MEMORANDUM FOR DIRECTOR, FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
DIRECTOR, EXECUTIVE OFFICE FOR U.S. ATTORNEYS ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL, CRIMINAL DIVIS N UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS.
FROM: THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SUBJECT: PARTNERSHIP AMONG FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, TRIBAL, AND TERRITORIAL LAW ENFORCEMENT TO ADDRESS. THREATS AGAINST SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS, BOARD MEMBERS, TEACHERS, AND STAFF. In recent months, there has been a disturbing spike in harassment, intimidation, and threats of violence against school administrators, board members, teachers, and staff who participate in the vital work of running our nation's public schools. Running or ruining is the great question. While spirited debate about policy matters is protected under our Constitution, that protection does not extend to threats of violence or efforts to intimidate individuals based on their views. Touche!
Threats against public servants are not only illegal, they run counter to our nation's core values. Those who dedicate their time and energy, to ensuring that our children receive a proper education in a safe environment, deserve to be able to do their work without fear for their safety. Education means training of animals, so they can stick that and start teaching something of value, and not indoctrination programs. The Department takes these incidents seriously and is committed to using its authority and resources to discourage these threats, identify them when they occur, and prosecute them when appropriate. In the coming days, the Department will announce, a series of measures designed to address the rise in criminal conduct directed toward school personnel.
Coordination and partnership with local law enforcement is critical to implementing these measures, for the benefit of our nation's nearly 14,000 public school districts. To this end,
I am directing the Federal Bureau of Investigation, working with each United States Attorney, to convene meetings with federal, state, local, Tribal, and territorial leaders in each federal judicial district within 30 days of the issuance of this memorandum. These meetings will facilitate the discussion of strategies for addressing threats against school administrators, board members, teachers, and staff, and will open dedicated lines of communication for threat reporting, assessment, and response. The Department is steadfast in its commitment to protect all people in the United States from violence, threats of violence, and other forms of intimidation and harassment. Whilst we at THI have repeatedly asked people not to use violence or threaten people, I can understand that some people don't always keep themselves in balance. But we warned this situation would generate hostility and much anger, as the system created it that way with their Zionist Fascist onslaught. One might ask the FBI will their steadfast commitment to protect all people apply to the non vaxxed? Because jabbing people with an experimental vaccine is violence against the person, using mandates and coercion tactics of get jabbed or lose your jobs, is a form of threats of violence, and also is the ultimate authoritarian acts of threats and harassment against we the people. This situation has created a load of sanctimonious jobsworths, who revel in being given positions of perceived power and abuse it. School boards, teachers and staff have an obligation to protect the children, not use them to falsely elevate their low self worth, and turn into over arching power trippers. Schools are jabbing kids without parental consent, who made you their parents? why would you do that? the authority told me so, how pathetic are you? If the authority asked you to microwave your own head, would you do it? it's a pathetic and lame excuse and a dissolution of your own responsibility. That is a flagrant breach of trust and a dereliction of duty to the children, and therefore everyone of you should be fired immediately. Is there really any difference between teachers luring children to having sex with them, than teachers luring children into being jabbed? well one situation can be recovered from, the other will not. Both situations are invading the privacy and rights of the child. The teachers need to take on the system, and tell them it is they who are putting them at risk adhering to policies passed down by Councils, Governments and school boards and they should never have agreed to become the enforcement team for the jabbers. By going along with policies that are not lawful, given you are a teacher you should know the difference between lawful and legal, you are an unpaid lackey in a system of control that is enforcing children into being administered with a lethal weapon. That hardly any teacher knows what it contains, no teacher can categorically state it is safe, and no teachers can guarantee those jabs will not harm the children they are suppose to be protecting. That makes all teachers taking part in this experimental warfare game complicit in endangering the child, and potentially leading toward contributing to the manslaughter of the child. For source sakes, stop and think about you are actually doing? Do you hear that teachers? that is what you are doing on behalf of the system, they are making you do their dirty work, just like the cops, the FBI, the CIA and all the other agencies, you are pawns in their game, just quit it and your jobs until they back down. Teachers need to remember, you are there to look after the children, teach the children and prepare them for their adult lives, not stab them in back and then in the arm with a poison you have zero idea about.

NEWS: As the climate change brigade ramps up, we start off with a common sense question, if coal is all so damaging, why are the EL-ites increasing the price of gas for vehicles and gas for homes, making coal the more cheaper option for fuel? Common sense question 2, if Governments are so concerned about the economy and jobs shortages, why are the price of cars and gas going up? Common sense question 3, if Governments are so concerned for peoples health, why are they allowing the price of it to rise, making it unaffordable to so many? Common sense question 4, why if a country goes to war with another, why does one countries people hello Americans have to pay for aid and rebuilding what they destroyed? Common sense question 5, following a deadly attack in Norway this week, all police were asked to carry firearms following the event, was that a problem, reaction, solution method? I saw an article this week with a headline patent proves vaccine is an obedience training, one would have thought that was obvious when we did our first Expose series in June of last year? As the latest viral craze sweeping the country amongst many of the youth is, Fuck Joe Biden heard around many differing sporting stadiums this past week. As many people and groups are now walking out or away from their jobs, downing tools and telling the system to go f themselves, there is far too many of them to put out in this show, but it is great to see for people like me who have ran the gauntlet for decades to bring the truth and make people realize their world, country, governments and lives are based on illusions. So, many more now seeing the stark reality of greed, power and corruption and then general lack of care or concern for the general public. Many more now seeing they were used as tools, that were imminently discardable should they fail to tow the line. Loyalty, your level of expertise, your longevity in the job, all things you thought would protect you, now seen in the light of day, that these people in services to the public business, really just don't give a shit. Keep walking away and walk tall and proud, the system is about to crumble into dust and we can start anew. You will also see who were really your friends in your workplaces, those that stayed behind like cowards and not walking out in support, are not the people you need around you. Expect utter chaos throughout this winter as the reality of this fake program ran against the people, starts to unravel. There will be many disruptions in and of your day to day lives, in hospitals, police, services, transportation, utilities, repairs, infrastructure, food and other things as the lack of workers takes hold. This is not something to fear and back down to, because it is inconvenient to us all, this is something to keep pushing at and then we can chart a new better path for us all. We at the TPC will need to double our efforts to push forward plans for the inevitable collapse, and rebuilding the new.

AT&T, the nation's largest telecom provider, has been discovered to be a crucial cog in the operation of One America News, the rightwing news channel which has seen a rise in its viewership through its promotion of unfounded claims that the 2020 election was stolen from Donald Trump. AT&T have for a long time been faction based clowns, we will find out more on them later.

Americans' trust in the media to report the news fully, accurately and fairly has edged down four percentage points since last year to 36%, making this year's reading the second lowest in Gallup's trend. In all, only 7% of U.S. adults say they have a great deal of trust, and 29% a fair amount of trust and confidence in newspapers, television and radio news reporting. Which, combined, is four points above the 32% record low in 2016, amid the divisive presidential election campaign between Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton. In addition, 29% of the public currently registers not very much trust, and 34% have none at all. These findings, from a Sept. 1-17 poll, are the latest in Gallup's tracking of the public's confidence in key U.S. institutions, which began in 1972. Between 1972 and 1976, 68% to 72% of Americans expressed trust in the mass media, yet, by 1997, when the question was next asked, trust had dropped to 53%. Since 2018, however, it has fallen a total of nine points, as trust has slid among all party groups.

