NEWS:

Following on from it being brought up in the Common Sense and the bullying or harassment of women by men. I do not and will not condone that behavior anywhere, least of all in THI. But it is not just my duty to speak out against it, it is your responsibilities, if you see or experience it, call it out. The pieces about women in the show are not for men to jump on the women, it is to point out the issues and for all to help and or correct them. I am asking you all to stamp out bullying. Secondly, there is no inner club or circle, no higher uppers, no closed groups within THI as some have attested to. Neither the village nor the Assignment team are any more special than you all. Everyone is equal and no one including me is above you or anyone else. We are not a hierarchical group and never will be.

The convergence of the shows will continue with this show, as one piece or show rolls into another.

As banks continue to struggle and secretly and quietly they are closing more and more branches. Is that to prepare for the fresh air tokens game? Bank of America has closed more branches than any other major bank in the first nine months of 2024. The banking giant shuttered 132 branches between January and September, from an analysis of official closure data. This significantly surpassed its competitors, with US Bank closing the second-most branches at 101 during the same period. A Bank of America spokesperson said that many closures involved consolidating two nearby branches into one. But closing branches forces locals who rely on in-person services to travel further to reach the nearest branch. Banks must report all planned closures and openings to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), a federal banking regulator. Each week, it publishes a summary of these. In total, more than 700 branches were shuttered, forcing thousands to travel further to access vital services. If that rate of closures continues for the rest of this year, slightly more than 1,000 branches will have shut across the country by the new year. They are bankrupt and have been for quite some time, all awaiting another bail out. Perhaps what they really need to do is, read and adapt the Financial Solution in the Blueprint.

Between 1873 - 1913 there was a cooperative between Denmark-Norway-Sweden. Gold deposited secured the currencies that created fast economic growth between the 3 countries. Then in 1913 the FED had taken over the last remnants of the US economy and did not like the cooperation between the 3 countries and ultimately shut it down. The BRICS States could soon have something that might be as successful with their economies growing way beyond 10% annually. They are discussing to have 40% gold-backing and 60% production-backing of currencies. It is easy to grow Global GDP by 20% annually, if there only had been the will to do so. At that point no one is going to trade with the US, as they have nothing currently backing their dollar.

This is an interesting turnaround by the banks, after years of trying to go cashless, it seems they now wish to reverse it. In a major U-turn in the global war on cash, the government and central bank of Norway, one of Europe's most cashless economies, are seeking to slow or even reverse the mass abandonment of cash. Only 3% of Norwegians used cash in their latest purchase in a physical shop, according to a recent central bank survey. In a bid to change that, a new amendment to Norway's Financial Contracts Act came into force on October 1, that bolsters citizens' rights to pay with cash in retail settings. The new legislation should sound the death knell for all the we only accept cards signs plastered on shop windows throughout the country. I never understand why businesses accept cards, as they have to generally absorb the fees that comes with them. That is why some gas stations in America will offer gas 10c a gallon cheaper if paying by cash.

The BRICS meeting will have changed the world as we know it, as 158 countries are leaving the US Dollar. Tired of the Federal reserve and Crown Agency looting and harvesting their countries, never mind bombing them. The US has threatened all 158 countries with sanctions apparently to try to get them to toe the line, but that no longer works. Russia's economy grew despite US sanctions, as have others. The BRICS will also negate the need for the UN, as they are planning a Multi-lateral consensus building. This will replace the UN, as the UN operated for the Crown/US/Israeli axis only. BRICS I am told will secure the energy production for the whole world. There will also be a BRICS system for Insurance. A BRICS alliance to protect the countries that join the BRICS Coalition. BRICS has to be operated as beneficial to all countries eventually to change the way the old system operated. The US has no solution or diplomacy to offer, only war, weapons, bombs and control systems. African leaders are now flooding into China to get assistance in building roads, harbors, rail and airports all vital infrastructure that was denied by the US/Crown/Israeli junta.

I don't think Americans fully understand the implications of what is unfolding. And unless people in the administration sit up and listen without malice, pre-planned scripts or false his story, this country is going in the toilet. We at THI have known that for 8.5 years plus, we at THI then created the Blueprint to properly fix these matters. And we at THI have waited for the alleged experts and authorities to come and speak to us. They will not come up with a solution, because they are immersed in the problem. It requires fresh ideas, ideals, goals and ways of operating that is the antithesis to many in the system. Your days of uncontested contracts are over. Your days of the shell companies and fronts to keep it all in house, are over. Your days of duping, lying and looting the public are over. Your days of being worshipped or respected are over. All of you in top positions will become pariahs and will be hunted down by an increasingly volatile and angry public. Let's have some meetings to see if we can negate most of that, of how we implement and integrate the Blueprint. Because the Blueprint is our only hope left in America. The public will not accept rules, regulations, dictats, mandates and your fear programs anymore. Myself and others at THI brings a completely fresh approach that is bottom up and not top down. Nothing based on how the failed old system operated and failed, only with one premise, that all systems and ways of operating is for and by the people only. We may not fully have the so-called expertise of those in the system, but remember those in it all failed, as not one organization is thriving without skullduggery. We bring common sense solutions that benefits the all, except the pedophiles and those that bring harm to the children.

This is ironic, amusing, not amusing and perhaps indicative of how American society works or just doesn't. As Internal Revenue Service employees and contractors owe a collective $50 million in back taxes, a new audit by the Treasury Department's inspector general found. Of the more than 3,800 IRS employees who owe back taxes, 2,000 have not even established a payment plan. More than 50 of these delinquent employees have remained employed by the IRS for five years or more. All told, nearly 150,000 federal employees failed to pay their taxes, owing a combined $1.5 billion. Why are they not turning up on their doorsteps with armed guards like some people have to endure or majorly threatening letters? Yet again this prominent two tier system applies, where one group faces the consequences and another doesn't. Sen. Joni Ernst (R-IA), who requested the audit, says IRS employees' failure to pay taxes is particularly galling, considering the $80 billion the Inflation Reduction Act allotted to expand the agency's audit capacity. Surely the irony and hypocrisy can't be missed here: taxpayers are being forced to pay billions more to the IRS to audit America, while the agency won't even collect the tens of millions of dollars in unpaid taxes owed by its employees, Ernst said. The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration reviewed 1,068 cases where IRS management had initiated disciplinary action against employees for tax issues, and found that management often went easy on them, 76 employees were suspended. Most of these cases involved willful, cases resulting in the employee being suspended for less than 14 days, the inspector general's report said. Of 70 cases where the IRS determined that an employee willfully engaged in tax misconduct between October 2021 and April 2023, only 20 were fired, even though the law says that all such employees should be terminated, barring intervention from the IRS commissioner. Although the law requires an employee who has either willfully not filed or willfully understated their taxes due to be removed, subject only to the IRS Commissioner's mitigation, this disciplinary action is not always enforced, it said. There was also an additional list of 69 substantiated willful violations which were referred to a Review Board, which recommended mitigating punishment due to factors, such as the employee having worked at the IRS for many years or having gotten positive employee evaluations. In addition to not firing employees with tax problems, the IRS also re-hired more than 500 people who had previously left the agency after having known tax, performance or misconduct issues. More than 300 were hired despite having unacceptable performance in their previous tenure at the agency. More than 100 had tax issues, and 15 committed fraud/theft. Twenty-four had violated the section of the law that applies to willful tax problems, and 80 others had tax problems that the agency didn't deem willful. The inspector general had previously flagged the issue of re-hiring bad employees and as a result, the IRS had agreed to ensure that hiring managers had access to the personnel files of candidates applying for a second stint. But it apparently kept hiring them despite that. A law prohibits the IRS from rehiring former IRS employees who were involuntarily separated for misconduct or poor performance, yet 10 employees fired between 2007 and 2022 were re-hired after the passage of that law. The solution to all of these problems is in The Blueprint. Sooner or later people are going to have to start addressing the serious issues in every department and come to the same conclusion we did, they need to be scrapped and a new fairer, balanced and actually working model applied. The waste to the taxpayers themselves is enormous in this country and nobody seems to want to address it. For those new, the IRS is not the actual tax collection service for America, but a tribute collector based in Puerto Rico on behalf of the Federal Reserve, which is not a national bank, but a subsidiary to the Crown of the City of London.

