

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2025-01-09

OPENING STATEMENT:

Wishing you all a happy New Year around the world, and may all your wishes and dreams come true in the coming year. According to you all, the THI shows have been off the charts this past year and I agree. The greatest event of the shows is how it all flowed firstly from one show into another, but also flowed with pieces connecting within the shows as well.

The news section, not always the most favorite dropped some startling bombshells in the past year, particularly in the exposure of Israel and certain elite Jews. The medical section had many exposes of medical fraud this year which is encouraging to see. The society section was also very encouraging, as whilst it warned of the technology programs heavily this year, throughout the year we reported on the breakdown, exposure and or the collapsing of many of the previous programs. We added extra sections in this year to accommodate extra intel, a technology section and a science section. The exposes went deeper again and revealed much about the old systems and old ways. The FHSTOS section covered a lot of proofs of our books and some very interesting pieces along the way. All of which gave us all more insights. Of course THI gained more traction this year with several of our pieces making MSM news and we yet again upset their algorithms. Having gone through the extra must listen to shows in Part 1, then all things Blueprint in Part 2, Part 3 covers what is described as the normal shows of THI. But as you have all found out, there ain't much normal about any THI show. Here are just some of the reminders from the past 12 months of the Thursday shows.

But before we get into the year review there was a section missed off from the Blueprint update show, that should have received some recognition for the large input it made to those shows. It proved to be a very popular feature to many members, although 1 or 2 appeared to be triggered every other week. But overall the Overview section of the Blueprint shows was very popular and received much good feedback as it touched upon topics familiar to us all. So thanks to Susan McCann for all the Overview pieces, they provided us all with much insight.

JANUARY:

There are and were many other questions from Part 3, my reply, I can't give an answer because there was no question as you made up your own mind. There are no questions or answers, when you have made up your mind. Look at the word made-up, it means invented and not true. So, how can making up your mind be a valid assessment? It can't. Because it was invented, your mind decided for you and you went along with it. But who is minding the mind? It is not you is it? Others are making your mind up for you. Recently a member mentioned a dream where there was a glass barrier, which he eventually overcame by going into the heart. My reply was there is/was no barrier, it is a construct of your own mind. Where is the door or gate? only where you decide and then realize you had constructed them as well. Their heaven and hell are constructs that mired us in a mind trap to begin with. Create your own heaven and then manifest it. The mind is a builder of illusions, the heart keeps it real. But will you dance in and of the heart, or wallow in the illusionary mind construct? One is love and one is fear, those unwilling to commit on all levels are destined to repeat. If you don't commit to general things, you can never commit to the higher things. Find the pattern it always repeats. The key is to change the pattern, as repeats by now should have got boring. Take the leap of faith and experience something new, is the path forward and upward. It is what life is all about, no leaps of faith, no advancement and onto the repeating patterns game you all know and wear all so well. Stop being a bloody hamster riding the endless caravan, bonded and sold as a slave. Rise up, experience, be, do, develop and love FSS.

In January I wrote a poetic cryptic piece for one of my mystery trips this year, there was a total of three in all. The wind of change echoes through the valley of life, changing life, scenery and within. Learning to ride the undulating hills and not make them into mountains, charts the path. Learning that it is all about the climb, not the fall, determines the course. The hill, life and change is never as steep as you make it out to be. That was only because you made your mind up - hence you presented yourself with illusions. Be you, not others. Embrace you and look up to your achievements, not look up or bow down to others. Remember all the world is a stage, who, what or how will you perform? what role will you play in it? Are you an actor, actress, director or just an extra in the scene? Or just a part of the background? Life in the background has its benefits and drawbacks, depending upon your perspective. But being in and of the background never means to dim your light. Without the light to shine, you become a mere particle of the dark and darkness. One candle, even in the wind, always shines the brightest. Life is a marketplace filled with shekel whores, make sure you are not the next to be consumed. The consumer becomes the consumed as you drown in the sea of debt. Keep your life force flowing but never take more than you need. Live to learn and learn to live.

FEBRUARY:

In BP episode 14 I did a revealing piece called Is this planet a lunatic asylum, yes that was 10 months ago. Some poetic ponderings with song lines coming up now, born out of my break time, hope you enjoy them. Life has become about parroting on this planet, which in overview is an echo. It's an echo, echo, echo. Like the sound of a windmill going round, it bristles within the breeze. Like a laugh in the wind, it carries on the breeze and permeates those that touch it. But the breeze is at first the energy, the vibration then comes in to oscillate it and the energy or motion of the wind creates the sound or frequency. All of which was created by the thought. The stairway may lie on the whispering wind, but it is the thought that counts. But if thoughts are not your own, you become the parrot, vacuum and echo chamber. But an echo then brings in the vacuum and the chamber. A vacuum sucks up life and energy, until your last dying breathe. Is not the vacuum your own tomb? Is not the vacuum your own box? Is not the vacuum your energy drainer? Is not the vacuum your own creation? Is that all you can create?

People have become their own vacuums sucking up the life force of others, in the non-soul advancement dance of service to self. Like a seaside trader you sel-fish, but the fish rots from the head down, does it not. The selfish rots from within, thinking only their lives matter. But it becomes a tomb, a tomb that loops within the simulated astral realm. The astral realm is the tomb, vacuum and echo chamber, sucking the life out of everything and never giving back. The real harvesters of sorrow. Why are they harvesters of sorrow? Because they did it to themselves. Cocooned in the vacuum of the self only, consumed by the arrogance of only they are important, forgetting that life is a spiral cycle and what goes around comes around. But isn't what goes around comes around, a loop? Which means you are not on the spiral cycle of rebirth, growth and expansion. The mobius loop is also a vacuum remember, it has no opening, gate or expansion. And eventually like the vacuum it closes in on itself. That is what service to self has, is and always will be, a vacuum of harvesting. But in harvesting you reap what you sow. Do you sow the seeds for us all to grow, or is sow a sow, a pig that consumes everything in front of it. The question then becomes, are you the greedy little piglet Cassandra accused us of? The chamber of the echo rippling within its confined spaces, in overview is the world's media. They are the echo chamber, parroting away the same words and sentences. A sentence is also a prison term is it not, why jail yourselves within the echo chamber? Everything they say is in the vacuum of life, but the vacuum consumes and ultimately consumes life itself. The vacuum of space they say, there is nothing there, Why? Because you forgot to create something? Forgot to see something? Forgot to hear something? Who did you forget to hear? YOU. Where is your vision? Is it mired in their vision for you in another vacuum, the tele-vision? You become boxed into the vacuum of their life, opinions and plans for you. They are telling you a vision of their making, if you follow it you then become their echo chamber. Lost in a sea of illusion, scrabbling around for the crumbs of life they present to you and you gladly tolerate it.

Here is an odd pondering for you upon watching a curious Alien Tv program that highlights all the beings people here have engaged. I noted the stance of many, having also noticed how many people walk. Front walkers I labeled one group as their knees are bent forward and they walk with a bounce. Others often have very spindly legs that are almost grey like in appearance. Then I pondered on the cloven-footed race and relayed it to the wearing of high heeled shoes. It never made sense to me as to why women had high heel shoes, that yes can make them taller, but how can 5 toes fit into a narrowing space and coming to a point? Then I asked the question, was women's high heeled shoes invented for the cloven footed beings? Who only have 2-3 toes. The high heels would cover up the fact their heel is off the ground when walking and the high heel of the shoes would cover that fact.

In February I started to add in some pieces at the end of the Blueprint teams report. I started off with the alpha, beta and sigma pieces that ran for a few episodes 15/16 & 17 into March.

MARCH:

The word Prozac, one of the most popular pharma drugs used by Americans and many others, as an anti-depressant. Pro = for, Zac = Yahweh = support for Yahweh, all very telling is it not.

In March and BP episode 18, I launched the What is series most of them done previously, but with some additions this time that ultimately led to a pdf book.

APRIL:

BP 19 + 20 continued the What is series. Then came the eclipse trip in April and an amazing day for all who attended. THI members took another trip away recently, this time to Texas for the solar eclipse. The location was based upon the trajectories of the last 3 eclipses in America in 2016, 2023 and 2024. The place selected was a small town outside of Dallas called Lone Oak. This had another significance to it, as the Oak, Ash, Birch and Elm trees played into the Santies and Vedas pieces. But upon arrival another sign we were in the right place greeted us all. A giant billboard less than 100 yards away from where we gathered on the 33' degree line, it said Tommy Williams pipe and steel. I guess there are no coincidences anymore.

The day started off very cloudy and I was concerned that we would miss the full show per se. Yes you get all the effects, but with clouds blocking the sky everywhere, the feeling was we may not get an unobstructed view. Work was undertaken to correct that and we hoped all would be well. This was my third full solar eclipse and the other two were obstructed by clouds and deliberate chemtrailing, particularly in Charleston 2016. The chemtrails were heavy before and during the event as well, I guess they were concerned about something! As time ticked away, the moon made its first gambit towards blocking out of the sun and interesting observations were being made. Firstly, right above us and between the sun was a large vortex and 12+1 golden eagles appeared, circling around the vortex at an enormous height. Residents of Texas do not recall seeing that many eagles in Texas, but today they were here. The golden eagle appearance has mystery school significance, as the bald eagle in those terms, is an overlay of America. America's national bird and that of Russia, is the golden eagle, not the bald eagle, even though that is my favorite bird. It is majestic in flight and we had a pair of nesting bald eagles on our road when I was in Florida. The energies experienced began to ramp up for the group, for me personally it started a few weeks earlier. Irritable legs, tingling feet and body was all on display.

