

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2022-05-26

A reminder to those who haven't shifted over yet from Patreon to our new website THI-show.com, all the transcripts are now being posted over there. So, sign up for your subscriptions you have three choices over there, and then delete your patreon account and payment. Oh the headlines, if a picture paints a thousand words, what does a few connected and well timed headlines do? The Palestinian Authority announced on Thursday the shooting death of Al Jazeera journalist Shireen Abu Akleh, with proof she was deliberately killed by Israeli forces as she tried to flee. Israel's untenable political dysfunctionality exposed in a ridiculous Knesset battle. As Hasidic Jews battle each other, the scenes in several ultra-Orthodox towns and neighborhoods around Israel on the Jewish Sabbath, May 21, seemed taken out of a horror movie. The US exposes the Israelis for killing the Iranian Colonel. Russia is presented with a map of Jewish heritage sites inUkraine. As the Muslims and Hindus battle rages on the streets and courts in India, is there a pattern, a timing of events? The MSN news feed goes all space, UFO, solar and science puzzling all in the same week, is that a coincidence? Space they say is the final front ear, except we haven't got a front ear, we are not chimeras and they are on the sides of our heads. Heads are spinning for a reason, as the vortex of life not anti-life begins to turn into a positive direction and flow. Our world didn't exit stage left, it went right and the convergence unfolded. The left hand path of Set is the gateway to the west and is left behind, we exited to the right and the right hand path envelops those that traveled. The old road was bypassed and the road to Leupp was the gee up, out with the old and in with the new. Some will go their separate ways, why? Because we are worlds apart.

NEWS: This was written over the weekend before last, as had to get this show ready before I went on a tiny trip. Beware the new media distraction of the Chinese moving on Taiwan. With Covid and Ukraine narratives failing, factcheckers not working as they planned, banning not working either, algorithms not working too well either, they need a new source of distraction and ultimately a fear package. Out will roll the lines of WW3 and Nuclear weaponry again. Beware also of the next wave of created viruses, the monkey pox cropping up around the world where the jabs were heavily administered. Just ignore the liars and attention seeking whores.

There were 4 multiple shooting events in the last week or so, yet the MSM and their Democrat counterparts focused on just one, the Buffalo shooting. Are they saying some lives are more important than others with that stance? Are they saying white lives don't matter? Is that not a definitive version of racism, in and of itself? White shoots black a racist or terrorist event, black or Hispanic shoots any color and it is ignored. This is not about who shot who, or who is worse than the other. It is all about the driven agenda of the Democrat party and the MSM of creating a narrative laden in division. I have presented the figures of the killing list for each color in a past show, and the lead shooters where the minorities in every category, and was not the currently majority group. MSM will not tell you that, I wonder why? But up popped another killing spree this time in Texas, is that a coincidence after Texas went against DC recently? Does that incident prove the folly of opening the Southern border? Given the race identity matches those coming through the border? All theories aside, THI expresses deep sympathies with those who lost their dear ones in that tragedy. Guns are not the primary problem, clowns and their policies are.

Listen to the latest MSM drivel and discrediting acts, as they continue to push the black race into hating on and attacking white people. It appears Tucker Carlson has stumbled onto something we revealed throughout the FHSTOS series, of the Jewish EL-ites desire to eliminate the white race. Of course on MSM they do not allow opinions of white people, because their agendas cannot allow for that opinion. But they are highlighting a recent video, that compiles numerous instances of Fox News host Tucker Carlson pushing a racist conspiracy theory, that went going viral on Twitter. Adherents of The Great Replacement Theory believe a conspiracy is afoot, to replace white Americans with immigrants and people of color. If you look around you that is what is unfolding, of course this show warned of it years ago. It is a simple and basic fact, in fact this administration has increased the immigrants, none of whom have visas by 760K. Basic facts ignored by the treasonous and increasingly pathetic MSM, who are desperate to hide the truth, so much so they won't even debate it. They then went on a typical deflection pattern and used an outright or bizarre conspiracy theory to prove their lies, by saying this gem of bs'ery. So-called replacement theory has inspired recent violence, including the 2019 mosque shootings in Christchurch, New Zealand, and a 2018 shooting at a synagogue in Pittsburgh. First off it is not a theory, as FHSTOS 9 proved it to be the case, so did parts 1 and 2, and parts 4, 5 and 7 in the plus series. Ideas from the conspiracy theory reportedly filled a manifesto apparently posted online by Payton Gendron, the white 18-year-old who authorities identified as the gunman who targeted Black people in Saturday's rampage at a supermarket in Buffalo. Once a fringe conspiracy theory pushed by white supremacists, replacement theory has seeped into the mainstream and has been promoted by some conservative politicians and commentators. There is the second deflection point, throw in the white supremacists line, but what is wrong with stating facts? And why is the white not allowed a voice, opinion or input into the debate? Among the loudest voices is Carlson, who has been arguing that Democrats are encouraging immigration, to increase the number of obedient voters since joining the network's prime-time lineup in 2016. Have they bothered to really check the accusation out? Of course not, why would they when they have a divisive agenda to run at the behest of their Jewish El-ite overlords. The stupidest thing is, a large amount of script reading bots pushing this on MSM are white themselves. The great question is, are they creating politics and voting, to run along racial lines now? On Sunday night, MSBC host Mehdi Hasan shared a video on Twitter that compiled several clips of Carlson promoting replacement theory. Hasan who is Muslim which is curious, because for 20 years the same MSM told Americans that all Muslims are jihadists or terrorists, but now he is ok because they have a combined agenda? Here is Hasan in a speech during a sermon delivered in 2009, quoting a verse of the Quran, Hasan used the terms cattle and people of no intelligence to describe non-believers. In another sermon, he used the term animals to describe non-Muslims. All very Talmudic that is it not? One and the same program is why. Yet he has the audacity to be a voice of reason on racial issues? The point is people died unnecessarily, and that is the real sad loss for those people's families, but this is being deliberately stoked to A: fulfill an agenda and B: give the portal news parasites with moving mouths to talk utter crap for days on end to re-enforce point A.

All this took place in the background of what could be described as a foreign domestic incident on our own soil. Virtually no mention of the shootings and deaths in California, done by a Taiwanese person who hates Chinese. Where is the mock outrage over that? What the media are revealing again is, some deaths are more important than others. Israel Cohen reminder, we will rise up the blacks to eliminate the whites. How about we the people rise up together to counter evil agendas and psychopaths.

Have you noticed a lot of the back chatter now mirrors our FHSTOS series? The Great Replacement Theory is right through our book, the mention of Khazarians doing it, the elimination of whites, it's all there. But, more evidence can be garnered by the last two Clif high pieces, it is riddled with THI material and even our memes. Clif garners his information from a CIA algorithm machine and it spits out data, which he formulates into opinion and speculates on. What this means is A: we are creating the news and B: our shows are yet again proven to be going further than many will think. The very fact that the whites elimination program has now made MSM, is a major triumph in and of itself, we have forced them to react. Yes, they will lie and distort it, it is all they are capable of, because truth to them is their own version of the anti-christ.

MSM and Military clowns caught out in a lie yet again. MSNBC contributor Barry R. McCaffrey, a retired four-star general, shared a video of what he stated was a Russian plane being shot down by Ukraine, but deleted the tweet after being informed it occurred in an animated video game. All the world is a stage Mr. McCaffrey, yours is more of the Punch and Judy variety.

The UN Security Council has condemned the killing of veteran Al Jazeera reporter Shireen Abu Aqla and called for an immediate probe into her death.

The move followed outcry on Friday after Israeli police hit mourners at Abu Aqla's funeral. Police said they acted after being pelted with stones.

Abu Aqla, 51, was shot dead while covering an Israeli military raid in Jenin in the occupied West Bank on Wednesday.