The Biden administration is exploring a bill of rights to govern facial recognition and other potentially harmful uses of artificial intelligence, but the problems AI poses are much bigger than figuring out how to regulate a new technology. There's no good way to regulate AI's role in shaping a fair and equitable society without deciding what that society should look like, including how power should be balanced among individuals, corporations and the government. Notice there is no mention of we the people? The White House's Office of Science and Technology Policy launched a fact-finding mission yesterday, that will ultimately result in a bill of rights to guard against the powerful technologies we have created, said OSTP director Eric Lander and his deputy Alondra Nelson. What they're saying: It's important to start the conversations about what's acceptable and unacceptable regarding AI and our personal data now, before it is too late, says Sanjay Gupta, global head of product and corporate development at Mitek Systems, a leader in digital identity verification. Companies will find agreeable ways to still innovate with and integrate these technologies, he said. AI's biggest boosters can fall victim to a kind of techno-solutionism, expecting technology to efficiently solve structural, societal problems. The original Bill of Rights is nearly 230 years old, and we're still debating the meaning of nearly each of its 652 words. If an AI Bill of Rights is our ultimate goal, we're still at the stage of haggling over the Articles of Confederation. All sounds so nice about controlling AI, but these types of bills always seems to give greater control to the perpetrators, and less about protecting the public.

Nicolas Chaillan served as the US Air Force's software chief and worked on Pentagon security. He quit in September and said last week that the US was far behind China on AI. We have no competing fighting chance against China in fifteen to twenty years, he said. A senior cyber security official at the Pentagon said he quit, because he thought it was impossible for the US to compete with China on AI. Right now, it's already a done deal, it is already over in my opinion, he said. Chaillan went on to say that the AI capabilities and cyber defenses of some government departments were at kindergarten level, the FT said. Interesting choice of words, as it is how we have described the levels of not only the Pentagon, but also the agencies. They spend vast quantities of time talking shit, making up boogeymen, fabricating stories and covering up the truth, whilst other countries passed by them whilst they carried on acting like children. All about our department is better than yours, America is years behind in most relevant categories right now, the horse bolted because the children left the gate open.

NATO on Wednesday expelled eight members of Russia's mission to the military alliance, saying that they were secretly working as intelligence officers and halved the size of Moscow's team able to work at its headquarters. We can confirm that we have withdrawn the accreditation of eight members of the Russian Mission to NATO, who were undeclared Russian intelligence officers, a NATO official said. NATO chief then made this claim, we don't regard China as an adversary or an enemy. Which tells you China is largely controlled by the Rothschild's, and maybe it was the Rothschild's who were the Chinese Elders all along?

Armed with a search warrant, the agents spent several hours in the headquarters of the Sergeants Benevolent Association, which represents 13,000 active and retired New York City Police Department sergeants and is the fifth-biggest police union in the country. Simultaneously, FBI agents searched a home in the Long Island suburb of Port Washington, New York, an FBI spokesperson said. It belongs to the SBA's outspoken leader, Ed Mullins. It was not immediately clear why the FBI targeted the SBA and Mullins's home, but the spokesperson the agency was carrying out a law enforcement action in connection with an ongoing investigation. Members of the public corruption unit in the U.S. attorney's office in Manhattan were also involved in the raid. New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio said he was aware of the FBI raid but shed no light on the surprise raid of the SBA. The son of a dockworker who was raised in Greenwich Village, Mullins has frequently clashed with both the NYPD leadership and de Blasio. The union leader's acerbic Twitter posts have included calling a city councilman a first class whore, calling a former health commissioner a bitch, and in response to the officer-involved shooting death of Michael Brown and subsequent protests, he said, Ferguson, Missouri was a lie and a nation of police have been under attack ever since. Mullins also remains a strong supporter of former President Donald Trump. The SBA's bylaws require Mullins to continue working as an NYPD sergeant, but records show he is not currently assigned a specific post. This is how politics works, moreso in New York a nest of vipers cutting each others throats.

The ISIS-K suicide bomber who carried out a terrorist attack at Kabul international airport in late August, killing 13 US service members and dozens of Afghans, had been released from a prison near Kabul just days earlier when the Taliban took control of the area, according to three US officials. Two US officials, as well as Rep. Ken Calvert, a California Republican who said he had been briefed by national security officials, said the suicide bomber was released from the Parwan prison at Bagram air base. The US controlled the base until it abandoned Bagram in early July, it had turned over the prison to Afghan authorities in 2013. Oops do I hear the term Manchurian candidate? funny how many of these people are released just prior to events, or the other classic they were being monitored by the agency people.

A private plane has crashed into an empty office block in the northern Italian city of Milan, killing all eight people on board. The plane, which was bound for the island of Sardinia, came down after taking off from Milan's Linate airport. The pilot was Romanian billionaire Dan Petrescu, 68, he died alongside his wife and their son, Italian media say. The crash set the office block and several parked cars on fire. An investigation into the cause of the crash has been launched. Romania billionaire killed in crash, Czech billionaire ousted within a week? maybe a coincidence, or maybe not.

A Swedish cartoonist who sketched the Prophet Muhammad's head on a dog's body has died in a traffic accident, according to local media. Lars Vilks was reportedly travelling in a civilian police vehicle which collided with a truck near the town of Markaryd in southern Sweden. Two police officers were also killed and the truck driver was injured. Vilks, 75, lived under police protection after being subjected to death threats over the cartoon. The cartoon, published in 2007, offended many Muslims who regard visual representation of the Prophet as blasphemous. It came a year after a Danish newspaper published cartoons of the Prophet. Police have not revealed the identity of those killed in Sunday's incident, but Vilks's partner confirmed his death to Dagens Nyheter newspaper. A statement from police said it was still unclear how the collision occurred, but initially there was nothing to suggest that anyone else was involved. Another coincidence?

Is this a coincidence as well? At least nine people have died after tropical cyclone Shaheen battered parts of Iran and Oman. The storm arrived in the area on Sunday, with winds between 120 and 150 km/h (75-93 mph) as its eye crossed land. Thousands have been evacuated from coastal areas in Oman. Streets in the capital, Muscat, have been submerged. Shaheen was later downgraded to a tropical storm after it hit land, a local meteorology service said. In Iran, authorities said six people were killed in a port in the south-eastern province of Sistan-Baluchestan. The country's official media said infrastructure including electrical facilities and roads were damaged. Since when do Oman or Iran have tropical storms?

Word of warning for the many German followers we have. Caught out by floods that devastated the country, left 180 dead and hundreds of thousands without power in the aftermath. Germany launches Blackout, a PR stunt to reassure a sceptical public that the government is in control. Yet again evidence they use these events to install other programs. Nearly 200 died in the floods that surged through the German state of North Rhine-Westphalia and its neighbours earlier this year. As the world watched on, shocked that one of the most organized nations in the world had been caught on the hop by Mother Nature. Why would it be a shock? the so called leader of everything country, America has these events daily. When the waters receded the repair bill stood at around €13 billion for that single state, and while there are certainly many lessons to learn, it seems the state government in Bonn has been prompted to move up a gear in its disaster planning, to avoid a repeat of being caught flat footed in a disaster. Nie wieder – never again. So tomorrow, the population of North Rhine-Westphalia will hold a prep session for the apocalypse by taking part in Blackout, the sexy name for National Disaster

Protection Day 2021 when the point of the exercise is, to imagine Germany suddenly plunged into darkness without electricity and how you would react in order to survive. We all know how these preparedness events plan out don't we, they are planting the seeds in the minds of the German people. Cynics might brand the day of disaster a calculated PR stunt by a government under pressure to reassure a demoralised, corona-wearry, lockdown-sick public that they have a grip on the situation as the nights draw in and the temperatures start to plummet, and those cynics might even be right. Indeed they are.

