

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2024-06-06

The Blueprint Episode 23 Teams Report week ending 2nd June 2024.

The Agenda:

This week's meeting we had a shorter agenda to discuss, the focus however was more in depth. Which gave us all a chance to broaden our perspective on our strategies, which in overview became more apparent, that we need to balance aspects of how we view the results of our labor. Have we stayed 45/55 or do we have a tendency to sway to negative v positive. A good exercise for us all to come back to alignment and adjust our thinking.

Topics discussed were:

1. The Canadian blueprint – The team have made more progress and have decided to add the guardian piece in. They will continue to work on the adjustments that suit their country's needs.
2. The European Blueprint is more varied in its need and translation can be tricky at times, as each language may not have a direct translation of certain English words. Keeping it in alignment with the frequency that the blueprint has been seeded with will always be important. Keeping things as simple as possible may also help this process.
3. The blueprint Concepts are universal, therefore as the concepts are understood, the developing of the language to communicate the concepts will flow. This led to a broader discussion on some of the solutions that will eventually need to be brought to the next level, such as the law solution The blueprint as it stands is a guideline to the change that is needed. A complete overhaul to a new system that works for the people. As we move forward committees will be formed which will bring a greater chance to expand the discussions and develop the solutions with people such as lawyers, bankers, teachers etc. Our main focus is right now to continue to plant the seeds, how they grow is not up to us.

The new activism team was next on the agenda, they are continuing their strategy which seems to be working very well for the team. All are enjoying this new venture and it seems they are creating their own buzz not only in the twitter spaces they join, but within their own group too.

One new member to the team who didn't have much knowledge on the workings of Twitter before joining, has been given help with this and is now happily joining in the fun. Which proves you do not need to be proficient to join any of the groups, as there will always be guidance and time given to anyone who has the courage to come forward and join us. The end of the meeting brought about a deeper discussion on these topics and more, reminding us to look at the bigger picture, the development of such an undertaking is correcting the fall of man. The old consciousness and its control system is dying building a new one takes time. There can be no denying that THI language and information is now taking over the collective consciousness. As we see the prophecy of previous shows now becoming the news headlines, and a huge turnaround in people's perspective as the dawning of what was previously hidden is now in the light. How we ourselves view this will largely depend on what perspective we choose to view it from.

CANADIAN BLUEPRINT TEAM.

The Canadian Blueprint revisions have been checked, with one small newly changed section remaining to be evaluated before sending for review by a wider team and final approval.

RESEARCH TEAM:

The Research Team had a very comprehensive meeting to finalize the preparation for the team absences with assignment deadlines. We needed to conclude the names lists and biographical information for eighty influencers, then get the email list to Todd and be sure they were all successfully sent. We are happy to report that most were successful. We exceeded our goal and have enough names to get us through to BP Show 27 on August 1st at 20 names per show. Listeners can look forward to hearing about interesting Think Tanks today and in future shows about twenty U.S. and U.K. Waldorf and other schools. Also, in future shows, there will be Senators up for re-election, Senators who refused AIPAC money, Senators who voted against $95B funding to Ukraine, Israel & Taiwan and Republican Representatives who voted to remove Speaker Johnson. Our second round of business was getting activity updates from our partner team volunteers. The coordination is helping delegate tasks from our first phase 'cold call' contacts to the second-phase follow-up by the Activist and Media Teams. We can add an extra column to the database to show their 5-by-5 campaign efforts. They shared the ten names selected for their first two weeks' contacts which are ready to go into the new column. One of the influencers responded within two hours. Their team will report that influencers name in their report. What was particularly impressive is, that the gentleman YouTuber has a substantial number of followers, so the response was a real surprise. We are starting to see impact from our doubled efforts. Members have noted that it shows the Cabal's desperation. For example, one member noticed that the Black Sun is taking credit for the Blueprint and another member caught someone at The World Economic Forum using our Blueprint Speak. We believe our Team Secretary's methodology may inspire listeners to follow her limited social media contact system, by reaching out to a select few influencers in her own state. She explains it this way: I understood that Media wants to get the big picture on social media contacts; just as Research wants the big picture on Influencers contacted. I report to both teams with a summary of my contacts names and which way I reached out to them. The highlight of her success was by way of online contact forms. Our third agenda item was a Q & A with our Web Team representative. He will be meeting with Aris about all things related to the websites. Which was very productive. Aris will do a campaign with Google to get our web page indexed into their search engine. The website has matured and does not tend to have bugs now.

We concluded our meeting with a special guest at our meeting who has been a member of THI for years and just reached out to our Team with an idea to restart the THI-T-shirt production. She had worked on the earlier version until all the other project volunteers had disbanded or left THI awhile back. What sparked her idea was noticing Thomas wearing the PANIC shirt in a photo posted during the Eclipse Trip, and wondering if anyone was currently in charge of t-shirts. She is ready to volunteer to lead the Blueprint Swag Project. Longtime members may remember the tie-dyed shirts in the past. Tie-dyeing is labor intensive, but a potential future special-order option. Instead, she has a local source who will give her a competitive price on printing standard colored T-shirts. She suggests we could provide the T-shirts as a gift to people who donate or make the sale of them self-sustaining. She believes it would be great if the T-shirts became a money maker with profits used for distributing Blueprints or wherever the need is greatest. Her focus will start with U.S. sales and international mailings can be discussed later. Our UK members said they are being taxed on imports and suggested that the tees be priced below the import-duty trigger price, £39. If there is another international gathering, there could be preorders and T-shirts brought by members of the Village. Because our Canadian member is the Queen of Memes, she happily shared those that she thought might be cool for T-shirts. Our Coordinator had similar plans last year and another member gave her design ideas she is happy to share. There could be a link on the Blueprint website once the cost and order foundations are set. Now that the idea seeds are planted, if you are interested in this design please contact the team. The collective consciousness at work again. In the middle of March I actually went to a store in town to acquire some BP T-shirts for birthdays. It took two months before I received the first 3 T-shirts as they had to do all the artwork first. The latest turnaround for more t-shirts was a few days. But curiously since then, I have been approached or made aware by three separate members about printing t-shirts and other merchandise. If people like the design of the ones I got, which is the Blueprint cover, send an email or mewe message and I will see if I can get time to do them. This would be for sales in America only, due to shipping costs/taxes and duty. But we have two members in Europe who wish to do t-shirts, maybe I can get the American company to send an email to the European t-shirt branch, who could then distribute the t-shirts on that side of the pond. Put in a proposal if you wish to do t-shirts and merchandise, including the proposed costing or how you think the funds generated should go to and general cost to the public for the shirts. That way we can decide which is best for everyone and we can discuss it all in a zoom meeting in July, if proposals are all put forward. I am not against other Americans doing t-shirts, in particular the tie dye ones, but I can distribute the BP ones.

