

NEWS:

Keep a close watch on the US evacuating its citizens from Israel and the Middle East.

As things are about to ramp up and somethings are about to go down, somethings have already gone down or are broken.

Reports are coming in that Vladimir Putin is going after the adrenochrome problem.

He has vowed to dismantle the adrenochrome supply chain and reported that Russian forces have rescued 50 children, who were emaciated and imprisoned from an adrenochrome farm in Shostka, Ukraine.

All of which is great news.

Further details on the report states, the farm had drained their whole bodies of blood and adrenal fluid, to the point the children were kept alive intravenously and were kept in a medically induced coma.

Just disgraceful and beyond evil, but the world needs to thank Russia and their military for actually doing something useful and beneficial for the people.

Ukraine is a US, UK and Israeli cesspit, that needs to be cleansed and so children can live their lives freely.

This type of operation would have appeared unimaginable just a few years ago, as very few knew it actually existed.

It is an example of progress that the topic that was once covered only as a conspiracy theory, is now being confirmed and also dealt with.

Typically given our book FHSTOS has pointed out, there are good people with good thoughts coming out of Russia.

As the Santies pointed out, Russia will lead the world out of the darkness.

Yet more US financial problems that has just echoed around the world with major global stock market reductions.

The debt reached the new milestone with $1 trillion in borrowing added this year alone.

The US has reached yet another dubious milestone with its national debt surpassing the mark of $35 trillion, the US House Budget Committee announced on Monday.

Out came the duality blame culture of the two parties, which the people buy into every time.

It is a repeat script, Trump Republican added over $8T, Biden Democrat has added near $7.3T with near half a year left.

Obama added over $9T to the debt.

But the great alarm is what is it being spent on? Because it is not the people or the country is it?

Increasing homelessness, increasing decay of small towns and in part big cities, 80K bridges to be repaired and just about the worst transport infrastructure of any major country.

So, that reveals no investment in the people or the country.

But what they have invested in is divisive programs, war machines and Israel, all out of the public's money.

Republicans are stating they need to win the election to restore fiscal policy, but they never in any time they have been the Presidential leader, it is all illusion.

Given the public are responsible for the debt, every American should be up in arms, but no, because it is alright if the Government scams you, but the TPC asked for $1 a month minimum off everyone for the benefit of the members, some called it a scam.

Even if it was a scam, what is $12 a year compared to the thousands of dollars the Government and its banking apparatus are stealing every year, it makes no sense.

Listen to these figures, because this is what they are passing onto us, whether it is increased taxes, less support or inflation tax.

According to the House Budget Committee's calculations, the debt now equates to $104,497 per person, $266,275 per household and an eye watering $483,889 per American child.

Over the past 12 months, the debt increased by $2.35 trillion, with the rate of increase equating to $74,401 in new debt per second.

The persistent misalignment of US fiscal policy was harshly criticized by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) late last month, with the body calling Washington's budget deficit and debt rates a growing risk for the whole global economy.

The IMF are the last to talk as they are part of it, by raping countries of funds, then offering them debt restructure, the majority of which will default and they then take the assets of the country keeping them in debt.

The Blueprint will reduce debt exponentially, I just wish we had someone in a fiscal department to calculate it.

At this point one has to ask just what National debt was allegedly paid off by the Trustee Kimberley Ann Goguen, as yet again there appears to be no evidence to support her claims.

Maybe one of the double agents in our group from Life Force can do something useful and ask her why the National debt still exists?

We warned of skullduggery in Argentina following the Jewish President being installed in there, here comes the looting it seems.

As Argentina's reserves, held by its Central Bank, include almost two million troy ounces of gold, valued at about $4.5 billion.

But lately, there's a question that's on everybody's lips: where is it? Was it taken out of the country? Did some of it remain within Argentina, while the rest was transferred abroad?

Well, the official information only offers partial answers.

The administration of far-right President Javier Milei admitted to the recent transfer of gold abroad, but didn't specify quantities, the destination, or the purpose for this measure.

Nor did the Central Bank provide any details.

In a scenario of financial instability and with the government facing the need to accumulate reserves, the decision generated suspicions and speculation.

There are also fears that the gold could possibly be seized, due to long-standing legal cases that have been filed against Argentina by foreign creditors.

The news about the transfer of the gold was not officially announced by the government or the Central Bank.

Rather, the information came from the bank workers' union, known as La Bancaria.

Its leader legislator Sergio Palazzo presented a FIOA request asking if there were any operations to send gold bars abroad during the month of June.

Specifically, he demanded to know if transfers of gold took place on June 7 and June 28 through Lumil, a private security firm that transports valuables and British Airways.

He also wanted to know the specific amounts, their destination, the administrative procedures taken, as well as the names of the officials involved.

Good luck with that, I'm hearing it went to the Rothschild's direct.

Expect similar in Mexico as the Jewish EL-ites who appointed these Jewish leaders scramble for funds and assets.

Meanwhile the same tactics is unfolding in America, as the media offensive of the old worn out story of the Israelis are oppressed rolls on it seems.

Rep. Jared Moskowitz (D-FL) took aim at the progressive wing of his party on Thursday and accused them of not wanting a Jewish vice president.

Moskowitz shared an article from the Hill titled, Progressives sound alarm as Pennsylvania Gov. Josh Shapiro VP stock rises, and added: These Progressives don't want a Jew. Let's say it out loud. Imagine if moderate Dems said they didn't want a certain minority. The condemnations would be deafening. Yet now we hear much silence.

The article Moskowitz shared covered a letter from 50 progressive leaders urging Vice President Kamala Harris not to choose Shapiro as her running mate.

The Hill reported that the letter pointed to Shapiro's shortcomings as a national candidate and urged the vice president to consider Kentucky Gov. Andy Beshear (D) and Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz (D) instead.

ADL chief Jonathan Greenblatt slammed the Democratic Socialists of America earlier in the week, for their public opposition to Shapiro based on his support of Israel.

Like Hamas and the Islamic Republic of Iran, the DSA refuses even to write the word Israel, instead referring to an OECD member as the Zionist project in Palestine.

When the DSA delegitimizes the Jewish state, it's #antisemitism.

Antisemitism is hate.

Antisemitism is indefensible.

Antisemitism is anti-American.

The DSA and its toxic bigotry should have no place in American politics.

Strong stuff, but with Harris' husband Douglas Emhoff playing a major role in the background and him being Jewish, what do you expect? Shapiro once said, Palestinians will not coexist peacefully, they do not have the capabilities to establish their own homeland and make it successful even with the aid of Israel and the United States.

They are too battle-minded to be able to establish a peaceful homeland of their own.

People may ask why I oppose Jewish leaders in any country outside of Israel?

The answer is fraud and corruption regularly takes place, heinous policies against we the people unfolds, war tends to follow also.

But overall their record of being at the top of every organization has always made things worse and a record of abject failure in their positions.

Whether that is finance, education, government and medical departments, military or agency departments.

With the world collapsing and the Jewish in most of the leading positions, who else do you blame?

The great question is, just what do Jewish leaders actually bring to the table except vitriol, manipulation, slandering and endless wastes of energy justifying or countering their positions?

Whilst the world wastes time arguing over them, no solutions are being discussed, no policies are being discussed and certainly not enough discussions of how to deal with that genocidal regime.

The Jewish in power are the most self-centered race on the planet, it is all about them it seems, whether up front or covertly.

A deep-pocketed pro-Israel super PAC that helped defeat one member of the congressional group known as the Squad is now pushing to oust another, Missouri Democrat Cori Bush.

Bush, of St. Louis, has been a vocal critic of how Israel responded when attacked by Hamas in October, calling the Israeli retaliation an ethnic cleansing campaign, and she was among the few House members who opposed a resolution supporting Israel.

