The Blueprint Episode 31 Teams Report week ending 22nd September 2024.

BOOK TEAM

The translations in several languages are progressing nicely: From His Story to Our Story Romanian translator is working on Volume 4. German translator started part 8 of the Volume 2. Dutch and Bulgarian translators continue their work on Volume 2 and Volume 3. Volume 5 of From His Story to Our Story was sent to the editing team for review, corrections and comments on different parts: main part, foreword and afterword segments and the cover text. The Swedish translation of The New Blueprint for Humanity is presented to be added to the website.

RESEARCH TEAM

The Research Team thanks everyone who has contributed influencers over the last 18 months. We have now e-mailed PDFs to 500 individuals and organizations. Another 66 have been contacted via mail. We have contacted over 60% of the 936 influencers that you provided to us. We have approximately 50 influencers remaining with e-mail addresses or contact forms to approach. We ask that you continue to make your suggestions. This is a collective effort.

The twenty contacts for episode 31 are:

Professor Andreas Popp: Is a leading economist, entrepreneur, writer/author, and thinker with 200K followers on telegram. He has written his own economic blueprint which perfectly syncs with our blueprint.

Eva Herrman: Is married to Andreas Popp together they are powerhouse of alternative media in Germany. She was the leading news reader in Germany for years until she expressed her opinion on the news. Together they also are working on projects to improve humanity. They host a political podcast thrice a week. Her website has thoughts on politics, media, family policy, health and spirituality.

Roland Tichy: Left the mainstream media to start his own independent news stream. He already has 200K followers on YouTube. Like Tucker Carlson he is proving to be more popular than MSN in Germany.

Truthout: Is a nonprofit news organization dedicated to providing independent reporting and commentary on a diverse range of social justice issues. With a powerful, independent voice, they spur transformations in consciousness and inspire both policy change and direct action.

Mark Payne: Is a writer, director, screenwriter, and author. He created the website Not On The Beeb to fight for the lives of those who were too young, vulnerable, aged or simply too hypnotized to realize what was happening. Beeb stands for BBC. He has a podcast on the site.

Alex Michael: Is the Conspiracy Music Guru who exposes the world's greatest deceptions with lyrics that inform and teach. With an understanding of the power of 432Hz, his music delivers a natural vibration which has had a profound impact and resonance with his fans. Conscious music is what the Conspiracy Music Guru is all about. He is as passionate about truth as he is about music.

John Solomon: Is an award-winning investigative journalist, author and digital media entrepreneur who serves as Chief Executive Officer and Editor in Chief of Just the News. Just the News is committed to reporting facts from journalists with a long record of public trust and excellence. In an era where opinion and supposition are too often substituted for fact, just where journalists rush to get things first and hope their stories are correct, Just the News tries to stand out by returning to the bedrock promise of getting news first, but first getting it right. They try to deliver exclusive news you can trust.

Scott Pressler: He founded Early Vote Action to register Republican voters and get them committed to vote early, absentee, by mail, or on Election Day by any means necessary. America is at a crossroads and it's time for the Patriots of our nation to stand together and defend the values that make our country the greatest on earth.

Mollie Ziegler Hemmingway: Is an author and editor in chief for The Federalist, which is an American conservative online magazine and podcast that covers politics, policy, culture, and religion. It also publishes a newsletter.

Karel van Wolferen: Is an emeritus university professor for Comparative Political and Economic Institutions at the University of Amsterdam. He created a website, using his name, to reach an audience, the larger the better. He thinks and writes about political and economic subjects, about history and social institutions, with the aim of discovering unexpected connections. From the turn of the century onward he has written a lot about what was happening in the world's most powerful country and the impacts on the rest of us. But much of that remained hidden as well through vagaries of the publishing trade.

Mike Cernovich: Is an American right-wing social media personality, political commentator, and conspiracy theorist. He promotes an admixture of mindset and media. He offers a course in the Power of Mindset Master Class that help one face their deepest fears, how to reinvent themselves through the power of story.

Cyntha Koeter: Cyntha with Janet Ossebaard, created The Fall of the Cabal and the Sequel to the Fall of the Cabal. Both are documentary series offering a unique lens through which to view global events, conspiracy theories, and the enigmatic workings of hidden powers. Through a narrative that touches on crisis actors, Q drops, and the epic struggle between good and evil, the two authors paint a captivating picture of a world veiled in secrecy and manipulation. Janet Ossebaard died in 2023.

George Knapp: Hosts Coast to Coast AM on the third and fourth Sundays of each month. Coast to Coast AM, the most-listened-to overnight radio program in North America, is broadcast live seven nights a week from 1 am to 5 am. US eastern time. Millions of listeners on more than 600 stations in the U.S. tune in to hear discussions on news and current events, conspiracy theories, paranormal phenomena, time travel, alien abduction, and all things curious and unexplained.

George Noory: Is the primary host for Coast to Coast AM. He is driven by the desire to solve the great mysteries of our time.

Yanasa TV: Is operated by Yanasa Ama Ventures who is an Agricultural Film Producer. This channel contains productions by Yanasa Ama Ventures, Opaliris Studios, and Meet My Neighbor Productions, Inc. The world is changing, and agricultural producers must adapt, or they will perish. Their goal is to preserve the integrity and distinctiveness of rural life by building content that supports the agricultural community while also educating viewers on how to adapt to the changing political, economic, and social environment. They do this by covering topics of interest to their rural neighbors and covering those neighbor's stories, not just their own production company ones. While global leaders work to reimagine our rural communities, Yanasa Ama Ventures is working to rebrand our great land stewards.

Marilyn Hawes: Founded Freedom from Abuse. Abuse is out of control in our society. Freedom For Abuse is focused on reducing the incidence of abuse and aiding recovery from abuse throughout the United Kingdom since 2004. It tackles abuse head-on, helping overcome the challenges of all abuse and aid recovery, not letting abuse become a life sentence.

