Message to all about our Spreaker site.

Following several of you questioning that the download button has gone missing since Spreaker's latest site revamp, which generally means taking things away, here is their response. Thank you for reaching out about the download option no longer being available. This is how the website is now intended to be displayed. With our mobile Spreaker app you have the ability to download it directly to your mobile device. So, it is forcing you to have their app and only use your phone. Also, most podcasts are available on other distribution platforms such as Apple, Spotify, iHeartRadio and more where they are able to be downloaded. Which means Spreaker is now a subsidiary of those tech giants, next stop will be they will be bought out. With Spreaker, you have the option to add the episode to your queue to listen continuously, as well as have an array of podcasts from different hosts ready when you are for listening. We really appreciate and welcome your feedback and hope these changes we are making help with your continued support of your favorite hosts as well as your experience on the platform. The alternative to that nonsense is simple, go to our own website THI-show.com and you can download all the episodes from there. Spreaker have done us a favor, as now we will get more traffic to our website and not theirs. Another thing about Spreaker is now there are categories of shows and it will make it easier to find all the episodes. All shows are now in the year category from 2016 shows though to 2024 shows, plus a Blueprint show category. The expose series category, FHSTOS Plus category, FHSTOS Parts 1-9, both the originals, although strangely part 1 is missing and the re-runs which was the same as the originals with some extra pieces in them.

NEWS:

Here is another blatant example of skullduggery in favor of and on behalf of, Israel. In March the Washington Post and Wall Street Journal reported that the Biden administration has worked to hide weapons transfers for use in Gaza, by splitting them up into over 100 separate transactions falling below a minimum threshold for reporting to Congress. The exposure of the Biden administration's surreptitious arms transfers to Israel makes clear that, it is a key participant in the ongoing genocide of the Palestinian people carried out by Israel, that has already killed more than 35,000 people. To date, the Biden administration has only made public two sales of weapons to Israel since the start of the genocide: a $106 million shipment of tank ammunition and $147.5 million worth of components for artillery shells. However, this was accompanied by over 100 smaller packages of weapons, which fall below the minimum threshold required for congressional reporting. The secret weapons shipments include thousands of precision-guided munitions, small-diameter bombs, bunker busters, small arms, and other lethal aid. In its article, the Wall Street Journal notes, the U.S.-supplied arms since the beginning of the Gaza war include at least 23,000 precision-guided weapons, including Hellfire air-to-ground missiles, drones and Joint Direct Attack Munition kits, which turn unguided bombs into smart bombs, along with other similar weapons. In defense of the Biden administration's actions, State Department spokesman Matt Miller said, the administration followed the procedures, Congress itself has specified to keep members well-informed and regularly briefs members even when formal notification is not a legal requirement. This statement is effectively an admission that the Biden administration explicitly structured its arms transfers to Israel, to get around the very congressional oversight measures he described. Critically, when asked to state the total value of weapons transferred by the United States to Israel since October 7, Miller refused to answer. In other words, the actual level of involvement of the United States in the Gaza genocide is a secret from the American population. The United States provides more than $3.3 billion in military funding to Israel every year, more than any other recipient of US foreign aid. The Biden administration has called on Congress to provide an additional $17.6 billion in standalone military aid. Meanwhile following a visit to Gaza earlier this week, the World Health Organization (WHO) found, severe levels of malnutrition, children dying of starvation, serious shortages of fuel, food and medical supplies, hospital buildings destroyed. Kamal Adwan Hospital is the only pediatric hospital in the north of Gaza and is overwhelmed with patients. The lack of food resulted in the deaths of 10 children. The lack of electricity poses a serious threat to patient care, especially in critical areas like the intensive care unit and the neonatal unit. This is completely unacceptable, the US/Israeli war machine just rolls on it seems. But where is accountability from the rest of the world? How can you have two countries essentially holding the world hostage and not think something is seriously amiss here. Where is the Hague, the UN or any other official body? In the absence of accountability, we the people should demand an end to this warmongering.

The fear factory known as the Jewish media, went another step further this week of trying to shut down the narrative against them. Using their draconian based measures to try to stem the tide, one suspects it will lead to greater numbers of people going against them. The Israeli authorities raided a Jerusalem hotel room used by Al Jazeera as its office, after the government decided to shut down the Qatari-owned TV station's local operations on May 5, an Israeli official and an Al Jazeera source told Reuters. Video circulated online showed plainclothes officers dismantling camera equipment in a hotel room, which the Al Jazeera source said was in East Jerusalem. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Cabinet shut down the network for as long as the war in Gaza continues, saying it threatened national security. The National Security card used again, almost as prevalent as the antisemitic card. Al Jazeera said the move was a criminal action and the accusation that the network threatened Israeli security, was a dangerous and ridiculous lie that put its journalists at risk. It reserved the right to pursue every legal step. Child level behaviors again, just like a playground bully. What this proves is, they are lying and losing the war for the minds.

This is a part of a document from the United States Department of State highlighting issues not covered by the MSM in Ukraine. The 2023 Country Reports On Human Rights Practices: Ukraine. It revealed these facts in horrifying detail, it said: There are significant human rights issues involving Ukrainian government officials, which included credible reports of: enforced disappearance; torture and cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment. Harsh and life-threatening prison conditions; arbitrary arrest or detention; serious problems with the independence of the judiciary; restrictions on freedom of expression, including for members of the media. Including violence or threats of violence against journalists, unjustified arrests or prosecutions of journalists, and censorship; serious restrictions on internet freedom; substantial interference with the freedoms of peaceful assembly and association; restrictions on freedom of movement. Serious government corruption; extensive gender-based violence; systematic restrictions on workers' freedom of association; and the existence of the worst forms of child labor. Some of these human rights issues stemmed from martial law, which continued to curtail democratic freedoms, including freedom of movement, freedom of the press, freedom of peaceful assembly and legal protections. The government often did not take adequate steps to identify and punish officials who may have committed abuses. So why have the State Department not stepped in and curtailed the American taxpayers spending for Ukraine? Why hasn't the Justice Department not done the same? Why hasn't the MSM covered this?

All valid questions, yet never seems to see the light of day. What this document confirms is what we warned of 3 years ago as to why Russia actually went into Ukraine in the first place, to stop the genocide of the Russian and Ukrainian people. The Ukrainians murdered 8M of their own in 2014. I think it is time for those in all government departments to come together and reveal the truth to everyone, before more people are genocided.

Is this the economies slowing down or are people turning against the all spying, all eavesdropping smartphones? Sales of iPhones have fallen in almost every market across the globe, according to the latest results from Apple. The technology giant said overall demand for its smartphones dropped by more than 10% in the first three months of this year, with sales falling in every geographic region except for Europe. Apple said that overall, revenues across the company declined by 4% to $90.8bn, which was the biggest drop for more than a year. For the iPhone, sales in the critical greater China market dropped by 8%. I guess time will tell, but remember these phones are important for their AI based world.

More trouble in Ireland and yet more Fascist policies imposed by the fake authorities there. One of Ireland's top universities has fined its students' union €214,000 (£183,000) over holding protests on campus, including pro-Palestinian demonstrations. Trinity College Dublin (TCD) cited a loss of income because of recent blockades of the Book of Kells tourist attraction. Students have demonstrated against the university's response to the war in Gaza, as well as proposed course fee hikes and increased accommodation costs. SU President László Molnárfi told RTÉ news students and staff stand united against management's suppression of the student voice that has protested for Palestine, for graduate worker rights and against fees and rising rents. Ireland like America it seems is run by the Jewish junta imposing shekel fines and draconian laws against any form of criticism against them.

