

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2023-06-11

This will not be an easy show to read and certainly not to hear either. But after holding onto this document for around 8 years now, it is time to release it in its full gory details. I held onto it as I thought our members would not be ready for this, and other more interesting reveals came forward and quite frankly were easier to do. Part of the problem I faced is, that this would not be a one off show, which would have made things a bit easier. But this was a 36K page document and will take three shows to cover it all. We would all like to ignore this subject, but with many exposures having been revealed, it is time to go deeper. We must bring this to the light now to prevent further of these type of incidents and evil. The bringing into the light does and will reduce the energy connected to it and lessens the impact, the occurrences and the ease of movement these people have had, due to it all being hidden from us all. I warn you all this will be highly unpleasant to sin eat, but not as unpleasant for the victims of these evil practices. It will bring up very deep emotions and my Mewe vomit gif at regular intervals during this series. The depth of it is staggering, the scope of it also and you will begin to understand why we can never trust all the official institutions ever again. All the familiar names and labels are in here, with some surprising twists. This show and the two that follow will not be filtered in any way, it is brutal and graphic in many parts and will test your balance and emotions to the extreme. 45/55 will be tested to the extreme with this show. But out of the darkness into the light exposes it deeply, that withdraws the energy from it and it begins to dwindle thereonin. A very sad tale that is not a minority event or incident, it plays out in far too many circles, in particular the socialite, stars and elite circles.

Background: These stories and incidents were explored by authorities in the 1990's and subsequently hushed up. The name of this document is Pedophilia and Empire: Satan, sodomy and the deep state by Joachim Hagopian. Joachim went onto writing several books on this subject, which will have taken energy away. Let's see if we can highlight more on this show and it sparks many people into actions to end this once and for all. We thank Joachim for having to courage to speak up and highlight this evil.

Throwing its psychopathic child procuring killer Dutroux under the bus, then running over all its criminalized victims, is how Belgium protects its child raping, murdering kings and prime ministers. That's: When exposing a crime is treated as committing a crime, you know you are ruled by criminals. Anonymous.

The reality of an organized pedophilia network flourishing unabated throughout continental European nations, like Belgium and the Netherlands and beyond, is identical to pedophilia scandals in North America, Great Britain and Australia and essentially everywhere across the globe. More than any other national scandal, this one in Belgium illustrates the impunity of gangsterism and criminal free will of a sicko sodomite Establishment to rule and suppress, destroying and burying evidential proof of guilt by the world's ruling class of predator beasts. As always, the child victims who live long enough to become adults never see any real justice as their VIP perpetrators always remain untouchable and above the law. Decade after decade the pure unbridled evil of royalty, heads of church and state and their gatekeeping minions remain unpunished as never are these soulless, less than human creatures ever brought to prison for their sins against children and humanity. Yes the soulless entities devoid of compassion, love and any shred of dignity, never mind truth, honor and integrity. Shameless, unlawful clowns of a despicable order. Clowns are registered as fun jovial guys in kids parties, but they are much more. There was a clown realm in the dream time that terrified many children, luring them into horrible nightmares. But there was also a connection to these clowns in ET and Milab abduction scenarios as well. Which was documented by Steven Spielberg, another of the Jewish establishment revealing stuff all hidden in plain sight, with the TV series called Taken.

Prior to the ET abduction a van with clowns in approached the children and they were then taken and experimented on by off world creatures. Many abductees who have encountered those beings, all state the same characteristics of these pedophiles, no compassion, love or respect. Again, it's worldwide, it's nonstop and unchanging throughout history, till now. And proof of guilt has never been so blatant as in Belgium. This particular section within this A-Z pedo-sourcebook takes on the scandals at the heart of black nobility Europe, presenting this out-of-control widespread scourge beginning in nations like Belgium and the Netherlands, and from there expanding north, south and eastward. Though up to this point Britain's often been referred to as the planet's pedophilia epicenter, the Low Countries surrounding Brussels and Amsterdam, provide the linking hub across the 23-mile channel connecting the international child sex trafficking web to the Euro-lily pad beyond to Copenhagen, Stockholm, Paris, Munich, Berlin, Geneva, Milan, Rome, Madrid, Barcelona, Lisbon, Prague and Belgrade. And the European pedophilia network bypasses court prosecution of its elite to remain a booming enterprise to this day. That said, if in any real court of law within any nation, actually possessed the political will to clean up the pathological filth and damage done to its throwaway child victims, it would be convicting the guilty prior to them escaping this life to their graves. But the sad reality is no nation on earth is yet to hold the powerful perpetrators accountable, none, not one. Which means we the people must do it. We cannot wait for corrupt and controlled governments to do anything beneficial for us, it is pure folly. Particularly when many of them are actually involved in this, whether leveraged or not. That's why this treatise is being written, in the conviction that a new era is emerging where justice will finally be done and child fuckers and murderers will get prosecuted, convicted and put away for life. The fact that they've always gotten away with it, is the biggest reason why the elite are still practicing sodomy against children more than ever today, because they can. But that day is coming to an end.

Good people everywhere on this planet must step up and finally do the right thing by our children. The children are our future and must be protected at all costs from these creepy non-humansque entities that pervade within our midst. The following list of names have all featured heavily in THI and FHSTOS shows and books. This global network infrastructure is so infiltrated by such shadowy Deep State embedded secret societies and organizations. Like the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, which featured the former Queen of England, Nelson Mandela and Gerry Adams of IRA infamy. The Jesuits, Opus Dei, Freemasonry, Pilgrim Society, Bilderbergers, Committee of 300, Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateral Commission, Le Cercle, European Institute of Management and the 1001 Club, the latter trio being combination think tank lobby groups and private intelligence networks. Yes the infamous think tank clowns and the private intelligence networks are what we know them as, contractors. They collectively exercise control over promoted and installed puppets in national and continental governments, the major political parties and the global intelligence community, playing a significant intermediary role between the largely invisible black nobility overlords operating the planet-wide satanic pedophilia-blood sacrifice network. The fascist which is really Zionist roots of religious extremism serving as a cover for cabbalistic occultism aka Luciferianism, are indelibly imprinted in all of these criminally dark and subversive elitist outfits behind the worldwide cesspit of systematic child rape and slaughter. As just one index barometer, the ever-revealing, infamous black book belonging to Mossad sexual blackmail operator-child rapist-trafficker Jeffrey Epstein, himself a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and Trilateral Commission, contains the names of well over a hundred prominent members of these pedophilia-linked deep state groups, a veritable who's who of planetary owners and controllers. At the top of the list are two Illuminati gurus and lifetime members of every Luciferian club known – Henry Kissinger and the late David Rockefeller. Other famous VIPs on the list are unprosecuted fellow child rapist-Pilgrim Society member Prince Andrew, Serco CEO-fellow Pilgrim Society member Rupert Soames. Serco of course are a private network that runs all government services for the UK and America. Yes all the 19 or so services we thought were operated by the government, are actually run by this private club. The disgraced Canadian Pilgrim-Bilderberger-Trilateral Commission-media magnate Conrad Black, Pilgrim Viscount William Astor of the notorious Illuminati bloodline clan, failed US presidential wannabe-Trilateral Commissioner-Malta Knight-Jewish billionaire Michael Bloomberg, four Rothschild overlords and literally dozens of royalty and former heads of state from around the globe. The royalty we see in public are not the real royals per se, they by and large are a public relations exercise now, the real royals are not known to the public. These “royals” are known as bluebloods, why? Because they are not from our human kin is why. You'd best believe that all of these global movers and shakers knew exactly what Jeffrey Epstein and Mossad partner Ghislaine Maxwell were moving and shaking. Mossad have been running the leverage and blackmail program on all top people globally. They have vast files and agents subverting anybody who rises above the masses and then they work to subvert them into their program. Once in, there is no escape. After all, these same powerful individuals are the backroom planners of all wars, killer viruses, economic Depressions, globally trafficked children, human organs, drugs and arms.

This chapter will graphically demonstrate how Europe's sodomizing ruling class extends control over its political puppets through its all-too-familiar sexual blackmail system, absent of conscience, soul exploiting and destroying innocent, easily expendable children as convenient bait and fodder to run its deadly control matrix. This particular European scandal will focus on the diminutive sized nation of Belgium at just under 12,000 square miles near the size of the state of Maryland, home to just 11.5 million Flemish Dutch speaking and Walloon French speaking Belgian residents. Sandwiched between Netherlands to the north and France to the south, but also sharing an eastern border with Germany and southeastern border with tinier Luxembourg. Belgium in essence is another fake country, originally it was Holland South. They set up these country style entities and rewrite the rules of engagement to suit their own evil kind. With the capital Brussels its third region's home to both NATO and European Union headquarters, Belgium represents a key strategic geopolitical power point on earth, particularly in terms of New World Order dominance. Hence, no surprise it also serves as the primary crossroads connecting the larger European and global pedophilia trafficking network. Therefore, it should not come as such a shock that during the years between 1991 to 1996, when the Belgium pedophilia network was extremely active, leading up to the so called Dutroux Affair, 1300 kids in the small country vanished. No doubt many became fatalities in the Belgian elite's notorious pedo-scandal. By diabolically criminal design, pedophilia in Belgium has forever been linked to just one man, Marc Dutroux. He is to Belgium to what Epstein was to America, these agents are strategically placed and largely report back to Mossad. Like the JFK lone gunman Lee Harvey Oswald, Dutroux is merely Belgium's designated fall guy used to deflect attention away from the larger European pedophile network, involving the nation's most prominent bloodline families and political figures atop the Euro-power structure. Dutroux's monstrous infamy alone caused over one third of all bearers sharing his same surname to legally change their name. The elite pedophiles in Belgium made certain that their exposed scandal began and ended with this one man, benignly referred to as the Dutroux Affair, almost as if it's simply a capricious extramarital love-hate tryst. Constantly, Orwellian doublespeak carefully selects words connoting diffusion, distortion and absence of truth, i.e., federal reserve concealing the Rothschild private central banking enslavement. This affair only involved masked Belgian prime ministers and royalty murdering children in ghastly, demonic Sado-Masochistic snuff films, satanic ritual, blood sacrifice leveraging sexual blackmail upon influential VIP puppet targets, culminated by the longest, unresolved, agonizing criminal legal case in Belgium history, accompanied by the most aggressively murderous, egregious top-down, state sponsored cover-up in pedophilia history. Dutroux was always just a minor bit player and nothing more.

