

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2021-10-21

In the UK this past week there was a killing of an MP, who was a fairly popular guy I am told with MP's and constituents alike. Whilst we at THI have always been against violence of any kind, this event will be the first of many around the world, unless something changes very quickly. Following on from the report last week, of many members of the CIA being hunted down and killed, and reports of violence against school hierarchy and teachers, the old world control centers are now seemingly very dangerous places to be employed. For years now established centers of control have rode roughshod over we the people, and now the people are fighting back. Can you blame them? not all have the intelligence or wherewithal to control their emotions, beaten down by these alleged figures of authority, forced into Draconian measures impinging their freedoms and lifestyles, whilst those seemingly enforcing them carry on like Covid never happened. This is a major step and change from the public's perspective, a major change as no longer are people hiding behind the so called conspiracy theorists who are vocal and literary, they are now speaking and acting out. The public has had enough of the lies, enough of the Government, enough of the police, enough of the jobsworths in schools, and enough of the lying sack of shit that goes under the banner of news and the media. The media's ratings are plummeting and will go down further, fresh from being hammered by the general public over Covid, are now switching to the next set of rules designed to impinge, steal and crush the people, the Climate change brigade. The people are witnessing their own sacked, barred from flying, coercion on a mass scale, and flagrant lies of the flatten of the aptly named curve in 2 weeks, to get the jab and we go back to normal, all of it was lies. In May of last year I warned that lockdowns wont end until the people stop it, the lockdowns only ended because the people demanded the fix, and out came the vaccines, it was again the classic problem, reaction and solution game. They had those vaccines ready years ago, they waited for the public reaction, the public gave them it, thinking it would all return to normal, we at THI warned in May of last year, there was no returning to normal, in fact there was never any normal about life before the faked pandemic. Now record numbers have died due to the vaccines, and life is anything but normal, normal is not firing thousands of staff to comply with something they don't agree with, that affects them for the rest of their life. Most idiots who took the jab fell for the Milgram Experiment of believing authority, the next popular group fell for the convenience jab, too weak to resist their peers putting pressure on them and falling for the lies that getting jabbed will end the crisis. End of what crisis? do you think Covid was the start of the crisis? What about the food crisis? around 3B starving or shortage of food, 27K per day die of malnutrition. What about the children crisis? 900K children going missing per year in America alone? What about the toilet and sanitation crisis? 2.3B without one or both of them. What about the electric crisis? 1.3B with no access to energy. What about the housing crisis? millions globally have no homes due to a lack of funds within those poorer countries, whilst the rising homeless rate in the more prosperous countries is going through the roof on a daily basis. What about the lack of education crisis? hundreds of millions more children deprived of basic education. What about the health crisis? as billions don't have access to care, whether it is affordable or not. What about the mafia crisis, the gangland crisis, the mercenary crisis, the fake terrorists crisis, the Intelligence Agency crisis, the Militaries crisis? all killing people by their millions per year and no one has addressed it. What about the poverty crisis? billions of have not's whilst few collect everything. What about the medical crisis? millions dying, injured or harmed due to poor care and medical malpractice to the relatively few who can afford it. What about the cancer crisis? millions dying each year, billions made in profits on the hope of a cure, when the same people are holding back the cure since 1927. What about the legal crisis? where the few break all the rules and act with impunity, whilst make more and more laws against the people, again the few run that program and collect all the shekels. What about the child protection and social services crisis? hundreds of thousands of children abused, neglected and worse each and every year. What about the police violence and transgressions? thousands of cases each month and all but a few are brought to justice. What about the highest rate of domestic abuse crisis? the top category are police officers. What about the church crisis? millions of children abused, sexually interfered with by priests and nuns, and again all but the few are dealt with, and often is the case they only look at it after most of the abusers have died, the recent France case proved that. What about the drugs crisis? whereby the very people tasked with allegedly dealing with the war on drugs, were actually those running the drugs on the people, hello CIA and other agencies globally. What about the pharma drugs crisis? fake approved drugs that is killing, harming and injuring hundreds of thousands each year, not to mention the exorbitant costs are bankrupting many, and some end up losing their homes. What about the borders crisis? not just America, thousands of criminals pouring through and dragging abducted children for child trafficking or other heinous acts. What about the soldiers crisis? riddled with experimental drugs and vaccines, riddled with mental health issues, missing body parts and other ailments. What about the elderly crisis? Many of them globally being killed off because of greed based psychopaths, and people who can't stop stealing the public's funds. What about the banking and IRS crisis? banks and tax people robbing people blind, and then asking them to pay for them. What about the life inequality crisis? billions not living their life just existing from day to day. What about the world's adult children crisis? billions despite their age all looking and acting like children. What about the common sense crisis? not so common anymore, more like rare sense, like a small oasis in a vast desert. What about the stupid crisis? endemic in all so called authority positions, in fact some cases stupid is an understatement, utter retards and or psychopaths is more apt. What about the low vibration crisis? billions in low vibration, aren't we all supposed to elevate, have progression, advance the species. What about the lack of caring and sharing crisis? so many have not's, so many not being cared for. What about the lack of spirituality crisis? billions steered down a path of externalization and fake gods, instead of internalization and soul growth. What about the low self worth and insecurity crisis? billions again all beaten down and see no value in themselves. What about the lack of love crisis? billions don't know what love really is, a higher vibrational frequency not accessible to billions in low vibration. What about the people crisis? who don't know who they are, where they came from, why they are here, hampered by abuse by most of those mentioned previously, beaten down by a system of control ran by psychopaths and anti human policies, educated instead of taught, pumped with poisons to beat them down further and enrich the greedy psychotic fuckers. Crisis after crisis and they focus on just one, but then start another fake crisis, climate change. What about all the others, what about life, love, caring, teaching, prosperity in the 5 basics in life, peace, fairness, pleasant experiences, travel, vacations, camaraderie, community spirit, ecosystems, wildlife protection, what about all that? That is the real global crisis's, not fake crisis's based on a control agenda of abusing, using and enslaving humans. Message to the Council, All we are asking for is, an opportunity and all we are saying is, What about us.

NEWS: Protesters demonstrated Saturday against vaccine mandates in front of the New York Times building in New York City, chanting, Defund the media! A large crowd of protesters could be seen carrying American flags, along with various signs that read equal rights vaxxed unvaxxed, medical freedom now. Now that is what I like, they are going after the drivers of the narrative, forget politicians they just follow the scripts put out by media, who are all ran by the agencies.

As shopkeepers are now fighting back and refusing to serve the mask people, a great uprising is under way. To combat this, various clown or under knowledged sites are now back thinking Trump and Co are the ones doing big things in the background, as they cling desperately to the belief that Trump and Co will save them and America. Sorry to ruin it, but he and they are not, they are working for the new boss same as the old boss, the other side of the coin. From Hollywood going down to banks, Governments, CIA agents, adrenochrome clowns losing it and their looks, people throwing each other under the bus and the Rothschild's going down, are all being celebrated in the name of the wrong people and wrong faction, all that is happening but is ran by the Black Sun clowns. All of that is beneficial don't get me wrong, it needs to go down, but don't fall for the oldest trick in the book, the sleight of hand move, as their changes are to suit their policies and their agendas, not ours. The Draco presented themselves as our saviors remember, how did that work out? The big things in the background and the foreground are happening within and of our own group. Let them clean up each others mess, we have far more important things to do. The 3rd faction lies in wait to pounce.

