

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2022-09-29

We are going to mix this show up again a bit, to accommodate two exposes, one of which we started last week. Tuesday's show added to that expose last week and will roll into part 2 this week. The second expose whilst long will be epic and form part of a future show as well. Can I have all the communal gathering updates by this Sunday please, so can prep the next show.

MEDICAL RELATED: Denmark has banned the use of Covid-19 vaccines for people under 50 years of age, explaining that the ban is because widespread immunity and low risk from Covid, mean the benefits from vaccination are too low. They missed the part of where it should have said the risk of the vaccines are too high.

People aged under 50 are generally not at particularly higher risk of becoming severely ill from Covid-19. In addition, younger people aged under 50 are well protected against becoming severely ill from Covid-19, as a very large number of them have already been vaccinated and have previously been infected with Covid-19, and there is consequently good immunity among this part of the population. Perhaps they are concerned about the looming litigation?

Reports quietly published by the UK Government whilst they knew the majority of the public were either mourning the death of Queen Elizabeth II, or distracted by the 24/7 news coverage. It revealed the following, that there has been 24,005 excess deaths in England & Wales since April, and mortality rates per 100,000 are highest among the vaccinated in all age groups suggesting the Covid-19 vaccine may be to blame. The same reports reveal it takes approximately five months for that elevated mortality rate to be realized. This suggests the Covid-19 vaccine may be to blame for so many excess deaths occurring 5 months after the mass winter booster campaign. There have also been 25,855 Covid-19 deaths since the beginning of 2022 and up to the end of May 2022, 91% of those deaths were among the triple/quadruple vaccinated.

A UK Government institution known as the UK Health Security Agency has announced that it will no longer offer the Covid-19 vaccine to healthy 5 to 11-year-old children. The decision comes after official data from another UK Government institution known as the Office for National Statistics, reveals deaths among children aged 5 to 9 are 22% higher than in the previous two years, ever since the NHS began to start vaccinating children aged 5-11 on the 4th April 2022. Bearing in mind there is still a quarter of the year still to go, I suspect that figure to rise sadly.

More clownery in the theater of clowns and the circus, New York City. Plus here comes the subtle continuation of the Covid bs and a warning of what is to come. Anthony Fauci, the nation's top infectious disease expert, (M) said in a new interview that the anti-vaxxer attitude of some Americans risks causing non-Covid virus outbreaks in the U.S. Are you and your ilk planning others Mr. Fauci? Of the ticks or mosquito variety? I'm concerned the acceleration of an anti-vaxxer attitude in certain segments of the population, might spill over into that kind of a negative attitude towards childhood vaccinations, Fauci said. We the people are concerned about the injury and deaths being caused by said vaccines, and so are other countries. Here we go, fears of a polio resurgence in the US have health officials on high alert, a top virologist said. Guess where Polio has resurfaced recently? Yes, you guessed it, New York. If you fall back on vaccines against common vaccine-preventable childhood diseases, that's where you wind up getting avoidable and unnecessary outbreaks, Fauci added. If you keep giving damaging vaccines to the children, there won't be any children left to take your vaccines Fauci. (J) Fauci, who announced last month that he will step down in December, said political division is one factor driving anti-vaxxer sentiment, noting how some states have not promoted Covid-19 vaccination and Congress has failed to advance billions of dollars in funding. The World Health Organization released a report in July showing that vaccination among children declined more during the Covid-19 pandemic than at any time in the past 30 years. Well, that is good news. Fauci's remark comes after New York Gov. Kathy Hochul Democrat who is born in and born to, declared a state of emergency last week due to the spread of polio through wastewater, spurring the state to ramp up vaccinations against the virus. The U.S.'s Covid-19 vaccination rate amongst adults is still at 67 percent, according to CDC data, but is well below other countries. Here comes our warning: Fauci also said in an interview earlier this month that the U.S. should prepare for a bad flu season. Is that the dark winter they promised? Or will they for the first time in two years actually count flu as flu, or continue to switch flu to Covid?

NEWS: Yet again this shows how the so-called authorities are working together on illicit practices. Two establishments designed to protect us and keep law and order, yet again found to fall drastically short of it. Two former state judges who took bribes to send hundreds of children to prison, have been ordered to pay more than $200 million for the scheme. In the so-called kids-for-cash scandal, Pennsylvania state judges Mark Ciavarella and Michael Conahan shuttered a county-run juvenile detention center, in exchange for $2.8million in illegal payments from the co-owner and builder of two for-profit jails. A judge with a surname whose first three letters is CIA, I guess that was never going to be positive was it? US District Judge Christopher Conner has awarded almost 300 plaintiffs in a lawsuit against the judges, with $106million in compensatory damages and $100million in punitive damages. The victims are the tragic human casualties of a scandal of epic proportions, Conner wrote in the judgment explanation. Presiding over juvenile court, Ciavarella held to a zero-tolerance policy that resulted in many children as young as eight years old winding up at the for-profit facilities, PA Child Care or Western PA Child Care. Many of the kids were sent for minor infractions like smoking, truancy, jay walking and petty theft, and had no prior violations. Ciavarella is serving a 28-year prison sentence in Kentucky, and is scheduled to be released in 2035. Meanwhile, Conohan is serving a more than 17-year sentence but was released to home confinement with six years left in 2020 due to the corona virus pandemic. The state Supreme Court threw out about 4,000 juvenile convictions that more than 2,300 children were subjected to after the scheme was busted. Ciavarella and Conahan abandoned their oath and breached the public trust, Conner wrote. Their cruel and despicable actions victimized a vulnerable population of young people, many of whom were suffering from emotional issues and mental health concerns. A lawyer for the plaintiffs, Marsha Levick, who is the co-founder and chief counsel of the Juvenile Law Center in Philadelphia, on Wednesday called the judgement a huge victory. To have an order from a federal court that recognizes the gravity of what the judges did to these children, in the midst of some of the most critical years of their childhood and development matters enormously. Whether or not the money gets paid. The scandal was among the worst ever uncovered within the justice system in the US.

The for-profit practice with prisons needs to be stopped immediately. Yet again the greedy shekel people want financial gains from absolutely everything. This involves banks, vulture capitalists and Wall Street. This goes on in many courts as I understand, and the inhabitants of the court room appear to treat it as some sort of dividend share out. Putting kids in prison just to make money, beggars belief and beyond shameful. And yet again proves our piece, that people will just about do absolutely anything to obtain the new neon god called money.

