

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2022-09-08

We open tonight covering a speech dripping in what is wrong with this country, by a fake President at the head of a corporation acting as Government. Biden spoke in Pennsylvania where the American Government started and the Constitution was written. America made its declaration of independence to the world more than two centuries ago, why doesn't know the exact date? With an idea unique among nations: that in America, we're all created equal.

Except we are not, as his speech revealed, completely discounted Americans who are exercising their right to free will speech. Not all dissenters are angry, violent or insurrectionists as Biden pointed out, this is a blight on free speech and indeed all Americans. Child level speeches of pointing fingers at those who don't agree with you, when the abomination of American Government has gone on from day one. This is where the United States Constitution was written and debated. This is where we set in motion the most extraordinary experiment of self-government the world has ever known. Except the self-governance was done by the Families, Secret Societies and EL-ites, no input allowed by the people. He then uttered words straight out of the Alt Media and indeed this show, he said; With three simple words: we, the people; we, the people. These two documents and their ideas they embody equality and democracy, unless you disagree with anything, they are the rock upon which this nation is built. Erm no it wasn't, stop rewriting his story again, any rock was built by the people, include slaves, not pieces of paper and EL-ites stealing from the Trust. They are how we became the greatest nation on earth, that is an illusion, and just because you repeat it at every opportunity, does not make it the truth. They are why, for more than two centuries, America has been a beacon to the world. But first, we must be honest with each other and with ourselves. You go first Mr. Biden, because in reality land we are a beacon for no one, let's just tell the full truth for once. Can we be? Absolutely but it requires a radical change of thinking on behalf of the people, and an even more radical change of Government and ways of operating in this country. Too much of what's happening in our country today is not normal, it has never been normal Mr. Biden. Is committing our children into fake wars for over 200 years normal? Is looting the American people every year since 1933 normal? Is indoctrinating, poisoning, mind control, spraying and experimenting on the people, normal? Donald Trump and the MAGA Republicans represent an extremism that threatens the very foundations of our Republic. Donald Trump doesn't represent anything but himself, are we saying one man is holding the country hostage here? Just one man is bringing down the whole country? Is that what Biden is saying? If that is the case, where are the police, Military, Agencies and FBI in arresting this ever so dangerous man, so dangerous he can change the face of not only politics, but the whole country. You give Trump far too much credit Mr. Biden, he like you after 4 years is and will be a failed entity. These are hard things, but I'm an American president, not a president of red America or blue America, but of all America. And I believe it's my duty, my duty to level with you, to tell the truth no matter how difficult, no matter how painful. We the people will hold you to those words in the near future. And here, in my view, is what is true: MAGA Republicans do not respect the Constitution, which one Mr. Biden? They do not believe in the rule of law, neither does the whole country given we are operating under British law, well actually it is Talmudic law. They do not recognize the will of the people (M) hilarious, a politician accusing another politician they don't recognize the will of the people, you can't make this stuff up. I believe America is at an inflection point, one of those moments that determine the shape of everything that's to come after. Indeed we are, where truth must surpass the lies, reality replace illusion, personal responsibility replaces passing the buck and unity must replace division. And now, America must choose to move forward or to move backwards, to build a future or obsess about the past, to be a nation of hope and unity and optimism or a nation of fear, division and of darkness. There is nothing more dark than a Democratic group as our story has shown. MAGA Republicans have made their choice, they embrace anger, they thrive on chaos, they live, not in the light of truth but in the shadow of lies. But together, together, we can choose a different path. We can choose a better path forward to the future, a future of possibility, a future to build a dream and hope, and we're on that path moving ahead. Indeed we can Mr. Biden but not with our current politics or in most cases politicians. Biden mentioned truth many times, and even integrity in the speech, yet where is the honor in lying Mr. Biden? You spoke about the rule of law not applying to MAGA people, yet where is the evidence you in Government, Agencies, Think tanks or the Military apply any law, except Talmudic? Do what thou wilt shall be the sum of the law. We at THI welcome the opportunity to take the forward path, will you and your cronies be able to handle it?

NEWS: This month The People's Colors are continuing to focus on communication with people with influence within the black race. So far letters have been sent out to three different leaders, inviting them to take a look at the information they perhaps might not have, concerning racial division and the true agendas. We have a call scheduled for Sunday September 18th 10:00 AM. We are again extending an invitation to those of the Jewish and Hispanic race who might want to come and join us in our efforts to promote racial unity.

A story from a country that has been used, abused and divided in classic clown level productions is back in the news with some good news. Tens of thousands of protesters from the far right and far left joined forces, to rally against the country's pro-Western Czech government in the capital on Saturday. Police estimated that the crowd at Prague's central Wenceslas Square numbered around 70,000. Some of the groups represented at the demonstration included, the major anti-migrant populist Freedom and Direct Democracy party and the Communist Party. The protesters demanded the resignation of the current coalition government led by conservative Prime Minister Petr Fiala, criticizing it for a number of issues, including its Western-oriented policies. They condemned the government for its support of the sanctions against Russia over its war in Ukraine, and accused it of not being able to tackle soaring energy prices. The demonstrators also criticized NATO and the European Union, and the 27-nation bloc's plan to cut greenhouse gas emissions and reach climate neutrality. The country belong to both organizations. Fiala said everyone has a right to demonstrate, but said those protesting are expressing pro-Russia views that are not in the interest of the Czech Republic and our citizens. Well clearly they are in the interests of the people Mr. Fiala, because as you sit by with child level policies, the people you are supposing to look after are suffering due to it. The Russian/Ukraine conflict is being used to systematically destroy the finances of all countries in Europe, as the prelude to the transfer of all wealth to the East. Just as we warned several years ago, and your politicians like those in America are in on it. But it is encouraging to see the people fighting back.

And so it begins, the public backlash we have warned about for over a year now. What did the jackasses expect? They have practically destroyed everything with the Covid scam, and eventually there would be a threshold point to which the public would cross. Then it gets ugly, again as we have warned many times. Federal Public Safety Minister Marco Mendicino said the government is reviewing security protocols for cabinet ministers and members of Parliament, after Deputy Prime Minister Chrystia Freeland was aggressively harassed while entering an elevator at a city hall in Alberta. Two female cabinet ministers Marci Ien and Karina Gould also spoke candidly about threats they have received, and called for the temperature to be lowered when it comes to political discourse in Canada. At a joint news conference on another matter that involved several federal ministers, Mr. Mendicino was asked if Ottawa is considering adopting the practice in place for provincial cabinet ministers in Quebec, who are accompanied by drivers who also act as bodyguards. Does anyone asks why we spend our money on protecting people doing a job? Where is the protection for everybody else? Are they saying they are more special than us? Who told them that? And why did we the people allow them their so-called privileged status? It is just a job the same as everyone else at the end of the day. Stop treating these over privileged jackasses like they are some sort of demi god, it is demeaning to us all, can you not see that? We'll continue to explore all options, he said, adding that the government works closely with the RCMP, local and regional police services and the Sergeant-at-arms, who oversees House of Commons security. The minister said the threats do not only impact the individual politicians and their families and staff, it represents a threat to our democracy, he said. But Canada is not a democracy government, so how can they claim it as such? In reality land they are a Crown based puppet show. A video that was circulated showed an unidentified man at the front desk at Grande Prairie city hall asking the receptionist about Ms. Freeland. When the minister then appeared in the lobby as she was heading toward an elevator, he yells: Chrystia? after she replies yes, he approaches her in a loud voice, launching into an expletive-filled rant, that included calling her a traitor who should leave the province. The statement was correct, although no need to use expletives. NDP Leader Jagmeet Singh has also faced aggressive protesters while in public. Prime Minister Justin Trudeau has cancelled two events in recent months due to security concerns. Trudeau ran away whilst the protest went on as well remember, if that was in a Military setting, that would be a court Marshall offense for going AWOL. Newsflash to politicians, the people are coming for you, our blueprint brings a solution to that.

