

NEWS:

An earthquake of moderate intensity occurred in Iran and Israel on Saturday night, October 5. Strangely enough, both the countries experienced the earthquake at a marginal difference in the timing. In such a situation, it is being speculated whether Iran has conducted its nuclear test. In comes the fear factor, to ramp up the mistrust of Iran. The earthquake occurred in the Aradan city of Semnan province in Iran. Its intensity was 4.5 on the Richter scale. The earthquake occurred at around 10:45 pm local time. The tremors were felt in Tehran which is 110 kilometers away from the epicenter of the earthquake, reports the US Geological Survey. You want the kicker to this story? its epicenter was at a depth of only 10 kilometers from the ground. Which means it was a manufactured earthquake using an advanced pulse type weapon. All to justify a war based upon fake fear and raise more money for the Zionist bankers.

The art of manipulation and a plot to rinse more taxes out of the people. This is how governments, who are lackey for the banksters work. It works for them, as the people tolerate it every time. A rise in oil prices intensified after President Biden suggested that U.S. officials are considering whether to support an Israeli strike on Iranian oil facilities, a move that could push gasoline prices higher just weeks before the presidential election. Benchmark U.S. crude jumped 5.1%, to $73.71, its largest one-day gain since the early stages of Israel's war on Hamas a year ago. The tremors weighed down U.S. stock indexes and left investors scrambling to understand the potential fallout of a broader war. Asked if he would support Israel attacking Iran's oil facilities, Biden replied, We're discussing that. Why would the people allow someone with serious mental health issues decide their future? Something is seriously amiss with the people for allowing that as well.

Here is the legacy of Netanyahu.
40K+ deaths we have covered, but there is more to it.
200 UN Aid workers, 200 Journalists, rumored not 40K deaths but 300K Gazans.
He and they have destroyed 10K schools, 1K hospitals and 1K churches of different faiths.

If the US supports a full on Israeli attack on Iran, be aware that many of the US bases in the Middle East will be wiped out, including sea harbors or docks. The Iranians have much more firepower than the media will tell you, plus they have backing of Palestine, Syria, Lebanon, Turkey and Egypt, plus Russian support and potentially Pakistan as well. US warships in the region will also not exist with this scenario. US and UK warships are the ones shooting down the missiles, not the Iron Dome. The Nevatim airbase in Israel that was used for the raids against Hezbollah politicians, is no longer existing after being totally devastated by supersonic missiles. At least 4 Lockheed Martin F-35 Lightning II were destroyed also. Ukraine is now an open steppe westwards with no defenses left. The $800M THAAD weapon will go the same way as the Iron Dome.

Here is the latest psychopath operating as an US government peace advisor, the irony will not be lost upon sane people. A US government peace advisor Matthew Brodsky has called for Israel to carpet bomb and drop napalm over the entire area garrisoned by Irish peacekeeping troops. Irish peacekeeping troops stationed near the Lebanese border alongside The United Nations Interim Force In Lebanon (UNIFIL) have refused Israel's demands to withdraw from the area amid rising tensions. Ireland's Defense Forces have contributed to UN peacekeeping operations in Lebanon since 1978. The troops' area of responsibility includes a number of civilian villages, which makes peace adviser Matthew Brodsky's suggestion an outright war crime under the UN's 1980 Convention on Certain Conventional Weapons. What an utter psychopath, peace advisor my ass. So who is Matthew Brodsky? He worked as a Legacy Heritage Fellow at the American Foreign Policy Council (AFPC), and Editor of inFOCUS Quarterly, Senior Fellow at the Security Studies Group (SSG). All of which sounds like think tanks to me, but as always there is another connection to be had. As Brodsky is a Director of Policy at the Jewish Policy Center, he also worked at Israel's largest daily newspaper, Haaretz. You see, Brodsky is Jewish and yet another Jew dictating lunatic levels of foreign policy on behalf of not America who stupidly employs him, but Israel.

In light of our recent show about mind control and MK Ultra which included a section about it being used in schools, this again should alarm every parent.

And yes the teachers or facilitators or handlers were involved again.

Elementary school teachers accused of giving children sleeping aids have been removed from their Texas classroom as officers investigate, district officials say.

Parents at Northgate Crossing Elementary School in Spring say their children were given special stickers by two teachers Sept. 24, according to KTRK.

Lisa Luviano asked her 4-year-old daughter about the sticker when she came home from school, and her daughter's response worried her, she said, it is a sleeping sticker.

When prompted further she said my teacher gives it to me for sleeping time.

Other parents shared similar stories, including Najala Abdullah, who said her son was acting different after the school year began.

They're giving them drugs to make them sleep to keep them quiet, Abdullah said.

The blue sticker features a nighttime design with a moon and stars.

Melissa Gilford, whose daughter recognized the patch, said the sticker is called a Sleep ZPatch.

Made by Klova, the patches include melatonin and other "naturally occurring ingredients" to help people sleep.

Klova says the product is not intended to be used by people under 18.

How many more of these incidents do parents need before all parents refuse to send their children to school?

None of this is a surprise to me, it was clear back in the 1970's and 80's these institutions are not for our benefit from a personal and observational viewpoint.

I suspect this is not random and part of a military test again, working alongside the pharma companies.

North Korea is reportedly sending troops to fight in Ukraine, according to South Korea's defense minister, who addressed the parliament following reports that Pyongyang had suffered casualties on the battlefield.

Kim Yong-Hyun claimed that North Korea may have deployed soldiers to fight alongside Russian forces as part of an agreement between the two allied nations, signed in June.

This summer, Vladimir Putin and Kim Jong Un signed a comprehensive partnership agreement, which includes mutual assistance by all available means in the event of an attack on either country.

As Russia and North Korea have signed a mutual treaty akin to a military alliance, the possibility of such a deployment is highly likely the South Korean minister told the audience.

Alliances are being formed now and that doesn't augur too well for the Jewish West cult.

We need more alliances between the people though to support the fight against global tyranny.

Seems that some countries are now starting to question India.

Which for those who have read FHSTOS will clearly understand as to why.

Although Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi had described Russia as a trusted ally and an all-weather friend during a visit to Moscow last July, this friendly relationship now appears to be at risk of deteriorating.

Just a few months later, multiple media outlets have reported that Kyiv has obtained Indian ammunition, which is being used on the front lines against Russian troops.

Well I never as our story is again being proven.

According to an investigation, shells from India's arsenal were purchased by Italy and the Czech Republic before being sent to Ukraine. This revelation follows the emergence of battlefield images showing Ukrainian soldiers using Indian-made ammunition against Russian soldiers.

In August, Narendra Modi visited Kyiv for a historic meeting with Volodymyr Zelenskyy.

Randhir Jaiswal, a spokesperson for India's Ministry of External Affairs, dismissed reports of Indian ammunition being used by Ukraine as speculative and malicious rumors spread by certain media outlets.

But it is not just Russia whose relations have strained in India.

Forty-one Canadian diplomats have recently left India amid a rift over the murder of a Sikh separatist leader on Canadian soil.

India asked Canada two weeks ago to withdraw dozens of its diplomatic staff and threatened to remove their immunity if they remained.

Canadian officials called the threat a violation of international law.

Relations have been tense after Canada accused India of being behind the 18 June killing of Hardeep Singh Nijjar.

India has denied the allegations, calling them absurd.