Remember it took 2-3 months for Biden to do a press conference at the beginning of his CEO role? well now he has gone another 3 months without a press conference, his last was July 15th. I guess the make up and rubber department are not too over worked. This is extraordinary in and of itself, a President who won't speak to the country he supposedly is suppose to serve, he won't speak to the press or answer any relevant questions, an yet the Democrat clown followers still think he is their man and better than Trump. Newsflash, he is not better than Trump, Obama, Clinton, Bush or any other President of the last 100 years, no worse either, as none of them have been any good for we the people. The sheer volume of crisis's this country faces and the President is missing in action.

Five days after President Biden announced operating two California ports 24/7, as many as 200,000 shipping containers are stranded off the coast waiting to dock in Los Angeles, the port director said Monday. Gene Seroka said, we have about two weeks worth of work sitting at anchor right now. The question right now is how do we segment this cargo. Ports worldwide are congested as the global economy bounces back from pandemic slowdowns, and consumers seek goods and commodities. A dearth of ships and containers are hampering efforts to move merchandise around, and consumer prices are soaring. So are the costs of the shipping ran by the usual suspects.

The world is in a mess or chaos, and yet the Hebrew Annunaki focus on one thing, war, land and resources grabs and Iran.

When will the world shun these psychopaths? Foreign Minister Yair Lapid is in Washington D.C. to meet with top Biden administration officials for talks centered on Iran, as well as the Gaza Strip and other security-related matters. As expected, Lapid warned US National Security Adviser Jake Sullivan that Iran is on brink of becoming a nuclear threshold state. Lapid's office issued this statement after the Sullivan meeting: the foreign minister shared with the national security adviser, Israel's concerns about Iran's race toward nuclear capabilities, as well as that Iran is becoming a nuclear threshold state. Lapid also discussed with the national security adviser the need for an alternative plan to the nuclear agreement. All too predictable as US Intelligence blaming Russia, again child like, we can have nuclear weapons but you can't. Except a former Mossad agent said this. The influential former Mossad director Yossi Cohen suggested against this in recent comments that raised eyebrows. The Israeli intelligence veteran commander said in reality that, Iran is not even close to getting a nuclear weapon. Oops, best watch your back Mr. Cohen, you know how the child like people hate people telling the truth.

As nuclear talks between Tehran and world powers have remain stalled in Vienna, a key question at center of debate over whether the US should seek a restored JCPOA deal with Iran remains, just how close is Iran to acquiring a nuke? The Iranian military has started large-scale drills in the northwestern part of the country, involving drones, armored units and helicopters amid rising tensions with Azerbaijan. I said in the spying show of how Azerbaijan is a puppet state for the CIA and subsequently the Israeli junta. Some people will ask why is the CIA in bed with them, well some at the top are them, and the minions rely heavily on funding from the Israeli junta to keep their operations going, and keep the secrets of their criminality quiet. It is another blackmail and coercion game, which is why we need the full Disclaimer for full Disclosure program to end that contract and game.

On Friday morning, Iran's Army Ground Forces kicked off the Fatehan (Conquerors) of Kheibar military exercise. Brigadier General Kiomars Heidari told Iranian news agencies that the exercises were planned in order to test weapons, military equipment and assess combat readiness. The brigadier added that the drills would improve the combat readiness of armed forces stationed in the region, and suggested that they had been scheduled. Armored units, artillery and drones from the Army Ground Forces divisions were supported by helicopters from the Army Air Force. Sharing photos of the exercises online, journalist Heshmat Alavi said the drills were some of the largest ever held by Tehran, noting growing tensions with neighboring Azerbaijan. Funny there is always a warning if Iran, Russia or China do drills, but hardly anything said about drills ran by US Military, NATO and other goons often in other countries territories, to create fear and conflict, isn't it?

David Amess, a conservative British member of Parliament, died Friday after being stabbed multiple times. He was attacked while holding his monthly meet and greet with voters at Belfairs Methodist Church in Leigh-on-Sea. The motive behind the attack is unknown. Amess which is a name indicative of all Governments, was against mandates, masks and lockdowns and was fairly outspoken about it, perhaps that is why. Throw in a public bout of sympathy for the poor politicians, and the heat on them is turned down or off by the bots. The name amess is indicative of much of their world, but found it curious given they love to play with words, that the guys name who was arrested was Ali Harbi Ali which in acronym is a ha, is it possible this is a staged event again? I remember watching a BBC live event, and they had reporters and supposedly innocent bystanders, but one had the surname Cain and the other was Abel, I mean seriously, do they think we are all stupid?

Steven Mnuchin intervened to block Ivanka Trump from helming the World Bank, according to The Intercept. A source told the news outlet that the pick came incredibly close to happening. Former President Donald Trump was a staunch advocate of his daughter's ascension to the top role. Trump sought to name his daughter, Ivanka Trump, to lead the World Bank in 2019, but then-Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin intervened to block the appointment, according to The Intercept. More faction games it seems, the Black Sun wishing to overtake the Rothschild's control of the World Bank as well as the Federal Reserve. How about giving the top banking role to a member of the public not connected to clown organizations?

Here is evidence of more banking faction games. The Treasury Department is weighing whether the United States should request the International Monetary Fund's chief to step down over an ethics scandal, stemming from her time as chief executive for the World Bank, Bloomberg reported, citing people familiar with the discussions. IMF Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva allegedly put pressure on World Bank's staff to adjust China's ranking in the bank's Doing Business 2018 report, according to the findings of a World Bank-commissioned investigation conducted by WilmerHale law firm. More on WilmerHale later. In a 12-page statement that was prepared for the IMF executive board, Georgieva refuted the allegations that she was involved in attempts to distort China's ranking on the 2018 report. She alleged that she was not part of initial discussions between China and the World Bank regarding its standing in the report, and argued that her role was confined to making sure the report came out on time and handling the its forward section. She also denied allegations that she directed staff to change China's ranking. Georgieva said in the prepared statement that the investigation takes responsible actions and contorts them, making the worst and 11 most tenuous inferences possible about each event. Based on little direct evidence, and without taking into account my statements, professional history, or personal style. The discussions within the Treasury Department are significant because the U.S. is the dominant shareholder of the IMF, with 16.5 percent of the votes.

WilmerHale law firm, lets have a look at them shall we. Situated on Pennsylvania Avenue itself, it has had notable alumni include former FBI Director Robert Mueller, Special Counsel to the investigation into Russian interference in the 2016 US presidential election. They represented the U.S. Army on a pro bono basis during the historic Army-McCarthy hearings. The firm has had a long and mutually very profitable relationship with nearby Harvard Law School, alma mater of more than a fifth of WilmerHale's current lawyers. According to one study examining political donations by large white shoe firms, WilmerHale was ranked as the most liberal out of the top twenty prestigious law firms in the nation. The term white shoe firms means: A white-shoe firm is a term that is used to describe prestigious professional services firms that have traditionally been associated with the upper-class elite who graduated from Ivy League colleges. The term is most often used to describe leading law firms and Wall Street financial institutions, as well as accounting firms that are over a century old. WilmerHale have been considered union busters. Their role in the ongoing Activision-Blizzard workplace harassment scandals, where the firm was called upon to conduct an independent internal audit for Activision-Blizzard, resulting in Blizzard employees and others from various game companies forming a coalition rejecting WilmerHale's involvement. In the wake of news articles raising concerns about transactions between Enron and its CFO, Andy Fastow, lawyers from Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering represented a special investigative committee of Enron's board of directors in an internal investigation into those transactions. The resulting report, known as the Powers Report, laid out the facts that have been the predicate for much of the public discussion of Enron since that time, in other words they were the whitewashers. Twenty years on there has barely been a mention it. Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering represented Swiss banks accused of profiting from the Holocaust in their settlement negotiations with plaintiffs. The firm also represented Siemens AG, Krupp AG, and other German companies accused of exploiting forced laborers during the Nazi era. Top class clown based operations then as you can see, these are not lawyers seek justice and fairness, these are the types of lawyers that are lawbreakers.

