The Blueprint Episode 26 Teams Report week ending 14th July 2024.

THE AGENDA:

This week's Agenda had an array of topics to discuss, from merchandising to new website additions that will enhance it and make it easier for anyone new coming into THI and the Blueprint now. Thomas kicked off the meeting with the announcement of the latest football score England 2 Holland 1, which amused everyone and set the tone for the meeting nicely. It was further enhanced by the joy of the recent Richard Vobes interview with Thomas discussing the Blueprint as it had just been released that morning by Richard on his second YouTube channel. Please go take a look if you haven't already and support Richard by liking his channel and sharing the interview, and of course Thomas who did a wonderful interview with Richard. There has been a very positive response to this interview judging by the number of views and the very enthusiastic comments being left by Richard's followers. Well done to Thomas and we look forward to watching many more of these types of interviews going forward now, and the changes it is sure to bring.

The web team will begin to reorganise things a little differently by placing the shorter clips of the What is series into its own section on the sites, giving visitors an opportunity to tie in the changes they offer on a more spiritual and personal level, combined with the blueprint will help them gain a better inner standing of why the people need to change in order for things to 180. This will make a great addition to the already great websites.

The merchandising team have the green light now to take their tee shirts and other ideas such as bumper car stickers etc on the road. They are excited to forge ahead now, and you will be hearing all about what is on offer on the mewe chat and the be platform, so support them by buying a blueprint tee shirt and help spread the message of the blueprint in your own area.

There will be further advancements between the activism group and the media team as they work on seeking out podcasters or alt media channels for interviews with Thomas, as it is now time to engage with other platforms and begin the process of unity and coming together outside of THI.

The European teams are also making strides with translating the blueprint to their native languages, if you have any interest in any of the 29 solutions and feel you can help the team to adapt them and translate them, please contact them.

If you want to get involved with any of the groups, please contact us on mewe and the be forum, you are also free to attend any meeting to bring your suggestions to the agenda. You do not need to be on a team to have an opinion, the purpose of the biweekly meeting is to keep things open and transparent, and we remain open to changes and proposal from any THI member. So don't be shy and come and join us. The meeting is held every alternative week, the next one will be held on the 25th of July at 12.30 MT and 7.30pm UK time.

BOOK TEAM:

The Romanian translation of From His Story to Our Story Volume 1 is published and available on thi-show.com. Volumes 2 and 3 are translated and are in the formatting stage. The Bulgarian translation of From His Story to Our Story Volume 3 is being reviewed for accuracy.

RESEARCH TEAM:

We had a welcome home virtual party with the travelers. We also welcomed a new member who responded to the Help Wanted ad. It was a longer meeting than usual with a 13-point agenda to cover which would update the travelers, bring the new members up-to-speed, and still cover forward action plans. In the 'old business' category, was how the new ad had worked for finding members in the six specific states where a Senator lived that had not taken AIPAC money. A member in West Virginia has come to our aid. We still need help from a member living in Hawaii, Vermont, Kentucky, and Alabama. To volunteer to personally contact in those states, please email us at blueprintfeedback@thenewblueprintforhumanity.org We will get you set up with the contact form links to send the pdf for us. In the same category of 'old business' was thanking the travelers for having left the team babysitters well prepared to feed the report machine during their absence. The database manager explained the requirements to bring it current considering the amount of information waiting in his email inbox, due to weather and construction, the internet is down for several days which stopped access for completing the task. It will be new and old influencer information to update the database with. Then new statistics and the variety of reports the team need can be prepared for the next outreach campaign.

On that note, one of his waiting emails includes the two hundred Billionaire names and their email addresses for addition into the database. They are a diversified group of influencers that will fill ten future reports. We believe most of them are also bloodline family members, which ticks another mission task box.

For the 'new business' category our discussion covered the need to add a new column will be added to the dataset for tracking multiple outreaches, i.e., follow-up efforts to individual influencers or organizations. Our Secretary will conduct the coordination stream of inter-team requirements for our team to adapt to. Growth requires expansion and vigilance in making necessary changes at the earliest sign of need. Direct communication is the key. New endeavors have a learning curve and we need to have an easy procedure for requests. The journalistic Who, What, Where, When, Why serves to identify the criteria needed for the research team to put an influencers' name into the database. We sincerely appreciate it when a member puts a name suggestion in the Mewe chat. Where did they find the influencer? On which social media platform? That information jumpstarts the research engine. It also truly helps the team to have additional tidbits about how that named person reflects THI alignment or would be a potential spreader of the Blueprint seeds. Gold star awards go to members who provide an email address, website link, and/or mailing address. With all due respect to members suggesting the name, you are true scouts for the team, please guide our eyes to the bull elk hiding in the forest or the tiger in the jungle. Our Netherlands member suggested we consider reviewing the cover letter to influencers, to simplify it for recipients not familiar with our THI speak. The team agreed that it is always germane to periodically consider such refinements and some team members volunteered for the project. The Swag Project of T-shirts, hoodies, banners, and stickers is still in the proposal approval phase. separate committee is forming to assist in the next phase and keep members informed of progress. To join the effort, interested members may contact the research team by email at: blueprintfeedback@thenewbluprintforhumanity.org

Now on to this shows list of influencers sent the book PDF:

Lee Schofield: Is the author of Wild Fell: Fighting for Nature on a Lake District Hill Farm. The book is his account of a decade working for the Royal Society of Protection of Birds (RSPB) at Haweswater in the eastern UK Lake District National Park, where he oversaw pioneering conservation work across an upland mosaic of woodland, bog, mountain, and meadow covering thirty square kilometers. It details his personal and professional challenges involved in working at the coalface of nature conservation in the uplands. He believes his book is a call to recognize that the solutions for a richer world lie at our feet. By focusing on flowers, we can rebuild landscapes fit for eagles again. A landscape of flowers is a landscape of hope. Ten more think tanks:

Jeffrey R. Shafter: Heads the National Committee on American Foreign Policy identifies, articulates, and helps advance American foreign policy interests from a nonpartisan perspective within the framework of political realism.