She boycotted Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's speech before Congress last week, calling him a war criminal.

The American Israel Public Affairs Committee's super political action committee, United Democracy Project, has spent more than $8.4 million to unseat Bush in her Aug. 6 Democratic primary against St. Louis County Prosecuting Attorney Wesley Bell, according to federal campaign finance records.

AIPAC's grassroots members are proud to support strong pro-Israel progressive Democrats like Wesley Bell, an AIPAC statement to The Associated Press read.

Cori Bush has been one of the most hostile critics of Israel since she came to Congress in 2021 and has actively worked to undermine mainstream Democratic support for the U.S.-Israel relationship.

So, because she was doing her job, now like playground bullies they are trying to force her out?

Is this America or is this Israel?

United Democracy Project spent nearly $15 million against progressive U.S. Rep. Jamaal Bowman, one of the most vocal critics of the Israeli government in the House, in a June primary election he lost to George Latimer, a pro-Israel centrist in New York.

Afterward, AIPAC said the outcome in this race once again shows that the pro-Israel position is both good policy and good politics, for both parties.

Why complain now?

No, you are and have corrupted both parties with your psychotic policies and demands.

Just where is the Justice Dept, the FBI, the Agencies and the State Department to deal with this scourge upon America, who brazenly admit in public they are interfering with the election?

Are you all cowards or complicit in it?

Cori Bush can complain now it is her seat, but why haven't they complained before now?

Bush was unseated this week, more on that in the next show.

Israel is crossing yet another red line by defying the entire international community of nations, the United Nations itself.

On July 22, the Israeli legislature, the Knesset, gave preliminary approval to a bill, declaring the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) a terrorist organization.

Another example of calling all others what they themselves are, terrorists.

This latest move follows last January's stunt, which worked, at least initially, where Israel accused 12 UNRWA workers of having participated in the October 7 attack by Hamas and other Palestinian groups against it and alleged widespread collusion between the UN agency and Hamas. The UNRWA High Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini and UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres responded to the accusation, by hastily and credulously firing all UN staff members named by Israel on the basis of allegation made without any evidence.

The decision seemingly encouraged some Western donors to suspend their funding of the humanitarian agency employing some 30,000 staff and mandated by the General Assembly to provide essential services to millions of Palestinian refugees.

In other words, the Israelis control the UN and if you can't shoot and kill or Palestinian's, they will starve them to death.

Like our Blueprint stated, the UN and all other organizations of that ilk needs to be closed down, investigated and charges made against those who went with an agenda against we the people.

8/4 Two more Israeli attacks on children, the pattern is becoming well established now, but where are the authorities?

At least 30 people were killed and dozens injured after Israeli airstrikes hit two schools in the Al-Nasr neighborhood in Gaza, according to the Palestinian Civil Defense.

Mahmoud Basal, a spokesperson for the Palestinian Civil Defense, told CNN that the majority of the bodies recovered are women and children. Rescuers are still searching for missing people under the rubble, he said.

The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) and the Israel Security Agency issued a statement claiming responsibility for the strike, asserting that they targeted terrorists operating inside Hamas command and control centers, that were embedded within the schools.

Palestinian officials told CNN that Israel did not give civilians any warning before the airstrikes occurred.

If a warning had been given, the number of deaths would have been lower, Basal said.

It has emerged there is deep division within Israeli soldiers, they know they are losing the war and are not equipped for a long war.

This is causing soldiers to question the policy and Netanyahu.

They questioned the tactics of why we have to kill everything on every mission.

They are also facing severe financial issues back home as many of them are reservists and have businesses.

Israeli businesses rely heavily on Palestinians for employees, now there is none and so businesses are failing.

Typical ouroboros programs, but also the strong possibility of making life difficult for the Jews themselves and to force them out?

Maybe the IDF can change the war by downing tools?

Polling by the progressive firm Navigator published on Tuesday shows that the recent upsurge in conversations and news coverage about Project 2025 since June, has resulted in a greater number of Americans having negative views of the plan, which at least 140 of Trump's former administration officials helped craft.

The 2025 Presidential Transition Project paves the way for an effective conservative Administration based on four pillars: a policy agenda, Presidential Personnel Database, Presidential Administration Academy, and playbook for the first 180 days of the next Administration.

The leader of the group subsequently stepped down, Paul Dans.

This group formulated a plan that at first glance looks like it was lifted from our Blueprint documents, all at a cost of $22M.

We did ours for zero cost, big difference.

They came armed with the same professionals and experts that failed miserably before, so why would we trust them to deliver real change?

The reality is, too few or none of them have the overview of what is and has really gone on on this planet.

Putting a band aid on the world's problems will not fix it.

It cannot be fixed, it is beyond corrupted, beyond compromised and set up to fail by hidden clowns, who designed it to fail.

The New Blueprint for Humanity is the solution, as it comes from a non-personal overview.

Addressing all the problems in an adult common sense manner and not spoiled by hidden agendas, lobbyists or alien control systems.

Here is what the planet is having to tolerate and why more and more people are killed in the Middle East.

The problem is the same as the Ukrainian issue, it involves Jews, the US and NATO and it involves people who have no interest in peace.

Part of the US problem is, they no longer have anything of value trading wise outside of military hardware.

So, they ramp up or create wars to sell goods, because that is where the country America is at.

The Blueprint will change all of that.

Qatari Prime Minister Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al Than, who has acted as a mediator in ceasefire negotiations, questioned: How can mediation succeed when one party assassinates the negotiator of the other side?

The assassination of Ismail Haniyeh clearly had the support and foreknowledge of the United States and the United Kingdom.

I say that, because we also have news reports now coming in that the US and UK warships are headed into the Mediterranean.

On one of the US ships is probably a Marine Expeditionary Unit, this is extremely dangerous.

This attack on Haniyeh was so blatant, that I don't think there will be any restraint on the part of Iran or Hezbollah.

I think that this may in fact have been crossing a red line or the rubicon as it were.

The report says it is extremely worrisome, because this has the hallmarks of being able to spin out of control.

As it is, we're now in a situation of wait and see.

This is part of the warnings I have been giving for the past number of months, clowns are now desperate and will do desperate things that will not end well for anyone, including them.

Let's sit down and talk this through before more lives are lost.

With the rioting of what is called the English Defense League, described as right wing Nazis in the UK currently, one has a few points to make.

Is the English Defense League an intelligence agencies group of actors? And:

Why if it is called a DEFENSE league, why are they attacking?

But there are others of that ilk, who clearly don't understand the meaning of words.

Like the Ministry of DEFENSE, why are they attacking?

The U.S. Dept of DEFENSE, why are they attacking everything?

The Israel DEFENSE Forces, why are they attacking everything?

I think we have a fault in our language here.

Or more importantly we have a fault in understanding their definitions of the words.

This story might not mean much to Americans, but this is a big f you to part of the lying establishment in the UK.

In the UK you have to pay for a TV license, most of which goes to the BBC.

Penalties can be stern for not paying it, like removal of your TV itself in some areas.

But now the people are getting braver and organized and civil anarchy is unfolding, as the greatest thing an activist can do is not participate.

So 500,000 households have cancelled the BBC Tv license in the past year.

If that continues, the BBC is in big trouble financially.

Another simple way of not playing their game is never buying something that is advertised, that hurts their shekel pockets as well.

As violence spreads throughout the UK allegedly over the stabbings of the 3 children in Southport, as clashes with police have spread across the country.

Funny it all happened just after Starmer got in, I predicted it would get worse quickly and it has.

Blame the far right and blame the Nazis has been the common theme, but are they all sabotage agents to bring in curfews or as it is known now as lockdowns.