It has now come to light that not only are American cops going to Israel for stazi techniques, but it has now been made clear that the Texas Natl. Guard is in partnership with Egyptian Armed Forces, since 2006. The exchanges between our militaries will make both our forces stronger, build our interoperability, and diversify our formations,"said Norris. And these exchanges don't just benefit Egypt and Texas, they benefit CENTCOM's strategic objectives and the overall U.S.-Egypt relationship. Since June's signing ceremony, as part of the SPP, Texas And Egypt have already facilitated five subject matter expert exchanges focused on the commanders' resilience program, cavalry scout tactics, civil disturbance operations, explosive ordnance operations, and marksmanship. So here again we have more foreign troops on American soil, why one might ask? Is it a case again of always protecting one tiny country & it's NWO/Zionist Agenda? because Egypt is under the control of the Israeli junta. Centcom are faction based clowns whose puppet is Pompeo.

The High Court has found that the ruler of Dubai, Sheikh Mohammed Al Maktoum, interfered with British justice by ordering the hacking of the phone of his ex-wife, Princess Haya of Jordan. The phones of her solicitors, Baroness Fiona Shackleton QC and Nick Manners, were also targeted during their divorce custody case, according to the court. Princess Haya said the discovery had made her feel hunted and haunted. Sheikh Mohammed denied any knowledge of the hacking. He said the court's findings were based on evidence that was not disclosed to him, and that they were made in a manner which was unfair. The judgments are a blow to the sheikh and a further revelation as to his treatment of female members of his family. Normally these stories never come out, this is further evidence of the royals not being part of the game anymore, and haven't been for nearly a decade. This is to undermine them and wait for public reaction, so they can replace them from being the current mode of a PR exercise or puppet for the power EL-ites, and delete them and the void is filled by just the power EL-ites.

The 100 year loop and no lessons learned. Erik Prince's 10 Billion Mercenary agent provocateurs get busy in Ukraine with the agenda WW3 reported in the cryptic media. Open talk of Poland leaving the EU or Polexit or more of a case of Poleaxed, after Polish courts declared themselves to be above the EU. Poland's Constitutional Tribunal ruled that key articles of one of the EU's primary treaties were incompatible with Polish law. While Anna Michalska, a spokesperson for Poland's Border Guards, said Belarusian forces fired shots at Poland's troops across the European Union's eastern border Thursday. The area along the border is restricted as part of a state of emergency that Poland imposed in early September, they allege the Moscow-backed Belarusian government is organizing and encouraging people to enter EU territory as an element of hybrid war, in retaliation for Western sanctions on the authoritarian government in Minsk. Hybrid war indeed Make no mistake the deal for the unification of Germany was the promise of NATO /OTAN/ATON would not push west, the west has been doing everything in their power to undermine and break the treaty since.

Android OS devices transmit sensitive user data like handset serial numbers and app usage info to manufacturers like Samsung and third parties like Google, Microsoft and Facebook – even after consumers opt out, a new study shows. According to the study, proprietary variants of Google's Android system developed by popular vendors like Samsung, Xiaomi, Huawei and Realme send substantial amounts of information to these manufacturers, as well as third party firms whose apps come pre-installed in these devices. In the study, which was published on Monday, researchers from Trinity College Dublin and the University of Edinburgh found that the data silently collected by these companies was linked to, long-lived identifiers like the device's IMEI code the unique number linked to a device's SIM card slot, and other hardware serial numbers. In some cases, the MAC address generated by the user's WiFi network was also transmitted. As well, the manufacturers and Google reportedly collect a list of all the apps installed on the handset, raising privacy concerns since this is potentially sensitive information that can reveal user interests and traits, for instance, the use of a mental health application or a political news app. The study noted that such apps may be unique to a small number of handsets, meaning they could act as a device fingerprint when combined with widely-collected hardware configuration data. This data collection occurs even if users enable privacy settings. Will anything be done about it? no, can anything be done about it? yes. I would love for someone to work with the TPC to get mobile phones and computers built, without Microsoft, Google or any other CIA/NSA hardware or software installed on it. It can't be that difficult and hope we can build one in the future.

A poll in France suggests for the first time that far-right pundit Eric Zemmour, would qualify for the second round of next year's presidential election, and eclipse traditional far-right leader Marine Le Pen. Far right means Nazi, take note of that. Some 17-18 percent of voters say they will vote for Zemmour in the first round, compared with 15-16 percent for Le Pen. This would mean he would advance to a second round with President Emmanuel Macron, who was credited with 24-27 percent of voter intentions in the first round, set to be held on April 10. The online poll of 1,310 people, implies Macron would win a run-off vote against Zemmour by a margin of 55 percent to 45 percent. But the poll will add momentum to Zemmour's radical anti-immigration and anti-Islam campaign, even though he is still yet to officially declare his intention to run. A candidate has never been known to experience such a change in voter intentions in so short a space of time as we've seen with Eric Zemmour, pollster Antoine Gautier from Harris Interactive commented on the results of the survey. Zemmour was seen as winning only 7 percent when the group tested his popularity with voters for the first time on September 8. Far right is Nazi, Zemmour is Jewish, yet more interference in elections as the world watches on.

Debt carried by former President Trump's business has increased by about $200 million since he left office in January, bringing the total amount to $1.3 billion, Forbes reported on Thursday. The additional debt, however, has improved Trump's financial positions in some situations by providing more liquidity, according to Forbes. The news outlet cited how JPMorgan Chase helped with providing a $1.2 billion loan for a California office building in which Trump has a 30 percent minority interest. Funny that it was JPMorgan Chase which will be the Bank of NY Mellon was the Trustees favorite go to bank, most of the transaction sent by the Trust, went to that bank. The refinancing deal gave the building's owners, including Trump, more liquidity, allowing the former president and Vornado Realty Trust, one of his business partners, to pay back the debt they owed on the building, which totaled about $616 million, according to Forbes. Vornado Realty Trust we exposed a few years back, as they were getting an uncontested contract with Trump and the US Government for the then $1T infrastructure rebuilding program, until I outed it. It was also reported that Trump has more than $730 million of debt he will need to pay in the next three years, including a $100 million loan on Trump Tower due in September, and a $285 million loan due in November 2022, which is Trump's 30 percent share of debt on a New York skyscraper. In 2023 and 2024, Trump will owe an additional estimated $353 million on various properties, which could be a significant financial burden should he choose to mount another White House bid, Forbes reported. Funny how people like Trump can be allowed all this debt by banks, yet if people are a couple of payments behind on their mortgages or other loans, they swoop and steal their assets. If they can restructure debts of this magnitude for people like Trump, they can restructure loans for we the people as well, and allow the people to keep their assets. Sadly for Trump followers, he is one of the very greed based El-ites we are supposing to be fighting, do you really think he will help the people? then, now or in the future? If Trump was a man of the people he would not have installed the snake Kushner as a leading advisor. Trump is undergoing several lawsuits currently on top of his debts, and his own arrogance and ego can't see it is a deliberate tactic. The latest from Trump is, he is asking his followers for $45 a person to prove the election was a fraud, but he's not the only one his former sidekick or someone masquerading as her, is at it as well.