Josef Lieven and his team of software engineers faced their share of challenges on the road to Europe's digital Covid certificate. But some 10 weeks later, they are ready to launch the region's first online vaccine passport, with the lofty aim of making summer travel easier for Europeans. Ah the old adage of convenience again, convenience has been our downfall. Short term convenience is a pointless exercise in the long term scheme of things, they are trying to race us through time, when we need to slow down and remember we are not on time, they are. There's a feeling of relief, and also pride that we managed to do it, said Lieven from T-Systems, who jointly led the IT project with fellow German firm SAP. The European Commission tasked both companies with developing a digital certificate, that says whether a person has been fully vaccinated against Covid-19, has tested negative or recovered from a corona virus infection. The information is stored in a QR code that can be scanned and recognized by the 27 members of the European Union plus their neighbors Iceland, Norway and Liechtenstein. The application, often dubbed the vaccine passport, is the first digital health portal to be accepted across EU borders, while adhering to the bloc's strict data protection laws. There are no laws when people consent to these apps, they get around the laws because we consented. The European Commission tasked both companies with developing a digital certificate that says whether a person has been fully vaccinated against Covid-19, has tested negative or recovered from a corona virus infection. I wonder how many ask how can the phone tell that information? is someone inputting data? or is the app reading and scanning you, due to technology within you? I warned those apps were dangerous, now it is becoming increasingly clear, but Klaus Schwab warned us all, he said you will own nothing and be (h)app(y).

CHILDREN ABUSE SECTION: Three stories revealing the horrors of children abuses, which are unpleasant to hear of such atrocities, but at last it is making the light of day now. Exposing it prevents other cases. A statewide anti-human trafficking operation resulted in the arrest of more than 200 people and the recovery of 10 missing children. Attorney General Dave Yost detailed the results of the operation, referred to as Ohio Knows, during a briefing with several law enforcement agencies on Monday. The operation, which spanned one week, led to the arrest of 161 people seeking to buy sex, including three people from Franklin County who sought to buy sex from a minor. Additionally, 50 people were arrested for offering to sell sex. Among those arrested was a Cleveland-area city councilman, a teacher, a professor, a pilot, municipal employees and a firefighter. Randal Frazier was the music teacher at St. Matthew Catholic School in Gahanna.

Thousands of paedophiles have operated within the French Catholic Church since 1950, the head of a panel investigating abuses by church members says. Jean-Marc Sauvé told French media that the commission had found evidence of 2,900 to 3,200 abusers, out of a total of 115,000 priests and other clerics. That is a minimal estimate, he added. The commission is to release a lengthy report on Tuesday, that is based on church, court and police archives, as well as interviews with victims. The independent inquiry was commissioned by the French Catholic Church in 2018, following a number of scandals in other countries. Mr Sauvé, a senior civil servant, told France's Le Monde newspaper that the panel had handed over evidence to prosecutors in 22 cases where criminal action could still be launched. He added that bishops and other senior church officials had been told of other allegations against people who were still alive. Commission members included doctors, historians, sociologists and theologians. More than 6,500 victims and witnesses were contacted over two and a half years. The final report is 2,500 pages long. Christopher Lamb, of the Roman Catholic publication The Tablet, said that abuse scandals had plunged the Church into its greatest crisis in 500 years. Earlier this year Pope Francis changed the Catholic Church's laws to explicitly criminalize sexual abuse, in its biggest overhaul of the criminal code for decades. The new rules make sex abuse, grooming minors, possessing child pornography and covering up abuse an offence under Canon Law.

This is the follow up from that story as the report was released. Nuns used crucifixes to rape girls during decades of abuse carried out by clergy in France's Catholic Church that saw attacks on 330,000 children covered up by a veil of silence, a damning report has found. The 2,500-page landmark report was released Tuesday after more than two years of investigations by an independent commission, in France's first major reckoning with the devastating phenomenon. A victim named Marie testified that she was abused as an 11-year-old, and that when she complained about the abuse to her parents, they refused to believe a nun could do such a thing. The abuse continued for another year, I was truly a gift for this nun, because she knew full well that she did not risk anything, Marie said. Eighty per cent of victims were young boys between the ages of 10 and 13, however many girls also suffered abuse, not only by priests but also by nuns. Nuns used crucifixes to rape little girls or forced boys to have sex with them, according to the report. Pope Francis today expressed to the victims his great sorrow, for their wounds, adding that he was grateful for the courage they had shown in denouncing what they had been through. Well he knew all too well it was going on for decades, actually no, centuries and did nothing about it. The investigation found that an estimated 330,000 children were victims of sex abuse within France's Catholic Church between 1950 to 2020, with an estimated 216,000 people abused by priests and other clerics. Olivier Savignac, who was sexually abused by a priest in 1993, at the age of 13, has contributed to the report as a victims representative. I perceived this priest as someone who was good, a caring person who would not harm me, said Savignac. But it was when I found myself on that bed half-naked and he was touching me, that I realized something was wrong. He says the abuse, which carried on for years, damaged him for life, it's like a growing cyst, it's like gangrene inside the victim's body and the victim's psyche. We can see how systemic it was, with an estimated number of 216,000 victims, Savignac said, adding that the Church could not have ignored something of that magnitude. It's an earthquake, a hurricane, a tsunami when you see these numbers, it's so damning that no one can stay in denial, whether the Catholic Church or society as a whole, he added. The president of the commission that issued the report, Jean-Marc Sauvé, said the estimate, based on scientific research, includes abuses committed by priests and others clerics as well as by non-religious people involved in the church. The report says an estimated 3,000 criminal paedophiles two-thirds of them priests, have preyed on hundreds of thousands of mainly young boys who were at Catholic schools and other institutions. Some 86 per cent of victims were male children, many of whom did not report the abuse they suffered for decades. Just staggeringly evil, and confirms further my claim, is all organizations designed to serve and protect the people are in on this criminality. None moreso than the church, at which point will people stop protecting or supporting it, when all evidence is they are lying to the public on a mass, pardon the pun, scale.

COVID BS: Hi Thomas, the occupation laws which you mentioned for parts of Canada and USA had been introduced in Spain this summer. They are exactly the same as the laws you mentioned in your show for parts of Canada and USA, I am sure more places will follow. As for Germany, all 16 states adopted before and during summer holiday a new funeral law, permitting mass graves, burials within 24 hours as well as next of kin have no right to know if nor where their loved ones is buried.

Some good and common sense news from Quebec, the Health Minister Christian Dubé announced a 30-day delay, as the initial deadline for mandatory vaccination loomed, with thousands of employees facing suspension without pay.

Health care giant Kaiser Permanente has put more than 2,200 employees nationwide on unpaid leave, who have chosen not to get vaccinated against the corona virus, a little over 1% of its workforce. The employees have until Dec. 1 to get vaccinated to be able to return to work and those who choose not to will be terminated, the company said. Kaiser said its overall vaccination rate stands at 92%. Kaiser by name and nature it seems.

