

NEWS:

The sheer embarrassment of this clown parade called the election, with two candidates I wouldn't vote for them to run a burger joint, never mind a country.
Firing ridiculous personal barbs at each other, all to the roars of the happy clapping mind controlled bots, who actually give money to these millionaires to just talk shit to each other.
It is embarrassing levels of crassness, stupidity and banality on an unprecedented scale.
It is a poor stage production roadshow, and anyone supporting that crap in the alt media is just nowhere near awake as they think.
The first awakening stage is politics, the lowest form, yet many of these followers haven't even mastered that stage.
Buying flags, billboards and banners for two people who are more interested in what color they are or who supports Israel the most, when neither support America, only to serve themselves and their masters.
Harris is new, but the vaccine death and injury king Trump is not.
How quickly people forget playing the duality game of red and blue or Republican or Democrat, both two sides of the same bent coin.
A game show host against a person whose family ran a slave trade, yet has the cheek to call herself black!
Both exhibiting racism in their comments, yet where is the sanctimonious media and the offended by everything crew on that?
Do you remember the 5th of November, the song said.
What will we remember is the great question, because US politics is in the gutter whether it goes ahead or not, no matter which one "wins" if it does go ahead.
I will tell you who never wins, the American people.
As they announce in the Olympics, let the games begin, because the people deserve what they get, which is tyranny, slavery and a laughing stock to the rest of the world.

Yet more anti-humanity atrocities and anti-human behaviors by Israeli troops.
As Israel's military has launched an investigation, after its soldiers were filmed throwing the bodies of three dead Palestinians off a rooftop during a raid in the occupied West Bank.
Footage of the incident, filmed in the northern town of Qabatiya, near Jenin, then appears to show an Israeli military bulldozer picking up and removing the bodies.
The images have sparked widespread outrage.
The Israel Defense Forces (IDF) said on Friday that it was a serious incident that did not conform to its values and what was expected of its forces.
Do they seriously believe they have any values or morals, newflash, they have absolutely zero values or morals, none whatsoever.
Under international law, soldiers are obliged to ensure that bodies, including those of enemy fighters, are treated with respect.
The trouble with that is, Israel think they are above the law in all respects, and Talmudic Law only applies.
A law that allows genocide, rape and abuse of other races, defiling of 3 year old boys and 9 year old girls, murder and theft of all properties and wealth of all other people.
To the religious cult people: Do you seriously think "god" advocated for that? If so, just what in the hell "god" are you actually following?
At which point do you stop and think for yourself and come to the conclusion, something is seriously amiss with this planet? And why is religion at the forefront of such atrocities? Where is your god saving you?
Newflash for all religious people, mostly Christians, the god you are following is a program of control, a sacrificial cult, a harvesting center and a war machine, all designed to bring a premature end to your life.
The fake god is a psychopath with evil non-human intentions and you are continuing its reign over all people upon this planet.
Christian, Cat-holic and Protestant are all fake religions that all come under the umbrella of the anti-humanity cult known as "Jewish".
If you believe the bible, didn't the entity known as Jesus warn you all that the Jews with wealth are the Synagogue of Satan?
Religion is all designed to steer you away from your true spiritual path.
The path within you, not the external praying outside of you, in which you are not praying, but becoming the prey.

Yet more deliberate anti-humanity genocide again.
As at least 40 people have been killed and 60 injured in an Israeli attack on a tent encampment for displaced Palestinians in southern Gaza, civil emergency authorities in the enclave have said.
At least 20 tents in the al-Mawasi area of Khan Younis were struck in the early morning attack on Tuesday, Gaza's Civil Defence said.
Al-Mawasi has been overcrowded with Palestinians sleeping in tents since the Israeli army designated the coastal area a safe zone, during its ground invasions of Khan Younis and nearby Rafah.
Rescuers searching for survivors said they found craters of up to 9 meters (30 ft) deep at the tent camp, Al Jazeera Arabic reported.
Witnesses described chaotic scenes in the area, with fires burning while Israeli reconnaissance planes circled overhead.
A spokesperson for Gaza's Civil Defense said that the initial assessment of the scene, suggested the attack was one of the most heinous massacres in this frenzied war.
The spokesperson said ambulance and civil defense crews were having difficulty retrieving the bodies of people killed in the attack.
Israeli authorities said they had struck significant Hamas terrorists, who had been operating at a command and control center embedded inside the humanitarian zone in Khan Younis.

What utter rubbish that is.
Do they think we or Hamas are that stupid to keep going into safe zones knowing they will be attacked?
Typical state news pro pagan da.
The reality is, this is a total genocide of the Palestinian people's and has got absolutely zero to do with Hamas.

More revelations about the abuse of children and who is at the forefront of it.
In one of his books, Barry Shamish describes how 4,000 Jewish children were rescued from Yemen.
2,000 of them went to Israel and 2,000 went to the USA.
Many of them got sent to pedo-Parents.
Around 1000 of them were "used" as guinea pigs at the sites where atomic bombs were developed and tested.
For that revelation the Jewish Shamish got himself deleted permanently, rumored to be by Mossad.

Just as we warned several years ago about the border security which wasn't stemmed by Trump, that was another illusion game.
These young single men have no wives, children or family with them and so they are not fleeing here because of some war or displacement.
This is coordinated again by the Jewish cult, namely the Soros Foundation and others, to flood America with fighters for a purpose.
Does it make sense that America who is already bankrupt, can afford all these extra bodies? No, which means it is a program.
Throw in the fact that the US and U.S. groups are trying to cause war in Europe to send more American troops away from the country and leave it vulnerable to attack.
Making America a sitting duck for war from within, these young people are sleeper agents just waiting for the MK Ultra trigger.
They have been deliberately flooded into the White Race countries to attack us from within.
People at this point will say, but our leaders would never allow that? That is the thinking of a lunatic, sadly.
Your leaders, practically all of them are bought and paid for puppets, paid for by the dark forces cult, the Jewish.
They are all Mossad and CIA dancing puppets, wake up and get real.
None more so than Donald Trump.

If at this point you don't believe me, listen to this report.
The Department of Homeland Security knows of at least 660,000 illegal immigrants at large in the U.S. with criminal records, including 13,000 convicted killers, nearly 16,000 convicted of sexual assault and 56,000 involved with dangerous drugs.
Thousands of other migrants have been charged but not yet convicted of those and other crimes.
They are part of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement's non-detained docket, a list of more than 7 million illegal immigrants that ICE is supposed to be monitoring as they roam free in the U.S.
Any doubts now? Didn't think so.
Americans and Europeans, prepare for war of the violent kind, as the war for the narrative has been lost by the clowns.

Still don't believe your politicians are not in the pockets of the Jewish junta?
Then check this out.
On Thursday evening, Israel's defense ministry (IMoD) said it had secured an $8.7bn US aid package to support its current military campaigns.
In a statement, IMoD said the package includes $3.5bn for essential wartime procurement, which has already been transferred, and $5.2bn for air defense systems such as the Iron Dome, David's Sling and an advanced laser system.
All of which reveals the Iron Dome is not working, as I stated previously.
NATO logistics chief Lieutenant-General Alexander Sollfrank warning :
NATO would have to deal with a large number of frontline casualties without the capability to airlift them for treatment in the event of a major war with Russia

Another message of an alarming level of truth from Mr. Putin.
He said; For centuries Western Elites grew accustomed to filling their bellies with human flesh and their pockets with money.
That ball of vampires is about to end, he said.