This is the second kickback on Biden and his orders in a week. A federal district court blocked the Biden administration's moratorium on federal oil and gas leasing, a potentially fatal blow to the policy that has been tied up in a legal battle since early 2021. U.S. District Court for the Western District of Louisiana Judge Terry Doughty issued a permanent injunction, blocking the leasing moratorium in a ruling late Thursday evening. Doughty wrote that President Biden lacked any authority to implement the policy under the Mineral Leasing Act, and Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act which regulate federal leasing on public lands and waters. The Court finds Section 208 of Executive Order 14008 is ultra vires, beyond the authority of the President of the United States, and in violation of the OCSLA and the MLA, he wrote in the opinion. Even the President cannot make significant changes to the OCSLA and/or the MLA that Congress did not delegate. Biden issued Executive Order 14008 titled the Executive Order on Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad on Jan. 27, 2021, days after taking office. Does anyone ask why Americans should be paying for climate change abroad? Clearly not. The action ordered the Department of the Interior to pause new oil and natural gas leases, a policy Biden pledged to pursue during his 2020 campaign, while it conducts a review of the federal leasing program.

Meanwhile Biden is concerned for his security and plans for a wall to be built around his property. The price went from $456k now to $490K for a fence? Is it gold lined? $1/2M for a fence for his own home, why doesn't he pay for it? Yet again the public are allowing our money to pay for these harvesters.

Not content with wasting money on his fence, Ukraine and other so-called aid, now Biden wants to send our money to Taiwan. The Biden administration plans to ask the U.S. Congress to approve an estimated $1.1 billion arms sale to Taiwan, including 60 anti-ship missiles and 100 air-to-air missiles. Amid heightened tensions with China, that is America's typical response, send weapons. China carried out its largest war games around the democratically governed island, after a visit this month by U.S. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi. Notice not a single word or discussion came out of Pelosi's visit, why did she go there if no dialogue is forthcoming from it? Beijing has not ruled out using force to bring the island under its control. China has dismissed complaints from Taiwan about repeated harassment by Chinese drones, very close to Taiwanese-controlled islands as not anything to make a fuss about, prompting Taipei to label Beijing as thieves. A typical child level response again. President Joe Biden's administration and U.S. lawmakers stress their ongoing support for the government in Taipei, and there are items in the approval pipeline for Taiwan that could be announced in the coming weeks or months. But the focus will be on sustaining Taiwan's current military systems and fulfilling existing orders, rather than offering new capabilities more likely to inflame already red-hot tensions with China. How about fulfilling orders in this country first, or is that too much in the way of common sense? Biden sent another $2.6B to Ukraine this week, and wanted to send more in a $47B package that was blocked, that included more Covid bail outs no doubt.

At least 21 people have been killed after a 6.6 magnitude earthquake hit southwestern China, state media said.

The impact severed telecommunications lines and triggered mountain landslides that caused serious damage.

Some 21 million people in Sichuan's capital Chengdu were earlier ordered to stay home because of Covid rules.

The epicentre of the quake was at Luding, a town in a remote mountain region located about 226km southwest of Chengdu. Luding was the site of the Chinese version of the Alamo, after a war there between the Chinese peasants and workers group and the Red Army in 1935.

The quake struck at 13:00 local time in Sichuan province at a depth of 10km (6 miles). The 13 and 10km says it all.

Yet more in your face racism out of Israel.

Foreigners must tell the Israeli defense ministry if they fall in love with a Palestinian in the occupied West Bank, according to new rules.

If they marry, they will be required to leave after 27 months for a cooling-off period of at least half a year.

It is part of a tightening of rules on foreigners living in, or wanting to visit, the West Bank.

Palestinians and Israeli NGOs have accused Israel of taking restrictions to a new level.

The new rules are due to come into force this week.

The regulations laid out in a lengthy document include a demand on foreigners to inform the Israeli authorities within 30 days of starting a relationship with a Palestinian ID holder. Racist, apartheid practices all rolled into one, yet according to the perpetrators of division, only they suffer racism, no! they create it. Anti-Semitism? What about uncle goyim? Thankfully the Israelis backtracked on it after much complaint, is that the first sign of them buckling to pressure?

OUROBOROS: More jackassery from New York as car trips to Manhattan may become even more expensive for drivers. That's according to a report released Wednesday regarding a proposal to implement congestion tolling on New York City streets. If approved, New York would become the first American city to implement congestion tolling, a practice used in London, Stockholm, Milan and Singapore. Under the proposal, driving through Manhattan from 60th Street and points south, with a couple of exceptions, could cost motorists up to $23 per day depending on the time they're behind the wheel. $23 a day are they serious? Bearing in mind it is our taxes that pay for the said roads, and then they impose another tax to use them? The tolls would go toward the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which needs to find revenue sources to bolster the bus, subway and commuter rail lines in and around New York City. The report states that even with rail and bus options available for commuters and other travelers, New York City remains the most congested urban area in the country. Nearly a quarter of the 7.7 million people that come to the Manhattan central business district every weekday travel by car. State and City of New York officials, stakeholder and advocacy groups have conducted multiple studies over the past 45 years to determine the most effective way to address congestion and pointed to congestion pricing, or introduction of tolls based on traffic levels, as the most effective tool. Under the plan being considered, people who live in the Manhattan CBD, and make less than $60,000 would be eligible to receive a state tax credit for the tolls they paid during the year. The report offers seven possible tolling scenarios, each offering tiered pricing for peak, off-peak and overnight driving. In one scenario, peak hours would run from 6-10 a.m. and 4-8 p.m. on weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on weekends. Vehicles would be charged $23 during peak hours, $17 in off-peak hours, and $12 for overnight drives. Under this proposal, vehicles would pay only one toll a day, no matter how many trips in and out of the CBD are made. Or another more simple proposal is, everyone move out of New York and let it sink.

More disturbing programs out of Lala land. As LA County Rolls Out Universal Basic Income Experiment. A pilot scheme guaranteeing $1,000 a month until 2025 has been rolled by LA County to 1,000 residents, who were chosen randomly from over 180,000 applicants. Does anyone ask where all this extra money is coming from? And why all the people not on UBI will have to pay for it? To qualify for the test program, applicants had to show they earned either under $56k/year as individuals, or under $96k/year as a family of four. The County Board of Supervisors chief Holly Mitchell claimed it's time that we trust that our residents know how best to meet their needs when given the resources to do so. But a taxpayers' rights nonprofit slammed the move as pure politics that could degrade society's work ethic, indeed. It's a datamining pilot scheme, pure and simple, allied with political theater. That money should have been spent on the homeless, who are worse off than those with low pay.

LA was the source of a test and fear program last week also. An evacuation notice that popped up on television telling residents to immediately evacuate Los Angeles was broadcast in error, a sheriff's office said.