On Monday September 20th, two top pathologists held a press conference in Germany to reveal their findings of an investigation into ten deaths linked to the Covid-19 vaccines, and what they revealed is shocking. The press conference took place at the Institute of Pathology in Reutlingen, Germany; of which Professor Arne Burkhardt has been in charge of for over eighteen years. Professor Burkhardt held the press conference alongside another experienced pathologist, Professor Walter Yang who has headed a private institute specializing in lung pathology for the past 35 years, among other appointments. In collaboration with several other anonymous pathologists, Professor Arne Burkhardt and Professor Walter Yang investigated ten deaths that had occurred after the person had received the Covid-19 vaccine, and this is what they found. Of the ten deaths, the two Professors confirmed that they concluded five were very likely due to the Covid-19 vaccine, two were probably related to the vaccine, one was inconclusive, and two they concluded had no relation to the Covid-19 vaccine. However, what they found astonishing, is the similarities among the deaths that they concluded were linked to vaccination. In three cases, they found rare autoimmune diseases, one of them so rare that they only discovered it when they looked closely at the digitized image. They were Hashimoto's, an autoimmune-triggered hypothyroidism, leukoclastic vasculitis, an inflammatory reaction in the capillaries that leads to skin bleeding, and Sjögren's syndrome, an inflammation of the salivary and lacrimal glands. Although deaths with suspected vaccine reactions are far from a representative sample of the population, three autoimmune diseases in a total of ten is a strikingly high rate. The most striking finding, however, related to lymphocytes. The lymphocytes are running amok in all organs, Professor Lang called it. Not only did he show accumulations of lymphocytes in a wide variety of tissues, from the heart muscle to the kidney, liver, spleen, and uterus, he also showed images in which the tissue was massively attacked as a result. A whole series of lymphocyte follicles, which are small, developing lymph nodes in completely the wrong place, for example in lung tissue. It also showed detachments of endothelial cells, which are the smooth cells that form the wall of blood vessels, clumps of red blood cells that ultimately cause thrombosis, and giant cells that formed around trapped foreign bodies. Lang said he had not seen anything like these clusters of lymphocytes in hundreds of thousands of pathological studies. Normally, other white blood cells, the granulocytes, are found in inflammations. In these cases, however, these are hardly found, and instead there are masses of lymphocytes. Further investigations are needed to determine which type of lymphocyte is involved in this process, and how exactly it is triggered in order to prove a watertight connection with the vaccination, however, the histological examinations required for this would still take at least six months. Still, he said, the results available so far are important enough to make known in advance in the form of this press conference. The two Professors also revealed images of unidentified foreign bodies suspected to be either contaminants or the adjuvants in the Covid-19 vaccines, foreign bodies which they discovered in highly inflamed lung tissue, we're missing out on 90 percent, he said of the number of fatal vaccine reactions. That is not the fault of forensic scientists and pathologists, after all, you can only see what you know, and forensic medicine can't do histological examinations anyway. But it is urgently necessary to perform more autopsies on such cases, unfortunately, he said, that is often hindered. Our task is to educate people about risks and side effects, a task that would actually have to be fulfilled by institutions such as the Paul Ehrlich Institute, in the case of experimental vaccines with emergency approval. The findings of the experienced pathologists from an investigation into ten deaths following Covid-19 vaccination come after another pathologist, Professor Peter Schirmacher, director of the pathological institute of the University of Heidelberg in Germany, sounded the alarm over his findings following over forty autopsies of people who died within two weeks of having a Covid-19 vaccine. Schirmacher stated that 30 to 40 percent of people he examined died from the vaccine and that in his opinion, the frequency of fatal consequences of vaccinations is underestimated. Following his findings, Schirmacher called for more autopsies of vaccinated people to further determine whether the vaccines are linked to deaths. He has warned that the high number of unreported cases of vaccination deaths is partially due to the fact that, pathologists do not notice anything about most of the patients who die after and possibly from a vaccination. Fairly damning evidence that these jabs cause a range of ailments, even things not documented or specified. Yet people still line up like lemmings? you can't teach stupid it seems.

Scientists believe they can explain why some people who catch Covid, develop chilblain like lesions on their toes and even fingers. Covid toe appears to be a side effect of the body switching into attack mode to fight off the virus. The researchers say they have pinpointed the parts of the immune system that appear to be involved. The findings, in the British Journal of Dermatology, may help with treatments to ease the symptoms. It can happen at any age, but affects children and teenagers more commonly. For some it is painless, but the rash can be extremely sore and itchy, with tender blisters and swelling. Sofia, who is 13 and from Clackmannanshire in Scotland, was barely able to walk or wear shoes when she developed Covid toe earlier this year.

Who would've thought that our governments would become our biggest threat in the 21st century, despite the society and the single human being and his rights being protected with hundreds of laws and international agreements and documents? The latest Public Health data shows that Covid-19 vaccinated people have accounted for 81% of Covid-19 deaths this summer, whilst UK Government data shows that Covid-19 deaths are over 11 times higher than this time last year. The Office for National Statistics data shows that since teens were first given the Covid-19 vaccine, there has been a 63% increase in deaths among teen boys compared to the same period in 2020. The UK is essentially in the midst of a national disaster with a vaccine programme that has clearly failed, but more worryingly has also killed children, and will kill more. According to the British Daily Expose, UK Health Security Agency the sinister replacement for Public Health England data doesn't look good. Table 4 of the report published by UKHSA shows that there were 687 deaths among the unvaccinated, 110 deaths among the partly vaccinated, but a frightening 2,338 deaths among the fully vaccinated between August 30th and September 26th 2021. This means that the unvaccinated account for just 22% of Covid-19 deaths during September 2021, whilst the vaccinated account for a disastrous 78%. With only a claimed 95% effectiveness the latest UKHSA data actually shows the vaccines have a negative efficacy as low as minus 66 %, you would of course expect to still see some Covid-19 deaths. But not when seasonality should be on our side, just like it was in 2020 when deaths dropped to nearly zero. However, mix seasonality in with an effective vaccine and you would have thought the UK would have just enjoyed a Covid-19 free summer, but the reality has been far from it.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention have devised a set of rules pertaining to the classification of infectious disease and death. These rules simultaneously inflate the number of covid cases in the unvaccinated and allow hospitals to classify dead vaccinated people as unvaccinated deaths. Hospitals and laboratories are required to follow these rules and report official covid-19 data based on these rules. It appears that these rules were designed in a way to conceal the number of covid cases in the vaccinated and to conceal the number of deaths caused by the covid-19 vaccines. This medical fraud and morbid treachery allows the CDC to continue on, with the false narrative that the nation is suffering from a pandemic of the unvaccinated. People who die from the vaccine are used as props to falsely advertise the need for more of these deadly vaccines. When an individual receives their first dose of a covid-19 vaccine, they are still classified as “unvaccinated” for several weeks after the shot. If they test positive for covid-19 in the month following the injection, they are officially registered as an unvaccinated case. If the vaccine elicits physical symptoms of disease as was reported in 50 percent of recipients in the clinical studies, this sickness is classified as a healthy immune reaction to the vaccine, or is advertised as a milder sickness compared to a hypothetical case of covid. According to the CDC’s rules, no one is counted as “fully vaccinated” until a full 14 days have passed from the second injection of Pfizer or Moderna’s mRNA vaccine, or 14 days have passed after the first dose of the Johnson & Johnson shot. This rule conveniently hides 80 percent of the deaths that occur after vaccination and slyly misattributes these deaths as unvaccinated deaths. This fraudulent rule inflates the unvaccinated death toll, and hides the real medical issues that are the result of covid shots. The vast majority of deaths occur within the first two weeks after vaccination, yet all these deaths are advertised as unvaccinated deaths. Your Government, government agencies, media all found out lying by this piece alone, never mind the treasure trove of other evidence revealed.

