

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2021-11-18

Saturday's show was a tough show to do, and finally after over 18 months I got to unburden it. Not all will be happy with it, even now, but I am not here to tell what you want to hear, just tell you what you need to hear. That is the main difference between THI and all other shows, bullshit, half truths, lies, ego based news, sensational reports, clickbait headlines will not reside here with our show or group. I said we will be different, and we are, and it will stay that way until others catch up with our knowledge, understanding and frequency. It was tough to hear as well I imagine for you all, but it had to be said and now all I ask is, for you all to take part in correcting it. We are all much tougher than we think, all more important than we thought, now is the time to show it. That then makes me happy, I have done my part although deeper work will continue in the background on this, and I will report back of any developments that are made. Too many people make assumptions in these cases, when a natural flow and some time reveals the all. Assumptions are what got us into this Covid/Divoc mess to begin with. We assumed the science was right, we assumed the media was right, we assumed the medical people are right, we assumed the pharmaceutical people are right, we assumed the Government was right, we assumed the statistics was right at the beginning, but those assumptions were all wrong. Assumption is not fact, it is a logical choice or decision made on the evidence of that time, but logic is not fact either. And so we are left with making an ass (umption) of ourselves and fighting tyranny. Saturday's show in overview was a lack of control, to self develop yourself requires the ultimate in self control, yet many do alcohol and drugs, both of which bring in a lack of control of the self. How do you expect to develop in that manner? The answer is you can't and you won't. In a massive dose of irony it seems, back in July, Dr. Sohrab Lutchmedial lashed out at the selfish people who have refused to get the COVID-19 vaccine. I think all of us would treat that unvaxxed patient with respect and to the best of our abilities, but the people that convinced them not to get vaxxed? I want to punch those people in the face. The 52-year-old prominent New Brunswick cardiologist who shamed the unvaccinated over the summer, died suddenly in his sleep after getting his third shot of the COVID-19 vaccine. I suspect there is a punch line in their somewhere, but the Doctor beat me to the punch it seems. The conclusion of the mass carbon producing and manure expelling COP26 produced absolutely nothing of benefit. Clowns On Parade 26 produced practically nothing, another circus style PR stunt. Coal reduction was the main gist of it and instead of shutting down they are phasing it out, now why won't they do that with oil? The reduction in terms of Gigatonnes, all of which no doubt are Johns Hopkins math, is currently 52.4. After this hob nobbing fest it reduces around 20% to 41.9 GT, but they say it needs to go to 26.6 GT otherwise, were all going to fry. Sizzle away like fries according to them, whilst walking ankle deep in floods. Yet, THI came up with a flood solution and has anyone asked us about it? no, THI came up with an oil solution which Trump was aware of, have they implemented it? no. The great common sense question to ponder on with this is, if global warming is real and we are getting excess heat, why are chemtrails still being sprayed which creates a blanket and becomes a heat trap? I guess they may need more jabs to keep the carbon down? One member who I helped 18 months ago announced this week her coming off drugs after a long battle, kudos to her and that is another THI success story, of removing people away from addictions.

NEWS: To those who may doubt the outcome of Saturday's show, and my suggesting of they have created digital twins and they are using the Metaverse, not creating it, this was sent in by a member. Pharmaceutical Technology Webcasts edigest@email.pharmtech.com Pharmaceutical Technology: Creating a Digital Twin Strategy Using Artificial Intelligence Pharma/biopharma manufacturing operations are complex, involving interactions that are both continuous and unpredictable. However, management of these processes traditionally relies upon the individual monitoring of key parameters. In reality, this approach inhibits efficiency and provides only a limited view of how the system actually interacts. To truly understand and predict processes, manufacturers are finding they need to apply multivariate analysis using artificial intelligence (AI). This article explores the use of digital twins, powered by AI, to reproduce the conditions existing within physical assets to identify and optimize manufacturing process variables, predict outcomes, and enable effective action. Remember Bill Gates saying it was a software upgrade? I guess that explains it.

As the eerie Tall White looking entity known as Jeff Bezos, almost predicts the Georgia Guidestones with these comments. Humanity will move most industry into space and allow only a select few to remain on our planet, which will be turned into a natural resort, according to self-funded space explorer Jeff Bezos. Millions of people will move from Earth to space over time, and that's the vision of Blue Origin, millions of people working in space, he said, referring to his own firm. Over centuries, most or many of the people will be born in space, it will be their first home, they will be born on these colonies, they will live on these colonies. Slave colonies or prisons in the sky then Mr. Bezos, GFY Mr. Bezos. What goes up, may not always come down in the way you thought.

A courageous woman has taken up the task of investigating and reporting injuries from the Pfizer COVID jab, that the media have ignored in her home country of Israel, where the government has administered the shot almost ubiquitously. Introducing herself as Avital, a mother of two boys, the brave Israeli woman said she has spoken with hundreds of people, and read thousands of testimonies of people who have been adversely affected by the jab, but who have been afraid to speak publicly due to hostility around this subject. In the past months, I've been hearing about more and more people I know who experienced severe adverse effects shortly after receiving the Pfizer shot. I also noticed that no news company, journalist, reporter, or anyone investigated these events thoroughly and published the data. She explained that it was only after the government began administering the experimental drug to the nation's children, that she realized someone must raise the alarm. That's when I decided to take on this task, she said. The fruit of her work is The Testimonies Project, a website showcasing an hour long video that details the powerful stories of 40 people who were willing to publicly share their experiences, in the weeks and months after injection with Pfizer's abortion-tainted mRNA jab. Those who bravely spoke out described having suffered an array of life-altering conditions. Some testimonies were of family members speaking on behalf of a now-deceased son or sibling. The presentation divided the testimonies into seven distinct categories: heart problems which accounted for the lion's share of cases, disease outbreak, blood clots, bleeding and miscarriages, infections and inflammations, skin problems, and neurological problems, all of which are consistent with the complaints found in international vaccine injury databases, including the U.S. Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) and the European EudraVigilance system. Every speaker described dealing with constant pain and difficulty, carrying out the ordinary daily tasks that they were accustomed to do just months earlier. Many also shared that, despite having personal reservations about taking the shot, pressure mounted on them from employers, government, schools, and even family and friends to get the Pfizer jab anyway. Some of the participants shared that their reason for taking the shot was due to Israel and its Green Pass, as the first COVID shot verification system in the world. The pass was soon required of citizens to gain access to certain shops, bars, entertainment venues, and even opening up international travel, among other things. One man, 41-year-old Ali Abu Latif, chose to get the shot due to social pressure after initially being strongly opposed to the idea. This is how they get the people to administer their programs for them, stupid untaught, non researched jackasses dictating who gets a death shot, my sympathy for the stupid is wearing very thin these days, they are injuring and killing their own people. At some point the sympathy and empathy will have to change, and we may be facing a situation where we declare war on the vaxxed and the stupid people supporting it. He explained that on March 8, the same night he received his second jab, he began experiencing an earache. The pain became so unbearable that he was admitted to a hospital for five days, after his health seemed to have returned to normal. A little over a week later, Latif, who previously kept fit and exercised regularly, suffered a stroke. After a few days in a hospital to recover, he was discharged and given a walking frame to help support his now severely inhibited mobility. I would fall at home, my wife would drag me to bed, Latif shared. A few months later, on July 7, he suffered a second stroke, rendering his whole left side paralyzed. Latif explained that pain medication no longer mitigates his suffering and that he struggles to sleep at night. He said his life has been shattered before his eyes, as a result of his strokes, he is now confined to a wheelchair. I'm already waiting for the third stroke, to see if I stay alive or not, Latif said. Another notable case is that of Haya, a 46-year-old mother to three small children who explained that after receiving her second Pfizer shot on March 18 she almost immediately started suffering terrible headaches. Just a few days later, after arriving at work, Haya said her hand had swollen to double its normal size, leading her boss to send her home. As she traveled back, however, her condition deteriorated. I couldn't breathe, I thought I was swallowing my tongue, I wasn't able to drive straight, she said. Upon arriving home, the mother collapsed and was admitted to a hospital. Haya explained that the doctors examining her were dumbfounded at her condition, and were apparently unsure about how to treat her. All of which tells you A: they are not experts and B: potentially in on the crime. As a result of the concoction of medications she is now using, Haya said she can no longer sleep or manage her household. I have small children who need a mother, she said. They need baths, food, need me to jump with them or take them to the park. Struggling to contain tears, Haya added that this is no longer possible, my life was ruined, my life as it is today is finished. Although Haya's condition developed immediately after her second injection in March, she was given a medical consultation date of November 1, eight months later. In light of their experiences, the speakers all strongly warned against taking the COVID jab, and confirmed that they would not present their children for inoculation. Speaking with LifeSiteNews, Avital said that hearing so many injuries arising so soon after taking the COVID jab quickly drew her concern. She grew especially critical when Israeli media were not reporting the stories, she was seeing and hearing through friends and social media. The web started to be filled with people saying, especially in groups, about people who got injured after getting the vaccine. But at the same time, in the media, the Israeli media, nothing. Because the media is an integral part of the medical tyranny and crime syndicate. Nobody is listening to them, Avital lamented, nobody's even taking care of them, and they are just the tip of the iceberg. They were the only people brave enough to speak out at the time that they did the project, she said, adding that beside this brave few, there are thousands and thousands of cases. Avital suggested that the jab rollout should stop, until medical research discovers what is causing the widespread adverse health developments. Avital dear, they know full well the adverse events and the deaths, you and many others have to realize and accept this is premeditated, it is not some medical accident, coincidence, it is mass premeditated harm and death cult being ran on the people globally. They have to stop and, of course, not to give it to the children. She stressed that the government is trying to shut our mouths and not let people tell the world what's going on with them, there's no second opinion in Israel. Just like they did in Germany Avital, it is the same people is why, and your own so called religion people, they are psychopaths. However, through initiatives like the Testimonies Project, it's starting to come out. Avital shared her wish that the Testimonies Project would help many others who have been silent about their experiences, to bring their own testimonies to the public sphere and shed light on the damage wrought by the jab. Support for her work has been overwhelming, she said, explaining that, since launching the video, people are contacting me, new people that want to give testimonies or just let me know what happened. The project costs, including research, travel, filming and production, rose to around 20,000 shekels (around $6,230), Avital explained, noting that people were so keen to help that in two weeks, I raised the money. Avital directed Israelis who have been injured by the jab to contact the Israeli People's Committee, an independent group of doctors, lawyers, and scientists who are documenting vaccine injury cases for transparency and to pursue medical remedies and legal recompense. If it happened to you or to someone you know, please report to The Israeli People's Committee. Then please share this video and add your personal story, because you are no longer alone, there are thousands of testimonies to support you. Now, when it comes to our children, the truth must come out. I have emailed the group and told them I would be highlighting this in our show and to offer support, they responded and said thanks. More and more brave Israelis are standing up now and that pleases me no end. I warned repeatedly in the FRWL series that Israeli people were all being used as pawns by this Hebrew Annunaki death and harvest cult.