The real story is the bloodsucking leeches in the ruling class at the top of the Belgian-Euro satanic predator food chain. But there were other working-class stiffes besides Dutroux working the same turf as serial child raping, murdering procurers, namely auto mechanic Patrick Derochette. Just like Dutroux, Derochette was also a convicted pedophile who struck again with rape and murder and also finally caught years later. Derochette had raped four boys and spent all of seven weeks in a lockup mental institution diagnosed as a mental case, instead of dangerous serial sex offender. Nine-year old Loubna Benaissa disappeared in August 1992 walking to the local store for yogurt. She had to pass by a car repair shop one street from her home where she was abducted, raped and eventually brutally murdered. She was stuffed in the garage basement for the next four and a half years, before her body was finally discovered in March 1997 at the height of the Dutroux debacle, opening up fresh wounds across the nation. Two weeks after her disappearance, her friend saw her being driven in Derochette's car but when she reported it to the police, she was given the brushoff. It's near certain she wound up in the same pedo-ring operated by crime boss Jean Michel Nihoul, who was a regular customer at his service station and personally knew the Derochette family, as reputed patrons frequenting the same sex bars and clubs. Pedophile victim-witness Regina Louf or designated as X1 in the Belgian X-File Dossier, picked out Loubna as a fellow victim in the same network when police showed her photos of missing girls. The parallels between this rape-murder and Dutroux's, and the common link to pedo-web boss Nihoul is anything but coincidental. Plus, the bungled mishandling by the same complicit police forces appears identical to the Dutroux case. The police, it was stated found no evidence linking these two monsters together. Why? Because they always wish to portray these events and false flag events as the lone figure, otherwise the tentacles of truth has the potential to expand wider. The investigative judge presiding over this case was also a friend of Nihoul's, employing a law clerk that married into the Derochette family directly tied to Loubna's kidnapping and murder. Yet more of the incestuous nature of this death and suffering cult. Derochette's father was purportedly a colonialist friend of Nihoul's frequenting the same sex club child orgies. It's a small world when it comes to the same child rape and murder network in a little nation like Belgium. It's a small world which is a popular ride in Disney's Magic Kingdom, is actually an MK Ultra program for young children as well, ran by the CIA as we covered in an earlier FHSTOS show. In January 1998 The Telegraph reported: New Evidence from a lawyer involved in the investigations blows a hole in previous police claims, that there was no link between the cases involving the alleged child murderers Marc Dutroux and Patrick Derochette. Many will ask as to how you can keep this covered up and involve the police, judges and other high officials, it is simple, those people were employed into those roles by the pedophile network to close any chance of discovering what they are up to. Another serial child abductor-rapist-murderer in Belgium and France, Michel Fourniret, the Ogre of the Ardennes, follows this exact same pattern, covering up the same linked network of perpetrators and enablers to be expounded on further later in the chapter. The key point is, these infamous low life errand boys are all part of the same satanic network led by the same Luciferian black nobility that run the world.

During the mid-1990s, Dutroux, Derochette and Fourniret served among numerous murderous errand boy-procurers for the global pedo-network, in each of their cases, for the longest time all were protected by the Belgian mobster businessman Michel Nihoul and his royal and prime minister bosses. Dutroux abducted and sold child slaves for $5000 each to Nihoul, after raping, caging and sometimes murdering them in his secret, DIY underground dungeons built in his somehow affordable multiple owned properties. Had Dutroux and his accomplices not been caught, arrested and detained, the nationwide network of torture, rape and murder of young girls perpetrated by Belgium's super elite, would likely never have seen the light of day. Selling children for these entities is a special kind of evil and shows how much money can corrupt people. Through the debacle surrounding Dutroux and his cohorts' police protected crime sprees spanning the 1980s and 1990s, this disturbingly grotesque story exposes a high-end trafficking web operated by black nobility bloodlines, that include political puppets as the usual suspects. The blackmailed prime ministers, cabinet ministers, parliament members, judges, police and CEOs, the crème de la crème class regularly participating in highly organized satanic ritual abuse, often taking place in nearby countryside castles and manors. As in every scandal where victims and witnesses allude to satanic eyes wide shut rituals and blood sacrifice, the unbelievably shocking horror is always exploited and preyed upon by establishment media to portray truth tellers as insane fantasists, typically evoking such bogus standbys as the False Memory Syndrome. Typical of the media as they are involved in it as well, all media has the stench of suffering, torture and sexual abuse of the children on their hands. Once again actual Luciferian worshiping child rapists in high places escape justice, systematically getting away with highly organized, shielded murder of unshielded, highly vulnerable, expendable innocents. Now you will understand as to why I wrote the full disclosure for full disclaimer section of our Blueprint. It is to rout out the worst kind of criminals and remove them all from society once and for all. The powerful guilty have used this effective formulaic strategy the world over every single time to drown out the demonic truth. Yet the Belgian X Files of actual witnesses, police reports, a 1997 parliamentary commission findings and statements from Mark Dutroux and Michel Nihoul unequivocally indicate a massive pedo-network atop the power elite. Complete with cameras, aka intelligence services notably in America the CIA, via the Jeffrey Epstein-Ghislaine Maxwell operation for sexual blackmail of most important political figures. The CIA has access and indeed owns most of the hotels these top people all use, they are bugged and cameras everywhere to entrap them into the program. Marc Paul Alain Dutroux was born on November 6, 1956, in Ixelles, Belgium as the eldest of five children. Both his parents were schoolteachers and when Marc was still an infant they moved to the Belgian Congo for several years, during an increasingly unstable political climate leading to the Congo's independence in 1960. Dutroux has stated he was beaten by his parents as a youth in an unhappy, conflict-ridden home. After his parents divorced in 1971, by age 16, Dutroux left his mother's domicile. While an adolescent drifter, he began selling his body to older homosexual men, establishing the predatory pimp-child victim dynamic that drove much of his inherently violent criminality.

Early on as an adult, Dutroux quickly opted for the criminal life, mostly as a petty thief, thug and drug dealer though he trained as an electrician. In 1975 at age 19, he married his first wife but as an unfaithful wife-beater, he later separated in the 1980s. Dutroux met his second wife Michele Martin at a skating rink where Dutroux commonly sexually assaulted underage girls, pretending to bump into them accidentally. Eventually he divorced his first wife and married his accomplice wife in 1985. Throughout the 1980s Marc Dutroux repeatedly raped underage girls. From the outset, his life of crime proved slow to legally catch up to him. By December 1985 both he and his accomplices that included his wife Michelle were repeatedly abducting, and Dutroux and company were repeatedly raping at least five teenage girls, the youngest only 11. A couple of his victims were never found and presumed murdered. Whilst in many cases it is men involved in this, there are a large proportion of women also involved. The Nxium and Epstein and many other cases proved that fact, whether it is procurement, covering up or actually involved themselves in the sadistic practices. Yet somehow he avoided prison until 1989 while continually committing horrendous crimes, brutally robbing a 58-year-old woman with a razor blade in her vagina. Dutroux was finally convicted in 1989 but then only served three of his 13.5-year prison sentence. One has to question whether he was imprisoned at all? Because like Epstein, he was likely moved to another place whilst pacifying the public that the criminal has been served justice. Often these pedophiles are transferred to Israel, as they do not have a extradition policy, hence why Epstein was sent there, whilst others arranged a fake suicide plot. Once out, protected by police and judiciary, he quickly reverted right back to his old familiar ways. Dutroux's own mother Jeanine Lauwens wrote to the prison director in 1992 warning him against her son's early release: What I do not know, and what all the people who know him fear, it's what he has in mind for the future. Yet Belgium's Justice Minister Melchior Wathelet, who as interior minister signed Dutroux's unusual decade early prison release, was the same accused derelict alleged to have attended child sex orgies where child torture and murder were committed. This misdeed from on high was also committed in spite of the fact that: A medical report described him Dutroux as a perverse psychopath, an explosive mix. He was an evident danger to society. At the time of Dutroux's August 1996 arrest, though Wathelet took some heat for his earlier "poor" judgment unleashing the killer back into society, it hardly stopped Wathelet from attaining new heights of success. According to the late David McGowan in his classic 2000 exposé The Pedophocracy, Part 1: Wathelet was rewarded with a prestigious appointment to serve as a judge at the European Court of Justice at The Hague. Just like I mentioned earlier, these pedophiles are deliberately employed in these high positions to cover up theirs and others involvement, should a story come to the light. In 1997 the accused child raping, overachieving pedo-judge was further rewarded with an additional 6-year extension at his lofty post serving on the highest European Court. Once compromised and owned for taking part in systematic rape and slaughter of children, as long as you do what you're told by your masters, all the wealth, fame, prestige, power and protection are yours. That's the crux of how this putridly inversed Luciferian system works. And from the low end of the pedo-machine as a mere child supplier, protection and privilege are limited, especially when the entire perverse system is at stake of being toppled. After years of favored protection, Dutroux found himself on the outs, no longer shielded as the pedo-network's scapegoated fall guy. To save itself, the system went out of its way looking the other way for Dutroux, granting him preferential lax treatment by government, judiciary and law enforcement authorities, never delivering appropriate, fair and just punishment for his kidnapping, raping and probable murder, of no doubt far more than the five victims for which he was convicted. As long as the pedo-cabal's self-preservation benefits by shielding low-end criminals like Dutroux, he remained protected. But once it was no longer feasible or self-serving, in the end, the cabal always throws the lowest hanging rotten fruit under the bus as its scapegoated patsy, the isolated pervert as the lead magistrate called him. Boss man Nihoul, with all his high-end connections, was deemed high enough on the food chain, to receive a mere slap on the hand, token punishment. But everyone above him on the predator food chain, members of the inner club and pillars of society, always get a free lifetime pass on their heinous crimes, no matter how despicably vile, such is the law of the pedo-jungle.

