

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2021-11-25

Happy thanks for the giving, lets all learn to give in a non comparative way. Werrrrlll I have been pondering again lol, this will be an important show, and perhaps reveals the coming of certain events. I am requesting all the former THI state groups to join the Communal Gatherings now, and come and be a part of something bigger and better. I am not asking you to stop your regular calls if you so wish, but to get involved in what we are doing instead. I would like to see the end of all former THI State groups before the end of this year. United we stand, divided we fall. The TPC video presentation will be on a Zoom call 12/22, and then uploaded onto the website after that. That zoom call will have a "tiny" bit extra following the video, of a major development that has unfolded this week, and a plan is being formulated to deliver that. On 12/23 the FRWL 9 "Completion" show will be presented and will be replacing the normal Thursday show that week. On 12/30 will be the 2021 End of year review replacing the normal Thursday show that week, with a "tiny" bit extra in that as well. I am looking for 4 people to read through carefully every show that is transcribed for 2018, 2019, 2020 and 2021, each pick a year. Read closely the whole show, as solutions were in all parts of the show and copy and paste every solution we have put out within our show onto a word document and then send to me. These will then be formulated into a single Must Listen to show, and maybe we will have a zoom call and garner more solutions/ideas beforehand to add to the show. Looking to have that show ready for late January, and I will need 2/3 weeks to prepare it, so you will have to go through roughly 50-55 shows to find all the solutions pieces, in the next 6 weeks. Given what has unfolded this past week, and my workload will be going through the roof, well into next year, I request people not demand too much of my time in this coming phase. I can no longer help people as much one on one, or answer lengthy emails, all has been revealed within the shows of how to deal with or fix that, and there is transcripts available on my patreon to go through and find all you need to know.

I am sure you will all join me in sending condolences to Jeannie, Sean & Christopher Willets for the loss of their husband and father, who was a treasured member of THI and the TPC group Billy Willets. Billy passed away on Sunday after a short but devastating illness and we all grieve the loss of one of our members, whilst having some thoughts in our hearts for his family. I had the pleasure of meeting Billy over the summer in one of several meet and greets, and Billy was excited about moving to the village and being a part of creating something unique and special. RIP Billy and hope you are still able to join us in your own way at the village. This is Billy's song. LAND OF HOPES & DREAMS

NEWS: The call for the Biden Administration to tap into U.S. emergency crude reserves to push down domestic energy prices, it may not help all that much it now transpires. Because the supplies may just be exported away like last month. About 1.6 million barrels of crude from the U.S. Strategic Petroleum Reserve, a monthly record was shipped out in October, according to data. Three cargoes were loaded onto a supertanker in the U.S. Gulf Coast and are headed to Asia. You know that region that is the great enemy and threat to our security and economic prosperity, according to the clowns and MSM. Given the ongoing pace of the current release, 12 million barrels in just the last two months and the biggest weekly release so far last week at 3.1 million barrels, it's fair to assume more SPR barrels are going to leave U.S. shores in the weeks ahead. The White House has been mulling a range of options to ease soaring pump prices, and Democrats are pressing for a potential ban on oil exports as well as, the release of crude from the nation's strategic reserves. They are not interested in the costs to their own people, only serving the greed based clowns who are all in on the oil scam.

Yet more desperate tactics that shows up the alleged establishment,. Their desperation to shut people up, as a group of jackbooted Fascists and thugs has exposed them even more. An FBI SWAT team raided the home of an activist mother of four in Colorado on Tuesday Nov. 16, knocking down her door, bursting into the house with guns and handcuffing her while she was homeschooling her children. This is the first known case of the federal government making good on its promise to not only intimidate, but actually carry out a raid on a mom who was involved in her local school board politics, said Brannon Howse, who interviewed Sherronna Bishop at Lindell TV Wednesday night. The U.S. Department of Justice and Attorney General Merrick Garland issued an Oct. 4 memorandum directing federal, state and local law enforcement to look for parents to prosecute nationwide who may have made threats, and made harassing phone calls to school board members nationwide, equating such parents to domestic terrorists. Now a mother, Sherronna Bishop of Grand Junction, Colorado, has felt the brute force of the FBI's heavily armed SWAT unit used against her family. She was at home with her three children about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday when she heard someone pounding on the front door, then using a battering ram to break it down. She said the officers manhandled her 18-year-old daughter, pulling her up the stairs by her hoodie, while another officer put her in handcuffs and ushered her out of the house. They proceeded to search the entire house, whilst not addressing as to why they were there in the first place. No knock on the door and addressing the issue, just a case of smash first and ask questions later. This inflammatory Gestapo tactics, what if the woman in self defense shot a cop? does anyone use common sense anymore? Update November 19th: The FBI has filed no charges against Bishop. A SWAT team and battering ram required to speak to a school mom? Seriously? why didn't they just knock on her door and speak to her, oh I forgot that is common sense and these people have none. This is a fear based tactic, designed to shut people up, because they are scared they are being found out.

Here is more fear being exhibited. A groundbreaking lawsuit in New Mexico could serve as a blueprint for how government officials deal with armed militia groups, that deploy to public spaces and act like law enforcement officers despite having no authority to do so. The civil suit, filed by a district attorney in Albuquerque and the Institute for Constitutional Advocacy and Protection at the Georgetown University Law Center, seeks an injunction against members of the New Mexico Civil Guard, an armed group that sent its members to demonstrations last year under the pretense of providing security. The injunction would ban the group and its members from engaging in behavior, the plaintiffs argue is dangerous and unlawful. But the case has hit a snag: The plaintiffs argue that they need Meta, the company that runs Facebook, to provide key evidence linking members of the New Mexico Civil Guard to posts on the social media site. Meta has dragged its feet for 10 months, the plaintiffs say, and the company now says it can't provide the records because they were deleted when the militia members were banned from Facebook. They're invading the province of traditional police authority, which is a highly regulated space that the state and the government must maintain a monopoly over, Torrez said. The police have the authority to use deadly force under very limited circumstances, but we expect them to be highly trained. Torrez began searching for a legal mechanism to prevent members of the group from intervening in protests, or pretending to have authority they don't possess. He started working with Mary McCord, executive director of Georgetown Law's Institute for Constitutional Advocacy and Protection. McCord and her team have been sounding the alarm on illegal armed militia groups for years. They have collated a wealth of information about laws across the country against such groups, and they've long questioned why prosecutors don't take an active role in enforcing laws against such groups. New Mexico's Constitution forbids private military units from operating in the state. Statutes outlaw engaging in paramilitary activity like firearms training or, particularly relevant to the 2020 case, exercising the functions of a peace officer. All 50 states have similar bans, ranging from prohibitions in state constitutions, some of which are somewhat vague, to criminal statutes outlawing paramilitary activity and training. The Militia do have the right to step in and protect the public, regardless of under educated jackasses say. In the event of tyranny, the Militia have the right to step in and defend the public and the country. If people are too stupid to see the tyranny unfolding before their eyes, they need to shut up and go back into serving burgers, not filling roles that decide who is the authority. Message to those people like Torrez, the people are the authority and you need to shut up and focus on the rapidly rising criminality and murder rate in Albuquerque, and quit stopping we the people from defending ourselves, because you and your ilk have done nothing to protect the people.

President Joe Biden's Build Back Better agenda would raise taxes on up to 30 percent of middle-class families, despite his campaign promises not to hike taxes on anyone making under $400,000 per year, according to a new analysis. Taking into account all major tax provisions, roughly 20 percent to 30 percent of middle-income households would pay more in taxes in 2022, according to the non-partisan Tax Policy Center. However, the report highlighted the tax increases would be small. Among those with a tax increase, low- and middle-income households would pay an additional $100 or less on average. Those making $200,000-$500,000 would pay an average of about $230 more, it said. Over time, though, that tax burden will change, according to the analysis of the $1.75 trillion proposal currently before the House of Representatives. Build Back Better the 3 B's, but in lower casing the 3 b's looks like 3 sixes. An increase in taxes is what I warned of last May or June time, to pay for their martial law lockdowns and loss of subsequent revenue to give to the unworthy. The most obvious is the rise in prices of food and gas, which is called inflation, inflation is a fancy word for tax rises.