On July 2, 2021, President Biden announced the nomination of Amy Gutmann to serve as United States Ambassador to Germany, one of the most important diplomatic posts in Europe. If confirmed, Dr. Gutmann will be tasked with managing a relationship that has become strained over disagreements on critical issues like Nord Stream 2, the EU-China Comprehensive Agreement on Investment, and economic resiliency. We are concerned that Dr. Gutmann, who served as president of the University of Pennsylvania since 2004, does not have the experience necessary for this important diplomatic post. What's more, we are deeply concerned that our allies will view Dr. Gutmann's nomination as a quid pro quo. It appears that President Biden could be rewarding a friend who previously provided him with more than $900,000 for what seems to have been a no-show job as the Benjamin Franklin Presidential Practice Professor at the University of Pennsylvania. It is our understanding that this position required no active teaching on Biden's part. The concern is not just Ms. Gutmann is not capable of doing her job, but why is their another high level appointment of born in and born to in the top echelons of the American, not Israeli Government. If people think that is racist or unfair to keep repeating that, please let us know how many Americans are in top positions in Israel, then see if the criticism fits then, because it doesn't. These appointments are and have been a National Security risk of the highest calibre, as these people don't work for America, just Israel. Dr. Gutmann needs to go and look after her own people like Avital is, instead of creating the environment of Zion based Fascism on their own people.

A rare storm in Egypt has sparked flash floods that killed at least three people and washed swarms of scorpions into people's homes. More than 500 people were stung by scorpions who sought refuge from thunderstorms and torrential rainfall in the southern Egyptian city of Aswan over the weekend. Cue the biblical prophecy doom merchants.

This story is part of White lies, a series by CNN's As Equals investigating skin whitening practices worldwide to expose the underlying drivers of colorism, the industry that profits from it and the cost to individuals and communities. Yet more divide and conquer tactics from CNN given it is ran by the original skin whitening crew designed to discolor whites, pardon the pun, the irony is not lost on me.

An event in my hometown on 11/11 unfolded and a taxi blew up and was immediately declared a terrorist event. The taxi driver miraculously escaped the blast, yet the bomber died and police say they are unable to identify him, yet arrested his associates in other addresses. The taxi company just by coincidence is called Delta, that is a new variant it seems. They arrested people in Sutcliffe Street which is SS, and Rutland Avenue which is RA. The Home Office raised the threat level to, expect more attacks soon, just as we predicted. Events of strange blasts, 7 of them are going off in China, and no one is speaking about them.

At a three-day conference in San Antonio, Texas, for the ReAwaken America tour, former national security adviser and keynote speaker Michael Flynn called for Christianity to become the singular religion of the United States. What happened to Freedom of choice Mr. Flynn? Are you setting the stage or is the stage for Set, Mr. Flynn? One World religion anyone?

A warning put out this past week describes A Coming False Flag Targeting The Unvaccinated As Terrorists? Haha oh dear they are really showing their desperation now, time to buckle down on the do not comply lists. The source was The Swiss Federal Intelligence Agency has recently warned that terrorists may be planning to attack the vaccine pipeline. Yet the agency admits that no tangible evidence exists for such an event. Well I never, since when has any Agency given out truthful Intelligence reports particularly over the past 50 years? Faulty non intelligent reports got this country into two major wars this century, all based on spin and lies. Swiss is ran by Rothschild's and so talk shit, CIA, NSA, Mossad, GCHQ and GIA also talk shit and spin lies, so why in the hell would we believe them? Reflect On: How would such an event change the narrative around vaccine compliance? it doesn't just enhances the divide and conquer program, whilst creating fear. Why would this be reported if there is no evidence for a looming attack? to create the fear and further enhance the divide and conquer program. Get people distracted and fighting each other, instead of coming together to fight the real enemy. The final piece said could a so-called false flag be in the making? In the making? err hello McFly! there is a global false flag being ran on the people for the last 20 months, whether you are vaxxed or not.

More Military people standing up and speaking out, which is great to see and hear. A former cadet at the United States Military Academy Hannah MacDonald said that, West Point glorifies ignorant submission and unethical behavior Thursday on Hannity, joining two other former cadets in their criticism of the academy. For MacDonald and her fellow former cadets Nickaylah Sampson and Willow Brown, enrolling at the nation's oldest service academy was a dream come true. I went to the academy hoping to serve my country and bring the fight to the enemy, Brown recalled. If only she knew the enemy she was fighting was contained in part within the organization she had joined. I found myself instead in the classroom learning about how to be more sensitive, and this woke ideology that had taken over West Point really surprised me. Sampson remembered talk of briefs about White rage and extremism. The former cadet found such discussions ridiculous, saying it really had nothing to do with bettering yourself as an Army officer. Guess which Alt Media station is promoting West Point on their TV mind control channels currently? Life Force.

