

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2024-04-25

Just to let you all know this week's Common-Sense Zoom is not taking place, it will now be the following Saturday 4th May. Which is a significant day for THI. In 2016 my outing of Neil Keenan, got me fired from Cosmic Voice and birthed a new show called Truth, Honor and Integrity. Four loop years later to the day Kim Goguen decided to go on a distasteful rant against all men, including me and she replaced me with Tank. Time told as to whether that move by Kim was beneficial. But I and THI went on from strength to strength and developed something special and indeed unique here at THI. May the fourth be with you.

The Blueprint Episode 20 Teams Report weekendng 21st April 2024.

THE AGENDA:

The teams meeting this week concentrated mainly on what's next, what is the priority and what can be left for a later date. It was decided to keep the YouTHink Different website running in the background as it is primarily ready for launching, but with manpower now needed to handle other projects the teams felt it best to return to this in the coming months. The emphasis is now on activism, and we intend to do this by targeting those influencers that have received the PDF or the book. The media team and the activist team have joined forces and put a strategy in place to do this. We will also now begin to target influencers that align or are prominent in speaking out about topics, the blueprint has addressed for interviews with Thomas. You will hear more about this in the reports. Writing new legislation was also revisited; this will be part of the new Law website a new project that is being worked on now, with some members taking part to get this up and running. Feel free to get involved on any level with this project. We discussed the need to get rid of existing legislation and start by replacing terms like legislation by incorporating the True rule of Law. We need to replace their system with ours and now is the right time to start getting ready for all the things that are needed, to truly be prepared for rolling out the blueprint. The Mewe Blueprint Action group is now closed and the migration to the be. platform has for the most part taken place. You can find all the same functions there and we hope more will join us there, to become part of the Action planning and bring their ideas with them. Find us here at be.thenewblueprintforhumanity.org It is an exciting time now as we gain traction and recognition, it will take many hands, hearts and minds coming together.

BOOK TEAM:

The Bulgarian translator has been studying Veda's information, which will be helpful for editing and translating future books. The base auto translation of From His Story to Our Story Volume 3 is expected soon, which will help the translator to polish the Bulgarian version for publishing. Base auto translations will soon be available for other translators to work on Volume 2, as well. A meeting has been scheduled to discuss changes needed to the Swedish Blueprint, which needs only the last two sections translated. In the meantime, the Hebrew translator is working with a member of the Media Team to translate memes. A member of the Book Team suggested contacting alternative schools and parents who are homeschooling their children, to suggest they include the From His Story to Our Story series in their curriculum. And it was noted that some countries have outlawed homeschooling. The Book Team also discussed publishing of The New Blueprint For Humanity, in particular the European version, once it is finished. Members of the group disclosed that while many sections have been completed, the Military and Government sections are proving difficult to address. Further, the law language is presenting challenges. Concern was expressed that the translations pertaining to legal terms, must use correct wording that shows understanding of the system's legalese. Debate resulted in the conclusion that what is needed is to clarify the effect of the words listed in the Blueprint, perhaps providing examples of how they are used to oppress and adding that we need to leave the old system. A member of both the Book Team and the European Blueprint team advised that the changes to the Euro version are highlighted, to enable easy adjustment of the translations for each country. As for actual publishing, a member revealed that a Swedish company sometimes uses a Swedish printer, sometimes printers in other countries and sometimes Print 24, though the last does not produce the best quality. The company would be willing to do for free the administration that includes formatting, VAT reduction application, registering and getting ISBNs and barcodes for each translation and sending copies to specific libraries per Swedish law. However, printing and shipping will require funding up front. Crowd funding was suggested and one member volunteered to invest funds for the minimum print run of 100 copies. Another put forward the possibility of finding more publishers willing to do the administration tasks for free, in order to spread the Blueprint. It was suggested that any profit from sale of the books could be put toward printing the next batch or creating a new TPC village. The difficulty of marketing of the books was mentioned, with several members admitting a lack of expertise in that area. The idea of a teaser on the website was originally proposed by one of the translators, who suggested offering the whole of Volume 1. The Team discussed how book distributors sometimes put the first chapter online with a link to the sale page for the whole book. That concept has been put before the web team for their consideration.

RESEARCH TEAM:

The Research Team did not meet on April 7 due to the travel of some of its members. However, the effort to reach out to influencers continues. In addition, the follow-up effort with contacted influencers starts with the coordination between the Twitter, Media and Research Teams. We have been receiving replies from our contacts of receipt of the Blueprint and their intent to explore and get back to us with questions. The Research Team thanks all the members of THI who have contributed the names of influencers. Your perspective is greatly appreciated. We have contacted 20 influencers using their contact forms from their websites. They are:

Ben Shapiro: An Orthodox Jew, is founding editor-in-chief and editor emeritus of The Daily Wire and host of The Ben Shapiro Show, the top conservative podcast in the nation. He was hired by Creators Syndicate at age 17 to become the youngest nationally syndicated columnist in the U.S.

The Babylon Bee: Is a conservative Christian news satire website that publishes satirical articles on topics including religion, politics, current events and public figures. It has been referred to as a Christian or conservative version of The Onion. The purpose of the site, according to its founder Adam Ford in 2016, was not just to evoke laughter, but to prompt self-reflection. It's important to look at what we're doing, to examine ourselves.

Save Your Sons Mission: For every man who was raised without a strong father figure, for every woman raising sons alone and for anyone who wants to create a legacy of prosperity for their family; but needs guidance on where to start. Save Your Sons is here to deliver the life lessons every father should teach their son. Whether you missed out on these lessons yourself growing up, or you're raising a boy who may be a father one day, we won't rest until every man has the tools, he needs to be an effective and engaged father. No child should grow up without a dad. No boy should grow up without the tools he needs to become one. Fatherlessness is the issue of our generation and Save Your Sons is on a mission to eliminate it.