Her death has caused a surge of anger.

In a statement released, the Security Council said its members called for an immediate, thorough, transparent, and fair and impartial investigation into the killing, and stressed the need to ensure accountability. Good luck with that.

Though the statement showed a rare case of Security Council unity on an issue related to Israel, reports quoting diplomatic sources said there were difficult negotiations over the text's contents. But why is that? Why does everyone have to walk on eggshells when discussing Israeli crimes or criminal acts? People really need to stop that and call it like it is, if they are too juvenile and over sensitive that is their problem. During Abu Aqla's funeral, her coffin almost fell as police, some using batons, waded into a crowd of Palestinians gathered around it.

Footage showed a standoff between police and Palestinians gathered around the coffin in a hospital compound, before officers pushed the crowd back, with some beating and kicking mourners. Israeli police said on Saturday that an investigation into the incident was being launched.

United Nations Secretary-General António Guterres said, he was deeply disturbed by the confrontations between Israeli security forces and Palestinians and the behavior of some police.

Mr. Guterres also said he was moved by the outpouring of sympathy from the thousands of Palestinian mourners over the past two days, which he said was a testament to Abu Aqla's work and life. Outright Fascism right in your face again, and the UN Security council and world Governments need to develop a back bone. But, the reasons behind the reluctance, is yet again down to the problem highlighted in the full disclosure for full disclaimer piece, blackmail and coercion. Which is why it needs to be implemented.

This program can and should be beneficial, I have long believed this is the right thing to do, and yet the timing of it leads to the ultimate mistrust of it. The psychopaths in Canada are setting new lows in the depopulation agenda, with this latest program now coming to the fore. Listen closely Canadians, as this is barely believable to most, but not a total surprise to us. The Canadian government will now pay for those who are too poor to continue living with dignity, to kill themselves or be euthanized according to the medical term. Helping them pay for education or the like so they can live with dignity seems less interesting. Canada is expanding its medical assistance in dying called the MAID program, which has been an option for those with certain types of illnesses for years. According to The Post Millennial, the program includes health authorities providing a drug that will intentionally kill the person at their request. The British Columbia government website, Medical assistance in dying provides people experiencing intolerable suffering due to a grievous and incurable medical conditions, the option to end their life with a doctor or nurse practitioner. Medical assistance in dying is provided only to legally eligible persons. To ensure this service is provided safely, safeguards have been designed to protect vulnerable people, and support all people to make an informed decision, the site says. Who decides who is eligible or not, remember these are the same people who ordered us to get jabbed, so their medical opinions should not be accepted anymore like previously. They have been found out to be flawed. Up until recently, the person receiving the service must be eligible for the government-funded health program, at least 18 years of age and mentally competent, have made a voluntary request for assistance in dying. They have been given informed consent about possible palliative care, have a grievous and irremediable medical condition, and be enduring physical or psychological suffering that is intolerable to them, and cannot be relieved under conditions that they consider acceptable. In 2015, the Canadian Supreme Court struck down a long-standing ban on assisted suicide, and just a year later, its parliament passed legislation allowing MAID. The program was touted as a resource for those whose death was reasonably foreseeable. However, five years later, the reasonably foreseeable language was dropped, as was the requirement of a terminal illness. Who administers the kill shot? Do the people administering realize the consequences of taking a life? Do they know the consequences of suicide? Whilst Levashov was quite rigid about the consequences of suicide, I believe the person ending their life in this manner will not face the same consequences that Levashov spoke of. Should that knowledge not be made available to people, before dropping them down a level on soul development?

As we have shown recently all organizations with the letters AID in their name, are working against us.

Nice to see people taking a stand against organizations not doing the right thing, or providing the service as stated. Lindenwood University agreed to a $1.65 million settlement in a lawsuit filed by a group of students, who felt that the switch to online learning during Covid-19 was subpar. Under the settlement, the students' attorneys will receive $550,000 and the nearly 6,000 Lindenwood University students will receive about $185 each, according to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Yet again the greedy lawyers take most of the claim, $300 plus an hour to talk babble, is beyond disgusting. Stealing money off the children means nothing to those parasites. U.S. District Judge Ronnie L. White approved the class action settlement which was led by Lindenwood University student Dylan Martin. Students who attend the university will receive the payment as a credit to their account, and former students who do not owe any payments to the university will receive a direct cash payment, according to the report. The students filed the lawsuit in August 2020 and claimed that Lindenwood University breached its contract with them, when the switch to online learning was made at the beginning of the Covid-19 pandemic. When compared to in-person learning, the students claimed that online learning was subpar in practically every aspect, adding that they overpaid for tuition since online instruction was cheaper, according to the report. The whole University thing is a complete racket, students snaffled up by rogue Agencies, put in programs, used as spies etc and then they overcharge you and put children in debt, to learn no higher education than regular schooling prior to the 1970's in the UK. One member spoke of an interaction in a shop this week, as the cashier had to use a calculator to work out the change from a $4 purchase out of $20 given, utterly embarrassing, when I went to school children at six knew that simple math equation without calculators.

Lloyds Banking Group is closing 28 branches, 20 Lloyds Bank and eight Halifax, between August and November this year. The move means that 309 banks will have closed by the end of 2022 alone. Lloyds Banking Group, which owns Lloyds, Halifax and Bank of Scotland, said falling customer numbers were the reason. No, the reasons were in the Clowns In Panic show and decentralization, plus a lack of floating capital. 2 Step verification process is another variant of all banking to be done on a phone. Remember Robert David Steele piece asking for $4.5B to give everyone a phone? To spy on all people and all banking on phones, whereby they fully dictate your life.

The billionaire investor Warren Buffet ended his long-running bet on Wells Fargo during the first quarter, according to a filing Monday from his Berkshire Hathaway Inc. Berkshire also reported new stakes in banking giant Citigroup Inc. and in auto lender Ally Financial Inc. Berkshire sold off its remaining Wells Fargo shares after months of paring a holding that once ranked as the conglomerate's biggest common-stock bet. The San Francisco-based bank's shares have declined about 12% this year. Buffett had publicly urged the Wells Fargo board not to hire a leader from Wall Street. Interesting on many levels, even Buffet doesn't trust Wall Street clowns now either. Banks running down? Now where have we heard that before? Time for all in the group to do their bit on the New Blueprint for Humanity.

The Walton family fortune tumbled more than $16.5 billion on Tuesday after Walmart Inc. slashed its profit outlook. Walmart, controlled by the family, fell as much as 11% in New York trading after the Bentonville, Arkansas-based company reported earnings that lagged analysts' estimates. Soaring inflation heaped pressure on the retailing giant's profit margins in the first quarter, testing the company's appetite to raise prices. Which they did considerably. The family's late patriarch, Sam Walton, centered the business around a discount ethos that has in the past helped buoy its stock during recessionary times. With the advantage of harvesting lesser volume companies with the Non-Compete Act, of which they are the favored retailer. They are also mixed in with the MIC and off world, due to bunkers and tunnels under most stores.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints lost $3.1 billion on investments as U.S. stock markets swooned this year. New reports filed with federal regulators put a massive church account managed by the faith's investment arm, Salt Lake City-based Ensign Peak Advisors, at $49.2 billion for the first quarter, down 6% from the close of 2021, when the fund reached a two-year high of $52.3 billion. Good they are losing funds, but I would sooner see them give back all of their ill-gotten gains to their communities, and stop being parasites. The great question Mormons must ask is, would your Jesus approve of this church tithing? Did he not in your scriptures turn the money tables over? So, if you are following a church of Jesus, why are you going against the wishes of your savior program?