We finish our report with this week's twenty names of people sent our informative Emails. This group is our first set of Think Tanks and their top representatives:

Margaret Spellings: Leads the Bipartisan Policy Center. It is a not-for-profit organization that ensures policymakers work across party lines to craft bipartisan solutions.

Eileen Appelbaum: 'Runs the Center for Economic and Policy Research promotes democratic debate on the most important economic and social issues that affect people's lives. Citizens should be well-informed about the problems and choices they face to effectively exercise their voices in a democracy.

James A Kiernan: Arranges business matters for the Center for Public Integrity. Their group dedication is to investigating systems and circumstances that contribute to inequality in labor, housing, health care, education and access to democracy. They also expose the far-reaching implications of a history of unequal power, by examining disparities in environmental and criminal justice, transportation, technology, and access to financial tools.

Mayra E Alvarez: Coordinates the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities. It is a nonpartisan research and policy institute that advances federal and state policies to help build a nation where everyone; regardless of income, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, ZIP code, immigration status, or disability status; has the resources they need to thrive and share in the nation's prosperity.

Heidi Shierholz: Bolsters the activities of the Economic Policy Institute. It is a nonprofit, nonpartisan think tank working for the last 30 years to counter rising inequality, low wages, and weak benefits for working people, slower economic growth, unacceptable employment conditions, and a widening racial wage gap. They intentionally center low- and middle-income working families in economic policy discussions at the federal, state, and local levels, as they fight for a world where every worker has access to a respectable job with fair pay, affordable health care, retirement security, and a union.

Naomi Walker: Lends her leadership skills to the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy. It conducts rigorous analyses of tax and economic proposals and provides data-driven recommendations to shape equitable and sustainable tax systems. ITEP's expertise and data uniquely enhance federal, state, and local policy debates by revealing how taxes affect people at various levels of income and wealth, and people of different races and ethnicities. They also help make the case for raising enough revenue to truly meet all our societal needs. Their work focus is to provide the best possible information and to put forth a vision of a more racially and economically equitable tax system at all levels of government.

J. Robert McClure Assists the James Madison Institute. Their mission is to advance the principles that represent the north star of what has made this country the greatest prosperity engine in the history of humanity – free markets, limited government, and economic liberty. For close to 40 years, we have championed these principles in principal issues such as keeping the economy open, education reform, the future of technology and innovation, and healthcare. That commitment means even though politicians may come and go, JMI remains. They view their mission as both protecting the policies that make the Sunshine State of Florida a success and exporting those ideas across the country.

John Lugar: Continues the family legacy at The Lugar Center. Richard G. Lugar, former United States Senator, founded the Center as a platform for an informed debate on global issues. The Center has become a prominent voice on issues that framed much of Senator Lugar's career; nonproliferation of weapons of mass destruction, global food security, foreign assistance effectiveness and global development, energy security, and enhancing bipartisan governance. The Center brings together expert sources and sponsors research to improve the quality of debate and bridge ideological divides around these critical issues.

Robert Megna: Guides the Rockefeller Institute of Government. It is a public policy think tank founded in 1981 that conducts innovative research and analysis to inform lasting solutions to the problems facing New York State and the nation.

Matthew Reed: Is an Executive with The Harkin Institute for Public Policy & Citizen Engagement. Their founding premise is that good public policy can best be achieved when policymakers have access to high quality information, political processes are open and well-understood, and citizens are informed and active participants.

David Salvo: Represents the Alliance for Securing Democracy. They collaborate with policymakers, the private sector, and civil society to advance innovative thinking to better understand and counter threats to democracies worldwide, share lessons learned, and develop strategies that go beyond the standard policy toolbox.

Norman Seip: Is the leader of the American Security Project which has a mission to communicate their vision for security in the 21st century, by developing and sharing latest ideas and critical analyses on the most important national security issues of our time.

Ross Milner: Is chief of the Bucksbaum Institute for Clinical Excellence created in September 2011. They focus on improving the doctor-patient relationship through patient care, teaching, and research. The Matthew and Carolyn Bucksbaum Family Foundation has donated $42 million to create the Institute.

Charles G. Koch: Directs his Charles Koch Institute and strives to ensure all people have the opportunity to live a life of meaning and contribution based on their unique gifts and aptitudes.

Amir Taheri: Organizes the Gatestone Institute. Gatestone dedicates itself to educating the public about what the mainstream media fails to report in promoting, such as Institutions of Democracy and the Rule of Law, Human Rights, a free and strong economy, and a military capable of ensuring peace at home and in the free world.

Clara Wilson: Manages Groundwork Collaborative. Their analytical and strategic approach allows them to drive narrative and policy change with credibility, expertise, and impact.