During the years immediately following Marc Dutroux's premature 1992 prison release, the number of children reportedly missing in Belgium began rising significantly. But the nation's intelligence and security agency known as BOB, a branch of the Gendarmerie equivalent to America's FBI, was unable to develop any solid leads. All of which is a total lie, because they sat on numerous tipoffs and leads, all leading straight to Marc Dutroux. By 1995, figuring rightly so that he was well-protected by police, pedophile Dutroux had already been busily abducting and raping children for three years, feeding the pedo-machine, supplying ordered flesh and blood commodities on demand for untouchable satanic worshipping slave masters. Shortly after prison, Dutroux began building cages as holding cells in secret compartments in the basements of his many homes. And it was there in his DIY-made holding tanks that Dutroux would lock girls up and repeatedly rape them as his own defiled objects of sadistic violence. The cabal paid the former electrician and builder turned prolific child abductor-procurer well for his services, at any given time enabling him to reportedly own anywhere from 5 up to near a dozen homes, while enjoying fulltime access to violently raping little girls. Towards acquisition of his main residence in the Charleroi suburb of Marcinelle, fresh out of prison in 1992, Dutroux plunked down hard cash to acquire the property for twice the amount of the next offer. Nobody gave it a second thought to question how or where the money came from. But be assured, it wasn't from 3-years of isolation in prison, obviously it was his welcomed return to the crime syndicate for his paid obligation, as child procurer within Belgium's commercial child sex trade. As long as he provided an ongoing fresh supply of on-demand child victims to the nation's pedo-network, he was golden. Dutroux's investment in homes and his DIY secret underground prisons built under his multiple properties proved incredibly lucrative in an expanding global child sex slave trade and internet porn. The ushering in of the computer age created a booming child pornography market and pimping young girls for elite sickos was never more enticingly profitable. Thus by 1995 and 1996, missing Belgian children in the vicinity of Dutroux's many owned homes proliferated into worldwide Big Business. Yet police were at a loss for leads? What a sick joke that is. With kickbacks buying protection in the movement of stolen kiddie flesh, child snuff porn and stolen cars, and a wide-open market expanding in the Czech Republic, Slovakia and Poland, the sky was the limit. Dutroux is on record having made multiple trips to other European pedo-hotspots like Slovakia, the Czech Republic, Hungary and Austria. I am sure it goes on in many countries, but the fact that most of these types of cases take part in white countries, bares a deeper look and thinking about these incidents. Given the extensive knowledge we revealed in the FHSTOS series, the denigration of mainly white children brings in deeper dot connectors and concerns. Is this another way the evil sub gray races are bringing down the white race by inseminating as many as possible to destroy their lineage? I would not put it past those evil dark forces, as they have shown to be evil of the highest possible order. Among countless unanswered questions in this shocking tragedy that begs illumination, is how does an unemployed former electrician and convicted sex offender living off $1,200 a month on welfare subsistence come to reportedly own up to 11 mostly vacant homes in Belgium? Even if, as authorities claim, he was operating as a lone nut criminal, which of course we know he wasn't, there'd be no way possible for him to afford acquiring so many properties at his disposal. Because the system only keeps track of honest and upstanding people, everything else is given free reign it appears. With his co-defendant wife on a schoolteacher's salary, plus his monthly welfare check and supplemental criminal income earned from selling drugs, stolen cars and underage girls, it still doesn't add up. Unless he was financed by a mega-mafia pedo-Establishment with unlimited resources, not unlike the Mossad Epstein operation, just another anomaly among so many in the bogusly false official narratives. Moreover, lead police investigator Patrick De Baets discovered that since Dutroux's early prison release in 1992, officially collecting welfare ever since, within just four years Dutroux amassed a relative fortune. His financial worth skyrocketing to an estimated 6 million francs which is equivalent to him making 1 million USD, with a sizeable bank account deposit noted, after each missing girl from an area near one of his properties disappeared. Yet Belgian security services maintain they had no leads.

On top of the disastrous disgrace, that a convicted violent psychopathic serial child rapist-killer that both prison doctors and his mother already expressed grave reservations to setting him loose on society, and an accused sadistic child rapist minister-judge ascending to the European Court overriding their warnings, while always in ownership of more than a half dozen properties. Dutroux then manipulated a psychiatrist to placing him on welfare with a fake disability pension, prescribing him an unlimited drug supply, including the date rape drug Rohypnol used to regularly sedate and rape little girls, as well as sedate and bury alive three murder victims. It's been one protected horror scheme after the next, but the complicit state's insistence that Dutroux was an isolated perv who never received assistance or protection from any outside source beyond his wife and one other accomplice, is the most absurd joke that would be totally laughable if it wasn't so damn pathetically tragic. The nation of Belgium is part of the worldwide mafia pedophilia cabal, just like its neighbors Netherlands and Britain. This crime cabal set up by the same rich, powerful international pedo-Establishment, is bent on sexual blackmail of prominent puppet politicians around the globe. All three high profile cases – Epstein, Savile and Dutroux, illustrate this sobering reality. After all, how else did an aging, way past-his-prime, mere radio DJ own multiple plush properties, multiple Rolls Royce's, lots of flashy gold jewelry and be Britain's #1 children's charity fundraising donor and #1 protected pedophile in British history, unless he was also #1 child procurer to the rich and famous members of the pedo-cabal? Along with Charlie Ward of Alt Media internet infamy, he stated it in his own words, yet stupid people listened to him and believed his bullcrap, including the Trustee. Likewise, how did a college dropout with no clients other than one Zionist Mega Group billionaire Les Wexner, own four sprawling mansions and a partridge in a pear tree, while overnight turn into a protected multibillionaire himself overnight? Granted, operating on a slightly smaller budgetary scale, Belgian multiple property owner Dutroux also functioned as child procurer for the same international pedo-Establishment. Epstein, Savile and Dutroux were all involved in the shady business of child sexual blackmail, and as such, all three were well-compensated for their child procuring services. All three were sexual predator-psychopathic pedophiles of the first and worst order, serving the exact same international criminal cabal, feeding children into the elite insatiable jaws of the wicked Luciferian ruling class. Both Epstein and Savile's celebrity-hood status with super-close ties to heads of state and royalty kept their sorry satanic asses out of prison, not counting Epstein's overnight Palm Beach sleepovers nor his one-month NYC stint, that's basically the only real difference between them and Dutroux. If not a serial murderer himself, there's little doubt that Savile was minimally an accomplice to murders committed by Britain's most infamous serial killers who, like princes and prime ministers, were his best buddies. Jimmy Saville and his accomplices were investigated in early 1990's by Scotland Yard, the UK's equivalent of the FBI. The case was going well until they connected all the dots and all the leads pertaining to that case led to one place, Buckingham Palace and the royals. Scotland Yard closed the case as I understand it, due to the ultra-high profile of those involved. So with all three there exists lots of undeniable parallels and connecting ties to the same pedo-mafia bluebloods, aka the Anunnaki hybrid descendants running this world to this day. The author stated that line and nice to see and hear more people talking this way, like THI has always done. These people go under the banner of Jews, but those at the top of this evil are not Jews at all, they are off world imposters, whether hybrids or not. These are the Koshey's from 110K years ago we revealed in parts 1 & 2 of FHSTOS. That series and book reveals it in such stark clarity, even the skeptical must begin to question the official story.