Again it is the sign of the times of positive changes within the people.
As Olaf Scholz – Germany, Macron – France, Trudeau – Canada and Starmer the UK are all facing being ousted by an increasingly hostile public.
They may even be ousted by the clowns to try and stem the tide of the people.
The people needs to understand, the replacement is a clown also.
Because parties are for clowns to perform.

Also the UN assembly virtually emptied out as Netanyahu was due to speak.
An extraordinary turn of events as more and more now are seeing who the real problem always was – Israel.

The large assembly hall was practically emptied after it was announced Netanyahu was next to speak. Netanyahu then went onto declaring the UN as a swamp of anti-Semitic bile, as the psychopath lost it. Acting like a petulant child who didn't get their own way, as an embarrassment for all people of Israel. The Israelis themselves need to stop this man and his minions, before he gets you all slaughtered.

THE POSITIVE NEWS SECTION:

The nefarious city of London, that is not part of London the capitol or indeed part of the UK or the EU. A private cesspit of bankers, globalists and according to many researchers satanic pedophiles as well. The City of London's role in illicit financial activity such as money laundering has earned the financial hub comments like, The Laundromat and Londongrad. London's role as the world's dirty money clearing house is well-documented, but efforts are being made to clean up through legislation, e.g. authorizing unexplained wealth orders. High-value properties are sought after by criminals and money launderers legitimizing their gains by investing in the city's prestigious real estate. In May 2024, the UK's then deputy foreign secretary, Andrew Mitchell, said that 40% of the dirty money in the world goes through the City of London and other crown dependencies. Nice to see it is now being looked at like many other institutions now and that can only be a good thing.

This is another definitive change in how things that used to go unchecked, that are now being brought into the light and scrutiny. The Tennessee Bureau of Investigation conducted a raid on the Millersville Police Department, seizing all records tied to active investigations into global corruption. These files reportedly contained evidence of fraudulent mortgages, human trafficking, election fraud and drug trafficking operations involving U.S. Congress members, Attorney Generals and law enforcement, with connections to BRICS nations, particularly China. He concluded by stating that a foreign adversary has overtaken the government and the only solution is to set aside our differences and destroy this enemy. Well he got it half right at least, because this piece given the insertion of BRICS and China is clearly faction fighting.

Here is another positive change. Meta is facing a $101 million fine for a 2019 incident in which the company discovered it had accidentally stored Facebook passwords in plaintext rather than encrypting them. The passwords were stored on internal servers, but as many as 20,000 Facebook employees had access to those servers, potentially allowing them to bypass company protocols and breach user accounts. Meta later found it had also been storing the passwords of millions of Instagram users in plaintext. It publicly disclosed the incident and vowed to improve its security practices. Still, Ireland's Data Protection Commission concluded that Meta violated the European Union's GDPR laws on data privacy, which require companies to use appropriate measures to store user passwords. The commission also appears to have faulted the company for failing to notify European regulators about the breach within 72 hours. It reveals again these corporations have no regard for our safety, security or privacy, that is the message everyone has to understand. That is why the Blueprint solution on IT said, we have to build a brand new system and no longer use theirs.

The Vatican church is going bankrupt because Christians in Latin America and Africa, now know the current Vatican leadership worships Lucifer. For this reason, they have stopped donating money to it. Finally more and more are seeing through that cult and FHSTOS is being validated now weekly it seems.

The Blueprint solution full disclosure for full disclaimer brought into light the blackmail network, now suddenly it is popping up everywhere as this piece confirms. There is a crackdown on the global compromise and control via blackmail network run by the Jesuits, which is Mossad and another group called the Swiss Octagon. This blackmail network is now being revealed to the Western public through the arrest of the rapper Diddy. As one example of the panic this arrest is causing, the actress Megan Fox tried to delete online posts she made such as saying: I was a teenaged demon possessed cannibalistic cheerleader. Who can't relate to that? Why are the stars being brought into justice and the light? Because those false types of stars are falling from the illusionary sky. Fallen angles, will fall at a very sharp gradient hereonin.

Russian officials have verified 159 participants to adopt the BRICS Pay, a system that bypasses the dollar in global trade. It's rumored the blockchain-based payment system will be launched at the highly anticipated 2024 Summit in Kazan, Russia, next month. Now I have serious issues with blockchain, I do not think it is a valid way to proceed. But sometimes you have to use alternative methods for a time, to bring an end to something else. I suspect that is what is playing out here. They are bypassing the old system which they now all know is finished, something our members knew as far back as 2018. It would have been quicker if the Trustee had not made catastrophic mistake, but it is what it is. The Federal Reserve system is going down and the transition to something new will not happen overnight. These are dangerous times for America and Americans, as grasping what happened in this country will not be easy to bear. I will state again, please have some cash on hand, just in case.

The Lebanon war will be next as this show warned, has now unfolded. After a barrage of rockets has been fired into northern Israel from Lebanon overnight, according to the Israeli army, as Hezbollah targeted industrial and military sites. That was in retaliation to Israeli attacks. Most of the 105 rockets were intercepted, though some homes were hit. That is 100% not true, they have no Iron Dome as proven earlier, they are very vulnerable because of work carried against Israel and certain installations and now they are laid bare. The rockets hit the Unit 8200 as previously reported, they also heavily hit the Mossad headquarters as well. I would heavily suggest that is not the last of the targets identified. Hezbollah said it had fired dozens of rockets towards targets in northern Israel in retaliation for last week's pager and walkie-talkie attacks. Israel has also continued attacking targets in Lebanon following Friday's air strike in Beirut which the IDF said killed a dozen senior Hezbollah commanders. Lebanon said 37 people - including three children - were killed. On Thursday, Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah blamed Israel for the attacks, the pager event, saying it had crossed all red lines and vowed just punishment. Israel has not claimed responsibility. UN human rights chief Volker Türk said the pager and walkie-talkie explosions violated international humanitarian law. On Sunday morning, the IDF announced an expansion of new restrictions on communities in northern Israel and parts of the southern Golan Heights that had come into effect at 20:30 local time (17:30 GMT) the night before. The IDF's Home Front Command limited gatherings to 10 participants in an open area and 100 participants in a closed space. Educational activities can continue and arrival to work is permitted as long as there are protected spaces available. The restrictions apply to the Haifa area and northward. Who gives them the right to decide what another country does within its own borders; the arrogance is staggering.

As fears increase that the conflict may break out into a full-scale war, the US State Department issued new travel advice for citizens currently in Lebanon. The US Embassy in Beirut has urged people to depart Lebanon while commercial options still remain available, noting they were already running at reduced capacity. The embassy added it may not be able to assist US citizens who choose to remain. Neighboring Jordan's foreign ministry issued similar advice to its citizens, urging those in Lebanon to leave as soon as possible. Israel recently added the return of people displaced from the north of the country due to the cross-border fighting to its list of war goals. There are around 80K Israelis displaced because of their murderous regime. Defense Minister Yoav Gallant said on Thursday that Israel was entering a new phase of the war concentrating more of its efforts in the north. Which means they are now heading towards Southern Turkey as part of the Greater Israel plan, as I stated back in 2014. Following all of that, Israel then launched another offensive and killed the Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah. Expect a severe increase in violence now and it will not be pretty, but will be highly indicative. There will be a silver and golden lining to all of this, just observe and don't absorb. Plus get involved with the Blueprint groups, as all hands will be needed going forward. An added update to that last news piece because as of Tuesday evening Iran launched 200 missiles and despite Israeli fake news stating their Iron Dome worked, videos and messages from our shows recently reveals that it doesn't. What happens next is anyone's guess, but I can guarantee this is the end of Israel should it escalate.