With all the Jewish led mafia based Western media rhetoric being spewed forth on every European and American channel's, Putin as sought to address the latest rhetoric by doing a national address. Partial mobilization in such a situation, I consider it necessary to make the following decision, which is fully appropriate to threats we face. Namely, in order to protect our motherland, its sovereignty and territorial integrity, and to ensure the safety of our people and people in the liberated territories. I consider it necessary to support the proposal of the defense ministry and the General Staff to conduct a partial mobilization in the Russian Federation. We are talking about partial mobilization. That is only citizens who are currently in the reserves, and above all, those who have served in the armed forces, have military skills and relevant experience. Only they will be subject to conscription. This is to counteract the fearmongering Western allegations of he is conscripting everyone. The common sense question people should ask is, why would he need to conscript everyone, think logical not follow ridiculous scripts. Today our armed forces are operating across a front line that exceeds 1,000 km, opposing not only neo-Nazi formations but the entire military machine of the collective West. NATO is conducting reconnaissance across the south of Russia. Washington, London and Brussels are directly pushing Kyiv to move military action to our country. They are openly saying that Russia should be defeated on the battlefield by any means. Nuclear weapons and nuclear blackmail have also been used. We are talking not only about the shelling of the Zaporizhzhia nuclear plant, which was encouraged by the West, which threatens to cause a nuclear catastrophe. But also, about statements from senior representatives of NATO countries about the possibility and permissibility of using weapons of mass destruction against Russia: nuclear weapons. I would like to remind those who make such statements about Russia that our country also possesses various means of destruction, and in some cases, they are more modern than those of NATO countries. He is correct they have far more advanced weapons than the West would care to admit, it is beyond stupid to engage them. When the territorial integrity of our country is threatened, we, of course, will use all the means at our disposal to protect Russia and our people. This is not a bluff, and those who try to blackmail us with nuclear weapons should know that the weathervane can turn and point towards them. Citizens of Russia can be convinced that our territorial independence and freedom will be provided, and I emphasize this one more time, with all means that we have at our disposal. Referendums, Parliaments in the People's Republics of the Donbas as well as the civil-military administrations in Kherson and Zaporizhzhia regions, have decided to hold referendums on the future of the territories and have appealed to Russia to support such a step. We will do everything to ensure safe conditions to hold the referendums so that people can express their will. We will support the decision on their future, which will be made by the majority of residents in the Donetsk and Luhansk People's Republics, Zaporizhzhia and Kherson. The West trying to destroy Russia in its aggressive anti-Russian policy, the West has crossed every line. We constantly hear threats against our country and our people. The purpose of this is, the West is to weaken, divide and ultimately destroy our country. They are already saying that in 1991 they were able to break up the Soviet Union, and now the time has come for Russia itself that it should disintegrate. And they have been planning it for a long time. The West is not interested in a peaceful solution and making compromises; they just want to break all negotiations. The last line of which is true, they have broken all agreements and contracts, the biggest of which NATO would not expand East, that is a total lie and something the press will never mention, never mind address. This obsession with Russia it seems has gone on for over 110K years, as our series FHSTOS has revealed in stark clarity. The clowns running the West are not only running agendas contrary to their people, but their countries as well. They are bankrupting the countries involved with war and weapons purchases, not one of those countries can afford. What is worse is they are getting the Western people to pay for their agendas, based on weak and pathetic stances, of Russia is bad. Please just one of you come on National TV or this show, and explain in great details as to why Russia is bad. Not just spout clichés, explain to us all in full detail the reasonings behind it. Also explain how you are justifying putting all Western economies at risk of total bankruptcy, and it's people in total poverty to pay for your own irrational fear based agendas? No, I am not supporting Putin either, he was deleted 7 years ago, please explain to the public why a fake Russian leader is such a threat as well. For that matter please explain why we have a fake masked imposter acting as Joe Biden as well.

The BBC did a massive faux pas during the following of the motorcade of the Queen in stasis, to the final resting place before the funeral. The BBC narrator stated: where the Queen has been lying in state for the past 4 years. Oops. Which means she has been dead 4 years. Just like GHW Bush then, just like Barbara Bush also, the classic 4-year loop they all so love it seems. One wonders why they skipped the 4 year announcement of Hillary Clinton, who died 6 years ago this month, perhaps they are waiting for 2024?

There is a growing unrest going on in Britain between various colors and cultures, one suspects it is an organized event. Of which the outcome is to label whites as racist, for not accepting different races. Which is actually not true, on any level. Here is why, have you seen or heard of masses of whites being herded into a non-white country? Why didn't they herd the fleeing Ukrainians into Israel? Africa or India? Do you or have you ever seen a white politician in another country? Like China, India, the Middle East and many others, yet we see an array of them in traditional white countries under the banner of multiculturalism. There is nothing wrong with multiculturalism, in fact our group encourages it, as the numbers of black, Jewish, Hispanic and Native Americans in our group will attest. What is wrong is the agenda of it, which is essentially to crush the whites, the full evidence of which is in our FHSTOS series. Have you also noticed it is only the people that fight each other over this, and never the system? That is our lesson, don't fight each other, turn on the very people who are creating these flash points, the think tanks and the policy makers. The only time whites were actually moved into what was a non-white country, was to India, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, S. Africa, Zimbabwe and America. What was the common denominator of those migrations? The Jewish owned slave ships of the Dutch and British East Indies Tea Company, for their own expansion programs. Because that is who and what is behind it all, in particular the Soros group. Soros or is it Sauros?

Last week I warned about Poland and the piece after this was written on Sunday. Then on Tuesday a video emerged of a report of Government policies coming up for Poland. Ordering certain conditions on the people, the most obvious was what appeared to be forced examinations and treatment, quarantines, sequester of building, movement of the people controlled only by the government and a mention of it being related to contamination or radiation. I suspect this means they are planning to blow the Ukrainian nuclear power station, with the sole intention of blaming the Russians. Seems the 5 eyes rhetoric is not working, so they are planning to go radical.

Polish authorities no doubt with a NATO hand up their jacksies, decided to ban a Roger Waters concert for voicing his own opinion on the war in Ukraine. Waters also engaged Zelensky's wife and asked her, did you exchange a walk on part in the war for a lead role in a cage? The cage will not protect you in the coming months and years, it will be their final resting place unless they quit messing with the world and its people. I guess free speech is only allowed when it aligns with the 5 Eyes Alliance narrative it seems. The Polish people need to speak up and loud, because they will roll your country over next, and at that point you will require the Russians assistance. The acts of war does not involve the people, we the people have no choice or say in it. Far too many lazy thinking people just go along with the official narrative and do not concern themselves because it is not happening to them, but eventually it does. Many people are that shallow that they only see Ukraine being attacked, when in reality land, the whole of what was pre-dominantly white countries in Europe are being attacked, asset stripped and left to rot. On a social, society, financial and governmental level. When will the people not see the captain obvious? Just because military bombs and guns are not going off in your country, does not mean you are not at war. You are, with a dying system of weak individuals trying desperately to cling to power in an illusionary stage show of epic proportions. We are the mere extras in that stage play, time to become the directors me thinks.

SOCIETY NEWS: The attacks on the males continued this past week, in frankly what is bizarre levels of ignorance and stupidity. Last week, PETA declared that meat-eating men should be banned from having sex, because eating animals is a trait of toxic masculinity. The animal rights group pointed out that scientific research, has revealed that men caused 41 per cent more greenhouse gas emissions than their female counterparts and should have to face the consequences. Oh come on you can't blame all men for that, just because of the dark wind and his Canadian counterpart! So, PETA supporters are asking women going on a sex strike to save the world, (M) Another charity who clearly are not what they say they are, another used for political agendas and division of the people. It is high time the people shunned these types of idiots out of society altogether, like they have done with people who speak of the truth. This is why so many people are single, why the machine with the batteries is a popular pastime, it is all just very sad. Next stop digital sex and the digital twins intercourse, I hear some are already engaging it. The restrictions on people making each other happy via a relationship or a casual relationship now is beyond ridiculous. Wealth and job status, age, social status, peer pressure, what will others think, whether you have tattoos or not, what religion you are, whether you wear masks or are you vaccinated or not, will no doubt be the latest description to discount people from coming together. I would suggest that many of the people's problems will be solved if they just got laid occasionally. After all it is a pleasurable experience, why would you deny yourself that act? What is wrong with people having fun together, whether short or long term? Why are there so many restrictions and dynamics put up to stop having fun? Yet, some people wonder why porn is so popular, for many it is the safest and only option it seems.