Leo Terrell: Is an American civil rights attorney and talk radio host based in Los Angeles, California. He has frequently appeared on Fox News programs. He provides legal and political commentary on TV and radio programs.

Ivor Cummings: Also known as the Fat Emperor, since 2012 Ivor has been intensively researching the root causes of modern chronic disease. A particular focus has been on cardiovascular disease, diabetes and obesity. He shares his research insights at public speaking engagements around the world, revealing the key nutritional and lifestyle interventions which will deliver excellent health and personal productivity.

Michael Stock: Is an English songwriter, record producer, musician and member of the songwriting and production trio Stock Aitken and Waterman. He has been responsible for over a hundred top-40 hits in the UK, including 16 Number One's and is recognized as one of the most successful songwriters of all time by the Guinness World Records.

Cory Morningstar: Is an independent investigative journalist, writer and environmental activist, focusing on global ecological collapse and political analysis of the non-profit industrial complex. She resides in Canada. Her recent writings can be found on Wrong Kind of Green, The Art of Annihilation and Counterpunch. Her writing has also been published in Bolivia.

Kate Shemirani: Is described as British conspiracy theorist, anti-vaccine activist and former nurse who lost her license to practice in 2020 for misconduct. She is best known for promoting alternative theories about Covid-19, vaccinations and 5G technology. She has been described by The Jewish Chronicle as a leading figure of a movement that includes conspiracy theorists, as well as far-left and far-right activists.

Martyn Ware: Is an English musician, composer, arranger, record producer and music programmer. In November 2020, Ware launched a podcast, Electronically Yours. In November 2019, along with 34 other musicians, he signed a letter endorsing the Labour Party leader Jeremy Corbyn in the 2019 UK general election with a call to end austerity.

Duke Garwood: Is a London-based multi-instrumentalist and recording artist whose expertise on a wide range of instruments, has graced numerous albums by an eclectic range of musicians. His music is rooted in the blues, generating a dark and spectral sound full of late-night atmosphere on albums.

Robert Edward Grant: Is the CEO and Founder of Crown Sterling presents details about the Orion Messenger. ORION Messenger offers a quantum-secure, end-to-end encrypted, decentralized communications platform. Our commitment lies in fostering open discourse and providing a solution where sovereign individuals and communities can flourish. Unlike commonly used applications that rely on vulnerable encryption protocols, data mining practices, and other limitations, ORION is the only platform allowing for large, encrypted group chat and social media communications in an unmonitored environment.

Anna-Sophia Novel: Is a journalist specialized in ecological alternatives and media. She is an author and director at the service of the general interest, concerned about the proper functioning of our democracies. She is an activist for good information. She began four years when she conducted an investigation in France and abroad. This gave birth to her first documentary film and a book published by Actes Sud. She discovered that she could not explain the ecology without including the media. Our relationship to information and ability to draw courses of action depends on the media fabric. This dynamic weighs on our ability to integrate the issues of this century.

Larry Alex Taunton: Is an award-winning author, freelance columnist and producer. For better or for worse, he is a man with a reputation. He sees himself as a man whose life experiences have beaten out of him any sense of self-righteousness or self-sufficiency. He has known great success and colossal failure, loved and vilified and he has done some things of which he is proud and some things he deeply regrets. He can only imagine how much worse he would be, were it not for the fact that he is a Christian. Keenly aware of his own flaws, he believes God's greatest gift is the grace, which he bestows on mankind and that which we offer to one another.

Darren Smith: Founded The Light, which is a self-published, monthly British far-right and conspiracy theory newspaper. The paper has been criticized for spreading Covid-19 misinformation, anti-Semitic conspiracy theories, Holocaust denial and death threats.

Lorin Krenn: Is an internationally sought after teacher who helps people to unite the masculine and feminine within, in their relationships and life. Lorin has worked with countless clients all over the world, including star performance coaches and highly successful CEOs.

Eighteen and Under: Is a British organization. 18U provides information and support to young people who have been abused in any way. The support we offer depends on the needs of the young person and it is confidential. They do not write down information about young people, unless the young person asks them to do so. They do not record names and addresses and only keep contact information, as long as it is needed to contact the young person.

RA Info Ritual Abuse, Ritual Crime and Healing: It provides resources for ritual abuse survivors, mind control survivors, their therapists, ministers, families, friends and researchers. They have been collecting these resources since 1995, so many books are now out of print and many websites are no longer on the Internet. They have listed archived URLs for most of those websites.

Jacqui Dillon: Was born and bred in East London. She is a respected campaigner, writer, international speaker and trainer specializing in hearing voices, psychosis, dissociation, trauma, abuse, healing and recovery. She has worked within mental health services for more than 15 years, in a variety of settings, including community, acute, low, medium and high secure settings, prisons, colleges and universities. She is proud to be a part of a collective voice, demanding a radical shift in the way we make sense of and respond to, experiences currently defined as psychiatric illnesses.

James Nussbaumer: Is an American author with eager interests about redirecting the mental power of our mistakes, before we act them out into positive results. His books, articles, videos and lectures are challenging, humorous and elevating. His messages take us on an inner journey to becoming The Master of Everything; a series written from deep in the rabbit hole of the prison system.

Nate Nelson: Has been with American Majority since March of 2015, first as a Field Director, before being promoted to Wisconsin Executive Director in 2016. Where American Majority has now trained well over 200 conservative candidates, who have gone on to win their elections. Nate has built a career shaping public policy through grassroots efforts. He cut his teeth organizing at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh, actively involved in student government, political campaigns and student org development.

Quite an interesting and varied selection as the Blueprint is now going into many different fields.

In addition to the contact forms, fifteen influencers were contacted directly through e-mails. They are:

Katherine Poehling: Is Professor of Pediatrics Wake Forest University School of Medicine. Her research interests are pneumococcal infections, infant and newborn diseases, pediatrics, vaccines, influenza and population health.

