

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2022-06-09

The village welcomed another first time visitor to the fold, Colleen Ferris came to see the village and met the people already there. Yet again members meeting each other was a great and comfortable for all who were there, this pleases me more than most. But, Colleen fitted in seamlessly and a short but great time was had by all. Big thank you to Colleen you are a THI treasure. Last Saturday despite interference by clowns at Microsoft, we launched 4 new projects to deal with the current situations we all face. It is important we the people come together, before the authorities create sufficient discord amongst the people, and internal war breaks out. The 4 projects to be launched are The Peoples Color, which will have 2 categories, for us to engage and address. Engaging discourse with black people groups including Dane Calloway and others. Appealing to them to see through the media campaign is the first step. Cite the Israel Cohen speech telling the world how they will use blacks against whites. Work on exposing programs like the media, Antifa and BLM as being part of the system to denigrate us all, and promote divide and conquer. Work on teaching real history. Discuss how people can clean up their area with community encouragement. Engage various black groups and get their feedback. Stress the importance of coming together. Come up with solutions, write letters to wealthy black people and ask for donations to set up a community group to discuss and implement projects going forward for the black people. Feedback in terms of reports can be sent to me when ready and will be read out in the show, as part of the transition of THI more to the TPC.

Engaging discourse with Jewish people. Work on teaching real history, work on exposing programs that is pitting us all against each other. Discuss the needs of Jewish people and how and what improvements are required for their area with community encouragement. Getting to recognize Israel is not working for the Jewish people, why they are so unpopular with many cultures, and how they can be the change for it. Discuss the Jewish EL-ite program, most monies in the hands of alleged Jews, and yet they live in poverty and settlements. Set up a committee of bring up points of discussion and projects going forward. Engage various Jewish groups and get their feedback. Draft letters of requesting funding from the Holocaust centers, which can be hand delivered, and copies posted into the Jewish communities in New York. Under the banner of giving back. Feedback in terms of reports can be sent to me when ready and will be read out in the show, as part of the transition of THI more to the TPC.

Why is this required? we can carry on fighting, mistrusting and arguing with each other, pointing fingers at each other or come up with solutions to fix it for the all. Fighting each other this lifetime never mind all the others previously, has not worked for any particular group, including the controllers that were at the top. A new vision and path is the way forward, of need not greed, caring and sharing and cooperating not competing or being comparative. We cannot carry on allowing the media and think tanks to think for us, and repeating scripts without the real history. Which was a giant cover up to protect one group in particular, who created situations to keep us all fighting. White, Black, Jewish, Asian or Hispanic, all have a common enemy, those who call themselves

Jews but they are not. Our shows have delivered a plethora of knowledge on these entities and who they operate for, it is time for all people to see it for what it is, and come together.

Full Disclosure for full disclaimer. This will be known as the Truth, Honor & Integrity Act going forward. Set up a committee and work on an opening statement of why this is needed, how it can be implemented. Since writing this a committee has been set up to take this forward, and great ideas exchanged. I will probably write the preface to this. Highlighting the world is in a unfixable mess, and how we need real change. Insert the spiritual component, the non-dark agenda, karma, the vibration of truth, the non-violent non retribution plan, how many have been blackmailed or coerced into doing wrong or bad things. Take the plan put forward in the show and edit it, come up with more solutions, the full what, when, why and how headlines to then break the document down into a full on letter of intent. This will then be sent to respective Governments, Politicians, Agencies, Militaries, the UN and whatever other organizations the team can come up with. Target date September 2022 and so before the US mid-term elections. The letter can be adjusted for different countries. This will be a THI Positive Action group only to protect the TPC.

A New blueprint for Humanity. Take the whole show and break it up into sections, and give each section for a person to edit it, enhance it and come up with a more detailed description of it. Highlight world is in a unfixable mess, and how we need real change. How each section will improve life for us all to be added. Any other solutions for each category to be collected and arrange a call with me and I will then discuss the merits of them, and add suggestions. Discuss new categories that could be added also. I will work on an opening statement to then add to the document. This will eventually end up as a manifesto for we the people. An added component to this document is being worked on privately, that will eventually be added to the manifesto at the right time. This claim and manifesto will be delivered to relevant bodies when completed. This will be a THI Positive Action group only, to protect the TPC.

The initial findings, committees tasks formulated and suggestions etc to be presented to me in another zoom Saturday June 18th at noon MT 7pm UK Imagine section can be applied to each group- the vision behind it and the benefits of doing it. Like a mission statement as it were.

All successes, letters and impacts for all these sections maybe added to the Thinkdifferent website, and also possibly adding approved connections to our group in a flower of life graphic at a later date. The discourse and feedback from these ventures will be reported more regularly, and replace sections of the THI show going forward. This is part of the transition for the show from THI to more the TPC and connecting works and projects we are doing, instead of reporting the rank stupidity of their world. Everybody wants to rule the world except we the people, well we are about to change that.

NEWS: As gas prices rose again this week, at which point will Biden be called out on his January promise of, it will be $3 a gallon shortly, no it's $5 here jackass, and well over $6 in California.

Just what is the Government going to do about it? Anything? Are they allowed or indeed capable of doing so? Every year in America gas prices rise with the onset of summer, why? Because people travel more and then when Autumn arrives it begins to fall back down. This reveals it is a deliberate ploy to yet again milk the public out of their hard earned funds. Those on minimum wage may find with these prices for gas, and the only option to work is by car, that the worker will be better off at home due to the increased costs just to get to work. With inflation through the roof, conglomerate companies and big box store inflating all their prices under the fake banner of Covid. With record unemployment and people quitting jobs, and no current plan from the Government, it appears to any common sense purposes this whole country is being shut down. So, what happens next? Street violence, robbery and total disorder from a public already reeling through knowing their fake Covid measures was all a scam. Unless drastic action is taken soon, we will be facing the end of the country known as America. All done by the same people who gave America a fake name called the United States.

The Russian Investigative Committee said on Sunday, it will look into allegations the Ukrainian Red Cross Society was involved in shady activities, including keeping records of children with healthy organs in the city of Mariupol. All of which means it was a trafficking operation. The claim came from Vladimir Taranenko, the head of the Donetsk-based civic organization Peoples Retinue, a volunteer movement that states as one of its goals assisting law enforcement in the Donetsk People's Republic. The activist posted a video of what he called a search of the Red Cross office in Mariupol on his social media, and claimed some of the evidence found there casts the group in a very suspicious light. He claimed the office had medical records for over 1,000 children, but they marked their healthy organs instead of any medical conditions or procedures. Taranenko also claimed that some of the reading materials discovered at the office were instructions on how to use weapons, including in a format intended for children. The video showed at least one military-related manual. It was a printout of Practical Military Ordnance Identification by Thomas Gersbeck, a retired US Marines Explosive Ordnance Disposal technician. The book is a field manual on how to identify unexploded munitions and handle them in a safe manner. Taranenko has said that DPR investigators will shed light on the activities of the society. The Russian committee said it will add the video to a list of evidence it already has regarding suspected crimes by Kiev. Mariupol is a major port city in the DPR. It was liberated by Russian and Donbass forces during the ongoing military campaign against Ukraine. Neither the Ukrainian society nor the International Committee of the Red Cross would immediately comment on the allegations. Red Cross or the cross of blood, have been involved in this for a long time. They are not a charity far from it, they are a harvesting agent on behalf of the EL-ites. The sooner people see that, the sooner their program and group ends.