Is this possible evidence of more faction banking, given the Trustee has now said to have handed over the banking operations. Kim has begun to defer her responsibilities to a Global Director of Banking Operations one Mr. Colin McClive, what are the intentions behind that? given her main skillset and some would say only skillset is on banking? In other news Liferforce in their wisdom announced price hikes on UNN's TV's bs from $15 a month up to $22 a month. Which includes alleged intel of which none of it has come to fruition or truth. This tells me there is a further split within Liferforce ranks, and the promises of funds coming out soon are just not materializing, otherwise they wouldn't be asking for further donations. In another bizarre move, Liferforce are now begging the crypto people to join their dwindling audience and membership, all whilst saying we are not involved in crypto, all whilst pushing digital currencies and wallets programs. On June 30th a claim was made by the Life Force group that the world will have health cards within 30-60 days, it is now 3.5 months down the line and still no sign of it. In July this year Life Force stated that all of their National Assemblies have received all the American Government funds, three months later, we are still waiting for confirmation of said funds. In the same week in July, it was declared by Life Force that the National Life Force assemblies are now the new government of America, yet to date three months later we still have no policies, proposals, budgets or plans presented to we the people of their claims. In September 2019 there was a Restoration plan for the people of Earth, THI requested the details of said plan, the strategies and proposals of said plan, a plan outlining just where, when and how this Restoration plan would be implemented. To date two years later we have been presented with nothing by the Life Force group outlining the said plan. We the people wish to see documented evidence of the said plan, so we the people can approve it or make alterations to it accordingly. That plan is not the remit of one person who claims to have wrote it herself, yet relied heavily on another person for the said input. In recent episodes I am told there has been several mentions of how great the assemblies are doing, yet please explain as to why a few of them are contacting me and asking me to intervene? Yet again more evidence of bullying members, threatening members and general levels of skullduggery has been reported, in particular to do with Tank, yet the multi titled one seems incapable of dealing with it.

COVID BS: This record breaking disease, now has another first. For the first time in history a medicines ineffectiveness is now being blamed on those not taking it, it is becoming an increasingly remarkable thing this Covid.

This came in from a member. In Northern Saskatchewan reservation Black Lake there is forced jabs of Native People ongoing. People with children are having to flee and are hiding out in forests. I am told the Canadian Military is involved in this.

In a bombshell set of re-hashed revelations published on Monday, the tabloid alleges that Moscow's flagship Covid-19 vaccine, Sputnik V, wasn't made in a lab by a team of world-leading scientists, but was actually inspired by secret documents nicked from a British research institute. Haha the Brits agencies have the same disease as their American counterparts, blame Russia. According to veteran snooper and Westminster character Harry Cole, security services say they have proof one of Russian President Vladimir Putin's spies swiped the vital data behind AstraZeneca's formula. Adding intrigue to the Cold War-era espionage story, British spooks apparently told Cole that it is understood the data was stolen by a foreign agent in person. Ignoring the fact that if their claims are true and a Russian agent did steal the documents, which proves the agencies are completely incompetent and unable to protect their own assets. Shouldn't the leader of them be fired for allowing this to unfold?

Hundreds of thousands of U.S. service members remain unvaccinated or only partially vaccinated against the corona virus as the Pentagon's first compliance deadlines near. With lopsided rates across the individual services and a spike in deaths among military reservists, illustrating how political division over the shots has seeped into a nonpartisan force with unambiguous orders. Overall, the military's vaccination rate has climbed since August, when Defense Department leaders, acting on a directive from President Joe Biden, informed the nation's 2.1 million troops that immunization would become mandatory, exemptions would be rare and those who refuse would be punished. Yet troops' response has been scattershot, according to data assessed by The Washington Post. For instance, 90 percent of the active-duty Navy is fully vaccinated, whereas just 72 percent of the Marine Corps is, the data show, even though both services share a Nov. 28 deadline. In the Air Force, more than 60,000 personnel have just three weeks to meet the Defense Department's most ambitious deadline. They are the media lies figures, the actual figures are much lower and many Military like all other companies are poking the public bear and tolerance rates too much, that something will snap sooner rather than later. The loss of workers across all businesses is extraordinary, the loss of people also and it will lead to a flashpoint soon, as demands outweigh what is delivered.

The German state of Hesse has become the first to allow businesses to deny the unvaccinated access even to basic necessities, setting a troubling precedent as its neighbors wrestle with protests against vaccination mandates. Hessian supermarkets have been granted permission to deny the unvaccinated the right to buy food and other essentials, the state chancellery confirmed to German magazine BILD on Friday. Under the new policy, stores can decide whether to implement the 2G rule, which means allowing entry only to the vaccinated and recovered, geimpft and genesen in German, or the more lax 3G rule, encompassing those who have tested negative for the virus getestet. Minister-President Volker Bouffier, who is of the Huguenot family line, said he hoped the new rule wouldn't be widely implemented, explaining: we expect that this option will only be used on some days and that businesses which cater to everyday needs will not make use of it. The greatest protection is provided by vaccination, and still it is uncomplicated, unbureaucratic and free to get, he boasted. Noting that masking and social distancing requirements would remain in place for businesses that failed to adopt the more exclusionary 2G Rule. In exchange for admitting only vaccinated or recovered people, 2G businesses are allowed to forgo social distancing and mask mandates, perhaps a tempting tradeoff after 18 months of burdensome face coverings. Staggeringly child like, staggeringly outrageous and staggeringly evil levels of control against the people. So it has gone from no jab no travel to no jab no job and because that is not working, no jab no food, are they running a concentration camp over there? The Germans en masse needs to take this person down, find his address and impose restrictions on him.

OTHER ITEMS: A recent poll brings really encouraging news in that a majority of Americans don't want more government in their lives, according to new data from Gallup. In the poll, just 43% said they wanted government to do more to solve the country's problems, while 54% said they thought that government is doing too many things that should be left to individuals and businesses. That's a major shift in public opinion from where we were just one year ago, when 54% which was a record high in Gallup polling, said they wanted government to do more to solve the country's problems. Finally people are starting to see through the illusion of their Government, they do and fix nothing, only play EL-ites and lobbyist games. One hopes to see that figure drop further and instead of people looking for anyone to fix their problems, we all learn to come and work together and fix our own problems. That will leave the Government pretty much redundant.

Following on from a recent report about the fall of Singapore's populace, not to mention the larger fall of people globally who have had the jabs, here is another potential fact in support of that. Russia's natural population underwent its largest peacetime decline in recorded history over the last 12 months, an analysis of official government statistics has shown. Russia's natural population, a figure which counts registered deaths and births, excluding the effects of migration, declined by 997,000 between October 2020 and September 2021, demographer Alexei Raksha calculated. The country has recorded at least 660,000 excess deaths since the start of the pandemic. At some point close in time, these facts will no longer be the realms of hidden pieces or on alt media sites, eventually the blind and oblivious to everything masses will begin to notice the alarming numbers of people missing. Then the panic and fear sets in, at which point some alt media sites will be very busy. But panic and fear are not good traits in the public who have been blinded by authority, and I suspect things will get real ugly in the near future. When that begins will be the final writhing death throw of the EL-ites and their old system authorities who played the game for them. Remember the warnings to certain groups in Clowns in Panic show? tick tock.

The U.S. birth rate fell 4% last year, the largest single-year decrease in nearly 50 years, according to a government report being released Wednesday. The rate dropped for moms of every major race and ethnicity, and in nearly age group, falling to the lowest point since federal health officials started tracking it more than a century ago. Births have been declining in younger women for years, as many postponed motherhood and had smaller families. Birth rates for women in their late 30s and in their 40s have been inching up, but not last year. The fact that you saw declines in births even for older moms is quite striking, said Brady Hamilton, of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the lead author of the new report. We all know why now don't we, convenient that the CDC didn't proffer a reason as to why that was happening? because they are heavily involved in creating that very situation. But it is not only the US.