The backlash of the people is now heavily underway and also in part people taking responsibility again.

Federal emergency response personnel were warned to move to a different area after reports of threats from an armed militia in Rutherford County, North Carolina.

A Saturday email from an official with the US Forest Service, which was seen by the Washington Post, warned multiple federal agencies that FEMA has advised all federal responders in Rutherford County, NC, to stand down and evacuate the county immediately. It said the Federal Emergency Management Agency was concerned about reports from National Guard troops who said they encountered trucks of armed militia saying there were out hunting FEMA. That is what happens when people eventually find out they have been lied to. Whilst I will never support or condone violence, one understands why people do. No support from government or any other agency has ever been forthcoming, that is the reality. If FEMA are blocking supplies coming in like they did in Katrina and other disasters, then they themselves are creating a situation where ultimately they will face the wrath of the people.

Last week I highlighted the fear porn channels known as weather reports. The blatant fear and lies being put out by these people is enormous and it needs to stop. Well seems some people are now thinking the same thing, as a report came in saying US meteorologists received death threats. Again I don't condone violence, but what do these people expect? Some young weather expert Katie Nickolaou was pushed forward like a modern day Greta Thunberg playing the sympathy violin and how the nasty people are getting at her. Well, she has to look in the mirror and stop with the fear porn, or face the consequences of actions. Milton when it landed was more in the tropical storm range, not Category 3-4 or 5 they had insisted. Most of the pictures of the damage was done by tornadoes, not the hurricane. Most of the rest of the damage was flooding due to storm surge, the question then remains is, should we be living on a coast prone to violent storms?

It has now been confirmed in a September 27th document of the DOD, issuing the rights to exert lethal violence upon American people, if an event occurs. What if they create the event(s)? To justify the takedown of America on behalf of the anti-humanity group?

There has been a series of large data breaches of many major companies, the recent was Verizon and Comcast. So why is it happening all of a sudden to so many major companies storing our data, which they say is safe and secure, but clearly is not. Could it be the AI hacking into these systems to complete a broader picture of everyone for their profiling database?

This is how the retards in the media work to steer opinion, perhaps this person needs a THI our story lesson before it writes any more dangerous drivel designed to get people to accept war.

The headline was: Tehran is on the highway to self-destruction.
Opinion by Sally Michael, opinion contributor The Hill.
Operating behind some of the Middle East's most recent and devastating terrorist attacks is a highly organized group of clerics, military commanders and religious zealots orchestrating events from across the Persian Gulf.
Despite 40 years of U.S. sanctions, Iranian aggression is far worse today than after the inception of the Islamic Republic.
But Tehran's ambitions will backfire and inevitably lead to Iran's implosion.
What an opening statement that is, but let's correct it shall we.
Operating behind some of the Middle East's most recent and devastating terrorist attacks is the US Military, US Agencies and Israeli psychopaths.
Religious zealots? Yes that is Israel again, death to all goyim is their motto.
40 years of sanctions by the US designed to send Iran back to the stone age and protect their master's the Israelis again.
Iran aggression? Where is the actual evidence of such? US has invaded 81 countries since WW2 and the Israelis have undertaken 80-100 aggressions or wars since 1947.

Tehran still brazenly provides billions in cash, missiles and oil transfers to its terrorist proxies.
The US Government brazenly provide billions in cash, missiles and oil transfers to its terrorist proxy, Israel.
Experts indicate that Hezbollah receives $700 million, and Hamas at least $70 million, on an annual basis.
Meanwhile Israel receives around $14B per year from America alone.
Hamas was created and funded by Qatar and Netanyahu, let us not forget.

With a militia network that may include as many as 200,000 fighters, Iran's revolutionary campaign has infiltrated well into the political landscapes of Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Yemen, Bahrain and the Palestinian territories, with little consequence.

The CIA has infiltrated into well over 100 countries, surely that is more of a geopolitical issue than Iran having so-called influence over 6 countries.

Iran 6 countries with little consequence Sally said, CIA over 100 with much dire consequences.

To make matters worse, reports by The International Atomic Energy Agency reveal expansions underway at Iran's key nuclear plants, moving them one step closer to reaching levels capable of producing bombs.

This is a terrifying prospect for the Arab world.

Haha that is delusional.

Israel sold nuclear weapons to Iran in the 1990's, all of which were paid for by the US or more specifically the American taxpayers.

How is it that Israel can have nuclear weapons, but no one else can in the Middle East?

Are only the US and Israel allowed to have dangerous weapons, is that what this author is saying? Delusional.

If I was an observer of this planet I would wonder why every country on the planet is not armed to the teeth, due to the aggressions of the US, Israel and the Jewish backed NATO.

This level of stupidity and ignorance will get us all killed, it is completely irresponsible on behalf of all media outlets to report in this pro pagan da manner.

With the activism team on vacation or otherwise busy, I have sent our Assignment team to challenge this writer.

An email has been sent to them and we will see what feedback if any we get.

MEDICAL SECTION:

Yet more evidence of interfering with the children, this time in the baby food.

As a new investigation led by Friends of the Earth, found an alarming number of pesticide residues in baby food manufactured and sold by Target under its house brand Good & Gather.

Lab tests of two items, the non-organic apple and the pear fruit purees for babies has revealed the presence of 21 pesticides, including 12 classified as highly hazardous to human health or the environment.

Neonicotinoid pesticides were present in 100% of the baby food samples tested.

These chemicals have been linked to birth defects of the heart and brain, learning disorders, attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder, autism spectrum disorder, damage to the nervous system and hormone disruption.

Neonicotinoids are also among the most ecologically disastrous pesticides since DDT.

U.S. agriculture has become nearly 48 times more toxic to insects, including essential pollinators like bees, since the introduction of neonicotinoids.

And they are a critical factor driving over 200 endangered species toward extinction, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

No doubt it was something else approved by the criminal FDA organization.

Organophosphate pesticide metabolites (meaning the breakdown products of pesticides) were also found in 100% of the baby food samples.

Scientists have called for a complete ban on organophosphates, as they are known to be highly toxic to children's developing brains, even at low levels of exposure.

They are associated with reduced IQ, attention disorders, delayed motor development and learning disabilities.

They have also been shown to harm bees, birds and aquatic organisms like fish.

In addition, 10 of the pesticides found in Target's baby food are linked to endocrine disruption.

Incredibly small amounts of endocrine-disrupting chemicals, the equivalent to one drop in 20 Olympic swimming pools can alter brain development, hormones, immune systems and more.

Babies are particularly vulnerable to the harms of pesticides.

Their brains and bodies are developing so rapidly that small exposures can result in lifelong impacts.

Five pesticides classified as highly toxic to bees and three classified as highly toxic to aquatic organisms such as fish were detected in Target's baby food, raising serious concerns about negative impacts on biodiversity in Target's food and beverage supply chains.

Food retailers including The Kroger Company, Whole Foods, Walmart and Giant Eagle have released pollinator health policies in response to Friends of the Earth's Bee-Friendly Retailer Scorecard, that include time-bound commitments aimed at reducing pesticide use in their fresh produce supply chains.

While Target has created a pollinator health policy, it does not include specific metrics for transitioning away from pesticide use, advancing safer methods of farming like organic agriculture, or a timeline for implementation.

Research shows organic food rapidly and dramatically reduces children's exposure to pesticides.