Lierre Keith: Is a writer, radical feminist, food activist, and environmentalist. Her book The Vegetarian Myth: Food, Justice, and Sustainability is a controversial examination of the ecological effects of agriculture and vegetarianism. In The Vegetarian Myth, she offers evidence of agriculture destroying entire eco-systems, such as the North American prairie. She is associated with the Deep Green Resistance movement. She also co-authored Deep Green Resistance: Strategy to Save the Planet.

Maria Zee: Is a journalist and media personality. Controversy has always been comfortable for her. In 2021 she launched Zee Media which has quickly evolved into one of the most trusted, uncensored sources of information in Australia. She shares the truth at whatever cost to expose them.

Silkie Carlo: Is the director of British civil liberties NGO Big Brother Watch, which is a UK civil liberties campaign group fighting for a free future. They are determined to reclaim our privacy and defend freedoms at this time of enormous technological change. They fight to win. Today, we are watched by a network of intelligent surveillance systems. We are tracked by your personal devices, monitored by social platforms, and targeted by invasive corporations. We may not know their names. But they know ours. Every decision is collected and archived, somewhere, by someone. We do not consent.

Giordano Nanni: Is the writer for and creator of Juice Media in a backyard home studio in suburban Melbourne, Australia. Juice Media is 98.9% genuine satire, covering government skullduggery and the most pressing issues of our time. It produces a series of Honest Government Ads. Even the Australian government is tuning into watch these Ads, proven by the fact they sent an email to Juice Media complaining about the use of the government logo.

5 x 5 TEAM UPDATE:

Our update for the 5x5 Team, is that we have begun the email blast to the Johns Hopkins decision makers and fellows to bring forth our intent to stop the ELBI meeting in October to stop a potential lock down in addition to the digital biotech passports. Transcript details on Bioweapons were sent to the Media team for new memes and we should start to see those by the next meeting and begin sending them out. The Research Team will have a draft letter to us by this weekend for the ICJ (International Court of Justice) initiative and email blast we are doing.

The 5x5 Team has also moved to a new 5x5 Page on MeWe in order to accommodate file sharing for fast action. Mads Palsvig, former executive from Morgan Stanley, Credit Suisse and Barclays turned Whistleblower and Chairman of The Prosperity Party in Denmark has followed one of our 5x5 members. Interestingly, he has a five-point plan, named the Palsvig Plan, to eliminate poverty that sounds will sound very familiar to our Blueprint Team, particularly number 4 to eliminate tax on real estate, a point inspired by the work of Henry George as cited in the Blueprint:

Overview of the plan: The world is abundant. It is possible to totally remove poverty, and everybody can live a middle-class life and up with a chance to reach his/her (only two gender) full potential. In every country in the world. There are 5 steps in the Palsvig plan:

1. Remove the privilege of creating money from the Federal Reserve banking system. Instead of spending the entire money creation on fomenting wars, lock downs, forced vaccinations, illegal immigration and overall corruption, to spend it on infrastructure and a monthly citizen dividend just like any shareholder would get a dividend in a company.

2. Replace income tax and corporate tax with a 1% levy/tax/fee on all digital transfers of money. Instead charge 1% every time a corporation or human being digitally transfers money. Including all bank transfers. Of course, also credit/debit cards and mobile pay. This will lead to taxation of the multinational corporations for the first time in human history.

3. Prohibit usury for human beings. Create mortgage institutions that lend out interest free mortgages to human beings but not to corporations.

4. Remove real estate tax on every human being's primary residence. And introduce a progressive real estate tax that increases the more properties a person or corporation owns. This will help transfer the wealth back to the people away from the banking fraternity.

5. Make a currency conversion like the one the deeply corrupt Russian government did in 1991 on behalf of CIA, Harvard University and banksters from Wall Street. Just reverse it. The globalists stole the entire savings of the Russian people overnight by making a new ruble and calling the old one worthless by decree. We can do the same. Make a new USD, new EURO, new CHF etc. and this time normal civilian human beings will be allowed to convert their old money for new money one to one. However, those who have made their money from trafficking children, dealing drugs, laundering money, poisoning the wells, opening the gates, profiting from wars and the like will not be allowed to convert their ill-gotten old money for new money.

We can celebrate that these types of solutions are becoming generalized in the consciousness of those who wish to help our planet. That is all from the Blueprint teams this week.

The next piece of music maybe familiar to you all as this is the now full recorded version of the song, all done in a studio. Thanks to Martin, Paul, Marjon, Juju and Jule for this production. Plans are in production for the commercial release of the single and I am sure everyone will wish Martin and team success with that. This is Beacon Time.

IN OVERVIEW:

Understanding support: Support is a word that is used often in today's society, with many new age and mental health groups citing it as their mainstay, but in reality, do we know what support really is, and how to give and receive it in our daily lives? In a fractured society where people seem to find it difficult to create unity, and the majority want to fall into the victim category, it seems that the main ingredient missing is support. So let us look at the definition of support: To bear all or part of the weight of hold up. Give assistance to, especially financially, enable to function or act. There is that word again, enable, the co-dependency bubble. To aid, approve, assist, endorse, establish help, hold, justify, maintain, promote, side with. Offer genuine encouragement, reassurance and compassion. The latter few seem more heart based to me, and a pretty wide definition it seems, all maybe things we would associate with giving support to others. The definition of supporting someone spiritually is also listed: help discover the meaning and purpose in life, and how to make choices based on what matters most to a person. An intimate relationship with a higher power or God and spiritual care relates to connection with the self. Be a friend of their soul, actively listen and attune your heart and mind to their reality. Be fully present and project vibrations of peace and hope. Ask questions that will open doors inside of them for clarity and solutions. Again, a pretty wide variety of responses, but maybe more intimate versions of what true support really means on the higher levels, or the internal healing, the inner support.