The fake government agency is taking a lot of heat currently, as more and more of the American control structure comes under scrutiny and indeed fire. The FEMA is taking fire for its increased focus on migrants, diversity, equity and inclusion policies while its response to recent hurricanes is under scrutiny. Many Americans assume FEMA is only focused on helping respond to disasters, but a closer look at FEMA's recent internal documents, spending and public actions, shows that FEMA has broadened its focus to handling the flow of migrants into the U.S. and attempting to double down on DEI initiatives on gender, sexuality and race. Just like the Military and Agencies, they are all involved in it, all of which reveals they are the problem of running agendas against the people. FEMA's 2022-2026 strategic plan, an overarching document created by agencies to lay out their priorities, named its first goal not as disaster relief, but instead diversity, equity and inclusion. In its first goal, the plan promised to instill equity as a foundation of emergency management. But which type of equity? We presume it is about equal and fairness, but what about this meaning of equity? Equities, the ordinary shares of a limited company, carrying certain rights to assets and profits, is attested by 1904. Shares in a company, that is the definition of "citizens", part owners of the US Inc. Whereby the people should receive benefits, instead they are declared liable for the debt. It's second named priority is to lead whole of Community in climate resilience. But which climate are they referring to, again we assume it is the weather climate, but after Tuesday show, it is clear that is unlikely to be the case. Diversity, equity and inclusion cannot be optional; they must be core components of how the agency conducts itself internally and executes its mission, the plan reads. Mission? Originated in the 1590s, a sending abroad as an agent, originally of the Jesuits. It also means to exchange, remove, to become hostile and quarrel. So what are they really saying to us? EMA makes clear in its plan that equity, which includes racial identity, will be taken into consideration when distributing aid, highlighting that there should be equitable and fair distribution of assistance to all those affected, especially those disproportionately impacted. The especially signifies a belief in the DEI community that certain groups, including transgender people or minorities, suffer more from natural disasters. So, what they are saying is, if you are part of an agenda program, like blacks, migrants, transgender, gay or lesbian, you will get priority treatment. That is not equality, that is removing a whole swathe of communities away from the system.

There is a big furor over the Washington Post and Los Angeles Times not endorsing a candidate for the potential up and coming election. The headline of triggered celebs canceling both papers subscriptions for apparently not endorsing Kalima Harris. So they don't approve not supporting the Demoncrats? Let's have a THI look at that word shall we. Crats is a derivative of cracy as it democracy, but it means word-forming element forming nouns meaning rule or government by. Demo is short for demonstration, not demonstration, but demon-stration. Is that now say the democrats are a rule or government administration by demons? This is another distraction event to get people talking whilst genocide and destruction are being planned in the background. But if so-called celebs are now being marginalized, some already have, remember with the Hollywood strike, perhaps it is time to speak to them and see where it goes? The next day after writing this report I was approached about having a private and or more engagement, by speaking to a top A lister movie star. Very interesting if it unfolds and I and we await to see if it unfolds.

Yet again the murderous anti-humanity group shows their incessant ugly side of themselves to the world. At which point is the whole world going to shut out and stop this barbaric regime and make them the pariahs they are. Israel's parliament voted Monday to ban the operations of the United Nations agency for Palestinian refugees, the main humanitarian aid agency operating in Gaza. Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu released a statement on the legislation reiterating the accusations that UNRWA employees are involved in terrorist activities in the region. An investigation by the U.N. Office of Internal Oversight Services closed in August, with some allegations being debunked and noting that others lacked sufficient evidence. There is no evidence, it is all pro pagan da. However, the agency noted that nine employees may have been involved in the Oct. 7 terror attack against Israel if evidence was authenticated and corroborated. The words may and if were stated in that piece, which means it is not confirmed only supposition. After 12 months since the attack, they would know by now if they were guilty or not and at this point it is a baseless excuse. UNRWA Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said those contracts would be terminated. Netanyahu's office said Monday that UNRWA personnel must be held accountable. Netanyahu must be held accountable for funding Hamas in the first place.

In the 90 days before this legislation goes into effect and after, we stand ready to work with our international partners to ensure that Israel continues to facilitate humanitarian assistance to civilians in Gaza in a manner that does not threaten Israel's security, the statement said. In other words they will use National Security to block the aid, which they have been doing regularly before this legislation. Lazzarini decried the Israeli parliament vote, writing in a post on X that it violated the U.N. charter and sets a dangerous precedent. He accused the legislation of amounting to collective punishment and puts an entire generation of children at risk. This is the latest in the ongoing campaign to discredit UNRWA and delegitimize its role towards providing human-development assistance and services to Palestine Refugees, Lazzarini wrote. Plus it is a petulant child level jab back because of the historic UN Council decision last month. Netanyahu and many of his allies in Israel's government have been in a longstanding feud against UNRWA, but the tensions have only accelerated since last year. UNRWA is a U.N. aid organization established in 1949 to provide aid and protection to Palestinian refugees in the West Bank, Gaza, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria. Some Israeli critics have said that the agency perpetuates a false narrative that Palestinians are refugees, which Lazzarini referenced in his statement. What a ridiculous statement that is, they are not refugees? They have been bombed, threatened and coerced out of their homes, towns and cities by the Israeli junta, yet they don't qualify as refugees? A definition of a refugee for the clearly under educated Jewish junta: one who flees to a refuge or shelter or place of safety; one who in times of persecution or political disorder flees to a foreign country for safety. Yep that is the definition of a Palestinian. Putting an end to UNRWA and its services will not strip the Palestinians from their refugee status, Lazzarini said. That status is protected by another UN General Assembly resolution until a fair and lasting solution is found to the plight of the Palestinians. As the UN Assembly declared, Palestine belongs to the Palestinians and Israel or anyone else has no right to decide what Palestinians can have or not on their own land. The arrogance of the Israelis is off the charts and the world needs to act now before these psychopaths set off atomic or extremely high powered weaponry.

I guess the MSM have cottoned on to that THI keeps saying the correct depth of certain "earthquakes" and so now they are changing their pattern it seems. An earthquake shook off the Oregon coast Wednesday afternoon. The earthquake struck in the Pacific Ocean, more than 170 miles west of Bandon, Oregon at 1:15 p.m. local time, according to the U.S. Geological Survey. The temblor, which was recorded at a depth of over 6 miles, measured a preliminary magnitude of 6.0. Just to let you know is that 6 miles is essentially 10Km's. Are they trying to rock the west coast mantle all the way to California?

Further disturbing reports of atrocities, retarded bureaucracy and deliberate preventing of cleaning up N. Carolina. In certain regions FEMA and the Red Cross have pulled out, that's no loss as they were doing nothing anyway. In many areas no cleanup has even started, none. Help being brought in via tiny houses or shelters are being blocked citing bureaucracy of the land is unstable, can't place that home there, you will need a permit. A permit for a temporary home in a state of emergency? Retarded at best and dark hearted at worst. But that is not the end of it, the Department of Child safety are now in the region where people hardly have any housing and people without the means to move due to having no money or support, is the DCS offering them help and support? No! just listen to this, they are telling parents if you don't clean up your area or get suitable housing quickly, we are going to take your children off you. Can you believe that lunacy? Well you best do, as this is what we are facing. At which point does it take before people realize we have no support, no safety, no security, no god or biblical character coming to save us, nothing. We only have each other, that is it.

An interesting opening speech at BRICS laid out by Cyril Ramaphosa right at the beginning of his speech he said: As we begin our story. Our story? Now where have we heard that before. I haven't been able to go through it, but heard there is a few solutions in the BRICS that matches up with our Blueprint. One of them was renegotiating all trade deals and getting rid of the World Trade Organization. All very interesting and exciting stuff, whether it came from the Blueprint or not.

MEDICAL SECTION:

The pharmaceutical industry paid $1.06 billion to reviewers at top medical journals between 2020 and 2022, according to a research letter published last week in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA). Payments to peer reviewers for The BMJ, JAMA, The Lancet and The New England Journal of Medicine included $1 billion to individuals or their institutions for research and $64.18 million in general payments, including travel and meals. Consulting fees and speaking compensation accounted for $34.31 million and $11.80 million respectively. Among the nearly 2,000 physician peer reviewers analyzed, more than half received at least one industry payment between 2020 and 2022. Although conflicts of interest among journal editors and authors have been investigated, the study authors wrote, any conflicts of interest the peer reviewers may have, have been harder to assess. All a scam these reviews, they are not reviews at all, just pre-prepared scripts of approval. All that money spent is being covered by people who are sick, proving they need people to be sick to generate their shekels. So they have an active component to make people sick, in order to obtain the shekels. No money in cures you see, shareholders won't tolerate it.