The Russian Defense Ministry released on Friday, what it claimed to be staged combat scenes filmed on behalf of the Ukrainian government and paid for by the British government. The two short clips appear to be raw footage of what looks like a war movie. The filming of the videos took place on May 28 in the town of Meshkovka in Ukraine's Nikolaev Region, the ministry said. A train station of the same name is located on the outskirts of the provincial capital in the south of the country. One of the videos shows two armored vehicles facing the camera. At the command of a woman, who appears to be the film director, the backdoor of the closest vehicle opens, and a group of armed men in uniform wearing red armbands starts pouring out. Several others rise from the grass around the second vehicle in the distance and start moving forward, their weapons raised. The second clip is a shootout scene, with a group of armed uniformed men retreating through rubble while firing back at an unseen enemy. Pyrotechnics appear to simulate enemy fire. At one point, a professional-looking film crew comes into view. According to the Russian Defense Ministry, the videos are meant to inspire confidence in Kiev's fighting abilities both in Ukraine and Western nations, and to showcase the supposed effectiveness of Western weapons supplied to the country. The shootout scene, according to the statement, is meant to be a recreation of a heroic Ukrainian stand against overwhelming Russian forces that never actually happened. The first video, the Russian military claimed, is supposed to show advancing Russian troops, who were played by a group of Ukrainian militias. The statement claimed the film crew couldn't get any actual Russian armored vehicles for the scene, and used Ukrainian ones instead. The next filming session was scheduled for June 5 and 6, Defense Ministry spokesman Major General Igor Konashenkov claimed. The footage will be of staged testimony by ordinary Ukrainians accusing Russia of supposedly firing at peaceful communities on purpose. The ministry claimed that the UK not only funded the filming, but also offered its creative input. The project was launched amid Kiev's political disaster in Mariupol and military defeats in the Donbass, the statement said. The recent bombing and shelling done in Donbass for media pro pagan da, was done by the Ukrainian Nazis Azov. Just how desperate are MI6 to make Russia look bad, newsflash for you guys, far from making Russia look bad, you are making yourselves look like childish brats and completely incompetent. Another act of cowardice, hiding behind a fake scene and filmed by the fake media, utterly embarrassing.

This does not put black people in prominent positions in good light. The Apartheid system was just plain wrong, but what lessons have been learnt from it? Why are African politicians always squabbling with each other instead of focusing on improving their countries and its peoples? South Africa's former spy chief has accused President Cyril Ramaphosa, of kidnapping and bribery in a case he has registered with the police.

Arthur Fraser said the case related to the alleged attempted theft of $4m in 2020 at one of the president's properties, and the alleged efforts to conceal what happened.

Mr. Ramaphosa said there is no basis for the claims of criminal conduct.

Mr. Fraser is seen by some as an ally of former President Jacob Zuma.

Some believe the allegations could be linked to wrangles within the ruling African National Congress, ahead of a leadership race in December.

The police have confirmed that a case has been registered with them and that due processes will follow, which includes an initial investigation.

Mr Fraser, who ran the country's State Security Agency between 2016 and 2018, has said he has handed photographs, bank account details and video footage over to the police.

In a statement, he alleged that criminals broke into a farm in Limpopo province in February 2020 to steal more than $4m. They were then detained and interrogated on the property, and paid to keep quiet about what had happened.

Mr. Ramaphosa's office confirmed that there was a robbery at his farm in Limpopo, in which proceeds from the sale of game were stolen.

The president, who was out of the country at the time, reported the incident to the police's presidential protection unit.

More evidence of stupid clown policies affecting countries to this day. Over 20 percent of major Japanese companies that do business in Russia, have decided to halt such operations following Moscow's invasion of Ukraine, that triggered Western nations' economic sanctions against Russia. In the Teikoku Databank Ltd. survey of 168 major Japanese firms that operate businesses in Russia, 37 companies said they plan to stop operations there, amid a worsening environment due to disruptions in logistics and supply chains. Watch Japan's economy begin to collapse the same as other countries who are going along with jackass policies.

America's electric grid is being mismanaged and consumers will pay a heavy price for that mismanagement. More evidence of that came with the recent closure of the Palisades Power Plant in Michigan. The 811-megawatt nuclear plant was shut down on the same day that, the North American Electric Reliability Corporation issued a report saying, the U.S. electric grid doesn't have enough generation capacity, and that blackouts are almost certain to occur across the country this summer. This is why we need to implement the energy solution from our show, and all those problems will go away. It is high time the Government were told to put the people first, not investors, vulture capitalists and greed merchants.

More child level pranks by so called top officials. Chinese fighter planes intercepted an Australian aircraft in the South China Sea Region, during a routine surveillance activity by Australia in international airspace, the department of security said in a news release Saturday. The intercept resulted in a dangerous maneuver causing a safety threat, to the Australian RAAF P-8 maritime aircraft and its crew on May 26. An Australian defense spokesperson confirmed to Global News that flares were deployed into the plane's path. The Australian government says it has raised concerns about the interception to the Chinese government. The simple solution for the Australian Government is, tell ASIO and the 5 eyes groups to stop using your country as an agitator of war.

Fox News confirmed recently what we said on this show three years ago, that the DNC runs the FBI. After it was revealed by a law firm connected to the Democrats and Hillary, the FBI had an office in the law groups office center in DC.

A viral video showing two women scaling the wall of a well to access water, has highlighted the acute shortage in several areas of the central Indian state of Madhya Pradesh.

The video shows the women on the wall of the well without a rope or harness to access water, with the water being many feet down the shaft. This is just wrong on many levels, A: the levels of wealth in India, when at one point recently 6/10 of the world's richest people were from India, B: what is wrong with the men doing the climbing? What type of man lets an elderly woman climb down a water well? Utterly shameful behavior, where is your honor and protector of the family, women and elderly? Why is your culture promoting women as second-class citizens?

People in Ghushiya village have been forced to take such extreme measures after wells and ponds have dried.

Several other areas across India are facing similar water crisis.

Videos showing Indians risking their lives to get water frequently go viral. In April, a similar video showed a woman going down a well in Maharashtra state to get water.

A 2019 global report had named India among 17 countries where water stress was extremely high. In Madhya Pradesh, water shortage is a recurring issue every summer. The state government has promised tap water supply to every village by 2024, but drinking water is still inaccessible to millions. State promises are never or rarely fulfilled where we the people are concerned.