MEDICAL NEWS:

More medical atrocities about to be unfurled as the war on humanity via medical malfeasance ramps up. Malfeasance means: The doing of an act which a person ought not to do; evil conduct; an illegal deed.

ACAM2000, a vaccine approved by the FDA for Mpox last month, comes with a list of serious complications, including myocarditis, death and fetal death.

The FDA's guidance also warns that people who receive the vaccine can pass it on to unvaccinated people, who are also at risk of suffering the vaccine's side effects, including death.

People who receive the vaccine can pass it on to the unvaccinated?

What does that tell you? A: the FDA are an anti-humanity cult determined to injure or kill people off B: these medical people are evil psychopaths and C: we are at full on war now between the people and the medical fraternity.

Americans, if you think that is bad, listen to this.

The FDA authorized and then concealed a Myocarditis experiment on over 100K Military personnel using the ACAM2000 Mpox vaccine.

They are killing off our military so we cannot defend ourselves, let that sink in.

Here is a positive change of thinking again, this is increasing quite a bit now as more people are beginning to focus upon the right things.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) which is a corrupt organization and a fake government entity, has been ordered to address how fluoride in water could risk children's intellectual development.

Edward Chen, a U.S. District judge in San Francisco, California, said recently, that although it is unclear if the amount of fluoride typically added to water is causing lower IQ (intelligence quotient) levels in kids, there is increasing research that it could be an unreasonable risk.

It has always been an unreasonable risk, because that is the very reason it was done for.

Chen ruled that the EPA must take steps to lower that potential risk, but did not clarify what the process would look like.

In August, the National Toxicology Program, part of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), released a report that stated: with moderate confidence that there is a connection between higher levels of fluoride exposure and lower IQ in kids.

The report marks the first time a federal agency has determined such findings.

It was not designed to evaluate the health effects of fluoride in drinking water alone.

The court case started in 2017, but Chen paused proceedings in 2020 to await the results of the National Toxicology Program report.

The court case started in 2017 and is still ongoing, if only the "aid" to the anti-humanity group went that slowly.

Everything of benefit to the people either never happens or is stalled over years and sometimes decades.

But the genocide people like the US Military, Intelligence Agencies plus the Israeli junta, instant decisions, that has to stop.

That piece was wrote last week but with things happening so fast now, there is already a positive update on this matter.

As several U.S. cities, towns and counties announced they will stop fluoridating their water in the aftermath of a landmark federal court ruling, that found water fluoridation at current levels poses an unreasonable risk of reduced IQ in children.

Abilene, Texas; Yorktown and Somers, New York; and the Weber Basin Water Conservancy District in Utah are among those cities and districts that responded quickly to the Sept. 24 ruling by U.S. District Judge Edward Chen.

The ruling stemmed from a lawsuit filed in 2017 by Fluoride Action Network, Moms Against Fluoridation, Food & Water Watch and individual parents and children.

It followed the publication of a key report by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' National Toxicology Program.

Rick North, board member of the Fluoride Action Network, said he expects more cities and towns to announce they will end the practice of fluoridation.

Fluoridation is a house of cards and it's going to fall, it's only a matter of when.

You see what happens when people come together, they have to relent.

A living proof example of how unity works.

Another serious warning coming out of Japan again.

This is the next phase they are planning and will likely be formulated in the Johns Hopkins meeting taking place today and tomorrow.

I hope our BP team have completed that project.

In Japan, MP Ryuhei Kawada gave a press conference warning that a replicon vaccine, which the Japanese government is expected to approve from October 1, will enable vaccinated people to contaminate the DNA of people they come into contact with.

Compared to unvaccinated people, the mortality rate is five times higher if you get vaccinated twice.

We cannot continue with these mRNA vaccines warns Professor Dr. Seiji Kojima.

Richard Koshimizu of the Japanese Independence Party says the Japanese slave government also plans to try to kill a large part of the population with a weaponized bird flu starting in October.

Prince Hitachi says the government is planning to murder a large part of the Japanese population, because it has been mandated to reduce Japan's population from the current 125 million to 70 million.

A number of things from that.

A replicon vaccine? Who is the replicator? Remember in the Stargate series the replicator group? Who were liquid metal and could transform into anything and do anything? Well some of that liquid metal is in the vaccinated, called spike proteins which I revealed in 2020.

Reducing the population from 125 to 70M is all very like the Deagle Report from over a decade ago.

Where is all this leading to? We will find out in the next few pieces.

SOCIETY NEWS:

Further warnings of the dangers of technology and in particular the AI.

Did you know that it takes only 3 seconds for the AI to clone your voice?

It hears you talking and clones it.

This has major implications for criminal behaviors, as criminals can then call anyone with your cloned voice.

It can have major implications for banking.

It is stated that, 28% of people in England have already had calls from their banks, when in reality it was criminals using cloned voices.

Here is something that on the face of it looks to be beneficial, but in my opinion it is cloaked in a future cover up.

California Gov. Gavin Newsom (D) recently signed multiple artificial intelligence (AI) bills aimed at preventing the misuse of sexually explicit deepfakes.

One of the three laws SB 926, makes it illegal to create and circulate sexually explicit images of a real person that appear real and cause the person serious emotional distress.

SB 981 mandates social media platforms create ways for users to report sexually explicit deepfakes of themselves, to which the companies must temporarily block the content while an investigation takes place.

The third bill, SB 942, requires AI-generated content to come with a disclosure for users to more easily be able to identify this type of content.

So why do I think this is a cover up?

Because of the faction fighting and each throwing each other under the bus.

The Agencies and Jewish lobbyists have thousands of pictures and videos implicating all famed people.

Those pictures and videos are used to leverage and blackmail all people in prominent positions, plus all the people we know as the stars, whether film, TV, music or theater.

Those pictures and videos can be leaked out at any given time now, to remove the ones who are A: thinking about the Blueprint or real change B: not following the script or C: they are an opponent in the faction war.

So by highlighting that AI can do deep fakes, any pictures of them can be quickly dismissed by the public with the mind memory of deep fakes.

Has that mind memory been done before? Yes, Trump kept highlighting fake news to people, so they would get confused as to which information was real.

That mind memory came from the unintelligent agencies and the puppet Trump used it on their behalf.

The famed people know what is coming and this is an attempt to mitigate their pictures and videos coming out.

Trump himself has two videos at least keeping him on track, according to an MI6 agent the Trustee and I spoke to back in 2019.

She thought he was squeaky clean, I begged to differ so she asked the agent and he confirmed what I knew.

For an example of this happening in the now, look at the videos surfacing about P. Diddy and his procuring of an underage Justin Beiber.

I can tell you there are tens of thousands of those types of videos and pictures waiting to expose all the famed ones.

Why? Because they don't want or need them anymore as we will find out in this next piece.

Here is the latest attempt by clowns to wrap us into an AI operated government.

This is from the UK Government as they say, except it is not a government but a corporation of think stank clowns.

This goes much wider than most people think, think of the Clowns in Panic show.

FairNow's AI governance platform serves as a single source of truth for managing AI governance, risk, and compliance.

A single source of truth? Turn it in, that is just a machine replicating the new media, politicians, agencies and think tanks.

Here are just two sections of their document.

Appropriate Transparency and Explainability:

By providing a single source of truth for overall AI governance, organizations can establish a transparent AI governance program.

Multiple governance controls help developers and deployers of AI to provide the right level of transparency, notification and explainability to stakeholders; and documentation/approvals stored centrally on the platform ensures organizations maintain robust audit trails.