Yet more revelations of damaging the people with their harmful, non-overviewed products which is targeting the women again. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is investigating toxic metals found in tampons after lawmakers raised safety concerns, senator Patty Murray announced on Thursday. Sen. Murray said that the FDA initiated an independent review of the literature on the metals' health effects in response to a letter she sent in July, which urged the FDA to examine the findings of a recent study concerning the heavy metals in tampons. The FDA are part of the problem, so why would we ask them to solve the problem? We need an independent commission of people not bought and paid for by fake agencies and medical providers. The study, published in the science journal Environmental International in August, found measurable concentrations of 16 metals, such as lead and arsenic in tampon products made by 14 common brands. Why would there be lead and arsenic in there to begin with? Where is the oversight of these companies?

These are products millions of women are using on any given day, so it's important we absolutely put to rest any concerns about their safety, Sen. Murray said. Murray said the FDA has commissioned an independent contractor to undertake the literature review to assess any possible links between tampon use and adverse health effects. The agency also initiated an internal lab study to determine the amount of metals that may be released by the products during normal use, the senator added. Who are the "independent contractors" though? Is the great question. More than half of Americans who menstruate use tampons. Women may use more than 7,400 tampons in their reproductive years, according to the study. The researchers said that more studies are needed to replicate their findings and determine whether metals can leach out of tampons and be absorbed into the bloodstream through the vaginal lining. To our knowledge, this is the first paper to measure metals in tampons, lead author Jenni A. Shearston said in a statement. Concerningly, we found concentrations of all metals we tested for, including toxic metals like arsenic and lead. The metal concentrations varied depending on whether the tampons were organic or non-organic. Lead was detected in all 30 tampons tested in the study, and there is no safe level of exposure to this metal. Exposure to heavy metals can potentially lead to health issues such as diabetes and cancer.

UC Berkeley said in a statement that it was unclear if metals detected in the study could contribute to any negative health effects, and that future research will test how much of these metals can leach out of the tampons and be absorbed by the body; as well as measuring the presence of other chemicals in tampons. The FDA did not respond to a request for comment by publication time, no change there then. But the great question is, why would there be any metals in what is essentially a piece of cotton wool and a string. How can you have metals in that, unless they were deliberately installed into them. The question then is why the FDA approved a faulty product yet again? This is why the Blueprint suggested independent commissions for practically everything to be truly assessed.

Further exposure of the dangers and the damage caused by the Covid 19 vaccines, which as we have found out in several shows now, not least last Tuesday's show, they were not vaccines at all in the traditional sense, but life and creation altering jabs for control purposes and an agenda. A new peer-reviewed study of over 9 million people finds 620% higher risk of myocarditis after mRNA COVID vaccines. A new comprehensive peer-reviewed study from South Korea has shed light on some long-term risks associated with mRNA-based COVID-19 vaccinations, including a high incidence of myocarditis and pericarditis, as well as an increased risk of Guillain-Barré syndrome (GBS). The study utilized data from the National Health Insurance Service (NHIS) and the Korea Disease Control and Prevention Agency (KDCA), ensuring a thorough analysis of the healthcare data for over 99% of the Korean population. The observational period spanned over one year, providing robust insights into the long-term effects of mRNA vaccinations. The research focused on mRNA-based COVID-19 vaccines BNT162b2 (Pfizer-BioNTech) and mRNA-1273 (Moderna) and also included individuals with a history of cross-vaccination with non-mRNA vaccines AZD1222 (AstraZeneca) and Ad26.COV2.S (Johnson & Johnson). The nationwide, population-based cohort study, involving over 9.2 million individuals, was conducted by researchers from Yonsei University Wonju College of Medicine and investigated whether mRNA COVID-19 vaccines are associated with an increased risk of autoimmune diseases.

The results showed that for most autoimmune diseases, such as alopecia areata, psoriasis, vitiligo, and rheumatoid arthritis, there was no significant increase following vaccination. However, the findings related to myocarditis, pericarditis, and Guillain-Barré syndrome were alarming. The risk of myocarditis was significantly higher in the vaccinated cohort, with an adjusted hazard ratio (aHR) of 7.20, indicating a more than seven-fold increase in risk compared to the historical control cohort. This translates to a 620% increased risk of developing myocarditis after receiving the mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. Pericarditis also showed a significant increase, with an aHR of 2.75, representing a nearly three-fold risk elevation. This corresponds to a 175% increased likelihood of developing pericarditis following mRNA COVID-19 vaccination. Finally, the study found a substantial increase in the risk of Guillain-Barré syndrome, a rare neurological disorder where the body's immune system mistakenly attacks the peripheral nerves outside the brain and spinal cord. The aHR for Guillain-Barré syndrome was 1.62, indicating a 62% higher risk compared to the historical control cohort. Following on from the Japan survey and more damning evidence.

SOCIETY NEWS:

Another damaging report and warning over technology this time over 6G. As 6G technology will use potentially harmful laser beams to create the ultra-fast mobile internet, an expert has warned. The next generation of wireless internet will have to use higher energy radio waves than current 4G and 5G devices, as all traditional cellular frequencies are already in use. No doubt they will now delete 4G and cancel all those phones and force people into buying more new phones. Perhaps at that point more people will decide that they don't need a phone or their type of phones anymore? Scientists are now investigating using higher frequencies, which have a wavelength of more than one millimeter, to create future high-speed networks with larger bandwidth and minimal latency compared to existing technologies. But there are concerns over how to protect users from the highly focused radio waves. These systems are actually like a laser beam that is being pointed. There is a very narrow beam focusing a lot of energy very directly, said Eddie Ball, a radiofrequency engineer and researcher at the University of Sheffield. All of which sounds like a DEW weapon or directed energy weapon which has been used previously to start wildfires.

You can't see it as it is not actually a laser, it is a radio frequency signal, but a lot of care is going to be needed in these new systems to make sure this is pointing away from you, and it's not pointing at your head. What is not known yet is any specific effect from the higher frequency itself, which will need further specific studies. I'm sure biological studies in this area will be performed as part of 6G development, he said. I would not count on it, as the authorities pushing this don't really care about the public that much. There was an issue of damaging frequencies at the very beginning and zero oversight again, plus their studies generally are pre-scripted based upon sales and pay offs as mentioned with the medical reviews. "All traditional cellular frequencies are already in use" Why? Because of the military and agencies and their control of the airwaves via the 1934 Telecommunications Act, which Trump was told how to negate it and refused. There is a better way and frequency that can be used to deliver wifi, but authorities don't want it that way. Time we notified them we don't want their versions of damaging technology.

Here is some positive news as states are fighting back against the woke programs. As Montana has become the first state to specifically ban people dressed in drag from reading books to children at public schools and libraries, part of a host of legislation aimed at the rights the LGBTQ community in Montana and other states. Bills in Florida and Tennessee also appear to try to ban drag reading events, but both require the performances to be sexual in nature, which could be up for interpretation. Both bills also face legal challenges. Lawyers always get involved and looting the public of money. Simple common sense does not require law to be involved. Montana's law is unique because, while it defines such an event as one hosted by a drag king or drag queen who reads children's books to minor children, it does not require a sexual element to be banned. Well that is half measured to say the least. That makes Montana's law the first to specifically ban drag reading events, said Sasha Buchert, an attorney with Lambda Legal, a national organization that seeks to protect the civil rights of the LGBTQ+ community and those diagnosed with HIV and AIDS. It's just constitutionally suspect on all levels, Buchert said Tuesday, arguing the bill limits free speech and seeks to chill an effort that helps transgender youth know they are not alone. They are not alone if they just fit in, but they are being pushed into people's faces with extra rights not afforded to the heterosexual people. That is direct discrimination and runs along the line of the Black Lives Matter program.