Here is now the 4th show running revealing the warnings of civil unrest. This is now clearly a plan, they know the tide is turning and they know what is about to unfold is much worse. The next year will see the increase in the experimental job issues, as forecasted back in 2020 by leading doctors, and published in the Expose series. So why are they pushing it? It goes back to a warning two months ago, of they want us all back inside homes and not on the streets. This is another martial law exercise, that has already been tried and tested in China, and is still ongoing to this day, all in the name of a fake virus. That has clearly shown it is only a heavy cold or flu, and we don't lock down for that every winter do we? Flu magically disappeared around the world between 2020 and 2022, and replaced by name only as Covid. All too create a global situation and unveil more programs, that ultimately to their chagrin, will all fail. The world is bound for more disruption and unrest in the next six months, an intelligence firm said. Its analysis said the risk of civil unrest has increased in 101 of the 198 countries it tracked. It cited inflation and the energy and food crises linked to the war in Ukraine as key factors. The risk of civil unrest has surged this year in more than half of the world's countries, signaling a coming period of heightened global instability fueled by inflation, war, and shortages of essentials, a new analysis says. According to Verisk Maplecroft, a UK-based risk consulting and intelligence firm, 101 of the 198 countries tracked on its Civil Unrest Index, saw an increase in their risk of civil unrest between the second and third quarters of this year. Verisk started off as an Insurance company, that is also connected to Minnesota, and has developed into one of those multi task conglomerates of the cor-pirate world. Little to no details of who runs the firm are available on their website, despite assets running into the tens of billions. The firm wrote in its report that only 42 countries saw a decrease in such risk. Although there have been several high-profile and large-scale protests during the first half of 2022, the worst is undoubtedly yet to come, it added. Verisk's index is based on several factors, including inflation levels, how countries respond to dissent, and how devastating an impact civil unrest could have on a country's infrastructure. No mention of the Stazi tactics of Governments over Covid or the fact that many people have died due to their Stazi tactics, plus lost jobs, businesses, homes and lifestyles. The report said that nations such as Peru, Kenya, Ecuador, and Iran have seen discontent emerge on their streets because of rising costs. According to Verisk's index, Sri Lanka saw the most significant decrease in government stability, as mass protests over the country's worst economic crisis in modern history ousted former President Gotabaya Rajapaksa in July. Some of the nation's most at risk of civil unrest are middle-income countries, which had the funds to offer social protection during the COVID-19 pandemic, but are now struggling to maintain spending vital to their populations. Richer countries in the European Union face the same risks, with dissatisfaction likely to rise in Switzerland, the Netherlands, Germany and Bosnia and Herzegovina due to fallout from the war in Ukraine. Russia's invasion of Ukraine is supercharging food and fuel prices and stoking a cost-of-living crisis across the globe. However, the worst effects are yet to kick in. Meanwhile, energy shortages in Germany have led to blackouts and extreme power price hikes, with the country's top regulator stating that the nation must cut back on gas usage so it can later endure the coming winter. The Netherlands, which typically imports 15% of its gas from Russia, also faces a dilemma over whether to ramp up drilling in its gas-rich Groningen region, and risk triggering more devastating earthquakes that have already severely damaged 26,000 homes. Inflation will likely be felt more keenly over the next few months and is expected to worsen in 2023, Verisk wrote. Only a significant reduction in global food and energy prices can arrest the negative global trend in civil unrest risk, the firm said. Weather is also a key factor, it added. If colder-than-usual temperatures hit Europe in the fall and winter, it would exacerbate an already serious energy and cost of living crisis. It added that droughts could also increase food prices higher and set off protests in affected countries. The next six months are likely to be even more disruptive, the report's summary said. Notice they left one country out over protests? Israel, which has seen not only protests, but violent civil unrest. Notice also they left out the UK and USA? It is a created disaster and setting us up for something Biden and Trump both mentioned in their speeches. Remember when they spoke of the Dark Winter? perhaps 2022-23 will be that very project. I did warn it would get ugly 3-4 years back and consistently since. Do you fear it? Why? it had to unfold, the people had to see for themselves just how bad it is, to then request not a partial change, but a full change. We cannot go on with this underdeveloped in terms of the species, malintend, discontented and fractured world, to change all that, requires a beyond radical change from all people and all levels of society. In 40 years we can make this planet a peaceful, harmonic, abundant and intelligent world, ready for an advanced future.

TOPICAL PIECES: Democrat Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot slammed Republican Texas Gov. Greg Abbott, calling him a man without any morals, after he sent two buses of migrants to the city's Union Station last week. Let me say loud and clear to Greg Abbott and his enablers in Texas with these continued political stunts, and then labeled him racist. But not embracing migrants in your own town, is in and of itself racism. You voted and allowed these migrants in, but don't wish to have them in your own town Ms. Lightfoot? That is racist. As for morals, using migrants to play political stunts is morally reprehensible itself. A classic ouroboros program, and a repeated failure of not thinking before you speak. Lightfoot? No heavy foot in mouth.

Nigerian adverts will have to rely solely on local models and voiceover artists in future, the African nation's government announced this week. The policy changes will come into force on October 1. All advertisements, advertising and marketing communications materials are to make use of only Nigerian models and voiceover artists, the Advertising Regulatory Council of Nigeria (ARCON) said in a statement on Tuesday. Under multi-culturalism should that not be defined as racist? Multi-culturalism yet again is being used against pre-dominantly to the exclusion of one color. Imagine if a white country proposed the same? The mock outrage would be merciless. Yet again it implies laws or rules for one and not for the all.

Just as we warned about the home security systems, has now come to light in Colorado. In the wake of news from Colorado, that some 22,000 smart thermostats were locked on a day when the temperature approached 90 degrees. The reason? Those utility company customers were unable to adjust their thermostat to set it to a cooler temperature and get the A/C blasting, because of what they were told was an energy emergency. Temperature locked temporarily during energy emergency, the message read on those Xcel Energy customers' smart thermostats. Due to a rare energy emergency that may affect the local energy grid, your temperature slider has been changed from 8:00 am — 8:00 pm because you enrolled in a Community Energy Savings program. What made this possible was the customers enrolling in a program from the utility company. Specifically, one that offered them incentives in exchange for some degree of remote control over the smart thermostats. Those customers, for example, get a $100 credit at sign-up, and $25 each year. The classic seduction program again, for $25 you are being spied upon and listened to all year round. Big Brother is controlling your thermostat? The price you pay for so called security based on fear and or convenience, is a far too heavy one.