We made Ozone (trioxygen, O<sub>3</sub>) and Hydrogen Peroxide (H<sub>2</sub>O<sub>2</sub>) 10 years ago. We took food and dipped it in water which was Ozonized and the poisons in the food was neutralized. We can probably have the same result with Ozone. Can someone make what I intended back then an ozone tunnel, or alternative a tunnel through a bath of Hydrogen Peroxide through the volume of fluid, in both cases it is a field that the food will pass through. Injections can put parasites into the brain of persons and poisons. Frequencies can kill the parasites, frequencies might neutralize poisons. Putting a person that has been jabbed in the back with poison and parasites into an Ozone tunnel with added frequency treatment might cure him. Ozone might be translated into its frequencies. Ozone (O<sub>3</sub>) Ozone activates the bodies own healing mechanisms.

PONDERING ITEMS: Pope Francis has launched what some describe as the most ambitious attempt at Catholic reform for 60 years. A two-year process to consult every Catholic parish around the world on the future direction of the Church began at the Vatican this weekend. Some Catholics hope it will lead to change on issues such as women's ordination, married priests and same-sex relationships. Others fear it will undermine the principles of the Church. They say a focus on reform could also distract from issues facing the Church, such as corruption and dwindling attendance levels. The universal phase will see a month-long gathering of the bishops at the Vatican in October 2023. The Universal phase is an interesting choice of words, because I believe at the end of that phase and discussion in October 2023, they may well push the Universal one world religion program. He is not reforming it, they are planning to remake it, housed not in Rome, but Jerusalem.

It appears to all intents and purposes that crime pays on this planet. But this is beyond disturbing and shows how low and shallow many people are, in the chase for papers with numbers on them, it is beyond sick. It shows how far some of humanity have fallen and is a long way back from that program. R. Kelly may be trapped in prison, but Trapped in the Closet and a slew of his other hit singles are surging in popularity following his conviction on sex trafficking charges. The disgraced singer's album sales have jumped a whopping 517% since, a New York jury handed down their guilty verdict on Sept. 27, according to Rolling Stone. Kelly, 54, was found guilty of sexual exploitation, bribery, racketeering and sex trafficking involving five victims. He is now facing the prospect of life behind bars. Many may have guessed that the crimes would cause a cancellation of Kelly's classic tracks, but the opposite has occurred. In addition to the spike in album sales, streams of the R&B crooner's tunes are also up. From Sept. 27 and Oct. 3, the week following Kelly's conviction his on-demand audio streams were up 22%, while his video streams were up 23% compared to the previous seven days. You would think someone convicted of child sex abuse and trafficking was something that you wouldn't wish to possess in your life, not the case with the psychotic people who bought his stuff after his conviction, utter disgraceful.

A new report has revealed hate crime is on the rise in England and Wales. The Office for National Statistics has released data showing a 9% increase in hate crimes against protected groups in the year ending March 2021. Crimes motivated by race showed the largest increase, up 12% from 2020 to 2021. All courtesy of the system and the media, but the great question is, why do we the people keep playing their game? The line increase in hate crimes against protected groups, is the problem, why are they protected and not all people? why do only black lives matter, not all lives matter? All these are indicative of the real pandemic on this planet, insecurity and low self worth and if all people work on elevating each other, racism and hate crimes would disappear.

With the new directive of you had to have under 100 employees, or they all had to be vaccinated. A business owner would face the music if he didn't comply, and he'd be heavily fined. So one critical thinking business owner fired all the vaccinated people and gave the non vaccinated a raise for being smart enough to not get the vax. Seems fair to me given that jabbed people are more sick than non jabbed. One of our members complained about that story stating, now there are 46 people without a job who lost resources to feed themselves, their families and pay their bills at the moment. A valid worthy comment and yes was 100% correct, but this is war and those same vaxxed people have put us all at risk. They have ridiculed, abused and ostracized us from the community, for having the audacity to have freedom of choice. The tables have to be turned back on them to protect us, and hopefully they will see the error of their ways. They declared war on us, not the other way round. It is nice that people show empathy, but where was or is the empathy for us, cast away from society like bloody lepers. The priority is, to protect ourselves and that involves doing the right thing for us, not them. Should it have come to this? no absolutely not, but it is what it is, a war and in war there will be casualties. This is why I keep saying we are all we have got and protect it at all costs. How many of the vaxxed are complaining or supporting those 10's of thousands of those sacked because they wouldn't take an experimental jab? There will be some, but not enough, as all should have walked out in protest with the unvaccinated, but how many did? and therein lies the problem of service to self, which the system relies upon us to do that.

An ex-CIA officer turned whistleblower against torture has called for the release of a suspected terrorist he captured nearly 20 years ago. John Kiriakou told the BBC that the torture and imprisonment of al-Qaeda suspect Abu Zubaydah has been more than adequate punishment. The call for Mr Zubaydah's release from US custody came as, the Supreme Court heard arguments on Wednesday weighing the US government's ability to keep potential torture evidence secret. Mr Zubaydah's detention lies at the heart of the case before the high court. Following his 2002 capture in Pakistan, the Palestinian has claimed that he was waterboarded, beaten, deprived of sleep, isolated and kept in painful stress positions during interrogations at a secret CIA black site in Poland, before being transferred to detention at Guantanamo Bay, where he has been held without charge since 2006. The black sites were a network of facilities around the world, used by the CIA to house and interrogate terror suspects in the years following the 11 September 2001 attacks. The black sites were it said, no are, they still exist. Mr Zubaydah has attempted to subpoena two CIA contractors for a Polish criminal investigation into the black site. The US federal government, however, has blocked the subpoenas, arguing that releasing the information would harm national security. Ah the classic National Security Act cover up used again. The case is the first involving a Guantanamo Bay detainee heard by the Supreme Court in more than a decade. A ruling will have wide implications for determining the limits of the US government's right to secrecy. After being captured in Pakistan in March 2002, Mr Zubaydah whom the George W Bush administration believed was a high-level terrorist recruiter and planner, was taken to black sites in several countries, including Thailand and Poland. While in CIA custody, he was questioned under torture. Following Tuesday's show this is no surprise, and a further indictment of US Government and Agencies of covering up crimes committed, all under the banner of secrecy and the National Security Act. That act needs to be repealed, if we are ever going to move forward in the truth and transparency. People are being held for long periods of time, because bringing the case to court will expose the agencies, the Julian Assange story on Tuesday confirmed that.