Leslie Cosgrove: Is associated with the Maine Department of Health and Human Services. She currently serves as the Office Manager at the Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Helen Keipp Bredenberg Talbot: Is an infectious disease researcher at the Vanderbilt University Medical Center. She was recently appointed chair of the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the U.S. CDC. Which advises the CDC on adult and childhood immunization, including the age when a vaccine should be given, the number of doses needed, the amount of time between doses, precautions and contraindications. Her hope is to improve immunization guidelines in adults and prevent diseases.

Lawrence M. Perlman: His work is short term and solution focused. He draws on several therapeutic approaches, depending on the nature of the problem, including behavior therapy, family therapy and strategic therapy. He has a diverse background from 50 years of experience in the treatment of children, adolescents and adults. He is an expert in a number of psychotherapeutic approaches, including short-term solution-focused therapy, cognitive-behavior therapy, family-systems therapy and psychoanalytic therapy He developed an evidence-based wellness program with a positive psychology emphasis. He specializes in the treatment of anxiety and mood disorders in adults and children, OCD and autistic spectrum disorders, anorexia nervosa and insomnia.

Mario Draghi: Is an Italian economist, academic, banker and civil servant who served as the prime minister of Italy from February 2021 to October 2022. Prior to his appointment as prime minister, he served as President of the European Central Bank (ECB) between 2011 and 2019. Draghi was also Chair of the Financial Stability Board between 2009 and 2011 and Governor of the Bank of Italy between 2006 and 2011.

Christopher Sheeran: Is an English singer-songwriter, musician, record producer and actor. His music style has been described as pop, fold-pop and soft rock with a touch of rap.

Taylor Swift: Is an American singer-songwriter. A subject of widespread public interest, she has influenced the music industry and popular culture through her artistry, songwriting and entrepreneurship. She is an advocate of artists' rights and women's empowerment.

Chadwick Moore: A gay journalist, says his life had been lived in a liberal bubble, one that burst after he wrote a profile of Milo Yiannopoulos for Out Magazine. The article was critical, but also let Yiannopoulos be heard and included a professional photo shoot. As soon as it was published, he was attacked so severely he says it pushed him to rethink his political allegiance.

Noel Hidalgo Tan: Is a Singaporean archaeologist. He runs the Southeast Asian Archaeology website and is currently the Senior Specialist in Archaeology at the Southeast Asia Ministers of Education Organization based in Bangkok. His main research interest is in the rock art of Southeast Asia and is engaged in a variety of projects in the archaeology of Southeast Asia.

Lindsey Pollak: Is a bestselling author, international speaker and generational translator. She is a globally recognized career and workplace expert and the leading voice on generational diversity. In 2020, Lindsey was named to the Thinkers50 Radar List, which honors the top global management thinkers, whose work is shaping the future of how organizations are managed and led.

Martin Zizi: Is a Professor of Physiology and Biophysicist at Bon Sens. He was the former director of epidemiology of the Belgian Department of Defense.

Amos Miller: Is an Amish farmer in Pennsylvania, who had become a flash point in America's culture wars. Conservatives built support for Miller ahead of his February 29, 2024, hearing in a lawsuit brought by the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office. A rally for the farmer was planned for outside the courthouse and a GiveSendGo fundraiser for the Amos Miller Organic Farm has raked in over $200,000. Miller has repeatedly refused to comply with food safety regulations, and state troopers seized Miller's edible products as part of a search warrant, that was obtained after the state Agriculture Department was notified the products had been linked to E. coli outbreaks in two other states. A couple of weeks later, the state of Pennsylvania announced it was suing Miller to stop him from selling raw milk and other unregulated products, saying that his violation of food safety laws endangers public health. Miller has argued that he does not sell his products to the public, only to his farm's private membership association and that exempts him from having to comply with government regulations.

Justin Wells: Was the Senior Executive Producer for Tucker Carlson Tonight, the top-rated 8pm ET national cable news program in the United States on the Fox News Channel. Previously, Justin served as Executive Producer for On the Record for Brit Hume and Greta Van Susteren. Fox News fired Mr. Wells alongside Mr. Carlson last April, in the wake of the network's blockbuster $787.5 million defamation settlement with Dominion Voting Systems. Mr. Wells now works for Mr. Carlson on his show on the social media platform X.

Assen Malhotra: Known as one of the most influential cardiologists in Britain, he is successfully leading the campaign against excess sugar consumption. He contends that people should reduce sugar in their diet, adopt a low-carb and high-fat diet and reduce their use of prescription drugs. His views on diet and health have been criticized by the British Heart Foundation as misleading and wrong. Despite initially campaigning for the 2020 elite campaign, he later campaigned against the elite campaign.

Silvano Trotta: Is a French entrepreneur and web researcher and videographer. A business leader in the telecommunications sector and an amateur web videographer. He made a name for himself at the beginning of 2020, speaking out against the elite campaign.

That completes this reports list.

A further ten books were sent out this week for US Senators and Representatives. They were as follows:

Bernie Sanders

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez

Thom Tillis

Clay Higgins

Chip Roy

Andy Biggs

Jason Crow

Mike Johnson

John Cornyn

Jim Jordan

Here is another song from a THI member, with help from Paul Smith, this is Martin Schlögl and love is still the answer.

MEDIA TEAM.