The bill, which was co-sponsored by more than half of the Republican-controlled legislature, took immediate effect after Republican Gov. Greg Gianforte signed it on Monday. Gianforte signed the bill because he believes it's wildly inappropriate for little kids, especially preschoolers and kids in elementary school, to be exposed to sexualized content, spokesperson Kaitlin Price said in a statement. The bill initially sought to ban minors from attending drag performances, which were defined as shows that tended to excite lustful thoughts. The legislation was later amended to ban minors from attending sexually oriented or obscene performances on public property. The bill's sponsor, Republican Rep. Braxton Mitchell, said he sponsored the bill because drag shows in recent years have been specifically aimed at children, and spoke of online videos that show children at drag shows. In my humble opinion, there's no such thing as a family-friendly drag show, Mitchell said in April. Drag performers who opposed the legislation said they have separate drag performances for children compared to those intended for adults. Why do they feel they need to do performances to children; this is what people are missing. It amounts to a burlesque show and no sane person should wish to force that on children. Why do the transgender people feel the need to do sexual content to children? All part of the program to reduce the age of consent for sexual engagements. The transgender people have to realize this and fight against those using them for programs.

Big Brother and surveillance rears its head again with this report. A leak reveals that a Facebook partner has software that listens to people to develop better-targeted ads. You may have also been involved in a similar situation. Perhaps one day, you mentioned a product you were interested in, and shortly after, you noticed an advertisement related to it. This could also occur when you discuss shows or series. However, there was no way to objectively prove that a particular device or app was constantly listening to you. Cox Media Group (CMG), one of the big players in TV and radio in the US, reportedly has Active Listening software that does just that. According to the 404 Media report, the software would use an artificial intelligence model to capture useful parts of user conversations. The company would collect the data using mobile phones and other devices with microphones connected to the Internet. Then, CMG would use data on the person's behavior and conversations to create more effective targeted ads. The 404 Media team discovered the "Active Listening" software through a CMG presentation that reached their hands. A post on the Cox official blog already suggested the existence of something similar. We know what you're thinking. Is this even legal? It is legal for phones and devices to listen to you. When a new app download or update prompts consumers with a multi-page term of use agreement somewhere in the fine print, Active Listening is often included, the now-deleted blog post said. Which is why I kept warning about apps, all apps should have multiple boxes of consent or otherwise, not you have to accept their listening or spying to use the apps. That is based upon a fraud and should be an individual choice to use the app with or without it. These technology companies need reigning in badly. This piece also plays into Tuesday's show.

EXPOSE:

This piece ties into Tuesday's show in many ways, plus an explosive piece coming up later in the show.

The official U.S. military publication Army University Press published an article written on behalf of the Department of Defense calling for the ethnic cleansing of Gaza and destruction of Lebanon in a November 2023 online exclusive. This outlet is described on its website as the US Army's premier multimedia organization, and an entry point for cutting-edge thought and discussion on topics important to the Army and national defense, which makes timely and relevant information available to leaders in the military, government and academia. You by now should know when the word national is involved, skullduggery follows. While the article notes that the views expressed in this article are those of the author and do not reflect the views of the U.S. Army, Department of Defense, or any other agency of the U.S. government, the fact that such a radical proposal was published in the top U.S. Army publication, demonstrates that explicit support for ethnic cleansing and genocide is well accepted in its intellectual and policy-making circles. It should be clear to all who have heard or read our FHSTOS shows, all 38 of them to date. That wherever the word US military appears, death, destruction, rape, pillaging, poisoning and anti-humanity practices unfolds.

The article's publication comes amid Israel's unprecedented genocidal assault on the besieged Gaza Strip following the October 7 Hamas attack. Israeli occupation forces have targeted residential buildings, schools, hospitals, ambulances, medical personnel, rescuers and first response teams, journalists, United Nations employees, mosques, churches, infrastructure, and have cut off electricity and communication services. On November 10 2024, the Gaza Health Ministry announced it had lost the ability to track casualties, with its last official count at 11,078 deaths, including 4,506 children, 27,490 injuries and an additional 2,700 people trapped under the rubble. An estimated 1.7 million people are displaced, including 900,000 in 154 UNRWA shelters, some of which have been bombed by Israel. That is describing the latest attack, the overall numbers of Gazan deaths is officially 44k but suspected to be nearer 300K. The article (archived) was written by Omer Dostri, a former Likud apparatchik who is now a national security strategist at the hawk Jerusalem Institute For Security and Strategy (JISS) hmm the SS rears its head again, is a think tank and researcher at the Israel Defense And Security Forum. Established in 2017 to influence domestic Israeli discourse, and drawing much of its staff from the Likudnik Begin-Sadat Center for Strategic Studies, JISS is funded by the Tikvah Fund, a cutout of the U.S. Republican party which seeks to promote a western-style neoliberal capitalist model. The Tikvah fund has two branches, predictably both of them are in New York. A creation of the late New York billionaire mogul Sanford Bernstein, who later changed his first name to Zalman upon taking Israeli citizenship, a common theme that to hide the fact they are Jews. But why are they always hiding their identity? Forget the antisemitic nonsense, if the world was so antisemitic why are they at the top of every organization in almost every country? Think about it for a second, how can they rise to all the top positions if everyone is antisemitic and persecuting them? Does that make any sense? No, then it is a program.

It is apparently funded today by his estate, along with contributions from American Zionist oligarchs including Rebecca Sugar, a secretive group of Jerusalem businessmen, and Australian venture capitalist Greg Rosshandler. Sugar is described as non-binary playing into the transhumanist program and is also Jewish. Greg Rosshandler is also Jewish. Tikvah is chaired by neoconservative financier Roger Hertog who is all Jewish, seeing the pattern yet? I am pleased to introduce a study I authored on behalf of the US Department of Defense and the US Army's Military Review journal. The research delves into the political, strategic and tactical aspects of the Hamas attack on Israel and the war in Gaza, Dostri boasted on LinkedIn. Which means the US DOD and US Army are also Jewish fronts. Well done, commented Miriam Reichman, former political intern at Israel's mission to the UN. While the U.S. army paper describes October 7 as a terrorist attack, repeating the discredited Israeli government claims about beheadings and rapes, it acknowledges the sophisticated nature of the operation. This heinous attack was the work of a terrorist organization, yet it displayed an exceptional military and professional approach akin to the methods employed by special forces in regular armies. What like the special forces the IDF or the CIA?

This underscores the significant military and intelligence capabilities that Hamas had meticulously developed over the years, specifically in preparation for this devastating event, he wrote. But evidence shows the Israelis allowed it to happen for pro pagan da purposes and as a preface for a pre-determined genocide program. The optimal choice for Israel is to occupy the Gaza Strip: Dostri explains how Israel's deterrence policy has collapsed as a result of the attack, and why it must formulate a new strategy to maintain its system of supremacy. There you have it in their own words, supremacy. Supremacy a state of being supreme or in the highest station of power or authority. In this case over other people's lands. Like I have said they are not interested in sharing anything, they want total control over the whole planet. He lists four options to accomplish this. The first three serve as window dressing, described in brief, until he arrives as the preferred choice of ethnic cleansing. The first two options describe an Israeli military occupation of Gaza for a period several months to two years, followed by the installation of either a local administration that has no affiliation with any Palestinian political body, whether Hamas or the Palestinian Authority, or to install the Palestinian Authority as a governing body. The first scenario would see the enclave partitioned into four distinct self-governing regions, each presided over by a prominent tribal authority.

However, he dismisses these options as impractical because the local administration option would be too feeble to secure popular support, and the Palestinian Authority's weakness could potentially lead to a loss of power to radical Islamists upon their resurgence. The third option, he writes, is for Saudi Arabia, Bahrain or the United Arab Emirates to assume civilian control, while Israel or the United States deploy occupation forces. However, the paper emphasizes that uncertainties of coordination make this idea unrealistic. The ideal option, and that which Dostri believes will re-establish deterrence and provide security, and achieve victory, is for Israel to re-occupy Gaza for the long term, ethnically cleanse hundreds of thousands of its Palestinian residents, exponentially expand the size of the kill zone, and establish Israeli settlements inside Gaza.