The problem is, what is defined as organic these days, because that has been found to be flawed also.

Just because they say it is organic, does not mean it is, particularly if it has USDA stamped on it.

It causes a drop in IQ? Reminds me of a story this week where the medical fear porn group stated: skipping your Covid booster reduces your IQ.

No, taking it means you have no or little IQ, or perhaps IQ needs to be reclassified to Idiot Quota.

SOCIETY SECTION:

Following significant lobbying from major tech companies, California Governor Gavin Newsom (D-Calif.) has vetoed a bill designed to regulate AI, citing concerns that it could stifle innovation. Newsom made his decision at the eleventh hour, after the bill had been passed by the state legislature in late August. In other words, Newsome was told by Palo Alto not to do it and likely received compensation for doing so, that is generally how it works, or he is leveraged? he proposed legislation, known as SB 1047, would have imposed stringent rules on the development of powerful AI models, including the implementation of a kill switch to prevent potential harm. On Sunday, in a letter to the state senate, Newsom defended his veto of the Safe and Secure Innovation for Frontier Artificial Intelligence Systems Act. He expressed concern that the proposed framework could limit innovation beneficial to the public good, noting that California is home to 32 of the world's leading AI companies. In other words California's failing economy is tied too heavily upon tech companies, because if he doesn't give them what they want, they would pull out of California like Musk and the economy tanks even further. Senator Scott Wiener (D-Calif.), the bill's author, called the veto a setback for those who support oversight of large corporations making key decisions that impact public safety and the planet's future. Indeed, but until California remove the corrupt politicians, then more of these types of transactions will take place.

Finally another MSM report catches up with THI and this actually has a solution of sorts, although doesn't go wide enough. The climate crisis in the world is not based in reality in the truth world. Talk about focusing on the effects, but never cause. Towns and cities are concrete jungles, none worse in my experience than Dallas Texas. A soulless empty place riddled with greed based industries and concrete car lanes and roadworks for miles. It is known that towns and cities are 10-15 degrees warmer due to the expansive use of concrete, gone are the gardens and wooded areas that shield and cool and replaced with giant skyscrapers of the globalist elites conglomerate style corporations. Here is the report: As Hurricane Milton's 145 mile-per-hour winds (which was a lie) began closing in on Southwest Florida on Wednesday and people crowded into makeshift shelters across the state, climate advocates and other observers said, the life-threatening storm and massive disruption to millions of people's lives should make Americans furious, at those who have helped make extreme weather more frequent and dangerous. Americans should be furious at many things wrong with their country on every level, yet the apathy is astounding. I spoke to one top official recently and said, why is it that a Brit knows more knowledge about America than Americans? And why is a Brit doing more to change that than Americans? It is not a good look I said. Like the Africans who are starving still in Africa, America is a steaming mess because the people tolerate it. You can argue and rail against that and call me a limey or even a foreigner, but in reality land, that is the truth and you all know it.

As Nathan J. Robinson wrote in Current Affairs, climate scientists and meteorologists have unequivocally told oil companies and policymakers that fossil fuel extraction is causing planetary heating, which has led to higher temperatures in oceans and bodies of water including the Gulf of Mexico, where the rapidly strengthening hurricane formed. But despite the knowledge that fossil fuel giants like ExxonMobil and Shell had decades ago that drilling for oil and gas would cause violent weather and potentially catastrophic events, the industry's profits have only grown as the U.S. has continued to subsidize their pollution-causing activities. The failure by our political class to deal with this completely solvable issue is staggering and shameful, wrote Robinson. What a refreshingly honest statement that was, they won't deal with it as they are getting backhander payments to not address it. Essentially those greedy shekel people are damaging everything on this planet due to their psychotic and insatiable greed. He went on saying, and they could make that happen. Unfortunately, it would require challenging the power and profits of some of America's most influential corporations. In the Substack newsletter Heated, Arielle Samuelson explained on Wednesday how fossil fuel extraction and planetary heating "mutated" Hurricane Milton, which stunned weather experts this week as its wind speeds grew at a record-breaking pace, from 60 miles per hour to 180 miles per hour in just 36 hours. It was the second time in recent weeks that a hurricane in the region has intensified quickly; areas that are expected to take a direct hit from Milton are still overwhelmed by the destruction left by Hurricane Helene. Hot temperatures in the planets' oceans and gulfs fuels hurricanes, and as Samuelson noted, scientists say the "extremely hot" Gulf of Mexico was made far more likely by heat-trapping pollutants from the fossil fuel, agriculture, chemical, and cement industries. Exactly, which is why our Blueprint had a real and workable solution to work together and end the need or is it the greed of oil? Oil is not fossil fuel but is the lifeblood of the planet and extremely damaging to the ecosystem. Can it be made less damaging? Yes, but that requires these greedy harvesters to pay more out of their pockets, which they have refused to do organically, and the people have not demanded they change their ways enough either, so on they go. Agriculture was brought to us by the fake gods, it destroys the soil and the food eventually.

But again these global elite companies run that industry as well, and it is all about the human destruction programs and the shekels again. Chemical companies owned by the globalist elites again, it is used in the human destruction programs and again all about the shekels. Cement industries are owned by the global elites puppet organizations, concrete industries are run by the CIA contractors and the Military Industrial complex.

Again it is about shekels as only they get the major contracts.

So all four industries are all globalist elites and their puppet subsidiaries, all four are damaging to the people and all four are not concerned about the people, the environment, the ecosystem or the planet, only shekel making.

The lingering destruction of Helene and the impending landfall of Milton come, noted Fossil Fuel Media director Jamie Henn, weeks after three Democrats in Congress introduced legislation to require fossil fuel companies and oil refiners that do business in the U.S. to pay into a $1 trillion Polluters Pay Climate Fund, with their contributions based on a percentage of their global emissions.

The fund would be used to finance climate adaptation and other efforts to confront the impacts of the climate crisis.

Oh my, what a sensible solution that is, I guess times are changing.

As a spin off from the last piece I need to address again the stupidity of people and how we operate with zero thinking, care or in consideration of others.

But looking at the damage in the aftermath of Milton, a number of ridiculous things came up and something I have discussed previously in shows.

A: the folly of living on barrier lands, which are essentially sandbanks, sandbanks do not last as eventually Mother Nature will erode them away and with it your homes.

Isn't terrible people will cry looking at the destroyed homes, yes it is, but there is another thought that should be more prevalent in an advanced thinking society.

Why are those homes there in the first place? Statistically speaking at some point in your time in a home there, it will be damaged and or destroyed, that is a fact.

It is Russian Roulette of epic proportions, but then people have this illusionary attitude of, it won't happen to me.

It is utter madness.

When I came to Florida I was happy in Central Florida and thought I would like to retire on the coast at Sarasota or even St. Augustine, but then Hurricane Charley arrived not far from where Milton landed and that was a definite no.

The risk is too high, as any summer your whole house and your belongings could all disappear into the ocean, or worse, you could lose your life.

Is the being by the beach in a hurricane zone really worth it? In my opinion no.

B: Are the people who can afford homes by the beach selfish? Floridians in particular have to pay heavy insurance premiums for essentially those who live next to the beach.

It is next to the beach where the most damage occurs and where the Insurance companies have to spend out.

In my opinion, everyone should be moved away from the coastlines and further inland.