The media team have been analyzing the data from the recent changeover to the new style of memes. These memes target in a more specific way each of the two main accounts, THI and the Blueprint account. We then use questioning memes which can cover both THI shows and the Blueprint solutions. Using questions such as: If things don't make sense, who is lying and why? Or Do you trust your government? We then follow up with, we have the solution for this and post the government solution. One of my favorites is, Will you ask or demand change, or will you be the change? We are happy so far with how they are performing; some seem to be getting more attention than others, which may depend on what time they get posted or they maybe getting suppressed. We have been using hashtags more often to add in what is trending. The main reason for hashtags is to get your account noticed, this can work in two ways. 1. The hashtag highlights your account more. 2. the hashtag suppresses your account, because the powers that be do not want that subject getting too much attention. The team will also begin requesting certain media influencers to have an interview with Thomas. We will target certain well-known names, send them a request and maybe also a copy of the blueprint pdf plus some information on who Thomas is. We are discussing making memes also that can then be left in the comments section of these profilers. One member replied to a politician recently on Twitter, questioning their support for the blueprint and her comment was banned immediately. As these account holders have the ability to block the use of certain words in their commenting section. This is something to be mindful of going forward when trying to leave comments on accounts. Sometimes the gentler approach works best or read previous comments left by followers and generate your comment to follow in line. The media team has also joined forces with the research/Twitter team and are now correlating a plan of action going forward. To encourage people to join in this campaign of targeting the influencers that have received the PDF, by leaving comments asking them why they have not responded to us so far. This also should get their followers to question, why they are not really working for the change many are professing to be and want.

Members will use their own personal accounts to target the most recent list of influencers for a two-week period, as many people leaving similar comments is bound to get noticed eventually. The more members we have leaving comments each week, the more we spread the blueprint name. There is also an opportunity to join in the twitter space podcasts, as one of our members joins these regularly and puts her hand up to ask a question. She would love more to join her on these spaces as more putting their hands up increases the chances of being picked. If you feel you want to take part in this, please contact us on the Be platform through the blueprint group or leave a message in the main THI chat. We need an army now to get ourselves seen and heard. You also do not necessarily need a Twitter account, as this activism can also be done on Instagram or Tik tok.

We have also discussed targeting certain countries with pieces from the recent shows, that highlight what is going on in their part of the world. Using these pieces like some recent Irish pieces, with a solution meme relevant to their issues may garner support from these countries as it shows them, we not only care but we have the solutions they need for real change.

The good news is we are now back on You Tube after more than a month of being banned from posting. Please help us by liking and sharing the videos. We will also begin to put longer videos out on all the platforms to hopefully be able to bypass You Tube in the future if need be. Certain platforms have time preferences for long videos, tik tok have recently expanded their time to 30 minutes. It is an opportunity to promote the shows in a new way too, as smaller sections maybe more appealing to some people. Thank you to all who are stepping up for the campaign and we hope to see more new faces over the coming weeks.

CANADIAN BLUEPRINT TEAM:

The adjustments to the government, overhaul, tax and housing solutions of the Canadian version of the Blueprint are under review by the team. Discussions have taken place with members of the public to feel out their responses to some of possibilities offered and have received approval in principle. Further adjustments to the military solution will be assessed as well.

EUROPEAN BLUEPRINT TEAM:

Together we did some more final editing of three solutions: The Disaster Relief Solution The Mass Media Solution The Full Disclaimer for Full Disclosure Solution We are now halfway through the solutions we need to adjust. We discussed that we need to look at the fact that the different countries in Europe will need to translate the document in their language. To make sure that is possible, we will look at some parts with law terms or language and work on converting that in a more simple, general wording, so it will be easier to translate.

WEB TEAM:

An events calendar with all the zooms and meetings is now on the be.forum, it can found at the top of the page under the events tab. So all meetings and zoom links can be found there now, not on the mewe page.

LAW TEAM:

The Fundamentals of the Law Introduction: We are at a watershed moment in history of extreme change. The old models and systems are failing as they have never served humanity, only an elite, chosen few. We are witnessing the collapse of an oppressive system around the world, and we are seeing the collapse of law. The current powers that have been operating on fraudulent claims of Divine Right to rule. As people are waking up, we can see that in truth they have no authority, no legitimate claims to divine rights, no honour, no integrity, and no right to behave the way that they have. The weakest claim is that of the tyrant, as they have no proper authority from the Divine and no consent from the people and can only hold onto power through force, fear and fraud. No tyrant can overcome or sustain forever, so long as knowledge of the true Law prevails. Of all the forces in the Universe, the greatest is the action of Free Will, for the very existence of existence itself depends upon the Free Will of the Ultimate Creator and the wish of the Divine to exist. To deny such reasoning is to deny competency of intellect itself. Free Will is not only the greatest force of Creation, it is essential to the concept of existence itself. Without the formality of law, people possess by their very being, the innate sense of what is right and wrong, of basic human dignity and moral integrity. Nature abounds with signs and lessons of such truth, to those species that unite for life, and those noble creatures that exhibit the courage to choose what is right, for their own family and their survival. Such moral foundation is not a result of rule of law but precedes and ensures its operation. A society that abandons its common moral reasoning, destroys its very foundation and condemns itself to oblivion. The fundamentals of law rest on these truths. For the fundamentals to operate effectively, we must comprehend concepts such as Divinity and how the highest authority flows from the Divine, preceding and ensuring that the true rule of law, due process and justice operate. The way forward is to remove the mind virus of ignorance, hatred, greed, ego and restore the competence to know who we are. We are immortal, we are each a part of the Divine, expressed in trust to the living flesh. We are not simply part of the universe, we are each an instance of the universe, the personification of the universe. We are each Divine immortal spirits choosing to experience this life in the flesh and may have experienced many lives or journeys. The Universe is a dream that exists according to rules, in our flesh we exist according to those rules in the dream, but we are also part of and represent the dreamer. There is a concept of synergy between awareness and matter. Matter/objects are flesh of the dream in motion. Physical is awareness, everything we see is in motion, everything around us is soul, awareness in motion with intent. Their system wants us to believe this is not true and that awareness can be separated from the physical. But they can never take our soul. They can kill our flesh, but they cannot kill us. Their model of the world, their societies and history are a horrible corruption of an incredible dream. The political and military situation in the world appears dire; however, the real issue is spiritual and all the political and military forces in the world cannot defeat spirit. We are dealing with a system of a Kingdom of ideas that has been implemented.

