A welcome to all THI members and a welcome to those of you who act as a double agent for the Life Force group, we see you! We have always seen you. The great question is, is that the best use of your own life force energy? 4 years on and still obsessed with the Tiny man.

The Blueprint Episode 27 Teams Report week ending 28th July 2024.

THE AGENDA:

The teams had a general discussion this week on how to restructure things, as two of the team members will be taking a step back from the BP Action group to focus on other areas now. This gave the teams a chance to reflect on how the BP Action group may be affected and what the new course of action would be going forward. The teams decided to lay out a short presentation of each team's duties, this gives each team a chance to get a bigger understanding of what is required and anyone coming into the teams can overview this and decide to contribute to what is already operational or bring a new aspect to it.

The next item on the agenda was formulating a plan around the decision to give the first chapter of from His-story to Our story free as a promotion tool for the book, and to entice people to want to read more and then go on to purchase the book. How that would look and be effective will now be decided at a later date. The books are currently available for sale on the website @thi-show.com and also on Lulu.com for anyone to purchase. There was also a discussion on how the new template could be used for contacting influencers, and this will be decided at a later date. If any member wants to join in the discussions, please feel free to drop in and attend any meeting the zoom link can be found on the be platform, the next meeting takes place this Thursday the 8th of August at 12.30 pm MT, 11.30 am pacific time and 7.30pm UK time.

BOOK TEAM:

The Romanian From His Story to Our Story Volumes 2 and 3 are published and will soon be available on the THI website. Bulgarian Volume 3 is in progress. The Swedish translation of the Blueprint is being proofread and a Swedish translation of From His Story to Our Story Volume 1 is in the works. The promotional giveaway of From His Story to Our Story Volume 1 Chapter 1 is now on the THI website bookstore page, and the potential to offer it on social media is being considered. In particular, it has been suggested that if could be sent to influencers to give them context for the Blueprint. An email template has been devised and awaits approval. A possible Lulu promotion of From His Story to Our Story Volume 1 is being investigated, and the initial contents reviewed. The team also discussed a homeschooling curriculum and recommended specific transcripts from THI shows to include along with Vedas and folk tales from Slavic tradition that are based on the Santies.

RESEARCH TEAM:

We were grateful to have a full house of team members in attendance and a special visitor from the Activist Team joined us. Our travelers have returned but due to their internet provider being hacked and Hurricane Beryl creating power outage havoc, it made even cellular service extremely spotty. Pre-meeting communication had been a struggle, so we all had a lot to catch up on in many areas of mutual concern. First is getting the database updated with all the suggestions received by email or the be. forum during the manager's absence. Next is inputting data from the four previous shows. Due to the cutback of reported names from 40 to 20, many pdf recipients remain to be reported under the new format. That requires database revision work, as does refining the 900 names to remove low priority people. Most of the useful Influencers from the original 14 months of THI shows have been used and the remainder of the non-targeted can be removed from current print lists. Beyond that, the focus will be on supporting the Activists with their targeted Influencers who can receive the Blueprint through email, webform or mail. How to best interface with the Activist Team was next on the agenda. Their visiting member and our in-team liaison clarified their teams needs by stating the goals of: Target people who have received the Blueprint. Target medium/bigger Influencers, followed by smaller influencers. Focus on generating interviews. The attendees discussed protocols revision. It means recalibrating Influencers selected and identifying the chain of information communication. The database manager will communicate directly with both the Activist team lead and the 5x5 decision maker. The goal is to ultimately provide the decision maker with 20-25 Influencer names based on Activist input and the Research Teams' ability to reach them. Then selections can be made from a larger list of names. The conversation turned back to the Research Team, making further database refinements in concert with recent directives to shift focus away from previously covered subject matter. The listeners may see some lag-time on processing your suggestions because we work several weeks ahead of each Blueprint Show. We are thankful for and recognize members influencer name contributions, but we will now need to mark Influencers "Hot or Not" in the database as individuals are each evaluated for Activist & Interview compatibility. The Research Team receives many YouTube videos and podcaster show links from members that are up to three hours long. We recognize that members have pre-selected them as in alignment with THI and/or the Blueprint. They are all quite interesting, but it is a difficult way to gather contact information. Kindly, we ask you, please Google search and see if you can come up with a website, email and X link too. If not able to, please tell us why our THI founder would want to be interviewed by that person. Your hour spent counts as volunteer time towards the Blueprint outreach. Your rewards will be spiritually gifted upon receipt thereof and save our team from working overtime. We do have a volunteer for the task, but it will take many weeks before you may or may not hear your suggested person's name read aloud in our report. To further clarify, the top dogs are more about shouting their own tune. We want to see an interview by someone dedicated to shouting world-changing solutions with a dedicated discerning audience. Speaking of volunteers, two Help Wanted ads are continuing to be posted to the MeWe THI main site and on the Be Forum main chat. One is a general volunteer help wanted by the Research Team and the other is still looking for residents of the 3 remaining states with non-AIPAC funded Senators. The states are Alabama, Kentucky, and Hawaii. Please message the Research Team in either of the chats to volunteer.

Moving on to other subjects, the coordinator shared a refreshing suggestion for a new email letter to send with the book pdf. It came from a European member by way of the Action Group. Our team also we all agreed to adopt the nice change immediately. A Research Team member kindly created a secondary version to fit the 186-word limit to fit a website contact form.

The team released the names of two hundred top billionaires, all with net worths greater than 40 billion dollars. It will take several weeks to send them the pdf versions of the Blueprint. Instead of providing names, let us look at the geographic and industrial distribution of these individuals and families. These wealthy people are in 34 countries. Two thirds are in just five countries. Eighty are in the United States, eighteen in China, fourteen in India, while eleven are in Russia and ten in Germany. These do not include the very wealthy like the Royal families nor the bloodline families, who have their wealth held in undiscoverable trusts. These billionaires accumulated their wealth in nineteen industries. Nearly two thirds are in just five industrial types. There are forty in Technology, thirty-three in finance and investments, twenty-eight in fashion and retail, fifteen in food and beverage and fourteen in diversified industry.