With the court case in Wisconsin about a guy who shot 3 people in apparent or alleged self defense against a rampaging Black Lives Matter group. Kyle Rittenhouse ended up shooting a killing 3 people, none of which were black, which is odd for a Black Lives Matter rally in and of itself. Turns out all 3 shot and killed were deemed as white, yet all 3 names of Huber, Grosskreutz and Rosenbaum, the latter being the most obvious, all have German and more importantly Hebrew names. One may also point to the shooter Rittenhausen, also originates from Germany. But given the fact that the Jewish establishment declare all Germans white supremacists, why would 3 "Germans" take part in a rally for a shot black person? Where they agitators? actors? I guess time will tell. Did you know there has been 10 separate American politicians named Rittenhausen. One has to ask given the publicity and vagueness of this case, whether like the Casey Anthony story, this is a staged event.

Here is something to be more concerned about. The Biden administration in just the past year alone, stockpiled the records of more than 54 million U.S. gun owners, and is poised to drastically alter gun regulations to ensure that information on Americans who own firearms ultimately ends up in the federal government's hands, according to internal Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms documents obtained by the Washington Free Beacon. The ATF in fiscal year 2021 processed 54.7 million out-of-business records, according to an internal ATF document obtained by the Gun Owners of America, a firearms advocacy group, and provided exclusively to the Free Beacon. When a licensed gun store goes out of business, which is deliberate, its private records detailing gun transactions become ATF property and are stored at a federal site in West Virginia. This practice allows the federal government to stockpile scores of gun records, and has drawn outrage from gun advocacy groups that say the government is using this information, to create a national database of gun owners which has long been prohibited under U.S. law. The ATF obtained 53.8 million paper records and another 887,000 electronic records, that outlines ATF actions in fiscal year 2021. Gun activists described this figure as worryingly high, and said it contributes to fears that the Biden administration is trying to keep track of all Americans who own firearms, in violation of federal statutes. The procurement of these records by the ATF comes as, the Biden administration moves to alter current laws to ensure that gun records are stored in perpetuity. Currently, gun shops can destroy their records after 20 years, thereby preventing the ATF from accessing the information in the future. As if the addition of over 50 million records to an ATF gun registry wasn't unconstitutional or illegal enough, the Biden administration's misuse of 'out-of-business' records doesn't end there, Aidan Johnston, the Gun Owners of America's director of federal affairs. The ATF's registry site has long been a battleground between gun advocates and the federal government. Those in favor of more restrictive gun measures want the ATF to digitize this registry and create a federal database of U.S. gun owners, a move opposed by groups such as the Gun Owners of America and the National Rifle Association. The ATF has so many records stored in its West Virginia site that several years ago the floor collapsed. This smells of NWO tactics, I will call it what it is, a direct targeting campaign of people who own guns. In comes other rules to target certain people, like 2 traffic tickets bars you from owning a gun or something similarly banal. What this proves is, they are shit scared of the people with guns, this is why America is the final battle field, because if they have all the guns, it is not necessarily game over, but will lead to far more deaths. I would suspect this was a UN based move, something else a certain person said she had shut down and clearly hasn't.

A group of Senate Democrats are demanding that President Biden release oil from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve and ban exports of U.S. crude oil. The group of 11 Democratic Senators penned a letter to Biden asking him to take the steps to lower U.S. gasoline prices. The letter cites AAA gas prices, noting that the national average for a gallon of gas has risen more than $1 since this time last year. $1 doesn't sound like too much, lets do proper maths shall we, it has risen a 1/3 or more in the past year, that is 33% plus. It is another way to get some taxes back lost from the martial law lockdown. It notes that gas prices have now reached their highest since 2014, which places an "undue burden on families and small businesses trying to make ends meet." The US has more combined oil than all other countries, yet does dodgy deals in exports and moreso in imports, that benefits agency goons and Bushes, Clintons and Obamas, it is a cartel racket and successive Governments far more than addressing it, have had the Presidents cut in on the racket.

Meanwhile whilst the greed merchants chat shit about climate change, Biden like his predecessor ignores the growing failing of America and it's people. It is ok to pass carte blanche a $1T death and mutilation budget for the Military, pass various loans which are never repaid and other funds to Israel without due consultation, and yet this is happening on their own streets. More than 100,000 New York City schoolchildren were homeless at some point during the 2020-2021 school year, a 42% increase since 2010, according to a report released Monday by the group Advocates for Children. During a school year when most of the city's public school students were learning remotely because of the scandemic, nearly 28,000 of them were living in homeless shelters and about 65,000 lived doubled-up with friends or family, state data showed. An additional 3,860 students were living in cars, parks or abandoned buildings, Advocates for Children said. The total number of students who were homeless at some point during the school year, represents nearly one-tenth of the city's public school system. Advocates for Children and a coalition of other social service groups are calling on Mayor-elect Eric Adams, to address the problem of student homelessness through measures such as hiring shelter-based staff members, to help families navigate the city's complicated education bureaucracy. So, the leading high level crime and greed wealth State is allowing children to live on the streets, just like the second leading high level and greed wealth State, California. It's utter shameful, the wealth contained within those two States is pure greed and yet so many go without the 5 basics, in supposedly the richest country in the world, that is greed not need. New York alone has 4.5M Millionaires, and you sit their with all that wealth and allow this to continue? that is why the TPC adopted the meme, need not greed. The group Advocates for Children all sounds so nice, an organization looking out for the children, but lets look at their board shall we to see if that is the case. Board of Directors: Eric F. Grossman, President Morgan Stanley, Kimberley D. Harris, Vice President NBCUniversal, Harriet Chan King, Secretary former VP Morgan Stanley, Paul D. Becker, Treasurer an Associate of a Commercial Finance group, Carmita Alonso Fragomen, Del Rey, Bernsen & Loewy LLP representative of an Immigration Law group, sounds like trafficking to me. Matt Berke Morgan Stanley, Matt Darnall Element Capital, Jessica A. Davis 140 Summer Partners, LP hedge fund group, Lucy Fato AIG, Robin L. French Google, Brian Friedman Goldman Sachs, Caroline J. Heller Greenberg Traurig, LLP an International Law group, Jamie A. Levitt Morrison & Foerster LLP another International Law Group, Maura K. Monaghan Debevoise & Plimpton LLP a Law group, Jon H. Oram Proskauer Rose LLP Lawyers for Asset Management, Jonathan D. Polkes Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP Counselling for non Profit Organizations. Veronica M. Wissel Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP An equity and asset acquiring firm and Raul F. Yanes Morgan Stanley again. Banking, Hedge Funds, Asset strippers, Law groups and Immigration Lawyers, in some cases International, what have they got to do with helping the children? the answer is nothing positive. All of those finance people and they won't help the children on the streets? why? because this is not Advocating for children, it looks and feels like using the children to me, given the Immigrant Law group. All out of New York again, it is not a cohercidence anymore, that place wreaks of filth and pure greed and evil. The best solution is for the people to all leave, and let it rot, without your taxes these greed based cretins have nothing left.

COVID BS: Federal Labor Board in Canada just ruled that putting someone on unpaid leave, is equivalent to firing them and is illegal and they have issued a cease & desist order. This will affect all government workers, nurses and hospital workers, teachers, military, etc and the ripple affect will make all private corps have to follow suite.

The Treasury Board claims that Ottawa employs the equivalent of 300,540 full-time civil servants. About 212,000 of them will be exempt from getting vaccines. In case you're curious, that's nearly 70% of the federal workforce that won't be covered by the mandatory vaccine policy.

