The book update: Volume 2 is published and the marketing campaign for Volumes 1 and 2 is proceeding. Edits for Volumes 3, 4, and 5 have been done, and indexes for all three have been prepared for inclusion. I have done part 1 of 4 for Volume 3. The Hebrew translation is being finalized. The Dutch translation is being reviewed and a French translator has joined the book team. The 2 books are available from THI-show.com or Lulu.com

Law Group Update: The Law Team delivered the Intro to Law Series Part 10 – Testimony and Evidence. We learned how the police are trying to accomplish 3 things when they engage with you. Gain a self-confession, contract with you and collect statements from you that can be used to discredit you later in court. We shared useful information on how to remain calm, ask good questions and turn the tables on them and their evidence gathering process so they can be discredited in court. The Intro to Law Series Part 11 is being scheduled, and will focus on Jurisdiction. The TPC Community group met twice to explore the parallels between Ucadia and Aikido and to share some tools that help develop our connection with Source and remain calm under pressure, which is critical when dealing with legal problems or authorities. The group is continuing to meet and next topic up for discussion is Trust and Truth.

Web team update February 2nd Working closely with the THI book team, the web team have made the FHSTOS volume 2 ebook and paperback available on the thi-show.com website. The paperback setup on lulu.com was put in place by the THI book team, so this was a good exercise and example of different people working harmoniously together and delivering the desired outcome before our chosen deadline of end of January. More members are stepping up and joining the various projects and initiatives we have ongoing; the latest example being 2 members joining the indexing team to help speed up the process of indexing the many and varied THI topics, so that a user friendly index of key topics can be implemented to help members and listeners find topics of interest more easily. The web and indexing teams are planning to meet in the near future to progress this important THI project. We are sure that this will be another great example of people coming together and working together harmoniously for a common goal: the sharing of truth.

The People's Colors has had wonderful additions to our CG group. In January we continued to brainstorm avenues to attract newcomers of all ethnicities to THI/The People's Club. One member whose profession is marketing, offered great information concerning a blockchain infrastructure platform for videos and media that we can utilize for our memes. Apparently the platform is uncensored and permanent therefore, none of our postings would be removed! Another of our members is a filmmaker and shared his amazing experiences in the film and Disney industries. We are now focusing on developing very simple, succinct memes to present to THI members for input, and then hone and present to the public at large. Once again we invite those interested and just bursting with ideas to come and join our efforts!

In January the Garden Group discussed geothermal heating solutions for greenhouses in the North. Geothermal utilizes the stable temperatures under the earth with air pumped through underground piping. It is combined with high R value materials and passive solar heating to make winter growing possible with minimal energy requirements. These types of greenhouses can be used to house smaller livestock in winter such as chickens, ducks and rabbits. Korean Natural Farming experiments continue with good results. One of the Korean Natural Farming Solutions is called Oriental Herbal Nutrient, or OHN. It is Tinctured Herbs made from garlic, ginger, licorice, cinnamon and angelica which aid in improving pathogenic immunity for plants. One of our members has discovered that OHN is also very effective for people, when taken internally, a teaspoon at a time for the common cold. The Gardening and Non GMO Food Communal Gathering continue to meet by zoom every Saturday Morning at 9:00 am MST or 11:00 am EST and the zoom link can be found in the Community Gatherings Forum under the Gardening CG Zoom Link Topic. Positive Action Group: The media team are happy to announce that the Telegram Channel is now ready to launch. We have a dedicated creative team that have been busy creating memes and videos for the channel. These memes and videos will promote the Book, FHSTOS, THI and the TPC. The aim is to direct the audience back to THI-Show.com through Mewe. We will begin by posting the Channel in the main THI chat and the Main page. We ask those who are already on Telegram to please like and share the Channel, and those who are not to consider sharing it to people who are using Telegram. Another focus of the PA Group is how to connect with youth. The team is looking at developing memes and content to attract youth to THI and develop youth leaders, by making THI content more appealing to younger people and encourage them to start listening to THI. The PA Team continues meets weekly and has opted to use Trello, a web-based project management tool that helps organize and prioritize activities so we can continue to build on the momentum and get things done. The Web Team is coming together, with 4 volunteers who have stepped up and are starting to get more organized, and develop a road map of work needed to support and develop web content. I see lots of posts on our site all about what they are doing, it would be nice for the members to post everywhere about what we are doing. What a 180 that is. It creates a better frequency, a better vibe not only within the group, but on a wider scale. All part of the Positive Actions.

The TPC Media Team update: We are incredibly pleased to announce the launch of our first dive into new alternative social media platforms, with the purpose of spreading awareness of the THI-Show, the TPC and the launch of FHSTOS Book 1 and Book 2, which has just been released for sale now on the website. This will be our primary goal, while using videos and memes that the team have created with specific focus on those three aims. We will also direct these potential new listeners back to Mewe and the website where they can then choose to interact and grow as we all have done if they so wish. Our first channel will be launched through the Telegram App, with further social media platforms being researched to use for the above purposes. After this launch, we as a team will monitor the reach and look at ways to adapt and achieve our goals. Of bringing our world a little closer to those who are searching for another outlet and place to grow and learn, as we all have from THI and the great power within the TPC. The channel will be posted in the Mewe chat during the show by a team member and we only ask that you like and share the posts and the channel with those people who may already be on Telegram and might receive help from our content. The team will also post a link to the show on the channel each Thursday so people can have easy access to it.

NEWS: Republicans on Thursday voted to oust Rep. Ilhan Omar, D-Minn., from the Foreign Affairs Committee, the latest skirmish in a long-running partisan battle over committee assignments. They lie, they ousted her because she criticizes Israel, pure and simple. Israeli junta again using desperate measures to stem the tide, guess what jackasses? It's not working.

Nikki Haley, the former US ambassador to the United Nations and two-term governor of South Carolina, is reportedly poised to announce she is seeking the 2024 Republican presidential nomination. With a campaign kick-off planned for 15 February in Charleston, South Carolina, the 51-year-old would become the second major Republican candidate for the presidency, after her former boss Donald Trump launched his bid in November. Ms. Haley would be the third Indian-American to seek a presidential nomination. She follows Louisiana Governor Bobby Jindal, whose bid in 2015 never gained significant traction, and current Vice-President Kamala Harris, who sought the 2020 nomination. She gained national prominence for her response to the racially motivated mass shooting at Charleston's Emanuel AME Church in 2015, which included a successful push to remove the Confederate flag from the grounds of the state capitol in Columbia. Mr. Trump offered her a position in his cabinet as UN ambassador after he won the White House. She served there for two years and, unlike many of Mr. Trump's early appointees, she never had a public falling out with the president. I wonder why? Ms. Haley did, however, criticize Mr. Trump's behavior up to and during the 6 January 2021 attack on the US Capitol by his supporters. The day after the riot, she said in a speech that his actions since election day will be judged harshly by history. Haley has been described by South Carolina senator Lindsey Graham as a strong supporter of the State of Israel. As governor of South Carolina, she signed into law a bill to stop efforts of the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) movement. This legislation was the first of its kind on a statewide level. Haley also stated that nowhere has the UN's failure been more consistent and more outrageous, than in its bias against our close ally Israel. In a May 2017 interview, Haley expressed interest in moving the U.S. embassy to Israel from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. On June 7, Haley charged the U.N. with having bullied Israel for a very long time, (M) oh the irony, she pledged the US would end this treatment while in Jerusalem. The Jerusalem Law declared Jerusalem to be Israel's undivided capital. You can see how and why she got into top positions. Born as an India national a Punjab Sikh and a Jewish puppet, all of which fits in with our book.