In reality we all need and want support for many reasons in our life, but there are times when we need support more, and there are times when support is generally given to us more, such as times of illness, or when death hits our lives, often we may need financial support to help us through the loss of a job, or a sudden unexpected crisis hits us. People will rally round us and offer compassion, comfort a listening ear, maybe lend us some money if they can or just sit and talk to us for a while. However, once things start to settle down that rush to support diminishes and we find ourselves alone again and having to rely on our own stamina, inner strength or maybe we will instead reach for outside assistance from medics, external agencies and counsellors none of which know us or possibly even truly care about us: During these difficult times, how many of us trust ourselves enough to create and manifest our needs, or take time to go within to find what we need waiting for us there, our higher self knows the answers. The blueprint Action teams were set up with a specific structure and purpose to create unity while also promoting and supporting each other and Thomas during this phase of development with the Blueprint. The structure was set in place to be able to offer each other support within the teams as they began the task at hand. Their purpose was to plant the seeds of the blueprint far and wide, to garner attention of its existence in the external, but also to plant those seeds within us, so we embodied those solutions and became the beacon of the message they hold within. All designed to give back to us a new phase of spiritual growth within, as we pay it forward to others outside of THI. Another purpose was to help take the workload off Thomas and give him back some time so he could focus on other important aspects of the blueprint. Our way to pay it back to him for all his hard work and dedication to us the members:

Thomas inner stands how flow really works, so he set up the perfect environment for us to embrace that flow that spirals from within and then manifests without. A frequency of change that was seeded as a great change contains not only a frequency but a vibration and an energetic flow, the magic ingredients of all things seen and unseen to manifest. But just because you cannot identify the source of the push or see the destination, does not mean that it does not already exist. Our job was to follow our hearts that held that frequency and it would in the end bring us to our final destination, the journey of self-empowerment: A flow has a harmonic frequency if you like, it holds its own vibration and then is sent out amidst all of the other vibrations. You can imagine what is going on around us and within us, most are negative energy forming patterns and loops that we hook onto. This frequency was different for it held the path to true freedom, the escape route:

So why is it so hard for us to attach to and maintain and embrace a flow that will transform everything and make our lives so much easier? Are we so addicted to chaos and drama we cannot attract or create anything else? Or maybe we just have not defined ourselves enough and therefore we cannot identify and define what others need, so we fall short time and time again to support the structure and each other. Masaru Emoto's was a Japanese businessman, author and pseudoscientist, who claimed that human consciousness could affect the molecular structure of water. His massive study on water done over many years, proved to be very popular and it has influenced many people to come to the inner standing that thought forms can in effect change everything, within you and around you. It might help you to imagine how we as humans are affected by outside and inside influences, our harmonic frequency will automatically change to match the environment around it. Unless of course we have mastered how to maintain and hold a higher frequency:

A human holds up to 60-70% of their body weight as water, we are literally swimming internally in are own abiotic environment. In much of his testing on water Masuru Emoto discovered, is that words can physically change the molecular appearance and structure of water. Kind words or prayer said over the frozen water caused particles to form amazingly beautiful crystalline structures, while unkind and nasty words including curses, oops, had the opposite effect, turning the water into a loose unstructured chaotic mess. He also discovered that many countries water was the same, low frequency areas has less structural and harmonic resonance within the crystals, while areas where people gathered to pray or commune in harmony held higher crystalline structures. I have include some of these pictures for reference. So, what has this got to do with support you might wonder. It has in fact everything to do with it, for support is in essence a structure set in place to benefit the person, the group or the foundation of any idea formed for the good of humanity, or to harm humanity: It is a thought pattern that holds a set intention for the receiver, in our case one of harmony, growth and flow. That then is set into the groups to bring about an environment that serves everyone involved, which then creates and manifests into the collective consciousness. In essence when we embrace it fully our own crystalline structure changes, imagine how differently your whole body would feel as it aligns with the energetic formation, negating the chaotic mess that may have resided within you.

In overview, just as with any other type of intention it will take hold in those that hear and feel that frequency, the more that you embrace it, the easier it becomes for others to tune into that frequency and work with it to achieve good results, you then change the environment. It is open and available to all, but some will reject it and as a result a battle of harmonies ensue. The more resistance there is to the flow, the pattern will change according to that and in general the disruptions form blocks and dams. All of which just like a river when it hits a block in the flow it becomes turbulent and the once calm river becomes a torrent of noise and crashing pools form, destroying the molecular structure completely. So why would we do this to ourselves? When we could just as easily take the easier path, the one that offered support, balance, harmony and flow, instead of choosing the road full of blocks and dams that set us back and leave us floundering? Maybe the answer lies in the fact that we have never figured out what support truly is for ourselves, because we seek it externally from others, so that we do not know what real support looks or feels like either. We never took the time to learn enough about our own needs, that bring us better results and keep us in balance, harmony and in affect homeostasis. We will rant and rave about how little support we receive, with our woe is me mentality, blaming others for their short falls, all the while never reflecting on our own. The ego mind works wonders with its insipid viruses of low self-worth and self-harm, that we fail to see what has been handed to us on a plate. We wallow and project and deflect unto others, because we have not seen the value of what the plate held. Our laziness brings with it cries of well I don't get paid for this, I have other commitments to attend to, or I didn't get the position so I will pull back now, never realizing that you caused your own downfall.

If we are indeed 60-70 percent water, imagine what that environment is doing to your body, your mind and your life? When people ask why the blueprint hasn't been taken up by a head of state, or why hasn't the council intervened to stop the crash, the wars and the sacrificing of human life, destruction of the planet etc.,. The answer is because not enough have changed the environment to ensure it happens faster. Yet it is already happening and those that see have an inner knowing and inner standing of what is truly unfolding. Time is also a structure, it has a flow and a purpose, what blocks it or changes its course if a direct reflection of the environment it inhabits. This is the time of your life to be free, when you take the time to restore your inner structure with that frequency, you will not only feel the difference in your life, but you will also experience it on a whole other level. A support structure needs to be held up and encouraged to grow, like any other energetic form it will either create a magnificent spiral or it will lose its energy and remain stagnant, waiting for the collective to pick it up and support it. So, in overview a good structure can literally transform you from the inside out, if embraced you benefit and then paying it forward aiding humanity Your thoughts literally have the power to change the environment in a room, calm an upset child, soothe the heart of someone in distress, it can heal you and empower you to go out and move mountains, all you need to do is embrace and integrate it. A heart of stone can be melted and returned to one of love and joy, you hold the key that turns your life around, and therefore in turn changes everything around you. The blocks are you standing in your own way, how long you remain there, is up to you.