The day before I wrote something for the members and before the event I read it out to them all. This is what I wrote, I hope you like it as it got all our members including me, very emotional. Darkness will briefly extinguish our light today, but remember it is always the darkest before the dawn. But our light is never extinguished, only dimmed. As behind the false shadow of the fake satellite, the sun, our star still burns as bright as ever. The sun and the light always prevails and the illusion of the sun rise and sunset plagues the 3D thinking mind. The higher D thinking heart knows it's true value as the life giver and bringer. Reflect today on your own inner sun, darkened by shadows and traumas like your own permanent eclipse. Plagued by lower level thinking and limitation patterns. Why would you dim yourself to those levels? A permanent eclipse of the heart? Maybe this can be your day, that you all here remove your self-created eclipses and truly shine like a beacon. I then showed the members a picture of the celestial sky, should we get to see the full unobstructed view and the night sky comes into viewing.

To the left of the sun, was Jupiter and Mercury, plus the comet of fear in between, that was proposed by the fear and doom merchants of the alt media and mainstream alike. Do you now see there is no difference between them? Why? Ran by the same groups and religious fanatics who only portray doom and gloom. They are the, we are all going to die brigade, but events like this day and others signals, they are going to metaphorically die with their fake predictions and like the sun briefly from our viewing point, they will be extinguished. One of the curious things in observance is, the eclipse took place in April which is Aries and yet we were pointing towards Pisces when the eclipse took place. Which could be another pointer to the Common Sense Zoom presentation last year, about the planet is turning south west and back on its axis, which is the sky direction for Pisces. With the night sky darkened the stars and planets came out, unlike what happened in the Rahu eclipse event last October. Greeting us in the sky was Jupiter and Mercury to the left and between them the fear laden doom Comet of the alt and MSM people.

The comet was not observed by the naked eye, but was picked up by my camera. To the right of the sun was Venus, Mars and Saturn. As time passed so did the clouds, like a peeling back of the curtain for the main event, the totality. Energies at this point for our group were going through the roof and many of them were lying down, probably just as well as many would have got dizzy. We were joined in the background by one of the staff of the Dollar tree store, as she felt the energies of the event and also from our group.

With preparation now complete, we went onto the main event and things really started to unfold. Various crafts, dimensional rifts, portals, possibly two oversouls witnessing the event and possibly a glimpse at the solar being all on display. The craft were particularly clear on the camera, as two lights were observed dancing around the sun in various positions. I asked in the last show, that the light will shine through, but shine through what? And will we see the blue swathes I mentioned also. Well the light shone through the moon in a spectacular way and the blue swathes were visible in nearly all camera shots. Drifting out for millions of miles as the sun dimmed from our perspective, so did everything else. For those brief few minutes of darkness, everything went eerily still and calm. No longer where the birds chirping, the dogs barking or the cows close by mooing, just the sound of silence. All in the group were in total silence and awe at this point as well.

So the town of Lone Oak Texas now appears on the THI map of events, that have played out in a few states and a few countries now. The Lone Oak in the Lone Star state was all very fitting to observe, yet I pondered the Lone Oak from a single tree a forest can grow. From our perspective it is a lone star, but all stars are interconnected and so is your own inner sun, something most people fail to grasp. The members were warned the frequencies were expected to be high, embrace and integrate them as quickly as possible they were told. They were warned of dizziness, light headed and heart racing during the event and that was certainly felt by our members. A sense of wonderment, a sense of awe was about to unfold, but I reminded them we are all one. That nothing is outside of us, that is not replicated within. Observe your own inner eclipse and let the light within you, shine through. I asked them do you wish to be the dark clouds that manifested above us, that is masking your own sunlight? No? then change it and suddenly within 5-10 minutes all the clouds disappeared and we had an unobstructed view of the heavens. Do you manifest or do you Man I Fester? During the event I felt totally out of body, unaware of where I was or any awareness of anything around me. Yet I felt total bliss within that time frame, of which I have no idea as to how long I was standing there. Alone, yet the all around me. Then the diamond ring appeared and loud cheering could be heard around the town, as the sun wins the duel of the heavens and begins to shine brightly again.

None of us had the fake solar glasses for the event, most had sun glasses only and some could see it directly. As the moon went on its way and the full glare of sun blazed down upon us all an inner peace fell over all of us. The storekeeper came up to us and told us of her struggles in life and how overwhelmed she felt being around our group and our frequencies, she was tearing up and almost speechless. She was then given some healing energies and our members began to tell her who we are and all about the Blueprint. Yesterday she joined our Mewe group, a THI welcome for Alisha Smith. I suspect April 8th was a day she will never forget and hopefully a day that will change her life for the better. A sense of disbelief overcome our group as we all came together after the moon departed and all tried to ponder on just what they had witnessed, but more so the sense of feeling of the all, the event brought us. We should all rejoice as the light once again overcame the dark and prevailed. The sun neither rises nor sets it just is. Which is a balance lesson for us all. The eclipse was 18 days after the Day of the Svarog, 18 equals another 9, coincidence? We think not. On April 8th, 2024, was the official day the sun came home. The day the Cult of Ra were dreading has now unfolded and has returned back to its original being and format. The harp or the lyre plays on and we should all dance to its melodic tune.

May:

In May BP shows 21 + 22 continued the What is series.

So what do we all need going forward? More love, less fear, standing in your own power, more self-sacrifice and less survival mode. There are people who are guided by higher purpose, those people must reach higher now. There are those who are guided by physicality and must strive to find the higher purpose with which to guide their actions. But all must rise to meet the challenges we face ahead. Failure is not an option for all concerned, evil and injustice must be ended for most people to prosper. There are three types of evil in the world: evil caused by nature, evil that people bring upon others and evil that man brings upon himself. The first type of evil is the rarest form, but arguably of the most necessary, the balance of life and death in both the human and animal worlds itself. The second type of evil is relatively rare, and that humanity brings it upon itself. Being competitive and comparative, greed not need, lack of caring and sharing. The third type of evil humans bring upon themselves and is the source of most of the ills of the world. These are the result of people's falling victim to their physical desires, service to self and shekel chasing. To prevent the majority of evil which stems from harm one does to the self, one must learn how to respond to external urges and to go within.

It all comes down to, do you operate within the heart or the head? A reminder between the two. The heart makes life simple - whilst the head complicates things. The heart balances everything – whilst the head swings wildly like a metronome. The heart all encompasses – whilst the head divides and conquers and is comparative and competitive. The heart brings a balanced ego – whilst the head swings it from low self-worth to braggard. The heart has inner approval – whilst the head seeks external approval. The heart soothes everything – whilst the head battles and rages. The heart brings calmness – whilst the head operates within the chaos realms. The heart knows when to let go of things – whilst the head holds on for dear life, often at great cost to the host. The heart doesn't run or hide – whilst the head does both. The heart cannot be retarded – whilst the head can. The heart loves – whilst the head operates and is filled with fears. The heart speaks in melodic tones – whilst the head speaks in forked tongues. The heart has the music of the spheres – whilst the head has conflict, static and filled with reptilian chatter. In anagram, the heart is Earth and becomes your law, the head or brain is in BAR and their law. Brain is one letter short of binary, heart is the trinary. The heart can and will be hurt but it rebounds, it self-heals and becomes anew. The head can be hurt as well, but it never rebounds, it just crashes and then repeats the same programs. The heart brings more service to others, the head brings more service to self, why? because it can be controlled and if not checked, becomes someone else's head. The heart only belongs to you, it can't be controlled.

These are the two choices we make, but isn't that a binary choice Thomas? Where is the trinary? It can be thought of that way, but a little pondering on it can change that perception again. When you complete your own sword, the head becomes one with the third eye and the heart. There is your trinary, like the worlds in essence, the two becomes three, and then becomes the one.

JUNE:

In June episode 23 completed the What is series and in episode 24 we went over to a half THI half BP format.

I often hear people saying oh I never thought of that? But with our thought being the creative force behind everything, does our lack of thought create a largely empty Universe? Dark Matter, Black Lives Matter, err no, our thoughts matter, as they create matter. The saying what is the matter with you, has a whole new meaning.

Following watching a video of a girl noticing her mom was not the same person coming out of hospital. Her mums personality, face and height were all different. Is this another example of body switching that goes on in hospitals? Replaced by clones, synths or bots? Let's look at the word hospital, which they say originated from the word Hospice that came from the Knights Hospitallers. A murderous and looting rampage group employed by the church. But it was stated that it was a lodging center for travelers, not a hospice as now, which is essentially somewhere you go to die. So a hospital came out of some dodgy monastic order. But ponder on this next section, as the implications are enormous to your understanding of what hospitals potentially really are. Hospit means host or guest, Al means god. So are those going into hospital becoming hosts or guest of the gods? Is that why people go out of body within the hospital? Is that why the original cannot speak, because they are hosted by a fake god? Is this why we have similar names for other place to stay or rest, hotel and hostel? Hosted by EI? Given the Gazan issue and the hostages situation, who is or who are the host of the ages? A hospital has an Intensive Care Unit section or better known as I C(see) U(you) – I see you, but the great question is: when are we going to see them?