There has been so many of these recently, one ponders if it is all a set up? Whereby they datamine those who pass adverse comments on the reports and monitor the changes. People need to stand by their own words and conviction, not back down to bullying tactics. A UK Labour MP has apologized in the Commons after calling the Israeli government fascist. The only thing wrong with that statement is one missing word, Zionist in front of Fascist. Speaking during Prime Minister's Questions, Kim Johnson said: Since the election of the fascist Israeli government in December last year, there has been an increase in human rights violations against Palestinian civilians, including children. She added: Can the prime minister tell us how he is challenging what Amnesty and other human rights organizations are referring to as an apartheid state? The remark was deemed unacceptable by Labour leader Sir Keir Starmer, his spokesperson said, and it is understood the party's chief whip told her to withdraw it. Well of course Starmer would find it unacceptable, as he is one of them. Another born to in a prominent position is Mr. Starmer. Two hours later, the Liverpool Riverside MP returned to the Commons and told the House she wanted to apologize unreservedly for the intemperate language. Ms. Johnson added: I was wrong to use the term fascist in relation to the Israeli government and understand why this was particularly insensitive given the history of the state of Israel. And while there are far-right elements in the government, I recognize that the use of the term in this context was wrong. She also apologized for using the term apartheid state, saying: While I was quoting accurately Amnesty's description I recognize this is insensitive and I would like to withdraw it. No, Ms. Johnson you were right the first time, stand by your words and ignore the pity party who are offended by everything. Labour grandee Dame Margaret Hodge called Ms. Johnson's language unacceptable and dangerous, adding: with violence escalating in recent weeks, this careless remark only makes it harder to bridge the divide. The Jewish former minister also said the remarks were a complete insult to Louise Ellman - the Jewish MP who held Ms. Johnson's seat before stepping down over issues of antisemitism within the Labour Party. One has to ask is Britain even English, Scottish, Welsh or Irish anymore, or is it just ran by Jews? Just like America. And you wonder why your countries are going to hell in a hand basket?

Accusations of fraud, stock-market manipulation and illegal practices made by the New York short-seller Hindenburg Research against Adani Group, the conglomerate of Indian billionaire Gautam Adani, were prominent business headlines on February 1 after a slight break the day before. The losses the group has seen since Hindenburg published its report on Jan. 24 are enormous. In the five trading sessions following this report, the Adani empire lost more than $90 billion in market capitalization, Bloomberg News calculates. "They will harvest the millionaires and billionaires, Clowns in Panic June 2019." Given a large proportion of rich people around the world are from India, are you surprised following our revelations in the book? The irony of people within the world of high finance accusing others of fraud and corruption. All of them have committed both multiple times.

You know how they have to tell us things, and yet most people just ignore it? Here is another example and this maybe the financial event I warned of at the beginning of the year in the review show. A World Economic Forum report says business leaders believe a catastrophic cyber event is coming. Cybercrime will grow from a $3 trillion industry in 2015 to a $10.5 trillion industry by 2025, according to Cybersecurity Ventures. The unpredictable nature of cybercrime increases threats. The 2023 World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland, has filled us with lots of uplifting predictions, like how companies will soon decode our brain waves. The latest warns of a global catastrophic cyber event in the very near future. The most striking finding that we've found,

WEF managing director Jeremy Jurgens said during a presentation highlighting the WEF Global Security Outlook Report 2023, is that 93% of cyber leaders, and 86% of cyber business leaders, believe that the geopolitical instability makes a catastrophic cyber event likely in the next two years. This far exceeds anything that we've seen in previous surveys. Add in the extreme unpredictability of these events, Jurgens cited a cyberattack recently aimed at shutting down Ukrainian military abilities, that unexpectedly also closed off parts of electricity production across Europe and the global challenges are only growing. This is a global threat, Jürgen Stock, Secretary-General of Interpol, said during the presentation. It calls for a global response and enhanced and coordinated action. He said the increased profits that the multiple bad actors reap from cybercrime, should encourage world leaders to work together to make it a priority as they face new sophisticated tools. The greatest amount of cyber-crime is done by people who are supposed to stop it, the intelligence agencies. With their various back doors in every system, it is a harvesting mechanism. Yet where is the accountability for them? This smacks of a heist to me, will it be crypto currency or the main banking system? that isn't as secure as the lead banker states. Last week the Federal Reserve announced its raising interest rates 25 basis points, a slowdown from December's 50 basis point increase. It's a sign the Fed is responding to recent data showing the country is recovering from the pandemic, with inflation slowing now at a level of 6.5% year-over-year in December. The economy is growing, according to them and it's the bank's latest effort to get the country to the pre-pandemic 2% level of inflation. The Federal Open Market Committee meeting minutes from December noted that not one participant thought it would be appropriate to cut interest rates this year, and Powell reiterated that idea, saying that a couple more increases in 2023 will be warranted. This means that Americans are likely in for some more economic pain this year, and whether that will translate into a recession remains to be seen. Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen recently said the promising economic data shouldn't lead people to downplay the risk of a recession. You do realize this is a double taxation, don't you? Inflation itself is a tax on the people, and then they tax you again when the inflation is going down, with higher interest payments. This in overview is beyond a scam, yet how many see it? How many understand what they are doing? Here is how it works: 1.Their clowns and corporations need extra funds, it can be looked at like a bail out. 2.Government puppets and think tanks draught up a bill for the transfer of wealth to these EL-ite based groups and corporations. 3.This then pushes the debt limit up, which is another tax on the people. 4.Excessive spending then leads to inflation, caused by the very same people operating in Wall Street. 5.Wall Street manipulates the markets with their 4-7 second time delay between the back side of the system and the front side the public engage with. 6.The markets tumble, which is a harvesting method and panic sets in. 7.Once they have laundered funds from the Government and the stock market, then inflation kicks in and is a tax on the people. 8.Create more panic and fear and notify the public another tax will kick in with higher interest rates, all of which goes to the EL-ites again, as they control the money supply. 9.Inflation starts to slow down due to the harsh economic conditions imposed on the people, they then raise the interest rates more even as inflation is falling and so another tax on the people. 10.Businesses start to fold, and with all the extra taxes and interest rates, the EL-ites buy up the failed businesses for pennies on the dollar, that was a direct cause due to their policies. Amidst all of that chaos the blind and deaf public fail to realize they have been scammed. Then what is worst, all the extra debt that went to the El-ites now has to be paid back by the very people they raped and pillaged of their funds. At which point will the masses not see through this scam? That is repeated almost every year now since M pulled the plug on them. Repeat after repeat and the majority cannot see it, at this point we deserve what we get, which is nothing. You will own nothing and be happy, ring a Ba'al?