From a security perspective, the optimal choice for Israel is to occupy the Gaza Strip and establish a lasting military presence, he writes. It has nothing to do with security as Netanyahu and his presentations of boundary maps confirmed. They want the whole of the Middle East and everyone in it apart from some manageable slaves moved out and pushed into their enemies territory, Europe and Russia. Deleting a load of people on the way, makes things and agendas easier to control and operate. Dostri cites public support for establishing settlements in Gaza from some members of the Knesset, public figures, journalists, and nongovernmental organizations, who maintain the long-standing Zionist belief that stealing land and establishing colonies is the proper response, rather than one that engenders violent reaction from Palestinians. Totalitarian creep that is, now they are going for it all, they won't stop unless we the people stop them. The perspective that forms the foundation for those advocating the establishment of Israeli settlements in Gaza, is that seizing and securing land constitutes a more substantial blow to radical Islamist terror groups, than the elimination of terrorist operatives and high-ranking leaders. It surpasses the destruction of buildings and infrastructure and holds more weight than capturing prisoners. It is seen as the most deterrence means and a clear victory for Israel. To them, a robust ground campaign in the Gaza Strip, encompassing the occupation of territories, the creation of new Israeli settlements, and the voluntary relocation of hundreds of thousands of Palestinians to Egypt with no option for return, will greatly fortify Israeli deterrence and project influence throughout the entire Middle East.

While Dostri presents confiscation of land and creation of settlements as an innovative concept, this has always been the basis of Zionism, ideologically and practically. In his book Ethnocracy: Land and Identity Politics in Israel/Palestine, Israeli scholar Ofer Yiftachel describes the process of Judaization, in which Zionist authorities expropriate land from Palestinians and transfer it to Jews. They then restrict Palestinian development while promoting Jewish-only colonies, and the Hebraization of Palestinian place names, and redrawing boundaries to ensure Zionist dominance. This has been put into practice in the Galilee and Negev, which are part of modern-day Israel, as well as the occupied territory of the West Bank. This method has been a constant since the creation of the State of Israel until today. I will disagree with it is only since Israel 1947, this has gone on for 10's of thousands of years. These people do not have a country or base, they are a nomadic tribe designed upon removing all native habitants of land and ruling the whole planet. If that wasn't true, then why have this group been thrown out of 106 countries in the last 2000 years. There has never been a country called Israel, they operate under what even the bible mentioned as, The House of Israel. The bible is ultimately their book of control, to convince people to support their takeover of the planet.

Ofir Dayan, who works in the Institute for National Security Studies and is the daughter of former Israeli ambassador to the UN Dani Dayan, wrote an article in August 2023 titled The answer to terrorism, the strengthening of settlements in Judea and Samaria, which is the occupied West Bank. The Israeli NGO Kerem Navot noted that Government decisions on increasing the settler presence in the West Bank, after events in which civilians are murdered or Israeli soldiers are killed, is a routine matter in Israel. In February, the Israeli government explicitly stated, that in response to the murderous terrorist attacks in Jerusalem, the Security Cabinet decided unanimously to authorize nine communities in Judea and Samaria the occupied West Bank. In Dostri's paper, the ethnic cleansing/settlement option, like the first and second options presented, would involve creating a collaborator regime to rule over the remaining Palestinians of a central local leadership, or partitioning the territory into self-governing districts with distinct leadership in each district.

These population centers would be surrounded by substantial buffer zones spanning several kilometers, to provide strategic depth and enable swift responses to potential future terrorist incursions. These are the smart cities they are promoting. Israel has long implemented so-called buffer zones declaring that land, most of which is for agricultural use, hundreds of meters from the Israeli fence into Palestinian territory must be devoid of any structure, and that Palestinians who set foot into or near this area, are shot on site by Israeli snipers and remote controlled machine guns. That was all the olive fields that was the main industry of the Palestinians. Dostri's proposal calls to expand those zones, consuming more land, and further concentrating the Palestinian population in even small amounts of dense urban terrain, much of which is now rubble as a result of Israel's mass-destruction of Gaza. This is the same strategy applied to the occupied West Bank, where Palestinian population centers are surrounded by militarized Israeli settlements strategically located to prevent any contiguous Palestinian territory.

Isn't it ironic of how the whole world denigrated Germany for invading and taking over countries and land, yet it doesn't apply when Israel or Jews do it?

Dostri is even more explicit in opinion pieces published in Israeli media outlets. In a November 19 article in the Jerusalem Post, he calls for Israeli settlements to be established in Gaza, essentially using Israeli civilians as human shields in order to provide security. For your security, yeah right. It is essential to recognize the grave and strategic error of artificially segregating security rule from civilian rule in Gaza. This division is inherently flawed, as genuine security will be elusive without a sustained Israeli civilian presence on the ground. History demonstrates that in regions devoid of Jewish settlements, Israeli security forces eventually withdrew, resulting in the transformation of those areas into terrorist bases. This pattern has manifested in various parts of Judea and Samaria, Lebanon, Gaza, and even, albeit to a lesser extent, in Sinai. There's no reason to assume that a similar scenario won't unfold in Gaza once again. Without an Israeli civilian presence, the IDF forces, lacking a military purpose, are likely to depart, providing an opportunity for Palestinian terrorism to resurface. That is mind memery and based upon fear, oh if we don't clear it out, they will build again and become terrorists. No, the terrorists are the Israelis themselves. They are taking other people's land – the definition of that is terrorism, yet amazingly that doesn't apply to Israel.

Moreover, Israeli settlement in Gaza offers advantages such as enhanced freedom of action for security forces, improved protection with the addition of civilian security forces, and the acquisition of a high-quality, long-term intelligence picture. Strategic architectural planning may involve breaking up the territory into different segments, facilitating better control for security forces. Similar to the situation in Judea and Samaria, settlements in Gaza would provide crucial support and both physical and spiritual assistance to soldiers in the field who understand the purpose behind their presence. Dostri reiterates his call for ethnic cleansing of Palestinians from Gaza, writing that Israel should resist the return of the hundreds of thousands of Gaza residents who evacuated to the southern Gaza Strip, and calls to make agreements with regional countries to expel Palestinian refugees into the Sinai. Just like I said, they want rid of all of them, what people don't know is, eventually they want rid of the Jews as well. These people are not Jews, people have to understand that. He hails the war on Gaza as a historic and unparalleled opportunity to reshape the threat landscape and alter the demographic balance in the region. Finally, he concludes that Israel should deceive the world about its true intentions, writing that the country's leaders should not let this opportunity slip away, and certainly, they should avoid loudly announcing their renunciation of it to the entire world in advance. Israel should deceive the world about its true intentions he just said.

Just why are we falling for this psychopathic regime? They are liars, cheats, murderers, harvesters and psychopaths. Why are we tolerating these people or beings in our midst?

Strategy for war on Gaza: To accomplish these goals, Dostri's Pentagon paper proposes a comprehensive and synchronized military operation with the aim of occupying the Gaza Strip, consisting of an aerial bombardment campaign followed by a ground operation. His plan largely follows what the Israeli military is currently implementing, and calls for the ground operation to last two to three months. He calls for electronic warfare, electromagnetic warfare and cyber warfare and for disruptions to the power supply resulting from the Israeli government's decision to cut off electricity to Gaza. Dostri believes this campaign will destroy Hamas' tunnel system, as well as deliver a psychological blow through shock and awe tactics that will undermine their will to continue fighting. Shock and awe tactics? Now you know where Donald Rumsfeld got that meme from. This campaign of mass-murder and destruction, according to Dostri, will defeat Hamas militarily and force it to give up armed struggle. This overall strategy is intended to prompt a swift surrender of the enemy, providing the State of Israel with political maneuverability to make decisions according to its objectives, Dostri writes.

That object is based upon demographics, Israel due to birth rates will within 10 years be a minority in Israel, this is why they are deleting the Palestinians. Dostri acknowledges that the mission will come at a relatively high cost in terms of soldier casualties and resource allocation, however, such sacrifice will ensure its success. Yes it is the sacrifice part this cult knows and operates best. You see to them, we should all sacrifice ourselves for their greater good, they are the chosen ones, yet nobody asked where is the proof of such a startling claim? Where is the proof they ever owned a piece of land now called Israel? Where is the proof that god gave them the rights of the lands? Do they have a title, allodial or otherwise? Then why are we accepting their false claims without them providing a shred of proof? The Hamas attack of October 7, he says, has forced Israel to abandon its hesitance to send soldiers into harm's way, and convinced its leadership that the price in blood is worth it. The events of 7 October have irrevocably altered the circumstances, compelling Israel and the IDF to make difficult decisions. You wish to know why it started on October 7th? You know how they love their dates. The first recorded event of October 7th was 3761 BC The epoch (origin) of the modern Hebrew calendar (Proleptic Julian calendar). Well I never! As significant as the risks to the lives of IDF personnel are, it is now inescapable that the imperative is to defeat Hamas and assume control of the Gaza Strip for the benefit of future generations, he writes. What about the generations of Palestinians they are destroying?