It didn't say full transparency, it said the right levels of it.

FairNow has built in several model interpretability features to the platform that can help organizations understand the factors that drive their AI.

Transparency? Surely you jest, these people are as transparent as a dining room table.

Transparent or a trans parent is the great question.

Stakeholders? Which has changed from shareholders.

Stake pointed stick or post; stick of wood sharpened at one end for driving into the ground, used as part of a fence, as a boundary-mark, as a post to tether an animal to, or as a support for something link a vine or a tent.

The German version of it is post, pillory or a prison.

Perhaps the next two versions are more significant?

From c. 1200, the specific meaning, post to which a condemned person is bound for death by burning, which is a sacrifice by fire, which is the meaning of holocaust.

Also post to which a bear to be baited is tied late 14c.

Of course the reverse of that is to use the stake to drive away vampires.
Which can be construed as being them, but remember they look upon us as vampires with the term useless eaters.

Accountability and Governance:

Through a set of roles and responsibilities, workflows and controls, the platform ensures that accountability is established.
Organizations can establish multiple roles, set multi-step approval authority, and leverage FairNow's platform to automate notifications and alerts in the event that gaps are identified for a particular AI application or at the organizational level.
Accountability in their terms is not making sure things are right and or correcting things.
With them, the thinking is the ability of the account, not accountability.
By governance they just mean control.
Implications of this? All governments will be AI, deleting whole swathes of government departments.
No committees, no oversight, no debates, no politicians, no lobbyists, even less accountability.
No military ranks or soldiers, replace by robots.
No agencies required as all roles can be done by AI and the robot armies.
No media people, all can and will be done by AI and CGI animated figures.
No movie stars as even now the "stars" are being replicated by AI and CGI.
No UN, WEF, CDC, Bilderberg, Atlantic Council, think tanks will all go as the AI will make the decisions for them.
No banks, tellers, managers or CEO's all would be replaced by a robotized crypto system.
But everyone thinks it won't happen to them and their jobs, delusional.
With 3d replicator machines you won't need construction workers.
Fast food and restaurants will lose many workers, as burger joints are already going automated.
Many of the above some people will say needs to go and I agree, but it has to be replaced with something better that is human and sentient based, not machines.
This list could go on and on for the rest of the show, but think of what life will be like with all those jobs deleted.
Where can people earn a living? You won't, which then means you will lose everything you had whether it is savings, pensions, IRA's or homes.
They told us, you will own nothing and be happy.
Voice recorders where for the AI, smartphones where for the AI, Home security and fridge systems where for the AI.
Musk satellites are for the AI, cell towers are for the AI, all technological innovation is now for the AI.
Crypto, wallets, blockchain are all for the AI.
It is all there and I have been warning about it since I became a radio show host.

So, why are they doing it.

A: To save money

B: To spend less of their money

C: Dehumanize people

D: Use less resources to accommodate people

E: Causes a mass die off

F: They decide who lives and who doesn't

G: The people remaining become even greater batteries and slaves.

H: It is a global hostile takeover of the whole planet by other beings for their full control.

I: The reason they do it is, they are incapable of running a planet without the use of AI and technology.

J: They wish to prolong their lives by becoming a half human or other alien entity and half machine.

That is your harsh dose of reality, you can all keep ignoring it and accept your fate or fight back and restore this planet for the benefit of all humans.

EXPOSE:

I had the second half of this piece and it was to go in the last THI show, but couldn't fit in and so I added another piece with it to expand it out into this expose.

This expose is very different, it is not about past history, rogue corporations, agencies, governments, militaries or deep states.

This is all about us, our ways, our foolishness, our reluctance, our shame and guilt, our ability to complicate things and our ways of how not to be.

But change is coming, because after reading out some quotes from the past, there are two MSM pieces now revealing part of the problems we not only face, but that we have accepted as our way of operating.

None of which has worked for anybody.

Our ability to non-think, our ability to not think beyond ourselves, not understand the flow of things and we are left with a corrupt beyond repair world, that now requires an overhaul.

What that overhaul will look like, depends now on the people themselves.
Is it a tabula rasa or rusa where we learn unity and come together to fix things, or is it a reset again where only the few make it out?
This piece is a way out of our mess, both within and without.

Let's look at some quotes and ponderings for you to take forward.

Voltaire said to learn who rules over you, simply find out who you are not allowed to criticize.

That was said near 300 years ago, they were a problem then and the same problem now.

Our role in that is not speaking up enough.

SM said What perverse national entity would mandate respect for pronouns, but not free speech.

Proving outright they are not interested in the people, including so called pronoun people, just programs of division.

Our role in that is again not speaking up, but also consenting.

Woody Allen said Someone asked me about cancel culture, and I said, If you're going to be canceled, this is the culture that you want to be canceled from.

Our role in that is again going along with a clearly divisive program, a lack of thinking.

Chris Hedges said ruling institutions like the state, the press, the church, the courts, universities all mouth the language of morality, but they serve the structures of power, no matter how venal, which provide them with money, status and authority.

Our role in that is a lack of accountability, as most of those funds they steal is ours.

Jimi Hendrix said when the power of love overcomes the love of power, the world will know peace.

Our role in that is not being loving enough, in the absence of love, fear reigns.

Nelson Mandela said, The world is not divided by race, color, gender or religion.

Our world is divided into wise people and fools. And fools divide themselves by race, color, gender and religion.

Absolutely, our role in that is tolerating it and worse promoting it.

Frank Zappa said politics is the entertainment division of The Military-Industrial Complex.

Yet so many buy into it, despite any evidence of politics ever being about the people.

Our role in that is compliance and consent, repeatedly voting when nothing changes for the people and a lack of accountability, support or solutions to make things better.

SM said There has only ever been one war, the war on consciousness, all else is theater.

Our role in that is the failure to see through the illusion world and step into reality, then impose our will on them, not blindly accept their stupid programs.

Final quote is from this show, If love conquers all, then why don't we use that in wars?

Because then we win the consciousness war and better thinking minds and hearts will prevail.

[Text by Thomas Williams is in bold]

The first report from the MSM is the lack of common sense, ironic coming from the MSM themselves in overview.

As it is they who formulate most people's opinions, it stands to reason they are responsible for the lack of common sense in many people.

That does not negate or excuse the people though, as we should all exhibit common sense as it is not that difficult.

But we tend to make everything difficult in life through lack of consideration, that tends to bypass common sense in favor of stupidity.

Politician's being a prime example, the most obvious of decisions appear beyond them.

Yes we know they are scripted puppets, yet do we ever see them exhibit common sense in any given moment?

No, so whether they scripted or not, they are the problem for not speaking in common sense.

The report states:

Here are certain statements that we consider to be obviously true, even though we may not be able to explain why.

This is what we refer to as common sense, what all sensible people know.

However, even common sense sayings often reveal that common sense is not so common.

A recently published study in PNAS scientific journal aimed to quantify common sense, both on an individual level and for society as a whole.

The study surveyed 2,000 participants assessing 4,400 statements, and found that an entire society does not share a common sense.

That opening sentence reveals the problem in stark clarity, why would an intelligent species well versed in language, ever have to quantify what common sense is?

It is utterly banal, a scientific study is required for that?

Common sense is the most basic form of thought construction, yet it appears now to be considered almost on a level with genius.

Something is radically wrong with that, as we seem to have no clue of how to construct basic thinking patterns, even a child understands.

I have lost count of how many times members say to me, Oh I never thought of that, and I am thinking but that is just basic common sense.