More Israeli kickback unfolding. Israeli rejection of the Palestinian right of return is the same as great replacement theory, the so-called conspiracy theory that drove the Buffalo shooter, US Senator Bernie Sanders's foreign policy adviser Matt Duss and several American commentators have claimed. In the Israeli-Palestinian context, great replacement theory is expressed as opposition to the Palestinian right of return, which treats Palestinians as a demographic threat, said Duss. US leaders condemn the former while constantly declaring support for the latter. It's fine and appropriate to discuss the historical context for Israel's restrictive immigration policies, which is different from the US. Duss continued, saying that proponents of Israel's position should understand, though, that treating a disfavored minority as a demographic threat is an approach shared by ethnonationalist movements. Jewish Currents Editor-at-Large Peter Beinart and Al Jazeera journalist Ali Harb also indicated that Israel's rejection of the Palestinian right of the return, was comparable to the narrative expressed by the gunman that killed 10 people and injured three in a Buffalo mass shooting. Beinart who is Jewish is now a number of Jewish people who are now beginning to question Israel and its policies, which is great to see. In response to an Anti-Defamation League statement criticizing American politicians it felt espoused great replacement theory, Harb noted that the ADL had previously warned of the impact that an influx of Palestinian refugees and their descendants would have on Israel. Always the victim and never their fault is a common theme and tactic. Did the ADL or other Jewish EL-ites lobby groups consider the impact on all the surrounding countries, when taking over their lands? Of course not, life is a one way street where those people are concerned. Not once have I seen any empathy for anyone from that fake state, including for their alleged own people, which is why so many are leaving. The ADL denounces in America the principles it advocates in Israel, said Beinart. The ADL has said the Palestinian right of return, the right for Palestinian refugees of the 1948 and 1967 wars and their descendants to emigrate to Israel, would result in Jews being the minority and end of Israel as a Jewish state. It was not theirs to begin with. Matt Duss is exploiting a racist attack by an avowed anti-Semite to argue, oh dear out comes the racist card from the most racist group on this planet, read the Talmud to confirm that. They are stating that Jews should be gerrymandered out of their one, tiny state, said CAMERA senior research analyst Gilead Ini, who also argued that terrorist organizations and Arab leaders had acknowledged that the policy was intended to dissolve Israel. It is not one tiny State though is it Mr. Ini? The influence and interference that goes into many countries. Ini noted Duss had in the past described Jews moving into east Jerusalem as Judaizing, which by his own definition makes him the same as the white-supremacist Buffalo shooter. What a desperate deflection comment that was, no mention of Israel shooting little kids dead at the same time, maybe the Buffalo shooting provided a distraction. This is the MSM version of panic descriptions to delete the great replacement narrative. The Great replacement is the conspiracy theory that a cabal of political elites, often Jews, are trying to destroy white culture or race through mass migration of non-white peoples. It is not a theory it has already happened, plus FHSTOS reveals it all in their own words with graphs and full details. It is often part of a narrative about white genocide, well from 1/3 to 1/10 in 100 years proves that is not a theory. It has manifested in the slogan you will not replace us, or Jews will not replace us. The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, The Talmud and the Kalergi plan proves that also. Another connected refrain is open borders for Israel, which points to Jews as the hypocritical malicious force behind the supposed replacement. It's been fun recently watching progressives completely absorb white nationalist propaganda in claiming Jews want open borders in the US and closed borders in Israel, wrote Jewish Journal new media director Blake Flayton. But that is actually unfolding Mr. Flayton or is it Flake Blayton? Here is a quote directly from Mr. Flayton, I'm a young American Jew and a proud Zionist. Indeed Mr. Flayton, but you are either American or Jewish as converging the two is a racist statement, as there is no category for American White. All the Jewish media are flying out now to put the genie back in the bottle, because the world is starting to wake up to the reality of who are the cause of many of the world's ills. Guess what? The truth is unfolding and it can't and won't be stopped.

A military officer and a weapons scientist have died under mysterious circumstances in Tehran. Israel has taken responsibility for assassinating another senior officer, saying it was a warning to Iran's secret Unit 840. The deaths are ratcheting-up tensions between Iran and Israel. A military officer and a weapons scientist have died under mysterious circumstances in Tehran, fueling tension between Iran and Israel. Military officer Colonel Ali Esmaelzadeh died under unverified circumstances on Friday. The New York Times reported that various sources said his death was either an assassination, a suicide, or an accident. Esmaelzadeh died just one week after the drive-by-shooting, and the subsequent death of Colonel Sayad Khodaei outside his home in Tehran, another high-ranking officer in the same unit as Esmaelzadeh. The New York Times reported that an official briefed on official intelligence has confirmed, Israel informed US officials that they were responsible for the killing of Khodaei. They just kill with impunity it seems, and no one currently holds them accountable. Life is all just too cheap where Is Ra El is concerned.

Another country deciding to take on Israel now. Lebanon has warned Israel against any aggressive action in disputed waters, where both states hope to develop offshore energy, after a ship arrived off the coast to produce gas for Israel. President Michel Aoun said any activity in the disputed area would amount to an act of aggression and a provocation, after the arrival of the natural gas storage and production ship operated by London-based Energean. Israel says the field in question is within its exclusive economic zone, not in disputed waters. No it is not, but these people seem to think everything belongs to them, and that has to be stopped. But in a statement the Lebanese presidency said Aoun discussed with caretaker Prime Minister Najib Mikati, the vessel's entry into the disputed maritime area with Israel, and asked the Army Command to provide him with accurate and official data to build upon the matter. Aoun said negotiations to delineate the southern maritime border continued, and any action or activity in the disputed area represents a provocation and an aggressive action. Energean said its floating production storage and offloading vessel arrived on Sunday at the Karish field, about 50 miles west of the city of Haifa, in Israel's exclusive economic zone. The company said it planned to bring it online in the third quarter. Mikati said Israel was encroaching on Lebanon's maritime wealth, and imposing a fait accompli in a disputed area, calling this extremely dangerous. Now you know why the establishment wants to impose sanctions on Russia and reduce its energy supply, so the pirates of Israel can then provide it.

MEDICAL ISSUES: More evidence emerging of atrocities and awful programs coming out of Ukraine, on top of the earlier piece of potential child organ trafficking by the Red Cross. The Ministry of Defense of the Russian Federation continues to study materials, on the implementation of military -biological programs of the United States and its NATO allies, on the territory of Ukraine. In accordance with the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention, each State party submits an annual report in the form of a declaration of compliance with the requirements of the Convention. It is currently the only reporting document on the implementation of the Convention, within the framework of the Confidence-Building Measures. In connection with the investigation of US military-biological activities in Ukraine, we analyzed the documents sent by these states to the UN. It should be noted that in these materials in form A of part 2i, neither Ukraine nor the United States provided information on joint biological research, as well as developments in the field of biological protection. Also, Poland and Germany did not declare cooperation with Ukraine in their reports. In addition, in these reports in form F for the period from 2016 to 2020, Ukraine states that: The Government of Ukraine has not conducted and does not conduct any offensive and defensive activities, within the framework of biological research and development programs. The government of Ukraine does not have information about such activities of the former USSR on the territory of Ukraine since January 1, 1946. This contradicts the statement made on May 20, 2022 by the Deputy Permanent Representative of the United States to the OSCE, Lewis Gitter, that assistance to Kiev is aimed at reducing biological and veterinary dangers, as well as in order to secure illegal stocks of biological weapons left after the USSR. And they need 11 Pentagon led Bio-labs in Ukraine to achieve that? Me thinks they doth protest and lie too much. In addition, there are numerous inconsistencies in the reporting sent by Ukraine. Thus, in the form A confidence-building measures for 2020, the complete absence of national biosecurity programs is declared. At the same time, in part 2i of this form, the Research Institute of Biotechnology of Microbial Strains in Kyiv is indicated as, a participant in the biological protection program. In addition, the characteristics of the facility, the area of laboratory premises and the number of personnel, do not correspond to the information previously submitted by Ukraine. The question arises: why did the reporting documents of the United States and Ukraine sent to the UN, not indicate the work in the framework of joint military-biological projects code-named UP? Such secrecy is an occasion to think about the true goals of the Pentagon in Ukraine. Exactly, wasting billions of dollars of the people's money to kill masses of people, it needs to be seen for what it is and suitably addressed. Preferably in the way suggested in our Solutions show.

The figures are now in support our Expose series of how the jabbed immune systems crash after 5 months of taking the jab. This also explains why those jabbed get more sick as well, with your immune system compromised and the brain piercing PCR test, it leaves them susceptible to all kinds of diseases. The immune crash unfolds in all age categories, and these are the records 5 months after jabbing. Ages 18-29 a 55% crash of their immune system, 30-39 a 58% crash, 40-49 a 60% crash, 50-59 a 55% crash, 60-69 a 47% crash, 70-79 a 36% crash and 80 and over a 7% reduction of the immune system. Sad figures the MSM won't tell the comply to everything people, without looking into what it is, what it does or even whether it is required? They only have themselves to blame in most cases, as they volunteered for it.