MEDICAL: I suspect we will hear more and more of these reports in the coming months, meanwhile the El-ite media will try to stifle it. A spike in the number of deaths in recent weeks has disrupted funeral arrangements and put mortuaries under unprecedented stress. An Irish Examiner analysis of death notices on the website rip.ie shows there were 9,718 published in the eight-week period from December 1, 2022, to January 25, 2023, up 20% from 8,075 in the same period a year earlier. The figure is also considerably higher than the 8,135 death notices published in the same period to January 25, 2021, when the country was in the grip of the worst period of the Covid pandemic. Pre-pandemic, 6,802 death notices were published in the eight weeks to January 25, 2019, almost 3,000 fewer than in recent weeks. The death rate in Cork has been so high in the last two months, that bodies had to be stored in the city's hospitals until space became available at the Cork City Morgue. Between the 19th of December and the 3rd of January, over 100 deaths were reported to my office, Philip Comyn, coroner for Cork city. This is the most ever reported for this length of time, surpassing even the busiest period during the Covid-19 pandemic. The mortuary at Cork University Hospital had so many bodies it couldn't take any more and the other Cork hospitals held onto their bodies overnight. Ivan Perry, of UCC School of Epidemiology and Public Health, said flu and other respiratory illnesses may be the reason for the alarming spike in deaths.(M) flu? I thought that disappeared? But like magic when an agenda applies, it re-appears. It could also be that people are slightly more vulnerable post-Covid because there is a post-Covid elevated risk of heart disease for example, so that could be contributing to it as well. Or it is the jab you jackass! I guess those FEMA coffins will be used after all.

Data shows Canada had way more Covid deaths in 2022, with a 85% vaccinated population and a less deadly Covid variant than in 2020, with 0% vaccinated. Health Canada reports Covid deaths week-by-week, starting from the beginning of the pandemic in 2020. In 2020, the total Covid deaths reported to the Public Health Agency Canada by provinces and territories was 9,225. In 2021, as vaccines became accessible to Canadians between January and July, Covid deaths didn't decrease over the year. Instead, the figure slightly increased to 9,934. And, in 2022, with an approximately 85% vaccinated population in January and a less deadly Covid variant dominant, Covid deaths increased again. Over 2022, Health Canada data shows 15,844 deaths occurred due to Covid, almost double the number of deaths in 2020 when citizens were unprotected. About time people stopped doing Johns Hopkins math and can see through the illusion barriers they have created themselves. Common sense question and statement; how can deaths rise if vaccines work?

There has been a clear decline in birth rates since the Covid scam, and the blind and deaf seem oblivious to the obvious connections. No mass hysteria and alarming figures put out by MSM, as most reports of this ilk are buried. No full independent public investigation is underway either as to why this is unfolding. To a critical ear, the silence is as deafening as it is worrying. After 11 months of official reports of a sustained fall in the birth rate, the Swedish mainstream media have reacted. However, news reports omit any reference to a possible involvement of the elephant in the room: mRNA vaccines. The number of children born in Sweden has decreased by an average of 8.6% over the period from January to November 2022. The largest percentage decreases occurred over the most recent three months of reporting (September-November 2022). Over this period, 11.7% fewer children were born in Sweden to women aged 18 to 45 years, based on the figure expected from regression analysis of data from the previous 10 years. Although data are released monthly, comment from official sources is as absent as investigative reporting from the mainstream media. A German Government working paper has noted the correlation between the drop in fertility and birth rate in both Sweden and Germany and the COVID-19 vaccine rollout. However, the paper blamed behavior changes and drew no link with the exposure of women of childbearing age to novel mRNA vaccines. Swedish birth rates have followed a declining trend over the last century. Exceptional negative or positive changes, plus or minus 6% over the birth rate from the preceding year have occurred, for example following the significant peak in the 1920s and after baby booms in the 1940s, 1960s and 1990s. Except for 1922, however, there has never been such a sharp decline in birth rate over a single year as occurred in 2022. There is that 100 year repeat program again. In previous cycles of birth rate boom and bust, a notable peak has always preceded a notable decline, until now. The drop in 2022 has been preceded by 20 years of relatively stable birth rates. Whatever the explanation, there is little hope that December's data will prevent this ominous record from descending into the history books. The question that needs to be addressed, why is 2022 an outlier? The birth rates have gone from 27 per 100k down to just 10 in a couple of years. Is this more evidence of targeting the white race?

SOCIETY NEWS: A nice warning about concerns of our food supply that has been long overdue in MSM circles. Prior to World War II, big corporations had no role in growing food, according to Vandana Shiva, Ph.D. Growing food was an act of care, an act of love, she said. Today's food and agriculture system is very violent, said Shiva who is an environmental activist, author and founder of Navdanya International. Agriculture was introduced to us by the fake gods, in order to fatten up the harvest. The harvest was not the crops, but the people. After World War II, the same corporations that made chemicals for Hitler's concentration camps and poison gases for the war started to trade in food as a commodity, rather than food as nourishment and food as life. Then a bunch of them created junk food and ultra-processed food that's responsible for 75% of the chronic diseases in our times. Shiva was asked about Big Food's control over agriculture and how it affects the current global cost of living crisis, and if she thought there was a concerted effort to exert control over the basic components of human life. Shiva said that since the global financial crisis of 2008: The financial system has gotten into food. If you look at the current cost of living crisis, whether it's energy or it's food, both basic needs should be public goods and should be regulated as public goods. Most of the hike in the prices is related to speculation and financialization. Exactly, the shekel makers have monetized and indeed weaponized everything against us. Which is and has threatened the very existence of people in the billions. Shiva was asked about the role of Bill Gates and other Big Tech mongrels and titans, in this increasing technologization of food and agriculture. Shiva responded with a story: Years ago, Gates visited the Indian president at the presidential palace where really beautiful banquets are put out for international guests. Here was all this wonderful Indian food, and Bill Gates ordered a hamburger. That's the level of his food literacy. She criticized Gates' gene-editing in food production, noting that life is complex and self-organized. It's not a Word program that you can cut and paste with no consequence. In editing one gene, 1,500 other genes get destabilized. Shiva also criticized Gates' digital agriculture. The concept doesn't make sense, she said, because agriculture is about living seed and the trillions of organisms outside and inside our gut, she contended. According to Shiva, what Gates is promoting as digital agriculture relies on large-scale monocultures, basically a surveillance agriculture. In which farmers are forced to get addicted to chemicals and chemical fertilizers, that harm the planet and people while reducing natural biodiversity. There was no way a surveillance drone could monitor her highly biodiverse farm, she said. It would get thoroughly confused. Brand told Shiva that digital agriculture sounded like an example of extremist materialism to the point of ecocide, in which the idea of spirit or mystery or symbiosis or Gaia has been extracted, by an obsession and fetishization of measurement and control. He added that although it might sound like a sci-fi trope, it appears that we're doing this already by adopting a kind of AI rationalist mentality that excludes the immeasurable value of that which is difficult to know. Surveillance and AI as part of our food production should have alarmed most people, sadly it hasn't been the case as the insane trust of authorities is beyond describable in pure terms. I find it an interesting study in observance of how easily people trust external of themselves, and yet cannot develop enough to trust themselves. That one trait has caused catastrophic imbalance in the power structure, with devastating consequences. Of handing over the control of us to utter psychopaths is one thing, not recognizing they are psychopaths is another. All boils down to laziness and no personal responsibility. We at THI have sought to address that imbalance by elevating people, that is the path forward into the future, and a path for our species to elevate themselves out of childhood into adulthood.