When the Jesuits took control in the 16th C, they reconstituted the model of the world under the Roman concept of occupation and created Provinces across the world. Their idea was that a spiritual army had conquered the world and that their missions and posts were posts of occupation. This is a spiritual conceptual idea first and a temporal and implemented idea second, and is why no one has defeated their system. Real power does not lie with politics or military force, guns, tasers, prison, torcher. The enemy we are dealing with is a bad idea, fraud and stupidity. It is a philosophy of creating an entirely fictitious world, justifying lying and not telling the truth, and now the people in power actually believe their own lies. This is a mental illness and an ideology based on lies. The real power is the idea connected perfectly to spirit. When we stand up and say, I am immortal and no one stands between me and the Divine, we create an unbreakable bond. The Fundamentals of Law series will explain the basic concepts, will restore the truth of what law is and what it is not. As we develop our competence, we can restore the moral foundation that precedes and ensures the true rule of law, due process and justice operate and civilization can once again flourish as we rebuild communities of trust. We can think different and live in truth, honour and integrity. We can create models and systems that benefit us all, when we restore our moral foundation and work together.

What is Divine and Does a Divine Creator Exist?

Divine:

The Divine means the total set of all meanings and definitions, of all possible concepts, objects, matter and rules, all forms of life, mind, universe and spirit, all historic, customary and traditional names used to describe the greatest of all possibilities and the supreme being of all divinities. Thus, there can be no greater concept as the Divine means the concept of all concepts, the set of all sets, thus every other concept, set or object must be lesser than the Divine. It is absurd to speak of aspects of the Divine and claim attributes of a supreme being, that is less than the concept of all concepts. Describing the Divine as purely masculine or feminine is false, as such descriptions are less than the total. Describing the Divine as vengeful or wrathful is also false and the height of stupidity, for wrath, vengeance and power are all less than the set of all sets. When speaking of gods and spirits, one speaks to specific aspects of the Divine, not adversaries to the Divine. Nothing is greater than the Divine as everything is lesser by degree.

Divine Existence:

The existence of Divine is without dispute and can be proven four different ways:

1. The Divine exists absolutely as concept and therefore is proven to exist, for the mere existence of a notion is sufficient to validate itself, regardless of whether it is considered to be true or false to other notions. Notions that cannot be named maybe said to have no existence. Thus, the Divine Creator exists as a notion.

2. The Divine possesses material existence, for existence of the Universe depends upon both rules and matter. Neither matter without rules, nor rules without matter can exist in a Universal reality. Only rules can exist on their own as a notion. The only example where rules exist in theory, and rules and matter exist in reality, is in the relation between the dreamer and the dream. Thus, the Divine Creator may be said to be the Divine Dreamer and the Universe is the Dream, then the Divine is proven to have a material existence.

3. The Divine possesses a real existence, for dimension is the canvas of reality whereupon all material existence depends. Almost every conscious being experiences through the creation of dimension firsthand, through their mind whenever they think or dream. Dimension is no place but every place, in that it has no material existence, yet every thought and every reality, depends on it. Dimensions can only be created by conscious, observable thought. Therefore, the existence of any dimension is proof of the existence of the Universal Dimension as the observable thought of the Divine Creator.

4. The Divine possesses absolute existence, for existence itself depends on at least one observer and the object observed to hold true. Thus, for the objective Universe to exist, there must be a Universal Observer. The Divine Creator is the absolute dreamer and the Universe as the absolute dream, and the Divine Creator is proven to have absolute existence.

Doubt in the existence of the Divine has been sewn by priests and the plans of bankers, politicians, merchants and those who want to control humanity. As they do not wish people to have trust, especially absolute, unshakable trust in the Divine. They create and perpetuate false accounts of creation. They beguile and condemn the minds of those people that follow their falsities. An awake mind need not believe superstition, or fanciful stories in order to comprehend the creation of the Universe. The authentic truth of the Divine is a touchstone of the heart, it is the bedrock of peace and prosperity, that unites men and women of goodwill and binds and protects communities from peril.

In Overview:

We are in a very powerful time of great change and a new awareness, which is now prevalent within all of the groups. We all know that we are on the brink of a very big change, not only within our groups, but externally also The shows are a constant reminder to us of just how fast and how far the change is happening. The seeds are beginning to bloom. The energies are and have been constantly shifting and increasing, especially after the recent Eclipse event. The anticipation of what is coming is showing up everywhere, we all feel it. This change is being reflected in every aspect of the future choices we the group members must make now. These words, I didn't come here to play their game, I came to change it, is a very powerful statement from the show FHSTOS plus 18, the story of the V's, that also holds a great sense of confidence and may even feel slightly threatening to some. Most especially the dark forces. Some people may have thought it a foolhardy statement or even egotistical. They didn't understand the heartfelt mission that Thomas was on, nor did many maybe even think it was possible. Those of us in THI not only felt the power of those words, but deep in our hearts we knew it was possible, and that statement, a calling, became our call. One man's knowing and life mission became our mission too. What was once the internal has now become the external, and although our groups are small in the grand scheme of things, it shows that it only takes a few to begin to change the world. To set a frequency of change that resonates around the globe. If one percent took over this planet, then maybe it is somehow justified, that in universal law it will be one percent that take it back? If you never truly know how powerful you are, then it stands to reason you will never even try. This is the all too frequent excuse among the general public. In the main we never bother to try, we always think someone else holds the answer, the knowledge that it requires, or the solution.

We at THI have those solutions; it is all contained in The New Blueprint for Humanity. A different way to change things, a different approach that offers even those that caused harm to make amends and correct their mistakes. In truth we all made mistakes and we all are responsible for what has unfolded here. It just needed something different to reverse the damage and forge a better way for the all.