NEWS:

Tonight's show has a theme of flow, but what is flow you may ask? The full set of circumstances surrounding an event or happenstance. What is the bigger picture? Is there a bigger or wider picture? What are the connections to and from it? What is being said and not being said? When that is grasped, you then understand the flow, whether that is your own flow, a group flow, an information flow or a global flow.

A thought-provoking new Security Council (SC) report circulating in the Kremlin, first noting President Putin warningly observed: Ukraine seems to be ruled by aliens who make ruthless decisions without regard for the suffering of ordinary people. This warning observation was joined by Ukrainian Nazi troops filming the brutal torture of a defiant Russian prisoner of war, who refused to disparage his country and hail Kiev's military, a brutal torture. Ruled by aliens? He went onto saying foreigners, but was that a hint? President Putin was addressing the plenary session of the 9th Eastern Economic Forum, an address joined by the economic article: So Much For Sanctions: Russia Surpasses US For Gas Exports To EU, oops! Wherein it revealed: From April to June, the European Union bought more than 12.7 billion cubic meters from Russia and 12.3 billion cubic meters from the United States. Western sanctioned Russian oil and refined oil products are now sold to India, and it was just revealed: India's exports of refined oil products to Europe have surged by 2,539 times. Prior to Western sanctions German automakers owned the Russia car market, but this week it was revealed: Chinese car manufacturer Chery became the largest foreign company in Russia by revenue in 2023. A revelation joined by the grim news: Volkswagen's announcement on Monday (September 2) that it is considering closing factories in Germany is unprecedented in the German automaker's 87-year history. Such plant closures were considered off the table for the Wolfsburg-based company. To make matters even worse for the 680,000 VW employees worldwide, the management also feels forced to end its job security program, which has been in place since 1994 and prevents job cuts until 2029. You see there is more than one way to win a war, Russia and China are building their economies whilst the West's are all collapsing. Soon there will be not enough funds to purchase weapons, which will then sink America.

The EU and the dangling carrot technique. 11 eastern European countries, telling them that after you have entered into NATO, you will become members of the European Union, and thus you will become prosperous. As we know that did not happen, another illusion trick. After luring in Ukraine with the same carrot, never giving the RUS-Ukraine entrance into the EU, only wanting to grasp the 11 US-trillion of inground resources of the Territory. Plus being able to attack Russia itself through NA-tional ZI-onist proxies.

Speaking of shifts, Putin and China just scored another devastating blow to the West by adding Turkey to the BRICS coalition of nations. This is a major shift away from the US dollar dominance and will force drastic changes within America. Once the control of the money via the Federal Reserve is taken away, which means the end of the US dollar, then their financial house will fall like a pack of cards. I would suggest you all have spare cash on hand as all this plays out.

The aid to Israel is of course genocidal and militaristic only. So where does the Israel aid come from? 70% from U. S. INC. 29% from Germany and 1% from Great Britain. But now Britain will reduce its genocidal assistance by 10%. Britain will however continue to supply with parts to the mega-bombs that has killed over 100,000 beings that are defined as Sub-human.

More signs of the Israeli genocide hitting them where it hurts most, in the shekels trading. Startup Nation Central (SNC) published its One Year of Israeli Innovation in War report over the weekend, analyzing the impact of the ongoing conflict on Israel's tech ecosystem, including the substantial differences between the country's regions and the low level of confidence in the government's efforts. Among the most concerning findings of the report was the financial uncertainty created and disparate impact of the war on different regions in Israel. Almost half (49%) of Israeli tech companies reported investment cancellations due to the war and only 31% expressed confidence that they will be able to raise money next year. Investors shared this cautious outlook with almost half again (48%) seeing a decline in investment activity in the coming year and only 31% expecting an increase. Israel's control over the tech industry needs to be a matter of urgent attention to all countries, especially in light of the pager and walkie talkie attacks. How many other gadgets are potential incendiary devices? On top of the fact all tech devices have spying and surveillance contained within them. Does anyone have any privacy anymore? The answer to that question is a definite no. But with the pager attacks, it should call into question all tech devices not just phones.

The anti-humanity group are continuing their efforts to stifle the truth at all costs, they are getting desperate now as this piece reveals. Israeli forces have raided the offices of news broadcaster Al Jazeera in Ramallah, in the occupied West Bank, and ordered it to close for an initial period of 45 days. Armed and masked Israeli soldiers entered the building early on Sunday during a live broadcast. Viewers watched as the troops handed the closure order to the network's West Bank bureau chief Walid al-Omari who read it out live on air. Israel raided Al Jazeera's offices in Nazareth and occupied East Jerusalem in May having described the Qatar-based broadcaster as a threat to national security. Targeting journalists this way always aims to erase the truth and prevent people from hearing the truth, Omari said in comments reported by his employer. The soldiers confiscated the last microphone and camera off the street outside and forced Omari out of the office, Al Jazeera journalist Mohammad Alsaafin said. Embarrassing, what it reveals is, they don't want any truth being exposed, all of which reveals they are involved only in the lies. What we are witnessing now is, the anti-humanity group exposing themselves for all to see. The masses are getting to see what this show and many others have stated all along, as to who is the real problem. This also plays into consequence of actions, as those who don't operate in the right way, are now being exposed for their wrong paths. That doesn't just apply to the anti-humanity group, but all of us. Are you intrigued as to why it is 45 days? If not, you should have been, as 45 days is the duration to the fake US selection. What does that tell you?