Think tanks and their top management are the influencers for this show:

Nicholas Berggruen: Is the founder of The Berggruen Institute. It is a global network of thinkers that develop foundational ideas to shape political, economic, and social institutions for the 21st century. Their major programs are, Future of Democracy, Future of Capitalism, Planetary (looking at issues through a lens that stretches beyond the borders of nations or values of different cultures), Future Humans (constructing a flourishing relationship between humans, our institutions and systems, artificial intelligence, and the planet). Mr. Berggruen recently spoke of his thoughts about love in a video collection series. We quote his summary of the series: We come from love, we exist to give and receive love. Love is why we are, how we can be, how we can live on through our children, through our connections, through our deeds that others will remember. Love is the most profound life energy; it becomes life itself.

John Alan Charles, Jr.: Leads Cascade Policy Institute. It is a public policy research and educational organization that focuses on state and local issues in Oregon. Their mission is to develop and promote public policy alternatives that foster individual liberty, personal responsibility, and economic opportunity.

Daniel Mitchell: Oversees the Center for Freedom and Prosperity. It seeks to promote economic prosperity by advocating competitive markets and limited government. Some of their mission statements are: Lower the tax burden and create a simpler and fairer tax code; Protect the right to private property; and encourage free and open trade.

Erika Rosenberg: The Center for Governmental Research drives positive community change through the highest quality research, analysis, data insights and collaboration. Their vision is: We can transform any community to be more equitable, strong and thriving.

Mark Krikorian: The Center for Immigration Studies believe they are the nation's only think tank devoted exclusively to the research of U.S. immigration policy, to inform policymakers and the public about immigration's far-reaching impact. The Center is animated by a unique pro-immigrant, low-immigration vision which seeks fewer immigrants but a warmer welcome for those admitted. Their staff has testified before Congress over 150 times.

Thomas Mahnken: The Center for Strategic and Budgetary Assessments is the world's premier center for understanding future international competition and conflict. They develop innovative, resource-informed defense concepts, promote public debate, and spur action to advance U.S. and allied interests by conducting in-depth strategic and budgetary analyses

Thomas Klingenstein: The Claremont Institute's strategy has been to teach the principles of the American Founding to the future thinkers and statesmen of America. Those principles include the foundational doctrines of natural rights and natural law found in the Declaration of Independence; the ingenious political science of the Constitution; and the popular constitutionalism or reverence necessary for the maintenance of free government.

Maya MacGuineas: The Committee for a Responsible Federal Budget is committed to educating the public on issues with significant fiscal policy impact. As an independent source of objective policy analysis, they regularly engage policymakers of both parties and help them develop and analyze proposals to improve the country's fiscal and economic condition. They are also a trusted budget watchdog that assists journalists across the country in understanding fiscal developments in Washington D.C.

Robert Bixby: The Concord Coalition is a nationwide, non-partisan, grassroots organization advocating generationally responsible fiscal policy. It is dedicated to educating the public about the causes and consequences of large-and-growing federal budget deficits and national debt, the long-term challenges facing the economy and how to build a sound fiscal future for all generations.

Aaron Keating: Economic Opportunity Institute is a think tank in the state of Washington. They seek a future grounded in economic security, racial equity, sustainability and a high quality of life for all. They want every Washingtonian to have affordable, high-quality health care; access to affordable early learning and care and higher education opportunities; equitable opportunity and rights at work; time for care and the pursuit of happiness; and a secure and dignified retirement. They have a long want list for empowering and transforming state, county, city, and community government so the people have an equitable voice in making collective decisions.

John Walters: Hudson Institute is an American conservative think tank based in Washington, D.C. It was founded in 1961 in Croton-on-Hudson, New York, by futurist Herman Kahn and his colleagues at the RAND Corporation. Kahn was a physicist and military consultant known for envisioning nuclear war scenarios. The institute's research branched out from the military into various areas including economics, health, education and gambling.

Jamila Taylor: The Institute for Women's Policy Research engages in research and dissemination to shape public policy and improve the lives and opportunities of women from diverse backgrounds. They win economic equity for all women and eliminate barriers to their full participation in society. As a leading national think tank, they build evidence to shape policies that grow women's power and influence, close inequality gaps, and improve the economic well-being of families. They are receiving a new grant from Melinda French Gates for its economic equity and women's health research.

David Satterfield: The Baker Institute for Public Policy founded by Rice University provides meaningful policy analysis on the most critical challenges facing Texas, the U.S. and the world. They study critical topics in foreign and domestic policy, including issues related to economics and finance, energy, health and science, presidential elections and more. Their range of expertise allows for interdisciplinary collaboration among researchers.

Nicky Sheats: The John S. Watson Institute for Urban Policy and Research is located at Kean University in Union, New Jersey. The institute comprises integrated policy centers and initiatives that support informed public policy. They serve as a vital, non-partisan resource for New Jersey decision-makers, supporting the development and implementation of real-world solutions.

Reihan Salam: The Manhattan Institute is a community of scholars, journalists, activists, and civic leaders dedicated to advancing opportunity, individual liberty, and the rule of law in America and its great cities. They work to improve the quality of life in our urban centers, with a particular focus on the problem of urban violence and the need for public-sector reform.

Andrew Selee: The Migration Policy Institute maintains a special commitment to work on immigration and integration policies in North America and Europe, where its two offices are located, but it also remains active around the world, and takes a global and comparative approach to migration issues when possible.

Anne-Marie Slaughter: The New America group pioneers a new kind of think-and-action tank: a civic platform that connects a research institute, technology lab, solutions network, media hub, and public forum. They incubate ideas, policies and solutions for the new America.

Clark Judge: The Pacific Research Institute champion freedom, opportunity, limited government, and personal responsibility. They are policy entrepreneurs putting ideas into action. Put simply, public policy is too important to be left just to the experts. Individuals are the real decision makers when it comes to their schools, health care and environment.

Robert Weissman and Peter Maybarduk: Public Citizen champions the public interest in the halls of power. They defend democracy, resist corporate power and fight to ensure that government works for the people not big corporations. Founded in 1971, they now have 500,000 members and supporters throughout the country. They don't participate in partisan political activities or endorse any candidates for elected office. They take no government or corporate money, which allows them to remain fiercely independent and call out bad actors; no matter who they are or how much money and power they have.

Eli Lehrer: The R Street Institute is a think tank for the modern age, engaged in policy research in support of free markets and limited, effective government. They work to bolster American innovation, increase consumer choice and protect individual liberty and believe in smaller, smarter government.