Last year in August, Trump officials, desperate for a vaccine, cut a generous deal with a tiny company that had received extensive aid from the federal government. The pharmaceutical firm, Moderna, had already gotten a jump on designing a Covid-19 vaccine thanks to a partnership with the National Institutes of Health. Propelled by government scientists, it developed a promising candidate within weeks. Fueled by nearly $1 billion in federal funds for research and development, the company was closer than ever to delivering on the first drug of its decade long existence. The deal the administration was proposing now, would add another $1.5 billion to Moderna's haul in exchange for up to 500 million doses of the vaccine giving the U.S. first rights to a shot made possible by its own taxpayers. But beyond that, the government asked for little in return. Moderna got full ownership of the lucrative technology critical to the vaccine's success, despite its reliance on years of NIH research. The company would face no obligation to share those details with the U.S, even as it reaped profits from vaccinating millions of Americans. Perhaps most significantly at the time, the agreement came with a catch for the government, no doses delivered to the U.S. could be shared with the rest of the world. A restriction that cleared the way for Moderna to negotiate its own prices to sell its vaccine on the international market. The pact transformed Moderna. A company that once struggled to attract investors, it's since been valued as high as $140 billion. Stéphane Bancel, its CEO, is a multibillionaire, while three others with ties to Moderna rank among the 400 richest people in the country.

Amazon says it will stop accepting Visa credit cards issued in the United Kingdom because of a dispute over fees, marking growing tensions between the companies. The online retail giant said in a message Wednesday to customers that they won't be able to use the payment company's U.K. credit cards starting Jan. 19, blaming the high fees Visa charges for processing credit card transactions. There is no high fees on credit card charges, there is theft fees. Many organizations including The Pentagon, the Federal Reserve, the Bank of England and other establishments of that ilk, claim a percentage of every credit card transaction. All credit card transactions run through the Crown based Bank of England before approved, and they take their cut from it. This is essence then becomes another form of inflation, inflation is a stealth tax on the people. It is just pure greed, and high time these organizations reveal to the public just how much money they are extorting from the people with this card based scam.

Staples Center is getting a new name. Starting Christmas Day, it will be Crypto.com Arena. The downtown Los Angeles home of the NBA's Lakers and Clippers, the NHL's Kings and the WNBA's Sparks will change its name after 22 years of operation, arena owner AEG announced Tuesday night. Here comes the launch of the death currency, I suspect it will go along with the Henry Makow piece we did last week, of dematerializing money of the cash variety.

Saule Omarova made the bombshell statement last March at the Law and Political Economy (LPE) Project's Law & Political Economy: Democracy Beyond Neoliberalism conference. Omarova discussed one of her papers, The People's Ledger How to Democratize Money and Finance the Economy, which would help redesign the financial system and make the economy more equitable for everyone, all sounds so nice so far. She said it would change the private-public power balance and democratize finance to a more systemic level. During her explanation of her paper, she said that the Federal Reserve, the nation's central bank, can only use indirect levers to induce private banks to increase their lending. Her paper calls for eliminating all banks and transferring all bank deposits to FedAccounts at the Federal Reserve. During her conference speech, she said, There will be no more private bank accounts, and all of the deposit accounts will be held directly at the Fed. Omarova said her proposal would give the Fed more proactive monetary policy tools, such as helicopter money. She also pondered how the Federal Reserve could take money from Americans during an inflationary environment. So, Black Rock are commandeering all accounts now it seems, you can thank Kim Goguen and Trump for that, you will own nothing and be happy it seems. Next comes the all digital currency to go with the Trustees digital wallets, eighteen months on. Recently I am told in their loop news show she declared the UN defunct again as of this week, erm you said that 4 years ago. Also I am told that LF are reduced to selling snake oil anti jab stuff, whilst a disciple of theirs is promoting magic mushroom snake oil. Deary me, all about the shekels it seems.

Cybersecurity researchers have found spyware, similar to the notorious Pegasus malware peddled by Israeli company NSO Group, on thousands of South Korean smart phones. The software is disguised as innocent yoga and photo apps. Used by governments worldwide to spy on rival politicians, foreign powers, journalists, lawyers, and business figures, NSO Group's Pegasus malware has gotten significant media attention since its existence was revealed earlier this year by activists. While the Israeli firm has found itself maligned by the press and blacklisted by Washington, similar snooping software is reportedly still active and going unnoticed, as highlighted in a report by cybersecurity company Zimperium. The article examines the PhoneSpy software, which is aimed at South Korean Android users. According to Zimperium, PhoneSpy hides in plain sight, disguising itself as a regular application with purposes ranging from learning Yoga to watching TV and videos, or browsing photos. These apps aren't found on the Android app store, meaning users had to download them directly, likely by clicking malicious links or through social engineering. Once installed, PhoneSpy gives snoops access to virtually every function of the target's smart phone. Cameras and microphones can be remotely activated, call logs and messages retrieved, GPS coordinates tracked, and web traffic monitored. Zimperium's report did not identify who was actually using PhoneSpy to surveil targeted phones, but it said that thousands of South Korean victims have fallen prey to the spyware campaign. The voyeuristic perverts are at it again, and the world does what to stop it?

Apple is suing the NSO Group over its Pegasus spyware that specifically targeted iPhones, and seeking to permanently block the Israeli-based company from using any Apple device, software or service. State-sponsored actors like the NSO Group spend millions of dollars on sophisticated surveillance technologies without effective accountability, and that needs to change, said Craig Federighi, Apple's senior vice president of Software Engineering, after announcing the lawsuit. The complaint was filed in the federal court in San Jose, California and provides new information on how NSO infected thousands of iPhones with its Pegasus spyware, using an exploit called FORCEDENTRY that has since been patched.

SOCIAL ISSUES NEWS: In what was a massive fail for the media and President Biden, both of whom tried to convict a man based on a divide and conquer agenda, instead of actual facts. Biden labeled a man as a white supremacist and the corrupt media followed suit. Including The Independent, a leading UK newspaper, caused outrage when it claimed in a sub-headline that Kyle Rittenhouse shot three black men. All three men shot by Rittenhouse were, in fact, white. Shortly after a jury in Kenosha, Wisconsin found Rittenhouse not guilty of murder, attempted murder and reckless endangerment. The Independent updated its front-page live coverage of the trial with the sub-headline: Full story: Teenager who shot three black men with rifle found not guilty on all charges. That was not a genuine mistake that was premeditated incitement against the white race. But they get away with it as people only read the headline and rarely bother to check anything themselves, this abject laziness is why the system runs so many agendas against us. Amazingly within hours protests and marches broke out around the country, how are they able to generate that amount of interest in such a short space of time? Humanity just doesn't work that way, they wait weeks, months or years to complain about anything, yet these people are out in force within hours. It makes no sense, unless of course the marchers and protestors are paid actors. Will Biden issue a public apology for not only convicting and labeling a man before a trial, but denigrating one whole race to boot, according to the increasingly manish looking Mrs. Psaki, the answer is no.

Rep. Lauren Boebert launched an astonishing attack on Ilhan Omar, accusing her of having two husbands, one of which is her brother, and paying over $1M in campaign funds to her first husband. Then went on to accuse a member of Congress on the Intelligence Committee of California, of sleeping with a Chinese spy Fang Fang. Christine Fang, also known as Fang Fang, is allegedly a Chinese honey trap spy who had sex with politicians to infiltrate US government affairs. Boebert has said several controversial statements in the past, called Omar a leader of the Jihad party, she has also been cited speaking out against gays, Covid and Jews. But given her appearance she clearly to me looks Jewish herself, and one wonders is she an agent provocateur? Nothing wrong with being Jewish per se, in fact we have at least 3 prominent Jewish people in our group. But why do all these Jews in prominent positions go gangster on the people for the benefit of a fake state's agenda?