Alec Stapp: Steers the Institute for Progress (IFP) from their headquarters in Washington D.C. Their organization works to accelerate and shape the direction of scientific, technological, and industrial progress. IFP collaborates with policymakers across the political spectrum to make it easier to build the future in the United States.

James E. Baker: Is the Chief Executive Officer for the Institute for Security Policy and Law. It has a mission to educate and inspire the next generation of national security thought leaders and practitioners, through interdisciplinary research, teaching, public service, and policy analysis.

Zac Schildcrout: Heads the Jewish Institute for National Security of America. Their mission is to advance U.S. national security interests in the Middle East, of which a critical pillar is a robust U.S.-Israel security relationship.

Tom Inglesby: Oversees the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security. It is a network of scholars in science, medicine, public health, law, social sciences, economics, and national security. Who conduct independent research to examine how scientific and technological innovations can strengthen health security. If only those 20 Institutes did as they say in their biographies, imagine how much better the world would be. Clearly they don't and so we have sent them our Blueprint.

MEDIA TEAM:

The media team are currently upping the ante with our memes and videos, or short clips as we call them. They are under one minute long clips from the Blueprint and THI show recent episodes. These not only promote both the shows and the blueprint, they are a great way to get snippets of Thomas's voice out into the public arena, thus carrying the frequency of truth far and wide. They are doing well on all platforms, along with our more controversial memes, that contain a snippet of information on several topics, such as Gaza, Migration, Homeless and many other current affair topics. We link these back to the Solutions in the blueprint by posting the link and questions ranging from did you know, to, are you part of the problem or the solution? We did an overall analysis of this at the last meeting and views are increasing using this tactic. We are also supporting the activist team with their campaign, and are ready to make a meme or whatever they need from the files to ensure they can get on with the task at hand. We are very happy to see this team grow and creating not only a buzz on their own personal platforms, but within their group.

A recent discovery on the TikTok channel which combines both THI and the Blueprint on the same channel, was the amount of searches for the blueprint link far outweighed those searching the THI link by a whopping 88.9% versus 11.1% for THI link. This means our seed planting on all platforms is really taking hold, and we are doing what we set out to do. We continue to post memes during the shows in the chat and the main page each day for you to download and post on your own social media platforms. Clicking on the memes in the chat gives you the option to download, though the main page may prove more difficult, but you can take a screen shot and save to your phone or laptop. It is good fun taking part in these activities, in affect the more people posting the wider the blueprint seeds get planted. Soon we will become an army of keyboard warriors, spreading change and a new way forward. The media team duties involve, creating memes, videos and audio clips from previous shows. Taking snippets from transcripts that are passed onto the team and are divided up into the above categories. Posting memes on several platforms that include Twitter, Telegram, Instagram and Tik Tok daily. Choosing the memes and videos from our cloud storage daily and providing them to the team to post on the above platforms. Working on the social media platforms daily to grow our audience and reach. Analyzing the data and making improvements. Preparing agendas for the team meeting. Attending the main BP action group meeting and providing feedback. If you want to take part in anyway, please get in touch with us through the be-platform or Mewe chat.

EUROPEAN BLUEPRINT TEAM:

We discussed the list of countries of which Europe consists, to be added to the introduction. We found there are territories we didn't know about, Europe is much bigger than we generally get to believe, as only some of the bigger players are involved in the news today. List of sovereign states and dependent territories in Europe. The following list includes all entities falling even partially under any of the various common definitions of Europe, geographical or political. Fifty generally recognized sovereign states, Kosovo with limited, but substantial, international recognition, and four largely unrecognized de facto states with limited to no recognition have territory in Europe and/or membership in international European organizations. There are ten entities that are not integral parts of a European state or have special political arrangements. UN member states and UNGA non-member observer state: There are 50 sovereign states with territory located within the common definition of Europe and/or membership in international European organizations, that are almost universally recognized internationally. All are either member states of the United Nations or non-member observer states at the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA), and all except Belarus, Kazakhstan, Russia, and Vatican City are members of the Council of Europe. 44 countries have their capital city located within Europe, and (as of 2022) 27 of those countries are member states of the European Union, which means that they are highly integrated with one another and share their sovereignty through EU institutions.

The States are: Albania, Andorra, Armenia, Austria*, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Belgium*, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria*, Croatia*, Cyprus*, Czechia*, Denmark*, Estonia*, Finland*, France*, Georgia, Germany*, Greece*, Hungary*, Iceland, Ireland*, Italy*, Kazakhstan, Latvia*, Liechtenstein, Lithuania*, Luxembourg*, Malta*, Moldova, Monaco, Montenegro, the Netherlands*, North Macedonia, Norway, Poland*, Portugal*, Romania*, Russia, San Marino, Serbia, Slovakia*, Slovenia*, Spain*, Sweden*, Switzerland, Turkey, Ukraine, United Kingdom, Vatican City. (* members of the European Union)

De facto States: Abkhazia, Kosovo, Northern Cyprus, South Ossetia, Moldova.

Non-sovereign territories: Akrotiri and Dhekelia (British Military bases in Cyprus), Faroe Islands, Gibraltar, Greenland, Guernsey, Isle of Man, Jersey.

Areas of special sovereignty: Aland Island, Northern Ireland, Svalbard and Jan Mayen.

Europe tends to be dominated by a small number of countries; the lesser-known countries are treated as puppet states. They are deemed not important, but they are just as important. Going forward we need to make an appeal to the other, lesser known countries, we want input from all to drive this new way of operating the system.