The fertility rate in England and Wales has fallen to the lowest level in recorded history, during the corona virus pandemic, at 1.58 children per woman last year. In 2020, the British fertility rate fell by 4.2 per cent from 2019 and was 3.1 per cent lower than the previous low in 2001, according to official figures from the Office for National Statistics. In order to naturally maintain a country's population, a fertility rate of 2.1 children per woman is thought to be required. Maybe the sterilization jabs are now kicking in as well. But, maybe there is a silver lining to this event, that will not be seen until some time has passed.

The U.S. has agreed to provide humanitarian aid to a desperately poor Afghanistan on the brink of an economic disaster, while refusing to give political recognition to the country's new Taliban rulers, the Taliban said Sunday. The statement came at the end of the first direct talks between the former foes, since the chaotic withdrawal of U.S. troops at the end of August. Former foes needs to be defined, as the CIA clearly didn't regard them as foes. The U.S. statement was less definitive, saying only that the two sides discussed the United States' provision of robust humanitarian assistance, directly to the Afghan people. And oh how quickly they will get the funds to foreign countries for aid, yet oh how slow they are to cough up funds to the very people who generated and indeed own the funds. These funds are not for aid, they are extra budget funding for agency and mercenary goons.

For 30 years now we have the anti smoking brigade telling us that smoking is a recent event and how bad it is for us all. Those of us with knowledge disagree, and have mentioned that smoking goes back a long time, and is a beneficial plant when smoked raw, or in better terms without the added chemicals the FDA approved that exacerbated some illnesses. All the natives smoked tobacco and they never had any diseases prior to certain invasions, but his story and medical tyranny clowns ignores those facts to push an agenda. Four charred tobacco plant seeds found in an ancient Utah fireplace, suggest early Americans may have been using the plant 12,300 years ago. The finding makes the first known use of tobacco some 9,000 years earlier than previously thought. Researchers believe hunter-gatherers in the Great Salt Lake Desert may have sucked or smoked wads of the plant.

I came across this piece and echoes many things of what I have put out previously, although the different wording and interpretations, it is useful and a reminder nonetheless, it is called The Seven Rays of Divine Impulse. It is a reminder of the value of doing inner and shadow work, and where it leads to. I don't agree with all of it, particularly the boxing and labeling of those on each level, I see that as limitation programming. So knowing the characteristics of the soul of beingness, can greatly help to align with our destined journey through life, restoring inner peace, contentment, harmony, fulfillment and simple joy of living. In sharing them here below, I hasten to add that they are my own personal experiences from my own journey. However, I have witnessed very similar in the others that I have worked with and helped facilitate. There are other spiritual guides who've also described them in similar ways.

Ray 1: Purposeful creative will: Ray 1 is the driving sense of purpose to create, it is the manifestation of the divine masculine principle throughout the universe. From the place of separation, it is that undeniable inner will, to find and create, a higher level of harmony both within ourselves and between all sentient beings. It causes us to challenge and break apart the status quo which may be holding us in a lower level of realization. The Ray 1 inspires life's motivational leaders.

Ray 2: Surrendering unconditional love: Ray 2 initiates the impulse of unconditional love for life. It is the manifestation of the divinely feminine principle of surrendered acceptance throughout the universe. It is the empathizing compassion that willingly embraces, does not judge, nor need to change the inherent imperfection in all sentient life and situations. Ray 2 strongly inspires the selfless servants of life.

Ray 3: Interpreting authentic reality: Ray 3 harnesses and processes higher abstract wisdom, delivering it in a form to provide a clear interpretation of our current, authentic reality. In other words, it's how we know what's really real. People with strong Ray 3 influence notice the natural patterning in life bringing the formless into form in such a way, that can be understood and appreciated by many. Ray 3 inspires life's translators, creative artists and mathematicians.

Ray 4: Harmonizing through right resolution: Ray 4 is the divine rationalizing energy which helps us find right resolution with our environment and other sentient life. It is the ray impulse which blends passion with compassion. It provides the discernment to confront unjust situations in a non judgmental way. Its purpose is to break apart the lower harmony to find a more equitable higher one. People with highly active Ray 4 tend to be life's diplomats, politicians and teachers.

Ray 5: Realizing abstract higher wisdom: The Ray 5 enables us to hold the infinite complexities of the universe as pure knowing within our beingness. This science is abstract, all encompassing and rather than realized, is more sensed, as an art form, like poetry in perpetual motion. Ray 5 enables us to attune to the universal flow and harness it for co-creative exploration, deeper understanding and further evolution. The Ray 5 animates life's scientists and creative business leaders.

Ray 6: Yearning self expression: Ray 6 inspires us stay continually focused on our life's purpose, to realize, unfold and express who we really are. It generates commitment and devotion to our cause, radiating our soul in all its brilliant color. The Ray 6 provides the unquenchable driving force to express our innate qualities, and inspire others to shine their inner light too. Humanity's philosophers, spiritual leaders and performing artists are all driven by the Ray 6 influence.

Ray 7: Shaping synchronistic magic: Ray 7 provides the ingredient of pure magic on our life's journey. If we are able to master our inner distortions and pause just long enough in the drama of life, then we can open up to spontaneous, synchronistic and co-creative magic. Thereby we catalyze and initiate the surrounding field for the maximum benefit and upliftment of all. In this way, Ray 7 inspires life's magicians and entrepreneurs. Clearly the author knows what they are talking about in general, but using terms like magic and magicians reveals a real lack of knowledge and understanding, and they have attempted to explain things at base 3D level, instead of using the higher format of being and operations. It is not magic at all, it is your natural abilities for when you develop the self enough. Are the 7 rays the 7 chakras? or as I would put it, the 7 levels of soul development growth. Those 7 rays can also be an individual test for us all, how many have you gained? and what is left is what you still have to work on, the key then is retaining them.

Taken from the book Five Gateways: Our Journey of Ascension. A Dance with the Divine: If we can stay in the place of the observer of ourselves through each moment in life, then we will taste the influence of all 7 rays and their corresponding distortions. Ultimately, by means of profound self honesty, we unveil what I call the jewel within the lotus. It is our very own Soul Ray Harmonic, for each of us, a unique blend of the rays which ebbs and flows through life with the uplifting harmony of a symphony orchestra. When we're aligned and attuned to this, life feels like an exquisite dance with the divine. In shining these qualities through all events, we burn away the dross of conditioned behaviors lighting a fire of transformation both for ourselves and others. This is the inimitable, inviolable taste of fulfillment we have been unknowingly seeking all our lives. It is the underlying driving purpose of the Soul. It sets us absolutely free to express in every moment exactly who we are. For me, there is no other greater purpose of life! I agree, two points about that last piece. Jewel in the Lotus has a much deeper meaning for us all, when encountered. The dance with the divine brings in the love frequency, which you can never experience in a low vibrational state, but beware the trick Astral version of it.