John Seager: Oversees the Population Connection group. Population Connection is the national grassroots population organization that educates young people and advocates progressive action to stabilize world population at a level that is sustainable by Earth's resources.

Harold Holzer: Guides the Roosevelt House Public Policy Institute at Hunter College. They have a three-fold mission: to educate students in public policy and human rights, to support faculty research, and to foster creative dialogue.

Tellus Institute: Strives to advance a planetary civilization rooted in justice, well-being, and sustainability. Their work addresses key dimensions of a transformative global praxis of understanding, vision, and action by fostering scholarship, developing scenarios, and mobilizing networks for change.

Matt Devost: Steers the Terrorism Research Center focus on investigating and researching global terrorism issues through multi-disciplinary collaboration amongst a group of international experts.

Jehad Abusalim: Is chief of The Jerusalem Fund. It aims to foster greater awareness about Palestine, in the United States and abroad, and to ameliorate the lives of Palestinians in Palestine and the diaspora.

Joseph Maguire: Manages the William P. Clements Jr. Center for National Security. They state a mission of drawing on the best insights of diplomatic and military history to train the next generation of national security leaders.

Tripp Adams: Represents Truman National Security Project. It is a vibrant, diverse, nationwide community of leaders leveraging the power of the Truman network. United with one goal to develop smart national security solutions that reinforce strong, equitable, effective, and nonpartisan American global leadership.

Luis E. Tellez: Witherspoon Institute believes that cultural reform begins with the intellectual and moral formation of the human person. To that end, we encourage the formation of individuals who can seek truth, live ethically, and develop genuine intellectual friendship across their differences.

Willis L. Lonzer: Is an Executive with the World Policy Council. It develops leaders, promotes brotherhood and academic excellence, while providing service and advocacy for our communities. Their aim is to prepare us for the greatest usefulness in the causes of humanity, freedom, and dignity of the individual.

MEDIA TEAM

The general update for all media accounts show an improvement in profile views, and time spent on our platforms. This means that people who might not want to follow our accounts or be seen to follow our accounts are checking us out. That is precisely what we want and need happening, as the whole object of the two accounts the Blueprint and THI, is to lead them on to the websites and the shows. We are having more engagement also with followers from other accounts now, as some podcasters that have been given our links are directing their traffic to us. We also need to take into consideration the people who just see our memes daily on any of the platforms, are being influenced by them subconsciously or the opposite they may trigger them. This is a type of reprogramming if you like, a reverse of their spell casting mind memes towards a healthier way to think, through the more spiritual memes we produce from the shows and the memes that trigger are creating a shift internally towards thinking about a sensitive subject on a deeper level. We must always be mindful not to play too much into the shadow banning and the deleting of our shows and links, as that is their way of trying to stop us, but it won't work. There is too much evidence of THI language showing up everywhere, some are even using almost word for word some of the text from previous shows. We are making a difference and will always find ways to outsmart them and break their spell. We now have a new account from one of the members who has kindly taken on the task of representing her country Germany, by opening a personal account on telegram called t.me/tnbpfh Germany.

We discussed ways we as the media team can help her with this, the main one being making the translated memes for use on this platform. We ask that you please help them create a flow by liking the channel and sharing it with others. The member will also take a bit of time to use transcripts that relate to German history as discussed on the shows and use these to highlight the reasons why things are not working, and who exactly is behind that agenda. They will also make memes that are relative to current affairs more prevalent in their area not necessarily being covered on other platforms, and incorporating the solutions that address those subjects. They hope to appeal to fellow Germans in this manner and get the word out that we have the solutions, and we are ready and able to help anyone that may want to come forward from Germany, to join us or to offer assistance in any way that may aid the Blueprint. If any other European country would like to adapt this method, please contact us on MeWe or the Be platform and we will be happy to assist you to spread our message in your own language.

After the epic Saturday show Unity – the pathway to redemption, we had a general conversation on what it means to us as a team to work cooperatively and not corporately. In other words in a new system of unity with no hierarchy versus the alpha work environment of competitive and comparative. We used this as an opportunity to do a little self-check on how we saw this within our own working environment, and whether we were still reverting to their type or creating our own healthy and balanced work environment. With things ramping up swiftly now, it was also time to question ourselves on what we see happen next, and what or will we have any role in it. There are many levels to the Blueprint for Humanity and how it will eventually be implemented further into the collective consciousness, and on that ponder, of what are we going to create and what we will manifest, we will take time to consider how we can do this, and what will that look like for us as individuals and as a team.

THE ACTIVISM TEAM REPORT:

The Activism Group's impressions on Twitter were up 32% over the month and our engagement rate in the past week is up 115%, not bad for a holy-day week, but we do aim to see 100, 300, 500 percent increases. TikTok analytics continue to be impressive and instructive for how to get ourselves across on our contagious content creation path. One thing is for sure: We are creating the engaging, trusted content that will attract our ideal Blueprinter and Guardian. The Blueprinter that innately already understands the People's Authority and that the People Are Now In Control. Our message is seeding itself well and one nice example of this is that a tweet was observed (to which we responded with the government solution) on Robert Malone, MD's feed that extended our Weekend at Bernie's corpse theme and meme regarding Biden's fitness for service. It said: Word on the street has it that the White House inner circle is propping up Biden just like a Weekend at Biden's with a visual of the Weekend at Bernie's characters. Well done, thank you to all the re-posters. For maximum reach, Twitter guru's say we need 20+ comments on our content within 30 minutes of posting.