Queensland Government Australia introducing medical apartheid on December 17th. From December 17th unvaccinated can only enter hospitals for the purposes of end life, childbirth or emergency situation. Vulnerable settings, aged care, hospitals, prisons and Disability Services, banned for the unvaxxed. Solution? target the facilities implementing it with a Positive Actions group. Hospitality Venues, hotels, pubs, restaurants, taverns, bars and cafes, banned for the unvaxxed. Solution? target the facilities implementing it with a Positive Actions group. Indoor Entertainment Venues, nightclubs, live music, karaoke, concerts, theaters and cinemas, banned for the unvaxxed. Solution? target the facilities implementing it with a Positive Actions group. Outdoor Entertainment venues, sports stadiums and theme parks, banned for the unvaxxed. Solution? target the facilities implementing it with a Positive Actions group. Festivals, live, arts or music festivals indoor or outdoor, banned for the unvaxxed. Solution? target the facilities implementing it with a Positive Actions group. Boycott the artists participating as well. Weddings, restricted to 20 people if one person is unvaxxed. Queensland Government owned, Galleries, Museums and Libraries, erm the Government doesn't own any of our buildings, paid for with our taxes, banned for the unvaxxed. All under the banner of Protecting Queenslanders as we unite families, indeed, it means to follow, un means to not, and so their intention is to unfollow families. You know the simple solution to that? pay no taxes, because if you are being refused the full services your taxes have paid for, then refuse to pay the taxes until they allow full access again. Request a refund on all your last year tax returns. Then pool your taxes together and create an unvaxxed group of TPC businesses and shut theirs out. This goes way beyond Fascism, and maybe the common law groups over there can look into the precedent being set here, and the legality of not paying taxes, based upon services being refused. That will be an impact event and actionable event, not charging Dan Andrews which is a pure clickbait action, imagine loads of Australians refusing to pay taxes, because even the vaxxed will support that.

Vaccine passports could fuel the spread of Covid-19 by encouraging people to go to poorly ventilated pubs instead of large venues, the Government's own impact assessment has warned. The policy would also slash turnover for the organizers of events required to use vaccine passports, and necessitate the hiring of thousands of new stewards which may be hard to deliver, it was concluded. A core concern in the sector is that certification could displace activity and business away from music venues, to say pubs with music and late alcohol licenses, etc. which could be counterintuitive and potentially counter-productive. Similarly, if certification displaces some fans from structured and well ventilated sports stadia, this could lead to them attending unstructured and poorly ventilated pubs instead, where they will have access to more alcohol than if there were in the stadia. Boris Johnson has said Covid-19 certification, under which people would have to show proof of two Covid-19 jabs before entry to a venue could be adopted in England. As part of his Plan B for tackling any Covid-19 surges this autumn and winter, though no final decisions have been taken. Ah the Plan B we highlighted recently, watch for big changes coming. Yet again ouroboros plans and yet again they look at the peoples actions, whilst they host multi national hob nobbing events, with no social distancing or masks, these people are taking the piss. Notice there is no social distancing on airlines, surely in an enclosed space like that you would have spaced out seats? I know common sense again.

The Pentagon said it would respond to Oklahoma's Republican governor after the state's National Guard indicated it would thwart a Defense Department mandate that troops be vaccinated against Covid-19. The Department said it was aware of a memo issued this week by the Oklahoma National Guard's recently installed adjutant general which said the organization would not enforce the Department's vaccine mandate for its troops. The Pentagon mandated in August that US military service members get fully vaccinated against Covid-19. The Pentagon now running the country it seems, does anyone not think this is a tad wrong? I don't recall elections voting for the Pentagon to be the Government? Under what authority have the Pentagon issued those orders? Why haven't the common law groups looked into that? When are all common law groups going to come together? a decade of singular groups has produced little in the way of actionable events, the TPC law collective group offer still stands.

A six-year-old who was left radioactive after undergoing cancer treatment was forced to separate from her brother for over a month. Poppy Bailey was injected with a pioneering drug to kill rare cells in her body, known as neuroblastoma. However side effects from the clinical trial left her radioactive - meaning she was unable to hug her parents, grandparents, or 18-month-old brother Oscar. Poppy, who is obsessed with Disney princesses, became a big sister to Oscar in April 2020, around the same time she started feeling pain in her leg. At four-years-old, she began experiencing feelings of tiredness, she had lost her appetite and became clingy and depressed, which her parents initially put down to her being upset at not seeing her schoolfriends due to Covid-19. All the billions poured into Cancer treatment over 7 decades and this is the best they have to offer us? Stop giving to Cancer charities and Hospitals, they are as fake as vitamins, supplements and organic food, a giant marketing ploy to strip people of their money, whilst holding onto cures, because without cures they increase their profits.

This is an interesting piece to include called The pathway to new world order by Henry Makow. Phase 1: Simulate a threat and create fear. (December 2019-March 2020) Mount a plandemic, kill tens of thousands of elderly people, increase the number of cases and deaths, position vaccination as the only solution from the beginning. Focus all attention on Covid-19, result, almost general panic. Phase 2: Sow the tares and division. (March 2020-December 2020) Impose multiple unnecessary, liberticidal and unconstitutional coercive measures. Paralyze trade and the economy, observe the submission of a majority and the resistance of a rebellious minority. Stigmatize the rebels and create a horizontal division, censoring dissident leaders, punish disobedience. Generalize PCR tests, create confusion between cases, infected, sick, hospitalized and dead. Disqualify all effective treatments, hope for a rescue vaccine, result, almost general panic. Phase 3: Bring a treacherous and deadly solution. (December 2020-June 2021) Offer a free vaccine for everyone, promise protection and return to normality, establish a herd immunization target. Simulate a partial recovery of the economy, hide statistics of side effects and deaths from injections. Passing off the side effects of the injections as natural effects of the virus and the disease. Recover the notion of a variant as a natural mutation of the virus. Justify the maintenance of coercive measures by not applying the herd immunity threshold. Punish health professionals for the illegal exercise of care and healing. Result, doubts and feelings of betrayal among the vaxx, discouragement among opponents. Phase 4: Install Apartheid and the QR code. (June 2021-October 2021) Voluntarily plan for shortages, impose the vaccination pass (QR code) to reward the vaccinated, punish the resistant. Create an Apartheid of the privileged against the others, take away the right to work or study from non-vaxx. Withdraw basic services to the non-vaxx, impose PCR payment tests on non-vaxx. Result, first stage of digital control, impoverishment of opponents. Phase 5: Establish chaos and Martial law. (November 2021-March 2022) And most people still think we are going back to normal!?! Exploit the shortage of goods and food, cause the paralysis of the real economy and the closure of factories and shops, let unemployment explode. Apply a third dose to the vaxx (boosters), take up the murder of the living old men. Impose compulsory vaccination for all, amplify the myth of variants, the efficacy of the vaccine and the immunity of the herd. Demonize the anti-vaxx and hold them responsible for the dead, arrest opposition leaders. Impose digital identity on everyone (QR code): Birth certificate, identity document, passport, driving license, health insurance card. Establish martial law to defeat the opposition. Result, Second stage of digital control, imprisonment or removal of opponents. Phase 6: Cancel the debts and dematerialize the money. (March 2022-September 2022) Trigger the economic, financial and stock market collapse, the bankruptcy of the banks. To rescue the losses of the banks in the accounts of their clients, activate the Great Reset, de-materialize money. Cancel debts and loans, impose the digital portfolio (Digital Wallet), seize properties and land. Ban all global medicines, confirm the obligation to vaccinate semi-annually or annually. Impose food rationing and a diet based on the Codex Alimentarius, extend the measures to emerging countries. Result, Third stage of digital control. Extension of the Nuevo Orden Mundial to the whole planet. That seems a fair assessment to me, this winter has already seen an increase in deaths, and in part blatant Zionist Fascism. What will ramp up this winter and we must be ready for it is, the rhetoric against the unvaccinated. We will have a massive ramp up of cases and deaths and they will blame it on us, do not comply. If their vaccines roll out was a success and as many people have taken it, why the push to force it on so many people?