This would A: protect life B: protect property C: Save rescue services going out in extreme weather rescuing people who stayed in the path of the storm D: It would reduce insurance premiums for us all E: Insurance companies will still benefit as more would be able to afford it F: It would restore the ecosystem of the beaches and protect the wildlife there G: Beach erosion would no longer be an issue.

H: All beaches would be available to everyone again and not sectioned off by homeowners or hotels. I. Insurance companies would not be pulling out of zones affected by the hurricanes.

This would allow for water desalination plants to be placed along the coast that can deliver fresh water in drought areas.

Has anyone done a study on whether the beaches are being eroded or the weight of the hotels on the sandbanks are sinking the whole sandbank?

It is also a fact that concrete jungles in a grid pattern close to the coast, increases the speed of the wind in that region.

As it collects and funnels the wind like a tunnel into regions beyond the skyscrapers.

C: Insurance companies should also fund a study into how we can use technology to mitigate the intensity or even stop the hurricanes.

Do not let the MSM liars convince you that weather manipulation does not exist, it has been going on since at least the 1800's with China modifying the weather to produce more rain for the farmers.

There are far too many military planes operating in and around storms, for them not to be not involved in skullduggery.

In fact the military have documents of how to manipulate the weather for war purposes, so there is no doubt they are involved in it.

The need to live by the coasts ended in the 1800's with water pipes and if they can add millions of miles of pipes for oil, they can add it for water.

But to prove how stupid people are took place in St. Petersburg.

They knew the storm was coming yet left a 1-200ft crane upright to face the storm, with the expected consequences of severe damage to the buildings around it, I mean how retarded is that.

Also in St. Petersburg they set up a safe zone site with hundreds of beds inside a covered sport stadium. Sounds alright you may think, except the sports stadium has a canvas roof! Other regions of homes near the beach and not one car was covered over with a tarp to protect it from some damage. All of which I find astounding and the lack of thinking and or responsibility. Great changes have to be made, the biggest one is people actually thinking. But if people keep rebuilding in the same place that was destroyed then it will come at a further cost of people's lives, lifestyles, businesses and safety. Like I have said, this is a lunatic asylum, it can't be anything else.

EXPOSE:

Here is an interesting article to cover, as we delve deep into one of the lesser known bloodline families. The story of the 12 Black Nobility families is known by us all, but how much do we know about them individually? This is one family not mentioned in THI specifically, but today they come under the microscope, this is the Massimo family. A deep dive into why this planet is corrupted beyond repair and why a tabula rasa or rusa is the only way forward. This shows the depth of the corruption on this planet and their web like tentacles of infestation permeates everywhere. This will be explosive. The Massimo family are the most dominant bloodline of the Black Nobility and they are the leaders of the New World Order agenda, their goal of which is total enslavement. The Massimos own dozens of mafias and oversee Kabbalah and the Hell Fire Club. The Hell Fire club is based in England, the American version is the Bohemian Grove. It is a sacrifice, ritual and hunting human parties abode. Don Fabrizio Massimo-Brancaccio is the top owner of the Vatican, the top owner of the Sicilian Mafia and Italian-American Mafia. Nearly every mafia whether it's the Russian Mafia, Irish Mafia, Serbian Mafia, Albanian Mafia, or Mexican drug cartels pay tributes to the Massimos. Prince Fabrizio owns the Corleonesi Clan with the Riina family, more so the Graviano family of Brancaccio, as their mafia agents which work with the Gambino crime syndicate. Benedetto Graviano is a top member of the Corleonesi Mafia in Brancaccio. The Gravianos are the top murderers and hitmen of Cosa Nostra. Frank Cali who was shot and killed in 2019 was a high level boss of the Gambino crime family and he managed their criminal operations in California.

The Massimos own a large fortress in Arsoli and another castle in Campania. Don Fabrizio is the Prince of Triggiano near Bari, which has a human trafficking operation involving the Apulian Mafia and Albanian Mafia. Bari is across from Albania. There is a documented human trafficking network in Triggiano managed by Albanian mobsters. Prince Fabrizio is a child murderer that traffics underage girls. The Massimos use lions on their coat of arms like Corleone, Sicily uses a lion on its flag. They have statues of lions at their palazzo in Rome. The Massimo family frequently take the name Leone which means lion. I wonder if the lions around their homes are egregores? The lion symbolism applies heavily with these bloodline Satanic families. Brancaccio is a neighborhood in Sicily where Cosa Nostra originated and named after the Brancaccio family that later merged with the Massimo family. Cosa Nostra means the Mafia.

The Sicilian Mafia is made up of a coalition of criminal organizations called families or clans. Clans is borrowed from the Rus/Aryan/Slav culture. The Massimos use violence, threats, terrorism, extortion, and blackmail as their primary tools for control. All of which echoes the Israeli junta, one and the same is why. Roberto Spada is a Roman mobster and enforcer that works under the Massimos. The Massimo family are one of the oldest families of Rome and claim to be the ancient Fabii-Maximus dynasty. They likely have a portion of Maximus ancestry. The Pope is titled the Pontifex Maximus. Massimo or Maximus mean massive or the Latin meaning of greatest. Are they descendants of the Draco? Latin is the Draco language after all and the Pope is a puppet of the Jewish religion and control system. The Fabii family were known for using the scorched earth military tactic during the Roman Empire. Scorched Earth is a ruthless tactic where they burn everything down that can aid an enemy like food, resources and people.

A bit like what Israel is doing today in Yemen, Gaza and Lebanon.
The communist Fabian Society uses the wolf in sheep's clothing for its logo and Bernie Sanders is a member.
Fabii like Fabian. Bernie Sanders is a Socialist and covert member of the Fabian Society.
Tony Blair the former UK Premier is a member, as was Jeremy Corbyn prior to Keir Starmer.
Starmer is a leveraged puppet of the Israelis due to blackmail of him being gay.
Starmer's "wife" is not a wife at all, she is a Jewish handler.

The Massimo family are married with royal bloodlines like the Savoy, Wettin, Bourbon and Osorio noble family, which have a family branch in Galicia, Spain.
The Wettins created the Saxe-Coburg and Gothas which are monarchs in Germany, Britain, Bulgaria, and Belgium.
The Osorio family use wolves on their coat of arms.
The Wettins were from Saxony and the likely origin of the term Anglo-Saxon, which is nothing to do with Britain, only these bloodline families.
Here is evidence of these usurpers taking over the Rus/Aryan and Slavic buildings.
Around 1000, the family acquired Wettin Castle, which was originally built by the local Slavic tribes called Sorbs, after which they named themselves.
The Sorbs now Serbs, but were also known as Lusatians, lived throughout Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and even France, until they were taken over by the Jewish Merovingian and Jewish Frank bloodline families.
Their region was called Dervan, is that after the Slavic peoples called the Vans?
It is suspected the name Serbs is of Iranian origin, revealing the Slavs and the Iranians are one and the same people.