EXPOSE: This is part one of a two part series exploring the Jewish culture too few of us understand. It brings in numerous understandings and also questions as to how and why they operate in certain ways. This is in relation to what is known as shiva. We all know Shiva as being one of the fake gods of India and Hindu religion. We also know Shiva used body snatching and uploaded conscious technology to transfer into an avatar. We also know the statue outside of CERN of Shiva contains ninja egregores for those who get close to the entrance uninvited. But Shiva unsurprisingly has Hebrew connections as well, proving further these two seemingly different countries and religions are one and the same, just as FHSTOS has stated. Shiva in Hebrew: means literally seven, and is the week-long mourning period in Judaism for first-degree relatives. The ritual is referred to as sitting shiva in English, try saying that when you are drunk without cursing! The shiva period lasts for seven days following the burial. Following the initial period of despair and lamentation immediately after the death, shiva embraces a time when individuals discuss their loss and accept the comfort of others. Its observance is a requirement for the parents, siblings, spouses and children of the person who has died. It is not a requirement for an individual who was less than thirty days old at the time of death. At the funeral, mourners wear an outer garment that is torn before the procession in a ritual known as keriah. I guess that is where the ripped jeans idea came from? In some traditions, mourners wear a black ribbon that is cut in place of an everyday garment. The torn article is worn throughout the entirety of shiva. Typically, the seven days begin immediately after the deceased has been buried. Following burial, mourners assume the halakhic status of avel, in Hebrew it means mourner. It is necessary for the burial spot to be entirely covered with earth in order for shiva to commence. This state lasts for the entire duration of shiva. During the period of shiva, mourners remain at home. Friends and family visit those in mourning in order to give their condolences and provide comfort. The process, dating back to biblical times, formalizes the natural way an individual confronts and overcomes grief. Shiva allows for the individual to express their sorrow, discuss the loss of a loved one and slowly reenter society. Etymology: The word shiva comes from the Hebrew word shiv'ah means seven, referring to the seven-day length of this period. Biblical accounts similar to shiva: what a sleight of hand that was, biblical accounts similar, they are not similar they are one and the same. A number of Biblical accounts described mourning for fixed periods; in several cases, this period is seven days. After the death of Jacob, his son Joseph and those accompanying Joseph observed a seven-day mourning period. The seven day period of mourning that Joseph endured was depicted by the sages before the revelation at Mount Sinai. In the Book of Job, it was stated that Job mourned his misfortune for seven days. During this time, he sat on the ground with his friends surrounding him. Biblical mourning involved refraining from feasts, songs, and Temple rituals. Amos declared to the people that God would turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentations. as a punishment for sin, describing this mourning as similar to the mourning for an only son. Here comes the anger management god again lol. After two of the sons of Aaron, a High Priest were killed, Aaron refused to eat the animal sacrifices, saying this would be inappropriate at a time he was mourning the sons' death. Stages of bereavement: The process of mourning begins with the first stage, otherwise known as Aninut. During this time, individuals experience the initial shock of their loss. Often emotions associated with the period of Aninut include anger, denial and disbelief. Those last three emotions not only describe this bereavement process, but in the classic find the pattern it always repeats, it applies to the truth as well. The anger, denial and disbelief we have all experienced from the ignorant masses, along with massive doses of rejection, derision and expulsion from circles. The projection screen has been heavily used, they were the projection, we were the screen. But it is like the 3 stages of truth, which is ridicule, opposition and self-evident. This is the most extreme period of mourning, and it is, at this time, in which the keriah or the rending of the garments is performed. The stage commences from the moment the individual dies until the end of the funeral. Following Aninut is shiva, in which the mourners delve into seven days dedicated towards remembrance of the deceased individual. Throughout shiva, individuals are instructed to take a break from their routines in order to focus on their loss as well. Following shiva is the stage of mourning known as sheloshim which means thirty. So we have a 7 and a 30, coincidence a week is 7 days and a month is 30? During this period, mourning proceeds for thirty days following the burial. The first seven days of sheloshim is the period of shiva, however sheloshim continues on after shiva has ended. After the intense period of shiva, which is mainly contained to the home, sheloshim allows individuals to leave their residences and begin to interact with others again. Does anybody ask whether this sustained period of grieving where you are on a house lockdown, is of any value? It is the equivalent of grief-based imprisonment, how is that of value? Where is the personal choice within that framework? Is it not a grief-based control system? One then has to ask is, is this why these people always appear to be the victims? Isn't this system creating victim/victimizer people? Sheloshim encourages individuals to begin to partake in social relations in order to slowly ease back into normal daily activities. Through the final stage, yahrzeit or yizkor, the twelve-month period of mourning ceases and yearly remembrance ceremonies are held for the individual who had died. So now we have had the 7 days, which is a week, the thirty days which is a month and now the twelve month period of organized grief. All very calendar based is it not?

Computing the timing of shiva and sheloshim: The period of shiva seven days of mourning commences immediately after the burial; the remainder of the day is considered to be the first day of shiva, even though it is only a partial day. On the seventh day shiva ends in the morning after shacharit prayers, if no public services are held on the morning of the seventh day, a service is conducted in the home of the mourner; thus, the seventh day is again a partial day. The sheloshim the thirty-day period of mourning continues until the end of morning services on the 30th day. Had the news of a close relative's death reached them 30 days after their deceased relative had expired, the 30th-day included, the mourner is only obligated to sit in mourning for one day. However, had the news of a close relative's death reached them within 30 days after expiration, the mourner is required to sit in mourning for seven days. What a control system that is, why do the Jewish people allow such control over their grief? Is it beneficial to be told when to grieve and when not to? But it gets worse.