The US Department of Education is investigating allegations of racial and gender discrimination at a Texas school district, where an administrator pushed for teachers to feature opposing views of the Holocaust. Carroll Independent School District in Southlake, Texas, is being probed by the education department's civil rights division in three separate investigations, the report said. Earlier this month, opponents of an anti-racism diversity plan took control of the district's board. The plan had been proposed in response to a 2018 incident in which students were recorded chanting racist slurs. The plan was originally proposed in 2020 but was pushed to 2021. It's been targeted by parents who leveled accusations that the plan is evidence of so-called critical race theory. Critical race theory is an academic framework largely used at the university level, that has become a rallying cry for conservative leaders and the focus of baseless accusations, that teachers are indoctrinating students with racist rhetoric. School districts and board meetings across the country have become "battlegrounds" for culture war topics like vaccine requirements, mask mandates, and allegations about the teaching of critical race theory. This is all a part of the divide and conquer program, and another of their distractions. All about getting people to hate on each other, is that what we should be teaching the children? guilt and shame programs of what some of our ancestors did? fake compensation programs based on guilt, due to the crimes of others? Schools are being used for pro pagan da reasons and follow our script and fake history. If schools are going to be used for that, the great question is, do you want your children brought up in that manner? The best history book is the FRWL series, because the overall premise of that book is not to denigrate all the different races here, it points out clearly who ran divisive programs on us to keep us all separate. The book once you get past your own programming is designed to bring us all together. What a novel idea that is, pardon the pun.

For a brief period the world's first female held the keys to the nuclear weapons on Friday, whilst Biden had a colonoscopy according to CIA news. I would have thought a lobotomy would have been the procedure, or removing latex glue. But, nevertheless Kamala Harris held the nuclear codes whilst Biden received immediate medical care, that is denied to tens of millions of Americans. I guess it could have been worse, it could have been Pelosi, so small mercies. But I guess the Trustee, has now handed over the responsibility of the nuclear keys or codes as well as the banking. Kamala Harris was busy with her husband doing something else in the news this week, nailing the mezuzah to the VP residence. The mezuzah is a Jewish scroll, that contains verses of the Jewish prayer Shema Yisrael, beginning with the phrase: Hear, O Israel, the Lord (is) our God, the Lord is One. All of which further confirms who the Israelis are worshipping, the LORD is/was Anu, the Draco reptile king. Next stop will be inserting Kushner in their plans I suspect, either as a Republican or a Democrat. I wonder will the American people then see what is and has been unfolding? I wonder if when they find out, will they turn the ire on the ordinary Jewish people? or face the real enemy amongst our midst and fight them head on. The average Jewish person is oblivious to what they are being used as pawns for, despite some brave Jewish people within our own group warning them.

As Boris Johnson & Johnson in a speech this week compared himself to Moses, which reveals he is a disciple of the Hebrew Annunaki snakeheads, thanks for the confirm, or is he a Tall White? More fully vaccinated people are being hospitalized with COVID-19 as vaccine immunity has waned, Dr. Anthony Fauci warned in an interview Tuesday. Why? because they were not meant to work in the first place? no, Fauci says, it is because the stupid mass haven't taken up their booster shots. Common sense questions are, If you promised the first two would be the cure and we would return to normal, and now your saying they don't work, why would even the stupid believe you now? The very fact the FDA wants a 55 year moratorium on any FOIA's is telling in and of itself, what happened to transparency? and the common sense question is, if they can't be transparent, what are they clearly hiding about their approval of the jab?

A massive increase in protests globally are now being observed, with well, over 200,000 protesting in Melbourne Australia and many similar figures in other Australian states. Whilst I don't fully approve of protests per se, it is encouraging more and more people are standing up and speaking out. The vast majority of people do not have our knowledge base to understand how the system works, and so their best thoughts are to publicly protest. But, we need Positive Actions to run concurrent with protests, because the best way to defeat the system is, non violent non compliance.

Less than 48 hours after I warned Wisconsin of potential events following the trial of Kyle Rittenhouse. Someone decided to run over children and the elderly, which is a bit like Covid and Dr. Fauci in overview, killing 5 and injuring dozens of people. The coincidences is no longer a surprise in these events, but another coincidence emerged. The driver was just released from jail early, just two days prior. Was this another of the agencies Manchurian candidates? All the world is a stage, and never forget that.

The BBC ran a whole piece on Kyle Rittenhouse with the headline Why did the Rittenhouse case divide the US? Trotting out the usual drivel and dropping in the race card, whilst trying to deny it. It is simple why some people were divided on this, the media, all of them ran the race card issue when it involved a terrified white man with law on his side via stand your ground, being threatened to a point by a baying crowd that has gained a sense of injustice due to false media headlines. Headlines that are not followed up with actual facts. The media are what divides people, mainly lazy assed people who cannot be bothered to check basic facts, which is why The Independent put the headline out last week, that Rittenhouse shot 3 black people. It was the media who promoted Black Lives Matter, the media who post divisive headlines designed to stir up shit, and the media should be charged with manslaughter in many of these cases. The media basically said this week that, a white kid shooting white people in self-defense is racist, whilst a black man mowing down 50 white people is not racist, does that make any sense? no? well it's a program then isn't it. Without the media to form their agenda based opinions, many people would get along just fine. Lets target the real cancer on this planet, the misinformation pro pagan da junta, known as the Media. These people are anti truth, anti facts and anti human, running divisive programs on us all, lets shut them down. Here is an idea that could go viral, lets do a TPC script to post on all of their reports comment sections, along the lines of We the People truth checkers declare this news item, false, partly false information or outright lies. Lets see if some of our members can come up with that, we will pick the best out, and everyone can download or copy and paste it on every medias comment page, as part of the Positive Actions group. That is proactive activism, and how to fight back, lets let them know who we are and what we stand for and against, because we are?

MEDICAL RELATED NEWS: As a CDC official live on air committed the ultimate in Freudian slips, stating you know the people that are dying from this vaccine, that was quickly shifted to this disease. Your lies are beginning to tell.

U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz announced legislation Friday to bar the federal government and public schools from forcing children to be vaccinated for COVID-19, citing parental rights and the potential threat to children relative to their risks from COVID itself. There are many of these types of bills now being pushed forward and good to see.

South Carolina's Republican Gov. Henry McMaster issued an executive order Thursday, to ensure that state agencies not only abstain from mandating COVID-19 vaccines for their own employees, but also cooperate with efforts to legally resist federal mandates.

Executive Order 2021-38 prohibits all state agencies in his cabinet from requiring employees to receive the COVID-19 vaccine. It directs every agency in state government to immediately notify the Office of the Governor and the Office of the South Carolina Attorney General, upon receiving any communication or directives from the Biden Administration, concerning COVID-19 vaccination requirements. More good stuff and this is also being replicated around the country as well, an uprising is occurring.

I saw this article and brings up much ponderings we have already revealed in previous shows, the implications of this are wide ranging. When it comes to ranking the discoveries of modern medicine, DNA is pretty high up there. There are few discoveries with wider applications than DNA, which we use for everything from identifying blood relatives to presenting evidence in court. DNA is so useful and has so many applications because it is always unique to the individual. Using DNA testing we can always pinpoint a single individual, or can we? Introducing chimerism: a genetic phenomenon that allows one individual to have two sets of DNA. All so we cannot decide who is who anymore, do you know why? because shows like ours have revealed them, so in comes the confusion game.

