

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2021-09-30

TPC update, 6 lots now fully owned by TPC members and 2 others now under contract and another one possibly two to follow under contract next week. For those of you not on our social media pages and have asked how they can keep up to date with extra shows. Our designated website to all THI shows that posts the latest show 1-2 days prior, and all of the past shows in categories for the Must Listen to section of our shows, is on THI-show.com. The must listen to has sections like the FRWL series, the Expose series, the ET full Disclosure series Event 1-3, and many other extra shows on top of the regular Thursday shows. If you wish to catch up with our THI shows and get the bigger picture of what has, is and will play out on this planet, those archives cover it all. I am sure all our members will wish Billy Willets a speedy recovery in his fight against cancer. This show tonight will be a more news based episode, it did have a large section on financial issues which I had to take out and that will go into an extra show for more impact, this coming Saturday evening at 7.30PM EST. Tonight's show will be shorter and the Saturday show will not be the full 3 hours we normally do either, with that being said lets get on with the show, shall we. Bodies with a vagina and Gentlemen, welcome to another round up of insight, brutal truth and a twist of sarcasm and humor thrown in the mix. With certain women being hardened by the Feminists movement, one has to question where is their outrage of that statement? Bodies with a vagina deary me, can you get more crude and divisive? It is often said wrongly in my opinion that men only want women for one body part, and yet now the word salad woke culture defines women only by their vag. If the woke culture are vegans and only like word salad, I guess they wont be swallowing the meat anymore? Perhaps they need to do more word salad and change the w in woke to a j. How about we address to all of bodies with an open heart, bodies with common sense, bodies with balance, bodies with soul development, bodies with adult thinking, bodies with critical thinking. That way we can talk freely with common sense and away from the banality of stupid people, running stupid programs, stupid agendas, whilst making up ways of looking more stupid than ever. Let these people carry on with their offended by everything and self pity culture, let them flap their flaps into the clap. If ever there was a beneficial side to sterilization, these people who come up with, careful Thomas some people will be offended by the use of come with up as it is a reference to the penis, who come up with these ridiculous and divisive statements, this is it. Remember bodies with a vagina, I will reference correctly a famous quote, the penis is mightier than the sword. Us men are like Arby's advert, we have the meat. Disclaimer: no penis' or vaginas' were harmed during this broadcast, this broadcast was brought to you by common sense, it is not sponsored by any jackass level people, does not include letter based labels, and is brought to you by awakened people not the past particle version they created to compete with awake, woke. The broadcaster echoing another advert, would like to ask you to please think responsibly, not drink responsibly, because these people are drunk on their own delusions.

NEWS: In case some are wondering about that opening piece, here is the reason why. The prestigious medical journal Lancet is in hot water over its latest issue, after a quote on the cover from a senior editor has triggered widespread outrage on social media, for dehumanizing and erasing women. Historically, the anatomy and physiology of bodies with vaginas have been neglected, says the quote on the cover of its latest September 25th issue. Has been neglected? well there are plenty of incels who we mentioned last week, who would love to pamper their neglected vaginas, why not join up and make everyone happy? Or another solution is to replace the medical masks with vagina masks and everyone is happy. Problem solved. You have to laugh and have a laugh at the rank stupidity of the old world and their desperate attempts to distract, throw people off balance and lure you back in with their lies and retardedness. Plus there is an added bonus to humor, the AI doesn't understand it. Artificial Intelligence is for artificial people, perhaps that is a pointer? Speaking of artificial that leads us to the next piece. As far back as early last year I made reference to the mask man Biden and now new information has been spread around the alt media. It is stated that, Biden had a massive stroke back in February and declared brain dead, so the Democrats just like they tried to do when Hillary died, tried to get replacement. From all accounts the replacement is an actor, who has actually played Joe Biden in some shows called Arthur Roberts who is older than Biden himself at 82. The DNC deemed Kamala Harris as not suitable for the role, and went about courting someone else, for when the duplicate fake actor dies as well. In a recent press conference briefing with UK leader Boris Johnson, fake Biden mentioned his acting career, and then Boris turned off his mike, but not enough for some to hear him say, you are not Joe Biden, who the bloody hell are you? Psaki the WH spokesperson overheard it and freaked out, she is under investigation as well as I hear. Psaki then proceeded to close down the briefing, citing questions were not pre approved and so cleared the room. Remember I mentioned how a certain person I have slammed many times on our show, has gone all too quiet? Because the rumors are, should the fake Biden pass on or get removed is, the snake in law himself Jared Kushner will take over, well I never.

Just when you thought New York can't sink any lower, having got rid of Coumo in came a new one we all hoped would be better than the last, but that reality never bears fruit. New York Governor Kathy Hochul says the vaccine is from God and I need you to be my Apostles. Which god? the one that sent the plagues or the fiery serpents? This is pure religious based coercion using the familiar guilt and shame program that religion was designed for, and is shameful tactics by a desperate group of psychopaths.

The credibility of the FBI has to be called into question due to four stories this week, alleging outright theft, incompetence and or being a player for the criminal EL-ites. A major allegation was made against the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) earlier this week concerning the massive ransom ware attacks that plagued the US this summer. The agency reportedly obtained the digital key to decrypt malware on the computers of hundreds of businesses and institutions, but refused to use it for at least three weeks. Where is the congressional hearing into why this took place? who gained from allowing it to go ahead? Why isn't heads on the chopping block yet again? where is the accountability? Can the FBI be trusted? Well the answer to the last question maybe swayed by this next story.

The Conservative commentator Nick Fuentes, who said he was in Washington, D.C. on Jan. 6 but was nowhere near the Capitol building when things escalated, said that the FBI has raided his bank account, taking $500,000 which he has no legal recourse to recover, a report said. Fuentes, the 23-year-old host of the live-streamed America First program, said he had attended President Donald Trump's rally on Jan. 6, which he called a civil First Amendment protected demonstration, and added that the FBI and Department of Justice are investigating him, even though he was not at the Capitol when the building was breached. According to the report, Fuentes said he was first alerted when his bank card was declined, he then learned his checking account was drained, with almost $500,000 gone. He says his bank confirmed a legal order had been placed against it, but could not elaborate. Over two weeks later, he says the bank provided numbers for attorneys working for the Department of Justice, from this, he gathered he was under investigation by the FBI. Fuentes said: The reason why this is so crushing is because the Department of Justice and the FBI are immovable. Because of the War on Terror, because of the Patriot Act, because of how the federal government operates, they really can do whatever they want to whoever they want, and there's nothing you can do about it. Fuentes said a lawyer told him he had no legal recourse to recover the money, adding that the FBI could keep it for as long as they want with no obligation to return it. So, much wrong with this it is beyond frightening, when one jobsworth decides he and they can steal a load of money from someone's account based on flimsy evidence. Even if he was in the Capitol building, it still doesn't justify the crime of stealing peoples money. This is lawlessness from the supposed law themselves, they are operating like the IRS, maybe it is time everything labeled Federal is removed? or at the very least a severe house cleaning. No one with any common sense can justify stealing $1/2M from someone's account for being close to a protest. This is total larceny, which is being committed by so called law enforcement, it's shameful.