Here is a positive change in the timeline, something that rarely happens as the cover up crew generally ensure this type of exposure gets no public airing. As a former CIA officer has been sentenced to 30 years in prison for drugging and sexually assaulting dozens of women while on assignment in the US and overseas. Over a 14-year period, Brian Jeffrey Raymond, 48, lured women to his government apartment to abuse them, the US Attorney's District of Columbia Office said. The FBI's joint investigation found hundreds of photographs and videos, dating back to 2006, of at least 24 nude or partially nude women who were unconscious or incapable of consenting. Raymond was caught when a naked woman screaming for help was seen on the balcony of his Mexico City residence in May 2020. He had been working for the US embassy at the time. Most people with no flow will say dirty bastard and deserves what he gets, but never look deeper for the flow of the interaction. Questions arising from this is: A: Why was it allowed to go on so long? B: Was this guy leveraged or in a blackmail program? C: Is this guy being thrown under the bus as he wished to step out or became a potential whistleblower? These are the critical thinking questions all must consider when presented with certain types of information.

Here is another positive change in light of the series, True horrors of the world. A former social worker, who admitted she lied about sexual abuse cases involving children, has been sentenced to five years in prison. Geri Murphy learned her sentence Tuesday morning in Anderson County, as she pleaded guilty to nine counts of falsifying documents. Prosecutors said Murphy left children in homes where they were being sexually assaulted, never looked into the claims, then lied to the state. Among the more disturbing cases listed in her indictment, the sexual abuse of a three-year-old by their biological father. The court has reviewed all the information in this case and is frankly disturbed by the nature of actions or non-actions that were taken in these specific instances, Judge Charles Hickman said from the bench. A state official testified before Murphy was sentenced Tuesday, saying abuse in Kentucky continues because of Murphy's actions. Again is that the full flow or is there wider implications to this? Questions remain: A: Who told her to cover it up? B: Is there a wider pedo-ring connected to this? C: Is she the weakest link and thrown under the bus to cover higher profile criminals?

Remember the Assange revealing of the Vault 7 technology section? One feature of Vault 7 Tech is the ability for CIA and others to make your car go up to 150 km / hour without notice. To lock the steering wheel left or right and straight ahead, in other words they can remotely operate your vehicle. After the number of car assassinations in the true horrors of the world part 3, one ponders whether they had that ability in the 1990 early 2000's?

Here is an interesting report from a wider perspective. As of July 2024, the American economy had 7.7 million job openings. This is up from less than 5 million a decade ago. Mike Rowe, the well-known host of Dirty Jobs and Somebody's Gotta Do It, has an explanation for this growing skills gap. In a recent interview on Dr. Phil's Merit Street show, Rowe said the pressure on young people to get expensive college degrees combined with the harebrained decision to pull shop class out of high school, has resulted in an enormous debt burden and a widening skills gap. Rowe believes many of the vacant positions are for what he calls dirty jobs, blue collar work that requires training and experience in the trades, rather than the traditional four-year college degree. A 2019 study by The Conference Board supports this claim. It said that 85% of companies in mostly blue-collar industries reported recruiting difficulties versus 64% among companies in mostly white-collar industries. It may be that young adults are not keen to acquire trades skills and fill these jobs. Seventy-four percent of American 18- to 20-year-olds perceive a stigma over choosing vocational school instead of college, and 79% said their parents wanted them to pursue a college education after high school. Interesting stuff and the easiest of non-flow decisions is to say, Americans are just lazy.

But when you look at the flow a different picture emerges. A: Just last week people are struggling with child care costs and so it becomes not conducive financially to have a job. B: The mind memory installed in Americans about going to College or University has hampered people taking jobs. C: The Covid issue gave people time to change their plans and ways, resulting in them enjoying staying at home more, particularly when there is little to no financial gain. D: There is an issue about paying back the Education loans, as taking a certain level of job then requires deductions from your pay, so some people negate that by taking a lower paid job, but in the meanwhile the excessive interest on the education debt keeps mounting up. E: Choosing vocational school over college has a stigma? Again this is the parents mind memory that somehow going to college is much better. Yet, where is the evidence to support this? There is none and it is a case of just going along with what went before. Even if there is no evidence to support that notion.

Questions arising from this is: A: Why do Americans insist on College and University, when it causes a large proportion of their wealth to disappear and or creates a lifetime of debt for their child? B: Why has most of the trades been taken away and only delivered via Military training groups? C: Has the gap in employment been deliberately created, to set the stage for the AI and robot world? D: Who gains from this education scam? Banks E: Who gains from the brain drain of Colleges and Universities? The Military and the Agencies, with their myriad of contractors and shell companies. F: Is the mind memory of one must go to College and University, only to benefit the military and agencies? G: You do realize this whole piece has ouroboros policies connected to it? It may have worked for a while, but now it doesn't. Because now, the military are struggling for recruitments, more so when 85% of Americans are not physically fit enough to join the military. Plus the fact that 60% of Americans have mental health issues and a much bigger problem arises.

What all this now means is, nothing is working anymore, whether systems or people and the biggest impact of that is being faced by the very same people who created it, think tanks, banks and shekel people. But maybe the youth are choosing or not playing slavery game? Maybe society has had enough of the slavery game, where they never win? Maybe society has had enough of the shekel chasing games? Or maybe everything is imploding just like I forecasted. That brings despair to most people due to their own fears, forgetting all of the above and accepting the crumbs passed down to us in some sort of benevolence, it was never right to begin with. It requires change within, change without, change of thoughts, change of mindset, change of the collective and change into a communal caring and sharing unit, where everyone wins. The only solution for that is, The Blueprint. The Blueprint is designed for everyone to win, the Blueprint is designed for everyone to be responsible and accountable, the Blueprint is designed for everything to be fair, balanced and transparent. The Blueprint is designed for people to all come together and the Blueprint is designed for and by the people and ultimately the planet itself. But are you ready to fully embrace it or will you dabble at it or worse ignore it? The latter two will not put you in a good place in the near or far future, final warning to all on this planet.