Next comes how they took over everything and controlled it via their appetite for incest and incestuous relations with other bloodline families.
All bloodline family members and their descendants are on a DNA level corrupted into oblivion, they are misfits, deranged, have a lust for power and top positions, greedy and operate on the premise of the Talmud, of let's harvest, rape, poison, drug and abuse of those native of this planet.
Prince Carlo Massimo is married to Princess Elisa Osorio of Moscoso and Estagna.
Amancio Ortega is from Galicia and works as a Court Factor and money launderer for Spanish nobles including the House of Osorio.
Amancio Ortega is one of the wealthiest billionaires and worth more than 60 billion and he manages some Galician Mafias.
Amancio Ortega owns Inditex with the store chain called Massimo Dutti which is high end fashion.
The name Massimo Dutti refers to their duty or obligation to the Massimos which are the heads of organized crime.
The Massimos take a cut from the royals and nobles in Spain that own drug cartels in Mexico and Latin America.
So these royals and bloodline families are drug pushers as well.
So much for being the so-called beacons of society that far too many people hold them in such high esteem.
No, these people are utter parasites, harvesting us all in every imaginable way.
Don Facundo Bacardi Masso was a Spanish businessmen and noble who was a relative of the Massimos.
Don Facundo Bacardi Masso founded Bacardi which uses a bat for its logo.
The bat is a symbol of terror and also a night or moon creature.
The Batman and woman is a symbol of the Dark Elves species or creatures, that created havoc here in the past and still operate to this day.

Facundo L. Bacardi is the current director of Bacardi.
There is also a Massa noble family in Italy which are relatives of the Massimos and they own wine vineyards.
So, they are the drivers of the alcohol industry as well, another thing designed to disrupt humanity by the off world gods.
Alcohol is called a spirit for a reason, it infects you and destroys you from within.
An occasional beer does no harm, excessive or regular drinking will destroy you from within.
Alcohol derives from al – ghou, ghou as in a spirit, that with excessive consumption, that spirit will host you.

Take a look at the films Dawn Addams starred in, some very revealing names of movies in that list.
Here is just a few: The hour of 13, Plymouth Adventure (Pilgrims?), Temptation Island, The Black Tulip, Zeta One and Vampire Lovers, some

The Li family in Asia are connected to all of this, they are Kaifeng Jews.

Lyor Cohen is an associate of the Gambinos and he oversees various gangster rappers, which are also covert crime bosses of street gangs.

So, the rappers are crime bosses, no surprise there given how many of them are killed gangster style.

Of course rap was created by Tavistock and was also a part of the setup of breaking down society.

There is your more direct Jewish involvement, in overview most of these are genetically Jews.

The Massimos and Pierleoni manage Kabbalah.

Moses de Leon was the founder of modern Kabbalah and from Leon Spain.

Which means he was part of the Sephardic Jews that ruled over Spain, until Spain threw them out.

The same Sephardics then went onto rampaging the Americas under the banner of Conquistadors, except they were all Jewish, not Spanish.

The billionaire Bulgari family of Rome work for the Massimo family.

The Bulgari family and their jewelry company were recently investigated for tax evasion and their New York branch was also involved with tax evasion and money laundering.

The words mass and bulge can be synonymous.

Sequoia Capital invests in Silicon Valley and has investments in Israel and China.

Liotta is a variant of Leotta a feminine version of Leone.

Ray Liotta who played the mobster Henry Hill in Goodfellas was a Massimo agent and apparently a blood drinking psychopath.

It is believed that Baron August von Senarclens de Grancy, who had an affair with Princess Wilhelmine of Baden was a relative of the Massimo family.

This is why the House of Hesse created the name Battenberg for the suspected Senarclens offspring, which later married in with the royal families of Russia, Spain, Sweden, and England.

Senarclens was in a district of Switzerland as well.

Now you know why they declared Switzerland a neutral war country so they wouldn't be bombed, all while funneling supplies to both sides of the war that these psychopaths engineered.

The House of Hesse descended from the House of Brabant.

The Reginarid Brabant dynasty ended in 1355, leaving its duchies to the House of Luxembourg which in turn left them to the House of Valois-Burgundy in 1383.

Luxembourg like Switzerland is another country that was declared neutral in WW2, now you know why.

Princess Marie of Battenberg's son was named Count Maximilian and another suspected Senarclens was Princess Maximiliane Wilhelmine Auguste Sophie Marie of Hesse.

That name sounds like the full name of Anna Von Reitz, why? She is part of this group as a Hapsburg.

Constellis operates out of Virginia, with obvious connections to Langley and the CIA.

The Jewish billionaires Leon Black and Tony Ressler named it Apollo, after the Massimos with Prince Giacomo Leone Massimo-Branccaccio's mother who is from the Solari family and Prince Fabrizio who is the Prince of Arsoli.

Solari, Ar-soli, and Apollo refer to the Sun.

The Order of the Solar Temple, OTS, or simply the Solar Temple, was a religious group, often described as a cult, notorious for the mass deaths of many of its members in several mass murders and suicides throughout the 1990s.

The OTS was a neo-Templar movement, claiming to be a continuation of the Knights Templar, and incorporated a mix of Rosicrucianism, Theosophy, and New Age ideas.

It was led by Joseph Di Mambro, with Luc Jouret as a spokesman and second in command.

It was founded in 1984, in Geneva, Switzerland.

Switzerland again.

Following increasing legal and media scandal, including investigations over arms trafficking and pressure from an ex-member, as well as conflict within the group, the founders began to prepare for what they described as transit to the star Sirius.

All of which is interesting to me, as it reminded me of a conversation with a lead Carnegie bloodline family member, who said they were firing up the planet and moving it to Sirius.

I warned him that would not be happening and he dismissed my rebuke, saying oh but we will.

Erm no we won't, he died a few years back and returned to Source, not Sirius.

The Order of the Solar Temple is likely an overlay of the Rus/Aryan and Slav clans, who worshipped the sun and the solar disk, which later was overlaid by these same people into the swastika.

The Massimo family have authority over a faction of the Jesuits through their Massimiliano Massimo Institute and former Jesuit Nobile Collegio Mondragone, which had five Massimo presidents.

Wu-Tang also has a song called Wu-Gambinos.

Most mafias pay dues back to the Massimo family through their Corleonesi Clan.

Individual mafia families make billions per year.

It is believed that the Massimo Palazzo has an underground tunnel connecting to the basement of the Vatican, which is how they have maintained their control.

FHSTOS SECTION:

Here is another proof to confirm the proof of our shows and books FHSTOS.

This one piece proves not only our book, but who took over America.

Spanish scientists announced in a new documentary that first aired on Saturday, that DNA analysis shows the 15th-century explorer Christopher Columbus was a Sephardic Jew from Western Europe.

The documentary titled, Columbus DNA: The true origin, which aired on Spain's national broadcaster TVE, showcases the research of a 22-year investigation led by forensic expert Miguel Lorente.

Lorente and his team tested samples of remains buried at Seville Cathedral, long believed to be Columbus' final resting place, though the claim had been contested.

Researchers compared the DNA with those of known relatives and descendants of the navigator who led trans-Atlantic expeditions for the Spanish crown from the 1490s onward, inducing European exploration and colonization of the Americas.

No it did not induce European colonization, it started the Jewish control of the Americas, and a massive untold death and destruction.

Approximately 300,000 Jews resided in Spain before the Reyes Catolicos, Catholic monarchs Isabella and Ferdinand, compelled Jews and Muslims to convert or face exile.

The expulsion of Jews from Spain took place in 1492, the same year as Columbus' famed first voyage.

What a cohen-cidence that is.

This is what the world needs to see and understand, takeover of America was not Europeans, but Jewish.

The same Jews who with genetic manipulation became to look like us, with the whiter skin.