The politicians know something major is about to unfold and they are steering the narrative for more attacks against the public, to then bring in more stringent controls on all the population.

They want and need people off of the streets, as they plan their eventual lockdown of us all again.

Starmer has already met with chief of police to decide on the next plan to deal with protestors, sabotage agents and impose strict guidelines on and against the people, the majority of whom are not protesting.

Decisions made in Johns Hopkins Center on October 3/4th will decide the next course of action and ultimately tyranny.

I wish to ask all who are eventually placed in a curfew, for one hour during the curfew all leave your front doors stand in the road with hands linked and stand in silence.

If every district did that, it sends a message that we are together and we will not consent to your tyranny.

All this is because not a few sabotage agents operating as the far right or Nazis, but because the people themselves are increasingly seeing through the lies of the police, government, military and agencies.

Too many are not buying it, so out comes the Stasi tactics to put the people back into their sheep pens.

They are getting the whites to fight the Muslims, I wonder who that benefits?

The last show I said to buckle up, well now you need to strap yourself in as well, as things are about to go to a new level.

And that is before the potential US Election.

In another sign of breaking with the global controllers and EL-ites is now unfolding in Holland.

The Dutch are about to go directly against the EL-ites it seems at this point and their migration and other programs, by forming a National Government.

They are said to be opting out of the migration pact, invoking mass deportations and having a border patrol.

It is felt that every nation in Europe will follow.

Although at this stage one cannot always tell if this is another sideways or sleight of hand move, it seems Europe is finally catching on that their countries where being sacrificed by the global EL-ites in favor of the East.

It is high time we all said this to the EL-ites and their authoritarian regimes.

MEDICAL SECTION:

This is really chilling and was part of the plan before Covid.

As five countries are to test a European vaccination card.

Belgium, Germany, Greece, Latvia and Portugal will test the new vaccination card in a variety of formats, including printed cards, mailed copies and digital versions for smartphones.

Critics called it a direct threat to freedom.

Indeed it is, seems Germany is the test cases for quite a few things these days.

Anarchy is not far from the horizon it seems.

More exposures of the Covid scam.

An estimated $350 million in undisclosed royalties were paid to the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and hundreds of its scientists, including the agency's recently departed director, Dr. Francis Collins, and Dr. Anthony Fauci, according to a nonprofit government watchdog.

We estimate that up to $350 million in royalties from third parties were paid to NIH scientists during the fiscal years between 2010 and 2020, Open the Books CEO Adam Andrzejewski told reporters.

We draw that conclusion because, in the first five years, there has been $134 million that we have been able to quantify of top-line numbers that flowed from third-party payers, meaning pharmaceutical companies or other payers, to NIH scientists.

The first five years, from 2010 to 2014, constitute 40 percent of the total, he said.

We now know that there are 1,675 scientists that received payments during that period, at least one payment.

In fiscal year 2014, for instance, $36 million was paid out and that is on average $21,100 per scientist, Andrzejewski said.

We also find that during this period, leadership at NIH was involved in receiving third-party payments.

For instance, Francis Collins, the immediate past director of NIH, received 14 payments. Dr. Anthony Fauci received 23 payments and his deputy, Clifford Lane, received eight payments.

Collins resigned as NIH director in December 2021 after 12 years of leading the world's largest public health agency.

Fauci is the longtime head of NIH's National Institute for Allergies and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), as well as chief medical adviser to President Joe Biden.

Lane is the deputy director of NIAID, under Fauci.

The top five NIH employees measured in terms of the number of royalty payments that they received while on the government payroll, according to a fact sheet published by Open the Books, include Robert Gallo, National Cancer Institute, 271 payments; Ira Pastan, National Cancer Institute, 250 payments; Mikulas Popovic, National Cancer Institute, 191 payments; Flossie Wong-Staal, National Cancer Institute, 190 payments; and Mangalasseril Sargadharan, National Cancer Institute, 188 payments.

Only Pastan continues to be employed by NIH, according to Open the Books.

All of which proves the gain of function aspects and all those who accepted payments were privy to it.

Remains to be seen as to whether that was deliberate fraud or blackmail and leveraging games playing out.

All should be arrested and interrogated as to their true involvement in it, who was committing the fraud, who was doing the bribes and all monies to be given back and put into a fund to help children damaged by their fraud and poor expertise.

SOCIETY SECTION:

Following on from the last piece last week about sabotage agents in our midst, masquerading as migrants.

New York has seen an alarming 11% jump in rapes this year, with some sections of the city seeing their numbers more than double.

There were 880 rapes reported citywide from Jan. 1 through July 14, compared to 796 in the same period last year, NYPD stats reveal. This should be a wakeup call, said Jane Manning, director of Women's Equal Justice. The NYPD needs to allocate more investigators to its understaffed Special Victims Unit, so that every case is investigated well and dangerous offenders are apprehended. Except NYPD is operated by the Weiss group, formerly known as Citadel. Citadel means a fortress commanding the city, all very fitting if you ask me. Areas with the sharpest increases include: Manhattan's 10th Precinct, covering Chelsea, Hell's Kitchen South and Hudson Yards, who saw a 300% increase, with eight so far this year compared to two at this point in 2023. Rapes more than doubled Times Square's Midtown South Precinct, to 19 from nine, an 111% climb. The 101st Precinct in the Rockaway Peninsula in Queens saw rapes shoot up 100% to 14 from 7. The 105th Precinct in eastern Queens saw rapes increase 70% to 17 so far this year from 10 last year. Most rapists know their victims, according to the NYPD, but a handful of recent stranger rapes have rocked the city. In the Bronx, a deranged attacker was caught on video May 21, throwing a belt around a woman's neck, dragging her between two cars and raping her at East 152nd Street and 3rd Avenue. Christian Inga, a Venezuelan migrant who lived in Corona, was arrested for the rape of a 13-year-old girl at knifepoint in a Queens park on June 13 after cops released a police sketch and surveillance photo of him. The teen's father, whose identity The Post isn't revealing to protect the victim, said the family has been in despair since the vicious attack. We have been going through hell, It just turned my world upside down and the healing process has yet to begin. He previously said he blamed President Biden's disastrous open-border policy for allowing career criminals to easily enter the US. In Central Park, a 21-year-old sunbather was laying out in her bikini in a remote area on June 24 when a man exposed himself and jumped on her, cops said. The alleged attacker, Jermaine Longmire, 43, was caught after an intense manhunt. Longmire, who was charged with attempted rape and sex abuse, had at least eight prior arrests in the city. There have been two rapes in the park so far this year compared to none in 2023, the stats show. Experts suggested several factors could be behind the increase, including the NYPD's dwindling manpower, the surge in the migrant population, and failing bail-reform policies. It's no secret that the NYPD is down significantly in terms of force size. Was that a deliberate move by politicians to set the stage for these events, designed to create division and put the public in fear? Remember defund the cops by several politicians, now perhaps we are seeing why.

It is not just America, the UK is also suffering a crime wave, and for similar reasons: UK's record breaking crime wave: Shoplifting spikes 37% in just 12 months, police attend less than 40% of thefts, knife attacks up 7%. Note that even when the police are the victims of migrant crime they struggle to defend themselves: After a mob of illegal migrants attack NYPD officers recently. Mangual said the risk of crimes like rape also has also increased because of controversial policies including discovery reform, which requires prosecutors to hand over their evidence to defenders earlier in the legal process; New York's Raise the Age law, which in 2018 bumped up the age of criminal responsibility to 18 from 16, as well as soft-on-crime prosecutors, including Manhattan D.A. Alvin Bragg. The rate of cases being dismissed has gone up and the rate of cases not being pursued has gone up because of the progressive prosecutorial methods of Bragg, [Brooklyn DA] Eric Gonzalez and [Bronx DA] Darcel Clark, he said. All of which shows the system knows what is going on, in fact they were involved in the planning of it, by putting ridiculous rule changes in place to benefit the perpetrators.