In a classic case of reverse psychology of accusing others of doing what they themselves are doing, this is particularly poignant. Pfizer CEO Albert Bourla says persons who spread disinformation are criminals. Thank you Mr. Bourla and we agree, you do spread disinformation and not only are you criminals, you are a disgrace to Humanity.

I saw this article last week and worth repeating to a wider audience, the description may sound harsh to some, but it is brutally truthful once you push past the programming. Hundreds of thousands of children between the ages of 5 and 11 were sacrificed to the Covid-19 vaccine gods this weekend, getting their first injections as a Satanic ritual, with many of them having this done right in Christian churches. This has to be one of the darkest weekends in our nation's history. Of all the products produced by the Satanic medical system, vaccines have to be the most evil when it comes to children. Because it takes a denial of faith in God to trust him to protect your child, and instead trust in a pharmaceutical company, Pfizer. That has a long history of criminal activities, and is probably the most evil company in the world. And yet after paying billions of dollars in criminal fines over the years for bad drugs that harmed and killed people, not one executive has ever spent a day in jail. Religion can be used as a tool to reverse this anti human practice, because the person who wrote this is right, and something I have said in previous shows, how can you believe in god? and allow these unholy practices by to all intents and purposes by fake gods? Fauci and Gates are playing god with your children, by altering the genetic make up of the people, and yet the religious people are allowing this?

This post will leave a nasty taste in our mouths, but this is what we need to hear and then stop it. Perhaps it is time to get my favorite mewe gif ready? There is a genetic material named HEK-293 and this company that uses it named Senomyx. 293T (or HEK 293T) is a derivative human cell line that expresses a mutant version of the SV40 large T antigen. It is very commonly used in biological research for making proteins and producing recombinant retroviruses. Senomyx was an American biotechnology company that developed food additives. The company claimed to have reverse engineered human taste and aroma receptors. Around 2001, Senomyx patented several flavor enhancers by using a proprietary taste receptor-based assay systems, which have been previously expressed in human cell culture, in HEK293 cells. The term assay was also used in the patents for the death jabs as well, remember the Luciferase Expose show? Notice how Senomyx can brag that it reversed engineered human taste and aroma receptors. I wonder how they did that, don't you? You did notice the part that says they develop food additives, right? The problem is that HEK-293 is partially made from human aborted fetal tissue. But that's okay, right, because the abortion was voluntary? Personally, I don't think aborted human tissue should be used in any kind of research, period. Call me a loony, but I especially don't want it in products like these. What Senomyx don't tell the public is, that they are using HEK 293 a human embryonic kidney cells taken from an electively aborted baby to produce those receptors, according to Debi Vinnedge of the pro-life group Children of God for Life said about the ugly truth of the flavoring chemical industry. They could have easily chosen animal, insect, or other morally obtained human cells expressing the G protein for taste receptors, she said. Or they could just have not done it at all, is my answer. Vaccines, beauty products loaded with chemicals made from unborn babies murdered via legalized genocide. Personally I would not ascribe to that opinion, a mother has the right of her own body, and is nobody else's business unless there are some medical or mental issues that need to be taken into account. If only these religious based people focused on the mass murder of men, women and children, all under the banner of my god is better than your god, a lot more lives would be saved than the abortion industry focus. You can't wail sovereignty and freedom of choice and be an anti abortionist at the same time, it is contradictory and misleading statements like that, that got us all in this mess to begin with. Processed food isn't the only hidden source of additives made using aborted human fetal tissue, many so-called beauty products and vaccines are also loaded with aborted baby tissue-derived additives. Perfume is the classic example Eau du Toilette means Toilet Water, which is apt as they are taking the piss with their products and prices. According to EndAllDisease.com, Neocutis beauty products and anti-wrinkle creams are made from aborted male baby cells collected after a 14-week gestation period. – Genuine Christianity Now, 2019 The Fact Checkers can kiss my ass, but let's take a look at one of them anyway. This is regarding the claim that Senomyx put aborted babies into Pepsi soda. Pepsi uses aborted fetus cells in their drinks, as an ingredient for creating flavor enhancers. In August 2010 Senomyx and PepsiCo, the world's second-largest food and beverage business, entered into a four-year collaborative agreement related to Senomyx's sweet-taste technology. PepsiCo's collaboration with Senomyx will focus on the discovery, development and commercialization of sweet enhancers and natural high-potency sweeteners with the intent to bring to the marketplace lower-calorie, great tasting PepsiCo beverages. Initially, when the news broke out, both PepsiCo and Senomyx refused to accept it. Senomyx insisted that they are only working to make foods and beverages tasty, while reducing the sugar and salt content in them. PepsiCo maintained that they are using the research for developing better flavors for their consumers, and that their products, as an ingredient, did not directly contain the HEK from aborted human fetal cells. According to the CBS news report, Pepsi is not the only food/beverage company to be associated with Senomyx. Kraft's Cadbury unit, Nestle, the soybean company Solae and the flavor company Firmenich also have similar partnerships. There is a reason they promoted soy bean for us, it is not good for us. Also, in my last post, Pfizer tried to keep the info secret about their covid vax containing HEK-293. By the way, using HEK-293 / aborted babies is cool with Pope Francis. On 21 December 2020, the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, with the document receiving approval from the Pope, have stated that it is morally acceptable to receive COVID-19 vaccines that have used cell lines from aborted fetuses in their research and production process, but only where other alternatives are non-existent (or currently unavailable), or when there's the risk of a worse danger. Products That Use Aborted Fetuses – article on Human Life International, 2021 The following list outlines processed food products, vaccines and beauty products known to contain ingredients derived from aborted human babies. PEPSI BEVERAGES: All Pepsi soft drinks, Sierra Mist, Mountain Dew, Mug root beer, No Fear beverages, Ocean Spray, Seattle's Best Coffee, Tazo beverages, AMP Energy, Aquafina water, Aquafina flavored, DoubleShot energy, Frappuccino, Lipton tea, Propel, SoBe, Gatorade, Fiesta Miranda and Tropicana juices. NESTLE PRODUCTS: All coffee creamers, Maggi Brand instant soups, bouillon cubes, ketchups, sauces, seasoning, instant noodles. KRAFT – CADBURY ADAMS PRODUCTS: Black Jack chewing gum, Bubbalo bubble gum, Bubblicious bubble gum, Chiclets, Clorets, Dentyne, Freshen Up Gum, Sour Cherry Gum (Limited), Sour Apple Gum (Limited), Stride and Trident. CADBURY ADAMS CANDIES: Sour Cherry Blasters, Fruit Mania, Bassett's Liquorice All sorts, Maynards Wine Gums, Swedish Fish, Swedish Berries, Juicy Squirts, Original Gummies, Fuzzy Peach, Sour Chillers, Sour Patch Kids, Mini Fruit Gums, Certs breath mints and Halls Cough Drops. NEOCUTIS BEAUTY PRODUCTS: Neocutis uses aborted male baby cells after a 14-week gestation period in their anti-wrinkle creams. The following creams they sell contain aborted fetal cells, but we need to boycott all their products. Bio-Gel Prevedem Journee, Bio-Serum Lumiere and Bio Restorative Skin Cream. VACCINES: MMR II, ProQuad (MMR + Chickenpox), Varivax (Chickenpox) Vaqta (Hepatitis-A), Zostavax (Shingles) all made by Merck. Pentacel (Polio - DTaP - HiB), Imovax (Rabies) both made by Sanofi Pasteur. Havrix (Hepatitis-A), Twinrix (Hepatitis-A and B combo) both made by Glaxo SmithKline. OTHER MEDICINES: Pulmozyme (Cystic Fibrosis) made by the aptly named company Genetech. Enbrel (Rheumatoid Arthritis) made by Amgen.