This is an update from Benjamin Fulford or whoever represents him these days, whilst I do not endorse all of it, a lot of it makes sense and so I will address the whole piece and add my input to it. The piece overlaps much of our shows, and also provides some proof of our claims; namely the world is falling apart and also those who think they are the top, are continuing to divide and conquer each other as the factions infighting has escalated badly, and new off shoots of the factions comes into the light. Ultimately they will fail, our task is to replace them and their banal and malevolent ideas, with something entirely new and better for us all, even including the clowns. The removal of the top ranks of the Knights of Malta by the Vatican means the entire leadership of NATO has been fired, P3 Freemason sources say. It is P3 now, I guess the P2 Lodge has broken up as well, P3 will be no better they are just fighting to stay in a game they can't win. There is also a purge going on inside Vatican City as Zionist cabal members are being removed, the sources say. This is causing a leadership vacuum in the G7 group of countries, as their entire economic/social system collapses. Yes, the old-world banking system and their social engineering programs are failing or failed. We are also getting multiple reports from intelligence agency sources around the world of a new 911 or Fukushima-type event being planned for this month. High-level sources are mentioning dates like September 8th, 11th and 23rd. This is all part of a Khazarian Mafia attempt to extort money from the rest of the world, as the September 30th payments deadline for the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA corporation and its KM owners approaches. March 31st and September 30th are the half year and end year fiscal reports, where debts need to be settled, in truth they can't be settled by their methods. In this context, there is a very real probability the EU and most governments in the EU will collapse, possibly before the end of the month. I would not give that short of a timeline, but it could unfold during the winter, moreso if the winter is severe over there. That is because the Russians have cut off gas flows to Europe, while the rest of the world has also stopped sending oil to the region. This is not just about heating European homes either: the cut-off is certain to lead to a shutdown of most industries in Western Europe. For example, a business lobby says high energy prices are already threatening to shut down 60% of UK factories. To deal with this situation, it appears the UK government has begun to start using previously forbidden Tesla energy technology, as a photograph of Tesla coils taken in England recently shows, other countries may have to follow suit. The shutting down of the Nordstream 1 gas pipeline to Germany for technical reasons has been widely reported, but it is only the tip of the iceberg. Unreported so far is that a Russian submarine entered the Mediterranean last week and cut a gas pipeline that was sending fuel to France from Algeria, the P3 sources say. In yet another blow, Zaporizhzhia, Europe's largest nuclear power plant, was severed from the national grid for the first time in its history after transmission lines were cut, prompting power cuts across Ukraine. The majority of thinking people the world over, realize that it is Russia who is on the side of truth and is doing its best to thwart a global Nazi comeback, Foreign Intelligence Service Director Sergey Naryshkin explained on September 3rd. I am confident that the inevitable destruction of the hegemony of the West's liberal-totalitarian regimes, will also make the world a more open, honest, and just place, he added. But, we the people must also guard that this is all not some total plan to end the world's Governments, bring down their economies, businesses and countries to its knees, to then replace it with their One World Government in Jerusalem. Russia can appear to be doing better than the Khazarian Mafia et al, but Russia fell to the same Mafia 100 or so years ago, and they do love to play both sides of the game remember. That is why we must be cautious, just because it sounds good doesn't mean it is. In my dealing with the Trust and engagements with lead Russian Generals and others, they were all Black Sun to my understanding, seems the Trustee surrounded herself with them, leading to obvious allegations which has not been refuted. Just because they are deemed lesser of the two evils, does not mean we the people have to select them. That is all we have ever done, why do we have to choice the lesser of the two evils, and instead not create for ourselves better candidates and then select them. We must ensure the triality choice is the best, which is what we decide, we the people for the first time in history are a player in the game. With this background, mass demonstrations are continuing across Europe, most notably in the Czech Republic and France. The situation has reached the point that, Germany has created a new military unit to patrol the streets and enforce martial law starting on October 1st (the day after the Sept. 30 payments deadline) in anticipation of mass rioting and civil unrest. Another mention of civil unrest, can be of benefit but just as easily can be a set up to declare martial law. As this is happening a series of assassinations and intrigue are being seen at the very tiptop of world power. For example, last week Christine Chadwick the private secretary to the head of MI6 was killed, in what was probably remote covert scalar type assassination covered with probable suicide, suicided is the formal forensic term, MI6 sources say. Her body was cremated before MI6 could carry out a forensic examination to determine the cause of death. The assassination was carried out because Chadwick was getting close to the people who assassinated former M1 (the guy who controls the FED money tap) Adnan Sakli, and took over control of the Federal Reserve Board money printing apparatus. Not the Sakli, Soekarno CIA led Phillipines people plot again, turn it in Ben, you will be repeating RV again soon, not happening. George Bush Sr. was executed in retaliation for this murder, erm no he wasn't, he died in 2014 and they waited for a 4 year loop to announce it. The control over money printing inside the US remains in the hands of the Nazi faction of the KM, they say. So much for the narrative of the Trustee then. Russian FSB sources say a lot of this intrigue and chaos comes, because the person who set off this chain of Satanic events, former Russian President Mikhail Gorbachev, died last week. If you read comments from the Russian people, most of them curse him and send him to hell, even the Christian patriarch is not expressing condolences or even mentioning his name. His presidency was like the mission of Judah. The Pentagon always wanted the Soviet Union to break and that is why the West is praising him. We as citizens of the USSR have lost our country, imperial glory and the unity of many Russian-speaking nations. We want it back and we will get it back but in a new manner, the source adds. The source also noted his linguistic code words like Perestroika and Glastnost were given to him by American consultants. Both of which means a big change and a transparent way of governing, which will be interesting from our perspective. MI6 sources confirm Gorbachev maintained huge offices in the Kremlin, and wielded great power long after he supposedly lost power. US Christian fundamentalist groups even went so far as the label him the antichrist. Even if Gorbachev is being given too much credit (or discredit), it is clear the Satanists are now leaderless. To understand this leadership vacuum, let us take a closer look at

why the intrigue at the Knights of Malta is so important. We can start by remembering the entire fake pandemic, an attempt to turn the planet into a giant animal farm, began with the Wuhan Biotech Company whose Knights of Malta logo is the same as the Umbrella Biotech Company logo from the Resident Evil series. We also note that years ago we were sent a membership list of Knights of Malta by MI6, it read like a who's who of the Western military/power elite. Queen of England is one of them, her end is nigh. That was written last weekend, this morning it was announced she had died. Unfortunately, the list we were sent was deleted from our computer by a third party before we got a chance to publish it. Nonetheless, the partial list here on Wikipedia includes a large group of European royals and aristocrats. Despite its vast power, the order has been split into two opposing factions for the past several years, with one group supporting the fake Joe Biden administration and another Donald Trump. Which proves neither are fit for purpose or our benefit, it is another of their two sides of the same coin game again. The Blueprint is the triality. The infighting between these factions, using tools like the FBI and puppet politicians, has left the US government running around like a headless chicken for the past couple of years. The last couple of years? Seriously? Try 246 years or at the very least 151 years. The P3 sources say there is also an ugly story going on involving a lot of mutual blackmail about things like pedophilia. Mossad has a big dossier of such blackmail material on most Western power brokers, they said. Yes, the Israelis created all of that so they can use every Country and its leaders for their own power game, some of it real and a lot done by coercion. Which is why we have addressed that in the Blueprint. In these circumstances, it is clear that when all the top Cardinals of the Vatican met last week, they chose to fire the leaders of both factions instead of going along with their plan to try to fool the world by installing a black-faced slave pope. However, the P3 note there is also a powerful group trying to remove the rubber masked actor pretending to be Pope Francis. Don't forget though that Pope Francis, fake President Joe Biden and the actor on TV pretending to be President Donald Trump are all pushing vaccines even as the death toll from them mounts. This means they all appear to subcontract for the Rockefeller Foundation, since these are the people who have been planning some sort of pandemic event since at least 1975. Even now, with all the adverse reactions to vaccines being reported, the Rockefeller Foundation is hiring a cohort of social and behavioral scientists from around the world, to try to figure out how to brainwash more people into getting vaccinated. They can try, like their other programs it will not work on the essential people. This is criminal given the vast evidence of the damage these vaccines have already caused. In the UK, for example, the government notes over 460,000 people have been damaged as of August 24th 2022 by the vaccines these criminals are pushing. Clearly, these desperate criminals are literally fighting for their lives and are still hoping to murder enough people to stay in power. Which confirms what I have been saying for the duration of THI, they are desperate, frightened and fearful of what happens next? The overall prognosis is that chaos and infighting in the Western leadership, will only intensify in the coming weeks and months as the system's collapse continues. There is also high-level turmoil and intrigue taking place in China, the Middle East, Japan and elsewhere. In China, a secret war is taking place with the mass purges (people dropping from buildings etc.) that already took in Shanghai now moving to major metropolises like Chengdu and Shenzhen. In this context, it is interesting to note the Vatican appears to be trying to reach some sort of high-level east/west financial deal by inviting the Chen imperial family from Taiwan to the Vatican last week for a nine-day visit. The Vatican is Taiwan's sole European ally in diplomacy. The power struggle is expected to culminate at a Communist party gathering in Beijing in October. Asian secret society sources say President Xi Jinping is fighting to dissolve the communist party, restore native rule and reunite Taiwan with China. In Japan meanwhile, a purge of the Nazi allied Unification Church, which controls over 150 politicians, is continuing. It is part of a push that is being made to declare martial law and restore Japanese independence, Japanese right-wing sources say. Unless they do so, the Japanese population is expected to keep plunging to extinction levels.