MEDICAL RELATED: By February of this year, 58 percent of the US population, more than 190 million people had been infected with Covid, according to an antibody survey published by the CDC. The figure is far higher than the 80 million officially recorded cases, with the majority of infections undiagnosed, asymptomatic or unreported. Roughly 75 percent of people under 18 had been infected, according to a paper based on a nationally representative study of antibody levels. Funny the CDC, Clown Disease Corporation said the youth were immune, which was correct until the CDC issued mandates on the children. There was a huge surge during the winter Omicron wave, particularly among children. Omicron is fake, and just the side effects from the jabs. Each month from September 2021 to January 2022, the study examined some 75,000 blood specimens taken from across the country, as well as 45,000 samples in February. The study examined only antibodies created in response to prior infection, not vaccination. National estimates were then produced using statistical methods to weight by age, sex and metropolitan status. Having infection-induced antibodies does not necessarily mean you are protected against future infections, said Kristie Clarke, co-lead for the national Covid-19 serology task force, on a call with reporters. Clarke another flip flopper as the statistical evidence weighs against them, I have never heard so many contradictions from one group like the CDC, since a Cosmic Voice show was in full flow.

Here is the latest fear package coming out of the CDC, now to be known as Clown Disease Corporation, another deflector of the jabs no doubt. Another subtle program change to get some to switch over to their hideous and ridiculous plan. It's a plan that is flawed as they don't understand science, genetics or life itself, a plan for psychopaths to follow, not us. The lone star tick is known to transmit several diseases to humans, some of which can be deadly. But one of particular concern, especially to those who follow a carnivore diet, can cause a person to have allergic reactions to red meat for the rest of their life. (M) Seriously, do these people think before they speak? Remember Biden and Gates wants meat banned, and so this piece is their slide in narrative and is frankly embarrassing. Remember Gates, has become the largest private farmland owner in the United States and is set up to be one of the big beneficiaries of a meatless future. Particularly when considering that Gates has openly supported genetically modified food production, while the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation has invested millions into the genetically modified food company, Monsanto. Other Silicon Valley billionaires are also investing in fake food production, including PayPal founder Peter Thiel and Google co-founder Sergey Brin. Growing evidence suggests that the bite from a lone star tick may trigger a condition known as alpha-gal syndrome, which can cause a life-threatening allergic reaction to red meat, according to the CDC. If a person with AGS eats red meat, they could experience hives, swelling, shortness of breath, dizziness, abdominal pain, diarrhea, and vomiting. All of which sounds like the jab side effects. More severe reactions may cause anaphylaxis and require urgent medical care, which again sounds like the jab effects. There's no treatment other than avoiding red meat and other products made from mammals, according to the Mayo Clinic. The CDC notes that other tick species have been connected with the development of AGS in other countries, and that more research is needed to understand the role ticks play in causing AGS. Get politicians to research it, after all they are poly ticks. Nonetheless, anyone is vulnerable to AGS. According to the Tick Research Lab of Pennsylvania, the lone star tick was once only common in southern states but recently, the insect has been progressively spreading northward. If these are real all of this means, it is they who are not only spreading them, but perhaps also means they created them in the lab? Perhaps this is a pointer to that question, remember Project Lockstep was 2010. Alpha-gal syndrome is a much more common allergy in the U.S. today than it was a decade ago, with the number of laboratory-confirmed cases growing from 12 in 2009 to over 34,000 in 2019. Unfortunately, AGS has no insurance billing code, nor is it a reportable illness to the CDC. So, it is not a reportable illness to the CDC, but the CDC are now reporting it? Ok!!

Candace Owens wasted no time pinning billionaire Bill Gates as the mastermind behind the Monkeypox outbreak. On Wednesday Owens began discussing the latest developments with the monkeypox virus that, has a recorded 200 confirmed and suspected cases across at least a dozen countries. Owens then went on to highlight that smallpox was eradicated in the 1980's but was concerned that, there still seems to have been some need to get some vaccines quietly approved in 2019. She then brought Gates into the conversation by highlighting his involvement with the Covid vaccine. Wherever there is a pandemic Bill Gates is sticking his nose in it. Well, would you believe that for monkeypox, they also ran a simulation in March of 2021 at the Munich security conference. They ran a simulation on reducing the high consequence of biological threat, and in that pandemic preparedness exercise, they talked about an unusual strain of the monkeypox virus, March of 2021. What if the bioterrorist is actually Bill Gates? Owens questioned. What if Bill Gates should be in prison? If we wanna avoid the next pandemic? What if we got together a bunch of people and said, Hey, you know what, actually, you are the universal threats. You guys have been playing germ games. Germ and Hunger Games can only be played if the bot like compliance people comply. That is the key, tell Gates, Fauci, Biden, the CDC to do the Lily Allen song.

The number of sailors who deserted the Navy last year is more than double the number who deserted in 2019, a statistic that one expert described as staggering. According to a new report from NBC, 157 sailors deserted the Navy last year, compared to 98 in 2020, and 63 in 2019. While Navy officials couldn't explain the increase to NBC, they pointed to the many different stressors in the service. The Navy can blame stressors all they like, the people are abandoning the system.

In what has been dubbed the Great Resignation, Americans have been quitting their jobs in record numbers in recent months, a trend that shows no signs of slowing. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, over 4.5 million Americans quit their job in March 2022, the most ever recorded in a single month, and up from 4.4 million quits in February. Add that to the July, August and September 2021 quits, which does not include retirements and in those 5 months 21.5M quit their jobs. Is it the great resignation or the great disappearance mentioned some time back?

EXPOSE: The world of secret societies and their largely hidden roles of manipulating life, society and indeed the planet itself, has played a huge role in the past 400 years in particular, of shaping our world today as we know it. Or we thought we knew it, but our FHSTOS series and some other pieces has tipped that his story upside down, and has begun to rewrite the story in a more balanced way. Familiar names crop up through the ages and this piece will be no different. Edward Bernays had this to say in 1928. The conscious and intelligent manipulation of the organized habits and opinions of the masses, is an important element in democratic society. Those who manipulate this unseen mechanism of society constitute an invisible government, which is the true ruling power of our country. We are governed, our minds are moulded, our tastes formed, our ideas suggested, largely by men we have never heard of. Notice the word democratic used again, that has become their by word for other more harsher words, like Fascism, Communism and Zionism. Demo means a demonstration of, cratic is a form of governance, and so a demonstrative form of government ensues it seems. To all intents and purposes it is the demon form of governance.

The Secret Society That Rules The World: Since the dawn of civilization, kings, emperors and other men and women of wealth have wanted to rule the world, but none has succeeded. Every empire that arose on the blood of the people it subjected and enslaved, the ancient kingdoms of Egypt and Assyria, the successive Persian and Chinese empires, the Roman empire, the Islamic caliphates, the Ottoman empire, the various European colonial empires and even the communist regime of the Soviet Union, all eventually fell. Even the United States' global primacy, a logic result of the end of the Cold War, is now being tested by re-emerging superpowers and increasing calls for a more multilateral world order. But these are all well-known attempts at establishing world supremacy. Since the rise of democracy, people not tyrants were suddenly said to be in charge. That is technically the truth, but sadly the people never took up the mantle, and allowed these psychopaths to run the mad world for us. That has to change with the TPC. Therefore, if one wanted to obtain or maintain hegemony, one had to find a way to shape world order through hidden means, while simultaneously convincing the people the gradual change was of their own making.