I am going to go on record as many in the Alt Media are frightened to say it, incase they lose their followers. The Qanons and shows like Stew Peters who did an interview with a person who fell over herself trying to absolve Trump from any blame for the vaccines. Others may dance around it, this show won't, we don't need followers, we need doers acting in an adult common sense way. Trump signed off on Operation Warp Speed and promoted it. Trump signed of on launching the vaccines on the American people, all funded by his dancing puppet the Trustee. Trump has gone on record saying people should get vaxxed. Trump funded Astra Zeneca with American peoples money, to the tune of $10B. Trump as revealed recently also funded the company Mode RNA, moderna my ass, it is Mode RNA. So, Trump the great man of the people, not only funded ModeRNA, he funded Astra Zeneca and launched the death vaccine on the people, and yet some in alt media want him to return? Even the great non listener The Trustee can now see through the illusion of Trump, only took her 5 years mind as she is now frightened she will get thrown into the blame mix, given she helped him and his Black Sun buddies takeover the Fed. Genuine mistake or otherwise the same conclusion unfolded, and she has spent 18 months hiding behind another Black Sun entity and trying to cover up her role in it. Because Trump is better than Biden, does not make him the best candidate for we the people. He had his chance and blew it spectacularly, not because of some fake elections, because he did nothing despite more help given to him than any other President, he failed the people spectacularly. He will go down in history as the man who killed and injured thousands of people, and potentially millions of people, he is the modern day Pol Pot.

Lets have a bit of dark winter humor shall we. The rhetoric for the insane reached new lows this past week as Fauci attempted another change to his twisting narrative. Remember the two weeks to flatten the curve? keep indoors and social distance will end Covid before the summer? Once we have the vaccines all will return to normal and we will beat this disease. Then came the vaccines, get jabbed and we will return to normal, have second jab in you will return to normal, have two jabs and you will be fully vaccinated, and gain some special privileges the naughty children who haven't been jabbed will not be allowed, all very kindergarten stuff. But in crept more bizarreness, as Fauci and his medical tyranny crew then told their loyal pin cushions that, whilst you may have been jabbed into injury, illness and may not even be hearing this message because you have died, actually, we no longer consider you jabbed until we decide you have. But, but, but I have had my injections, here is my official Stazis papers to prove it, nope, you are not officially declared jabbed until after two or more weeks, or until we decide you have. The, very top infectious disease himself Anthony Fauci said, changing the definition of what qualifies a person as fully vaccinated to include a booster shot is on the table, sounds like a CIA interrogation episode that to me. Right now, officially, fully vaccinated equals two shots of the mRNA and one shot of the J&J, but without a doubt that could change, Fauci said in an interview. Officially? according to the World Almanac of advanced medical patents all created by Dr. Fauci. To be jabbed or not to be jabbed that is the great question, as the all powerful Fauci changes the world dictionary to suit his changing narrative and emails. Remember the emails implicating Dr. Fauci? disappeared off the news faster than an Epstein report. But people started to notice things, and ask the most stupid questions, like how come Covid is getting worse? how come Covid figures are worse after the vaccines? I thought you said we would be immune with the vaccines. Cue hysterical laughter, no we said we are in an experimental phase, and there are great unknowns. There are known knowns, there are things we know we know, we also know there are some things we do not know, but there are also unknown unknowns. Then rhetoric like you can now pass on Covid to those who haven't been jabbed, which means the jabs don't work some wailed! Don't be stupid of course they work, because a Computer Virus non expert Be ill Gates and Dr. I don't give a Fauci said so, and you have to believe them. Dr. Fauci is always right, and he is all so helpful and charity oriented, he even sent some money to China to help them with their Wuhan disease facility, even before the outbreak, he is the great Medical Prophecy man. He is the modern equivalent of Moses, delivering the 10 Commandants to humanity, whilst wearing black robes with a counter clockwise swastika on his lapel. Everybody should worship him or Himmler, as he spreads his message and disease, all whilst gaining on functions. Dr. Fauci is so helpful he even turns out at the Medical Fraternity Christmas Parade as Rudolf the red nosed Hess. But what concerns me most is, the sheer stupidity of people asking those types of questions, whilst the medical fraternity and their media mouth breathers are trying to instill fear, promote injury and death, whilst changing the narrative to suit. People should be grateful they are being used as experimental pin cushions, and not cry about a few deaths, what's a few deaths when we have a globalist agenda on the table, Grand Dame Hitlery Clinton said it right, what does it matter? The great circus call of roll up, roll up (your sleeves) is now in town, and the clowns are dancing to the tune of death, whilst singing the Christmas tune In the deep Dark Winter. You see in their shallow world of non thinking, common sense has now reached the intelligence level of pure genius, and goes way beyond their basic understanding.

INTERESTING PIECES: Did you know that 92 Countries around the world still have a percentage of people who have to openly defecate in public, which is a ridiculous level given the vast wealth around the world. All about perspective again is it not, most who listen to this show reside in the top 10-15% of the worlds wealth, and some are in the top 10%. But, there is another ridiculously high statistic of open defecation, which is at 100%, these are in the categories of politicians, media people, medical experts, agency clowns, Military leaders and bloodline families, all of them openly defecate from their mouths.

The latest rise in the guilt and shame program is in large shops and groceries asking for donations to some fake charity or other. The people have a shortage as it is, yet these greed merchants are asking the ones with little to pay towards those charities with much money. When if, they were charitable they would all pay the charities themselves. Stop giving to their charities, they have all harvesting centers, if you wish to give to a charity, we have our own the TPC, where it is guaranteed to go to ordinary people, spent in the right way and currently has 3 Directors, none of which are being paid. The classic tv adverts, notice they all ask for $19 a month, now why is that? just $19 a month, well if it just that, why aren't the Government paying towards these charitable organizations. In fact if Government spending was fair and equal, we would not need charities. Another program along similar lines of charity, is advertising the death jab with the sign, don't forget to donate your children's organs. These parasitic demons are in our face with their death and harvest programs.

The need for charity's and so many of them including our own, is indicative of a poorly run society. Most charities are utter fake, ran by greed merchants taking vast salaries, whilst false reporting to be a caring group or person. Some charities like the church and cancer are to not pay taxes, and protect their wealth and has nothing to do with charity. Some other charities are money laundering and trafficking centers, again to make and protect money into the hands of the few. So with so many charities, hardly any are doing it out of charity, just service to self, greed and nefarious purposes. So, why do we have so many charities, because it is a reflection of a poorly ran society, and an inherent lack of care, compassion or concern for your fellow man, woman and children, plus the same lack towards nature and the animals. The aforementioned charities all exhibit and mirror what is wrong with society itself, so replicating it is pure folly, because it doesn't work. Billions have gone into Cancer charities and yet they have produced no cure available to the public, just more and more costly procedures. Billions went into African famine charities and yet large portions of the people of Africa are still starving. Although the Africans must look within, with vast swathes of arable land and yet even now can't produce enough of their own food for sustainability, is a collective lack on their part for autonomy. Other charities like the various Veteran groups, another harvesting center, as 22 of them per day commit suicide, and thousands of them are left on the streets, and many more suffering through ailments and a lack of, so they don't work either. Ignoring the fact the Military themselves should be paying for the treatment, and can and should set up temporary housing centers on their far too many bases, most of which goes unused. This is why the TPC has to be different.