The same sort of struggle is happening in Korea, Asian secret society sources say. To understand how destructive to human life Satanic Khazarian Mafia rule is, note that in 2021 the number of babies per woman in South Korea reached a record low of 0.81, meaning the population will fall by over 50%.

By contrast in poor and repressive North Korea the average woman has 1.92 babies. In fact, all countries under KM rule share a birth rate so low that population numbers are plummeting, the only exception is Israel where the average woman has more than three children. What a surprise that is, and those plummeting birth rate details we covered in our book. The clue is to find where it is rising, as that tells you who is behind it. It is interesting in this context that the KM-controlled United Nations has dropped all pretenses of neutrality, and is issuing reports condemning human rights in countries like Russia and China, while ignoring the crimes of the KM-controlled G7.

The UN Human rights treaty of 1948 includes in its definition of genocide, measures to prevent births, forcibly transferring children or deliberately creating living conditions aimed to physically destroy a group. By that definition, South Korea, Japan, Singapore and the G7 are victims.

No wonder citizens in these countries are now close to open revolt, as their leadership continues to try to destroy them with hormone-disrupting and cancer-causing chemicals and unnatural living conditions etc.

The rebellion against KM rule is also accelerating in the Middle East, mass attacks against the KM are being reported in Libya, Iraq and elsewhere.

We also note there is still intensive weather warfare going on worldwide as the power struggle continues. The flooding that has covered one-third of Pakistan is a clear example. P3 sources note the Russians tried to stop these attacks last week by destroying US Star Wars radars in Sicily.

On that Star Wars note, we conclude once again with the latest evidence the secret space program people are deliberately displaying their futuristic UFOs to large sections of the world. Hopefully, soon they will land one of their anti-gravity craft on the White House lawn.

Or not, why would they? They operate in stealth and the secret space program is A: not secret and B: was not started by Donald Trump.

EXPOSE 1: Following on from our recent Expose show called What in the name of Science's portion is this? This takes another look at what the psychopaths are up to, all they say in the name of science. Our question would be, to benefit whom? But morality is like art and the setting of personal boundaries, somewhere you have to draw a line. Where should we draw the line on efforts to alter human genes to create a superhuman race? Where does that fit in with the previous version of the master race? Which we covered in the Cosmic Genetics series. Where does that fit in with the so called chosen ones? Where should we draw the line between mixing human and animal genes to create human-animal hybrids? Where should we draw the line between treating humans as objects, made up of tiny bags of chemicals called cells, rather than Beings with inherent worth and dignity because we are made in the image and likeness of Source? Personally I find the lack of religious interference or protest on these topics as alarming. On the one hand they will go to war over their god, and yet eerily remain silent as science interferes with their gods creation, or tries to manipulate it into something else. The Threat of Unregulated Human Engineering and Human-Animal Crossbreeding: Modern eugenicists and transhumanists, including many leading scientists, want to use the tools of biotechnology to forever change humankind. They want to change not just our society, but our biology. While they prefer to talk about the goal of ending disease, their ultimate goal is to create better people, which is actually a lie in and of itself, as there is no evidence the old system did anything to improve people's lives. Their version of better, is a more compliant model, that won't answer back, never complain and just tolerate the conditions they impose on them, and to be grateful they allowed you to live. Using the science of genetics, they envision creating new human races, including homo superior. You cannot get more superior than what you have, and if the psychopaths let people develop in the right way, they will realize we don't need science or technology to be enhanced. In the reverse direction, some hope to create sub-human species by blending human and animal genes, are the science fiction future narrative to throw people off the scent, they have already done it, long in the past. These human-animal hybrids, they say, will be more easily trained to complete dangerous tasks or to serve homo superior in other ways. Yes to serve the EL-ite psychopaths who are attempting another failed ouroboros program, to become the new god. It fails everytime, but to the desperate and stupid, they always think they will be the one, yeah right and how did that work for the fake gods and goddesses of the past? It didn't. Most transhumanists admit they have no idea where the process of human engineering will end, most believe it will never end, most don't want it to end, because it is another lazy assed savior based program again. Instead, human engineering will be a never-ending process, as different discoveries and ideas find their way into the reshaping of humanity. However, most will also admit that, as with all new technologies tragic mistakes will be made, no shit Sherlock! But they are united in their insistence that progress requires trial and error. They oppose any laws that would restrict their experiments and efforts to reshape human life, because they want to achieve their goal of creating a new humanity with a minimum of public debate. Because they are a failed and wasted vessel is why, and don't understand the higher purpose of life. These people should just go ahead and immerse themselves into the Metaverse now, a fake reality, with fake bodies, internet and realms, and just leave the rest of us to learn, work and play at real life. Curiously, even while eugenicists and transhumanists oppose regulation of their human engineering experiments, they are very active in demanding public funding. In these fundraising efforts, they emphasize the promise of cures for common diseases, (M) we have had cures, it is they who won't release them, bearing in mind it is these same psychopaths who by and large created the dis-eases. In fact, they see anything less than perfection as a disease, no they are the dis-ease. For example, James Watson, who won the Nobel Prize for describing DNA structures, who we covered recently, is only one of thousands of leading scientists who want to use genetic engineering to redesign humanity. Proclaiming stupidity a disease, Watson wants the freedom to design better people who lack the hypothetical stupidity gene. There is none more stupid than an EL-ite with money, wait until they find out they were played more than the masses. (M) Like the scientists rushing toward human cloning, many transhumanists and eugenicists, are simply loose cannons. They place all of their faith in the eventual triumph of their scientific methods, they have no respect for the public opinion of non-scientists. We have no respect for their jackass attempts at trying science, because too few really understand beyond the basics of it. Like the ET's said, you understand no more about the Universe than 500 years ago. They have no belief in the inherent dignity of human beings, maybe because they are not human? Instead, they want progress, and they believe the future evolution of humanity should not be left to chance or imaginary gods. Scientists and the biotech industry, they believe, should be left free to use their skills and resources to improve the human race in any way their technology may lead us. I think the botched and failed Covid scam will have scuppered that free reign. The Need For a Preemptive Ban: We believe the future and safety of the human race demands a preemptive ban on loose cannons, creating and modifying human beings without prior approval from the public through our governing authorities. We are a coalition of concerned citizens and organizations, who believe it is time to slow the train of progress toward a new humanity before it is too late. We support local, national, and international efforts to erect preemptive bans on human engineering, with appropriate exceptions for cures involving gene therapies, stem cells, and similar procedures that treat disease without fundamentally changing human beings or the human genome. Our proposals will allow scientists, including transhumanists, to conduct ethical experiments with animals. Once they have proven the effectiveness of their genetic fixes or superhuman enhancements, they are encouraged to educate the public and legislatures about why their proven techniques should be conducted on humans. But without this prior public approval, it would be against the law for them to create human life and tamper with human beings. The author of this short piece is a bit on the naïve side thinking these people operate under law, a law of sorts but not our Cosmic Law, just a bastardized version of we make our own laws up, in accordance with the Talmud. We support progress, but we believe that everyone should have a say in determining if genetic procedures that change human beings are really progress, or are a step toward disaster. Trust me, it will be a disaster just like all the other attempts from 600B years back. Some people tried some time back to initiate a change, as usual the people have appeared to ignore it. Our First Initiative to Regulate Human Engineering: In March of 2006, we sponsored an initiative to amend the constitution of Missouri during the election of November 2006. The proposed new article to the constitution would have erected a preemptive ban on human engineering, with limited, common sense exceptions. Most importantly, it would have reserved to the people the right to make future exceptions. Our amendment was not put on the ballot due to our failure to begin this effort earlier, by the time the Secretary of State approved our petition initiative for gathering signatures, we had only five weeks remaining before the deadline. In consultation with other groups, a strategic decision was made not to pursue this amendment further in 2006. They planned to pursue it again in 2008, and are working to pursue variations on the same amendment/legislation in other states and countries. This initiative will get the loose cannons in bioengineering under control, it will allow and encourage ethical experiments with animals. But before these technologies can be used on people, scientists must come to the voters to convince us that using these technologies on humans is wise and beneficial. This is the first of similar initiatives we intend to sponsor in other states and in other nations. We invite you to explore our site to learn more about the dangers of unregulated transhumanism. I guess their efforts got ignored, by politicians and also the people, that ignorance proved costly to many in the Covid Scam. Our blueprint does address this in many ways under the cessation of all science projects and research, and the testing of them as to whether they are of value. Human engineering and chimeras are not and never will be beneficial for we the people on a collective basis.