Here is an interesting article from Sott.net that highlights the medical fraud, and also confirms one of THI's predictions of famous or known people all beginning to die off. We are in the middle of the biggest scam and get-rich-quick Ponzi scheme in world history. Some might call it mass murder on a grand scale. Open your eyes and see the remarkable number of famous actors, politicians and athletes who are dropping dead, or suffering heart attacks, strokes, blood clots, as well as dramatic increases in cancer, is it coincidence? Nope, nor is it a coincidence. In only the past week we saw famous acting icon Ray Liotta die at age 67, rocker Andy Fletcher of the band Depeche Mode die at age 60, and Alan White the drummer for the rock band Yes die at age 72. Famous Americans are dropping like flies, is it all coincidence? The latest addition to that was the actor Brad Johnson this week, aged just 62. Is it all about old age, or is something terrible happening that needs to be investigated? Of why are so many famous people dying? Could it be because lots of average people are dying too? Life insurance executives are reporting non-Covid deaths are up a staggering 40% across the USA, the largest increase ever seen. Ask any funeral home director, business is booming like never before. Something is very wrong and yet no one is reporting it, no one is investigating, well this show did, we did the bulk of the Expose shows in 2020. We're not even allowed to ask questions for fear of being slandered, ostracized, or banned from social media. This scam I'm talking about is not Covid-19, Covid is real it's a flu pandemic, this isn't the first flu pandemic and it won't be the last. As a matter of fact, many Americans are sick again with Covid. The strange this is, every single person I know who is experiencing Covid again is triple vaxxed. How does that work? If I told you everyone, I met with Polio had gotten three Polio shots, would you consider the polio vaccine a success? Or a miserable failure? This world-class scam is easy to see. It's the response by government, President Biden, Democrat politicians, Dr. Fauci, the CDC, and the media regarding the Covid vaccines. Something is very wrong, something has gone very bad, we are off the rails. And too few want to talk about it, or discuss it, or even debate it. Not only is the media and social media involved in the biggest blackout, whitewash and cover-up in history. But, our government, medical experts and the media all the powers that be, are all still pushing this dangerous and deadly jab, despite the evidence of massive injuries and deaths. Does this make sense? Can anyone explain this? Yes I can, it's a program. Here is a real-life healthcare story that I think goes a long way to explaining it all. One of my close friends thought he was having a heart attack. He asked me to drive him to the hospital, I dropped everything and rushed him to the ER at Summerlin Hospital in Las Vegas. He was kept at the hospital for 22 hours, given a battery of tests, he passed them all with flying colors and the doctors could find nothing wrong. He was given a clean bill of health, but about two weeks later the bill came that would send anyone's health spiraling downwards. 22 hours in the hospital, nothing wrong and so no treatments of any kind were given. The bill was $115,000, he was in shock and the bill could have given him a real heart attack. Total insanity, what a scam courtesy of Obamacare and greed merchants. Now 22 hours in a hospital costs $115,000, $5228 an hour? How is that justifiable? The frauds in the media won't dare talk about that story. This also explains everything about the past two years of this Covid pandemic. This is why the reaction to Covid by media, Democrat politicians and medical experts has been so hysterical, panicked and exaggerated, it's all about the money. Yep, the shekels to be precise.

OTHER PIECES: You wish to know why we have started the Black and Jewish projects, these next three pieces confirms it. More than 20 black White House aides have departed the Biden administration since late last year, an exodus some have dubbed Blaxit, according to a new report. While some of the departing staffers have left on good terms to pursue additional career or educational opportunities, others have attributed the turnover to a lack of mentorship and opportunity. Staffers said, we're here and we're doing a lot of work but we're not decision-makers, and there's no real path towards becoming decision-makers. There is no real feedback and there's no clear path to any kind of promotions.

They brought in a ton of black people generally to start, without ever establishing an infrastructure to retain them or help them be successful. If there is no clear infrastructure of how to be successful, you become just as invisible in this space than you would be if you were not in it.

A former official agreed that, people have not had the best experiences and a lot of that has to do with the death of black leadership. Think about any workplace. Black folks need some person to go to, to strategize and be a mentor, and we just don't have as many folks who can be mentors to us. I have some sympathy to a point, but where is their own mentorship? Why do they need someone to molly coddle them? In overview it is not a good look for anyone. They were there to do a job to the best of their ability, not seek mentorship. I guess Obama was not around to do or say anything positive then, a bit like his 8 years of Presidency.

During the past two years, the last thing a person would've considered doing is saying something racially trivial on social media. People were getting fired from companies and universities left and right, including Dr. Charles Negy. Because certain people are that weak, they find everything offensive and make everything personal to themselves. The University of Central Florida fired him for making a racially insensitive tweet, however, he's expected to return his position, reported News 6 Orlando. Dr. Negy was abruptly terminated after posting a tweet that enraged the UCF student body. Black privilege is real: Besides affirmative action, special scholarships and other set asides, being shielded from legitimate criticism is a privilege, he tweeted. Sincere question: if African Americans as a group, had the same behavioral profile as Asian Americans, on average, performing the best academically, having the highest income, committing the lowest crime, etc., would we still be proclaiming systematic racism exists? The university sent a notice of termination following outrage from students, claiming Negy violated multiple codes of conduct. However, he maintained his innocence. Like I have said, telling the truth these days comes at a great cost due to people being over-sensitive about everything. All caused by the MSM and their divisive programs and agendas.

Sad scenes are now emerging that Jewish people are now turning on each other, just quit that nonsense and the religion and all come together. It is scandalous of what has been done against the Jewish peoples, by those who call themselves Jews, except they are not. The scenes in several ultra-Orthodox towns and neighborhoods around Israel on the Jewish Sabbath, May 21, seemed taken out of a horror movie. In Jerusalem, Bnei Brak, Beit Shemesh and Ashdod, frightened worshipers barricaded themselves inside synagogues while angry mobs tried to break down the doors. Those who dared go out were beaten and their prayer shawls grabbed and desecrated, forcing them to flee back inside, wounded and bloodied.

The violence was not limited to synagogues. Some members of the Gur sect, one of Judaism's largest dynastic courts, were attacked and beaten while walking on the street. They were extricated from the mob by passersby and taken to hospitals. In other related incidents on Saturday, cars were vandalized, as were ultra-Orthodox synagogues in the cities of Jerusalem and Ashdod. The warring sides were members of the same group, wearing the same traditional clothing, indistinguishable to an outsider. But the difference between them is deep, bitter and bloody, a power struggle pitting the 160-year-old religious group against those who split off to form a new community in 2019. The rift dates back to 1996 and the death of the Gur sect's previous leader. His position was handed down to his son, Rabbi Yaakov Alter, who allegedly felt threatened by his cousin, Rabbi Shaul Alter, head of the main Gur yeshiva. He distanced his cousin from positions of influence and eventually shut down the rabbinical seminar. One day these people may realize, their religion was the problem all along, and that will be a joyous day for us all when they do. What concerns me with all the highlighting, the challenging of the Jewish state and also the "Jews" linked to the great replacement theory is, the vigilantes, religious zealots and anger management crew will turn nasty on the ordinary Jewish people. That has to be a concern for everyone, we have gone some way to proving the EL-ites who make out they are Jews and they are clearly not, and yet again the average Jewish people may end up taking the flak?