EURO BLUEPRINT TEAM:

The Euro Blueprint team has had a bit of a reorganization lately and we are now working in teams of 2 or 3 members on a topic of our choice. One team is working on the organizations in Europe, with a brief explanation what they entail, so we all get a better insight in how Europe is organized and can fit them into the EU version of the BP where appropriate. We welcomed a new member, who is enthusiastic to look into the topic of Colonization, as his family originates from one of the colonies in Africa. On evaluation of the so far edited material, we now need to focus on what is needed specifically for Europe and make it complete. For our next meeting we have scheduled to discuss some material from Ucadia, which can be applicable for the Governments Solution and, if time allows, the same for the European Overhaul Solution. We welcome all members who are interested in contributing to the discussion about those or any other of the important topics, leading to the creation of solutions that are relevant for the EU, to join us. We also welcome members who may have a connection in one of the lesser-known countries in the EU, and inform us about that, so we can make an appeal to them for their potential contribution to the Blueprint, because it is important all have a say in how we want to shape our world.

CANADIAN BLUEPRINT TEAM:

The Canadian Blueprint has been sent for final review and approval before formatting and publication.

LAW TEAM:

Work continues on the Intro to Law Series transcripts with progress being made on Corporations and Funds and Documents and Securities. Whilst editing the Intro Series and following on from the Unity show, it would be helpful to address the concept of implied or presumed consent. This concept has become a key point in the BAR Guild system underpinning their claim of plausible denial, due to the concept of tacit consent. By interpreting silence as consent, they can claim that an individual has made the free will choice to consent to their jurisdiction, their rules and stand under their authority.

In court, to perfect jurisdiction they ask 4 questions:

1. Are you JOHN DOE? If the answer is yes, the defendant is consenting to be the all CAPS person as a thing, a dead person with no rights, limited capacity and standing.
2. Do you reside at 123 street, town/city? If the answer is yes, the defendant is consenting to be a resident, which was defined as an out-patient of a psychiatric ward in the 1800's. A patient of a psychiatric ward has the legal capacity of an infant, has no competent mind, and remains under the custodianship of the court.
3. Do you understand the charges against you? If the answer is yes, a defendant is consenting to stand under the authority and jurisdiction of the court.
4. How do you plead, guilty or not guilty? Guilty comes from the Dutch word guelder for gold. To plead guilty means that the defendant accepts liability for the debt and is now surety for the bond created. To plead not guilty means that the defendant accepts liability for the debt but has decided to be belligerent about it. A plea also sets up a constructive trust in the court. At the onset of a case, the judge is the Trustee, with the liability. The Beneficiary remains unnamed until the plea, the judge needs a plea as that makes the defendant the Trustee, with full liability, the judge becomes the Executor and the Prosecution the Beneficiary. The Executor can then provide the instructions for the Trust, which the Trustee is obligated to perform. Note that the correct terms for a plea are innocent or culpable.

It is presumed that the individual has consented to the creation of the constructive trust through tacit/implied consent, as an ancient maxim of law states that a claim unrebutted stands. As the defendant does not rebut any claims and answers in the affirmative to all questions as well as enters a plea, implied consent can be claimed.

Implied consent is also presumed through the acceptance and use of government benefits (use of schools, roads, community centers, health care etc.) as well the use of legal tender implies consent to the banking model. Legal tender is an iou, a debt note. It is private money of the private banks. It is not public money minted by the government. By using their private notes, it can be claimed that the population consents to the banking system, rules, and obligations. The question that needs to be asked is what is the provenance of implied consent and is it a lawful form of consent? First, we must define consent. Consent is the unilateral, voluntary and informed granting of permission to another Person, to do or refrain from doing some certain act. Whilst implied acceptance is a legitimate concept associated with the negotiation of written agreements, the concept of implied consent is an absurdity, morally repugnant and false. There exists only one proper form of consent within jurisdictions operating under civilized rule of law.

What is Consent?

There are at least 8 key elements that constitute valid consent, which include capacity, voluntary, specificity, adequacy, reasonability, clarity, evidentiary and revocability. Capacity means that consent can only be granted by a Person that has the legal capacity to do so at the time. In order to do so, a Person must be of sound mind and meet minimum age requirements (i.e., minors may have limited capacity to give consent). Voluntary mean that consent must be granted freely and without coercion, duress or undue influence, meaning that the Person giving consent has the capacity to make a rational decision and has not been pressured or manipulated into agreeing. Specificity means that consent is required to be specific to the particular action or transaction at the time. Blanket consent is an absurdity in law and not legally enforceable as it fails the test of informed consent. Adequacy means that consent is required to be informed consent in most cases. Meaning that an individual providing consent must have a clear understanding of the nature, risks, benefits, and implications of the action they are agreeing to and must be provided with the relevant information so they can make an informed decision. Reasonability means that consent is an act of reason, accompanied with cognitive deliberation as in the mind weighing the balance of pros and cons. It means not just possession but exercise of sufficient mental capacity to make an intelligent choice to grant permission to another to do or refrain from doing something. Clarity means that consent must be clear. If expressed it must be a yes or affirmative statement of permission, and if written it must be unmistakable approval of permission. Evidentiary means that consent in relation to agreements requires evidential proof of approval and all the elements necessary for valid consent. Revocability means that consent in relation to agreements requires revocability up until the agreement is executed; and then such right as the Right of Recission should it be discovered later that one or more of the other parties failed to meet the standards of a valid agreement. In legal models, concepts such as consent always relate to the Persons and never to living beings such as Men or Women; thus, consent when expressed or written may be properly defined as the Will or “mind” of a Person.

What is implied consent?

Implied consent is an absurd, morally repugnant, and false legal concept that refers to a situation in which a Person’s actions or behavior suggest that they have given consent to something, even if they have not explicitly stated their consent in writing or verbally. The evil, corrupt and false notion that silence implies consent first entered the English culture at the end of the 17th century but claimed from much earlier. The phrase silence gives consent is a statement from the early 17th C play A Man for All Seasons, by William Shakespeare, about the life, trial and execution of Sir Thomas Moore, the dialogue being not so. Not so, Master Secretary. The maxim is Qui tacit consentire (silence gives consent). If, therefore, you wish to construe what my silence betokened, you must construe that I consented, not that I denied. This Shakespearean quote contradicts what was actually stated by Sir Thomas Moore, as accounted by William Roper, where the dialogue was, nor no other law in the world can punish any man for his silence, seeing they can do no more than punish words or deeds, for ‘tis only God that is the judge of the secrets of our hearts. Shakespeare clearly reversed the meaning of these words. There is no credible evidence whatsoever that silence is consent was ever a maxim under Roman Law. Overwhelming evidence that such a statement could not have possibly been a doctrine from the 8th century to at least the 13th century, under Anglo-Saxon and Roman Catholic Law and clear evidence that such an absurd, ignorant and wicked doctrine was not part of Common Law in Great Britain, North America and Ireland. There also appears little evidence of judges and juries accepting the notion of silence is consent to be credible over the past several hundred years.