MERCHANDISE TEAM:

We had our first meeting on 24th July attended by 5 members. Our objective was to brainstorm together and create fun ways to promote the Blueprint and raise funds to keep advertising and promotions rolling out. We discussed many different options to promote the Blueprint. Members seeking to help further the vision will be able to purchase tee shirts, hoodies, bumper stickers, flags, mugs, hats, buttons, lapel pins, temp tattoos, banners etc. One member suggested donating physical goods to be sold or auctioned off on the web page. Options are endless. We are all excited to receive our first run of hoodies and tee shirts in our hands. Photos will be taken of this first run to be uploaded to the website, when it is ready. We are doing price comparisons and researching product quality, to ensure that all who purchase our promotional items are guaranteed a quality item at a fair price. We look forward to expanding all of our heart centered intentions via displaying the Blueprint logo and URL on ourselves. Shining our beacons for all that we come into contact with during our daily travels and beyond. We are thrilled working on our group as well as working together, sharing our creative ideas, strengthening our THI family bonds. The relationships that we forge here are shining examples of how our race needs to display and integrate sincere adult behaviors and relationships. We are all leading by example. We are leading the all to a much more heart centered, adult existence in our new world and reality. All created for us by us, in love. We look forward to engaging with more members in our group. With more ideas and more creativity, there are no limits to the outreach of the BP to the heart of all humanity and beyond. Our final discussion was about the SWAG Proposal receiving the greenlight and is moving forward into its own unique team. For anyone wanting to help in creating Blueprint merchandise and working through from idea to final approval from the Top Decision Maker, please join the new Be Forum Blueprint Merchandise group. It is a subgroup of the Blueprint Action Group. Our heartfelt appreciation to the Webmaster for creating the space for us. We will be discussing where to see it and how to buy it in future shows. The project is in the incubator phase. Please stay tuned!

MEDIA TEAM:

The Media teams meeting this week had a very different flavor as it all about change and progression, and this report is for the first time a personal overview and perspective. After the announcement on Saturdays show that I am moving onto another project, the team has to make now new choices and decisions that will benefit them and give them their chance to realize how much they have grown and learnt throughout our time together and realize they too hold the greatest potential of all, to rise. I would like to take this opportunity to thank them from the bottom of my heart, as there is no I in Team. The team has from day one supported me and trusted me to be the face and the voice of the Media Team, I didn't take it lightly, in fact it was a bit intimidating to be honest. Their faith in me inspired me to show up and get the job done, for I had the ultimate faith in them, probably at the time more than I had in myself. Working differently is and was a challenge, but it brought great freedom, and once we had our structure as the foundation, we had no option but to build from it. Having never made a meme nor a video and with very little background in media, I put myself forward for the chance to create something new, something better but always in the background I wanted the experience for the day when Media would be something different just as the Solution promised, and I had the great opportunity to be a part of that. So, with that in mind I threw my name into the hat never thinking I would be the one leading it. Like others I thought I didn't have what it takes, and I would be a hindrance rather than a help. But with some fear and trepidation I opened up Canva and sat down with the fortitude that served me previously in my life and said I can learn. It was a challenge and a joy all in one, the privilege to be around people that just kept showing up each day with new memes, new videos became like a hub of activity where creations took shape by the dozen, but we then had to be brave enough to put them out to the public. We had to be seen, come out of our dark corners and face the music. And yes, we had to face the critics and we had to overcome that too, and realize it was not personal, it was necessary. It became a lot easier when the realization dawned that it was not about us, it was about the bigger picture the Blueprint. The Media Team is a seven day a week job, 365 days of the year, I think we took Christmas day off last year, I have never had one complaint about that. The commitment from my team never wavered, we adjusted for holidays and other events that life throws our way and kept going. We faced the disappointing fact that not many would come to help, not many would even share our memes or videos, or even support the channels, and kept our eye on the prize, with the realization that we were making a difference no matter how small it may appear in the beginning, it had potential. Some may think we have a big team, the answer is no, we are a team of five people, but they worked like they had the power of three people each. Many of them also work on other teams too, hopping from one group to another, just showing up and getting whatever task it is done. We have amassed a library of memes and videos now, all possible because Thomas put the work in first and handed over his library of knowledge for us to play around with, and do our best to help him with his great task of making the Blueprint a household name.

I want to thank Thomas for that, he had great trust in us and gave us carte blanche to take his life's work and make of it what we will. I have learned so much with these great people, and I thank them for being who and what they are, for it was them that inspired me every day. I wish them all the best as they navigate this time of change and know that they will move forward with bigger and better things now. I am also asking for others to step up now and take some of the workload they now face, as they are down to four and the extra work needs more hands, so don't be shy, even doing one task will help them share the load. I am reminded of the song He ain't heavy he's my brother, and when there is a will and a way amazing things can happen. Keep rising.

THE ACTIVISM TEAM:

The Activism team met in July and reviewed takeaways and realizations since our May meeting. We were able to describe and address initial habits formed that could be improved upon to gain even more engagement. We asked one member to speak to how he got an influencer interview with Thomas which has had a far reach. The redacted transcript of the email train was shared for instructional purposes, so people could judge for themselves how natural a flow it was, the time and effort that it took and to encourage others to reach out to other influencers. Sometimes it is as simple an email as : I think I have something that can help you. And then using good, heart-based follow-up skills.

Week 9 names contacted were:

James Nussbaumer, constitutionalist

Nate Nelson, executive director, Majority WI

UK Column, independent news

Craig Huey, political commentator/analyst

Edward Snowden, NSA whistleblower

Week 10 names were:

Taylor Swift, music artist

The Onion, news outlet

Lolly Daskal, coach and columnist

Amazing Polly, alt media host

Tim Griffin, 57th Attorney General, Arkansas

For the BP Twitter account, which sends out links to the Blueprint at the outset of a Week of 5x5 contacting, we tried this strategy with respect to Week 10 names: Instead of just being/filling the role of <BLANK>, how about being the Blueprint instead?” The blanks were filled in with the following: The Baphomet, omnipotent, the Leadership Gap (her book), MK4, an Attorney General

We had another meeting at the end of July that will be reported on next time that was a longer strategy session, to improve our outreach goals of gaining more interviews for Thomas and achieving more sustained interactions.