You think that is a one off event? try this for further examples. Los Angeles, CA for decades now, federal government and their cohorts in law enforcement have been carrying out theft of the citizenry on a massive scale using Civil Asset Forfeiture. The 1980's-era laws were designed to drain resources from powerful criminal organizations, but CAF has become a tool for law enforcement agencies across the U.S, to steal money and property from countless innocent people. As the following case out of Beverly Hills illustrates, no criminal charge is required for this confiscation, resulting in easy inflows of cash for law enforcement departments and the proliferation of abuse. This phenomenon is known as policing for profit and the latest example is exceedingly bad. Using bogus excuses, the FBI raided roughly 800 safety deposit boxes at a single location in Beverly Hills. They made random and apparently unsubstantiated accusations that, the U.S. Private Vaults in Beverly Hills was aiding criminal activity. The business was indicted in February on claims that it marketed itself to criminals, to help them launder money and dodge government detection. But no one was ever charged. If only they would do that with the banks, all of them are involved in laundering money and connected to criminal and terrorist groups. Instead, the FBI raided the place and confiscated, or rather robbed people like Joseph Ruiz and others of their life savings. Ruiz and others were then forced to prove their innocence in order to get their money back. The FBI falsely claimed that Ruiz, who is a chef, made the $57,000 they stole from him from drug dealing, because a drug dog alerted to the presence of drugs on the cash. It is widely known that a large percentage upwards of 90% of U.S. paper money contains trace amounts of cocaine. Having a large amount of cash will most assuredly alert a drug dog. In fact, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has ruled that government does not have probable cause to seize cash from individuals based only on a drug-detection dog's reaction, stating specifically that the majority of money in circulation has drugs on it. The problem most miss here was in that statement, the Government does not have cause, because the Federal entities are not Government related, they have carte blanche to do what they like, when they like. But court precedents and ethical enforcement of the law apparently mean very little to the FBI, who confiscated the life savings of hundreds of people for this very reason. Ruiz was forced to produce documents proving his innocence, and show the source of the money was legitimate in order to get it back, in other words, he was guilty until proven innocent. But Ruiz was one of many people robbed by these agents. In total, these FBI agents robbed 800 people of $86 million in cash, jewelry, and precious metals. Hundreds of those involved have contested the government-sanctioned theft and 65 of them have filed suit. This can be stopped with one sweep of a pen, but is allowed because the politicians are all bought and paid for, and allow people at the top of organizations designed to serve and protect the people, to turn them into unaccountable criminal organizations.

Sadly the FBI were also mentioned in bad light in this piece as well. If ever you hear from any news media, politician, agency or Military people spouting that China is the enemy ever again, remember this story. It's all fake, no country is ever in opposition it is all media fear based rhetoric, outside of the Israel problem. Here is why, Federal law enforcement agencies are purchasing surveillance drones from a Chinese company, the Pentagon has deemed a potential national security threat. Efforts to purge military and law enforcement agencies of potentially compromised Chinese technology have stalled amid bureaucratic red tape, and experts worry the federal government is needlessly exposing itself to snooping by malicious foreign actors. The U.S. Secret Service is the latest to purchase surveillance drones from the Shenzhen-based company DJI, which dominates the commercial drone market in the U.S. and abroad. The Secret Service bought eight DJI drones on July 26, according to procurement records, that was three days after the Defense Department released a statement saying DJI products pose potential threats to national security. The FBI bought 19 DJI drones a few days earlier, records show. DJI makes an array of consumer products that are tremendously popular, including the Phantom and Mavic drone series, as well as the Osmo image-stabilization handle. While the products are used for personal and commercial purposes, they also require the user to download proprietary DJI software, and to fly using mapping databases that have the potential to be monitored remotely. Security concerns surrounding these products are longstanding, but DJI insists all such concerns are unfounded and based on misunderstanding or misrepresentation of its technology. In 2017, the Department of Homeland Security the Secret Service's parent agency, stated with moderate confidence that DJI was providing U.S. critical infrastructure and law enforcement data to the Chinese government. In 2019, the Interior Department, which also uses DJI products, grounded its entire non-emergency drone fleet because of concerns about Chinese government intrusions. The Commerce Department added DJI to an export blacklist last year after Bloomberg reported it had supplied surveillance technology to Chinese security forces in Xinjiang, where millions of Uighur Muslims have been forced into internment camps. DJI's cyber security vulnerabilities are well documented, Sen. Marco Rubio, who has pressed for greater scrutiny of contractors with Chinese government ties. Given everything we know about the Chinese Communist Party and its companies, there is absolutely no excuse for any government agency to use DJI drones, or any other drones manufactured in countries identified as national security threats, Rubio wrote in an emailed statement. DJI spokesman Adam Lisberg disputed all allegations that the company's data is not secure or has been passed on to Chinese authorities. Claims that somehow DJI products are transmitting customer data back to China, or to DJI, or anywhere they're not supposed to be are just false. No one has ever found a deliberate attempt to steal data, or any of the other fantasies promoted by some of our critics, it simply isn't true, he said. The Secret Service declined to comment, citing operational security, the FBI also declined to comment. Lawmakers have cracked down in recent years on federal procurement of Chinese-made telecommunications and surveillance equipment, the most prominent case has involved telecom and consumer electronics giant Huawei Technologies. Efforts to phase out Chinese-made technology have been slow due to bureaucratic constraints, and the cost and complexity of replacing the systems. DJI has implemented privacy and data protection measures as concerns have grown about potential Chinese access to U.S. government data. In June, a DOD report cleared a pair of DJI drones for federal use, saying its analysis found no malicious code or intent. A Pentagon statement in July disavowed that finding, calling it inaccurate and its release unauthorized. Some experts believed and noted the possibility that the agencies purchased DJI drones to study the devices or develop countermeasures. A ban on Pentagon purchases of off-the-shelf Chinese drones provides exceptions for purchases designed to hone such countermeasures. Language in the FBI and Secret Service contracts casts doubt on that explanation, though. The Secret Service wrote its DJI drones will supplement the agency's existing fleet of small unmanned aircraft and improved mission support, through the use of the most up-to-date equipment and software. The FBI said DJI's Phantom 4 Pro model was the only commercially available consumer drone, to combine all its required capabilities at an acceptable cost. If the federal government is purchasing DJI drones for counter-drone or other security research, that's fine, said Klon Kitchen, a defense and cyber security expert at the American Enterprise Institute. But otherwise, in a world where you have plenty of alternatives, including some U.S. alternatives that are very good, why would federal agencies assume the inherent risks of Chinese-made systems? China the enemy? depends which faction you are fighting for, because this wrecks of faction based posturing, and of no benefit to America or Americans. Are they telling us out of the vast budgets all these fake American agencies, can't produce their own or buy from their own immensely wide range of shell corporations?

Remember I have said every organization stated to serve and protect the people are corrupt? here is another example. World Health Organization (WHO) staff were among 83 aid workers who sexually abused women and girls, while tackling the Ebola outbreak in the Democratic Republic of Congo, a report finds. The abuses, which included nine allegations of rape, were committed by both national and international workers between 2018 and 2020. The report comes after more than 50 local women reported sexual abuse. WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said it was inexcusable. The 35-page report was produced by an independent commission following an investigation. The commission, which interviewed dozens of women who had alleged they were offered work in exchange for sex, found that 21 of the 83 alleged perpetrators were employed by WHO. Local women were also allegedly plied with drinks, ambushed in hospitals, forced to have sex, and two became pregnant. The WHO just like the UN then, committing sex acts, pedophilia, sterilizing and terrorizing the people they profess to protect or serve. At some point all people must begin to accept this reality, they do not serve or protect the people, in fact they do great harm and atrocities against the people. Trust in authority has to be eroded to stop this mass charade and attacks on we the people, here is another example of it.