The Birth of a Secret Society: One man who understood this early on was Cecil Rhodes, an ardent believer in British imperialism and white supremacy. Who aside from his lucrative career as mining magnate served as prime minister of Cape Colony and co-founded Rhodesia, a colony established by the British South Africa Company eventually named after himself. To this very day, the De Beers company, the colonial diamond exploitation company he founded, tries to whitewash Rhodes' legacy thusly: He had arrived in South Africa as a sickly young lad of 17, and within a few short years, had achieved wealth and power, and had secured not only South Africa's pre-eminence in the world diamond business, but his own place of honor in the history of the country. Except Cecil Rhodes was not a white supremacist, he was Jewish. The De Beers group are not British either, they are Dutch, hence the terms for the settlers there called Afrikaans. Who were mainly Dutch, but French and German settlers also. Rhodes was House of Orange, and why many regions in South Africa to this day, have Orange in the place names. Australia and New Zealand too, same company, same people. He had played a significant role in changing a poor and backward land into a dynamic and powerful country. Cecil Rhodes prospered in a time where personal acquisition and entrepreneurial enterprise were indistinguishable, but the legacy he left was overwhelming in its generosity to his adopted country. Upon his many bequests, he bestowed the renowned Rhodes Scholarship, which is awarded annually on merit to British Commonwealth, American, German and South African students to study at Oxford University. Cecil John Rhodes chose to be buried facing north, at world's view in the Matopos hills, the granite hills south of Bulawayo. The fact that he was a man of great vision was once again underlined, when he uttered his now legendary last words on his deathbed: So much to do, so little done. But this is history told by the victors. As he had fought all of his life with severe illness, Rhodes had always understood that, because there was so much to do, he could never do it alone in his short lifespan. Thus, already in 1877, at the age of 23, he privately unveiled his true great vision when he drafted the first version of his testament. In it, he proposed nothing less than to establish a secret society with the sole objective of world rule by the British empire: I contend that we are the finest race in the world and that the more of the world we inhabit, the better it is for the human race. I look into history and I read the story of the Jesuits, I see what they were able to do in a bad cause and I might say under bad leaders. At present day I become a member of the Masonic order. I see the wealth and power they possess and the influence they hold and I think over their ceremonies, and I wonder that a large body of men can devote themselves to, what at times appear the most ridiculous and absurd rites without an object and without an end. The idea gleaming and dancing before ones eyes like a will-of-the-wisp, at last frames itself into a plan. Why should we not form a secret society with but one object: the furtherance of the British empire and the bringing of the entire uncivilized world under British rule, for the recovery of the United States, for the making out of the Anglo-

Saxon race but one Empire. What a dream, but yet it is probable, it is possible. Except the British Empire was a ruse, it was ran by bloodline families using countries for their own ends. Like mentioned earlier the Dutch part are traditionally left out of it, but the Dutch part is hidden by the various Houses of, in France. In particular the House of Orange, which destroyed Ireland and yet to this day they blame the Brits. It was not the Brits or the Dutch either, it was the Jewish elements yet again. People have heard of the B'nai B'rith and yet don't know their role in all of this secret society game, did you know it is a Masonic order? The B'nai B'rith is part of the Masonic Scottish Rite Order established in 1843. Predictably it was established in New York. Its militant arm, the Anti-Defamation League was formed in 1913, the same year as the US Federal Reserve. Not only is the ADL emphatically not a Jewish civil rights lobby, the ADL and its parent agency B'nai Brith have been from their inception, arms of the British secret intelligence services and secret societies that are sworn enemies of the United States. The B'nai B'rith-ADL doesn't represent Jews. It represents Masonic Jewish Bankers, who plot the demise of the Western Civilization. B'nai means children of, and the B'rith is said to be a shortened version of British, with the letters, is, left out. Children of Is or Isis? And so Isis Ra El is born again. Thanks to Carroll Quigley, an American professor of history specialized in the evolution of civilizations, we now know that Rhodes' dream became reality in the formation of an immensely powerful and secretive Anglo-American network. Which, according to Quigley, advanced Rhodes' desire to federate the English-speaking peoples and to bring all the habitable portions of the world under their control. Quigley was no uncredentialed conspiracy theorist. He was a prominent Harvard-educated historian who taught at the Ivy League universities of Georgetown, Princeton and Harvard, in addition to working as an advisor to both the US Department of Defense and the US Navy. In his own words, he knew of the existence and operation of this secret network, because I have studied it for twenty years and was permitted for two years, in the early 1960s, to examine its papers and secret records. After publishing Tragedy and Hope, his 1311 pages-strong book on the network's role in the rise of the Western world in 1966. However, the secret society members who had approached him, were apparently displeased that he published the inner workings of the network, as a result of which the publisher MacMillan Company, refused to reprint the seminal work when it quickly ran out of stock, and prevented Quigley from regaining the publication rights. Powerful influences in this country, Quigley concluded in private writing, want me, or at least my work, suppressed. Because of his fascination with secret societies, and because he always remained favorable to the network's goal despite disagreeing with some of its methods. Quigley was already in 1949 able to write a history of the secret society and its morphing into a truly Anglo-American establishment, thanks to testimony of persons close to the Group which he juxtaposed to documentary evidence available to everyone. Because the architects of this Group, according to Quigley, were satisfied to possess the reality rather than the appearance of power, they decided to draw their inspiration from similar occult organizations of the past, such as the Illuminati, the Jesuits and the Freemasons. Thus, they set up a rings within rings structure wherein the center ring would control the outer rings. The ring within the ring structure was part of the Marshall plan document, that housed mainly the off world controllers. The rings are the bind or covenant, which also means to bind, and the Rothschild's are the Lord of the Rings. The main ring being the Solomon variety, which holds the power over Earth, although that is diminishing, and since subsequently eradicated. In The Anglo-American Establishment, which was only published posthumously in 1981, he wrote: The plan of organization provided for an inner circle, to be known as The Society of the Elect, and an outer circle, to be known as The Association of Helpers. Within the Society of the Elect, the real power was to be exercised by the leader, and a Junta of Three. Echoing the Indian three headed deity structure, no wonder Indian became known as the Raj, the j being silent and you understand who this cult follows, Ra. When the society was founded in 1891 after years of planning, Rhodes was to be the leader, and the Junta of Three were represented by William T. Stead, Britain's most famous journalist, Lord Esher, confidant of Queen Victoria and later the most influential advisor of King Edward VII and King George V, and Alfred Milner, a colonial administrator who, although he was relatively unknown to the outside world, became the group's leader after Rhodes' death in 1902. A fifth member of The Society of the Elect close to the top of the pyramid was Lord Nathaniel Rothschild, whose financial wealth had helped Rhodes to monopolize the South African mines of the Kimberley area, and whose family's financial and political power over Europe was likely without parallel in history up to that point. As both Milner and Rhodes graduated from Oxford University, college campuses of this prestigious university became the principal recruiting ground for the secret society. Harvard, Yale and Princeton are the American equivalents. While a few inner core players unquestionably knew that they were members of a group devoted to a common purpose, however, Quigley notes that many might not have been aware of their membership. They rose through the ranks of society and advanced the network's interests, unaware of the fact that the inner core influenced their thinking, their career paths and their actions by what he called personal persuasion, patronage distribution, and social pressure. In his two books, Quigley meticulously explains who's who in the inner workings of the group, and connects the dots between various overt political formations such as the Rhodes Scholarships, the Round Table Group, the Royal Institute of International Affairs and the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). All of which were in the bottom 25% of the control system, in essence they were the pawns in the game, that went much higher than most people can imagine. He concludes, however, that the core power always, at least up until the time of his writings, remained in the hands of Milner's group and his successors. As such, they were able to control both sides of the political isle in Britain: Until 1890 or so the secret society contained members of both political parties, including the leaders, long-time Conservative Prime Minister Salisbury and long-time Liberal Prime Minister Gladstone. After the split in the Liberal Party in 1886, it was the members of the Cecil Bloc who became Unionists, that is, the Lyttletons, the Wyndhams, the Cavendishes. As a result, the Cecil Bloc became increasingly a political force. Gladstone remained socially a member of it, and so did his protégé, John Morley, but almost all the other members of the Bloc were Unionists or Conservatives. The chief exceptions were the four leaders of the Liberal Party after Gladstone, who were strong imperialists: Rosebery, who was married into the Rothschild family and was one of the trustees of Rhodes' final will, Asquith, Edward Grey, and Haldane. These four supported the Boer War, they grew increasingly anti-German and supported the World War in 1914, and were close to the Milner Group politically, intellectually, and socially.