Ultimately from 1992 to 1996 when a slew of missing girls sprang up across Belgium, where were the police whose job is to protect and serve the public? When 1300 children disappear in a tiny nation the size of Maryland from 1991 to 1996 and a bunch of missing girls keep turning up in Dutroux's neighborhoods, police should have immediately checked on all previous convicted abductor-rapists. Dutroux admitted to receiving protection from police and for them not to track this asshole down as soon as underage girls were disappearing since the early 1990s, is damaging clear-cut evidence that Dutroux was on the dole receiving complicit protection from law enforcement and judiciary. Dutroux, his crime boss Michel Nihoul and a rogue faction within Belgian law enforcement and gatekeeping judges were clearly in cahoots working criminally together within the flourishing nationwide pedophilia network, all possessing the same despicable habits of getting off on raping, torturing and murdering children. This evidence is irrefutable. Lending even more solid proof confirming this blistering reality, during the first week of the Dutroux police investigation back in August 1996, one of seven suspects initially rounded up and arrested was senior police inspector Georges Zicot. Dutroux claimed two police officers had helped him and his accomplice Michel Lelievre in August 1995 pounce on his two teenage abductees, An Marchal and Eefje Lambrecks in Ostend. Additionally, less than a month after Dutroux's August 13, 1996, arrest, shortly after police inspector Zicot's arrest during the earliest phase of the Dutroux investigation, nine fellow police officers were also detained. According to a September 11, 1996, Los Angeles Times article: The raids were the latest indication that police in the southern city of Charleroi may have helped cover up the alleged crimes of Marc Dutroux. The fact that Dutroux repeatedly admitted to working with police and with so many police officers arrested and detained is extremely telling, strongly indicating they were engaged in criminal partnership, which also explains why Dutroux was so often helped by supposedly faulty police methods and such sloppily applied gross incompetence. Even the Washington Post reported that unaccounted for missing children linked to Dutroux was part of a child-prostitution ring that may have enjoyed police protection. The fact is, Dutroux and key gatekeepers within the three Belgian police forces were in league together, all operating within the nationwide pedophile ring. So another glaring anomaly that blows the lid off the state's bogus lone predator contention is the fact that according to AP, just two weeks into the initial investigation by late August 1996, police had already rounded up 10 arrested suspects, by October that number had risen to 13. September's detainment of nine Charleroi police officers on suspicion of criminal complicity in the cover-up and three magistrates brought in for interrogation, lends ample credence to Dutroux's insistence he was part of a much larger pedophile operation protected by state agents. Aside from the main suspect, with a dozen others arrested, it hardly can be called a one-man operation. While Dutroux was detained in December 1995 on a carjacking charge for three and a half months, the two girls trapped in cages at his Charleroi dungeon were left to die without food, water and electricity through the winter months. Dutroux's kindergarten schoolteacher wife who worked with children near the same age as the two girls wasting away in her basement. Despite being a mother of three young kids of her own, she would daily go to the house to feed their dogs, yet chose not to bother leaving any food for their captive third graders starving to death in their cages below. Later telling police in her lame defense that she was too frightened that 8-year-old little beasts would attack her. So she chose to coldly just let them die. A reminder, inhumanely locking up horrifically abused young traumatized children in cages, subjected to systematic torture while being drugged and undergoing trauma-induced dissociative disorder as enslaved mind control victims is the exact same Paperclip/Tavistock. Indeed and I am glad that was brought up as well. A derived protocol used en masse by the CIA in its still ongoing MK Ultra Monarch mind control torture programming, conjointly used by multiple generation Illuminati families worldwide as well. There is definitely a parallel connection between the CIA mind control-child abduction-pedophilia-torture-murder operation and Belgium and Europe's quasi-mind control-child abduction-pedophilia-torture-murder operation. It's all globally interlinked and interconnected, run by the same criminal operators. The Monarch program we have covered in earlier shows, uses young girls in bloodline families as patsies for the CIA. They create multiple alters to do their dirty work and send them out into the community to spy, assassinate, false flag incidents, disrupt your home, family and friends.

The totality of this book's running theme is the recognizable in-our-face fact that, a Luciferian agenda to cruelly enslave the masses demonstrates an overwhelming preponderance of proof. Yet the guilty cabal remains criminally intact. Marc Dutroux shared his twisted wet dream fantasy with his attorney Julien Pierre, who represented him from 1996 to 2003, from his year of arrest right up to the year leading to his long-awaited trial: Do you realize that no one has ever asked why I chose that house, that region? My idea was to carry out mass kidnappings of children and then to create, in a mine shaft, a sort of underground city where good, harmony and security would prevail. That is referring to the underground cities, where everything is provided for the people and beings who frequent down there. Some of those cities are vast and house many people and or beings, with all energy, food and what is required for them, all coming out of the surface people's pockets. These cities are then connected to military bases on the surface, hence the no entry signs across vast swathes of the country, known better as DUMBS as we will find out in the next section. DUMBS of this kind are built out of black budget funding to avoid any conflict, examination or scrutiny and comes under the banner of National Security. Whenever the word National is used, it is generally to cover up the criminality behind the organizations using it. Like National Zionism, which when shortened from the first two letters of both words, equals Nazi. Why Dutroux chose Charleroi to set up his operation? The economically depressed, post-industrial city in the French Wallonia southern section of Belgium has the reputation as the nation's mafia headquarters, a natural fit for Dutroux to choose buying up so much property in the region. And regarding his vision of an underground city, he's not too far off, considering that deep cavernous underground chambers comprising subterranean cities and tunnels have long been part of the Deep State's black budgeted infrastructure for decades. Deep underground military bases (DUMBs) and cross continental high speed transport systems are covertly paid for by illicit international trade in drug-arms-child sex-human organ trafficking. Nearly all major above ground military installations are equipped with DUMBs, including Area 51 near Las Vegas, Dulce, New Mexico and California's Edwards Air Force Base. Edwards Air Force base was the location of Eisenhower meeting the tall greys in 1954, whereby an agreement for abductions of 2% of Americans was signed, in return for technology for the military and agency benefits only. Given the CIA took over the control of the UFO and Alien problem, originally alongside Majestic 12, but then after deleting them it appears they have a greater control of the narrative and directives. These massive underground military facilities typically include top secret subterranean multi-level platforms used as ultra-secret guarded settings, where mind controlled child sex slaves are housed and abused, often permanently kept in cages. Plus in so called milabs the elite engage in genetic experimentation, ET abduction, mind control torture abuse, satanic ritual abuse and blood sacrifice in today's hidden underground Luciferian world. Also Dutroux's idea to build underground cages and dungeons is a familiar theme in satanic ritual abuse scandals. Recall the Hampstead kids being taken to hidden secret chambers and rooms for abuse, the McMartin Preschool victims referring to underground tunnels that eventually were proven real. Also recall the reptilian ETs and grays that dwell in subterranean environments. This author knows his stuff and the real issues and reasoning as to what really goes on beneath our feet.

Dutroux's conceptual grand vision shared with his lawyer is actually already in existence, except his fantasy where good, harmony and security prevail. That is likely the reflection of his own demented, narcissistic world where torture and abuse carried on deep within the safe confines of the underground, bring only him and others of his evil ilk harmony and security. It is this subterranean domain where the Luciferian pedophilia network commonly partakes of its occult perversions worldwide. Harvesting and drinking trauma-induced adrenochrome blood and ritualistically calling for interdimensional demonic possession in these vile hidden sanctuaries as the devil's playground, no doubt offering a very real sense of security for the predatory, less than human creatures. Some have even reported that the US Marines and Navy Seals as part of a Pentagon Pedophile Task Force, are destroying DUMBs in covert operations to rescue enslaved children. And that the Red Cross vessels like the Mercy docked in LA and the Comfort in the New York City harbor recently were saving and treating trafficked kids emerging from tunnels and DUMBs. Virtually no media coverage promoting Dutroux as the lone wacko pedophile, will ever connect dots to either CIA mind control or the elites' global pedo-network. Highly organized satanic ritual abuse and blood sacrifice globally practiced by Luciferian Illuminati elites often also utilize the heavily guarded sanctity of their countryside manors and castles, including underground tunnels and caverns, to conduct their occult satanic rituals where children are mercilessly tortured and slaughtered. The infamous Chateau des Amerois located in southern Belgium not far from Dutroux's Charleroi residence is but one prime example. But more on this demonic house of horror shortly.

Just a year after Belgium's alleged pedophile minister of interior granted Dutroux his get-out-of-jail-card, a decade plus earlier than his original 13.5-year prison sentence, things began to heat up as more events were revealed. As early as 1993, the cops began receiving tips from at least three different sources informing police, that Dutroux had attempted to entice them to join his lucrative child abduction enterprise, waving before them a $3000 to $5000 carrot stick price tag per child. In October 1993 Claude Thirault, a tenant from one of Dutroux's homes, was one day riding in his car when Dutroux suddenly remarked, there's a fresh one, pointing to a very young girl walking down the street. He then boasted of the money to be made, selling girls into sexual slavery abroad as an impromptu recruiting ad. Instead, right afterwards Thirault went straight to the police. Then in early 1995, prior to two 8-year-old girls' June kidnapping, an informant disclosed that Dutroux was building secret compartmental chambers in his basements to imprison abducted girls. In June 1995, Dutroux was sued for illegally widening his basement opening, in order to install venting tubes in his dungeon cell. Though starting in early August 1995, the police placed Dutroux under supposed surveillance for five months, yet law enforcement failed to stop, notice or intervene in his deadly kidnapping operation whatsoever, despite receiving repeated warnings at the same time, that an influx of young girls were reported missing near many of his homes. With all this vitally concrete information flooding in, on top of surveilling his premises, it's unconscionable that he was never even contacted directly or brought in for questioning. It was almost as if police were going out of their way to protect him, Why? Because they were in on the whole operation. On June 24, 1995, eight-year-old friends Julie Lejeune and Melissa Russo went to an overpass bridge near their homes in a Liege suburb, to wave at the passing cars below and were never seen by their loved ones again. Dutroux abducted the two young girls and began keeping them hidden in locked cages in his basement dungeon in Charleroi. Their disappearance drew little media attention, despite a spiked number of recent missing girls reported in Belgium since Dutroux's 1992 prison release. Soon after her abduction, little 8-year-old Melissa Russo was reportedly sighted at several locations, one in an upstairs room of a seedy Charleroi nightclub where wealthy pedophiles were known to carouse. After Dutroux kidnapped the 8-year-old girls that same month, the original informant Claude Thirault went back to police warning them about Dutroux's plans to kidnap girls and altering his basement to install prison cells. Several days later the police actually got back to Thirault asking if he had any more solid evidence that would legally justify attaining a search warrant. Unbelievable, given his prior criminal record and knowing he was planning to abduct and lock up girls up in his basement, what more do they need for seeking a search warrant? Again, orders of police protection appear more than evident.