EURO BLUEPRINT TEAM:

We spoke in relation to the Government Solution about the situation in Europe. We learned that after WWII all European countries were bankrupt and became pseudo-lawful areas. Since the 1930s, the political and merchant elites of various countries privately handed commercial sovereignty over to the global financial system, which is based primarily in the United States, through the registration of trust structures and commercial trading entities. They appeared to be legitimate legislative bodies, but were usurping the sovereignty. Since 1933 all countries have been registered as corporations in the State of Delaware, these corporations would have to be registered with the SEC: the Securities and Exchange Commission. Their citizens are used as securities, to be traded on the markets. The EU model, a vision of a common market and union of prosperity, that promised so much hope for Europeans, has failed and in its present form it cannot be revived. We are ruled by an unelected elite, who are controlling every aspect of the lives of a permanent underclass. The EU Constitutional model speaks of the highest ideals, yet it denies the very organs and bodies that it defines, the ability to work efficiently and unhindered. It speaks of a common purpose and shared power, yet the operational function of the union rests with a bloated and unelected bureaucracy. Many Europeans have lost trust in this present EU model. The current EU model needs to be abolished. Sovereign governments can then be restored in each EU country. We will be speaking, in another meeting, about the Ucadia Euro Union Constitution, with the possibility for each country, including Russia, to decide whether or not to be part of a reformed European Union based on the Ucadia Euro Union Constitution. This then could lead to a defense pact to ensure peace and harmonious relations across the Union. In order for such a plan to be created, we would need the input of the other European countries so all have a say in this. In the group, some are of the opinion that at this stage of creating the solutions for the European Blueprint, we first create a plan and then present it to the other countries, for their input in it.

IN OVERVIEW:

Staying in your lane and keeping your focus is imperative at this point of our journey. In other words, it is the main marker of being in the flow and staying there. Staying on your charted path can be difficult at times, when all the world is just a stage, as there will always be performers and actors playing out roles that pull us off course, but then have we truly understood what is real and what is illusion, is this your reality or theirs? Are we choosing to remain a byproduct of an enforced fake world playing the dark forces role for them? while the real you sits back and never takes on the true purpose you came for, to be the director of your own life. Are you just acting or are you being your authentic self? We keep meandering into the lanes and life paths of others, and getting caught up in drama and distraction, never defining our true responsibilities that come with being the self-first, so we jump lanes to avoid our own duties. For if you do not feed yourself, the soul, then you cannot give from an empty well. Service to others does not mean a dereliction of duty to yourself, it becomes easier to be service of others when you have something of value to give. Many of us feel a need to help those people or fix them, or maybe we want to just control them, all keeping us trapped in the illusion of the savior and victim programs. We feel good if we are helping others, but never seem to feel good if we decide to help ourselves, as the guilt sets in and we negate our needs believing we are not worthy and someone else is. So if you are helping others for reward, you are not service to others, as needing others to value you is service to the self. Are we also being rewarded as the victim? as it gets the attention you are craving even if it holds a negative response, as all energy is taken or given, the victim becomes the taker, the giver is the savior. All the above is energy, frequency and vibration in motion, the intention or thought from this is what will be the affect, you are the cause. What is flow and what is not flow is important to recognize, as we all navigate through the uncharted waters. We all have an internal rudder that guides us, some call it intuition, and some call its gut instinct, though Thomas would negate this term as it bypasses the heart and keeps you in the lower frequency. Operating from the heart is the change and the progression into the path of self-mastery. But what if this internal rudder you hear or feel, is a direct communication with your soul, showing you that your free will choices have kept you trapped. They keep showing up as the reminder. And what if your soul is the only journey, you ever need to pay attention to? and the rest is just chatter and noise and illusion. Have we become so desperate for human connection that we override the real test, the soul connection to ourself? We look outside ourselves, too afraid to go internal afraid of what may lie beneath the surface, so everything outside that moves is a great distraction. But what if everything outside of you was created by you, because you didn't address what was inside. The chaos, the dramas and distractions are all a direct result of your own belief that that is normal, you expect it, so you get it. Is your story created by the past events and then recreated daily until you decide to give it an end date? When you walk in your truth, not of your victim story, but the wholeness of having survived the trauma so you can step out as the teacher and give a hand up to those still in the loop. Which begs the question if their loop system is gone, then why are we still looping? We cannot become true guardians when all we want to do is tell our victim story, we become true guardians when we let go of that story and teach others what not to be because you have overcome it and show them instead how to be. In other words, be in the world, but not of the world.

At this point we should be the director of the new reality that cannot and should not contain the past, as nothing worked there for any of us. Instead, our task at hand is to be the embodiment of all of the solutions, so we are the creators of that reality birthed into life. Uncovering the difference between truth and fiction was what brought us into THI, we fell in the door longing for an authentic soft place to fall and maybe rest for a while in the comfort of that authenticity while we licked our wounds and healed, all heaped upon us we assumed by external forces. Did we forget that the real healing was facing the truth about ourselves? as in reality you cannot reside in the truth frequency without looking within. That is just another illusion that all the problems are because of the external. The distractions become the old overlay that kept you outside of yourself, and ultimately, we played out their dark agendas until we no longer see our own light. Is the real problem with humanity, its own inability to see how dark we too have become? We will make man in our image does not apply just to a race or skin color; it applies to a way of being in the world. So, their world will continue to exist as long as we show up acting just like them. Is that their true goal, we have become so intense on exposure of their darkness that we forgot we have to clean up our own act and be better people more balanced in the light. And if we forget that then they win, for we will just keep doing their dirty work for them even when all of them have vacated this planet. Is the biggest illusion the very fact we are all ignoring, we cannot see our own light because we dimmed it all by ourselves? We do not have the cabal, illuminati or elites living in our homes daily, but somehow, we give them permission to live in our heads, a massive win for them. Is the greatest journey one we have all side stepped, the true integration of our soul, or are we content to just allow the vessel to lead us. Will you become the main character in your new movie? or the bystander still waiting for the right date, time or event to push you out of your comfort zone? which at this point should have become more of a bed of nails by now. There can be no distraction in the true flow, there is only growth and creation of the new. All else is just an illusion, and if you feel the new world is not coming quick enough then it is time to do something different and set a new goal to be what and who you truly are the spark of creation, and if time is an illusion also then be in the present. Does the meme observe and don't absorb have two meanings, or even more? Are you only applying it to observing the external, when really, at this point we should be only paying attention to the internal. As within and so without has a whole new meaning when you begin to grasp that you are the event, you are what the whole world is watching and waiting for. For in the end if we are here to change things then it might stand to reason, that the delays you get impatient with are there because you created them. We cannot have a complete 180 while remnants of the past linger on inside of us, that ensures that at some point their his-story will repeat, healing yourself enough to become whole is imperative to finally directing your own story. It is time for us all to be honest and operate within the truth of ourselves and honor our true soul journey, then stand in our own integrity first for ourselves and then for humanity. You are at the precipice of being part of the greatest story that may ever be told about humanity, let it be one you are proud to be a part of. In essence staying in your own lane is the main ingredient to the flow or the organic wave you are creating, or was already there waiting for you to hop on board, it brings balance and overview to all situations. It is the internal connection that knows the right path, if you listen carefully to those whispers, you may even hear what it is trying to tell you. If all the worlds a stage and you are the director, then who becomes the main instigator of that world? it cannot be anybody else other than you, for haven't you always been the creator? What if your real fear is that when you finally decide to pull back the curtain to uncover the boogie man, it is not a wizen old man using trickery to scare you, maybe the person behind the curtain you have been afraid to face is yourself. And when you finally get the courage to open the curtain maybe your soul will say to you, welcome home, I have kept your light on.