You often hear about people citing the progress has been made by the people over the last 100 years. It's remarkable they say, yet where is the evidence to support it? Have the people improved? Are people more intelligent? Are people healthier? Have diseases been eliminated? Have more drugs improved our health? Have cars, trains, motor cycles, boats or planes become more efficient? Has the global economy improved? Has the global starvation improved? Are we safer today than 100 years ago? Is the planet in better shape environmentally? Has science improved? Has our understanding life, living, freedom and liberty improved? Have governments and the services improved? Has the church improved? Have charities improved? Do people care, love or empathize more? Do people have a greater understanding of life and living? Have schools improved? Has any profession improved their understanding or knowledge of their jobs? Has spirituality improved? The answer to all those questions are NO! There has been zero improvements on behalf of the people or the interactions with things that affect their lives. Otherwise there would be a plethora of gods walking amongst us. There has only been progress of one thing in that time period, Machines and their technology. The rise of the machines, the rise of technology, the rise of the computer, the rise of the phones, the rise of microchips, the rise of bots and with it a whole series of pre-Orwellian surveillance technology. Technology will be our downfall I warned of years ago, with good reasoning. All their technology are external control mechanisms, when we have all the internal technology to improve everything about life and living here and elsewhere. Remember a pill, cream, medicine or a supplement are all external savior programs. That can be used rarely, but never long term and never for every event. As it negates your own ability to fix it.

All technology is also external, that can be used for beneficial terms, but not on this world currently. As our Blueprint stated, we need a full overhaul of all technology and assessed whether it has benefits for humanity, any not or is just for convenience, which is essentially a laziness program, needs to be stopped or pushed back. Excessive kitchen gadgets equals laziness, as a prime example. All of which denies the food the consciousness input of the consumer of it. So all we have had in advancements is technology and the rise of the machines. Where does that lead to? A robot world and the replicator technology? Living metal beings that transform into things. It is not like they never warned us, the Transformer series, the Terminator series, the Stargate series. Where a world becomes overran by machines and bots. In a world where certainly in the Western world has been formulated by materialism, but there is a requirement for materialism to flourish, shekels and credit. If hundreds of thousands of jobs are going to be eliminated, maybe millions, where is the shekels and credits coming from with no jobs? If Source was dead he would be turning in his grave, that the crown of creation is allowing technology to supersede us. Being operated, controlled and enslaved by inferior beings and entities, it is not a good look. All that can change in the blink of an eye, if you desire that change and working harder to change within and so then without. Without that concerted effort, we run the risk of our lives being dictated for us, that has and will never augur too well. If you are not prepared to change you, how do you expect others to change things for you? Is that not you operating as another version of slave master? Why would you not work on yourself? when you know the benefits of it, particularly in light of the Empowerment show. Why not go forward into the future with a new you and not be permanently stuck like an elastic band is attached to you and being pulled into the past. Laziness to a creative being is a disease, time to heal thyself and be creative within and without. Or you can sit back and wait for the real life War of the Worlds scenario, your choice.

JULY:

In BP episode 25 we said this: the words of Simple Minds Ghostdancing song: Cities, buildings falling down Satellites come crashing down I see them falling out the skies like eagles Mirrored glass and shattered egos. Was that prophetic? indeed it was.

In light of our dismissal and rejection of the Royals claim as to the aborigines owning America based upon a specific timeline, right on cue, this piece will add further clarification. As scientists have unearthed footprints in White Sands, New Mexico that date back to 23k years ago. In the picture there is a set of footprints of what looks like human footprints, until you look at it closely. What it reveals is, a 5 toe being, a 6 toe being and possibly a 3 or 4 toed being. Scientists themselves never noted or made reference to the different foot prints, but we will. This proves other species were here at that time alongside the various humans here. As we do not have humans with 3, 4 or 6 toes, the only conclusion is, they were not from here.

All US Government departments are complicit in allowing this murderous psychopath on our soil, threatening our peace and security and all should resign in dereliction of duty to the American public. As for the American public, quit following a book and follow life, values, morals and principles. Follow life and love not death and evil, wrong is wrong no matter who commits it. You carry the blood of the innocent as well, for believing in a fake state, fake people and a fake book, that apparently allows those connected with it full impunity. Yet the world sits there, politicians happy clap, Premiers silent, too many Americans silent, despite it being their money spent to kill these children. Well enough is enough. Others may be frightened of calling it out, I won't, this is a truth and reality show and a 2D illusion game, so Fuck Israel, Fuck Mossad, Fuck AIPAC and Fuck Netanyahu, you people do not belong on this planet, now or in the future. The world will be a safer place without you and your evil, murderous and psychopath brethren.

The story book of life, do we really understand it? Do we know who wrote it? In our own lives there is a number of books on the shelf of life, that describes our life and all its machinations. But guess what? You never wrote, produced or directed those books or even the movie that followed the book. Why have you allowed others to write your own story? But what do you mean people will say. Let's take a few examples of life, physical and sexual abuse as a child. The event happened yes, but why is that in your book on your shelf? Those events or traumas in your life were created by someone else, yet you own that book for the rest of your life, even though you never wrote the chapter or the book. In essence, you have become the book for someone else, because someone else wrote your story. Victim/victimhood programming done externally, but far more internally, makes not only a movie from that book, but several sequels as well. So, now your life and book is being operated by, dictated by and delivered by someone else. Yet many people cry for sovereignty or freedom, yet how can you have either, when your life is full books on the shelf written and produced by others? I was abused when I was a child is a valid statement to make as a child, but where is the adult version of you? Stuck on a dusty shelf filled with books created by other people writing your story and your life. Victims will be triggered by that line, because they wish to carry on the sympathy emotionality of it all. They wish to go through life repeating the same chapter of a book, that was written for them. Because then they don't have to deal with it or take responsibility for it.

Where is your book of life? Where are your chapters? Do you have your own story? Or have you not recognized your own input into your life and the dance with others within your life? Life and its ills is then as always someone else fault isn't it? But where is you? Where is the director and producer in you? Why are you acting like an extra in someone else's movie and or book? I will ask again, where is your book of life? Have you defined your life based upon your experiences as a child? The answer to that question for most people is an emphatic yes. There will always be disappointments in life, they should last no longer than a few weeks. Why? Because you have to get on with writing the next chapter of your story, not wallow in the past, but embrace the future. Perhaps I will remind you all again with a repeated meme, what are you going to create and what are you going to manifest. What that means is, you have to stop playing the victim card, woe is me, my life is shit because of this person or that person, or because of this and that experience from many decades ago. It's absurd the levels we go to with that type of thinking, as that denies you your future. Your life book is never stuck on a shelf, you carry it with you. Why? Because it is the never ending story.

AUGUST:

In BP episode 28 I did a deep pondering piece called Deep State. It revealed they had put the public in a deep state of unconsciousness, not that it was just another name for the cabal.

With the rioting of what is called the English Defense League, described as right wing Nazis in the UK currently, one has a few points to make. Is the English Defense League an intelligence agencies group of actors? And: Why if it is called a DEFENSE league, why are they attacking? But there are others of that ilk, who clearly don't understand the meaning of words. Like the Ministry of DEFENSE, why are they attacking? The U.S. Dept of DEFENSE, why are they attacking everything? The Israel DEFENSE Forces, why are they attacking everything? I think we have a fault in our language here. Or more importantly we have a fault in understanding their definitions of the words.

The word rubicon should be in people's thoughts now, but what is the rubicon? The ruby con or the red con? Or the blood con? The Rubicon is a shallow river in northeastern Italy, just south of Cesena and north of Rimini. It was known as Fiumicino until 1933, when it was identified with the ancient river Rubicon, famously crossed by Julius Caesar in 49 BC. Rubicon is a noun that refers to a bounding or limiting line, especially one that when crossed, commits a person irrevocably. It is also used to describe a limit that when surpassed cannot be returned from, or an action that when taken cannot be reversed. The word Rubicon means a limit or point that you reach when the results of your actions cannot be changed. Perhaps Rome again, will attempt to cross their own Rubicon? Perhaps the people of THI and beyond are about to cross their own rubicon line or limit? Star Trek had its own crossing the Rubicon meme with to boldly go where no man has gone before. Uncharted waters will only bob to the dance of chaos, if you create it. Perhaps learning to ride the wave and then skimming it, was a valid thing to pursue?

Perhaps as the Earth ticks around its own clock face, we may well see in the future something that lights up. Like a beacon through the Cosmos and the stairway to the heavens is restored once again. But first we have to wake up from the inside and expel the darkness that we have become.

The anti-humanity group have committed many atrocities and their sheer arrogance of thinking they are untouchable is beginning to surface now. Here is what an anti-humanity rabbi stated on pedophilia. An adult man who has sexual intercourse with a toddler, it is nothing – there is no crime. What is a toddler for this matter? A child that is less than 3 years of age. The toddlers hymen or virginity grows back. So an adult man who comes sexually on the toddler, it is nothing. It is not considered to be sexual intercourse, since she was less than three years of age. It is as if he has just poked her in the eye with a finger. As we said earlier, if you poke an eye with a finger, a tear drops, but then the eye clears. Another tear appears and replaces the previous one, the same thing with the hymen of a toddler who is less than 3 years of age. So having stated it was ok in the Talmud to defile girls from aged three years and one day, now they declare it is ok to sexually abuse them before the age of three. Their arrogance will be their downfall and it is coming soon. #anti-humanity group do not belong here.