THI people are different. They have always thought different and never fitted into the mainstream rhetoric. Many have always felt misunderstood, and in many cases targeted for being the very thing you are meant to be, different. Yet despite all of that we kept going, we kept persisting and we questioned everything. I am sure we all have our own stories of how we found THI, but in essence we were just following our hearts, tuning into the truth frequency and opening our hearts. We worked to overcome our fears and shadows one by one within the safety of the groups. We found new people that not only wanted truth, but in the main were willing to work to better themselves, which in turn better's humanity. In overview we were all just looking for a place where we could belong and come together. Together now we embrace the change, we expand our thinking within the groups. We are getting ready for the next level that is needed to implement the great changes that it will require. In the end the impossible becomes I'm possible. "We didn't come here to play their game; We came to change it." The last lines of that show. The great separation and division, that was their game no longer works. They are losing their great battle on humanity and we are stepping into our greatest Assa for this planet. A new game that does not need blood shed or more painful division tactics to win. Instead of separation and division we simply sat down together and joined forces with hope in our hearts, and a vision of the blueprint spreading out across the world.

A new way to win a war, a bloodless sacrifice, or was it just a remembrance of the old ways, the true ways to Think and Act differently. All it needed in the end was the joining of hearts, the melding of similar minds and the focus of one man's dream to hold onto. You are the great change that was needed. The action of coming together broke the spell casting of their division, and when few are gathered nothing can stop what is coming. We are no longer playing their games; we as the statement says are changing it.

This is a controversial topic and is often cited as to why some people will not follow THI, but why throw the baby out with the bath water? Why is society conditioned to reject others opinions? Has that served us well? Shouldn't we all have an open mind and eventually an open heart? This is the next in the What is series, it is called:

WHAT IS RELIGION AND WHAT IS SPIRITUALITY?

The simple answers between the both is, one is an external pursuit and one is an internal pursuit. One is an external savior program, the other means you save yourself. One is used as a harvesting looshfest, the other keeps and protects their own energy. One sometimes costs people money, the other doesn't. One is used as an external status, the other is internal and only known to the self. One is generally done in a congregation, the other is done in a quiet space alone. One requires you to enter a designated building, the other can be done anywhere.

These are the basic differences between the two, but the topics themselves generate much angst, verbal volleys and sometimes violence, particularly with religion. The my god is better than your god people, have led to no end of deaths and destruction on this planet for many thousands of years. The curious thing is, no religious person asks whether that stance is contradictory to the said nature of religion? Said to be all holy, but nobody really defined what holy meant, which is a common trait within religious fields. But I don't call bludgeoning an entire people's, village, town or city a holy thing to do, that is genocide. Yet the religious fervor just rolls on from war to war and there has been little to no efforts to stop it, in any decade or century. One simply asks the question, why is religion associated always with hatred, division and violence? Throw in bitterness and the rejection of whole other people's, purely based upon them following a different belief structure. It begs a bigger question of, is this belief structure actually beneficial to anyone? The bitter name calling and labeling of each other resembles a kindergarten squabble, yet no one seems to take a step back and think is this the right behavior to be undertaking?

One of the greatest problems of religion, is that it doesn't sit well when it comes under scrutiny by people who have a right to question it. All kinds of excuses, deflections and dismissals takes place, when you ask basic questions, like proof of its validity. Religion and the religious will and cannot tolerate that in any way shape or form, it tends to get very testy or worse, ugly. But why is that? Why are people not allowed to question or scrutinize this topic? Why are people told to believe it or you will face the wrath of god, or worse, face death? Nobody asks as to why god would have anger management issues and when questioned about the fiery serpent attacks, floods, plagues, pestilence, disease, destroying crops, land and livestock is a good thing for a god to do, the answer is typically robotic and clichéd, it is just god's way they say. God takes away all the children, but god works in mysterious ways is the next cliché. We all thought god and religion was about setting the examples of morals and principles, yet clearly there is no evidence to support that claim. Look at it logically, 60% of the planet are said to be religious, why aren't those 60 or even 50% of the planet of a higher standing then? They are not, so the conclusion is, that program is not delivering what it is said to do. You have priests and nuns all claiming to be gods messengers, did anyone ask who appointed them to that lofty height? No, people just go along with it. Where are their credentials or proof they are men or messengers of god? The problem is the people's acceptance. When people have found out the atrocities of many of the churches, did they stop going to the church? Again no, the greater question then becomes, why? Why would you endorse a church that is trafficking children, enslaves children, sells children, sexually, violently and mentally abuses children? Why would the Vatican church have a mafia collecting and extorting money from the public, using prostitution, drug running, arms sales and many other forms of malfeasant behaviors. Why would the Vatican church be associated with a military arm? Why would they send them out on missions to kill lots of people? Why were 3 of the last 4 Popes involved in warfare and gun running? Two of which were Nazis. Why was the Vatican church working with the CIA during WW2?