We highlighted last week about sexual abuse done by Jewish schools, churches and colleges against children in Australia, and how they use mesirah to cover all their crimes up, well here's one that has made court. Former ultra-orthodox school principal Malka Leifer has been ordered to stand trial on 70 child sexual abuse charges. Leifer, 55, pleaded not guilty to all charges at the end of a committal hearing in Melbourne on Thursday. The allegations relate to sisters Dassi Erlich, Nicole Meyer and Elly Sapper, over incidents during Leifer's time at the Adass Israel School in the city's inner suburbs between 2004 and 2008. Magistrate Johanna Metcalf said she believed the evidence presented during a hearing, which heard from all three sisters in closed court, was of sufficient weight to support a conviction. Four charges were withdrawn by prosecutors after it became clear during the evidence that those alleged incidents occurred in Israel. Leifer, a dual Israeli-Australian citizen, fled under suspicious circumstances shortly before a warrant could be issued, and remained in Israeli-controlled territory from 2008 until January 2021, under varying levels of police and court supervision, pending the resolution of her extradition case. Allegations of further victims in the West Bank were made in June 2018. The reason being for that is, in Israel you can gain immunity for sex crimes as their court will not allow extradition for charges brought against Jews from other countries. Hello Mr. Epstein. The remaining charges are 44 counts of indecent assault, 13 of an indecent act with a child, 10 of rape and three of sexually penetrating a child. Leifer's case will now go to Victoria's County Court for a directions hearing on October 21. Lets see if she goes missing also between now and then, or they make some other Talmudic based law up to avoid prosecution. Rosenbaum Communications public relations firm owner Ronen Tzur led a strategic smear campaign to block Leifer's extradition. In February 2019, it was revealed that Israel's deputy health minister, Yaakov Litzman, was questioned by police on the suspicion that he had been using his position to prevent Leifer's extradition. It was alleged that Litzman pressured doctors to falsify psychiatric evaluations that deemed Leifer unfit to stand trial, thereby preventing her extradition. Litzman claimed that everything he did was legal, and that he was acting for the good of the public. Since when have Israeli leaders ever done anything good for their people, like never. It is often said that sexual exploitation is the realm of the males, yet this woman like many other stories about atrocities committed by nuns, is an uncomfortable truth for many, and allows these acts to go on and under the radar. Like the adrenochrome and sacrifice rituals it is both genders involved in it, and recognizing there is potential for evil in both genders, will be a step forward.

Were off to visit the voyeuristic perverts next, with their multitude of cameras, listening and sensor devices, the world of catting, erm I mean spying. Sen. Rand Paul of Kentucky announced his opposition to using FISA warrants on American citizens, specifically political candidates, during an exchange Tuesday with FBI Director Christopher Wray. At a Senate Homeland Security Committee hearing, Paul questioned Wray about the surveillance of American citizens via the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA). The agencies all use each other to obtain Intelligence on their respective homelands, as this gets around each countries laws. This is the 5 eyes, Mossad, Chinese secret service and the KGB plus others, all of them, and I will repeat, all of them are working together, irrespective of their countries being at war, cold or hot, in conflict with each other, none of that matters or applies to agencies. The problem he said is the system can be abused, we should obey the Constitution. I don't think Americans nor political candidates should be investigated, using a foreign intelligence surveillance court. Wray responded to the senator's comments saying he believed FISA warrants were constitutional, and that they have a difference of opinion on how to characterize its legality. Rand Paul needs to define under which Constitution it becomes illegal, Wray is operating under their constitution not we the peoples, and so is correct in what he is stating. More politicians need to highlight we are not under the organic Constitution. Wray went on to credit FISA for keeping America safe following the terror attacks on Sept. 11, 2001. Yes America the country is safe as the powers that be have never advocated for attacks on this country, aside from the now obvious insider plot of 9/11. But you are not keeping Americans safe Mr. Wray at all, only the corrupt systems and their criminality are you protecting.

Pegasus spyware has been found on the phones of at least five French ministers, multiple sources told news outlets. The company behind the tech, the Israel-based NSO Group, denies it was used to target French officials, however. The revelation was first made by French investigative website Mediapart, with the report further corroborated by the AFP news agency on Friday. Traces of Pegasus spyware have been found on the mobile phones of at least five current cabinet ministers, citing a confidential intelligence report and numerous anonymous sources. The alleged activity of the spyware was traced back to 2019 and, to a lesser extent, 2020. NSO is an Israeli technology firm primarily known for its proprietary spyware Pegasus, which is capable of remote zero-click surveillance of smart phones. Zero click is surfing without clicking, by placing your mouse anywhere and it will automatically click for you. You can turn this feature on/off by clicking the icon, the color of the icon will tell you its status of on or off, allegedly. Well it seems they can over ride that, and yet again another example of convenience being weaponised against us. According to several reports, software created by NSO Group was used in targeted attacks against human rights activists and journalists in various countries, was used in state espionage against Pakistan, and played a role in the murder of Saudi dissident Jamal Khashoggi by agents of the Saudi government. NSO's founders are ex-members of Unit 8200, the Israeli Intelligence Corps unit responsible for collecting signals intelligence. We have covered the Unit 8200 before and their criminality.

As the UK media created their latest distraction piece this week, warning the bots that they would run out of gas/petrol this week, out ran the gullible and the bots and emptied all the pumps. These are the same people as the toilet paper experiment jackasses, you just can't teach stupid. They are a repeat loop program, repeating the same words as the jackass politicians, MSM clowns and other so called authorities. Time for designated zones to be created on this planet, place all bots, MSM, politicians, bankers, brokers, crypto currency people, Military and agencies in China, and leave those of us with an ounce of common sense free reign to run our own world.

I did a piece a few years back and referenced it again in the past year, of the secret movement of Chinese troops, secret deals between the Chinese and ASIO and plans they were building for a future interaction with Australia. Remember the warships from China turning up unannounced? that was the start and this may well be the future. A new bill to allow foreign forces and troops to be used on Australian soil. From a close contact my partner is employed by the Australian Government and works with Rod Culleton. She has just been informed that the dark side of the Aussie Government are going through the very final steps to bring in the UN now, that the below bill has been approved for the UN to assist in laying down the agenda. Reading between the lines, my concern is that both our police and Australian Defence Force, will be stripped of their rank and returned to civilian status upon UN arrival, the majority of which will be C.C.P troops. The ADF of all ranks need to hear all the truth asap I feel! The ADF and Police are far more disposable then they know, and may just find themselves without a salary very soon, please warn those friends of yours who wear a uniform. Replacing the Military and the police, now I wonder where we have heard that notion before? The old adage of that is outrageous and that will never happen, is far too often rolled out by the general public and alt media, as far too often, the outrageous and will never happen, does happen. Don't think this is a one off, Australia is the test case because of it's relatively low population, it is isolated from the rest of the world and so like New Zealand becomes a playground or battle field. Next stop I would suggest is, Canada, you have all seen the signs of national Zionism, will Canadians ignore the warnings like Australians and Californians before them? The key is to be proactive not reactive.

POSITIVE NEWS: Norway has re-opened society, its government says, ending its COVID-19 restrictions that have limited social interaction and hobbled many businesses. The Nordic nation joins a small but growing number of countries, including Denmark and Britain, which have removed all domestic restrictions that limited the spread of COVID-19. It is 561 days since we introduced the toughest measures in Norway in peacetime. Now the time has come to return to a normal daily life, Prime Minister Erna Solberg told a news conference. Restrictions ended at 4:00pm local time on Saturday, Ms Solberg said.