EXPOSE: Following on from Tuesdays show highlighting the link to real life situations formulated in movies, tv series and also video games. We need to highlight another of their game playing shows, the highlights important social issues and the depravity of some elements of our society, this is called the Squid Game. Squid Game is a South Korean survival drama television series streaming on Netflix, kind of like an Asian version of the Hunger Games. Seong Gi-hun, a divorced and indebted chauffeur, is invited to play a series of children's games for a chance at a large cash prize. Children's games for adult children, except these are neither, but the analogy should not be lost on the listeners. Accepting the offer, he is taken to an unknown location where he finds himself among 455 other players who are also deeply in debt. The players are made to wear green tracksuits and are kept under watch at all times by masked guards in pink jumpsuits, with the games overseen by the Front Man, who wears a black mask and black uniform. The seducement of money, the power it has over people, green tracksuits could be reminiscent of the green program MK Ultra, and the front man with black mask and uniform can be anything from the hidden string pullers, to the people on tv or otherwise who wear masks to cover their real identity, kind of like Joe Biden. The players soon discover that losing a game results in their death, with each death adding ₩100 million to the potential ₩45.6 billion grand prize, which is $38M. Korean currency is called won, which is fitting as only the few won, S. Korea is no different to the rest of the world in those terms. Gi-hun allies with other players, including his childhood friend Cho Sang-woo, to try to survive the physical and psychological twists of the games. Lee Jung-jae as Seong Gi-hun, a chauffeur and a gambling addict, he lives with his mother and struggles to support his daughter financially. He participates in the Game to settle his many debts and to prove himself to be financially stable to get the custody of his daughter, before she leaves for the United States with her mother and step-father. Create desperation times and situations and people often resort to desperate measures to get back in the game. Life is all a game, like the world is all a stage, the key is to play your game, not theirs. Park Hae-soo as Cho Sang-woo, the head of the investment team at a securities company, he is junior to Gi-hun and was a gifted student who studied at Seoul National University, but is now wanted by the police for stealing money from his clients. He was under water billions of won in debt and even mortgaged off his mother's place. Wi Ha-joon as Hwang Jun-ho, a police officer who sneaks into the Game as a guard to find his missing brother. Jung Ho-yeon as Kang Sae-byeok, a North Korean defector who enters the Game to pay for a broker, to find and retrieve her surviving family members who are still across the border. She wants to live in a house with her younger brother and mother. O Yeong-su as Oh Il-nam, an elderly man with a brain tumor who prefers playing the Game as opposed to waiting to die in the outside world. Interesting choice of character given the global discussion on assisted suicide is being discussed. Heo Sung-tae as Jang Deok-su, a gangster who enters the Game to settle his massive gambling debts. Anupam Tripathi as Abdul Ali, a foreign worker from Pakistan, who enters the Game to provide for his young family after his employer refuses to pay him for months. Kim Joo-ryoung as Han Mi-nyeo, a mysterious and manipulative woman who claims to be a poor single mother. All desperate and in some cases valid reasons of trying to make things better, when it actually makes things worse. The clowns love those who are desperate or committed wrong acts, as they then leverage them into doing their dirty work in return for wiping the slate clean, but it is never clean. People just jump from one desperate decision and circumstance to another. Others in the movie are. A doctor who secretly works with a group of corrupt guards to traffic the organs of dead participants in exchange for information on upcoming games. How ironic that art matches life in Asia, and many other countries. A young woman who was just released from prison after killing her abusive father. Prisons are often places the agencies pick up their recruits, knowing they are easily expendable. A pastor who rediscovers his faith during the Game, a glass-maker, a husband and wife, a henchman. A salesman who recruits participants for the Game in Episodes 1 and 9, ah the broker type character, sleazy snake oil marketeer people. The Front Man, a front man can be seen as the handler.

Here is a synopsis of the episodes. 1. Seong Gi-hun is down on his luck, having accumulated enormous debts with loan sharks while becoming estranged from his daughter and ex-wife. At a train station, he is asked by a well-dressed man to play a game of ddakji for money, the man gives Gi-hun a card, inviting him to play games with higher stakes, the classic hustle and seduction program. Gi-hun accepts, is knocked unconscious, and taken to a mysterious location with 455 other players who awaken in a dormitory and are identified by numbers on their tracksuits. The location is managed by masked staff in pink jumpsuits and overseen by the Front Man, masked and dressed in black. The players are all in dire financial straits and will be given billions of won in prize money if they win six games over six days. Gi-hun befriends Player 001, an elderly man suffering from a brain tumor, and recognizes among the players Cho Sang-woo, a former classmate and investment broker, and Player 067, a pickpocket who stole Gi-hun's money after winning a horse race bet. The first game is Red Light, Green Light, where those who lose are killed on the spot, revealing the sadistic nature of the games. Gi-hun is saved from falling by Player 199, a Pakistani foreign worker, and is able to complete the game. Remember the red and green lights, particularly the latter used by Drake, for the mass arrests program? Green and red lights were almost as popular as the 2 weeks mind control meme. One has to ask given the US control S. Korea is, did the CIA write or were involved in this script? 2. More than half of the players are killed in the first game, and a few horrified survivors beg to leave. According to the third clause of the game's agreement, if the majority vote to end the games, all players will be sent home but no money will be given. The players vote, and Player 001's deciding vote has all of them sent home safely. Gi-hun goes to the police but no one believes him except Detective Hwang Jun-ho, whose missing brother received the same invitation card as Gi-hun. All players are given the chance to return to the games and many do so due to desperation, including Gi-hun, whose mother needs surgery. The classic binary choice option again be killed in the game or be killed financially, emotionally or spiritually outside of the game. Sang-woo, who is about to be arrested for financial fraud Player 001, who does not wish to die on the outside, Player 067, who wishes to rescue her parents from North Korea and get her little brother out of an orphanage, Player 199, who attacked and gravely injured his boss for withholding his wages for months, and Player 101 a gangster on the run from gambling debts. Jun-ho secretly follows Gi-hun when he is picked up by the game staff. 3. Jun-ho successfully infiltrates the games by disguising himself as a masked worker, and it is revealed that the location is a remote island. The remote island is often used in these types of psychological dramas, because quite often those islands are remote and hardly anyone on this planet is aware of how many islands there are to do untold horrors on. The players are now more prepared and start forming alliances. Gi-hun, Sang-woo, Player 001, and Player 199 team up, Player 067 explores an air vent and witnesses workers melting pots of sugar. In the second game, the players are to pick a stamped shape out of a dalgona. Dalgona or ppopgi is a Korean candy made with melted sugar and baking soda, it was a popular street snack in the 1970s and 1980s, and is still eaten as a retro food. Sang-woo recognizes the game after learning from Player 067's discovery, but does not warn his teammates and chooses the simplest shape for himself. Gi-hun ends up picking the most difficult shape, an umbrella, but is able to complete the game by licking the honeycomb to melt it. Player 212, a rowdy and manipulative woman, helps Deok-su complete the game with a smuggled lighter. A scared player takes a staff member hostage and forces him to unmask himself. Shocked that the staff member is only a young man, the player kills himself and the staff member is killed by the Front Man for revealing his identity. Yes the front man is a handler and used a classic agency tactic of, if the agent is exposed, delete him or her to prevent them talking and exposing their operations or crimes. 4. Player 111, a disgraced doctor, secretly works with a handful of staff to harvest organs from dead players to sell on the black market in return for information on upcoming games. Gi-hun realizes that Sang-woo could have helped their team in the dalgona game but remains quiet. The staff foment discord among the players to weed out the weak ones, a classic agency troll or shill tactic that is, the connections to the agencies or mafias wrack up in this show it seems. Deok-su kills another player over food, which results in the prize money being increased, all very Hunger Games again. After lights out, a riot erupts and more players are killed. Player 067 joins Gi-hun's team, who protect her from Deok-su's gang, and now the real game has begun as the organizers have everyone in fear and attacking each other. When Player 001 begs everyone to stop, the Front Man ends the riot. Gi-hun's team exchange names to build trust, Player 199 is Ali Abdul, and Player 067 is Kang Sae-byeok, Player 001, due to his brain tumor, has trouble remembering his name. What is interesting is, the player who went into die quicker, is playing peacemaker to keep people alive, and the Front man handler abided by his wishes, which suggests a double agent player or patsy. Player 212 has sex with Deok-su in exchange for protection, yes a case of real desperation and coercion on the promise of keeping themselves safe, but that's not how this game or life works. In the third game, players are told to form groups of 10, Sae-byeok recruits Player 240, a girl close to her age. The game is revealed to be a tug of war on two raised platforms, where a team wins by dragging the opposing team off their platform and to their deaths. Sounds like the Rothschild's versus the Black Sun to me. Deok-su, learning about the game from Player 111 beforehand, picks only strong men and rejects Mi-nyeo, who joins Gi-hun's team. After Deok-su's team wins their match, Gi-hun's team struggles against another all-male team and is on the verge of defeat. 5. In spite of having weaker players, Gi-hun's team manages to win their tug-of-war match with Player 001's strategy and Sang-woo's quick thinking. Anticipating another riot, they build a barricade and spend the night taking turns on guard, but Deok-su's team doesn't attack. Gi-hun reminisces on a similar situation from ten years ago, when he and many other workers from a car parts factory protested a mass lay-off, which caused the failed trajectory of Gi-hun's life. Jun-ho witnesses the organ harvesting racket, as the staff member whose identity he stole was part of it. Save Jun-ho, everyone involved in the racket is eventually killed, including Player 111. The Front Man begins a facility-wide manhunt for Jun-ho, who later breaks into the Front Man's office; he learns that the game has been running for over 30 years, and that his brother Hwang In-ho was the winner in 2015. Yes another example of what is perceived as being new, like technology, is rehashed from the past in unerring loop style fashion. 6. The players are instructed to proceed to the game hall where they see Player 111 (the Doctor) and his co-conspirators bodies strung up and receive an apology, as Player 111 had an unfair advantage due to the games being prided on treating everyone equally, regardless of their status in the outside world. For the fourth game, players are told to pair up. Sang-woo, who is close with Ali, picks him; Gi-hun, who has compassion for Player 001, chooses him; Player 240 picks Sae-byeok. Expecting that they will be working with their partner, the players are horrified to learn that they will actually be playing against their partner in a marble game of their choice, and whoever gets all their partner's marbles within 30 minutes will win and survive. Sae-byeok and Player 240 talk about their lives, Ji-yeong decides that Sae-byeok has more to live for, and intentionally loses the marble game to be killed. Sang-woo tricks Ali into giving up his marbles and wins, letting Ali be killed. Gi-hun, about to lose, turns the game around by using Player 001's failing memory against him, even though doing so unnerves him. Player 001 reveals that he knew Gi-hun was tricking him the whole time, but allows Gi-hun to win anyway as he is his gganbu (trusted friend). Before being killed, 001 remembers his name: Oh Il-nam. Gi-hun, Sang-woo, and Sae-byeok are all traumatized by the deaths of their partners. The classic case of life and death and the service to self culture rears its head here, we should not and should never be put into those drastic choices in life. For example the elderly in the UK and no doubt many other places, are forced every winter to deciding between eat or heat, that is just wrong on all levels. 7. Player 069, who defeated his wife in the marble game, is heartbroken and commits suicide. Foreign VIP guests arrive and are welcomed by the Front Man on behalf of his boss, who is the host. The VIPs are wealthy patrons who wager on the games and watch them live. Again all reminiscent of the Hunger Games movie, the VIP's are the EL-ites who do actually play these games in private and publically for their own amusement, and no I am not joking. Destroyed by their own greed and lust for power, once you have screwed so many girls or men, bought every materialistic item going, done every drugs, they end up turning to the more darker pleasure in life and lose all touch with reality. These scenarios they wickedly plan out, it's like going to a ball game or theater for these people. Jun-ho, now posing as one of the masked servants, is sexually propositioned by a VIP. In a private room, he attacks the VIP and interrogates him for info, recording the VIP's confession on his phone before escaping the island with a scuba kit. The Front Man spots him and pursues him. In the fifth game, the players have 16 minutes to cross a high bridge with panels made of either tempered or regular glass, the latter of which cannot support their weight. Most players at the front of the line fall to their deaths as the panels are tested. The proverbial glass ceiling is the analogy here, sink or swim live or die, but you are forbidden from going above your station or glass ceiling, as above so below. When Deok-su gets to the front, he refuses to move despite the clock ticking. Mi-nyeo grabs him and, as revenge for betraying her, takes him down with her to their deaths. Sang-woo angrily pushes Player 017 when he takes too long, killing him to reveal the last trick panel. Gi-hun, Sang-woo, and Sae-byeok are the only three to complete the game. And this passes off as entertainment?