SEPTEMBER:

A small addition to the Deep State pieces we have done over the last two shows. Life it seems is yet again but a mere illusion. Many years ago humanity were offered a free ride in a sleeping pod to forget all their traumas, ills and maladies, that lasted for 10K years. Isn't that another version of the hospice, another comatose state where you can idle by for eternity? The hospice is filled with comatose patients unaware they are dead or living. Lying there in suspended animation awaiting to be attended to by a nurse. A nurse is woman who nourishes or suckles an infant by the breast or who tends for the children. Does that become symbolic? Everyone is incapable of getting off the mothers breast and needs to be nourished and fed by others? The mothers breast is all too convenient is it not? Don't have to pay for it, grow it or produce it, just there for your convenience. Time to get off the tit of life and grow is it not and change the narrative they have for us as, useless eaters. Is that why so many act like children? As they wish to be nursed in the hospice, where everything to sustain their life is provided for them. Why is it we wish to stay as children? Because we are lazy and don't wish to do anything for ourselves, unless that involves shekels, material items or status. It is funny we will strive for external wants and desires, yet do little to nothing to have internal wealth, internal status and internal wants and desires. Reminder from earlier, one must escape the greatest prison ever developed, your own mind.

We also covered the mind memory behind the Q program, deep state, red pilling and the frog. The time speeding factor was down to the events and the baktuns.

You can't talk butterfly language to caterpillar people, but why? How can you operate in two places at once? How can something have happened – yet not happened? How can a solution be provided and unfold, yet hasn't taken place? What happened to the solution? What and where is time and space? Next are observational ponderings. If life is a four leafed clover, who planted the seeds? If life is a bed of roses, why are you a thorn to yourself? If nature is so special to you, why haven't you replicated its simplicity within your life? If ill-usion makes you sick, why do so many gorge on it? How can a doctor be an expert over your body? If you don't give an F about life and you remove the f from life, it becomes the lie, is not giving an F, of value? If all you think about is yourself and it is all about you, why haven't you fixed your own planet? Why haven't you thought of the planet as a personal property? Why are so many people fish traders? Because all many seem to do, is sel-fish. If think different is just a meme and people are selfish and it is all about me-me, why haven't you followed it? If life is but a dream, who is the dreamer? If a politician is a representative, why aren't they resent-ative to Reps? If soul to soul sings back to life back to reality, then why haven't you followed it? If you are buying a stairway to heaven, do you realize that is being a shekel merchant? If the Golden path was the Olympics, where is the silver and bronze path? How many thought the deep state was external of them? If we can hypnotize ourselves externally, why can't we do it internally? If three worlds is going down to one, will you keep the copy of a copy? If truth doesn't cost anything, why do people avoid it at all costs? If you lie in state, are you dead to the truth? If people act in a calculated way, does that mean they went to Johns Hopkins school of math? If avocado is testes sauce, whose testes are you consuming? If the mind is a prison with no bars, why do so many go to bars to have their mind messed with? Do you realize that alpha and beta are fake copies of us? Has the Santies become your new bible yet? If the cab-al is a taxi god and the deep state has hypnotized you, how can know where you have been or where you are going? How is it you can miss me for a week, yet its ok to miss yourself for most of your life? If life or the golden path is an impossible dream, why haven't you 180'd it into the I'm possible reality? The first stage of which is to become better people, that does not include game playing, infiltrating, disrupting, trampling or manipulating other people for chasing personal beneficial or malevolent Earthly goals. It requires truth, honor and integrity, it requires you not being a pseudo being, it requires service to others, it requires working towards the love frequency and it requires a commitment to the self to be of service to others. Otherwise you will remain a Smith, a copy of a copy and ultimately in service to the Dark forces.

OCTOBER:

In this month we did the smoker piece of how they avoided Covid issues, but then a doctor revealed what THI has been stating all along about smoking natural tobacco. This is a message from a leading doctor who is a non-smoker. Nicotine was the antidote to those spike proteins or venom proteins. For the rest of my life I will wear a 3mg nicotine patch because not only does nicotine cure those diseases, I've actually learnt over the last 2 years that every virus on earth is beaten with nicotine. Every virus on Earth is beaten by nicotine. Oh my, nicotine the non-magic cure potion, who would have thought that. Not many and therein lies the real problem. Too busy believing people you have never met. For those who stuck to smoking and suffered the abuse, I guess it is pay it forward time.

Here is another deep pondering for you all and something I touched upon in the Common Sense call last week. It is nice to see more of you joining to gain deeper insights, even if there is an element of fear behind it. You can all deny it, but I feel it. We were discussing the light and dark conundrum and how everyone positions themselves as the light, yet unknowingly or ignorantly operate within the dark spectrum. Selfishness as we have just covered, is not helping the light, only the dark. Ignoring wars in foreign lands, is not helping the light, only the dark. Ignoring the plight of children not your own, is not helping the light, only the dark. Not caring, supporting or sharing enough, is not helping the light, only the dark. They are just a few examples but there are many other examples of it. We have ascertained that the balance between the light and the dark is way off kilter, yet do we come up with solutions to correct that or do we just complain about it? Most people it is the latter, why? Selfishness again and lack of responsibility. It is the lack of balance as to why there is no harmony, not only on this planet, but throughout the Universe. Because there is a lack of flow in terms of understanding things we miss the obvious, all hidden in plain sight as they say.

Let's start a duality script shall we, as most people will say light are good and dark is bad, which means they have no flow of understanding. But why is the light good? Did you ask yourself as to why? Probably not, again a lack of flow of the understanding. But everyone will ask why are the dark so bad, but are they? OMG Thomas are you saying the dark are not bad? Are you saying the dark are good? Again a lack of flow of the understanding. In duality they are both sides of the same coin, just like politicians, as above and so below. But where is the triality aspect, which is you in this matter? Are you both sides of the same coin? Most will say no to that suggestion and some will say F off Thomas. But I am here to tell you, that you most emphatically are both sides of the same coin. So how can we be both light and dark? Because at some point in many of our lifetimes we have performed the role of being on both sides. That is done for soul development and allows us to then recognize the duality of appearing in both roles. This then if used correctly is how we develop ourselves onto a higher plane of existence. By playing sides we gain an understanding of how both sides operate on all levels. If you only played one side, you will never be able to understand the other side and so are ignorant of the roles playing both sides brings. Some would say I would never be a dark forces being, on a personal level I get that, but in overview it is a poor choice to make on a soul level. Why is it said that we learn our best lessons from the dark? Why can't we learn our best lessons from the light here? Because there is not enough operating with their beacon shining to have a marker of how you are doing. But the dark shows us all the tricks and seducements of how to dance in the dark, and once you dance with them you are hooked.

You see it is easier being a dark being than a light being, why? Because the rules are more stringent for the light, where little to no rules or limits applies to the dark. So a truly developed and advanced soul would have a mixture of both light and dark within the 45/55 range. That is a small sway from one side to another and does not require a radical swing to go to the other side. People may say, but why would you wish to be dark, it is bad and not good and you do awful things. Fair comment, but for soul development it is essential as a light being will know all the tricks of the dark and work to counteract it. But as I asked a few shows back of whether light and dark is another duality dance that we must push past? Then go onto the neutrality balanced aspect of being both light and dark. This would then restore balance, as if there is an imbalance we have stock available to balance things up from the neutrality group. As you have been told this Universe ended up over 80% dark, a massive imbalance that has taken billions of trying to correct it. Many lives have been lost in the pursuit of some balance, but it is getting close now to the 45/55 balance of light and dark. Perhaps further improvements can be made by then adding in the neutrality aspect of keeping the balance, by the neutrality beings filling in the gaps of the imbalance. Surely this then makes much more sense, as the neutrality group would be made up out of the gods from both sides, who are in themselves balanced.

So, all is not so bad playing a dark forces being that it is made out to be and is part of the free will choice of the soul/spirit package. What is not alright is what has taken place on this planet, where the dark have gotten completely out of balance within themselves and gone too far dark. The reason why they have gone too far dark is, because the light never stepped up and indeed began to copy them. The darks role is to teach us the lessons, but the light kept ignoring it. This led to the dark having to get worse and more evil to eventually get us to see what we are doing or not doing. If this is true and I suspect it is, it is the light themselves who have created this mad, chaotic and at times evil greedy world filled with corruption, fraud and deceit. Because we did not fulfill our duty as a light being. Imagine coming here this lifetime and playing a dark being for soul development and you have to resort to that level of darkness? Would you think that was fair? Would you think that was acceptable? Of course not. Because what if you had spent many lifetimes as a light being and only this as a dark being, how would you feel if you were that soul/spirit package? So you see not everything is as black and white this planet makes it out to be, there are grey areas we will just not look at it. A: a lack of flow in terms of understanding and B: we have embraced the duality program far too much to see through the illusion of it all. I mean most people cannot see through the duality illusion of party politics, never mind the dance between light and dark. We have to learn to think on a much wider scale than we do currently, as duality has never served us too well. As ultimately as this piece has shown, we are picking the lesser of two evils. Where is the non-evil? In the triality and neutrality aspect.