The most active promotion of silence is consent has been via the truth movement, in combination with other falsities and absurdities of law such as acceptance for value. The truth movement is typically used as an avenue to disseminate false information to keep people confused, distracted, engaged in, and fighting in their private BAR Guild system. This gives people enough hope that the system is just, that rule of law exists and remedy can be found. It also keeps people from looking deeper and learning about the true rule of law, the true provenance of law, what are our rights and property, how Trust law is used to administer these things and that the foundation of law is Talmudic/Ecclesiastical law.

In order to solve a problem, we must first recognize that a problem exists. We must then identify the root cause of the problem to be able to fix it. In any conflict we must know and respect the mind of our opponent. We can then learn how they think and in so doing see the root of the problem. The Intro to Law series helps us learn how they think and how their system operates. With this knowledge we can unpick the lock and free ourselves from the mind influence slavery system they have created. In the Blueprint it is stated that: we may need to use the current systems out of necessity, meaning we have not given our consent, implied or expressed. Their system is maintained through force, fear, fraud, occult language, and secrecy. Lawfully, there can be no consent, implied or otherwise, when the 8 elements that constitute consent are absent. It is a complete fallacy to presume consent in the absence of these elements.

Another question to ask is how does the mind influence system work? How have we been so easily deceived and manipulated into creating and upholding a system, that clearly does not operate for the best interests of humanity. The future is not pre-ordained, it does not exist yet. In fact, it cannot be preordained, without violating the most fundamental and powerful rule of existence, that the universe operates on free will. If life is a dream and the dream has rules, and we are the dream and the dreamer, how do we interact with the Universe? How does our free will operate and how does it get tricked into making bad choices? We cannot think in the present, as in reality we can only be or feel in the present. As soon as a present moment has passed, it has become the past. The only element we can control in any conscious effect is the past. The past is fiction as it is the recall of our memories of past actions or events. Memory is fallible and often times memories cannot be relied upon to recall the truth, rather the emotions felt and what we decide is the truth; hence, the past is a fiction and is malleable. To circumvent the problem of not being able to think in the present, your mind devised a way by creating your present conscious mind into a time machine. What you perceive as the immediate present is actually the immediate future. Your clear, present, conscious mind is actually a fraction of a second ahead of the present event yet to happen. This gap is important, because your clear, present, conscious mind is processing all past available information around it, to guess the future, and then present the best future to you as if it is the present moment. Thus, the past is being used to project into the future, affecting the present moment. Your clear, present, conscious perception of reality is always an illusion and an approximation. There is no such thing as an inevitable destiny or certainty, there are only possibilities with a degree of probability. The free will of existence dictates that the future cannot be certain, existence itself prevents such a notion. Each moment must be experienced and celebrated as an expression of will to exist, to be. The only aspects of time-space that can consciously be experienced with any certainty, is the past.

The word environment comes from 3 Latin words:

- en meaning within.
- virio meaning green, flourishing.
- ment meaning mind.

Hence, the original and true meaning of the word environment is flourishing within one's mind, or to put it another way, within one's imagination. Your environment is a wakeful and conscious dream projected over the perceived dimension of this external world so the two become indistinguishable. In other words, life is a dream, the dream has rules. We are the dream and the dreamer. We are constantly co-creating our future when our individual minds process all available information and project our best future as the present moment. Perhaps we can now understand why their lies and deceit are so powerful. They have given us their story, this has become our memory, and as the past is fiction at best and is malleable, if they change the past, it affects the future outcomes that our mind projects. We create their ideas of the future when we accept their version of the past.

George Orwell said, to control the future, one must control the present; to control the present, one must control the past. Now we can appreciate the truth of the expression, when we change our mind, the whole world changes. Unravelling their lies, learning our true story, understanding how our cognitive systems create our future experience, we can be inspired as we realize our true potential. It is we who create their prison in our minds when we accept their concepts, such as implied consent, and become self-made victims of the system. It is also we who can create a paradise on Midgard/Earth when we learn to believe in ourselves, trust in the Universe, delete the lack of self-worth programming and decide to be who we are, eternal, powerful, immeasurable spirits capable of co-creating whatever we choose through the operation of free will. Our only limits are to do no harm to others and the obligations to care for a planet we may use for our benefit.

IN OVERVIEW:

With things ramping up now, we have had to begin to look at ourselves and ask the questions, are we ready for this? If the answer is no, or I am not sure, this begs the question, are you just getting in your own way? So how do you get out of your own way? What does this really mean, on a personal and working group level? You hear it but do not necessarily take it in, does it just trip off the tongue as just another phrase or do you pay attention to it and work on it. Thomas has probably said this a million times at this point on the shows but have we really inner stood this in its entirety. And have we explored what is really in our way? What are the blocks that keep pulling you off track and distracting you from your true goals, and have you ever sat down and identified what your goals are? Or are you simply allowing life to lead you where it may, and therefore each circumstance that shows up in your life is viewed as a reason to not commit to your original plan? Our narrative becomes the blame game instead of I see what is happening around me, but it won't stop me from going where I want or need to go, the THI meme observe and don't absorb comes to mind. Our lives may have been chaotic for most of it but even in the quiet times we stay within those chaotic thought fields, allowing the past event to show up in our new day. Which then attracts more of the same, but yet we say things like, I just want a peaceful life, I want a better life, I want everything to change. Which then begs another question, what have you done to change it? The truth of the matter is your thoughts will always be what keeps manifesting, and until you learn to control them, clear them and step down out of the mind and into the heart, you will have a chaotic life. Is your low self-worth and low value the thing that is getting in your way? Do you value yourself enough to stop allowing people, places, things and events run your life, or will you keep using others and life events as the excuse as to why you did not show up or stay on track? Who and what holds power over you is your responsibility not anyone else's. If you really look deeply at the distractions and ask how much time these people spend in my head every day, how much energy am I giving to this problem. Have you not realised that you have the same power to come up with a solution and move forward. Think different is one of our main memes we use in THI, yet do we spend time taking that on the internal or are we time wasting trying to get someone else to think differently? About something and all the while we have not gone deep enough into our own layers, to remove the shadows that keep replaying out in our lives. They may be family issues, old traumas, illnesses that keep plaguing us, our boss, financial issues and many other patterns that keep showing up. Your soul is trying to communicate with you, so you work with it, it is not trying to make your life harder, it is trying to help you. We all want the change that the blueprint means, we all want a better life, a better way of being in the world, yet our expectation can be that someone else will be the change, someone else is more equipped than I am to do that work. Wrong thinking, or is it just lazy thinking?