First off I have to address an issue for clarity and some keep getting confused with matters still, when it has been addressed several times previously. This has been an issue for all team leaders, asking people to stick to the structure and plan, yet finding some just wish to do their own thing, but is that an example of being cooperative? The issue of the BP Logo. The details surrounding this was passed to the Media Team leader and she followed the structure I gave to her, but others seem confused by that structure. The object of THI and the BP teams now carries one purpose only, promoting us. I have promoted many groups and blogs within the shows, but for the first time in THI, it is now about promoting us. The logo was my design and I have ownership of it, but it is shared with the BP. The Blueprint is the property of THI and it reveals so in the book. But during the course of things people think they can use the logo for their own purposes, which is not conducive to the Logo, me or the BP. The logo like the book has a frequency connected to it, using it elsewhere will not carry that frequency. The logo can only be used for official BP business and BP meme that carry my message either from the THI shows or the BP 3 parts show.

So here is the structure the Media Team leader relayed to you all at my request.

1. The Logo is for official business only, it cannot be purchased or used for personal websites.
2. If you are doing memes to go out to the public through the official BP teams channels, the words in the meme must match what I have said in the show, no additions. The reason for that is, if you are challenged on a statement that someone feels is offensive to them, then that will come back on THI and more importantly the BP. Hence only use my words as I then will take responsibility for it and them.
3. If you are doing your own memes for your own personal website, then you are free to display what you wish except the logo. But I ask you all when doing your own memes for your own websites or social media, to ask yourself before posting, does this represent the BP in the right way? Can it be construed as being detrimental to the BP and what we are doing?
4. The media team and website will no longer be housing memes for personal use, I ask all to please stop doing that as it is causing confusion, distraction and not conducive to the flow of the teams. Please remove all memes that is of a personal nature from the database, so anyone new then knows the ones left in there are all valid.
5. The memes produced have been going through a process of being approved for official BP memes, this is not a control system, that is to ensure what we are putting out is conducive to the guardian message from the shows and the integrity of the BP itself.
6. Be nicer to the team leaders as they are following the guidelines I gave them. If improvements or changes are needed to be made or requested, then the official channel is Kayoko, which then goes into a BP action call and discussed, then any requests are made to me for a potential changes or alterations. Kayoko is there to help you all, but you are giving her more problems than aiding her, give her a break please.

Everything is done with a purpose of creating a simple and basic structure, so that all are on the same page. The old world operated in chaos with everyone doing their own thing, ultimately that breaks down and leads to failure, as has been shown. So we at THI are going to do things differently.

NEWS:

Have you noticed the media fear ramp ups? Secondly, have you noticed the medias ramp up of dirt on race, gender and sexuality? Both questions are summed up in one word – distraction. A round up of the world’s news now, whilst documenting the changes unfolding. China for the second year running have had a population reduction, this time by over 2 million in 2023. This came after the 850K in 2022, which was the first time since 1961 their population dropped. China still has 1.41B people within their borders, but with that drop they are no longer the highest population country, that now belongs to India at 1.43B. With China’s population having a large portion of elderly within it, I would expect to see much higher drops in population over the next 10-20 years. When you align those figures with the current rate of children per woman, things get decidedly more concerning, or perhaps that will be a silver lining? As the birth rate in China is now down to just 1.09 children per woman, when for sustainable population growth 2.1 children per woman is required. All of Europe is also in steep decline as we covered in FHSTOS part 9. According to statistics for world population sustainability, the new rate is 2.3 children per woman. Only 89 countries have a rate of 2.3 or more and the vast majority of them is in Africa and the surrounding islands. Even India is below the average at 2 children per mother. The closest in the more Western nations is Turkey, France and Ireland in that order, but they are 1.9, 1.8 and 1.8. United States is 1.7 despite mass migration efforts. United Kingdom is 1.6 and Russia and Canada are 1.5. These figures make a folly of targeting the so-called Western Nations about over population, as for many years now the 3 main growth areas were China, India and Africa. Yet I don’t recall any sustained warnings of population growth in those regions. The whole issue behind population growth is all about the shekels again. Traditionally China, India and Africa all have a low pay structure and so they are more popular with the shekel makers. But all of it is about to change drastically anyway.

Biden said that the US election this November was about freedom, America and democracy. An interesting statement in the illusionary world they operate in, when in the real world it is about slavery, the US or U.S. and tyranny against the people. The reason he gave that statement he said was, because we welcome immigrants, he added. Think about it, why is China stalling so badly economically? why is Japan having trouble, why is Russia? why is India? Because they're xenophobic and they don't want immigrants. Why the focus on China’s economy and not America’s? China, Russia and India are three members of BRICS, is that significant? The BBC contacted the US embassies of Japan, India, China and Russia for comment, but did not receive an immediate reply.< The comments, however, have drawn criticism from US commentators. On Twitter, Elbridge Colby, a former US deputy assistant secretary of defense in the Trump administration, wrote that Japan and India are two of our very stoutest and important allies. We should speak to them with respect, which they command and deserve, he added. Applying parochial progressive views to our allies is patronizing and foolish. Like I said earlier, when you put BRICS into the context of this outburst, then it makes more sense. The world is coalescing against the alien US and Israeli juntas who have goose stepped around the world destroying and stealing everything and the world it seems finally, have had enough.