Spanish scientists announced in a new documentary that first aired on Saturday, that DNA analysis shows the 15th-century explorer Christopher Columbus was a Sephardic Jew from Western Europe. The documentary titled, Columbus DNA: The true origin, which aired on Spain's national broadcaster TVE, showcases the research of a 22-year investigation led by forensic expert Miguel Lorente. Lorente and his team tested samples of remains buried at Seville Cathedral, long believed to be Columbus' final resting place, though the claim had been contested. Researchers compared the DNA with those of known relatives and descendants of the navigator who led trans-Atlantic expeditions for the Spanish crown from the 1490s onward, inducing European exploration and colonization of the Americas. No it did not induce European colonization, it started the Jewish control of the Americas, and a massive untold death and destruction. Approximately 300,000 Jews resided in Spain before the Reyes Catolicos, Catholic monarchs Isabella and Ferdinand, compelled Jews and Muslims to convert or face exile. The expulsion of Jews from Spain took place in 1492, the same year as Columbus' famed first voyage. What a cohen-cidence that is. This is what the world needs to see and understand, the takeover of America was not Europeans, but Jewish. The same Jews who with genetic manipulation became to look like us, with the whiter skin. But DNA proves these people to be very different to us and their whole story is based upon on a plethora of lies.

NOVEMBER:

We did a piece on the symbolism of October 7th that was enlightening.

This cryptic piece was next. The phrase "crossing the Rubicon" has survived to refer to any individual or group committing itself to a risky or revolutionary course of action, similar to the modern phrase passing the point of no return. That passage has many meanings on many levels. It was not observed by those who needed to pay attention to it.

November turned out to be the last of the designated Blueprint shows.

I touched upon the numbers on the keyboard during Kevin's presentation and thought I would expand it out to all listeners. During the course of this year a team within THI has worked in the background solving science and math problems. There has been many revelations ongoing, to prove how their math is an overlay for our system and planet. I have in the past described the letter N as the pathway to soul development. Of how on a capital letter N describes the left hand path with no gate, the slide down to the right hand path and eventually rising with the open gate. The 9 digit square on your keyboard and the peripheral keys may provide a deeper pointer. The bottom left is the 0 outside the square, above is the 1, is that showing the binary code? Going up the left side of the keyboard we have 147, the left hand path is the path of Set.

But 147 just happens to be the highest score in snooker, and given we have pointed out how other sports has deeper esoteric connotations, tennis and chess in particular, perhaps a look at that is needed. There is one white ball, 15 reds, 1 yellow, 1 green, 1 brown, 1 blue, 1 pink and 1 black. The white has to interact with all the other colors to win the game, which could symbolize the energon Cosmic Genetics game. All the colors must be potted, potted originally meant of meat, preserved in a pot, again perhaps symbolizing once the colors engage with the white, they are potted, like meat. Once all the reds are gone, you are left with potting the 6 colors, the highest value is the black. Are the 6 colors are representative of the differing colored humanoids we have had here? Once all the colors are potted, it leaves only the white ball on the table. Unless you go into the pocket or net, all balls rebound back around the table to stay in the game, until only the white ball is left. The white is called the cue ball, which is reminiscent of what Kevin said, is it the Q ball or Cube all? The implement used to play is called a cue, the cue or stick can only hit the white ball. The white has no value and is just used to smash into the other colors, the highest value is the black. Again that can have Cosmic Genetics connotations. Snooker is often played in a darkened room with minimal light over the table, is that symbolizing the moonlight?

Back to the 147 on the numeric keypad, this path the left hand path is where all start, from a 0 to a 1 upon creation and then 4 and 7 upon reaching that it has another button called the number lock. Which is interesting as that is where the Illuminati reside at the top of the left hand path, they think they have achieved enlightenment, they are wrong. Because as the button above states, you are number locked. To go onto the right hand path you need to descend from the 7 to the 5 and to the 3. Those three numbers are interesting the 7, 5 and 3 which I will cover soon. The descent is unlearning all the lies, integrating the shadows, releasing the traumas and developing service to others. Once that is achieved you are then ready to climb the right hand path. At this point there are two numbers left out on the middle line, the 8 and the 2. Is the eight symbolizing the loop and the 2 is the descent from 1 on 1 with the 1, into 1,1 and 0 after discarding the female and ultimately onto the path of just 1? The first number on that path is 3, next to it is the button called Enter, so you are entering the right hand path. As you ascend the right hand path of enlightenment matched by your soul development, you encounter the 6 and the 9. Is that a coincidence that the right hand path is 3, 6 and 9? No chance. Beyond the 9 is the multiplication button, symbolized by a star. Beyond the 9 is the open gate to the star, is how you escape the numerical matrix.

Back to the 7, 5 and 3 descent, that is of interest to those who took a look at Wayne Herschel's Solomon Key videos. As the 7, 5 and 3 are part of an imagined straight line in space, between the 7 sisters of the Pleiades, the 5 and Aldebaran of Taurus (it is a 5 as that constellation is shaped in a V, the Roman numeral for 5) then the 3 belt stars of Orion and finally to the one star which is Sirius. The 4 main off world players of interference to this planet, so the 7, 5 and 3 becomes of interest. Is it also a coincidence that the last two numbers are 6 and 9, which are reversible and symbolizes the male and female union. Above them is the star, which is the gateway out and has a direct connection to all Suns and Stars to Source itself. That is the positive outcome. But the numeric keypad can also point to a negative outcome. As at the bottom of the keypad is dot and below it, it says del or delete? Next to it is the 0 having deleted the 1. Below the zero is called the insert if the number lock key is used, the insert of 0 could well signify the synths and clones and the number 1 above says end. One more facet of the keypad is back to the number lock key, as next to it is a 1 in a box. Signifying the 1 is enclosed within a box or is it a cube? Is that squaring the circle again? The number 1 also has a word below it, it says end, to end the 1, so you are only left with zeros. Zeroes are a fake number that only applies to technology, it has no life force or value connected to it. It is not a proper number and was introduced here to delete, confuse and distort the numeric life patterns in favor of the technological entities. The Maya's are believed to have introduced zero when they developed the base-20 system of mathematics in 260 B.C. To achieve the right hand path, one must learn to think outside of the box, have no limitations, trust in yourself, believe in yourself and follow the path of service to others.

You do realize that one word and derivatives could be explaining a control system against us? As "depressing" as that sounds, perhaps it is depressing enough to wake more from their slumber, spiritual and mental sloth and medical malpractice. But as hope gave way to despair, ultimately it all comes down to your own choices, actions and inactions. How many warnings does humanity need before better thinking, better ways, better actions unfold? How can you have unity when so many are purely selfish? How can you have unity with service to self? How can you have unity with divide and conquer? How can you have unity when people won't look at their own mirrors and are just content to smash the mirrors of others? THI has brought you all much clarity, yet somehow it is never enough. With humanity staring down the barrel of a 2D gun, what does it take to get people to act right? How many have focused on the most important show of the year, do you even know or recognize which one it was? Clearly not, as there hasn't been a single mention of it since, in case you are wondering, it was The Future World Part 1. In many ways humanity in staring into the abyss, I wonder how many will continue to stare into the abyss and not be in the abyss going forward? It is abys(s)mal, yet humanity just plods on blissfully unaware floating away without a care in the world, beyond themselves. Many too content to float in the abyss, because they think it is the womb of the mother, that's another illusion. They deleted the mother to create the void remember, the abyss is the void. The Blueprint spoke of a tabula rasa, but to do that one has to radically change what went before. A complete rebirth of a new you, new reality and new world. A complete change of thinking, not poor thinking, traits and behavior patterns. One wonders at times that perhaps the butterfly language was just too much? And when the tears subside and shadows still remain, I guess I will just end up walking in the cold November rain.

This is a poetic piece laced with lines from various songs that sing to us, yet all too often we ignore. This is a selection of my ponderings on my trips away recently, I labeled it the tour of destiny. As I stood at the precipice of life, rhyme and reasoning, looking down upon the valley of life. I was greeted with some sense of familiarity as the sun peered over the hills and breathed fire and new life into the morning air. Its radiance kissing away the morning dew and mist, almost like a recording of time. Flashbacks into an earlier time and space began to unfold, permeating the thoughts, heart and being. As a blaze of light caressed the new day and the feeling of the light overcoming the dark yet again. A mere candle in the vastness of space, blazing it's trail amongst the backdrop of the solar wind. Curiously, that wind never dims or blows the candle out, it doesn't even flicker. It is a reminder of life and its daily machinations we all face. Like the sun we are reminded that, you don't dance within the dark, you shine and ride the wave in a never ending flow.

As time ultimately stands still in the moment, I look back on the horizon and realize I'm coming home. The home is a distant familiarity like the roar when my team has scored, the roar of the space shuttle, Da' Arya, a cave on a distant planet or being amongst the stars. Home is where the heart is they say, that much is true, but like heaven, it is also a state of being. Being in the moment, being in the all that ever was, as contentment and raw emotions take center stage. But on the ultimate stage of life, what role are you playing? Do the stage lights blind you and allow stage fright to overcome you? Or do you embrace those lights and become one with or within it? The choices of life and living are often overlooked within our busy daily lives. A great deflection as you self-contain yourself in an embryonic coat of uncertainty, illusion and accepted reality. But it's not real, its someone else movie and a part created for you, where is you? Who are you? Are you in the now or tied to some outpost like a tethered horse and echoing the distant past? Are you past or passed? If you have passed on, why is the past familiar? Death does not kiss away the echoes of the past, as it sings familiar songs to you as a reminder into the now. The sun rises like the rainbow and its coming home to your time, your space and your existence and will do so until my and its dying day. I don't want to spend my whole life in this town, I can feel it driving me away, maybe it's time to reach for higher ground, you've got to steal away? But how can you steal away on your own planet?