Which then reveals too many are A: not thinking for themselves B: not thinking from an overview perspective and C: just never gave it any thought at all.

The great thought then is, where is your critical thinking skills? Because if you can't think in common sense, you have no critical thinking skills and so will never understand life and all its machinations.

Our findings suggest that there tends to be a reasonable amount of common sense between two people.

However, as a society, there is a lack of widespread common sense shared by everyone, said the University of Pennsylvania's Mark Whiting, a co-author of the study.

Whiting says individuals often find points of agreement with others they regularly interact with, but they don't realize that there are few things that everyone universally agrees on.

The survey included questions aimed at understanding the extent to which common sense is shared.

It covered knowledge like triangles have three sides, experiential learning such as a battery doesn't provide energy forever, and moral statements like all human beings are created equal.

The results revealed that statements about physical reality like the sun will rise tomorrow, were more commonly shared than ideas about how things should be, like equal opportunity in education.

Pithy truisms and aphorisms were not often regarded as common sense.

I am not being funny here, but that study is embarrassing for an adult, some children pre 8 years of age would understand those basics. This is what we are dealing with, a general laziness of learning of the collective in the most basic form.

Yes we can blame schools, but does learning stop when you leave school? Is that the thinking patterns of people?

No wonder the clowns control us with that level of understanding.

Javier Vilanova, a philosophy professor at the Complutense University of Madrid, said the true beauty of common sense lies not in the description one makes of a situation, but in the actions that follow.

That's why he thinks conducting an experiment to observe people's actions, rather than just their ideas about certain statements, can provide a more accurate evaluation of what is shared and what isn't.

Common sense is best observed and cultivated through everyday life experiences, said Vilanova, who uses the example of money to illustrate how its value is derived from a collective belief.

That is correct, observational learning and studying leads easily into common sense.

The study found that demographic factors like gender, income level and political preferences were not linked to common sense. However, they used two tests to discover correlations: one to evaluate a person's ability to override one's instincts (the cognitive reflection test), and another to assesses the ability to recognize and understand another person's mental state (the reading the mind in the eyes test).

Vilanova suggests that the absence of social or gender differences, highlights how common sense unites people in diverse groups through a shared understanding.

The PNAS study aimed to address the challenge of defining common sense, which often serves as a means of establishing authority but is difficult to pin down.

How is common sense establishing authority? Do the authorities themselves have common sense? No, so they are not approaching it in the right manner.

As common sense means it is information or a plan to help and support everything and everybody in a simple way.

Common sense in the authorities is as rare as rocking horse shit, let's be honest about it.

To accomplish this, participants were asked to identify what they consider meaningful and shared by others, going beyond the typical perception of common sense.

When someone disagrees with our notion of common sense, we tend to assume that they are simply mistaken.

The authors of the study hope that the tool they created, can be used to study common sense in different contexts to determine if and how it has changed over time, and to reveal cultural differences.

They plan to study if political statements are framed worse in common sense than in everyday life, or if their use in political rhetoric degrades the term in the public's eyes.

Throughout history, our understanding of common sense has evolved, partly due to scientific advancements.

I wish that was true but it is just not, as the EBE in the Aztec crash stated, your science hasn't evolved in 500 years.

Why? Because the Rome church cult took over science and allowed only their puppets to reveal things, like Newton and Einstein.

Science seeks to uncover the reality beneath our deeply ingrained perceptions.

Not quite they wish for us to not understand anything, which is why they make it complexed.

Not long ago, it seemed more intuitive to believe that the Earth is flat and stationary.

However, through rational observation, we now know it is a sphere that orbits the Sun at over 67,000 miles per hour (100,000 kph).

Common sense serves as a crucial starting point for social relationships and scientific communication.

Yet, despite its name, common sense is often inherently unique to each individual.

Indeed it is, it is so unique that hardly anyone applies it.

The report hereonin branches off into what they really wanted to push, climate agendas.

When if they had any common sense they would see it is a fraud.

If the eco-system is broken, it is because the EL-ites run all the industries that causes potential damage.

Drilling the planet for excess oil and minerals, chopping down forests for shekel based industries, poisoning the skies with chemicals, poisoning the water with chemicals, destroying landscapes with products they produce that destroys the environment, when farming is allowed using agriculture only to generate more profits, which is destroying the soil.

That is why we have an eco-system problem, because of these globalist elites and their desires for control, greed and shekel chasing.

If there is a climate problem, the climate is the EL-ites.

This second report from the MSM of all people who finally highlights one of our biggest problems.

This problem is what hampers us the most and leads to division and a complete lack of unity amongst us.

The issue is selfishness, which is totally service to self and you will never go forward in soul development with that trait.

Perhaps this piece can be called, What is selfishness? Maybe it should be added to that series we are preparing.

The MSM wrote: People choose to be ignorant so they can act selfishly, suggests a new study.

When given the choice to learn how their actions will affect someone else, four out of 10 adults chose ignorance to allow them an excuse to act selfishly, according to the research.

This plays into what I was saying about walking in other people's shoes.

We get that wrapped up with ourselves, that the feeling, wishes or needs of others is rarely considered.

Ultimately this hampers any chance of unity.

But psychologists also found people were more likely to be generous to someone else, when they were told the consequences of their choice, compared to when they were allowed to remain ignorant.

But why does every interaction have to be explained? Why are we not able to think for ourselves?

Some people have asked me to do a What is unity piece, again why should you need me to tell you that?

This is part of the problem in and of itself, get others to do things for you and by and large most people don't even realize they are doing it.

It is ironic that selfishness is all about the self, yet too many won't think for themselves?

What is even more ironic in terms of that is, why won't people help themselves where it matters? Like shadow and inner work, like soul development work, like learning new skills, because they are all about the self are they not?

The reason why is, people don't get recognition, likes, followers or shekels for those tasks.

Hence they are stuck in the exterior materialistic world, not the advanced spiritual world.

Study lead author Linh Vu said: Examples of such willful ignorance abound in everyday life, such as when consumers ignore information about the problematic origins of the products they buy.

We wanted to know just how prevalent and how harmful willful ignorance is, as well as why people engage in it.

Willful ignorance is a choice, again it is selfish and also brings in other bad trait of humans, laziness and the lack of personal responsibility.

This has hampered us all tremendously on a massive scale, that too few will have the courage to point out.

We are all content to sit back and point fingers away from us, but only the few will point fingers at themselves.

The most prominent example of willful ignorance is the 1% issue, of how somehow the 1% are responsible for all the ills of the world, you want to know why? Because the 99% did nothing except comply with it.

But it gets worse, as the very few way less than 1% of the 99% who were willing to step up and call it out, the 98% turned on them.

They labeled them idiots, miscreants, delusional, psychotic, nuts and conspiracy theorists, the latter of which is ironic, because it was not a theory at all, but well researched and documented information.

Something the MSM cannot supply.

They put out statements only, devoid of facts and the stupid theorists (the people themselves) all support it like computerized bots.

Why because of fear and only thinking of themselves.

Vu and her colleagues analyzed the results of 22 previous studies involving more than 6,500 participants.

The studies were all conducted in research labs or online, and most followed a protocol in which some participants were told the consequences of their actions, while others could choose whether to learn the consequences or not.

In one example, participants had to decide between receiving a smaller reward ($5) or a larger reward ($6).

Ah the shekel and seducement program, most people on this planet fall for every time.

If they chose $5, then an anonymous peer or charity would also receive $5.

If they chose the larger $6 reward, however, the other recipient would receive only $1.