Last week marked an historic moment and profound change of operating in the wider scheme of things. Did you notice what took place a week last Friday and its potential importance going forward? We are going to have a music break and I am asking those in the chat to state what that event was?

For those that got it, great, for those that didn't are you really paying attention to the right things? The world is changing, but are you noticing it without my input? This is epic on a massive scale. We are used to seeing Israel indulge in exactions under the pretext of its security, and the Anglo-Saxons defending it at the Security Council. As a result, we witness crimes without any judicial consequences, but that situation is now over. The International Court of Justice has swept aside Tel Aviv's reasoning, and the State of Palestine has become a full member of the United Nations. It will therefore no longer be possible to turn a blind eye to the situation of the Palestinians, and they will have the capacity to prosecute their tormentors.

On September 10, 2024, Israeli settlers, who claim to be fulfilling a divine plan by settling in the West Bank (Judea-Samaria, in their words), went from being Israeli citizens living in disputed territories, to illegal immigrants in the sovereign state of Palestine. Oops and now it is tick tock time, like I said, consequences of actions is unfolding. That is a monumental step against the Zionist invaders and the beginning of the end for the usurpers. At the opening of its seventy-ninth session, the United Nations General Assembly implemented its resolution ES-10/23 of May 10. The State of Palestine has become a full member of the United Nations (UN). No one can now oppose the exercise of its rights as a sovereign state. If Palestine is a sovereign state, this changes the interpretation of the Interim Agreement on the West Bank and Gaza Strip also known as the Oslo II Agreement. The Palestinian Authority is no longer a transitional administration, but a government in the full sense of the term. The Palestinian Territories are no longer disputed areas, but the internationally recognized territory of a sovereign state. Since the 1967 war also known as the Six-Day War, the settler movement has steadily gained ground. Just like the Rothschild's based army called NATO have done throughout Europe. There are now over 700,000 settlers in the West Bank, East Jerusalem and the Golan Heights. Remember the fake Cyrus Donald Trump handed over the Golan Heights to the Jewish usurpers, like he was some authority on who owns the planet. A remarkable and arrogant decision that was completely overlooked by the Q army and the Trustee, as too few understood the enormity of one ego inflated man deciding he is now the god of the bible and awarding the Jews their promised land. But where is the evidence that "god" promised them any land? Where is the contract or agreement of proof? Oh there is none, because anything goes where the bible is concerned. Lies and half-truths accepted as fact, whilst ignoring the true laws and the equal rights of the planet for all living beings, not just Jews.

On July 19, the International Court of Justice (ICJ) the internal court of the United Nations, consulted by the UN General Assembly and defined the rules of law concerning Israel's policies and practices in the Occupied Palestinian Territory. This opinion has not been acted upon, as only the Security Council has the power to compel Israel to apply it. Let's not forget that international law, unlike criminal law, does not rely on a police force and a penitentiary system. It is simply the obligation of governments to honor the signature of their state. In this case, by joining the UN, Israel signed its charter. Chapter XIV of the Charter commits each member to abide by the decision of the International Court of Justice in any dispute to which it is a party. The Court ruled (§ 229) that these policies and practices violate the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination. According to the Court, de facto, Israel is practicing a form of apartheid (cf. art. 3 of the said Convention). This is exactly what the UN General Assembly proclaimed on November 10, 1975: Zionism is a form of racism and racial discrimination (resolution 3379). It is not a form at all, it is outright racism of the worst kind ever seen on this planet. This text was only repealed to facilitate the Madrid peace conference in 1991. Seems the 1991 agreements on all levels have been flagrantly abused, after the Russia/NATO 1991 agreement has been rode over roughshod as well.

However, as Israel has not fulfilled its commitments of the time and has intensified its policies and practices, this text should be reinstated. The Court also observed (§ 263): The Oslo Accords do not authorize Israel to annex parts of the Occupied Palestinian Territory in order to satisfy its security needs and obligations. Nor do they authorize it to maintain a permanent presence in the Occupied Palestinian Territory for the same purpose.

What was true in July is even truer now, that Palestine is an internationally recognized sovereign state. As a result, last week, after this decision and before Palestine entered the General Assembly, the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) suddenly evacuated the main West Bank towns they had occupied. On the other hand, the Israeli government told the High Court of Justice on September 12 that there was no reason to increase humanitarian aid to Gaza, since Israel does not control the territory and therefore has no responsibility there. Typical of the lack of humanity exhibited by that group, if we can't bomb and shoot them into oblivion, we will let them starve to death, just heartless and soulless beings. But this next ruling is monumental as it hurts the anti-humanity group the most, the shekels. This being the case, the Court concluded: Israel is under an obligation to make full reparation for the damage caused by its internationally wrongful acts, of occupation and apartheid to all natural or legal persons concerned (§ 269). Boom, only problem with that is, the Israelis will go to Americans with the begging victim bowl again. A new stipulation must be added, no more aid to Israel and so they have to fund the reparations themselves. With the funds coming from their own people. Is that harsh on the average Jewish person? in general yes, but they like all other people forget, they played a part in this genocide as well. It's called consequence of actions, of which applies inactions as well.