THE RECOVERY OF THE UNITED STATES: Unsatisfied with near absolute control over British political life, the powerful financiers behind the Milner Group remained true to Rhodes' vision for the recovery of the United States. Shortly after Cecil Rhodes died, the Pilgrims Society was formed to provide a platform in which trans-Atlantic elites could meet. Ah the grim pill group portrayed as all lovely and nice in American history, yet came as conquerors in truth. In Britain, at least 18 members of the secret network including Lords Rothschild, Curzon and Esher, Sir Edward Grey and Arthur Balfour attended Pilgrims dinners, while members of the Rockefeller and Morgan financial dynasties joined them from the American side. Balfour and Rothschilds were the ones who signed up for the fake state of Israel at this time. While these families of international financiers had long been rivals in banking, oil and industry, they started to understand that they had to cooperate if the enormous power they had amassed, was to remain in their few hands upon entering the 20th century. That is something we the people can learn, we may not all get along but we have to work for a common goal of ending their hegemony, and rebuilding anew in our image. While disciples from the House of Rothschild had already saved the J.P. Morgan, Kuhn, Loeb and Company and M.M. Warburg banks from bankruptcy in times of need throughout the 19th century, John D. Rockefeller and Baron Alphonse de Rothschild reached a tactical rapprochement after they met at Standard Oil's New York headquarters in 1892. This American synarchy of wealth and power, however, was, just like in Britain, heavily under the control of a secret society. Founded in 1833 as the American chapter or Chapter 322, of a German order by General William Huntington Russell and Alphonso Taft. Skull & Bones is a notorious secret brotherhood which, to this very day, selects 15 new members from Yale University every single year. Next to nothing was known about Skull & Bones until in the early 1980s the full historical membership roster was anonymously sent to Antony Sutton, an economics professor of British descent. Who during and after his time as research fellow at Stanford University's Hoover Institute, had conducted fascinating research into the role of Wall Street financial moguls in the rise of Hitler, the Soviet Union and FDR's New Deal, all these strange activities he was now able to link back to Skull & Bones. The core power of this group, similar to Rhodes' network, lays with about 20 families. The oldest family trees consist of wealthy families that descended from English Puritans that crossed the ocean in the 17th century, such as the Whitney, Stimson, Taft, Bundy and Lord families. To maintain and expand their power after the industrial revolution had produced a new class of ultra-rich, these Puritan families then either intermarried with families of fresh financial power, such as the Rockefellers, the Harrimans, The Weyerhaeusers and the Sloanes, or invited their sons into the order. Together, they have since infiltrated the highest echelons of power in American society, such as law, education, business, finance, industry, and of course government. Of this latter category, the Bush family is the most well-known example. In his 1999 campaign autobiography, President George W. Bush mentioned his membership in passing: My senior year I joined Skull and Bones, a secret society, so secret I can't say anything more. Or too inebriated or high to say anymore. Although other powerful families, such as the Carnegies, Morgan's and Fords, were never part of the Order, Bonesmen often ended up at key managing positions at enterprises that were part of these families' substantial wealth. Thus, it is no surprise that companies associated with the Carnegies, the Morgan's and the Rockefellers all made large contributions to Cecil Rhodes' cause according to Quigley. Following World War I, this synergy of Anglo-American wealth and power culminated in the establishment of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, commonly referred to as the Chatham House, on the British island, and its sister organization, the Council on Foreign Relations in the US, the combination of which represented the reincarnation of the hidden Anglo-American establishment in the post-war era. So, the CFR is the sister of Chatham House, the NSA is the sister group to the GCHQ and the CIA to the OSS, all of which made America the bastard off spring of the EL-ites. Carroll Quigley contends that subsequently, there grew up in the twentieth century a power structure between London and New York which penetrated deeply into university life, the press, and the practice of foreign policy. This is not an exaggeration, but an understatement, for the penetration of the relatively unknown Council on Foreign Relations into every aspect of American life has not just been deep, but jaw-dropping. The CFR essentially run American Government policy, not politicians. Understanding how vast the CFR tentacles reach allows the listener to understand how they pull plans off. Essentially there are inserted everywhere as you will see. G. Edward Griffin, a senior researcher of the network, explains: Now why is this important? It is important because the members of the Council on Foreign Relations are the rulers of America. Who are they? Well, once in a while their name pops into the news, but very seldom you get them all together. For the record everyone needs to be familiar with the prominent names of the members who are part of this outer ring of a secret society. Let's start with the presidents of the United States: Herbert Hoover, Dwight Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, Gerald Ford, James Carter, George Bush, Sr. and William (Bill) Clinton. Now JFK once said that he was a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, but nowhere can you find him on the membership rolls, so I guess he was a wannabee but did not quite make it in, the presidential candidates John Kerry and Vice-President Dick Cheney are members of the CFR. The Secretaries of States is a very important position for the group because it is even more important than the president. The president can be controlled, by the secretary of state, secretary of defense and all of his cabinet members, who are pretty much appointed for him. You know, presidents do not appoint their cabinet members from their own private telephone directories, they are told who to appoint. The secretaries of state, Dean Rusk, Robert Lansing, Frank Kellogg, Henry Stimson, Cordell Hull, E. R. Stettinius, George Marshall, Dean

Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Christian Herter, Dean Rusk, William Rogers, Henry Kissinger, Cyrus Vance, Edmund Muskie, Alexander Haig, George Schulz, James Baker, Lawrence Eagleburger, Warren Christopher, William Richardson, Madeleine Albright, Colin Powell and Condoleezza Rice. Secretaries of defense, James Forrestal, George Marshall, Charles Wilson, Neil McElroy, Robert McNamara, Melvin Laird, Elliot Richardson, James Schlesinger, Harold Brown, Caspar Weinberger, Frank Carlucci, Dick Cheney, Les Aspin, William Perry, William Cohen and Donald Rumsfeld. Directors of the CIA, Walter Bedell Smith, William Colby, Richard Helms, Allen Dulles, John McCone, James Schlesinger, George Bush, Sr., Stansfield Turner, William Casey, William Webster, Robert Gates, James Woolsey, John Deutch, William Studeman, George Tenet, Porter Goss and Michael Hayden.