Are we being tasked now to really apply those memes that have been floating around in our heads and grasp the great significance of what they mean for us personally? With great change comes many challenges. While that may be for some the thing that will inspire them and push them onto greater heights, they can also be the very thing that some will use to fall back into low self-worth and low self-value. The truth frequency within THI means we are all being challenged with facing our selves, truly embracing who and what we are, and why we are here right now. We are traversing many levels of the self-right now, as you cannot grow without letting go of what kept you trapped. We can stagnate or we can fly, those chains that kept you down are simply illusionary, the way to break free is to stop trying to undo them, simply cut them off and let them go. Blaming the system, the people is part of the process of waking up, but at some point, we need to blame ourselves and take full responsibility. Rise above the chaos the chatter, the many distractions and reclaim our original form. Once we do that and begin the process of being real, that is then the reality we will see unfold and the illusion becomes a distant memory. If you want to see better people become a better person, the real you is the better person and that then becomes reality, and one less victim in the new world. The distractors and the dissenters represent their world, they are players for the dark forces, so have we have become more like them than we care to admit. Playing out their dark agendas only serves the dark. We are being tasked with invoking our light, our beacon, but it can only truly shine when we get honest enough to stand in our shadow and expose it, transmute and integrate it fully, so we stop manifesting their world into ours. A new world means new thinking, new patterns that serve us and humanity better. We cannot bring our old ways with us and believing the blueprint will eradicate them is irresponsible thinking. Only you can do that.

Saturdays show Unity- the path to redemption tells us that at this point nothing worked. All the plans they had have failed, and just like life we have to grasp the point that holding onto their thinking means you have a high propensity to fail also. Stop being a statistic on their chart plan and begin to emerge as a fully charged embodiment of your true self. It is within you it has been waiting for you to engage it and become it. Once you diminish the copy of the copy that is standing in your own way, you can then walk forward with hope in your heart and show the way for others that need you. Remember you were once needing the hand up that THI gave to you, but now it is time to hold out our hand to someone else that needs it and pay it forward. Your life experience was a chance for you to become the solution, your soul has been showing you what does not work so well, so you can fix it. We have 29 solutions in the blueprint but remember that you may be the key to a new solution not yet written or contain the experience and knowledge, we now need to expand on those solutions. Never assume someone else has all the answers, instead take some time to uncover your own ideas for a better way forward and add your flower of life to the blueprint for humanity, after all your story is also worth fighting to correct. Becoming the solution is now our task to correct and 180 this mind virus, that has kept us from entering the gateway to the heart. First, we have to fix what is wrong within us, the blame game is over, as Thomas says We did not come here to play their game we came to change it. Never dull your light for anyone else, never retreat behind someone else's shadow or lie down in your own. Our time is here, there are golden opportunities waiting for you to explore. All you have to do is get out of your own way and shine.

NEWS:

The Blueprint goes further than people think, as this report reveals. The blueprint, called Project 2025 and produced by the conservative Heritage Foundation, is one of several think-tank proposals for Trump's platform. Over more than 900 pages, it calls for sacking thousands of civil servants, expanding the power of the president, dismantling the Department of Education and other federal agencies and sweeping tax cuts. All of which sounds very familiar. The Heritage Foundation unveiled its agenda in April last year, just a month after are re-run of the New Blueprint for Humanity, funny that.

We will let them carry on with their fake agendas, we here will continue to erase their history, their systems and agendas and their loop based programs. With that in mind, I have been away for a week to overview THI and Blueprint Actions and to chart the next path and stage. Much has been done and achieved to date, you should all be proud of how far we have come. But it is time for change and changes to be made to go to the next level in many aspects. I am going to create another team for total support for me as I prepare to go onto the next level. It is time to elevate things onto another level and to go forward with a renewed purpose. This will involve high level meetings, interviews and all the preparation that, that entails.

My decision is based upon observations of the last 16 months, involving the levels of input, the ability to work independently, to produce solutions and have an understanding of the bigger picture all of this entails. The team will be small initially to take on this task and I will be offering those roles to Roger Isaacs and Susan McCann. They will be not involved in the general running of the Blueprint Actions group anymore. I will need someone to take over the Media team and write the reports every two weeks. Roger will continue with Law group and reports for now, unless his workload increases too much and then I will need someone else to continue the day to day running of the Law group. I ask you all to not use or call on Roger or Susan for the day to day operations, whilst they are in these roles. The teams have had 16 months to understand the structure and ways of operating I put in place from March last year. It is time for others to step up for the day to day operations. I will be speaking with them soon to formulate the new plan of actions and operations to go forward. I will also be stepping away from the day to day operations and BP action meetings to concentrate on the next stage.

Here is possibly more proof of our Blueprint solutions filtering through world governments. As last week President Putin revealed: BRICS does not yet have its own parliamentary institution. However, I believe that the idea will definitely be implemented in the future. He says the need for the free world to create an international body able to enforce peace is essential. Bye bye NATO, UN, US Military and many other institutions of the old world empire. Just like we requested in the Military Blueprint.