Religious holidays during times of mourning: Religious holidays during shiva and sheloshim change the mourning period slightly. Because Judaism embraces the holidays with joy, the sadness and grief associated with mourning are meant to be set aside until the holiday concludes. Seriously, did they just say that? You mourn during this period and then you must stop it for one of our sacrifice days? Typically, if an individual died before the beginning of a holiday, the holiday removes the observance of shiva or sheloshim. The days of the holiday are counted towards the days of mourning, and the rules enforced during mourning are revoked in order to encourage the celebration of a holiday. If a death occurred during the holiday or unknowingly, mourning commences after the holiday ends. In other situations, if the entirety of shiva has been observed prior to the start of a holiday, the holiday will cancel the observance of sheloshim, signifying the fulfillment of this period of mourning. A major Jewish Holiday would terminate the shiva, whereas the Shabbat merely suspends certain aspects thereof. Bad lord.

Sabbath: During Shabbat, private mourning continues, while public mourning is suspended. Individuals are permitted to wear shoes and leave their home to partake in public prayer services.

In order to prepare for Shabbat, individuals are allowed to interrupt shiva for up to one hour and fifteen minutes in order to cook, dress and perform other tasks. If this is not enough time to do so, in certain situations there may be two and a half hours allotted for such.

Passover: During Passover, any days in observance of shiva before the start will equate to seven when the holiday begins. Since Passover is celebrated for eight days, any mourning prior will total to fifteen days when holiday ends, leaving only fifteen days of observance of sheloshim.

Shavuot: During Shavuot, any days in observance of shiva before the start will equate to seven when the holiday begins. The first day of Shavuot equates to seven days. The second day of Shavuot is considered the fifteenth day, leaving only fifteen days left of observance of sheloshim.

Sukkot: During Sukkot, any days in observance of shiva before the start will equate to seven when the holiday begins. Since Sukkot is observed for seven days, any mourning prior will total to fourteen days when the holiday ends. Shemini Atzeret is considered the eighth day of Sukkot, and equates to seven days of mourning. Simchat Torah is considered the twenty-second day of mourning, leaving only eight days of observance of sheloshim.

Rosh Hashanah: During Rosh Hashanah, any days in observance of shiva before the start will equate to seven days when the holiday begins. Yom Kippur following Rosh Hashanah, will symbolize the end of mourning, and the end of both shiva and sheloshim.

Yom Kippur: During Yom Kippur, any days in observance of shiva before the start will equate to seven days when the holiday begins. Sukkot, following Yom Kippur, will symbolize the end of mourning, and the end of both shiva and sheloshim.

Yom Tov: If the death occurs during Yom Tov, shiva does not begin until the burial is completed. Burial may not take place on Yom Tov, but can during the intermediate days of Sukkot or Passover, otherwise known as Chol HaMoed.

Chol HaMoed: If a burial occurs on Chol HaMoed of Passover, shiva does not begin until after the Yom Tov is completed. In the Diaspora, where most Yamim Tovim are observed for two days, mourning does not take place on the second day, but the day is still counted as one of the days of shiva.

Shiva customs: There are many traditions that are upheld in order to observe shiva. Throughout this time, mourners are required to stay at home and refrain from engaging with the social world.

Keriah: After hearing of the death of a close relative, Jewish beliefs and traditions instruct individuals to tear their clothing as the primary expression of grief. The tearing is done while standing and is required to extend in length to a tefach or handbreadth, or about 3.5 inches. Upon tearing the clothing, the mourner recites a blessing which describes God as the true Judge. This blessing reminds mourners to acknowledge that God has taken the life of a close relative, and is seen as the first step in the acceptance of grief. The garment is torn over the heart if the individual who died was a parent, or over the chest on the right side if the individual who died was another relative. The torn article of clothing is worn throughout the period of shiva, the only exception being on Shabbat.

Washing hands: After being near or around the deceased, it is ancient custom to wash one's self, or at minimum wash hands, as a means of purification. After a funeral, or visitation to a cemetery, individuals are required to wash hands as a mark of spiritual transition through water. During shiva, it is especially mandatory to do so before entering the home. There are many different origins of this tradition, however typically the act is associated with symbolic cleansing, the idea being that death is impure in a spiritual sense. How is death impure? It is the cycle of life and death, whereby the end is a new beginning. You cannot say in one sentence god has taken the life of a relative and then call that impure. Within Judaism, the living is thought to emphasize value of life rather than focus on death. When washing hands after visiting the deceased, it is custom to not pass the cup of water used from person to person. The reason behind this stems from the beliefs and hopes of stopping the tragedy it began, rather than allowing it to continue from person to person as symbolized by the passing of the cup. If only they observed that practice with karmic debt, life here would be so much better. A quite extraordinary account of controlling people lives, of when they can and cannot grieve their departed relatives. Why do the Jewish people allow this intrusion in their lives? What purpose or benefit does it serve? Part 2 will be next week.