This includes: Israel's obligation to return all land and other real property, as well as all assets confiscated from any natural or legal person since the beginning of its occupation in 1967, and all cultural property and buildings taken from Palestinians and their institutions, including archives and documents. It also demands that all settlers in existing settlements be evacuated, that those parts of the wall built by Israel which are situated in the Occupied Palestinian Territory be dismantled, and that all Palestinians displaced during the occupation be allowed to return to their original place of residence (§ 270). That is a monumental order of epic proportions. Note that the Court does not order reparations for damage caused before 1967. This was not the question put to it. Moreover, the guns have spoken and the Palestinians have lost several military operations, the consequences of which they must also bear. The wrongs are shared, even if it is clear that both the wrongs and the damage suffered by the Palestinians are out of all proportion to those suffered by the Israelis. The Court has ruled on the consequences of the occupation since 1967. Its decisions are not retroactive. It notes facts that have continued to worsen since 1967. Addressing all member states of the United Nations, the Court notified them that they: are under an obligation not to recognize any change in the physical character or demographic composition, institutional structure or status of the territory occupied by Israel on June 5, 1967, including East Jerusalem, other than those agreed upon by the parties through negotiations, and to make a distinction, in their dealings with Israel, between the territory of the State of Israel and the territories occupied since 1967. The Court considers that the obligation to distinguish, in exchanges with Israel, between that State's own territory and the Occupied Palestinian Territory includes, in particular, the obligation not to maintain treaty relations with Israel in all cases where the latter purports to act on behalf of the Occupied Palestinian Territory or part thereof in matters concerning the said territory; not to maintain, with regard to the Occupied Palestinian Territory or parts thereof, economic or commercial relations with Israel which would be of such a nature as to strengthen the latter's illicit presence in that territory; they must refrain, in the establishment and the maintenance of diplomatic missions in Israel, to recognize in any way its illegal presence in the Occupied Palestinian Territory; and to take measures to prevent trade or investment which helps to maintain the illegal situation created by Israel in the Occupied Palestinian Territory (§ 278).

This is why, on September 9, Volker Turk, UN High Commissioner for Human Rights, opening the 57th session of the Human Rights Council, declared: No State should accept blatant disregard for international law, including the binding decisions of the UN Security Council and the orders of the International Court of Justice, not in this situation [the Israeli occupation of Palestine], nor in any other situation. Each and every one of us must be aware that the rules have changed. Israel's occupation of the State of Palestine is illegal. Since September 10, this state has been internationally recognized, even if several permanent members of the Security Council have not done so in their personal capacity. It now has legal means at its disposal that it previously lacked. The Anglo-Saxon umbrella behind which Tel Aviv sheltered, no longer exists in law. We are entering a new period in which Washington and London will have to use force to maintain this system of oppression. This legal revolution marks the victory of President Mahmoud Abbas's (89) strategy. Paradoxically, it comes at the end of his life, at a time when his government is discredited for its collaboration with Israel and corruption.

Finally some common sense prevails, proper rule of law and hopefully no longer will military might nations be allowed to trample over the rights of other nations. I suspect a timeline must now be put in place, if not it should be. Other suggestions I would make is, A: a UN peacekeeping force be put in place to ensure the removal of the usurpers B: Palestinian builders be given the task of dismantling the wall C: The Israelis to clear up the mess of the dismantled wall D: should Israel not comply then all countries under the UN charter cease to trade with Israel or have diplomatic connections severed and make them a pariah state. Then the world has to go on a task of dismantling their control over the whole planet as well.

An update from the Blueprint Assignment team. On Tuesday morning I had a one on one interview on Victor Hugo that lasted 2.15 hours packed with knowledge as per usual, with a vast range of topics. Many important points were made within the show that left the host astounded and dare I say it – pondering deeply. We expect more interviews soon, as more contacts are being made now in the background. I will upload show to Mewe soon and both interviews this week and last week should be on the website soon. Thomas Williams Victor Hugo Expose P Diddy Club E11even Michael Simkins Trump Clinton Global Trust (rumble.com) This coming Saturday is the September Common Sense, I am asking you all to come loaded with questions from the shows. Shows are heavier and more packed now than ever and it is important for you all to grasp what is playing out now. The following Saturday on an open zoom, THI is hosting a presentation done by one of our members. Kevin will present Part 5 of his audio/video series on the mysteries of life. All are welcome to attend that, it will be at 2pm EST October 5th and links will be posted on the THI-show.com website.

MYSTERY SECTION:

In the last show we mentioned about the moon and the tides, here is a short added piece to that. The modern meaning of tide, the rise and fall of the sea, flow of the tidal current was mid-14c. probably are via the notion of fixed time. Via the notion of fixed time? Suggesting prior the time was not fixed per se. So, given there are a few hundred detectable moons within our solar system, is that potential a few hundred space travel vehicles awaiting our advancement by peace only, to then be able to travel the stars with? We must learn to advance with peace, share the minerals and technological advancements to the level of, it is of benefit for all the people of Midgard, not warmongering goons with child level mindsets.

An interesting debate appeared on the Mewe chat surrounding the piece last week, about Mewe collecting your data. The JASON piece told you last week they have been doing it all of our lives, what difference is there now? Some people ran with fear, which is exactly what they wish you to do. Now is not the time for fear, now is the time to stand up and show courage. The irony is, the people in fear of being surveilled, wrote that message on a smartphone – you cannot get more ourboros ironic than that. People worried about censorship, there is even a greater irony and or concern about that complaint. How many people censure themselves? Yet again worrying about external things (censorship) all whilst censoring themselves through fear.

Here is a pondering for you, not an ordinary pondering, but a deep state pondering. We have spoken about technology and its dangers, more recently about the serious dangers of having AI. AI of course needs a programmer, which ultimately becomes its “god”. Whoever programs a computer, becomes that computers “god”, with commands and coding. The recent surge in AI first started under the Trump government, but has increased under the Biden government, as hardly any politician has flagged it as potentially dangerous. Yet again they react after the event, when measures should have been taken to regulate it. Now we all know that the AI is used as surveillance, datamining etc. but could it also be used to write programs for targeting certain individuals? Back in 2016 when the old psychotic AI went down, the clowns were desperate to get another one up and running. Why? Because they can’t make decisions without it, hence the push coming out of the rogue military and agency groups to produce a new one. Then came the rise of the technology giants, all of whom are in bed with the rogue military and agency groups. The greatest enemy for these rogue groups are those seeking the truth, or the ones labeled as conspiracy theorists. So what if they formulated a plan to trap a large number of people into a program, all whilst enhancing the AI system which was in testing mode? So where is this all going? Let’s throw in the names Q, Deep State, a frog and red pilling shall we and see where it goes. Now the name Q was used in the part documentary series called Star Trek, let see if that brings up any clues? The name Q applies to the names of the individuals portrayed, all male and female characters refer to each other as Q. Does that imply that everyone is Q in their race? All of which means they are programmed clones. Think of the term, we will make man in our image. It also applies to the name of their race and to the Q Continuum itself, an alternate dimension accessible to only the Q and their invited guests. The Q continuum means they are separate from here. But they invited guests into their fold, is the interesting aspect.