Again, the UK has reported similar findings: crime is actually worse, but because of issues with reporting and data collection, the figures don't reflect reality, or worse: they claim crime is actually down. Migrant shelters could also be partially to blame for the increase in rapes in certain areas, but it's impossible to tell without information on the addresses of the attacks, according to Mangual. The NYPD would not immediately release that data to The Post. In fact no one will release the data on the crimes of the migrants, why? To cover up the program. You're talking about potentially vulnerable populations in environments that are not as easy to police, Mangual said. These are very densely populated buildings, it's behind closed doors and there's probably a lot of fear. Rapes are also up in areas where open-air prostitution thrives. In the 115th Precinct in Queens, which covers East Elmhurst and Jackson Heights, it's up 50%, from 14 at this point in 2023 to 21 so far this year. And Queens' 110th Precinct, home to the infamous Market of Sweethearts along Roosevelt Avenue saw a 38% increase in rapes, with 22 so far this year compared to 16 in the same period last year.

But migrants are not just a US problem, they have been flooded into all white countries as part of a program orchestrated by Jewish Foundations, in particular the Soros Foundation.

The following is a selection of incidents from just the past 6 months, from throughout the West, that is directly connected to the its weaponized mass migration scheme, it's perhaps no wonder that protests against this policy are becoming more vehement:

Protesters clash with police at proposed migrant housing site in Dublin, people tear gassed and arrests made. Illegal migrant decapitated 2 prostitutes in Austria, authorities had lost track of him.

Migrant attacks multiple women on Barcelona subway, man is a known criminal with history of drug use.

Migrant gang violence spreads to Sweden's middle class suburbs, 140 bomb explosions recorded.

7 Egyptian migrants gang-rape 13-year-old Italian girl, force her 17-year-old boyfriend to watch

Paris: Policeman attacked with knife by migrant who is then shot dead, amidst heightened security a week before Olympics.

These are not migrants, they are sabotage agents deliberately sent in to cause trouble in traditionally white populations.

All done to create distractions, fear, division and begin race wars, whilst deflecting away from the Jewish atrocities.

The same Jews who created this program.

If you are new that last statement will alarm you, but if you want to find out the real truth read my books called FHSTOS Volumes 1-3 and it reveals it all, so even the skeptic will begin to question what they believe in.

It is available on the website at THI-show.com/bookstore.

Yet more Stasi enforced indoctrination programs going on in schools, this time in California.

As a California judge sided with a school district in its punishment of a young girl over her message alongside a Black Lives Matter drawing, concluding it was not protected by the First Amendment because of the age of the students.

Ridiculous ruling and devoid of any common sense or moral duty to the children.

Chelsea Boyle's first-grade daughter, known as B.B. in legal filings, was punished by her teachers and principal at Viejo Elementary School for including the phrase any life on a drawing she made and gave to her friend, according to court documents.

The picture showed the words Black Lives Matter with four round shapes in various different tones of brown, beige and yellow intended to represent her and her friends.

B.B., who was seven at the time of the incident, testified in court that she gave the drawing to her friend to make her feel comfortable after her class learned about Martin Luther King Jr.

When the friend brought the picture home, her mother saw the drawing and emailed the school, stating that she would not tolerate any more messages given to her at school because of her skin color and that she trusted the school would address the issue.

The principal, identified in court documents as Jesus Becerra, allegedly confronted B.B. and told her the drawing was inappropriate and racist.

It was heartbreaking, really, to realize that this is what schools and children are subjected to and what it's come to, Boyle said.

So a 7 year old sensible girl who think all lives matter is now declared a racist for saying so, do people not get how utterly ridiculous that sounds?

It is beyond comprehension the levels of stupidity people will go to, to enforce division, but it gets worse.

Just listen to this and stop and think for a bit, is this how 7 year olds should be treated for being caring of all people?

B.B. was banned from drawing pictures at school, forced to issue a public apology and prohibited from enjoying recess for two weeks as punishment.

The drawing included a phrase similar to All Lives Matter, a sentence with an inclusive denotation, but one that is widely perceived as racially insensitive and belittling when directed at people of color, U.S. Central District Court Judge David Carter stated in his ruling.

Are people of color that indoctrinated now, they will react to everything others say, including 7 year old children?

Do people not think that is a real bad look and is actually racist.

Because the very definition of racism is exclusivity and black people with their moniker provided for them by the system are actually showing themselves to being racist by thinking only black lives matter.

This is getting into the realms of the Jewish problem, where they are actively racist with their chosen ones moniker.

In case you all did not notice, 95% of the Alt Media fighting injustice on behalf of us all, is white.

Now ponder on that as a fact and forget color.

Why is it only predominantly one race fighting all injustice? Shouldn't we all be fighting injustice together?

Judge David Carter needs to be fired for being a woke lunatic adult operating in a child level thinking pattern.

EXPOSE:

[Text by Thomas Williams is in bold]

This expose was taken out of the medical section because it was too long and needs further highlighting as its own piece.

I asked in the last show had you all seen the increase in the attacks on the children?

This is another example.

But why the children you all may ask, 1. Demographics – is a problem for those who wish to control things, e.g, Gaza, Jews are terrified as within 10 years they would have been the minority in the region 2. Kill the youth, less people to fight and less people to produce offspring.

This piece is in America, but we know it is happening right across the white race countries, where the majority of the jobs took place. It is also a stark warning to what is to come.

Five European Union (EU) countries in September will pilot the newly developed European Vaccination Card (EVC), which aims to empower individuals by consolidating all their vaccination data in one easily accessible location.

Ah the convenience tool again, convenience has been and will be the death of us all, unless we wake up to their evil control programs.

The pilot program marks a step toward the continent-wide rollout of the card, according to Vaccines Today. Belgium, Germany, Greece, Latvia and Portugal will test the new card in a variety of formats, including printed cards, mailed copies and digital versions for smartphones.

The program aims to pave the way for other countries by harmonizing vaccine terminology, developing a common syntax, ensuring adaptability across different healthcare settings and refining EVC implementation plans, Vaccines Today reported. The plans will be made public in 2026, extending the EVC system beyond the pilot phases and enabling broad adoption across all EU Member States.

That equals new cattle numbers and allows them to control us even more, no jobs or health insurance, no benefits or pension or at a later stage – no tokens for life.

No tokens equals no food, no housing no nothing, this is where that is all leading to.

I suggest people seek out a series about the technological future and what it will bring us and watch Continuum.

According to Vaccines Today, the EVC program seeks to leverage the lessons learned from the Covid-19 pandemic and foster innovation in vaccination management, with the goal of taking crucial steps toward a more resilient and health-secure future.

The old line of we are doing it for your benefit, when evidence all points to they have never done a thing for the people's benefit.

In fact one can categorically state, these medical establishments are here to harm us, not cure us or improve our health.

The EVC is based on the World Health Organization's (WHO) Global Digital Health Certification Network (GDHCN).

With the WHO coming under fire as a name, in classic Jewish name change style tactics, they unveil a new boss same as the old boss and hope the public don't notice.

I expect the same will apply to the CDC.

The EU and WHO co-launched the GDHCN in June 2023 to promote a global interoperable digital vaccine passport, based on the EU's digital health certificate launched during the pandemic.

Vaccines Today described the GDHCN as a citizen-centered method of storing and sharing data, rather than a system that relies solely on public health systems.