7/22 In a recent show we highlighted the Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orban's and his common sense approach to a Ukraine peace mission, turned out has outraged the EU bloc's leaders. The European Union is looking for ways to remove Hungary from the bloc's presidency over Prime Minister Viktor Orban's Ukraine peace mission, Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan told media on Sunday. Budapest currently holds the six-month rotating presidency of the Council of the European Union, the body that defines the bloc's overall political direction and priorities. Orban embarked on what he called a Ukraine peace mission earlier this month, aiming to find a resolution to the conflict by holding talks with its five main actors, Ukraine, Russia, China, the EU, and the US. As part of the mission, he met with Russian President Vladimir Putin in Moscow, triggering outrage among EU leaders. Erdogan recalled his own meeting with Orban on the sidelines of a NATO summit in Washington earlier this month. The Hungarian Prime Minister had shared his plans to go and meet US Presidential hopeful Donald Trump as well, Erdogan said. The next day, they started to criticize Viktor Orban intensely. They said, we do not agree with what Viktor said, what he said is not true. Mr. Orban went to Moscow, as you know, and they criticized him. He went to China and criticized him in the same way. The European Parliament last week condemned Orban's Moscow visit, describing it as a blatant violation of the EU's treaties and common foreign policy. What treaties are they? The ones that bankers can start and keep wars going as it creates shekels? Or the same treaties the EU/NATO alliance broke with Russia from 1991? Newly re-elected European Commission president Ursula von der Leyen slammed Orban's trip as an appeasement mission. Now they are calculating how to remove Hungary from the EU presidency, the Turkish President claimed. Moscow said last week that the EU's criticism of Orban over his Ukraine peace initiative, goes to show that Brussels has resolved to support Ukraine militarily, and that its pro-war policies will not change. One day later.

7/23 The European Union has stripped Hungary of the right to host the next meeting of foreign and defense ministers over its stance on the war in Ukraine. It comes weeks after Hungary assumed the presidency of the Council of the European Union, a role in which it would normally host the event, and amid anger over a meeting Prime Minister Viktor Orban held with Russian President Vladimir Putin in Moscow earlier this month. The EU's foreign policy chief, Josep Borrell, said Hungary's actions should have consequences and that we have to send a signal, even if it is a symbolic signal. Hungary described the move as completely childish. Exactly as that is what we are ultimately dealing with here, so called leaders and experts who have not gone beyond child level thinking and understanding. Every six months, under each new council presidency, the EU's foreign and defense ministers hold informal meetings to discuss the biggest global issues facing the bloc.

The next set of meetings will take place on 28-30 August and were to be held in Budapest, but on Monday Mr. Borrell announced they would instead take place in Brussels. Ah Brussels the home of the EL-ites pedophile crew, how fitting for more rounds of child level activity, whether in terms of thinking or abuse.

More financial skullduggery in the Pentagon again, as the spend with impunity and the auditing ignored or declaring the investigation as National Security, just rolls on it seems. Something the happy clappers in Congress should be dealing with instead of bowing to a murderous psychopath. The Pentagon has found $2 billion worth of additional errors in its calculations for ammunition, missiles and other equipment sent to Ukraine, increasing the improperly valued material to a total of $8.2 billion, a U.S. government report revealed on Thursday. The U.S. Department of Defense has faced challenges in accurately valuing defense articles sent to Ukraine due to unclear accounting definitions, a new Government Accountability Office report showed. In 2023, the Pentagon said staff used replacement value instead of depreciated value to tabulate the billions in materials sent to Ukraine. The $6.2 billion error created a path for billions more to be sent to Kyiv. That is more commonly known as cooking the books, writing off true value to hide the real figures being spent in the Ukraine. The Pentagon told the GAO that since then, $2 billion more in overstatements have been found. As a result, an additional $2 billion worth of arms can be sent to Ukraine to cover the amount of aid approved by the Biden administration. The GAO said a vague definition of value in the Foreign Assistance Act and the absence of specific valuation guidance for Presidential Drawdown Authority have led to inconsistencies in the reported value of military aid. In one example cited in the GAO report, 10 vehicles were valued at $7,050,000 when the supporting documentation showed they should have been valued at zero, their net book value. Nonsense, it is $7M to replace them, all paid out of American taxpayer pockets. The GAO has recommended that Congress clarify the definition of value in the context of defense articles under Presidential Drawdown Authority. Additionally, the GAO has issued seven recommendations to the Defense Department, urging it to update its guidance to include a PDA-specific valuation section and develop component-specific valuation procedures. The department said it has concurred with all recommendations and outlined actions to address these issues. But will still carry on their dodgy financial practices into next year, as no will take them to task it seems.

We have covered the dangers of excess salt in your diets, here is a new study that might make you think twice before reaching for the salt shaker at your next meal. Nutritionists from the Center for Public Health at the University of Vienna, discovered that people from the UK who added salt to most of their meals, were 41 percent more likely to develop stomach cancer than those who used the topping sparingly. Previous studies in China, Japan and Korea have linked a salty diet to stomach cancer, but this is one of the first to show the link in Westerners. Though the Austrian study was merely observational, older studies have suggested that excess salt might erode the protective coating on the stomach, causing damage to the tissue there and leading to cancerous mutations. Our research shows the connection between the frequency of added salt and stomach cancer in Western countries too, lead author Selma Kronsteiner-Gicevic, a nutritionist at University of Vienna said. To land at these conclusions, the University of Vienna researchers examined a database of 471,144 adults in the United Kingdom, called the UK Biobank. They found that over an 11 year period, heavy-salters were 41 percent more likely to develop stomach cancer than people who rarely added salt to their meals. Added to that equation is, the US consumes 50% more salt naturally in their diets per day, even before the salt shaker comes out.