Alabama Attorney General Steve Marshall joined 10 other attorneys general in submitting an appeal in support of what Marshall describes as a Florida free speech law under assault by Big Tech. Marshall and the other attorneys general from Florida, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, South Carolina and Texas, are pushing back against Big Tech companies' efforts to take legal action against Senate Bill 7072, through trade associations representing Facebook, Google and Twitter. Florida S.B. 7072 gives all Floridians the ability to sue Big Tech companies if they feel they have been treated unfairly by the companies. It allows Florida's attorney general to take legal action against Big Tech companies that treat consumers unfairly, and allows the Florida Election Commission to impose fines of $25,000 per day on companies that de-platforms any candidate for statewide office, according to a press release. Good stuff but the same has to apply to the people, not just de-platforming politicians.

Manufacturers will be forced to create a universal charging solution for phones and small electronic devices, under a new rule proposed by the European Commission (EC). The aim is to reduce waste by encouraging consumers to re-use existing chargers when buying a new device. All smart phones sold in the EU must have USB-C chargers, the proposal said. At last some common sense, now to replicate it in many other fields as well.

I have trashed many times the world of celebrities and fake stars, just because the media promotes them, and as I have often done, gave praise where necessary regardless of their status. So I will highlight some positive aspects of a celebrity in this piece. Nicki Minaj is one of the worlds most famous female rappers. In September 2021 she was attacked by the governments of the United Kingdom, Trinidad and Tobago and the corporate media for her tweets about the COVID-19 Vaccine. She admitted to having vaccine hesitancy, and told people to do their own research before they make any personal decisions. She was accused of peddling misinformation to Black Americans, who are less likely to have had the injection. Minaj has been one of few celebrities to not promote the COVID vaccine to her fans. Most black celebrities have been recruited to promote them, as vaccine hesitancy is high among not only black Americans, but people in the Caribbean and Africa. Last month she sent a number of tweets about the COVID-19 Vaccine, revealing that she herself had vaccine hesitancy and therefore would not attend the MET Gala nor perform at the MTV VMAs, as there was a vaccine passport requirement. She did not want to travel as she has a young baby, and she also tweeted about her relative of her cousin who had adverse side effects to the vaccine. What happens next is the dark seedy side of the media and how they operate behind the scenes, using coercion, threats and intimidation for daring to question their lunacy. She was attacked by the corrupt MSM as an Anti-vaxxer, Joy Reid from MSNBC went hard against Minaj, accusing her of being a conspiracy theorist for promoting vaccine hesitancy in the Black community. A Guardian journalist contacted Minaj's cousin in a private chat on WhatsApp, she explained that CNN was also in the country looking for him, and they would not hesitate to dox him and his girlfriend if they found them. The Guardian reporter then claimed that the man's identity, and where his loved ones lived, would be safe if he completed an interview with The Guardian. Minaj posted the screenshots of the direct messages between the reporter and her family member to Instagram, and explained that her family has been forced to hide out because she spoke against the science. Piers Morgan got trolled, Chris Whitty and Boris Johnson mentioned her in the daily COVID press conference, Boris named her but admitted he didn't know who she was, Whitty said that myth spreaders like Nicki Minaj should be ashamed. A classic example of reverse psychology being used by jackass media people, accusing others of doing what they are actually doing, has all the hallmarks of agency based tactics. Minaj trolled back at Whitty and Johnson, she also called Laura Kuenssberg a dumbo for unnecessarily chiming in. Tucker Carlson praised her on Tucker Carlson Tonight, whilst the Trinidadian government said her claims were baseless. She was locked out of Twitter and has spoken out about censorship. The White House contacted her and offered to arrange a phone call between her and one of the governments' doctors. In other words come here and we will threaten and or indoctrinate you, just shameful tactics. Whether it was related or not her father was killed in hit and run in February 2021, it would not surprise me in the least if it was. But the media and how they operate didn't end there, because Minaj would not comply or back down to their threats, so they ran this story in an attempt to sway public opinion against her. A woman whom Nicki Minaj's husband Kenneth Petty was convicted of attempting to sexually assault when she and Petty were 16 years old, spoke out publicly for the first time on Wednesday. Jennifer Hough opened up on The Real about the harassment lawsuit she recently filed against the couple, and the 1994 incident in which she told police at the time that Petty pulled a knife on her, and forced her into a residence where he allegedly raped her. Petty pleaded guilty and was convicted in 1995 of attempted first-degree rape. According to the NYPD Sex Offender Unit database, the offense was filed as sexual intercourse and noted that a knife or cutting instrument was used in the crime. Petty served four years in New York State Prison for the incident before he was released. Regardless of what her husband did, all of which was 26 years ago and he served his time for it in the last century, just how desperate are the media to dig up dirt in this manner and this time, is beyond disgusting. Pro pagan da at its evil and ugly worst.

COVID BS: Clowns have told the world they have injected 6.03B people, which equates to 24,120,000 people per day. Which would be a staggering feat for fully staffed medical departments globally, except they are not, as all reports globally report a massive shortage in medical people. Plus the fact not all medical people are allowed to do jabs. So just how have they done 24M jabs per day every day for 8 months, not withstanding many countries don't have access to jabs or are not infected. More Johns Hopkins desperation math it seems.

Their latest push of the bs narrative, is to try to convince the public they have jabbed far more than they have. I suspect less than 1/2 in most countries have been jabbed, with the exception of the real Nazis, Israel. It is all about coercion and herding under the banner of the majority, and to give the impression the unvaxxed are a tiny minority of lunatics. Don't fall for their sly ass tactics and dodgy maths, their figures are flawed and that was the gist of this from the very start.

I am sarcastically amazed the media hasn't covered this major medical breakthrough story 24/7, on their tell lies and false visions channels. The news that the flu cases, has gone down 379M in the past year, is a major medical breakthrough that should have been announced. Why isn't the media making a song and dance about this? after all it proves their case that vaccines work does it not? Or maybe the public will put two and two together and find out that Covid is in part the flu, in part Milgram experiment and in part bio-weapon. So lets summarize it shall we, 379M missing cases of flu, and a global figure of Covid cases as of this week according to their figures is 230M, which is actually 140M less than the flu cases, what happened to the 140M is the only concern of this piece? The amazing Covid virus has cured the flu, when vaccines couldn't. Absolutely amazing "virus" that, perhaps we should celebrate it with a national holiday? We could call it Covidiot's day. The date sometime in April the same time as the Jewish holiday of Passover. Because people passover all evidence and common sense.

Dr. Michael McDowell is the latest person who is speaking out and exposing the origins of the scandemic. He covers everything from the reality of the deadly covert genetic bio-weapons industry as the backdrop, SARS-CoV-2 design, and gain of function as he "follows the money" behind global and local trends we see unfolding before our very eyes, culminating in the rollout of the real bio-weapon, the gene altering injections! Sounds like an overview of our Expose series, good stuff.

An ABC news phishing spelt with a ph not an f expedition on Facebook took a startling turn over the weekend, after a reporter asked readers to share stories of loved ones who died of Covid after refusing or delaying to get the vaccine. Instead, thousands of readers reported of loved ones who died after vaccination and, even worse, from adverse reactions to the vaccine. By noon on Monday, the post had received over 39,000 angry and often heartbreaking responses. Virtually every string contains a firsthand report by people, whose family members are grieving the loss of loved ones of all ages. Meanwhile, Gateway Pundit reported on Monday that nearly 4,000 vaccination deaths have been reported to the VAERS system since July 24, an average of 70 per day. In June, VAERS reported 6,985 deaths due to the Covid vaccines, the report noted. The number was 11,405 in July, now it is at 14,701 reported deaths. I guess many now are starting to see through the illusion we all tried to tell them before they stupidly got involved with the experiment.