Here is another warning from a European leader and one who generally talks common sense, Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orban. The next two months will be more dramatic than ever in the special military operation area, Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orban said after his visits to Moscow, Kiev and Beijing, citing the letters that Orban sent to European leaders after his trips. The Hungarian prime minister believes that Europe must come up with a peace initiative without waiting for the US. We cannot expect that the US will present any proposal in the upcoming months, he says. Orban reportedly assured the European leaders that Russian President Vladimir Putin and Chinese leader Xi Jinping believe that new peace talks on Ukraine will take place before the end of this year. The prime minister also noted that he spoke with the Chinese leader about the potential conflict development scenarios after the US presidential elections. He believes that a new US president will have to provide a prompt political result even before the inauguration. I agree with all of that, everything is gearing and ramping up now.

This is what democracy brings you in the countries who cheat elections. This is the voting in the UK recently, it is funny that around 40M never voted yet got no seats. Labour 34 % = 64 % of seats. Reform UK 14 % just under half of Labour's total but that = 1 % of seats at just 4 seats. Lib Dem 12 % got 2% less than Reform UK but that = 11 % of seats and 71 seats. Funny that and yet more evidence of Johns Hopkins math.

More financial strife and it is not just the US Economy that is on the brink of failure. China's home sales have plunged over 30% in the past five months despite government rescue efforts. Since real estate loans account for approximately 40 percent of total Chinese bank credit over the long term, it will severely impact the entire real estate industry and its 56 related industries. What this means is that, while China's problems are not nearly as huge as those facing the US Corporation, it also needs a financial reboot. On recent notes shown in America it says USA Treasury not U.S. Treasury. That shows what is bankrupt is not the U.S. Republic but the USA corporation. The "US" and "U.S." are not what the vast majority think they are, the "US" means municipal government, which is the United Nations, and "U.S." indicates the British territorial government, two completely separate forms of government, neither of which is the people's government.

Here is the latest policy to further decline America, but also to cover up the losses of many people who have died or disappeared. President Joe Biden is set to announce a new policy that would protect hundreds of thousands of undocumented spouses of US citizens from deportation, according to administration officials. The action will apply to those who have been in the country for at least 10 years and will allow them to work in the US legally. It marks the most significant relief program for undocumented migrants already in the US since the Obama administration announced the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or Daca, in 2012. The White House believes more than 500,000 spouses of US citizens will benefit, in addition to 50,000 young people under 21 whose parent is married to an American citizen. Earlier in June, Mr. Biden vowed to make the US immigration system more fair and more just. Funny that as many Europeans have to pay hundreds of thousands of dollars to get a business E Visa to move to America, yet these people can walk in for free? Why is there no immigration between the UK and America? The announcement comes ahead of an event marking the 12th anniversary of the Daca programme, which shielded over 530,000 migrants who came to the US as children - known as Dreamers - from deportation. Those who qualify will have three years to apply for permanent residency and will be eligible for a three-year work permit. NumbersUSA, an immigration reform group, slammed the new policy as “unconscionable”. The organization’s chief executive, James Massa, said in a statement: Rather than stopping the worst border crisis in history, President Biden has overreached his executive authority to use an unconstitutional process, circumventing voters and their elected representatives in Congress, to send a message that amnesty is available to those who enter illegally into the United States. The key to get them all to return is in the Blueprint, where the funds allocated for each country is spent developing their own countries. There would be plenty of work available for them then.

We at THI did forecast the clowns would do another event probably global to stop the onslaught against them and corral the people back into sheeple pens. Maybe this is the start of it? A former U.S. Special Forces and Green Beret Michael Yon made an appearance with Freedom Train International founder Jim Ferguson, to publicly claim that the globalists have just released another bioweapon at a football stadium in the heart of Japan. According to Yon, the bioweapon was unleashed in Yokohama, Japan, on June 16 within a crowd of about 40,000 people. The designer bioweapon is designed to cause what Ferguson describes as massive spike shedding of the most dangerous kind. A self-replicating mRNA (modRNA) variant gene editing shot was used as the delivery route for releasing the bioweapon into the public. Yon explains in the interview once infected, a person then becomes a Replicon that goes on to infect and ultimately kill others. A replicon is a region of an organism's genome that is independently replicated from a single origin of replication. A bacterial chromosome contains a single origin, and therefore the whole bacterial chromosome is a replicon. The chromosomes of archaea and eukaryotes can have multiple origins of replication. All sounds very like the Replicators to me in the Stargate series, when you add it to a recent piece of making metals into liquids and then returning to semi solid, then perhaps you understand the bigger picture. The term Replicons will be the term used to describe those who take the shot and replicate the spike shedding, that causes massive infection in other people who they come into contact with us, Ferguson says. Globalists are almost done with their secret bunkers. Whenever stuff like this starts to make headlines, some people rightly ask: Why would the globalists unleash a highly contagious and really deadly bioweapon that could also infect and kill them? According to Yon, these workers of iniquity are planning to hide in their remote doomsday bunkers while the bioweapon does its thing. Many of these bunkers are still under construction, but Yon says they are just about complete. Then, when the time is right, they are going to suddenly disappear, to quote Ferguson, at least this is Yon's version of how such events will transpire. They may run but they will not be able to hide. They will no longer be called DUMBS but doomsday bunkers for those in them. It would seem as though the powers that be are trying to time their sudden disappearance with that of the true children of God – two disappearances at once, who are promised an escape from the judgment and horrors to come. They were lied to, they will not escape that reality this time. Golden tickets, total protection, saved by the gods, immortality, titles and many other seducements, has and will fail this time. For the last 18 or so months, Yon says there has been talk about the event, as they are calling what is about to happen. They know what is going to happen because they are part of why it is going to happen. The only thing they do not know is the exact day, which will overtake them like a thief in the night. Echoing what THI has been saying, the cornered snake is about to lash out that will make things worse for them, not improve their ilk. Is this how they plan to get every human to have mRNA into their bodies? Ferguson asks about the bioweapon that Yon says was just released in Japan.