One set of participants was offered the option to learn the consequences of their choice, while another group was automatically told the consequences.

Across the studies, the researchers found that when given an option, 40 percent of people chose not to learn the consequences of their actions.

That is 40% who will not take or accept responsibility for their actions, those people act like Jewish EL-ites in overview.

The researchers said that willful ignorance was correlated with less altruism.

Vu, a doctoral candidate at the University of Amsterdam in Holland, said: People were 15.6 percentage points more likely to be generous to someone else when they were told the consequences of their choice, compared with when they were allowed to remain ignorant.

The researchers believe that one reason for willful ignorance might be, that some people behave altruistically because they want to maintain a positive self-image of being an altruistic person.

Which reveals that charity is done for the self-image only, and not in service to others.

One is a payback system, one is a pay it forward system, the majority of people want a payback, which is selfish.

Vu said: In those cases, willful ignorance can allow them to maintain that self-image without having to act in an altruistic way.

Study co-author Professor Shaul Shalvi, also of the University of Amsterdam, says the analysis of previous studies backed that up.

He said: That's because people who chose to learn the consequences of their action were seven percentage points more likely to be generous, compared with participants who were given information by default.

That suggests that truly altruistic people choose to learn the consequences of their actions.

He added: The findings are fascinating as they suggest a lot of the altruistic behaviors we observe, are driven by a desire to behave as others expect us to.

That is the peer pressure and the desire to be seen and heard for the ego only.

An external desire to be approved and liked, when the altruism when done correctly is an inward approval of the self, without the need for external approval or gratification.

While most people are willing to do the right thing when they are fully informed of the consequences of their actions, this willingness is not always because people care for others.

Sadly that is 100% correct, we lack caring, sharing, understanding, love, support, cooperation and interest in each other.

If that statement was not true, then the world would be a better place, except it is not.

Unless of course you live in your own selfish illusionary bubble world.

Message for those people who are the majority, all of your illusionary bubble worlds are about to be popped.

You have all had fair warning of that, particularly since the advent of the internet in the middle 1990's, but chose to willfully ignore the plight of others for selfish reasons.

A part of the reasons why people act altruistically is due to societal pressures, as well as their desire to view themselves in a good light.

Since being righteous is often costly, demanding people to give up their time, money and effort, ignorance offers an easy way out.

Sadly that plays out even in THI, which is a micro to the macro of their world.

Repeated attempts to get people involved in the Blueprint as led to frustrations within the few who did step up.

A plethora of excuses just doesn't wash, you are negating your responsibility to humanity when given the perfect situation to finally have a say and make a change in the world we all wish to see.

There are no excuses for saving yourself, family, country, continent or planet, none.

The research team, whose findings were published in the journal Psychological Bulletin, said future studies should aim to examine willful ignorance in more diverse settings and to investigate ways of combatting such behavior.

Selfishness is anti-unity at a time when we have the greatest opportunity in history, for the people to bring about the seismic change this planet has needed for many thousands of years.

Selfishness will never fix this planet or you.

Selfishness will keep you in the astral harvesting center, as you can never, I repeat never enter the mental planes as a service to self being.

Selfishness is a part of our culture now and the majority can't even see or recognize it, particularly within themselves.

Many people give money to charities out of guilt, rather than being altruistic.

Many people think because they give money they are then service to others, but this study reveals that is not the case and I agree.

As an example, people gave money to the starving Africans, dusted their hands off and said I have done my bit, then ignored it.

40 years later, the Africans are still starving and the problem persists.

So the giving of money, does not always indicate you are not selfish.

If you have to be forced, guilted or shamed into actions and not offer it freely, is also selfish.

If you offer help or support and expect it in return, that is also selfish.

The woe is me people who take up everyone's time to listen to their whining, are also selfish people and harvesters.

The sad balloon people of someone or something has always let them down and how they never have any luck, are also selfish as well.

Asking other people to fix or save you, is also selfish as you are expecting them to use their life force energy for your benefit only.

Alpha and Beta people are selfish, when you understand the flow of energy.

People whose lives revolve around chasing shekels, is also selfish.

People whose lives are based around being important are also selfish.

This group was tasked from the very beginning to think and act different, ask yourselves truthfully have you fulfilled that or have you been selfish from the examples above?

If we are to be guardians and way shower's, are we truly setting the right examples, if we are exhibiting selfishness is large or small doses?

Remember from the Santies, the gods and the Cosmos only help those who genuinely help others.

If you are waiting for the gods to return and they haven't, perhaps it is because too many people are selfish?

The gods and the Cosmos will not come to you operating in service to the self only.

The greatest damage of selfishness is, the lack of unity.

A lack of unity has led to our downfall and those will continue to slide into the pit.

Until you all realize only service to others and non-selfishness is adopted and adapted to.

And remember, Unity is the pathway to redemption.

FHSTOS SECTION:

Recently Russia invited people to come and join Russia and move away from the controlling West.

There were certain stipulations for receiving visa for an initial 3 month test period, before getting a more permanent visa.

But what I found interesting is what Russia laid out as its ways of living, life, society and values.

According to the legislative act, Russian values include the prevalence of the spiritual over the material, the traditional marriage of a man and a woman, with the birth of children, as well as human freedoms, rights, honor and life, high moral criteria, collective support, unity among Russian peoples, justice, mercy, constructive labor activity, mutual respect and mutual assistance, civic position, patriotism, humane attitude to others, service to the Fatherland and responsibility for its future and generational continuity.

One has to say, that is all very Santies and Vedas like, is that a sign of the return to those ways of being and living coming out of Russia?

The Canadian state archives have been advised against releasing the names of around 900 Nazi German war criminals residing in the country, for fear it might boost Russian propaganda against Ukraine, which caused Director Jaime Kirzner-Roberts of the Friends of Simon Wiesenthal Center for Holocaust Studies to declare: It looks like the government is placing the wishes of war criminals over and above the rights of Canadians to know the truth, about terrible crimes committed by those who have quietly lived among us for so many years.

Well Mr. Wiesenthal, what about your people covering up that many of the lead Nazis, were either Jewish or Jewish puppets? Like the scientists who fled via Operation Paperclip?

Or the fact Menachim Begin refused to take Jews out of the camps and move them to Palestine?

Or the fact that the Rothschild's also refused to take Jews out of the camps during WW2.

Or the fact top Jewish officials killed a load of Jewish people at the end of WW2, to avoid suspicion?

That list could go on for the rest of this section, but you get the drift.

Yet again accusing others of what they have done, common theme, just like changing names.

This is an interesting short piece that ties in nicely with FHSTOS with a few twists to it, because the researcher is too mired in the biblical script.

But I give credit to the researcher for delving into these things, as we all journey upon the path of discovery.

Yes there are many useful clues within the biblical scripts, but there are many blind alleys, lies and half-truths designed to pull you into their narrative.

In his final sermon before he was martyred, Stephen recited the history of rebellious Israel.

Referring to the idolatry of the ancient Israelites, Stephen mentioned the god Molech and the star of your god Rephan (Acts 7:43).

First thing about that is, is believing Stephen should be venerated, secondly Stephen is not a Middle Eastern name only British in that spelling format.

Which should then bring into question as to just who was Stephen? Was he like King James and the twelve disciple names all Crown agents?

Other versions of the Bible spell the name of the false god as Remphan (KJV, NKJV) or Rompha (NASB, AMP).

They are all talking about the same false god.

In the context of Stephen's reference to the star of your god Rephan, he mentions the golden calf that Israel worshiped at Sinai (Acts 7:39-41).