We read together the European Military and Defense Industry Solution and edited the first part of the text. We found there is a huge number of organizations in Europe. The names can be confusing as there is: the European Union, the Council of the European Union, the European Council, the European Commission, the Council of Europe, to name a few. One of the organizations is the International Pan European Union, also referred to as the Pan-European Movement. It is an international organization and the oldest European unification movement. It began with the publishing of Richard von Coudenhove-Kalergi's manifesto Pan Europa (1923), which presented the idea of a unified European State. In the so called 'Kalergi plan' the genocide of all white people is formulated. As of 2023, the Pan European Union Parliamentary Group in the European Parliament, consists of over 120 members from nearly all of the EU Member States and meets regularly during the sessions of the Parliament in Strasbourg.

ACTIVIST TEAM:

Our small team is growing with the addition of a member from Scotland. We are looking for others to join in the work and the fun as we seed the Blueprint and the restoration that comes from it. It's slow and steady going for the New Blueprint for Humanity X account, but the number of actively following has increased from 67 to 225 on our shadow-banned account in recent months, since posting more comments and replies and fewer straight links. Though our 7-day stats are down, our stats for the 28 day cycle are up over all metrics. 225 Actively following on Twitter and 644 followers on Twitter. TikTok posters/users are posting far higher numbers of people responding to their content and following them, we think it possible they are cuter than the rest of us.

Activity:

Our Week 3 contact names were:

Marjorie Taylor Greene; US Representative Georgia

Josh Hawley; American Politician

Ron DeSantis; Governor of Florida

Mike Hilgers; Attorney General

Michael Webber; American Politician

Posting follows the same order of prompts after the Main BP accounts on multiple social media sites post the BP or BP site link to each contact. An example of some of the posts our team made are:

Day 1: Have you checked out the New Blueprint for Humanity? Will you stand on the side of We the people? Attached The New Blueprint for Humanity website link.

Day 2: The New Blueprint for Humanity is the answer. Attached meme, Quit asking for the change and be the change, etc. including The New Blueprint for Humanity website link.

Day 3: The New Blueprint for Humanity. Attached meme, Fear empowers the darkness, give it none. Take back your own power including THI-show site address.

Day 4: BE the change. A Blueprint for Humanity that you can be involved in. Included The New Blueprint for Humanity website address.

Day 5: The New Blueprint for Humanity: the future of We the people. A better world for us all. Have you read it yet? Meme/site link.

Three members reported no responses, but several likes on their replies to the 5 contacts with anywhere from 5-10 views and up to 5 new people following. There is evidence that some of our new punchier memes are being reposted, which is encouraging. One member had a few likes/♥s and on one of the spaces on twitter he attended, the host of the group liked the newblueprintforhumanity.org. Some of us attended a live Alex Jones event for Memorial Day and shared some views, as BP and individuals there and followed a few accounts as well. Also, the Newblueprintforhumanity.org link was posted to someone's post and then liked and shared on their page. The same person had a reply from Richard Vobes within a couple of hours, thanking him for the link to the blueprint. Richard Vobes has a big following but it is better to converse with him on his YouTube channel which our member has likewise done, leaving our links. Also, he thought of sending Richard a book as he has a problem reading online, so thinking he did not read the pdf, the member asked for his address and Richard was sent it straight away. The book is on its way from Lulu and our member will follow up.

Week 4 Contacts with report to follow were:

Joe Rogan

Kevin Annett

Tom MacDonald; Music Artist

Babylon Bee

Ivor Cummins; Medical & Health

IN OVERVIEW:

Changing perspective was the tone of this week's meeting, seeing things differently, changing the narrative and in effect raising the frequency to another level of deeper consciousness of what is and what isn't. How we see situations and life depends largely upon our own perspective, our thinking and from that our reactions. When you find yourself asking what is missing, why are things not going right, and what am I doing wrong? The answer is what perspective are you looking at the situation and is that all, that is really there? or are you just seeing the illusion, and not the reality. It's time to 180 the situation, question everything, why 180 you may ask. A 180 changes everything that is in your view and literally turns it upside down, what was up is now down, what was below is now above. You then have a new horizon to admire the view, you will probably see things stand out for the first time that have previously gone unnoticed. Like as was suggested in a previous show, taking a new route to work, you see different people, different scenery and suddenly you feel different. Your old routine became boring and mundane, while today's brought a lightness and maybe even you got to make a new acquaintance. Some might say, should it not be a 360? 360 becomes a circle, a closed loop, a return to the place you last stood, and you never had the chance to take in the broader picture. You just ended up back where you started. Seeing the results of our work in the Blueprint action groups sometimes needs a broader perspective and a different type of vision.

Power versus force, is a book written by David R Hawkins, the premise of this book describes the scale of consciousness devised by David Hawkins to measure energy, frequency and vibration, it then show us how we are operating in this world in different format. The diagram of an inverted triangle or cone shape is used to measure our emotional state, it measures from 1 to a thousand, the lower the scale the further from enlightenment or god consciousness. The lower of the scale represents the power of force and what it produces within us. A control system of low vibration that keeps us enslaved, downtrodden, angry, fearful and co-dependent. Leading us into war and division which brings in the need quite nicely for the savior program, all low frequency and energetic level of being in the world. The higher end of the scale show us where our true power lies within, it needs no savior merely the recognition of the true power you hold. Which takes away the need for co-dependency and savior programs, as you ultimately come to be a peaceful and loving sentient being, working from the heart. Where at that level your frequency is the control system without fear, and unity becomes your modus operandi, the sacrifices turn from bloody to bloodless, the higher frequency and energetic level of being in the world. At the very end of the scale shame scores lowest at 20, next is guilt, apathy, grief and fear scoring at 100, the contracted end of the cone. Their loop system of dole out the program and lets control the masses, the inorganic path or wave. The most recent example of this program in full flight was the covid scam, guilt them all by telling them they will kill their mother, neighbor, family etc. if they don't do as we say. Then bombard them with fear, which is false evidence appearing real. Soon your filled with grief and a false sense of loss dooming on your horizon, or apathy because you check out and won't take responsibility or recognize what is going on. The ideal slave system, the basis of the dueling mind syndrome and victim/abuser consciousness. All designed to keep their world operating for their gain. To escape this closed loop system you must begin to raise your vibration above these lower emotional states, and rise to courage which only scores at 200 on the scale. This is the stirring of the heart towards rebuilding the humpty dumpty broken shell of you from millennia of slavery. The awakening of the real soul journey and development. Once you step into courage you can make a choice for the self, a chance to 180 what went before and create from the creator spark that has been sleeping within you. With courage you come from a more neutral space, with less of the dueling mind control you can overview and become willing to make the right choices and changes. Therefore an acceptance that something needs to change has already begun to flower, the path of self-empowerment and the organic path or wave. It opens the door to your inner light and inner wisdom the road less travelled, that brings you into the heart space. This heart or love consciousness is the half way point on the chart, only scoring at 500, the expanded end of the cone .