EXPOSE: The Temple of Set by C. K. Salmon Founder: Lt. Col. Michael Aquino, Ph.D. (1946-) Founded 1975 Publications: The Scroll of Set a newsletter, a series of magical texts called the Jeweled Tablets of Set. Perhaps the first five letters of Jeweled indicates the connection. Scripture: The Temple of Set doesn't have any scriptures in the traditional sense of the term. Yes, like the Mormon cult it is a created religion at the top for the worship of evil and fake gods. The Book of Coming Forth by Night, the Setian revelation to Aquino in 1975 that prompted him to found the Temple of Set, is perhaps as close as one might come. But it is not a divine revelation to be believed in as absolute truth; rather, it is a magical text that Setian's believe transferred the mandate of Satanism, from LaVey's Church of Satan to the Temple of Set. Does anyone ask how and why where those two organizations allowed to become verifiable businesses? Why would authorities or the religious people allow those to exist and indeed prosper? Organization Structure: The Council of Nine hold the executive authority. I hear some in the new age Alt Media espousing for the Council of Nine as something benevolent, nope, it's this group. They appoint the High Priest of Set and the Executive Director. There are then six degrees of initiation, from the lowest to highest Setian I°, Adept II°, Priest/Priestess of Set III°, they are the Cohens, Magister/Magistra Templi IV°, they are the judges, who are also Cohens, Magus/Maga V°, and Ipsissimus/Ipsissima VI°. MAGA perhaps has another differing meaning after that? The Temple of Set consists of seven Orders and eight Pylons. Pylons is an interesting term also following the Cosmic Genetics shows, APIN and LPIN? Unique Terms: Neter the Egyptian god, Set, Setian, Xeper pronounced, KEPH-er Egyptian, I have come into being, yes as a complete psychopath. Working Symbols: The scarab beetle of Egypt and the dawning sun, the Pentagram of Set history, that is the Necromiton Andromi Beetle people. The history of the Temple of Set is necessarily, in part, a history of the Church of Satan, the organization from which the Temple evolved. Remember all their Temples are or were sacrifice centers. The Church of Satan has its own roots in the magical tradition that sprang from early Masonry, later Rosicrucianism, the Knights Templar, and Aleister Crowley's Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn. Anton Szandor LaVey born Howard Stanton Levey organized the Church of Satan in 1966. Yet again the name change, to cover up the Levy name, just like most of the superstars of Hollywood did the same. He presented a media-savvy near caricature of Satanism, that attracted an underground following in jaded 1960s Los Angeles. LaVey routinely stated that the Church of Satan embraced and embodied the principle of indulgence over abstinence. The public face of Satanism, with LaVey at the helm, was just a new name for Hedonism, albeit with a religious veneer. But, despite the cartoon-like nature of some of LaVey's public appearances and rhetorical postures, privately, the founder of the Satanic Church seems to have believed in an actual Satanic being, the man downstairs, as he referred to the Devil. Yes, the king of the Underworld. LaVey went so far as to compose a private pact with the devil that he allowed no one else to read. LaVey's Satan was not the traditional scarecrow of Judeo-Christian tradition rather, Satan was understood to be an authentic metaphysical presence, a being not evil, but rather independent, assertive, and creative. Utter delusional. While casual members of the Church of Satan were allowed to see Satan as a mere metaphor, once one joined the Priesthood, the allegory ended. In March 1969, on military leave to be married, Michael Aquino attended a lecture on fortunetelling and character analysis, that was held in LaVey's by-then notorious black house at 6114 California Street in Los Angeles, CA. Aquino quickly lost interest in the lecture itself, but LaVey fascinated him. Aquino along with his wife Janet sent in their letters of application not long after. Aquino's talents were recognized early, and he quickly rose to prominence in the Church of Satan. Yes, because he was a kiddie fiddler, psychopath and Coven member is why. Among his distinctions are, that he performed the first Missa Solemnis as a relatively new Priest of Mendes II°, the second degree, or level, in the Church of Satan. He performed the second Satanic wedding ever, he wrote portions of Satanic Rituals, he wrote the Manual for Grotto Administration, Grottos are the Church of Satan equivalent to Pylons, and for years, he wrote for and edited the official Church of Satan newsletter, The Cloven Hoof. The cloven hoof is the chimera, half man half goat like Pan, typically portrayed as the Baphomet. Though he left the Church of Satan in 1975, Aquino still recalls his time spent in the organization with genuine fondness. During the course of that particular year, he found that he could no longer, in good conscience, continue to be identified with the Church of Satan. Good conscience, surely you jest Michael? The crisis points occurred when LaVey decided to begin selling priesthood offices. Rather than Satanists advancing through the degree system based solely on merit, LaVey announced a new policy through the Cloven Hoof. Professional services, funds, real estate, objects of value, etc., which contribute to the tangible, worldly success of the Church of Satan are qualification for elevation to both II° and III°. Aquino, the newsletter's editor, cordially but forcefully objected, but LaVey did not budge, and insisted that Aquino publish the article as written. This brazen move by LaVey to profit from the Church of Satan infuriated many Satanic priests and priestesses, including another high-ranking Satanist, the priestess Lilith Sinclair. Who would eventually become Aquino's second and current wife, a significant number of them resigned their offices in disgust. Sinclair is a bloodline family, better known as St. Clair in Scottish Masonic circles. Michael Aquino, right-hand man to LaVey and a devout believer in an actual Satanic being, performed a Satanic Working intended to obtain an explanation from Satan. The answer was The Book of Coming Forth by Night, a personal revelation and mandate to continue the work that had begun in 1966, which is considered Year I of the Satanic Calendar, and The Temple of Set was born. While the Church of Satan had privately professed belief in the Lord Satan and honored him in secret ceremonies, its public face tended to mirror the surrounding pop culture. Which likely means Tavistock was involved as well. The Temple of Set, headed by Aquino though, quickly moved in an occultist and ceremonial direction, in which Black Magic in the form of magical Workings, featured much more prominently. Members are encouraged to use the organization, as well as the entity Set, as a magical tool box for their individual quest to Xeper, or become. In essence, Setian philosophy is extreme individualism aided by occult magical ceremonies and practices. To this end, the Temple embraced a decentralized structural organization, that sought to maximize the benefits to individual Setian's. That word decentralized again. Pylons serve as localized discussion and lecture forums for Setian's, orders are formal initiatory schools along the road to Xeper, whose individual members are often separated by great distances. Where they using the actual pylons to talk across the planet, or even stella distances? The Order of Horus for example, proclaims as its purpose to make manifest the neter HarWer the brother of Set, through consciousness, action, and skills. Horus, Set, Neter all the fake Egyptian gods again. As another example, the Order of the Trapezoid is a chivalric organization whose goal is self-deification through antinomianism or lawlessness. Members are expected within one year after II° recognition, to affiliate with an Order reflective of his or her personal interest and aptitudes. Pylons on the other hand are the local congregations of the Temple, where members from the same geographical regions interact with one another, regardless of individual Order affiliation. Unlike the contemporary Church of Satan, the Temple of Set remains an initiatory organization. One is expected both to be recognized as worthy of full admission, to an Order within the Temple within three years of one's first affiliation and to progress through the degrees. One cannot join simply for the perceived notoriety it might bring. Setian's are expected to be utterly committed to their pursuit of Xeper. Xeper is the scarab beetle god, more commonly spoken of as Khepri or Khephri Ra the sun god, indeed. The Temple of Set is highly selective in terms of whom it admits to official membership, fewer than half of all applicants are accepted for membership with the two-year recognition period. While primarily an American phenomenon, the Temple of Set boasts members from all continents save Antarctica. No reliable estimate of the Temple of Set's membership can be made; as a matter of policy, the group does not release such information to the public. Its membership was estimated at approximately 500 in 1984. The Temple of Set has a fairly high turnover rate, and it is speculated that most members will remain in the organization for fewer than ten years. BELIEFS: It will be useful to remember that dogma to include fixed ideology in any form, is repugnant to the Temple. Thus, it is not possible to construct a rigid list of Setian beliefs. Some general trends and tendencies, however, can be highlighted, yes like psychopathy and delusional. With Michael Aquino as its high priest or cohen, having been recognized as Magus V° and Ipsissimus VI°, the Temple of Set's two highest degrees, the newly-founded Temple of Set drew many former members of the Church of Satan into its fold. While Aquino writes that the Temple of Set was more an evolution of the Church of Satan than a reaction to it, the founding of the Temple of Set has a definite re-formatting feel. Set and Satan or Saturn is symbolic. As the Temple of Set evolved, it came to distinguish itself from several corruptions that had occurred in the Church of Satan: 1) LaVey had come to see Satan as merely a metaphor for personal indulgence; the Temple of Set views Satan or Set-hen majestic Set, or just Set, as a supra-personal entity, a being that transcends humanity. The all about the one program again. 2) While Satanism as espoused by LaVey was a glorification of animal pleasures, the Temple of Set holds that devotion to Set is bound up in the assumption that, man's self-awareness and will separate him from mere animals. Animal pleasures or Chimeric pleasures? 3) LaVey's Satanism was anarchic, a matrix in which organizations were bound to collapse; thus, Satanism stressed rigid, centralized control of local Grottos. The term grotto is used in the UK for children to meet and greet Father Christmas on a high seated throne. The symbolism of which is right in your face, is it Santa or Satan? Setian's, on the other hand, believe that Satanism is too complex for such control and that a cooperative, decentralized environment is necessary for their success. Hmm decentralized comes up again, decentralization coming from the Setian's, all done by the great re-SET? Now do you see? 4) While LaVey's Satanism tended to attract the sensually indulgent, the Temple of Set aims to attract philosophically-minded magicians with high personal standards. Of course, the most significant corruption was that LaVey had decided that the Church might as well be converted to a vehicle for his personal financial benefit, rather than remain a vehicle for the Satanic evolution of individuals, based solely on perceived merit. Christianity: The Temple of Set like the Church of Satan before it, reduces Christianity to a moral propaganda device. Far from seeing Setian philosophy in opposition to Christianity, though, Setians hold that Set, not the traditional Christian God, is the ultimate reality of the universe. God: In Setian belief, all traditional concepts of God like, Christianity's God the Father, Islam's Allah, or Hinduism's Vishnu are rejected. God is a generic descriptor for what is seen, not as the transcendent creator of the universe, but merely as the balancing factor in nature. Setian's do not deny the existence of God, but see it as an impersonal force that has little concern for any suffering which we may encounter. In this sense, Setians do not see themselves as opposing the Christian God, as LaVey's Satanism was inevitably accused of doing or any other god. Instead, they view themselves as beyond such simplistic and individual-stifling beliefs. Yes, so they can self-appoint themselves as the one, the singular. Set: Setian's, do however believe in an ultimate supra-personal entity, they identify this entity, not as God, but as Set. They believe Set was manifested as the most ancient god of Egyptian religiosity. Set enjoyed a long and varied career in the Egyptian pantheon. Originally the god Egyptian Neter of the desert, Set came to be seen as the god of disorder and confusion manifested in the elemental forces of nature. Indeed, and eventually the god of the great reset, which failed. Set was the murderer of Osiris and archenemy of his brother, Horus. Later still, Set was viewed as the god of darkness, a god in opposition to all other Egyptian gods, a neter against the neteru. When the Hebrews left their captivity in Egypt, it was not captivity, it was a hostile invasion and they got thrown out. The Setian view goes, they took belief in Set-hen meaning majestic Set with them, in the form now known in the Judeo-Christian tradition as Satan. Setian's view Set, as the original Satanist: the god against all false, man-imagined gods, they believe Set is the original individual consciousness of the universe. It would be wrong to surmise that Setian's worship Set, in any traditional sense; rather they pay homage to him as something of an elder magician who is useful to their individual quests. Yes, a dark magician tricking everyone including those who followed him. As Don Webb a Level 5 and one of the movement's former high priests states, the worship of Set is the worship of individualism. It is the realization that man's psyche, and the desire for that psyche to continue to live and experience existence forever, sets him apart from all other forms of life. All of which sounds like the Metratronic coding to me. Webb compares a Setian's belief in Set to a sailor's belief in the ocean, with individual Setian's cast in the role of sailors of that ocean. Set, as the original active intelligence of the universe, would seem to be both above humanity, and also in some sense, subservient to it. It is involved not only with mankind's quest for ultimate self-realization or self-divinization, but also in a subservient sense, to mankind's achievement of that goal. In this sense, Set is more like a toolbox of personal evolution than a supreme being. Why would the crown of creation be subservient to anyone? These people seek father figures to look up to and parent them for eternity. While Setian's believe that Set is some sort of entity, they also believe that Set's ultimate goal is the evolution of the individual human's quest to become a god unto himself. Which is correct and not act like those who went before this time. When Set revealed itself to Aquino in 1975, the entity gave him a new magical word, Xeper: to come into being. Xeper—Man's Purpose: According to Setian philosophy, the purpose of life is Xeper to become. To become what is the great question? Although this notion assumes differing forms in various Setian Orders, essentially it is the belief that, through diligent personal work and magical exploration, through deliberate exercise of the intelligence and Will, one can make of oneself a god. That can be done by traversing the 7 Earthly planes and reaching the Galactic level, without the use of dark or light magic, just a will and a desire to work on oneself and achieve self-mastery. As Webb writes, the Satanic religion proposes to raise the individual to personal godhood, free from enslavement to any other God or gods. This self-divinization process involves a facility with the Left-Hand Path and Black Magic, as well as the guiding hand of Set. They have deluded themselves into that thinking, that is ultimately a trap of their own making. Christ: According to Aquino, Jesus Christ was merely an uncommon man whose understanding of human psychology, ranks with those of Socrates, Marcus Aurelius, and Nietzsche. The Temple of Set, however, tends to regard Jesus as a benevolent egomaniac rather than a god. While Jesus Christ may have been necessary for social evolution as were those in The Temple of Set, page 3 philosophers who preceded and came after him, Jesus himself was just a man, in whom Setian's have no significant interest. The Bible: In Setian thought, the Bible, along with all traditional religious texts, is seen as a refuge for those who feel a need for absolute truth. Setian's, on the other hand, are much more interested in working assumptions based on personal observations. BIBLICAL RESPONSE: Setian philosophy insists that Satanic religion proposes to raise the individual to personal godhood, free from enslavement to any other God or gods. Essentially, this is the same lie that Satan told Eve in the Garden: For God knows that when you eat of the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil. (Genesis 3:5). Satan promised that if she acted against God's controlling influence by directly disobeying him, her consciousness would be raised so that she, like a god, would be able to determine good and evil for herself. Satan's lie brought death and evil into the world. While Setian's believe that