But DNA proves these people to be very different to us and their whole story based upon on a plethora of lies.

FHSTOS made many claims in it that went beyond what people considered was the "norm".

But over time all of those controversial claims of the past are now appearing as the truth in the now.

Here is another example of it.

As hardline Israeli Minister of Finance Bezalel Smotrich has drawn criticism for calling for Israel to expand its borders to Damascus in a recent documentary.

In an interview for the documentary, In Israel: Ministers of Chaos, produced by European public service channel, Arte, Smotrich claimed that Israel would expand "little by little" and eventually encompass all Palestinian territories as well as Jordan, Lebanon, Egypt, Syria, Iraq, and Saudi Arabia.

Little by little is totalitarian creep, and those regions were also revealed as future war zones by General Wesley Clark, which is not his real name as that name is a cover from the fact he is Jewish, not American.

MYSTERY SECTION:

Have you all noticed the increase in reporting about the Northern Lights?

Barely a day goes by now without several MSM reports of how the Northern Lights will be hitting further South than usual.

Our members will know we did forecast that, as we reported of the increase in frequencies now permeating the world.

Scientists are still struggling to know the why, as they are focusing on the effects of it, not the cause.

The cause is the massive changes this planet is undergoing on a spiritual and Cosmic level.

It cannot be changed or stopped despite clowns wishing to block it or is it black it out.

It is another example of THI putting out certain stuff and the collective consciousness picking up on it and then some running with it?

All of you have noticed this phenomenon now, and if it is proven to be the case, then it means we are having an impact upon the world and its thinking.

This should give encouragement to those who are pushing the narrative out and a nudge to those that haven't participated in a meaningful way to maybe start to.

Because the more it gets pushed out, based upon the evidence, the more we can initiate real change on this planet.

One person can't change the world they say, perhaps THI is showing you that you can?
So, will you be the change?

Reports of crashed craft of unknown origin in Washington DC and also a multiple light object parked right over Langley.
Washington and Langley? Isn't that interesting?
These are interesting times, observe don't absorb, embrace not fear.

The Blueprint Assignment team update:

The team got me a connection from another group and I have since had a call with a member from another group, who expressed interest in what we were doing whilst they have their own plans as well.

The call went well and a further call is in the works, meanwhile they are combing our archives.

I have engaged another leader of a group that has done a BP of sorts, plans are to engage that group and see where we can find common ground to move forward on that.

The team got me in touch with another podcaster and I will be engaging him sometime this week.

Finally, I have also approached two podcasters on the possibility of having a three way show based upon our True Horrors Series and also the Have you lost your mind MK Ultra show.

That show is now confirmed and will take place soon.

We have also engaged people in South Africa as they are interested in our Blueprint, which may involve a zoom with their group and possible involvement in creating a South African blueprint.

On top of that we are engaging with a lead scientist and also a military expert in many fields plus we are trying to make contact with a leading person from the Justice world.

Stay tuned for further updates.

MYSTERY SECTION EXPOSE:

I had a controversial thought process and pondering recently, that danced in the problem of the now and also way into the past.

Here is a possible theory in relation to the women.

Long in the past after the creation of the 3 types of beings, whether directly or by Cosmic Genetics a felinoid race appeared, that largely seemed to be a mix of human and cat.

The strange thing about that is, they all appeared to be female.

Depictions of them in hieroglyphs and any images on the internet, all show this race of beings being female.

My own knowledge confirms this, as to my understanding this race of beings were once high on the dimensional scale, with a potential Lyran origin.

Which means they were D9 to D11.

But at some point in the past these race of beings underwent changes and they began to be a domineering, aggressive and controlling race of high arrogance.

Was that the start of the fall of Lyra? The rise of the female only cat species known as felinoids?

In light of that knowledge, I split up the word fe-male.

Fe of course is the symbol for Iron, I looked into the meaning of iron and it said the metal version of iron was inflexible, unrelenting, holding and binding fast.

Which certainly fits the description of the felinoid race I am familiar with.

The holding and binding part is also a description of irons, irons have been used here for shackling people.

But what does it mean I pondered of the fe before male, hence the female.

One derivative of fe aptly is the Latin word is fe-cit, it means he/she made it.

Which can have many connotations, but if we apply the Cosmic genetics component, then a bigger picture emerges.

He or she made it? Is it possible those beings were created from man? Hence fe-male?

Where these felinoids the first of the chimeras, who went against the original creation and then went on a badly wrong path?

The term felinoid was descriptive term used to describe a species that evolved from feline origins, and retain cat-like physical traits as opposed to primates, who followed a primate evolutionary pattern, or insectoids, who were descended from insects.

All of which reveals that Cosmic Genetics was involved in creating this species.

The word felin-oid should also be split up, but what does oid mean? resembling : having the form or appearance of.

Felin becomes feline, which then means the feline having the form or appearance of, or a resemblance of a cat.

We have heard in previous shows about the domesticated cat just appeared only in Egypt and they have no genetic link to the large cats on this planet.

We have heard that the animal conservation groups have declared the cat as an alien invasive species.

The characteristics of most cats is one of contempt for us humans, an air of arrogance and dismissiveness. Most cannot be domesticated as a normal pet, as they are fiercely independent. Some are described as feral or is it fe-ral? I tried to find a definition or mean of ral, in relation to fe-ral. Nothing definitive came up except the US/English and Canadian pronunciations of the word ral, produce rael, as in IS rael. Remember the felinoids as per the hieroglyphs were connected to Ra, Thoth and various other off world beings. A feral cat that lives outdoors and avoids human contact; it does not allow itself to be handled or touched, and usually remains hidden from humans. Feral cats may breed over dozens of generations and become an aggressive local apex predator in urban, savannah and bushland environments. Some feral cats may become more comfortable with people who regularly feed them, but even with long-term attempts at socialization, they usually remain aloof and are most active after dusk. Suggesting they are more lunar or moon based beings, and they don't like the light too much.

Of the 700 million cats in the world, an estimated 480 million are feral. Feral cats are devastating to wildlife, and conservation biologists consider them to be one of the worst invasive species on Earth. Attempts to control feral cat populations are widespread, but generally of greatest impact within purpose-fenced reserves. Some animal rights groups advocate trap-neuter-return programs to prevent the feral cats from continuing to breed. Scientific evidence has demonstrated that TNR is not effective at controlling feral cat populations. They do not allow themselves to be handled or touched by humans, and back away or run when they are able to do so. Which means they are not willing to be integrated here and wish to be separate. If trapped, they hiss, growl, bare their teeth, or strike out. They hiss? Like a snake? Which then adds another potential genetic manipulation after the original one, of these more modern day chimeras having a reptile component. Do you know how these cats were spread out from Egypt? The shipping and marketeers again with all the familiar names. Phoenicians, Etruscans were bringing them on their ships, but also the more prominent controllers as well. The Roman armies also contributed spreading cats and eventually brought them to Britain. We know who in part were the Rome armies, the Draco. Could the Draco be the reptile component in the creation of these hissing cats? Since then, cats continued to be introduced to new countries, often by sailors or settlers. We all know who the "settlers" are. Cats are thought to have been introduced to Australia in either the 1600s by Dutch shipwrecks, or the late 1700s by English settlers. That is the House of Orange group and their Indies Tea Companies out of Holland and Britain. So we now have Egypt, Rome/Draco and the anti-humanity group in various guises spreading their wares via the Silk Road and by ocean control and markets. All contributing to the spread of cats.