It is time for us to live and let die.

EXPOSE 2: While most of us thought that we had a government of the people, by the people, for the people, we do not and have not had one since the 1800's, and even that was suspect. The question for every country is, have we ever had a real Government that operates for and by the people? In my opinion no, why? because we never asked for or initiated it, we just handed over responsibility to others with zero accountability. And the totalitarian creep just kept rolling on, getting worse after each administration. The name of the Governance changed regularly, but the song remained the same, a sad, depressive and regressive tune that people all thought was cool and danced along to. It is out of time to end that. The transformation has been in the works for over 100 years, but the final weapon to take us to a one-world government was, the two-part President's Council on Sustainable Development/National Partnership for Reinventing Government. The first part embedded Agenda 21 into even the most minor areas of government, from federal to Podunkville. The second, while we heard even less about it, is the dangerous focus on leading a fundamental culture change in the government, that transfers(ed) power from Congress to the bureaucracy; from representatives of the people to unelected bodies. Which means we have no ability to oust them, who would ultimately control international finance, all corporate & business activity, government policy, and international relations. I disagree we have no ability to oust them, because we do, but it best to be pro-active and stop before it unfolds, not do what humanity have always done, and sat back and then reacted. And thus, they have constructed a system that will enable them to seize the global commons, and control of the entire world. This transfer of power destroyed the check and balances in the Constitution at the local level, and therefore destroy(ed) representative government. This power shift is a philosophical shift to a completely new form of government, it's not new it's the same shit recycled. It is a merger between government, corporations, and non-governmental organizations. The Government part or role in that group is irrelevant, it has always been irrelevant as control, plans, bills, agendas and policies have been ran by private corporations and the NGO's. The only difference now is, they wish to make it public. This established Public/Private Partnerships (PPP) to become the new nucleus of the government. The Preamble to the Earth Summit/Agenda 21, stated flat-out that Public Private Partnerships were the future. The Earth Summit/Agenda 21, p. 15 tells us that: Government, business and industry, including transnational corporations, strengthen partnerships to implement the principles and criteria for sustainable development.

Now that 30-some years have passed since the Globalists began putting this into effect, we are seeing the results, and they are hideous and overwhelming. This is what happens when the public ignores it, more should have been done by the people to stop this in its tracks. It will get stopped, but only after a period of pure ugliness will that unfold, because that is the modus operandi of the people in general. Everything is reactive and nothing is done pro-active. The PPPs have morphed into one Global Public/Private Partnership (GPPP), too big to fail or so they hope. The term too big to fail is used to describe a company that's, so entwined in the global economy that its failure would be catastrophic. If it doesn't fail, it will be the end of civilization on this earth, but it will fail. There are too many power-hungry maniacs running things; there will be fights on who's king of the mountain, who's in charge today. Just like all that went in the past, the desire to be the individual one, when the collective gets ignored. The same is unfolding in the past decade, as the top order were decimated, in stepped the follower minions to becomes the one again. Out went the Illuminati and in came factions, factions then started fighting each other, and now they are down to two. Even then they are still fighting, it is all they know and do. When it fails, it will still be an ugly and dangerous world, but not one in which tyrants will be in control of every area of our lives. But let's look at what the GPPP is now. The Global Public/Private Partnership is a network of the world's stakeholder capitalists. What is stakeholder capitalism? It is the notion that a firm focuses on meeting the needs of all its stakeholders: customers, employees, partners, the community, and society as a whole. That is the illusion, you and I, the customers, employees, the community and society as a whole are not, and never will be, stakeholders. The stakeholders are those rich EL-ite men and women, those who run the central banks and a few government leaders. No ordinary people allowed! Think about it; it is impossible to meet the needs of all its stakeholders that they list, unless of course those stakeholders are told what they want, i.e., you will own nothing and be happy. That is the only way this can work; there are too many competing interests with that large a sphere of categories to cater to. The stakeholders of the GPPP are global corporations, central banks, governments, billionaire foundations, think-tanks, major academic and scientific institutions, non-governmental organizations, and even labor unions. What entity did they leave out? we the people. We will have no say, not that we have much now, or the governments that are considered their stakeholder partners have any say either. If you look at the U.S., you can see that the government bureaucrats hold all the power of Congress; while the executive branch is controlling those entities, the Globalists with the Deep State are controlling the executive. Free-market capitalism has been dominant in the Western world since the breakup of feudalism, in which most means of production are privately owned, production is guided, and income is distributed largely through the operation of markets. And history shows that free-market capitalism has been the best economic system ever yet devised, yet we have not been living under a free-market system for decades, or maybe never, as the same peoples have always controlled trade, going back to the Silk Road. It has been gradually morphed into what we have today, a corrupted, manipulated, and controlled mess with no central structure and a monetary system with nothing to back it. Most or all of the world's economic systems are on the verge of collapse, an entirely planned collapse which this show warned of 6 years ago, all so the GPPP can step in and take over.