Seems our highlighting of the Metaverse has brought out all kinds of comments on it, and thankfully many who are very against it and now warning the public. One of the world's leading computer engineers believes the metaverse, the idea that caused Mark Zuckerberg to rebrand his whole company, could one day make reality disappear. In a recent op-ed, Louis Rosenberg, a computer scientist known for developing the first functional augmented reality system at Air Force Research Laboratory and founding virtual reality company Immersion Corporation. He believes that by integrating virtual reality and augmented reality and having people interact in the digital realm for a significant portion of their day, it could alter our sense of reality and distort how we interpret our direct daily experiences. Our surroundings will become filled with persons, places, objects, and activities that don't actually exist, and yet they will seem deeply authentic to us, Rosenberg penned in the piece, published by Big Think. Then why did you in part invent it then? or where you given help to do this? is the greater question. I am concerned about the legitimate uses of AR by the powerful platform providers that will control the infrastructure. Zuckerberg has previously suggested the metaverse is the future of his company, and has been talking up the idea since July. And my hope if we do this well, I think over the next five years or so, in this next chapter of our company, I think we will effectively transition from people seeing us as primarily being a social media company to being a metaverse company,' Zuckerberg said in a July interview with The Verge. No coincidence Louis Rosenberg is born to, but lets look at some of his other work shall we. In 2008, Rosenberg authored his first graphic novel entitled Upgrade, with artwork by Stan Timmons. A satirical take on artificial intelligence and transhumanism, the book is set in the year 2048, when life is lived entirely online, nobody ever leaving the confines of their tiny apartments, supplies brought to them by automated delivery drones. 2048 or much sooner, in fact we are well on our way now, due to peoples laziness. In a notable coincidence, the story predicted a pandemic and global quarantine in 2020. The story takes place decades later in a dystopian society still under quarantine, populated by a generation of people who have never experienced the outside world. In 2013, Rosenberg's graphic novel Eons was released and the book recounts the story of eight test subjects who are frozen, and shot into orbit for a 60-day test of a military survival system. In 2013, Rosenberg authored the children's book Seeking Marlo, with co-writer Joe Rosenbaum. The book is aimed at helping kids deal with the loss when a good friend moves away. Rosenberg released the dystopian graphic novel Monkey Room in 2014. It is a cautionary tale about the creation of a sentient AI that comes to life as a global hive mind, linking millions of users through their phones, tablets, and computers. In 2020, Rosenberg's cautionary book Arrival Mind was published. Described as a picture book for grown-ups about the dangers of AI, the unusual little book uses fanciful artwork and rhyming verse to convey the existential threat that super-intelligent AI will pose to humanity. In 2021, Rosenberg's book One of Us was published, It's a fanciful and thoughtful take on what scientists will experience when they design and build intelligent machines. One of Us was called a brilliantly crafted book a modern-day Frankenstein story, or Finkelstein story. All very telling and it was warning us what they are up to.

Another of their movies should be worth noting, and yet again it is a loop movie, replete with the figure 8 again, which appears in so many movies and series now. The movie aptly and not a coincidence the timing of it is called Multiverse. Colleagues Loretta, Danny, Amy and Gerry are on the verge of an amazing breakthrough in quantum physics when tragedy strikes. Racing to complete the experiment, Loretta dies in a fiery car accident. Five months later, as the trio struggle to move on with their lives and the work they'd started, Loretta returns. She's full of energy, enthusiasm, seemingly unaware she's been gone for months. Are the friends losing their collective minds or has something remarkable happened? Soon, each of them comes face to face with their dead ringer. Professional rivalries and personal relationships surface and the friends realize only one version of them can exist in our reality. A violent correction is necessary to maintain order. In the movie the main center appears to be around Maxwell University, how apt they called it that, after Ghislaine and her family, one may ask. The movie is portraying Digital Twins in essence, a group of Metaverse bots running around. Multiverse is the new name, the original was called Entangled, perhaps that was too obvious, either way the copy worlds, bots has become Untangled and never to return.

A prestaged in my opinion, massive row over racism in cricket in the UK has broken out. Azeem Rafiq is center to the inquiry as various allegations of racism against foreign born people and color our spread in numerous columns and tv news. Rafiq born in Pakistan, has reeled off a load of racist comments done against him and others, most of which appears to be 2007 through 2012 time. Whilst racism is wrong, why is it brought up now? because it involves an agenda. I waited for the inevitable agenda to unfold, and last Wednesday provided it. You see most of the racism by white people was against Pakistani or Indian cultures, and yes I heard lots of it when I was back in the UK. In fact in my teens I was racist, out of pure ignorance, and whilst it is the culture over there, it is not an excuse. But lots of the countrywide racism was wrapped in banter and said in a joking format, rather than aggressive overtones or threats, but this is now being turned into something more sinister. It happened, it was wrong but dredging it up now, smacks of premeditated agendas. Muslims have been on the receiving end of racist abuse, threats and violence in the past 20 years, due to the wars. But it was driven by the media themselves, running anti Muslim stories and falsely elevated threats of Muslim's blowing up the country. In fact a Muslim blew up a taxi allegedly in Liverpool last week, that was setting the stage. Because whenever there is the racism card held up, one group are just waiting to pounce, or they set the whole thing up in the first place. Why? because after Rafiq labeled many British cricketers as racist, a story was published that he himself was racist back in 2012, against whites? no, Jewish. Like I have said, all colors are racist, all colors mistrust other colors, all colors have bad people and it is something many people of all colors have been proactively working on. But, the racist divide and conquer will never rest whilst the self pity party carry on running fake agendas to ram home the fact that, they get it worse, whilst running anti white programs via media, and anti white groups via funding. It is my opinion that Mr. Rafiq is a paid agent and this was all a set up. Sport is being used now far too much in political rhetoric, for minority group like the multi letter groups and now Black Lives Matter, all designed as part of a name shaming people, now if only they would do that in sport of naming and shaming politicians and pedophiles. Look people are nasty the world over to anything that is different, it is inbred within our DNA. I remind you all of the test study of 6 month old babies, and how the babies kept shunning the black children. That is not racism at all, it is geneticism and all races have it due to past wars, in our lifetime and way into the past. Once a majority of people understand that fact, then we can formulate a solution to fix it, and all come together in a better way. That is the premise of the From Russia with Love series, it highlights the deliberately placed lies to create the divide and conquer. The proof of that is contained within Genesis or Genes of Isis, where the Lord himself split the people up, the Lord himself was using humans as slaves to build the Tower of Babel, the Lord himself created other languages so the people couldn't engage or understand each other, and the Lord himself scattered the people all over the Earth to be far apart. The Lord using us as slaves? the Lord being the modern equivalent of fact checkers and social media banning people talking or having their opinion, the Lord forcing people to move to other countries and regions to isolate them, as the modern version of the migration scam. Do you know why it is all so familiar? because it is the same people running the same program over and over again. The Jewish EL-ites and their off world brethren, the Annunaki.