Exactly, it is a classic agency based spying network and has nothing to do with health.

Have you grasped as to why they are doing this?

If everyone has digital recognition cards, it will be easier for the towers to carefully monitor everything the cardholder does.

Or worse, when they roll out the digital police force that can read these cards from a distance, again something shown in the Continuum series.

Greece was the first European country to propose the implementation of a vaccination passport, which was eventually adopted as the EU's Green Pass.

Is a Green Pass a lizard pass?

Greece later became the first EU member state to adopt a digital Covid passport.

Greece's University of Crete is coordinating the EVC project alongside 14 partners from nine countries and with $7.3 million in funding from the European Commission's (EC) EU4Health program. The EC is the EU's executive branch.

Funny how they always find funding for these programs, but never for the general people's welfare isn't it.

Well actually it is not funny anymore, it is an embarrassment on behalf of the public they cannot see what is going on with their money.

But in some quarters it has been labeled a direct threat to our freedom.

Experts who spoke with The Defender said that plans for the EVC pose a direct threat to personal and health freedom and national sovereignty.

Dr. David Bell, a public health physician, biotech consultant and former director of Global Health Technologies at Intellectual Ventures Global Good Fund, said:

“The proposed vaccination card reflects an increasing effort to utilize public health tools, as a means to concentrate wealth and provide a means to control populations. It is very reminiscent of approaches in parts of Europe pre-World War II, and essentially serves a similar purpose: to exclude individuals who do not follow government instructions from society.”

All very District 9 that.

“The trial in Europe is an obvious next step after the recent widening of surveillance under the IHR [International Health Regulation] amendments, which greatly increase the likelihood of recurrent lockdowns to enable mandated vaccination as a way to force mass use, and profit-making, from vaccines.”

Dutch attorney Meike Terhorst also criticized the pilot program, calling a digital vaccination passport a direct threat to our freedom and also the sovereignty of any state. All our powers are handed over to the globalists, the group of bankers and investors, Terhorst said.

Catherine Austin Fitts, founder and publisher of the Solari Report and former U.S. assistant secretary of Housing and Urban Development, said plans for the EVC represent another step toward asserting control of labor and travel, with a goal to controlling resources and assets. Fitts said: “The goal is financial control. There is no legitimate public health purpose. The central bankers are hiding behind a health narrative, policies like lockdown are a way to manage inflation and resource demand when monetary policy is highly inflationary.”

Experts also tied the rollout of the EVC to warnings from government and health officials about the next pandemic, potentially caused by the bird flu or a still-unknown Disease X. According to Fitts: “Many steps are underway to prepare for a bird flu pandemic. Chicken is the most significant source of meat protein. So far in response to the current bird flu claims, I am told by experts who follow bird flu claims that 99 million birds have been killed in the U.S. and 500 million worldwide. Bird flu vaccines have been shipped to Europe. A vaccine card can be used to try to pressure or force people to take another unnecessary injection.”

French science journalist and author Xavier Bazin told The Defender, For the time being, a vaccination card in Europe is meant to ensure that most children get their vaccination.

But children are dying globally due to vaccinations, why would parents allow more harm and risks to their children?

However, he said he believes the next step is to try to mandate the measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) vaccine across Europe. Even if they do not succeed with MMR, this kind of card will be perfect when the next pandemic hits and they want to mandate an emergency vaccine, like they did with Covid, Bazin said.

Notice he said when the next pandemic hits, not if.

Similarly, Bell said: WHO and other agencies are clear in their intent to link compliance with centralized health dictates, with the ability of people to go about their daily life. Whilst directly against post-WWII conventions, including the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the spirit of the Nuremberg Declaration, they have the backing of major international agencies and the corporate interests that have become enmeshed with them over the past two decades.

Experts also pointed out that plans for the EVC have been in the works even before the Covid-19 pandemic.

Exactly as we reported back in 2020 in the Expose series.

The digital vaccination passport is a technical means to override personal freedoms, such as the right to say no to a vaccination, Terhorst said. It is a means to turn free human beings into slaves.

Newsflash to Mr. Terhorst, we have always been slaves including him, the only difference now is they wish to do it publicly.

This digital vaccination passport has been planned many years in advance by the globalists.

Plans for EU vaccination card began in 2018. That year, Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance announced at the annual meeting of the World Economic Forum (WEF), that it would become the first international nonprofit to partner with the WEF’s Center for the Fourth Industrial Revolution. In my opinion, the EVC is linked to Gavi’s project of mixing digital ID and vaccination proof, Bazin said. In 2019, the ID2020 Alliance, along with Gavi and the Government of Bangladesh, announced a new digital ID program, for which it was later announced that it aimed to provide biometric-linked digital IDs to infants when they receive routine immunizations.

All of which makes covid mean a Cover Of Vaccines ID, which we stated early on in the Expose series as well.

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation is a partner of Gavi, which, in turn, closely collaborates with the ID2020 Alliance, which has promoted the development of digital ID. According to Vaccines Today, the EVC is necessary because zoonotic diseases, those transmitted from animals to humans that continue to pose a significant threat to global health.

No, it is research centers, Institutes, Intelligence Agencies and Military that are the threat to global health, as it is the aforementioned who meddle with those diseases for bio-warfare purposes.

To protect global health all the above have to be shut down.

As Europe transitions from emergency measures to long-term Covid-19 management, there is a critical opportunity to strengthen resilience and increase preparedness for future health threats, Vaccines Today reported, citing the EVC as one such project.

As we said in 2020 and 2021, Covid was a test, mainly of our compliance to authority and we failed badly.

Other EU-level projects in the works, according to Vaccines Today, include a clinical decision system that provides vaccination recommendations, a screening tool to identify and invite vulnerable populations, an electronic Product Information Leaflet (e-PIL) to enable the transfer of vaccines across countries without having to repackage them, and a modeling and forecasting tool to assess the impact of public health interventions.

Identify and invite vulnerable populations? Well the most vulnerable major population on the planet now, are whites.

So, what is that telling you?

Don't have to repackage vaccines? So, that means no border patrol checks of the contents.

All of which potentially means they can put drugs, body parts, infect the contents and many other rogue operations from country to country, all under the labels of vaccines.

But for Bazin, such efforts have little to do with protecting public health. For those who think vaccination is a medical procedure that should always remain a free choice, the European Vaccination Card is really chilling and should be opposed, he said.

I agree, but the problem is there are too many stupid bot level people who think the authorities are there for our benefit and sleepwalk us all into abject tyranny.

Steve Kirsch has made a critical finding in the record-level data from Czechia obtained via Freedom of Information request.

First, let's just toy with an idea.

If a widely given drug caused death in one in 1,000, what would the impact be?

For young people the impact would be astounding.

There would be a huge number of extra deaths and a stunning number of total deaths compared to those who did not take the drug.

For 100,000 people there would be only 55 background deaths and 100 extra deaths. Comparing two similar sized populations the overall mortality would be $155 \div 55 = 2.82$ times more, i.e., 182% higher.

For old people the impact would be much more subtle.

For example, around 2% of people aged 80-89 will die in a year.

For 100,000 people there would be 2,000 background deaths and only 100 extra deaths. Comparing two similar sized populations the overall mortality would be $2,100 \div 2,000 = 1.05$ time more, i.e., just 5% higher.

Ultimately any signal would be much clearer in the young.

The Czech Government has released record-level data for 10 million people.

The clever analysis Steve has done is based on the assumption that the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine was harmless.

It can then act as a placebo group.

It is an excellent 'placebo' group because confounders around health and socioeconomic variables are accounted for as the brands were distributed randomly.

All that is needed is to compare the overall mortality rate in the year following the first dose in the Moderna group with the Pfizer group.