Since the creation of the US Federal Reserve over a century ago, every major financial market collapse has been deliberately triggered for political motives by the central bank. Today the US Fed is acting with its interest rate weapon, which is another tool of asymmetrical warfare and extra taxation on the people, what is the greatest speculative financial bubble in human history, a bubble they created. All to create globalism. Right now, we are dealing with severe land-use and housing regulations that are forcing people into cities, now called human habitats, as opposed to the rural areas which are to become part of the animal habitat. So, the animals get to live in vast open spaces, whilst the people are corralled into dense concrete jungles, that resembles in overview a prison. I suppose that tells us exactly where we stand in their thinking. The laughable notion is, although it is not exactly funny is, they wish for us to pay for the privilege of it all. What's worse is, stupid people will far too readily go along with it. Single-family homes are considered damaging for the environment, see the book Sustainable by Tom DeWeese, so people need to be urged or essentially driven out of them and into Stack-n-Pack housing called The Ideal Communist City. Calling suburbia, a sprawl to denigrate big yards and neighborhoods with yards, barbeques, and lots of kids running around, is another tool of asymmetrical warfare. But many, if not most of those living in suburbia in their single-family homes are middle class; the backbone of America building on the American Dream. There is no dream, it is and was another illusion, as middle class is largely based on debt, that is not middle class at all, it is working class playing the debt cycle game to keep up with the Jones'. Does anybody ask who the hell are the Jones's? Those desiring to own a home are finding fewer available, so they are losing a chance to build equity. Economic freedom is at stake, and with it free-market capitalism, a cornerstone of American liberty. Now, let's look at probably the most dangerous Global Public Private Partner, BlackRock. It is the world's single most powerful financial institution with assets now at 9.6 trillion dollars. And that fact gives the CEO, Larry Fink, unparalleled control over the U.S. economy, not a pleasant thought that one person has so much power. Aided and abetted by the stupid Trustee. BlackRock advises central banks and has connections with state leaders of the world, with many stakes in many companies which we referenced in a previous show. BlackRock established a new investment fund in China; the first owned entirely by a foreign firm. Chinese investors have put a billion dollars into it, and it has already attracted over 111,000 investors. Isn't funny how globalists and capitalists can trade with our so called political, economic or social, so called enemies? But BlackRock are up to other skullduggery and raping American funds with their investing here in the U.S. in the pensions and property. Re pensions: Consumers' Research is warning that BlackRock is taking pension funds that are invested through BlackRock and putting that money into investments in China. As Consumers' Research states: What we've seen is that while BlackRock is virtue signaling in the U.S., they're aiding our adversaries with American pension dollars. They also list the ten states whose public pension funds are most deeply invested in Blackrock: Washington, Florida, New York, Nevada, South Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Montana, and West Virginia. All going to China, just like the Military equipment. What about property? The American Policy Center have been writing and speaking for years about how the world's bureaucrats have been making laws, regulations, rules and reinventing governments to establish Agenda 21 through the U.N., World Economic Forum, and the GPPP. One of the many outcomes of a completed Agenda21/2030 world would be no private property. The federal government who are the Deep State and Globalists running D.C. incentivized Wall Street to get into the housing market. In early 2012, it launched a pilot program that allowed private investors to easily purchase foreclosed homes by the hundreds, from the government agency Fannie Mae. These new owners would then rent out the homes, creating more housing in areas heavily hit by foreclosures. Sounds great; government has the answer. Wait. The renters of these single-family homes have discovered that a big, deep-pocket company as landlord isn't all it's cracked up to be. And the companies are finding out that, while they may consider these homes are, basically, cookie cutter homes and the tenants are cookie cutter tenants, life may work that way in technocracy, but it doesn't in real life. Oh dear they are running another Ouroboros program on themselves. But the tenants are the ones paying for the glitches, see the Atlantic article on Wall Street landlords, that was last year; then BlackRock was a minor figure in real estate. BlackRock is now aiming to become one of the largest landlords in the U.S.; they already own $34 billion in real estate here. And more than half of our country's properties are owned by institutional investors, which is BlackRock and other stakeholders of the GPPP. According to the New York Times, BlackRock is buying every single-family house they can find, paying 20-50% above asking price and outbidding usual home buyers. I know all too well about them, as they have an army of bot callers from all over the States requesting for me to sell them my house, between 3 and 10 calls per day. All despite being on the no call list. BlackRock and one of the other GPPPs are also taking over centralized food production technologies, and will have near-total control over the future food supply in America. They also largely own the world's top ten food companies. And owner, Larry Fink, says it is time to force people's behavior to change. What behavior is that? Where we live, what we eat, if we procreate? Those are the general Agenda21/GPPP/Great Reset points. Fink and his ilk needs to look at their own psychotic behaviors before preaching to anybody else, it is they who are what is wrong with this planet, and they who created a mass psychosis of bot level people bowing to their every psychotic whim. To build back better in Marxism means to destroy everything of moral value and individual freedom and leave a rotten, fallow, world behind. Marxism cannot build back anything; it is built on the Hegelian Dialectic which tears down step after step with no reconstruction. So, according to the GPPP, building back better means taking full control of the global commons. The global commons used to mean, those parts of the planet that fall outside national jurisdictions and to which all nations have access. Now they mean and all the other parts of the planet, too. Will they succeed? In my opinion, no. They have rushed their plan in attempt to complete it, it being Agenda 21 and one-world government by 2030, rather than their 2050 initial date. There are other factors that will undo them, including that no matter how big your computer, you cannot factor in every variable necessary to build that tyrannical rule. We will prevail, but because so many waited so long to wake up, it will be an ugly, dystopian world because the building back better only builds, at best, brownfields. Being BlackRocked is a dream of the GPPP and a nightmare of all nightmares for sane, rational, moral people. Something the stupid decision of the Trustee should look back on her role in it, whether deliberate or not it has produced the same outcome. Their argument is, if the people won't look after themselves, then we will do it for you. That has to and will change, and it is everything what THI and the TPC stands and operates for. We are not standing on the edge of revolution as that is a loop that revolves round and round like a hamster wheel, We are standing on the precipice of evolution.

PONDERING PIECES: I have seen the same repeated advert recently, advertising Smart Water. One has to question with the title and promotion of it, how smart is it?

What is smart about it, does it contain other smart systems like cities, phones, home security and vaccines?

Another advert involves a fisherman returning to his car, with a bear and a bald eagle behind him. The eagle takes the fish off of the bear and drops it next to the fisherman. The symbology is all about America v. Russia again, but what is the fish symbolizing? A war at sea? More spying via phishing?

A little bit of word magic to ponder over again, which can often lead to interesting connotations and connections. The conquistador, the Con with quistador, what is a quistador as I pondered of who sent the con. It brought up the word quitador, which means the one who took away or the remover. But one letter is missing, the letter S, it could mean Spanish or just as well mean Sephardic or Serpent. Given the Central American culture was built on the worship of the Serpent we are told, perhaps that was inserted into his story after the conquest? The Spanish word conquistador which is pronounced as konkista'dor or kawng-kees-tah-th aw-res means an adventurer, a vagabond and a conqueror. Both of which it should be noted starts with the letter K again. Conquistador literally means conqueror. They were the people sent by the King of Spain to America for conquering and navigating the new territories. What part of Spain did the conquistadors come from? Conquistadors it was said came from all over Europe. Some were German, Greek, Flemish, and so on, but most of them came from Spain, particularly southern and southwestern Spain. The conquistadors typically came from families ranging from the poor to the lower nobility. Here is an interesting line, Conquistadors are generally from Spain or Portugal, if they are not from Spain or Portugal, then they are called explorers. What did the conquistadors receive from Spanish rulers? Grants or special privileges that gave them the right to explore and establish settlements in the Americas. In exchange, they agreed to give the Spanish crown one-fifth of any gold or treasure discovered. That was the external gain, but the real gain was the claiming of land, which led to the claiming of rights, stock, farming and minerals, all of which led to the vast accumulation of wealth for those orchestrating it. It also gave them rights to peoples which gave even more wealth later down the line, all of which was after the killing spree to eliminate all previous history and knowledge.

The American space agency attempted to launch its giant new Moon rocket, the Space Launch System, and has failed both times.