8. As finalists, Gi-hun, Sang-woo, and Sae-byeok are given a change of clothes and a fancy steak dinner. It is revealed that Sae-byeok was badly wounded in the previous game, having been stabbed by a piece of flying glass when the bridge shattered, and is swiftly bleeding out. When dinner is cleared, each of them is left with a knife. The temptation game they run on us also, known in agency circles as a sting, another type of sting and variant of sting is smart. After lights out, Gi-hun suggests to Sae-byeok that they should ally against Sang-woo, realizing he will go to any length to win, Sae-byeok instead begs Gi-hun to promise that whoever wins the game will look after the other's loved ones. Gi-hun goes to kill Sang-woo when he falls asleep but Sae-byeok stops him, telling him he is not a murderer. Sae-byeok's injuries worsen, prompting a desperate Gi-hun to run and call for help. Sae-byeok is killed by Sang-woo when Gi-hun is away, and the staff arrive only to collect her body. Meanwhile, Jun-ho makes it to another island but is quickly tracked down by the Front Man and the staff. To Jun-ho's shock, the Front Man reveals himself to be his brother, In-ho. In-ho shoots Jun-ho in the shoulder, causing Jun-ho to fall over a cliff and disappear into the water. Again proving how family members turn against each other, when the need, desperation or call arises. 9. The final game is the eponymous Squid game. After a long and brutal fight in the rain, Gi-hun defeats Sang-woo but refuses to complete the game. He attempts to invoke the game's third clause so that he and Sang-woo can leave alive, but Sang-woo stabs himself in the neck. Again echoing the final act of the Hunger Games Katniss and Peter, with the hero having the name of a cat, spelt with a K, how apt that is as we have found out. As he dies, Sang-woo asks Gi-hun to use the prize money to help his mother, a traumatized Gi-hun returns home to find his own mother has passed away. A year later, Gi-hun remains traumatized and has barely touched his prize money. One night he receives a game invitation card, to his shock, he finds Oh Il-nam (Player 001) still alive but dying from his brain tumor. I guess my earlier prediction of him being a patsy was correct. Il-nam is revealed to be the mastermind behind the game, which he created to entertain the bored ultra-rich like himself while testing if humanity had any innate goodness left in it. Maybe a coincidence but IL is the international code for Israel, and nam reversed is man, so 001 was an Israeli man if that was the case. He reminds Gi-hun that despite allowing the players to leave, many returned willingly. The specific games are based on Il-nam's childhood, and he had participated himself for nostalgia's sake. As they talk, the two see an unconscious man lying on a street corner; Il-nam asks Gi-hun to bet if someone will come help him before midnight. Gi-hun wins and Il-nam dies, presumably after witnessing his loss. Gi-hun fulfills his promises to Sae-byeok and Sang-woo, and leaves for the airport to reconnect with his daughter in Los Angeles. En route, he sees someone playing ddakji with the same game recruiter who found him. He angrily snatches the player's card, and before boarding his plane he calls the card's number, demanding to know who is still running the games. The Front Man orders him to get on the plane; Gi-hun ends the call and stays in Seoul, determined to stop the games once and for all. With psychopaths the game never ends is what they think and do, but if nobody plays their games, then they die automatically from lack of harvesting others energy. The show received critical acclaim, which shows you how stupid critics are, I bet the EL-ites involved in this laughed at the sniveling critics apparent lack of understanding of what they were saying or doing with the series. Fashion brand Louis Vuitton announced Jung Ho-Yeon as their new global ambassador for fashion, watches, and jewelry, the typically vacuous cretins never miss an opportunity for marketing the cattle. One of the phone numbers used in the show belonged to a private resident who reported receiving up to 4,000 calls each day from people, several of whom desired to play a real-life version of the game. Which shows how stupid many of the public are, anything for money and oblivious to the cost, typically non thinking bots. As the series was introduced ahead of the 2022 South Korean presidential election, several of the candidates began using some of the Squid Game imagery in their political ads and challenging opponents to similar games. Promoted by the equally vacuous cretins and the worlds largest puppet factory, them taking each other out would do many people a favor, perhaps they like the CIA already are. A diplomatic cable of the United States Department of State said, at the heart of the show's dark story is the frustration felt by the average Korean, and particularly Korean youth, who struggle to find employment, marriage, or upward mobility proving that grim economic prospects are indeed at the center of Korean society's woes. You would think they would have better things to do than be critics of a series, apparently not, and someone needs to remind them that this countries populace has all the same problems as they highlighted with Korea, with vastly inflated numbers. Vendors of dalgona, the honeycomb candy featured in the second game, both within Korea and internationally found a significant increase in sales after the show's release. Everyday clothing items matching those worn in the show saw large growths in sales in the weeks after the show's initial broadcast, such as Vans slip-on shoes which spiked by 7,800%. Variety attributed this sales increase in part to preparation for Halloween costumes inspired by the show. Vendors of other costume props that mirrored those in the show, such as the guards' masks, also saw sales spikes in advance of Halloween following the show's premiere. Yet again highlighting how gullible and stupid people are for following trends their slave masters leave for them. Shortly after the show's release, users of social media adapted some of the games featured in Squid Game as Internet challenges, including the first "Red Light, Green Light" game and the second honeycomb cookie game. Users of video games supporting user-created content, such as Roblox, Fortnite Creative, and Grand Theft Auto Online, created numerous games within these systems that were based on one or more of the Squid Game challenges. Some groups also worked to organize safe, mock Squid Game events for fans of the show. A number of schools around the United Kingdom observed that despite the show being aimed at mature audiences, young children were emulating some of the games from Squid Game during school recess, and warned parents about these activities. Again evidence of non thinking bots, oblivious to the fact the 454 people died in horrible circumstances and only two survived, one of which was a patsy. This series and the game is a psychological mind control program, they will analyze all who engaged that series, who where their favorite characters, what was their favorite part, and datamine all of it, to then target certain ones who ticked all their predetermined boxes. That is called profiling, and like the experimental jab people blindly took, those engaged in this have all just been profiled for potential future uses. What they are looking for is, are there more critical thinkers questioning this? are the public suddenly going away from violence and controlling movies or series? are the people now starting to be more empathic? and are they starting to mass together and away from the systems plans, plots and schemes to make us all as evil as them. This series is an overview of what we do to each other, and also how the game organizers push us into doing their work for them, much to their own great amusement. We have to stop and think of each action we do and take, is this beneficial for us all? then make the required changes. We will make man in our image and likeness springs to mind, and this series is their further attempts to do that to us. Only we can stop that.