Barely any Moderna doses were given in January and the sick were being prioritized still in.

At all ages there were more deaths in the Moderna group - around 50% more in the non-elderly and around 20% more for those in their 70s and 80s.

The impact on the young was higher, in line with the dilution effect due to higher background deaths in the old described above.

A significant number of Czech citizens also had AstraZeneca and their mortality was similar to Moderna's.

The use of Pfizer as a placebo group in the above analysis doesn't mean the Pfizer vaccine was safe.

It just shows the Moderna vaccine was less safe.

So, that is another example of targeting the children, which has more impact, as there is less children than there is elderly.

I am hoping by highlighting this fact more and more people will stand up and fight for the children.

Because evidence in the last few shows alone shows, the authorities are trying to eliminate many of the children and the ones that survive will be medically damaged and indoctrinated beyond our imagination.

Why beyond our imagination? Because we really do not think enough outside of ourselves.

All adults have a moral duty to be guardians for the children, evidence suggests we are just not doing that nowhere near enough.

I will end with similar to a previous quote: Those that fail to protect the children and the elderly are destined to fail themselves.

FHSTOS SECTION:

Here is some back story of the Jewish takeover of Russia before, during and after WW1.

The Bolshevik-Menshevik Split:

The 57 delegates to the Second Congress of the minuscule, quarrelsome and apparently ineffectual Russian Social-Democratic Labour Party assembled in a flea-ridden flour warehouse in Brussels on July 30th, 1903.

Why was it held in Brussels to discuss Russian politics? Because Brussels became the new headquarters of the global elite and their various fake organizations.

Georgi Plekhanov, the respected veteran Russian Marxist, was elected chairman, but the delegates felt uneasy in Belgium and moved to London, where the authorities could be relied on to ignore them.

Their sessions were held in an angling club with fishing trophies on the walls and in rooms in pubs and cafes.

The meetings were extremely fractious, with much violent argument, barracking and interminable hair-splitting as every tiny point was dissected and analyzed.

It became clear that the party was split between two groups, the Bolsheviks ('majority') and the Mensheviks ('minority').

Bolsheviks where the Jewish elite armed with mercenaries and the Mensheviks where the working class or even the serf class as it was known back then.

A serf was a peasant slave.

The Bolsheviks claimed the name after getting their way in a wrangle over the editorial board of the Party newspaper Iskra known as the Spark, which was about to start a big blaze.

The Mensheviks unwisely accepted the appellation, though they were actually more often in the majority.

Both groups were enthusiasts for the destruction of capitalism and the overthrow of the Tsarist regime, but the Mensheviks, led by Martov.

They favored a large, loosely organized democratic party whose members could agree to differ on many points.

The Mensheviks were prepared to work with the liberals in Russia and they had scruples about the use of violence.

The Bolsheviks, led by Lenin, were hardline revolutionaries who would not have known a scruple if you bought them a drink.

Lenin had no time for democracy and no confidence in the masses.

He wanted a small, tightly organized, strictly disciplined party of full-time members who did what they were told, followed the party line in every particular way and would be far more difficult for the Tsarist police to infiltrate.

In his notes at the time Lenin called his group hards and his opponents softs.

When a delegate lamented that uncomradely attitudes were spoiling the congress, Lenin sharply replied that, on the contrary, he relished a good open fight instead of endless inconclusive talk.

His attitude was attacked as elitist and tyrannical.

The youthful Trotsky, now and for years to come a Menshevik, reportedly told Lenin at one point, that's dictatorship you're advocating, to which Lenin replied, there is no other way.

The Russian socialist movement divided on November 16th, 1903.

They then set the stage for the full takeover and murderous rampage in the next 2 decades.

Is our book FHSTOS creating a ripple effect and causing big waves for those amongst us who love the lies, the illusion and the erasure of our story? You bet it is.

Just listen to this pathetic his story revision and put it into a wider context.

Why are these types of articles increasing now, because they are losing the narrative war, the most important aspect of controlling the populace.

If the media spin is lost on the public, this war against the people would be over very quickly.

Why? Because it means more people are then open to the real truth and not the utter garbage and lies they feed us with.

So, they are wasting vast resources now to keep us all in check, but in my heart, it's not working and is not going to work.

The truth frequency is beginning to intersperse through far more people now and it cannot be stopped by traditional methods anymore.

Here is the article:

Putin and Russia have one thing in common: violence. (M)

Russian history is essentially a history of violent undertakings in the vast region known as Russia. (M) In the same fashion, Putin's life has been, and continues to be, marred by violence. If there is any truth to the saying that he who lives by the sword will die by the sword, both Russia and Putin are in for some bad news. Putin allegedly wears a bullet-proof vest when appearing in public.

Russian historians like to describe their country, whether in its original form as the Muscovite State or the Russian Empire, as the target of incessant imperialist invasions, by Mongols, Poles, Teutonic knights, Swedes, Tatars, Ottomans, French, Germans and so on. They're right, but only half so, because the Muscovites and their successors the Russians gave as good, if not better than, they got.

One doesn't acquire an empire spanning 12 time zones or more, if one counts East Germany and Alaska, by only losing. One gets it by means of imperial expansion, which always entails massive applications of violence against the indigenes: be they Novgorodians, Belarusians, Ukrainians, Georgians, Central Asians or Siberians.

Nice try but there is no evidence of such barbarianism outside of Koshey based narratives.

The natives of America and India said they came to teach, help and support, why would they lie?

With some 800 years of violence from inside and from outside, it's no wonder that violence has become woven into the institutional and cultural fabric of Russia. Unfortunately and tragically, violence has been normalized and routinized. As have most people's response thereto: ducking, fear, quiescence, conformity, collaboration etc.

Putin's life is also marked by incessant violence from his childhood and adolescence in tough neighborhoods, to his fateful decision to join the most bloodthirsty of the Soviet Union's institutions the KGB in 1975. A secret police, at the very height of its crackdown against the dissident movement and just seven years after the Prague Spring, Czechoslovakia's short-lived attempt to create socialism with a human face.

Putin knew exactly what he was doing. Small wonder that his assumption to power in 1998-1999 was accompanied by the terrorist bombings of several apartment buildings. Hundreds of Russians were killed, the Chechens were blamed, and Putin had his pretext for the Second Chechen War.

There followed the war in Georgia in 2008, the occupation of Crimea and the Donbas in 2014, and the invasion of Ukraine in 2022.

Russia went into Ukraine in 2014 because the Ukrainians were slaughtering their own people 8M and many Russians, all done by a staged coup through the CIA.

Interspersed throughout were the murders of some 20 oppositionists, the defenestration's of a score of businessmen, the killing of the putschist Valery Prigozhin and a series of attempts to assassinate Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky.

Given this record, it's not unreasonable to ask whether Russia's oppositionists, and they do exist, and not just in exile, will at some point decide that the only way to fight fire is with fire.

Which means they are trying to goad agents into fighting against Russia, but who is the instigator?

According to Ilya Ponomarev, a former Duma deputy now resident in Ukraine, who has been actively involved in organizing the armed anti-Putin units, that have successfully conducted raids into provinces bordering on northern Ukraine, that point may be now.

But Ponomarev is a mercenary employed by clowns to cause division.

Writes Ponomarev: the scale of political repression in the Russian Federation is greater than it was under the post-Stalin general secretaries.

Utter rubbish and pro pagan da.

As a result, the possibilities of nonviolent resistance in Russia are closed.

All of which sounds like Zelensky.

Apparently, armed resistance is now on the political opposition's agenda, having been actively discussed at the Forum of the Russian Opposition, which took place in Lviv, Ukraine in late May. The meeting was attended by 40 oppositionists and had the blessing of Ukraine's military intelligence chief, Kyrylo Budanov.