The SLS is the most powerful vehicle ever developed by Nasa, and will be the foundation of its Artemis project, which aims to put people back on the lunar surface after a 50-year absence. From Genesis to Mercury to Apollo and now Artemis, they sure do like the Greek Gods and biblical references over there. Its job will be to propel a test capsule, called Orion, far from Earth. Calling it Orion adds more conspiracy fuel to the fire.

This spacecraft will loop around the Moon on a big arc before returning home to a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean in six weeks' time. Six weeks' time? That is not a traditional moon visit and return period, which is more in the 6-8 days range, what is the other 5 weeks for?

Orion has no crew for this demonstration, but assuming all the hardware works as it should, astronauts will climb aboard for a future series of ever more complex missions, starting in 2024. It should also be noted that one of its capsules is called the Interim Cryogenic Propulsion Stage. What is in the cryogenic chambers?

For a long time, for instance, scientists believed the universe's earliest, oldest galaxies to be small, slightly chaotic, and misshapen systems. But captured imagery has revealed those galaxies to be shockingly massive, not to mention balanced and well-formed. A finding that challenges, and will likely rewrite, long-held understandings about the origins of our universe. The models just don't predict this, Garth Illingworth, an astronomer at the University of California at Santa Cruz, the models are flawed is why. How do you do this in the universe at such an early time? How do you form so many stars so quickly? Perhaps the stars were formed before they came through the barrier? In what science describes as the big bang, perhaps it is just light at the end of the tunnel. Kind of explains how science has been in essence, perhaps now they are seeing light at the end of the tunnel?

To explain that more brings in a previous piece with added parts to fill in the details. This is describing mind control, but as above so below brings in other ways of thinking. Lewin came up with the theory of Force Field Analysis, which may give people a clue about how their programs work. Force Field Analysis provides a framework for looking at the factors and forces that influence a situation, and was originally applied to social situations. It examines forces that are either driving movement toward a goal (helping forces), or blocking movement toward a goal (hindering forces). That is the push and pull effect of gravity also, what creates that? Consciousness at the point of origin and the arrival or destination aspect. Key to this approach was Lewin's interest in gestaltism, understanding the totality and assessing a situation as a whole rather than focusing only on individual aspects. Further, he believed the totality for an individual (their life space) derives from their perception of their reality, not an objective viewpoint. Their perception of reality provides the clue to the mind-control technique, and here is how they deliver it. The problem is, your perception of reality is distorted at an early age, as schools, colleges and the Media dictate your reality at the developmental stage. Too few are able to ask the critical questions to challenge the perception, it is just accepted. So, all opposing opinions are then deemed radical or outlandish, because they proposed the perception and the objective viewpoint. Triality is your input not theirs, what do you see? Does what you see conform to their proposed reality? If it doesn't, what is your input? Does it form a pattern you can link it to? Does it make sense? An early model of change developed by Lewin described change as a three-stage process. The first stage he called unfreezing. It involved overcoming inertia and dismantling the existing mindset, it must be perceived to be part of surviving, and defense mechanisms have to be bypassed. They do that as described earlier, they form your thinking and in essence dismantle your own mindset. In Cosmic terms the unfreezing could be related to cryogenics, as the whole solar system emerges into the new Universal space, through the black hole or membrane barrier and then springs to life. In the second stage, the change occurs. This is typically a period of confusion and transition. We are aware that the old ways are being challenged, but we do not have a clear picture as to what we are replacing them with yet. You do if you think for yourself and ignore their input. The third and final stage he called freezing. The new mindset is crystallizing and one's comfort level is returning to previous levels. Lewin's three-step process is regarded as a foundational model for making change in organizations. MK-ULTRA is also done in three stages, and after the third stage, the person is unaware of who they are or what they do. Same program and same people is why. The third stage cosmologically is not freezing at all, it is collective consciousness taking over, they have everything ass backward.

A conversation was had by those in the village, about my stating there is 4 and 5D below our feet. And how they received warmth from the central sun, there is also plentiful of clean water down there, including some H<sub>2</sub>O. Trees, fruits and other vegetation grow more plentiful, a veritable feast it could be said. But the question was, can they see us, and more importantly, how can they see the stars? The answer is unless they step down in vibration and or have abilities to traverse our world the answer would be no, but it is not a simple no, there are variables to it. The next question is, if they look up how can they see the stars? My reply was why wouldn't they see the stars? The reply back was the surface and dwellers would be in the way, which is a valid point in general thinking and logic, but perhaps it is something else entirely? My next reply was, what if they can see right through the surface because we are a lower density? This yielded much in the way of wells the fargo and woah's! We can't see them unless we are in a higher vibration, those that do, can and have visited them. I am now going to add to that pondering and also bring in another potential mind-blowing pondering and addition to that as well. What if we are below and they are on the surface? It is all about perspective is it not? What is up and what is down? How can you define up or down with as above so below. How can you define what is external or internal with as within so without? Is it a possibility we are within a structure and not external of it? Imagine we are inside the Earth, and when we look up or down at the opening of the inner Earth via the poles, we can view the night sky. But it is a limited view of the night sky is it not? Almost like a window. A window to the stars they say, but what if that is literal? If you look through that window, you will see the stars spin around the opening of the poles, and it would appear to be spinning around just one star, would it not? Is that not what happens when you view the night sky now? Everything is spinning around the North Pole star? Now ponder on that lot.

ENDING PIECE: Soul development some say is too hard, but that depends on how much you apply yourself to that pursuit, does it not? Yes, it takes longer if you pursue the desires and pleasures of the external, and many apply more time to that, than the self. But the pursuit is something of the greatest value in life that you can attain. What are the gains? Self-healing, self-mastery, self-truth, self-love, it reduces conflicts, it brings balance, it brings overview, wisdom, it brings enlightenment and so much more. The great question is, why wouldn't you pursue those? Many in this group have and are beginning to experience the great wonders and technology contained from within, but always be aware of the hidden hook that has plagued so many, including those not far from here. The rise is always slower than the fall, but as long as you are rising, why not see that as progress? Instead of self depreciating yourself with what you haven't done. This is not an easy process, if it was we would have a lot of people in that stage of development, but just because it is not easy, does not mean it is something not worth pursuing. Because eventually like trauma and pain, you have to face the reality of it. The question then becomes; just how long are you going to take to do it? Some took 6 loops and still didn't achieve it. Why? because they kept making the same mistakes over and over again, did not display wisdom to see the patterns of not only life, but failure as well. Wisdom and intellect are the much higher forms of knowledge and knowing compared to intelligence. Intelligence can be taught by books, studying papers and revising upon subjects, except as we have found out, those materials are limited in their scope, knowledge and even moreso basic understanding. The powers of observation and analytics, will always trump the powers of reading and studying. Because an observer in overview will always see the bigger picture, not limited by texts, paragraphs or sentences. And so wisdom and intellect comes not from books, but observation in a non-personal way. Because that way imposes freedom of thought and no limitations, what do you see? What do you not see? All comes under the observation skills and a greater understanding of things. The very first show of THI and it's opening line reveals what we set out to do with this group, it still stands to this day, although its meaning and understanding of it has gone much deeper amongst many of you. I will tell you what you need to hear, not what you want to hear, and we will learn to think and act different. If only those people in previous lifetimes had exhibited that, because if they did, the truth is they would no longer be on an Earth level plane existence by force. And by force I don't mean you were forced into it, I mean you had no choice but to continue based on your level of development. Which choice you make for the future near and far, lies in the hands of you all. The BBC headline may have said it all, following the announcement of the Queen is dead it said, The moment history stopped, no it is the moment his story stops and our story begins. Ya ready!