The great financial black hole that is the United States but impacts America and Americans. 8 years ago we warned generals, Trump, the State department and Agencies of the impending doom for America, none listened. We warned it was being asset stripped and the Fed was on a policy of turning America and incidentally Europe into third world country status, again it was ignored. Well this report kind of sums it all up and now crisis management is urgently needed, before it all collapses. During the initial half of fiscal year 2024, which is September to March, the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) reported that the interest payments on the federal debt surpassed the expenditure on defense. This reflects the accumulation of government spending alongside persistent high interest rates. The net interest on the U.S. government's public debt amounted to an estimated $440 billion from October to March in fiscal year 2024. This is compared to $308 billion during the same period in fiscal year 2023, marking a 43% increase according to the CBO. The great cost of the failed Covid program is now being realized. $132B extra in interest payments in six months, why? Shekel people at the Fed needing more money to line their pockets and fund anti-human programs as well. Remember the recent piece of, less people equals less productivity, equals less shekels. So, to counteract that they sent interest rates soaring, you will also notice they will never soar downwards. In contrast, spending on the U.S. military only saw an 8% increase during that timeframe, rising from $386 billion to $412 billion. Which works out based upon their figures, the war machine expenditure is around 25% of the total budget. When actually the total military spending is around $1T a year. Does anyone ask why we need to spend nearly $1T of the public's money on war? Would the public if asked, agree to spend that amount? No, so why are politicians who are supposed to be representing them, signing for it? In the initial half of fiscal year 2024, total expenditure rose to approximately $3.25 trillion compared to $3.15 trillion the previous year, representing a 6% increase as reported by the CBO. Despite a 7% revenue growth equating to $140 billion, the deficit stood at $1.1 trillion, a mere $37 billion lower than the corresponding period in the prior year. Overspending by $1T a year on mainly war, spying, subversion programs and pro pagan da. Social Security maintained its position as the largest expenditure category, climbing from $652 billion in the first half of fiscal year 2023 to $711 billion in the current year, marking a roughly 9% increase. Social Security is not an expenditure as they put it, they are payments owed back to the public from their self-paid private account, which was held by the government, or more pertinently, agents of the government. Notably, the outlays for Medicare and Medicaid were both surpassed by interest payments, with expenditures amounting to $389 billion and $304 billion, respectively, according to the CBO. The escalation in interest payments is primarily a consequence of rising interest rates, spurred by increases in the federal funds rate, which now stands at a range between 5.25% and 5.50%, the highest level seen in 23 years. This adjustment by the Federal Reserve aims to counteract high inflation levels, which peaked at 9.1% in June 2022 and have since remained elevated, with a 3.2% increase noted in February, significantly surpassing the Fed's 2% target. There is no inflation per se, inflation rate increases are just hidden tax rises upon the people, leading to asset stripping as more and more default. As of Friday, the national debt has reached $34.6 trillion, according to the Treasury Department. In February, the federal government spent $567 billion while only collecting $271 billion, indicating that expenditures exceeded revenue by more than double. There is a solution to all of this nonsense as we have stated in the Blueprint, the simple answer is, America divests itself from the United States and starts its own national bank and currency. The Federal Reserve is operating without a license and has done since 2011, why are the Legislators not acting upon that?

Having mentioned Social Security which many people are led to believe is a benefit, when it is actually an entitlement based upon what you have paid in, is also in deep trouble, due to governments using it as their own private funding account. Many Americans aren't saving enough for retirement and they're relying on Social Security benefits to get by in retirement. But that may not be a sound strategy. Social Security is broke beyond belief, Laurence Kotlikoff told The Brink, Boston University's research news website. Its unfunded liability is $65.9 trillion, twice the size of official government debt. So, despite the American population increasing by 200M since the beginning of SS, the account holders have run up a debt of $66T. That $66T debt put into perspective is higher than the GDP of 192 countries. Where is the accountability for the mismanagement of our funds? The retirement planning evangelist and professor of economics at Boston University says, that paying for all projected benefits through time, requires an immediate and permanent hike in the employer-employee FICA tax from 12.4% to 17%. So, yet again the people have to bail out their mismanagement of our funds, is what that is stating. The Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) tax is a combined employer-employee federal payroll tax. Without it, Social Security payments are on track to be reduced as soon as 2034. Here is a question that no one asks, when you send your Social Security salary deductions each month, why doesn't the receiver (the Fed) pay taxes on that income? Yet when you receive your Social Security you do? Why has the SS been classed as income, when it is just returning your money you previously paid into an account? It is double dipping on steroids.

Further evidence of the control the Jewish junta asserts over America and its lasting implications. This is an admittance that the Jewish mafia media have lost the propaganda war and so they spit their dummies out and use fake laws. This is a further erosion of freedom of speech and should be railed against by every American. Also every weak politician who voted against their own people should be fired for going against the Constitution. This article also confirms and supports our FHSTOS book about the influence and interference of AIPAC. On Wednesday May 1st, Beltane Day, which is a ritual sacrifice day, they sacrificed the Constitution. The House overwhelmingly passed the Antisemitism Awareness Act by a 320-91 vote, with only 21 Republicans joined by 70 Democrats against it. Expanding the scope of what is legally considered antisemitism, this is another bipartisan uniparty trap to ensnare the thousands of protesters exercising their free speech against the apartheid Israel's extermination of Palestinians, in effect criminalizing those that are critical of the genocide. This is piece of legislation is a betrayal of our First Amendment rights and a betrayal of the American people, and a testimonial how AIPAC Israel through bribery and blackmail have turned our constitutional republic into a totalitarian technocratic police state. Foreign national influence is outlawed in the United States except with one exception, the American Israel Political Action Committee (AIPAC) that allows Zionist Israel money and bribery control to essentially own the treasonous US Congress. Through intelligence agencies Mossad, CIA and MI6 in addition to AIPAC, US politicians are systemically coerced, bribed and blackmailed into unconditional support for Israel. Hence our full disclosure for full disclaimer act proposed in the Blueprint. As Tucker Carlson admitted recently to Joe Rogan, politicians are afraid to not vote in line with these intimidation tactics imposed by foreign agent operatives, that threaten kiddie porn on their computers or truth exposing pedo-blackmail activity, to ensure that Zionist Israel always gets what it wants with total impunity. With this kind of captured control over politicians, and now with this latest antisemitism law, dare criticize Israel or Zionism or Jewish power, it can now get us locked up under antisemitic hate speech. Zionist bloodline moneychangers like the Rothschilds and Rockefellers would not want it any other way. More on that later.

Following the US refusing to send more missiles to Israel, out came just what the power structure of Israel really thinks and also just how little they think of the lives of others. A member of the Israel's parliament threatened on Thursday to use imprecise missiles in the war on the Gaza Strip, in response to a US pause on arms transfer to Tel Aviv. The US is threatening not to give us precise missiles. Oh, yeah? Well, I got news for the US. We have imprecise missiles, and we have the right to defend ourselves, Tally Gotlive, a member of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Likud Party, told Israeli Channel 7. So, maybe instead of using a precise missile and take down a specific room or a specific building, I'll use my imprecise missiles and I'll just destroy ten buildings. That's what I'll do. Utterly pathetic child level response that is not only embarrassing, but coldly chilling and devoid of any humanity. It is 7 months now of allegedly defending itself against a much weaker opposition. After 1-2 weeks after October, it was clear it was never about defense and a full on offensive and genocide program. As for the US, this is how these people think and if you have any shred of humanity or credibility you would no longer support this anti-human junta in any way shape or form. I would also go one step further and threaten war with Israel until they backed down. The US we are told are the world's military police, when in reality they are the puppets for the Israeli thugs and parasites.