The next phase is the rise to full consciousness or the level of the gods, to becoming your own god or taking the golden path scores at 1000. So in overview the 180 gave you a chance to walk a new path, and create a new way of being, leaving their control structure behind and courageously embracing first yourself and then the blueprint. With open eyes and an open heart your perspective has risen to the point of co-creating the biggest opportunity we ever had, to embrace and integrate the restoration plan namely the new blueprint for humanity and 180 first ourselves and then their world. A change of perspective holds the key to unlock your true potential, as a Higher Universal man or woman and embracing your own sovereignty. All you need is to take your courage in your own hands and be willing to accept who and what you truly are, the crown of creation. To rise up despite all the pain of the past, the hurts and the shame, which are merely programs that are still operating within your chakras and bypassing the higher chakras stunting your true growth. Thomas asked in a previous show have the gods returned? In essence we all have the ability to become those gods, but first we must reclaim our own truth, honor and integrity of the self and embrace and integrate with great courage the awakening of this great chance. To break the cycle or circle and become the new way, by embracing the flower of life within. These are merely stepping stones to the great leap of faith, where the few become the many, that recharged themselves with the frequency of truth, honor and integrity, the real key to freedom. The rise is and always will be a personal choice, a chance to negate the fall of man. An opportunity for us all to become the free Sovereign Man and woman we were always meant to be, and this song holds a reminder of that, by Andrea Day.

And I'll rise up I'll rise like the day I'll rise unafraid. I'll rise up And I'll do it a thousand times again I'll rise up High like the waves I'll rise up In spite of the ache I'll rise up And I'll do it a thousand times again.

There is no what is piece this week, but this piece written by one of the members adds to the last two pieces of What is a Guardian?

This is called We As Guardians.

In the course of human events, from terrestrial to cosmic to universal, there are times from an overview perspective, that are deemed to observers as disruptive for either constructive or destructive reasons. In our case, we are embarking upon a whole new paradigm. To end the chaos as well as avoid it in the undoing of the old system. We have declared ourselves and claimed guardianship over this planet. We have rendered null and void the strictures, controls and limiting systems of the past through Rita law with undeniable provenance and birthright. What happens next? The answer is, what will we create? There is no doubt that there is a long road ahead of us, and that this would be a massive and unprecedented undertaking by any species. In any case, this planet needs a complete restoration and we have taken responsibility to enact it. Whatever we choose to do, we must have the understanding that we are being observed at all times; hence, we must act with a sense of purpose that sets a lasting example for those who are ready to join us. What we do now will have far-reaching consequences across this planet and throughout creation. We are not only being watched here but from farther afield and most importantly, by ourselves. The writing is designed to provide further insight into what it means to be a Guardian. It needs to be done in a way that it is cognizable as well as understood by young and old, for it is not just for a few people, but for everyone. We would be doing humanity a tremendous disservice by limiting the scope of our endeavor and, consequently, repeating the divisive programs of the past. It doesn't matter what you were before. What matters is who you are now and who you want to be. THI has given us resources, information and mentoring beyond the scope of the vast majority of people on this planet. Everything we need has already been taught to us. Embracing Guardianship is the way we pay it forward.

I - How to Be:

We are not perfect nor do we strive to be. But we need to be the best possible versions of ourselves so that others will follow our example. Continuous shadow work is essential to a pure heart, without it, no development of the soul is possible. With it, we become lighter and less of the negative field frequencies from our traumas that has limited us. To save your progress, it becomes important to establish a new baseline every time we make that progress. The heart then opens itself to us and we open ourselves to our heart. This then connects us with other fields beyond the physical planes. Knowledge, truth, love and freedom have new meaning. We develop Divine Mind, we connect with our oversoul and with the All. This is part of the spiral journey of soul development and does not end there. We will feel a calm connectedness within us, and this will be the very core of everything that we are. We will be heart-centered. In "no time" or a void we create our own moments. We can choose to just be or we can live moments, which are determined by what we focus on. From focus, we can apply intention, from intention comes manifestation and from manifestation comes creation. Why is this important? Because everything we do matters. From a single, original thought, every subsequent choice we make yields a consequence of that thought. Thoughts indeed have consequences because they create action. Action is not only observable by ourselves, but by others within their fields. These actions have effects and can create certain states. Our actions carry responsibility; therefore our thoughts carry responsibility. We must always ask ourselves, what are the downline consequences of our actions? and set our intentions so that no harm is caused by any facet of these actions. In other words what is the overview flow of our thoughts and actions, pre-empted by future thinking. Remember, we are creators and multidimensional beings. Would it not stand to reason that our actions also have effects outside of here? Oh yes. It is important that the behaviors of a Guardian eventually evolve from a state of mind, to a way of being. Therefore, it is necessary to maintain our baseline levels by continued shadow work and self-development. Otherwise, it is much harder to maintain this way of being. Selfless devotion and service to others are the way forward, it will be the glue that holds everything together and we must stay together. With everyone as an equal, standing side-by-side. We need to be our own sovereign, each one a leader in their own right. How can that be, you ask? A visualization might help. Imagine that you are a member of a V formation of birds. From each individual person's perspective, they are at the apex of that formation, they are taking responsibility and leading. Even though viewed from the outside, as only one bird being in front, this is all about the heart and mind. With each person taking the front position in their heart and mind, it stabilizes the whole formation, and there is no weakness. If one of the birds falter, there is still someone to lead. The group is their strength because they are all of one mind and heart. On one another's wings we fly.