We have just mentioned the Draco in terms of the cat species, but I am reminded of something else. When one female member from the past was referencing female behaviors, and the masculine component in women being too strong, she came to the conclusion that the modern day females are not acting like human men, but the Draco masculine. I agreed with that theory as all the evidence points that way. Hence we made MAN in our image, so if the females became like men, then they are in their image. The female propensity to loving cats has me thinking on a much deeper level. More modern women who like cats have a tendency to not want to be around men. That is evidenced within our own group as to how many are single. There is also evidence that men no longer trust women or cats, as evidenced by the amount of single men in our own group and on a much wider scale. Yes we have spoken about the mistrust between the two genders, that in part has derived from social programs engineered by Tavistock and others, but we have the deeper problem of women not trusting women either. Then we have the other phenomena observed even in our own group, of single women with cats. But we all know a single, generally elderly women trait of being surrounded by cats. Does anybody ask, why is that? It is not a random event, it plays out everywhere, but why is that? Why do so many women at a later age end up with a house full of cats and no men? This then leads into a phenomena where women are described as cat ladies. They are also described as sex kittens, which was first attested to in 1954 in relation to Brigitte Bardot. Yet a young girl was described as kitten as early as 1870. The word puss used to describe women in a bad light was 1600, it implied that certain women had unpleasant cat like qualities.

Even the female genitals is described in a cat manner with pussy.
Also men who are heavily controlled by women are called pussy whipped.
So it is not just an odd reference, it is a very detailed and deliberate message.

Here is an article that goes deeper into the term cat lady.

The stereotypical cat lady is one of pop culture's most bizarre characters and easiest punching bags.

She's The Simpsons recurring character Eleanor Abernathy, a reclusive resident of Springfield who speaks in gibberish and hurls her cats at passersby.

She's bedridden Big Edie Beale, tucked inside Grey Gardens, cuddling kittens while raccoons, rats and nature eat away at her decrepit mansion.

She's even Robert DeNiro in a 2004 sketch from Saturday Night Live, in which he plays an eccentric woman who lives with 80 cats.

She's also Vice President Kamala Harris? Labeled recently as a cat lady by Trumps sidekick JD Vance, which is an insult usually reserved for women without children who share their homes with cats, but here, he used it to describe Harris and other politicians who don't have biological children.

No other animal has arguably defined female sexuality in the Western male gaze to the extent that cats have.

Sexually provocative women are called sex kittens; women purr seductively, and are described as having feline good looks.

The flipside to this sexy cat stereotype, however, is the desexualized trope of the cat lady.

The cat lady stereotype is a spinster; a woman without a man, or shorthand for a lesbian.

In her most common form, she is a cardigan-wearing, bespectacled recluse who owns at least one cat, if not several.

As Alice Maddicott, author of Cat Women: An Exploration of Feline Friendships and Lingerin Superstitions said, the historic links between cats and women stretch far back in time, accompanied by a persistent dichotomy between the hypersexual and the unsexual.

Chaucer's Wife of Bath, for instance, was called a cat in order to insult her and suggest she was promiscuous, she went out a-caterwauling, Maddicott says.

In other words, being a cat lady desexualizes you, but that cat can also be used as an insult referring to promiscuity and lust.

This isn't that far-fetched; when you consider another cat and female reference, the contemporary term cougar is used to describe women who date younger men.

The association between women and cats is both older and more widespread.

In ancient Egypt, where cats were domesticated nearly 10,000 years ago, a half-cat, half-human goddess, Bastet, served as a goddess of domesticity, fertility and childbirth.

She protected the home from evil spirits and diseases, and, as with most Egyptian deities, she also played a role in the afterlife as a guide and helper to the dead.

In Greco-Roman times, interpretations of Bastet sprung up as Artemis (Greece) and Diana (Rome), with her link to cats still visible albeit to a lesser extent.

They took human forms, with Artemis still closely linked to cats, and Diana transforming into a cat, specifically in Ovid's Metamorphoses, when the Roman gods fled to Egypt.

Just like the sub gray race did.

In Europe, perhaps the most prominent example exists in Norse mythology: Freyja, the goddess of fertility, love, and luck, rode on a chariot led by two male cats.

In ancient China, pest control and fertility were assigned to the cat goddess, Li Shou.

So, when did the association between women and cats, most notably in the West become more negative and controversial?

The origins of the cat-woman connection:

It will come as to no surprise where that connection came from.

The answer, it seems, lies in Christianity.

Effectively women and cats in unison were associated with pre-Christian goddesses, Maddicott says, adding which the church would have frowned upon and could be the root of some of the suspicion that later exploded with the witch trials.

The Witch trials were a series of hearings against people, primarily women, who were accused of practicing witchcraft and guilty convictions resulted in execution.

In her book The Cat and the Human Imagination, Katharine M Rogers writes that in the Middle Ages, the Roman Catholic Church viewed free-roaming single women in the same light as female cats on the prowl.

Later still, to eradicate Europe of non-Christian beliefs, all non-Christian deities were branded as evil, and cats were declared Satan's minions.

A slew of religious propaganda followed, describing either women, cats, or both, as evil.

catholic mid-14c., catholik, of the doctrines of the ancient Church.

That is spelt with a lower c and last letter a k, holik means holy, so they are saying the cat is holy.

Catholic (n.) member of the Roman Catholic church, 1560s.

So the cat-holic church was not introduced until 700 years ago, not 2000.

But yet again women and cats were linked together, only this time declared evil.

Is that a ruse to deflect from the worship of the cat? As in cat holic?

In 1233, Pope Gregory issued the Vox in Rama, a decretal that outlined Europe's problem with non-Christian religions, accusing them of partaking in satanic cults, while describing these cults' rituals in painstaking detail.
You do realize being non-Christian was the Rus/Aryan and Slavs?
According to Donald W Engels' Classical Cats: The Rise and Fall of the Sacred Cat, this papal decree gave divine sanction for the extermination of the cat, especially black ones, and the extermination of their female owners.
Black cats were a part of the Rus culture at the time.
When Agnes Waterhouse was executed in England's first witch trial in 1566, she confessed that her familiar, which is a supernatural spirit that served as a witch's companion was a cat named Sathan (Satan), who was later turned into a toad.
The 63-year-old was hanged, forever forging the cat-woman-witch connection, as it made its way to the US, until the end of the Salem witch trials.
Cats are independent and often intelligent, things that in the past if people were trying to control women, they would not want them to be, Maddicott says.
In many ways, this upset the Christian hierarchical ordering of life on Earth, where the man was at the top.

Katharine M Rogers further elaborates on this idea, writing: Cats conveniently represent what men have long and bitterly complained of in women: they do not obey and they do not love enough.
Men who cannot control women as they would like, then associate them with animals that cannot be controlled.
It's no wonder, then, that cats featured in US anti-suffrage cartoons in the early 20th Century in order to poke fun at and diminish the women's movement.
Cat ladies in popular culture:
Where single women were once dubbed spinsters and old maids, criticized for their drain on relatives' finances, single women who owned cats were considered doubly doomed.