MEDICAL SECTION:

As the world begins to turn against the medical establishment and in particular the Covid vaccine manufacturers, a quiet announcement was made last week by Astra Zeneca. Astra Zeneca are the company that Donald Trump the adverse vaccine president, ably supported by the adverse vaccine Trustee Kimberley Goguen, gave $10B in funding to. But AstraZeneca on Tuesday announced that it has started the global withdrawal of its Covid-19 vaccine, days after the UK pharmaceutical company admitted that its vaccine has the potential to cause a rare side effect called Thrombosis with Thrombocytopenia Syndrome (TTS). The company said the withdrawal was due to a surplus of available updated vaccines since the pandemic. According to media reports, the Anglo-Swedish drugmaker had previously admitted in court documents, that the vaccine causes side effects such as blood clots and low blood platelet counts. The company also said its decision to remove the vaccine Vaxzevria's marketing authorizations within Europe, noting that this oversupply has resulted in a decrease in demand for Vaxzevria, which is no longer being produced or distributed. As multiple, variant Covid-19 vaccines have since been developed there is a surplus of available updated vaccines, the company said. There is a surplus because no one wants them and too many have unduly suffered because of them. AstraZeneca which collaborated with the University of Oxford to create the vaccine, is currently dealing with a lawsuit that claims their vaccine has caused deaths and severe harm to those who received it. The University of Oxford are just a front, the lawsuit should go after the intelligence agency running that establishment. The UK-based pharma company also collaborated with the Serum Institute of India (SII), the largest vaccine producer globally, to provide the vaccine (Covishield) to the Indian government. AstraZeneca's application to withdraw the vaccine was submitted on March 5 and became effective on May 7. 3 years of tyranny and they just think they can slide away like a snake? Paying back in terms of shekels is pointless as there is not enough funds to fund it, so paying it forward is the answer.

So, how can that be achieved? Our very own Blueprint solution. Here is a reminder:

1. Full Disclosure of the Covid scam and the experimental injections responsible for injury and death is required.
2. The only lawsuits should be against people whose children have been harmed, with no excessive payouts because the children suffered due to their parents' poor decisions.
3. The solution for how to deal with all pharmaceutical companies is not to fine them, but to have an independent assessment done by some of the doctors who spoke out against the medical system at the beginning of this scam, plus some commonsense people with some pharmaceutical background.
4. List all drugs and their side effects, and if any are found to have too many side effects or excessive side effects, those drugs are to be automatically banned, with no appeals.
5. All drugs found safe or safe enough, are to have a maximum profit margin of 10% across the board. This then will substantially reduce the costs to the public and will lower insurance premiums.
6. All pharmaceutical records are to be made public and all shareholders are to be made public, with no exceptions.
7. Break up pharmaceutical companies and turn them into cooperative businesses.
8. All research drugs are to be assessed and must be of benefit to the people.
9. All bio-warfare drugs, poisons and harmful vaccines are to be destroyed.

10. In medical companies, there are to be no CEO's, middle management or brokers, no ownership and only guardianship to be shared among all staff.
11. Remove all senior members in Government who advocated or mandated COVID measures.
12. Review and restructure the medical boards and licensing regulations, as required.
13. Remove all leading medical professionals who advocated or pushed these experimental injections.
14. Dissolve the CDC and other agencies and corporations purporting to be government departments altogether and give all funds over to the Restoration Plan which The Peoples Club (TPC) is designated for.
15. Remove the CEO's of all hospitals and clinics involved in the COVID fraud.
16. Dissolve the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and give all funds over to the Restoration Plan.
17. Require all Governments to create a unilateral ban of all bio-warfare research, testing and use.
18. The following organizations and people are to be banned for their involvement or promoting this agenda: Top brass Military, FDA, Facebook/Meta, Twitter, You Tube, Google, Microsoft, and all other platforms associated with banning people who told the truth; CEO's of all hospitals, clinics, and nursing homes; News media personalities and editors of all newspapers; and all School boards.
19. Restore every person who was blocked and kept from working their jobs and repay what they are owed from the salaries and bank accounts of all of the above-mentioned perpetrators of this fraud.
20. Restore every business that went bankrupt due to lockdowns, which will be paid for via salaries and bank accounts of the above-mentioned perpetrators of this fraud.
21. Set up a disciplinary committee with medical professionals and select alternative media to investigate all research centers, and hand over all documentation pertaining to what is being done in these centers to another committee to evaluate whether this research is beneficial or not.
22. Temporarily close down all medical research centers including those of the Military, Governmental and Non-Governmental Agencies.
23. Re-purpose several US Military bases into holding centers to evaluate all the above-mentioned persons, and to assess prison time and potential for rehabilitation via teaching. Decide whether they should be used for community purposes on a low wage. This plan, with some adjustments and input from other adult-based and future-thinking people, will also remove psychopaths and greed-based people, and remove the numerous programs and agendas from being used against we the people.

24. All of this would be entirely paid for out of the salaries and bank accounts of the perpetrators of COVID harm and fraud, reducing those accounts down to a maximum of $1 million.

SOCIETY SECTION:

This piece highlights the lack of compassion for others and inability to look at the plight of others. A 56-year-old woman who was due to be evicted on 1 May, has been told she should be able to function reasonably well if she ends up on the streets. Thurrock Council in the UK wrote to Heidi Dodson rejecting her application for priority housing, following an eviction notice from her landlord. The council acknowledges Ms. Dodson is eligible for help, but maintained she would be able to cope if she becomes homeless and is not a priority need. Are you kidding me? What type of non-human response is that? This is another gambit in the migrant crisis, designed to push out locals in favor of migrants. The council told the BBC it will review letters sent to local residents in light of the incident. Too late now, the fact the letter came out at all goes against what Social Services should be all about. Ms. Dodson's local housing department suggested that even if being homeless led to her having to sleep rough occasionally or in the longer term, she would not be more vulnerable than another ordinary person in the same situation. The letter adds: You are a person that I am satisfied can cope and function reasonably well with day to day living and this would, I believe, still be the case if you were to become homeless or to remain homeless. That is just extraordinarily heartless and beggars belief that people can even think that way, never mind write it. Have we become so programmed that people can't even think about what they are saying? What are the implications? Just what are we actually saving here? Because the levels of zero compassion is off the charts.