EXPOSE: This is a deep dive into the seedier side in the world of sex and pornography, it is origins, who runs it and warnings given in his story, yet our story ignored. Again it brings into question one particular race, and some will say that is racism to focus on that, but the evidence of that race being involved in all of the heinous programs, becomes indicative. Yet, society has chosen by and large to ignore all the dot connections, and these programs of subversion of the people, just rolls on. To create a better society we first have to establish there is a problem, recognize who or what that problem is, then provide balanced solutions to correct it. This we have done with our Blueprint. It is not and never was anti-Semitic to point out crimes against humanity, that is the top and bottom line of truth. The fact that race chose to inhabit every heinous program is their remit, not ours. We just have had to face the consequences of their action, ill deeds and sick thought patterns. Sex of course is one of the five hooks, when it becomes an addiction of sorts, that is not a coincidence. It is a deliberate program to entrap people into a dark descent path, only by observing and not absorbing does one not follow the path they created. In 1919, Magnus Hirschfeld and Arthur Kronfeld, founded the Institut für Sexualwissenschaft, which was the Institute for Sexual Research in Berlin. Hirschfeld was an Ashkenazi Jew, he was prominently involved in the homosexuality movement, and was also part of a German Feminism movement in 1905. Two programs that at a later date was repeated and designed as programs of division. He was also involved in a third program, and the modern day term of transvestite is attributed to him creating that term, also the word transsexual as well. Hirschfeld took a world tour and with his first stop was to try and attain citizenship there, the first stop? New York. But his beliefs got him bombed out of there. Hirschfeld's Institute was shut down in 1933 by a chancellor by the name of, Adolf Hitler. Kronfeld was also Jewish, it was stated that he and his wife committed suicide to avoid German troops, although there is controversy surrounding whether they died or not at that time. Both were active in the German Communist Party and were prominent members of Berlin's Jewish community. A multitude of degenerate services were offered at the institute, including the first surgical sex changes in modern history, abortions, lectures, sex counseling and room rentals. A large library of pornography and erotic literature on every possible perversion including bestiality and pedophilia, and a Museum of Sex featuring a wide array of homosexual fetish items, dildos, masturbation machines etc. The institute hosted tens of thousands of visitors each year, including school class field trips. School class trips? Are you serious? Who authorized such debauchery? And how is that in any way beneficial to children? The corruption of children by these Jewish Elites goes back a long time it seems. Hirschfeld was a notorious sodomite, popularly known in the Berlin gay scene by his cross-dresser name Tante Magnesia. He also founded a committee for gay rights and wrote and published many degenerate books and journals, including Jahrbuch für Sexuelle Zwischenstufen which is a yearbook for Intermediate Sexual Types. Hirschfeld campaigned to end the Berlin police department's arrest of cross-dressers and prostitutes. In 1921, Hirschfeld organized the First Congress for Sexual Reform, which led to the formation of the World League for Sexual Reform, with conventions held in Copenhagen [1928], London [1929], Vienna [1930] and Brno in Czechoslovakia [1932]. In short, Hirschfeld was the quintessential Hebraic culture-killer who Adolf Hitler explained thus: and in what mighty doses this poison was manufactured and distributed. Naturally, the lower the moral and intellectual level of such an author of artistic products, the more inexhaustible his fecundity. Sometimes it went so far that one of these fellows, acting like a sewage pump, would shoot his filth directly in the face of other members of the human race. It was a terrible thought, and yet it could not be avoided, that the greater number of Jews seemed specially designed by nature to play this shameful part. Mein Kampf.ibid.42. Adolf Hitler referred to Hirschfeld as the most dangerous Jew in Germany. Perhaps this piece leads to a greater understanding as to why Germans and Germany went against this race. Corrupting children, sexuality and also the banking system harvesting Germans of every last Mark they had. Under such circumstances, one should be able to understand why that stance took place. Remember at the same time Hitler banned Tavistock in Germany as well, and the Teutonic Knights plus the Freemasons. It seems to me at least, his story reflects fairly badly on the entity known as Hitler. Because one could argue his fight against the filth of society was a moral and just one. The problem it seems was the broad sweeping of the problem, instead of focusing on those who were creating these programs. Hirschfeld's institute was a monument to moral sickness and represented everything the NSDAP stood against. In May 1933, the Deutsche Studentenschaft (German Students Union) stormed this den of debauchery shouting Brenne Hirschfeld, which means burn Hirschfeld and began beating the staff and smashing the premises. The Institute was permanently closed and its extensive lists of names and addresses were seized. A few days later the entire library was famously burned in the streets, some 20,000 books and images, along with Marxist literature and other subversive material. Ever since, without background or explanation, corporate media and palace publishers have protested against the German students emptying their swamp. At the time, Hirschfeld was on an international speaking tour lecturing on sexuality. He never returned to Germany and died in exile two years later, or like Kronfeld, disappeared into some Jewish enclave. In October 1941, co-founder of the institute, Kronfeld, committed suicide in Moscow at the approach of German troops. This is what led to the famous book burning issue repeated by his story, except it was not largely true, they were banned not burned. The Germans banned 4175 titles, yet the books destroyed post war by the US occupation was 34,645, plus every textbook in school from 1933 to 1945. It was the US that burnt the books, not the Germans. The moral of that piece is; never trust a single word of their story, as yet again it has been proven to have been falsehoods. That leads us into this next section that is a spin off from that original piece, and how things all begin to unfold. Prostitution is the oldest profession they say, but the great question is not who did the acts, but who went onto to organizing and profiting from it, plus the next stage of it, pornography. After learning about the inordinate Jewish involvement in organized crime, historical slavery and modern white slavery, it did not surprise me when I began to learn of their domination of pornography. Just as Jewish scholars faithfully recorded the Jewish domination of the African slave trade so they have also documented their prominent role in pornography. The Jewish domination of the African slave trade supports our story in our series and book FHSTOS. Remember all the slavery ships were Jewish owned. In a respected and scholarly magazine of Jewish intellectuals, called The Jewish Quarterly in winter 2004, Jewish professor Nathan Abrams pictured in an article titled, Triple Extnics, proudly documents the leading role of Gentile-hating Jews in pornography. A story little told is that of, Jews in Hollywood's seedier cousin, the adult film industry. Perhaps we'd prefer that the triple exthnics didn't exist, but there's no getting away from the fact that secular Jews played and still continue to play, a disproportionate role throughout the adult film industry in America. Jewish involvement in pornography has a long history in the United States, as Jews have helped transform a fringe subculture into what has become a primary constituent of Americana. These are the true-blue Jews. Jewish activity in the porn industry divides into two (sometimes overlapping) groups: pornographers and performers. Though Jews make up only two per cent of the American population, they have been prominent in pornography. In the postwar era, America's most notorious pornographer was Reuben Sturman, the Walt Disney of Porn. According to the US Department of Justice, throughout the 1970s Sturman controlled most of the pornography circulating in the country. It was said that Sturman did not simply control the adult-entertainment industry; he was the industry. Many are entirely secular, Jews in name only. Sturman, however, identified as a Jew and he was a generous donator to Jewish charities. Abrams shows how the corruption and debasement of Gentiles and Christian morality is, a primary part of their motivation for intentionally infecting the Gentile community with pornography. Is there a deeper reason, beyond the mere financial, as to why Jews in particular have become involved in porn? Al Goldstein, the publisher of Screw said; the only reason that Jews are in pornography is that we think that Christ sucks, Catholicism sucks and we don't believe in authoritarianism. The not believing will attract the attention, which is the effect, the cause is an abhorrence of anything not Jewish. Aligned with a zero policy of consideration, care, sharing or love for your fellow man, these disciples of darkness are a virus eating away at our way of life, with the ultimate goal of destroying it. Pornography thus becomes a way of defiling Christian culture and, as it penetrates to the very heart of the American mainstream which is consumed by those very same WASPs, meaning white Anglo-Saxon protestants, its subversive character becomes more charged. Extending the subversive thesis, Jewish involvement in the X-rated industry can be seen as a proverbial two fingers to the entire WASP establishment in America. The irony of that line will not be lost by our members, as the WASP path is no better in overview than the Jewish ideology, it is a harvesting mechanism. Opposition to Jewish extremist subversion of Gentile, Christian or Muslim morality is frequently defined as anti-Semitic hatred in the Jewish dominated media. Abrams writing in a Jewish journal for a presumably Jewish audience writes matter-of-factly, about the atavistic hatred against us by Jewish pornographers, and their motivation to weaken the dominant culture in America by moral subversion. Astyr remembers having to run or fight for it in grammar school because I was a Jew. It could very well be that part of my porn career is an up yours to these people. Obviously, there are no articles in the mainstream media exposing Jewish atavistic hatred against Gentiles by the promoters of pornographic depravity. Abrams even goes on to talk about the roots of this revolutionary Jewish attack on European values. Jews were also at the vanguard of the sexual revolution of the 1960s. Wilhelm Reich, Herbert Marcuse and Paul Goodman replaced Marx, Trotsky and Lenin as required revolutionary reading. Pacheco was one Jewish porn star who read Reich's intellectual marriage of Freud and Marx. In light of the relatively tolerant Jewish view of sex, why are we ashamed of the Jewish role in the porn industry? We might not like it, but the Jewish role in this field has been significant and it is about time it was written about seriously. Notice that all those mentioned: Reich, Marcuse, Goodman, Marx, Trotsky, Lenin and Freud are Jews. From Freud to Goodman, all represent a Jewish revolution against traditional European values and morality. When sick Jewish pornographers are part of the brutality of Jewish organized crime, the results can obviously be horrifically tragic for our people. In 2000, a Jewish Russian organized crime ring was uncovered that specialized in kidnapping Russian children, some as young as two years old, from parks and orphanages and then subjecting them to rape, torture and murder, all on video tape. These tapes were sold to thousands of Jewish and Gentile perverts all over the world. When police in Italy were frustrated by lack of action by the authorities, they released some of the video footage to an Italian network which then showed some of the graphic images hoping to cause public outrage. Instead of outrage against the Jewish murderers the TV producers suffered outrage for showing the disturbing images. Again, the people focus on the effect and ignore the cause, those patterns allow things to continue or proliferate. In spite of the horror and obvious newsworthiness of this international Jewish child porn/murder operation, it received little coverage in the media in the United States. Courtesy of the Ciakar based reporting in a mocking bird fashion. When Seth Bekenstein, the ring's American distributor was arrested, there was little publicity, and in spite of being a part of one of the most horrific criminal activities imaginable, he was sentenced to only 18 months on guilty plea. Porn is no longer 1950s pictures of voluptuous nude women on a deserted beach. It has become permeated with sadism, masochism, scatology, even sexual molestation, rape and murder of young children. This kind of sick criminal activity, in which there is so much exploitation, so much degradation, so much catering to the depths of human depravity, should be fought with constitutional law. Ironically, with Jewish influence over media, societal mores and government today, it is legal, even chic to make and sell the sickest pornography showing the sick defilement of women. But, if you have unacceptable political opinions about Jewish supremacism, you may find yourself a political and social pariah, or at worst in prison. We live in a Jewish supremacist world where often the sickest porn is legal, while politically incorrect opinions will land you in prison. Immersing oneself in this topic will not bring results or ending the suffering of people and children within that framework. In over view cannot it not be seen as these entities are showing us a path of enlightenment? By not absorbing it, they do not get the leverage they wish to see. Where you do have to immerse yourself with it, should only be for the capacity to expose it. Every sordid piece on the Jewish crimes and heinous act renders more patterns of, a virus trying to wipe us all out, whether white, black or brown. People may ask how can our fellow man do that to us, my reply is: how did you decide or conclude they are one of us? What if they are not? And they are a hostile alien race designated to take over us and the planet? Does that make more sense?