Following the news that the generous US Military have sent F-16's to Ukraine, which the people paid for, here is a little piece and reminder of what happens when US Inc send planes elsewhere. F 16 = The next Phantom-death. Death in statistics v. death in lies: North Vietnam lost 200 Aircrafts during the Vietnam war. South Vietnam lost 2K Aircrafts during the Vietnam war. U. S. Inc lost 10k Aircrafts during the Vietnam war. 58,220 American casualties due to US John Hopkins math. 250K American casualties due to Vietnamese math. If competent people were running the United States, before sending billions-of-dollars' worth of F-16 fighter jets to Ukraine, they would have read the independent Mitchell Institute for Aerospace Studies nonpartisan research organization document, US Fixed Wing Aircraft Losses of the Vietnam War 1962-1973. Wherein it factually documented: During the Vietnam War, thousands of U.S. aircraft were lost to antiaircraft artillery (AAA), surface-to-air missiles (SAMs), and fighter interceptors (MiG)s. The great majority of U.S. combat losses in all areas of Southeast Asia were to AAA. Among fixed-wing aircraft, more F-4 Phantoms were lost than any other type in service with any nation. In total, the United States military lost in Vietnam almost 10,000 aircraft and helicopters. Along with competent people knowing the truth, that the United States lost almost 10,000 aircraft and helicopters mainly due to the Soviet Russian made air defense systems protecting North Vietnam. They also know that South Vietnam lost the 2,000 aircraft the Americans gave them, while North Vietnam lost only 200 aircraft. The incompetent people running the United States today, however, gave Ukraine cluster bombs that are still killing children throughout Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, and it is factually documented: More than two million tons of cluster bombs were dropped on Laos during the Vietnam war, making Laos the most heavily bombed country in history per capita. The incompetent people running the United States also failed to remember that the failed Vietnam War cost $168 billion, or $1 trillion in today's dollars, which ended up crashing to the American economy throughout the 1970s. They will not tell you that in their Hollywood movie scripts or is it being taught in school either. Here is the list of the 58,220 U.S. Inc. casualties, shown below compared to the actual number of deaths in Vietnam of around 250K. Yet again we have the US Inc lying to their people and the sacrifices of soul diers mounts up. Accidents 9107, this is the so-called friendly fire that plagues every US Inc war. Whereby American soldiers at the behest of their Generals fire indiscriminately and kill their own soldiers. 1201 declared dead? What is that supposed to mean? Declared dead is not a category or sub-category. 5299 died of wounds, not sure why that is a separate category from killed in action either. 236 homicide, does that mean the US Inc soldiers were killing each other as well as the friendly fire? 938 illness, is that because of the chemicals they were being forced to use or the drug abuse handed to them by US Inc? 40,934 killed in action. 32 presumed dead and body remains recovered. That makes zero sense, how can you have body remains recovered but only presume they are dead? 91 presumed dead as body remains not recovered. 382 self-inflicted, so 382 committed suicide. Those statistics and the way they are described is damning in and of itself, but they have left out another 190K American soldiers that US Inc deemed not important enough to include in their list. How many of the 190K missing went to Hotel California and MK Ultra experiments? Like I have said in previous shows, America has lost virtually every ground war they have taken part in, despite having air advantages. There is clearly something clearly lacking in the war strategy or worse, they were deliberately sacrificing their own so-called people? Just like their masters Israel do, cohen-cidence? I think not. Something the American people have to think long and hard about now and the future. Because unless you take action, they will continue to treat your sons and daughters as cannon fodder.

As the news and the reporting of atrocities ramps up against the Jewish junta, out come the biased pity party pieces yet again devoid of any proof, and yet again the world must sit by and watch death ceremonies for the Israelis. This is an out and out guilt and shame piece, again highlighting the Jews and their deaths are more important than anyone else. Well many people are now getting completely sick of it all, particularly in light of the genocide in Gaza. In the last month we have reported on two accounts of the Israelis creating humanitarian zones and then blitzing them, plus the story of them using snipers to deliberately kill lots of children. But they wish to erase all that and focus on October 7th 2023 only and how they lost people, yet the key incident of the Nova Festival that day was a girl running away in a red dress, all very Schindler's list when you see. The same as Keir Starmer when presented as Prime Minister in the UK, his Jewish wife came out in a full length red dress, it is not an accident. Add in the Red Army, which is not Russian, but Jewish plus the red and black swastika and a pattern emerges. Here is the report: If you think this spring's antisemitic campus protests were a temporary delusion, pay attention to what's happening in New York City. On Monday anti-Israel protesters wouldn't even let a tribute to Israelis murdered at the Nova Music Festival on Oct. 7 be held in peace. Hamas massacred some 260 people, mostly young, at that festival, no evidence to support that number and lots of evidence it was done by the Israelis themselves. Women were raped and their bodies mutilated before they were killed, that narrative has also been debunked as fake news. The butchery and sadism were the point, inflicted out of hatred merely because the victims were Jews. The protesters in New York didn't kill anyone, at least not yet, but the hatred for Jews was on ugly display. The protest was part of a "Citywide Day of Rage" that targeted New York's museums. The group Within Our Lifetime, which organized the protests, says cultural institutions are drenched in the blood of Palestine's martyrs. They seem to mean the museums' Jewish donors. Exactly, those museums rake in dozens of millions of dollars per year, based upon an event that even Jewish Rabbis have admitted was false, in light of the numbers killed. Their words not mine. Where does that Holocaust museum money go to? It certainly doesn't go to the average Jewish person, as many of them live in poverty, particularly New York and San Francisco. Long live Intifada, the crowd cheered, waving flares outside the exhibit commemorating the hundreds who were massacred at the Nova festival. Israel, go to hell. Young American adults waved Hamas and Hezbollah flags and chanted, Resistance is justified, where people are occupied. Which is a valid and common sense statement to make, given the usurping of lands and people that has taken place in Palestine. Signs declared Abolish the settler state, they mean abolish Israel. Sadly that is a natural reaction although I am not condoning it, given Israel refuses to live peaceably with any other nation or peoples. The New York Post reports that one protester was captured on video declaring that he wished Hitler was still here. Again one protestor went too far, but let's denigrate all of them, all whilst forgetting the holocausts of the German and Russian people created by these same Jewish EL-ites. New York Mayor Eric Adams called the spectacle pure antisemitism, and he's right. But Gaza is pure genocidalism and yet that is ignored? Public threats and intimidation are also rising. Antisemites boarded a New York subway car and repeatedly shouted, Raise your hand if you're a Zionist. This is your chance to get out. Again the world is entitled to their say, in fact everyone should have a deep dislike for Zionism, including the Jews themselves. As it is they who ultimately suffer this insidious regime. A White House spokesman issued a statement that the events outside the Nova exhibit were outrageous and heartbreaking and that profane banners of terrorist organizations should not be flown anywhere, especially not on American streets. Perhaps we need to ban the Stars and Stripes as well then, given that flag has been used to bludgeon people to death all around the world under the fake banner of spreading democracy! But President Biden's waffling on the moral justification of Israel's war to destroy Hamas has emboldened the pro-Hamas left in the U.S. But they are not and I will repeat they are not out to destroy Hamas, as Netanyahu along with Qatar where the ones who funded Hamas, they are there to destroy the Palestinians, men, women, sick, disabled and most importantly seen as the figure is now approaching 15K, the children of Gaza. On Tuesday night, protesters vandalized the homes of Brooklyn Museum Jewish board members and the co-op building of museum director Anne Pasternak. The vandals marked the doors of their homes with upside down red triangles, a symbol used by the al-Qassam brigades, the military arm of Hamas, to identify targets. These families now need protection from the New York Police Department. America has an antisemitism problem that is growing in its extremism, and these days it is mainly on the political left. Don't be surprised if it soon breaks out into violence. Exactly, and it is myopic articles like this that fuel it. The biggest sufferers will be the Jewish themselves, but that allows the pity party to then hold more death ceremonies, not in sympathy with the deceased, no, to create more guilt and shame pro pagan da ceremonies. Put 100 ordinary Palestinians and 100 ordinary Jewish in a building together and they will deliver a fair peace deal and bring unity. But their leaders don't want unity, only to continue their full impunity death march of genocide, all supported by the happy clapping US politicians and their Christian brethren. Yet again Israel has struck a place containing children, with the lame excuse of Hamas in the building, this time a school. Israel's military has struck a school near Deir al-Balah, a city in central Gaza, killing at least 30 Palestinians and injuring more than 100, according to the Hamas-run ministry of health. The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) said on Telegram that a Hamas command and control center was embedded inside the Khadija School. The IDF added that Hamas used the compound as a hiding place to direct and plan attacks and store weapons. Gaza's health ministry said footage showed the victims were civilians and most of them were children. Just despicable and it is developing beyond words the evil that fake State is doing almost daily. Actions and sanctions against them must unfold and quickly.