As walking the valley can become like the shadow of death or it can breathe new life as the valley of kings. But kings and queens can blind your eyes and steal your dreams it is said, only if you allow it to. Standing tall and not immersing in the vast ocean of unsanity, retains the essence of you, providing you hold onto it. But what are you holding onto instead? Why does life ultimately tie me and bind, the proverbial gordian knot of my and our own making. As the sun came out of the black and into the blue, the clouds like an echo of the mist of time, danced all around it. Swirling and dancing in front of the light bearer, the torch, the beacon. The beacon is like a lighthouse sitting on the dock of a bay, watching the tide rolling away. Is the tide incoming or outgoing, the question really is, are you incoming or outgoing? Will the tide, tide you over? or create a new sequence of life to wash away the tears and previous moments of erosion at the beach head of life. Time is but a mere illusion making you sick of life itself, but a positive thought, memory or appearance erodes that sickness and illusion. Time is always a medical emergency, unless you control it and you. I have no time people say, yet why can't you fill that no time with something better, than what went before? Because you became the tide, rolling in and out whilst eroding yourself away by creating chaos. Chaos becomes a random event they say, not if it is the same movie reel playing over and over again it's not. Life then becomes grave, bogged down by the mud, hampered by the prickly thickets, as the river flows beneath your feet. But ambling through that wooded valley, gave rise to hope and the chance to reach for higher ground and the overview vantage point. From there you can feel the vibration around you, oscillating and reaching a crescendo. A realization then dawns upon you, you can become one of the sheep meandering through the valley of mud or reach for higher ground and be touched by the rays of the sun. Life then becomes the weather barometer, cold, damp and lonely or you can be touching the warmth of the sun, that echoes within us all. Life is all about choices, life is what you make it, but if you choose to make it death, then rest your soul. Life can be wearing in vocal terms, but which wear are we saying or referring to, as there are 4 variants of wear (where, were, wear and ware). Is it a place, a house, something to put on or a past or future statement? Were always unsure of where we are, as the weather within decides what we wear in or out of the house.

Life is but a dream, but who is creating it? Them or you? Who is them you may ask, who is you is the reply. Do you fulfill your dreams? Do the dreams fulfill you? Or do your dreams wash away on the tide of life, like another missed opportunity? Will you ebb or flow? Will your flower bloom or wilt? Will you embrace the light or disintegrate within the dark and become a void. An endless empty vessel navigating the River Styx, like riding an endless caravan as you were bonded and sold or souled as a slave. How did or can you become lost, when you never found yourself to begin with? As I snap out of this dream within a dream, within a dream whilst fulfilling the dream. I am reminded of that misty morning on the edge of time, we lost the rising sun, the final sign. But the final sign of what? Your choice as always, your responsibility as well, to create and be something new. Or the shadow of the valley of death embraces you like the lost children of the sea. But in that moment of pain and suffering, the wind of change came tumbling down and washed that desperation and sadness away. All was not lost, it just required a rescue mission of sorts. But who or what was being rescued is always lost by immersion, but not from the panoramic overview hilltop that became home for a day or two, but will last an eternity. I again returned to thoughts of my dream, with tears in my eyes and emotions sitting heavy upon my soul, I remembered something that plagued my past and will one day take a place in my future of: I can hear the sound of a windmill going round, it will always go around, providing you don't stop it or you. Anyone can have a heart one song says, but not if you have made up your own mind, you won't. Tomorrow may belong to me, but it also belongs to us all if and when we all learn to get out of our own way. When we learn to fly, flourish, prosper and love to the best of our abilities. All whilst remembering to support each other, the neglect of each other is also a neglect of the self. Life is a bitter sweet symphony, but who is playing and who's conducting the orchestra? You or them? My name is human we may sing, but have we proven it to ourselves and each other?

What we have here is a failure to communicate, we don't need your civil war, yet do we not have civil war between our own two hemispheres? War? What is it good for? Absolutely nothing, but then why do we dance IN its field within ourselves? Whose got my back now, when all I have left is deceptive, so disconnected, what is the truth now? I then ponder what is this life for? Can I take myself higher, that I have always done. We all ask I wanna know what love is, yet do we embrace it when it unfolds or does it become a rhetorical question? You give love a bad name the song says, the question is who does that? The answer is we all do, until we change us, the change is not gonna come within or without. It's the final countdown, but countdown to what? Only you decide that destiny and path. Until we all learn to I will fix you, we will remain like the lost children of the sea. But the light will always guide you home, ignite your souls and provide the courage to fix you, yourself. The love of life will always light your beacons and keep the darkness at bay. Spread your wings and you will see, you control your destiny, when all is said and done. Time to set your sails and path.

A recap of predictions last year. So, what do or should we expect from 2024? Where they correct or not?

With the prediction of Covid as narrative being almost spent now, the ugly stage is upon us as the stark reality and truth of what Covid was really all about will come to the fore. Correct

The media will suffer badly in the coming year, as more people will see through their lies. Correct.

I would expect a breakthrough on the Blueprint next year, as 2023 was more about planting the seeds per se. Correct.

On a personal level, I am hoping to be in use much more next year delivering radio shows with others and potential speeches with the authorities, as they are badly needed now. Partially correct.

Financial issues globally will increase next year, as the flow of money decreases every year and desperation by the shekel people will increase accordingly. Correct. Yes they will try with their fresh air tokens called crypto, but with the rise of people around the world with increased mistrust of the system, I cannot see that prospering. Not. Bearing in mind should it take off, measures can and will be taken to counteract it.

The kick back and push back against the AI will increase next year as well, more and more people will realize it is another control structure. Not yet. Certain steps have already been taken to counteract it and explains why it isn't working too well.

Next year will see a massive increase of interest with the Jewish narrative coming to the fore. The Israeli narrative war between the Jews and the rest of the world, will start to collapse next year under a volume of people finally seeing through that illusion. Correct.

The medical professions will face tough and potentially hostile public reaction as the death rate increases and the lies of the jabs being exposed further. Correct.

They will invent a new virus or some increasingly virulent strain of flu. Correct.

Is Argentina the next theater of war, operations or distractions? Not.

A potential push West by Russia, in accordance with the old Rus boundaries may well unfold next year. Not quite.

Potential big new type of earthquake in the Pacific, that has implications for Hawaii and the West Coast in 2024. Not.

Visions received of sky based interjections in the Middle East theater, that may see much disappear there. Not.

Russia, Ireland, the Baltic States, Israel zone and South Africa may see increased activity next year, as the battle between the light and the dark goes more external. Taiwan may become more prevalent, so the bankster shekel makers can rake in more funds between them. Potential or probable flare up's in Southern Turkey that may spread further north as well. Partially correct.

An interesting line in November maybe foretells something for 2024. Rules adopted by the Democratic National Committee in 2022, leave the DNC as the sole authority to appoint a Presidential nominee, where that nominee resigns after the August 2024 convention. Will there be an August event? What if there is no election next year at all? Correct, Biden quit.

The old world collapse of every institution on the planet will increase big time next year as well. Correct.

The great question next year in America is, will the election go ahead? Not.

Strange events will increase next year, no not Bluebeam, although I would not put it past them to try and turn the tide. Strange sky events, stars out of place, an increase in the northern and southern light events, I suspect more of the world will get to witness them. Solar flares will increase that will bring more positive outcomes and upgrades. Correct.

The dancing between the two worlds will increase next year, as those who walk it will be required more heavily next year. Correct.

The rapid aging of people not in alignment has increased and will increase further, don't assume it is just the stars either, it is all that are not operating in the right way. Correct.

April may well be and bring a final act in many ways, pay closer attention. Correct.

Worlds merging into one reality will really begin to kick in now in 2024, the final year before 2025. Correct.

Two words have come to me for next year, one of which was prevalent last year's predictions as well. They are endeavor and perseverance. Endeavor means to try harder to reach a specific goal or target. Perseverance means you keep going no matter what life throws at you. These are the words we all have to adapt to this year, now more than ever. We will be tested, it will be testing, it will be difficult, it will be ugly on steroids, it cannot be any other way. Observe don't absorb will be required in monumental doses next year, as will 45/55, as will protection of the self via shielding and centering techniques. Correct.

A third word came to me in December, the word was precipice, followed by this next line. 2023 is the last of the normal years, nothing will be the same again as we cross into 2024. The crossroads appeared to me in vision mode again in December and the defined paths have now become clearer. In 2024 you will all have a deeper understanding of what THI was really all about, the Blueprint also. There will be major changes next year and I envision much travel for personnel and collective reasons. There will be changes within and of the village itself also next year, as repositioning may unfold. My own personal ponderings as I write this at the end of November is, expect changes, be prepared to travel, be flexible, be open, as my life is about to take a new course. What that entails was not revealed to me yet, but I have reached a crossroads again and my path and being is about to change again. All of that was correct.