In the United States, VAERS records show that 798,636 injury reports were lodged between October 8, 2021 and December 14, 2020, when the COVID jab rollout began. Of the total report figure, 53.5 percent of injuries were made after injection with Pfizer's experimental mRNA shot. Pfizer's jab has been correlated with 11,350 deaths, accounting for a disproportionate 67.7 percent of all deaths after a COVID shot in the VAERS database. While causation is not explicitly confirmed through the VAERS reporting system, neither can it be presumed that all side effects are reported. Indeed, one study in 2010 found that fewer than 1% of vaccine injuries are reported to VAERS, suggesting the actual numbers of deaths and injuries are significantly higher. According to Kirsch, the COVID shots have already killed an estimated 200,000 Americans, a far higher number than the 15,386 deaths reported to the U.S. Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) as of September 17, 2021.

In November 2020 the cases of Covid in the US was 246 per million people, which equates to 81180 people with cases of Covid, ourworldindata.org/covid-cases. This was declared a pandemic, lockdowns were long past introduced and the world waited for the Tall White President and his funds from the Trustee to launch the cure of the vaccines. On November 26th she complied and Trump launched the vaccines on us. So, according to their official statistics America had 81K cases on November 14th and that is a pandemic. How do you describe 799K injuries (as of October 8th 2021) and 15.4K deaths (as of September 17th 2021) due to the jabs then? Unless the jabbed people wake up, we the people will have no choice to declare war on you, your stupidity and compliance is killing and injuring us in record numbers. And now they want to jab/kill our children? Stop being a Covidiot!!

This will come as no surprise to our listeners, we have been warning about it, since the start of the FRWL series. Europe is once again at the epicentre of the Covid pandemic, the World Health Organization has warned, as cases soar across the continent. At a press conference WHO Europe head Hans Kluge said the continent could see half a million more deaths by February. He blamed insufficient vaccine take-up for the rise. We must change our tactics, from reacting to surges of Covid-19 to preventing them from happening in the first place, he said. Yes, you prevent them by stopping spraying people, and then injecting them with poisons that not only increases infections, but deaths. The rate of vaccination has slowed across the continent in recent months. While some 80% of people in Spain are double jabbed, that number is lower in France and Germany at 68% and 66% respectively, and is lower still in some central and eastern European countries. Only 32% of Russians were fully vaccinated by October 2021. Mr Kluge also blamed a relaxation of public health measures for rising infections in the WHO's European region, which covers 53 countries including parts of Central Asia. So far the WHO has recorded 1.4 million deaths across the region. The WHO's technical lead on Covid-19, Maria Van Kerkhove, said over the past four weeks cases across Europe had soared over 55%, despite an ample supply of vaccines and tools, and colleague Dr Mike Ryan said Europe's experience was a warning shot for the world. How apt he used those words, a warning shot for the world, indeed Dr. Ryan, you greed based psychopath. You can't call them stupid at this point, it has gone beyond stupid, and so now it is the realms of deliberate psychotic behavior with a sinister twist. It came as Germany recorded almost 34,000 daily Covid cases in the past 24 hours, a record rise. While the Covid numbers in Germany are below the UK's latest daily case numbers of more than 37,000, public health officials are worried that a fourth wave of infection could lead to a large number of deaths and pressure on the health system. The very same system the clowns put the pressure on, by firing many of the staff. Like I said this is not stupid, this is premeditated psychopathy. In the past 24 hours 165 deaths have been recorded, up from 126 a week ago. Lothar Wieler of Germany's RKI institute spoke of terrifying numbers. If we don't take counter-measures now, this fourth wave will bring yet more suffering, he said. Among the many Germans who have not been vaccinated are more than three million over-60s, seen at particular risk. But as Hans Kluge pointed out, the surge in cases is not confined to Germany. The most dramatic rises in fatalities have been in the past week in Russia, where more than 8,100 deaths were recorded, and Ukraine, with 3,800 deaths. Both countries have very low rates of vaccination, and Ukraine announced a record 27,377 new cases in the past 24 hours. Romania recorded its highest number of deaths in 24 hours this week at 591 while in Hungary, daily Covid infections have more than doubled in the past week to 6,268. Mask-wearing is only required on public transport and in hospitals. This week the Dutch government said it would re-impose mask-wearing and social distancing in many public settings as it emerged that hospital admissions had gone up 31% in a week. Latvia meanwhile is imposing a three-month state of emergency from Monday amid a record level of Covid infection. Croatia recorded 6,310 new cases on Thursday, its highest number so far. Slovakia has reported its second highest number of cases, and Czech infections have returned to levels last seen in spring. England's deputy chief medical officer Prof Jonathan Van-Tam said on Wednesday that too many people believed the pandemic was over. However, in countries with the highest vaccination rates, infection rates are still relatively low. Which is a blatant lie. Italy has one of the highest vaccination rates for over-12s but even here new cases are up 16.6% in the past week. Portuguese infections have risen above 1,000 for the first time since September. Spain is one of the few countries not to see a rise in transmission with 2,287 cases reported on Wednesday. What they are setting the public up for is, another round of lockdowns, probably over Xmas and New Year. Maybe even full Martial Law I am hearing, and I don't wish to hear some parrot down the road stating she will be preventing it, at this point her credibility for correct predictions is totally shredded, and on a par with her partners record of predicting the RV happening. Throw in the fact that Austria just implemented lockdown for the unvaxxed on Monday, and a new stage of warfare now unfolds. Notice the increase is in the predominant white countries, just as we had warned.

Expose: Richard Nixon, then the vice president of the United States, was in Detroit on the morning of October 31, 1956, when his staff connected him by phone with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, whose brother was head of the CIA at the time. The main subject was the crisis in the Middle East, where 48 hours earlier Israel had invaded Egypt and taken over the Sinai Peninsula, surprising America and shocking the world. Nixon asked the secretary to update him on the latest developments and the administration's response. Toward the end of their conversation, they discussed another issue just as urgent, the presidential election that was only seven days away. President Dwight Eisenhower was seeking reelection, and while he was comfortably leading in the polls, some members of his administration worried that his response to the Israeli invasion could harm him politically. Eisenhower had denounced Israel's aggression and was moving to suspend U.S. economic aid to the young Jewish state. Dulles asked Nixon, the expert in his words on all things politics, if the president's tough line could cost him at the ballot box. We will lose some Israeli votes, Nixon replied, confusing America's Jewish community with citizens of the far-away State of Israel. But there aren't many. He added that more important than how Americans would judge Eisenhower's criticism of Israel, was the fact that our policy is still one that has kept American boys out of the Middle East. 1956 Israeli invasion of Egypt: Operation Kadesh This week marks the 65th anniversary of Israel's invasion of Sinai, known to Israelis as Operation Kadesh and to almost everyone else as the Suez Crisis. The invasion was part of a conspiracy with Britain and France to give the two European powers control over the Suez Canal and cripple the Nasser regime in Egypt along the way. For the terms Britain and France read The Rothschild's wanted that, not the countries they controlled financially. It was a tactical military victory for Israel, which pushed back the Egyptian army with surprising ease, but a massive diplomatic blunder that ended in failure. After Eisenhower refused to go along with the plan, threatened sanctions against Israel and eventually forced it to withdraw from all the territory it had conquered. The events of 1956 were a strategic turning point in the Middle East. Daniel Kurtzer, a former U.S. ambassador to Israel and Egypt, says that the events represent the last hurrah of British and French domination in the region, as the two European countries were each exposed as a spent power. Which was the plan of the Rothschild's clan all along. The United States and the Soviet Union, Kurtzer adds, emerged from Suez as the most important players in the region, competing for influence and the acquisition of new allies. Both ran by the same Rothschild's clan also, following the in your face takeover of Russia via the Jewish led Bolshevik Revolution, and the stealth based Jewish takeover of America. That started a long time back before the fake state Israel was created, culminating in the 2nd version of the Operation known as Paperclip. Where American Military made 250K flights to and from Germany to America, at staggering cost to the American people, and then to takeover their country with finance, like they did France, Britain and Holland. Germany and Russia they crushed with fake wars. But apart from the geopolitical ramifications, 1956 was also a rare moment in the history of the U.S.-Israel relationship. In Kurtzer's words, it was the most explicit threat of sanctions against Israel ever made by an American president. Kurtzer notes that only two other events in the history of the relationship approached that level of tension, Gerald Ford's reassessment in 1975, and George H.W. Bush's conditioning of loan guarantees in 1991. Still, Kurtzer says, Eisenhower's response in 1956 was different, even more so because it came just days before a crucial U.S. election. On the same day Dulles heard from Nixon that, apart from some Israeli votes, the election wouldn't be affected by the crisis, a senior State Department official called the Israeli ambassador, Abba Eban, to deliver a stark warning. The secretary is now considering economic limitations which we believe it is necessary to impose on Israel, said William C. Burdett, an experienced career diplomat. Before making a final decision, the secretary would like to know the Israeli government's intentions with respect to the withdrawal of its forces from Egyptian territory. War of necessity? Israel presented the invasion as a defensive measure it had to take in response to terror attacks, and a growing threat from the nationalist regime in Egypt. The administration made clear that it wouldn't buy this explanation. A day after the Burdett-Eban phone call, a summary of a meeting at the U.S. Department of Agriculture included the following lines: Effective immediately all Public Law 480 aid to Israel was to be immediately discontinued, cargoes now being loaded or afloat would not be stopped, but no further shipments should be made under existing contracts. Aid to Israel under the Public Law 480, better known as the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act, was modest and not of any strategic importance to Israel at the time. But the decision signaled that Eisenhower meant business, Israel would have to withdraw its forces or America would halt various forms of assistance. Eisenhower stands up for U.S. interests: A memo from Eisenhower that same day, as Israeli forces forged ahead on the ground, explained the reasoning behind his tough response. His most important consideration, according to the document, was the belief that Israel's invasion would end up playing into the Soviets' hands. But the Soviets were being ran by the same people doing the invasion, 70 years on these people still cannot see what has unfolded. Whilst distracted with the Soviets, the Jewish EL-ites took over your own country as well. In his memo, Eisenhower wrote: At all costs the Soviets must be prevented from seizing a mantle of world leadership, through a false but convincing exhibition of concern for smaller nations. Since Africa and Asia almost unanimously hate one of the three nations Britain, France and Israel, the Soviets need only to propose severe and immediate punishment of these three, to have the whole of two continents on their side. This logic, Kurtzer agrees, is what pushed Eisenhower to take a firm stand against Israel in his public statements, as well as at the United Nations, where his administration pushed for resolutions that denounced the invasion. According to Kurtzer, the president was also concerned that Israel, France and