Here is another example of a group seeing through the illusion. Multiple public officials in Colorado are warning that the state's official COVID-19 death count is skewed, due to the practice of conflating patients who have died directly due to the disease, with those who have merely tested positive for it prior to death. Data experts and health officials have long struggled to separate out those two key data points in government tallies of COVID deaths, leading to accusations that the death rate for the disease is being inflated modestly or even significantly. Multiple public officials in Colorado, meanwhile, told Full Measure host Sharyl Attkisson, that they had personally observed death tallies that erred on the side of COVID, leading to death counts that were effectively misleading to the public. Brenda Bock, the county coroner for Grand County, told Attkisson that in November she processed a murder-suicide case, and the very next day it showed up on the state website as Covid death. They were gunshot wounds and I questioned that immediately, because I had not even signed off the death certificates yet, and the state was already reporting them as Covid deaths. Bock even claimed that authorities counted as Covid deaths two individuals who were very much not dead.

Here comes some backtracking after people studied the figures and questioned them. An inaccurate Canadian study that suggested an extremely high rate of heart inflammation after COVID-19 vaccines has been retracted due to a major mathematical error, but not before it spread like wildfire on anti-vaccination websites and social media. The preprint study, which was released by researchers at the Ottawa Heart Institute last week but has not been peer-reviewed, looked at the rate of myocarditis and pericarditis cases after Moderna and Pfizer-BioNTech vaccinations in Ottawa from June 1 to July 31. The study identified 32 patients with the rare side effects, out of a total of 32,379 doses of mRNA vaccines given in Ottawa in the two-month period, finding an inordinately high rate of close to 1 in 1,000, significantly higher than other international data has shown. Now they focus on maths error, well touche, because it was Johns Hopkins math errors that started this whole scamdemic.

The Pfizer Covid 19 vaccine has been filmed by Erik Enby in his Interference Contrast Microscope, last month and was then uploaded onto YT. What was observed was, living pathogens were injected into un-knowing victims. What was also filmed is similar or the same as pictures of body fluids of chronically ill people with severe conditions. It is the antibodies that are created by the virus that is causing the infection to get worse.

In a healthy environment spores and virus cannot thrive. They will be waiting in the body for a change in the environment. What if the injections are changing the environment? Indeed.

Mass infection of children will have incalculable consequences. Close to 90 children in the UK have already been killed by COVID-19 and an estimated 38,000 aged 2-16 are currently living with Long Covid, according to the Office for National Statistics. Whitty admitted, we don't know the long-term effects of catching Covid in children. There in lies the problem, these health jackasses didn't know what was going on before, during or after the virus and the techno jabs, and are not fit for the purpose. Interesting line he trotted out there, long Covid? that's a new one, does that mean they are the ones who take longer to die?

Here is more evidence that politicians do nothing for the people, and more folly of Californians voting for this clown again. California Gov. Gavin Newsom's state housing department received $316 million, from the federal Corona virus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, or better known as the CARES Act through the Emergency Solutions Grant program. But as of early August 2021, the federal government reported that, the State had spent only $2 million of the $316 million it was allocated, less than 1 percent according to the California state auditor's report. Homelessness has been surging in California in recent years, and the homeless are especially vulnerable to COVID-19, the report emphasizes. As of January 2020, more than 161,000 Californians were homeless, a 16 percent increase since 2007, and the COVID-19 pandemic poses a particular set of health risks for this vulnerable population, according to the report. $2M spent helping people, yet $1B frittered away to fund the Israeli juntas Iron Dome system that actually doesn't work, says it all really.

OTHER ITEMS: Remember the story a few weeks back about the Marine who called out the top brass? well the child like top brass have taken umbrage to the truth it seems. Marine Lt. Col. Stuart Scheller, the officer who went viral for blasting the military's leadership amid the chaotic withdrawal from Afghanistan, has been sent to the brig, according to a report. All our son did is ask the questions that everybody was asking themselves, but they were too scared to speak out loud, Scheller's father, Stu Scheller Sr., told Task & Purpose. He was asking for accountability, in fact, I think he even asked for an apology that we made mistakes, but they couldn't do that, which is mind-blowing. Scheller first rose to internet attention by posting a video to Facebook blasting military leaders for the U.S. withdrawal from Afghanistan, questioning their command decisions on the events leading up to and during the final evacuation effort. Scheller is currently in pre-trial confinement, a spokesperson for Training and Education Command said of the officer's status. The time, date, and location of the proceedings have not been determined. Lt. Col. Scheller will be afforded all due process, the statement continued. One hopes his military pals and all Veterans groups support this guy in his time of need, he did what many others have failed to do and call the Military out for failed policies that has killed, injured or maimed many lives.

This was something first warned of on this show as far back as February 2018, now the crime minister for the UK Boris Johnson & Johnson, has warned the food shortage crisis ongoing in the UK and other countries could continue for months. The food sector has been hit with issues as the world emerges from the pandemic, due to a lack of HGV drivers and soaring gas demand. Not to mention soaring gas prices that are deliberately engineered at key points in time, this time to fill the coffers these jackasses lost over the fake pandemic. The Prime Minister claimed the problems were temporary, but admitted the food sector was still struggling, which raises fears over the shortages in the run up to Christmas. Which Christmas Mr. Johnson? He said, we're experiencing bottlenecks in all kinds of things as the world wakes up from Covid, yes the deep amnesia of bullshittery imposed by the likes of him, think tanks, dark medical magicians, fake science and the criminal media. It's like everybody going back to put the kettle on at the end of a TV programme, you're seeing huge stresses on the world supply systems. The huge stresses are the owners of the shipping lines, and we all know what race they are, charging over 10K GBP for containers that just 18 months ago were around 2K GBP, and what have the Governments done about that price gouging? nothing. Maybe it is because the shipping industry is also ran mainly by the agencies, five eyes and Mossad. But you're also seeing businesses bouncing back strongly, only the corporate giants jackass. It is fundamentally caused by the global economy coming to life again, except it's not is it, as we will find out later.

I warned a few months ago about the shift in narrative from Covid to climate change, here is another example. Jackass Johnson has said in a speech to the United Nations in New York, it is time for humanity to grow up on climate change. As they all flew in on their private gas guzzling jets and hired their gas guzzling limousines to shuttle them around the satanic Gotham region. The world is approaching a critical turning point, and countries must finally take responsibility for the destruction we are inflicting on the planet and ourselves, he said. Then go and deal with who is responsible then, the greed based corporate giants. His speech comes ahead of the COP26 climate summit in Glasgow in November. The PM has used his US visit to push leaders for action on climate change. Some 100 world leaders are expected to attend the meeting at the UN General Assembly. If they were thinking differently, they would have done this meeting via a conference call. Amid the metaphors, the prime minister made a series of calls for action to the general assembly members, including to restrain the rise in temperature to 1.5 degrees. To pledge collectively to achieve carbon neutrality, called net zero by the middle of the century, all countries to step up and commit to very substantial carbon reductions by 2030, in particular with coal, cars, cash and trees. Cash? so they can run their fresh air tokens game on us? Pledge means to hand over your countries resources to the UN, this is an asset stripping grab. The developing world to end the use of coal power by 2040 and the developed world to do so by 2030. China to phase out the domestic use of coal, only zero-emission vehicles to be on sale across the world by 2040. Every country to cut carbon by 68%, to halt and reverse the loss of trees and biodiversity by 2030, all nations to follow the example of Pakistan which has pledged to plant 10 billion trees. It was the oil, fracking and mining companies that cut down vast swathes of trees, get them to pay for them.