Some better-known corporations with CFR members at the board of directors or chief executive levels, where they dominate these huge corporations. It is quite a list, I had to trim this down and here are just a few: Atlantic Richfield Oil Company, AT&T, Avon Products, Bechtel Construction Group, Boeing Company, Bristol Myers Squibb, Chevron, Coca Cola and Pepsi Cola, Consolidated Edison of New York, Exxon, Dow Chemical, Dupont Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Enron, Este Lauder, Ford Motors, General Electric, General Foods, Hewlett & Packard, Hughes Aircraft, IBM, International Paper, Johnson & Johnson, Levi Straus & Company, Lockheed Aerospace, Lucent Technologies, Mobile Oil, Monsanto, Northrup, Pacific Gas & Electric, Phillips Petroleum, Proctor & Gamble, Quaker Oats, SBC Yahoo, Shell Oil, Smith Kline Beach and Pharmaceuticals, Sprint Corporations, Texaco, Santa Fe Southern Pacific Railroad, Teledyne, TRW, Southern California Edison, Unocal, United Technologies, Verizon Communications, Warner Lambert, Weyerhaeuser and Xerox, to name just a few. In the media, you will find CFR members in the management and operational positions at the Army Times, Associated Press, Association of American Publishers, Barons, Boston Globe, Business Week, Christian Science Monitor, Dallas Morning News, Detroit Free Press, Detroit News, USA Today, Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, New York Post, San Diego Union Tribune, Times Mirror, Random House, WW Norton & Company, Warner Books, American Spectator, Atlantic, Harper's Farm Journal, Financial World, Insight, Washington Times, Medical Tribune, National Geographic, National Review, New Republic, New Yorker, Newsday, Newsmax, Newsweek, Pittsburg Post-Gazette, Reader's Digest, Rolling Stone, Scientific American, Time Warner, Time, US News & World Report, Washington Post, ABC, CBS, CNN, NBC, PBS, RCA, the Walt Disney Company and, of course, Rupert Murdoch. Media personalities, include David Brinkley, Tom Brokaw, William Buckley, Peter Jennings, Bill Moyers, Dan Rather, Diane Sawyer, Barbara Walters, Katie Couric and Andrea Mitchell, who is the wife of Alan Greenspan, former chairman of the Federal Reserve System. Of course, Alan is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Labour Unions with CFR members in key positions include AFL-CIO, United Steel Workers of America, United Auto Workers, American Federation of Teachers, Brick Layers & Allied Craft, Communication Workers of America, Union of Needle Traders and Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers. All the big ones. In the tax-exempt foundations and think tanks, the number of CFR members in controlling positions is 443. Some of the better-known are the Sloan and Kettering Foundations, Aspen Institute, Atlantic Council, Bilderberg Group, Brookings Institute, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Carnegie Foundation, Ford Foundation, Guggenheim Foundation, Hudson Institute, John and Catherine MacArthur foundation, Melon Foundation, RAND Corporation, Rhodes Scholarships Selection Committee, Rockefeller Foundation, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Trilateral Commission and the UN Association. In the universities, the number of CFR members who are, or have been, professors, department chairmen, presidents or board members is 563 by the last count. In the financial institutions such as banks, the Federal Reserve, stock exchanges and brokerages houses, the number of CFR members in controlling positions is 284. We could go into different areas but bear in mind that the total membership of this group is about 4,000 people. Now, there are a lot of churches in your home town with memberships equal to or larger than that. Wouldn't it be curious if you were to discover that the members of that one church held all of these positions in society? Wouldn't you be curious as to what is going on? But first you would have to know about it, and how would you know about it if the channels of communication by which you might be informed, are also controlled by these same people. Yes, it's a large group, but a large aging group who know their time is almost up, as too many people are connecting the dots now. The 4K pails into insignificance compared to the people, as for the corporations, they can be dealt with by a simple boycott of their products and services, and by us creating our own. For the record, Griffin's lecture stems from the era of Skull & Bones ambassador George W. Bush, but the CFR's control over American policy has not waned with Obama or Trump, who both have filled their cabinets with CFR members. Just as I warned about Trump, new boss same as the old boss. Hillary Clinton, wife of CFR member and former President Bill Clinton and two times presidential hopeful herself, made this abundantly clear when she spoke at one of the Council's events in New York in 2009 during her tenure as Obama's secretary of state: I am delighted to be here in these new headquarters. I have been often to I guess the mother ship in New York City, but it is good to have an outpost of the Council right here down the street from the State Department. We get a lot of advice from the Council, so this will mean I won't have as far to go to be told what we should be doing and how we should think about the future. The Mother ship? Was that a clue as to who these entities are?

GLOBAL TENTACLES: The Council on Foreign Relations is of course not the sole occupant of the establishment's outer circle. There are numerous other think tanks and secretive groups that advance the string-pullers' agenda active around the globe. The Bilderberg Conference, for instance, has been bringing elitists from Europe and North America together every year in near total secret since it was founded in 1954 by, amongst others, Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands with the help of Walter Bedell Smith and Allen Dulles, the latter two both CFR members and directors of the CIA. The attendees are one by one top officials from European and North American royalty, politics, industry, banking, media and academia, are led to believe that the meetings are organized on the principle of reaching consensus. But, in reality, just like Cecil Rhodes would have done it, the real power lies within the inner core, the Bilderberg Steering Committee, which selects the invitees and puts up the talking points. Past members of this inner ring include Baron Edmond de Rothschild, David Rockefeller and Henry Kissinger, while current members include such big names as Eric Schmidt, long-time executive chairman of Alphabet, YouTube and Google's mother company. Peter Thiel, co-founder of PayPal; and the editors-in-chief of both Bloomberg and the Economist, the latter in which the Rothschild family has held major shares for decades. While the Bilderbergers aim to strengthen the ties between the US's and Europe's elites, the Trilateral Commission made the bridge to Asia. Since its foundation by CFR members David Rockefeller and Zbigniew Brzezinski in 1973, after the Bilderberg Steering Committee refused to invite Japanese representatives to the conference, it has been organizing meetings to foster ties between the leaders of North America, Europe and Asia by, in David Rockefeller's words, bringing the best brains in the world to bear on the problems of the future. Best brains? A bunch of jackasses if you ask me, a bunch of not leaders, but pet followers of the fake gods. All the best brains and they couldn't come up with a plan for the Earth Restoration. Why? Because they couldn't work out how to restore things and they stay in control. Their version of control has been an utter disaster for this planet, on all levels these self-appointed goons have failed. Best brains my ass, best psychopaths more like it. These clowns are carefully selected into the membership roster, from which only the best patsies are selected into the Trilateral's Executive Committee, comprising a membership of no more than 36. The Council on Foreign Relations, Bilderberg Group and the Trilateral Commission in their turn are interwoven with a dense global network of financial institutions such as the World Bank, IMF, World Trade Organization and the Bank for International Settlements. Military and political institutions such as NATO, the European Union and the United Nations. Think tanks such as the Atlantic Council, RAND Corporation, the Brookings Institute, the Project for a New American Century and the Fabian Society. Secret societies and conference groups such as Le Cercle, the Club of Rome and Bohemian Grove. Tax-exempt foundations such as the Rockefeller, Ford and Bill & Melinda Gates Foundations; and a whole range of people in government, media, multinational corporations and other positions of power in society. Tick tock clowns, can you feel the force?

OTHER PIECES: Subtle changes are a key thing of the old control structure, in terms of replacing vowels or the vow to EL, name changes and phonetic pronunciations all played a role in providing a misinterpretation of the narrative. With the ultimate goal to steer you away from the truth. That fact alone gives you the clues to understanding much of life, the modern day version of factcheckers tells you all you need to know, by just simply reversing it. 9/10 that will be enough to arrive at a better conclusion and understanding of the global, national and state levels of the game. But I was pondering again last week and was asked a question about Enoch, not a particularly relevant question but it got me thinking. Let's look at three characters of the past Enki, Enlil and Enoch, did you notice the difference in those three? En-ki, En-lil but there is another en although curiously not pronounced the same E-noch not en-och, hmm I wonder why? En means to cause a person or thing to be in the place, condition, or state named by the stem. Och an expression of surprise, contempt, annoyance, impatience, or disagreement, an expression used to preface a remark, gain time, etc: And so Enoch in essence can to cause a person to be in a place in time, with an element of surprise to cause annoyance and disagreement. Which is exactly how the description of Enoch by Ashayne was relayed.