So, who is Budanov? On 5 August 2020, President of Ukraine Volodymyr Zelensky appointed Budanov as head of the Main Intelligence Directorate of the Ministry of Defense.

Why was Budanov appointed?

Because Budanov was one of the members of the elite Unit 2245 of the Ukrainian Main Intelligence Directorate trained by, the CIA.

The same people who did the coup on Ukraine.

Proving Langley is a puppet for the Jewish EL-ites.

That said, Lviv's Mayor Andriy Sadovyy said he had no knowledge of the event and wondered whether it was a joke. His skepticism is understandable given Ponomarev's somewhat shadowy reputation.

Continues Ponomarev: The Forum's resolution states that support for Russian volunteers and guerrilla groups fighting against the Kremlin should be the top priority of all, absolutely all! factions of the Russian opposition, as long as Russia continues its war of conquest against Ukraine.

Spoken like deluded puppet if you ask me.

These people paid or otherwise play a massive role in the instability of the whole planet.

This wouldn't be the first time in Russian history that opponents of the regime felt compelled to resort to violence. Back in the 1870s and 1880s, young Russians disillusioned by their inability to speak to the people turned to bombings and assassinations. The Bolsheviks fought their czarist, as well as socialist and non-Russian opponents with indiscriminate terror.

Except as we have found out with overwhelming evidence, The Bolsheviks were Jewish and took over their whole country.

You see how they are terrified of the real truth coming out now and repeat tired old scripts that have no evidence to support it.

Ukrainian and Russian peasants opposed collectivization in the late 1920s with violence. Estonian, Latvian, Lithuanian and Ukrainian guerrillas resisted the imposition of Soviet rule in the aftermath of World War II. Hungarians, Afghans and Chechens fought Soviet/Russian invasions with arms.

Yes, but they were not fighting Russians, but the hidden Red Army of the Jewish Bolsheviks.

But the problem is the people believed the narrative laid out for them and so Russia became the enemy of those peoples, unbeknown to them, was because Russia was no longer the Russia they knew.

Instead it was being ran by Fascist/Zionists, who then went onto rampaging through Germany 20 years later.

The problems with violence are twofold. It may be of questionable morality and, more important for the oppositionists who turn to it, it only works if the state being resisted has been severely weakened by someone or something else: an invader, a natural catastrophe, etc. Other things being equal, guerrillas are no match for states and their armies, militias and secret police forces.

That again is not true, as the same armies, guerillas, militias and secret police forces have been infiltrated as well.

Then following the orders of the hidden hand.

Ponomarev appears to understand this: I can't help but recall that wars that go badly for Russia, have often resulted in the deepest internal political turmoil. I am sure that during the current war, there will be a window of opportunity when the Russian resistance will be able to seize the levers of state control, eliminate Putin's regime and lead Russia through de-imperialization and democratization.

These may be pipe dreams or, as Vladimir Lenin and the Ayatollah Khomeini could attest, they may be harbingers of Putin Russia's final confrontation with violence.

Lenin was a Jewish leader of Russia after the Bolshevik takeover using Marxist policies.

Karl Marx was also a Jew.

The Ayatollah Khomeini was a CIA asset, the CIA are another front for their Jewish paymasters.

This article started off as labeling Russia and Putin as violent, then calls for mercenaries to be violent against Russia, contradictory much?

So who was the author of this piece of his story revisionism?

Alexander J. Motyl is a professor of political science at Rutgers University-Newark. A specialist on Ukraine, Russia and the USSR, and on nationalism, revolutions, empires and theory. He is the author of 10 books of nonfiction, as well as Imperial Ends: The Decay, Collapse, and Revival of Empires and Why Empires Reemerge: Imperial Collapse and Imperial Revival in Comparative Perspective.

Motyl is a Ukrainian Jew who lives in New York.

Well I never, the Jewish and New York connections rears its head for the multi hundredth time.

What this shows is, they are desperate for everyone to get back into the box and believe their stories only.

But the truth is now prevailing and is increasing.

So, they wheel out these Jewish writers generally connected to New York to steer the narrative back their way again.

Clearly Mr. Motyl has much to learn and one hopes somewhere down the line he does learn, because ultimately those peoples he is writing for and protecting, will eventually come for him as well.

MYSTERY SECTION:

This was written by a member and a nice reminder of our own roles in life and society.

As within and so without.

It is said, the people deserve the government they get, which may be true regardless of if they vote or not.

What's not said is; That's because it's a reflection in the lack of self-governance and unity within their individual and collective selves.

And so, without honest self-evaluation, truth and establishment of healthy ethical core-values that foster unity within self, then extended to others, then all levels of peace will remain a personal Everest.

This new Blueprint is a Co-operative and different journey that begins within.

The word rubicon should be in people's thoughts now, but what is the rubicon?

The ruby con or the red con? Or the blood con?

The Rubicon is a shallow river in northeastern Italy, just south of Cesena and north of Rimini.

It was known as Fiumicino until 1933, when it was identified with the ancient river Rubicon, famously crossed by Julius Caesar in 49 BC.

Rubicon is a noun that refers to a bounding or limiting line, especially one that when crossed, commits a person irrevocably.

It is also used to describe a limit that when surpassed cannot be returned from, or an action that when taken cannot be reversed.

The word Rubicon means a limit or point that you reach when the results of your actions cannot be changed.

Perhaps Rome again, will attempt to cross their own Rubicon?

Perhaps the people of THI and beyond are about to cross their own rubicon line or limit?

Star Trek had its own crossing the Rubicon meme with to boldly go where no man has gone before.
Uncharted waters will only bob to the dance of chaos, if you create it.
Perhaps learning to ride the wave and then skimming it, was a valid thing to pursue?
Is Christianity a mass Stockholm Syndrome event?
From overview it certainly looks that way, as millions of Christians are like sheep following over a cliff edge.
Let's take the Christian label out for a second and let us look at the use of other labeling.
Take gender for example, we went from 2 to 72 genders, why? To create division.
Take politics for example, they create two parties, deny all opposition to those two parties and then have the two parties face off in gladiatorial style against each other, why? To create division.
But politics has another angle, the ism's of politics, Socialism, Communism, Fascism etc all coming under the same banner of Zionism, but presented as separate, why? To create division.
Color, we had 6 colors and various labels that has changed over time, like negro, mulatto and now black, but some brown people who were wrapped into the term black objected.
Why the name changes and definitions? To create division.
The matriarchy and patriarchy one ruling the other and no togetherness, why? To create division.
Take countries as an example, countries really don't exist as we were given free reign by Source to go wherever we wanted on this planet.
But they labeled countries, changed their names, divided them up into several countries, why? To create division.
Language is another example, we had one common language but the Lord decided he didn't want the people coalescing and changed all the languages and dispersed them, why? To create division.
Take intelligence agencies, each one was told they were special, first priority and told to watch the others with suspicion, why? To create division.
World leaders when the Pindar was up for grabs, all told they were the chosen one, yet only one position is available, why? To create division.
Social media another example, create divisive topics and watch the people argue all day over it, why? To create division.
The MSM say inflammatory statements about one group and sit back and await the vitriolic retort, why? To create division.
There are many other examples of this, so why would religion be any different to the rest of society?
Does religion have a divide and conquer rule? You bet it does, more than all the rest combined.
My god is better than your god, I have to kill you because you disrespected my god, our god told us we can have all the land, our god told us we are the chosen ones, our god told us all other people are animals, cattle and slaves.
So that is the background to all of this piece, which will then lead you to your own conclusion.
So back to the Christian's operating as Stockholm Syndrome patients.