Governments to work with financial institutions the IMF and the World Bank, to leverage trillions of dollars in the private sector. Two greed based harvesters of the old world, both subsidiaries of the UN, riddled with corruption, fraud, embezzlement, criminality, erm no thanks, they went down for a reason in the old world, and don't need to bring them back into the new one. The prime minister concluded his speech with a plea for leaders to do right by the next generations. If we keep on the current track then the temperatures will go up by 2.7 degrees or more by the end of the century. Except it has gone down 0.7C in the last 5 years, oops, so that shatters that illusion and waste of money for their whole world domination game. We are interested suddenly in the health of the planet, which followed their failed narrative of we are interested in your health, and for that we will threaten you, get cops to shoot, punch, pepper spray, water cannon and run us over. Thanks for the offer jackasses, but your running of things has failed since Governments began, time to let the people themselves decide how to go forward, not back into the dark ages with dark magicians and their dark overlords.

The greed based cretins never miss an opportunity to bilk shekels do they? here is their latest. The financial cost of remaining unvaccinated against COVID-19 is rising. Health insurance providers are now asking people who contract the disease to share the cost of treatment, which can get expensive if it requires a lengthy hospital stay. Early in the pandemic, most private insurers waived cost-sharing for patients under their plans or even covered the full cost of treatment. Does anyone ask if they will waive premiums if people don't get Covid? or reduce premiums for people who don't attend doctors and hospitals every month? thought not. In November 2020, nearly 90% of insured individuals would have had their out-of-pocket costs, including copays, coinsurance or payments toward a deductible waived, if they had been hospitalized for COVID-19, according to an analysis by the Kaiser Family Foundation (KFF). But with effective corona virus vaccines widely available, most insurers are no longer waiving those costs. The change reflects a broader push by U.S. companies to nudge workers into getting inoculated, in hopes of holding down medical expenses. To that end, Delta Air Lines this week said that it would charge unvaccinated employees an extra $200 a month for health coverage. One home Insurance sent my property taxes up 1/3 to cover for Covid bs, and yet what they won't tell you is this. Insurer profits soared during the pandemic, as consumers skipped routine care and delayed elective procedures. Health insurance companies were spending so much less than expected because during pandemic. No one went to the hospital, elective procedures were delayed and insurers had more money than they were supposed to, said Matthew Rae, director for the Program on the Health Care Marketplace at KFF. Today, by contrast, more than 70% of the nation's largest insurers are no longer waiving COVID-19 treatment costs, according to Kaiser, which surveyed the two largest insurers in each state and Washington, D.C.. Another 10% of plans plan to phase out cost-sharing by the end of October. Still, patients won't be responsible for the full cost of treatment, which can reach up to $50,000 for a severe case. $50K for a case of flu? seriously? and we tolerate this shit? Fully insured patients hospitalized with pneumonia which involves similar treatment as for people with COVID-19, maybe because some of the cases are pneumonia or flu? typically end up owing around $1,300, for example. The average cost is $20K, how can they justify charging people that amount for the misfortune of being sick, I will tell what is sick, Insurance companies, Medical, Hospital & Clinics, Pharmaceutical companies, they are sick greedy bastards, stealing money from people who are ill, is just about the lowest form of humanity. These people selling and peddling pharmaceuticals drugs regardless of the dangers are pure snake oil people, as an example the entity known as Tank did just that prior to harvesting funds for a fake RV, and now harvesting funds for fake tv channels and the latest version of the it's all happening crew, except their record to date is around 0 out 40+.

A university in Pennsylvania told students that action could be taken against them, if they do not respect their classmates' preferred pronouns. Point Park University's Office of Equity and Inclusion notified incoming students of, its misgendering, pronoun misuse, and deadnaming Policy in an email first obtained by Campus Reform. Deadnaming occurs when someone, intentionally or not, refers to a person who's transgender by the name they used before they transitioned. Then every organization is guilty of this whenever they use anyone's name in capital letters, because capital letters means dead. It stated that any individual who has been informed of another person's gender identity, pronouns, or chosen name is expected to respect that individual. It said action could be taken if a complaint is filed regarding the policy. While the University recognizes the aspect of intent versus impact, we must recognize that regardless of the intent, if an individual is impacted in a harmful way, action could be taken if a complaint is filed, the email states. When asked how they would enforce this policy, there was crickets. Thankfully not everyone is on board with the school's policy. Logan Dubil, Campus Reform Correspondent and a student at PPU said, the school's policies, go against many students' belief systems, especially conservative students. Personally, I believe in the science, there are two sexes and two genders male and female. The policies in question force me to go against my beliefs. The fact that I can be disciplined by failing to follow policies that violate my conscience is concerning. Cherise Trump, Executive Director of Speech First, said that forcing students to profess beliefs against their will is inconsistent with, the freedom of thought and expression that the University claims to promote. The university has prioritized students' feelings over their rights, and has turned some students into second-class citizens as a result, Trump said. The great question all parents must answer is, should our children really be put in this environment of being frightened to speak or say anything, because of these word salad jackasses who are offended by anything and everything. This whole thing is a victimhood program, people with self mastery care not what people call them.

There is a documentary from 1989, in it, Bill Mollison, the person who coined the phrase Permaculture, warned the world about the dire state the agriculture systems were in. While the concepts of Permaculture and Regenerative Agriculture are spreading throughout the world, it is not enough. It has to be done on a large scale in order to reverse the desertification of our native soils. Here are some quotes from the documentary that I found particularly inspiring: Agriculture as we know it, since 1940, is just a continuation of the second world war. Slowly armament and chemical manufacturers directed their weapons against nature. Nothing on Earth is as destructive as modern agriculture. If we cannot stop agriculture, we are all dead! Modern agriculture is not a system for producing food but a system for producing money. If we grew all our food in the city, our food would be 95% cheaper. A city like New York loses 13% of its food just in transport and distribution. Before the industrial revolution, most people lived and worked on the farm. But with the industrial revolution came the machines, and the machines moved to the farms and the people moved to the cities to work in factories to make more machines! We should make scientists accountable, at present they are socio-paths. Hopefully this is something we can build in the village and rely on our food more, and less of their shit and scarcity tactics.

Who would have thought that Anthony Fauci was a bloodline Sicilian family, home of the mafia. His ancestry goes back to Sicily and they were part of the nobility, as previous Fauci's had Von in their title. Van and Von are nobility titles within the names, like Anna Von Reitz, title of nobility. His ancestors were called Sciacca's spelt SCIACCA which curiously is the same phonetically of Ciakar, spelt CIAKAR, perhaps like the agency that is a pointer? Related to the Abys family line, who were the Swiss Commissioner of war, gold, silver, uranium, coal, ores and talc traders. The writers of the Swiss Constitution, benefactors and founder of Credit Suisse, Swiss Life, Swiss railroads, EIH Institute of Technology, in collaboration with Alfred Escher which leads to Escher Wyss and Klaus Schwab. The Abys family crest who were Rhaetian nobility, has a crowned serpent devouring a human child, whilst carrying a black yoke balancing two buckets of gold, which is Satanic symbolism. But it also reveals how they make money off of the human children, as when a child is born they are weighed for a purpose. Their weight is transferred into the value of gold of that day, and the price of the gold is then placed in a trust account of the child, which is interest bearing. Should the child not claim the account after 7 years, they are declared dead, lost at sea, and the Trustee of the account claims the bounty. This is your C'est Que Vie Trust, they implemented it in London UK, after the false flag fire burned most of it to the ground in 1666. Rhaetian is also a time period, which was the time of the Jurassic event that wiped out the dinosaurs and the large serpents? which maybe telling.