Here comes the escalation we warned about and the lies to start it, just like October 7th, 2023. Twelve children and young adults have been killed and dozens injured, after a rocket hit a football pitch they were playing on in the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights, Israeli authorities say. The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) said a rocket fired by the powerful Lebanese militant group Hezbollah fell on the Druze town of Majdal Shams, a claim denied by the group. Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu vowed retaliation against Hezbollah, saying the group would pay a heavy price. The incident has the potential to trigger an all-out war between Israel and Hezbollah, whose forces have regularly exchanged fire since the outbreak of the Israel-Gaza war in October. Saturday's attack was the deadliest loss of life on Israel's northern border since the war began on 7 October. Hezbollah spokesman Mohamad Afif denied responsibility for the attack, and the sources are trying to verify reports that the militant group told the United Nations, that the explosion was caused by an Israeli interceptor rocket. Israeli authorities said all of those killed were between the ages of 10 and 20. Yet again they are sacrificing their own alleged people to expand this war. A war forecasted around two decades ago by Wesley Clark, who everyone thought was American, when he had a fake name and was Jewish. They will do anything to push their agendas of world domination and every square inch of the Middle East. Thankfully some are starting to see through all of their lies and pro pagan da.

The BBC the bastion of Jewish led news typically wrote inflammatory headlines and spoke at length of the death of Jewish children, yet where was the same outrage for the 15K children of Palestine? But sadly a couple of Israeli children die and oh the atrocities and out came all the Jewish commentators to add to the misery, doom and threats like Sacha Baron Cohen. Another comedian like Zelenskyy. At some point people must see through this pro pagan da, guilt and shame tactics and let us pity only the Israelis, when their death count numbers in the millions.

Another sign the world leaders are starting to see through the Israeli lies and plot. As first Turkey and now Egypt have publicly stated now they will defend and support Lebanon if Israel attacks there. The end if they continue their murderous spree will not be good for Israel, the Jewish EL-ites and sadly the Jewish people. All will go down with them, unless the Jewish people turn against their leaders on mass. They will sacrifice you like pawns, sadly.

Sabotage agents, what does that mean? It means people or some other creation installed into an arena awaiting the sign, the code or the trigger word. How can so many migrants be young men 18-35? Where are the women migrants? Which global organizations has so many young men under their control? The military and the agencies. Following another potential distraction incident in Southport UK, where a young man walks into a school kills three and injures 8 to date, described as a migrant. Police won't release name or religious identity of the attacker, saying it is irrelevant, which is ironic as they described the protestors as White Nationalists, why the discrepancy? Have you noticed in the news the increase in the number of incidents involving the deaths of children? Where is this all going? A reminder from the Santies: Their objective is to spoil Souls of Human Children, in order that they would never reach Light World of Prav' and Heavenly Asgard, And also Celestial Earths and Settlements, where your Lightwise Ancestors are resting. In relation to the sabotage agents, it has all the hallmarks of MK Ultra training, which means Langley is involved again. Could it also be Eric Prince of multi named corporations or better known as Blackwater? Black water, Black rock, Black sun. Are these mercenaries from his companies? Are the mercenaries from Al Queda, ISIS, ISIL, IS and the many other fake "terrorist" organizations? Is it timed with the rise of AI and digital ID's? Sabot is a wooden shoe, which is clog, is it the age of the cloggers? Or a device which ensures the correct positioning of a bullet or shell in the barrel of a gun, attached either to the projectile or inside the barrel and falling away as it leaves the muzzle. The age of facing the gun? Will Trump be the Van Gogh of Presidents? Van Gogh famously cut off his ear and then proceeded to shoot himself, will that be symbolic? I guess time will tell. I will see you all again next Tuesday as I am writing an extra show for impact, understanding and preparation of what is unfolding. Yesterday marked the 11th anniversary of my radio show host career, it has been some journey. I and we have come a long way, but in overview the journey has just begun. Saddle or buckle up as a wild ride awaits us all. All of which can be done much easier, if you just follow your heart.