This was sent in by one of the members. Canada climate cops to have huge armory and interrogation chambers, it has emerged. Canada's Ministry of Environment and Climate Change Canada is constructing a facility in Winnipeg that, in addition to bio-labs and offices, is to include an enormous weapons storage room, as well as multiple interrogation chambers. The ECCC is currently hiring enforcement officers who will be able to act with the equivalent authority of actual police, including bearing arms, entering property without a warrant, and detaining people in handcuffs if they are found to be illegally changing the weather (apparently). They will also reportedly take people to interrogation chambers to confess their sinful actions, in allegedly creating ever-so-slightly higher temperatures. Interesting stuff, particularly in relation to changing the weather, because what reveals is, they are frightened of our abilities and collective consciousness rising. So, there is your own personal solution to changing the world.

An older article has resurfaced that supports much of what THI has stated in the shows, about the intentions of the Jewish EL-ites and their plans for other races. I suspect it is being brought forward now as many are now cottoning to who is causing the global problems. This is the downside of lockdowns for the controllers, as more people had more time to research and investigate not only the Covid scam, but to delve into the first stages of the waking up to the truth, so to speak. Jews want to miscegenate Europeans with Africans and Asians; while they are keen to mix with Europeans only. While Jewish and Jewish-supported groups and organizations in the USA, Australia, and Europe like ANTIFA, the Anti-Defamation League and Southern Poverty Law Center are putting a lot of political pressures, funds and drama about accepting and facilitating illegal migration and refugees waves into Europe and the USA, whilst their state of Israel is doing exactly the opposite. The Middle East Eye reported on 17 January 2018 an article written by Tessa Fox titled: Mass expulsion under way as Israel begins deporting 40,000 Africans. Eritrean and Sudanese asylum seekers in Israel will be forced to accept a plane ticket to unsafe countries or face indefinite prison. The New Observer posted on January 3, 2016 an article titled: Israel Bans Interracial Marriage Book. The article states: Israel's Education Ministry has formally banned a book about an interracial affair between a Jew and a Gentile because, the Jewish state's government says, the book threatens Jewish identity and does not deal with the significance of miscegenation between Jews and non-Jews. At the same time, the organized Jewish lobby in America and Europe which fanatically supports Israel, demands of Europeans that they accept miscegenation and mixed marriages in order not to be racist. Ah the classic racist card, that clearly by now those who have researched the truth for themselves, recognize all races are racist, but one race trumps all others. Yet, curiously they are the same ones complaining of racism, accusing others of doing what you are doing is a classic deflection tactic. The ADL for example, which describes itself as the world's leading organization fighting anti-Semitism through programs and services that counteract hatred, prejudice, and bigotry, has an entire section of its website devoted to, boasting about the Jewish role in dismantling anti-miscegenation and anti-mixed marriage laws in America. According to an article in the Israeli Haaretz newspaper, titled Israel bans novel on Arab-Jewish romance from Schools for threatening Jewish identity dated December 31, 2015. Israel's Education Ministry has disqualified a novel called Gader Haya or Borderlife that describes a love story between an Israeli woman and a Palestinian man from use by high schools around the country. In a separate article, Haaretz columnist Alon Idan frankly admitted that the reason why the book was banned, was so that Israel could maintain purity of blood. Which is no different to the Lebensborn program of the so called Nazi era, one wanted to repopulate their country with indigenous Germans, the other wants it for political, social, economic ideologies under a clear racist apartheid regime. Alon said that the decision meant simply that Jews and Arabs are forbidden to have sex with one another; Jews and Arabs are forbidden to love one another; Jews and Arabs are forbidden to marry one another; Jews and Arabs are forbidden to have families with one another; Jews and Arabs are forbidden to live together. This hypocrisy is too obvious to be an accident: it can only be the result of a conscious, deliberate decision, aimed at bringing about the destruction of non-Jews. Hypocrisy like irony is not a remit of the Jewish programmers, with their special chosen ones monikers, divisive agendas and it is high time the average Jewish person sees it for what it is. We have Jewish members in our group and they would all agree, my concern still stands is, what if the masses finds out and do not have our balanced ways and objectives, and it gets ugly? Will the Jewish EL-ites protect them? No chance, just like they never protected them in any country they have hijacked and used them as pawns.

Report after report over the years has shown a decline in America's Christian population. Last year, Pew reported that 63 percent of Americans identify as Christians, down from 75 percent a decade earlier and that the religiously unaffiliated had risen to become roughly 30 percent of the population. A new report from the Pew Research Center now says that Christians could someday soon no longer be a majority in this country. Instead, projections show that their numbers could decline to between a little more than half at 54% and just 35% of all Americans by 2070. When it reaches a 100% unaffiliated, then this world and its people will finally begin to progress at a rapid pace.

Here is a piece by one of our members that starts off with outlandish statements that says, Tommy got me pondering. Who me? Well I never. Here is the piece with a few tiny interactions. I have been taught to think deep, judge wisely. To not be judgmental, particularly so of myself, I think we can all be over-judgmental of the self. Indeed, I agree, but the great question is: Why would you wish to be a mental judge? I learned to observe my thoughts, not attach to them. I then realized what a load of crap I think most of the time, as I could see thoughts spinning randomly and using processor space, distracting me from deeper contemplation. When I figured out that thoughts are a process of the brain, which is basically a decoder, processor and runs our operating systems, I learned to quieten my mind and listen to the silence between thoughts. This is the heart/divine mind and when we focus on the silence, knowing comes naturally. Things pop up out of nowhere, visions, sounds, ideas, intuitions, they are energizing and inspiring. I then started to think deeply about these ideas and if inspired, started to formulate plans about how to bring them to life, set in motion and act on these ideas. When I get this right, things work out and I can't explain why, when I give in to doubts, fears, ego, things start to go south very quickly. Why do you have to explain why when things go positive, yet can easily explain why when things go negative? Is it not the case of people not observing their own manifest powers? The discipline is to maintain a state of being where we focus deeply on one thing, listen to the sound of silence, trust our intuition and inner knowing. My study of law has taught me that this is how we access the spirit of the law, and why true law is spoken, as it is the power of the spirit spoken in truth, that is the law. Studying the Ucadia law material is great study, it does trigger our DNA, it does help restore our memory, our inner knowing, even if we do not understand all the words or concepts logically, our intuitive intelligence gets it. Having said that, we all know what the law is, we all know right from wrong. The question isn't what is right from wrong the question is what do we choose? When we all manifest the spirit of the law and live accordingly, we do not need laws or codes or justice systems, these are merely systems we develop to enable us to live in some degree of a civilized society. Laws, religion and philosophy are the realm of judgment mind and deal with the conflict between judgment mind, the ability to know right from wrong and the reptilian/animal mind of instinct, fight or flight, survival, selfish mind and ego. It would appear that as a species, we are evolving through a phase of developing judgment mind, this is the most recent mind, and to transcend our reptilian/animal mind, ego. The conflicts in the world are perhaps an externalization of the ego/reptilian/animal mind fighting for survival as it fears death. Well some it seems have the ability to fear, fear itself!! What it cannot know is Universal/Divine Mind is our original mind, and includes ego, reptilian, animal mind. It is the way out for ego, to transcend our lower minds and merge them with our Divine Mind means they survive and become better as a whole. Divine/Universal Mind includes our shadow self as there is no separation, only the illusion of separation, a powerful illusion as we believe it, but an illusion none the less. Yes, the shadow is a part of you, a broken part of you that needs to be reassembled as one. It is now time to fully reintegrate the self, to avoid having to go back into time to retrieve the self. So let us have a universal mind that loves and protects all creation, to love all creation includes the love of self. The more of us that realize this state of being, the more we change the world, not by fighting for peace, but by being at peace. The more of us being in a state of peace, the better choices we will make as a collective, choosing better leaders, better policies, better ways to invest time, money and energy. Yes, the old world or order was built upon chaos, they thrive on it. In essence it is the ultimate distraction tool. The old systems will collapse when we make them irrelevant, not when we fight them, that only makes them stronger. This is how my law studies have helped me think more clearly, see truth and speak with more clarity. I have learned how to express things in a more everyday language when speaking about the principles I learned through Aikido. In fact, I see no disagreement between the true, universal law and Aikido. We go from holding up the law to upholding the law. There are many paths up the mountain, the view from the top is the same. Words and symbols are just sign posts along the way, some misdirect, some point in the right direction, we must decide which is which. When we change our mind, the whole world changes, this is true, trust this process and be the change.