This is a small excerpt from Veterans Today, who are in part not all, faction based depending on the writer. Wikileaks is the listed source for the US/UK invasion of Iraq in 2003, Wikileaks is the source for current US policy on Iran, Wikileaks is the source behind the US bombing war on Yemen, the real war, a secret one. The secret one was the portal opening off the coast of Yemen, which has since been dealt with. In fact, every fake terror war, every color revolution for the past two decades has, to some degree, depended on the US of fake intelligence fabricated by Israel, and released through Wikileaks and Israeli agent Julian Assange. We have learned today that Trump is negotiating with Assange, trading a pardon for fabricated material on Biden being prepared for Wikileaks by Trump's Israeli masters. Below is the true story of Wikileaks going back many years, tying them to the Mossad and CIA and proving, as VT did years ago, that Wikileaks and everything about it is fake. We begin with the Bush era and move onward, in this decade ago study that unleashed the ADL, Wikipedia and AIPAC on VT. We laughed then but, as Assange helped put Trump, a dime store Hitler in office, the damage is done and America is in ruins. No one listened. No one listened when they nuked Beirut. They are far from finished with us. The two alt media internet based saviors Trump and Assange, are both patsies for the Israeli junta, just like Kushner. Remember the lines in both the Rosenthal and Finkelstein interviews, we play both sides. Understanding that enables the listener to see what is playing out.

This piece was from last year, but worth repeating again in the now. The space as we call it between the Universe is only separated by a very thin membrane, microscopically thin, it can't be seen, but it can be felt if you venture through it into the next Universe. The membrane can react or rebound on you, based on your own frequency level, but also your ability to travel. We unlike other species are multidimensional time and space travelers, which means with the right frequency, soul development, belief and trust, we are capable of traveling to not only other planets, but other solar systems and other Universes. This is why I say your own development and essence is worth way more than pieces of papers with numbers on, fully grasping that will lead to a massive leap in your understanding and soul development. We can travel at any point of time within the day, and often multiple times, without ever realizing it as such. We call it daydreaming and often say the most obvious things which are clues, yet we so often dismiss them. All of you have said many times over, oh I lost myself there and no idea where I was, you do realize you were traveling and in part out of your vessel in that moment? Where you go and how far you travel depends on your soul development level, as I understand it, as you progress you get a better cord, known as the silver cord. People often go in and out of the astral levels during day and night, how many of you have had dreams of people you know, buildings you recognize, but it is not exactly the same is it? Or you drive down a street familiar to you, and a building is missing or out of place? that is the astral level, that is almost a replica of here, almost, but not quite to close observers. I have seen whole roads disappear, half a town disappear and also observed a town jump back in time, and often these events go unnoticed, but not to a close observer. People do struggle to pay attention within their day to day lives, and that is why so many miss the subtle changes. People often complain they don't remember their dreams, or to use the correct term for dreams, spirit traveling. It is the time when the spirit travels and the vessel rests, the vessel essentially shuts down and runs on a low charge, until the spirit returns and recharges the vessel, and that is when you awaken. But there is often a short period of time between the low charge and then to the full recharge of the vessel, and small snippets of memories of your activities during sleep comes forward. They are clues for your awakening time, and yet so many ignore the clues also. If you do remember write it down and refer to it at a later date, what never made sense then, will do in the future. That happened to me with the GNA details, I had no idea what it meant, neither did the people I spoke to or any internet searches either, but two years later I connected the dots and the information package all unfolded before my eyes. Most people wake up every two hours, that is the general length of time a spirit can be out of body. Lucid dreaming is you engaging more of yourself or your vessel within that framework of activity, hence why you remember more. The gist of this explains the multidimensionality of us, of we can be in more than one place at any given point in time and space, being here and in the astral is the most common version. So, are we one person or multiple people dancing within and outside of time and space? What would happen if we are dual people or more than two? this brings in the shadows and also the alter which is another version of the you. With the veil or realms falling, what if there is a happenstance of you, being replaced by another version of you? would you recognize it? the answer is no, but other observers would. The reason I say this is because I have observed several people switch out to other versions of themselves recently, and by and large those changes have not been the better versions. What if the changes are not external of you but internal and the predominant alter or shadow of you, is unveiling before other people's eyes, but not you? What if the other version of you is from the veil or realm 4 or 6? Is it possible to switch out or switch bodies? If you have met yourself in dream time, you have confirmation of the other versions of you. We have spoken about the shadow and inner work for about 7 years now on this show as being important. The importance of that is now all around you, many losing the plot, riddled in fear, playing old world games and programs, all following an authority that barely defies belief of their levels of crass stupidity. Adults acting like children as we had warned, it is all there to see now, yet we predicted it 7 years ago. How many people have phased out of your lives recently, particularly the last few years? Is that part of the shift? where those people are like a phone signal, if you're not in the right area, no signal is observed, will that happen to many of the people here? Will their signal be lost in the mist of time and space? I spoke of phasing and shifting being key words from 2020 onwards, are we now seeing evidence of that? Are we seeing dual people? due to people not integrating their shadow sides, or has their alter been activated by the increase in frequency? or the G Cloud? I said in 2015 if there were aspects of yourself you didn't like, now was the time to change that, as the masks would fall and people would see the real you. Which version of you would you really like people to see? which version of you currently do they see? There is an old Native America saying of people being of two wolves, one is nice and one is not, which one wins? the one you feed is the reply. The dual people have chosen that I have witnessed are showing their bad side, because that is the one they feed. Anger, wrath, envy, sorrow, greed, arrogance, ego, self pity, lies, false pride, superiority, guilt or regret are some of the emotions that produce the bad side of a person. Will the dual people switch back? their choice and not our decision to make. At some point these dual bodies or phasing out people will reach a nadir, will there be a blank slate and a shift? an event? or a cut off point? time will tell and maybe 2024-25 is a possibility? Maybe then the movie reel of life and it's projector will slide off of the reel? Will humanity put that reel back onto the other reel and replay back, like a loop again? or will we become the writer, director and starring role in a new movie, that is inherently better than the last one? May it be as darkness falls, your heart will be true.

In two generations our children will be walking libraries of real knowledge and truth, immersed in creativity, taught the ancient secrets of self-healing, and set on a course of mental planes evolution and ultimately cosmic evolution and beyond, so they can become the beacon of progress for our species. In two generations we can replace need not greed and put an end to the materialistic debt loop, of keeping up with the Jones's in a competitive mindset of people, who trample over everything and everyone under a cor-pirate structure. In two generations we can work and learn from all the different cultures globally in a way that is conducive to all of us, not under the rule of law, but under the directives of understanding, openness, willing and striven to improve. In two generations we can completely overhaul all the wrongs on this planet, be it people, non-humans or control systems, and set a course for not for only the living beings on this planet, but also the planet herself. In two generations we can speak to, work with, learn together and set a blueprint for this Universe with all the ET's and NT's that are here, before those who wish to return to the homeworlds. All species working in harmony, not destroying each other, so they can go home and teach their species a better way also. In two generations we can all learn to be harmony with the self, cure the sickness within us, of mired in self-doubt, little me, envy, greed, insecurity, weakness into strengths, the lack of love, caring and sharing, the lack of consideration for others. Where people are not defined by labels or chattel numbers or by one individual color of the spectrum, but we all become the full spectrum of color, radiating out for all the Universe to see. Where all are inclusive, not exclusive, on a planet where we create not destroy, a planet we treasure not disrespect, a planet of real hope, love, empathy and compassion, with us all exhibiting personal responsibility. A planet we can then truly call home, set in our image not their image. It will require the input of the all, not just the few, it will require for you all to be more flexible with yourself and with others, it will require you to be in service to others, not just for the self, it will require you to expand your consciousness, understanding and mindset. To think and act differently, it will require you to focus not on your home, neighborhood, city, state and country, but globally, it will require you to ditch your current old vessel riddled with dis-ease and lies, and recreate a new version of you that shines brightly, that learns, teaches, helps and strives for the better world we can all be proud of. Not all of us will see it through to the end in this lifetime, but with the inner war gains we have done, all those who pass on and return to source, now have the opportunity to choose to return here one day to witness the fruits of your labor. We all have a duty and obligation, all of us to create a new world and give the children and subsequent generations a chance to thrive, and correct the ills we have all gone along with or helped create. Ask less of what your country can do with you, and more of what can I do for my planet and all the living species on, around and inside her. Just because others look like their winning, does not mean you are losing, they can no longer defeat us now, only we can do that.