Another cruel act of fate working against Melissa and Julie's survival was the investigative magistrate assigned to their missing persons' case. A woman whose surname is phonetically pronounced the same as the perpetrator, Judge Martine Doutrewe, was leaving on an extended Italian vacation and not due back till August 9, almost two months after the poor girls' abduction. Then on top of that, she was suffering from ill health after surgery, ultimately dying of cancer by 1999 while at that time her husband was facing embezzlement charges of millions of euros. She never got involved with the case, never arranging a wiretap, a search warrant, or an inquiry into Dutroux's finances, all the while maintaining little to no contact with investigating police. In other words, regarding the welfare of these two tortured, seriously life endangered girls, she was good for nothing. A brutally unkind fate? Failure of a broken system? Or premeditated protection of a known criminal operating within the known larger pedophilia network, self-designed to shield the most powerful criminals in the country? Or perhaps combination of all three factors operating together, with the latter seemingly carrying the most weight. The pedophile ring's alleged mastermind as organizing host of many of the elite's rape-torture-blood sacrifice encounters, Michel Nihoul, was a regular patron at a number of his favorite nightclubs where pedophilic activities frequently occurred. One of the girls' parents hired a private investigator since the police never took the disappearance cases seriously. The PI came up with a profile that the abductor was likely unemployed and very methodical. Given all the known parameters including his prior conviction and current status on the welfare dole, Dutroux was only one of five suspects in the entire small country that perfectly matched the profile. Yet incredibly, even with police watching Dutroux under daily surveillance, they still made no move to even question him. Instead, they report they had no leads. Then on top of all the tipoffs from informants with the camera watching his home, lead investigator Rene Michaux even received a letter from Dutroux's mother Jeanine Lauwens, explaining that she'd been approached by her son's frightened neighbors complaining of strange loud noises coming from the basement of her son's Charleroi residence, the same location where the camera was foolishly turned off every day at 6PM. With convergence of so many trails all leading to this one known repeat offender Marc Dutroux, abducting four girls that summer all being kept at his Charleroi address causing such a neighborhood ruckus. All while the child fiddler was doing his damage under the nose of law enforcement officers, they still allowed him to continue abducting yet more girls, committing yet more heinous crimes. In no way can all this insanity simply be written off as police incompetence. It is not as we have found out in other pieces, that judges, lawyers, police, social services and child protection agencies are all in on this heinous level of crime.

By late 1995, it clearly becomes conspiratorial criminal complicity as a clear cut accomplice to abduction, rape and murder, crimes committed by both this obviously well-protected monster, but also the crimes being committed by his and Nihoul's larger VIP crime syndicate as well. No doubt emboldened by such overt signs of police protection, less than two months after abducting Julie and Melissa, on assistance from two police officers, Dutroux would later acknowledge, on August 22, 1995 he struck again. An Marchal, 17, and Eefje Lambrecks, 19, were enjoying a camping trip at the seaside town of Ostend, about ready to make their way home, when they were kidnapped on their last night on holiday. Dutroux and drug addict accomplice Michel Lelievre, allegedly paid off in drugs, reportedly picked them up hitchhiking at night, after they'd been hypnotized earlier that evening onstage attending a magician's show. A dark magician's show no doubt, all of which makes me believe they were part of a coven. Since Dutroux's dungeon was already occupied with the 8-year-olds, Dutroux elected to chain his latest victims to a bed in one of his rooms at the same Charleroi address. Ostensibly these latest girls were abducted on orders from Dutroux's crime boss Michel Nihoul. During their relative short stay as raped captives, on August 25, Eefje even managed to climb out the bathroom window and the two teenagers were even seen by neighbors in Dutroux's garden at one point. For the likely reason that, the 17- and 19-year-old adolescents were judged too old, to be of use to the pedophilia network catering to the elite's deviant perversion for younger girls. Within weeks after they'd been abducted, Dutroux elected to drug and kill them, mercilessly burying them alive after wrapping them up in plastic sheets and disposing them in a hole under a shed at another one of his homes. According to the German publication Der Spiegel: An and Eefje lived only a few days. They were murdered, burned and buried after their execution was recorded on video. Which was no doubt recorded for elites and the propensity for liking snuff movies. Bizarrely they get sexual excitement watching people being tortured, raped and eventually killed. These people are beyond sick, just pure evil. Less than a week after killing An and Eefje, 14-year-old Alexandra Scalon was found in Charleroi-Nord, murdered with a bashed in skull. Charleroi judicial police senior inspector, Georges Zicot, summoned Dutroux to the police station for the "formality" of questioning. Less than a year later, Zicot himself would be arrested as a suspect in the Dutroux case. Two months later in November 1995 a young girl was raped and found with a slashed throat in Obaix. Chloroform had been used; the same substance observed by police in Dutroux's basement several weeks later. Again, Zicot and Dutroux danced through their familiar routine, without as much as hair and blood analysis required of Dutroux, as opposed to Zicot's two other possible suspects. Without an alibi, the known convicted sex offender's investigation in this latest crime was terminated, compliments of senior inspector Zicot. You can see now how the Charleroi police were under orders to remain in total cahoots with the Dutroux-Nihoul pedo-network? Because the Charleroi police worked in criminal partnership with Dutroux's auto theft trade, they permitted his movement of stolen children supplying the elite to slide as well, acting as enablers and some as child rapists themselves within the widespread criminal network. One honest prosecutor in Michel Bourlet found the Obaix rape victim's hair inside a car belonging to Dutroux's accomplice Bernard Weinstein and reopened the case, noting the obvious: The necessary things were not done here deliberately.

So Dutroux was extremely well-protected with assistance from both the Charleroi judicial police, as well as the Charleroi Gendarmerie BOB security service branch and top cops in Brussels. Speaking of which, assigned BOB's lead detective, René Michaux, supposedly had Dutroux and his Marcinelle residence under surveillance for five months during Operation Othello throughout his entire crime spree, from August 10, 1995, to January 1996. But due to the camera set up for only daytime business hours, failing to detect Dutroux's nocturnal criminal activities, under the cover of night when criminals are most active, police failed to notice two more kidnapped girls brought into the home on the night of August 23, 1995. A couple weeks later the teenage girls were taken out of the home to another Dutroux address and brutally murdered, all under the blind look the other way eye of Belgium's security services, led by its fearless leader Rene Michaux. While Dutroux's homicide victims were coming and going, so was the nation's top intelligence agency, entering and inspecting the Dutroux home three different times, yet yielding zero results other than four dead girls. During Operation Othello, Dutroux was allowed to execute 4 minors and an adult accomplice in Bernard Weinstein. That name Weinstein crops up again, as Harvey Weinstein who was born in New York and born to Jewish parents also committed numerous sexual offenses. The citizens of Belgium and the world are supposed to actually believe this unfolding tragedy, was simply the result of a bunch of bungling cops? The official narrative falls to pieces under the spotlight of these alarming known facts. But there's more. After Dutroux was jailed for car theft in early December 1995, Detective Michaux and a locksmith even located the secret entrance to the Charleroi home basement, in search of Dutroux's homemade dungeon that at the time was still holding the two missing 8-year-olds, that informants and Dutroux's mother had already clued police in on. Both Michaux and the locksmith distinctly heard muffled girls' cries for help. According to the locksmith's testimony: I remember almost nothing of the house search, except one thing: when I went down with Rene Michaux and handed him a searchlight, we both clearly heard two children's voices. Of two little girls. One said three or four words, the other briefly answered: one word of one syllable. It lasted a few seconds. At that moment, a colleague of Michaux came running down the stairs making a lot of noise. Michaux shouted: Tais-toi – Silence! We heard nothing after that anymore. No doubt following orders to sabotage the case, the lead detective's demand for silence effectively silenced the hapless, ill-fated girls to their death, and Michaux stubbornly insisted the voices must have come from outside. Though the accompanying locksmith vehemently disagreed, in an Inspector Clouseau-like moment, the annoyed investigator turned to him and retorted, Who's doing the investigation here? Later during his trial testimony, Michaux would maintain that he was certain that the noises had come from the children playing outside, that he bogusly claimed to observe upon entering the residence. But the locksmith who was with the police inspector the whole time, emphatically insisted that it was in the middle of the week during school hours and that there were clearly no children present outside playing upon their arrival. The lame excuse trying to cover his own lying ass backfired, thanks to the headstrong testimony of the locksmith. Despite knowing Dutroux's basement had been recently renovated constructing his hidden dungeon, Inspector Michaux failed to notice that one of the walls looked newer, in contrast to the three other older walls. Which covered up the L-shape dug out underground for additional cell space, where their cries for help were just several feet away from them on the other side of the wall. Nor did the inspector apparently make anything of the vaginal cream, the speculum, handcuffs, chloroform and two videotapes, one labeled a program about missing children and another containing footage of Dutroux raping a 14-year-old girl and him actually building his bookshelf latch-way to his dungeon. They were returned to Dutroux's wife, after never ever, having even been looked at, which is too hard to believe.