With all the rhetoric surrounding the multi letter acronyms encompassing the gender issues. And how we are told they are always being bullied, picked on, dismissed and shunned from society in one giant pity party, resembling a certain race and culture. Why does it resemble that country? Because it is the same people running those divisive agenda is why? But, we are told by the agenda driven media how heterosexual males and females are aggressive and or violent towards them. Do the statistics match that assertion? Here are some figures from the Domestic Violence group, created to study and document this topic, and what they found is not something the agenda driven media wants to admit or address. Black and African American members of the LGBTQIA+ community are more likely to experience physical violence. Around 44% of lesbian and 61% of bisexual women have experienced forms of rape and physical violence by an intimate partner as compared to 35% of straight women. 26% of gay men and 37% of bisexual men have experienced forms of rape and physical violence by an intimate partner compared to 29% of straight men. Lifetime intimate partner violence among the transgender community from purposive studies ranges from 31% to 50%. Well that is something we don't hear from the divisive one sided agenda driven media isn't it. I haven't heard any of the letters or numbers group addressing that either. This is a classic example of humanity of pointing fingers away from themselves or their group, and then projecting it onto others. The same applies to black lives matter, because the first thing they have to address is, just why so many of your communities are immersed in violent acts towards each other, never mind other colors. The highest level of crime is black on black, yet their focus is on whites? Ignoring the fact that the second highest crime rate is Hispanic on black. The same applies to heterosexual couples, all men are bastards and all women are gold diggers and manipulative, pointing fingers did not solve the problem did it? It applies right across the board, 99% of adult Americans complain about their politicians, Government or country, yet what are the 99% doing to fix it? Nothing, except just complain. Not making politicians accountable and certainly for the vast majority also, not providing a single solution to fix it. The message for the gender based people is, sort your own house out and put it in order, before blaming or denigrating anybody else. This applies to everyone listening as well, you changing you, changes the world. Our focus is not what others are doing or haven't done, what are we doing is all that matters.

EXPOSE: This is part 2 of the Expose we did last week and it dovetails also with our show on Tuesday FHSTOS Plus 17, called the SS(p), Nazis and Aliens. Nikola Tesla: Despite conflicting literary and historical accounts, Nikola Tesla, a Serb, was born on July 10, 1856, in Smilja, Lika province, or what is now modern-day Croatia. It is my understanding he was dropped off in a field, and was possibly part of some hybrid program involving extra-terrestrials. It was said the family picked him up and then when no one claimed him, they adopted him. Either way he went onto to some extraordinary personal achievements, that could have changed the world as we know it today. Prior to World War I, Smilja was on the border of the Austro-Hungarian empire so, in effect, Tesla was a citizen of Austrian origin. The son of a Serbian Orthodox priest who rose to the rank of Archbishop, Tesla had the opportunity to study a variety of topics contained in his father's personal library. As a young boy, he accompanied his father on trips to Rome, where he was able to study the lesser-known works stored in the Vatican's vast scientific repository. Upon completing his studies in engineering and physics at the Polytechnic Institute in Graz, Austria, Tesla attended the University at Prague. He demonstrated, early on, an innate ability to solve mechanical and scientific problems, especially in the area of electricity and its applications in power production. After working for Edison Telephone Company subsidiaries in Budapest, Paris, and other cities throughout Europe, Nikola Tesla went to America, to meet the man whose company gave him his first job, Thomas Edison. Tesla found it difficult to work for Edison due to Edison's renegeing on financial promises, but soon found backers to finance his research and development projects and his new inventions. Here come the vulture capitalists: Financiers, such as J.P. Morgan, George Westinghouse and John Jacob Astor were among those who saw the potential in Tesla's pioneering, entrepreneurial spirit to capitalize on his technological discoveries in electricity, wireless communications and physics. The only official documentation of Nikola Tesla's arrival to the United States was, again, produced at the Port of New York. On April 7, 1882 a 25-year old Tesla arrived via the SS Nordland, which departed from Antwerp. He had returned, on this trip to the U.S., after lecturing in Paris. Tesla's destination: New York. Tesla immigrated as a laborer, though this label hardly befit the man who would become the most prolific inventor in history, with some 700 technological patents to his credit. Previous accounts of Tesla's association with Thomas Edison's projects place him in the United States in the 1870s. His many technological discoveries were certain to have drawn the attention of those hungry for world domination and superiority. By and large, Tesla's inventions and his career were excluded from our history books because his inventions and patents were stolen and then weaponized. It was never intended for us to learn about the suppression of Tesla's advanced scientific discoveries, nor about those who profited from their theft, the orchestrators of the master plan. Though much has been written about Tesla's successes and failures, few have detailed the behind-the-scenes financial activities which disclose a Nazi plot to acquire his technology, while research and development costs had largely been paid unknowingly by U.S. taxpayers. I guess over time that has never changed either, Americans seems to have to pay for everything these days, for zero return on their dollar. Wars we pay for, rebuilding after wars, agencies and military not for our benefit, climate change, UN and NATO and the list is endless, hence why it is bankrupt. Which is a deliberate policy formulated by those who harvested the country of everything. Many of Tesla's patents fell into Nazi hands prior to and during World Wars I and II. As a result, Tesla continuously found himself in litigation over patent rights and other issues. Although he had succeeded in winning the majority of his patent lawsuits, his technology had been repeatedly stolen and sold to the German Nazis and other foreign governments, so he never achieved the financial success he deserved. The embezzlement of his capitalization went unchecked throughout Tesla's career. At the time of his death, by murder, according to Skorzeny on January 6, 1943, Tesla died virtually penniless.