Britain's moves would legitimize the Soviet invasion of Hungary, which took place at the exact same time as the Suez crisis, and drive the world's focus away from the streets of Budapest. In a letter to then-Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, Eisenhower also highlighted his administration's commitment to the world order that was constructed after World War II. The World Order in the 1950's? An order he helped create as supreme Allied commander during the war, and which rested on adherence to the decisions of international bodies like the UN. Statements attributed to your Government to the effect that Israel does not intend to withdraw from Egyptian territory, as requested by the United Nations, have been called to my attention, Eisenhower wrote. I must say frankly, Mr. Prime Minister, that the United States views these reports, if true, with deep concern. Any such decision by the Government of Israel would seriously undermine the urgent efforts being made by the United Nations to restore peace in the Middle East, and could not but bring about the condemnation of Israel as a violator of the principles, as well as the directives of the United Nations. He added a polite threat at the bottom of the letter: I need not assure you of the deep interest which the United States has in your country, nor recall the various elements of our policy of support to Israel in so many ways. It is in this context that I urge you to comply with, the resolutions of the United Nations General Assembly dealing with the current crisis and to make your decision known immediately. It would be a matter of the greatest regret to all my countrymen if Israeli policy on a matter of such grave concern to the world, should in any way impair the friendly cooperation between our two countries. This was not the first time Eisenhower & Dulles stood up to Israel. After Israeli forces massacred Palestinians in Qibya in 1953, the administration held up aid to Israel. A different kind of 'Southern strategy' Some of Eisenhower's advisers worried in the lead-up to the election, that his insistence on an Israeli withdrawal and support for resolutions that condemned Israel would cost him politically. Nixon didn't share that concern, but when the president suggested in a private conversation that he could use force to stop Israel, his son John asked, Won't you lose the election? Eisenhower, according to a 2012 biography by historian Evan Thomas, couldn't resist the comeback and told his son, that he might actually pick up a Southern state or two if he stood up to Israel. The 34th president, in other words, shared his vice president's assessment that a confrontation with Israel wouldn't harm him, and could even serve him politically if he highlighted the fact that he kept American boys out of harm's way. In public, the president focused on an argument that America could not condone an attack by one sovereign nation against another. We cannot in the world, any more than in our own nation subscribe to one law for the weak, another law for the strong, he said in a speech on the eve of the election. There are some firm principles that cannot bend, they can only break, and we shall not break ours. In private correspondences such as a letter to his friend Edward Swede Hazlet, Eisenhower went much further, accusing Ben-Gurion of timing the invasion one week before the election out of a false belief that the president would fear the Jewish vote. Lets think logically here, the Jewish vote in basic terms makes up less than 1% of the population at the time, how in logical terms are they the swing vote? What it reveals is, the lobbyists like AIPAC are the Jewish vote and buy off all the politicians for their own gain. We realized that he might think he could take advantage of this country because of the approaching election, and because of the importance that so many politicians in the past have attached to our Jewish vote, Eisenhower wrote. In a line that today would get any politician denounced as an anti-Semite, he added: I gave strict orders to the State Department that they should inform Israel, that we would handle our affairs exactly as though we didn't have a Jew in America. The welfare and best interests of our own country were to be the sole criteria on which we operated. As it should be, but hasn't been for decades, as the elite have focused on consolidating global hegemony. Hitchcock says that judging Eisenhower's approach to Israel only through the prism of Suez would be a mistake, because the 34th president had emotional sympathy for the Jewish state and expressed support for Israel's right to defend itself, but not at all costs. Emotional sympathy brought onto us all by the Holocaust movement. He added that Eisenhower felt betrayed by the Israeli-French-British maneuver. It was completely crazy for them to do it, and even more crazy that the Americans were fooled, he said. They are still fooling all Americans but a very tiny minority, including the average Jewish American to this day. It took Eisenhower five more months after he easily won reelection to see Israel withdraw all its troops from Sinai, in return for a commitment to keep the Straits of Tiran open to Israel. the Suez and Strait of Tiran is all about shipping trade, the same as taking over Jaffa, and replacing it with Tel Aviv. In February 1957, while he was still busy pressuring Israel to make this move, Eisenhower met with congressional leaders in the White House to try to win their support for his policy. LBJ supports Israel: The Senate majority leader at the time, Texas Democrat Lyndon Johnson, told Eisenhower he opposed the pressure being put on Israel. American politics on Israel were very different back then, Kurtzer says. It's not a coincidence that the toughest moments Israel experienced in its early relationship with the U.S., whether it's Eisenhower's pressure in 1956 or Ford's reassessment in 1975, came under Republican presidents. Why? because the Demoncrat party is the same as the German Socialist Party, they even have a similar badge along with Antifa which is a pro pagan da arm of the Demoncrat party as well, just like the KKK, and the party of the Bolsheviks in Russia is why. Johnson, for his part, would face his own moment of truth on Israel in 1967 when the country, by then a much closer ally of the United States, conquered even larger swaths of territory in the Six-Day War. This inspite of the Israel junta killing 34 Americans and injured 171 crew members when firing upon USS Liberty, and yet nothing was done about it, then or since, I wonder why? Imagine if that was Iran or Russia today? Instead of pressuring Israel to withdraw, as Eisenhower did, Johnson accepted the land for peace formula that gave Israel the ability to keep the territories, and negotiate with the Arab countries from a stronger position. The impact of that decision is evident on the ground to this day.