Michaux's failure and seemingly calculated refusal to take any appropriate action or follow up during his team's home inspections on December 13 and 17 led directly to the two horribly abused, innocent young girls' tragic slow deaths by starvation and the abusive lifelong trauma of two more kidnapped victims to come in 1996. For responding as he did and knowing more than he ever let on, Detective Michaux and the entire BOB agency and judicial police both deserve to be charged as accomplices to murder. I agree, law has to be delivered equally or it is not true law. It then becomes Talmudic Law, where it is a free for all with impunity for top level criminals. Instead, no doubt for being such an obedient, order following police patsy, after the Dutroux case, Michaux was transferred to the Brussels federal judiciary police and rewarded as police commissioner. This is so typical of critical cabal players who do what they're told instead of what's morally and legally mandated, they always get rewarded. Just ask Queen Elizabeth and all her child raping knights. Commissioner Michaux didn't last long though, perhaps possessing a guilty conscience, admittedly haunted the rest of his life, dying at only age 55 in January 2009 from bowel cancer, likely poisoned by too much bullshit compacting the cruddy system. Or he was taken out to avoid him talking too much, they are all pawns you see in a much bigger game than they imagine. This is also why too few people trust the police anymore, in any country. They are too often involved more in crime, than the average criminal. In contrast, guilt-free, true psychopaths generally live much longer lifespans free of a burdened conscience. Aided and abetted by the Day of Atonement. Ultimately the police searched Dutroux's home on three separate occasions and police records report, that during another inspection, when the girls again were heard screaming for their lives, the devious brain of the psychopath Dutroux convinced gullible police officers it was just his kids playing outdoors, straight from the same look the other way script Michaux followed. From an Independent article in September 1998: When officers went to Dutroux's home to arrest him for car theft in the autumn of 1995, they heard children screaming but accepted Dutroux's word that it was the voices of his own girls playing. So armed with multiple tipoffs that a convicted serial child rapist was keeping kidnapped children in his DIY dungeon basement, the cops simply swallowed the criminal's made-up lie, rather than inquire further in what was clear evidence he was hiding imprisoned young rape victims within his home.

Again, we're supposed to believe this was just simply more honest stupidity on the part of law enforcement professionals? Totally unacceptable and totally unbelievable. The truth is Belgium's Establishment had all of its robotic puppets lined up, compulsively playing out their criminal dumb-fuck roles in order for the cabal to save itself from total disgrace and scandalous downfall as a nation, led and controlled by a bunch of sadistic, child sodomizing, coldblooded, murdering psychopaths that run this entire world. All the facts clearly indicate that this is what was really going on. It's the exact same story in every nation – Britain, America, Canada, Australia, all of Europe and beyond, all controlled by the same child fucking cabal. 35 chapters into this demonic shit exposing the human scourge, tearing at the soul of humanity, is more than enough ugly proof. To force all good people on this planet to rise up from their complicit passivity and dumbed down impotence to become active doers for a change. Demanding that we as a human species take decisive action now to finally begin protecting our children and hold the guilty savages at the top accountable once and for all. No person or thing is above the law when it comes to harming and abusing defenseless children. There is nothing more black and white than this, it should be the great uniter of all humanity. The fuckers at the top can't keep getting away with this shit forever! I agree 100%, it is to humanities detriment and shame that so many people amongst us just point-blank refuse to hear about poor and heinous crimes against children. The can't see and can't hear brigade or what is most prevalent, the I don't want to hear about it people, just shameful. Hiding behind cliches like oh that's a conspiracy theory. No the conspiracy theory meme is used so people don't have to do anything. Oh how that would change if it was one of their children.

A South African periodical wrote how months later when one of the girl's parents went into the cell: They noticed that one of the girls had managed to scribble a last word on the wall with her nails in the slow moments before death. One of the journalists covering the case said that one of the most moving moments he experienced, was when he saw the parents hunched down together holding hands in that horrific cell, in tears. Years later in June 1999 it surfaced that police had confiscated hundreds of videotapes from the Dutroux residence that again included him and other infamous pedophiles, captured on film raping girls as well as footage of him caught in the act building his makeshift cellar dungeon. This confiscated key video in question, filmed by Dutroux's wife Michelle Martin and so critically important in saving two lives, had been in police possession since December 1995, while Dutroux was detained on his carjacking charge and the two 8-year-old girls were still alive. Growing weaker by the day, yet they were still able to muster loud enough desperate cries for help to be heard twice by police. That law enforcement had already been tipped off repeatedly that missing girls were being held captive in Dutroux's basement, yet when actually hearing them literally screaming for their lives, it fell on deaf ears twice in a row, is unconscionable and heartbreakingly tragic. By early November 1996, not long after Dutroux's final arrest in August, the press reported that police admitted that Dutroux and company made more than 300 videotapes capturing his and others' heinous activity, providing conclusive evidence that the videos were mass marketed as child snuff pornography for profit. After a tenth suspect was arrested in late August 1996, an AP headline even called Dutroux's criminal enterprise a child pornography ring. Within the week, a Chicago Tribune article specified that Dutroux lived mostly from the sale of pornographic videos, adding: Police say Dutroux forced the girls to perform sexual acts in front of his camera and then sold the videocassettes to other pedophiles. Yet in the months, years and decades to follow, not a word was heard from either authorities or MSM about Dutroux ever belonging to a pedophile ring or wider network again. And suddenly all those 23 detained and arrested suspects less than a month after Dutroux's incarceration, apparently vanished as once the cabal's handpicked Magistrate Jacques Langlois took over investigating, a code word for covering up the case in October 1996. The official narrative pushed ever since right up to today is that Dutroux operated as an isolated pervert. Agreed, he was a pervert, but never isolated nor ever acted alone. Dutroux had Jean Michel Nihoul and his royal ties to the crème de la crème of Belgian society behind him. The notorious Belgian gangster Michel Nihoul counted among his closest friends, not just Belgium's fascist Bilderberger-Le Cercle circle of friends, but of prime ministers and princes he regularly partied with underage girls and boys to rape and murder for fun. But he was also in tight with founding CIA member-right wing reactionary-US General John Singlaub and the late Rev. Sun Myung Moon, the bizarre cult leader and fascist right wing Bush family ally. Nihoul and his Belgium friends led directly to the Col. Oliver North-Iran Contra-Bush-AmeriCares-pedo-connection that in turn led to the Franklin scandal. Bush, North and Iran Contra people were all Langley or the CIA 2. Yet again, no matter which negative story that we deliver on these shows, inevitably at some point the CIA is involved. Where is the CIA scandals in the press? Oh I forgot, they script and run the press. The press are highly complicit in this, as these stories would sell loads of papers and magazines and fill countless hours of airtime, yet they are all ignored. All of which makes them complicit in these crimes. All major newsreaders have blood on their hands.

By indelibly connected dots, Belgium's elite pedo-scandal links to the pedo-trafficking network scandals across the globe. Needless to say, this inconvenient thread of rotten worldwide truth never saw the light of day during the lengthy, stretched out Judge Langlois phase from 1996 to 2004 of the shadowy Dutroux affair. Add the internet snuff-torture-rape child pornography angle in which Dutroux and company cultivated a significant role, even picked up by Newsweek as yet another loose end liability in a March 2001 issue: A number of recent cases illustrate how global these networks are. When authorities last year took down a child-porn Web site run by Wayne Camolli in Palm Beach, Fla. no doubt crime-related to Palm Beach neighbor Jeffrey Epstein, they were acting on a tip from Belgian police. They found that confederates of the notorious Belgian pedophile Marc Dutroux had sent pornography to Camolli, who was later sentenced to 16 months in federal prison, after being convicted on one count of transmitting child porn. In Dutroux's dungeon-equipped house, police had found 500 videotapes, many depicting the rape of children, according to Belgian police investigative files obtained by Newsweek. So it's not just 300 videotapes as reported by CNN, The New York Times and lamestream media, but at 500 tapes, nearly twice as much graphically depicting Dutroux et al raping little girls. That count was just his in-house inventory, not the thousands, if not millions of uploaded images and file footage on the internet dark web or worldwide distribution of videotapes. Most of those files are on the US DOD servers, the largest collection globally of child porn and other devious sexual practices. Now why is that? Per the aangirfan website: The discovery of computer discs at Dutroux's house, in 1996, unraveled an international pedophile ring involving Belgium, the Netherlands, Portugal, the U.S., Great Britain, Japan and the United Nations and its agencies. We have mentioned about the United Nations before and their pedophile peacekeepers, as our Blueprint states, it and all other organizations involved in this needs to be terminated. The near buried fact, that Liege Prosecutor General Anne Thily, her boss in the Ministry of Justice, the Belgian prime minister and Belgian King Albert II all ensured virtually complete suppression of the massive amount of evidence, all linking the Marc Dutroux-Michel Nihoul pedophilia operation to the worldwide child pornography web and the global child sex trafficking network is irrefutable. To keep the lid sealed from public exposure, as in every scandal, dozens of key witnesses have been murdered. A common occurrence in all high-profile cases, often carried out by the agencies or mercenaries. Although there is a site on the dark web, that offers contracts to hired killers to take these people out as well. Those individuals will be covered later.