Tesla's Assistant, George H. Scherff, Sr.: He was the father of GWH Bush Snr. Ah the dreaded Scherff family better known as the Bushes, who for the last 80 years has wrought havoc upon these lands and its people. And yet they still walk amongst us, is the most damaging thing, that shows us that we will accept anything as long as we don't have to take any responsibility for it. From funding the Nazis to MK Ultra, the CIA programs and evil, Presidents, drug running, fake counting elections to the 9/11 inside job scandal that involved Grandfather, Senior, Junior and Jeb Bush. From my understanding it was GHW Bush Snr who was the lead instigator and operator of the MK Ultra involving children still in diapers. That was said to be aided and abetted in narrative speech by the Queen Mother, the latter of which is not fully verified, but Bush Snr's role was definitive in many ways. Nikola Tesla's successes in discovering new technologies did not go unnoticed by many industrial capitalists and world governments. In fact, many of his inventions were developed through secret government programs which began soon after his discoveries in alternating current, electromagnetic energy, electric motors, generators, coils, radio transmission, energy-saving devices and wireless transmission technologies. Since Tesla was often buried deep in research at remote labs, many of his financial and legal affairs were supervised by his closest associate, George H. Scherff. Scherff often advised Tesla about pending patent litigation, contracts, proposals, demonstrations and financial affairs. As any trusty associate would, Scherff stood beside Tesla through all the ups and downs of his financial nightmares, sometimes arranging for extended credit at the Waldorf-Astoria, where Tesla often resided, or by obtaining a cash advance toward research he had been contracted to perform. Near the end of his career, Tesla was evicted from the Waldorf for an outstanding bill which exceeded $20,000, a rather large sum for those days. As Tesla worked on secret U.S. government projects at Colorado Springs, Colorado, Scherff communicated to Tesla the status of his business affairs. Tesla spoke of hopeful, future financial successes, though Scherff repeatedly delivered the news of dwindling funds. Tesla had begun construction of a wireless power transmission tower at Wardencllyffe, Shoreham, Long Island, with funds invested by J.P. Morgan. Long Island would eventually morph into three fields at a later date. 1. A plasma interference weapon that went up to 8D, and a high-powered generator type structure that no doubt was developed by Tesla himself. Both of those installations were destroyed in 2014. 2. It is/was the site of the MK Ultra Montauk chair. 3. It is the site of developing chimeras, some of whom have washed ashore. When Morgan discovered that the tower would transmit free electricity and radio waves, he cancelled the project and had the tower dismantled, then sold for scrap. Morgan was not about to allow Americans to receive free electricity, television and radio. J.P Morgan is another family who have done untold damage to this country, and yet still to this day are running banking fraud on the people via the Morgan/Mellon Chase bank in New York. Which just happened to be the Trustees favorite go to bank, despite being told to the contrary by me and someone very close to her. Tesla was devastated when he received the news, but continued on with his new inventions. Some 12 years later on October 14, 1918, Scherff wrote to Tesla at Colorado Springs. The correspondence focused on the usual disclosure of pending legal issues and attorney matters and was sent to Tesla on Tesla Company letterhead, containing the company's headquarters address at 8 W. 40th Street, New York, NY. On October 15, 1918, the next day Tesla responded to Scherff's letter, responding to the letter the next day seems impossible regarding our understanding of the technology available at the time, but these are the dates attached to the correspondence. Which suggests they had an alternative form of communication not available to the public, likely something to do with the Enigma machine or the OSS. An interesting anomaly: Tesla's response was addressed to George Scherff, Esq., Union Sulphur Co., 17 Battery Pl., New York, NY, this address was not the location of the Nikola Tesla Company. The Union Sulphur Company was an American sulfur mining corporation founded in 1896 by the famous inventor Herman Frasch, who was another German immigrant. It utilized the Frasch Process to extract previously inaccessible sulfur deposits located beneath swampland in Louisiana. It's main usage of removing Sulphur from oil fields was first used for the benefit of the Rockefellers and the Standard Oil group. Union Sulphur was sold to? Texas Natural Gas to form the Union Texas Natural Gas, that no doubt brings in the Bush family again. Union Sulphur purchased or built a load of ships for transport, the first being an American on USS Hector. After that they built 12 ships and all of which started off with the letters SS, signifying who they belonged to. During that time period which we covered in earlier episodes, the 1880's to 1925 one family group stood out for funding of rogue projects that worked not only against Americans, but humanity in general. Remember the Margaret Sanger story in Part 4? Who funded her and that program that led to the Planned Parenthood group? The Rockefellers connected to the Wilhelm Institute, so no surprise they are next to be covered in this Expose. The Rockefeller Connection: Records show that 17 Battery Place is the Whitehall Building and was owned by Frank Rockefeller, who, with his brothers William and John D., also owned many of the companies with offices located there. The International Longshoremen's Association had its world headquarters there, as well as a variety of oil, mining and chemical companies. Though the Union Sulphur Company was run by its president, Herman Frasch, a German chemist who patented extraction methods for Sulphur and petroleum, Frasch also worked for John D. Rockefeller's Standard Oil Company in New York, New Jersey, and Cleveland, Ohio, developing similar extraction methods. On the basis of this association, George Scherff, Sr., had connections with the Rockefeller family, though it is unclear if Tesla was at all aware of this connection. Frank Rockefeller was also an investor of Buckeye Steel Castings in Columbus, Ohio. Buckeye manufactured automatic couplers and chassis for railroad cars owned by the Harriman's, the Rockefellers and J.P. Morgan. Eventually, Samuel P. Bush was promoted from general manager to president of the company after producing gigantic profits. Samuel P.

Bush's association with the Rockefellers and his subsequent position as Director of the War Industries Board, afforded him the opportunity to create contracts with Remington Arms during the war, courtesy of Percy Rockefeller. Nikola Tesla's trusted assistant, sometimes referred to as accountant or secretary George Scherff, Sr., worked at Union Sulphur Company. Normally, this association would not set off alarms, considering the state of Tesla's affairs. Scherff had every right to earn a decent living in order to support his family, that was the American Way, as it is said. Essentially Bush was an agent provocateur, as a careful examination of Union Sulphur Co. might reveal that someone was being deceived, Tesla himself and Scherff was at the root of this deception. Who was George Scherff? Better yet, who was George H. Scherff, Sr.? There exists no legitimate record of a George H. Scherff being born in the U.S. from the late-1800s through 1925, yet, George Scherff was Nikola Tesla's assistant/accountant. If he was born in Germany, could his birthplace shed some light on this mystery? Probably, if they exist, but it has become apparent that individuals associated with the Nazi Party, commonly have all or parts of their genealogical records expunged.

Otto Skorzeny: S.S./ODESSA/CIA master spy and assassin: Friends and acquaintances of Nikola Tesla recall him complaining about Scherff's son, George, Jr., always snooping around Tesla's lab. On more than one occasion during the late 1930s, Tesla caught the 14-year old Scherff (GHW) looking at his notes, pouring through his books and stealing small items from his lab. Tesla gave him the nickname, curious George and likened him to a mischievous monkey. Personally, I would have more colorful nicknames for that snake in a meat suit. According to Skorzeny, who was Adolph Hitler's former bodyguard, in a deathbed confession to Eric "Orion" (Eric Berman) in Florida, Tesla hated the younger Scherff. In fact, according to Skorzeny, the curious George book and movie were inspired by Tesla's suggestion. Curiously, the day before the national theatrical release of the Hollywood production of the Curious George feature length film, Alan Shalleck, the originator of Curious George and the man in the Yellow hat, was found murdered under a pile of plastic garbage bags in his driveway in Florida at age 76. Yes it could be said that, the Bush death trail was as prevalent as the Clinton one, but on a much wider scale. In short, Otto Skorzeny claimed that the true identity of George H.W. Bush was George H. Scherff, Jr., the son of Nikola Tesla's illegal-immigrant, German-born accountant, George H. Scherff, Sr. This was not the only bombshell Otto Skorzeny delivered that day in late-1999. Skorzeny produced a shoe box full of 60-years' worth of his personal photographs, showed them to Berman, describing each one in great detail. The collection featured a photo of a young, majestic Skorzeny in full S.S. Nazi military dress, next to his Führer, Adolph Hitler. Then there were photos of Reinhard Gehlen (S.S. spy and assassin) Dr. Joseph Mengele (the Angel of Death) Martin Bormann (Hitler aide and S.S. assassin) and Adolph Hitler (photographed in 1997 at age 107). Oops. According to Skorzeny, Adolph Hitler was alive and well in the U.S. in 1997! The Hitler photo was taken during a reunion at the Lake McDonald Lodge in Glacier National Park, Montana, on August 27, 1997. Skorzeny did not stop there. He produced a photo of a young Skorzeny, Mengele, Bormann and the family of George H. Scherff Sr. Seated in the midst of those in the photo was a young George H. Scherff, Jr., who, Skorzeny explained was trained as a spy and sent to America to work for Adolph Hitler. He was given false identification and adopted by Prescott Sheldon Bush as his son, and then presented as George Herbert Walker Bush. He forged a birth certificate in order to enter the military before he turned 18, he was 16 at the time. In the family photo, a young Scherff and Bormann both sported a German Navy uniform, Scherff later enlisted in the U.S. Navy as George H.W. Bush. In even greater detail, Otto Skorzeny described how contrary to the CIA-written history books, he helped Hitler escape to Austria in a plane flown by a female pilot, Hanna Reitsch. Hitler did not commit suicide, Skorzeny recounted. His double was shot between the eyes and the dental records proved he was not Hitler. The Americans kept it a secret, worried the truth might anger the Russians. But, the Russians were the ones who entered the bunker and told the world Hitler was dead, which proves the whole war thing was a fake faction war. With lead countries all signing an agreement to have the war in 1922-23, the American signee died within a year after it, I guess he was forced into it. The banking meeting during the war which created the Bretton Woods, the divvying up of countries to each side involving American, British and the Russian leaders. The Hitler, Begin and Churchill meeting to remove Jews out of the camps, and the still ongoing workings between agencies that were supposed to be at war. All of it fake for the benefit of these imposters. Eric "Orion" (Berman), in a live radio interview on Republic Broadcasting Network, January 17, 2006, detailed how Skorzeny died on December 31, 1999. His body was cremated, I have a copy of his death certificate, and I saw his ashes. After the war, he helped George Bush found the CIA through Operation Paperclip and ODESSA. The incestuous interconnectedness of what is essentially a very few people, all laid to bare in this piece, plus the first part and also the FHSTOS Plus 17. It shows the evil yes, but also shows us a good lesson of what can be achieved by the few coming together and changing things. It shows just how much bs is and has been taught in the public pro pagan da indoctrination schools, that is so far from the truth it is not even funny. A whole nation and its people duped on a massive scale, that will take some time to not only grasp it, but process it and heal it. It is not the greatest country on Earth, in reality land we have no country, just a landmass and its people being ran by imposters on a massive scale, right under the public's noses. We leave this piece with the words of one of those imposters: George H.W. Bush once said "If the American People ever find out what we have done, they will chase us down the street and lynch us." Indeed they will and why we need the Blueprint to be adopted and adapted to, to prevent that becoming an ugly reality.