The golden calf was Moloch, he of the bull head and cloven feet who consumed the people's children.

He then says that God turned away from them and gave them over to the worship of the sun, moon and stars (verse 42).

One of those stars they worshiped was the star of Remphan (verse 43).

Finally, Stephen points to God's determination to send Israel into exile in Babylon (verse 43).

Stephen's argument before the Sanhedrin was that the current generation of Israel was just as stiff-necked as their ancestors, always resisting the Holy Spirit! (verse 51).

They had proved their stubbornness in their rejection of Jesus Christ.

When he referred to the star of your god Remphan, Stephen was quoting the Greek translation of the Old Testament Scriptures known as the Septuagint, or LXX.

LXX means 70, which features heavily in the Jewish code, numerology and gematria, with their 70 nations and program numbers.

The first entry of gematria for 70 is, Q, oh my, also pdf, meme and Clif High, highly revealing that.

Other notable entries are hidden, Malik, Melek, Imam, I god, Enki, black flag signifying pirates of the sky and sea oceans.

Hindi, Maldek, Alliah, Michael, Black lie, Biden AI and Bell Lab.

This translation by Hebrew scholars was completed about the third century BC.

The passage Stephan quotes is Amos 5:26, which in an English translation of the LXX reads, Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Raephan, the images of them which ye made for yourselves, translated by Sir Lancelot Brenton, 1851.

In the Hebrew text of Amos 5:26, the name the LXX translates as Raephan is Kiyun, spelled Chiun (KJV), Kaiwan (NLT, CSB), or Kiyyun (ESV), depending on the Bible version.

Notice the letter K prominence again?

Some versions, such as the NIV, do not transliterate the word at all.

The International Standard Bible Encyclopedia identifies Rephan as the Babylonian name for the god of the planet Saturn.

The International Standard Bible translates Amos 5:26 as: And you carried the tent of your king and Saturn, your star god idols that you crafted for yourselves.

Saturn is related to Set, Setan and Satan remember.

Smith's Bible Dictionary and Easton's Bible Dictionary also link Rephan (or Remphan) to the god Saturn.

It seems the Babylonians worshiped a god of their own imagination and named him Kiyun, whose place in the heavens was as a wandering star that they also named "Kiyun" after their god.

What is a wandering star? Here are some descriptions:

In Jude:1.4 it said: For certain men have crept in unnoticed, (Koshey's the aliens the Santies warned about) who long ago were marked out for this condemnation, ungodly men, who turn the grace of our God into lewdness and deny the only Lord God and our Lord Jesus.

Jesus was not the Lord as people understand it, neither was "Jesus" a Christian.

In Jude 1:13 Christ. raging waves of the sea, foaming up their own shame; wandering stars for whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever.

Explaining the void and or the black sun.

A wandering star is a planet.

Why would it be called a wandering star, because inside of them contains the hidden sun within the planet, I call it the power pack, it has enormous power despite its relatively small size.

Another description is any of the seven planets of ancient astronomy.

7 stars orbiting a luminary object is now a star itself.

8-12 stars the luminary becomes a sun.

This has much symbolic meaning of reducing the suns power and domain into 7 and so they became the wandering stars.

Think of it more in terms of energy out and input.

This also confirms they consider Saturn as their sun, a black sun and not a planet.

Also we are not a geocentric system, but a heliocentric system whereby the planets spiral behind the sun that is pulling us through the Cosmos.

This explains from an observational point of view as to why some planets go retrograde.

You cannot have retrograde in a geocentric system, as all planets go from west to east.

All the ancient peoples had observed that some stars, in actuality planets moved through the sky, while other stars, the genuine stars were fixed.

The Greek term asteres planētai, shortened to just planētai, meant wandering stars.

The ancients made no distinction between stars and planets; to them, they were all stars of some type.

Thus, Saturn was considered a star, and the deity associated with him was a star-god.

Maybe the author needs to consider that Saturn was their star, the Black Sun star.

The god Kiyun was worshiped among the ancient Babylonians, Arabs, Syrians and Assyrians.

Every false god had its representation, its idol.

Molech was represented by a brass bull; Astarte by a tree; Dagon by a half-man, half-fish; and Kiyun by a star, the wandering "star" we know as the planet Saturn.

In short, the star of your god Rephan mentioned in Acts 7:43 is a pagan god that some ancient Israelites unwisely worshiped in the wilderness.

The name Rephan is an English translation of the LXX translation of the Hebrew word Kiyun.

Contrary to some theories, the star of Remphan has nothing to do with the six-pointed Star of David featured on the Jewish flag.

Unbeknown to the author the six pointed star is the Alpha Draconis battlestar flag.

Also, there exists no genuine star in the heavens that has any historical or religious relationship with Saturn/Kiyun.

But there is another reference to the Satanic star of Remphan, not the Star of David stylized by the Rothschild's clan, who are also Draco.

It is the Freemasonic square and compass, because if you draw the 6 pointed star and remove the two horizontal lines, you are left with the square and the compass.

Freemasonry modern day is an Egyptian cult like Mormonism, celebrating the defeat of their enemy, the white race.

If you are in the Freemasons you are a part of this atrocity against the human race, now you have a choice to quit and be free or carry on and face the wrath of the people when they find out who and what you represent.

Which is Lucifer.

MYSTERY SECTION:

Here is another deep pondering for you all and something I touched upon in the Common Sense call last week.

It is nice to see more of you joining to gain deeper insights, even if there is an element of fear behind it.

You can all deny it, but I feel it.

We were discussing the light and dark conundrum and how everyone positions themselves as the light, yet unknowingly or ignorantly operate within the dark spectrum.

Selfishness as we have just covered, is not helping the light, only the dark.

Ignoring wars in foreign lands, is not helping the light, only the dark.

Ignoring the plight of children not your own, is not helping the light, only the dark.

Not caring, supporting or sharing enough, is not helping the light, only the dark.

They are just a few examples but there are many other examples of it.

We have ascertained that the balance between the light and the dark is way off kilter, yet do we come up with solutions to correct that or do we just complain about it?

Most people it is the latter, why? Selfishness again and lack of responsibility.

It is the lack of balance as to why there is no harmony, not only on this planet, but throughout the Universe.

Because there is a lack of flow in terms of understanding things we miss the obvious, all hidden in plain sight as they say.

Let's start a duality script shall we, as most people will say light are good and dark is bad, which means they have no flow of understanding.

But why is the light good? Did you ask yourself as to why? Probably not, again a lack of flow of the understanding.

But everyone will ask why are the dark so bad, but are they?

OMG Thomas are you saying the dark are not bad? Are you saying the dark are good? Again a lack of flow of the understanding.

In duality they are both sides of the same coin, just like politicians, as above and so below.

But where is the triality aspect, which is you in this matter? Are you both sides of the same coin? Most will say no to that suggestion and some will say F off Thomas.

But I am here to tell you, that you most emphatically are both sides of the same coin.

So how can we be both light and dark?

Because at some point in many of our lifetimes we have performed the role of being on both sides.

That is done for soul development and allows us to then recognize the duality of appearing in both roles.

This then if used correctly is how we develop ourselves onto a higher plane of existence.

By playing sides we gain an understanding of how both sides operate on all levels.

If you only played one side, you will never be able to understand the other side and so are ignorant of the roles playing both sides brings.

Some would say I would never be a dark forces being, on a personal level I get that, but in overview it is a poor choice to make on a soul level.

Why is it said that we learn our best lessons from the dark? Why can't we learn our best lessons from the light here?