Set is the ultimate reality in the universe, Paul writes that it is In God that we live and move and have our being (Acts 17.28). For Christians, the creator-God of the Israelites is the ultimate reality, not a shadowy Lord of Darkness whose goal is for humans to become gods unto themselves. But, the god of the Israelites was a mixture of 3 names, Lucifer, Jehovah and Yahweh. All three if it was three separate beings and not one entity acting in various roles, none of them are worthy of praise or worship either. They were self-serving parasites, a true god is not to be worshipped and operates mainly in service to others, not the self. Setian's teach that God is a mere balancing factor in the universe which, if it is able to think at all, cares very little about the suffering of humanity. Set cared not for humanity either, only himself and power. But Jesus said that God is an active, loving Father to all of his creation: Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them (Matthew 6.26); moreover, not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father (Matthew 10.29). What if the birds of the air where fiery serpents? Or alien craft? It doesn't distinguish does it? Jesus asked his followers, Are you not of more value than they? (Matthew 6.26). The message of the New Testament is that humans are incredibly valuable to the Heavenly Father, and that he loves them so much that he sent his only son to live among them (John 1.14), to heal them (John 5.15), and to die for them (John 3.16). Again, the term Heavenly Father is not determined is it? people presume it is some omnipotent sky god, but what if he was just a Father from the heavens? All of which makes him just another ET. Setian's believe that Set is the source of human creativity, delusional again, it was the stifling of humanity creativity. Christians know that Jesus Christ is the ever-flowing fountain of all creative power: All things were made through him, and without him there was not anything made that was made. They are trying to make out that without Jesus there was nothing, but what about all the life before and after him? In him was life, and the life was the light of men (John 1.3- 4), that is a better description seen as a leader of people with his teachings, not a creator of everything they propose. Eternal life is not obtained through black magic, but through a relationship with Jesus Christ (1 John 5.11). Eternal life is natural for us all, without worshipping Jesus or participating in black magic. I am the Magus of the Word Xeper pronounced Khefer, an English language coinage expressing an Egyptian verb written as a stylized scarab and meaning I Have Come Into Being. All of which means they are worshipping the Necromiton Andromi Beetle people. This Word generates the Aeon of Set, and is the current form of the Eternal Word of the Prince of Darkness. Set, the Egyptian god of Darkness, is the Divine origin of the Word, appears they have a whole new meaning of what Divine really means. Set's name ultimately means the Separator or Isolator. His chief enemies are the gods of Stasis and Mindlessness, I can add a few more like basic decency, common sense and humility. The first of these is Osiris, Death himself. Set's slaying of Osiris has a two-fold significance for the seeker of Xeper. Firstly, this represents the slaying of old thought patterns; the dethroning of those internal gods that we have received from society. On a second level this was the act by which Set, alone of all the gods of ancient Egypt, became deathless. That is a lie, he wanted to be the only one. The deathless means he took the Metatronic coding, which is confirmed by this next line. The Left Hand Path is a quest to become an immortal, potent, and powerful Essence. Set's other enemy is the demon of mindless chaos, Apep, which is Apophis. Apophis is another I am the one and only and why Set opposed him. Set is said to slay this creature every night just before dawn. This symbolizes overcoming self-doubt and delusion, of acting at the times of greatest despair, or not being lulled to sleep by the powerful self-hypnotizing engines of mankind. The Temple of Set has been guarded about details of its development as a religious movement. Nothing religious about it, it is all about dark magic and interfering in other people's lives and sending them on a dark path. Thus, there is not much public knowledge about recent events or theological or structural shifts in the Temple of Set. The main source of publicity for the Temple of Set over the years have been legal issues that have plagued the group, and specifically its founder, Michael Aquino. These problems may have been largely caused or exacerbated by, public perceptions of satanic organizations as being evil and destructive. Which is totally correct, how can it not be? A scandal that broke out in 1986 did much to hurt the credibility of Michael Aquino and the Temple of Set. Charges of child molestation surfaced at the day-care center at Presidio Army Base, where Lt. Col. Aquino was assigned 9. Obvious question, why was a Satanist assigned any children? Gary Hambright, a day-care worker, was charged with 12 counts of sodomy, oral copulation, and lewd conduct. Aquino, along with his wife Lilith, were identified by some of the children as possibly being another man who had participated in the molestations. Lilith indeed, enough said about that entity, who also stole and abused children I might add. However, no formal charges were ever brought against Aquino, and the case against Hambright was later dismissed. An all too familiar theme with regards to charges brought against children, it is probably the most crushed legal cases globally, unless the clowns want someone out of the way and then the rules are reversed. In 1994, Aquino sued Linda Blood, a former member of the Temple of Set, for libel in her book The New Satanists. The book, Aquino's lawyers said, depicted him and his fellow Setian's as pedophiles, child abusers, murderers and the masterminds behind a nationwide satanic conspiracy. The doctors of the law too, who had come down from Jerusalem said, he is possessed by Beelzebub and he drives out devils by the prince of devils. So, he called them to come forward, and spoke to them in parables: How can Satan drive out Satan? If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand; if a household is divided against itself, that house will never stand; and if Satan is in rebellion against himself, he is divided and cannot stand; and that is the end of him. Another example of a group who have completely lost their way following the malevolent ET entities and programs. Satanic is one word they use and appear to embrace, which is a complete sign they have lost all touch with reality. These groups in a civilized society should never be allowed to exist or prosper, it is anti-life in it's make up and existence. A group of dark self-serving egotistical psychopaths, that because society largely ignores them, they turn into powerful cults wielding various degrees of power, that they should have never been allowed.