The destruction of Lebanon's national and critical infrastructure: The paper recognizes that the war in Gaza can easily escalate into a regional war. He calls for Israel to create the perception that Israel is behaving unpredictably in Gaza to deter Hezbollah and argues that the more Israel intensifies its attacks on Hamas, with greater and more lethal force, the more likely it is that Hezbollah will be deterred. He believes that Israel's deterrence vis-a-vis Hezbollah is understood particularly when the United States deploys its most formidable forces to the region and openly and resolutely supports Israel, coupled with explicit U.S. threats against Israel's adversaries considering involvement in the conflict. Proving how much the US is a puppet of the Israeli junta, beyond pathetic. But maybe those at the top of the power structure in the US are the same type of beings as the Israelis? However, this deterrence policy against Hezbollah is undermined by U.S. pressure on Israel to avoid major escalation in its northern front, which has been expressed in recent days by senior Biden administration officials. The strategy of maintaining a low-intensity armed conflict for the duration of the war on Gaza will exhaust Hezbollah's military arsenal, he believes, and should be paired with targeted assassinations of Hamas and Islamic Jihad leaders in Lebanon. Dostri argues that Israel must also maintain the possibility of an all-out war on Lebanon, involving a massive air campaign and ground invasion into the southern part of the country. This option would mean the complete annihilation of Hezbollah, and the destruction of Lebanon's national and critical infrastructures, which will eventually lead to the country's collapse. So they can come in with their CIA puppets and take over that country as well, is what they are saying. In essence they are doing what NATO are doing to Russia, moving the base of operations closer and closer to their real target, Iran. Don't believe that? Then this report that came in today tells a different story.

As images and videos of dead NATO, US and Canadian agents who had infiltrated Russian soil. The US Army's elite 75th Ranger Regiment and Special Forces Airborne Reconnaissance Regiment were conducting a sabotage mission on Russian soil and paid a heavy price. The media are lying to you through their teeth, the media you follow will get you all killed. (DYU) Well do you? In any case, Dostri writes, Israel will eventually invade Lebanon to defeat Hezbollah, as it is currently doing with Hamas in Gaza. The question now is not whether Israel will act to defeat Hezbollah but when. He also recognizes the ability of the Syrian military, popular militias in Syria and Iraq, and Yemen's Houthis, though he downplays any threat they pose, as their missile arsenal have not yet reached a range that poses a substantial and immediate threat to Israel. Which reveals the next stage after Lebanon, is Syria. Dostri article was published prior to the Houthi seizure of an Israeli cargo ship, so he underestimated the threat entirely. Notably, however, Dostri's half-baked analysis does not address the possibility of direct Iranian involvement in a regional war, which is a certainty if Israel were to attempt to militarily defeat Hezbollah and raze Lebanon, as he calls for. This would pose an existential threat to Israel.

Genocide into a regional war: Overall, Dostri's paper amounts to a call to commit crimes against humanity. It adds to the numerous statements that, in the case of a war crimes trial, would serve as clear evidence of intent to carry out genocide, which is notoriously difficult to establish. The fact that this call was published on behalf of the Department of Defense and in the U.S. Army's premiere media arm, raises the questions about American culpability in the genocide of Gaza. All of which is being carried out primarily with bombs and missiles manufactured in the American factories, and what the U.S. government's intentions truly are. While Dostri writes as if he were a child playing with toys in his sandbox, he ignores the wider geopolitical risks and the likelihood that the escalatory actions he advocates, particularly in Lebanon, would transform Israel's campaign of mass-destruction in Gaza into a devastating regional conflict, that could even spark a possible world war involving nuclear weapons. With Israel's barbaric assault now in its seventh week, only time will tell how far it will go, how many people it will kill, and whose borders the war will reach. The world must come together and defeat this anti-humanity cult once and for all.

FHSTOS SECTION:

Recently we revealed that Christopher Columbus was declared to be Jewish after DNA testing. This further confirms FHSTOS, when it was stated the Spanish Conquistadors that raped, pillaged and murdered millions of people native to the Americas at the time, where actually all Sephardic Jews. With Columbus also being revealed as Jewish, the plot thickens and here is why. The mainstream media has revealed that Christopher Columbus was Jewish, he found America in 1492, the same year that Columbus and the Jews were expelled from Spain. The Columbus voyage was funded by two Jews opposed to what Liberals teach us in history about Queen Isabella. Louis de Santangel and Gabriel Sanchez advanced an interest free loan of 17,000 ducats from their own pockets to help pay for the voyage, as did Don Isaac Abrabanel, rabbi and Jewish statesman. Columbus famous voyage left Spain the day after Tisha B'Av (the 15th day of the Hebrew month of Av, or August 3, 1492). Do you know what date he arrived? October 7th, what a cohen-cidence.

Many times in his manuscripts, and also in his apostilles, Columbus uses the form of Casa Santa (the holly house) that corresponds perfectly to the Jewish term Beit Eloka, that no Christian writer would use, to design the Temple of Jerusalem. A silver coin should be given to a Jew living in the Jewish district of Lisbon. The above mentioned sentence is included in the last will of Columbus, dated May 19th, 1506, and many scholars consider that Columbus is following a typical Jewish tradition of the Jewish testaments. In his writings Columbus expresses many times, insisently, his wish that the Temple of Jerusalem should be reconstructed. He even proposes to the Catholic Kings, that all the gold exported from the American Colonies should be used to create an army and navy for a future war of reconquest of Jerusalem. Proving again that the Catholic church is a front for these Jewish groups. The gold was wanted so that the Temple could be restored to its former glory. That former glory involved child sacrifice, they must have a different meaning of glory as well as holy. America is doing that today by assisting Israel with building their third temple.

The Book of Prophecies by Christopher Columbus [1501] in Chapter and Columbian Library [Seville, Spain]. This "Book of Prophecies" consists of 84 pages, of which only 70 are preserved. The Manuscript is written in Spanish and includes 385 Biblical quotes and quotes from Church Fathers. 326 quotes are from the Old Testament and 59 quotes are from the New Testament. Columbus is listed speaking exclusively about seven headed dragons and America's role. Interesting the Sephardic Jews speak of the dragon, yet other Jews although they really are Egyptians of the past, speak of the seven headed serpent. The Serpent race and the Dragon race from long in the past, but their minions here continue their worship on today. Isis, Horus and Ra symbolize the serpent race and we have covered them many times. Then you have the color coded dragon groups who are/were operated by reptilian beings. Could this describe the split between the Jewish cultures and ultimately their own final battle for control is Armageddon? Could this be borne out by the Rothschild's clan and the Black Sun? Remember Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.? The "good" agents where the shield, as in Rothshield? Fighting against the "bad" agents the Hydra. Hydra Draconis is the Dragon race, which could also symbolize the Black Sun. Why the Black Sun? Because the Dragon race was determined to oust the serpent race led by Ra, who was declared the fake solar god. Hence they wished for the serpent sun represented by Ra to go dark, meaning he was defeated. Ultimately they are both two sides of the same coin, fighting endlessly for power and control and leaving many other races and planets in ruins.

This is a mini expose of sorts and gives horrifying news coming out of Gaza thanks to Uncaptured Media, with all the usual culprits involved. The warnings from Tuesday's show should be added to this piece in your thinking processes. Since the first months of the war or genocide in Gaza, retired U.S. Army general and disgraced former CIA director David Petraeus has been leading a push for Israel to turn the Gaza Strip into a series of concentration camps, what he calls gated communities. For gated communities reveals not only concentration camps, but smart city technology roll outs as a test case for future deployment in other areas, including the United States. He has made numerous appearances at think-tank conferences, penned articles, and given interviews to top U.S. foreign policy publications to promote the concept of a counterinsurgency strategy similar to the one that he led in Iraq. Following on from that, this is what the psychotic government are doing now. The Biden administration has approved the deployment of 1,000 CIA-trained private mercenaries as part of a joint U.S.-Israeli plan to turn Gaza's apocalyptic rubblescape into a high-tech dystopia.