A caveat from the earlier Expose piece. Of course, not all people involved with all of these organizations or at the high-level government positions mentioned by Griffin, are aware of the fact that they are part of the outer circle of a secret society, but that right there is the genius of it. Politicians think they are elected, instead of selected, and leaders in industry, finance, media and academia believe they thrive solely thanks to their own ambitions, not because their thinking might be in line with the puppetmasters' master vision. If these patsies in turn convince the public that they live in a democratic country of for, by and of the people, if they just cast their vote every couple of years and merely obey in the meantime, they have come up with a system infinitely more successful than any would-be tyrant from the pages of history could have only dreamt to ever imagine. The question, then, remains: What kind of world do they intend to shape? No, the question is what type of world we wish to shape, forget them clowns, every one of them relies on us, without which they are nothing. We are the foundation, we are the white hats and we are the power once we recognize it. They have an illusion of power built on very flimsy ground currently. They have lost the power of the word, they have lost or losing the media battle, they are losing the people as finally more are seeing through the illusion, they have lost their secrecy card, their secret codes and doctrine, their secret control structure organization, their Illuminati now broken into factions, who are fighting each other. We have a fantastic opportunity to fill the void of their losses, for the first time in history a world that can be ran by the people who are not egotistic psychopaths. That is the task I set before you, noncompliance, nonviolent, non-hostile planetary wide takeover by people wishing a better life than these brightest of jackasses gave us. Incestuous buffoons whose genetic imprint has been destroyed by repeated inbreeding, whose minds are addled so far from reality it's not funny. Hearts? These entities don't have one, they are the tin men, and half are dressed like Dorothy. Their control structure is now made of straw, the straw is burning and the needle dicks in the haystack haven't realized it yet. Remember when asked for a global plan twice, they even failed that. It is they who fear us, fear us coming together and why they run pathetic divide and conquer games on us. Ignore it and them, and let's get building together. All it took is people coming together and just a little.....

ENDING PIECE: An intriguing show tonight with many plots, twists and turns, that revealed much more when it is all connected together. Togetherness has been the theme of this week, the sheer beauty of it long forgotten in the mists of ti-me. As THI took the road less traveled this week and we danced in their backyard. I don't think I ruined too much this week. The great question now is, are you service to self, or of service with and to others. There is a far greater purpose here, a far great meaning that has been drummed home in an emphatic way since the last show. The greatest show on earth, and no I don't mean THI, I mean us, as a collective. Those that dared to be different, those that opened their hearts, those showed that they truly cared and shared. Some came with a strategy and a plot to escalate the fall of the dark forces, but their fall did not come in Autumn, it came in the spring. At 12.15 and the power of the nine, executed the plot, whilst others went to pot to escalate their own downfall. They put up their wall, we brought ours with us, some learned to stand tall, others just cried, one made their intent clear and the power behind it did the rest, and some just beamed with immense pride of the togetherness of it all. The two M's marveled at it all, and we all embraced under our own Holly tree. One was too quick on the draw, and the cry went out, said woman take it slow and things will work out fine, all you need is just a little patience, yeah yeah went the choral orchestra. Many sang in tune and one meowed like a spy with a vasectomy. One was so inspired she wrote her own battle music piece. All done in the nick of time, as one displayed the fire in the works. One played the knight of the shining umbrella. The power of the few can overcome the power of the many with the right application and willingness. The path was created but can only be walked by those that are ready, no one can do it for you, only you can walk the straight path, or you can loop in the cul de sacs of life. What are your choices? Trouble and strife? Or meaning and life? We have a purpose, they had a porpoise of hierarchy, war and self-importance, no wonder they walked like an Egyptian. We all rose high without Viagra, whilst they had e reptile dysfunction. You can't see the forest for the trees, but what if there was no forest to begin with? Will that crystallize your thinking? Some went mining for answers, that left a giant crater in their thinking patterns, as the art of seeing became crystal clear. A Greek tragedy unfolded and all could see, as we time traveled along the path and the heads started exploding. The young ones struggled with the pace, and rested their weary heads, as mad max replete with her Moses staff sped past them on the undulating trail. As K & P went nuts with a pea! Whilst one repeated the two worded Lily Allen song. We “romed” over to catch the Italian treat and the word salad was tossed and turned, whilst one drank the lizard soup said to be a delicacy, well it was so delicate no one went near it. They thought they could hamstring us, but we held firm. Here is a new word for the cabal, deep states and rich elites, and dare I say it the bot like minions of people propping up and illusion. The word is halfwittedry an irrational condition of delusion, and deep desire to hold onto power and control, for a system and world that no longer exists. If you don't dance in love, you are destined to dance in fear. If you don't dance in harmony with others, say hi to the Metatronic coding when it visits you. If hate and division are the answer, the question was indicative. If the question is which plane are you on? The answer is whether you fly or plunge. You will never be able to escape from your heart, so it is better to listen to what it has to say. People may ask where were you when I was burned and broken? As we were lost in thought and lost in time, so we took a heavenly ride through our silence. But we knew the moment had arrived, for killing the past and coming back to life.

We took a heavenly ride through our silence; we knew the waiting had begun and headed straight into the shining sun. By unlocking it's powers and applying the key. As the silver rings kissed the sun we knew a new world had just begun. Hearts were spinning with joy and pride, as we enjoyed the journey and awaited the destination.

Pride was exuded as one man came in the name of love, one man come and go one man come, he to justify and one man to overthrow, all done in the name of love. But, I am just a simple man, and freedom is the only thing that means a damn to me, Oh, you can't fake it. As Freedom is the only song, that sings a song for me, and oh we're gonna make it. I'm up off my knees, girl, I'm face to face with myself and I know who I am Hello, our name is human, we stole the power from the sun and we are more than just man. I'm not asking questions, cause questions have answers and I don't want answers, just soulutions. We came down from the stars so we could take our chances, and what are the chances? That we could advance on our own circumstances? But, who's got my back now? You will all ask, everyone who touches you, once you see. The Covenant has been broken by mankind. There's still time, all that has been devastated can be recreated, just realize. We pick up the broken pieces of our lives, giving ourselves to each other, but what is the truth now? What is the truth now? well what is unfolding is compassion, love, truth, reality, vision, new ways, out of the darkness emerges the light. We were the lock and the key, the sun shone it's light and presented the opportunity all as the darkness lined up in sequence in the night sky, to view their demise. Lucifer, Jehovian, Mar(s)duk and Set, Venus, Jupiter, Mars and Saturn with Lilith in tow, as the key looked on and waited. A celestial night dance borne out of evil all in alignment, trailing a wake of destruction behind them. But, the night broke and the sun kissed goodbye to the night demons, that also darkened our days. Sealing us with sigils, cosmic overlays, the daisy of death and the Alpha Draconian battle flag star, all designed to harvest our energy on the death, sacrifice and harvesting parallel. We recreated our own version of news, north, east, west and south as the tiny ripples of the truth, justice and triumph ultimately slayed another beast. The tsunami version of it that followed will be resonant for some of our time, but all of their time, recognize it and integrate it and carry it forward. We re-arranged the words and produced the sword, a sword of truth with unlimited power, erased over 3000 years plus of his story. We came, we saw and we conquered and the covenant really has been broken by mankind.