EXPOSE: In the American Southwest, the Navajo, Hopi, Utes, and other tribes each have their own version of the Skinwalker, but each boils down to the same thing, a malevolent witch capable of transforming itself into a wolf, coyote, bear, bird, or any other animal. When the transformation is complete, the human witch inherits the speed, strength, or cunning of the animal whose shape it has taken. The article showed a picture saying this is a Hopi Kachina of a Skinwalker. Interesting they mentioned the word Kachina which is normally associated with blue and red stars in the Hopi prophecy. Yet Kachina is a spirit being in the religious beliefs of the Pueblo peoples, Native American cultures located in the south-western part of the United States. In the Pueblo cultures, kachina rites are practiced by the Hopi, Zuni, Hopi-Tewa, and certain Keresan tribes, as well as in most Pueblo tribes in New Mexico. The kachina concept has three different aspects: the supernatural being, the kachina dancers, and kachina dolls. The dancers aspect brings up an interesting word as they perform their ritual dance, they are called clowns. Clown personages play dual roles, and their prominent role is to amuse the audience during the extended periods of the outdoor celebrations and Kachina Dances, where they perform as jesters or circus clowns. Barry Pritzker stated, regarding the role of clowns in Hopi dances, the clowns play an important role- embodying wrong social behavior, they are soon put in their place by the katsinam for all to see. The presence of clowns in the morality play, makes people more receptive to the messages of proper social convention and encourages a crucial human trait, a keen sense of humor. The clown's more subtle and sacred role is in the Hopis' ritual performances. The sacred functions of the clowns are relatively private, if not held secret by the Hopi, and as a result have received less public exposure. When observing the preparations taking place in a Kiva of a number of Pai'yakyamu clowns getting ready for their ceremonial performance, they stated we Koyala or Koshari are the fathers of all Kachina. Koshari seems awfully close to Koshey and Kosher. The Hopi have four groups of clowns, some of which are sacred. Adding to the difficulty in identifying and classifying these groups, there are a number of kachinas whose actions are identified as clown antics. The kachinas wandered with the Hopis over the world until they arrived at Casa Grande, where both the Hopis and the kachinas settled. However, all of the kachinas were killed when the Hopis were attacked and the kachinas' souls returned to the underworld. All of which in some way resembles the connections to what are known as the ant people, seen on petroglyphs all around the 4 corners area. But, Skin walkers are purely evil in intent, the general view is that Skinwalkers do all sorts of terrible things, they make people sick and they commit murders. According to Dan Benyshek, anthropologist University of Nevada, Las Vegas. For the Navajo and other tribes of the southwest, the tales of Skinwalkers are not mere legend. Rather, the belief is strongly held, particularly in the Navajo nation. Anthropologist David Zimmerman of the Navajo Nation Historic Preservation Department explains, Skinwalkers are folks that possess knowledge of medicine, both practical healing the sick and spiritual to maintain harmony, and they are both wrapped together in ways that are nearly impossible to untangle. In the Navajo world where witchcraft is important, where daily behavior is patterned to avoid it, prevent it, and cure it, there are as many words for its various forms, as there are words for different types of snow among the Eskimos. We know from personal experience that it is extremely difficult to get Native Americans to discuss Skinwalkers, even in the most general terms. Practitioners of adishgash or witchcraft are considered to be a very real presence in the Navajo world. Few Navajo want to cross paths with the naagloshii, otherwise known as a Skinwalker. The cautious Navajo will not speak openly about Skinwalkers, especially with strangers because to do so, might invite the attention of an evil witch. After all, a stranger who asks questions about Skinwalkers just might be one himself, looking for his next victim. Skinwalkers are not boogiemens and they aren't the figures made up to scare children. Unlike Anglo stories of werewolves and witches, they don't lose control and kill everything in their path or maliciously curse people for no reason. Like humans, they do kill, and like humans, they have motivations for those acts of aggression. Power and revenge fuel their murderous intent, but such things cannot occupy the brain of a rational creature all the time, and Skinwalkers do not make murder part of their daily routine. Other than their origin story, legends of Skinwalkers rarely include death or any kind of mauling. Instead, common stories include Skinwalkers in their animal form running alongside a vehicle and matching their speed, even as the driver accelerates. Eventually, they get bored with this routine and simply disappear into the surrounding wilderness. In some respects, it seems rather playful, like a dog chasing a car that passes on the street. In other instances, people report seeing or hearing Skinwalkers outside their homes at night. Rarely, however, does the Skinwalker enter the dwelling. Skinwalkers have been reported by both Native and non-Native people, including a popular story here in New Mexico of Skinwalkers being seen by State police on a stretch of roadway on Navajo territory. In Navajo thinking, all good things in life result from respect for the harmony of the universe, known as hozho. Hozho is loosely translated as peace, balance, beauty and harmony, and to be in Hozho is to be at one with and a part of the world around you. An orderly balance governs the actions and thoughts of all living things. Like any other ideal state, this can be difficult to maintain. Whether conscious or unconscious, or the result of a Skinwalker, a transgression can result in illness, misfortune, or even disaster and can be remedied only with a prescribed ceremony to the offended deity. Unlike Western medicine, Navajo cures are targeted at body, mind, and spirit, calling on the patient and divine people to restore his harmony with the world. A Skinwalker is tied up with the Navajo concept of good and evil. The Navajo's believe that life is a kind of wind blowing through you. Some people have a dark wind, and they tend to be evil. How do you tell? People who have more money than they need and aren't helping their kinfolk, that's one symptom of it. The Native Americans are the last to talk about not helping their kinfolk, casinos and oil wells everywhere and their people living in shacks or run down communities. But that also sounds similar to a Wetiko. The mythical figure of wetiko is seen as a cannibalistic spirit, who embodies greed and excess and can possess human beings. The wetiko was once a human being, but its greed and selfishness have transformed it into a predatory monster. Thus, in indigenous mythology, indulgent, self-destructive habits are thought to be inspired by wetiko. In the Native American view, those who have become wetiko's are individuals who have lost their wits, a phrase that connotes not only being out of one's right mind, but also not knowing what one is doing or acting unwittingly. Native Americans have often portrayed the wetiko as having a frigid, icy heart, devoid of mercy. Like cannibals, those taken over by wetiko consume the life force of others, human and nonhuman for private purpose or profit, and do so without giving back anything of real value from their own lives. Sounds like the Jewish EL-ites to me. The Ojibwa word for wetiko, windigo or weendigo, seems to have been derived from ween dagoh, which means solely for self, or from weenin igooh, which means excess. Hence need not greed. Along with this tendency toward evil, if they're initiated into a witchcraft cult, they get a lot of powers. Depending on the circumstances, they can turn into a dog; they can fly; they can disappear. A lot of Navajo's will tell me emphatically, especially when they don't know me very well, that they don't believe in all that stuff. And then when you get to be a friend, they'll start telling you about the first time they ever saw one, said author, Tony Hillerman So are they real? Who can say, he said. In some respects, the tale of Skinwalkers is like that of UFO sightings; too bizarre to picture being true, while being too numerous to dismiss. Regardless, the tale or legend of Skinwalkers is prevalent and meaningful to Native peoples in New Mexico. It is rooted in their history and tradition, and like many other things we don't always understand about different cultures, it does command our respect. There was a reason I did this piece because those who went on the trip with me, mostly saw a Skinwalker appear in front of them. Me being the lead car of 4, I got to see it appear out thin air, that appeared to emerge out of the grass itself, and then he tried to flag the car down. He was requesting one of us to stop for him to get in a car, but we didn't stop.