The child pornography rabbit hole led directly to computer hard drives found in an apartment in Zandvoort, Netherlands. A sleepy North Sea coast town, after the apartment owner German child pornographer Gerrit Ulrich was shot and killed by his 24-year-old Belgian lover Robbie van der Plancken in Italy in June 1998. Had a top employee at the Dutch Justice Ministry not just been busted for downloading large files on his work computer, perhaps this case would never have drawn international media attention from the likes of AP and Reuters. But the real story remained concealed by Rothschild owned mainstream media. All of which means they are complicit in it. The Zandvoort scandal was the largest internet bust of its time, with Gerrit Ulrich's computers and diskettes alleged to contain 88,539 photos and video files, depicting the most horrific snuff and torture images and footage ever found. Additionally, a who's who contact list was discovered of the biggest child porn gangsters including Warwick Spinks, notorious German Lothar Glandolf and the Belgian contingent Nihoul-Dutroux. This international Dutch porn operation was broken up because of a meeting between 23-year-old Belgian Robbie van der Plancken, who was forced at age 14 into child prostitution and 46-year-old Belgian Marcel Vervloesem, founder of Morkhoven, an anti-child pornography NGO. Plancken had expressed interest in getting out of the porn racket and the two Belgians met up at a Dutch café in 1998 in Vandvoort. Unbeknownst to Plancken, incognito Morkhoven members observed 49-year-old child pornographer Gerrit Ulrich from the shadows taking photos of the meeting. Vervloesem and Ulrich were later formally introduced and Ulrich came to view Morkhoven as a future aid, reducing a potential prison sentence if arrested. The next time Marcel heard from Ulrich a few days later, he was on the road calling from Lyons, France, claiming he and Robbie embarked on a motorcycle holiday to Italy. In that phone conversation, Ulrich shared that under his Zandvoort apartment floorboards was a large cache of his child porn collection on CD-Roms. In Pisa, Italy Robbie Plancken then allegedly murdered Ulrich, though he claimed it was an accident. When word of Ulrich's death got back to Vervloesem, while Italian authorities were in process of arresting Plancken, Marcel Vervloesem contacted police regarding the porn stash. Plancken wound up serving 10 years of a 15-year sentence behind bars in Italy. Back in Zandvoort, Marcel joined Ulrich's sister-in-law and her friend to meet police at Ulrich's apartment, where he led them to the stored child pornography. While police hardly reacted, the three agreed to meet at the apartment the following day. But upon arrival, the police rushed in to make arrests. Ultimately, ever-so-briefly, Marcel Vervloesem was credited with uncovering the huge porn bust with international tentacles, but ultimately it cost him his life. Despite cooperating with Dutch law enforcement and making contact with Belgian authorities for follow up action to aggressively pursue the child pornography criminals network, the Belgium attorney generals went after Vervloesem for possession of the massive child porn material. All very typical that of these criminals, it is an agency tactic of accusing others of doing what they have done. It creates a fear behind it, that plays in the mind of every researcher, including myself until around 2016. Everyone wants the juicy scandal, but that exposure leaves the researcher very vulnerable. As the system can come down on you like a ton of bricks, that can lead to intimidation, interference in your life, family, bank accounts, businesses or jobs or worse, death.

The whistleblower act in place is not to protect the whistleblower and their sources, but to out them all, leaving them vulnerable to attack. This is why in our Blueprint solution and the full disclosure for full disclaimer program, includes proper protection for those outing criminal acts. A scandal within a scandal was quickly covered up when another child victim turned transvestite prostitute surfaced, as is often the case the abused becomes the abuser. Encouraged by Marcel, in February 2001 Robert Jan Van Warmerdam confessed to police that as a minor he had been forced to participate in the killing of a 13-year-old boy, believed to be abducted German Manuel Schadwald in a snuff film made in a sado-masochism snuff studio in Amsterdam. Robert also stated that he observed Marc Dutroux showing up at that studio, owned by Didier Pellerin, a transvestite dominatrix known as Mistress Roxanne. Warmerdam also stated that Mistress Roxanne hired Nihoul's wife Marleen de Cokere as an employee at one of Pellerin's two snuff film studios. Didier Pellerin who was born in 1959 also frequented Nihoul's favorite sex club The Dolo. A snuff film is when awful levels of torture and abuse takes place, often with sexual abuse as well, with ultimately the victim suffering a slow and painful death. The people or beings watch these movies often whilst masturbating, as they are sexually aroused by watching such scenes. Described as an adrenaline rush, as Hillary Clinton revealed in an email to her secretary, paraphrasing, nothing gets my juices flowing like a ritual event. These entities get off on seeing people being tortured and abused, one can never attempt to get an understanding of that level of evil. Because I believe these are not humans carrying these acts out. Yet this troubling testimony was buried by authorities in the interest of protecting Nihoul, his two female companions, his marital partners-in-crime Annie Bouty and Marleen De Cokere, as well as De Cokere's onetime employer and mutual friend, Miss Roxanne. Essentially, the legal authorities destroyed the messenger in order to protect the satanic royal political child torture-murder network. When Marcel Vervloesem uncovers the biggest child porn online scandal on record, neither Belgium nor Netherlands wanted to investigate perps doing the most egregious sick shit to little children. Instead, the Belgian authorities prosecuted the anti-child porn advocate Vervloesem while protecting some of the worst scum on earth. The Zandvoort File remains an unspeakable hot potato, that the justice ministries and royal families in Belgium and Holland want no part of. Because Zandvoort exposes Belgian-Dutch complicity in the wake of the Dutroux scandal, that in turn exposes the black nobility bloodlines and blackmailed political puppets in both nations, the man who exposed the Zandvoort Pandora's box – Marcel Vervloesem, had to mercilessly be put down. That is how that level of criminality work, kill people who tell the truth. The problem is with cases of this level of evil involving high profile people is, the general public refuses to accept it. Like some giant Milgram experiment is imposed upon them. That ignorance costs whistleblowers their lives and more children suffer.

As mentioned, assassination is the elite's primary weapon, be it by murder or suicide(d) death, harassment and/or character assassination. Which is also the forte of the intelligence agencies. Weaponized media and the judiciary regularly attack threats determined to expose the international mafia pedo-cabal. During the final decade of Marcel's life, he was relentlessly targeted with phony trumped up charges that repeatedly sent him to solitary prison confinement. Willfully failing to treat his medical issues ultimately led directly to Vervloesem's death at age 65 in 2008. The state committed premeditated murder and got away with it. In August 1996, Dutroux, Nihoul, Annie Bouty and Marleen De Cokere were all arrested, though Bouty and De Cokere were released shortly and never prosecuted, while Nihoul was released after five months. In October 1996, the police briefly questioned Didier Pellerin but nothing came of it. While Marcel Vervloesem signed a deal to cooperate by providing Vandvoort evidence for Neufchateau Prosecutor Michel Bourlet, ultimately Marcel was betrayed by Belgium prosecutors that attempted to make him the Vandvoort villain. Bourlet responded that he had his hands full already with the Dutroux case and couldn't look into the massive Vandvoort evidence, while two other Belgian prosecutors from other districts made bogus charges and imprisoned Marcel till he died. While Belgium was super lenient in protecting ringleader Nihoul and completely let all his accomplices off – Bouty, De Cokere and Pellerin, with a free pass for their part in the child slave snuff trade, in contrast it aggressively persecuted Marcel Vervloesem to death for his righteous part in uncovering the mafia cabal.

Everything's rigged and reversed in Lucifer's world: Fact – the scourge that was exploding technologically on the world wide web stage back in Holland during the late 1990s, had tentacles leading straight to the Nihoul Belgian operation. Similarly, recall how protected British snuff peddling child porn kingpin Warwick Spinks, headquartered for years in pedo-paradise Amsterdam, prior to the violent fugitive's allowed escape back to his Eastern European pedo-paradise Prague in 2014. Because their grotesquely dark criminal products portraying children as young as toddlers, being bloodily tortured, adrenochrome harvested and systematically sacrificed for profit at huge market value as entertainment consumption. All done by so called pillars of our society, the kings, queens, princes, prime ministers and presidents, monsters like Warwick Spinks and Nihoul et al are allowed their freedom as pedo-pillars continue pillaging our planet and kids. All while courageous victims, witnesses and truth tellers are criminally silenced by any and all means necessary, the singular theme played out ad nauseam throughout this entire pedo-chronology. International pedo-web child procurer and snuff-child porn peddler-contributing distributor Marc Dutroux was hardly a small fish as his defense lawyer dubbed him, but the key point is he was an integral part of the burgeoning child porn industry bursting across the worldwide web network, commercially exploiting while committing unthinkable violent acts against children within this illicitly protected mega-billion dollar organized crime industry. This industry includes abduction, trafficking, rape, torture and murder of millions of kids each year, growing bigger all the time, operated and protected by the global crime cabal mafia. Remember the more modern mafia came out Rome and work directly with the Catholic church, in particular the red and black robed occultic priests that operate below the Vatican doing the same things mentioned earlier. That is the realm of the grey and black Popes, the white pope, currently Francis is a mere public relations officer of the church. The lead group for the Mafia now I was informed, is not the Rome Mafia, but the Irish Mafia led by the IRA. Once the honest Judge Jean-Mark Connerotte was pushed out as investigative magistrate in the Dutroux case by October 14, 1996, no more references were officially made to a child pornography or child prostitution ring again in Belgium. His replacement Magistrate Jacques Langlois influenced both police and media to try and convince an acutely distrusting cynical public, to buy into the con job that only through human error of police negligence and gross inefficiency, Dutroux escaped justice for so long. The bitter pill we're supposed to swallow from the Dutroux Affair, is that law enforcement failed to watch any of the 500 confiscated videotapes or countless computer files to notice Dutroux captured on film building his cages and basement jail cells that, had THE police done its rudimentary job, would've quickly led directly to saving two terrified, starving-to-death 8-year old girls. The great shift the blame culture is highly prevalent in the elitist circles, everyone becomes a sacrificial pawn. With Magistrate Connerotte on the verge of exposing the VIP pedophilia network wide open, Belgium's cover-up captains of the rape-torture-murder porn industry, the Belgium's Supreme Court, Prosecutor General Anne Thily and her newly installed investigative Magistrate Jacques Langlois buried and silenced the truth.