Listeners of expose pieces April 18th, found out the contradictory nature of religion on a massive scale. Where dates, names of people, names of places, names of gods where all muddled to the point of mass confusion. The Jewish and Judaism section and scholars in particular, when pushed about the genocide of the Amalekites, flat out denied it and described it as allegoric. But why would you write several books that were referenced in those pieces, all about one group of people, the Amalekites, yet state it is allegoric? Numbers, Samuel, Deuteronomy, Hebrew bible, Genesis, Exodus, Judges, Chronicles, Mishneh Torah, Book of Esther, Ephesians, Talmud and Zephaniah, all mentioned the Amalekites in their books, yet now they are telling us it was allegoric? The great question then is, is the rest of those books also allegoric? Or as what generally plays out with religion, it becomes selective. The whole thing is a massive contradiction on a simple and basic question and answer scale, yet curiously you are not allowed to question anything or everything about religion or their varying gods? Is that not another contradiction? I thought we were all afforded free will, appears that is selective as well. The whole thing is riddled with inconsistencies on a massive scale, that if it wasn't called religion, it would be firmly labeled under the term conspiracy theory. Other unexplainable things happen around religion, that in any other field would also come under conspiracy theory and worse, declared mentally unstable. God sits on a cloud and passes judgement over everyone, a snake that talks to people, a bush goes on fire and talks to people, a cloud appears on a mountain and hands someone a tablet of laws, people walk on water, people can part oceans. My question is, has anyone ever witnessed any of those things? If not, why would you believe in them? People rocking backward and forward and kissing a wall, in any other field that person would be declared mentally unstable, but not in religion. Other bizarre concepts such as you are not allowed to eat fruit or you will be banished, the lord coming down to change the languages, so humans can't communicate together and all people not Jewish are pigs, cattle or animals. These are the questions people must ask themselves, I know it is all encompassing and an easy path to look for everything outside of yourself, but external is devolution. When your true answers of truth, love, evolution and source all lie within, as the real god or source intended. The books all have levels of extraordinary contradictory statements that is way beyond basic logic. It is riddled with violence, fear, incest, death, bestiality, theft and divide and conquer. The real issue with these words whilst not literal, the real issue is memetics and implied consent. Because those words are spell casts, like most of the scriptures, why would a so-called holy book contain such words to begin with? Like death, rape, incest, fears, plagues, pestilence, slaughter and it looks more like a Hollywood movie script to me. People have asked me over time do I believe in a god, but that is a far broader question and terminology than most people think. It begs the question back of, which god? But the true meaning of the word god, has been distorted over time and the current version is not the real meaning or the intention behind it.

Do I believe in an all-encompassing entity? Yes, it is called Source or as the URs would call it, Bra-ha-ma. But Source will never present itself in the physical realms as a walking flesh and blood entity, at that level it does not exist in a way that we would instantly recognize it. The higher you go as a soul developed being the less denser you become, they cannot sustain physical 3D bodies. That applies on the levels of 7-12 also. Although 7-12D bodies can appear in the lower dimensions based upon projecting a very small proportion of themselves to appear on this level. This level 3D is not a comfortable level to be at for a soul coming from the higher D's and the frequency at these levels is of a much lower vibration. So, there is no chance of the god or Source or his son appearing on a 3D planet, it is just not necessary or practical. All of which brings into deeper questioning of the bible, as to just who are these god or gods they are worshipping? So, what is a god? A god is a person or being who has attained higher soul growth and anyone can become a god under its original meaning. If a person achieves the 7 earth (earth just means inhabited planet) based levels of growth, they move onto the next 7 layers of growth, galactic and then universal. But then you have the multiverse level and metaverse as well. So, there is a distinct difference between Source and a god, one is the creator of everything, one is a person or being having been created by Source and has gone onto achieve higher soul development. Religion was an experiment to see how far people would externalize everything about themselves, when everything needed was actually within. As we have found out, it was Lucifer who brought the program of religion here around 22500BC. Let's look at it rationally neither god, Jesus, Allah, Kali Ma, Krishna, Vishnu, Shiva or the Lord, not one of them wrote a book. Yet the people are being tasked to believe in these books, nothing of which was written by their gods. Another bizarre aspect of this applies to the Catholics, who believe they must drink blood to maintain eternal life. This is down to the Catholic mass where they tell you, you are drinking the blood and eating the flesh of Christ. Again in any other walk of life, that is declared a cannibalism. But yet again the church proclaim it is not literal. The question then becomes is, is any of the bible or scriptural books literal? How can you follow or believe in it, when any controversial topic that is brought up within it, is swiftly labeled non-literal? Why isn't there a disclaimer in the book stating whole portions of the book is not real, just stories made up? Even Eastern and spiritual based practices we have covered detailing corruption, sexual abuse and trafficking. The Dalai Lama is a CIA agent, why would a so-called messenger of spiritual practice be a spy for the CIA? It makes no sense. Hinduism, Jainism, Buddhism, chanting mantras, mandalas, Shiva, Vishnu and other deities, all riddled with the same conspiracy theories Catholic or Christianity does. We have highlighted harvesting and abuse involving tantric, siddhis and other so called spiritual based practices. The heavy use of messiah complex, using threats and intimidation, again the use of sexual based coercion and some of the most barbaric ritual sacrifices the planet over. That involves mass human and animal sacrifice, including evidence of bestiality with the animals inside the temples. Should we just ignore all those examples? Why is it so many temples and places of worship have been found out to be sacrifice centers? The Far East culture also denigrates, abuses and treats women as sex objects, things to abuse and second-class citizens, just like the African and Middle East cultures. There are many people starving and homeless and communities riddled with crime, yet many of these churches are dripping with riches.

If all these practices were righteous and real, the world would be a much better place. The fact is the world is not a better place, it's just not. 80% of the planet or more are involved in some form of religion or spiritual practices, that allegedly teaches you all kinds of nice things and yet the planet is divided, violent, chaotic and the worse aspect, none caring, which god teaches you that? There is zero evidence it produces what it says it does. Which group is the predominant in all the religions? In fact all religions stem from and were created by one group, that goes by several names. The Torah and Talmud are the books, both of which think humans are expendable slaves with the most heinous writing, directives and acts ever on this planet. They go by Hebrews, Israelites, Jesuits, Jews, sub gray, Zionists, Kali Ma, Cult of Ra, Annunaki and Annunaki Zionists, some of which comes under the Order of the Black Sun, who worship evil and death. The point is, 1. god never wrote a book 2. Jesus never wrote a book 3. Mohammad never wrote a book 4. deities never wrote a book 5. Yahweh never wrote a book 6. Lucifer or Satan never wrote a book 7. The Lord never wrote a book. Knowing and accepting that as a fact, renders the tenets of religion moot. The only ones who wrote books were disciples of the dark forces and evil. The Cohens, priests, monks, nuns and crown agents, none of whom we know who they are, or what was their intentions. All leaving a planet in a very bad state, with no direction, no inner compass, a distinct lack of morals and principle and a totally uncaring world apart from the few who do. And it is the few who truly care, all of which is a great indictment of we the people. It is all about getting, keeping and acting on the knowledge, the knowledge is the faith.