It was revealed this week in a bombshell New York Times report that, the CIA has raised the alarm with all its overseas stations and officers, that an unusually high number of US informants are being captured and executed abroad. There are dozens of such instances, according to an agency memo. The report is an incredibly rare instance of the media getting hold of a fresh, very recent highly classified memo that's also sure to be embarrassing for the agency. The message, in an unusual top-secret cable, said that the CIA's counterintelligence mission center had looked at dozens of cases in the last several years involving foreign informants who had been killed, arrested or most likely compromised. Although brief, the cable laid out the specific number of agents executed by rival intelligence agencies, a closely held detail that counterintelligence officials typically do not share in such cables. The cable warned its officers across the globe against put mission over security, which it strongly suggested was a key cause that's leading to poor tradecraft, putting agents at risk. Agents in this context means foreign and local assets recruited by the CIA to spy in their home countries, a dangerous endeavor which puts all the risk on the foreign person and their family, who feeds sensitive information to their CIA handler. The cable also cited the growing capabilities and awareness on the part of foreign and rival agencies of US intelligence's methods. The synopsis of what's in the top secret memo, the cable highlighted the struggle the spy agency is having, as it works to recruit spies around the world in difficult operating environments. In recent years, adversarial intelligence services in countries such as Russia, China, Iran and Pakistan have been hunting down the CIA's sources and in some cases turning them into double agents. Especially the growing biometric technology deployed by China is seen as a serious problem for maintaining local assets' cover. The report continues by spelling out, the large number of compromised informants in recent years, also demonstrated the growing prowess of other countries in employing innovations like biometric scans, facial recognition, artificial intelligence and hacking tools, to track the movements of CIA officers in order to discover their sources. Pakistani intelligence very effective at hunting down CIA sources and flipping them into double agents. And yet the CIA works and is closely linked with ISI, which is the Pakistan intelligence, I witnessed that myself in a past meeting. Though this wasn't addressed in the cable, there's also the possibility of leaks and the question of double-agents gaining compromising material, further exposing other assets. The report further quotes former CIA operatives who described a somewhat flawed internal system and bureaucracy, that's set up to reward ambition but not recognize when officers prudently exercise restraint. Promotions are often handed out to operatives who recruit the most agents abroad. One former CIA operative, Douglas London, told The Times, no one at the end of the day is being held responsible when things go south with an agent. But of course in general it remains that few if anyone are ever held accountable for failures, when it comes to Washington's massive national security state bureaucracy, indeed. The lack of accountability is the key factor, because there is a distinct lack of humanity within these groups, life is all so easily expendable. Fail within these circles and you pay a price with your life, because the focus is on protecting the psychopaths at the top at all costs. It is a blight on humanity these groups, they have no real value for we the people whatsoever, only to protect an evil, sinister and corrupt system, nothing more and nothing less. It is time for these agencies to be cleaned out, so humanity can move forward. To the agents who work for these clowns, it is high time to consider your position, your morals and your life, they are and will replace you in short time. Yes, I am heavily aware many of you were recruited due to a misdemeanor in your past, and they leveraged you into these jobs and they kept it quiet or brushed it under the carpet, but is or was it actually worth it in the long term? Because from what I can see that is unfolding now, the rest of the world has had enough of the CIA and they are targeting you, is your job worth the risk to protect a false program that benefits only child level thinking people, who operate in and of fear on a daily basis? What we are seeing now is, an all out faction war, if you are in Langley 1 will you survive? Langley 2 will you survive? Langley 3 will you survive or will the recent Langley 4 remove you all? There is a way forward for all of you to change the whole dynamic of what agency work is all about, to protect the people at all costs, not protect weak fear laden people whose whole mission is death, protecting the system, EL-ites and running off world programs against we the people. I proposed a full disclaimer for past crimes with full disclosure of what you have done, you will disclose who you were with and who ordered it or was involved in it, on full pay without the perks, unless you have been involved in deliberate abuse in any format against children. That then clears the decks, it ends the leverage over you, the blackmail and gives you back your lives. Then we can all move forward without this over arching psychotic program called Intelligence Services, they are not Intelligent and are of no service to we the people. From the CIA to the CIP, Clowns in Panic, don't say you weren't warned.

In Tuesdays show I mentioned the Trustee was surrounded by Black Sun CIA handlers, worked for Trump and has a sidekick Steffan Rowe who is in bed with Black Sun Generals, Kim confirmed that herself to me during 2019. Is Kim Black Sun? time will tell, but perhaps an interesting interaction I heard about recently, although never listened to it, was the Shane Sedore and Kim call. Shane is a Rothschild's and Kim's main interactions were with or for the Black Sun, neither like each other, one more than the other, but they didn't spend time discussing global events, how to fix things and spent time denigrating me and trying to dig dirt where there is none. Was that show because they see that myself and what we are doing is now an official threat to their global hegemony, those two people appear to represent? Is THI/TPC now the official third party player we all wanted, certainly that show said and did much to confirm it, otherwise why do a show to make up lies all about one man? Shane followed up with another show and another guest hell bent on denigrating me as well, are we seeing a pattern here? Shane claimed he never vetted Kim to me, here is a recording that Chloe didn't steal from my computer and give to Shane. PLAY Sounds like validating to me. Some seek revenge or retribution, some stand in the truth and don't need to, I think someone called that taking the higher ground, I did. Those with truth have patience, those with lies don't.

EXPOSE: I mentioned on Tuesday I would have more on the group named in the show called UC Global, this is from their website. Mexico City, October 3rd, 2018 Extraordinary Event - Globalization and the New World Economic Map, as arranged by UC&CS GLOBAL. UC&CS GLOBAL, located in Mexico City and Continental Offices in New York, USA, Cyprus in Europe and Hong Kong in Asia, carried out it's Extraordinary Event about Globalization followed by the New World Economic Map, on Monday October 1st, 2018, at Hotel Diplomático in Colonia Nochebuena in Mexico City, as part of their XIX Annual Congress-Partners Worldwide Conference, carried out from October 1st to 3rd, at the same venue. This Event pretended to get participants, current UC&CS GLOBAL and UC&CS AMÉRICA Associates, the main economic trends, in the Global Arena. We start the Event, with the Conference about Back To Reality, by Hugo López Araiza, President of Soroban Japon-Mexico, with the conclusions on last year predictions and current situation, on a worldwide basis. After that, we continued with the presentation of the USMCA(US MEXICO CANADA FREE TRADE AGREEMENT), better known as NAFTA, recently approved the day before, as the new negotiation style for the world, with the strongest leadership in the world, USA, by Gustavo Vega, General Secretary of the Colmex-El Colegio de Mexico. Was it signed then because Trump was part of this globalist control system? Then, it was discussed, the role of China, as the New Economic Worldwide Leader, with one belt one road, or the New Silk Route, by Miao Ye, Subdirector of the China Hoy Magazine in Latin America, as well as by Gabriela Cedillo, Operational Director of the Magazine in Latin America for Mexico. As I said many years ago, the plan is for China to takeover the UK and America in the world economics, as for the road, awful lot of ones in that title, one belt, one road, one world government, one currency and one world religion. Don't make the mistake of thinking this is Chinese ran, it's not, like the previous silk road it will be ran by the Jewish EL-ites. Countries to them operate to twist and manipulate, and whilst idiots in defense and agencies complain about the boogeymen, these people plot other schemes whilst they are distracted. In recent history Britain, Holland and America were used as tools for these Jewish El-ites plans, it has nothing to do with the countries and everything to do with these psychopaths. Afterwards, Doctor Marisela Connelly, Director of the China Studies, in Colmex-El Colegio de Mexico, presented us China Leadership in Latin America and Africa, with several important infrastructure projects for the two Emerging Regions Development. So, the plan is for China to takeover those regions as well? Where they consulted? Also, the influence this progress has had for the upcoming leadership of the BRICS, and how this have benefited also the Asia Pacific countries. Ah the savior program ran on the alt media which I discounted and received abuse for, now part of the globalist agenda as well. BRICS was created by Rothschild's and Rockefellers, so how those would be seen as saviors is beyond me. In addition, it was presented the current status of the Pacific Alliance, integrated by México, Colombia, Perú and Chile, by Alejandro Ruiz, President of the Perú-México Chamber of Commerce. Also, we had the interesting conference about Trump's fiscal bill and the alternatives for the World to face this reform, by Juan Antonio Castro, International Tax Consultant. Finally, it was presented the New Global Economic Map, by Ignacio Martínez, President of Lance and Doctor in Economic Sciences, by UNAM, International Journalist at El Universal, CNN and many other media. New Global Economic map they say, where the people consulted on this? If we are going to change the world to that degree, when where the people going to have a say? oh I forgot, we don't, in future we will, if we build the TPC.