In October 1996 The New York Times specified that: Mr. Connerotte was on the verge of disclosing the names of senior government officials who had been recognized on confiscated videotapes. An important June 1999 Guardian article would have us believe that police were busy watching, criminally tampering with and censoring videotape evidence before handing it over to the judicial investigators and prosecutors: The force admitted that it had held on to the footage for nearly four years without passing it to the judges investigating the country's pedophile ring. Prosecutors were given copies of the tape earlier in their inquiry with the vital scene of Dutroux building his secret jail cell, and footage of Dutroux sexually assaulting a woman, edited out. So who were these cops working for? Obviously operating to protect their master, the pedo-cabal mafia. But how can police claim they never viewed the videos when the videotape(s) handed to the prosecution team had the most significant crime scene conspicuously censored? And why would police edit out such crucial, potentially life-saving evidence so that the judge and prosecutors never see it? Unless their agenda was to sabotage the case altogether, helping protect Dutroux and Nihoul's high-end friends get away with murder? Once Langlois was on the scene, cherry-picked, newly assigned dirty cops were also dispatched to be in synch on the same criminal cover-up team that all answer to the same Luciferian masters. If only governments, their departments and services were as efficient and meticulous as these cover up merchants. People often say, it would take too many people to have a cabal, no, all it takes is seducement, leverage, wealth and fame to create an inner circle to operate outside of the law. This piece and many others prove it. That same highly revealing article states, that the police feebly claimed that they never actually took the time to properly check the hundreds of confiscated videos out, yet they apparently took time to edit out the most important critical piece of all that would've saved lives. You can't have it both ways. Law enforcement's version of events remains highly contradictory, highly implausible and highly suspect. The plethora of anomalies are totally illogical and only make sense if police were desperately, intentionally protecting Dutroux, or not so much Dutroux as Belgium's VIP pedo-web kingdom. The media conveniently passed off Dutroux slipping through so many police security nets for so many years as simply gross police incompetence, combined with institutional competition and petty rivalry between three enormously dysfunctional police forces. Talk about half truths hiding the bigger whole truth. The never-ending lies and desperation of the international pedo-crime cabal are an insult to our human intelligence, at least those of us not so dumbed down to retain at least half a brain.

As a result of the flagrant criminality of Belgium Establishment executing its blatantly over-the-top criminal cover-up, intense public pressure steadily built up advocating criminal justice and police reform, as if electing to eliminate the third bureaucratic law enforcement wheel in 1998 to go into effect in 2000 would automatically remove the butting heads dynamic between local and federal police agencies, or bigger problem of rotten-to-the-core corruption therein. Obviously it goes much deeper and far more sinister than either the police or MSM's flimsy explanations of what went wrong in Belgium, especially when the bottom line is senior police officials in charge of the investigation along with gatekeeping judges were both specifically identified and named as sexual perpetrators and murderers in this elite pedophile network by multiple victims. All the most powerful players in this Belgian pedo-club specifically named by their victims have yet to be brought to justice, and likely never will. Yet we know who they are and will be covered further along in this chapter. But the bottom-line reality is dirty cops and corrupt judges are always at the perverted core of every pedophilia cover-up and security services' coordinated and controlled sexual blackmail operation. Superficial reform cannot ever begin to change the deep rot within soulless Luciferian controllers, bent on retaining status quo power in their international crime cabal mafia. That's what the global pedo-network is, it's an out-of-control mafia syndicate and only until it's fully exposed to the public can fundamental change even begin to ever take place. Agreed, but will the Milgram experiment masses ever accept their stars, politicians and tv people could ever be involved in something like this? Well to date they haven't. Cries of don't talk shit and or you are a conspiracy theorist or nut often spills out of their cliched mouths from their mind memery brains. An informed and educated citizenry facilitates sufficient empowerment to directly challenge the entrenched historical agenda of the cabal mafia, lawlessly committing crimes against children and humanity with neither consequence nor accountability. The broken usury debtor enslavement system that enables and rewards corruption and control must be completely overhauled, essentially blown up and destroyed, and with the current global economic system in freefall collapse right now from the engineered scamdemic. Unbeknown to the author at the time of writing, that has already taken place with the financial system, that runs entirely on fumes and fresh air currencies. The opportunity for implementing the necessary major change is finally upon us, for starters providing a jubilee on all earthly debt and a global financial reset to boot. Again unbeknown to the author, the Blueprint we developed has the capacity to do just that or at least provide everyone with what they need. Prosecute and lock up the top genocidal killers, strip all their resources and humanity can finally stop this child holocaust and human slavery now unprecedentedly raging across our planet, and have the resources to end poverty, hunger, impoverishment and austerity forever. All that's necessary is simply enforcement of existing criminal laws. Again good ideas and runs alongside our Blueprint. The will of the people backed up by the authoritative teeth wielded by honest, constitutionally-minded and motivated legal representatives, facilitating truth and reconciliation commissions and legal proceedings in legitimate courts of law, will ultimately bring truth and justice to lifelong criminals from the elite class, as well as millions of their abuse victims. It's never been done before, but now more than any other time in human history, this first is long overdue. Dutroux made the bogus claim that upon release from prison on March 20, 1996, for car theft charges, after near four months, he rushed back home to his cellar dungeon to find a pair of emaciated girls still clinging to life, but upon arrival, melodramatically they died in his arms. The examination of the two victims' bodies showed that one of the girls, Melissa Russo, had been repeatedly raped just two weeks before she died. But Dutroux was still in jail at the time, proving it was more than a one-man operation. Evil doesn't even begin to describe these atrocities. Again we ask where is the humanity here? It's been reported that no forensic DNA tests were ever conducted to even determine the possible identity of additional abusers while Dutroux was in custody, since that would obliterate legal authorities' insistence that Dutroux acted alone. Dutroux's attorney, Xavier Magnee, asserted during the trial that some 6,000 hair samples found in the basement dungeon where the two eight-year-olds starved to death revealed up to 25 unknown DNA profiles, concluding: There were people in that cellar that are not now accused. This confirms that while Dutroux wasn't even there during his near four-month absence from December 1995 to March 1996, in all likelihood, others were coming and going, also raping the little girls who at the time, without food or water, were growing weaker by the day and week. Yet the state blindly remained in complete denial of this blatant truth. Another damaging claim made by attorney Magnee is his contention that the state withheld critical evidence of the satanic cult Abrasax's involvement.

The Dutroux lawyer stated that inquiries were not pursued in order to protect the identities of VIP satanic practitioners. The defendant's attorney called his client a small fish working within a much wider network with links to the police. Though by no stretch of imagination is Dutroux a victim in spite of declaring himself one, there is a degree of truth in his statement that he was a puppet in a show trial, and loads of truth asserting he had to be put away to hide the truth and serve the interests of organized corruption. He also insisted that only 10% of the case had actually been investigated, asking why the independent police team was removed and why clues and leads were never properly followed up. The answer is simple, had they, it would have proven the existence of a much larger criminal web. The Guardian alluded: Many Belgians seem resigned to the fact that much about this story may never be known. The article closed with a statement from one of the murdered girl's grandfathers: I think we will never have the truth. Full truth, maybe not. But enough of the truth to know the bigger picture, most definitely.

Here is a piece that highlights the major problem with cases like these, plus various corrupt organizations globally. Who is the problem? You have to say we the people as a collective, as too often, far too many will never even listen to these horror stories. That allows these complete psychopaths almost free reign. As they can't and won't see people aligned with the can't and won't hear people just point blank refuse to accept such atrocities coming into their field. The problem is they ignore it because it is not happening in their bubble, neglecting all the poor victims, mostly children and the terrible abuse they suffer. It is a lack of moral care and duty overall that leaves a deep distaste in my mouth at people's lack of care and concern for those in perils. All because they can't face hearing it.

The quote is from Caitlin Johnston referring to how public opinion is being manipulated. It's a truly astonishing power that would inspire awe if it wasn't so evil. Power is controlling what happens, but real power is controlling what people think about what happens. Until we find a way to snap a critical mass of people out of the propaganda-induced coma the empire has placed them in, they'll be able to get away with any evil they need to commit in order to secure their interests and advance their agendas. We can work on this front by doing everything we can to get people looking at the reality of what our rulers are doing at every opportunity, in as creative and interesting a way as we can come up with. The more eyes open to the truth, the more lucid perceivers there will be to help open the eyes of others.

Please don't think this is an isolated case by a few psychopaths, it goes way deeper than that and much further. According to research compiled over two decades ago, it was estimated that 20% of girls and 10% of boys had been sexually victimized as minors. A more recent finding asserts that now one in three girls and one in five boys is sexually molested. Multiple reports are now coming in from around the world, in places like Africa, India and Europe, all confirming that child sexual abuse is surging, including online child pornography, to become a worldwide epidemic today. Final word from the author for this part: We must take a decisive stand now to stamp out this growing scourge, first by educating ourselves as to the extent and pervasiveness of the problem. Secondly by becoming proactive activists committed to positive change that includes taking steps to protect children from further exploitation and abuse, helping victims of all ages heal, while eradicating this malignant network of child rapists operating behind a millennium of sealed off impunity and previously impenetrable power. The Blueprint has gone some way of how to address and tackle that problem. The lack of humanity these people exhibit knows no evil limits it seems. The greater question is, are these people human at all? Perhaps a reminder from an earlier piece in our From his story to our story series in the Talmud book. A boy-Goy after nine years and one day old, and a girl after three years and one day old, are considered filthy. After those ages are past, it is acceptable to sexually use and abuse those children. This is known within the circle as pederasty. The same lack of love, compassion or empathy, perhaps they are one and the same? We made man in our image? Certainly springs to mind and heart.