Starting with Al-Atatra, a village in the northwestern Gaza Strip, the plan calls to build what the Israeli daily Ynet calls humanitarian bubbles, turning the remains of villages and neighborhoods into tiny concentration camps, cut off from their environs and surrounded and controlled by mercenaries. This comes as Israel carries out daily massacres and ethnic cleansing in northern Gaza, enacting the proposal known as The Generals' Plan, originally crafted by former Israeli national security chief Giora Eiland to turn Gaza into a place where no human being can exist. The plan, approved by White House National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan, calls for the Israeli military to clear out pockets of Palestinian resistance, which it has failed to achieve, demonstrated by the recent killing of Israeli Colonel Ehasn Daksa, the highest ranking officer to lose his life in the year long war. 48 hours after stamping out resistance, they plan to erect separation walls around the neighborhood, forcing its residents, and no one else, to enter and exit using biometric identification under the CIA contractors' control. Those who do not accept the biometric regime would be refused humanitarian aid. This plan, first reported by Israeli journalist Shlomi Eldar, allocates $90 million for the residents to rebuild their homes, and calls to appoint a local sheikh to the position of head of the council. That local sheikh will be a paid Mossad agent and or CIA puppet. The plan is a 21st century reboot of Washington's infamous, failed Strategic Hamlet Program during its war in Vietnam in the 1960s, updated with a modern biometric program the US military-industrial complex has incorporated into its operations since, in particular, the beginning of the so-called War on Terror. The U.S. has even created a little known agency called the Defense

Forensics and Biometrics Agency to advance this. We covered that in Tuesday's show. The company at the forefront of this plan is called Global Delivery Company, described in its promotional materials as an Uber for war zones. The sheer flippant way they describe genocide is pure evil.

Apart from Kahana the other members of the board are indicative.

1. Paul Hsu board member for the State of California and also Asian Public Affairs, which almost sounds like AIPAC to me.
2. Carlin Wong worked for Symantec and other tech companies.
3. Oded Ailam is a Mossad agent.
4. Robert Seiden a high powered NY lawyer.
5. Justin Sapp a US Military Green Beret and CIA agent.
6. Doron Avital An Elite Unit leader, likely the 8200, works with Homeland Security and involved in finance Fintech and blockchain.
7. Yossi Kuperwasser a Mossad agent and IDF soldier.
8. David Tzur a Mossad agent and IDF soldier.

Israeli-American businessman Moti Kahana owns it and employs several top Israeli and American military intelligence officials, including retired U.S. Navy Captain Michael Durnan, retired U.S. Special Forces captain Justin Sapp, former Israeli military intelligence division head Yossi Kuperwasser, and former Israeli military chief intelligence officer David Tzur. Yet again it is an Israeli-American, forget the American aspect as they are not interested in America outside of using it as a cash and resource puppet. The US is the dancing slave for these psychopaths and it is time every American understood that.

Kahana has played a key role in the dirty war against Syria in the 2010s and worked with the CIA-backed Free Syrian Army to provide food and medical care to militants and civilians alike. GDC has also been involved in Ukraine, where it collaborated with the Zionist organization, the American Joint Distribution Committee, to operate a refugee camp in Romania near its border with Ukraine. Confirming Ukraine is a Jewish operation. He has also been in negotiations to free the former Israeli military intelligence officer Elizabeth Tsurkov, who was detained in Iraq in 2023. Kahana's Gaza plan has been in the works since at least February 2024. He presented the plan to establish these electronic cantons, what Jewish News referred to as "gated communities" to the White House, State Department and Defense Department, as well as Netanyahu. U.S. officials did not respond. While the Israeli military had agreed, the Israeli prime minister shot it down. "What's the rush?" he quipped.

The Israeli military has also been in talks with Kahana to deploy its mercenaries to secure the Netzarim corridor, which bisects the Gaza Strip. The GDC's CIA mercenaries would be in full control of humanitarian aid, thereby supplanting Hamas and ending its governance, they figure, achieving a long-term goal of the Israeli war. Except Hamas was funded by Qatar and Netanyahu as we revealed earlier. All those labeled as terrorist group whether Isis, Isil, Is, Al Queda, Wahabi, Sunnis etc are Mossad and CIA fronts for extortion, destruction of lands and genocide. All of them. If the pilot goes through successfully, it will be the model for the rehabilitation of Gaza and will result in the suppression of Hamas's civilian control in the Strip," notes Eldar. The plan resembles a proposal published in the U.S. Department of Defense's top journal, written by Likudnik think tanker Omer Dostri, who was appointed as Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's spokesperson in August 2024. This is what we are dealing with now, America is finished and people have to understand what is truly playing out here. The America you knew is over and a long period of deep austerity, homelessness, job losses, control systems, weather wars and perhaps the legendary FEMA encampments will come into play. Remember recently we exposed how the DOD and government has given the green light for the US Military to fire on their own people?

First Gaza and then the lower 48? Do you think that is unrealistic? Think of all the other warnings I gave which you doubted, which has since come to fruition. The Greater Israel expansion I warned of 10 years ago is now unfolding, no one took any notice and look at what is happening. In overview, Americans are facing consequences of actions on an unprecedented scale, why, because you all kept ignoring the crimes against humanity imposed on other countries in our name and with our money. And hardly any complained about it. These are going to be very tough times, as we have nothing to export aside from weaponry. But BRICS countries are increasing and they will trade less and less with America. We have nothing to offer, our intelligence levels are too low, we hardly produce anything to sell due to the closure of the manufacturing industries and also our standing with the rest of the world is diminishing by the day. Expect the UK/Crown to ditch the American experiment and throw America under the bus, Israel will follow when they have extracted everything they want. America the land of hope and dreams? More like apathy and cowardice, despite me give you all a plethora of warnings, please change it.

MYSTERY SECTION:

This is an addition to the earlier piece of the concentration camps ran by the CIA mercenary/contractor groups. We mentioned Omer Dostri as being involved, but he wrote a piece recently describing something that is bad on the surface, but brings up endless possibilities and realities. He said: Over the past decade, the use of "Gray-Zone conflict" by various actors in the international arena has increased. The Gray-Zone conflict is defined as a conceptual strategic space between peace and war, in which actions take place beyond the threshold of peace, but do not deviate deliberately from a threshold of direct military confrontation on a large scale. That is the sleight of hand tactics they employ, they have used it in Ukraine. Where it looks like NATO/US/UK and Israel are not fighting Russia, but they are. All of this is backed and supported by the corrupt media. The aim of this conflict approach is to achieve political, economic, and military gains in the international or regional arena, and at the same time, to avoid igniting military responses from opponents.

The research objectives are theoretical and empirical. Empirical? We know that as an extension of an empire which most people are familiar with. Our members know it now as the M pire, M for Marduk and pire means fire. But it has another meaning which can add more to the concentration camps mentioned earlier. Because in the 1560s, empirical meant originally in medicine, pertaining to or derived from experience or experiments. The theoretical objectives of the study are to present a comprehensive theory by conceptualizing the terms of the Gray-Zone conflict. Was Covid a gray zone empirical conflict? The gray zone conflict is that a pointer to the origin of the program? The Grays?

There has been a debate online about people wearing red strings around their wrist. Predictably it relates to the Jewish. Wearing a thin scarlet or a crimson string as a type of talisman is a Jewish folk custom, which is practiced as a way to ward off misfortune which is brought about by the evil eye. The tradition is popularly thought to be associated with Kabbalah and religious forms of Judaism. The red string itself is usually made from thin scarlet wool thread. It is worn as a bracelet or band on the wrist of the wearer. The red string was worn in many cultures and not founded solely in Jewish culture. Hinduism and Chinese culture has also worn this red string or bracelet for luck, love and to ward off evil. The only case we find a public exhortation to wear red strings is in the 1490s: When Jews were not allowed to wear Tefilin, Rabbi Abraham Saba recommended Jews to wear a red string on their hands to remember the commandment of Tefilin. What are tefillin? Tefillin are a pair of black leather boxes containing Hebrew parchment scrolls. A set includes two, one for the head and one for the arm. Each consists of three main components: the scrolls, the box and the strap. Have the Israelis not noticed; the two boxes are identical to the Muslim Mecca site. I thought the Jewish were different to the Muslims? Yet why are they worshipping black cubes like the Muslims?