This next piece is why this world is filled by lunatic asylum people, you cannot get anymore stupid than this, outside of religion. The article is titled: What is a woman? Or rather, what defines someone as a woman? If you didn't grasp the lunatic asylum piece a few months ago, then this piece and those questions should re-affirm the levels of unsanity amongst our populace. What it also confirms is, the levels of stupidity amongst so-called professionals and experts, who are riddled with pieces of paper and all kinds of acronyms that carry little to no value. In fact they are all another acronym – s-h-i-t, because if they had any value or showed any signs of intelligent life, then comments like what is a woman, would not exist. Ask 100 women, and you might get 100 different answers, excuse me? Not all are as retarded as these experts. This is because there are a variety of contexts in which you could define a woman, and within each of these contexts, there will still not be one straight answer. Socially or biologically, there is still so much variation. That only applies if you think like a woke retard. This is the problem Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson ran into in her Supreme Court Confirmation hearing this past Tuesday. Senator Marsha Blackburn asked her to define the word woman. Jackson's response was rather controversial and has sparked a debate on how to define a woman. Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson's Supreme Court confirmation hearing Tuesday was a long, grueling affair. It lasted more than 13 hours and was full of extremely tough and at times harsh questions. One of the toughest, however, was when Senator Marsha Blackburn asked the judge to define the word woman. Not in this context, I'm not a biologist, Judge Jackson responded. So, we have a Senator supposedly representing the people of her State who is asking someone else to define what a woman is, and one of the top nine judges of the country who cannot give a straight answer? And you wonder why this country is in a mess? 13 hours to define a question that even kindergarten children would know the answer to. Why would you have to be a biologist to answer a standard, albeit stupid question? In my work as a judge, what I do is I address disputes. If there's a dispute about a definition, people make arguments, and I look at the law, and I decide. Blackburn was not at all impressed with the answer. She chastised Jackson immediately. The fact that you can't give me a straight answer about something as fundamental as what a woman is, underscores the dangers of the kind of progressive education that we are hearing about. The Grand Debate: What Defines A Woman? You may be wondering why Jackson's answer and why learning how a potential supreme court judge defines a woman is so important. It is because, as a Supreme Court Judge, Jackson will most definitely preside over cases involving trans rights and gender politics. Gender politics in the United States of America is a hot topic currently. No, it is not a hot topic, it is a program and an agenda, big difference. This is especially so with several trans rights issues currently in debate. Senators on both sides have since used Jackson's response to talk about their own issues with the debate. You thought it might not get anymore stupid? You would be wrong. Scientists can't define woman either: Many scientists, biologists and gender law scholars have commended Jackson for her response. They agree that her response might be slightly misleading, but still it wasn't a bad one. This is because while they agree that science and biology could help create a definition for the word, it can't create a conclusive answer, either. There are billions of women on the planet. Each woman is unique and different, both in a social context and a biological one. Most scientists agree that there is too much variation to be able to clearly, scientifically, define what is a woman. Too much variation? Are you kidding me? Since time memorial they have given us binary choices and now when an agenda is being run, lets scrap that and talk shit and tell them there are 73 genders now. No! there are 73 lunatic asylum words, fresh from the psychopathy ward. How about instead of debating their labels, we help them instead? Now there is a novel idea. Trust the science? Sooner set fire to my own testicles with woke, political non correctness statements like that. I wonder what would be said, if you state can you define a scientist? By my definition and the EBE from the Aztec crash, a scientist is someone who studies for decades and becomes proficient in looping patterns and repeating the same narrative, whilst missing the observational skills to see what is in front of them. I am not sure they like that analogy, but too often it is true. You can get a 5 year old to state what is a woman or not, yet supposed adults waste huge amounts of time, because of a few people who are confused as to their gender alignment. It is fairly simple and beyond stupid at this point, a man has a penis and a woman has a vagina, all else is going against Source. Which is their free will choice I might add, but let's not confuse the rest of the world with ridiculous circular arguments, that ultimately lead nowhere.

In another bizarre word salad stupidity, after some midwives were instructed to say chest instead of breast feeding. Don't ya find those types of word salad people get on yer tits? It is all a further denigration of women to me.

The slow creep of AI continues to seep into our everyday lives, with the majority of people unaware of its Orwellian nature. It's a case of another day, another example of AI replacing human jobs. Rather than directly causing layoffs, tech giant IBM has confirmed it expects to pause and slow hiring for roles, that it believes could be replaced with artificial intelligence at some point in the future. Speaking to Bloomberg, IBM CEO Arvind Krishna, yet another Indian in a top position, we have referenced that 4 times now in the past month, said that hiring in non-customer-facing roles, such as human resources, will be suspended or slowed as AI could automate many tasks performed by these hires. Human resources or humans as a resource until machines replace them? Around 26,000 people within IBM currently fill the roles Krishna is referencing. He envisions about 30% being replaced by AI and automation over a five-year period. That equates to around 7,800 jobs. IBM emphasized that no people currently working in these positions will be fired to make way for AI. However, it did say that any roles vacated by attrition won't be filled. No what they will do is offer severance packages on the sly, to make it look like the people gave away their jobs. Like virtually all tech giants, IBM announced job cuts earlier this year in response to the economic downturn and post-pandemic-boom blues. It will be laying off around 5,000 workers in total. Any company that publicly announces it is replacing humans with AI is going to find little goodwill from the public - a recent survey found that most people don't want a company AI to do the hiring, firing or promoting. Whilst two-thirds of Americans would not even want to work for an employer that uses an AI recruiter. The same report found that while most people believe AI will have a major impact on workers over the next two decades, just 28% think it will affect them personally. That may be wishful thinking; Bluefocus Intelligent Communications Group Co, one of China's largest media and public relations firms, said it was planning to replace its external copywriters and graphic designers with generative AI models. Closer to home, Dropbox recently admitted that the recent advancement of AI was mostly to blame for the company's decision to lay off around 500 people. It's the clown final play at gaining control via technology, it is up to the people to resist and stop it. Their final goal is to have this planet filled with clones, bots and synths and they are planning using the upload consciousness method into mechanical bodies, just to prolong life and stay in control.

EXPOSE:

This is a fairly long expose and will be done in two parts.

Much has been written about America and the war in Vietnam, but this goes deeper into the narrative on the technology and the psychological aspect. This is a short story written by Col. Fletcher Prouty describing true events that occurred in Vietnam during the war that sound like something out of a sci-fi dystopic movie. This is extremely useful for anyone who wishes to understand the techniques that are presently being waged against the American people and the west more broadly. It goes some way to proving what I have said all along on THI, technology is way older and more advanced than you thought. Yet again where there is skullduggery the CIA are involved, with their special brand of psychopathy, medical experiments and inhuman engagements. This story serves as an addendum to a paper titled: How the CIA and US Special Forces manufactured a migrant crisis and Orwellian Police State in Vietnam, before going to the Americas, all of which puts into perspective today, of the current manufactured migrant issues. Before going to the Americas, is Operation Condor which we have covered in FHSTOS. It also discusses in detail something you think of as being more modern day, but has its roots from 60 years back, or more. That discussion is the origin of the smart city prisons that are being built throughout the world today. A smart city is a prison for people who blindly follow, too lazy to do anything and too stupid to think. Just because there are no bars, does not mean it is not a prison. The greatest prison escape ever is, your own mind.

Anyone who doubts that this nation building, and police activity has not become real and very effective right here in the United States, need only visit the area around Fort Bragg to find one of these early paramilitary CIA-oriented specialist General Tolson, sending his American soldiers out into the countryside with nation-building programs for the citizens of the United States. If such tactics continue, it is possible that an enlargement of such a program could lead to a pacification program of areas of the United States, such as the CIA and the US Army have carried out in Indochina. That was said by Col.

Fletcher Prouty in the book The Secret Team in 1972. Prouty served as a liaison officer between the Pentagon and the CIA between 1955 and 1963. But who were these soldiers being sent out into the countryside? Why were they carrying out subversive programs on the people? Pacification is the action of bringing peace to a place or ending war in a place, often using military force. Bringing peace by force? Has all the hallmarks of a program to me. Another book by Col. Fletcher Prouty called The CIA, Vietnam and the plot to assassinate John F. Kennedy stated: In an effort to account for the success of its work with these 'refugees,' the SMM [Saigon Military Mission] declared its tactics to include psychological warfare. Today, we would more accurately call it terrorism. Is it any wonder that the program labeled Communist-inspired insurgency that emerged in the south, arose because this horde of displaced people was forced to fight for food, shelter, and the necessities of life? This is the way that the CIA and its sponsors made war in Vietnam. By late 1960 our own forces had created the concept of counterinsurgency. Communist as known back then, better known as Zionism now. Under Phoenix, or Phung Hoang, as it was called by the Vietnamese, due process was totally nonexistent. South Vietnamese civilians whose names appeared on blacklists could be kidnapped, tortured, detained for two years without trial, or even murdered, simply on the word of an anonymous informer. In America it is now called the Baker Act.