This piece will be familiar to all who have listened to the FRWL series, I wonder where Fox News got the info from? In a video posted to Fox News' YouTube account Wednesday, Carlson said President Joe Biden had aligned himself with sentiments of The Great Replacement, which Carlson explained as the replacement of legacy Americans with more obedient people from far away countries. They brag about it all the time, but if you dare to say it's happening they will scream at you with maximum hysteria. Sound familiar? the next sentence will clarify. Historian, author and University of Chicago assistant professor Kathleen Belew recently explained the theory to NPR's Lulu Garcia-Navarro. The idea is that somehow, nonwhite people or outsiders or strangers or foreigners will overtake the United States via immigration, reproduction and seizure of political power, Belew said. One reason that the ADL is sensitive to this issue is, that many incarnations of this theory involve a supposed cabal of Jewish elites. Well I never, the ADL who are a racist Jewish front and lobby group on behalf of Jewish EL-ites, are asking for Tucker Carlson to be fired for suggesting it. Funny the same fake outrage was not applied to Black Lives Matter isn't it? Carlson said Biden is motivated to have high numbers of immigrants to change the racial mix of the country, to reduce the political power of people whose ancestors lived here, and dramatically increase the proportion of Americans newly arrived from the third world. It is much worse than that Tucker, we at THI know.

EXPOSE 1: Here is a group of dirty influencers too few have even heard of, they are called the Suite 8F group out of Texas. The Suite 8F Group which was named after their regular meeting place, rented long term by Brown & Root, was network of politically active businessman in Texas from the 1930s into the 1960s. The name comes from the room in the Lamar Hotel in Houston, Texas where they held their meetings, and the room was reported to have been permanently rented to and paid by Brown and Root. Brown & root are now called Kellogg, Brown & Root or KBR and they sound like a subsidiary of the private contractors group employed by Agencies, think Halliburton and Bechtel. Today, KBR actively contributes to ongoing projects across North America, Europe, Russia and the Middle East. We have a continuous presence in more than 120 sites, with an average tenure of 18 years, and more than 40 years on some sites. The group had its heyday when their man Lyndon B. Johnson became president. It's influence: According to Texas Monthly, the 8F Crowd had gained unequalled influence in state and national government after the end World War II, when George R. Brown, Gus Wortham, and Charles Francis of Vinson & Elkins founded Texas Eastern. The group was reported to exercise leverage over Big Oil, which means at some point it involved the Bushes. The 8F Crowd had connections to various media outlets including the Houston Chronicle, the Houston Post, television station KPRC, and radio stations KPRC and KTRK-TV#History. Suite 8F helped to coordinate the political activities of other right-wing politicians and businessmen based in the South. This included Robert Anderson president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of the Treasury, Robert Kerr of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Billie Sol Estes an entrepreneur in the cotton industry, Glenn McCarthy of McCarthy Oil and Gas Company, Earl E. T. Smith of U.S. Sugar Corporation, Fred Korth of Continental National Bank and Navy Secretary, Ross Sterling of Humble Oil, Sid Richardson a Texas oil millionaire, Clint Murchison of Delhi Oil, Haroldson L. Hunt of Placid Oil, Eugene B. Germany of Mustang Oil Company, David Harold Byrd of Byrd Oil Corporation, Lawrence D. Bell of Bell Helicopters, William Pawley who had business interests in Cuba, Gordon McLendon of KLIF, George Smathers Finance Committee and businessman, Richard Russell chairman of the Committee of Manufactures, Committee on Armed Forces and Committee of Appropriations, James Eastland chairman Judiciary Committee, Benjamin Everett Jordan chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, Fred Black political lobbyist and Serve-U Corporation and Bobby Baker political lobbyist and Serve-U Corporation. Quite a substantial mini empire they had going on there, like we have said it is all interconnected. Purpose of the group: One of the main concerns of this group was to protect the interests of the Texas oil industry. The most prolific in oil reserves in the United States that was not discovered until October 1930, the discovery of oil in Texas caused a small group of men to own a great deal of money. They decided to join in, in order to keep their earnings, this includes strategies to keep the price of oil as high as possible. That is why it is a cartel, origins in 1550s, a written challenge, letter of defiance from French cartel, from Italian cartello placard, diminutive of carta "card", so a cartel comes from the word carta, which makes the Magna carta a cartel, which was for and by the nobility, not the people. It came to mean written agreement between states at war (1690s), for the exchange of prisoners or some other mutual advantage, then a written agreement between challengers of any sort (1889). Sense of a commercial trust, an association of industrialists is from 1900, which is what we understand today, via the German Kartell, which is from French. The older U.S. term for that is trust (n.). oops. The usual German name for them was Interessengemeinschaft, abbreviated IG, which brings in IG Farben. Texas oil millionaires also fought hard to maintain their tax benefits, the most important of these was the oil depletion allocation. It was first introduced in 1913 and allowed producers to use the allowable depletion to deduct only 5 percent of their income, and the deduction was limited to the original cost of their goods. Dwight D. Eisenhower's decision to cancel this tax loophole angered the oil industry, and Sid Richardson and Clint Murchison began negotiations with Eisenhower. In June 1957, Eisenhower agreed to appoint their man, Robert Anderson, as Secretary of the Treasury. According to Robert Sherrill in his book The Accidental President: A few weeks later Anderson was appointed to a cabinet committee to study the oil import situation, out of this study came the present-day program which benefits the major oil companies, the international oil giants primarily, by about one billion dollars a year. On the advice of Texan Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy appointed John Connally as Secretary of the Navy. This is an important position, as it controls a large amount of federal spending, including the contract for the supply of oil to the United States Navy. When Connally became Governor of Texas, Johnson organized his friend from Texas, Fred Korth, to become the new Secretary of the Navy. However, two years later, Kennedy decided to take on the oil industry. On October 16, 1962, Kennedy was able to persuade Congress to pass a law, that eliminated the distinction between repatriated profits and profits reinvested abroad. While this law applies to the industry as a whole, it mainly affected oil companies. It is estimated that as a result of this legislation, rich oilmen saw their earnings on foreign investment drop from 30 percent to 15 percent. On January 17, 1963, President Kennedy presented his proposals for tax reform, where he claimed that he wanted to eliminate special privileges and loopholes. The President even said he wanted to do away with the oil depletion allowance. It is estimated that the proposed removal of the oil depletion allowance, would result in a loss of about $ 300 million a year for the Texans. In November 1963, Fred Korth was forced to resign as a result of corruption allegations following the award of a $7 million contract for a combat aircraft, the General Dynamics TFX, a Texas-based company. JFK was forced to resign a different way later that month. But Fred Korth has interesting links, when he was a private lawyer, one of his clients was, Edwin A. Ekdahl, who was officially divorced from Marguerite Frances Claverie Ekdahl (also known as Marguerite Oswald), whose son from a previous marriage was Lee Harvey Oswald. Following the end of Korth's first marriage in 1964, he began a romantic relationship with heiress and socialite Marjorie Merriweather Post, daughter of breakfast-cereal magnate C. W. Post, twenty years his senior. He was a co-executor of Post's will, and part of her estate was her mansion on Palm Beach Island, Mar-a-Lago, that was purchased in 1980 by Donald Trump. His stepdaughter, Melissa Williams O'Rourke, is the mother of former U.S. Representative Beto O'Rourke, all interconnected as we have stated.