Questions for you all to answer honestly as a personal assessment factor in your life. In 2024: Did you rise or fall? Did you help or hinder? Did you walk the walk? Did you face reality enough? Did you trust enough? Did you fear too much? Did you dance the demon dance? Did you dance in ego? Did you do enough to protect what you had? Did you create enough? Did you manifest a better future enough? Did you become a driver or a passenger? Did you become deep or shallow? Did you embrace service to self? Did you become service to others? Did you love enough? Did you care enough? Did you support enough? Did you help enough? Did you soul develop enough? Did you engage enough? Did you inspire enough? Did you aspire enough? Did you dance the spiral dance? Did you embrace the energies and frequencies enough? Did you integrate enough? Did you become the Divine Masculine? Did you become the Divine Feminine? Did you recognize the self-enough? Did you see your own progress? What did you see and what did you not see?

THE VILLAGE:

In past shows it was said that hope was the avenue of the light, until some decided they would sooner try to extinguish it for their own selfish needs or desires. That failed and the light marches on unencumbered without such selfishness and service to self only. Life will always throw you curve balls, it is how you react to it that determines the future. You can play games, debate, pontificate and argue with people on a wrong path or just march on to a clearer path. We called for greater unity earlier this year and requested for all to untie, some went with an anagram of unite and strove to untie the unity.

I never underestimate anyone to have the ability to not only destroy unity, but ultimately in their quest, to destroy themselves. The people's ability to throw away opportunities never ceases to amaze me, a case of not recognizing what you have or had and then protecting it, as Joni Mitchell said: Don't it always seem to go, that you don't know what you've got 'til it's gone. Then suddenly people want to go back to the past, not me, I am and always was about the future. Ego, selfishness and retribution are not the remit of a guardian. Unity is the pathway to redemption our show was called this year and whilst we have had some unity in this group, not enough was garnered over the year. The groups and village became more fragmented as the year rolled on and that has to be the focus for 2025. To get back on track, stick to the structure and return to the flow. As all around us descend into chaos, it is important our group and members don't. Never underestimate your own ability to change the narrative, picture and world either. Every one of you has the tools to be far greater than your current sum of parts. If you personally don't believe that, go and listen to the Empowerment show to convince you otherwise.

DONATIONS:

I wish to personally thank all those who donated to me and the TPC this past year. It is much appreciated by myself that you all donate to the cause in a pay it forward manner. Special thanks to Salim, Matthew Glass, Ramona, Todd, Martha Taylor, Allison, Thomas and Steven Klisch, Douglas Wilges, Daniel Fitzsimmons, Rochelle, Maya Stahl and THI Sweden group who went beyond the normal level of donations, a special thanks to you all. I took a big risk in 2018 to quit my job and rely on donations only for my income, I am glad you have all sustained it and I don't take it lightly. That decision of course then allowed me to focus entirely on THI and all the other aspects surrounding THI. The shows are just one part of it, the teaching, the BP and the spiritual and cosmic work goes on without much fanfare. The Common Sense zoom call has increased in much volume this past year and I am glad you are all enjoying that. A few have complained about them not being included, and that was a concern when I was asked to set that format up. Occasionally though, I have upgraded those in the tiny and ponder sections into the common sense for one off entry into the common sense. Plus once a year I do throw it open to all members of the group. But by and large it pleases most people, most of the time.

There are times when I think people forget that I am just one man, who does far more than many members can imagine at times. All aspect of the shows is done by me only, from researching, editing, picking the songs, writing whole shows including all the transcripts and that is just for the main shows each week. The extra shows can take 40-80 hours alone to get ready for a show. Then there is my role for the TPC, emails, donation requests, banking data collating, taxes filed and now doing all the filing for the TPC. Add in the monitoring of the 2 small businesses within the TPC and it all adds up. Then I have the Blueprint duties, monitoring, assessing and coming up with ideas for better ways or more impact. Meetings occasionally for the Blueprint and also the job of sorting out all the issues, whether work or personal issues. Proofreading for Blueprint and FHSTOS book, answering questions book related and checking everything is in order. Now the same for the merchandise section. Monitoring the Mewe page, Be.forum, the THI email, occasionally the TPC and new blueprint for humanity emails. Dealing with web, media, research, activist and other groups. Dealing with private messages as people want various kinds of help and support, particularly on a Thursday, which is my busiest day even before the show. One on one chats with members who need help and support. Dealing with the various issues that crops up between members, even though 99% of the time I am not involved in it. Looking after and protecting the village. Arranging trips, creating and delivering presentations. Monitoring world events, monitoring solar and sky events. Counteracting clown behaviors, rituals and sacrifice events every bank holiday. Plus a whole heap of other work based upon the mystery school side of things. And a whole lot of other work that is not mentioned in the shows. Now I have the Assignment team and also extra shows outside of THI to do.

Pondering time adds into all of this as well and an awful lot of planning based upon a structure and a flow, otherwise most of the above is impossible. Somewhere in the midst of all of that, I have a life as well. And despite all of that, I somehow had to fit into my life a new partner this year as well, which has been exciting and stimulating for us both. Something perhaps some who do complain should consider before doing so. The old adage applies here, walk a mile in others shoes before judging or complaining. Whilst some may complain about me receiving donations, as you can tell I earn every dollar, which is actually way less than the average wage in America. The donations are to keep me doing this job day and night, it is what the members requested. The previous web team were shocked at my level of donations and it was they who decided to try to increase it via the 3 paid subscriptions. The $5, $10 and $25 Common Sense packages, amazingly the tiny $5 section is the lowest participation. Be assured I am truly grateful to all who donate to me or support.

Next up is your favorite part of the review, given the feedback I have received. So what is in store for the fabled 9 year and 2025. The first reverse baktun following 2012 and our supposed destruction. That never unfolded like most of their dire predictions, all of which should give you confidence enough to ignore their fear programs. There will be a lot of dissention this year on all levels. First word I got for the year is focus. The lack of focus leads us to wrong paths and into drama and distractions. We must remain vigilant in the coming year as it will be testing on a war, medical, militaristic, government and personal levels. Focus also means to observe don't absorb, let the carnage of other people flow around you, don't let it embrace and destroy you and your progress.

There will be plenty of distractions in 2025, as the dark are desperate to change the scenery and the landscape. I was made aware by more than one source in 2012-2014 time, that 2025 would be a key year for both light and dark. It may well be the final battle between light and dark and a return to neutrality and balance. We are also nine years on from another attempt in 2016 to cosmically alter our landscape and environment, that failed as well. Word 2 of the year is introspection. Introspection is a contemplation of one's own thoughts, feelings, and sensations; a self-examination. A view of the inside or interior; a looking inward. A looking inward; specifically, the act or process of self-examination, or inspection of one's own thoughts and feelings; the cognition which the mind has of its own acts and states; self-consciousness; reflection. Those traits will all be very important in the up and coming year. Focus and introspection will be required in much heavier doses than the previous years. Awareness of your surroundings also, who you are with, who you are around and also who you are engaging, will all be ultra important. In other words you must protect and retain you. The focus of our attention must shift in the coming year, as greater concentration, awareness of the narrative, surroundings and people will be required.

This next year we should all have a more major focus upon surveillance and spying, the invasion of the AI, which if left unchecked brings in the full robot world interspersed with bio-bot entities using uploaded conscious technology. Maybe there will be a move away from smartphones and their invasive tech in the coming year? The hope is I can meet with someone this year to create a new internet/computer package system devoid of their programs, software/hardware and chips. Work to engage that was put in place late in 2024.

Governments for 2025 will come under enormous strain as more people begin to realize, that their government is not for their benefit. None moreso than the U.S. Inc fake government. Trump has assembled the largest team of foreigners ever in American history, a group of foreigners whose only allegiance is to Israel and the genocide program only. As the Trump fanfare or trumpeting dies down and the people begin to realize their government underwent another coup, expect all hell to break loose. The Trump honeymoon will not last long, neither will Musk's. The governments of Canada, UK, Germany, Ireland, France, Bulgaria and possibly all Slavic countries will have a difficult time in 2025, as their public realizes their government is based upon fraud as well as the US Inc. Australia and New Zealand will be stuck in the middle of the war drums rhetoric between China/Russia and the Jewish West program.

The war conflict zones may shift in 2025, yes the Ukraine zone will rumble on, as will Gaza. But one must be on guard for them broadening out into Georgia, Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, plus Poland, Germany, Lithuania, Belarus and others close to the Baltic states. Israel is now under extreme pressure from many around the world, will launch a gung ho operation likely first in Syria, then once they have moved their bases of operation forward, the final act of attacking Iran. Watch for a war in Southern Turkey also, with Iraq and Afghanistan potentially becoming theaters of war as well. This will be a pincer movement, as the distractions of keeping Russia occupied in the East/West conflict, will not allow them too much capacity to defend Iran.

Other conflicts like Taiwan, could spin into a much broader war with China, the Korean countries, Japan and Australia. Expect trouble to brew in Mexico and Argentina as well, given they both have Jewish premiers. The US will have an internal war within all the government departments, agencies and divisions of the Military. The US Military, Israeli Military, Ukraine mercenaries and NATO will get horribly exposed this year and suffer devastating losses.

Expect strategic strikes in Europe and the Middle East. Rome, London, Jerusalem and Washington DC may come under attack literally and figuratively. Beware of flashpoint at canals and shipping routes.

In the finance world, 2025 I expect to be chaotic, volatile and mostly concerning for a majority of people. The BRICS v. the Fed war will continue, but we must guard against it being new boss, same as the old boss. Unless I see complete divergence from the original BRICS, which was created by Rothschild's and Rockefellers, then we cannot go fully in with what BRICS has to offer. The new BRICS has to have a new acronym Bring Revolution In Common Sense. Many of the big chains will close globally as the Fed currency war will impact everywhere. Expect supplies to be disrupted, plan accordingly.