Because there is not enough operating with their beacon shining to have a marker of how you are doing.

But the dark shows us all the tricks and seducements of how to dance in the dark, and once you dance with them you are hooked.

You see it is easier being a dark being than a light being, why? Because the rules are more stringent for the light, where little to no rules or limits applies to the dark.

So a truly developed and advanced soul would have a mixture of both light and dark within the 45/55 range.

That is a small sway from one side to another and does not require a radical swing to go to the other side.

People may say, but why would you wish to be dark, it is bad and not good and you do awful things.

Fair comment, but for soul development it is essential as a light being will know all the tricks of the dark and work to counteract it.

But as I asked a few shows back of whether light and dark is another duality dance that we must push past?

Then go onto the neutrality balanced aspect of being both light and dark.

This would then restore balance as if there is an imbalance we have stock available to balance things up from the neutrality group.

As you have been told this Universe ended up over 80% dark, a massive imbalance that has taken billions of trying to correct it.

Many lives have been lost in the pursuit of some balance, but it is getting close now to the 45/55 balance of light and dark.

Perhaps further improvements can be made by then adding in the neutrality aspect of keeping the balance, by the neutrality beings filling in the gaps of the imbalance.

Surely this then makes much more sense, as the neutrality group would be made up out of the gods from both sides, who are in themselves balanced.

So, all is not so bad playing a dark forces being that it is made out to be and is part of the free will choice of the soul/spirit package.

What is not alright is what has taken place on this planet, where the dark have gotten completely out of balance within themselves and gone too far dark.

The reason why they have gone too far dark is, because the light never stepped up and indeed began to copy them.

The darks role is to teach us the lessons, but the light kept ignoring it.
This led to the dark having to get worse and more evil to eventually get us to see what we are doing or not doing.
If this is true and I suspect it is, it is the light themselves who have created this mad, chaotic and at times evil greedy world filled with corruption, fraud and deceit.
Because we did not fulfill our duty as a light being.

Imagine coming here this lifetime and playing a dark being for soul development and you have to resort to that level of darkness?
Would you think that was fair? Would you think that was acceptable? Of course not.
Because what if you had spent many lifetimes as a light being and only this as a dark being, how would you feel if you were that soul/spirit package?
So you see not everything is as black and white this planet makes it out to be, there are grey areas we will just not look at it.
A: a lack of flow in terms of understanding and B: we have embraced the duality program far too much to see through the illusion of it all.
I mean most people cannot see through the duality illusion of party politics, never mind the dance between light and dark.
We have to learn to think on a much wider scale than we do currently, as duality has never served us too well.
As ultimately as this piece has shown, we are picking the lesser of two evils.
Where is the non-evil? In the triality and neutrality aspect.

[Text by Thomas Williams is in bold]

Here is a song by Deep Purple, let see if the words are interpreted correctly and do a THI version of the words and see if it plays it in the now?

Sweet child in time, you'll see the line.

The child in time seeing the line, is that the threshold or the gate?

The line that's drawn between good and bad.

Is that distinguishing yourself between light and dark?

See the blind man, shooting at the world.

Are we not all blind men and women because we can't see what is in front or within us?

Bullets flying, Mmm, taking toll.

Are the bullets flying projected barbs at each other?

Or is it explaining the wars around the world or the war within us?

If you've been bad, lord, I bet you have.

Have we not all been bad in some way or other, but do we correct it?

And you've not been hit, Oh, by a flying lead.

In other words you dodged a bullet, except that isn't playing out anymore is it?

You'd better close your eyes, Oh-oh, bow your head and wait for the ricochet.

Wait for the ricochet? Does that mean wait for the consequences of actions?

As what you put out is all about to rebound back on you.

ENDING PIECE:

A couple of updates for you.

This Saturday at 12 noon MT 2pm EST 7pm UK time, there is an open zoom to present Kevin Yockey's latest presentation on the mathematical, scientific and numerical mysteries of the world, with part 5.

All are welcome to join, links will be in mewe chat and also on THI-show.com.

Next Tuesday October 8th the usual time, is the next episode of FHSTOS Plus series Part 26.

This will not be The Vedas part 6 as we are about to go deep into something else, that will be a 2 or 3 parts, before returning back to the Vedas Part 6.

A Blueprint Assignment team update: It is been a busy week for the team and whilst there has been no extra shows this week, the team went into a deeper side of the work required to take it forward.

Three calls with three separate people or groups took place on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

I laid out a load of knowledge and requested back to them, of how they can play a role themselves in this next crucial phase.

All were made aware of the roles of all that our Blueprint teams are doing and playing, and were excited and encouraged to be a part of that development.

Further engagements will come forth from those three connections and greater understanding of what we are doing and why are being made. Some of these engagements are for the purpose of phase 3 of the Blueprint journey.

Things are beginning to take shape now, as more and more are being made aware and more and more are coming on board.

Very interesting and exciting times, but much more work is required and a greater push is not only needed, but essential at this point in the movie.

The Assignment team are pondering and working on ways whereby random THI short piece updates can or may appear on another platform soon.

Some bits of intel that is not entirely for your benefit or ears, but should be taken in internally, not discussed all over the place, like the Q cult. Beware the false flag over water, beware the cornered snake is writhing badly now, beware the sleeper cells within, beware the false flags on the final battlefield, beware the financials, the comms are down and the cleansing continues.

Beware the recent storm states, as help will not arrive and great hindrance and skullduggery will unfold upon your lands.

Think dock strikes, because you know sometimes words have two meanings.

Remember Katrina, think Lithium extraction, think oil and gas price increases and think lock downs.

Will the law martial us or will we marshal them? Again you know sometimes words have two meanings.

Watch closely events of 22-24th October, watch the whole of October, a plug has 3 prongs, 2 not enough, recognize the energy ramp up this week, observe the solar output and changes within.

Go to the flow and overview, from there you observe not absorb.

There is no more waiting around, we are now in the critical phase.

Snap out of your selfishness, pity and woe is me cycles, victim/victimhood cycles, ego and game playing cycles and jump into your adult body and get real.

Operation Final Countdown is upon us all.

Final piece tonight of what I am sure you have all found to be a booming, enlightening and also at times a damning show, in every section tonight, not just the more favored mystery section.

Tonight's show should have been labeled at the beginning and called the Flow show.

Why? Because virtually every piece tonight had the flow of understanding what was being presented and then expanding it into a much wider and deeper thinking process to come to some conclusions.

The flow is in essence the overview, the overview brings wisdom and a fuller understanding of reading between the lines, moving the lies and half-truths into the light and towards the truth.

Nothing in life works without flow, just like a river when there is a dam, it stops and or backs up.

We cannot afford backing up or stops.

The flow of life below, is mirrored above by the Golden path, to ultimately follow that path all dams, blockages and life's traumas and ills has to be mastered and let go of.

The desire to hold onto the past, when it has failed both you and us, will lead to a failing to be on the right path just like so many lifetimes before.

This lifetime was meant to be different, discordant cords and trauma cords disconnected, plus family lines healed.

The old world, people and system to be let go of.

The task was to recognize the past, see where it failed, come up with solutions and march forward into the future.

With a better you, better people, better systems, better opportunities and better lives.

That all lies in the now and ahead of us.

Ultimately the choice is, which path will you be on? Will you flow or just dam, due to not giving a damn?

I will leave you all with a deep pondering.

The invisible world is first discovered in the visible world, because of the invisible worlds failure to close.

But did the invisible world come forth and remain, because the visible world itself had a failure to close?