ENDING PIECE: Recently we have spoken about the doors in the corridor, just like an episode of the Twilight Zone, often revealed in dream time. But what are the doors? What does it mean to you the individual? Is it beneficial many will ask? Why don't you trust yourself to answer that question is my reply. The fear of going through the door is why many won't advance, all too comfortable in their low vibrational state, and stepping out and over the threshold is deemed a step too far for too many. But what is there to fear? Life here is a mixture of pain, suffering, existing and limitation, so why fear the door? Is tolerating pain, suffering, existing and limitation now deemed acceptable? Of course much of the fear is generated by movies, nearly every time an open door is shown, and the not knowing what is on the other side, it is greeted by suspense and fear music. Have you noticed that? Why would they do that? So, when presented with an opportunity to advance yourself, your mind triggers back to the movie scene and the fear music. Doors are compartmentalization of the mind and heart, and only you can block them. What are the doors? Depends which doors in reality. Is it the door to a job or promotion? A love or relationship scenario? A personal advancement? Soul growth? Advance to the next library in the sky of knowledge? And no, I am not talking about books, but the collective consciousness library. You build the self and it will come. Is it a door of greater understanding and abilities? If it is, will you fear your own power? Or will you embrace it? And open the doors to expansion, denounce limitation, embrace evolution not devolution, aspire not perspire, reverse not inverse, love not hate, vibrate to the love frequency not to the quiver dance of fear, you are not the likeness of or the image, you are you, you are the guardian of yours and our destiny. The only domain you need to reside in is the domain of the wise, which is wisdom.

So, how are the doors traversed? Here is a reminder. Once you have mastered the brain hemispheres the next stage of the trinity within the head is to merge it with the third eye, the single unseen eye, that sees more than the visual two eyes. Once that stage is complete, the next stage providing the throat chakra is not blocked is the cord or sword to the heart, that is where you magic kicks in. Operating from there opens many doors physical and non-physical, more senses than our basic limiting 5 senses, the real definition of the warrior with the sword manifests. But what if the doors are not real? What if you manifested them as a barrier? What if there are no doors and actually you are the door itself? This then begs the next question, if you are the door, are you also a portal? Ponder on that twister long and hard. A Welsh hymn was sung this week at an important soccer match, and kind of fitting of THI and the TPC me thinks. It is called Er gwaetha pawb a phopeth, ry'n ni yma o hyd, translated as despite everyone and everything, we are still here. In your times of struggle and worry, it is an important line to remember, and to praise the self for getting to this point. It is all about the journey and less about the destination. Life, events, happenstance doesn't happen overnight, it is a series of steps and doors to get through to then arrive at a certain point in time. A crossroads, a leap of faith, a juncture of space and time that all unfolded in a magical alignment and force. Those on the recent trip will all be able to tell you that part, all too well. Perhaps the answer to the doors question was in a song and the name of the group? But, what is on the other side some may ask? That is your journey of self-discovery. BREAK ON THROUGH TO THE OTHER SIDE