All things deemed holy will suffer badly this year, as the exposures of what they are up to will increase again this year. All what is holy will be reduced and in some cases may well cease to exist beyond 2025. I suspect we will have a major announcement from the church which will not go down well in 2025.

A further erosion of the medical, climate change, electric vehicles, Ai machines, wokism and programs against humanity will occur this year.

False flag operations will ramp up there this year as they are desperate for distractions.

Israel will not fare well in 2025 and it could end with their destruction, which may well lead to a religious announcement of epic proportions.

I suspect the dark to ramp up the 5+1 hooks next year as the more they fail, the more they will try to seduce you. They and their agents will always try and seduce or hook you, the key is to determine who and what you are, define it and embrace it. Once that is embraced, the goal then is to retain it and you. The 45/55 will help you with that, plus a deeper understanding of the graphic equalizer I did in one show this year, plus I repeated again in the common sense.

Now is the time, our time to stand up and be proud of what we have presented in relation to the Blueprint, and get it out as far and wide across the planet to let all the control system know, we have arrived. We are prepared to finally take responsibility for the mess we all created, and wish to rebuild not fix, all that is broken. A broken control system, a broken planet, broken eco-system, broken banking, broken food and supply, broken governments and so much more. But, the most important that requires rebuilding is us all, we were all broken as well. The lack of genuine love, care, sharing, being nice to each other, service to self only, has been the driver of the old world and system of control. A lack of trust between us all, allowed the system to deeply divide us on many levels, labels and boundaries. Understanding, heart and compassion must replace revenge, retribution and violence. Replace all the programs they gave to you and you consented to and with, and come up with better experiences, plans and ideas to fill that void. Replace all your fears with love, be loving, open your hearts in love not your minds with fear. Seize every opportunity to grow, love and develop in this key time, never be afraid to grow, love or develop, recognize your own value and power then embrace it. What happens next many of you will ask, wrong question and thinking, what will you do next is what is unfolding. What will you create or manifest?

The frequencies will ramp up again this year, building upon the increases in 2023 and 2024. In fact they were ramped up again on New Years day. The frequencies are to help you all develop, but you will not develop just going about your daily routine, you have to tune into them and interact with them to then embrace them. The frequencies as some have found out to their cost, is not something you stand and admire or indeed abuse, you have to do something to engage them. I mentioned the ramp up of the frequencies half way through 2022 and again in June 2023, that was your cue to interact and ultimately change you for the better. But those frequencies came with a warning, consequence of actions would ultimately come into play. That was again mentioned in June 2023, the frequencies will benefit those acting in a right manner and expose those who are not acting in the right manner. The latter has emphatically unfolded this past year. Consequences of actions is not just for the dark ones, clowns and agency goons, it applies to us all, even in THI, including myself.

Speaking of consequences of actions, that will ramp up heavily this year, within the people, within the corridors of power and within the elite circles, make sure you are not a part of it. With everyone's mirrors up and reflecting them, the folly of not doing your shadow and inner work will now have dire consequences for you. All are being watched, monitored and assessed and have been for some time, you may think you can hide and or project at others, the answer is you can't. Everyone is at where they are at due to their own input or lack of input. There are no cheat codes, magic frequencies, magic wands or saviors outside of yourselves. The failure to recognize that has been and will be damaging and damning.

Beware the potential of sky interactions that will be seen far and wide this year. They may in their desperation try Project Bluebeam. Sky and celestial activity will increase this year, some good some not so good. Potential for war in the skies also this year. There will be more space debris dropping next year.

We said to watch for more countries and or states being able to view the Northern or Southern lights and that has certainly been the case. I expect that to increase again this coming year. The focus of the media on all things solar has been extraordinary this year, which is indicative of the changes our sun has made and is making. Those changes will ramp up again this coming year, the new rays piece on December 12th was a pointer to that. Operation solar wind continues to bring in the frequency changes required on a global level, learn to embrace and integrate them. They are for the benefit of all those operating in the right way. The right ways are: Gratitude, joy, peace, compassion, understanding, playful, highly intuitive, present in the moment, patient, forgiving, positive and the opposite of fear, love. These are the dynamics you must obtain to develop the self onto the next levels. Consequences of actions for those operating in low vibration, with ill intent, in devious mode and evil will suffer badly this coming year. Those in low vibration operate in the following: Anxiety, sadness, guilt, shame, anger, greed, hatred, self-sabotage, argumentative, worry, complaining, negative, overly competitive, comparative and the greatest cause of organ failure, known as fear. Exhibit any of them and you are not ready for the mental planes, but will also suffer consequences of actions. Some of the symptoms of consequences of actions are rapid aging, doubling mirrors, a ramp up of past traumas, a vessel and soul breakdown caused by alters, illness, accidents, misfortune and a fall out with many who are around you. Those on the better path will see a dramatic erosion of people around you, it is the shedding of the old you and into a rebirth of a new you. From the caterpillar, the butterfly emerged.

WORDS OF WISDOM FOR 2025:

Before you criticize someone, walk a mile in their shoes. If you walk in someone else's shoes, do you stagger and fall or embrace it? Before you react to someone, stop and think are they having a bad day? Pulling back or cutting people out of your life does mean you hate them or should hate on them. It just means you respect yourself. Operating in a world of focus, which then requires less requests for clarity. You will never find reality when your based in illusion. You will never find truth when your based in lies. How can you build unity, when you don't have any trust? How can you see when you operate in blindness? How can you listen when you operate with deafness? How can you observe if you don't have awareness? How can you manifest positive outcomes when you operate in negativity? How can you manifest anything if you are not being creative? How can you be a guardian if or when you act like the masses? How can you be love and light and not care, share, cooperate or unite enough? Do we gain independence or do we stay in dependence? Sovereignty, god and heaven are all within. This is not their world, it is ours, their authority is based upon illusion and compliance. Stop giving it away to them, have courage.

Given the feedback we have been receiving in large doses, plus some other irons in the fire, I expect THI to take off this coming year. It will be an exciting time for us all in THI, as finally THI breaks out of its protective shell and out into the Alt Media theater and perhaps beyond. Expect more shows within and outside of THI in 2025.

In 2025 we will witness much fall out between the people, the people will turn on each other badly. The term are you a bot, may well become popular as more people turn away from the system and towards a more holistic approach to life. People will begin to see who the real problems are A: those known as the Jews and B: it is the people themselves who are the controllers. The latter of which I knew decades ago. We are the problem, our inability to learn, our inability to develop, our inability to overcome the 5+1 hooks, our inability to unite, our inability to agree on anything and or get behind something of value. Unity is the only pathway for your redemption, what has your role been in creating unity? Did you create or did you just operate for the self? But the discord between the people will get bad this year, most of which is projection and deflection. The antidote to it all, is to operate in truth, honor and integrity.

Me personally this year has been one of steady growth, that escalated rapidly towards the end of the year. As the other work, ponderings and new revelations arrived in their droves. Mystery stuff on steroids have all been confirming and revealing in a deep meaningful way. Not much of which can be revealed at this stage. Although an exciting new operation unfolded late last year and some work has been undertaken in relation to the Divine Feminine aspect. The other aspect in motion although not in work currently, is even more exciting on a mystery level. Those are just two aspects, but there are three other mystery operations ongoing throughout the year that has brought varying success.

I was even shown my future new abode outside of this Galaxy this year, which I have been visiting, I guess I did enough to warrant it and step beyond the Matrix. In all of this I have been ably supported by my partner in what in some ways has been a difficult year to negotiate. The beginning of this year in the past week, provided explosive code on a massive mystery school level and that is now being decoded, decided and likely implemented during the course of this year. I guess that is why the ending and the delivery of this show was delayed this year as stuff came in, which arrived in volumes over the past week.

THI members all have had a fairly unique opportunity to go beyond the limitations of man and this 3D planet, how many of you took it on board? I guess time will tell. I have a few mystery trips in planning for this year on what will be an exciting time for myself, THI and beyond. I will also try to fit in another European visit and gathering this year. Some key moments this year to watch out for, late February, early March and late December. I suspect more will be added in this key year, but who or what is the key? As the Santies said you will need a lot of will, courage and conscience this year to get through it all. I will end the show with a repeat something said in the Common Sense call this weekend, that left the members stunned into silence and pondering.

40k years ago the original Blueprint known as the Santies was laid forth by the gods, known as the URs. They departed and left the people as the guardians to carry forward the Santies based Blueprint. They said they would return in 40K years. 40k years later in 2022 a modern day Blueprint was developed based upon healing, restructuring, redeveloping the planet and its people into a better way, mostly done by one man. In 2024 he left and handed over the responsibility to the people as guardians to administer it and carry it out. A question was posed in the Common Sense, that somehow it can be viewed that the URs left us all at the behest of the Dark Forces? Wrong thinking as that is essentially asking them to parent us. At which point do we stop acting like abandoned children and become adults ourselves and take personal and collective responsibility? The question many ask is, when are the URs returning? The answer is they already did, yet you have currently missed the boat due to not enough effort on a personal level. The Santies told you, the gods are available for those who do the work, apply service to others and bloodless sacrifice. They have always been around to those ready to receive, based upon your own effort, soul development, frequency and love. I kept telling you to stop waiting for an event, why? Because you were the event all along.