This was sent in by one of the members. Being raised Cat-Holic, I recognize Apophis as a common pose the Priest class uses in their Sunday ceremonies, although I never made the connection before now. In my short research I learned that Apophis was brother to Ra and Seth. His mother was Neith, the goddess of the hunt. Apophis (aka Apep, Aapep, or Apepi) was considered by Egyptian his-story as the embodiment of evil, darkness, death and destruction. His symbol or animal totem was the snake, and he was killed by Mau, the great cat of all things. That was likely Bastet, the wife and or consort of Ra, with the Sirius based felinoids, all of whom supported Ra. Spell 17 of the Book of the Dead, relates how the cat defends Ra and also provides the origin of the cat in Egypt. It was divinely created at the beginning of time by the will of the gods. In a text known as the Book of Gates, the goddesses Isis, Neith, and Serket, assisted by other deities, capture Apophis and restrain him in nets held down by monkeys (is that slang for humans?), the sons of Horus, and the great earth god Geb, where he is then chopped into pieces only to rise again the next night whole. The rituals surrounding the overthrow of Apophis represented the eternal struggle between good and evil, order and chaos, light and darkness, and relied upon the daily attention and efforts of human beings to succeed. Humanity, then, was not just a passive recipient of the gifts of the gods, but a vital component in the operation of the universe. This understanding was maintained, and these rituals observed, until the rise of Christianity in the 4th century CE. At this time, the old model of humanity as co-workers with the gods was replaced by a new one in which human beings were fallen creatures, unworthy of their deity, and utterly dependent upon their god's son and his sacrifice for their salvation. Humans were now considered recipients of a gift they had not earned and did not deserve, and the sun lost its distinct personality and purpose to become another of the Christian god's creations. Apophis, however, would live on in Christian iconography and mythology, merged with other deities such as Set and the benign serpent Sata, as the adversary of God, Satan, who also worked tirelessly to overturn divine order and bring chaos. So, in the end, it is my conclusion that the priests in Church, whether they know it or not, are making a symbolic gesture to Satan when they strike the pose of Apophis. By the way, they most often do this during the communion ceremony, where bread and wine are transmuted to the body and blood of Christ, not Jesus Christ, there is a difference. Here is the source of the above if you want to read more: <https://www.worldhistory.org/Apophis/> As an aside, the series Star Gate (Book of Gates anyone??) depicted Apophis as a powerful 'System Lord' who was enemies with Sokar and Cronus. Sokar killed him and then was convinced to resurrect him so he could torture him again. Resurrect him? Matrix 4 called Resurrection, connect the dots. Apophis escapes and in the end kills Sokar and assumes command of his army. In the end, he crashes his ship and is presumed dead, when it is over-run with an single-minded collective of parasitic beings called the Replicators. The replicators were creatures made of nanites (nanobots) that could infiltrate human cells affecting their DNA. They eventually evolved from robotic insect like creatures, to human form beings that could shape-shift and infiltrate another human with just one touch. Hmm. Fact is fiction and fiction is fact?? Perhaps Artificial Intelligence is not what we think it is. There is a quote I like here: the greatest trick the devil played is to make us think he does not exist.

EXPOSE: History is replete with stories of lost magical cities. Stories such as the lost city of Z, which claimed the life of legendary explorer Percy Fawcett and his son. Or the lost city of Hy-Brazil, a technology-advanced Phantom Island which was known by early mariners to occasionally appear in the Atlantic. There was a similar island the US navy sailed underneath of, off the NW coast of Africa, a whole island suspended in mid air, predictably it was all covered up. Apparently it had crystalline towers of its main city jutting up off the horizon, those crystalline towers are the same as the city on Antarctica, although they are heavily charred following some sort of war. Another city in Antarctica although it may well have been the same one, was covered with a giant dome to bar entry, and was patrolled by craft not of this Earth around it's perimeter. Let us not forget Atlantis, Lemuria and even Hyperborea, all mythical islands lost to time or natural disaster. Hyperborea of course we will know better as Da Arya, that sank into the ocean following the moon Lelia falling onto the Earth 110K years ago. Even Shamballa and Agartha, which were lost in the snows of the Himalayas. There are still other lesser known, but equally as fascinating lost cities which appear to stand the test of time. The commonality? They all seem to have some sort of amazing high technology and also appear to be phantoms. It is one of those fabled cities which we will now explore. A city of true amazement, a technological wonderland, and a city without a name which apparently has remained hidden for almost a century. For more than 30 years there has been a persistent rumor. A rumor, which has not been widely reported but is fascinating nonetheless, this nameless city buried deep within the Andes Mountains and was founded by none other than Guglielmo Marconi and his protégé's. It was said to be a city powered by Tesla technology and hidden from the world. The story as it now exists was originally discussed in a book called The Mysteries of the Andes by Robert Charroux and published in 1974. It was later translated from French and published by Avon books in 1977. Charroux, a world class Fortean adventurer, had gone to South America in search of a hidden codex called the ICA Codex which purported to show a lost human civilization millions of years old, as well as lost underground tunnels and cities. The story was then picked up by Renato Vasco and published in his book Man Made UFOs and from there it has simmered. The story goes something like this. Marconi, the son of a wealthy Italian family had started working on radio technology with Tesla and pioneered radio communication. In 1896 he broadcast a transmission nine miles across the Bristol channel, and by 1899 was sending transmissions across the English channel some 30 miles from his transmitter. In 1901, after improving his transmission equipment, he broadcast a transmission from Cornwall England to St. John's in Newfoundland Canada. In 1909 Marconi, along with Karl Braun, was awarded the Nobel Prize for Physics. By the 1930's Marconi, and his student Landini, were working on Antigravity. Were working on Antigravity in the 1930's, again shows how far back technology goes. In fact Marconi, who by this time was a millionaire many times over, converted his Yacht the Electra into a floating super lab where they successfully sent signals through the earth, much in the way Tesla did. In June of 1936 Marconi made another leap forward and demonstrated a energy wave canon, for Benito Mussolini on a busy autostrada outside Milan. Oh my DEW in 1936, further evidence of so called advanced or future technology, long in the past. Apparently, according to the story at least, Mussolini had asked his wife Rachele but be at the motorway at precisely 3:30pm. Marconi triggered the device and for over 30 minutes every car suffered a complete electrical failure. At precisely 3:35pm Marconi switched the device off and the car, including his wife's, started up. Mussolini was said to have been quite pleased with the result, and began to move towards the notion of weaponizing it. This displeased Pope Pius XI who is said to have taken an interest in the device and was able to prevent further research. Fearing repercussions from the Vatican, Marconi then faked his own death then sailed his yacht to South America sometime in 1937. It is believed that Marconi took some of the brightest minds in Italian research when he left including Fulcanlli and Landini. The total count was about 98 total scientists who disappeared with Marconi. Their ultimate destination was said to have been in the southern jungles of Venezuela, where they setup a technological utopia complete with free-energy motors. Tesla technology and even a new kind of aircraft, which used a form of anti-gravity Marconi and Landini were said to have perfected. It was in that secret city the scientists are said to have perfected, many of the free-energy and Tesla technologies which we read about today. They are also said to have dedicated themselves to the peaceful application of these technologies, and remained isolated from the rest of society even to this day. Working in the shadows to provide new and updated ecologically friendly technology. The story first came to light in the book The Mysteries of the Andes by Robert Charroux. In the book, he discussed having heard the story of the Ciudad Subterranea de los Andes from a Mexican Journalist named Mario Rojas Avendaro, who had heard about the city from Caracas to Santiago, which eventually prompted Avendaro to investigate the story further. Avendaro claimed that, most of the detailed information of the secret city had come from a man named Naisso Genovese, who had contacted him about his research into the city. Genovese had been a student of Marconi and had spent time with him in the city. At the time he contacted Avendaro, Genovese was working at a physics teacher at a school in Baja California. Genovese claimed to have spent a number of years working in the city, and even published an account of a alleged trip to Mars using a Tesla / Marconi powered flying saucer. In the 1950's he wrote about the trip in a very rare, and frankly odd, book entitled My Trip to Mars. A book which, although it was never published in English did come out in numerous other languages. In discussing the city with Avendaro, Genovese claimed that it had been built with Marconi's fortune. Marconi, before his death, had shifted large amounts of his fortune into secret accounts which he accessed to acquire the materials he needed. Genovese also claimed that by 1946 the scientists had built a massive cosmic energy collector, based on Marconi's improvement of Tesla's original designs. He also went into some detail about the massive and amazing research facilities they had constructed, saying it was probably the greatest laboratory ever built on the planet. By 1952 Genovese claimed they had constructed a new type of aircraft with an almost limitless supply of energy, and scientists had used it to explore almost the entire globe including the oceans. The craft was said to be able to accelerate to 500,000 miles per hour and was built out of a new alloy, which could withstand enormous pressures of the deep ocean, as well as traveling through the atmosphere at extremely high rates of speed. The only problem he said the device had was acceleration, it was something the scientists were still working on. The implication was that the device was also capable of stellar, possibly interstellar travel and it had also been used to visit various planets in the solar system. All sounds very Stargate to me. We know from Genovese that he claimed regular trips were being made to the Moon and Mars. The implication being that a outpost could have possibly been setup at one or both of those locations. Avendaro then pressed Genovese for the location of the secret city. Genovese responded by saying that it was located at the bottom of a crater, was mostly underground and was at almost 13,000 feet above sea level. It is believed that the city is located in an extinct volcano in the eastern Andean Cordillera somewhere in the Bolivian or Venezuelan mountains. That seems to be where the story ended, and no further investigation has been made. Some researchers have hypothesized that Tesla, having been contacted by Marconi, faked his death and also traveled to the magical city. But is a hidden high tech city really feasible? Given the region where the city is supposedly hidden, and the sheer size and vastness of the unexplored land in that region it is completely plausible such a city could indeed exist. Especially if that scientists there had perfected free-energy and anti-gravity. With those two technological leaps there is really no limit to what they could have achieved. Is this Ciudad Subterranea de los Andes, or Underground City of the Andes, real? We will probably never know for sure, but it does remain one of the more mysterious and enigmatic hidden cities of legend. If it is real, there was certainly the brain power required to make such stunning technological advancements but for now it will have to remain a lost city. I think both Tesla and Marconi were working with other beings in that region, notice it always involves a mountain? Tesla is clear to me was a hybrid, dropped off in the middle of Yugoslavia and the farmer parents adopted him. The asteroid 1332 Marconia is named in his honour, and a large crater on the far side of the moon is also named after him. Just like the crater of this underground facility, is it one and the same and explains why it is not located?