EXPOSE: A recent mention of psionics in the What you didn't know about Consent booklet done by our members, caused me to add to it and expand upon it in a way were people can understand it and also develop their own skills. First we will get into the background of it all, before delving into the jewels of self-development. These types of abilities are open to us all, providing we develop in the right way, and if or when you attain certain abilities, they must be used in the right way, devoid of ego. Something that certain people not too far away from here failed to heed. In American science fiction especially those of the 1950s and '60s, psionics was a proposed discipline that applied principles of engineering, especially electronics, to the study and employment of paranormal or psychic phenomena, such as telepathy and psychokinesis. Notice they use the meme science fiction, this is to create doubt in the non-thinkers, that this is not real.

Science fiction also implies in the far-off future, and so leaving the reader to dismiss it as it is too far ahead. The term is a portmanteau formed from psi in the sense of psychic phenomena and the -onics from electronics. Except your psi field is not psychic phenomena at all, that is your own protection zone of which only you are responsible for, some call it the aura. There is nothing psychic about it. The word psionics began as, and always remained a term of art within the science fiction community and despite the promotional efforts of editor John W. Campbell, Jr, it never achieved general currency, even among academic parapsychologists. Proving how closed-minded scientists are, as this next line will prove further. In the years after the term was coined in 1951, it became increasingly evident that no scientific evidence supports the existence of psionic abilities. The reasoning behind that, is the closed mindedness and the fear of the controllers, that many develop these abilities and end their reign. In 1942, two authors biologist Bertold Wiesner and psychologist Robert Thouless, had introduced the term psi from the 23rd letter of the Greek alphabet to parapsychology, in an article published in the British Journal of Psychology. This Greek character was chosen as apropos since it is the initial letter of the Greek word psyche, which they say means mind or soul. I tend to disagree, that it is anything to do with the mind and more to do with heart intention and soul. The intent was that psi would represent the unknown factor in extrasensory perception and psychokinesis experiences, believed to be unexplained by any known physical or biological mechanisms. And so, in their world if it is unexplained, the remit is to dismiss it, describe it as science fiction or declared tin foil hat material. In reality they are either A: too stupid to get it or B: have been told to ignore it by the grant payers. In a 1972 book, Thouless insisted that he and Wiesner had coined this usage of the term psi prior to its use in science fiction circles, explaining that their intent was to provide a more neutral term than ESP that would not suggest a pre-existing theory of mechanism. The word psionics first appeared in print in a novella by science fiction writer Jack Williamson called The Greatest Invention published in Astounding Science Fiction magazine in 1951. Williamson derived it from the psion, a fictitious unit of mental energy described in the same story. Only later was the term retroactively described in non-fiction articles in Astounding as a portmanteau of psychic electronics by editor John W. Campbell. The new word was derived by analogy with the earlier term radionics. Radionics combined radio with electronics and was itself devised in the 1940s, to refer to the work of early 20th century physician and pseudoscientist Albert Abrams. The same analogy was subsequently taken up in a number of science fiction-themed neologisms, notably bionics bio-+ electronics coined 1960, and cryonics cryo- + electronics coined 1967. In the 1930s, three men were crucial to inciting John W. Campbell's early enthusiasm for a new science of the mind, construed as engineering principles applied to the mind. The first was mathematician and philosopher Norbert Wiener, known as the father of cybernetics, who had befriended Campbell when he was an undergraduate at MIT. All of which reveals this is far from science fiction but fact, and something understood and observed in the past, not the distant future like they always state. The second was parapsychologist Joseph Banks Rhine whose parapsychology laboratory at Duke University, was already famous for its investigations of ESP when Campbell was an undergraduate there in 1932–34. The third was a non-academic: Charles Fort, the author and paranormal popularizer whose 1932 book Wild Talents, strongly encouraged credence in the testimony of people who had experienced telepathy and other anomalous phenomena. The point being; if it is all hocus pocus as the scientific community portrays, why have the US Military and Agencies had whole divisions of these very topics? The idea that ordinary people only utilize a small fraction of the potentially enormous capabilities of the human brain, had become a particular pet idea for Campbell by the time he first published his own science fiction writings as a college student. In a 1932 short story he asserted that no man in all history ever used even half of the thinking part of his brain. One would argue 90 years later, most of the masses don't use any of their brain capacity. It is said we use only 10%, possibly because they filled the other 90% with their drivel. He followed up on this notion in a note to another story published five years later: The total capacity of the mind, even at present, is to all intents and purposes, infinite. I believe the brain has a RAM value and is exhaustible, it is the heart center that is infinite. Could the full equipment be hooked into a functioning unit, the resulting intelligence should be able to conquer a world without much difficulty. Indeed it can if used in the right way, something that terrifies the controllers. But in the same token, that is what they have done with the AI is it not? Ready to be merged with the Metaverse world. In 1939, he wrote in an editorial in the magazine Unknown, which he edited: Is it so strange a thing that this unknown mass the human brain, should have some unguessed power by which to feel and see beyond, directly, meeting mind to mind in telepathy and sensing direct the truth of things by clairvoyance? Along with Charles Fort, Campbell believed that there were already many individuals with latent psi powers among us unwittingly, and he took this belief a step further in considering development of such powers to be the next step in human evolution. It is not the next step; it is the step.