America's illegal immigration problem will play a role in what is soon to come as well. Illegal migrants will be used by TPTB to control indigenous populations as well as lock down entire cities in a similar, but much worse way, as what happened during the Wuhan coronavirus pandemic. The ultimate plan is to reduce population, but this new development will mean that everyone who gets into close contact, for example by sharing public transport, will mean that the unvaccinated will become infected, Ferguson says. The Deagal report has stated that by the year 2025 there will be massive, unprecedented population losses. The United States could see a population reduction from 330 million to 89 million. The UK may see a fall in population from 67 million to 15 million and other countries face similar dire population reductions. Yes, they were the predictions from at least a decade back when I first saw them. But much has been changed since then and 2025 has more of a light than dark aspect to it. What will you create and what will you manifest? I guess it all comes down to what you love or what you fear.

We have highlighted many of the atrocities connected to Ukraine and some of those who are involved against the Ukrainian people. Here is three more names outed.

Ihor Valeriyovych Kolomoyskyi is a Ukrainian-born billionaire businessman, once considered the leading oligarch in Ukraine. Already an entrepreneur in the last years of Soviet Ukraine, in 2010 Kolomoyskyi was rated as the second richest person in Ukraine, and as one of the country's most influential oligarchs. In 1992, he had co-founded PrivatBank and its informal stable of companies, Privat Group.

Gennadiy (Zvi Hirsch) Bogolyubov is a Ukrainian oligarch based in the United Kingdom. Bogolyubov was reported as being the third richest Ukrainian, having a net worth of $5.429 billion. The above two were involved in a $5.5B scam.

Oleksii Yuriiiovych Reznikov is a Ukrainian lawyer and politician who served as the Minister of Defense of Ukraine from 4 November 2021 until his dismissal on 5 September 2023. Reznikov previously has served in several other positions in the government of Ukraine: Deputy Prime Minister, Minister for Reintegration of the Temporarily Occupied Territories of Ukraine, deputy head of the Kyiv City State Administration from 2016 to 2018, and deputy mayor-secretary of the Kyiv City Council from June 2014 to December 2015. He has been cited as to having stolen $1B of Ukrainian funds. All these were involved in the coup in Ukraine that brought in Zelenskyy. The common denominator? They are all Jewish. What an amazing cohen-cidence that is, not!

With Chinese combat troops now deploying near his border, this report notes, Polish President Andrzej Duda quickly declared last week: Ukraine cannot become a NATO member while it is in the state of conflict with Russia. It is a conflict whose ending of Security Council Deputy Chairman Dmitry Medvedev predicted will be: Vladimir Zelensky's clique will flee to the West or will be torn to pieces by a mob. A moderate political regime will emerge from the ruins of former Ukraine. At the same Chinese combat troops are deploying to the European border of NATO near Poland, Middle Eastern power United Arab Emirates has just sent its air force to start training in China.

It is the latest example of the Middle East turning against the warmongering socialist Western colonial powers that joins Saudi Arabia, who are threatening to sell off all of its European bonds if Russian assets are confiscated. The world is turning against the Jewish led West coalition of darkness and we head towards an ending of the slave system and hijacking on and of our planet.

There are 70,000 seriously wounded Israeli Soldiers currently, with many amputations. Then you have the hidden soldier deaths rumored to be around 10K. As we have reported previously Netanyahu of IsIs-Ra-El wants a 7 front war against Hamas + Westbank + Hezbollah + Houtis + Rebels in Syria + Rebels in Iraq + IRAN. When attacking IRAN, Iran will be backed up by Pakistan, Russia, Turkey and China. When there is no logic, there must be a plan of, emptying Israel. This attack will end the entity Isis Ra El and their control of the planet and its varying races.

More medical clownery for those who call themselves the US government, not content with the damage Mode RNA has already done to the people, now they wish to add insult to injury or death. The US government has given Moderna $176m to develop a messenger-ribonucleic-acid-based (mRNA) pandemic influenza vaccine that would work against bird flu. It says it wants to be better prepared for public-health crises, having learned lessons from Covid. The US Government is the public health crisis, do people not see that yet? Bird flu is not a big threat to people, despite outbreaks in poultry and cattle. But experts want a working vaccine that could be quickly rolled out, in case the virus mutates and becomes a problem. Vaccines using mRNA technology - which the Moderna's Covid jab is also based on - can be produced more quickly. And the US government says adding this technology to its pandemic-flu toolkit enhances its ability to be nimble and quick against bird flu. The $176m, from the US Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority, will be used to complete late-stage development and testing of Moderna's vaccine against H5N1 avian influenza. Potentially fatal: This strain has been around for years in birds - but some other animals, including cattle, have become infected in recent outbreaks. Some believe the virus might one day change and start spreading easily among humans, with potentially serious consequences. So far, there is no sign of this. There have been some rare cases of people catching it after coming into contact with sick animals. In people, the virus can cause symptoms ranging from mild illness, such as upper-respiratory and eye infections, to potentially fatal disease such as pneumonia, according to the US Centers for Disease Control. Moderna began early tests of its mRNA bird-flu vaccine in 2023, with healthy adult volunteers. The results, expected later this year, will inform the next steps, it says. Hence the increase in bird flu around the country. From bird politics to bird flu, it is all very Thothian isn't it?

You thought you had heard the last of the Hebrew plague known as the bubonic plague, you thought wrong. As cases have started to appear in Colorado of bubonic plague, I wonder which military facility that came out of?