By the Victorian era this link had entered the cultural milieu.
In 1880, The Dundee Courier declared: the old maid would not be typical of her class without the cat, and that one cannot exist without the other.
This single-woman-plus-cat trope persisted well into the 20th Century, perhaps reaching its pop-cultural zenith in 1976, with the release of the documentary film, Grey Gardens.
Its subjects were Edith Bouvier Beale "Little Edie" and her mother Edith Ewing Bouvier Beale "Big Edie", who were both relatives of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, and Grey Gardens was the name of the 14-bedroom East Hampton, NY home they occupied together.
Overrun with tens of cats, food tins and rubbish lined the house's floors, its grounds infested with overgrown vegetation.
The documentary was, in some ways, a cautionary tale of what becomes of a woman when she is without a man: Big Edie was divorced, and Little Edie never married.
Grey Gardens was very controversial when it was initially released, with some circles feeling you and David were exploiting these two women who seemed to be mentally ill.
Albert and David Maysles who produced that movie, both are Jewish.
The cat lady stereotype helps label women who are seen as unacceptable in terms of patriarchal societal expectations, Maddicott says.
Cat ladies are often older, single and childless, and society tells women that this should be seen as a failure.
If you do not go along with what is expected of you, then you could end up not only alone, but if you have cats, there is no way back and it must lead to the Grey Gardens extreme of squalor and sexualization.

Grey Gardens set the template for cat ladies on screen in the decades that followed.
Both Michelle Pfeiffer and Halle Berry's Catwoman roles featured cat ladies (in Batman Returns (1992) Pfeiffer was one; in Catwoman (2004) Berry is, in a sense, mentored by one; Mrs Deagle from Gremlins (1984); Eleanor Abernathy from The Simpsons (first appearance 1988); and Robert De Niro as a cat lady on SNL (2004).
The cat lady in the likes of Batman and Catwoman where both roles that could be considered as the seductress.
That has implications in the MK Ultra world as we have found out in last week's show and the role of the female Monarch.
The LEGO Movie (2014) featured a cat lady, Mrs Scratchen-Post, owner of some 20 cats.
Cat ladies have featured in literature, too: identical to their later on-screen representations: both in the book and film versions of The Clockwork Orange; Professor Pringle's Aunt Jane in PG Wodehouse's Jeeves and Wooster series, and Miss Caroline Percehouse in Agatha Christie's The Sittaford Mystery.
More recently the fear and cautionary tale of cats and women that has pervaded popular culture now offers, to some extent, comic relief.
In Gilmore Girls (2000-07), a newly single Lorelai calls her daughter Rory when first one cat, then two show up on her doorstep: They know.
The cats know that I'm alone.
I guess I need to start collecting newspapers and magazines, find a blue bathrobe, and lose my front teeth.
Similarly, in an episode of Crazy Ex-Girlfriend (2015-19), Rebecca jokes to her friends in a musical number about becoming a cat lady after she finds herself single.
In other words, the cat lady trope is now, for the most part, a full-on cliché.

These well-worn cat-woman stereotypes have a diminishing purchase today, however.
Women have more liberty and power to exist outside the historical norms: more are choosing to be single, and to be child-free.

Which is true, but that doesn't solve a population crisis, particularly in the white countries.
It doesn't answer the Source based question of why women were created that way to deliver more creations.
Whether they like that fact or not, women were designated as child bearing creations, a failure to do so, is ultimately going against Source.
When a number follow that pattern of behavior then we have a crisis on our hands, as that directly feeds into the depopulation of the planet, which is ultimately only helping the dark force controllers.
They have greater authority in the workplace, and the use of the word spinster, which had fallen out of fashion, has recently been reclaimed by feminists.
The term feminist is also going against Source as well.

Am I living on the, close to or over the edge?
Final piece tonight is a conclusion of the spies and women piece before the break.
It is also a program of division by the dark forces to stop the unity and ultimately declaring yourself as a feminist is sexist.
Even the term cat lady is now widely and proudly used by many cat owners, including celebrities such as Taylor Swift on social media.
Madcott's final line said: Should a woman or a person of any gender for that matter, choose to embrace being a cat lady whether they have one or not, then perhaps the choice to wear that label should be theirs and theirs alone.
Yes they do have that choice, but if its wrapped into a program of division, is that not selfish and also degrading to all women?
Taylor Swift is a program in and of herself, she is famous because she sold out to the dark forces and she has to ultimately dance to their tune.
Taylor Swift is a walking, talking and dancing anti-humanity agenda platform, the fact she celebrates women as cats is indicative.
Isn't it funny women like being called by a certain animal species, the cat, yet any other references between women and animals is labeled as offensive.
Like dogs for instance, why is the dog denigrating to women, yet the cat isn't? In the word salad new age offending by everything, is that not being animalist?
Surely in overview any reference to a female or male as an animal, is a denigration of that gender?
But the cat it is different and makes little to no sense in normal circumstances.
Here is another example that in overview is bizarre in the extreme.
In 1890 an estimated 180K mummified cats weighing 19.5 tonnes were auctioned off in Liverpool UK.
Where did the ancient felines come from and why were there so many?
The BBC looked into a story that said, it tells us much about Victorian society as it does the ancient Egyptians.
Egypt of course is where the cats came from.
A link to watch the short documentary is on the transcript.
Why tonnes of mummified cats ended up in England \(bbc.com\)

For those new, this show is fully transcribed and placed on the website at THI-show.com.
Transcripts longer than 90 days are free, up to date ones are just $5 a month.

But why where they venerated and mummified and held in such high esteem?
Most of it is related to the veneration of the fake solar god Ra and his consort Bastet.
Bastet's symbol was the Egyptian tabby cat and that has created a whole religion around it.
Social media is awash with cat pictures that literally makes no sense whatsoever.
In essence all cats all little Bastets.
So, we have an alien species, that is connected to single women, who produce no children and live a sexless life only with cats.
The cat lady is described above as a potential lesbian, which again means no procreation.
The cat is scornful, will not conform to a group setting even amongst their own kind.
Cats are described as loveless, non-caring and fiercely independent, all of which echoes certain women particularly within the feminist movement.
Yet the person who promoted feminism the most Jermaine Greer, said it was the biggest regret of her life as it has created a monster.
She realize how harmful that program had become.
It described that cats are desexualizer's? Is that part of a population reduction program?

That cats do tend to come to women who are alone, now why is that? Is there some sort of link?
That cats are alien beings.
Cats like women do not trust each other.
You put all that together and you may come to the same conclusion I did when I started this ponder.
If not, here is my theory that could be the main issue and problem that the world faces, when related to the women problem.
I am not saying men are not a problem they are, but the women's issues even in our own group, suggests there is a deeper problem.
To those new THI has spent much time and effort trying to help the women in the group, far more so than the men, but the same problems keep coming up again and again.
We go back in time to the offshoot creation of the chimeric feline, of how all the hieroglyphs are of the felinoid race appear to be female only.
My big ponder here is, are many of the current souls inside of women today, of the felinoid race of beings?
Before you completely dismiss it, read this whole piece again because it may well be a case to be looked at.

They came in the form of the enemy? At one point in the middle ages men didn't trust the females and the cats together, why would that be?
Could it be they knew they were of alien origin and not from here, even the church cutting them off?
If an off world race was coming here to takeover they would have to be subtle if their numbers were few.
The night spy, the cat, kept a watch on the people at night, as revealed in an earlier show.
Now can you see where the thinking comes from?
I guess I just let the spy out of the bag, oops.