II - Our Guiding Principles:

A - the Slavic Aryan Vedas:

- Wisdom of our ancient ancestors. - Standards of behavior. - Instruction sets to restore Midgard Earth. - History of who we are, and where we came from and what is to come, augmented greatly by the FHSTOS series.

B - Knowledge from Truth, Honor and Integrity (THI) teachings comes from the accrual of a vast array of podcasts, readings, books and writings, travels and experiences.

C - Based on our own individual research, inner knowing and expansion.

III - Responsibilities:

Knowledge and awareness also require responsibility. Since, at THI, we have been given more than most, it requires a compassionate outlook. We are all on different points along paths we feel are correct. At first, we ask questions more in relation to ourselves where the wider scope is absent. It is in the asking of the questions that the responsibility is considered.

The questions that follow can indicate a lack of responsibility:

- Whom should I teach? Is it even worth it? - Why does it seem impossible to fix this planet? - Why does it seem like nothing is happening? - Why don't I have abilities? - When will we meet the Urs? - Won't I burn out my retinas if I look at the eclipse? - How am I supposed to develop like everyone else if I'm not of White genetics? - Will I make the East gate? - When are we going to 5D? - Is Tommy human? (Sorry, Daniel)

These questions are actually indicative of where the questioner is in their development, and their limited scope is obvious to many observers. But as Guardians (or is it As-guardians?) we need to ask the larger questions. Questions not just for ourselves, but from a larger, observational perspective. Why? Because we understand that Midgard Earth consists of many more components than simply the physical realms. We also understand the physical Earth to be much more than what we're told: Speciation of at least seven races beyond humans, beings above, below and in-between, dimensional pockets, energy centers and ley lines, invisible areas created by technology, cloud cities, milk oceans, buried cities, sunken continents, Asgards connecting to other realms—the list goes on. If we are truly to be Guardians, we must not only understand our world, but acknowledge the parts we don't sufficiently comprehend or even engage with. Are we not responsible then for all facets of this beautiful nexus planet? What we do here creates ripples across the galaxy and beyond.

The formation of the following questions here all have elements of considered responsibility.

- What was the cosmic significance of the eclipse? Is this about the foretold solar return (or is it Sol-Ur or Soul-Ur?) - What dimension are we actually in? - What is the golden path? And what does it have to do with the east gate, if anything? - What do our visions and dreams mean beyond the Astral realm, but in the mental planes? - Is the person with whom I have/had an association and frequency exchange with in my life for a reason, a season or a lifetime? - What will we create? What happens next? - Am I remaining calm and heart-centered at all times? - Is something I do going to harm anyone else? - Are these negative thoughts mine? - Is this person in front of me here for my karma or am I here for theirs? - Should I even engage in this situation? - Did or do I consent to this? - Have I performed enough service to others? - Why does the sun feel so good right now? - What can I do to help bring the Blueprint forward?

These questions show awareness of surroundings, and someone who has paid attention to what is going on around him. It also shows a higher-developed thought pattern.

There are a gazillion questions we ask ourselves from day to day. Generally, the answers are inside of us, but unless we're operating in the heart, we won't get very many correct answers. Common questions that a higher-developing person asks themselves are: How am I doing? How could I do better? Did I make a mistake? Did I behave correctly? How will this affect myself or others in our soul development journey? Fortunately, the answers to most of these kind of questions are in the Perun Santies. It is all common sense, but they also serve as a guide and a checklist for how you are doing. As you continue your journey of self-mastery, the behaviors and admonitions from the Santies will become part of you and there will be fewer questions.

Here is a limited list of the qualities of a Guardian: Compassionate, forthright, giving, sense of humor, curious, dedicated, lover of life, willing to help, calm, happy, honest, seeker of truth, reliable, steady, confident, willing to lead without the title of leader, aware, loving, heart-centered, open-minded. If you put these together with the qualities written about in the Perun Santies 4, you will see a dynamic positive individual with much to give to this world. People will want to follow the example of someone such as this. The Vedas were meant to be lived and spoken, and not kept to oneself. Talking the talk, combined with walking the walk, forges a golden path before us. We become Way Showers

The following lyrics from the popular band Rush, apply here. If everyone is responsible and heart-focused, there is trust and life is easy: "And the men who hold high places, must be the ones to start To mold a new reality, closer to the heart The blacksmith and the artist reflect it in their art They forge their creativity closer to the heart Philosophers and ploughmen; each must know his part To sow a new mentality, closer to the heart You can be the captain and I will draw the chart Sailing into destiny, closer to the heart"

IV - Empowerment:

The developing Guardian now realizes all they cannot know and cherishes that which they do. Cosmic events hold great interest and evoke great emotion. This is sometimes accompanied by a remembering. But there are always epiphanies and realizations. A regular person would watch an eclipse basically two-dimensionally with their glasses that keep them in the dark. They would see what they are told to see. The ever-learning Guardian sees the full expression of the solar being in awe and wonder. Think of the example the Sol-ur being is setting for the entire planet.