I have heard of a number of people stating they don't trust this or that person, should I be involved with or near one person, group or another? I get we have all learned over time to mistrust a lot of people, due to concerns of their intentions, but this is all based in fear. Never fear being around anyone, it is stating you don't trust yourself to adjudicate who is not for your benefit. People good, bad and indifferent come into our lives and should be seen as lessons of how you react to them. The stark reality of my statement look after each other, we are all we have, is now starting to unfold on a wider scale. Eventually like the two worlds it will become all so obvious. Will it be pleasant? no, will it be painful and upsetting? yes, but this is what we have all learned and prepared for to face. Our destiny was never set in stone, we forgot to create our own reality, our own image and likeness, and we were left with a gross mirror image replete with a mask, to cover up the real you, us and we on a wider scale. Did you like that manifestation? then when will you change it? will you change you, because that is the start of all real change. 19 years ago last Tuesday I arrived with Visa in hand in America, that has taken me on a wild journey of discovery. I knew then I was here for a bigger reason, but was unsure at that point just what it all entailed. Nineteen or so years later I can see the progress I have made and passed many of my discoveries and journey's into the shows. The idea 19 years ago I would become a tiny radio show would have been a source of amusement to all who knew me then. The quiet, unsure, reserved man who didn't speak too well or audibly, but here I am and here are we. We at THI have done much to reverse many of the 180's required to change the way we as people operate. From the lies came the truth, from the illusion came the reality, from confusion came the clarity, from the impossible comes the I'm possible, from the worthless to I have value, from the closed chakras came the voice, from the shadows came the integration, from the traumas came the less baggage, from non thinking came the critical thinking, from the educated came the teaching aspect, from division came the family based camaraderie, from the wildly swinging to the balance and much more. But many still carry the negative streaks of what we lost and not what we gained, what they can't do instead of what they can, what they haven't done instead of what they have, the only positive that reverses that is also actually a negative. Is that some people gain abilities and run before they can walk or work with them. It has a term for that, it is called Imposter syndrome. Impostor syndrome is when someone continually doubts their own skills, expertise and achievements, usually despite evidence to suggest they're actually quite good at what they do. These are all things we must all overcome, and 180 our thinking patterns, bred into us via programming, we must break the program cycle of Negativity. Negative has 8 letters but so does positive, enemies has 7 letters, so does friends, lying has 5 letters so does truth, anger has 5 letters so does happy, hate has 4 letters so does love, hurt has 4 letters so does heal, fear has four letters so does hope, cry has 3 letters so does joy. Life is like a double edge sword, you can turn every negative into a positive it's your choice, self mastery overcomes it all. Always choose the better side of life. We are heading into defining times and our focus must be on keeping ourselves balanced, not distracted, not running old programs on ourselves or each other. Our group will be tasked in the coming months to step up to the plate, this is an important time. How important will only be garnered by a phasing of time. The work in the communal gatherings will increase, and I am asking you all to participate in whatever project or idea we are accomplishing. These next two months will see a radical change in what THI and the TPC is doing, that will put me down for a massive workload and undertaking I am hoping to have ready late January. This is our time, and it is time to get serious in what we are undertaking, no hiding in the shadows, how can you shine your beacon in that way or manner? The next 5 months will be tough, the lesson and the advice is, observe and don't absorb. You all need to be steadfast and strong, not weak, fearful and filled with dread. Switch off the news is one plus, turn off alt media fear porn, their fear porn is nothing we haven't covered previously in our shows. Remember the sub intel section? I took that away as everything I warned of was and has unfolded, so why terrorize yourself more listening to repeat information? We have all come a long way on this journey to waste this massive opportunity we have now in the next few months. I am requesting people to step up to the plate, it will be essential in the coming months, let them unfold their Dark Winter, we will shine the light upon it, once and for all. We have a massive opportunity for us all that has developed through me this past week, and one we cannot let us pass by again. Humanity as a collective is and has been far too lazy, and this is why we have not prevailed as we should have. We are in what I said sometime back as the movie playing out phase, the movie and it's ending could have been all so different with new editors. But too few stood up, too few were ready and too few willing to take on the responsibility. This is how we ended up as slaves to the system and the mind control, over the coming few months we will start the process of taking back not only our sovereignty, but our planet as well. In what has been an extraordinary pondering week that delivered much, turned up again this morning. I hardly ever click on MSM news items, it serves no purpose, but was drawn to one today, that turned out for someone like me to be a message to decode. The entity known as Ann, no not Kimberly Ann, the Hillary Clinton variety, said something completely out of context this week that is worth taking note of, she said there is a lack of Gatekeepers, maybe that is indicative of our progress on a much higher level. Gatekeeper means, One that is in charge of passage through a gate, One who monitors or oversees the actions of others, One who controls access to something or maybe the Pyronia reveals more. Is the door open? what is the Gate and who is keeping it? does the celestial carry jabs of a better variety? who is the lock and who was the key? what if the lock was the key all along? what is the Gatekeeper Butterfly and is it significant? For those clues I say thanks for the giving, and the work is underway. The window of opportunity presents itself on the 3-3-3, is it the resurrection followed by the completion? leading up to the year of the 9, when the final baktun ends. Given the mention of Metaverse and false realities, one has to ponder on the fact of whether that happenstance is a sign similar in nature to the Red Queen, where she got off with her head, all done by consciousness upload technology. What if the inorganic's are promoting the Metaverse to upload their bot armies to leave us? and come back like the replicators at a future date? or invade another planet with their hive minded stupidity program? What if they were here to teach us how to operate in a better way? just like the djinns. What if it is they, that showed us how to observe but not absorb? what if they now feel their purpose has ended? And they are now preparing for a trip into the Cloud to join their AI sky god? after having their software upgrade jabs. Their world is phasing out, are they in a rush to collect their types of peoples before the departure date? the timing of which is brought on by a lack of resonant cord based frequencies and letting go, plus the arrival of the all organic G cloud? The great disappearing act is not coming in the future, it is now underway, let go of your fears. Stop existing in fear, that is not living, you don't live in fear only exist in it, everything you ever wanted is on the other side of fear. The clowns know it is coming, they spoke of it in unpublicized documents back in 2016, of space related events in the coming years, that will change things they said. If we are all we have, remember that is a victory of epic proportions. Separate ways worlds apart what a Journey we have been on.
