to answer your call, and now they roll out you have to produce your vaccine papers, cards, barcodes or chips. Ze papers please has now returned after a hiatus of 80 years, I guess we never learned that Fascism which is a mask for Zionism will return again one day like a loop, until we the people recognize it and stop it.

The recent time and change piece has done much for many of you I am pleased to see, but during the Tuesday show I mentioned the second Earth falling that was on fire and charred, the fire and charred part in my vision was the Northern part of the world. With much of America and Canada on fire, maybe we are witnessing live that symbolic event as it unfolds, and no it doesn't mean we are all going to die. Fire is a cleansing act and what rise out of the ashes is something anew, up to we the people to create what that anew looks like. That's why we have the TPC, it doesn't matter how many numbers we have, the point is we have numbers, not how many. Next is a series of key quotes from our show and the first is poignant to what I just revealed. Immigration of the future will not be from country to country, but from their world to ours, was said in this show quite a few years back now, perhaps that is more understood now, than then. Another aspect of that piece and change, brings in another meme said in our show a while back, everything you ever wanted is on the other side of fear. Fear is the antithesis of growth, learning, change and freedom. Another piece I did a while back may make more sense now also. Most people are like a jigsaw in a box now, and we all know the jigsaw can never be completed, when there are missing pieces in the box. The cabal or the old world system only scattered the pieces of the jigsaw, but it is we, who created the box and the missing pieces, it is time to locate all your missing pieces, and put all of your pieces back together and ultimately discard the box. THAT people is true freedom, all else is the mask of illusion. I warned back in 2015 all peoples masks would begin to fall, and we would all see to true version of you. The masks fell and we all saw more in 2020, but then the child level elements of our species introduce new masks, new masks of illusion and people think Covid is the illusion, no it's the people, ponder deeply on that. For the religious this is an important reminder of a statement in a past show. People only love god or gods when they have failed to remember their own connection to source. Avoid the lies and seek the truth because, all truths are easy to understand once they are discovered; the point is to discover them. The truth barrier is a block of protecting the self from things people can't face or wish to hide behind. It can be and is comforting and comfortable the lie, as a child, but as a true adult you should seek the truth at all costs. Society has shown us all, they can't face the truth, and so many people are still child like people operating in an older body. People will ask why can't they see or hear? It is simple, in terms of their vessel, their truth barrier is around their knees, maybe because many of them are on their knees? But how can you see or hear if your truth barrier is down by your knees, the answer is you can't as both your eyes and ears are above the barrier, it becomes an impossibility. The solution is, raise your truth barrier to your crown, then you will hear and see on a different level. The ET in our full Disclosure shows The Events that changed the world told us what to aspire to with this statement. Just try to accept we are in paradise when we are seeing and understanding something new, our god should be change, our religion should be understanding, searching for truth is our greatest social challenge and purpose. Advanced races grow out of Governments and religions, they are for the child level races, it is now time to elevate into an adult species that surpasses anything that has gone before. We end with two blasts from the past, to bring forward to the now and take with us to the future. If you lead life in love and care you will prevail, if you lead life in fear and anger you will fail. Feel free for you to be the person you wish to be, not the person who conforms to what others want them to be. You are a multi dimensional being operating simultaneously on many levels, you are not here to conform, you are not here to be stifled, you are not here to be enslaved, you are not here to be abused, or to compete with your friends, family or neighbors. You are here to be the best you can be, and do so as a crown of creation, now go out with the confidence of who and what you are, and excel in yourself, and in doing so inspire others. Stay safe, stay strong, stay prepared and never let anyone put you in fear. WE WISH YOU WELL