MYSTERY SECTION: Over the past 5-6 weeks in relation to the end of year review, I have warned about earthquakes and of taking note of those regions. I have detailed the inner core has stopped spinning, which may well elevate earthquakes and I warned to keep an eye on Turkey. This week there was a massive earthquake in Turkey, reports as I write on Monday morning, is that 2600 are dead. Another of those predictions you more wish they were wrong, but it is what it is. A person wanting to be right is ego, the goal is, is the information correct? not the person who delivered it. It may well turn out to be another of those 10km events, which is technology inducing earthquakes, at this point it is unclear. It may well turn out to be something happening on a much wider scale, when you understand from FHSTOS the role the “Turks” played in their story. It may also be an opportunity for the 4 divided religions in that country to learn to come together and support each other. As of Tuesday the death toll has risen beyond 8K and it is clearly going to escalate that figure as time unfolds. As of this morning the death figure was approaching 20K, our sympathies to the Turkish and Syrian people for their plight.

Alphabet Inc loses over $110B market cap after AI chatbox glitch. A glitch they say? Well I never. I guess that will not work as they planned either.

We have done a few pieces on the word salad war of food, and I think I may have ruined salt a tiny bit. But upon a pondering again a week or so back, things took a slight change in thinking and the process of understanding what clowns are up to. The discussion started off with the difference between vegans and meat eaters. You do know there is no difference in terms of killing the specimen with which we consume, don't you. In their sanctimonious stance of being vegans, it was conveniently left out the fact that plants are living beings. They have feelings, they communicate, they experience pain or trauma and the experience the life and death cycle, just like animals and indeed us. Just because plants don't have eyes, nose and mouths, does not mean they are not living creatures. They like all other living beings play a huge role in the circle or cycle of life. Perhaps we should change that to the spiral dance of life. Part of the discussion about meat eating involved the eating or non-eating of pigs. In relation to the Jewish they will not consume pigs, the great question is to why. Now it has been stated some of the organ and tissues are very like human's, and the pig has been used for medical organ replacements in some cases. Whilst some of the more radical Jewish sector call non-Jews pigs and so why they will not consume them, it begs a deeper question. Is that version of the Jewish a descendant of the pig? I do not mean that is a nasty or derogatory way, but in terms of genetics? Given the extensive coverage of differing species being created in a lab, chimeras were two species were spliced together and the story of the Hanuman last week, one does begin to ponder on whether that may be the case. Because if they will not eat the pig, is that because in part it was a distant ancestor? The Cosmic Genetic series revealed the deep skullduggery of merging and combining differing species did it not? No matter what type of being you are, life to the living is all about consumption. We have to consume something in and with which to exist. Again the thinking behind that statement is generally in the low or non-thinking pattern. Well, this piece will correct this, on explain the spiral dance of life on a wider scale. All life is made up of energy, and to keep that energy form, we have to consume other energy to exist. Whether that is a life form, a weather system, an atom or a car or plane, it requires energy with which to sustain it or it dies literally or figuratively. Take another example of alternatives to meat or plants, breatharians, interesting it ends with arian. People will say breatharian is the way to go, as then you are not consuming life. Wrong thinking, life and energy is all around us remember, so consuming air, is the same air we have breathed in and out, which is energy in that format. Sun eating is the same, the sun is energy and so you consume it. With the dimensions stacked upon one another, is breatharian in essence consuming something from another realm? So, in overview, no matter which format you choose to sustain your life, you are still consuming some sort of life form. Life and living creatures are everywhere, even the astronauts found that out on the space station. In overview the whole life cycle is to consume and be consumed, whether physical or non-corporeal beings, you have to sustain somehow. But what is overlooked in this life cycle is, the reciprocity it all entails and involves. What if, in the last lifetime or indeed the next, you become the life that is consumed? In this life you consumed the animal or plant, in the next life you become the animal or plant, and the life cycle is balance and reciprocated. That then becomes a fair exchange does it not? A pay it forward method. And a far better way to look at life, than to argue the pointless circular argument of eating meat or plants, or indeed fish and eggs. They are all living beings, none more important than other, it is the cycle of life. Another pondering then came up on this, given we know most of the meat consumed is in the more predominantly white race countries. It is stated that the O bloods are required to eat more meat than other blood groups, otherwise their systems start to breakdown. Again this plays into geneticism, where we came from and how we were created, that then determines our consumption. The religious connection should not be overlooked in this either, after all they tell you to consume the flesh of Christ do they not? Which in overview is cannibalism or canny Ba'al-ism. But with the new agenda based upon cows farting, and the Be-ill Gates social engineering programs running against meat consumption, one has to ask what is behind the agenda? With the white race and O blood connection, the great question then becomes; Is meat denial a slow burning extinction program?