EXPOSE: Stellar Wind was the code name of a warrantless surveillance program begun under the George W. Bush administration's President's Surveillance Program. The National Security Agency program was approved by President Bush shortly after the September 11 2001 attacks, and was revealed by Thomas Tamm to The New York Times in 2004. Stellar Wind was a prelude to new legal structures that allowed President Bush and President Barack Obama, to reproduce each of those programs and expand their reach. The program's activities involved data mining of a large database of the communications of American citizens, including e-mail communications, telephone conversations, financial transactions, and Internet activity. William Binney, a retired technical leader with the NSA, discussed some of the architectural and operational elements of the program at the 2012 Chaos Communication Congress. The intelligence community also was able to obtain from the U.S. Treasury Department suspicious activity reports, or SARS, which are reports of activities such as large cash transactions that are submitted by financial institutions under anti-money laundering rules. How apt they named it after a corona virus? There were internal disputes within the U.S. Justice Department about the legality of the program, because data is collected for large numbers of people, not just the subjects of Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) warrants. During the Bush Administration, the Stellar Wind cases were referred to by FBI agents as pizza cases, because many seemingly suspicious cases turned out to be food takeout orders. How apt they used the term pizza cases as well, what extraordinary prophecy by the clowns that they would use two words that would become an integral part of the alt media narrative. According to then-FBI Director Robert Mueller, approximately 99% of the cases led nowhere, but it's that other 1% that we've got to be concerned about. So, because of the 1% you have to spy on the all, is what they are telling us, no, what they are really telling us is at best they are incompetent and can't work out who the 1% are, or at worst fear laden voyeuristic perverts who can't help themselves. From a report by the inspectors general of six US intelligence agencies that was declassified in September 2015, it became clear that President Bush had originally authorized the collection of telephone and e-mail metadata, only if one end of the communications was foreign or when there was a link to terrorism. But in 2004, the Justice Department discovered that the NSA was apparently also collecting the metadata of purely domestic communications, after which President Bush declared that NSA had always been allowed to do so, but that analysts were only allowed to look at metadata related to terrorism. So, why did Bush say the NSA was always allowed to spy on all Americans, when that goes against national laws? Because the NSA is not American and is a company aligned with the British parent company, the GCHQ is why. With this revised formulation, Bush reauthorized the program on March 11, 2004. In 2004, the head of the Office of Legal Counsel (OLC), Jack Landman Goldsmith, wrote at least two legal memos authorizing the program, I wonder what nationality or race Goldsmith is, like a bad penny they always turn up. He said, we conclude only that when the nation has been thrust into an armed conflict by a foreign attack on the United States, and the president determines in his role as commander in chief. That it is essential for defense against a further foreign attack to use the wiretapping capabilities of the National Security Agency within the United States, he has inherent constitutional authority to order warrantless wiretapping, an authority that Congress cannot curtail, Goldsmith wrote in a 108-page memo dated May 6, 2004. When do Congress curtail anything of this nature? one has to wonder what they actually do, do? In March 2004, the OLC concluded the e-mail program was not legal, and then-Acting Attorney General James Comey refused to reauthorize it. In March 2012, Wired magazine published that the NSA is building the Country's biggest spy center, so watch what you say, when talking about a vast new NSA facility in Utah. Which proves the NSA is working with the other beings in the Dugway facility. For the first time, a former NSA official has gone on the record to describe the program, codenamed Stellarwind, in detail, naming the official William Binney, a former NSA code breaker. Binney went on to say that the NSA had highly secured rooms that tap into major switches, and satellite communications at both AT&T and Verizon. The article suggested that the supposedly-terminated Stellar Wind continues as an active program.

This conclusion was supported by the exposure of Room 641A in AT&T's operations center in San Francisco in 2006. In June 2013, the Washington Post and the Guardian published an Office of the Inspector General (OIG) draft report, dated March 2009, leaked by Edward Snowden detailing the Stellar Wind program. No doubt remained about the continuing nature of the surveillance program. In September 2014, The New York Times asserted, questions persist after the release of a newly declassified version of a legal memo approving the National Security Agency's Stellarwind program, a set of warrantless surveillance and data collection activities, secretly authorized after the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001 as an introductory headline summary with a link. For every event false or otherwise, they run 3 or 4 other programs off of it, the event is always the sleight of hand and another case of problem, reaction and they provide the solution they wanted, to a problem they created. The accompanying article addressed the release of a newly declassified version of the May 2004 memo. Note was made that the bulk of the program, the telephone, Internet, and e-mail surveillance of American citizens remained secret until the revelations by Edward Snowden, that to date, significant portions of the memo remain redacted in the newly released version, and that doubts and questions about its legality persist. What this proves is, their fear, they fear everyone finding out what they are up to. And what they have managed to do well, particularly in this country is, create fear amongst the populace so they will accept every draconian measure, that erodes away our freedoms. And all because they are terrified of being found out, they are not interested in terrorism, in many parts we have found out they are the terrorists, or at the very least the funders of them.