Let's try an example: the recent eclipses. That day was just an eclipse to most, but many did not observe the truth of that day's events, which were larger and farther afield than one can imagine. The corollaries to and confirmations of previous events were many and layered. We stared at the brilliance in wonder, the scene ever-changing and complex, in defiance of the danger portrayed by those who do not wish us to see. We observed with open eyes, anticipation and joyous hearts. Agents of the light stood in silent witness protecting, creating, transmuting. The Ancients returned to render their heavenly assistance. A grand cosmic display of spiraling confluences and a beautiful spectrum of energies for those with eyes to see. The toroidal field on full display. Why not follow the example? - Radiate love. - Renew ourselves. - Banish the shadows with light. - Selflessly look after others. - Transmute that which does not serve you. - Shine your beacon for all to see. Yes, we should. But what kind of Guardian you become is your free-will choice. The realizations and experiences one will have along the way give them the knowing that they can never go back to the way things were. With seeing eyes and open heart, only a forward path of the golden variety will do. This is another example of a member's journey of discovery: The memory of music beckons me, a faint reminiscence of a bliss unrequited. A taste of a moment whose provenance eluded me. Not just music. There was more. I need to find it again. Once such an integral part of my being. A mother's nurturing, a touch from one's beloved, pure honesty and a sea of calm. Where have you gone? Or was it I who left? It seems that I searched for it everywhere but within myself. And I see now that my heart knew the way, It always did and it knows what to do now. Peeling away the strata of the fortress that I myself created, I embark upon my most important endeavor, self-discovery. A precipice is no longer a fear, but an opportunity to fly. From masking to truth, fog to clarity, hesitation to confidence, loathing to love, trauma to triumph, I shed my skin in every way and return anew into balance. Out of the mind and into the heart. Wisdom. Trust. Lightness. Freedom. I feel a tingling in my senses, there is more to be discovered now. My spectrum was confined to what I was told, was all that was available, yet the heart knows better. I breathe in the mosaic of my creation, for I have indeed created a new me. I expand my awareness and my cognition. Letting go of the weight of reasons, justifications and limitations that bound me. I project my essence beyond limitations. I see new pathways, new light, a new harmony, a new understanding. I see the sounds, hear the colors, feel the consciousness of beings ranging from microscopic to universal in size. I envelop myself in the symphony of this cosmic orchestra and I am one with it. All that is and will ever be is integrated into who I am, and who I have always been. There is nothing above nor below. I simply am. The planetary spheres sing a harmony unique to each of them. The confluence of these frequencies creates a larger chorus, which is a celestial opus unlike any other. I hear, see and feel this harmonic resonance interacting with all there is. This essence comes to me as pure love. It is the cosmic I AM.

When we release the weight from our hearts, the possibilities are infinite. There is a lightness of being, both spiritual and physical. It may even cause levitation. So how do we impart the importance of shadow work to others? It is, at times, a tall task to impart our level of enthusiasm and knowledge to any seeker of wisdom. We are only required to plant the seeds, but sometimes that requires a little fertilizer, if they ask for it. It's up to the seeker to water and grow. A Guardian can be a teacher precisely because they have been through the transformation of discovering, defying and transmuting the grand illusion that the controllers bound us to. A reminder that we began as the light of innocence, carrying the original wisdom. We've spent lifetimes trying to get back to that state, but it has always been within us. We've come full circle now. It's time to till the fields, plant seeds and thrive. Will you stay within your comfort, confined to the shadows? Where every hour wounds? Tolerate your burden as a monument to your resilience? Haven't you waited long enough? If you can understand this simple truth, that Mind has blinded and limited, while Heart strives ever long to see and expand.

Then wouldn't it follow that the fortress you have built to protect yourself could be a prison? And to think, you created all of it. Many times, we do not prescribe an answer or generally give instructions about how something is supposed to be done because everyone is unique and they are responsible for finding their own answers. Short-circuiting one's journey of discovery is not advisable. Giving others foundational information to answer the question and planting seeds is the best way. This develops self-trust and confidence. But it is a hand up, not a hand out. People need to get out of their own way. Most become grounded by the sad wings of yesterday. They live in a fog where the haze blinds and weighs us down. They are seeing with the wrong eyes. The release of the weight becomes our wings as we shed the past with a changed heart and then realize wings are no longer necessary. Life is so simple, but we make it so very hard. All you have to do is let it all go. Sailing ships will pass you by, but from your perspective they will disappear as you rise into vertical time and the road not yet travelled, which is golden.

V - (Mystery section) The Spiral Universe:

At some point, a Guardian will start asking questions of a higher composition. These queries are a necessary part our journey of discovery and this quest can be viewed as a spiral path, leading to the singularity of your own truth and the greater discoveries that lie ahead. A spiral inward reaches a singularity, which then becomes a spiral of expansion. Questions about the true nature of things, one's place within and about the grand swirling's of the cosmos, including who and what was I before? You begin to think not only as an observer, but as universal adult. Things that once held relevance and import begin to fade away and separate from us. Our scope is wide open. The I has become the We. We awaken to a new reality. Our truth is thus painted across the skies, our eyes a reflection of the heavens. As it is seen above, so it is below. This oneness is perpetuated throughout all existence. From busy microscopic creatures forging their destinies, to grand spiral arrays of galaxies and beyond. Each form and existence completes the whole. Wheels within wheels, spheres within spheres, systems within systems. Nothing is without dimension. Nothing is without purpose. As it is viewed within, so it is viewed without.