INTERESTING PIECES: The latest potential reminder although it has flashbacks from 110K years ago is a movie called Moonfall. Moonfall is an upcoming science fiction action disaster thriller film, and scheduled to be released theatrically on February 4, 2022, by Lionsgate. A mysterious force knocks the Moon from its orbit around Earth, and sends it hurtling on a collision course with life as we know it. With mere weeks before impact and the world on the brink of annihilation, NASA executive and former astronaut Jo Fowler (Halle Berry) is convinced she has the key to saving us all, but only one astronaut from her past, Brian Harper (Patrick Wilson) and conspiracy theorist K.C. Houseman (John Bradley) believe her. These unlikely heroes will mount an impossible last-ditch mission into space, leaving behind everyone they love, only to find out that our Moon is not what we think it is. Hmm, more disclosure? flashback created traumas for those who were here 110K years ago, when another moon fell on the planet?

Pyramids found by archaeologists on the Kola peninsula prove the existence of an ancient civilization on the territory of Russia. Currently, archaeological excavations near the pyramids, which, according to preliminary estimates, are at least two times older than the Egyptian ones, have been resumed on the Kola Peninsula. Scientists who made an expedition to these places, believe that the Kola peninsula may be the ancestral home of the most ancient civilization on Earth. A weighty argument for this hypothesis is the pyramids discovered by scientists and huge stone slabs were created 9000-40000 years ago. Interestingly, all the pyramids are positioned clearly in the direction of East-West. It also turned out that the pyramids were rebuilt three times by ancient people, each time increasing them in height. Kola is the far NW Russia and located on the edge of the aptly named White Sea.

The human body is often said to rest at a healthy internal temperature of 37 degrees Celsius, or 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. This average was established two centuries ago in France, and yet in the meantime, it seems our normal physiology has changed ever so slightly. Early last year, researchers in the United States combed Civil War veteran records and national health surveys, and found temperatures among men born at the turn of this century were 0.59 degrees Celsius cooler, than those men born around two hundred years earlier. Women, on the other hand, had seen a 0.32 degrees Celsius decline since the 1890s. At the time, the authors suggested it might have something to do with inflammation due to disease, which is closely tied to body temperature. With the rise of modern medicine, we've seen a decline in chronic infections, and maybe, the authors suggested, this has chilled us out, so to speak. Later in 2020, another group of researchers found an eerily similar reduction in body temperature among a relatively remote indigenous tribe in Bolivia, where infections have remained widespread and medical care minimal, despite some modern changes. The reasons for the recent decline in body temperature clearly had to go beyond improved hygiene, cleaner water, or improved medical care, and some researchers at Harvard are now investigating another explanation:

a decline in physical activity. When a person exercises regularly, it often coincides with an increase in their metabolism. This, in turn, can raise their body's resting temperature for hours or even up to a day, which means falling body temperature measurements might indicate falling physical activity. Unfortunately, the methods we have for measuring physical activity today weren't around 200 years ago, so we can't really compare how we move now to how we moved then. What could be possible, however, is to use historical body temperature data as a thermometer to gauge physical activity, before we started keeping track of these things. Coming soon, people climate change, people lowering their body temperatures is causing global warming!! Interesting piece and not sure what is causing it, maybe like warming and cooling cycles of the Earth, sun spots cycles and jet stream patterns there is an ebb and flow occurring to life on the planet. It could be something simple like, we have better clothes to keep warm now, and so our body has adjusted to that fact.

The 20th century was a century of big ideas, such as a plot to re-engineer a whole continent. But geography was not the only thing people believed they could conquer with technology. Science it said could be used to engineer new and better humans. People often think this is a relatively new science, based in the last 3/4 decades, well this piece shatters that illusion as it was going on in the first decade of the 1900's. This was the premise behind eugenics, a pseudoscience that began in the 19th century, and reached its horrifying apex with the Nazi atrocities of World War II. Erm no it never, the eugenics program was running in this country 40 years or more prior, in fact the US Eugenics program being ran on largely the white slavery groups at the time was so successful, it was used as a blueprint in Germany. But perhaps this methodology was too slow for Joseph Stalin, who as the dictator of the Soviet Union was no stranger to megalomaniacal villainy. Legend has it that Stalin himself ordered the creation of a race of ape/human hybrids, super soldiers to rebuild his army in the wake of the devastating Bolshevik Revolution. Except Stalin a Russian Jew was part of the Bolshevik Revolution against the Russian people, along with Lenin and others as we highlighted in FRWL. But is there any truth to this? Illya Ivanov, the Red Frankenstein? The term Red like the Red Army is nothing to do with Russia or Russians. This strange tale begins with an esteemed Russian scientist, Illya Ivanov, he was famed for his work artificial insemination in horses. He used his pioneering techniques to produce hybrids of various other animals, including a zebra/donkey hybrid a zeedonk. As early as 1910, Ivanov speculated as to whether it was possible for apes and humans to produce hybrid offspring. In 1926, years after the revolution, Ivanov got his chance to test his hypothesis. The Soviet government gave him the equivalent of $10,000. He was to work with the Institut Pasteur in Paris, and to utilize their facilities in French Guinea, when he arrived in Africa, though, he found the facilities in a shambles. The only chimps there were juveniles who hadn't yet reached sexual maturity. Later in the year, he was able to get his hands on three sexually mature chimps which he artificially inseminated with human sperm. However, when the chimps failed to conceive, Ivanov decided to take a different and much more horrific approach. He hit on a plan to artificially inseminate human females with chimp sperm. He wanted to use subjects from a local hospital, and to inseminate them without their consent. He proposed this plan to doctors at the hospital, but the governor of French Guinea stepped in and put the brakes on the whole thing. Ivanov's expedition wasn't a complete failure, though, he managed to secure 20 apes to establish a Soviet ape nursery. Unfortunately, all but four died before they arrived in the subtropical republic of Abkhazia. Once Ivanov established the nursery, he set out to find female volunteers to undergo artificial insemination. He managed to find five willing women, but the apes he managed to bring to the nursery all died before he could perform his experiment. By 1930, the ever shifting political winds of the Soviet Union had changed. He found 5 willing women? seriously? presume it involved making money again, and it seems people will do absolutely anything for it at this point. Before, positive eugenics was in vogue among the Soviet elites. By selectively breeding the best citizens, the Soviet Union could cultivate a hard working, communal-minded population. Erm, they had killed all their best citizens in a total bloodbath, so that is a pile of nonsense for a start. Amazes me how little the world knows about the truth of the atrocities that took place in Russia one hundred or so years ago. And what it reveals, Russia is still being ran by the same psychopaths as back then, as the rest of the world is still oblivious to the death of that country and it's peoples. Why isn't the latter day alt medias global world savior man Putin not saying anything? RT news? Ivanov's work fit into this perspective because he believed by breeding humans with apes it would be possible to change humans in big ways, giving a concrete basis for the hypothetical notions of positive eugenics. It had the added bonus of giving more credence to Darwinian ideas, because if humans and apes were as closely related as Darwin believed they should be able to cross breed with humans. This could be used as a propaganda tool by the Soviet government to help its effort to stamp out religion, and replace it with what amounted to worship of the state. But these views fell out of favor, Stalin found he liked the Lamarckian view of evolution much better. This was the idea that acquired traits were passed on to the next generation. So, if a person develops big muscles, they will pass on those muscles to their children. It seems Stalin supported the Lamarckian view because the positive eugenics perspective was too close to what the Nazis believed, and since the Bolsheviks and the Fascists hated each other that simply wouldn't do, a bit like how the Nazis wouldn't accept the Theory of Relativity because a Jew came up with it. Except unbeknown to this author, the Bolsheviks and the Fascists were one and the same group! World hegemony meant they the Jewish EL-ites had to destroy the two white race countries, having already conquered Britain, France and Holland with the Rothschild's money and linked into the corrupt French Houses of Orange, Merovingians and Franks, all of which are Jewish El-ite operated. So, those who fell on the positive eugenics side of the spectrum were swept in a purge of the Soviet scientific community in 1930. This included Illya Ivanov, who was accused of being a saboteur by a fellow scientist, when his artificial insemination equipment malfunctioned. Ivanov was exiled to Kazakhstan, where he died two years later...not so much. Ilya Ivanov was certainly nearing mad scientist territory. His unethical actions in Africa and the nature of his research certainly do a lot to make him a modern day Frankenstein. But the question is whether Ivanov was working on direct orders of Stalin to make super soldiers. It turns out that wasn't true, here comes the cover up, as if true, it shows of far they went 110 years ago, that some critical thinking people will hypothesize on the advancements made since. Stalin probably didn't even know about Ivanov's work, other than what he might have seen in the papers. The bit about the super soldiers came from an article in the New Scotsman, where they cite recently uncovered documents as a source. But there are no links to any of the sources, nor any other attribution. After the New Scotsman article, the notion of the ape super soldiers took off when the History Channel show Monster Quest did an episode on the topic. Creationist websites also widely circulated the story. It fit well with their world view, since in their minds the failure to hybridize apes with humans overturns evolutionary theory. It didn't hurt that it linked Darwin's theory with a sociopathic atheist dictator, either. While the urban legend brought a lot of attention to the case, the real story is about the intersection of ethics, science, and politics. The question wasn't whether Ivanov could have hybridized humans and apes, but whether he should even try. These sorts of ethical questions are more pertinent today, with the advances in biotechnology that make things possible that Ivanov couldn't have dreamed of. That type of science carried on in Montauk on Long Island, so to say it didn't start or continue is pure lies, and this piece is another of the fact checkers bullshit to rewrite his story again to me. So, much time they spend now trying to debunk not theory, but facts, as finally the people are awakening to the atrocities and psychopathic science experiments performed on humans mainly, plus animals as well, and the people are starting to question it, hence articles like this.