In FHOSTOS we have covered how the Rus, Aryans and Slavs had no religion in the past and religion was brought in by Lucifer, which is a title and not a single individual around 22500BC.
Since then I would estimate that a number of billion have lost their lives here fighting over a program of descension, death, harvesting, trafficking war cult.
Many people will doubt the number of billion claim, stating it is in the low millions, but you are not going back in time enough.
The war around 17-18K years ago brought in the Draco, many lost their lives then.
The engineered flood around 13K years ago, as gods played out the control freak mania on the planet and many lost their lives then as well.
There are many other examples from the Jewish crusaders knights killing everyone in sight, to plagues, pestilence, fiery serpents, famines and many other instances.
Even in more modern days India/Pakistan, Israel against everyone, NATO/EU against the Rus all based upon religious division, except Russia never had a religion until it was imposed upon them called Christianity.
That program was the cause of the deaths of 90M Russians between 1915 and 1945, 30M every decade that equates to, yet all we are reminded of is a six million figure of one race, whilst deliberately deleting from history the death of 90M people.
The slaughter of the Armenians comes under the same banner of the Rus, just deleted from history with barely a murmur.
All to prove that one god is better than another.
We and the Rus have highlighted of how Christianity was imposed many peoples around the world, and again many people's lives were lost to impose that program on other races.
Proving that people will follow anything, even a death cult, if it is state sponsored.
But who is the state? is the state united? or is the state of plot of land where usurpers took over that land and then proceeded to lay claim to all other land? The state is Israel and everything wrong on this planet comes out of that region.
Take the three axis' of evil, The Vatican is a Jewish religion, The City of London or the square miles is ran by Jewish bankers, nobility and other high falluting titles and the District of Columbia is ran by the Jewish lobby.
It is like the old bars of rock you got at the seaside, it had one word at either end, but it ran through the core as well, all hidden you see, or perhaps not enough do see.
So with the Jewish religion established and all the other religions a subset of the Jewish religion, why? To create division.
But Christianity was created and imposed by the same Jewish Rome cult on millions of people for the purpose of division and to create wars to eliminate people, most often in our story, the white race.

All the white people on this planet are descendants of the Rus/Aryan/Slavs, all of you.

I will repeat again, the Rus/Aryan/Slavs never had a religion until the Jewish Rome cult imposed it upon us, with the goal to control us and eventually eliminate us.

They tried with the different colored races and wars, that didn't work overall as many of us are still here, although greatly diminished in numbers over the last 110 years.

Their next move will be to eliminate more whites and most of the colored races as the Jewish cult sees them as failures, for not eliminating the whites and they have served their usefulness.

They now declare us all useless eaters, so what happens next?

They create an AI world filled with robots to serve them, because then you will not need as many people to deal with, on a planet that is increasingly coming to see who the real problem is.

They are driven by fear.

But I will tell you who else is driven by fear as well, the Christians and their fear of god.

Message to the Christians, your true god does not impose fear upon you, only teaches you to be a better person, helps and supports you with the Cosmos.

Does your god do that Christians? Not a chance.

Why? Because you are following their god blindly, constantly make excuses for it and you worship the one entity that wants to kill you all.

Why do you think the anti-Christian program is coming from the Jewish news media now?

You have served your purpose and when that is finalized, the next stage is to eliminate you.

I will say it again, Christendom is rampant Stockholm syndrome on steroids.

I ask and plead to all who go by the banner of Christian, learn the real truth and correct your course or suffer the fate your fake Christian god has in store for you.

In the previous piece I referenced the word banner, in terms of a label.

But what is a banner?

Banner c. 1200, piece of cloth attached to the upper end of a pole or staff, from Old French baniere flag, banner or standard.

Formerly the standard of a king, lord or knight, behind which his followers marched to war and to which they rallied in battle.

The figurative sense of anything displayed as a profession of principles is from early 14c.

Of newspaper headlines that stream across the top of the page, from 1913.

So the label or banner is a symbol of war and division again, perpetrated by fake monarchs and or nobility.

But under the banner which signifies a label could have another significance added to it.

The owners of the banner, is the banner of the narrative, the program and the people.

The banners who ban people from the truth, are those that only exist in lies.

Is nature fighting back with us?

Atony town in California's central coast where celebrities from Oprah Winfrey to Prince Harry have bought properties, has become a hot spot for another reason: an active infestation of red imported fire ants.

The Santa Barbara county agricultural commissioner's office is addressing an active infestation of these ants in Montecito, California, according to a statement issued last week.

This infestation likely originated from ant-infested nursery stock shipped from Riverside county in September 2023, according to officials.

This is the only known infestation in the county, according to the statement.

We have a song about that called Fire Dance, perhaps change it to fire ants!!

ENDING PIECE:

In memory of the children we have highlighted in several shows recently, a voice of the past is perhaps required now to end this show.

A reminder from 40K years ago of what we must all do to counteract the lunacy on this planet and who are the real perpetrators.

It was said:

The objective of Aliens is to disturb harmony reigning in the World of Light,

And to destroy Descendants of The Heavenly Kin and The Great Race, for only they can give adequate repulse to the Forces of Darkness. Minions of the World of Darkness think, that only they should possess all Worlds which were created by Great RA-M-HA.

Upon arriving to blooming Earths, they seek to school Human Children to greed, for greed kills Cognition, and when Cognition is killed, shame dies.

And when shame is killed, Truth is oppressed.

With the death of Truth, dies Happiness too.

When Happiness is dead, Human dies.

If Human dies, then any of his riches are taken in possession of, by Aliens.

They consider wealth to be their rightest support and they build their World on wealth.

In the World of Darkness, life is only available to those who have riches.
A poor Human there, is like a dead [creature] in a wilderness.
They take away income from people, relying on the power of their Deception.
Knowing that if they take away from people support and Faith, the purpose of life and Freedom of Spirit, they will destroy them.
Human Children in such situation in the World of Yav' choose the path of death freely and direct their weapons against Alien villains.
For it is better to accept glorious death in battle righteous against Alien enemies, rather than to submit to the enemies.
People with weak Spirit will lose their minds or fall under the authority of Alien enemies,
While others, in thirst for hoarding, go to serve the Aliens.
Misfortunes of such lost people are worse than death,
So as death, according to law, is the eternal way of the world and there has been nobody living in The World of Yav' who has exceeded death...

[This passage is describing both the consequences of greed and the ignorance of the need for humans to transcend The World of Yav'.]
Alien enemies drive Human Children into madness, and people, losing more and more mind, accomplish cruel deeds.
They end up violating Blood rules in their evil deeds, and for those who are guilty in Blood mixing, hell opens its wide doors.
If the Human will not reject all of these, if he will not wake up, he will go directly to Hell and Gods will not help him, for he himself chooses his path.
And asked of Perun Thunderer, Sages-Keepers of Tracks which lead through Star Gates:
Tell us, our Wise Teacher, what is happening in Great Svarga, and why have many Gates to Makosh (Ursa Major) and Rada (Orion) closed.
The crystals of movement are not beaming anymore, and the Zarbine Circle has faded in half a quarter; the Celestial Needles lost color.
At present from many Vitmaras we don't get a response to our long call.
Half a quarter: The measure corresponds to 1/8 of a circle or 45 degrees.
Celestial needles: Systems of space communication and navigation.
Well I was pondering again as 1/8 of a circle or 45 degrees, isn't roughly the same as the Earth tilt?
Perhaps as the Earth ticks around its own clock face, we may well see in the future something that lights up.
Like a beacon through the Cosmos and the stairway to the heavens is restored once again.
But first we have to wake up from the inside and expel the darkness that we have become.