This kind of awakening is a gradual process. Here is an example of one member's journey, in prose: They tried to lock me down and steal the essence of my soul. But in the dawning of the day under the bright orange sun, I rise. I smashed their altars, so, I may be altered. Back to the original, the one I Am and will always be. They tried to trick me into slavery and mock me with their hypnotic spells. But in the end the original Word always spoke to me. I stood on the hill and surveyed the land before me. I watched in glorious wonder at the striking of the sword Vibrating with the light of the One on One with the One, I stand forever changed. You will never win, as we gather in our might, we trash the world that you lay in. I am forever united to the original, the flower of life within. I trash the copy of the copy, that you tried to hold me in. The chains are laying broken. While the lines of warriors rise and the new dawning of the day. I Am free, I Am me. The flower of life within me, the petals they unfold They stir the One that came before me. And I Rise, and I Rise, and I Rise.

This particular piece has heavy significance. It's hard to not get emotional if you understand it. But, we begin to have some facility to express ourselves as we develop, particularly when the throat chakra becomes clear. And, if you're also heart-centered, with the third eye open, word(s) become your (s)word.

Now. More on spirals. We said earlier that a spiral inward reaches a singularity, which then becomes a spiral of expansion. As below, so above the spirals appear everywhere, from water draining to the rotation of chakra energies to the shape of the Milky Way galaxy. This contraction and expansion of spirals is manifest throughout creation like a cosmic heartbeat. Spiral expansion waves are in every organic form, from black/white holes to pyramids to plants. One may view the egg timer in the same way. We even use a shield that spirals upward to a point. Which makes one wonder, if the top of the shield comes to a point of singularity. What happens when we apply as above so below? Does it expand outward to the other versions of ourselves? Is that why you might see extra energy or light at the apex of your shield? Just a thought. And so it is with the planets, perhaps. A long time ago, a friend mentioned a dream, involving a three-piece braid. Each strand of the braid contained a spiraling solar system of our planets, let's ponder a bit. When the strands are braided, there are 3 versions of our solar system spiraling in the same place, albeit separate. When the strands unwind, would three worlds become two? Then would two worlds become one? Is this how the separation of the old world from the new world would transpire? Again, just a thought. Many are worried about who they will be separated from when the time comes. Which strand will you be in? Perhaps the better question is, has separation already begun? It stands to reason that we may be further along than most think. For the aware observer, much has happened just in the last year, to show that everything has changed. Not just terrestrially, but in our solar system, particularly the sun and moon. So, one must ask, where are we now and where are we going? The answer? It is what it is. Enjoy the show.

Remember, you are part of everything. You are connected to the earth, the sun, the galaxy, the universe and everything in between, above, below, within and without. When you decide to reach out and connect with the sun, for example, you are connecting your plasma with the sun's plasma via filaments, that are universal binders to all matter. All it takes is a focused thought to create an intent, which creates the action of connecting, which creates the state of connectedness. But remember, also, your oversoul is already connected. The multidimensional aspect of being human negates distance because we are everywhere we think to be. We need to know what we are and understand the true nature of our world and environs, before we can truly become a guardian of it. We don't need to know everything, but we can make ourselves masters of what we decide to excel at. The time is now here. It is time to ask yourselves some serious questions: Will you rise and power your ascendancy by shedding your load? Do you dare to fathom how high you can fly? How much you can love? Do you understand the opportunity that lies before you? Do you have the courage to release that which does not serve you and to wrap your arms around a new way of being? Are you committed to keeping the faith of the ancient ways and restoring Midgard? Will you embrace your spiral of expansion? Will you dance? And as you stand at the threshold, will you take the ultimate leap of faith? The choice is yours. A fantastic piece of ponderings, musings and wonderings, one hopes it will inspire you all onto greater heights.

We are now entering a period of testing times on multiple levels, that has been simmering on largely in the background. Well now it is breaking into the public arena. Recent shows and the Common Sense zoom should have given you all the heads up by now, that something big is going to unleash. Maybe some of you have felt the tension, but not understood why. The cornered snake is lashing out and anything is possible now, as desperate people do desperate actions. Most times people withdraw into fear, worry and concern, but that will not help you or anyone else. You have been given the tools and warnings multiple times to get ready, did you all think I was joking? You thought wrong if you did. The shows from 2013 and the books have been telling you all along. What unfolds next is anyone's guess, but you were warned things would get ugly. Plans and actions have been unfolding in the background to prevent, disrupt or eliminate certain problems and I expect that to continue, in fact increase. The war played out in technological levels has ramped up, also on a traditional weaponry level as the clowns desperate to avoid defeat lash out and embarrass themselves. Message to them, give up before you all suffer a bad fate. To the minions, you are classed as part of the EL-ites, give up now before you all suffer a bad fate as well. For too long the dark forces have corralled you all into following the same script and people and beings have paid with their lives multiple times. We came to you offering a new script, where everyone has a chance to succeed, without the fear of looking over your shoulders all the time. But you, like the people have to date, by and large ignored it, that will be costly for them. To be offered a true change, requires many to step forward, but it has been sporadic and the few even in our own group. Consequences of those inactions are now coming home to roost. Excuses don't fly anymore, you will be judged upon your own input as the collective conscious will not save you from that. We have had multiple opportunities to make this stage easier and yet ignored them all. Instead of being directors, the many are now extras in a scene of their own creation, watching it all play out around them. Yes we all created the current and near future scene and stage, because only the few recognized or even bothered to take control of their own destiny. It is what it is, as I have said that many times. What is important now is: To observe not absorb. To think and act different. To stand in love not fear. To be in the heart not the head. Time has been running out like the egg timer over the duration of THI shows. All the shows were for your benefit only, not mine. The key was to create and manifest better times and outcomes. Go away from this show and find a quiet time and space and just listen to the soul, hear and bear its honesty, because it will tell you the truth, not the waffled, egotistical, lie and confusion version of the mind, you have convinced yourself of. Then make peace with it and truly change as a person. I carry on knowing I have done my best, the rest is now up to you all. The simple solution is.....