Last Saturday saw our group watch a presentation by one of our members Kevin, that was extremely enlightening to those who attended. We should have the entire series posted on its own section on THI-show.com once things are sorted out and the series which is 4 parts is completed. A deep dive against Johns Hopkins math, that brought in astronomy, geometry, Egyptian and India cultures. The anomalies of time, calendars, date, cycles, yugas and so much more. It brought in psychology, manifestation and the promise of changes, if we change us. The yugas were shown in wave form with the kali yuga at the bottom of the wave. This brought interesting connections for me and relates to another meme of THI of, learn to skim the wave, not rise and fall. Remember the original wave was overlaid as we covered in When 2 worlds becomes 3. What if the inorganic wave created a permanent Kali Yuga stage upon this planet? In some ways that inorganic wave has been corrected back in 2014 time period, but, we have to fill that void with something better. Work upon that is underway. In essence can it not be seen as we are traversing both time and space? What are the implications? Where will we be? Who or what will we be? The presentation covered the binary terms, numbers and sequences, which is again the overlay based upon technology. But a pondering of mine in relation to this brought in intriguing thinking patterns and possible conclusions. Ages and eras, along with yugas are all linked to time, it is the time matrix merkaba we discussed in the Cosmic Genetics. But, what if the 12 point merkaba now has a gate at the top? Making it another of the 12+1. That is the time matrix exit at a future stage, and so, with no time, there are no ages and there will be no yugas, kali or otherwise. Another 12+1 was involved in the figures for the Great Year, of either 24 or 26K years. When divided by two, this brings 12 or 13, or 12+1 again. The question still remains, where have we been and where are we now? The next great question is: what happens next? Is destitute your destiny? Are you destined by your destitution? Has your destiny been destroyed? Have you defined what your destination is yet? What is your journey of discovery? Is it the journey or the destination? What is the journey? Are you journaling your journey?

ENDING PIECE: That song called was called Separate Ways Worlds apart, any questions? The embarrassing furor over a couple of balloons this past week, reacting to the effect again, The cause reveals the deeper problems connected with it. The fear factor exhibited by the Americans is now there for all the world to see. So what if they are spying balloons? Most stuff is hidden underground, why the absolute panic? The old adage of, if you have nothing to hide, why fear? In reality land, both China and Russia are so far ahead of America on so many levels, what makes America think they are of intense interest? We are a broken and bankrupt country living in the past under the fakely created banner of a super power. All of which was created by the money supply controlled by the Jewish EL-ites, just like the British and Dutch Empires. None of them were super powers, just puppet based countries and playthings for the EL-ites. Once people understand that, then we can correct it. We have a saying in the UK called the sad balloon, why? because someone was always letting them down. The embarrassing media and their focus of, look how our superior and heroic military acted and shot down the balloon, utterly pathetic. Because the real truth is, look at how the military panicked and shot down a harmless object, just like they did in Iraq, Afghanistan, Guatemala, Honduras and many other countries with no air power. It should be noted that, they have never attacked a country with air and naval power, that is cowardly. The big bully syndrome, all to keep the illusion that our military is superior, it's not. All to keep the illusion that America is the leader of everything, it's not and never was, due to it being ran by proxy by the Jewish Junta and their shekel machines. A nation that spends more of its budget on military prowess than on the people, is morally repugnant and in a desperate state, union or otherwise. The nation is being stripped left, right and center and the focus is two Chinese balloons? Does anyone ask how they knew it was from China? Did it say made in China? But doesn't everything say made in China these days? What next for the US Military, shooting down hot air balloons in case they are Chinese or Russian? Who is it that pops balloons in a child's birthday party? Clowns, seeing the parallels now? Tomorrow brings a speech aptly named the state of the union, it should be called the condition of the union. The condition is dire, there was no union, more like an onion that makes you cry. As each layer of the American onion is peeled back, it reveals more and more about the fear, corruption, fraud, malevolent ways this country has operated by. A sick and twisted parody of how life and it's land should be operated. A tyrannous dictatorship riddled with human rights issues, yet have the audacity to point fingers away at other countries, it's shameful. What are the people doing? Happy clapping because the military shot down an enlarged child's plaything? Like the balloon itself, America's position in the world is vastly over inflated, just like it's economy and taxes. The embarrassment of the military is there for all to see, DEFCON 5 over a balloon? What would happen and what panic mode would be created if the Russian's, who have been coming to get us for the last 60+ years, actually arrived? All the US Military leaders need to resign en masse, you have proven to not being capable of running anything on an adult level and need to go back to playing with your Fisher Price army soldier sets on your mothers dining table.

Are we traversing both time and space? Traverse means pass across, over, or through for the verb. But traverse in the noun format means, the act of passing through a gate, crossing a bridge, etc., mid-14c., from Old French travers. From traverser meaning a passage by which one may traverse is recorded from 1670s. From that word derives the fear based spell casting word of trespass. Trespass means to transgress in some active manner, commit an aggressive offense, to sin, from Old French trespasser pass beyond or across, cross, traverse; infringe, violate, from tres- beyond, from Latin trans; + passer go by, pass. Meaning enter unlawfully is first attested in forest laws of Scottish Parliament (c.1455). The Modern French descendant of Old French trespasser, trépasser, has come to be used euphemistically for to die, which is comparable to the euphemistic use of cross over and obituary. Traversing a crossing over, the act of passing through a gate or over a bridge may raise much interest within our group. Yet typically the word salad mistranslation people decided to overlay it with words like trespassing, infringe and violate. We choose our way and method within the triality framework of our own making, their ways never worked remember, remember, remember. Are we at the dawn of something? Not just the Svarog version. Your lights needs to shine now to "see" the path, just like the sun, it is dawning on the horizon like an event.

As for America and it's desperate plight, we at THI have the perfect solutions for that remedy called the Blueprint for humanity. Work is now underway to deliver that again in its full entirety and then deliver it to the relevant departments. Exciting times ahead and it will require the all to step up and not only deliver it, but act upon it.