At its height Phoenix managers-imposed quotas of eighteen hundred neutralizations per month on the people running the program in the field, opening up the program to abuses by corrupt security officers, policemen, politicians and racketeers, all of whom extorted innocent civilians as well as VCI [Viet Cong Infrastructure]. 1800 people per month? Just deleted like a trash can. Who are these people? The greater question again is, what are they? By scrutinizing the Phoenix program as a symbol of the dark side of the human psyche, it will aid to articulate the subtle ways in which the Vietnam War changed how Americans think about themselves. This is about terror and its role in political warfare. How, as successive American governments sink deeper and deeper into the vortex of covert operations, ostensibly to combat terrorism and Communist insurgencies. But in reality land, the oppressors are the terrorists and the "Communists." With this concept the American people gradually lose touch with the democratic ideas that once defined their national self-concept. This then asks the question what happens when Phoenix comes home to roost? But we are American's the people will say, that will never happen to us, well you all said that after the Third Reich and these same warmongering people took care of that with Operation Paperclip. These "smart city" concentration camps were first implemented in Vietnam under Lansdale's Civic Action program and were tasked to the US Special Forces/Green Berets, to which Lansdale had revived and reformed for these very purposes under the Phoenix Program in Vietnam, and later in central and south America under Operation Condor. Douglas Valentine of The Phoenix Program. Valentine and the Phoenix program has links to my radio show host role at Cosmic Voice. He was a friend of Drake's and was hiding out somewhere in Thailand and was organizing some sort of a coup in America. Again it was later deduced that this was another Langley operation between the varying factions of the CIA. This confirmed Drake's involvement with not only the CIA, but Project Phoenix as well. Hence his constant references in the show about torturing people and his revealing to me he had been part of some really bad things as a soldier. So to be clear again, building a modern smart city is building an open prison for the people.

The Magic Box with the Red Eye:

This is the story of a people who endured war for thirty years, who were driven from farm and home, and who had no way to get food, water, and the other necessities of life other than banditry. Just like the same plight was pushed upon the Russian and Slavic peoples earlier in the last century, same program ran by the same people is why. As veteran bandits they became good fighters, so good that we credited their success to Ho Chi Minh, to General Giap, to Mao Tse-tung, to the Soviets, and, at times, to our own doves. They fought to earth, to live. Some called them the Vietcong; in their own country they were known as the dangerous brothers rather than the enemy. They were terrorized refugees in their own homeland, the beggars, the people of a ravaged land. Does anyone ask at this point, as to why American sons and daughters had to fight people who are fighting for their own land and sustenance? All that money and cost of life, what was it all for? It was all for running psychological programs on the varying people for a future purpose. But what was that purpose? More on that in the Mystery section.

Glorified in the pages of National Geographic magazine as the home of the carefree, naked, little brown man, Vietnam has for centuries been considered one of Earth's garden spots, a place where man had only to exist to live comfortably. Deep in the forest on the mountains, the Rhade (Rah-Day) tribesmen have lived for hundreds of years. They grow crops, they raise chickens and pigs and they have been lumbermen. They lived easily with the French for generations and managed to coexist with the neighboring tribes, because they were strong. The Rhade are a closely knit, self-disciplined group. Therein lies the problem, as the Vietmanese like the Rus/Slav and Aryans before them, were all self-sufficient. But these harvesters cannot allow it, as they want to control everything. After the great defeat of the French at Dien Bien Phu by the Vietminh army under General Giap, the French lieutenant of police left the Rhade area, taking with him his family and his few belongings. In his place a Rhade corporal took over the police powers, and things continued about the same, except that European-style law and order ended. The village elders, or Huong-ca, resumed their political functions under their own traditional council. The search for food: Often this search becomes banditry, and banditry, that last refuge of the desperate and starving is a violent business. So violent that in this case it led to the uninitiated to believe that there was a wave of Communist-inspired subversive insurgency in the land, under the command of General Hunger. During the early, amateurish days of the ten-year Diem dynasty, in that newly defined piece of real estate that was called South Vietnam, there was considerable misinterpretation. Little did Ngo Dinh Diem, that foreign mandarin and erstwhile Father of His Country, realize that by issuing an edict removing French influence, he was bringing an end to law and order, such as it was. Nor did he realize that by promulgating a second edict banning the Chinese, he was causing the basic tribal economy, marketplace bartering and produce movement to vanish. The French did not return; neither did the Chinese. This is what the trade deals are all about, to hold leverage against other countries and people's. Don't follow our path, tyranny or control and we will cut off your supplies, leading to unrest amongst the people who turn on the leader and the cycle of decline continues. For a modern day example of this try Australia, tied into the 5 eyes axis for security, which is the US Military. But on the other side is China, who Australia relies heavily on for supplies. So whenever there is a conflict between the US and China, Australia is put in a poor place where neither decision works out well for them. This is why in our Blueprint, all trade deals need to be scrapped and written again so that the trade deals only involve goods, not political grandstanding, weaponry or war alliances.

But one day the old padre who was a French Catholic priest and likely a Jesuit. The Jesuits had been heavily involved in Vietnam for centuries before the Vietnam War then came back. Yet again the Cat-holic church is involved like underground spies, all waiting like vultures to pick at the carcasses. Then the few that are left they subvert into a fake off world-based religion, like messengers of the gods? No, more like warlords of the gods. This fragile gentleman [French priest] had new clothes and new shoes, and he rode into the village in a jeep. That reveals he was funded by the merchants of doom. The padre dismounted and spoke to his old friends. Then he introduced the young driver of the jeep, explaining that this young white man was American, not French, and that the other passenger was a Vietnamese from the faraway city of Saigon. The padre said the French no longer govern the country, but that a great man named Ngo Dinh Diem was the president of this new bit of land called 'South Vietnam' and that his palace was in Saigon.

Divide and conquer again, just like Korea, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Ireland and many others. All representing what took place in Egypt long in the past that birthed upper and lower Egypt, all of it versed in the divide and conquer manual these usurpers have repeated all too often. Yet the people never see beyond the illusion presented to them, that somehow North Korea is evil, but South Korea isn't. His story written by the conquerors, none of whom are good from our perspective. Often people don't relate because it is happening somewhere else, so they just ignore it. But here is a useful pondering based upon a scenario happening in America. One day the masked crusader going under the moniker of Joe Biden decides to create an emergency powers bill declaring all on the west side of the Mississippi are terrorists and an enemy of the east. A wall is built along the Mississippi to keep the barbarians of the west at bay. It then becomes a militarized zone and anyone caught crossing is arrested or shot. No travel was allowed between the two regions and connections to families and friends on opposing sides are permanently banned. How would you feel? Would it adversely affect you? Would it hamper your job or business? Which people in your circle would you be cut off from? Think about that for a second. Just how much upheaval would that cause? Would you lose access to children, grandchildren or other family members? How would you cope in that scenario? Many would go into utter meltdown, yet ignore the plight of many others who have lived through that very scenario. More people need to start contemplating of living life in other people's shoes, to then get a truer understanding of how life really is for everyone. One can be thankful we are not in that level of tyranny, yet one cannot continue to ignore the plight of others. A THI life lesson 101, think unto others as those you would expect to think unto you.

The padre avoided mention of Ho Chi Minh and the northern government. He knew it would be useless to try to explain that Ho Chi Minh's Nationalist government was not the government of all Indochina. It would be too complicated, it would not be believed, and the Rhade would not care much one way or the other anyhow. The Rhade had lived in their ancestral areas for centuries and cared little for the outside, whether it was represented by Japanese, French, American, Vietminh or Saigonese officials. The padre, the young American, and the Vietnamese official returned many times. After a while, the American was welcomed without the priest and often stayed for weeks. He was interested in animal husbandry and agriculture. He bought with him some poultry and a new breed of hog that he taught them to raise. The American became a familiar figure, and his hard work and gifts of chickens, pigs, candy and cigarettes were always welcome. Have you worked out yet what the American is or where you blinded by the nice demeanor and the bearer of gifts scenario? Then one day he came with the Magic Box. The Magic Box rested on the hood of the jeep while several young men dug a hole in front of the patriarch's hut. Now a tall, sturdy, upright pedestal stood in front of the chieftain's hut. To this, the American affixed a tin roof as shelter. Then he removed the shiny jet-black Magic Box from the jeep and nailed it firmly to the post, about four feet above the ground, just the right height for the Huong-ca and above the prying hands of the children. After the box was secured, the padre told the villagers all about the Magic Box and how it would work, about the wonders it would produce to save them from communism. He told them that this box was a most miraculous radio and that it would speak to their brothers in Saigon. It was, in their language, powerful medicine. The technology and savior object again, for their safety and security, works every time, sadly. Here comes the fear programming.... At the same time, he warned that only the village patriarch could touch the box. If anyone else did so, the kindly government in Saigon would be most angry and the village would be punished. The padre told the villagers that whenever they were attacked, the patriarch should push the big red button on the box, and that was all. At this point in their Village Defense Orientation Program, the Viet soldier and the American interrupted the padre and ordered him to repeat, that if the village was attacked by the Communist Vietcong from the forest, emphasizing the new mind me of the fake boogeyman called the Communist Vietcong, the patriarch was to push the button. To the Viet soldier and the American, the men in the forest were not starving and frightened refugees, they were the enemy. Because the elderly padre knew that these native people had never heard of the Vietcong, he explained that his friends called all bandits from the refugee camps in the forest Vietcong. That is the mind control program, the perpetual fear and boogeyman program.