I remember a long time ago on our shows, and I highlighted it in the FRWL series of how all the organizations designed they said to serve and protect us, are not working for our benefit. I mentioned schools, social services, child protection, hospitals and other medical facilities, Universities, Colleges, local and state governments, the Government, politicians, police, Military, Agencies all not operating for the benefit of the people. Some people didn't agree with a number of them categories at the time, can anyone now say with any conviction any of those organizations are for and by the people? I suspect not, that is what I promised in the very first show of THI, I will tell you what you need to hear, not what you want to hear. Yes, I was right again, but it is not about me being right, it is about the information being correct. But why is it annoying that one person or group always gets many things right? why is that turned against that person or group, surely everyone wants to be right, or maybe not. Terms like he or she is a smart Alec or too clever for their own good, what bizarre controlling statements they are, if you are bothered by someone being right all the time, it is a reflection of you not being right most of the time. In actual fact, I wish I was wrong on all those categories, but it is just not the case, unless you are a Milgram Experiment, non thinking bot, who accepts everything the authority says. Only one problem with that is, the authorities get it wrong time and time again, but they are not wrong from their perspective, because they are running agendas and heinous acts on and against we the people. His story is littered with it, don't believe me, listen to the FRWL series again in it's entirety, it is all there in clear and common sense language that asks you the questions, does this make sense? Well, you know what? none of their world makes any sense whatsoever, even the clowns, bloodlines and psychopaths can't make sense of it anymore. Why? because all of them were lied to as well, they are just too weak and mired in their own illusions, to accept it. Look at their ineptness of delivering a plan, they have no plan except creating chaos, for them to create their order. Except they won't create their order, there is no order of the organizational kind or the peaceful operational kind, none of it. Their repeated loops ouroborus programs, as one fails they introduce another that completely fails the first, and then another and another into infinity, and the gist of it all is, none of them are working. The problem with a problem is, until you accept you or it is a problem, there are no solutions available to fix the problem. If you are not the solution or solution oriented, you are not just part of the problem, at this juncture in time, you are the problem. Everything in their world now has broken down and nothing works anymore, you know why, because it doesn't exist. It is a dead zombie world with sims like characters, running around convincing themselves that everything is fine and dandy, when in reality that and their world ended in 2012. The world of illusion is the real pandemic over there, and they even give them virtual reality games and tech to place them into a separate world of illusion, which when you overview it, makes three worlds. Now where have we heard of that before? Why do you think their Looking Glass technology failed at 2012, no matter what under knowledged clickbait style alt media people tell you, it failed, it failed for a reason, that world in which that technology did work, no longer exists. Do you understand what I have just said? that world no longer exists, it hangs by a thread because people will not let it go. It is never coming back, it's gone, finito, ended and a dead world that disappeared into a black hole and off towards the white hole for a Universe that operates within the dark forces parameters. It was a sick world, an evil world filled with evil characters all dancing for and by the dark forces, do you really want that old world back? Think of the mountainous volumes of Disclosure we have had in the past 9 years, why do you think we received all that knowledge and awareness of the evil that has pervaded the old world? Think about it for a second, yes there was some disclosure prior to 2012, think of it as an appetizer, but ponder on the volumes you have heard since, why was that? Why would the dark allow that to unfold? because there are many ways to stop any information getting out, because they control the internet themselves, so why did they allow it? Was it an oversight by them? did their arrogance cause them to make poor judgments? or was it the case they no longer had any options but to reveal the truth? Was it a massive lesson for us all? to stop accepting our own complicity and a slavery suit? to stop acting like children who needs a lifetime parent to look after them? to stop accepting fake savior programs which is child like again? to stop accepting the Stockholm Syndrome self abuse? and finally realize our own potential, providing you accept you were the problem, and you accepted you played a role in it, and you finally realized that you, just you have to provide the solutions to correct it. New questions arise for each of us? will we come together? will we work hard on ourselves? will we work hard to cooperate and create new solutions for the new world? do we recognize the old world is gone? will we recognize we have a blank slate to create a new world? what is my role in it? what is our role in it? what will we create? will it be a loop program again or something new and better for the all? am I an old world bot? or am I the crown of creation with unlimited possibilities? So did the authorities no longer have any options to reveal the truth? or is it the case their control, actions and world no longer exists? and so Disclosure of their failure to convert us all over to the dark forces has failed, and the victors got to write our story, not his story? It is all about time you see, but can you see time? what is time? time is tie me, which is a bind, testament and covenant are also bindings, is it binding you to their failed world still? time is but an illusion though isn't it? why live the illusion when you can live the future, based in reality and in a better way? Was prior to 2012 life and living? no, it was existing and being harvested, we were batteries and food for the dark forces, is that what you constitute as life? the crown of creation thinking that is life, deary me, do you know how bad that sounds, looks and feels? That wasn't life, that was the illusion of life, life is about experiences and learning, not stagnated children with no knowledge, no awareness, slaves and savior programs, that is not life, that is a life of servitude and minimal existence, do you understand your own role in that game? well do you? Why did we lower ourselves to those levels? why allow lesser species to control you and us? you, I and we did that to ourselves. The crown of creation reduced to a battery and a slave, despite having more abilities, higher connection to Source, more creativity and more of everything else, and we ended up here in 3D and being controlled by lesser species? it's ridiculous. You don't accept that is the reality of the situation? fine, you are still a part of the problem. The old adage of I don't like being wrong, well boo hoo it's time to grow up and stop acting like a child, being wrong is how we all learn the lessons, not accepting you are wrong is not learning the lessons, and you are destined to repeat it in a Groundhog day loop. What is wrong with being wrong? that people have to go to enormous lengths and wasted energy to protect themselves from others seeing they were wrong? Tuesday's show revealed the sheer waste and stupidity of that. All that energy and life force wasted to protect others knowing you were wrong? when you could have said and done the easier path and said, I was wrong, I am sorry and then correct the wrongs and make things right. That is how we all soul develop, making the wrongs, right, that way we don't have to keep repeating loops and patterns that have never served us, only hampered us all. Time they say is governed by certain parameters, governed is the operative word, Cronos and his band of failed gods and goddesses of the past, who all fell due to their own weaknesses and arrogance, ego and not accepting the ultimate in responsibility with their abilities and actions. Time is not just a clock, or a lock or lock of the sea, it is also a watch, but who is it watching? it is date stamped also, but dates come and go, yet dates and actions on those dates have a tendency to repeat with unerring accuracy as we have found out, it is just a matter of working out the time span between the events. The most obvious now is, 1919 global pandemic, 2019 global pandemic, is that a coincidence or a cohencidence which means it is a planned event, it was just a matter of time. But it is not the case of what time is it, because the real question is where or when in time? some will ask what is the point of time? perhaps the real question is, at which point in time are you? Time is a point of reference that governs and creates fear, but fear is a future time event because it has not yet happened, so where or when are you in time now? Time is linear and future fears, and so fear is also time, fear is a binding contract which ties you into time, and so is destined to repeat it, with all that looping are you dizzy enough yet? do you fear being dizzy, or is dizziness the fear? is the fear the time or is time the fear? The saying there is no time like the present, just one comma after time, changes that statement. If there is no time, enjoy the present or gift offered, do you like the present or gift in the present, or was that was pre sent? The irony is, some want to create a time machine, yet never realized we were in one to begin with. HELLO MCFLY, perhaps that funny line has a whole different meaning now? we are the McFly. Back to the future is spell casting, because it means it is a loop, because their future from back is a repeating loop. OMG Thomas you have ruined another favorite movie of mine, indeed and they call Shane the Ruiner? he is adapt at ruining himself these days, but he was a great help to me in the past, and for that I thank him. Linear is an anagram of line ra, do you wish to follow the line of Ra, or create a new path outside of time and fear? We have had enough of the line of Ra, the time constraints of Cronos and the bullshit lies of the goddess Medea, of which the Media runs in honor of her, enough of the Isis path which created Isis ra el and the fake religion isis lam, and the fake neutral country Swiss, which is in honor of her as well. We don't want an Anu world order, we will create anew, not Anu. All of whom came here via their Mari time docking stations called portals, al is god and port is a docking term, so the portals where docks for the gods, via their time mechanism called mari, to their lock of the sea, which became c locks or clocks. Another name they used was star gate, gate is another locking mechanism, from which the stars came through, like what we call today's celebrities, they were the stars of the past, fake celebrities passing themselves off as the gods. Now they are called elites, but that is a play on words also, it is followers of the El's, El means god as well as Al and IL, which just happens to be the international code of Israel, Isis, Ra are EL's. Can you see the pattern now? and this is why all the world is a stage. Newsflash, and this applies to everyone including EL-ites, news stands for Nothing Ever Was Successful, why? because we didn't create it or that, we just went along with it, and we didn't learn to THInk and act differently. When is the change? you are the change, why keep the chain when you can be the cha(i)n-ge? When spoken in money terms people often say, keep the change, is that re-enforcing the loop, because the change never arrived? The cardinal points north east west and south creates the word news, the news is a time loop of repeating stories and patterns, with the sole intention of keeping you in the illusion. In America the news is ran by the CIA, are they cia kars or Ciakars which are the Draco that is running the time loop and system? who call themselves the intelligence, and yet they are running on artificial intelligence. Artificial intelligence is ran for artificial people, are you connecting the dots or points now? Artificial intelligence is for non creative people or beings, as AI can only copy and mimic like a bot. Do you wish to have a visual of time? try this. Draw a 4 cardinal points or a plus sign cross on a piece of paper. West would say past his story, East would say future his story. South would say current our story, north would say future our story. Connecting the points or dots on the compass now? will you go back in time by standing still, or come and pass from the compass? This is the difference between past and future timelines, between linear and vertical timelines. Where are you on that timeline? what time is it? what day is it? what date is it? do you know? What if 3209 days have gone by on the linear, but we are still at day one? what date or time is it then? What is the conveyor belt of time? linear, are you a product on the conveyor belt waiting to be sold and consumed? Or are you a Rainbow rising? look back on your horizon, am I coming home? Where are you? Sometimes the darkness can show you the light? but you are the light, why have you voided it? and what is the solution now? You must always be willing to truly consider evidence that is contradicts your beliefs, and admit the possibility you maybe wrong. Intelligence isn't knowing everything, it is the ability to challenge everything you know or what you thought you knew. Being right is not the objective, getting the right information to generate and then formulate enlightened opinions is the path forward. That then brings in enlightened consciousness. If you grasp, understand and act on this last piece, we will not be a piece, but be in peace and this last song will apply to you all, that do.