The true nature of the realm is said to be beyond the comprehension of lesser beings such as humans, therefore it is shown to humans only in ways they can understand. Lesser beings, like humans? A machined being will never be above a physical or non-corporeal being, no matter how much they convince themselves otherwise. So, let's look at that in overview, separate race, clones, alternative dimension or is that alternative media? Plus invited guests for studying. The great question then is; Was the internet Q movement an AI computer testing program to lure people into a Deep State plot? Then add in the red pilling meme, which signifies the taking of LSD, which is used for MK Ultra purposes. MK Ultra is a mind control program, so was Q red pilling the awakened into a Deep State MK Ultra state of mind? All whilst the AI collected data on all those who fell for the program, who were the "invited guests". Let's look at Pepe the frog, what are the origins of Pepe? Pepe was establishing itself as an important given name, specifically in Spanish and Italian speaking cultures. Pepe first emerged as a nickname. In Spanish, it stands as a familiar form of José, but Spain is not the origin. The name derives from the Hebrew Yosef, coming to Spain by way of Ecclesiastical Latin used in the Catholic church. Over the centuries, José transitioned into the colloquial "Josep" and then affectionately into Pepe. The name Pepe also emerged independently as a nickname in Italy for men named Giuseppe. Giuseppe is the Italian equivalent of Joseph, derived from the same Hebrew origins. So Pepe is of Hebrew origins, why is that not a surprise? It means Joseph? Who was the next President after Trump and the Q cult? Joseph Biden. It goes deeper, as the main group on the internet promoting the Q program was Reddit. Let's split that word up and see where that goes. Red is for red pilling and that leaves dit. The meaning of dit, the spoken representation of the dot or morse code in radio and telegraph code. Military meaning of dit, Data Integration Team. Was red-dit a red pilling mind controlling data integration team? Another group that promoted it was 4chan, so what is the chan for? Another word for chan is zen. Zen is also called foxingong (Chinese) or busshin-shū (Japanese), it means the Buddha-MIND school. So 4 chan could well mean for mind schooling. Q was all about mind schooling via commands and coding, its followers or invited guests, where asked to work it out all whilst they were being red pillled into a Deep State.

Everyone is talking about time speeding up and events also and asking why. I referred to this in Cosmic Voice and also latterly in THI. It is all about the Baktuns, and the last baktun lasting 13 years or is it 12+1? The alt media was awash with doomsday stories of the world is going to end on December 31st 2012, and that was without the Marduk plan of destroying the planet and all living beings. But scientists and scholars again in my opinion, missed the point. The Baktuns 13 or 12+1 of them have levels. Within each level there are a series of events that unfold. If the first baktun is say 50M years, then a series of events will take place within that 50M years. If the second baktun is 25M half the duration, then the same set of events will still take place in 25M years. The last baktun is 13 years and so all the events that took place with all the other baktuns, takes place within the last baktun as well. This gives the perception that time is speeding up, because the events unfolding are much more condensed in the 13 year period. Where science and the scholars fell short of is, the next baktun is not a bottom up from 13 to 1, but it reverses in a torus shape and becomes the first baktun of 13 years, not 50M years. This is the classic as above so below, the same as, as within and so without. If science adopts this approach then much more sense is made of everything.

So the new first baktun of 13 years is 2012-2025. The end of the last one and the beginning of the new one is from 1999-2025, and no one can deny events or happenstances have not increased within that period. Repeating events giving the impression of time speeding up, but it is not time that is speeding up, only the frequency of the events. In fact, it has nothing to do with time at all, I will repeat again it is nothing to do with time at all. This can all be explained by a wave form. In the first baktun of 50M years, the events on a graph would be a gentle and spaced out waveform charting all the events. From 1999 to 2025, the wave form is not curved or spaced out like the old first baktun, but is more straight lines going up and down with hardly any spacing. All of which gives the appearance of chaotic. How is life operating now on this planet? Chaotic. So it is the wave form shortening that makes the events happen sooner, not time. The important aspect to life is the understanding of wave, energy and frequency just as Tesla stated. Then you have the key to understanding life, the planet, the galaxy, the Universe and the Multi-verse. Given we have just done the mind control aspect of the Deep State, I was pondering again is the WEF (World Economic Forum) another play on words like a spell cast. Because WEF is also the acronym of wave, energy and frequency. Are the clowns at WEF trying to manipulate and control the wave, energy and frequency? Yes they are and it is up to us all to counteract that.

There is another aspect to this and why certain scientists and scholars think we are in a simulation. This also plays into the AI god and free will piece repeated recently. Their argument is, if there is a sequence of events in baktun one of 50M and those same events keep playing out in shorter spans each baktun, then the sequence of events are programmed into the baktun. So the argument is, everything in life is pre-determined and you cannot change it, so it is a closed shop simulation with a pre-planned events calendar in each one. It is a valid point and assumption to make, but in my opinion it is flawed. It is another example of focusing upon the effect and not the cause. So what is the cause of the events? Collective consciousness, the thought form that creates the matter by applying energy and frequency to the wave. Life did not start with a baktun system, it was created over not periods of time, but by wave forms. So various wave forms collected and then formed a pattern, that pattern then repeats and becomes a system of repeating events. They say nothing is new under the sun, which means everything created has been before, every thought produced has been before, every object manifested has been before and every living being created has been before as well. From this overview perspective, we can then see the patterns of life, thought and creation, that was not built over time, but manifested in moments via the wave form. With this understanding hopefully now we can all “wave” goodbye to “time”. The journey of discovery has never been more intriguing, mind blowing or exciting than in the now, learn to embrace it, not fear it.