Today in Israel, it is common to see elderly women peddling scarlet thread for pilgrims and tourists, especially in the Old City of Jerusalem. Outside of Israel in the late 1990s the red string became popular with many celebrities, including many non-Jews including Madonna and her children, Leonardo DiCaprio, Michael Jackson, and later by Ariana Grande, Rishi Sunak and Tucker Carlson. The Alt media truth man Tucker Carlson doing Jewish tributes? Well I never. Why is that, because his buddy Donald Trump is a Jewish puppet as well. The wider popularity is often linked to Philip Berg's Kabbalah Centre. It also gained a surge in sales for Madonna according to editors of Changing Fashion: A Critical Introduction to Trend Analysis and Cultural Meaning (2007). In Jewish culture, it is believed that the red thread protects from the Evil Eye. The Evil Eye is a malevolent curse cast through envious glares. The string is also worn as a symbol of faith and spiritual connection to God, especially in Kabbalah, the mystical interpretation of the Jewish Bible. Mystical my ass, it is a dark forces cult and the evil eye is the goyim in the event they work out who they are, but also what they are.

The red string symbolism in Hinduism is considered auspicious. In this religion, wearing the red cord is believed to bestow you the blessings of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, among other Hindu gods. No surprise the Jewish and Hindu are connected as FHSTOS revealed. Practitioners believe tying it on the wrist helps protect the wearer from negative energies, evil spirits, and even health concerns like heart problems. In a way, those who wear it are believed to receive the blessings of long life. Is that a Cosmic Genetics form of longevity? Tying it on the wrist of a loved one also represents one's love and affection. Can that not be seen as a symbolic blood binding?

In relation to Tuesday's show and how they are using products and jabs to modify our DNA and turn us into in part of mechanical being. The spike proteins have been revealed to alter our DNA via the vaccines and as the psychopath Harari stated: we will have under the skin surveillance of you. Listen to this piece and then ask yourself do they both tie together? Our study is the first to show high-potency cannabis leaves a unique signature on DNA related to mechanisms around the immune system and energy production. Researchers explored the effects of cannabis use on DNA methylation, a chemical process detected in blood samples that alters how genes are functioning, whether they are switched on or off. DNA methylation is a type of epigenetic change, which means it alters gene expression without affecting the DNA sequence itself and is considered a vital factor in the interplay between risk factors and mental health. Epigenetic changes? Altering gene expression? All very Covid and the Expose series that is it not? Is this why they legalized cannabis? The majority of States legalized it around 2016-2020, just prior to the new gene altering vaccines. And all the cannabis smokers thought they were being nice to allow you to smoke it? No they were using you for a program, is the fake and short high you get really worth it?

Last Friday I went on another podcast with Victor Hugo and Joachim Hapogian and primarily to discuss Joachim's book which we covered with The true horrors of the world three part series and also our recent MK Ultra show. It all ties in as Joachim found out when I sent him the transcript of the MK Ultra show. It was a great show to take part in and thanks for Victor for hosting it. Many topics were covered on top of the aforementioned and it was a revealing show in many ways. I have been asked will I come on again sometime and I agreed to that request, so expect more extra shows. The recording of it will be posted on THI-show.com.

Victor mentioned about philanthropy groups being rogue and I explained they were not infiltrated but created that way. But let's take a look at philanthropy in a THI way. philanthropy (n.) A love of humankind, especially as evinced in deeds of practical beneficence and work for the good of others, c. 1600, from Late Latin philanthropia, from Greek philanthrōpia kindness, humanity, benevolence, love to mankind from gods, men, or things, from philanthrōpos (adj.) loving mankind, useful to man, from phil- loving + anthrōpos mankind. From gods should rise an eyebrow of concern. From that comes the letters ner and the root meaning produces many words, are they indicative? *ner- (2) Proto-Indo-European root meaning man, also vigorous, vital, strong. It forms all or part of: Alexander; Andrew; andro-; androgynous; android; Andromache; Andromeda; andron; anthropo-; anthropocentric; anthropology; anthropomorphous; Leander; lycanthropy; Lysander; misanthrope; pachysandra; philander; philanthropy; polyandria; polyandrous. Some interesting words in that like androgynous, Andromeda and android are they connected in the now?

We are going to find out but first a look at two words that you think are the same or related, humanity and humanitarianism. humanity (n.) late 14c., kindness, graciousness, politeness; consideration for others. Humanity is supposed to stand for consideration of others, which is service to others. humanitarianism (n.) by 1794 was a Christian theological position that Jesus Christ possessed a human nature only. So humanitarianism is only related to Jesus, not people. Is that then saying we should only be humanitarian to the Church? Think about it, as that explains the so-called volume of philanthropic and charitable organizations stating they are humanitarian. Not for the people, but like Fox News, an arm of the Rome cult church.

ENDING PIECE:

How did you love indeed, is that part of your own mirrors these days? The mirror only contains you or a copy of you, there is no one else in the mirror, no matter how much you project at others. The activist team have had an engagement with someone who has a prominent show and talks are ongoing for me to appear on a show sometime in the next 10 days. Things are progressing on that level very well currently and it is pleasing to see.

This is the last show before the fake election that may or may not take place. I am asking you all to remain calm during and after the election. Things will unfold of an unpleasant nature and the fall out could potentially lead to mass unrest. The fall out is what is required, as it needs people to really see what these fake authorities and their Presidential puppets are doing to us.

The piece before the break stated three words connected with philanthropy. It said androgynous, Andromeda and android are they connected in the now? Maybe it is all written in the stars as one post revealed this week. The connection was made with the constellation of Andromeda. Andromeda has a meteor show that takes place in November, just like the election, coincidence? In traditional Chinese astronomy, nine stars from Andromeda, along with seven stars from Pisces, formed an elliptical constellation called Legs. Remember the legs and Arleg's of the Santies and Vedas, is it related? Alpha Andromedae and Gamma Pegasi together made Wall, representing the eastern wall of the imperial palace and/or the emperor's personal library. For the Chinese, the northern swath of Andromeda formed a stable for changing horses (tianjiu, stable on sky) and the far western part, along with most of Lacerta, became Tengshe, a flying snake. Chinese and horses? Remember the chimeric horses in Boadingshan, China who were grinding up humans. It is now classed as a World Heritage Center, why would anyone on Earth class that as a heritage, when it is killing humans? Unless those that declared it aren't human? Lacerta the famed reptilian who is alleged to have spoken to humans, that we covered in the Tiny Series called the Lacerta files. Andromeda is also associated with the Mesopotamian creation story of Tiamat, the goddess of Chaos. She bore many demons for her husband, Apsu, but eventually decided to destroy them in a war that ended when Marduk killed her. He used her body to create the constellations as markers of time for humans. Markers of "time" for humans? Oh my. So the goddess of chaos and her demons are markers for time is what that is revealing. In other words time as we have stated, time is a binding and curse upon humanity.

Andromeda has other connections as there was also a movie called the Andromeda Strain, where a deadly alien virus from space kills a town and threatens humanity. A team of scientists tries to stop the contagion in a secret laboratory. Echoes of Covid? But Andromeda hides other secret coding's that come to the fore now. You know how they love their puzzles, cryptic codes and messages, mirrors, gematria and celestial connections. Here is one that is really bizarre. Andromeda has many stars but two of them in particular will be highlighted here, one is called amalak and the other is called sirrah. When those two stars are mirrored, it spells Kamala Harris cohen-cidence? Not a chance. One has to ask now is that her real name? We know she is married to an elite Jew, whose skullduggery has been highlighted previously and given she is of Indian descent are they replaying the FHSTOS plot of the Jews and India? What you are seeing playing out is, it is all a game that is played out over a long duration of time. People popping up in certain positions is not random, their names are not random either if you remember the show Have the gods returned. Trump became Cyrus, the Eve became Marduk, Macron retained his name from the past and many more. All the world is a stage and unless we wake and act against this atrocity, we will always be just extras in their play and or movie with dire consequences as laid out in Tuesday's show.