There will be another fairly explosive deep expose style Must Listen to show this coming Tuesday, other shows of that ilk including a revised FRWL 9 should be forthcoming before the end of the year. Following Tuesday's show and the Matrix 4 is released on 12/22 called Resurrection, perhaps that is humanities day of Resurrection? Some people will cite the book of Genesis, yet miss the obvious connection to a potential Eve scenario, that we covered in the show. The Book of Genesis is said to be an account of the creation of the world, the early history of humanity, and of Israel's ancestors and the origins of the Jewish people. It's Hebrew name is the same as its first word, Bereshit means In the beginning. Genesis is the first book of the Hebrew Bible and the Christian Old Testament. So what they are saying is, in the beginning there was only Jews and all life came from that and them, does that make any sense? Yet again it is all about the Hebrew Annunaki and their merry band of fake gods, pushing darkness and abuse on the humans. We mentioned Isis and her role in all of this, and their secret but in your face worship of her to this day. But they love to play with words and change a vowel, although the pronunciation of the word genesis is indicative. Gen isis, generation Isis or the genes of Isis? Was the genes of Isis the biblical creation of Eve? We spoke of the Snow crash said to be like static on a television, but it was exactly like the ending of the Looking Glass technology. They may wish to build their Metaverse and Snow Crash, but we will Snow Crash them into static background noise, that eventually fades away into the mists of their time, not ours.

TPC village progress continues at a pace, we now have 6 lands under ownership of THI/TPC members, 5 other land contracts that will close within the next 3 weeks. We are formulating plans for approval for 3-6 cabin homes on another piece of land that will be acquired by the TPC, will have more news on that as soon as we engage the zoning planning in the county. And wait for it - drum roll. We now have the first village home installed on the land, which belongs to me but will be used by two other THI members continuing with our theme of caring and sharing. A monumental milestone despite interference is now underway, we have built it and now they will come. Thanks to all who have made that happen, my vision formulated in my head 3-4 years ago, now taking shape, fantastic news for us all. Last week I had a call with the TPC video promotion team, and things are progressing real well with that. We now have the videos all done, editing is mainly completed and the format and flow of the video, which will be around 85 mins long, also in place. Next stage is to add captions and graphics, which will be done by early November, and then discuss adding background music in parts of the video, we expect to be finished with that some time in November. The final cutting, processing and editing will be completed by the end of November, in time for a special showing via a Xmas zoom call. Then we are going to focus on a new project a From Russia will love book, and so will be assembling a team to organize that shortly. Recently I had a humbling and pride based zoom call with members of the Communal Gatherings, as each section told of their progress, new ideas and plans for the section and the development to date. The law group did a presentation on how we go forward with law in the future and also linking it to a positive action group, who will engage the public or business in how to engage and discourage their poor choices the states and Governments are doing against we the people, this will serve as an advertisement of the TPC as well. All great stuff, major things are unfolding on many levels now, the rise in frequency and consciousness is being felt and engaged by several of our members now. Extraordinary things are unfolding from within, as well as in and out of time, the synchronicities are mounting up in and out of our group, that notifies me of the changes are unfolding in an extraordinary way. I believe I will be called back in again soon to formulate further improvements and advancements. Two song lines came to me this week, don't look now the best is yet to come by the Scorpions, and the line the meek shall inherit the Earth by Rush 2112, perhaps it wasn't about the year, but the date?

This is our planet, and we wish to change it in a better way for and by all the people, that is the promise and premise of The Peoples Club, that is what it was created and designed for, a platform for a new way of being, acting, behaving and operating. I call on the Universal, UR, Orion and other councils to put in place the platform for the people to take back their world. I will and I have asked several times of you to put me in place with others to carry out the full, all inclusive change, with the fullest support, backing, security and measures that would be required to fulfill the task of a full Restoration plan designated two years ago, but has been ran by someone who has clearly lost their way, and is connected in part to the old system of controllers. We the people have had enough of them, their two sides of the same coin game, all their plans all failed, we request an opportunity to rebuild our world, our interactions, are way of operating, are way of living, are way of peace, harmony and all inclusive world in fairness, equality, balance and humility. The non compliance is quickly rising, so are the people and the words for this year of Renaissance and Resistance is now well underway, and the inevitable backlash will unfold, stay safe, be prepared, stay strong we will prevail eventually. The renaissance and resistance is unfolding before our eyes, once you believe, but the biggest belief is in and of yourself.