Here is another ouroboros program that has back fired not only in Germany as highlighted here, but America and all other European nations, a lack of skilled workers. America of course shut down its manufacturing and many other sectors and brought in people from other countries to fulfill that shortage. It was deliberately dumbed down and so skilled workers are in short supply here, hence the use of immigrants to fulfill the gap. Another issue is the Military being the sole supplier of training for jobs, as it removes the top people into a military setting and leaves lesser skilled workers for the country itself. But if the passport and cozying up to Israel wasn't bad enough there, this is a further slap in the face of the tax paying Germans. Germany is planning to offer a 30pc tax break to highly educated migrants in a bid to tackle its skilled worker shortage. The measure forms part of the coalition government's budget that was unveiled on Friday, after months of tough negotiation between the country's three ruling parties. If adopted into law, the proposal would result in skilled migrants receiving 30pc off their taxes in the first year of their work, 20pc off in the second and 10pc in the third. More than a third (36pc) of companies in Germany are currently experiencing a shortage of skilled workers, according to a report by the Institute for Economic Research think tank. We warned of this many years ago, the syphoned everything off to Asia and now they are realizing that is not going to unfold the way they planned. Suddenly the whole of Europe has issues like these, America also and it will take much time to correct it. The Blueprint offers the solution to the worker shortage, which can also be a product of another think tanks folly of depopulation. However, the policy has sparked backlash and allegations that it favors foreign workers over nationals. The Christian Democratic Union Party on the center right of the political spectrum, said the idea amounted to discrimination against the country's residents. In case you didn't notice they have been doing that to Germany and all white race countries since WW2. The party's general secretary Martin Huber has branded the policy scandalous. At the same time, the Left Party and Green Party have alleged the move could be in breach of the German constitutional principle of equal treatment. Debate over immigration has made local headlines after football player Toni Kroos said he believed immigration in Germany too uncontrolled and that the country has changed considerably in the 10 years since he left. The overview question of this is, are the authorities forcing Germans into a Fascist style regime again as they rail against the migrant, instead of focusing on who created the policies? Then they can go look, the Germans are being racist and non-multicultural again. All sounds like a set up to me and the Germans have to rise en masse against their Jewish think tank structure that caused all the issues between WW1 and WW2. His story always repeats unless you stop it at the root cause, the problem is not the migrants, but the system itself.

One of the many acronyms that came out of social media and texting was wtf, we renamed it as Wells the Fargo, but it meant what the fuck. We at THI are going to add an extension to that of wtff, not it is not double cussing, but what the false flag was that with Trump? Embarrassing just doesn't cut it. Clearly it was staged and one of the events I said would unfold to change the narrative. But this was a poor stage productions even by Hollywood standards. Fake blood for a start, ears bleed profusely yet none went on his white shirt, that is an impossibility. The fake V written across his face sideways can mean many things, but generally associated with sign language of the gangs of the Bloods and the Crips. The other curious thing is, Trump went down holding his ear, yet there was no blood on his hand? How is that possible? The keystone cops actions of the security services were also beyond embarrassing. Desperate attempts to get and keep Trump on the ground, then elevating him for the photo shoot, they were all seen laughing as they did the slow march to the car. That took more than a few minutes, yet the car was only a few yards away. Where they then allowed another photo shoot opportunity, all of those actions are not conducive as to how secret service agents act when a dignitary is under threat. If there was more alleged shooters in the audience, those agents gave them three opportunities to take more shots at Trump. That is just not happening or how they operate. There were plenty of other anomalies I will let others focus on, my concern is deeper than that. If this was all staged, it means Trump is in on it and working directly for the EL-ites, by creating fake news for political gain and no doubt more draconian measures. Plus the media got their distraction piece from the aging Biden, Israeli atrocities and genocide, NATO/US and Ukraine losing the war, the Hunter Biden story, the Pfizer lawsuit and many more pieces being thrust into the light these days. If it is true that Trump was involved in the plot, added to the fact he is a convicted felon, then throw in the bumbling Biden act and one has to ask, just how an election can still go ahead this year? It should be canceled and a new real election for an American Government, minus clown parties and select the best for the role as a temporary measure whilst others things are being formulated. A designated survivor as it were. But we have another embarrassment coming up this week, will that yield another event? The US Congress members are allowing a genocidal maniac to speak to them this week, Netanyahu. How low can politicians go? We will find out next week and see what reception Netanyahu gets. If any politician has any sort of courage about them, they will boycott it or stand in Congress and boo whilst Netanyahu speaks. Send him a proper message from all Americans, we will no longer be hand puppets for the Israeli junta or homicidal maniacs.

Does the Stairway to Heaven song re-enforce the duality program? Remember the guitarist Jimmy Page was a disciple of Crowley and even bought his house after he died. The song says, yes there are two paths you can go by, all of which dances in the duality aspect, but ultimately each chooses their own path. But what about the triality aspect, which is our choice? But here is a ponder of Cosmic proportions, is the triality the path of neutrality? What if the ultimate goal of a soul/spirit package is to be neither dark nor light, but in balance of both, echoing the 45/55? Does this make more sense, given a souls journey is to experience both roles in order to determine their true path? The path of neutrality, means you can be comfortable operating from both sides whilst retaining the essence of you. Is there evidence to support this theory? Yes Source, because if Source is a light being only, why would Source allow dark beings into creation? This also brings in the free will choice aspect of this Universe, free will is the exercising of your own will, thought and consciousness within the parameters of the Universe. Now we know that free will has been corrupted by mainly dark forces into accepting or delivering implied consent. So which path do you go by now? As always that is your free will choice.

Here is a pondering for you. Absence, ab means away from or before sense, yet before sense or absence they say makes the heart grows fonder. Does that means the heart is pure from the beginning and then a lack of common sense or nonsense makes the heart not grow fonder, but darker, weaker and cold. Hence the term a heart of stone. But do we understand the word fond or fonder? Clearly not from this piece of the origin of the word. Fond late 14c., deranged, insane; also foolish, silly, unwise, from fonned, past-participle adjective from obsolete verb fon, fonne (Middle English fonnen) to be foolish, be simple, from Middle English fonne a fool, stupid person (early 14c.), which is of uncertain origin but perhaps from Scandinavian. Which now means, absence from the heart makes you deranged, insane, stupid, foolish and simple. Now it makes more sense, before or otherwise. The Solution? Follow your heart.