On it went stating, the Vietcong were to be greatly feared because they were the puppets of the National Liberation Front, who were the puppets of Hanoi, who were the puppets of the Chinese, who were the puppets of the Soviets, ad infinitum. The padre explained that when the patriarch pushed that shiny red button on the Magic Box, the powerful gods of Saigon would unleash vengeful armies through the air, and the dreaded Vietcong would be blasted by bombs from airplanes and napalmed from helicopters. And the village would be liberated and pacified. He also told them that every village that had been selected by the Father of His Country in Saigon to receive the Magic Box, would forever thereafter be furnished food, medicine and special care. The Rhade would receive these benefits whether they wanted them or not. Just shameful behavior, as in overview they were not protecting them at all, but making them sitting ducks and compliant to a new ruler, the US military junta. For they knew only too well that the villages that had plenty of food and medicine and that were the special elect of Saigon, were always the first targets for the starving bandits. They knew enough to know that they would live in fear of the Magic Box and its munificence. Ever since the day when the padre had returned with the American, the village had received special medicine and food relief. The Extended Arms for Brotherhood program of the new president of Saigon was caring for these tribesmen. Shortly after the first time this extra food had been delivered, the village had been visited by some young men from the camps in the woods. They sat with the patriarch all day and quietly but firmly explained that they came from a refugee camp that was hidden in the hills and that was caring for thousands of homeless natives from the south (Cochin China), who had been driven from their homes by the Diem-backed police and hordes of northern (Tonkinese) invaders. These people had fled from their wasted homes. They had been enemies in every new region they came to, and now, terrorized and starving, sick and dying, they had had to turn to that last resort of mankind, banditry and pillage. These countless refugees, in their own homeland, had fled the careless deprivations and brutal massacres of the benevolent forces of Saigon. They wished to be peaceful, but they desperately needed food and medicine. They demanded that the village share some of its plentiful goods with them. This arrangement, although unappealing to the village, was accepted, and for a while it kept a fragile peace between the two worlds. However, the refugee numbers swelled and their demands became greater and greater. The fleeing refugee problem has it echoes carried through to today also, in Europe, Canada and N. America. Again designed to confuse, discombobulate the natives and eventually leading to anger and violence against the "refugees". They are not refugees at all, but political and strategic pawns placed in harm's way to fulfill an agenda that has repeated all too often. Stop attacking the refugees and go after the policy makers, who coincidentally are not your politicians. The policy makers are the Jewish junta, think tanks, top level military and agency people. They are the real problem, not the refugees. Be more careful and considerate in your thinking, as one day it may come to pass, that you become the refugee.

FHSTOS SECTION:

This article has all the hallmarks of our FHSTOS series and books. The narrative is very similar and is showing the collective consciousness effect of our book. A Thursday May 2nd Truthout article states: House lawmakers voted overwhelmingly Wednesday to approve legislation directing the U.S. Department of Education to consider a dubious definition of antisemitism, despite warnings from Jewish-led groups, that the measure speciously conflates legitimate criticism of the Israeli government with bigotry against Jewish people. Seems more Jewish are beginning to see through it as well. Uniparty Republicans and Democrats passing this new antisemitism bill destroying US Constitution's First Amendment that guarantees our citizens' free speech rights, confirms that US Congress panders and grovels in submission to their master Zionist Jewish State and its bloodline master founding owner, the Rothschild banking cartel. America's uniparty is owned and operated by foreign agent AIPAC Israel. Again, look at what inexhaustible lengths our Congress goes to, to protect the rights, security and safety of Jews, while Palestinian Arabs are brutally massacred daily and American citizens' disappearing constitutional rights, our safety and national security are blatantly trampled upon. Only the apparent chosen ones receive preferential legal protection under bipartisan US law, while all the rest of us members of the human race, to Israel and US Congress, are all Palestinians in the genocidal crosshairs of our common Zionist Darkside enemy. All very FHSTOS rhetoric that. My article on Global Research last week is titled In Defense of Genocide and War on Antisemitism, there go our Constitutional Liberties. I cite the increasing number anti-hate speech laws grossly conflating criticism of Israeli genocide with antisemitism, conveniently misused to falsely justify criminalizing and silencing our fundamental First Amendment rights of free speech, including the right to assemble for peaceful protest. On Saturday April 27th, Rep. Thomas Massie (R-KY) called out his colleagues over this very same issue: Some of my colleagues are introducing legislation to create federally sanctioned antisemitism monitors at colleges. I'll vote No. Policing speech, religion and assembly is not the role of the federal government. In fact, it's expressly prohibited by the U.S. Constitution.

It should be noted like we stated in FHSTOS, that colleges and universities are both ran by the CIA, so one has to question whether these protestors are actually paid actors? In a classic problem, reaction and solution program, have or birth a solution, create a problem, employ actors to create a reaction and voila, out comes the legislation. The other aspect to the reaction is, to datamine all of those who join the protest and then target them. In a related news story illustrating how the will of Zionist Israel controlling America through AIPAC bribery and Anti-Defamation League (ADL) as Israel's thuggish enforcer, the bought and sold US Congress completely abandoned the will of the American people demanding that the recently passed FISA law be stopped or amended. The ADL/Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations actively lobbied Congress, emphasizing the FISA renewal was necessary to keep Israel, Jews in the US and all Americans safe from terrorism. The need for spying without warrant on anti-Israel/pro-Palestinian protesters was used to sell the FISA law's passage as the biggest domestic surveillance legislation since the subversive Patriot Act. The alleged rise of antisemitism events in America hyped artificially by the mainstream media, also helped pass the law during the current wave of college campus pro-Palestine protests. Like I said, problem, reaction and solution. ADL CEO Jonathan Greenblatt is attempting to create a legal framework, whereby pro-Palestine protesters are charged with providing material support to the designated foreign terrorist organization Hamas. This move along with inciting antisemitic hate speech, are the legal angles currently in process to violate and eliminate our First Amendment free speech rights, that includes the right to protest. The mass arrests of hundreds of peaceful student protesters across US campuses is part of this unconstitutional dystopian agenda. ADL's Greenblatt showed up at the Columbia University campus calling for the NYPD and/or National Guard to arrest and expel student agitators, in order to assure the public safety and civil rights of Jewish students since Columbia administration's response was deemed too lax. And as my article alluded to, hundreds of protesters exercising their legal constitutional rights were illegally incarcerated across multiple campuses nationwide. Again, we are rapidly in tyrannical freefall descent towards the Soviet Gulag era. It seems what Israel, AIPAC and ADL Zionists want, Israel, AIPAC and ADL Zionists get. Great article and understanding of the issues. Unless all the people come together soon, all Jews will inevitably face a very harsh backlash from the rest of the people. Who are being corralled like sheep into ever tightening pens and incarcerated on many different levels. These weak as piss entities are creating utter tyranny everywhere they go, to keep their ilk looting, harvesting, raping and killing machine operating at all times. But their hand is seen now and they are bluffing to keep control and can easily be reversed by committed people refusing to adhere to their fake laws. The world's collective throat chakra has been closed long enough by these insipid entities, the time to be vocal and fight back is now. They cannot sustain their power if the people operate as one.