Throughout his career, Campbell had sought grounds for a new scientific psychology, and he was instrumental in formulating the brainchild of one of his more imaginative science fiction writers, the Dianetics of L. Ron Hubbard. Campbell's enthusiasm for Dianetics which later morphed into the Church of Scientology was red hot in 1949 and 1950, but had considerably cooled by 1951 when he saw Hubbard for the last time. Dianetics we covered in FHSTOS Plus 17, it means through the mind. Which is exactly what the rogue elements in the Military and Agencies did to people trying to perfect these skills. They literally went through the mind and destroyed it, for many of the people they experimented on. With Campbell's encouragement, or at his direction, psionic abilities began to appear frequently in magazine science fiction stories in the mid-1950s, providing characters with supernatural or supernatural abilities. The first example was Murray Leinster's novella The Psionic Mousetrap published in early 1955. Examples of psychic abilities in fiction, whether attributed to supernatural agencies or otherwise, predated the psionics vogue. But the editors of The Encyclopedia of Science Fiction describe and define a post-war psi-boom in genre science fiction, which Campbell engineered dating it from the mid-1950s to the early 1960s. They cite James Blish's Jack of Eagles (1952), Theodore Sturgeon's More Than Human (1953), Wilson Tucker's Wild Talent (1954) and Frank M. Robinson's The Power (1956) as examples. More than human is a condescending and limitation meme, designed to make people think they are less than they are. Alfred Bester's The Demolished Man (1953) is a pioneering example of a work depicting a society in which people with psi abilities are fully integrated. Integrated we covered recently, and why it is so important to us all. Since the psi-boom years coincided with the darkest and most paranoid period of the Cold War, it is natural that many examples of the utility of telepathy in espionage would be produced, for example those of Randall Garrett. Garrett is best known for the Lord Darcy books, the novel Too Many Magicians, indeed there were, except it came at a price for those involved in it. Also, two short story collections that was set in an alternate world, which is a red flag for a start, they always use fiction to describe things as fact. Where a joint Anglo-French empire still led by a Plantagenet dynasty has survived into the twentieth century, and where magic works and has been scientifically codified. The Plantagenets were whom changed the course of British history back in the 14th century, whereby they installed a bastard child as king, to keep themselves in power. This altered the whole course of Britain's monarch and nobility history, that is still not rectified today. The Queen, people should remember was a German, Phillip was Greek, and Harry is not only a Stewart and so not a Windsor, but the current Harry is not even the original version. I can't see a future for Harry, they will make a mark(le) out of him. Windsor is not their real name either, that was named after the House they lived in during WW1, their real name is Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. In terms of literary continuity, the editors of The Encyclopedia of Science Fiction point out that: All the psi powers, of course, used to be in the repertoire of powerful magicians and most are featured in occult romances. That is a line to observe very closely, all the psi powers, of course, used to be in the repertoire of powerful magicians, yes a private club of dark forces, whether they recognize that for not. Magic which is the wrong term, magic is cheating, because it uses the non-corporeal entities to do the said magic, their egos will or do not recognize it as such. Eventually the magic favors of the dark forces non corporeals have a price to pay for such trickery, and that's when it gets ugly. There is a reason they kept it to themselves and dismissing psi abilities as hocus pocus, because they are terrified we the people can develop real abilities, not magic and quickly end their reign over us. In 1956, Campbell began promoting a psionics device known as the Hieronymus machine. It faced skepticism from scientists who viewed it as pseudoscientific and even as an example of quackery. Some of the wind was taken out of the sails of psionics in 1957 when Martin Gardner, in the updated edition of his book Fads and Fallacies in the Name of Science, wrote that the study of psionics is even funnier than Dianetics or Ray Palmer's Shaver stories, and criticized the beliefs and assertions of Campbell as anti-scientific nonsense. The propensity to dismiss anything scientific is all too quick for anything that is beneficial to the people, even by people themselves. They always dismiss things they cannot see, yet bizarrely 4.5B of them allegedly worship a god they have never seen, or likely too. Why? because society told them so. The example was the field trip THI members took to the Petrified Forest, they all believed it was a forest because that was the name given, only one problem apart from a few scattered petrified wood was, there was no trees for 30 miles in any direction, or the evidence of past trees either. This is a big problem that all people need to overcome, just because anyone including me says this is a ?, does not mean it is so to you. You have to analyze and study it for yourself and come to your own conclusions. Following their science has to be deemed pure folly at this point, none of it makes sense, and if it doesn't make sense, it is likely a program. A program for and of the mind.

Psionics it is said can be a bit confusing, which is why many people, even those with psychic powers, aren't fully aware of what it means and how to use the energy. Which is in part true, but another part is, people are frightened of their own power. Frightened of their own skills and abilities, learn to embrace them in a balanced way. Never use your abilities in a low vibrational way, hate, anger, revenge or retribution because you don't like someone or something is not the cue for you to use your abilities in that way, you will lose them. Use them not for the benefit of the self as well, it works best when done for the benefit of others. Here is a list of what they called psychic and the word starting with psy, when it should be psi. These psi abilities are what one can attain by developing the self. Psychic abilities: Astral projection or mental projection: which is the ability to voluntarily project an astral body or mental body, being associated with the out-of-body experience, in which one's consciousness is felt to temporarily separate from the physical body. Beware the term astral traveling, it is a mind meme trap. Beware also being in the simulation astral, it may look familiar, but things and people are out of place is your clue. Automatic writing: is the ability to draw or write without conscious intent. Bilocation: is the ability to be present in two different places at the same time, usually attributed to a saint. Haha they have to throw in the biblical drivel don't they, it has zero to do with saints, religiosity or fake gods. Use this skillset wisely, never impinge on the privacy of others, again best used for the benefit of others, not the self. Energy medicine: is the ability to heal with one's own empathic, etheric, astral, mental or spiritual energy. Like I have said, who needs fake med beds when we can heal thyself. This ability will save you thousands of dollars in medical bills and insurance also. Word of warning about this, you cannot heal others unless you are healed yourself. Also this energy unlike what new age clowns will tell you, is not unlimited energy, use it wisely and sparingly. If you use it too much, you will die, as you are using your own life force energy in the healing. Real healing is draining for the healer. Ergo kinesis: is the ability to influence the movement of energy, such as electricity, without direct interaction. This can be used to change the weather, clowns and dark forces can only do it by means of technology. Again use it for the benefit of the all or others, and do not use it frivolously either, also be careful what you wish for in terms of weather interactions. Levitation or transvection: is the ability to float or fly by mystical means. A rare ability based on evidence in the physical 3d model, but is a useful tool to master in the dream time. Transvection means: the act of supernatural flight, such as by a witch. But interestingly in these times, it is also to do with manipulating genes. Materialization: is the creation of objects and materials or the appearance of matter from unknown sources. This is more common than people think, and is one of the more easier disciplines to come by and also engage. Again use wisely and for the benefit of others, all it takes is, patience, a 100% belief in the self and some self-mastery. Mediumship or channeling: is the ability to communicate with spirits. That line is misleading as it is not only the spirits, it is the ability to engage anything and everything outside of here, based on your soul development level. The spirit world has been corrupted and so is not something a novice or with poor understanding of, should be engaging. The evidence of which can be found in the messed up lives of people who did drugs, excess alcohol and ayahuasca. Channeling is a no-no, you are engaging an AI machine being operated by the greys mainly. Petrification is the power to turn a living being to stone by looking them in the eye. Medusa springs to mind here, Medusa could only be killed by cutting off her head, just like the reptilians, funny that. Was the wood in the petrified “forest” done by this skillset or by using a powerful underground weapon? Prophecy also prediction, premonition, or prognostication: is the ability to foretell events, without using induction or deduction from known facts. Prophecy is also used by many people and yet not recognized as such. Again it is widely available as one of the lower skillsets if you study and understand life and in particular the patterns of such. Biblical prophecy is utter rubbish you need to understand they are plans, not prophecies. They can turn into prophecies if they get enough people to engage with it, that is how it works. In essence it is the power of persuasion and also manipulation. Prophecy is easy to develop once you understand the whole thing repeats in cycles, as our show has done many times. Psychic surgery: is the ability to remove disease or disorder within or over the body tissue, via an energetic incision that heals immediately afterwards. Yes that is real but requires much energy to do so, again it is best used for the benefit of others. Psychokinesis or telekinesis: is the ability to influence a physical system without physical interaction, typically manifesting as being able to exert force, control objects and move matter with one's mind. Many people can do this lower end skillset and not recognize it as such. For examples weather, people via thought projection or by repeating words, music or pictures. This is the remit also of the MK Ultra program. But if you have the right frequency of your psi field, you can influence people around you and as far out as 25 miles, again without recognizing you are doing so for the most part. People don't use their brains or imagination enough to engage this skillset. Use for the benefit of others, not the self on this. Pyrokinesis: is the ability to control flames, fire or heat using one's mind. One of the higher power skillsets and rare. Iddhi: Psychic abilities gained through Buddhist meditation. After our series FHSTOS and the so called corrupted versions of the Rus Sanskrit texts, I am not sure about this skillset at all. Why is it only linked to Buddha? More human limitation programming. Shapeshifting or transformation: is the ability to physically transform the user's body into anything. Often associated with off world entities, in particular the reptilians, but shapeshifting is not as common as some of the alt media like to portray. It is an ability to change frequency in terms of the sight of the observer, that is the most prevalent in this discipline. Mixed with the power of persuasion via thoughts, which is how the Sasquatch are able to avoid detection by and large. They do not vanish into thin air, they are still there but in essence cloaked in with the background, like the Predator being in the movie. Those with good eyes and a heightened sense capability, can either feel their presence and or see it by a slight shimmer in the region. It looks like above the road on a hot day, that watery mirage only less visible, almost like a glitch in the pixelated background. Thoughtography: is the ability to impress an image by ‘burning’ it on a surface using one’s own mind only. Used by advertising agencies to costly effects. Again if used, do it for the benefit of others in a higher vibrational pattern. Xenoglossy: is the ability of a person to suddenly learn to write and speak a foreign language without any natural means such as studying or research, but that is often rather bestowed by divine agents. This often unfolds after a brain injury, which is suggestive that the person knew that language prior and somehow their brain was blocking it. This has to bring in past lives memories, as for divine agents, that I am not too sure of at all. Again it is like the Buddha reference, it is stating something from the external, and something only they can bestow on you. When I believe it is an internal gift bestowed on us all, that is triggered mainly by your own development. Witnessing: is the gift of being visited by high profile spiritual beings such as Mary, Jesus or Fudosama(Acala) from Buddhist Traditions. Oh dear, here comes Project Bluebeam! The great question is: how can you know it is Mary or Jesus if you haven't met them? Are you basing it on pictures of them both that were drawn by people who were not alive when they were allegedly here? It is the power of suggestion again. Jesus is the classic example, said to be from the Middle East and yet all his disciples had quintessential British names! Inedia: is the ability to survive without eating or drinking, multiple cases have resulted in starvation or dehydration. Indeed, this is another higher level development that is exceedingly rare and I do not recommend trying it. Inedia is a latin word and so a red flag for a start, it means fasting.