EXPOSE 2: Gates-Wuhan email leak: Around 20,000-25,000 of sets of email addresses and passwords were released online by 21 April 2020. The corrupt controlled media did not report the story widely, but Robert Potter, an independent Australian cyber security expert, said the data was real, as he could verify some of the email IDs and passwords of WHO. The leak was initially reported by SITE Intelligence and the data was posted to 4chan first. The affected organizations were NIH, CDC, World Bank, WHO, Gates Foundation, Wuhan Institute of Virology, in that order. The Washington Post's version of the story was written by Souad Mekhennet and Craig Timberg. Vice wrote that Neo-Nazis are spreading a list of emails and passwords for Gates Foundation and WHO Employees. The Seattle Times did relate the story as well. Since no more information related to these e-mail accounts was released, the leak was possibly only intended to show that a breach has taken place and how much time has passed since then. Documents also show of how the German government was planning to create fear: An internal paper from the German Federal Ministry of the Interior dated March 22, 2020, dealt with communication strategies, and how get the population to agree to lockdowns and other measures. The government should use historical comparisons, such as the Spanish flu of 1919 and the Great Depression of 1929, and then say that the new crisis is worse than both together, as most people would see that as a danger. Three specific example scenarios to create fear were mentioned: One should make it clear to the population how terrible it is to suffocate. Suffocating is a primordial fear of people, to point this out would make an impression on people. In addition, one should also scare the children, the paper says, children are easily infected, even with exit restrictions, e.g. from the children of the neighborhood. If you then infect your parents and one of them dies in agony at home and you feel that you are to blame for it, for example because you forgot to wash your hands after playing, that is the worst thing that a child can ever experience. In addition, the long-term consequences should be urgently pointed out, such as chronic lung damage or an increased risk of heart attacks. How to create a Global false alarm: In May 2020, an internal paper from the German Federal Ministry of the Interior (BMI), was leaked to the media after it was blocked within the ministry. The statement was written by an senior civil servant in Department KM 4: Protection of Critical Infrastructure. The paper concluded: The state has proven to be one of the largest fake news producers during the Corona crisis and the observable effects, and effects of COVID-19 do not provide sufficient evidence that, in terms of the health effects on society as a whole, it is more than a false alarm. In all probability we are dealing with a global false alarm that has remained undetected for a long time. In its response, the Ministry stated that the paper written by a single employee, and the employee was neither involved in the crisis team, nor commissioned or authorized to create or publish such an analysis. It reflects his private opinion, not that of the Federal Ministry of the Interior, yeah right the plausible deniability trick again. If the employee was not involved, how did the employee write the paper to begin with? These jackasses think we are all as stupid as they are, yet these are called the Intelligence Agencies? Seriously, someone played a joke on them because they act like the retard agencies to me. The Pfizer Leak: On 26th of July 2021, the cyber security researcher Ehden Biber started to publish the contract Pfizer has with Brazil and Albania online, revealing among other things that the corporation had guaranteed full indemnity for all vaccine injuries. These are his findings. Pfizer uses a standard format for contracts with slight amendments for each country. There is a non-disclosure clause of ten years, he has information that it is 30 years for Israel. Even if another drug or vaccine to cure the disease is found, the purchaser can not exit the contract. Pfizer is not bound by a delivery date, can decide what amount with each delivery, if late, the purchaser can not cancel certain quantity. The Brazilian contract prohibits the testing and the identification of batches. Pfizer will not be liable for any damages, because according to Pfizer's contract the long-term effects and efficacy of the vaccine are not currently known. Oops.

In a week where David Wilcock is wheeled back out to control the narrative of the alt media, after others failed to change the script. Wilcock was sent out with the premise of doom, they panicked when they saw the future, which is a reference to the Looking Glass technology again. That tech in that format no longer works, but it doesn't stop the likes of Wilcock and Goguen trotting out stuff in relation to it, generally based on fear. Whilst everyone panicked about 12/21 I personally rejoiced and waited eagerly for the other calendar to end the year. Why did I do that? well December 21st was the end of the year at one point, so with that date past, the new end of the year was 10 days later. I wrote a lengthy piece on January 1st on Cosmic Voice relating why I was happy that year had passed, and how everything will be different, events of the past 9 years proved that. The likes of Wilcock and Goguen whether coerced, naive or complicit it matters not, they are trying to loop us back in time to pre 2012, they like the clowns will fail. Their time is up and it is our time to go forward and create something better. Two of our members have witnessed very strange and extremely bright lightening this week. I witnessed it and it was very different to the normal lightening, the lightening appeared to be coming from a storm, which coincidentally did not show up on the radar, from a minimum of 60-100 miles away. And yet the flash left imprints on your eye balls which is only experienced if it is close up. Another member witnessed it last night, and this raises interesting possibilities. Is this form of lightening designed to cleanse whole areas? lightening produces an increase in O3 or ozone, which cleanses the air and all below it, ponder deeply on that. A very rare and symbolic animal turned up at my place of birth this week, what does it mean? is it symbolic, you decide. But here is a section of what the White Stag reveals. When the White Stag strides into your life, the creature brings you a sense of great responsibility. You are moving into a time in your life where maturity matters most. White Stag is a sign you stand at the gateway to a whole new spiritual level of understanding. The White Stag's appearance means you have Spirit Guides lending energetic support to you for the emotional or spiritual work ahead. White Stag also comes to remind you to walk with integrity and remain mindful of your thought-forms. The creature's presence is an omen, signaling a time of manifestation. Here, your Animal Spirit Guide may carry the warning of watching what you wish for. The Stag's appearance in your awareness, suggests it's time to consider all potential outcomes associated with the fulfillment of your desires. The key words in that were, Responsibility, maturity, spirituality, integrity and gateway.

As Autumn approaches many people will head to the North East for the fall colors, but can be seen in many locations across America as the red, gold, orange and green colors create a spectacular back drop of scenery. Many find it awe inspiring, many find peace and solace not only in the fall, but being amongst the trees in the woods and back to nature also. The trees kept their memories when humanity didn't, and is why they are hugged like distant friends of the past. The trees bring us lessons also, how to stand tall despite ankle biters at their base, how to reach for and turn towards the light of day, how to communicate with other trees and how to conserve water, these are life lessons for us all. Uh oh here comes the cryptic part again. The trees remember there is no sun in the shadow of the wizard, there's no sun on the shadow of the moon either, as the wizard falls instead rising, as time stands still then there's blood in the sand, where was your star, not where is your star? I see a rainbow rising look back on your horizon, were coming home, were coming home, were coming home, take me back and give me back my will. You can see but you're blind, someone turned the sun around, but you can see in your mind. You're riding the endless caravan, bonded and sold as a slave, but a sabre dance removing all the veils getting as good as you gave, but sleep with the devil and then you must pay. The power of what has been before, rises to trap you within, a magic carpet ride a genie maybe more, becomes a city of heavenly sin. The devil is me and I'm holding the key, no the devil is us and we are holding the key, you are the key, you have the choice and you can be free, if you let it all go. But despite growing every year, the trees do something every autumn, that can be another important lesson for us all. Every Autumn their leaves they grew for months, they release and let them go, as each one falls to the ground, they don't mourn a sense of loss, they prepare to rebuild, grow and start all over again, when the sun rises and warms once again. You are the rising sun and you have the warmth, use it. So collect all your traumas, pains, angst and fears and let them go. You like the tree will be stronger for it and like the tree you will continue to grow. Lets us not see or partake in the Autumn fall, lets us be the Autumn rise.