Did you know that Amsterdam consists of 56% migrants, the Hague 58% migrants, Rotterdam 60% migrants. So, the Dutch population is already outnumbered in the majority of their cities. London 54% migrants, Brussels 70% migrants. Percentages of migrants and asylum seekers per region is Unknown 1%, how can they be unknown? Or is it the case that there is not a country of origin for those people? But are they people is the great question? Latin America 17%, Middle East 22%, Asia 23% and Africa 23%, interestingly they account to 85% and we have the 85-15 figure again. All of this comes under diversity and multi-culturalism, yet curiously it is not replicated in any countries except in the white countries. This is Cosmic Genetics games again unfolding on an unprecedented scale, yet curiously no one will say anything. It is a hostile takeover of all the white race countries, yet the inhabitants within those countries barely say a word. The European countries are just beginning to speak out and ignore the slandering of being labeled racist or antisemitic. How many of these migrants are weaponized against the local populace? What happens when it boils over? Will we have a race war in every country? Most likely. At that point I suspect some severe measures will be taken globally to protect the white race and their lands.

MYSTERY SECTION:

I'm guessing you all liked that Guardian review last week, a timely reminder that the law and the universe is on our side, if we apply ourselves. Think of it in terms of the River of Ingliia all glowing and flowing majestically. A spiral dance of interconnectedness all flowing in sequences and patterns towards the main goal. Not flowing is like the Hoover Dam, everything backs up and becomes stagnant. Whilst everything is blocked or dammed, the name of the dam then hoovers or vacuums up all of your energy. It is all about the flow and the interconnectedness, our goal is to become the River Ingliia on Midgard.

Why is life so difficult here? Is a question that is fairly obvious in its context, yet is rarely visited as a question, just merely a pointer. The simple answer is, because we made it so. But there is much more to it, as it applies on many different levels.

1. Society: the life of society is complicated by the string of dark elements dictating life in their format. All designed to keep the masses confused, disoriented, unbalanced, in fear and to follow their directives.

2. Work: the life of work is dictated by greedy people wanting way more out of it than they put in. Compartmentalization via knowledge and titles adds to the mix, that gets people competing against each other so it all doesn't flow together equally. The boss is the dam, that holds everyone up so he can collect the energy put forth.

3. Love and relationships: Is complicated by ego, status, wealth, material things and the opinions of others and or peer pressure. Love is also dammed up by the people's addiction to fear, in the absence of love, fear reigns. It is also complicated by the negative side of the hemisphere, as that side will always lead you to wrong choices. The heart may want love, but in those situations the head over rules it and then regrets are the order of the day.

4. People: the people were eroded, broken or fractured over time, with the slow creep of oppression. Who took on board endless self-damaging programs because they had to fit in with everybody else. Once that was achieved, the people themselves became masters of their own downfall. As everyone keeps each other in the gutter and the reluctance to self-rise became a conspiracy theory. They say people fall out, fall being the operate word. But what are you falling from? The collective consciousness. We are the classic Humpty Dumpty who had a great fall, but we expected the kings and queens to put us altogether again. No! the mortar or the glue to restoration was you. The great question of all the kings horses and all the kings men is, were the kings horses chimeras? People just took all the broken pieces and placed them into a box or several. You do realize you became a bloody jigsaw doing that! So with you all in boxes, in overview that is a coffin and you declared yourself dead. Who needs the cestui que vie act, if we are all placing ourselves in coffins whilst alive? Then when Covid came in they sent us a reminder to keep 6 feet apart, which is the same depth as a burial. 6 feet is 6 paces and 6 actions, which number of the beast are you? Whilst we operate as the living dead, you do realize our definition is a zombie, whereby they feed your head, but never your heart.

So how do we uncomplicate life? Adopt the Blueprint and become the What is series. We all had a great fall, and it is time to return all the pieces. To step out of the boxes or coffins and be a free-flowing living example of a guardian. Uncomplicated life is a test in passing, the question now is, have you 180'd it and are you passing the test?

A number of hidden messages or truth bombs were contained in tonight's show, all dot connectors in a way, all of which brings us to a realization that not many people would like to face the reality of. It is a difficult subject to approach given the fear it may cause, more outside than within THI. A reality that grows more probable by the week, yet how many will truly look at it and come to the same conclusion this piece will bring? Here is a selection of them:

1. There are significant human rights issues involving Ukrainian government officials, which included credible reports of: enforced disappearance; torture and cruel, inhuman, or degrading treatment or punishment.
2. This is piece of legislation is a betrayal of our First Amendment rights and a betrayal of the American people, and a testimonial how AIPAC Israel through bribery and blackmail have turned our constitutional republic into a totalitarian technocratic police state.
3. So, maybe instead of using a precise missile and taking down a specific room or a specific building, I'll use my imprecise missiles and I'll just destroy ten buildings. That's what I'll do.
4. A 56-year-old woman who was due to be evicted on 1 May has been told she should be able to function reasonably well if she ends up on the streets.
5. The slow creep of AI continues to seep into our everyday lives, with the majority of people unaware of its Orwellian nature.
6. It was all for running psychological programs on the varying people for a future purpose.
7. The origin of the smart city prisons that are being built throughout the world today.
8. Pacification is the action of bringing peace to a place or ending war in a place, often using military force.
9. At its height Phoenix managers-imposed quotas of eighteen hundred neutralizations per month on the people running the program in the field.
10. Beyond Orwellian rules barring any criticism of Jews or Israel, despite them controlling all the worlds press.
11. All of this comes under diversity and multi-culturalism, yet curiously it is not replicated in any countries except in the white countries. This is Cosmic Genetics games again unfolding on an unprecedented scale, yet curiously no one will say anything. It is a hostile takeover of all the white race countries, yet the inhabitants within those countries barely say a word. The European countries are just beginning to speak out and ignore the slandering of being labeled racist or antisemitic. How many of these migrants are weaponized against the local populace?
12. Why is life so difficult here? And
- 12+1. This piece highlights the lack of compassion for others and inability to look at the plight of others.

A fairly disappointing and at times disturbing list and highlights the total lack of care towards life, the living or nature. But then we have also endured chemtrails, food and water poisoning and medical poisoning. Interference with our food and plant life, air and ocean poisoning, erosion of our resources. Half the planet starving, a quarter with no adequate housing, plumbing or clean water, 15% don't even have electricity. Poor training, poor education, low levels of intelligence, almost zero common sense are not good combinations. Those statements alone should bring in deeper questions and questioning, yet rarely do. If that was not enough add in Stasi policing, perpetual wars, obscene funding for wars, that magically appear from budgets, yet never appears if it is anything for the public. The public is then distracted by political correctness, woke programs, gender lunacy programs and private governments. Yet fail to work out there is no single organization on the planet for the people's benefit. Does anyone ask why there is no organization on the planet for the people? No, because too few even recognize the fact. The battle against injustice does not depend upon how well your own personal life is going. It should be filling your every fiber to fight all injustices all over the world. But too many ignore the plight of others and show a distinct lack of care and empathy for anything outside of their own bubble. All of which allows evil, dark or wrongs to prosper, all of which becomes telling when you realize there are no organizations operating solely for the people, because just not enough people actually care. When you add it all up, it is not a good picture, a permanent distorted mirror of truth and reality, that no amount of masks or make up can cover up. It makes for ugly viewing, not because I think it is so, but because we made it so.