People often say, but the church does good things, that is non thinking again, the people in the church did good things not the actual building or the movement, you did good things, stop externalizing it, it was you. Why do people give all their power away to a church? But then given the evidence against the churches, is that the sole purpose of getting disciples? To harvest their energy and take donations off of them? We asked some time back, are you praying or being preyed upon? Same pronunciation but different spelling and a completely different meaning. Spirituality is often spoken about, but the concept is as misunderstood as the words conspiracy theory and cult. When asked to explain the last two, people stumble. Why? Because they are repeating cliches handed to them by the system, with no instructions of how to explain the words or the understanding behind them. This plays out in general life also, all of which aids the word magic and spell casting efforts of the dark magicians. To find our true selves, does not and never required religion at all. It didn't require Jesus, Allah, Buddha or Krishna either, all that was required was to go within. This is the essence of spirituality, as the Christ, the God, the Source and everything else was within us. Spirituality is the complete opposite of religion, where everything is inside of you and religion everything is external of you. With everything external of you, you are ultimately searching for something that does not exist. Why? Because everything is inside of you. Religion is a program for child level people or beings, as they fail to get a grasp on themselves and seek out others for their remedies. This planet is at child level in terms of the Cosmos, we have not evolved enough or understood enough about life, our solar system, our galaxy, our Universe and our Source to become an advanced species and planet. Spirituality is a singular pursuit of your own soul development. It does not require gatherings, congregations, churches or retreats. It can be practiced anywhere you choose and it can never be done for you by another person, ever. It all comes down to, have you become or going towards an adult level being? Whereby you discard the savior program, that god will look after you program, that god protects you program, as in overview that is no different from a parent or guardian. It is your time to look after, protect and save yourself and you must be steadfast in that inner belief. Many will attempt to steer you astray, as the dark forces and their influencers will do everything to pull you back into the child level program. Why would they do that? Because they wish to harvest your energy. Those on the spiritual path know and understand this and will protect their energy, thoughts and well-being themselves. The dark forces need you to rely on them for your well-being. So how did it come to the current mess, well Lucifer started it around 22500BC, bringing in a program of control. With him and other extra terrestrial beings presenting themselves as god and or the Lord. Notice the lord in the bible is always written in all capitals, which means the lord is dead. The common sense question then is, why are we still taking orders, vows, rituals and commandments from a dead person? But in 324AD in came the Rome cult and Constantine, who declared that Jesus was the only son of god and was the Christ. All other texts not connected to that were removed and the fake religion of Christianity was manufactured, not born. So the basic question is, how can Jesus be a Christian before it was invented?

These facts and many other things and contradictions, should make the average person look much deeper into the narrative, but this is not the case. The only reference to Jesus being a flesh and blood being is in the Gospel of Thomas, written in 100AD. It has no mention of Jesus being the son of god or of his virgin birth. The story of Jesus it was said, was of a man and a teacher who transformed through spirituality into a living Christ. The Christ is a title, stating he has embodied the cosmic force of the Christ within himself. This is the Christos energy we spoke of in Cosmic Genetics. It is a title symbolizing an individual has become in tune with the Cosmos, embraced and integrated it within, all of which symbolizes he developed the soul via spirituality. This is available to all beings, none of whom are any more important than the other. So the Christ represents the innermost being and the divine spark that is within us all. That force is connected to the highest dimension of reality, the absolute. This Christ consciousness that connects us to that inner space, because the ego cannot experience the absolute, only the inner Christ can. The Christ is the mediator, the bridge between the absolute and the manifested Universe. The Christ is beyond any personality or individuality, in terms of the all. The Christ only appears in this physical reality, when it is expressed through any human being who is prepared to receive it. The process of receiving the Christ consciousness is said to be not easy at all. But that is only because you forgot your own personal responsibility in developing the self, choosing to rely on non-existent support and savior programs.

Remember the message of the Gnostics, is that we are all born with the divine light within us. The key is seeking that divine light and then expanding it, is a duty for us all. According to the Gnostics also it was said, the only way we find god is to look within ourselves. Our path is to find that christic love within us, once we get out of our own way. Our own way is the ego, which cannot experience the jewels of the crown that awaits us all. Christ is not a human being or divine individual, it is a title given to all self realized masters. Hence the term self-mastery. The sun illuminates both coal and diamonds, but only the diamond shines its light back. But the carbon in the coal has the potential to become a diamond, all it requires is the conversion under high pressure. This describes spirituality in and of itself, you can be coal or you can be the diamond. You can be unmastered and seek outside of yourself or become self-mastered and operate from within. Jesus the savior is not spirituality, just a child level program designed to not elevate ourselves. Knowing the Christ consciousness is not enough, one has to embody it to become it. We have to reach for the heavens in consciousness and the hand of Source then touches you. Hence the term a hand up, not a hand out. Just like the URs warned in the Santies and Vedas, they will help those that are on their way towards the Golden Path, if not, they will not help you. The self centered people will react to that statement, because they are too lazy to do it for themselves. The path to truth rests within us, not lies within us, for those who do not embrace the truth, will perpetually lie in wait. The repeated life cycles of lying in wait, waiting for the savior, waiting for a god or deity to rescue you, wears heavy upon the spirit within the heart. I guess it is time you all followed your heart.