Extrasensory perception: Extrasensory perception, or sixth sense, is an ability in itself as well as comprising a set of abilities. Sixth sense is misleading in some ways, because whilst it is an extra to the basic 5 senses, it doesn't mean there are only six. These types of senses only come from the heart space, not the mind. This is developed by self-mastery of the mind and brain, and then go onto developing the sword within, which when used correctly allows the individual to operate from the heart only. Master the dual hemispheres, open the 3rd eye, open the throat chakra and make sure your heart is not made of stone, otherwise the sword will cut you, just like the Trustee did to herself. Most of the following are lower end skillsets to work towards for the average individual. Clairvoyance: is the ability to see things and events that are happening far away, locate objects, places, people, using a sixth sense. Not only the sixth sense, because this can also be done by bilocation. Divination: is the ability to gain insight into a situation using occult lists. This may have had a differing meaning in the time of the mystery schools, but this is the dark art of witchcraft, magic, sorcery and spell casting. Dowsing: is the ability to locate water, sometimes using a tool called a dowsing rod. The dowsing rod is the external tool, when if skilled you would not need the rod. Dream telepathy: is the ability to telepathically communicate with another person through dreams. Done by most of you if you recognize it as such, the ability to receive of which, causes me to have many sleepless or less sleep nights. Dermo-optical perception: is the ability to perceive unusual sensory stimuli through one's own skin. That is a fancy word for one who is in tune with their frequency fields. Use it wisely and not for personal gain. Psychometry or psychoscopy: is the ability to obtain information about a person or an object by touch. Again that is about the frequencies, and being able to read people and their frequencies. Precognition including psychic premonitions: is the ability to perceive or gain knowledge about future events, without using induction or deduction from known facts. Most people have and can do this, if they believe in themselves, but most pass it off as a coincidence. Remote viewing, telesthesia or remote sensing: is the ability to see a distant or unseen target using extrasensory perception. Again use wisely and respect people's privacy, you will lose this ability not doing so. Retrocognition or postcognition: is the ability to supernaturally perceive past events. It is not supernatural at all, it brings in past life memory and or the ability to go in and out of time. Where past, present and future merges into one. Telepathy: is the ability to transmit or receive thoughts supernaturally. We as a species do use telepathy at times but again dismiss it. I am not sure with most people living and speaking in lies, low vibration mindsets and thinking patterns, that this skillset is wise as it stands. Violence, rage, anger and hate would erupt, as you find out exactly what people think of you, how many want to have sex with you and how many want to leave or reject you. We are not heart centered enough to be ready for that yet.

ENDING PIECE: This coming Sunday October 2nd at 3pm MT and 10PM UK, we will be presenting Part 1 of our New blueprint for humanity. On Tuesday October 4th at 5.30pm MT we will present Part 2 of it, so look forward to them. A lot of work has gone into these documents that has the potential to impact us all in a better way. The CIA agents of the alt media, of which there are many, and their zero percent correct predictions kept rolling this past week. As yet again another failed emergency September 24th this time, came and went without a whimper. The clowns in the alt media will keep putting it out, mainly because sadly, it works. The great question for the so-called awake is: at which point will you realize you are following a steaming pile of excrement? It is the world's second greatest wait club, following the religious cult savior program, as date after date just rolls on and on, whether it is two weeks or any other date. Not one correct prediction, as the Drake's, Tank's, The RV, Wilcock, the CIA based Q program, of its all coming, it's all happening, yet curiously the people who follow it all and post it, all never seem to get they are being played? This is why our show is different, we have predicted many things and many have come true, whether we wanted them or not. How can so many awake people support something that clearly fails week after week, month after month, year after year, and still not get it? The great answer is: those people are nowhere as awake as they thought. Seeking the truth requires fully open minds and hearts, you have to be all in on it. Some Alt Media will indeed reveal some truth, the issue is, the percentage of it is at best 10-20%. That is not the truth, that is barrier laden selective, you will never learn much with those levels, as many of you who engage in other groups have ultimately found out. Our group is about not sugar coating anything, it is what it is, truth hammers that hits you right between the eyes, but it is the truth we all need to hear, even though at times it is very painful as such. That is why we have lasted and endured, when so many others fell by the wayside. The truth is here whether you were ready or not, the truth will prevail, people operating in and of it, will also prevail. Those not, I wish them good luck as they are going to need it. We lived life without the f, which became the lie, the missing letter f needed to form another popular word, will be used many times over by those who lived not the life, but the lie for so long. As for I on the truth? I won't back down.