The final piece tonight carries on from the mystery section and brings more ponderings and hopefully a realization, a line in the sand, a dawning and the desire to combat the situation. Has the decline of the world, the societies, the systems all been part of an elaborate cover up? We have covered extensively the experiments on humans of various kinds, often involving ridiculous levels of abuse on children. Children being used for child labor and sexual abuse. Children being used for rituals and sacrifice games. Children being used for what is labeled as a hunting sport. Children being used to extract adrenochrome. People being used as medical guinea pigs by the medical establishment. People being used as medical guinea pigs by the military establishment. People being used as medical guinea pigs by the intelligence agencies establishment. People being used as test cases for nuclear weapons and its fall out by governments. People being used as test cases for birth control by all the establishments. All that was before the stupidity we all witnessed during Covid, as people lined up like Hungarian Jews getting on a concentration camp train. All to get a job that was untested at any great length, what was tested was flawed and found dangerous issues. Nobody knew what was in the jab, yet they all lined up for an experimental jab like it was going out fashion in some macabre Milgram style experiment. A DNA changing jab they told us. Why would they change people's DNA? Which genes are they turning off? Then we come to the largely hidden world of MK Ultra, where people are tortured and their psyche fractured, creating alters and a never-ending trauma. The MK Ultra of the television and the subliminal messages of the adverts and movies. Why do bloodline families children undergo intensive MK Ultra? To remove the compassion, love and empathy. Why do many of them have their eyes nearer to their temples? Which animal and or insect species have those traits of side eyes? Most insects, snakes and lizards. The lack of compassion and empathy has alarming levels on this planet that prompts deeper ponderings. The lack of conscience in these matters has even deeper ponderings. Questions like how can people be so evil? Most people do not comprehend those levels of evil and so to them hearing of it, renders a disconnect from it and instead labeling the revealer as some sort of nut. You have all undergone that scenario, you don't believe that do you? Along with some sneering look. Suppose you got that off the internet, remember the slogan you cannot believe everything on the internet? If that is the case, why are billions on social media platforms? The very same platforms containing owners who are involved in the conspiracy against people. It also dissolves personal responsibility by the listener, as refusing to believe it means they don't have to address it. Out of sight, out of mind as the saying goes, but where is the heart in and of the matter?

The next great question is: Just how many on this planet have true human traits? Just how many people are what we think they are? We have mentioned in the past about possibly only 15% are organic humans and the rest being a combination of clones, bots and synths. Which would explain the lack of human traits, but how can that be achieved if true? How do we explain the lack of consciousness and compassion? What are the potential scenarios of that having a deeper meaning? First off, soulless entities, like AI, which is a computerized control system, the finger god given it is digit-al, have no emotions and are essentially animated figurines. There are many off-world creations that envy our emotions and many who think of it as weak. Then we have term that became an internet meme, the NPC. NPC derived from non-player character, that represents people who do not think for themselves or do not make their own decisions; those who lack introspection or intrapersonal communication. Secondly, involves the medical establishment again, with the gene therapy, DNA splicing, placing babies into a specific family or race. Then we have the baby switching, that all refuse to hear, but the reality is far more uncomfortable than most people can contemplate. Thirdly, how can all this be achieved of replacing people with soulless entities?

1. You have to have facilities preferably underground to avoid prying eyes. We have what is called DUMBS, which is an impolite world to call someone and so an odd term to use. Could it mean Deliver Underground Mechanical Beings?
2. The ability to manufacture entities and perfect them to perform right, when in front of the public. Which would come under National Security and funding done via the black budgets accounts.
3. Then you have to have use of the more public facilities to be able to merge these creations, for the purpose of blending in.
4. The use of hospitals, mental facilities, prisons plus military and agency facilities. All of those establishments are used for MK Ultra purposes mentioned previously.
5. They have to be controlled at all times and appearances limited. Did you notice the so-called stars of tv are not as prevalent anymore? Did you notice how all their images online are different? Why would the same person be "different"?
6. Remember when I said they are animated figures inside of a box? You assumed they were all real people? But where is the proof of such assumptions? How do people on the tv lack common sense, understanding, have no compassion and display little to no conscience?

The above is all about inserting people into the populace, but is it possible they replaced people as well? People including THI have spoken about replacing famed people from the world of Tv and movies, with various examples of that now prevalent. The advancement of latex masks can fool nearly all people into believing the person behind the mask is the true version of themselves. But, do we really know if the original Britney Spears is authentic? Or just some generated model who performs the tasks set out by a program? We know most movies use stage actors, yet rarely equate it to real life. Many movies in this century have been animated cartoons with a recognized voice of an actor, but is it really that actor? It is that word assumption again, but if we don't know the original person on screen, how can we know if that person is real or not? The real answer is, we don't, we just accept the name given to us by the credits. Yet why did so many of them change their names? Why would a real person change their name? and if their name has changed, which signifies they are not the real person, the question then begs, just who are they? All the world is a stage they say, yet we don't know who are the actors and who or what is real. Are you seeing the problem yet?

I will ask again, how is it so many on this planet lack compassion, love and empathy? Lack basic human traits and care? Why aren't the general populace jumping on the Blueprint? Something that improves everyone's lives? Do they like tyranny or is something else amiss? How can the world population double since 1950, when the average birth rate was 4.7 children per mother, down to 2.4 children per mother now? Where did these extra numbers come from? Is it Johns Hopkins math or something more sinister that? Here is a potential scenario to boost the numbers and to perfect their skills, whilst still using the host bodies. In 1954 at Holloman Air Force base Dwight Eisenhower met with one of the grey races, having previously met with a Nordic type race of beings at Edwards Air Force base. But it was the second meeting that I wish to focus on with this report. Eisenhower made an agreement known as the Greda Treaty with the alien greys, allowing them to capture earthling cattle and humans for medical experiments, provided that they returned the humans safely home. Medical experiments should jump out at everyone, think Covid, altering your genes and DNA? The deal was for 2% of Americans being abducted, but it went way beyond that figure to over 10% and was not confined to just America either. Clearly from our perspective these Greys were more advanced in medical matters, due to millions of years doing Cosmic Genetics. So they likely had the capability to pull off what I am about to reveal. What if the abductions were not just about doing medical experiments? But about replacing the abducted people with the consciousness of their own type? Replacing organic beings with a prototype of their own? By removing the original organic human and replacing it with a clone, bot or synth? What would be the outcome of that? A lower birth rate, a lack of compassion, care or empathy, a lack of human traits. Essentially they would become a bot. A walking, talking person operating with another operating system all done via the brain or mind. Remember also that 8-900K children go missing every year in America, what if they are replacing them with their copies? How can this be implemented? Create confusion and chaos and introduce a migrant crisis – sound familiar? It should do. Why do so many migrant crimes involve rape, murder and strange attacks on the locals? Because maybe they are not us? Remember some of the grey races, the P45 and P52's came here to warn us about genetics, because other greys had practically eliminated the gene pool by meddling with their bodies and DNA. They wish to return to live bodies, what if they can do that with using other beings as hosts, with their uploaded conscious technology? I said earlier: It's the clowns final play at gaining control via technology, it is up to the people to resist and stop it. Their final goal is to have this planet filled with clones, bots and synths and they are planning using the upload consciousness method into mechanical bodies, just to prolong life and stay in control.

After this piece perhaps many more of you will beginning to look deeper about life and your role in it? Perhaps this now explains as to why there is no organization operating on behalf of any HU-mans. Perhaps all them you see in everyday life, who look, act and feel funny or off, are just not what you thought they were? The name of the treaty mentioned earlier, Greda, is a strange word, as there is no reference to it outside of the treaty itself. Perhaps it is the word magic again and you replace the first a with a y and you have grey da, which means grey skin. Remember never put anyone above your own heart and never allow anyone to put you in fear. The solution is in hand, the judgement is at hand, the intent will be delivered and so, May it be.