Back in 2010 to 2014 many alt media were talking about Chemtrails and their implications, it was the viral topic of the time, until I did the it makes no sense piece on Cosmic Voice, and asked are the EL-ites immune to them? do they wear masks to prevent it? takes anti Chemtrail pills? or is another race of beings changing the chemical composition of our planet, for them to be able to reside here? Not all beings are Oxygen breathers, many are Hydrogen or Nitrogen breathers, and to me this made more sense. It made too much sense to those that listened that show, as the collective gulp was audible. Perhaps it was the first of many of my common sense pieces, that would unfolded over the 8+ years of being on a radio show. With that in mind, and upon pondering on something else related to off world and I got to pondering again. Chemtrails or is it Khem trails, Khem means burnt to black. Khem is depicted as a human male, wearing a crown with two tall ostrich plumes, with the right hand raised behind his head holding a flail, the left hand hidden and with a prominent erect phallus. He represents the power of generation, and was considered the god of the harvest and protector of crops. His sacred animal was a white bull. Khem was also the native name for Egypt, it means black and referred to the fertile, black soil of the Nile valley. No it doesn't mean that, it means the jet black race Lucifer brought here to destroy the White Race, and those so called Ancient Egyptians of Ra, Horus, Osiris, Isis, Baal, Apophis, Innana, Anu, Marduk and other varieties of off world entities were all part of it. Linguistically and ethnologically, Khem is equivalent to Ham of the Book of Genesis 9 and 10, the youngest son of Noah, and the progenitor of the Egyptians, Nubians and Canaanites. Ham, Shem and Japheth are all their beings, not ours. Letopolis was an ancient Egyptian city, the capital of the second nome of Lower Egypt, its Egyptian name was Khem, and the modern site of its remains is known as Ausim. The city was a center of worship of the deity Khenty-irty or Khenty-khem, a form of the god Horus. The site and its deity are mentioned in texts from as far back as the Old Kingdom (c. 2686–2181 BC), and a temple to the god probably stood there very early in Egyptian history. Khem trails means burnt to black? given Gates said he would block out the sun, and chemtrails are trapping the heat and in part creating the increase in temperatures. This begs the question, are or were Khem trails meant to bring in the Black Sun?

You're riding the endless caravan, Bonded and sold as a slave. The power of what has been before, rises to trap you within, yes the endless caravan, the looping migrant. A sabre dance removing all the veils, getting as good as you gave. The lock and the key is activated and the key slowly begins to turn, but what awaits on the other side of the door, gate or void? Where is your key? what is the key? will you spin wildly out of control? will you be dizzy or reach dizzying heights? will you do the graceful spiral dance? what can you see? what is your flower? is there a rainbow rising? look back on your horizon, what do you see? will both clouds disappear? how far will you go? what are your options? do you see the possibilities? is there a limit? or are you limiting? what is your power? is the internal ready to power up? did your garden grow? what will it present? is it the present, the past or the future? where is time? do you feel the connectivity? what is the resonance? how does it feel? where is your flower? The word bible is it buy or purchase bull, in relation to the Taurus and Papal Bull? buy bullshit or perhaps the term bi is actually related to the term binary and duality? the duality of the bull program? Which brings in witches with the Covenant, is it a Coven of Ants? that holds the Testament which means a test of the mind. A test of the mind ran by a Coven of ants, dancing in the binary AI sky god of duality under the direction of the cardinal points and sin, signified by the Baphomet represented by the Taurus bull, spinning in a Torus vortex vacuum. All SET in sun and stone and binding of hearts, minds and souls, maybe that is why they called it a SET of twins Gemini? Gemini the zodiac comes between Taurus and Cancer, fitting as they have been a parasitic cancer on this planet a long time. Fittingly in astronomy terms, the constellation that is pictorially represented as the twins Castor and Pollux sitting together, that is visible in the sky on the opposite side of the Milky Way from? Taurus and Orion. Castor and Pollux half brothers at least one of which was born to Zeus, were depicted in the bible as the Saints Peter and Paul, oops. Both Castor and Pollux were depicted with horses, and just coincidentally the Indian Vedic texts describes twin brothers in their gods, the Ashvins, represented by horse head beings, which is depicted in Boadingshan in China, horse headed chimeras grinding up and sacrificing humans. Their binary system of AI capacity is their level due to their own failings of the past, like the character Thor in the Stargate series they meddled too much with Source's creation and ended up destroying themselves and in came the technology. That is what happened to some of the grey races for real, fiction based on fact again. The P45 and P52's both warned of this type of genetic interference, as they in part lost some of their ability to reproduce, due to genetic meddling. The binary system is replicated, pardon the pun in the Stargate and Agents of Shield shows, essentially it shows the Rothschild's clan and the Hydra based Black Sun, two sides of the same coin, and two sides of the Draconis constellations as well. Alpha is the Draco and subsequently the Rothschild's, who have the most Draco DNA of any family here. Hydra is the Dragon lineage and said to be myth and folklore, nope, they are the Black Sun and represented by colored Dragons externally and internally, although some of those internal Dragons here were extinguished 2013 and 2014, not last week as per the copy and paste group of their own self importance. Our own planet also reveals The Rothschild's versus The Black Sun, and what we never had here or other planets was, the triality, the Source based solution, the one on one with the one, a movement of and for and by the people or beings of a planet. That is now changing as the triality is now arising and the restoration plan is underway that does not involve money, which is a control system introduced by the rep based Orions. A restoration plan that involves people clearing themselves, thinking for themselves, fixing themselves and then helping others to do the same. None of that is based in the old Savior based programs, which delivered ego based entities into the mix and the replacement for Source, we don't need those people, leave them to their two sides of the same coin game, because in essence they all work for Rothschild's or the Black Sun whether knowingly or not. We here have initiated and created that change and now is the time for us all to implement it further. A recent piece mentioned the Galactic wars started in the void, the void is the intersection of the mobius loop, the singularity between two vortices, said to be the all or the nothing. Said to be dark, but dark only exists in the absence of light, perhaps lighting your beacons brighter makes more sense now. But the void wars, brings in the trifacta, we covered in When two worlds become three, perhaps the organic world was in the void all along, and the separation of the two worlds either side of us in the mobius loop, both of whom were copies, leaving the organic world to rise out of the void, just like the trifacta on top of the white lotus. Are you ready?
